DEAR LILLIS,

Four short years ago, the class of 1953 first made their way through Lillis doors as Lillisites. Very soon they will leave the security that these halls have provided, to meet the innumerable trials, dangers and hardship that lie in the years ahead.

But we go to meet them as Catholic men and women, sure of our faith, ready to live as we have learned. In these four years we have learned the Benedictine life, and way, the Benedictine family ideal and it formed the bed-rock upon which stone upon stone of our studies and activities have been laid.

These years have been an important part of our life. They are irreplaceable. Never again can we do the things we have done here. Never again can we see or hear the things we have seen and heard here, never again feel as we have felt, a part of Lillis pulling with all our heart and soul to win that game in those final desperate minutes and seconds.

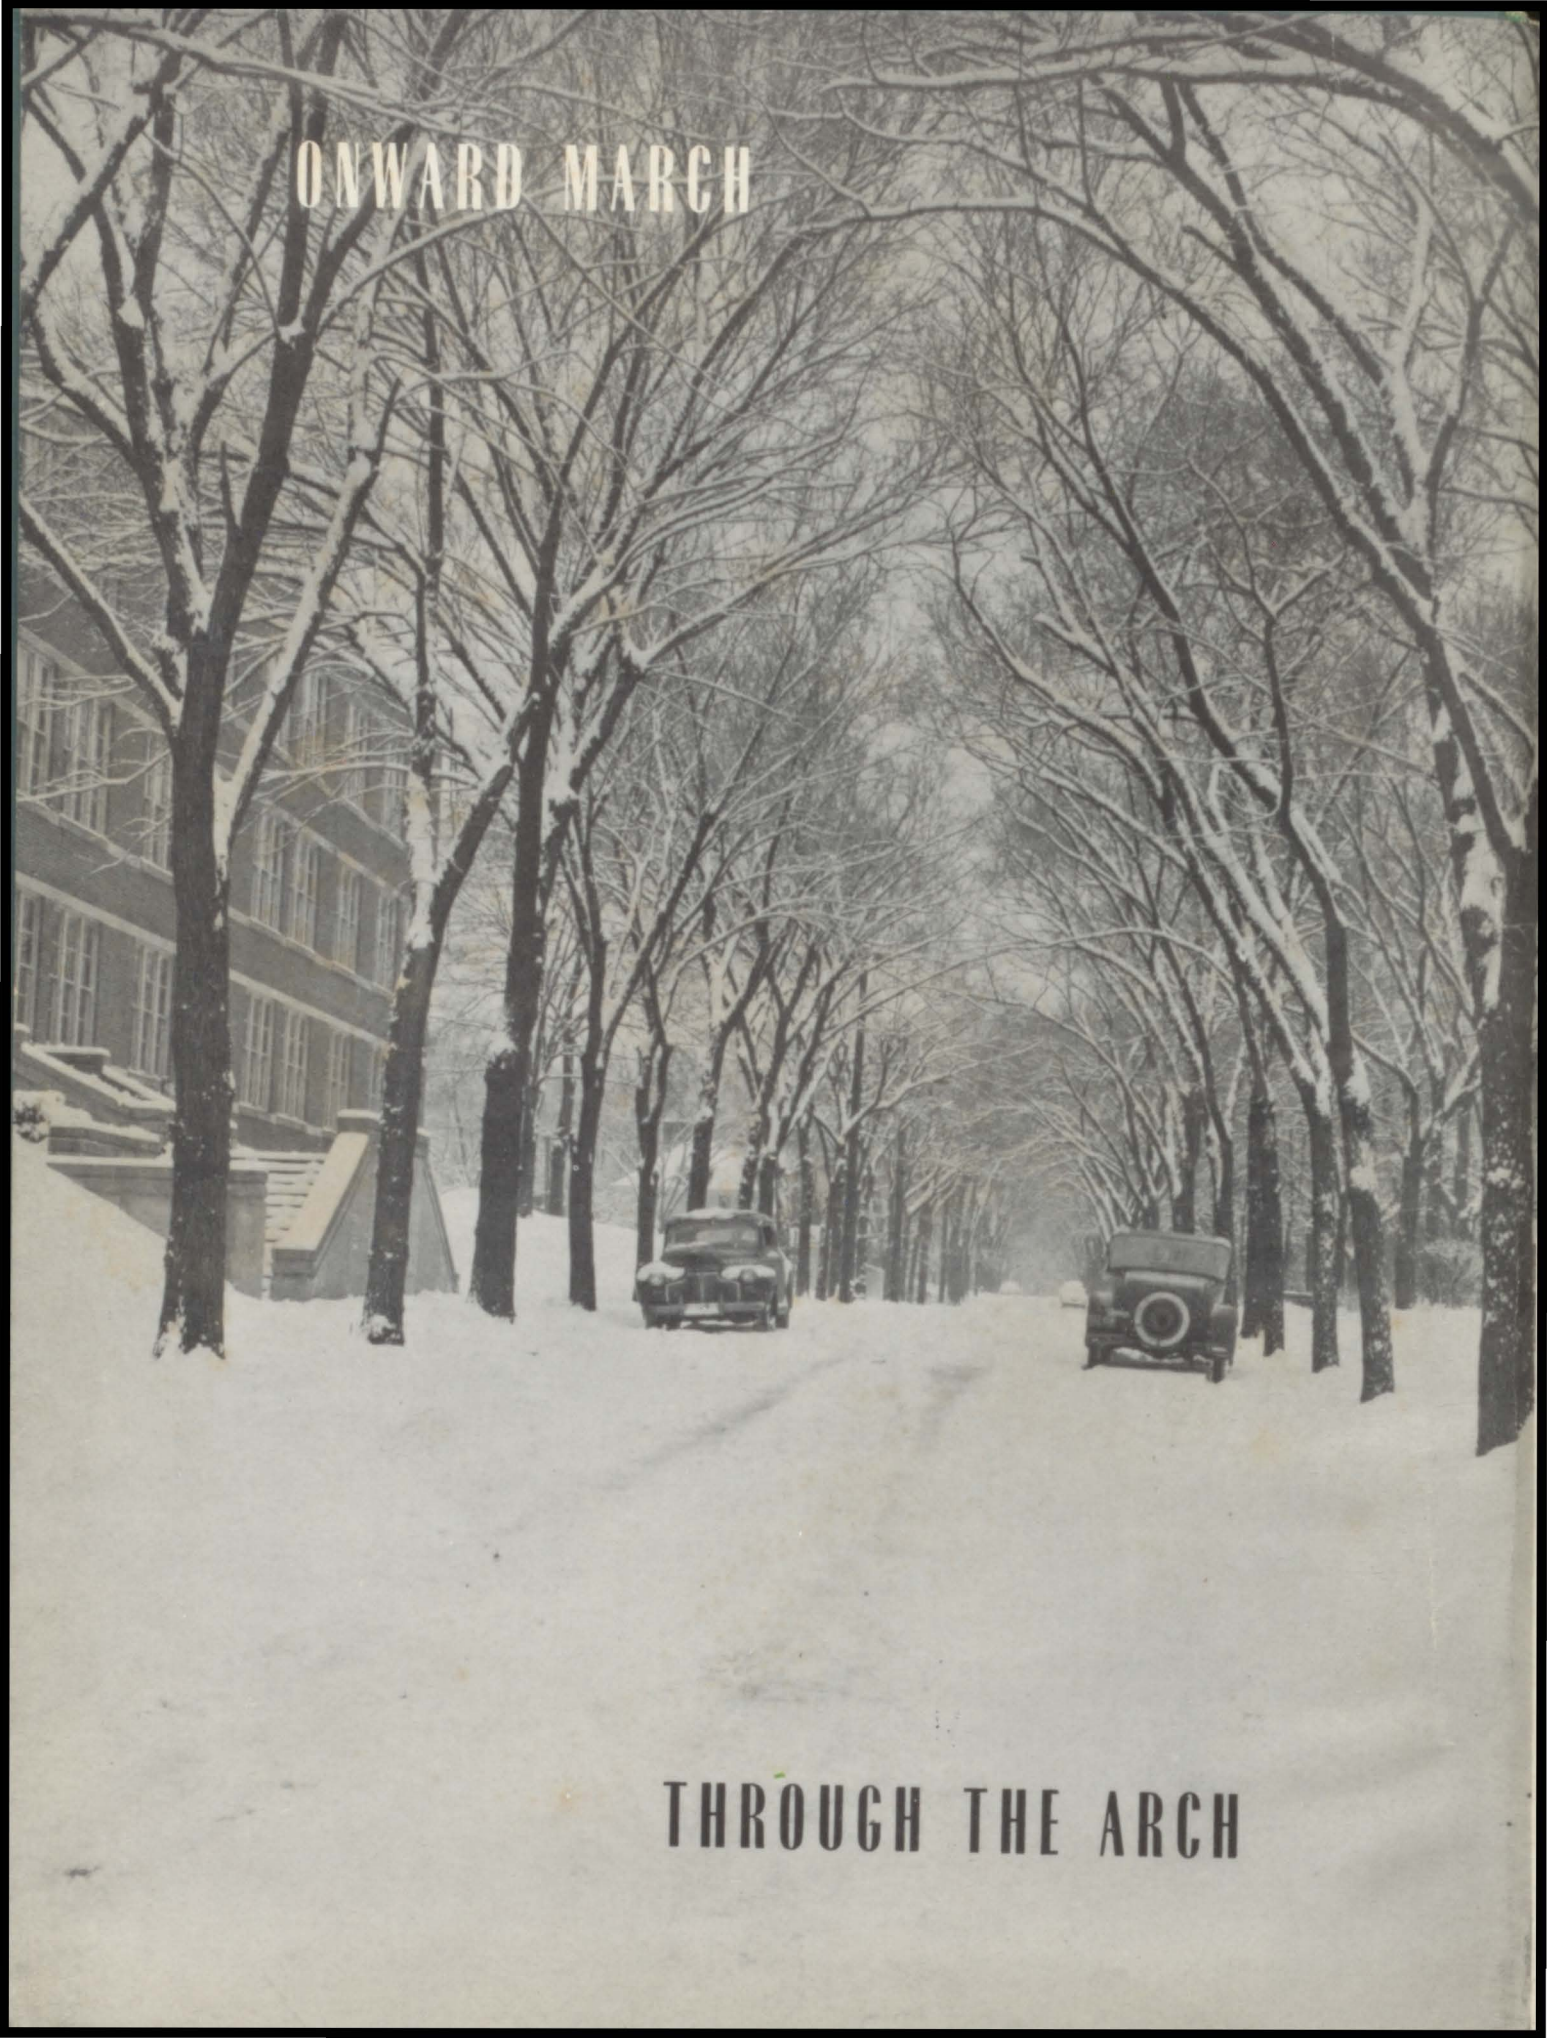

We can call to mind the memories, but as time passes, the distinctness of these images will fade and thoughts of high school days will bring but a warm feeling inside. Contained herein is but a brief history of this final year. As we leaf through the pages, we can recall the steadfast friends we are leaving here, who will be ever ready to see and hear from us, to whom we have always turned with each problem that came along. We leave them with a warm prayer of thanks and love.

But now a phase of our life is ended. We will never again be able to regain it. Time is forever moving on and with it we must also go. Whether it is college, work or a family for which we are headed, we must be prepared to do the best with it. It is time now, not to look back, but ahead. We have been armed to meet what lies ahead. We are leaving now, but we'll be back.....sometime!

All the bright, happy, sleepy, faces from "down senior hall." Leading the parade is Carol Thompson followed closely by the first row, Donna Daly, Gerry Volz, Kathleen Pipes, Eleanora Danzo; two deep, Joyce Browning, Jo Romano, Anne Waggoner, George Sprenger, Marilyn Eth and Frank Hopfinger; three deep, Regina Williams, Diane Sheely, Jim Stuckey, Evelyn Boone, Mary Lou Creswell (peeping over John Peter's shoulder as he seems to be in the market for flies); four deep, Arsen Darnay, Kathryn Boije; five deep, Ron Duckworth, Fred Staab, Jerry Zeller and Joan Snyder. Peeping up in the background are Roseann Powers, Nola Dupin, Mary Ann Anderson, Dolores Kneib, and Margaret Elliott.

Mike Burasco and Joe Kelly "appear" busily engaged outlining "The Causes of the Civil War." Interested observers and fellow American historians are: Toni Bonello, Anna Marie Shonborn, Kenneth Thorpe and Mary Ann Meier in the first row, with Louise Thompson's and Rose Ann McGuire's heads showing in the second row.

Junior Einsteins and Madame Curies at work in the lab. What are they making? In the top picture are: Frances Myers, Jim Brown, Bobbie O'Donnell and Bette Wilson in the first row. Warren Becker and Joe Glynn in the second and Jerry Biritz all by himself in the last row. Bottom picture reveals: Martha Syverson, Kenneth Thorpe, Joan Crusoe, Sue Adams and Bill Curran in the first row; Alfretta Wilson, Joe Tschirhart and Steve DeGan in the second and Mary E. Brown by herself in the last row.

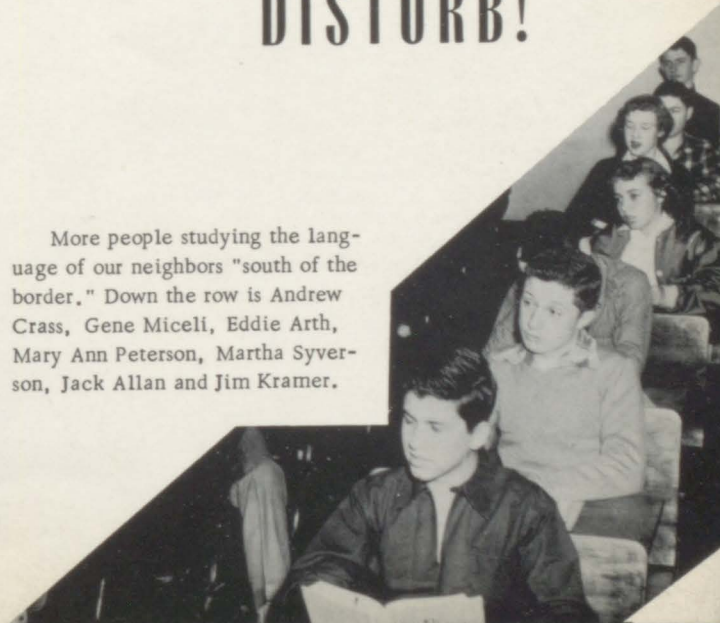

Busy carpenters in the Shop are Alfred Blixt, Kenneth Johnson and Tom Lyndon at the first table and John Blakey at the second.

Quiet and serious are these juniors from Homeroom 303 during the retreat. Closest to the camera is Dayton Kerby, and in the next row is Mary Jo Lyndon, Anna Marie Shonborn, Don Hoberecht and Shirley Spindell's arm. In the second row are Beverly Putthoff, Kenneth Thorpe, Mary C. Loschke, Virginia Jenkins and Warren Page; third row: Jim Brown, Mary F. Shaffer, Rosemary Rathchford and Mary Lou Chandlee; fourth row: Pat Kneaves, Rosemary Gyulay and Toni Bonello. In the last row are Al Blixt and Joe Cook.

A study in something not quite definable are the faces of this junior girls special chorus as they sang during the Junior-Senior Speech Contest. FIRST ROW: Mary C. Loschke, Sally Allegri, Mary Ann Peterson, Suzanne Teevan, Rosemary Gyulay, Claire Gillispie, Mary Kay Brinkeotter, Judy Gill, Anna Marie Shonborn, and Mary Ann Meier. SECOND ROW: Evelyn Jones, Shirley Burke, Joann Parrott, Bette Wilson, Bobbie O'Donnell, Mary Lou Creswell, Elaine Cabrini, Mary Jo Bowman, Sue Adams, Kay Ferrell and Paula Stahl. THIRD ROW: Judy Joyce, Pat Kneaves, Martha Syverson, Frances Myers, Mary E. Dobson, Alfretha Wilson, Mary Ann Staab, Mary M. Ryan, Paula Messina, Shirley Gallagher, and Mary E. Brown.

A little elbow grease can really make those lockers shine, especially when applied with such diligence as is here demonstrated by Mary Jo Lyndon as Anna Marie Shonborn and Beverly Putthoff "kindly" hold the bucket of water.

Deceptively posed as humble shepherds in the Christmas pageant are, Howard Welhoelter, Phil Whorton, John Dorrian, and Harry Taylor. All are juniors except Whorton.

"HARDWORKING" JUNIORS

TAKE TIME OUT FOR PLAY

Blooming Biologists! First table, John Baker and Dick Figgins; second table, Bob Wagner and Michael Gibbs; third table, Cecelia Meyers and Leta Coleman; fourth table, Loretta Metzger, and at the last table is Nancy Ward. Across the aisle front to back are Judy Haas, Donna Mason, Mary Ann Meier and Barbara Cox.

SOPHS AT WORK

Second year World Historians "pose" for the camera's all seeing eye. First row, Jim Hawk, Vincent Heegn, and Frank Nenninger; second row, Barbara Buellens, Virgil Roark, and Judy Howard; third row, Jean Lally and Carol Hurley; fourth row, Larry Bonner and Joan McCleery; on down the last aisle Nancy Young, Peggy Lightner, and John Balestrere can just barely be seen.

WORK?

"Where do we have to go now, these steps are killing me!" seems to be what the expressions on the faces of Bernadine Abbott, Bob Morrissey, Judy Sansone, Carey Ruder, and Suzanne Darnay say as they go again.

Chuck Bellman, La Vonna McBrayer, Terry Mesmer, and Frank Georgie look busy cleaning out those lockers that seem to get dirty and messed up no matter how often you clean or straighten.

"We're free at last till another day!" Gerry Daly, center, says with that expression on his face, as Richard Pallanich and Jim McAuliffe come surging just as fast.

STUDIOUS

Third row reveals: Carolyn Johnson, Beth Beebe, Helen Werkowitch, Vanalee Easter and Mary Niemeyer. "Could it be the Sabre Dance?"

School's out! Now it is time for the freshmen to relax and listen to Joy Powell produce all varieties of music magic. Around the piano enjoying the entertainment are Sandra Herner, Loretta Schuh, Margaret Thorpe, Maxine Herner, Helen Thorpe, and Bill Nixon.

Larry Clark stops by to tell Our Lord good-bye at 3:08.

CLASS OF '56 - AT EASE

"Listen my children and you shall hear . . ."

Judy Brown, Mary F. Rossato, Pat Summers and Maxine Herner, cheer lustily for the small-fry Irish.

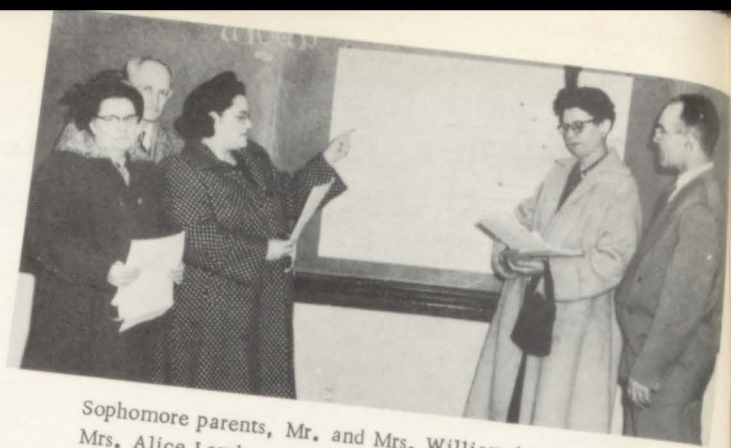

INFANT L MEN

"They'll have to build another one of these, when we get through," could very easily be the words of Pat Rowland, here in the foreground, as the freshmen letter winners take a look at the jammed trophy cases. In front are Jim Overman and Bob Dorrian. Next in line are Jim Fitzgerald, Dick Smith, Tom Kammerer, Louie Nicholson, Pat Rowland and Nick Metzger. Peeping up in the back is Bill Sprenger, and next to him, hidden from the camera, is Phil Whorton.

GUIDANCE!

The year 1953 launched Lillisites into the third year of the guidance program, designed for the more complete personal and social development of the students. By the test, charts, graphs, profile sheets and files, parents, students and teachers are realizing the tremendous good that can be accomplished through this program of social, personal and mental adjustment.

SODALITY OF

SCENES '53

Gerry Irving, George Sprenger, Dolores Tye, Beatrice Schmidt, Joe Glynn and Jim Payne prance to the "Bunny Hop" at the Sodality Dance in December.

Mary, Queen of Peace, reigns in the hearts of all sodalists not only at sodality dances as she is pictured above, but in every action of each day.

Mike McMahon, Rosemary Gyulay and Loretta Schuh portray the children of Fatima in the Living Rosary tableaux, while Juan Diego, Jim Kramer, St. Simon Stock, Tom Bellman, and Bernadette of Lourdes, Mary Jo Lyndon watch solemnly.

Leaving to offer some Christmas cheer in the form of carols, a program, and playing Santa Claus with their gifts to the girls at St. Joseph's Orphan's Home are Pat Maxwell, Mary Ann Meier, Paula Messina, Roseann Powers, Julie Heshion, Donna Daly and Jean Brice.

PRAY TOGETHER - PLAY TOGETHER

Nancy Ward, sophomore, received her First Holy Communion during the Retreat. Sodality prefect and vice-prefect, Carol Thompson and Gerry Irving, stand on either side.

Rev. Cormac Lynch C. P., retreat master, says Mass for Lillisites at opening of annual retreat. Servers are Kenneth Thorpe and Warren Becker.

Jack Allan, junior, lights his homeroom Advent wreath.

Little lassies from St. Joseph's Girls' Orphans Home "oooh! and ahhh!" over packages the Sodalists delivered for Santa.

James Bush, senior class president, leads the entire school in the rosary daily during the month of October over the public address system.

LAY APOSTLES

"...Our vision of a better day cannot become a reality unless the youth of this hour, who will be the men and women of tomorrow, have developed a character and disposition that favors the arts of civilization and world peace..." These are the words of the late Bishop Duffy to youth leaders, and can aptly be applied to the aim of the Lillis Lay Apostolate movement and the junior lay apostolate movement everywhere.

Under the able direction of the Rev. M.F. McAuliffe, long-time teacher, adviser and friend of Lillis and Lillisites the Lay Apostles were again organized in September and started on the march of Catholic Action as the year sped swiftly by. Action and conquest in service of the Church serve as basic ideals in the movement as the many fields into which the Catholic student can carry Catholic Action are stressed.

Boundless are the opportunities of the Lay Apostle--now and in the years to come--as a leader in the school, the community, and the nation, to integrate Catholic Action in his work, in his play--in his life, and the life of our nation.

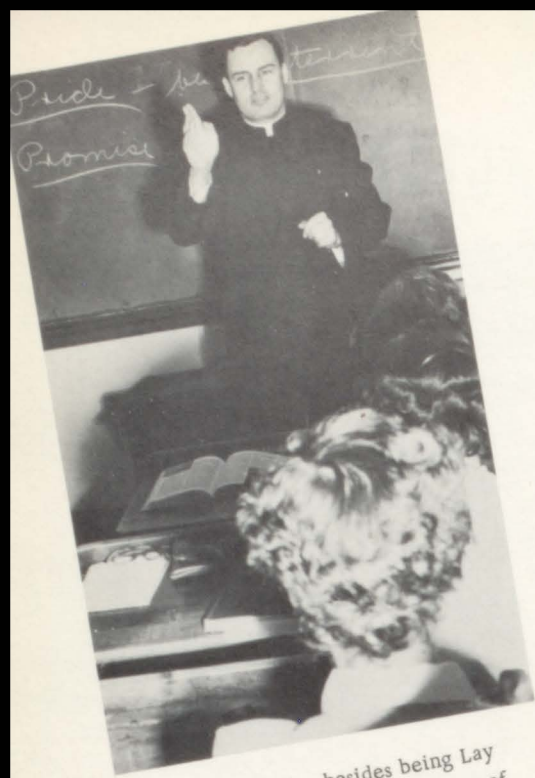

"THEY FOLLOW

IN THE FOOTSTEPS OF THE TWELVE..."

Listening intently to their spiritual director explain the numerous fields in which they could foster Catholic Action, are these Lay Apostles. Seated at the table are: John Waller, sophomore; Paula Stahl, and Mary C. Loschke, juniors; Lynda Malaney, Evelyn Boone, Carol Thompson and Joe Byrnes, seniors; Nicholas Metzger, Dick Smith, and Helen Thorpe, freshmen. Standing are: James Brink, junior; Mary Ann Meier and Frances Myers, juniors; Larry Bonner, and Sharon Nichols, sophomores; John Howard, freshman; Kenneth Thorpe, and Jim Brown, juniors; Tom Taff, senior; Frank Lucido, junior; Liane Hendrix, Peggy Gallagher, Patricia Hellinger, and Anna Marie Seitzer, freshmen, and Chardell Buckles and Joan Copenhaver, sophomores.

Seniors Eleanora Danzo and Joe Byrnes are also members of the delegation assigned the task of bringing back the prize to the graduating class.

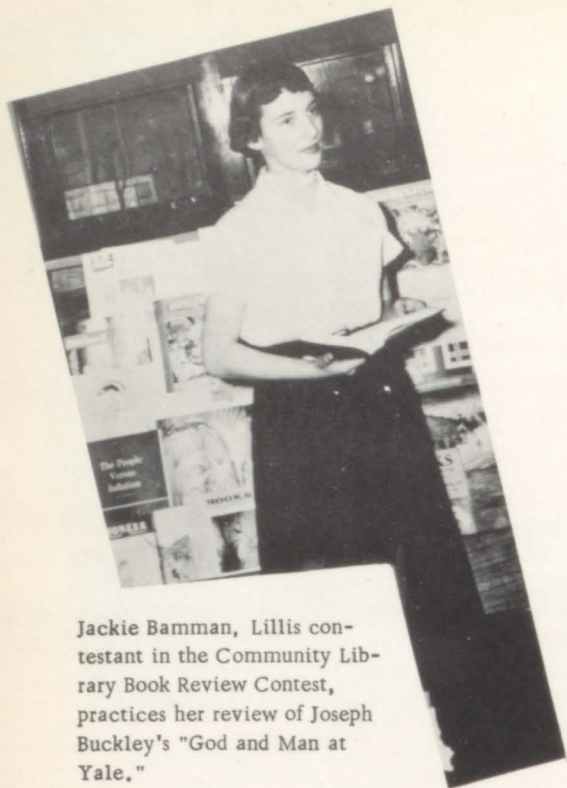

They look over the questions for about the 2,873,659th time, but still look doubtful...

"Where's the ball?" Tom (No. 23) and John McLaury (No. 35) wonder in the De La Salle game. The Irish lost to the Cadets.

"It's coming down!" as John Salazar (No. 44) and Tom McLaury (No. 23) wait for a rebound against the Center Yellow Jackets in the William Jewel Tournament.

The Irish on defense against Rockhurst Hawklets with Hugh McNamara, with his arm up, Tom McLaury (No. 23) John Mc Laury (No. 35), Jerry Soetaert (No. 53) and John Salazar (No. 44) carrying the load.

Tom McLaury (No. 23) and Jerry Soetaert (No. 53) watch the ball and defend for the Irish against Hogan as Chuck Mount (No. 42) awaits a pass.

IRISH CINDERMEN

Once again the track season, comes too late for the sports staff of The Lillislog; so we will try to give you a look at the team.

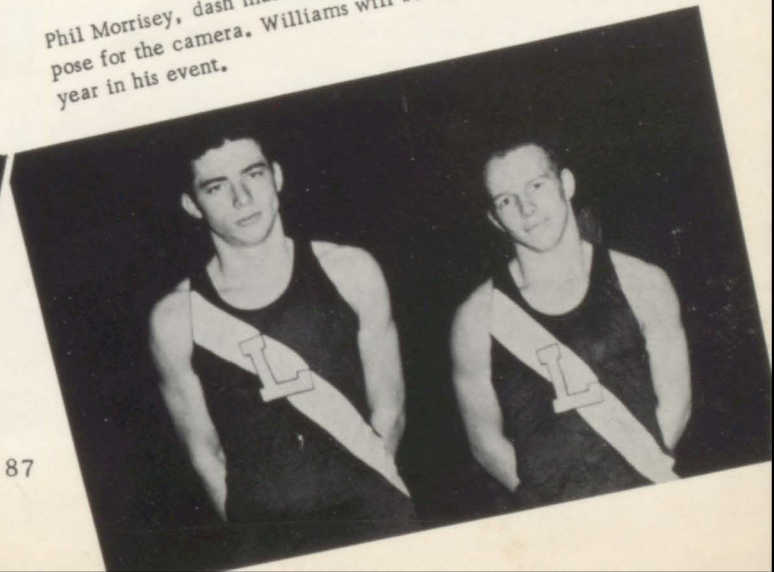

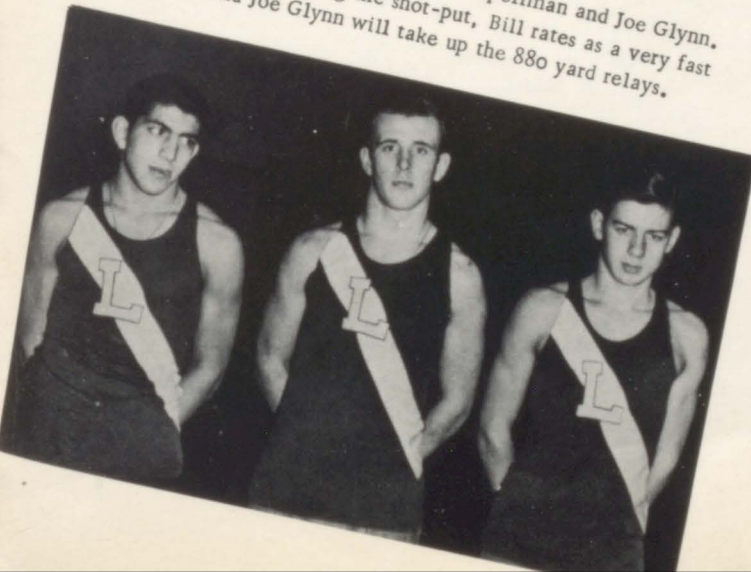

The track team is loaded with a wealth of talent and lettermen. Jim Casey leads the pack having lettered two years in track in the mile and half-mile runs. Arsen Darnay returns to run the mile for the Irish. Fred Staab is back to run the hurdles and dashes. Dick Renner, fleet-footed dashman will boost the team's hopes greatly. Jim Howard will help the Irish on the relays and Fred Williams, pole-vaulter will aim at new heights again this year. All in all the outlook is very good for the fleet-footed boys of Lillis.

RATE HIGH

BELOW ARE: George Zammar, Bill Spellman and Joe Glynn. George will be pushing the shot-put, Bill rates as a very fast dashman and Joe Glynn will take up the 880 yard relays.

Phil Morrissey, dash man and Fred Williams, pole vault, pose for the camera. Williams will be rated very high this year in his event.

Mr. La Kemper

One of the most devoted patrons of whom the yearbook can boast is Mr. La Kemper. Without his wonderful help in aiding the staff to "wade" through the mess in the Lillistrator room or in keeping the heat up for us on those cold weekends that the pages HAD to be ready "or else", the Lillislog might have been lost in the rubble or the staff frozen to death. To this "most necessary" patron of The Lillislog, the staff of 1953 offer a warm salute.

The Rev. Jerome Merwick O.S.B., Korean chaplain for the Air Force talked to junior and senior Lillisites one day, explaining conditions in Korea and telling all sorts of interesting anecdotes of his time there. Father Jerome was a familiar sight to Lillisites for he had been here before and conducted a retreat here several years ago.

Mrs. Mabel Field, school nurse and a very well-known visitor to Lillis, cured the numerous ills of Lillis boys and girls.

VISITORS

The drummer supreme, Bobby Robertson, gave a very interesting and entertaining demonstration of different types of drums and beats. Mr. Robertson provided one of the most enjoyable assemblies of the year.

Miss Libby Jones, harpist, performed for a Lillis audience early in the year and provided some very enjoyable music on her harp.

Father Dan, as he was leaving Lillis in August, has that familiar grin which endeared him to all Lillisties as chaplain here for four years. Father Dan was also a very welcome visitor at Lillis and a rousing welcome greeted him when he was here for our game with De La Salle last winter.
