Administrators Seek to Guide and Counsel

Returning as principal, Sister Delores seeks to make education more relevant as we enter upon a new decade. To assist in scheduling, a new magnetic schedule board has been installed in the telephone room adjoining Sister's office.

Although Father Francis has the added responsibility of vice-principal this year, he still finds time for guidance in his capacity as chaplain and senior Ethics instructor.

Lillis is no stranger to Sister Mary David, although she is new to the present student body. Beside being available to the girls for guidance, she is bookkeeper for the school as well as a Math and Religion teacher.

Showing concern for the present and future of the students, our new counselor, Mr. Amick, not only counsels individuals but frequently appears in homerooms with important information for future college students.

Free Expression Weaves Through

Art Curriculum

Free expression is Sister Gratia's ambition for this year's Arts and Crafts Department. The art room is converted into an open workshop for the development of artistic abilities. This is an advantage for those students willing to spend their free time working on the type of art that best expresses their feelings.

Besides painting, candle-making, ceramics, and drawing, Sister introduces her students to new kinds of art, weaving and sculpture. The students not only learn the techniques of weaving but are able to transfer their knowledge into practical use by making scarfs.

While doing research on Egyptian sculpture, students are so interested they experiment with their own talents and create impressive pieces of art. It is evident that art is free expression and with the students' co-operation, Sister Gratia makes her arts and crafts classes enjoyable during the advancement of art at Lillis.

Secretaries of the 70's Are in the Making

Mary Buckman adds figures on the adding machine for Bookkeeping class while Steve Lunn looks on.

The business staff this year has a new instructor, Miss Milner, who is teaching the junior and senior girls Shorthand as well as Office Practice and Typing. Miss Milner is teaching the girls a new way of learning shorthand, through Shorthand baseball. It is a different approach and the girls learn more in an enjoyable way. It is played with individual letters, phrases, or sentences depending on how much the girls know. Miss Milner also instructs the senior girls in Office Practice in which they are learning to make their own files. This will help them when they take on the duties and responsibilities of a legal secretary, which they may one day be.

Coach Conrardy is teaching Bookkeeping and Typing classes for his fourth year at Lillis. He has found that using the overhead projector results in better understanding of the work for the students in Bookkeeping. Coach also teaches Typing I and II. He lets the students do most of the work on their own and continues with the usual timings for speed and accuracy.

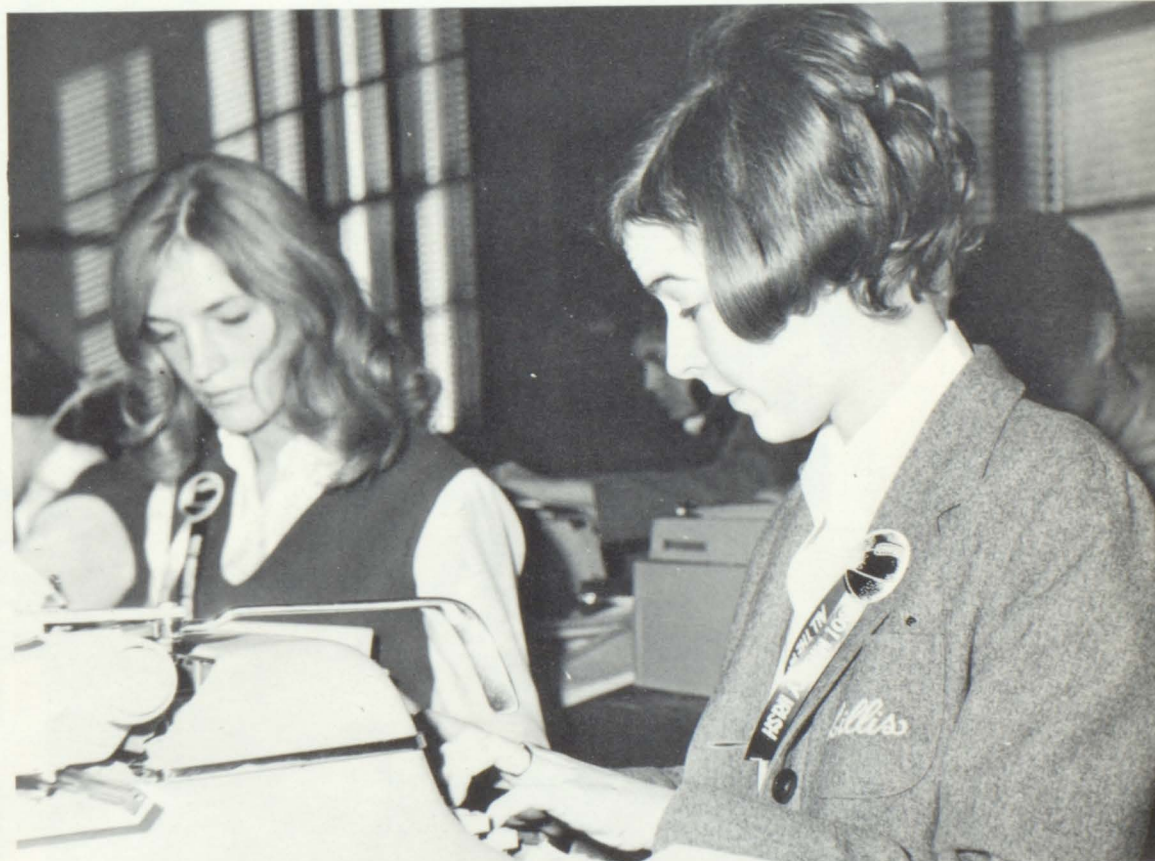

Miss Milner instructs students in Shorthand dictation.

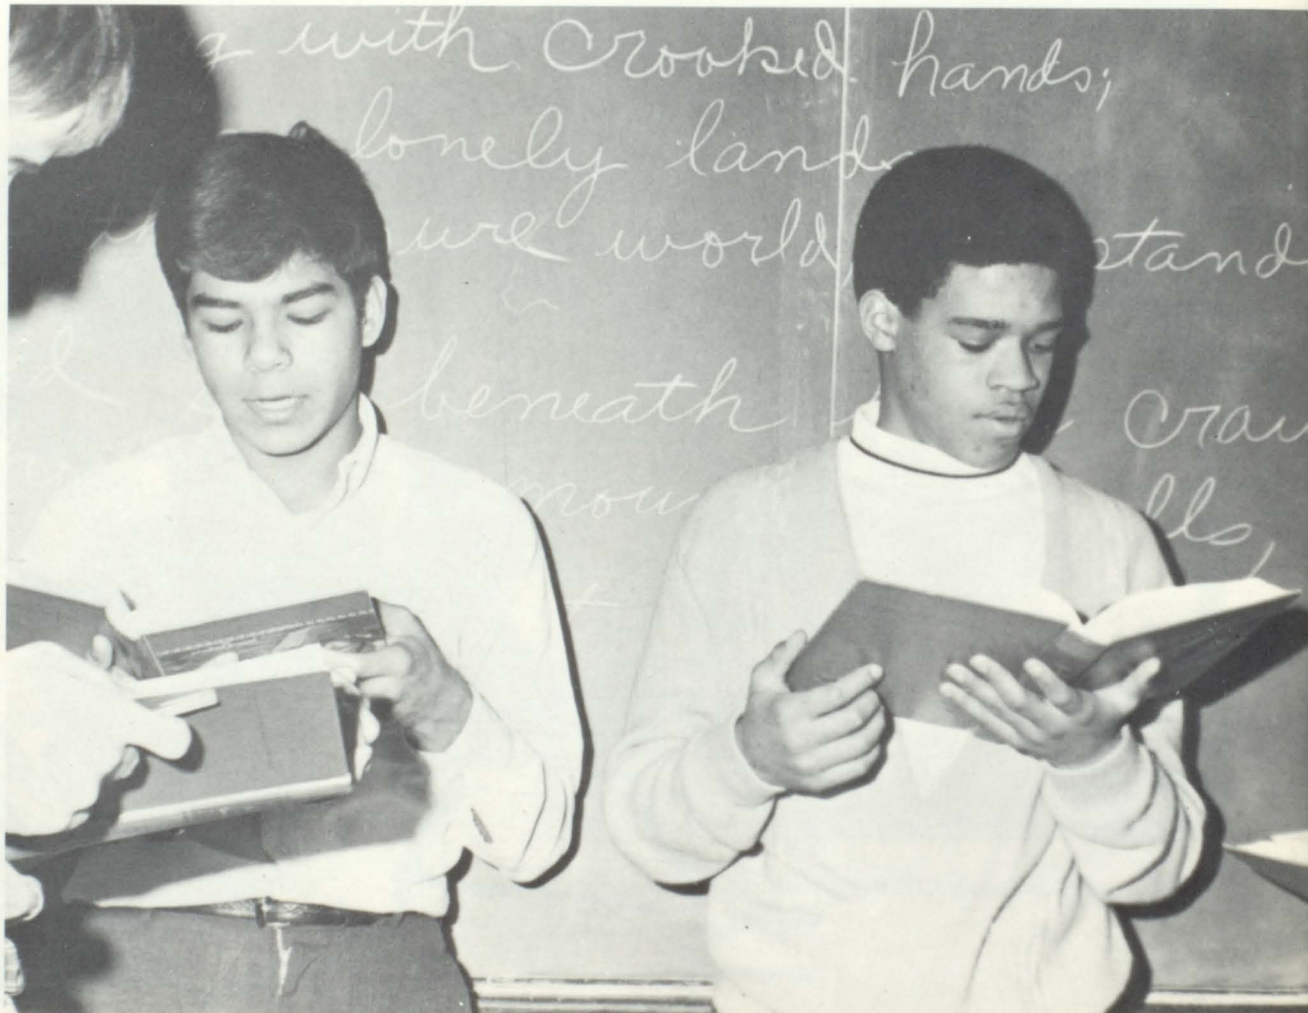

Debbie Mintner and Vickie Ochoa learn the usefulness of the dictaphone in Office Practice.

Seniors Mary Ann Brucken and Marina Maize type diligently in their Typing II class.

New Insights Gained Through Literature

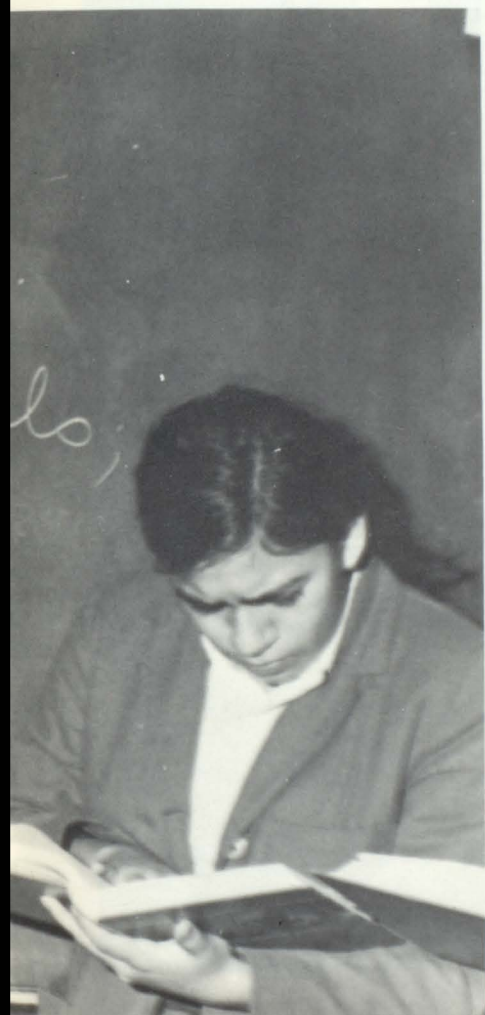

There are several new teachers in the English Department this year.

The sophomores and juniors develop a greater comprehension in Mrs. Cox's interpretive reading classes while Miss Madden's freshmen and juniors focus on a literary appreciation through novels and creative writing. Coach McGuire assists those students who need help with reading, writing, and reciting. Besides Sister Ruth's introduction of Afro-American literature, her students also view and make movies. A part time teacher, Mrs. Brice came to Lillis the second semester. Mr. Hunt helps his seniors realize that to be aware of language spoken can be freshly stimulating as well as informative and entertaining.

Home Ec Classes Train Future Homemakers

In the Home Ec department this year we again have the boys Home Ec class because of its popularity last year. All the cooking classes are becoming experts in making sweet breads, while the clothing classes are making stylish pant suits to wear to our football games.

The girls' cooking classes are learning to plan and prepare delicious, well-balanced meals. The tantalizing aroma of the baking food made mouths water as it slowly filled halls and classrooms.

Chanzella Smart adjusts the stitch for her attractive jumper she is making.

Study of Foreign Language Promotes

Peace is the product of understanding. Latin, French, and Spanish teachers teach culture through the study of language in hopes that students will come to better understanding of others.

Latin, the basis of all romance languages, is taught by Sister Adella. Concentrating on Latin history, mythology, and culture, Sister teaches Latin I and II classes.

Sister Carmen emphasizes French culture first semester followed by grammar and conversation second semester in her French I and II classes. Sister uses many audio-visual aids in her teaching.

Students learn Spanish under both Sister Juanita and Sister Carmen. The theme for Spanish I is "Latin America and Her People", while Spanish II and III students study "Spain and Her People". Bulletin boards, lab, magazines, slides, and cards are used, plus, new this year, three national exhibits dealing with Spanish and Mexican culture.

Films and word games seem to be popular with language students this year, besides the good old-fashioned "drilling it into your head" technique.

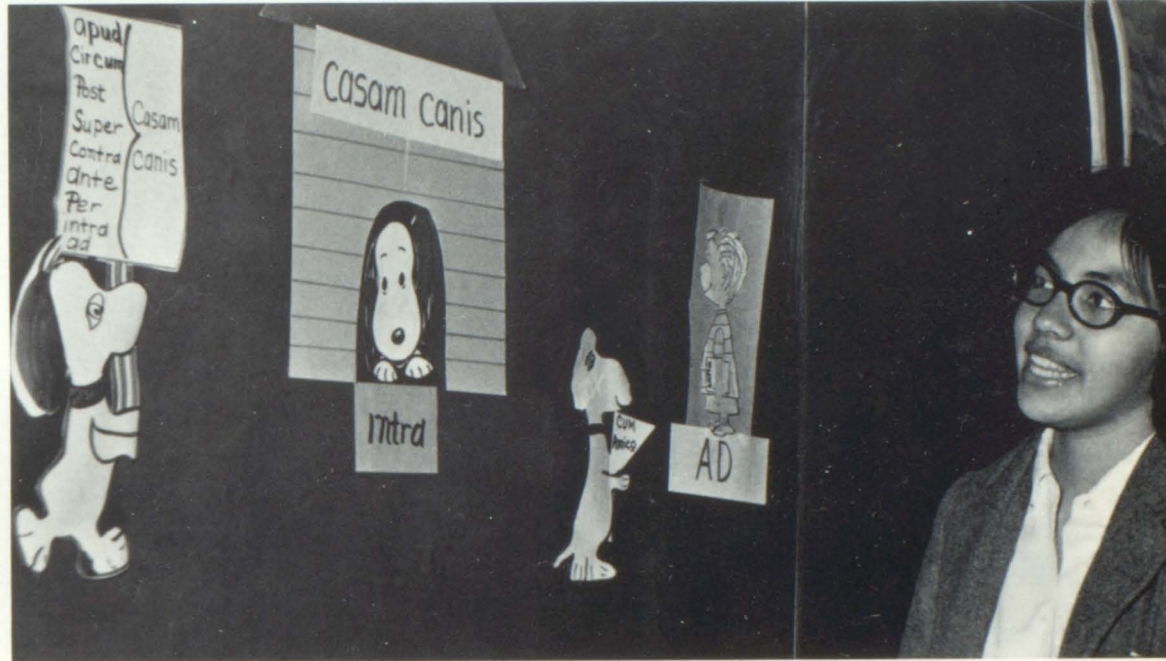

Vera Dunlap, John Munoz and Mary Zillner prove to Sister Juanita that they understand Spanish.

"Now I'd like to draw your attention to Super Snoopy," Paula Graves laughingly tells the Latin class.

Understanding and Peace

Snoopy assists as Barbara Merino recites.

Sam Balistreri, Carol Young, Mike Foley, Genece Wheeler, Debbie Hall and Janice Bush listen intently as Sister Carmen plays a French tape.

Visual Aids Clarify Math Concepts

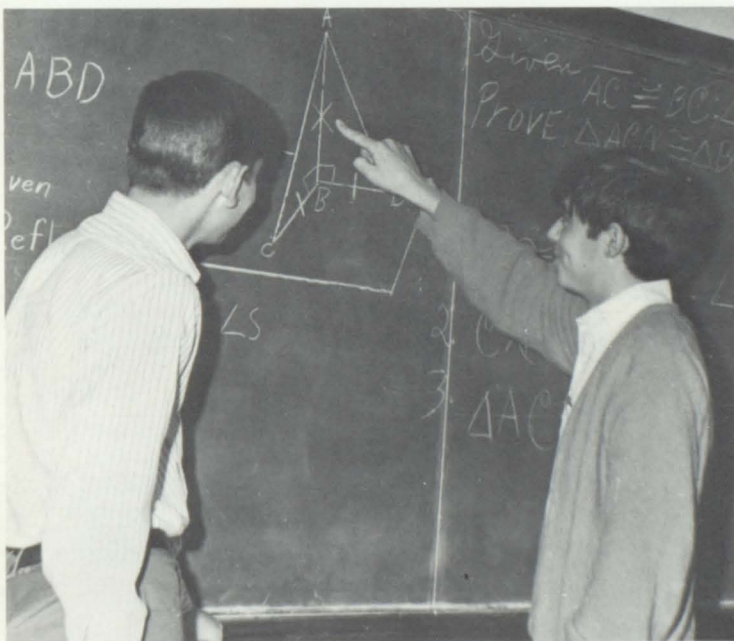

These Algebra II students are concentrating very hard to try and understand the conic waves shown by Mr. Ackerman on the cone.

The sophisticated seniors are really working hard at their college preparatory Math.

Two Geometry students are trying to find segment AB, given the other sides.

We have a very varied Mathematics department here, offering a good background and college preparatory work.

The General Math and Algebra I students get a light introduction to mathematics.

Geometry helps the students toward a fulfillment of their math needs with much mental discipline through Euclid.

There are two advanced classes. Algebra II helps students to gain different types of skills which sometimes supplement their science courses. In the Math IV class the students use logic and the Binomial Theorem to solve many of their problems.

Musical Variety Enriches Students' Lives

Performing for both the students of Lillis and the P.T.A., as well as for outside contests, the members of the Mixed Chorus, General Music, Band, Glee Club and several small Ensembles displayed their varied talents. These groups, under the direction of Sr. Aniceta and Mr. Ackerman were invited to festivals at Bishop Miege, St. Theresa's Academy and Mount St. Scholastica and attended several of them. The Mixed Chorus, Glee Club and Band opened the 1969-70 music season with a lovely Christmas concert for both the P.T.A. and the students. The "good vibrations" heard at this program continued through the year and made it a little more enjoyable for everyone.

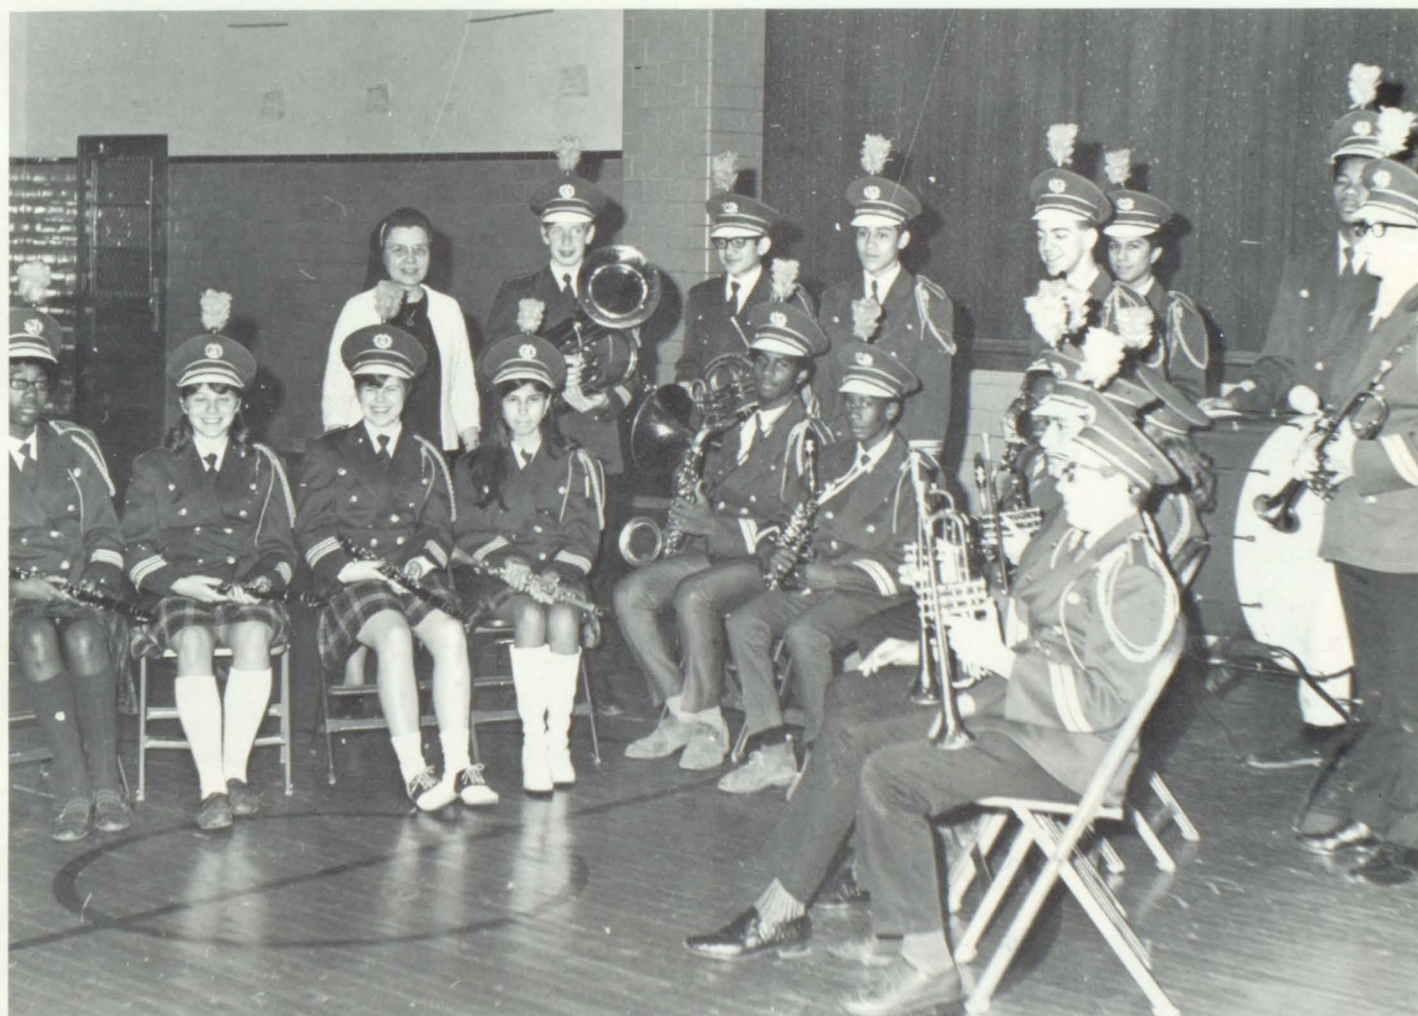

Mike Allen, Andrel Stevenson, and Mark Stevenson help provide lively entertainment at school functions.

School Masses for the student body were made more meaningful with the accompaniment of the guitar group.

Sr. Aniceta relates to her first-year students some of the finer points of music.

Lillis Girls Shape Up For The 70's

The girls' physical education classes have a new instructor, Mrs. Barrington. She is guiding the freshmen, sophomore, and junior girls in various sports such as kickball and bombardment. The girls take to the outdoors for a baseball game when weather permits. Exercises are a part of the busy schedule along with practice on the new balance beam. It aids the girls in poise and balance. Mrs. Barrington is adding a modern dance program and tumbling in the second semester.

Freshman girls, Sheryl Addison, Valerie Clark, Janice Marx and Alice Ross do their daily exercises.

Practical Arts Prove To Be Interesting And Useful For Students

The field of Practical Arts at Lillis covers Printing, Driver's Ed, and Drafting. Printing is taught by Sister Mary Ruth, Drafting and Driver's Ed by Coach Mintner. In Printing, students learn the art of setting type, and the complexities of the presses. The object of Driver's Ed is to teach students safe, defensive driving habits, the rules of the road, and a courteous attitude towards other drivers. Drafting teaches precise thinking and detailed mechanical drawing. Students who take these classes learn things which will be valuable to them now and in the future.

Coach Mintner points out a detail to John Vajdic and George Leuty.

Fred Rodriguez corrects a mistake in typesetting.

Mass before every game is an important part of religion in practice at Lillis.

Religion classes, a must for every student, help keep the religious atmosphere at Lillis. In their classes, students are taught the basics, and learn to apply them to everyday situations. This is particularly true of Ethics, which is taught by Father Francis to the Seniors, and is considered by many to be the most interesting and meaningful of their Religion classes. Lecture and discussion are two of the ways in which Christian principles are learned.

Teaching religion at Assumption was fun for Marilyn Childs and her pupil.

Religion Classes Are Interesting With Variety

Father Tobin encourages freshmen to give their opinions in this discussion group as they help to plan their class sessions.

New Equipment Opens Avenues

Eddie Rodriguez, Marian Stanley, Mike Foley, and Birdie Ferguson are planning to work with bacterial cultures.

of Experimentation in Lab Classes

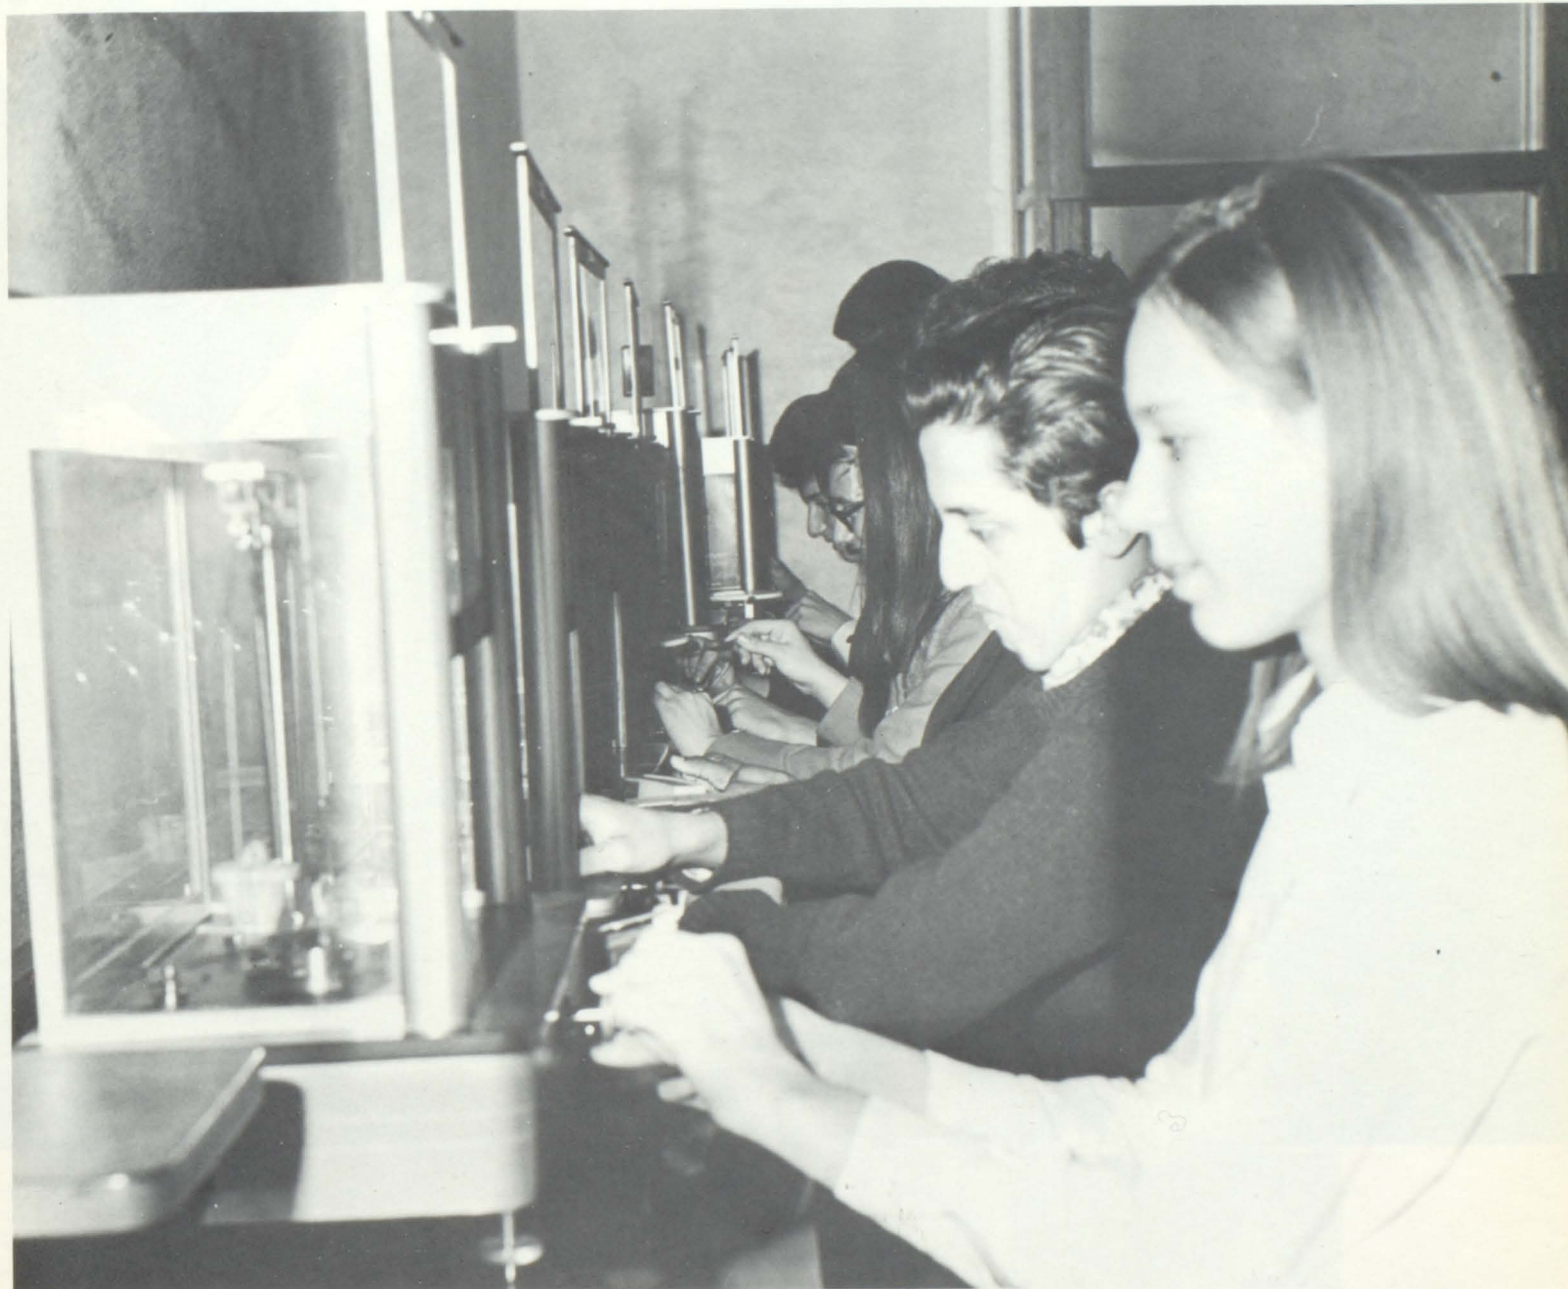

Twelve newly acquired analytical balances in the Chemistry Lab make possible many more quantitative experiments. Instead of being able to weigh out chemicals and materials to the nearest .01 gram, chemists can now read to the nearest .001 gram on the new balances. Using the balances properly they will learn many new techniques to achieve speed and accuracy.

Physics is the study of energy. Investigating fundamental natural laws found in heat, light, sound, electricity mechanics, and magnetism give the students a better understanding of the world in which we live and an appreciation of the orderliness of God's creation. A person who has taken physics can never walk into a room and see it the same as before.

This year a refrigerator, a most vital piece of equipment, was donated to the Biology Lab. It provides storage of all necessary material for experiments. An incubator has played an important part in Lab experiments. Students are participating in a group learning process called IRA, by McREL.

Martha Mitchell, Henry Pacheco, Clare Roberts, Richard Ackman, Carl Lamano, and Wilbur Addison weigh chemical before and after their experiments.

Social Studies Help Broaden Our Understanding

of World Events

The Social Science department involves each Lillis student in helping them to relate to an outside world. The underclassmen are placed in World Culture classes while the Juniors and Seniors study American History. The field consists of a whole new assortment of teachers this year with only one familiar face returning to the teaching team. The new members are Mr. Turner, Sr. Genevieve, Miss Patterson, and Sr. Julia. Returning is Miss Menser who practice taught an American Problems class here last year.

Each Monday this team of teachers meets to make plans for the coming week's schedule of topics. New in the American History program this year is an arrangement which places each Junior and Senior in three different classes; a large lecture group, a discussion group for current events, and a small seminar class. This proves to widen the spectrum of the subject plus offering the student the different teaching methods and points of view of several teachers. The World Culture classes are conducted in much the same way as last year, with Miss Menser and Mr. Turner handling the freshmen, with Sr. Genevieve and Miss Patterson the sophomores. Sr. Genevieve also supplemented her schedule with a Russian History course.

Vicki Rodriguez explains to Mr. Turner her American History chart showing North and South comparisons.

Wilbur Addison and Jeanie Tierney represent the Southern viewpoint in an American History panel discussion while Karen Stewart and Debbie Long give the Northern attitudes.

Student Needs

Concerned with the needs of all the students at Lillis, the Student Council and the Job Corps are interested in student problems. The Student Council met frequently during the year to discuss problems and plan for future activities. The council sponsored activities included Thanksgiving and Christmas baskets for the poor and a Winter Weekend skating party. The Council officers were: President John Stanley, Vice-President Chuck Nelson, Secretary Mary Ritz, Treasurer George Leuty.

Coach Mintner is responsible for the helpful new addition to student needs. This is Job Corps, Lillis's answer to finding a needed job. Students needing a job fill out an application for coach's reference. He then directs inquiries into different available jobs and finds the one best suited to the student. In taking on these jobs the students find a useful source of money, some of which to be used for tuition and other necessary expenses.

The Lady's Not For Burning

"Hands off my daughter you bloody-minded heathen."

"The Lady's Not For Burning," a satiric comedy, takes place in a room in the house of Hebble Tyson, the mayor of a small town of Cool Clary. The play is about a young man's despair about the futility of society. His discovery was that life must be more than an evil result, and that the generation gap can even separate him from his peers.

The play, sponsored by the Senior Class, was the first production of the drama department, under the direction of Mr. G. Glenn Hunt. Props were the courtesy of the Starlight Theater. An additional feature was the display of fine arts activities in the cafeteria.

Pep Club Girls Find Companionship in Spirit

One of the most active organizations at Lillis, the Pep Club turns out at every Varsity football, and basketball game to give exuberant support to the boys. Having a membership of over sixty girls, the club sponsored several dances and a gas-ticket drive in the fall besides attending athletic events.

Awards are given on the point system, by which points are received for attendance at games, poster making, decorating, etc.

This year's team of officers included Carol Calcara, President; Mary Ann Brucken, Vice-president; Dorothy Shinault, Secretary; and Charlene McKinley, Treasurer. These girls along with Miss Menser, this year's sponsor, supervised the behavior of the club at games and also took care of the club's business.

The tradition, begun at Lillis last year, of the Spirit Stick given to the class with the most spirit, was carried on this year with Debbie Minter as Senior representative; Theresa Flanagan, Junior; Debbie Ochoa, Sophomore; and Theresa Donigan, Freshman Representative.

The coaches and players agree that the Pep Club plays a very important part in the achievement of a victory.

Cheerleaders Promote True Irish Spirit

The 1970 cheerleading squad gave their full support at all the Lillis games this year. The girls were chosen last year by the student body on the basis of school spirit, personality, acrobatics and individual cheers. Our cheerleaders attended the varsity games, cheering the team on with the Pep Club. They continued to show school spirit throughout the basketball season as they had during football. New dark-green sweaters helped boost morale along with bright gold and green pompoms.

B-Team cheerleaders: Katy Ritz, Gina Ivarra, Mary Danaher, Julie Nachbar, Barbara Merino, captain; Sonya Carter, Rosemary Rhodes.

Homecoming '70 Was A Memorable Weekend

A spirit-filled pep rally began the 1969 Homecoming activities. At the rally, frosh homeroom 402 was declared the best for showing its Irish spirit. Then the underclassmen heard a loud sounding of horns as the Seniors drove away. This year's parade included the Junior members of the varsity football and cheerleading squads. Everyone was in high spirits for the game that night, which we won, 27-0.

The dance was held Saturday night. "Oh, What A Night" was played by H. Fennell and the Soul Sounds as Queen Debby Mintner and her attendants were escorted to their thrones. It was a perfect Homecoming weekend; the Seniors will never forget it.

This carload of happy seniors was one of many in the Homecoming parade.

Lillis All-Stars Merit Honors

Coach Mintner instructs a player in game tactics.

The 1969-70 Varsity Football Season demonstrated the true Fighting Irish Spirit. We had a record of three wins and seven losses. In spite of a losing season, it can be said that the team "gave their all", while seeking victory!

The team seemed to play in quite a few homecoming games, playing a total of five. Our homecoming was a tremendous success. We beat St. Mary's 26-0.

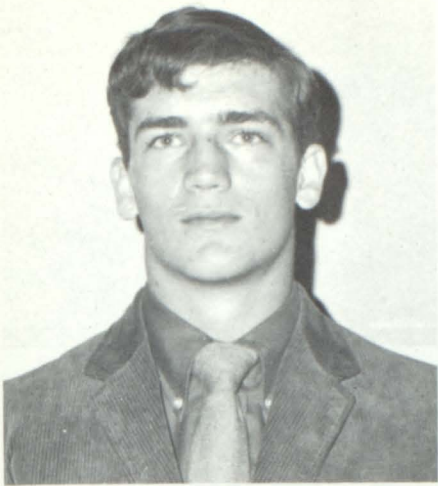

Our All-Stars were an example of the tremendous zeal the team expressed throughout the season. John Stanley was on the first team in the offensive half-back position. Lillis was represented on the first team defense by Bob Audley at Linebacker, Rabbit Hernandez at Safety, Richard Cecena also at Safety, and John Kane at Tackle. Jim Szyman, Jonas Sears, Harvey Williams and Chuck Nelson were on the second team. Dennis Dunlap, George Leuty, Fred Rodriguez and Gary Soltero were Honorable Mentions.

Bob Audley and John Stanley jointly received the Bill Flores Memorial Trophy. Bob also obtained the tackling trophy. Rabbit Hernandez was the best in pass defense. Chuck Nelson received the Hard-Nose Trophy. George Leuty earned the plaque for the most improved player.

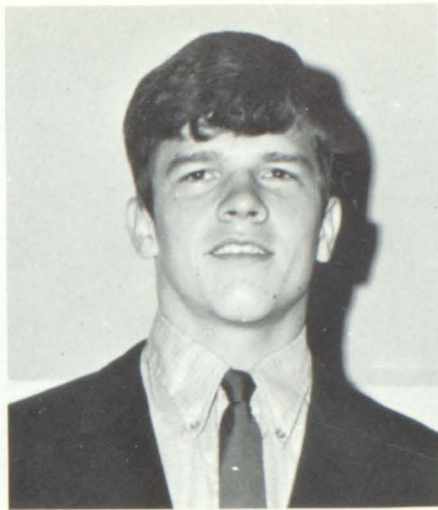

The Junior Varsity ended up with a record of four wins and nine losses. The Freshmen came out with four wins and six losses.

The offense pulled through many times on the ground.

The Yearbook Dance was one of the most spectacular events of the year with the crowning of Brent Allen as king. In his first year as varsity head, Coach Conrardy with the aid of Coach McGuire led the team on to their 19-6 season. In the eyes of those at Lillis, their greatest accomplishment was defeating Hogan twice, once winning the Catholic League Tournament. Another crown won by our Fighting Irish was in the Platte City Tournament. They also placed third in the Blue Springs Tournament.

At the head of our scoring attack was Rabbit Hernandez followed closely by Charlie Walsh and Jim Kipper. Leading the boards in rebounds were Pat O'Neil and John Kane. The combined efforts of our team placed us second in Catholic League.

Our Junior Varsity and Freshmen teams also were highly successful. Junior Varsity, coached by Coach Turner, placed second in Catholic League, while our victorious Freshmen, led by Coach Wichmann took first.

Charlie Walsh will jump a mile for a point.

Of Lillis Life

Club has always been an active athletic organization at Lillis. This year, selling key chains, Irish derbys, and bumper stickers were the money-making projects. They also sponsored a mixer. A main goal of this year's L Club is to set up a "Richard Valadez Memorial Scholarship"; to be awarded to a deserving freshman boy. The funds for this will come mainly from selling candy. By contributing their services in so many ways, these athletes have become valuable and respected here at Lillis.

This year's officers: Chuck Nelson, Sergeant-at-Arms; Alex Pena, Secretary; Rabbit Hernandez, President; Bob Audley, Vice-President; John Stanley, Treasurer.

Lillistrator Encourages Young Writers

The Lillistrator, the school newspaper, informs the students of the current happenings at school. It also offers space for students to display their exceptional abilities in writing. The Lillistrator is published four times a year by Debbie Dibal, editor, and her staff, under the guidance of Miss Madden, moderator.

National Honor Society Receives New Students

Eight new members were inducted into the National Honor Society March 24 before the faculty, student body and invited guests. Debbie Dibal, James Kipper, John Stanley and Mary Knapp spoke on the qualities of scholarship, character, leadership and service. The ceremony was moderated by Father Francis with Sr. Dolores presenting the certificates. Rev. Harold Wickey of Donnelly College addressed the group.

Extracurricular Activities Spark Interest

February 21 marked the Lillis vs. Shawnee-Mission North "Categories" game on WDAF-TV. Despite many hours of intense study, the final score was 21-7 in Shawnee-Missions' favor. Sister Julia organized and directed the students in preparing for their encounter.

Another busy group this year was the Civics Club. Sponsored by Miss Patterson, they met frequently to plan projects of good-will for our community. Their main project was collecting and presenting toys, clothes, and presents to a family of nine at Christmas.

Former Actor, Now Priest Visits Lillis

Padre Humberto Almazan visited Lillis on March 12 as a guest of Joseph Teasdale and Sister Ruth. He spoke to the student body on true happiness and how he had achieved it. Padre Humberto, once an academy-award winning Mexican actor, became a missionary priest four years ago. At the height of his glory he realized that the only time he had been truly happy was during the ten months he had been married to his wife, Ginette, now dead.

Padre Humberto is now truly happy as a priest working with 14 million lepers in Indonesia. He tours the world giving talks to raise money for his work. Padre is now sharing his love with the whole world.

Padre Humberto talks with Prosecuting Attorney, Joe Teasdale, before his talk to the school.

Language Clubs Promote World Understanding

Learning the language of another individual is one of the best ways to form a friendship. For this purpose, drawing the world a little closer together, three language clubs exist at Lillis.

The Spanish Club, under the direction of Sister Juanita, broadened their knowledge of Spanish and Mexican culture, making field trips to the Art Gallery and a performance by Jose Greco. The club also sponsored a Mexican dinner and show.

The French Club, with Sister Carmen, has also visited the Art Gallery, to view a special exhibit on Napoleon. At Christmas, the members went caroling to French-speaking people around the city. They also participated in a city-wide Mardi Gras.

The Latin Club is supervised by Sister Adella and boasts the President-Treasurer team of Paula Graves and Mark Stevenson, a very "dynamic force", says Sister. The first Latin project was a raffle for the poor at Christmas.

On a trip to the Kansas City Business Show the club members were able to see the newest innovations in the line of office printing.

in After School Activities

The Printing club's purpose is to enable printing students to go on trips to learn more about the field of printing in Kansas City. This year the club's trips included one to the Kansas City Business Show and one to Old American Insurance's advertising department where the club was able to see people working on layout and design.

The F.H.A. performs services to the school and the community. This year the club made hospital bibs for K.U. Medical Center, made gifts for the patients at St. Marys, and also sang Christmas Carols at the hospital. They had a Christmas skit that they performed at school. They also sponsored three bake sales and a Hootenanny.

Fun for All

Mr. Amick and Coach Wichmann displayed their hidden talent for basketball in the game against the Seniors.

Spring Track Program Shapes Up Athletes

For many boys at Lillis, track provides an opportunity to develop talents in many areas, as well as conditioning them for other sports. The activities include shotput, pole-vaulting, broad jump, hurdles, and running. Coach Wichmann has responsibility for the Varsity team, and Coaches Mintner and McGuire both coach the Freshman team. The teams attended several track meets during the spring. All their long hours of training and practice proved to be valuable.

Jonas Sears proves that a lot of conditioning and work must be done before actual competition can take place.

The Year is woven through Autumn, Winter and Spring activities. A collection of photographs of each season has been assembled here to weave for you the Web of 1970. Throughout Autumn, a display of excitement over football season and Homecoming; in the Winter, Basketball, snowy days and Christmas vacation; and in the Spring thoughts turn to Prom, Graduation and the long awaited lazy days of summer. As we leave Lillis we will carry on all these memories as well as friendships and the Spirit of the Fighting Irish.

Sincere thanks to Sister Mary Ruth, our advisor, our photographers and everyone that participated in our fund-raising activities. We, the members of the Lillislog staff wish to express our gratitude to everyone that made it possible for us to present to you The Web of 1970.

The date was July 20, 1969 — the historical moment when man from planet Earth reached the first stepping stone in his exploration of space. In a spectacular climax to its Apollo space program, the United States had landed two astronauts on the surface of the Moon.

one giant leap
for mankind.” —Neil Armstrong

1/ Flight crew of Apollo 11: Commander Neil A. Armstrong, Command Module Pilot Michael Collins, Lunar Module Pilot Edwin E. Aldrin Jr.

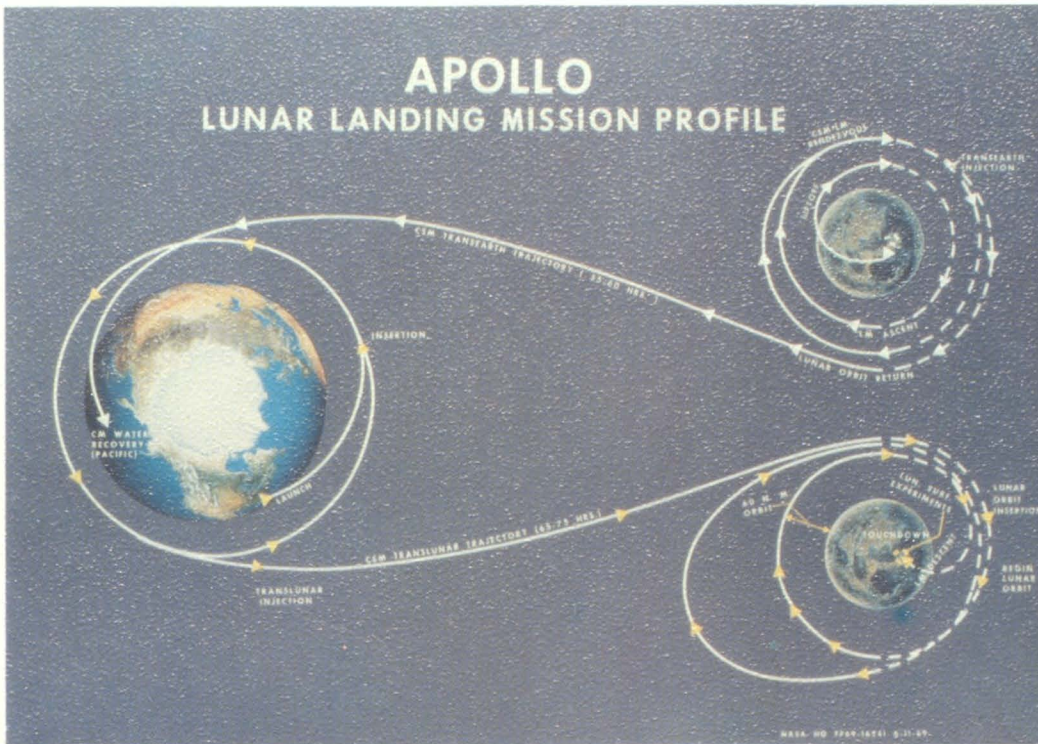

2/ Neil Armstrong waves as the astronauts board a van that will take them to the launch complex.

3/ Lift-off! The Apollo/Saturn V spacecraft is on its way at 9:32 EDT the morning of July 16, 1969. A half-million spectators watched from the perimeter of Cape Kennedy Launch Complex 39A.

4/ Flight Plan: Leave Earth Wednesday morning, July 16. Arrive in lunar orbit Saturday. Touchdown and walk on Moon Sunday. Leave Monday for return flight. Splashdown Thursday in Pacific Ocean.

5/ The 363-foot high space vehicle generates a thrust of 7½ million pounds at lift-off.

6/ Apollo 11 thunders toward orbit. In 2½ minutes, the craft was 38/55 miles high and downrange.

7/ Sunflare in camera lens seems to brighten the dark sky as Apollo 11 orbits the Earth before translunar injection.

1/ The rising Earth greets Apollo 11 as the astronauts come from behind the Moon after lunar insertion burn.

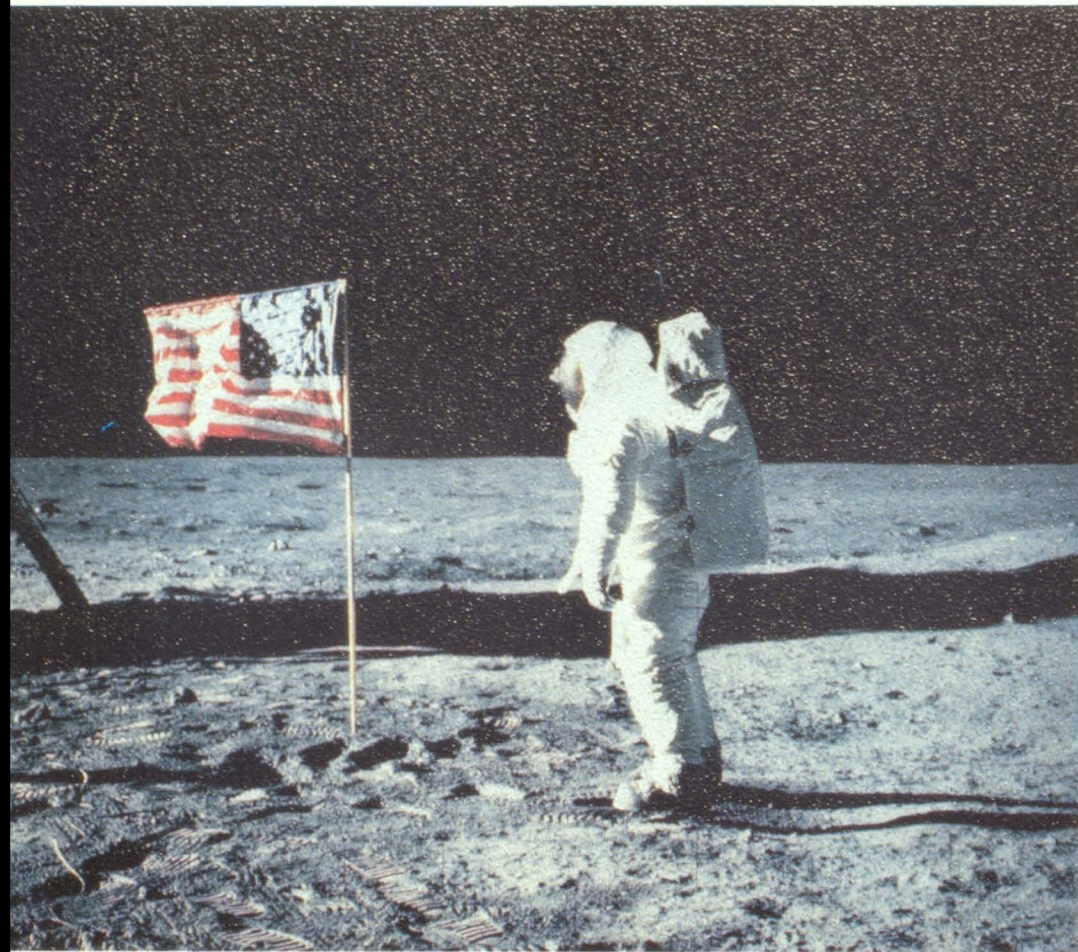

2/ Astronaut Collins took this picture from the command module Columbia as Eagle separated for descent to the Moon with Armstrong and Aldrin aboard.

3/ Large central crater is identified as International Astronomical Union 308, on the far side of the Moon.

4/ Crater and terrain features photographed near the landing site on the Sea of Tranquility.

5/ Aldrin descends ladder of the LM to join Armstrong for a walk on the Moon. Here their weight was only a sixth of what it is on Earth.

6/ Television viewers on Earth were enthralled as the astronauts went through a checklist of lunar chores. Armstrong and Aldrin spent 22 hours on the Moon, including 2½ hours outside the LM.

1/ Salute to the American Flag by Edwin Aldrin. Because there is no atmosphere, the flag is unfurled by an L-staff.

2-3/ Now there are footprints in the powdery crust where no man ever had walked before.

4/ Close-up of a 3-inch area of the surface shows a clump of lunar powder and shiny spherical particles.

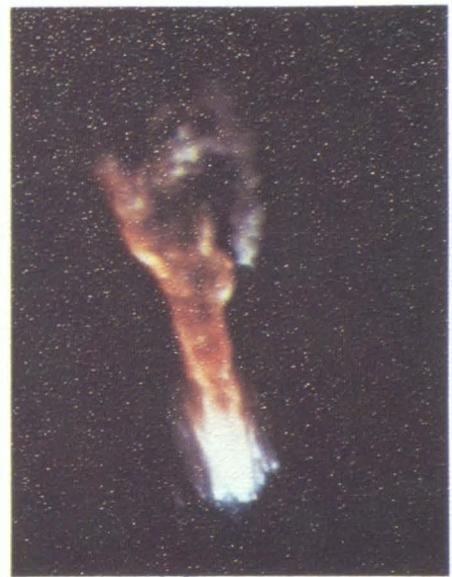

5/ Devices will transmit data on seismic activity and solar winds. A laser reflector has given scientists the first accurate distance to the Moon.

6/ A look back as the astronauts lift off from the Moon aboard Eagle to rendezvous with the command module. 7-8/ Inside the command module Columbia, Astronaut Michael Collins prepares to dock with Eagle. After Armstrong and Aldrin are aboard, the LM is jettisoned and transearth injection is made for the return voyage. 9/ Ablative material burns from Apollo 11 as it plunges back into the Earth's atmosphere over the Pacific Ocean. 10/ A recovery helicopter hovers to pick up the astronauts. Splashdown was July 24.
