VOL. XXV

DEDICATION

To all the fighting Irish who have passed between these portals, to those from whom we received the flaming torch of loyalty and to all to whom we give this heritage, who will carry it high and cherish it, we, the class of 1959, dedicate this book.

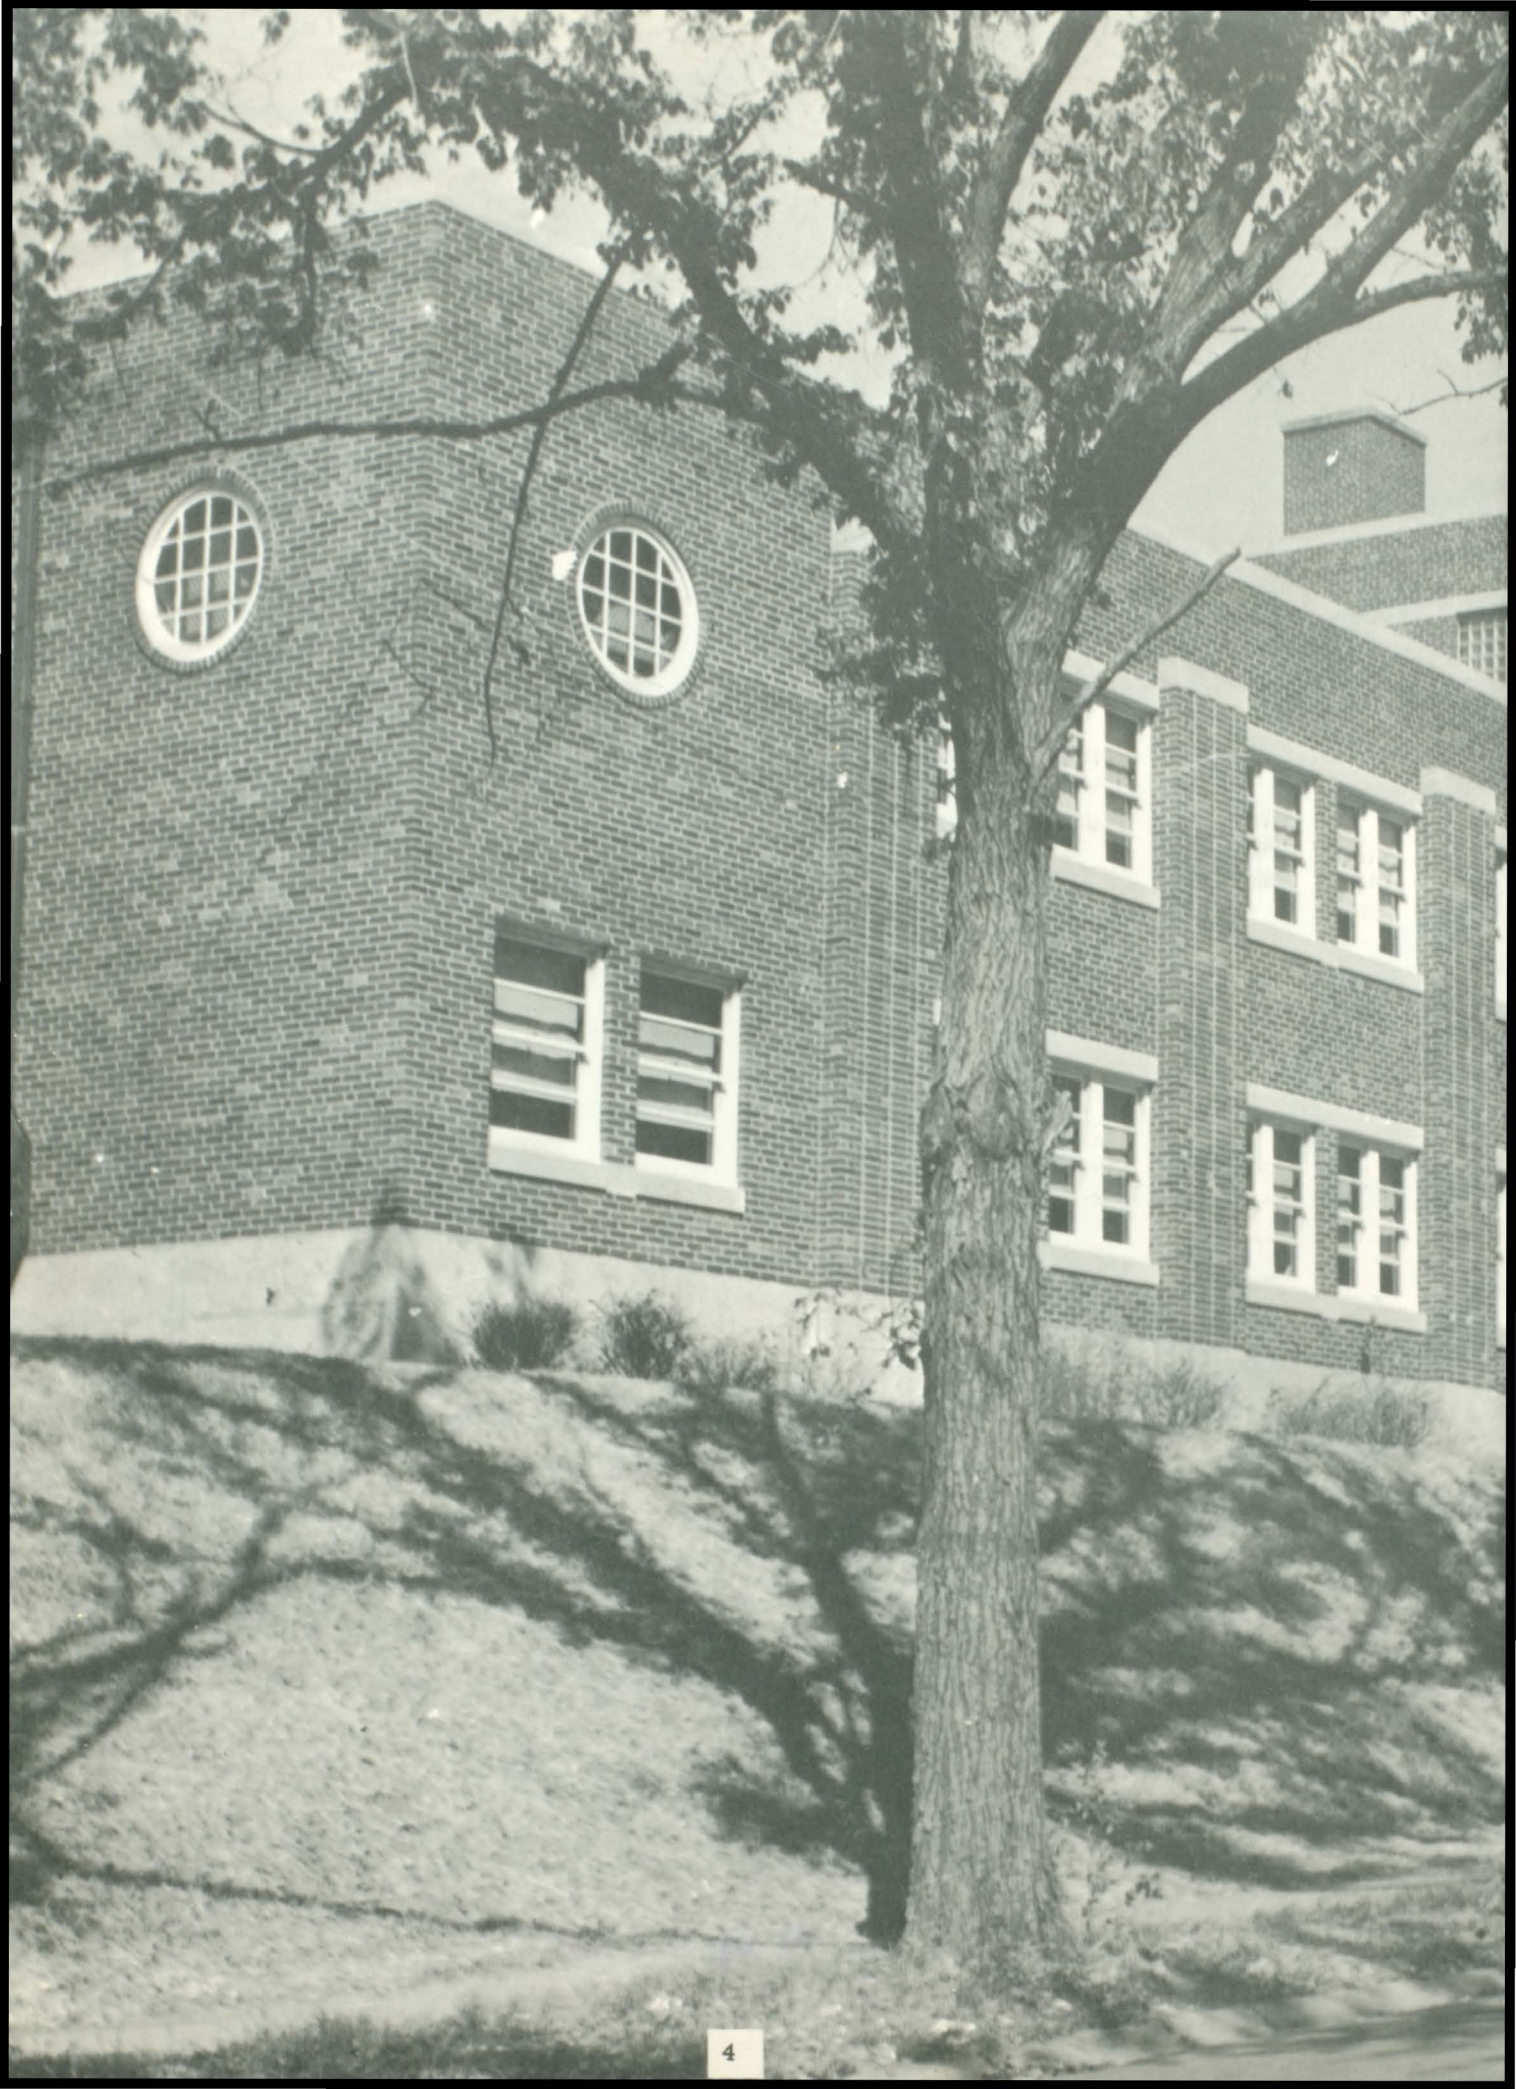

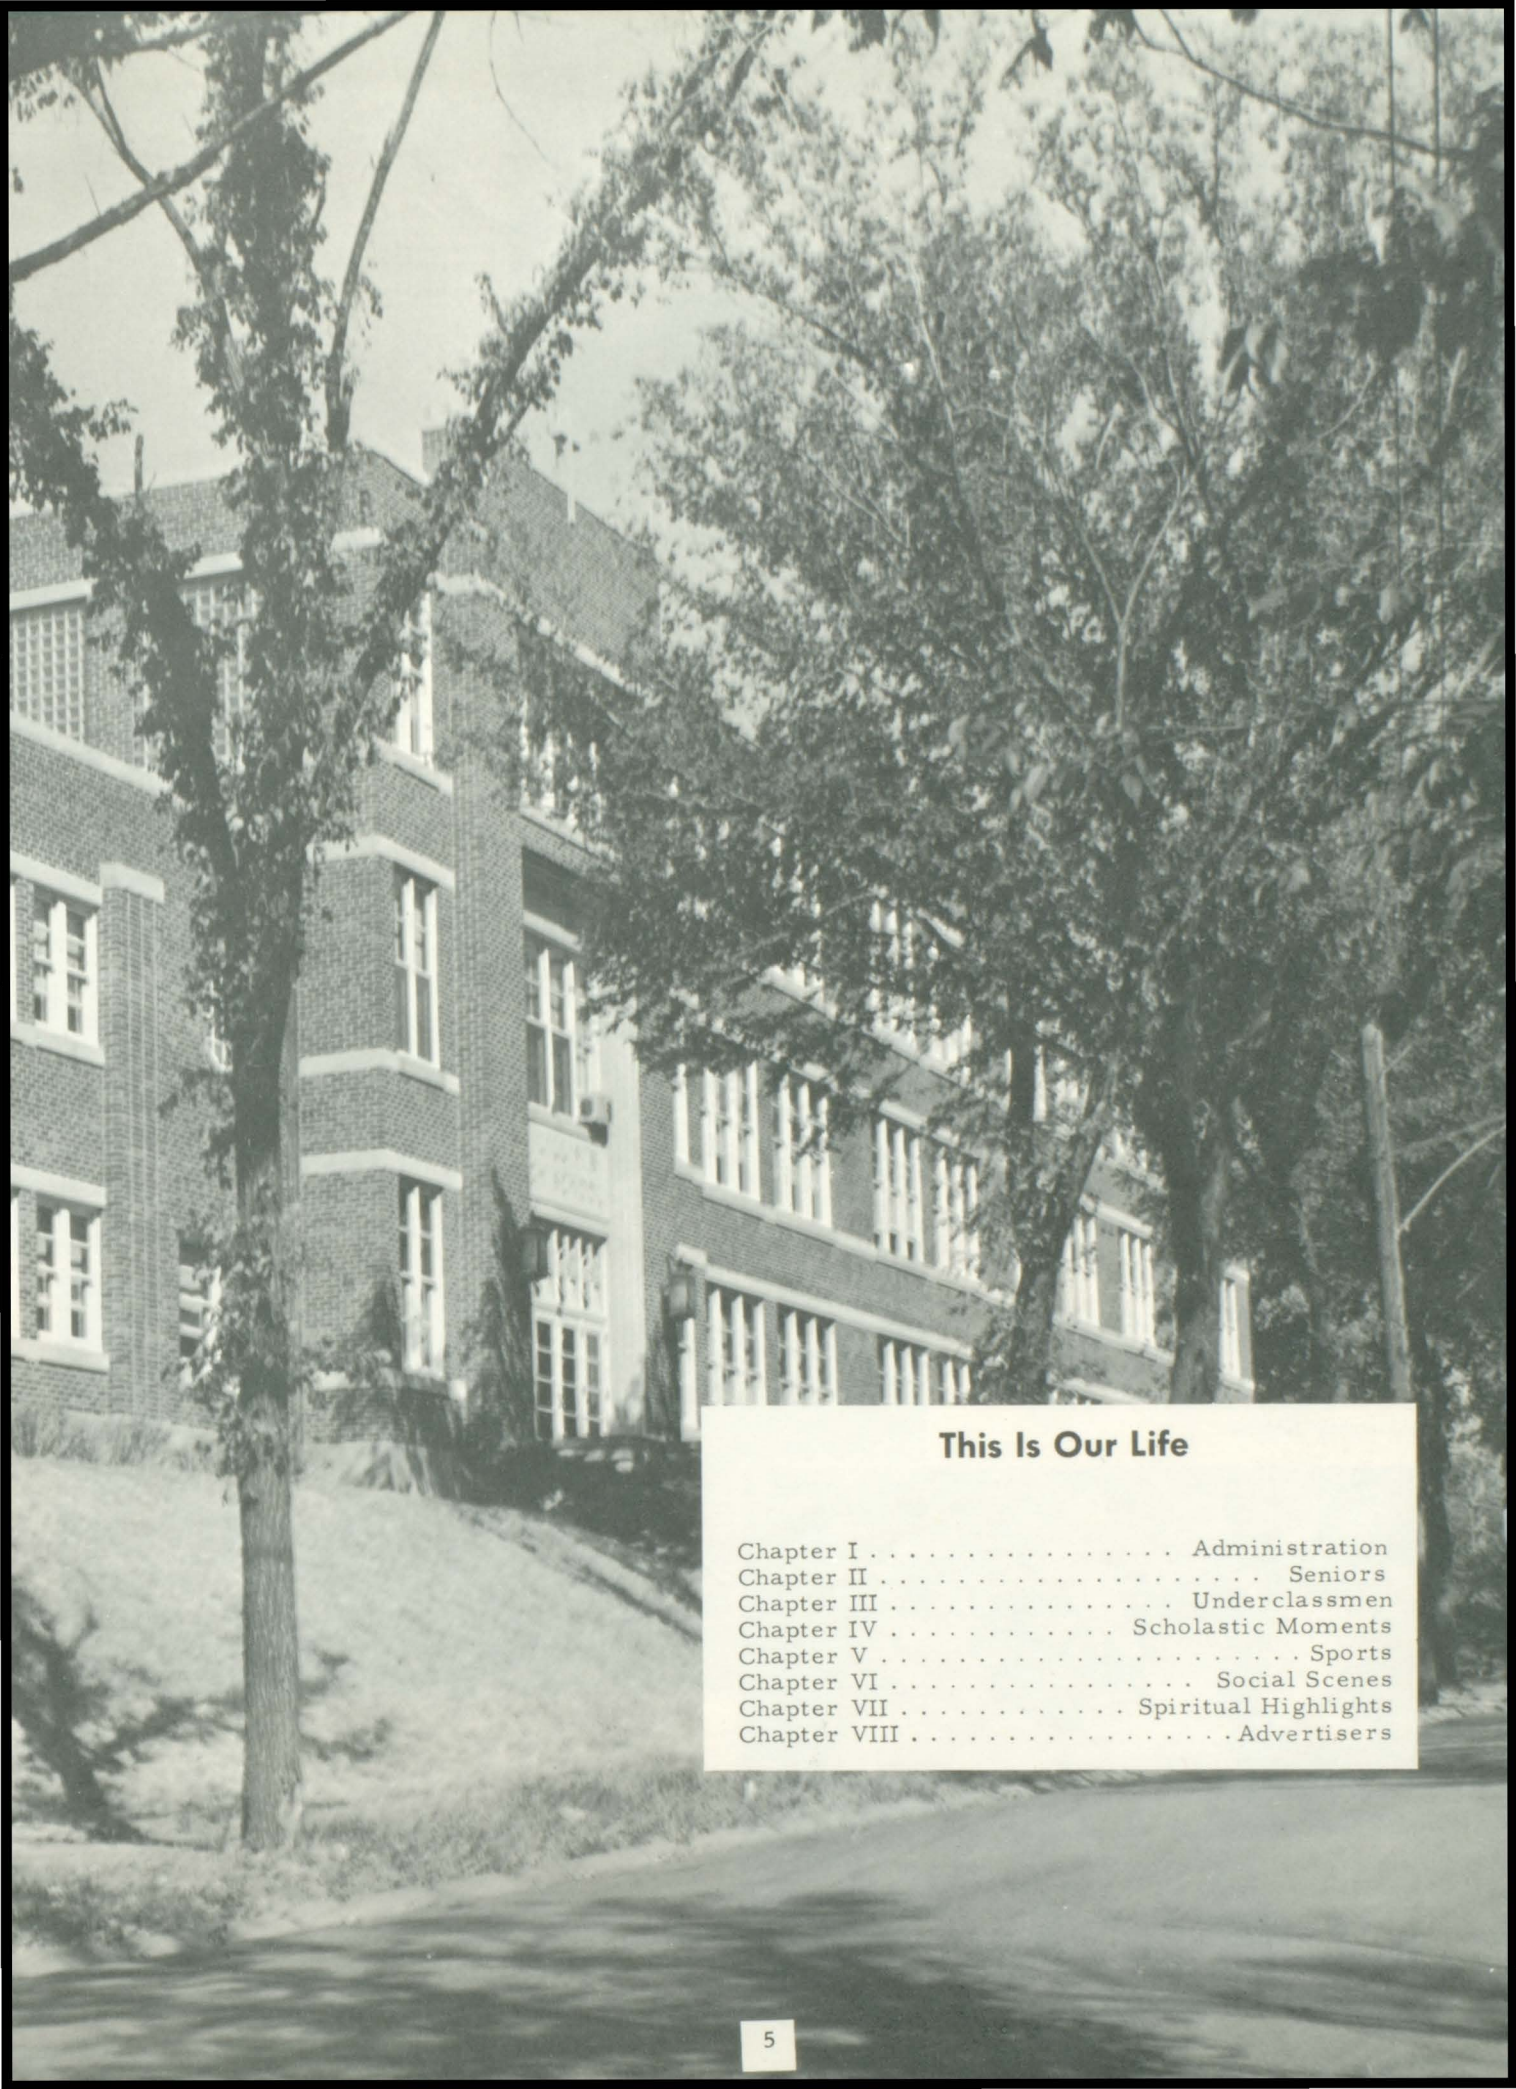

Bishop John P. Cody

Diocese of Kansas City — St. Joseph

It is difficult to evaluate in order of importance the many achievements of Bishop Cody since he became Chief Shepherd of this diocese. We shall attempt to list but a few.

Among those which are particularly significant to persons of high school age are the development of an eighth grade in all parochial schools and the proposed new building program through which both high school and grade school facilities will be extended. More generally, the bringing of a spirit of unity into all lay gatherings and the joining of the two separate areas into one diocese are among Bishop Cody's most important accomplishments.

This Is Our Life

Foreword

This is our life, the life of any real Lillis student. Not only the important events that stand out vividly in our minds, but also the little ones about which we may joke months later, fill the pages of this 1959 LILLISLOG. The social, the mental, the athletic, and the spiritual activities that fill our school days and our week-ends are here portrayed.

In the four pictures on these pages are glimpsed some of the main characters of our story. Freshmen, sophomores, juniors, seniors -- they are all Fighting Irish. They are all essential to the daily drama enacted here at Lillis.

Priests Plan Religion Syllabus

To discuss plans for coordinating the teaching of religion throughout the four years of high school, the religion instructors held a pre-term meeting in the Lillis library. SEATED, Left to Right, around the table are: Reverend Patrick Tobin, assistant pastor of St. Mary's Parish; Reverend Bertrand Morahan, O.P., Pastor of Holy Name Parish; Reverend Kieran McInerney, O.S.B., Lillis High School chaplain; Reverend Roger Miller, assistant pastor of St. Michael's Parish; and Reverend Harry Berendzen, assistant pastor of Blessed Sacrament Parish.

Father Kieran teaches freshman religion and three senior sociology classes. He also serves as spiritual director of the Lillis Mother and Dads Club and as athletic director. Father Miller is moderator for the religion instructors and teaches religion to all the sophomores. Father Tobin, Father Morahan, Father Berendzen, and Father Clark (who was absent at the time this picture was taken) each teach religion in one of the four junior homerooms.

Mr. Charles Sandy, a former graduate of Lillis and now a member of the faculty, looks up from his work with a smile. He is engaged in the pleasant occupation of preparing an outline on "Evil as Portrayed in Literature" for the newly organized Student Seminar. Besides these little extras, Mr. Sandy has a full schedule of English classes.

Mrs. Robert Green, girls' physical education instructor, is checking equipment in preparation for her first class of the new term.

Our Lay Faculty

Getting to feel at home as a homeroom sponsor is Miss Dorothy Kennedy. She teaches classes in civics and American History and directs the operations in Homeroom 401.

To create a pleasant, homelike atmosphere, Miss Rita Frede keeps a flower on her desk. Miss Frede teaches home economics and English.

Head football coach, Coach Joseph Mintner, besides directing athletic activities, teaches courses in shop, drafting and history.

Coach John Schmiedeler, head basketball coach, spends certain hours at the desk preparing for his classes in plane geometry, algebra and drivers' education.

Student Council Organizes

Besides the four officers named above, the Lillis Student Council consists of the presidents of each of the school organizations and the leaders of each of the homerooms. Pictured ABOVE these are: Baldy Darnay, Student Council President and L-Club President; Dick Tobin, Vice-President; John Connelly, Student Council Secretary and Senior Class President; Janet O'Sullivan, Student Council Treasurer and Solidity Prefect; Bob McClurg, LILLISTRATOR Editor; Jackie Adrian, LILLISLOG Editor; Rita Biritz, Pep Club President; Charles

Ad Jesum Per Mariam

The Sodality of Our Lady, organized to foster a greater devotion to the Blessed Virgin Mary, helps the Lillis students to realize the need for and to develop a deeper spiritual life. Besides the prayers and personal devotions prescribed in their rule, the sodalists undertake projects in which they can serve Christ in their neighbors through the spiritual and corporal works of mercy.

Seminar

We never know how high we are,
Till we are called to rise;
And then if we are true to plan,
Our statures touch the skies.
Emily Dickinson

The Student Seminar, under the sponsorship of the Faculty Scholarship Committee, is the newest project underway at Lillis. By research and contribution to group discussion, the Seminar prepares the gifted student not only for various scholarship and college entrance examinations, but also for the challenge of college itself.

Harry Jones, a graduate of the Class of '47 who holds an A.B., gave the introductory lecture to the group of juniors and seniors invited to participate in the seminar. The picture above was taken while the opening

Eleven of these twenty-one boys are returning lettermen and members of the L-Club. The L-Club, this year, is headed by Baldy Darnay with Joe Gonzales, vice-president; John Connelly, secretary; and Richard Rowland, treasurer.

Fifty-seven Fighting Irish are out for football this season. Of these, fifteen are on the freshman squad while the others play either on the Varsity or on the "B" Teams.

Coaches . . .

Coach John Schmiedeler and Coach Joe Mintner discuss strategic plays whereby they hope to produce a football team which will compare favorably with last year's championship team.

Cheerleaders . . .

Posing in their new uniforms and equipped with new megaphones are the six Varsity Cheerleaders: Judy Maxwell, Mary Ann O'Dwyer, Mary O'Neill, Sandy Overman, Judy Bruier, and Judy Miller.

The Lillis football and basketball teams are backed staunchly by the Green Peppers. Leading the Pep Club this year are Rita Biritz, president; Jackie Adrian, vice-president; Kathy O'Sullivan, secretary; and Pat Feters, treasurer. Seniors, juniors, and sophomores who are willing to lend their support to the cheering section at games and abide by the rules of the organization are welcome to become members of the Green Peppers. Freshmen may become pledges.

Early in February the senior homeroom leaders made an excursion to the gym. They hope to get an idea for an appropriate gift which the Senior Class can leave to the school when graduation rolls around. LEFT TO RIGHT, the homeroom leaders are: John Mc-Namara, Virginia Jones, Jim Hemmingsen, and Bob Miller.

Remember When . . .

"Dancing Under the Stars" was appropriate for the night of our "Stardust" prom.

The cash earned in three months of hard labor was exhausted in a couple of hours on Registration Day.

After registering, seniors checked their financial status and compared schedules for the coming year.

Homeroom 200 got into the spirit of the Homecoming Rally by leading the parade into the gym with their victory banner.

Jim Zammer (and a few others) made up for lost sleep the day after the Homecoming Dance.

Fred Parks fleeced his friends to get penny votes for popularity contestant, Joe Gonzales.

We start the tour of the second and third floor homerooms at Room 302, sponsored by Sister Mary Felix. This home of the Pathfinders wouldn't be normal without its array of maps, charts and globes. Trying to find the way "Around the World in Eighty Days" are, at the right, Joyce Hueser, Julia Franzen, Mary Jo McLear, Catherine Beebe, Linda Farrell, and Josephine Renne. Roger Carter can't make up his mind whether they are serious or not.

Mothers' and Dads' Club

Without the Mothers' and Dads' Club, Lillis would not be the school it is. Every student activity, whether spiritual, scholastic or athletic, receives a hundred per cent backing from this organization. Pictured at the right are the officers lining up the agenda for the November meeting. SEATED are Mrs. J. E. Maloney, Mrs. Joe Harris (president), Mrs. E. D. Taff, and Rev. Kieran McInerney. STANDING are Mr. C. E. Bachman, Mr. O. E. Bellman, Mr. B. J. Barden and Mr. M. E. Adrian.

BEST STUDENTS

Members of the National Honor Society who played a leading role in the March induction were John Connelly, who lead in the new candidates; Jackie Adrian, who gave the address on Scholarship; Carolanne DiBella, who spoke on Service; Janet O'Sullivan, who spoke on Leadership; and Kay Nichols, who spoke on Character. Jane Cranmer was responsible for distributing the candles.

Honor Society

These new senior members of the National Honor Society are selecting and trying on the pins. They are Bob McClurg, Rita Biritz, and Joanne Moser.

Posed for a picture are the Juniors who were inducted into the National Honor Society. SEATED are: Mary Ann Cook, Noland Davis, Margaret O'Sullivan, and Sue Straton. STANDING are: Marilyn Mulloy, Emery Harmon, Joyce Hueser, Charles Haefling, and Pat Ryan.

At the right are members of the National Honor Society who are responsible for getting ready all the equipment necessary for the induction of the three new senior members and the nine new juniors. Toni Danella checks the ceremonial while Virginia Jones and Judy Gelino prepare the candles. Judy Thomas, Larry Schneider, and Pat Gascich erect the master torch from which the other candles are lit.

Inducts Twelve

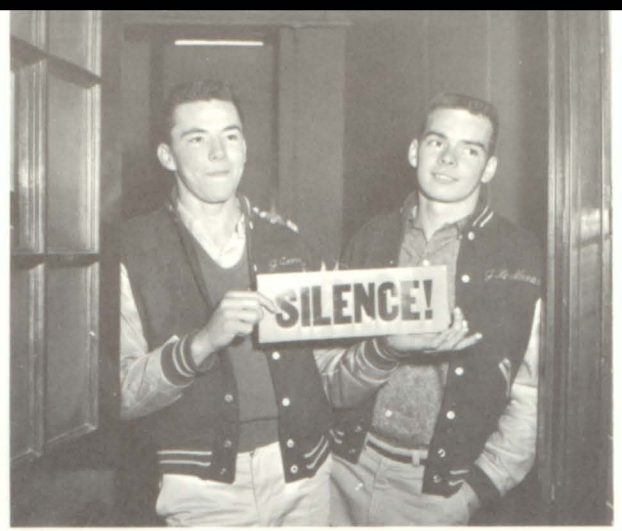

Left, three freshman scholars rejoice after being notified that they had passed the rigid requirements for becoming NHS Pledges. These are: Rockie Ryan, Jerry Purdy, and Edith McClurg.

The sophomore pledges return from the office after being notified that they had been elevated to the status of probationary members. These include: Mary Pat Barden, Linda Laut, Maeve Hope, Shirley Mueller, and Jeanne Goff.

Checking for errors are Jackie Adrian, Joanne Moser (associate editor) and Janet O'Sullivan.

The three sports editors collaborate to produce the master sports story. John Connelly and John McNamara stand guard at the door of the Lillistrator Room while the third member of their team, Kay Nichols, (inside) puts the finishing touches on the copy.

Speak Up

Debaters

Contestants

You'd never think this is a classroom, but it is. Seniors of the Seventh Period Speech Class practice on each other the art of making up clown faces. We know you would recognize these, but LEFT TO RIGHT are: Carolanne DiBella, Judy Stafford, Beverly Walker, Rita Biritz, Baldy Darnay, and Virginia McCann.

"ESCUCHEN USTEDES! VOY A LEER." says IL PROFESOR, Rudolfo Garcia. To the students in Sister Terrance's Spanish class this means Listen, students! I am going to read.

"When in Rome, do as the Romans do." First and second year Latin classes had a banquet "a la Roman." Directly below, Sophomore aristocrats are being served by Freshman slaves. At the table are: Jeanie Goff, Linda Laut, Shirley Mueller, Joanne Healey, Erlene Wheeler, Larry Niemeyer, and John Werkowitch. They are being served by Frances Crawford and Bob O'Sullivan.

Students in Science

Jeannie Goff tries to encourage Theresa Scanlon, Rosemary Coughlin and Richard Perkins, who are puzzled as to the next step in bisecting a frog.

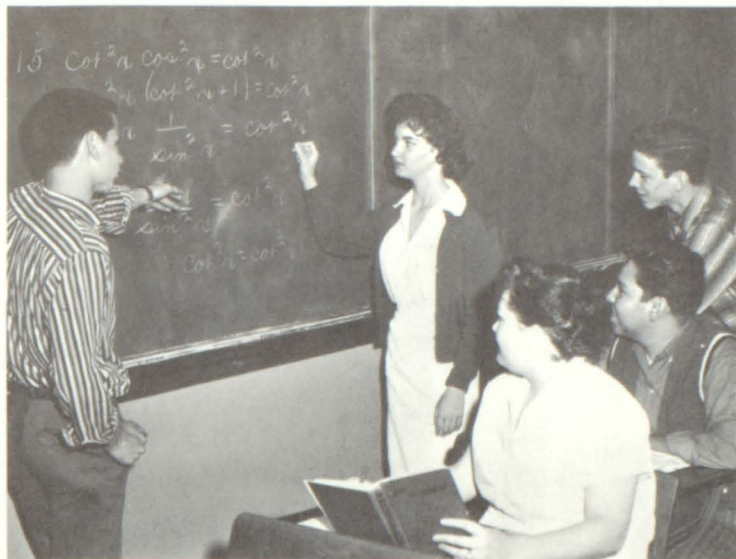

Astonished as to the unexpected outcome of their chemistry experiment are the juniors pictured above. On the near side of the lab table are Mary Ann Cook, Catherine Beebe, Pat Fetters, Mary Jo Myers, and Emery Harmon; on the far side are Mary Jo McLearn, Dennis Hake, Rita Prevost, Tim Scholl, Dolores Glynn, Margaret O'Sullivan, and Connie Swander.

A group of General Science students are checking the voltage they are able to produce with various pieces of electrical equipment. In the foreground of the picture are Leonard Maciel and Mike Glander. Behind them are Mike Brucker, JoAnn Baker, Mary Burrell, Etta Lou Scarcello, and Mary Theresa Gravino.

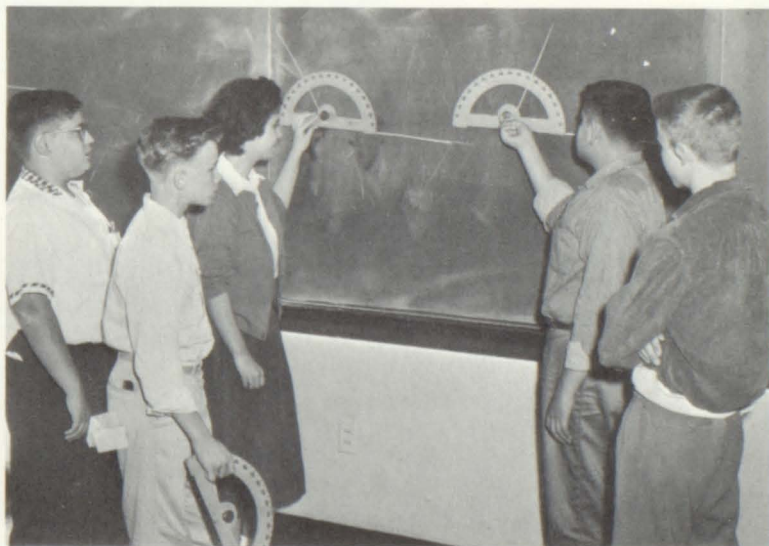

Adventure and Math

Jim Muller and Joanne Moser cannot agree on the next step in solving a trigonometric identity. Virginia Jones, Bob Garcia, and Richard Rowland watch the discussion with interest.

Freshmen in Algebra I enjoy a little competition. This time it's boys against the girls. Scorekeeper, Bonnie Miller, is ready to chalk up another point for the girls as soon as Ann Van Doorn says, "Time's up!" Carole Long is competing against Richard Hudson. In the desks are Carole Thompson, Susie Spindell, Carol Howerton, and Robert O'Sullivan.

Lillis Survives Fire and Speeds Reconstruction

Tragedy struck Lillis High School on the evening of November 25, 1958. Twenty minutes after the final curtain call of "Annie Get Your Gun," the Lillis gym was a raging inferno. A sudden burst of light and a roar of rushing air warned those few students, parents, and faculty members, who were still in the building, that the fire had already made great progress.

Thirteen fire-fighting units were on the scene within minutes. Firemen fought frantically to put out the fire and to prevent it from spreading to the main building. They finally succeeded but not without a staggering loss to Lillis.

The hours between 11:30 p.m. and 3:00 a.m. saw firemen working at the still smoldering gym while the faculty and a dozen or more students hurried to save valuable records and equipment from further damage. Shortly after 3:00 a.m. Coach Mintner, who volunteered to keep watch till morning, was the only one left in the building.

During the next few weeks workmen repainted the smoke damaged walls of the building while work on the gym itself was beginning to give the "new look."

Mid-February saw a new ceiling with recessed lights, newly plastered and painted walls, new doors and windows, all carefully installed. The new floor and some finishing touches were all that were needed for the grand opening early in March.

Yes! 1958-59 was a truly memorable year for all the Fighting Irish.

Pepsters Sponsor "Silver Bell" Ball

Pat Ryan and Mike Sadewhite, who were among the couples attending the dance pose by the Christmas tree.

Carnival Scenes

"Carnival Night" at Lillis was November 12. Here are some typical scenes of this social event. At the upper left, distributing their catch to some of the younger children who patronized the Fish Pond are Ed Burch and Anthony Bisacca. The Fish Pond was sponsored by Homeroom 403 under the supervision of Sister Aniceta.

At the right, Joe Gonzales and Carol Hudson, both seniors, are being crowned Popularity King and Queen by Mr. T. D. Walker at the climax of the Carnival Dance.

The sale of confetti eggs boomed until a "Sold Out" sign announced that there were no more of these delicacies to be had. In the picture directly below, Frank Lyon, John Michalek and Bill Bauer are operating this concession for Homeroom 406.

At the lower right is Homeroom 306's "Hat Shoppe." Margaret O'Sullivan and Rosalie Garcia prepare to purchase some of the Paris creations offered for sale in this exclusive shop.

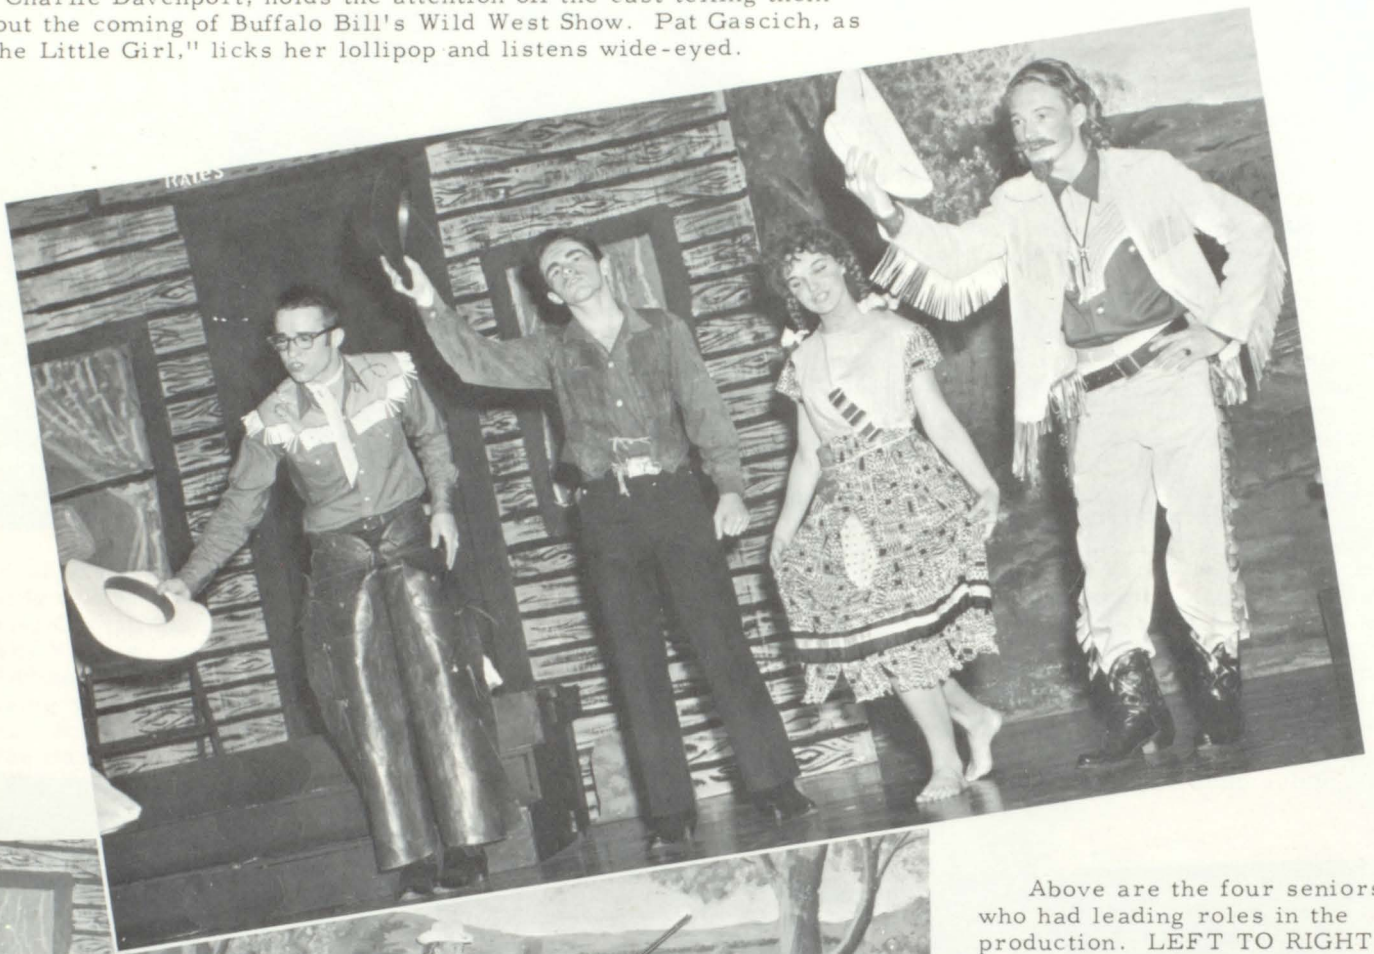

ANNIE

The Class of '59 presented "Annie Get Your Gun" on Nov. 24 and 25. This senior play, under the direction of Sister Mary William, had the largest cast in the history of Lillis. Above, Bob McClurg, as Charlie Davenport, holds the attention off the cast telling them about the coming of Buffalo Bill's Wild West Show. Pat Gascich, as "The Little Girl," licks her lollipop and listens wide-eyed.

At the left is the first shooting match between Annie and Frank. Buffalo Bill acts as judge while Frank demonstrates to Annie the art of fancy sharpshooting.

Pawnee Bill (Mike Sade-white) makes a deal with his business partner, Buffalo Bill (John Hamilton).

Tommy (Bob Miller) and Winnie Tate (Judy Maxwell) discuss their matrimonial problems.

Bob Garcia welcomes Judy Thomas and Sondra Gould to a dance to celebrate the return of Buffalo Bill.

Frank Butler, Winnie Tate, Dolly Tate (Martha Allegri) try to convince Foster Wilson (Baldy Darnay) to let them use his grounds for the shooting match.

YOUR GUN

Little Jake (Richard Harrison), Minnie (Rachel Sanchez), and Jessie (Kathy Stevenson) are shy before strangers.

Annie is telling Frank that she can do anything better than he. Sitting Bull (Rockie Bernard) looks like he agrees with her.

At the right are the stage hands relaxing after the final curtain call. This scene is not as desperate as it looks. The stage crew are just making use of some of the properties and make-up used in the play. LEFT TO RIGHT are: Martin Steinmetz, Paul Briseno, Jack Fischer, Byron Lage (The man with the gun), and Bill Hacker (who has donned a false mustache and beard for the occasion).

Less than twenty minutes after the play-cast and the audience had left the auditorium, this entire section of the building was in flames. Thirteen fire fighting units were on the scene to fight the blaze. One fireman, overcome by smoke and heat, had to be carried from the building by his companions. This scene is pictured at the left.

SPIRITUAL HIGHLIGHTS

These could be any Lillis Student.
They represent all Lillis Students.

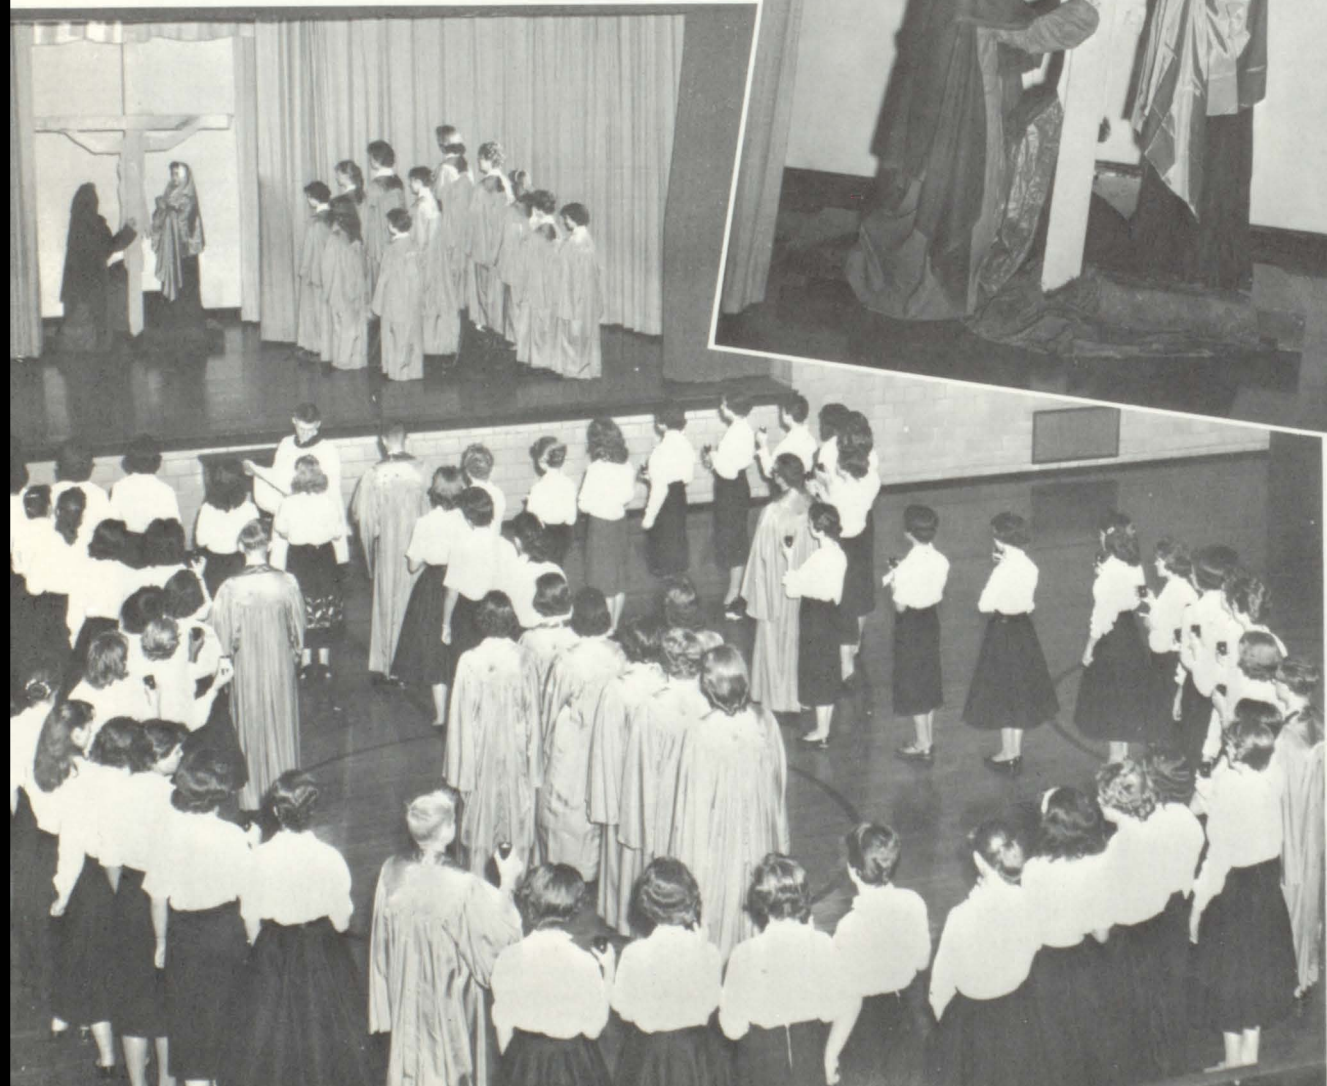

Sodalists Honor Our Lady

Dick Tobin
Narrator

At right, Janet O'Sullivan and Barbara Raynor portray Mary and Mary Magdalene in the Crucifixion scene.

Each year in honor of Mary, as Queen of the Holy Rosary, sodalists participated in a Living Rosary. In the foreground, below, are the sodalists who were privileged to lead the particular "Our Father" or "Hail Mary" they represented. Between decades Dick Tobin read the appropriate quotation from the gospel and the choral group gave selected readings from the Scriptures that corresponded to the narration.

Father Graham
Confers
with Seniors

Upper right, in an informal chat following the final conference, Father Gilbert Graham, O.P., retreat master, learns all about the coming activities at Lillis from seniors, Bill Hacker, Martin Steinmetz, Ed Wichmann, Jim Conaghan, and Byron Lage.

Upper left, Father Joseph Freeman, speaker for the Living Rosary ceremony, commends sodality officers on their excellent portrayal of the Crucifixion scene. Pictured with him are Toni Danella, secretary; Barbara Raynor, treasurer; and Janet O'Sullivan, prefect. Baldy Darnay, vice-prefect, was absent when the picture was taken.

"It is better to give than to receive" and so annually at Christmas each homeroom provides food, clothing and presents for some needy family. At the RIGHT, sophomores from Room 403 bring their contribution down to the waiting cars. LEFT TO RIGHT are: Bob Morris, Phil Gantt, Bill Drummond, and Kenneth Koss.

"Tis the Month of Our Mother"

During the month of May at the traditional regal coronation ceremony, students give Our Lady the special honor which is her due. Prefect, Janet O'Sullivan, places a crown of roses on the head of a statue of the Blessed Virgin. Assisting Janet are Baldy Darnay, vice-prefect; Barbara Raynor, secretary; Toni Danella, treasurer; Mary Jo Schmiedeler, train-bearer; and Debbie Mintner, crown-bearer.

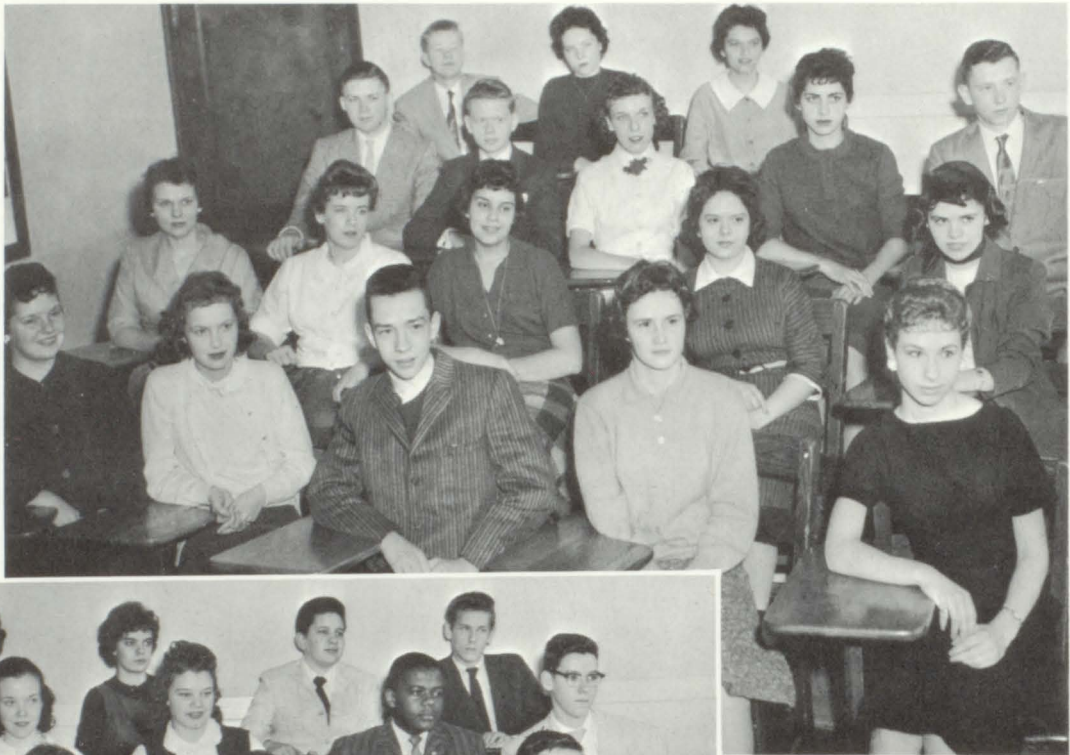

Religion

Below are the eighteen juniors whose scores on the written test made them eligible to compete in the semi-finals. They are: FIRST ROW--Marilyn Mulloy, Mary Ann Cook, Tom Madigan, Margaret O'Sullivan, Virginia Kneib; SECOND ROW--Sue Straton, Catherine Beebe, Pat Fetters, Diane Rathbun, Joyce Hueser; THIRD ROW--Emery Harmon, Charles Haefling, Eileen Bryant, Sandra Overman, Glynn Morrison; FOURTH ROW--Larry Walsh, Dolores Glynn, and Pat Ryan.

Father
Kieran
Blesses

Above, junior sodalists practice favorite Irish Melodies. They plan to entertain at the Old Folks' Home on St. Patrick's Day. Dorothy Oelklaus is accompanist for Pat Bachman, Christine Garcia, Linda Farrell, Dolores Glynn, Mary Ann Cook, Julia Franzen, Curley Haines, Mary Jo McLearn, and Sharon Scott.
