CENTRAL HIGH SCHOOL

To
A. F. Smith
our faithful teacher, who by his wise and friendly counsel lent guidance and inspiration to two generations of Central students, this book in grateful and affectionate appreciation is reverently dedicated.

MR. A. F. SMITH

A. F. Smith

A. F. Smith was born in Fayette County, Kentucky, January 3, 1846. When twelve years of age he moved with his parents to Missouri.

He attended school at Westminster College, Fulton, Missouri; Wabash College, Wabash, Indiana; and also a college in Lexington, Kentucky.

At the age of twenty-six he began his career as teacher at Woodland College in Independence, Missouri. Later he became assistant editor of the Christian Evangelist, published at St. Louis, Missouri. Having been ordained as a minister he became pastor of the Christian Church at Platte City, Mo., in 1876, where he preached for two years.

In 1878 he became principal of a girls' boarding school at Camden Point, Missouri, where he remained for four years. The next six years he spent as principal of the Holden Seminary at Holden, Missouri.

On May 28, 1889, the Board of Education of Kansas City, Missouri, appointed him as teacher of mathematics and civil government in Central High School. Eight years later he became head of the English department at Central, in which position he remained till his death, March 3, 1922.

During the thirty-three years Mr. Smith taught at Central, thousands of boys and girls had the privilege of being his students, some of the more recent members of his classes being children of his earlier students.

Who can measure the service rendered to humanity by this good man? His personality influenced all about him and those who completed the work of his classes, went to their labors with the impress of this master workman upon them, and through life, in speech, and action bear witness to his fidelity and power.

In the lives and achievements of his pupils and friends Mr. Smith still lives and will live forever, for the work of the teacher is on the imperishable, the immortal mind and soul; and endures for eternity.

Boys' Debate

'Tis sad, but true. Though it seldom happens, Central this year has experienced the depths of defeat. Following the victorious season of last year, our hope of a 1922 repetition was high, but strange are the ways of the gods of chance and the law of averages. The pendulum swung back to the defeat of both teams, the first time this has happened since 1916. However, Central cannot be downed—the harder we're thrown the higher we bounce, and woe to the opponents with whom we clash next year.

The question for debate was: Resolved, that the U. S. should cancel all financial obligations due from the governments of the allies on account of the great world war.

Our affirmative team, Robert Richardson, Lloyd Stockwell, Cecil Brixner and Stanley Moise met Manual's negative at Northeast. Every one conceded that our boys had the difficult side of the question, but in spite of this their main speeches were exceedingly effective. The Manualites were very bombastic in rebuttal. Our team retaliated in scrappy fashion but seemed to have succumbed to Manual's well directed attacks. While we doff our hats to Manual, let us not forget that our boys worked hard and the decision was not by any means indicative of the fight they fought. We might add that the Northeast orchestra added profound solemnity to the occasion by attempting to put at ease the shattered nerves of the debaters.

We came, we saw, we were conquered. Nevertheless, the Negative team went to Westport and came away with the wholehearted praise of the audience. Charles Culp opened the debate for Central in an effective manner by clearly proving that the negative side of the question was the logical one. Bernard Weinberg, our fledgeling, was not surpassed by any speaker on the floor when it came to convincing logic. To Warren Hoagland fell the task of presenting the negative's substitute, and he outlined a most excellent one. Our three speakers with Arthur Garrett, the alternate, who ably sorted out the cards and wrote fast and furiously, upheld Central without a doubt. Although the judges voted two to three against us we can feel proud of the showing the team made.

With Richardson and Weinberg back next year we feel that chances for retrieving our lost position look rosy indeed.

Girls' Debate

The Girls' Debate Question for this year was one which dealt entirely with up-to-the-minute conditions and at the same time was a question international in its scope, namely: "Resolved, that the Philippines should be granted their immediate independence." Notwithstanding the fact that the judges did not see the question in the same light as did the girls of the blue and white, we are proud to say that our girls truly represented Central. Central's defenders in the battle of words, coached by Miss Boehmer, fought with the old Central pep and spirit. They were ever courteous to their opponents and deliberate in their statements. In their trim Central uniforms and blue ties, they presented a pleasing appearance, indeed.

In the debate at Northeast, Central's affirmative team, composed of Edith Tarbet, Norma Purvis, Helena Roos, and Catherine Dornblazer, clashed with the negative team of Manual. Not only was the Central spirit displayed on the platform, but also by a group of Central rooters who raised the "Brakety-yack" above the clamor and tumult of the throng. Central was defeated but undaunted. Central's team pulled in perfect unison. Edith Tarbet, who opened the debate, fought with much pep and spirit. Helena Roos reasoned logically with the judges on the question of the safety of the Philippines. Norma Purvis showed clearly and convincingly the favorable health and educational conditions in the islands. Catherine Dornblazer prepared rebuttal for the team, and to be sure, it was not lacking in material and spirit. Although the judges' vote was Affirmative 0, Negative 5, Central need in no way be ashamed of the fight which our team put up.

In the debate at Westport, Central's negative team composed of Marian Greene, Grace Saltmarsh, Agnes McClelland, and Lea DeLeve, met the affirmative team from Northeast. The debate was hard fought and the decision ever in doubt. The first speaker for the blue and white was Marian Greene, who effectively introduced the negative case. Grace Saltmarsh followed with a forceful presentation of logic, and Agnes McClelland concluded the main speeches with the final negative proof and a summary of the negative case. In rebuttal the order was reversed, throwing on Agnes McClelland the burden of making two speeches with only a three-minute interval between them. Grace Saltmarsh delighted the audience by a forceful rebuttal speech. Marian Greene summarized the entire debate, reminding her opponents of these important issues which they had ignored. The alternate, Lea De Lea did excellent work in preparing rebuttal. The Central team put up a fight to be proud of, but they found entirely worthy opponents in the members of the Northeast team. Although the vote of the audience was equally divided, the judges decided: Affirmative 5, Negative 0.

In view of the fact that several of our best debaters were Junior's, Central's prospects for next year are exceedingly bright, and may we wish for next year's team the best of luck.

The Voices of Power

I am Autocracy. I crush beneath
 My iron-clad heel whatever pride there lives
 Within the hearts of peasantry. I crave
 The sight of humble man who blindly gives His all for lordly sport. I care not for The simple life. I love the pomp of kings.
 I bleed the lowly of their smallest grain
 To furnish stately ladies jewels and rings.
 O, humble men, bow down your heads and kiss
 The dust. I am your lord, Autocracy.

Look! I am War. The noise of battle wild
 Is sweetest music to my ears. My halls
 Resound the ring of clashing iron and steel,
 And voices raise in discord warrior's calls.
 I love to see the sky made red by fires
 Of burning towns and homes. I revel in
 The cries and groans of wounded men and hear
 With joy the wails of grief-bound friends and kin.
 I take delight in intrigue and in hate.
 I am the right hand of Autocracy.

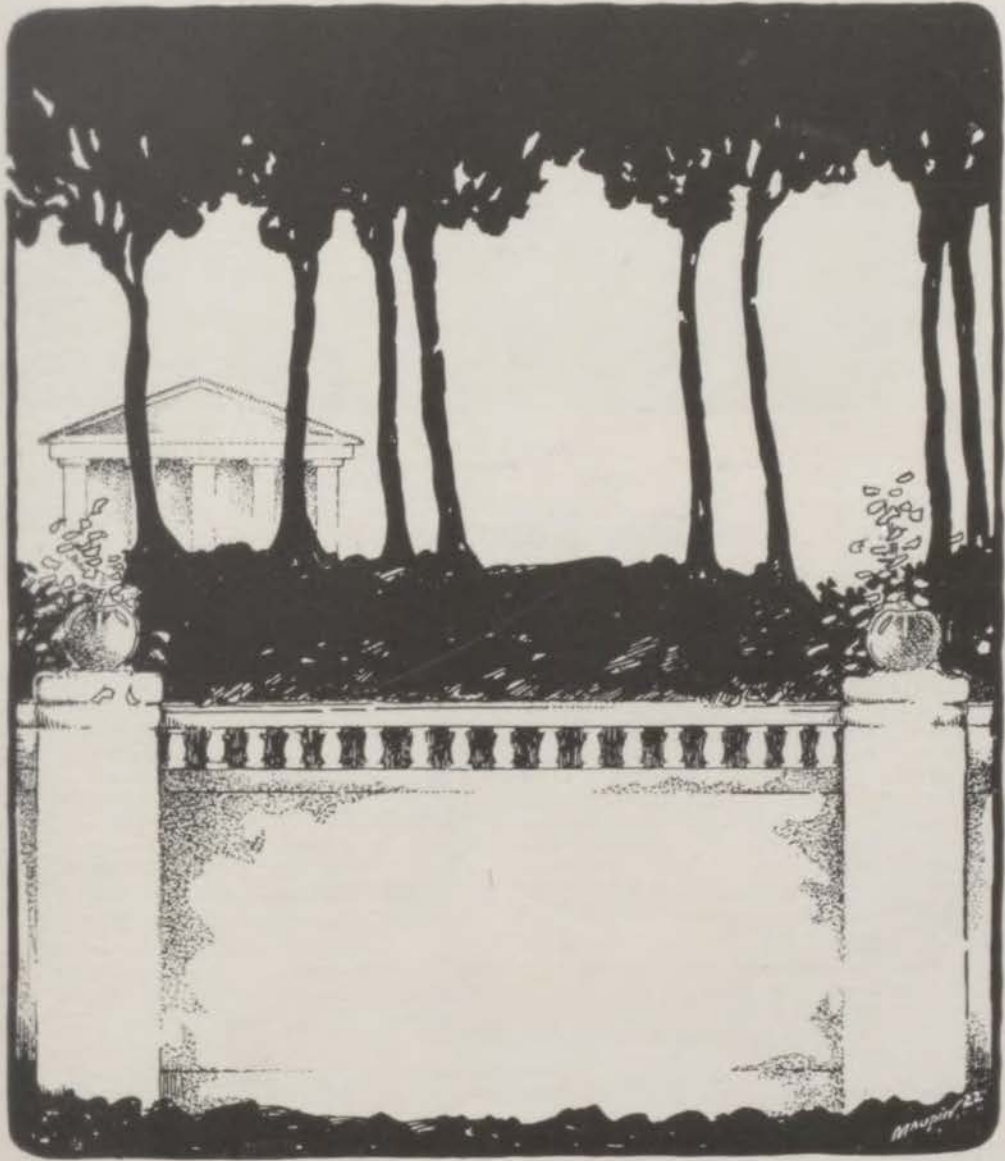

Stay! I am wealth. I bring to you the joys
 Of gold and silver. I'm what men have sought
 With greedy hands and eyes all o'er the world.
 Great kingdoms have been lost and battles fought,
 And men by tens of thousands have been killed
 To gain the pleasures that are in my power.
 I've made men lose their self respect and by
 My strength I've even caused great men to cower.
 And still they seek, the fools, for more and more.
 I am the right hand of Autocracy.

I am Freedom. To me all men are made
 Equal. I saved them from Autocracy.
 I give to them according to their worth
 The might of peaceful strength and liberty.
 And now that I'm in power there are no wars,
 And swords are plows. I give to them the hand
 Of fellowship, and aid unto the weak.
 I've brought prosperity unto the land.
 Rise up, all men, in joy! I am Freedom.

The Annual Play

Central's twenty-eighth annual play, "The Fourth Estate," was presented by the dramatics department on the nights of March 10 and 11.

In the presentation of this difficult play it was clearly demonstrated that Central High can both present and appreciate a play, the dominant thought of which is not comedy.

The "Fourth Estate" is a tense drama in four acts, by Joseph Patterson and Harriet Ford. This was its first presentation in Kansas City and the first time it had ever been attempted by amateurs.

The big success achieved by Central's well chosen cast will no doubt encourage other schools to attempt the presentation of this drama, and will also encourage Miss Epton, the director to select productions of a like quality for future annual plays.

The story of the play centers around Wheeler Brand, a young reporter who has been taken into the employ of a New York newspaper. He has written an unusually strong article attacking Judge Bartelmy, accusing him of selling his decision. The article causes a sensational discussion of the attack on Bartelmy's character. Judith Bartelmy, the Judge's daughter is in love with Brand. She resolves to use her influence in getting him not to print the article. Will she succeed, or will Brand consider duty more important than the love of a girl?

On Friday night Beth Chapline and Clinton Paddock took the parts of the leading characters, Judith Bartelmy and Wheeler Brand. On Saturday night Ethel Cox and Randall Creel appeared in the stellar roles. All four students played these difficult parts that called for such strong emotional acting, in a way that showed the comprehension of actors much older in experience than they. The heavy emotional scene of the fourth act was especially well done.

Supporting the leads was a splendid cast of players who appeared both nights. Earl Hapke played the part of Judge Bartelmy with a poise and dignity that was truly gratifying. The part of Lawyer Dupay, an accomplice of Bartelmy in his questionable schemes, was played to perfection by Charles Culp. A better Michael Nolan than George Eastburn could not have been found in school.

The appearance of the newly-rich Mrs. Michael Nolan, her son, Sylvester, and her daughter, Phyllis, was always the signal for a laugh. These parts were interpreted in an exceedingly clever manner by Betty Baker, Harold Passman and Doris Gwynne.

Dorsey Endres, the night editor, William Henderson, a reporter and Jack Warnock, the office boy, gave excellent portrayals of their respective parts, while Stanley Moise, the curly haired poet amazed every one with his remarkable poetry.

The part of Joe Dillon, a former star reporter, broken by drink was enacted by William Dickert in a manner very true to life. Joe Feldman played the part of the butler with much success, while Ellis Dible, Alton Walker, Norman Foltz and Lee Fowler in small parts contributed to the success of the play.

Notwithstanding the fact that the admission fee was just twice that charged in former years, both performances were given to large audiences.

To Central congratulations are due for producing a play that has set a new standard in High School dramatics.

ANNUAL PLAY—"THE FOURTH ESTATE"

The Thanksgiving Play

The dramatics department of Central presented as a Thanksgiving Play the comedy "NOTHING BUT THE TRUTH" by James Montgomery. The play was presented three successive nights, December 1, 2 and 3, the same cast, with the exception of the leads, acting in all three performances.

Clinton Paddock and Auby Bettleheim took the parts of Bob Bennett and Gwen Ralston, the leading characters the first night, while Albert Adams and Emma Johnstone enacted the same parts the second night. The leads for the third night, owing to the excellent acting of all four students, were extremely difficult to choose, but after due deliberation the judges decided the honors should rest on Clinton Paddock and Emma Johnstone.

However, the success of the play would have been limited had it not been for the untiring support of the remainder of the cast. Charles Culp and Helen Jacobs portrayed the parts of the parents of Gwen with true dignity. Arthur Garrett in the character of Bishop Doran interpreted his part with the same exact precision as did Munroe Ennis interpret the part of Dick Donnelly, a lively young business man. Beth Chapline as Mable and Harold Passman as Clarence Vandusen not only received much applause but also honorable mention from the judges. Doris Gwynne as Ethel changed her moods with a naturalness that was very pleasing, while Betty Baxter as Sabel did some very good acting in interpreting the part of the vamp. Viola Smith as Martha, the maid, like all the rest, did her part well.

The play was given under the capable direction of Miss Epton, head of Central's expression department. Miss Epton had the assistance of the following students:

1921, another undefeated season! Seven victories and one scoreless tie! With four letter-men back, Captain Halpin, Eastburn, Liter and Hicks, prospects for a victorious season never looked better.

After "Coach" had drilled the boys for five weeks, he took them to Chillicothe, where they smashed through for a 21-0 landslide. The next week the boys went to Cameron and victory No. 2 was scored against the fast Cameron High. The final chalk-up was 34-8.

On October 8, Central met Northeast in the opening interscholastic game, winning 14-0. Bacchus and Eastburn made the lone touchdowns of the game.

Our next victim was Westport, 17-9. Hicks took the ball over first and after Jenkins received a punt, ran eighty-five yards for another touchdown, the most spectacular play of the season. Fine interference, especially from Carl, aided Bob in his run.

The next game was the hardest, but our winning streak could not be broken. The "dope" was in Manual's favor, but Central upset the dope by winning the hardest fought and most exciting game to the tune of 7-0.

Mud was the predominating feature of the fourth game. Neither team could score. The game ended 0-0. The fifth game was a walk-away for the Blue and White. Liter scored two touchdowns on recovered fumbles and added to the total of 33-0.

The pennant-winning game proved to be an overwhelming victory for Central. 35-0 was the grand finale to an undefeated season.

This is Central's second championship in successive years and the second season without a league defeat. Eastburn (captain-elect), Halpin (retiring captain), Bacchus, "Zeke" Burton and Jenkins were honored with all-star positions. Hicks, Thornsberry and Comstock made the second team of all-stars.

Much of the success of the team is due to Captain Halpin, whose fine spirit on the field and clever handling of the team at critical times served as a real inspiration to the rest of the men. Central was indeed fortunate in being so ably led.

Our second team carried the "scrub" championship, winning six games straight, and scored against only in the last Manual game.

The following won first team letters: Halpin, '22; Hicks, '22; Adams, '22; Comstock, '22; Neff, '22; Sparks, '23; Liter, '22; Noel, '23; Baltis, '22; Jenkins, '23; Eastburn, '23; Bacchus, '23; Thornsberry, '22, and Burton, '24.

Second team letters were awarded to Captain Heidelburger, who was a great asset to the team; Clatinoff, Devona, Newberger, Piehler, Cantrell, Patton, Bishop, Hipp, Glover, Simmons, Blackmore, Peterson and Goetz.

Here's health and cheer for Captain Eastburn and his 1922-23 squad, coupled with the coaching of that strong mentor of ours, Coach Menze. Success to you.

State Championship! At last Central gets into her stride and wins basket ball championships as of days of yore.

This year Central had a basket ball team she could indeed be proud of. Who will ever forget those nights at Convention Hall when our boys turned apparent defeats into thrilling victories?

Again the "dope" was against us, but Coach Menze knew his men and practically built up a championship team out of green material. The team holds "Coach" responsible for its victories and we are indeed fortunate in having him.

Out of the squad of seventy-five men who reported for practice, only two were letter-men. Captain Savage, forward, and Bacchus, center, were the old men around whom the team had to be built, and it was these two stars who in a season of fifteen games were largely responsible for its twelve victories.

From our freshmen squad of last year we inherited three men who made their letters on this year's team. Burton, that tall guard, was a tower of strength on defense and his coolness at critical times was a real asset in the many close games that the season's play brought forth.

Patton, the scrappy little guard, was always the man chosen to guard the opponents' star forward, and he did it. His ability to keep a scoring forward down was another factor in the team's success. Cantrell, the third sophomore on the team, was a steady, reliable player at all times.

Jenkins, Fry and Morris, the other letter men on the squad, were valuable additions. Fry, with his speed and ability to play the floor, made a nice running mate for Captain Savage. Jenkins, handicapped with a bad ankle after the first game, played stellar ball during the tournament play at Columbia and his timely goal in the Northeast game at Columbia saved his team from defeat. Morris, the eighth man, was a flashy player and always an accurate shot, and is a promising man for next year.

The following eight were awarded their letters: Captain Frank Savage, '23; Captain-Elect Carl Bacchus, '23; George Fry, '23; Bob Jenkins, '23; Bert Morris, '23; "Whitey" Cantrell, '24; Glen "Zeke" Burton, '24, and Joe Patton, '24.

The second team, although not following in the tracks of the first team, was a fast team with good scoring ability. It got second place in the "scrub" championship with four victories out of six games.

Nine received their letters: Captain Davidson, Bogart, Pehler, Goetz, Noll, Richards, Haack, Crone and De Vona.

With eight letter men back and a good string of second-team men, prospects have never looked better than those for 1923. Good luck to Carl Bacchus and to the whole team who will uphold the blue and white of Central for next year.

Before the basket ball season was over "Coach" has begun to turn his attention to the track team, which already had been out on cross country runs in the early fall.

Under the captaincy of Victor Hicks, quarter-miler, the team went through weeks of hard training. Gunter, Thornsberry, Baltis, Hicks, Piehler and Bacchus were the letter men to return.

The opening meet—the K. C. A. C. Indoor—was won by Central with 22 points. Culp and Key earned their coveted "C" in this meet; Culp by being a member of the winning relay and Key by taking second to Thornsberry in the 440.

The interschoolastic division of the Mo.-Kan. Indoor meet was won by Central with 21 points. The feature event (of the evening) occurred when Gunter of Central in a great finish beat out Congdon of Manual.

The twenty-second of April found Central again winner. Thornsberry was high point man of the meet with a first in the 100 and 220. Two Central records fell in the meet, Thornsberry winning the 100 in 10 flat and Morris winning the high jump with a leap of 5 feet 9½ inches. McCool, Morris, Jenkins and Jacobs were added to the list of letter-men.

The State meet was next. Central repeated her victory of last year, winning this time with 38½ points. Westport was second with 24½ points, Manual third with 21¼, and Northeast fourth with 17 points. With a well balanced team, scoring in all events except the shot put, Central won with a margin of 14 points.

May 13 the team goes to Lexington for a dual meet with Wentworth Military Academy and the following week journeys to Lawrence for the Annual Kansas Invitation.

The Grand Finale is the Quad on May 27th and "dope" favors us. Should it hold true, Central will be champion for three successive years.

Review of Girls' Athletics

There is much enthusiasm (the girls call it PEP) in the 450 girls taking gym this year. Every sport has been entered with a vim and, considering the fact their opponents have been upper classmen with one or more years' experience, the girls' record is an enviable one.

Hockey, the fall sport, brought so much good material out Miss Root and Miss Whalen had a task choosing the teams. Capt. Mindlin and her teammates were not exactly expected to win, but played a fine game. By the scores you can see how the years of experience counts. The tie game with the "Sophs" was very unusual. The scores:

Seniors, 5; Junior High, 0	Sophomores, 2; Junior High, 2
Juniors, 3; Junior High, 0

Basketball was very popular. The league games were played in the evening at seven, before large crowds. Capt. DeWitt led her teammates to one victory and a tie, losing the other four games. The scores:

Junior, 18; Junior High, 10	Junior, 12; Junior High, 12
Senior, 23; Junior High, 18	Senior, 18; Junior High, 7
Sophomore, 13; Junior High, 8	Sophomore, 6; Junior High, 8

The second team beat the Seniors but lost to the Sophomores and Juniors.

If there is one sport the girls do like, it is baseball. Each class is divided into two teams, with names and everything. There is no regular league but keen competition is the word to express these class contests. The girls are also entering the swimming meet with the Senior High girls.

This year is the first year Junior High has attempted a Gym Review of its own. Since the brilliant numbers given by the Junior High girls in the Senior Review of former years were such a success the separate review was assured a place in Junior High activities. On May 19th the 450 girls presented the following program in costume: Miss Root's girls presented as follows: 1st hour—Highland Fling; 2nd hour—June Bug Polka; 3rd hour—Virginia Reel; 4th hour—The Black Nag, Roll Well Ye Mariners, and a relay race. Miss Whalen's classes presented: 1st hour—Schubert Circle Waltz and E'Sprit Francais; 2nd and 4th hour—Capt. Jenks; 3rd hour—Yankee Doodle Clog; 4th hour—Mozart's Minuet and both 5th hour classes play a game of Newcomb. The Fairy Toy Shop, by selected girls, was also given.

Owing to the untiring efforts of Miss Bahe, Miss Root and Miss Whalen, Girls' Athletics have been extremely successful this year. A phrase probably heard more than any other by those frequenting the sanctum of the gym during the month of October was, "Aren't you coming out for hockey?" This question and the surprised tone in which it was asked fairly demonstrate the wealth of pep and enthusiasm with which Girls' Athletics began, fully equaling that displayed on the football field about the same time.

Every Monday afternoon hockey sticks, balls and seniors, wildly confused, might be seen on the field north of the building. It signified nothing more than the portrayal of a mighty effort of these Seniors to produce a hockey team that could defeat any of the other three class teams; just as each Wednesday and Thursday the Juniors and Sophomores were seen, hard at practice, striving for the same goal. In the morning the freshmen also put forth wonderful efforts learning the art of the game.

However, the Juniors proved victorious November 23 by defeating the Seniors, 1 to 0, and emerged from the contest undefeated, the "Hockey Champions of 1922." The second team championship went to the Seniors. Soon after the completion of the games, an all-star hockey team was picked, consisting of three Seniors—Dora Carey, Winifred Morrison and Dorothy Sandstrom; six Juniors—Pearl Conkey, Doris Gwynne, Angelina Arcella, Mary Eleanor Filkin and Leah Deleve, and three Sophomores—Helen Hargett, Ruth Barnes and Marjory Hamer. Nelle Marie Cottingham was hockey manager.

Not long after our return from the Christmas holidays, basketball practice started, and for two months, from 12:30 to 1:00. The first of March the teams were chosen and the schedule for the games was posted. At 7:00 P. M., on March 9th, 14th and 17th, the first of two evenly matched games began. The result of the six games was a triple tie between the Seniors, Juniors and Sophomores, each claiming two games. The Seniors lost to the Sophomores; the Sophomores were defeated by the Juniors, and the latter were victims of the Senior team. When the tie was played off, the Senior team won the championship by worsting the Juniors with a 20-to-9 score, and it is the first girls' team of Central to receive a silver cup, which is to be presented at the Gym Review May 5 by Mr. Dubach.

Four Seniors made the all-star team: Edna Sullivan (f), Ruth Buchanan (f), Annabel Wing (c), Nelle Marie Cottingham (g), while the other position as guard was a tie between a Junior, Margaret McCoal, and a Sophomore, Mary Henschell.

The ten sprightly dancers of Central who received Dancing Honors are Mattie Inzerillo, Emma Kane, Dorothy Evans, Margaret Saylor, Margaret Kennedy, Rose Dean, Maxine Cooke, Nelle Marie Cottingham, Fenola Day and Pearl Conkey.

The tennis tournament did not materialize very well for either the boys or girls of Central, although each Centralite played in good form and made his opponent fight for his victory. Edna Sullivan and Eleanor Eule played singles; the doubles consisted of Marjorie Hamer and Lorraine Blasbalg on one team and Helen Virginia Small and Ruth Buchanan on the other, while Mildred Metzger played on the mixed team.

The 5th of May is the date set for both the swimming inter-class meet, which will take place about 5:00 P. M., and the Gym Review at 8:00 P. M.

Besides hockey and basket ball managers for this year, there are swimming manager, Maxine Cooke; baseball manager, Cornelia Gray; volley ball manager, Mattie Inzerillo; tennis manager, Edna Sullivan, and hike manager, Martha Smart.

Highest athletic honors are to be awarded to Winifred Morrison, Daisy Gwin, Nelle Marie Cottingham, Ruth Buchanan, Edna Sullivan, Dora Carey, Beatrice Brown, Mary Ellen Coleman and Mattie Inzerillo.

Central Junior High

For the third year now, Central has been (should it be said?) "enjoying" the double session, with the "Freshies" and the "Sub-Freshies" holding down the school in the P. M.

In two former annuals, these "promising" youngsters, as they were called by the more sophisticated A. M. students, have been looked upon as sort of stepchildren, a necessary evil, as it were; but this year, since Westport has also taken up the Junior High plan (after the success made by Central), these youngsters are finally recognized as honest-to-goodness "High Schoolers." Of course, at times a Senior is mistaken for a Junior High Student, but he can soon show you he is not worthy the mistake. The once-upon-a-time "Freshies" and "Sub-Freshies" are now known by the more dignified terms of Second and First Year students, which they have always deserved.

And when it comes to doing things, just quote any Senior making a club play announcement: "We can always count on Junior High and appreciate your support, and you make a wonderful audience." Take any branch of school work. Junior High has its own athletic fund now and it was nearly able to "paddle its own canoe" all the way its first year's voyage. Just read the Athletic Review if you want to see what they did.

The Junior Red Cross? Did they make it? Why, of course! Nearly $500 was subscribed. How about the orchestra? Finest kind, and Junior High is mighty proud of its leader, Miss Zimmerman. The Choral Club, too, gives real music, using many difficult selections. These two organizations played for the Teachers' Institute and were selected to play and sing for the Parent-Teacher Convention. Symphony Orchestra? Why, Central Junior High had 200 season ticket holders, the largest number from any school in Kansas City.

How about Clubs? Junior High has each first hour class organized into a club, with officers, etc. Meetings are generally held each week. Also, many other classes are organized. The boys have a High School Club. It has always been a success, though only a two-year-old. Only Second-Year Students are eligible. Meetings are held every two weeks, on Tuesday, and consist of a dinner, program and speeches by prominent men. No less than 50 have ever attended, and the high mark was 107. The girl's organization that correlates with the boys' club is called the Girl Reserves. They meet each Wednesday and have talks by leading women. Nearly one hundred are regular members. The Girl Scouts, under Lieut. Root, are forty strong, and a hale and hearty lot they are. The Camp Fire Girls are under Miss Abel's direction.

Of great importance and what is probably the greatest reason for Central Junior High's success is the Student-Teacher Co-Operative Council, established by Mr. King. Each first-hour class has two representatives. There are about eighty students and thirteen teachers in this council. Any matter of interest or importance to the whole school is presented to this group and action decided upon. The decision is then carried to each representative's class room for execution. And when the Council say it is to be done, it is done.

The annual play, under Miss Robertson's able direction, played to two packed houses, and, as usual, was a grand success. The presentation this year was "The Quest." Miss Abney's expression classes gave an assembly, presenting very ably the comedy, "Fourteen," together with the readings, "Humoresque" and "Ole Mistris." To the friends of Junior High there is no wonder in the successful way the Senior plays are presented with such capable teachers to train these younger students, and after one year's work, turn them over prepared for 'most any role.

When it comes to contests, Junior High is right in the thick of the fray. Many a fine poster was entered in each contest and helped to make the judges work to reach a decision. The Luminary Contest drew quite a number of Literary Embryo, much to the judges' delight and regret. Budding writers they are and the Seniors can look forward eagerly to them entering their ranks.

Well, in looking back on Junior High history, particularly the year 1921-22, the outstanding feature is that Junior High is always on the lookout for anything that is big, fine, wholesome and worthy of effort. If it is attempted there is yet to be a defeat chalked up to Central Junior High.

The Class of '22

As has been said before these "Freshies" have shown in more ways than one that in fact they are real seniors. They are called Second Year Junior Highs and are seniors from that point of view in addition to their actions.

What has this class done? Well, it numbers among its members many who will be the shining stars of the Senior High for the next three years. In all branches of school work calling for brain or brawn, there are many notable contenders for the laurel wreath.

The one regret of the boys of the class is, that even though favoring woman suffrage, the boys would have rather had a boy as president. But that is the man of it, Dorothy Stone was re-elected to head the class, re-elected because she was president when the class was dubbed "Sub-Freshie." Robert Byars, vice-president, ran Dorothy a very close race. Ruth Tinsley and Austin Tealson completing the class officers, make up about as fine a foursome as most anyone could pick from such a great group.

The officers, assisted by a very capable committee, were mostly responsible for the success of the Annual Mixer. Mr. Huscher, chairman and manager of this annual affair, also deserves much credit. The Junior High Mixer, which is given by and for the Second Year students only, is probably the biggest purely social event of the year. Games, contests, dancing and eats were on the program. About 600 attended and no one wanted to go home when Home, Sweet Home was played. The Junior High Orchestra furnished the music.

It is with much praise and great rejoicing for the Senior High that Junior High give over to them such a world of fine material. May they appreciate and be able to use these finished stones, for they have been cut and polished by two years of hard and untiring effort.

The Class of '23

The First Year Junior class is now emerging from its cocoon and trying its wings for the coming diversified duties and pleasures of becoming Junior High's next senior class.

The past year has not brought much attention to these little citizens of Central's great student body. Yes, they are little, but as the saying goes, "little, but, OH! my." And also as (was it a senior) said,

"And still my wonder grows
That such small heads
Could carry all they know."

The First Year Students main duty is to study. The Junior High gives these fortunate students many opportunities they otherwise would never get under the former 7th grade system. Just think of being able to start Latin, French or Spanish before becoming a freshman. And each boy and girl has Gym and the privileges of the swimming pool. That is a great deal in itself.

Each student is required to take Mathematics, English and American History. Then a choice of the following to be studied each day for one period: Mechanic Arts, Household Arts, Extra English, Geography, Latin, French, Spanish and Orchestra. For one period if the student so wishes, he can take two of the following subjects one period a week and Gym the other three periods: Mechanic Arts, Household Arts, Industrial Art, Freehand Drawing, Vocal Music and Penmanship. This exploratory period makes it possible for each student to get a taste of several subjects and therefore more easily outline their whole High School course.

Like the second-year class, the "suffrigets" won out. Elizabeth Anne Henderson was elected president; Bernice Purvis, vice president; Marshall North, secretary, and Charles Ladd, treasurer. The boys should beware next year for fear the girls repeat their victory.

Junior High is very fortunate in having such a large and fine first-year class, who will make up the core of next year's second-year class. With such a loyal and efficient group, no wonder Mr. King spends so little time in acquainting the brand new students to Central Junior High. All Hail! the class of '23!

Boys' Athletics

Junior High has had a most successful year in athletics. It is the first year there has been a regular athletic fund. This was possible through the loyal support given the Senior High's football and basketball ticket sales. Two hundred and fifty-one basketball and 316 football tickets was Junior High's score. This fund made it possible to equip twelve football men, full basketball and some track equipment and expenses, such as referees' salaries for the league games.

Football was first on the schedule and seven games were played, winning three of them. The team this year, with Capt. Toalson leading them, was far better than last year's. They were fighting all the time and, considering it is their first season of play, Coach Craig can be very proud of his green bunch. All games were played against Senior High teams who have had one or more years' experience, and it was very evident the boys had stage fright at times and lost before they had gotten on firm legs. Following are the scores:

Weston, Mo., 33; Junior High, 0	Weston, Mo., 7; Junior High, 28
Rosedale, Kas., 3; Junior High, 0	Rosedale, Kas., 14; Junior High, 0
Central 2nd, 42; Junior High, 0	Rockhurst, 14; Junior High, 21
Bear Cats, 13; Junior High, 14

In basketball, Junior High was undefeated champion of the city's four freshmen teams, winning the Lowe & Campbell trophy. A couple of games were won and two lost in outside schedules, which makes a record of which to be proud. The guards were undoubtedly the best in the league. The team played practically a perfect five-man defense, and five field goals in any game were the most scored against it. Should an all-star team have been picked, at least four Central men would have placed. Junior High is very proud of Capt. Lafferty and his teammates. The scores:

K. C. K. Junior High, 8; Junior High, 34	Country Day, 12; Junior High, 32
K. C. K. Junior High, 15; Junior High, 14	Central 2nd, 10; Junior High, 9

The Medical Profession and the Modern Housewife Lay Down These Requirements for Safe Milk:

- PURITY to be convinced by frequent and numerous tests by chemists and bacteriologists as to the actual contents.
- FRESHNESS for only a few hours (not days) to elapse between the production and delivery to the consumer.
- RICHNESS that a deep, rich cream line is observed.
- CLEANLINESS for a milk free from sediment and foreign odors — a wholesome, delicious flavor at all times.

You will find all these four qualities in Renne's "White List" Raw Milk. That is why Central's lunch room serves it and cooks with it.

THERE'S music in the air, waiting to be heard. There are voices in the air, to bring news to all who will listen. Every day and every night there are carried on unseen waves, the music of great orchestras, the voices of famous singers, church services, reports of sporting events, weather forecasts, press news and stock quotations. All this entertainment, news, information, is speeding by on waves of radio.

You can now have the pleasure of "listening in on the universe," and it is not necessary that you have any technical knowledge of radio, because our receivers are so simple in adjustment that even a child can operate them.

Write for our Free Booklet "Radio in the Home," which will give you complete information on the selection and purchase of a Radiophone Receiver for your home.

LET THE WORLD BOOK HELP YOU.

Make 1921-22 your most successful school year.

A Few of the Hundreds of Ways it Will Help You:

ART—Architecture, Arts and Crafts, Basketry, Drawing, China Painting, Mechanical Drawing, Painting, Pottery, Sculpture, Stained Glass, etc.
The above are but a few of the hundreds of interesting subjects in this department.

LITERATURE—Biography, Story Telling, Drama, Fiction, Poetry, English Literature, American Literature, Canadian Literature, Outlines, Quotations, etc.

The splendid review of the whole field of literature will inspire, give poise and impress with high ideals of life.

SCIENCE—Astronomy, Botany, Geology, Chemistry, Physics, Economics, Psychology, Sociology, Mathematics, Zoology, etc.

Every department of science is adequately presented in numerous articles.

Save time, stimulate interest, visualize knowledge, and make your research and special work a genuine pleasure.

Ask Central High School students what THE WORLD BOOK is doing for them.

We Clean and Dye Everything.

April 17—Seniors vote to graduate at the Ashland Theatre, but it would be just like them to change their minds.

April 18—The event of November 14 repeated. Open house.

April 19—Aristonians-16. Slaches-12. Not such dainty violets after all.

April 20—Senior Questionnaire about graduation shows that they have changed their minds since April 17.

April 21—"The Quest" presented by Junior High.

April 22—The Quest continued. Promising young dramatists, are they not?

April 23—Central-61. Manual-24. Revenge is sweet. Broken records are costly to the school. Speed demons—take notice.

April 25—The entire school is lined up on the gravel field and "shot" by Mr. Anderson.

April 28—Thalians win Intersociety. Youthful prodigy.

You know those good old hair cuts,
The kind you used to get,
There's just one place that's left in town

Where you can get 'em yet,
So me'ander 'round an' see us,
When your hair is getting long,
We'll trim it, shave it, anything,
To the tune of a barber's song.

The best for less, our motto,
"Two-bits" for a hair cut fine,
Three "jits" for a shave with a safety edge,
The best in all the time.

There are some essential truths that can be learned only in a well-conducted Sunday School or Young People's Society.

WE

Have both of these to offer you and your friends—classes for all ages—and an especially active, consecrated band of young people find Christian fellowship, social good times, and helpful worship with us. (Sunday School, 9:30. C. E. 6:30.)
