Reflections

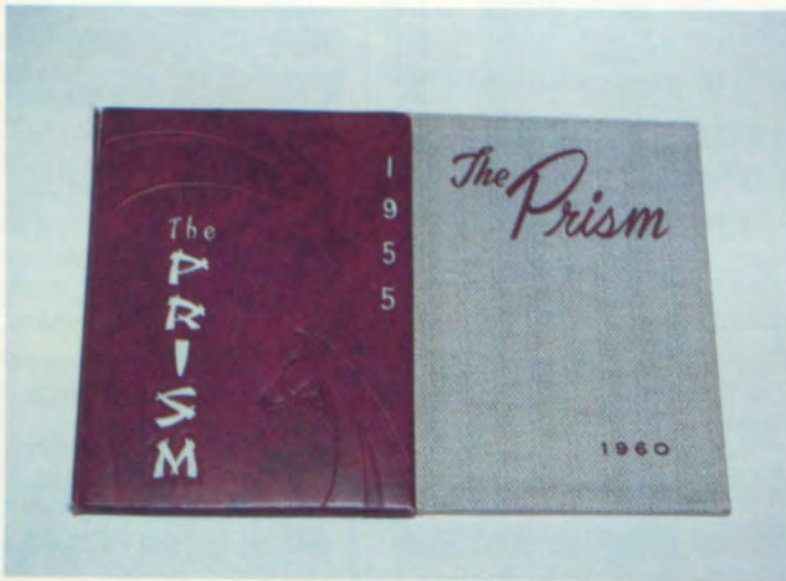

For the past 40 years Bishop Hogan has been a pioneer in excellence. Our school is named after Bishop John J. Hogan, who was the first bishop of Kansas City-St. Joseph. In honor of Bishop Hogan, the first yearbook, in 1944, was called the "Pioneer". In 1946 the title was changed to the "Prism". The purpose of the book, according to the 1958 Prism, was to ". . . gather the sunbeams of a happy year at Hogan and picture their lovely details on its pages." The book received its final name change, "The Rampage", in 1961. As we become a part of the present and the future of Hogan, it is good to remember we are also a part of her heritage. We have gathered pictures from past yearbooks on these pages as a tribute to the 40 years of excellence in education Hogan has provided.

EVENTS

Hot August starts new school year

After a long, hot, summer, Hogan students gathered at orientation to begin a new year. The theme of the opening prayer service, "May Yahweh bless you," was printed on cards and distributed to each student. Sister Vickie and Michelle Brown welcomed everyone back to begin a new year.

Toni and DeeDee prepare to greet the freshmen.

Sister Vickie leads the candlelighting ceremony.

Terri and Paul wait in long orientation lines.

Bishop Sullivan celebrates the opening Mass with the Hogan community.

Tom receives the holy eucharist.

Hogan students gather for the first Mass at St. Peters.

Bishop says opening Mass

The opening of school Mass was held at St. Peter's Church on August 29, 1980. The celebrants were Bishop John Sullivan and Father Norman Rotert, pastor. Brother Mark Perry gave the opening remarks and explained the symbol of the growing plant that was presented at the offertory by Marcia Austin. The plant symbolizes our growing together through the experiences of the year, our unity.

Sister Vickie Perkins and Mr. Dennis Dorr did the readings, and the offertory procession was taken up by Michelle Brown, Derrick Summers, Kevin Hayes. The closing song reminded the student body of the opening theme, "May Yahweh Bless You."

Field day opens year

Field day was a chance for Hogan students to get together and become acquainted with each other. The events of the day were: a tug-of-war, dart throw, sack race, water balloon toss, and a three legged race. The sophomores gained spirit points for this day.

Sophomores pull to victory over the seniors.

Anita, Angela work dart throw.

Vincent and Lisa pass a life saver for victory in the tooth pick relay.

Juniors, seniors sample lemonade.

Sophomores Marlayna, Gayle, Toya and Jewell enjoy a talk between events.

Stuco hosts school BBQ

The smell of hot dogs on the grill welcomed students to Hogan's first annual hot dog BBQ. Highlights of the evening were a tug-of-war rematch, frisbee, and a game of softball. The sophomores captured the highest spirit points.

The seniors fight and win the title from the sophomores.

Who's the new kid in school?

The Rams gain yardage against Pem Day Raiders.

"I Believe in You", the homecoming theme was evident at Hogan as the students walked through the decorated halls to attend Mass in the gym. After the Mass, celebrated by Father Jim Ford, the 15 candidates were introduced at the pep rally. For the first time in recent years the homecoming parade was canceled due to the World Series game played in Kansas City. The Rams played a good game but suffered a loss of 21-8 to the Pem Day Raiders. Twyla Mallory was crowned Homecoming Queen 1980, at the dance, Saturday, October 18.

Tyrone Creer creates a poster for the freshman hall.

Michelle Williams presents roses to the 15 candidates.

Victor Hammonds kept students' attention with a drum solo.

Sr. Vickie watches Tammy Johnson prepare for a tour of the school.

Seventh and eighth graders from nearby elementary schools were given a chance to visit Hogan. They were welcomed by Sister Vickie, Michelle Brown, and Varsity cheerleaders. Afterwards, refreshments were available to the future Hoganites while being entertained by the Jazz Band.

A song is in the air

The Christmas season opened with "Prepare Ye the Way of the Lord", the opening song of this year's Christmas Concert. The evening was a medley of songs from the Christmas season, which included, "Ring Christmas Bells", "The First Noel", and "Joy to the World". The Concert Band performed "Jingle Bells Fantasy" and the Jazz Band delighted the audience with "God Rest Ye Merry Gentlemen" and "Basin Street Blues".

On November 18, 1980, representatives of various careers such as Aviation, Communications, Law Enforcement, Social Services, and Engineering visited Hogan. Students had an opportunity to sample careers that interested them. Mr. Bill Byrd coordinated the day.

"You light the way," Miss Hogan High

The theme for this year's Miss Hogan High was "You Light the Way". This honor is given to the young lady who contributes her time and talent to the activities of the school. At the mass, said by Father Thomas Minges, Sister Vickie reflected on what it means to be a Christian woman. All fifteen candidates participated in the mass by reading, offertory procession, and altar decoration. At the assembly to introduce the five finalists, the qualities and services of each candidate were announced with her name. Michelle Brown was crowned Miss Hogan High at a Valentine's Day dance, February 14. Alexis Jackson was the first attendant, Schlyon Atkins was second attendant, Angela Guess was third attendant, and Lisa Love was the fourth atten-

Mr. Day types quizzes.

Mr. Mike Day was chairman of the English department. Also teaching in this department were Mrs. Joanne Couture, Mrs. Marge Brinsa, Ms. Rosie Kolich, Ms. Mary Gillespie, Sister Paulemarie, Brother Mark Perry. Honors English students remember especially the creation of Grendel, a class project early in the year.

Ms. Gillespie enjoys a break from class.

Rhonda Gossett draws a Christmas scene.

Classes attract Hogan artists

This year the Fine Arts' students have continually showed their talents by the beautiful decorations they have displayed. The Art Department includes art, crafts and speech. The teachers are Sister Elizabeth Marie, Sister Catrina and Mrs. Heschmeyer.

Joan and Chris develop their talents.

Sharon Regina and friends share ideas.

Alexis Jackson makes her presentation.

This year the history department was chaired by Mr. Louis Read who also taught Medieval History and Ancient Civilization. Other courses offered by the history department were Economics and American History with instructor Mr. Ed Lewis, American Government taught by Mr. Carl Jenkins, and Contemporary American History taught by Sister Paulmarie.

Mr. Lewis' class takes notes.

Languages are alive and well and living at Hogan

Buenas dias, Senora Maersch!

Hable Espanol? Parlez vous Francais? Many Hogan students do. This year Mrs. Rita Maersch was head of the language department instructing the Spanish and French classes. Miss Verna Ott taught Latin I, II, and III.

Mrs. Maersch involved students in language in various festivals and contests during the year. Latin students displayed their work during the Hogan open house.

Michelle Patterson and Vickie Poulter hit the books in Spanish.

Miss Ott and Courtney concentrate on Latin verbs.

Mrs. Maersch uses a new educational method.

Math pundits ponder problems

Hogan offers a five year math program including Algebra I, Geometry, Algebra II, Trigonometry, Probability and Statistics, and Introduction to Analysis. Again this year Algebra I was offered to qualifying eighth graders. Mr. Duschon, head of the Math Department, said that Hogan was participating in the Missouri State High School Mathematics Association Math Contest.

The physical education department includes Ms. Fischer teaching freshman women's P.E., Sister Michael Delores teaching sophomore women's P.E. and Mr. Jackson teaching freshman and sophomore men's P.E. P.E. classes work on both team and individual life-time sports activities.

Students get practical

Practical arts, taught by Mrs. Brentano, Mrs. Cavanaugh, Ms. Harmon, Ms. Walker, and S. Elizabeth Marie, include such classes as typing, sewing, drafting, cooking, crafts. Classes focus on preparation of skills for jobs and life.

Steve, LouAnn and Sharon strive to type accurately.

Kim's and Erica's projects make them smile.

S. Elizabeth helps Tony with crafts.

Felicia Taylor enjoys another day at rug making in Homespun.

Br. Mark enjoys Fr. religion.

Service class new to Hogan

Mrs. Bush, Sr. Catrina, Brother Mark, and Brother Steve made religion a learning experience. Added to the 1980-81 school year was a Christian Action class directed by Brother Steve. It was a service class and involved students going to various locations and helping the young, old and handicapped. The class was a challenge to make Christianity active.

Br. Steve is preparing for another day of Christian Action.

Sr. Catrina makes a point in her senior religion class.

Sheila takes religion seriously.

Toni Gethers displays her project

Science builds minds of the future.

This year the science department added College Physics to its regular curriculum. With this program the students may obtain a college credit from Avila College.

Our Courageous Ram

At Hogan's first football game against Butler on Friday, September 12, 1980, Keith Henderson, a senior, was injured seriously in the first quarter. He was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital where he was treated for spinal injuries. The student body at Bishop Hogan held prayer services and a trust fund was formed for him. A giant card was made to express the way the students felt about Keith. It was then signed by the entire student body. The card quoted a poem, "Climb 'Til Your Dream Comes True" and sent this message to Keith.

"Often your tasks will be many,
And more than you think you can do . . .

Often the road will be rugged,
And the hills insurmountable
too . . .

But always remember, the hills
ahead

Are never as steep as they seem,
And with Faith in your heart
start upward

And climb 'til you reach your dream . . ."

The Rampage staff reflects on the past

This year's Rampage is the result of many hours of hard work, and a little fun as well. The staff decided to celebrate Hogan's 40 year anniversary using a "Reflections" theme. Early decisions included use of color, graphics, and the general design of the book. Editor Tom Ost attended a workshop with Inter-Colligiate Press, where he gathered ideas for this year's Rampage. Sister Rita McGinnis returned for her second year as yearbook coordinator. This year's photographers were Tom Ost and Donna Katosh.

Civilization

by Charlie Wirtz

Another person is murdered today.
A new war is declared.
Another conspiracy uncovered today,
as the animals watch from the woods.

A new bomb is built today.
Military spending is increased.
We can destroy the world ten times today,
as the animals watch from the woods.

We have a new oil spill today.
Another parking lot is built.
Three Mile Island leaked today,
as the animals watch from the woods.

O.P.E.C. raised it's prices today.
Trees make good fuel.
Big business is doing fine today,
as the animals watch from the woods.

Another species is endangered today.
Mink fur is great for coats.
Conservation legislation was defeated today,
as the animals watch from the woods.

Thousands of animals put to sleep today.
All hail the human race.
Hunting season opened today,
as the animals watch from the woods.

Mt. St. Helens erupts

Mount Saint Helens erupted spreading a blanket of ash over the U.S. Northwest. The Northwestern region, a vacation and resort site suffered ash fallout, fires, flash floods, and earthquakes. The devastation was remarkable and destroyed a once beautiful land. The previously verdant land was severely changed in a matter of a few days.

Brett and the Royals

For the first time in the history, the Royals made it to the World Series behind the hot bat of George Brett, who finished the year with a .390 batting average. After defeating the New York Yankees in three straight games, the Royals lost the series in six games to the Philadelphia Phillies' pitching staff. Brett's accomplishment was the highest batting average in the past 40 years in eather league. The excitement peaked when late in the season George Brett came off the injury list and started his quest for the .400 mark.

Reagan elected in '81

November 4, 1980, signaled a number of changes for the U.S. government. The republicans elected a president, only the third since 1932, and won control of the Senate for the second time in many years. Ronald Reagan, a former movie star, led the GOP to this stunning victory. Missouri joined the winners by voting for Reagan and electing Kit Bond, a republican governor.

Gas prices soar

The gas prices at the pump remained stable for several months until a sharp increase occurred during the winter months. The price for a gallon of regular gas was approximately $1.05, but the prices have shown a jump to $1.21 and they are on the rise. The price ceiling on gasoline imposed by former President Jimmy Carter was released by President Reagan shortly after being sworn in. Some say the gas prices may reach as high as $2.00 by the end of this year.

Americans released

The news that swept the world during this past year and 79 days was the Iranian students takeover of the American Embassy and the holding of American hostages since November 4, 1979. The U.S. people were shocked by the inability of the government to free our diplomats. The Iranian students released 10 women and black prisoners to show their sympathy with "oppressed" groups. Six others hid in the Canadian Embassy and were ultimately smuggled out of Iran. Finally, the U.S. government ordered a military rescue mission but it failed due to faulty equipment and poor weather conditions. President Carter sent a task force to Iran to discuss the demands for the remaining 52 hostages. After many hours of working out the fate of the 52, the students and the task force agreed on 4 points that had to be met. The four points were: U.S. pledge not to interfere in Iran's internal affairs, the unblocking of Iran's frozen assets, the elimination of all economic sanctions and U.S. claims against Iran, and the return of the Shah's wealth in the U.S. On January 20, 1981, the demands were met and the 52 American Hostages were on their way home.

As the school year of 1980-81 becomes a part of Hogan's memories, we hope the moments we have captured in this year's Rampage reflect for you the friends and experiences that were a part of you. The sad times and happy times are locked away in our minds only to be brought out when we think about our high school years. Special thanks go to Sister Vickie for the support and caring shown during this past year.
