FOREWORD

To record indelibly the activities and achievements of the school year — to weave them inseparably with the surging spirit of Central — has been the aim of this, the 1928 Centralian.

DEDICATION

To the figurative Central rather than to the material one — to that courageous spirit which has been symbolized in the eagle — to that spirit invincible, the spirit of Youth — the 1928 Centralian is proudly dedicated.

SENIOR OFFICERS

CHARLES HACKLER

President Senior Class; President Junior Class; President Central Franklin Club; President Activity Group '27, '28; Interscholastic Debate Team; Head Cheerleader '26; Cheer Leader '27, '28; Gold Medal Intersociety; Student Council; Feature Editor Centralian, Luminary; Boys' High School Club; Intersociety Council; Perfect Attendance; Third Place Young Men's Civic Forum Contest; Senior Ballot: "Most Popular Boy."

"Chuck" was undoubtedly the most outstanding person in his class. Possessed of a mind that was far above the average and the power to fittingly express his thoughts, he leaves behind him a memory that will long remain.

SHIRLEY BERGMAN METZGER

Vice-President Senior Class; Captain R.O.T.C.; Championship Rifle Team; National Rifle Team; "Honor Bright"; "Paddy Whack"; "Three Graces"; "Passing of Third Floor Back"; Sergeant-at-Arms Student Council; Student Council '26, '27; Cheer Leader '28; Orchestra; Secretary Boys' High School Club; President Activity Group.

It is seldom that such an ardent soldier is graduated from Central; the army was Shirley's treasure. A most clever fellow who was striving constantly to do the right.

JACK POLLITT

President Boys' High School Club; President Society of Literature and History; Boys' Senior Editor Centralian; Managing Editor Luminary; Treasurer Student Council; Student Council '26, '27, '28; Officer Activity Group; Alternate Cheer Leader; Senior Ballot: "Jolly Good Boy."

The best that can be said of any man is that he lived a Christian life, and that is the tribute we pay to "Bud." Possessing fine talent, he set up a standard that served as a model to the school.

LEWIS PAULETTE GABBERT

Secretary Senior Class; President Central Franklin Club; Critic Student Council; Student Council '26, '27; Boys' High School Club; Officer Activity Group; Cheer Leader; Alternate Cheer Leader '28; Lead "The Three Graces"; Lead "Paddy Whack"; Lead "Egypt's Eyes"; Lead "Toymaker"; "Honor Bright"; Managing Editor Luminary; Senior Ballot: "Best Boy Actor."

"Lewie" was a fellow of diverse abilities which carried him into various channels of accomplishments. Inclined at times to be free and easy-going, he could, nevertheless, work with remarkable skill and capacity when occasion demanded.

David Newcomer

Marguerite Atteberry

Edith Wells

Jessie Claire Fleenor

SENIOR OFFICERS

DAVID W. NEWCOMER III

Giftorian Senior Class; President Student Council; President Boys' High School Club; President Central Webster Club; Vice-President Boys' High School Club; Treasurer Boys' High School Club; Interscholastic Debate Team; Head Cheer Leader '27, '28; Student Council Cabinet '26; Student Council '27; Critic Student Council '28; Business Manager Centralian '28; Centralian Staff '26, '27; Perfect Attendance; Officer Activity Group; Senior Ballot; "Boy Who Has Done Most for Central."

One of the most gentlemanly boys Central has ever known. He possesses a willingness to work and acquire honor through diligent application of his many talents. No finer fellow nor greater friend do we know.

MARGUERITE N. ATTEBERRY

Treasurer Senior Class; President Aristonian Literary Society; Vice-President Girls' High School Club '27; Treasurer Girls' High School Club '28; Olympian Club; Hockey Team; Student Council '26; Treasurer Student Council '28; Junior Life Saver; Senior Life Saver.

In the blue of her eyes is reflected the sweetness of her personality, and by the number of her friends is indicated her qualities of popularity, leadership, and individuality.

EDITH LUCILE WELLS

Girls' Senior Editor Centralian; President Aristonian Literary Society; Interscholastic Debate Team '27; Copy Editor Luminary; Intersociety Council; Girls' High School Club Cabinet '27; Student Council '26, '27; Major Part "Honor Bright"; "Egypt's Eyes"; "Toymaker"; "Paddy Whack"; Vice-President Student Council '28; Two-night Lead "Passing of Third Floor Back"; Officer Activity Group '27, '28; Intersociety Representative.

Unequaled charm of personality and a wide circle of friendship, together with her unusual ability, have made her the first girl of her class—and one long to be remembered.

Sergeant-at-Arms Senior Class; Aristonian Literary Society; Student Council Cabinet '27; Student Council '26; Girls' High School Club; Officer Activity Group '28.

A delightful picture of feminine loveliness and vivacity, with bewitching eyes and a captivating smile framed by wavy, brown hair—and to personal attractiveness is added the pep and good nature which spells popularity and loveliness. Jessie Claire alone could be naughty and still be nice.

Upper Panel

Lower Panel

ELIZABETH G. ADAMS

Choral Club; "Mikado"; Girls' High School Club. Toward success She ever will steer; Never lets anything Interfere.

EUGENE J. AGRON

Eugene is one of that kind of boys whom one can't help liking whether he wants to or not. He is of the type that is necessary to the existence of a good school.

CONDON AHLBERG

Central Emerson Club; Cashier. "Connie" is one of these fellows who don't worry very much about their school work. His interest lay mainly in his garage job and his soiled overalls.

SHERMAN ALISKY

As surely as Ben Franklin, the printer, rose to fame, Sherman is billboarded to "hitch his wagon to a star." Mr. Harley, as well as Central, is the loser when Sherman leaves.

ANGELL ALLEN

First Lieutenant R. O. T. C.; Crack Squad '27. Angell was the lucky possessor of a versatile nature; he could be jolly at times and then, with the quickness of the wind, could exhibit great sternness.

ROBERT T. ALLEN

Officer Activity Group. Bob deserves a great deal of credit for the work he did while going through high school. A fellow of high ideals and strength of character.

ORVILLE L. ALSPACH

Central Webster Club; "C" Club; Student Council '26, '28; Track Team; Track Captain '28; Missouri State Champion Team. Whenever there's a track meet, You'll always see him run And always make a lot of points Before the meet is done.

GRANT ANDERSON

President Central Webster Club; Managing Editor Luminary; Interscholastic Debate Team; "Honor Bright"; "Egypt's Eyes"; "Passing of Third Floor Back"; Boys' High School Club Cabinet. A most loyal supporter of Webster, and a friend to all sophomores.

ROY H. ANSELM

Central Franklin Club; Major R. O. T. C.; Staff Sergeant '26; Rifle Team '27, '28; Boys' High School Club; Student Council '27; Officer Activity Group; President Officers' Club; Intersociety Representative. Central's outstanding cadet, and a fellow who always sought to better himself.

AGNES MARIE ANSTEY

Constant cheerfulness of disposition together with attractiveness of appearance, charm of personality, and never-failing understanding of others, has given Agnes first place in the hearts of her friends and acquaintances.

Upper Panel

Lower Panel

WILLIAM F. ATKINS

Second Team Football; Orchestra; Stage Crew;
Officer Activity Group.
This merry little drummer boy
Never stops to strife;
But goes on very happily
Beating his way through life.

ISABEL BRADY AXELROD

Here's to the girl
Who's off and on a diet;
At first we believe
She's very quiet;
But on knowing her,
She's quite a riot.

THELMA BARLOVE

Girls' High School Club.
When it comes to looks,
She's hard to beat;
Not only that,
But she's mighty sweet.

FLORENCE JOSEPHINE BAILEY

Minerva Literary Society; Girls' High School Club; Le Cercle Francais; Junior Life Saver; Bank Cashier.
Love is the center pole in the circus tent of Life, and Jo capers around it.

OMER G. BAILEY

The outstanding merit that he possessed was that he had no black marks against his name—and that's a real credit. An affable fellow, and a friend to those who knew him.

MARIAN BARBER

Marian is tall and stately, with all the appearances of dignity and knowledge—a senior in looks and in actions, as well as in truth, and an interesting person to know.

ELEANOR MAY BARKER

Girls' High School Club; Luminary Staff.
When she is called upon in class,
She always can recite;
Beside the most of us she is
A bright and shining light.

SARA MARGERY BARKER

Girls' High School Club; "Tea Toper Tavern";
"Yeomen of the Guard"; "Mikado"; Choral Club;
Student Council '26.
Tall and graceful is she;
A sweeter girl could never be.

JEAN BARRON

Jean's been here just a year,
But we all like her fine;
She never sheds a tear—
She has a snappy line.
Yes, we're glad that she was here
Even though for just a year.

JESSIE BASKETT

Girls' Rifle Team; Olympian Club; Spanish Club; Orchestra; Baseball Team; Championship Volley Ball Team; Basketball Team; Junior Life Saver; Swimming Team; Little "C".
She keeps the balls from the baskets and troubles from life.

Upper Panel

Lower Panel

IDA BASSIN

It is indeed an admirable quality to show the interest and willing spirit so characteristic of Ida. Those with such an attitude are invaluable to any school, and especially to Central's ranks.

NINA GENE BASSIN

Cashier.

It somewhere has been said that dependability is the chief of all virtues. Nina would have been a favorite with the author of that statement.

F. PAUL BAYZMAN

If you are walking down the hill or along the street, and you hear a sharp "hey," it's not necessary to look around to see who it is—it's Paul.

CALEB BELOYE

Orchestra; Band; Le Cercle Français.

Caleb could play the violin in a manner that would enrapture his audience. His ambition and ability as a musician should carry him up the ladder of success.

VIOLA STELLA BENNETT

Girls' High School Club.

Always in a hurry and always business-like, Viola never refused to try anything she was called upon to do, and what she once tried was as good as done.

PAUL BERMAN

Boys' High School Club.

His keen wit, and unflinching sense of humor, and his red hair made it easy for him to make friends, and his altruistic attitude helped to retain them.

FREDA BERNSTEIN

Olympian Club; Life Saver.

She says things others never say
With a clever and a winning way;
And we really like her brogue;
It must be in the Speech Art Vogue.

ROSE BERNSTEIN

The girl this little Squib's about,
We'd hate to try
To do without;
For she is nice
Without a doubt.

JESSE WILBUR BERRY

Luminary Staff.

As essential to the school as to the Luminary
—and he was most necessary to the Luminary!
Business-like in his business, and friendly to his friends.

HESPER LORENE BEVERFORDEN

A girl who's capable of many things,
She's always prepared when the class bell rings.
A girl with the courage to get up and say,
"No, I don't see it at all that way."

Upper Panel

EVELENE BERNICE BILLINGSLEY

Aristonian Literary Society; Student Council; Art Club.

And when the men with megaphones came to our school, they chose this little maid to be our "movie star."

CHARLES FRANKLIN BLACKMAN

Boys' High School Club; Officer Activity Group. We don't want you to dye your hair, but we would suggest that you be careful to keep away from "bulls."

BEDFORD GRANT BLOM

Boys' High School Club; Society of Literature and History.

Bedford played in high school for two and one half years, but finally started to work, got in a club, and became famous.

IGNE BODLEY

Delphian Literary Society; Olympian Club; Captain Girls' Rifle Team; Spanish Club; Swimming Manager; Junior Life Saver; Pillow Top; Big "C"; Little "C"; Basketball Team; Baseball Team; All Star Hockey Team; Championship Volley Ball Team; Senior Ballot; "Best Girl Athlete."

An all star in every game; She's in our athletes' hall of fame.

DANIEL BODNEY

Many times, as we've seen this fellow going through the halls, we wonder why we don't see him on the football gridiron as well. Such a man should make use of that build!

Lower Panel

ALBERT CLARENCE BOHN

Orchestra; Band.

This young "gent" has no time to waste on such frivolities as ladies or fame. He was after his diploma, and he worked hard to get it.

HINTON J. BOLEY

Central Emerson Club.

Even though "Central Emerson Club" is the only thing to grace his name, he has proved his merit by his good and loyal work for those fellows.

RETA E. BOOSER

President Minerva Literary Society; Girls' High School Club; Intersociety Council; Student Council '26, '27; Luminary Staff.

A girl who's ever in for fun
And yet is a student;
She's jolly but always seems to be Careful, wise, and prudent.

HELEN VIRGINIA BOOTON

Girls' High School Club.

She's a little Blue-eyed blonde
Just the type of which We're fond.

MARIE MAE FRANCIS BOTHWELL

When she was in the crowd, everyone was sure to have a good time. She was indeed the life of the party—truly a compliment for an up-to-date little lady like Marie.

Upper Panel

Lower Panel

MARTHA LOU BOWMAN

"Egypt's Eyes"; Gold Award Typewriting.
Full of fun and mischief, too;
Doing things she shouldn't do;
With naughty little eyes of blue
Winking naughty winks at you.

MARY HERNDON BOYD

President Delphian Literary Society; Girls' High School Club; "Three Graces"; Senior Ballot; "Most Popular Girl."
We ought to be always better
For the light of her bright young eyes;
We ought to be always better
For the sweetness that in her lies.

GORDON R. BOYER

Business Manager Glee Club; "Yeomen of the Guard"; "Mikado".
Nature endowed him with a voice that is worth listening to, and he has made good use of his gift.

HAROLD BOYLE

Central Emerson Club; Boys' High School Club; Art Club; Feature and Humor Editor Luminary.
A real art student, and one of the cleverest writers of features the Luminary has ever had.

FRANCES GLENN BRADFORD

Delphian Literary Society; Captain Girls' Rifle Team; Spanish Club; Cashier; Girls' High School Club; Junior Swimming Team.
She couldn't be good if she would;
She wouldn't be good if she could.

BILL E. BREDBERG

We remember Bill from his voice. He is responsible for a few of those "outbursts" that characterized "The Mikado". Rather quiet except when in his own realm—then, oh my!

HELENE BROUGHTON

Thalian Literary Society; Trouvere Club; Girls' Rifle Team; Choral Club; "Yeomen of the Guard"; "Mikado"; Student Council '27, '28; Officer Activity Group.
When she starts to do a thing,
There's nothing that will stop her.

FORREST W. BROWN

Forrest might go unnoticed and unsung if it were left to himself to circulate his praises. Fortunately his reticent tendencies and refreshing modesty have not entirely robbed him of his just laudation.

FRANCES BROWNELL

President Thalian Literary Society; President Le Cercle Francais; Girls' High School Club; Exchange Editor Luminary.
Whatever she did was done with ease,
In her alone 'twas natural to please.

FRANCIS H. BRUMBAUGH

Spanish Club.
Few of us knew that Francis was a Spaniard, but we'll take his word for it. Just because he didn't blow his own horn is no sign he wasn't here.

Upper Panel

WILMA GRACE BUECHNER

President Delphian Literary Society; "Three Graces"; Student Council '26, '27; Girls' High School Club; Senior Ballot: "Best Girl Actress." She's our leader again,
And a steady "go-getter",
To all she's a friend,
And none could be better.

KATHERINE WILLARD BURNETT

President Aristonian Literary Society; President Girls' High School Club; Secretary-Treasurer Girls' High School Club '27; Cabinet Girls' High School Club '26; Interscholastic Debate Team; Olympian Club; Frances Searrit Hanley Scholarship; Junior Life Saver; Intersociety Representative.
Her Christian ideals and sincerity made her an example for all.

MARY ELIZABETH BUSH

There's a certain mystery and charm in the depth of her hazel eyes, that ensnares every lad who dares look within them; and once ensnared, her captive truly enjoys himself.

MARY BUTTERFIELD

Minerva Literary Society; Student Council '27, '28; Girls' High School Club; Sponsor-Major R. O. T. C.; Gregg Writers; Officer Activity Group. Like a doll suddenly come to life to play a hand in the game of love, and with that hand to trump a heart.

WILLIAM N. CADE

"Iolanthe"; "Yeomen of the Guard."
Bill should have learned from his position as Lord Chancellor that justice demands at least a little work. "Oh well, the Goddess of Sleep is on my side."

Lower Panel

MARY FAYE CALVERT

Girls' High School Club.
Her kindness and thoughtfulness of the feelings of others and a high standard of ideals were characteristic of her sweet and unselfish disposition.

JOHN J. CAMPBELL

"I liked Central so well that I came back another year. Besides school, golf is my hobby, and maybe some day Bobby Jones will be my opponent, if I ever get out of Central."

VIRGINIA CARONNA

Choral Club; Spanish Club; Trouvere Club; Cashier; Opera Accompanist.
She wins friends with her smile, but it's the spirit behind the smile that keeps them.

ELIZABETH CARROLL

Thalian Literary Society '27; "Iolanthe"; Art Club; Girls' High School Club.
She that was ever fair yet never proud,
Had tongue at will yet was never loud.

MARGARET MARY CARSTENSEN

Girls' High School Club; "Iolanthe"; "Yeomen of the Guard"; "Mikado"; Trouvere Club.
The thing that goes the farthest
Towards making life worthwhile,
That costs the least and does the most
Is just a pleasant smile.

Upper Panel

RACHEL CARY

Minerva Literary Society; Student Council '26,
'27, '28; Hockey Team.
She's a jolly good fellow,
So happy and wise;
With a song on her lips
And a smile in her eyes.

GEORGE CATALDO

He may not be his brother's twin—but his mind runs in the same chappel as his brother's.
Possibly this is not true—but all appearances point to it—the reaction is the same.

JOHN CATALDO

Whether or not John knew the answer to a question, he always had a reply. At least he had the phrase "I don't know" down to a perfection. He can do it if he will.

RAYMOND CHAFFIN

Student Council '27.
It makes us feel good just to have him around. A cheery countenance and a "Howdy" for everybody make a person we shall not forget. He's a brick!

BRILHART CHAPMAN

"Three Graces."
All the time that Brillhart was at Central he was proving himself to be a hard worker. No matter what the task, he always tackled it and worked earnestly.

Lower Panel

HARRY C. CHILD

"And a child shall lead them." Harry has worked hard and is out to prove that there is no exception to this rule. We're wishing you the best of luck, Harry.

ARTHUR CLARK

Assistant Advertising Manager Luminary; Boys'
High School Club.
We can't help liking the kind of fellow that is modest in the true sense. We also admire him for his deep sincerity.

ELIZABETH ALLENE CLARK

She's earnest and nice,
Modest and shy;
The kind of girl
Who's standing by;
A sincere friend
None will deny.

DOROTHY B. CLATANOFF

"Yeomen of the Guard"; "Mikado"; Choral Club.
Dorothy is fond of fun;
She has friends by the score;
She's always there and over;
And so we love her more and more.

FRANCES COCKRILL

Student Council '27; Order of Gregg Artists.
There's a girl in our school,
And she has lots of style;
She knows just how to fix her hair
And how to use her smile.

Upper Panel

IRVING L. COFFMAN

Boys' High School Club.

Others may hold high positions while some unheralded heroes are doing all the work. It takes brains for the latter position, and Irving ranks high there.

SARA D. COHN

Order of Gregg Artists; Typing Certificate; Typing Award; Cashier; Student Council '28.

She typed to success in Central high. And there's many a reason why She'll do it in life by and by.

MARY ELENOR COLAW

Order of Gregg Artists.

Mary is a common name, but Mary isn't a common girl, winning friends by her keen desire for fun and her talent for getting into mischief and out again.

JEAN WILLIAM COLEGROVE

Band.

By the work, we know the workman. And by Jean's work we know him. We are sure he'll carry out the precedent set by many other Central graduates.

EDWIN COLLINS

Eddie was so hot on the "sax" that whenever he played, they turned off the heat to keep from burning the building down. Such a musician is bound for future success.

HAROLD COLLINS

Student Council '28.

Harold is a real fellow and the kind of person we want to be our friend. He was an earnest worker in the things that he liked to do.

RALPH MONROE COLLYER

Perfect Attendance.

Although he surpasses the average fellow a little in rotundity, we have never heard him bewail the fact that "nobody loves a fat man."

FERD M. COOK

Central Franklin Club; Boys' High School Club; Spanish Club; Student Council '27; Captain R. O. T. C.; Excellency Spanish Medal; Officer Activity Group.

Despite the fact that Ferd has red hair he is a capable and willing worker.

MARY LUZETTA COOK

President Thalian Literary Society; Associate Editor Centralian; Managing Editor Luminary; Student Council '27; Gregg Writers; Girls' High School Club; State Champion Novice Typing Team '27.

A lovable and loved modern Priscilla; neat, exact, and prompt.

LAURA VICTORIA CRAFTON

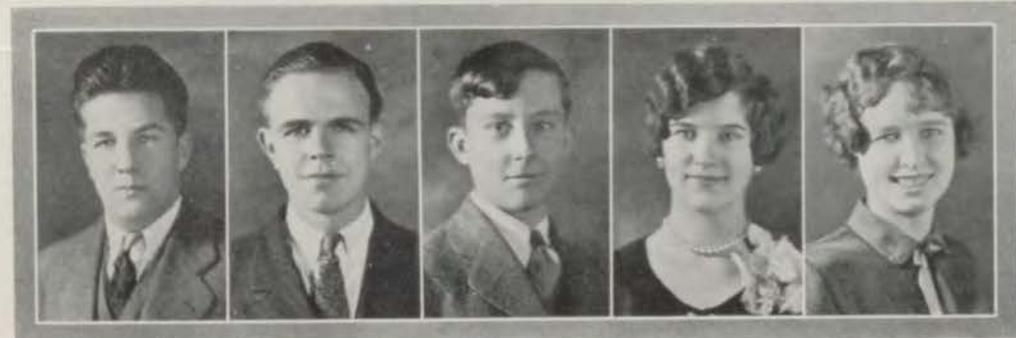

Olympian Club; Baseball Team; Basketball Team; Hockey Team; Volley Ball Team.

She is a blonde.

With eyes full of fun;

She is a sport.

And many is the game she's won.

Upper Panel

ALMA CRAYNE

Spanish Club; "Iolanthe"; "Yeomen of the Guard."
 We all know Alma
 Is chuck full of pep;
 There are very few times
 She's not rarin' to step.

ETHEL CLARA CROSNER

Tall, strong,
 And quick on her feet;
 In basketball
 She's hard to beat,
 Whether in victory
 Or in defeat.

WINTHROP BERNARD CULLEN

Central Webster Club; Boys' High School Club;
 Student Council '27; Spanish Club; Art Club;
 Honorable Mention National Poster Contest.
 Art with other activities made "Winnie" a well-known and likeable little fellow.

ELIZABETH NELL CUTTER

Gregg Writers.
 We've learned that the number of inches you're tall,
 Has nothing to do with your heart at all.

ELEANOR RUTH DARLING

Girls' High School Club.
 She's very independent;
 Her thoughts are really rare;
 But in her love and friendship,
 Everyone may share.

Lower Panel

ALBERT A. DAVIES

One of our most promising young architects; an uncompromising and tenacious pursuer of mathematics; and throughout his make-up we see a moderate admixture of common sense.

DOROTHY JEAN DAVIS

Orchestra; Trouvere Club.
 In her, behold knowledge, musical genius, and independent spirit bundled up in one package and walking on two feet. 'Nuf said.

KENNETH H. DAVIS

Boys' High School Club; First Sergeant R. O.
 T. C.; Student Council.
 All who knew this quiet fellow respected him for his integrity. He was a soldier who upheld the high ideals of army life.

RUTH DICKERSON

Girls' High School Club.
 Everyone likes to know the sister of the registrar. You get all the low-down on the high-ups, and everything; and besides, we all like to know Ruth, anyway.

LORETTA DIETZ

Student Council '26; Girls' High School Club.
 In looks she's dark and villainous,
 She's cute and full of vim;
 And at a dance it's plain that she's
 With joy filled to the brim.

Upper Panel

CARL DOERR

Band; Orchestra.

One still night the air was rended by the blood-curdling toots of a French "sax"—at once we knew that Carl had been born to this world.

WILLIAM KENNETH DORMAN

Central Webster Club; Boys' High School Club; Spanish Club; Perfect Attendance; Band.

It's not every one that can cut up in his classes and yet maintain a high scholastic standing.

HELEN M. DORNBLASER

President Minerva Literary Society; President Art Club; Officer Activity Group; Gregg Writers; Girls' High School Club; Student Council.

Our Helen of Troy; we wonder who her Paris is.

JULIA H. DROHLICH

Girls' High School Club.

Willingness to work and to accomplish much in her work have distinguished Julia with all who value those virtues and especially with the faculty.

EDWARD J. DUFFY

"Irish" had all the good-naturedness and stored-up energy of his race and made no effort to conceal them. He seriously believed that "all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy."

Lower Panel

JUANITA DU GAY

Girls' High School Club.

An unusual and charming name, pretty face, and winsome manner—truly feminine and lovely! The girls like her; the boys like her; but there's none like her.

KATHERINE DUNLAP

Society of Literature and History; Girls' High School Club; Student Council '26.

Though she doesn't talk a lot,
Her disposition's great;
She's jolly and good-natured
And always has a date.

HERBERT EDWARD DYER

Editor-in-Chief Centralian; President Central Webster Club; Boys' High School Club; Intersociety Council; Intersociety Representative; Student Council Cabinet '28; Officer Activity Group '26, '27; Secretary Activity Group '28; Senior Ballot: "Best Boy Student."

Such honors are attained only by one of his sterling worth.

ROSWELL ECKSTROM

They say that red heads are caused by rusted brains; we never believed that old proverb—now we know it's untrue, for here's the proof: Objects in use don't rust, and Roswell uses his.

IDA CECELIA EISBERG

It seems that Ida was misnamed, for she doesn't in any way live up to the traditional cold temperature of most icebergs; her disposition is warm, sunny, and friendly. A nice girl.

Upper Panel

Lower Panel

BRUCE JAMES ENNIS

Central Franklin Club; Boys' High School Club; Student Council '28; Staff Photographer Centralian.

He's not just another one of those "quiet boys," because there is a wonderful personality and deep sincerity behind that pensive countenance.

MILDRED ERICKSON

She is a blonde,
It is true;
Like her there are But very few;
A charming girl
Through and through.

HARRY CHARLES FEINGOLD

Spanish Club; Boys' High School Club; Orchestra.
A fine lad, just as good as his name. All efforts he has put forth in high school have proved this to us.

MELVIN G. FELLER

Although handicapped slightly by timidity, we had in Melvin a hard worker and a willing person to expound his knowledge in the classroom. A necessary factor in the life of every school.

ERNA FERBER

President German Club.
It isn't "Edna Ferber," but like the famous author whose name hers so closely resembles, Erna is a follower of the literary muse.

J. T. FERGUSON

Central Webster Club '27; Treasurer Boys' High School Club; Student Council '28.

Because of his pleasing personality and deep sincerity of purpose, we had with us a boy whom we shall not forget.

VENDETTA MAE FERRIL

Minerva Literary Society; Girls' High School Club; Spanish Club.

Her very frowns are fairer far
Than smiles of other maidens are.

BEULAH M. FEWELL

A creature not too bright or good
For human nature's daily food;
For transient sorrows, simple wiles
Praise, blame, love, kisses, tears and smiles.

DOROTHY FIELD

Central's history would never have been complete without girls like Dorothy. Her loyalty to every activity and her willingness to work made her a real girl and a true exponent of the Central spirit.

KENNETH E. FINK

Central Emerson Club; Boys' High School Club; Band.

One of the most serious boys we have ever known is this Emerson who has helped to make his club a success.

Upper Panel

Lower Panel

FRANCIS MAY FINNELL

Art Club.

We like her when she smiles;
We like her when she laughs;
We like her when she's sad;
And we love her when she's glad.

HILDA FISHER

Quietness is sometimes an indication of lack of interest, but in Hilda's case, it merely means that she practices to advantage the theory that "the less I tell, the more I know."

MARGARET PATRICIA FLEMING

Girls' High School Club.

When Irish eyes are smiling,
'Tis like a morn in spring;
When Irish wit is bubbling,
'Tis a delightful thing.

ELEANOR JANE FLING

Basketball Team; Volley Ball Team; Hockey Team; Baseball Team; Central Olympian Club.
Sharks are usually found deep in the sea;
But this one is found deep in chemistry.

NELLIE C. FLOYD

Choral Club; "Yeomen of the Guard"; "Mikado".
She's one who doesn't mind a bit
What other people say;
But calmly goes her way.

KALE FONES

Central Webster Club; Boys' High School Club Cabinet; Captain R. O. T. C.; Perfect Attendance; Officer Student Council; Officer Activity Group.
His tenacious attitude toward his tasks will make "kale" for him some day.

WAYNE A. FORCADE

Society of Literature and History '26; Student Council '26, '27.
Some of these days we shall not be surprised to see this sheik's picture on a collar ad.
Good luck, Wayne.

MELBOURNE H. FORD

President Society of Literature and History; Boys' High School Club; "Egypt's Eyes"; "Heart of Paddy Whack"; "Honor Bright"; "The Three Graces."
"Big things come in small packages"—and we believe it now.

MARTHA LOU FORGEY

President Delphian Literary Society; Student Council '26; Girls' High School Club; Baseball Team.
Meeting her is liking her;
Knowing her is loving her.

HARRY FORSTER

Editor-in-Chief Typographia.
His smiling face and pleasant personality will not be forgotten soon around the print shop.
All who know him will remember him by it.

Upper Panel

Lower Panel

JOHN FOSTER

Boys' High School Club; Glee Club; "Iolanthe."
He may never set the world on fire, but he has fixed in the school a place for himself which will last.

GENEVIEVE MILDRED FOWLER

Girls' High School Club; Student Council '26, '27; Art Club.
Gena's wavy, brown hair, and laughing brown eyes have caused more trouble in school than any number of tests.

LILLIAN JANET FOWLER

Always calm and dignified, yet ever at ease, for her dignity is lightened by a sense of humor which enables her to see the funny side of life and appreciate the humor in every situation.

HENRY OLIVER FRALEY

Behind that solemn face there lies a deep sincerity of purpose that is known only to his more intimate friends, yet could well be appreciated by the less intimate ones.

MARGARET LOUISE FRANKLIN

Surely you've seen this girl who goes smiling through the halls, making people happier for having seen her. Central is just a little better because of her quiet yet pronounced helpfulness.

ELIZABETH FRANZ

President Society of Literature and History; President Gregg Writers; President Spanish Club; Intersociety Council; Student Council '27; Typing Awards; Senior Ballot: "Best Girl Student."
A winning way, attractive face;
Ambition fits her for any place.

DELLA FREE

Girls' High School Club; Spanish Club; Choral Club.
Always talking,
And ever gay;
Not once in a while,
But every day.

RUTH MAE FREEMAN

Minerva Literary Society; "The Three Graces."
Many a dreadful frown she "frope",
And many a wink she "wunk";
But the many, many smiles she "smole"
Almost made us flunk.

RUTH ALYCE FRENCH

Girls' High School Club; Choral Club; Trouvere Club; "Iolanthe"; "Yeomen of the Guard"; "Mikado."
Her charming ways and smiling face
Make sunshine a most shady place.

THELMA FRISCHER

Girls' High School Club; Student Council.
It takes pluck to come from Germany to attend an American high school; and to win high grades and the respect of all is an indication of a really remarkable character.

Upper Panel

RUTH CATHERINE FUNK

Orchestra.

For four years Ruth played the violin in the orchestra, and in that time she displayed those qualities so much needed by a musician: ability, personality, and willingness.

TOM GALBREATH

One of these quiet-thinking persons who roam, unseen, about the halls—the true type that, though unrewarded, keeps alive the Central traditions and fosters forever the glory of the school.

CATHERINE MARY GALLAGHER

Girls' High School Club; Student Council '26; Basketball Team; Volley Ball Team; "The Three Graces."

Loves the laddies, loves 'em all,
Loves them skinny, fat, and tall.

THOMAS B. GAREY

First Lieutenant R. O. T. C.

This long, lanky first "lodie" said that they should remodel the school building—make the desks larger and more comfortable and raise the door entrances.

MILDRED GIBSON

Mildred's peppy
And full of fun—
This you can see
By the friends she's won;
And the fact that she's liked
By everyone.

Lower Panel

VIRGINIA MORROW GILBIRDS

Girls' High School Club; Art Club; Student Council.

You never see her much,
Because she's always busy;
She seems to have a lot of cares,
Enough to make you dizzy.

CHLORIS FRANELLE GOODMAN

Girls' High School Club; Student Council '28.

She is one
Who does what she should;
Always kind
And always good.

VIVIAN EYANGELINE GOODRICK

She's one of the few who possess the long, flowing tresses, so desired by all the bobbed haired lassies of the day—yet, she calmly goes her way, unaware of the envy her locks excite.

HOWARD GREEN

President of Orchestra; Lead "Mikado"; "Yeomen of the Guard"; Trouvere Club; Glee Club; Tenor Solo Winner Spring Music Festival; Student Council '27.

Many a maiden's heart has this young tenor sung away.

JOHN GROTT

With his hands thrust in his pockets, he sauntered down the halls to his classroom only to wait for the bell that he might be on his way again.

Upper Panel

Lower Panel

DONALD GROVES

Student Council '26.

It is rumored that Don and his family have moved four times in the last two years—at once we ask: Is he any relation to Groves, the Mover?

ROSS GUFFIN

Spanish Club; "Egypt's Eyes."

A true Latin student as well as a pursuer of the arts. He never could understand why Caesar was not fatally wounded in his first campaign.

DOROTHY GWINNER

Art Club; Girls' Rifle Team.

Where there's a Dot
There's a dash;
And when love and duty clash,
Let duty go to smash.

RAYMOND HAHN

We can truthfully say that Ray did all he undertook thoroughly and in a whole-hearted manner—a fellow who really learned to train his mind and his will.

FRANCES BEBNICE HALE

Hockey Team; Basketball Team; Bronze Medal Typewriting.

Curly hair
Of auburn hue;
Wasn't Fate
Good to you?

FRANCIS WILLARD HALL

His curly black hair has long been the envy of the girls; but he's too bashful to help them out. He was a big help to Central's bonfire.

VIRGINIA HAMBLIN

Girls' High School Club.

Virginia is a quiet girl;
Great charm is in her hair;
To her wavy locks
Not many can compare.

PAUL D. HANEY

President Central Emerson Club; Officer Activity Group '26; Luminary Staff; Typographia Staff. Besides being a Thalian "brother" he fights type lice in the print shop. He likes Central but finished in two and one half years.

ALICE V. HANSEN

Her pretty hair attracted the attention of many, and her pleasant manner held a certain charm over those who had been attracted; and so all who admired her became her friends.

FRANCES MARY HARRINGTON

Thalian Literary Society; Girls' High School Club; "The Three Graces"; "Tea Toper Tavern." Beware of what you set your heart upon for you shall surely have it.

Upper Panel

Lower Panel

GEORGE HART

First Team Football '27; Second Team Football '26; "C" Club.

Football was George's favorite school work. And how he did work on it! A real football player on a championship team.

ELIZABETH R. HARTSTONE

Girls' High School Club.
She's cute as can be,
A good dancer, too;
Chuck full of pep,
A sport through and through.

ELDA M. HARTUNG

President Olympian Club; Girls' High School Club; Hockey Manager; Volley Ball Team; Swimming Team; Junior Life Saver; Small "C"; Large "C"; Pillow Top; State Letter.
As sure an aim, as stout an arm,
As ever saved the score from harm.

RICHARD CARTER HAWK

Central Franklin Club; Boys' High School Club; Assistant Cheerleader '27; Student Council '27; Secretary Activity Group; Tennis Team; Basketball Team '28; "C" Club.
A true friend, a real basketball player—that's Dick!

Delphian Literary Society; Art Club; Trouvère Club; Choral Club; "Mikado."
Not too large
And not too small,
But sweet and peppy
And liked by all.

MILDRED LEONA HAY

Order of Gregg Artists.
Mildred seldom says much in class, but when it's time to write her knowledge on paper, she shows us all that her silence has not been due to ignorance.

HELEN ELIZABETH HAYS

Minerva Literary Society; Girls' High School Club; Perfect Attendance; Student Council '28.
Helen's quite a girl;
Her hair has a lovely glow.
She'll always have a lot of friends
Wherever she may go.

EDNA VIRGINIA HENRY

Aristonian Literary Society; Girls' High School Club; Student Council.
A perfect woman, nobly planned;
Born to lead and to command,
To love, to warn, and be obeyed;
A clever, pretty little maid.

DAVID EVAN HERNSTROM

There have been better scholars, perhaps. Dave doesn't profess to be the best; but he has his place, and fills it well. We can depend upon him to keep it.

HAROLD P. HESLER

President Central Franklin Club; Student Council Cabinet '26; President Student Council '28; Officer Activity Group; Sport Editor Luminary; Staff Sergeant R. O. T. C.; Sport Editor Centralian; Rifle Team.
Fine ability, hard work, and a congenial nature made "Donkey."

Upper Panel

Lower Panel

HUGH WILSON HIATT

Central Franklin Club; Band.
This little cowboy rode his horse to fame, for to Hugh was accorded the privilege of riding in the nationally known Pinto Band; he's smart in math., too.

JESSE HINES

One of the few droll humorists that can be found around the school. To laugh his way through Central—to make others laugh—was his ambition; and he has succeeded.

MARGARET L. HOFFMAN

Girls' Rifle Team; Spanish Club; Olympian Club; Little "C"; Hockey Team; Baseball Team; Basketball Team; Volley Ball Team; Swimming Team; Junior Life Saver.
Short and sweet, and hard to beat;
Everyone knows her and likes her a heap.

PHIL C. HOLT

President Central Franklin Club; Secretary Student Council '28; Student Council '27; Track Team; Officer Activity Group; Boys' High School Club; Sergeant Major R. O. T. C.; Annapolis Appointment; Senior Ballot; "Beau Brummell."
"Aye, aye, sir!" And a young globe-trotter goes to Annapolis.

HELEN HOSPE

Minerva Literary Society; Girls' High School Club; Luminary Staff; Student Council '26, '27, '28; Hockey Team; "Honor Bright."
Laughing and sparkling with fun—that's Helen.

SARAH KEMPER HOUSE

Girls' High School Club; Art Club; Girls' Rifle Team; Spanish Club; Baseball Team; Basketball Team; Hockey Team; Championship Volley Ball Team; Small "C".
To every day she brings good cheer;
And so we like to have her near.

MILDRED V. HOWELL

Orchestra.
When there's work,
She gets it done;
And then she says,
"Let's have some fun."

ELDRIDGE HUBER

Society of Literature and History; Student Council '28.
We wonder where this boy has been for two years. Had he started his sophomore year as he did his senior—whew!

RUSSEL HUGGINS

Boys' High School Club; "Honor Bright"; "The Three Graces."
When we think of him, we shall be reminded of "Horace Babson" and the other characters he so faithfully portrayed in the "Imelight."

FREDA HURST

Girls' High School Club; Certificate Typewriting; Bronze Medal Typewriting; Baseball Team; Volley Ball Team; Hockey Team; Junior Life Saver.
Clothes, clothes, everywhere;
And not a thing to wear.

Upper Panel

RICHARD INNES

Central Webster Club; Boys' High School Club; Student Council '28.

Quiet at times, noisy at other times; but nevertheless, to those who knew him, a brainy fellow with a deep feeling for his friends.

OLEN M. JAMES

Orchestra; Band.

He takes his "fiddle" to bed with him and sets it beside him when he eats his meals. He has proved his worth by his hard work on music.

EDITH JARBOE

President Society of Literature and History; Gregg Writers; Student Council '27.

We wonder whether Jarboe
Was ever mad or cross;
Because no matter what comes up,
She's never at a loss.

GLADYS NELLIE JENKINS

Gregg Writers; Silver Medal Typewriting.

Of study took she most care and heed;
Not a word spoke she more than there was need.

HAROLD JOHN JENKINS

Art Club.

If he were known everywhere as he was known in the print shop—what a popular lad he would be! He has done much for the Luminary.

DOROTHY MARGARET JOHNSON

Another of our girls
Who can always recite.
We'll take her word
For we feel she's right;
In such girls as Dorothy
The teachers delight.

VELMA JOHNSTON

Minerva Literary Society; Girls' High School Club Cabinet; President Gregg Writers; Accountant Luminary; Assistant Business Manager Centralian; Intersociety Representative; Gold and Silver Medal Typewriting; Perfect Attendance.

Her qualities are balanced perfectly, and so were the Luminary's books.

CHARLOTTE LOU JONES

Le Cercle Francais; Ma Phi Epsilon Scholarship. Charlotte is a talented pianist and is always willing to share her talent with others. Her playing made activity group an enjoyable place.

RICHARD HULETT JURDEN

Track Squad; Student Council '26, '27.

If one had told Dick a few years ago that he would be in the same graduating class with his brother, he would have resented it.

CLARA GERTRUDE JORDAN

Choral Club; Student Council '27.

She is quiet and business-like, but with a ripple of jollity and fun underneath which makes her a favorite in the classroom as well as among her friends.

Upper Panel

WILLIAM A. JURDEN

Even though Bill doesn't have any apparent honors to grace his name, if he could put after it the things that he has in his heart, he would have a mighty long list.

DAVID KALETSKY

Our only regret when it comes to this fellow is that we didn't know him better. Everyone that did know him sincerely appreciated his friendship. He's a big man for his size.

CHARLES KAUFFMAN

Basketball Team; "C" Club.

His uncanny—almost unconscious—left-handed shots always seemed marvelous and super-human to the opposing team, and to Central, too. A demon with the ladies.

ROBERT GILBERT KELLER

The thorough manner in which he got his Latin lessons, the fine grades he received in chemistry exams, and the way he retained history, were a source of constant wonder to his classmates.

LOIS ELLEN KELSO

Spanish Club; Girls' High School Cabinet.

No simplest duty is forgot.
Life has no dim and lonely spot,
That doth not in her sunshine share.

MAXINE PATRICIA KENNEDY

Thalian Literary Society; Girls' High School Club; Student Council '27; Spanish Club.

In every deed of mischief she had a head to contrive and a hand to execute. An ardent admirer of Thalia.

LEONA CATHERINE KENSLEY

Girls' High School Club.

Leona's attitude toward school activities was one of helpful interest rather than criticism. The fact that she is willing to overlook others' faults has made her a likeable sort.

PAULINE KENT

Girls' High School Club; Trouvere Club; Student Council '26; Choral Club; "Iolanthe"; "Mikado."

If we could all be as pleasant as she,
What a happy place this world would be.

FANNY KILMNICK

Fanny is the kind of girl that reads the last page of a book first—forward-looking you know. And how she loved to read, whether backward or forward.

SARA LOUISE KIND

She's the "kind" of girl to be Fun-loving and peppy;

With kindness in her eyes—
Truly all her name implies.
Friends she has by the score,
In the future she'll win more.

Upper Panel

BERNADETTE D. KIRBY

Kind o' friendly
And true blue;
Kind o' quiet,
Smiling, too;
Kind o' girl
You're glad you knew.

J. B. KNIGHT

Boys' High School Club; Student Council.
The chief in his line—he was the captain of the notice carriers for the office. "He who stoops to one small stone may move the mountain large."

SAM KHAMER

Orchestra.
Sam lived for one thing only—his violin. An accomplished musician, he played with his whole heart and soul, and everyone knew it. His future is promising.

CARL HUDSON KRUEGER

"One doesn't have to take journalism to be a newspaper man," says this future circulation manager of the Kansas City Star. Carl has proved he's not afraid of hard work, whether mental or manual.

DOROTHY MARY LACY

Thalian Literary Society; Girls' High School Club; Student Council '26, '27; Trouvere Club; Choral Club; "Iolanthe"; "Yeomen of the Guard"; "Mikado."
So jolly and sweet, so fully complete,
She stole our affections away.

Lower Panel

LELA MAE LACY

Girls' High School Club; "Passing of the Third Floor Back."
Lela always had her lessons and was ready to work; yet, she was never too busy to have a good time.

MARGARET ADALINE LAMAR

Gregg Writers; Gold Medal Typewriting.
This little lady
Is destined by fate
Ever to love
And never to hate.

VIOLET LAMB

Society of Literature and History; Girls' High School Club; Student Council '27, '28; Officer Activity Group.
Her mouth speaks volumes; her eyes speak whole sets of encyclopedias.

LORENE LAMPHEAR

Spanish Club.
Hard she labored,
Long and well;
As her harvest
Will surely tell.

DOROTHY LANE

President Thalian Literary Society; Girls' High School Club Cabinet '28; Interscholastic Debate Team '27; Managing Editor Luminary; Centralian Staff '27; Officer Activity Group; Olympian Club; Le Cercle Francais; Hockey Team; Basketball Team; Baseball Manager; Little "C"; All-Star Volley Ball Team.
Always working, yet having fun;
Always talking and calling us "hon."

Upper Panel

Lower Panel

LELAND JAMES LARIMORE

Student Council '27; Officer Activity Group.
Nobody understands why Jimmy wasn't more widely known while he attended Central. He was a "gent" in everything he did, and we'll not soon forget him.

WILBUR BERT LARKIN

After we got to know him, we wondered why he hadn't become our friend before. He had the traits of a fine fellow: a good mind, a fine disposition, and the ability to retain friends.

JOE LEFKO

Boys' High School Club; Orchestra.
All who have heard him play the violin realize the ability and wisdom that lies behind that quiet countenance—a winner of many scholarships.

ELIZABETH LEMMON

Girls' High School Club.
She always insists that she flunked that test; Though she knows that her grade beats all the rest.

NORMAN NATHAN LEVENSON

Just another of Central's steady, average fellows who has won the respect of all his friends by his quiet, unassuming ways and friendly manner. Would that we had known him better!

ESTHER LEVINE

Girls' High School Club; Choral Club.
What is there in Esther to have an inferiority complex about? We couldn't find it even if we tried.

HELENE LEWIS

Girls' High School Club; Choral Club; "Yeomen of the Guard"; Le Cercle Francais.
We like your style,
We like your smile,
We like your car,
A fine girl you are.

SOPHIE LEE LEWIS

Order of Gregg Artists.
A student and an artist, she;
With talent that is plain to see,
And pep and personality.

DOROTHY ELLIS LIEBLING

Choral Club; "Mikado".
With stylish clothes that fit just right; with the latest bob and a perfect curl; with modern thoughts and a flapper's charm, Dorothy's up-to-date in every way.

NELS LINDGREN, JR.

"Jack of All Trades" is this uprising printer and architect. He will some day be one of our highly honored business men. We wonder if Scandinavian blood flows in his veins.

Upper Panel

LENORA K. LONG

Well, to make a "Long" story short: Dame Fortune must have been feeling drily humorous the day she sent this little lady into the world; for she was indeed mischievous to call her "Long."

KATHIEBINE LORGE

Society of Literature and History: Spanish Club.

Her ladyship's forehead is far from wide. But there's plenty of room for brains inside.

FLORENCE LUNDIS

Aristonian Literary Society; Girls' High School Club; "Mikado"; Choral Club. She's always quite agreeable And very pleasant, too; But she looks pre-occupied, as if She had a lot to do.

RUTH LYNN

She never fails to have something worth while to say on any subject, and she is seldom shy in sharing the benefits of her common sense with the rest of us.

ALBERT OWEN LYON

Society of Literature and History; Trouvere Club; "Iolanthe"; "Yeomen of the Guard"; "Mikado"; Glee Club.

Hurrah for the "Mikado" with his beacon light! May it always lead him forward.

Lower Panel

PATRICIA KOHL MCCARTHY

Girls' High School Club.

Pat and Mike were a-walkin' down the hall, and says Mike, "Pat, you're a gal in a thousand, with that Oirish name, and most especially that Oirish heart."

JEAN MCCLEARY

Student Council '26, '27.

Jean is quiet and unassuming, but she's pretty and sweet, and that's all she needs to win the love of her friends and the admiration of all of us.

IRMA LOUISE MCCOOL

Gregg Writers.

She needs no tongue. For with those eyes, She'll tell us all That might arise.

DENMAN K. MCCrackEN

Second Place R. O. T. C. Individual Contest.

Such poise and military bearing are possessed by one who rightfully merits his individual outstanding military record. He was a big "cog" in Central's R. O. T. C. victory.

ALICE EVELYN MCCREADY

A girl who loves to participate in all sports! Her personality reflects the qualities so often found in persons with such a hobby—good sportsmanship and a keen sense of humor.

Upper Panel

Lower Panel

PARK L. McDONALD

Student Council '27.
Park is a proof of the fact that one doesn't have to be in school three years to become outstanding. He came from Wentworth last year.

EMMETT McNAMARA

We sometimes wonder whether or not this boy won't turn out to be a history teacher. A playful little student who likes to dig up and relate long buried facts of his forefathers.

ONA MAE McFARLAND

Thalian Literary Society; Girls' High School Club; Le Cercle Francais.
She always has some work to do;
She never wastes a minute;
And for doing things up right,
Nobody else is in it.

FAYE McPHERSON

It takes real pluck and perseverance to continue school work and at the same time to care for one's mother—and Faye has done both with success and unflinching cheerfulness of nature.

WINONA McGOVERN

Girls' High School Club; Choral Club; "Iolanthe."
Always searching
For some folly;
If you're sad,
She'll make you jolly.

GEORGE McPHILLAMEY

Art Club; Student Council '27.
One of these fellows who is not so "hot" in a classroom, but when he hopped into his Chrysler—whew! He burned up the street.

VELMA MAE McINTYRE

Aristonian Literary Society; Girls' High School Club; "Honor Bright"; Orchestra.
She is wise;
She is witty;
She's in love;
What a pity!

JOHNNY MADISON

Captain Football Team '27; Captain All-Star Football Team '27; Football Team '26; All-Star Football Team '26; President Activity Group.
A real captain who proved his merit by a championship team.

CARRIE LOU McKEIGHEAN

Art Club.
Tall and stately,
With hair of burnished gold;
Carrie Lou's an asset
Of worth untold.

ERMA JEANNE MAGGARD

Could anyone possess a characteristic more valuable or more desirable than a disposition which keeps one content and unruffled, when all others are restless, impatient, and quarrelsome? We should say, "No!"

Upper Panel

DOROTHY MAE MALONEY

Delphian Literary Society; Girls' High School Club; Girls' Rifle Team; Spanish Club; Circulation Manager Luminary; Student Council '27; Junior Life Saver.
Black hair, blue eyes—our Irish Colleen.

PAULINE MARSH

Minerva Literary Society.
We know that she has wit,
Though she's shy in using it;
We know she really could Do most anything she would.

SERENA A. MARSHOCK

There is nothing in the world so irresistibly contagious as laughter and good humor; and when it is so perfectly inherent in a girl with Serena's charming way, she is indeed irresistible.

JEANNETTE MARTIN

Minerva Literary Society; President Choral Club; Trouvere Club; Girls' Rifle Team; "Yeomen of the Guard"; Student Council.
Jeannette's fond of basketball;
She wouldn't miss a game.
A certain player charmed her—
You couldn't guess his name!

ROBERTA MARVIN

Roberta goes quietly and unassumingly on her way, doing what she should do in the way it should be done; known by everyone, liked by everyone, and respected by everyone.

Lower Panel

DORIS MASELL

Girls' High School Club; Silver Medal Typewriting.
She takes a part
In all we do;
A true "booster"
Of White and Blue.

E. JOSEPHINE MASON

We can think of no hobby more interesting and unique than Josephine's—she is fond of acrobatic dancing. We predict for her a successful career in "big time" vaudeville, and we'll be anxious spectators.

KATHRYN ALEEN MASSARD

What better recommendation could any girl be given than that she is a favorite with her classmates and friends, but yet a dignified, self-contained, charming lass withal? There is none better!

MARION LOUISE MASTIN

Girls' Rifle Team; Le Cercle Francais; Olympian Club; Volley Ball Manager; Basketball Team '26; All-Star Volley Ball Team '28; Small "C".
The embodiment of athletics; a combination of brains, dignity, and mirth.

MARTHA M. MATTERS

We unanimously declare Martha to be the most business-like girl in all Central—she dresses like a business woman, acts like a business woman, and intends to be one.

Upper Panel

WILLIAM LESLIE MATTHEWS

"For he's a jolly good fellow" must have been written for him—so say his friends, not audibly perhaps, but they all feel it. Profit can be derived from his friendship.

VIOLA E. MEEK

"Yeomen of the Guard"; "Mikado". Meekness in her character may be suggested to some of us by her last name—but somehow we doubt this element. For information apply to her closest friends!

EVELYN AILEEN MENDELSSOHN

Life Saving.
She has a disposition,
So sunny and so sweet;
Her warm and friendly ways
Are really hard to beat.

ALICE C. METZGER

Le Cercle Francais.
Charming manner,
Winning way;
She's courteous and sweet
The entire day.

DOROTHY MILLER

Delphian Literary Society; Girls' High School Club; Intersociety Representative; Intersociety Council; President Gregg Writers; Student Council '26, '27; "Tea Toper Tavern"; Orchestra; "Passing of Third Floor Back"; Typing Award.
We wondered how one small head could carry all she knew.

Lower Panel

RUSSELL T. MILLER

Boys' High School Club; Band; Orchestra.
Russell kept in physical trim by playing a trombone. He was a big help whenever he played, and he played often.

BERTRAM MILLS

Central Franklin Club; Boys' High School Club; Track Team '28; Secretary Student Council '28; Officer Activity Group.
This budding track man has but recently been initiated into the secrets of womanly wiles.

JACK MINTURN

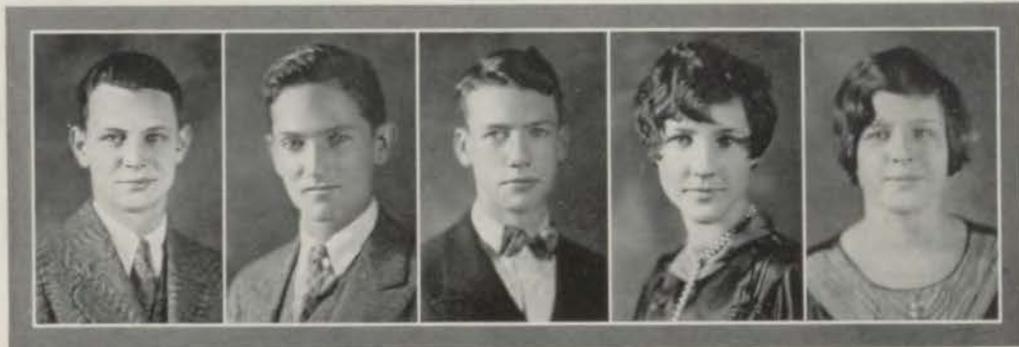

Central Franklin Club; Boys' High School Club; Captain R. O. T. C.; Rifle Team; Student Council '26 '27; Officer Activity Group.
"Jolly Jack" won't be forgotten soon because of his everlasting cheerfulness. He made Central a brighter place.

MARGARET JOSEPHINE MITCHELL

President Minerva Literary Society; Girls' High School Club; Gregg Writers; Student Council '27, '28; Gold Medal Typewriting; Senior Ballot; "Jolly Good Girl."
Yet graceful ease, and sweetness void of pride
Might hide her faults, if belles had faults to hide.

HELEN RUTH MITCHELL

Girls' High School Club.
Her originality finds expression in her very unusual hobby of "fireside art," that is, decorating the hearth and home. Who but Helen Ruth could ever have thought of that?

Upper Panel

ZENAS MITCHELL

Boys' High School Club.
Here's "Zenie"; where's "Jo"? Isn't it peculiar that we always connect those two? May you carry on the good work, and "Blessings upon you, children."

HARRY MOORE

Central Webster Club; Boys' High School Club; Glee Club; "Iolanthe"; "Mikado"; Sport Editor Luminary.
Harry we shall remember as one who entertained highest moral ideals. An ardent follower of the sport page.

MARGARET LUCILE MOORE

President Aristonian Literary Society; Girls' High School Club; Student Council '25; "Honor Bright"; Junior Life Saver.
Other things we might repeat;
But most of all,
They say she's sweet.

LOUISE MORGAN

She's a girl
We like around,
Lovely manners
In her abound;
She's modesty
In virtue gowned.

MARY J. MORTIMORE

Minerva Literary Society; Girls' High School Club.
She is so quiet
And petite,
You're her friend
The minute you meet.

DONALD H. MOULDER

You really cannot blame Donald for not being a "Molder Athlete" because of his size. Somebody must have sat on him when he was even smaller than he is now.

DORSEY L. MOULDER

First Team Basketball: "C" Man.
He followed his brother well, keeping up the high athletic standards set by him. He wasn't so good in the classroom but on the basketball court—look out!

EDNA MAE MURNAN

Art Club.
On the list of high grades,
To which few can compare,
You'll find, if you look,
Edna Mae's name is there.

EDWARD MYERS

Glee Club; "Iolanthe"; "Yeomen of the Guard"; "Mikado"; "Tea Toper Tavern"; "Honor Bright"; Band.
This little song-bird caroled joyfully through the halls of Central to ultimate fame.

NELSON OVERLY MYERS

Central Franklin Club; Boys' High School Club; Business Manager Luminary; Trouvere Club; Student Council '25; "Iolanthe"; "Yeomen of the Guard"; "Mikado"; Officer Activity Group.
A typical, jolly, fat man whom everybody loves.

Upper Panel

Lower Panel

THELMA JUNE MYERSON

"The Toymaker."
Those wickedly winkable, lazily blinkable, merrily twinkable, simply unthinkable eyes—just such eyes must have caused the Trojan war.

LUCILE NAIRN

President Delphian Literary Society; Girls' High School Club; Interscholastic Debate Team '27; Circulation Manager Centralian; State Championship Novice Typing Team; President Gregg Writers; Student Council '27; Officer Activity Group '27; Secretary Activity Group.
Capable, conscientious, charming;
Her smile—it's truly disarming.

BYRON LEON NELSON

Officer Activity Group.
Nothing ever happened around Central but that Byron was always mixed up in it. The entire office force formed his acquaintance at one time or another.

ELISE JOSEPHINE NELSON

Officer Activity Group.
She's peppy, plump, and noisy,
Has a twinkle in her eyes,
A laugh for everybody,
A success in all she tries.

ELLIS NEMICK

Orchestra; Stage Crew.
If something is broken or you need a radio trouble-shooter, and you want a real mechanic, call Ellis. What he doesn't know about radio isn't known.

CHARLES RAYMOND NEVILLE

Raymond is another one of the quiet, hard working throng so necessary to the life of the school. A studious, unassuming person who retains all of his many friends—that's Ray Neville.

ROY A. NEWHAM

Somebody must have scared "Old Roy" when he was young, because his hair is everlastingly standing on end. Another proof of this is that his teachers had to "sit" on him every now and then.

THOMAS EDWARD NOLAN

We scarcely know what to say about him. Never blowing his own horn, he was nevertheless a hard worker and a careful student who usually succeeded with the many tasks he undertook.

DOROTHY NORTON

It's trite to say that anyone is "as neat as a pin," but that's what we say about Dorothy; for if any one ever saw anything out of place around her, it's certainly not on record.

MARTIN FRANK NUSHY

German Club.
Martin is a boy who really can do things and who does them. He spends his valuable time in study which makes his time more valuable.

Upper Panel

JOHN ROLLIN OATES

President Central Webster Club; Boys' High School Club; Business Manager Luminary; "Toymaker"; "Egypt's Eyes"; "Honor Bright"; "Three Graces"; "Passing of Third Floor Back"; Student Council '26, '28; Perfect Attendance.
How could so much energy and sense be crammed into so small a body!

EVELYN OLDHAM

She was never one to put herself before the public eye; but to those who have won her confidence, she shows a delightful charm of manner and cheerfulness of disposition.

HELEN OSADCHEY

A girl like Helen is an asset to any organization. Her perseverance and determination aroused the admiration of everyone, and our only regret, as she is graduated, is that we can't have more like her.

BERNICE OWENS

One of those many persons whom it takes to fill the places in a large school. Had we known Bernice better, we feel sure that we should have profited by her friendship.

RUTH JUANITA OWENS

Thalian Literary Society.
Her air, her manners, all who saw admired;
Courteous, though shy, and gentle and retired.

Lower Panel

RICHARD AVERY PARK, JR.

President Central Emerson Club; Boys' High School Club Cabinet; "Paddy Whack"; "Three Graces"; Captain R. O. T. C.; Championship Rifle Team; "Passing of Third Floor Back."
Conscientious and diligent, Dick was an ideal worker and student.

MARGARET VIRGINIA PATTERSON

Society of Literature and History; Girls' High School Club; Silver Medal Intersociety '27; Exchange Editor Luminary '28; Student Council '28; Trouvere Club; Choral Club; "Mikado."
With gentle but prevailing force,
Intent upon her destined course.

MAXINE PAYNE

Le Cercle Francais.
Laughing eyes.
Jet-black hair;
A gentle voice.
A maiden fair.

HELEN N. PEARSON

Society of Literature and History; Student Council '27, '28.
A maiden, modest and yet self-possessed.
Youthful and beautiful and simply dressed.

HELEN OIGA PELL

Art Club.
Those who are good shall be happy.
They shall sit in the golden chair
And splash 'at a ten league canvas
With brushes of comet hair.

Upper Panel

BEN PENER

"Yeomen of the Guard"; Student Council '26.
Ben isn't the least bit backward about telling everybody just what he thinks regardless of where he is. We admire him for it.

DOROTHY PETERS

None can deny that Dorothy is quiet, but quietness with her is but a sign of preferring her own company to that of others, and we can't blame her for that.

CYNTHIA PHIPPS

Minerva Literary Society; Girls' High School Club; Student Council '26; Junior Life Saver.
Short and sweet and much petite,
With lots of pep in those little feet.

DOROTHEA PICKETT

Aristonian Literary Society; Girls' High School Club; Literary Editor Centralian; Bronze Medal Intersociety; Student Council '27; Senior Life Saver; Assignment Editor Luminary.
It's all been done before,
But not the way she does it.

FRANCES ELIZABETH POWELL

Society of Literature and History; Le Cercle Francais; Choral Club; "Mikado."
A poet and an author;
For men she doesn't fall;
But when it comes to talents,
She seems to have them all.

Lower Panel

IRENE MAE PRICE

In her dark eyes there is a glint of the mischievous which is hard to suppress; she's the despair of the faculty, but the delight of all who love naughtiness.

STANLEY P. PUGH

Central Emerson Club; Boys' High School Club; Student Council '26; "Three Graces."
This young lad proved himself a typical Emerson by being president of the public speaking class. He set the standards for a brother.

GLADYS PURCELL

A modest lass is Gladys;
Bright and happy, too;
Logical and clever;
And always true-blue.
Thoughts even old
From her lips seemed new.

CHARLYNE ROSE PUTNAM

She is a blonde;
Her eyes are blue;
Her charms are many;
Her faults are few;
She's shy and quiet,
But likable, too.

HANNAH RABINOWITZ

Bronze Medal Typewriting.
She is the type
That types so fast;
She is the type
That's never last.

Upper Panel

RUTH RADTKE

"Iolanthe"; "Yeomen of the Guard."
Ruth is quiet,
But she can sing;
In fact, she's good
At anything.

RUTH RAGAN

Girls' High School Club; Olympian Club; Swimming Team; Hockey Team; Basketball Team; Championship Volley Ball Team.
Lessons, lessons, go away;
Come again some other day.

KENNETH RAMAGE

Central Emerson Club; Track Squad.
Another of Central's happy-go-lucky fellows. Nothing worried him, least of all his lessons, and he bothered no one. A highly commendable trait, we should say.

MARY E. RAMING

Thalian Literary Society; Girls' High School Club; Art Club.
In her the grave and playful mixed, and wisdom held with folly true. A follower of the muse of comedy and of art.

MARGUERITE RAZER

Girls' High School Club.
Because she accepts everything which comes her way with a pleasant smile and because she is so friendly, one is irresistibly attracted to Marguerite.

JOHN W. RECORDS

Central Webster Club; Student Council.
In the short time that Jack was at Central he became outstanding. We probably wouldn't have room on this page to list the honors that Jack obtained at Joplin.

SPENCER COOK REDDING

"Those who aspire cannot always attain."
Even though Spencer has no material honors which he might place after his name it isn't because he didn't try. We'll remember him for his effort.

PAUL S. REICHARD

Central Webster Club; Lead in "Honor Bright"; "Egypt's Eyes"; "Paddy Whack"; "Three Graces"; Two-Night Lead "Passing of Third Floor Back"; "Yeomen of the Guard"; Student Council Cabinet '27; Luminary Staff; Officer Activity Group '27; President Activity Group '28.
Paul won the admiration of all by his capable and enviable acting.

CLARK T. REID

Central Franklin Club; Vice-President Boys' High School Club; Rifle Team; Lieutenant R. O. T. C.; Managing Editor Luminary; President Activity Group.
A fine fellow, a friend to all, a boy who took an interest in everything—that's Clark.

JOYCE REVELLA RICH

Joyce has a cheerful smile for everyone she meets, whether friends, acquaintances, or strangers; and we've never yet seen her when she was reluctant to use that smile anywhere and everywhere.

Upper Panel

Lower Panel

HAROLD EUGENE RICHARDSON

Boys' High School Club; "Three Graces"; Perfect Attendance; Student Council '28; Bank Cashier. We should name him "Likable" because he is, in every respect: good-natured, cheerful and jolly.

RODNEY RICHARDSON

Football Team; All-Star Team '28; "C" Club. We have seen a real athlete develop in Rod. From the second team, to the all-star team of the city!

JACK DEAN ROADCAP

Central Franklin Club; "C" Club; Tennis Team '28; Track Team '26; Captain Basketball Team '28; Student Council '27; Trouvere Club; Officer Activity Group. The diminutive Jack was a basketball and piano marvel.

RUTH ROBISON

Gregg Writers; Student Council '27, '28; Officer Activity Group. A rare compound of oddity, frolic, and fun, Who relished a joke and rejoiced in a pun.

RICHARD ROCKWELL

Boys' High School Club; Le Cercle Francais; Perfect Attendance; Orchestra. While working in school, Dick had more than himself to think about. He has a little brother who is watching and following him.

EILEEN HELEN ROGERS

Order of Gregg Artists. Whether in study or in fun, she is ever sincere and optimistic toward everyone, when things seem to be wrong—a helpful one to have around!

SYLVIA ROSENZWEIG

A charming way with her friends, good-looking clothes with lots of style, and a simple but attractive manner made Sylvia a cute little modern flapper in every way.

ANNA ROSS

Anna is short, With eyes of brown; Her smile comes easy, So does her frown; And so her nature Is up and down.

ALINE ROUBKE

Variety is the spice of life—and therefore, Aline is the "spice of life," for she is now, cute like a kewpie doll; now, dignified as a princess; now, charmingly thoughtful and gracious.

BESSIE C. RUBACH

Girls' High School Club; Choral Club; "Iolanthe"; "Yeomen of the Guard"; "Mikado." She was just the quiet kind, Whose natures never vary, Like streams that keep a summer mind Snowhid in January.

Upper Panel

Lower Panel

NORMAND OLAF SAND

He "bane" a Swede from the top of his blonde hair, through his blue eyes, and down to the soles of his shoes. What more could be said to satisfy Olaf?

MARY FRANCES SCHADEL

Her charming mien
And modest style,
Her pleasant manner
And winsome smile
From all of us
Our love beguile.

CATHERINE SCHLOTZHAUER

Order of Gregg Artists; Glympian Club; Basketball Team; Championship Volley Ball Team; All-Star Baseball Team; Hockey Team; Little "C" Large C."

She's jolly, good-natured, and tall;
And good at any kind of ball.

EUNICE SCHMIDT

Gregg Writers.

A lively brunette whose ambition in life is to be a business woman, and whose personality and ability highly recommend her for success in such a career.

ED C. SCHUPP

It's somewhat unusual for a boy to enroll in both shorthand and typing; but then Ed was an unusual fellow, so it was quite appropriate. We think he would make a fine private secretary!

MURRAY SCHWARTZ

Central Franklin Club; Secretary Boys' High School Club; Managing Editor Luminary; Interscholastic Debate Team '27; Assistant Boys' Senior Editor Centralian; First Lieutenant R. O. T. C.; Championship Rifle Team; Officer Activity Group; Student Council Cabinet '28; Senior Ballot: "Best Boy Orator."

We see in Murray the well-rounded life—a true gentleman.

VERNON SCOTT

A tall, strapping army man who had very little interest in school affairs outside the members of the other sex. A real honest-to-goodness sheik minus his tent and sand.

JOHN C. SELOVER

President Central Emerson Club; Boys' High School Club; President Trouvere Club; President Glee Club; Bronze Medal Intersociety; Student Council '27; "Mikado"; "Yeomen of the Guard"; Intersociety Council; President Activity Group.

A deep bass songster and a natural born poet—that's Johnny.

EDYTHE V. SENNER

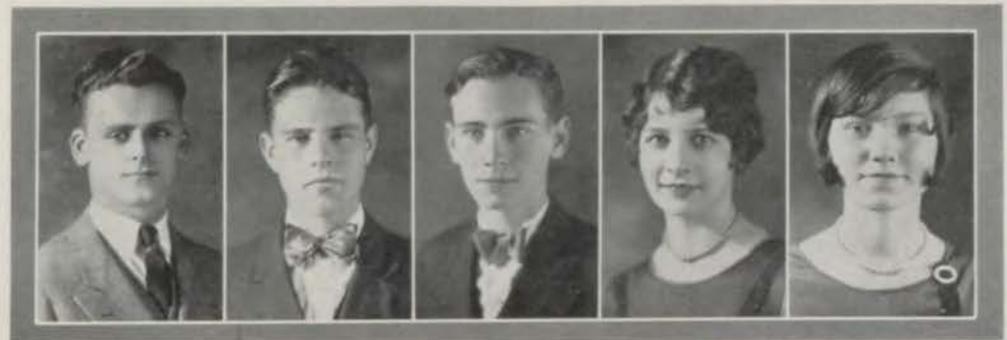

Delphian Literary Society; Girls' High School Club; Girls' Sport Editor Luminary; Girls' Rifle Team; "Tea Toper Tavern"; "Three Graces"; Intersociety Representative '26.

And so beauty made room for knowledge, and they both stayed.

KATHERINE SEWELL

Chorus Club; "Yeomen of the Guard"; "Mikado."

A maiden fair,
With golden hair,
Who everywhere
Will love ensnare.

Upper Panel

Lower Panel

DOLORES SHAMRELL

Girls' High School Club.

Dolores is one of those capable, dependable girls who never fail to do what is expected of them and to do it well. A rare type.

DONA BELLE SHANHOLTZER

Delphian Literary Society; President Spanish Club; Student Council '28; "Passing of Third Floor Back"; Fifth National Spanish Essay Contest.

Though she really isn't Spanish, we would like to see her wear A lace mantilla with a comb tucked in her hair.

ANNA SHEPTEL

No one was ever put out because of Anna for she seldom was in trouble; and if she were, she took it upon herself to get out—what a shame there aren't more like her!

MARCELLA SHIKLES

Minerva Literary Society; Student Council '28; Central Art Club; Orchestra '25, '26.

It's better to have loved a short one Than never to have loved a tall.

CLYDE R. SHINER

When Clyde worked on his music, he didn't have time for his school work, and when he did school work, he was forced to neglect his beloved music. Oh, what he would give for time!

FRANCES SHORT

Her name is "Short,"
But she's not at all.
In fact we think
She's rather tall;
And her presence ever,
We shall recall.

HASKELL SHWARTZ

Haskell, to his own advantage, belongs to that lamentably small class who study for the zest of it. His senior committee work bears the earmarks of conscientious toil well done.

J. RAYMOND SIMLEY

Not just another senior, but one at whose name we unconsciously hesitate. We know that the man behind the name will not fall short of your expectations, should you meet him.

HAROLD RAYMOND SIPES

Boys' High School Club Cabinet; First Team Football; Second Team Football; Second Team All-Star Football; "C" Club.

A sterling football player; in his work, conscientious and thorough.

MARTHA SKAER

President Trouvere Club; Choral Club; Yeomen of the Guard; Lead "Mikado"; German Club.

She graced our stage with her beautiful voice and rhythm of movement.

Upper Panel

ANNA LOUISE SKILES

She's the possessor
Of blue-gray eyes;
The dreamy kind
That tantalize;
And never can Do otherwise.

BENJAMIN SLOENICK

Although some folks don't grow in height, they can be seen to grow in manhood; and it is in this way that we have seen Bennie.
There have been even better students, but that doesn't count.

RUBY LEE SMITH

Thalian Literary Society; Girls' High School
Club; Assistant Advertising Manager Centralian
'27; Student Council '27, '28; Student Council
Cabinet '26; Le Cercle Francois; Officer Activity
Group '28.
One of worth, wisdom, wit, and a dash of wickedness.

THELMA J. SMITH

We've been told
That she is one Who always makes
You have some fun;
But still she seems
To get things done.

WILLIAM R. M. SMITH

There must be something behind that very aristocratic name, because he is so very particular about how it is written. Anyhow we say it's a good name for a good boy.

Lower Panel

CARL FRANCIS SMOCK

Orchestra.
This red-thatched young man was as temperamental in his school attendance as he was in his moods. Present one week and absent the next two—that was his schedule for three years.

DORIS SNIDER

Girls' High School Club.
Her words were simple words enough;
And yet she used them so,
That what in other mouths seemed rough
In hers seemed musical and low.

EDWIN M. SORENSEN

Boys' High School Club; Circulation Manager
Luminary; Art Club.
A drollist of the first waters; a cartoonist of amusing nature—these qualities distinguished Edwin and make for him a host of friends.

MANUEL SPACK

Advertising Manager Luminary; "Three Graces."
Truly, "Business before pleasure" is his motto; for "Speck's" ambition, it seemed, was to become a business man; he's an artful persuader —alias, salesman—too.

MORTIMER HENRY SPIEGEL

Orchestra; Band.
A loyal supporter of the Order of De Molay;
a cunning band-master—who knows; in short,
a musician and a "gent"—that's Mort!

Upper Panel

Lower Panel

JANE STANLEY

Girls' High School Club; Olympian Club; Basketball Team; Championship Volley Ball Team; Baseball Team; Little "C"; Big "C"; Hockey Team; Student Council '26.

She is gentle, she is shy;
But there's mischief in her eye.

ALICE STAUFFER

Alice was never one to court the praises of her class-mates, but in her quiet way she won the admiration of the faculty and the sincere respect of all who knew her.

ANNA MARSELLA STEWART

Common sense is as valuable to most of us as the talents of a genius are to the few who claim them. The former is said to be rare, but Anna has it in abundance.

EDWARD A. STEWART

President Activity Group; Student Council '27; Captain R. O. T. C.; Captain Rifle Team; Best Rifle Shot in Kansas City High Schools.

The best marksman in eight states is the honor won by this future West Pointer.

VIRGINIA FRANCES STILES

Bronze Medal Typing.

A splendid girl with a heart-warming grin;
To tell all her virtues we couldn't begin.

CHARLES C. STILL, JR.

He's just as quiet as his name predicts—when he is about the school, but just watch him when he gets in the print shop. He's death on "p!"—and we don't mean 22-7.

MILDRED JOE STONE

Student Council '27.

A little dancing,
A flash of nose,
Lots of pep—
And there she goes.

CECELIA SUGARWATER

With her lovely gray eyes, long curling lashes, black wavy hair, and her charming manner, together with her fun-loving ways, she was one of the chief reasons that we all loved Central.

WILLIAM JOHN SULLIVAN

Track Squad.

We can complain of but one fault in the character of this track man—timidity; and yet it's soon forgotten, for to know him is to like him.

JACK VINCENT TARR

Trouvere Club; Band; Orchestra.

"Give me my 'fiddle, and I shall rest in peace." Jack can sleep only when he has his violin. Perhaps that's why he has it with him always.

Upper Panel

Lower Panel

PAXTON TAYLOR

Society of Literature and History; Boys' High School Club; Student Council '26; Orchestra; Band.

He was a bear among the ladies and was liked by all the fellows.

VERNA TAYS

Society of Literature and History.

She's nicknamed "Pep," because she has a boundless supply of enthusiasm—and she's never stingy with it, but makes others enjoy life more for having been her friend.

DOROTHY THOMPSON

Not just another Dorothy, but quite an unusual one with individuality, unlimited pep, and personal attractiveness—traits that in themselves are sufficient to insure scores of friends and admirers.

DONALD TIFF

Central Emerson Club; Lead "Yeomen of the Guard"; "Mikado"; "Iolanthe"; Trouvere Club; President Glee Club.

When Don sat down to play the piano, you just couldn't keep your feet still.

MARGUERITE TIPTON

Aristonian Literary Society; Choral Club; Gregg Writers; Lead "Mikado"; "Yeomen of the Guard"; Order of Gregg Artists.

She's laughing and singing,
And always gay;
In opera for her
We'll look some day.

SOPHIA S. TREFFMAN

Pep is here, pep is there;
When Sophia's near it's everywhere.
First she's here,
And then she's there;
And so she takes Pep everywhere.

ARNOLD "HAM" UNGERMAN

It can be truthfully said that for sheer optimism Arnold transcends many of more fortunate circumstances. Besides, his implacable vigor has been the motivating influence of many needed activity group reforms.

MARIE VAN DEUSEN

"Egypt's Eyes"; Girls' High School Club; Girls' Rifle Team; Dancing Manager; Art Club.

She danced in lace—
She danced with grace—
She danced every place.

LAWRENCE VAN OSDELL

Here's an exception to the rule that Dutchmen aren't witty. From his first year in school Lawrence has spread cheerfulness throughout Central's halls. His hobby is motorcycles, so he works in a filling station.

HELEN M. VAUGHN

How often we hear the name Helen! Yet, each time it signifies a different style, a different girl—of all Helens we shall remember her as the most different of all.

Upper Panel

Lower Panel

IRVINE WALKER

President Central Emerson Club; President German Club; Orchestra; Perfect Attendance; Student Council '28; Officer Activity Group.
A president of the Emersons forsakes the essay for the oration. Motto: "Music charms the savage soul."

DOROTHY FRANCES WARNER

Girls' High School Club.
She's sleepy 'til
There's hay to make Then Dorothy
Is wide awake.

VIRGINIA LEE WARNER

Aristonian Literary Society; Girls' High School Club Cabinet; Secretary Girls' High School Club; Olympian Club; Student Council '26, '27, '28; Hockey Team; Perfect Attendance; Junior Life Saver; Swimming Team.
Woman is a jewel for which no price is high enough.

GILBERT LITER WATSON

Perfect Attendance.
The son of one of our instructors, this boy has become a familiar figure to all of us around the school—somewhat restrained, yet ever cheerful.

MARY LOU WEBB

President Thalian Literary Society; Girls' High School Club; Managing Editor Luminary; Assistant Girls' Senior Editor Centralian; Student Council '28; Student Council Cabinet '26; Intersociety Council; Officer Activity Group; Second Place Q. and S. Essay Contest '27; Senior Ballot; "Best Girl Orator."
To personality, dependability, and rare intelligence was added wit—that's Mary.

MARY FAY WEBBER

Spanish Club.
She's very quiet,
And oh, so sweet;
As a friend to you,
She can't be beat.

WILMA JESSELJNE WEEKS

Olympian Club; Girls' Rifle Team; President Le Cercle Francais; Little "C"; Basketball, Hockey, Baseball, Swimming, and Volley Ball Teams; Bank Cashier.
A miss of an inch is as good as a mile.

BENNIE WEINBERG

Ben had a faculty of becoming so attached to his teachers that he stayed with most of them for two years. At that he's a real taskmaster in the printshop.

NORINE WELCH

President Olympian Club; Girls' High School Club; Basketball Manager; Hockey; Volley Ball; Junior Life Saver; Basketball and Swimming Teams; Captain Baseball Team; Little "C"; Big "C"; Badge Test Team; Highest Award; Pillow Top.
Over many she rules supreme,
Because she "caps" the baseball team.

DOROTHY LEE WELLS

Dorothy's mighty tiny, and she's truly mighty, too. We like to see her dance—she peps us up—absolutely, positively, and how? All that's Wells' ends well.

Upper Panel

ROY WHEELOCK

"C" Club; State Championship Track Team. One would think the fellow was a "wheel" the way he runs down a track. Truly a real track star! His fortune rests in his toes.

RUSSELL REED WHITAKER

"C" Club; Track Team; Student Council; Basketball Team; Officer Activity Group. As fine a boy and as scrappy a basketball player as we ever hope to see. We all admired this unassuming fellow.

ANNA MARY WHITE

Le Cercle Francais; Baseball Team; Hockey Team; Small "C"; Junior Life Saver; Olympian Club. Sport fiend—student, too. She's the end of the limit.

ESTHER WIENSHIENK

Le Cercle Francais; Orchestra. Esther is another of those eminent caressers of the ivories, who delights our ears by talented interpretations of all music.

WILLIAM H. WIGGINS

Orchestra; Band. If his hair weren't red, he would be the ideal orchestra leader. When he dyes his hair and grows up, he'll run a symphony. We know.

Lower Panel

DAISY WILLIAMS

Swimming Team; Basketball Team; Baseball Team; Perfect Attendance. She was a pretty little swimmer In every swimming meet; She always did keep Central From suffering defeat.

MADLINE WILLIAMS

Girls' High School Club; Trouvere Club; Le Cercle Francais; Choral Club; "Mikado"; "Yeomen of the Guard." A little maid with thoughts so clever. No one else could think them ever.

HENRIETTA WILLIAMSON

Always giggling a giggle that was truly contagious! It made Central's halls echo with joy and laughter, for everywhere her sparkling eyes and gracious manner radiated fun and made us enjoy life with her.

JACK WILLOUGHBY

Central Franklin Club; Boys' High School Club; President Activity Group; President Band; Student Council '26. If you see "Jack" and he isn't laughing, it isn't Jack. We hate to see him go.

L. OPAL WILSON

Girls' High School Club; Student Council '27. Although she is an "Opal". She is not quite that small; Indeed to tell the truth, This maid is very tall.

Upper Panel

FRANCES ROSALYN WIMMER

Gregg Writers; Orchestra.
Cupid drew his bow
And let fly his dart:
Now Frances wears
A pin on her heart.

VETA QUENTINE WINDSOR

President Minerva Literary Society; Girls' High School Club; President Art Club; "Three Graces"; Assistant Art Editor Centralian.
A maid the fates have blessed
With beauty, love and happiness.

GENEVIEVE WINTERS

With curls of red
All o'er her head:
A giggle, too,
And eyes of blue;
A pleasant lass
With lots of class.

EDA CLARA WITTE

It is true that Eda is a blonde, but should anyone accuse her of that age-old fault of most blondes, fickleness, all who know her would rally to her defense.

GERTRUDE WOOD

Girls' High School Club; "Three Graces."
A girl very studious
And exceptionally bright;
From her grades it seems
She must study all night.

Lower Panel

JAMES WOOD

Boys' High School Club; Student Council '26, '27; Officer Activity Group.
Jimmie was always willing to do anything that would result in fun for the crowd. He was often seen in his "Chevy."

JESSIE LOUISE WOOD

Olympian Club; Student Council '26, '27; Basketball Team; Hockey Team; Baseball Team.
The girl who's athletic;
In basketball she's great;
And when it's time for any fun,
You bet she's never late.

MILDRED WOOD

Choral Club; "Yeomen of the Guard"; "Milcado."
What's work for some for her is play;
She has her lessons every day
And always knows just what to say.

JOHN WILLIAM WOPAT, JR.

Central Webster Club; Boys' High School Club; Rifle Team '27; Second Lieutenant R. O. T. C.; Orchestra; Student Council '28.
A model man is he, because two young brothers will soon follow in his footsteps.

JOYCE G. WRIGHT

Central Franklin Club; Rifle Team '27, '28; First Lieutenant R. O. T. C.; Orchestra.
Joyce was rather restrained in his handlings with men; but just let him handle a rifle—oh, my!

Upper Panel

MARGARET ALICE WRIGHT

Student Council '28; Choral Club; "Yeomen of the Guard"; "Mikado"; "Passing of Third Floor Back."

Conscientiousness and earnestness of purpose, along with ability, distinguished Margaret as a student of real worth.

THOMAS EDWARD WRIGHT

We assume that Ed is a firm believer of the theory that grades go for naught. Nevertheless, when he sets his mind on doing something, he usually succeeds in the task.

WILMA WRIGHT

There can be no more virtuous trait than good-heartedness, and we pay Wilma that compliment; for the happiness and well-being of her friends is always in her heart.

EVA VIOLET YOUNG

Delphian Literary Society.
She's so good

We didn't hear much from this young fellow in school. Partly, because he is so very quiet—and then, he left Central and went south for a while. He entered school while he was there.

SCENE FROM "THE THREE GRACES"

THE THREE GRACES

AN appetizing, steaming-hot, golden-brown waffle, swimming in maple syrup! This is the cause of all the enticing situations in "The Three Graces," a romantic comedy by Kenyon Nicholson and Dena Reed, presented in the auditorium on December 9 and 10. The thirty-fourth annual Christmas play was directed by Miss Virginia Robertson.

"The Three Graces," a collegiate football comedy, was dedicated to the all-victorious football team of 1927. Undoubtedly, this has been one of the most successful plays Miss Robertson has ever produced.

The plot won the instant approval of the large and appreciative audiences. It centered about the trials of three girls who operate a college tea room at Hargate college in which the football hero is found eating a forbidden waffle. Nancy Marshall inherits her grandfather's house, and she and her chums, Harriet Holmes and Sarah Chadsey, decide to convert it into a tea room, "The Three Graces."

Nancy, the charming heroine, is in love with Bob Nordyke, the "one man" of Hargate's team. The buxom and lispng Sarah admits that she has a huge "crush" on the diminutive freshman, Pinky Davis, while Harriet, learned and sedate, is not a little intrigued by the reserved English professor, Horace Babson.

Sarah coaxes Bob to eat a waffle in the tea room; whereupon they are discovered by Eloise Smythe, who is jealous of Nancy and Bob and reports to the coach that the star half-back is breaking training by eating an indigestible waffle. Havoc immediately follows. Coach Tanner dismisses Bob from the team the day before the big game; Dean Coulter closes the tea room; and a scathing editorial is printed in the school paper denouncing "The Three Disgraces."

Soon this tangled skein is ironed out to everyone's satisfaction. Horace Babson intervenes in behalf of the Graces, and Miss Price, the instructor in cooking, declares the offending waffle harmless. Bob is reinstated on the team, and "The Three Graces" reopens in a noisy and joyful scene in which the all-victorious football team appears on the stage with Central's own cheerleaders. The curtain falls with Nancy and Bob in each other's arms and the stage ringing with the lusty shouts of the rooters: "Two-four-six-eight! Hargate! Hargate! Hargate!"

In the Friday night cast, Emily Ann Allison was delightful and talented as Nancy, "the grace of love"; Edythe Senner was dignified as Harriet, "the grace of wisdom"; while Florence Hoffman was anything but dignified as Sarah, who represented the mythological "grace of social intercourse." The rôle of Bob was capably portrayed by Paul Gribben. Ruth Freeman "lived" the sarcastic Eloise Smythe.

Jack Hanback was a constant laugh-producer as Pinky, the would-be reporter, and Richard Park commendably enacted the part of Horace Babson.

On Saturday night, Lewis Gabbert, the hero of many previous productions, played Bob. Nancy was successfully portrayed by Rebecca Dunn, the first sophomore to have the lead in a play for several years. Mildred Anselm captivated the audience as Harriet, and the entrance of Wilma Buechner as the giggling Sarah was a signal for wild applause. Marjorie Heflebower was well received as Eloise, and Melbourne Ford as Pinky rivaled Sarah for the ability to produce laughs. Russell Huggins was an entertaining Mr. Babson.

Others in the cast who deserve mention are: Winifred Martin and Frances Harrington as the spineless Edna Carr, Shirley Metzger and Francis Tiffany as the irate Coach Tanner, Veta Windsor and Ruth Rubin in the sympathetic rôle of Miss Price, Rollin Oates as the whimsical Mr. Sims, and Harold Richardson as the explosive Dean Coulter.

Undoubtedly "The Three Graces" could not have been the complete success that it was had it not been for the football team in the unfamiliar rôle of actors. Charles Hackler and David Newcomer as the cheerleaders deserve credit for contributing to the stirring finale.

In addition to the director and the cast, there were others, who by their splendid co-operation, contributed to the successful presentation of "The Three Graces." They are: Miss Mary Whalen, Miss Margaret Manley, Mr. J. M. Lukens, Mr. A. H. Roberts, Mr. C. O. Williams, the stage crew, Mr. A. E. Harley, and the numerous students whose efforts brought such good results.

SCENE FROM "THE PASSING OF THE THIRD FLOOR BACK"

THE PASSING OF THE THIRD FLOOR BACK

THE "Passing of the Third Floor Back," a drama by Jerome K. Jerome, was presented in the Central auditorium on March 30 and 31. The annual spring play was directed by Miss Virginia Robertson.

The expression department is to be congratulated on its successful attempt to present so dramatic a production. Long, diligent rehearsals, careful study and interpretation preceded the performance. The action took place in the salon of a London lodging-house where many different types of people dwelt under one roof. From quarreling, sarcasm, and dissatisfaction, the whole outlook of the group on life changed when the Christ-like spirit embodied in "the stranger" pervaded the household. The first act showed the characters before the stranger's arrival; the second, the process of making them see themselves; and the third, the result of the stranger's work and coaching.

The theme of "The Passing of the Third Floor Back" is not plot, but character, many and varied. The stranger is a passer-by who rents the third floor back of Mrs. Sharpe's lodging house. His mere presence changes the characters of the lodgers. The masculine lead of the stranger, a rôle made famous by Forbes Robertson, was played both nights by Paul Reichard. This rôle required the utmost talent and study, without which the play could not have achieved the success that it did. Paul Reichard, with his versatility and complete understanding of the significance of the wanderer, deserves the highest credit. Edith Wells played the difficult feminine lead of Mrs. Sharpe on both Friday and Saturday nights. Mrs. Sharpe, a hard unsympathetic woman, keeps a boarding house in London, cheats her lodgers, and mistreats her little slave girl, until the stranger with his belief that she is a "kind woman," influences her better self. Edith Wells was excellent as Mrs. Sharpe. Her bitterness, her petty deceits, the comedy, and dramatic moments were all portrayed with superior ability.

Stasia was the character most affected by the "passing of the third floor back." At the opening of the play she is a lying, resentful, abused slavey, with a morbid outlook on life; but as the play progresses, she comes more and more under the benign and godly influence of the stranger. Jeanne Pickard, as Stasia, demonstrated her dramatic ability at the inspiring and emotional climax in the second act. Mary Lou Herzensteil was a realistic Stasia. Vivian Tompkins, a beautiful gold-digger, was effectively portrayed on Friday night by Roberta Hayden. Harriette Newcomer was well-liked in the Saturday night production.

Christopher, a struggling young artist, and Joey Wright, an ancient wealthy bookmaker, are in love with Vivian. When she is about to accept the wealthy Joey Wright, the stranger shows Vivian that the love of Christopher would bring her more true happiness. Christopher was successfully portrayed by Richard Park and Rollin Oates. Grant Anderson and Russell Huggins played Joey Wright. Major and Mrs. Tompkins, who convulsed the audiences by their incessant quarrelling were reunited through the faith of the stranger. Major Tompkins was played on both nights by Shirley Metzger. Margaret Wright and Belle Shanholtzer were liked as Mrs. Tompkins.

One of the most convincing figures in the play was that of Miss Kite, portrayed by Grace da Silva and Lila Lacy. Miss Kite, who cannot face life as a woman of forty, dresses and acts as a kittenish young girl. Pearl Munden and Dorothy Miller proved themselves excellent actresses as Mrs. De Hooley, a conceited snob who finds new life and happiness with her orphan niece and nephew, Nora and Jimmy, played by Donna Dunwoody and Melbourne Ford respectively. Jack Hanback and Billy Rownd were debonair as Harry Larkum, a cad, who through the stranger, becomes an artist and philanthropist as a concert pianist. Much of the comedy was furnished by Abraham Lesser and Wayne Forcade as Jape Samuels.

Other than those in the cast who deserve credit for the success of the production are: Mr. J. M. Lukens, Mr. A. H. Roberts, Mr. C. O. Williams, the stage crew, the property committee, the Central orchestra, and other students who in various ways contributed to the success of "The Passing of the Third Floor Back."

SCENE FROM "THE MIKADO"

THE MIKADO

THE "Mikado," a comic opera by Gilbert and Sullivan, was presented by the Choral and Glee clubs under the direction of Miss Mari F. Whitney on November 18 and 19. A large audience proclaimed the opera a success.

"The Mikado" has been presented to Central audiences four times in the last seven years. In 1921 it was given before an appreciative audience and was so well received that it was again chosen the following year when it met with even greater success. "The Mikado" is filled with amusing situations and clever dialogue. The songs, although well-known, were received well from the first strains of the opening chorus to the grand finale. Many hearts thrilled to the clever love-making of the hero and heroine of this quaint Japanese fantasy.

The plot also held the interest of the audience. In the little Japanese town of Titipu, Nanki-Poo, the debonair son of the mikado, arrives disguised as a wandering minstrel. After joining the town band, he meets and falls in love with the beautiful Yum-Yum, despite the fact that his father has arranged a marriage for him with an old and unattractive lady of the court, Katisha. Ko-Ko, the guardian of Yum-Yum and chief executioner of Titipu, had planned to marry Yum-Yum himself when he is horrified upon receiving a letter from the mikado stating that his office will be forfeited if no executions take place within a month. Thereupon, Ko-Ko, realizing Yum-Yum's love for Nanki-Poo, permits them to marry, if at the end of thirty days Nanki-Poo will permit himself to be beheaded in order to save the position of Ko-Ko. Because of his love for Yum-Yum, Nanki-Poo consents. After the ceremony has taken place, Ko-Ko receives another fateful message, stating that the mikado will be in Titipu in an hour.

A wild scene ensues in which Ko-Ko searches frantically for someone to behead before the mikado's arrival. As a last resort he conspires with Pooh-Bah, Lord Everything-in-Town. The mercenary Pooh-Bah, resourcefully suggests that it would be well if Ko-Ko insult him, Pooh-Bah, by bribing him to divulge a plan whereby Ko-Ko could retain his position. Ko-Ko finally "insults" Pooh-Bah to a large degree, and he therefore suggests that the mikado be told that a wandering minstrel has been recently slain.

Meanwhile, Yum-Yum learns of an ancient law that provides that the widow of any beheaded man must be buried alive. Nanki-Poo and Yum-Yum are desperately seeking a way out of this new difficulty when the mikado arrives amid great pomp, having learned that his son is in Titipu disguised as a wandering minstrel. He furiously threatens to behead everyone in Titipu when he discovers that the minstrel is supposed to have been slain. Katisha, toothless and willful, who accompanied the mikado, finds Nanki-Poo and Yum-Yum. Horrified at the mere thought of becoming a permanent spinster, she bewails her fate. Soon she comes upon the bewildered Ko-Ko, and after completely overwhelming him to the state where he is unable to stand, she becomes quite coy and virtuous, whereby Ko-Ko asks her to marry him. The opera ends happily with the mikado welcoming back his son and new daughter-in-law.

Marguerite Tipton and Howard Green as Yum-Yum and Nanki-Poo, respectively, captivated the audience with their clever dialogue and singing. Ko-Ko, portrayed by Robert Warr, was responsible for many of the amusing situations. As Yum-Yum's chums, Pitti-Sing and Peep-Bo, Goldie Ruth Sprague and Jeannette Martin drew much applause. John Selover was sufficiently funny as the dignified Pooh-Bah. Pish-Tush, who also held many local offices, was well played by Billy Blanchard. Albert Lyon, as the mikado, was impressive. Martha Skaer should be commended for her portrayal of the difficult character of Katisha. Shirley Gibson and Margaret Dodd were pleasing as the noble ladies. Much credit should also be given the choruses, whose splendid co-operation showed diligent rehearsing.

The efforts of the following were also responsible for the success of the production: J. M. Lukens, business; art department, costumes and scenery; Dorothy Clatanoff, wardrobe; Lonnie Gandy, stage set; Burroughs Agin, stage manager; Mr. A. H. Roberts, auditorium manager; Maurice Judah, posters; and the members of Central's orchestra.

Schmidt, Atkins, Griesel, Nemick

STAGE CREW

WITHOUT the vital aid of the "unseen power" few of the productions at Central could have effected the undoubted success which they attained. A member of the stage crew holds one of the most important and responsible student positions at Central, and he must be willing to work quickly and effectively. To be selected as a member of the stage crew is considered a high honor because the boy chosen must have good grades, be agile, resourceful, and be able to follow directions thoroughly. At any insubordination or shifting of responsibility, the offender is dismissed.

For four years, Mr. C. O. Williams, instructor in physics, has selected and supervised the activities of the stage crew. Those applying for the position usually know very little about the duties and technical requisites that this work requires. William Atkins manages the motion picture and spotlight. With the installation of the activity groups, his duties have been increased since a motion picture is shown bi-weekly. The manipulation of the spotlight requires the utmost skill. Ernest Griesel is the stage manager. It is his duty to study the manuscript and set the stage for the plays and operas presented. He also performs the difficult task of operating the rheostats which were presented by the class of '26. All special lighting effects not necessitating the rheostats are done by Ellis Nemick. The technical qualities of this work are difficult to master; and Nemick, therefore, holds a responsible position. Albert Schmidt, the only junior on the crew, is the general assistant to the other three members and will be the nucleus about which the next year's crew will be built.

Every dramatic presentation at Central is in itself mute evidence of the efficiency of the stage crew. The clever setting of "The Mikado," the complete change of scenery in "The Three Graces," and the novel lighting effects in "The Passing of the Third Floor Back" were accomplished wholly by the unseen force behind the drops. The many minor comedies and plays also required the constant activity of the helpers backstage.

Several of the former members of the stage crew have accepted positions in legitimate theaters, and they are grateful for the experience obtained in this work at Central. Many students in the past have proved themselves efficient members, but to the stage crew of 1928 Central owes its appreciation for its tireless effort and ingenuity.

CHEER LEADERS

Metzger, Newcomer, Hackler

CHEER LEADERS

ALL right, folks. Everybody up. Let's give 'em a great, big, brackety yack. And make it loud!"

In these words you will recognize the three Blue Eagle noisemakers—"Newc," "Hack," and "Metzger." Their consistent work in leading the Central cheers was but another field in which these boys have shown their ability. The alternates, two of whom lacked experience, were also of the highest caliber and were fully competent to act as first rate leaders.

The squad was composed of David Newcomer, head cheer leader, Charles Hackler, and Shirley Metzger, assistants. Jack Pollitt, Kenneth Silverman, and Lewis Gabbert were the alternates.

It was the second year for "Dave" as Central's head cheer leader, for the Student Council was quick to see that his lung power had not diminished in the least. He had shown real leadership in his other activities, and his election to this position of heading the squad was no surprise.

"Hack" was one of the finest cheer leaders Central has ever had. His ability to conform his movements to the cheers of the crowds is but an example of the fact that to be a good leader one must be a good follower. "Hack" was the old veteran, the man seasoned with three years of experience. It was his own inventions of new yells and stunts that kept the old fight in Central's stands.

Shirley's good nature seemed contagious, and he was never at loss for a clown act. He was the only new cheer leader on the squad, but his popularity easily made him an equal to the other two. Whenever the game was slow, whenever there was a time-out, Shirley was always ready to get a laugh from the stands. His willingness to work and his actions on the field made everybody like him. Although one cannot speak of his agility, or his grace of movement, he was of much value to the team in his own way.

"Well, folks, let's give fifteen for the cheer leaders and show our appreciation for their work."

BOYS' ATHLETIC DIRECTORS

Menze, Biechele, Talmadge, Hammond, Slaymaker

ATHLETIC DIRECTORS

THE 1927 all-victorious football team has shown more plainly than ever before the worth of the Blue Eagle coaching staff. From a green team, Coach Louis E. Menze, with Harry S. Slaymaker as his assistant, developed a championship eleven, never defeated. Co-operating with the coaches, Mr. T. E. Talmadge has made the athletic games a financial success.

It is an enviable record that has endeared Coach Menze to the fans. With a possibility of twenty-five championship teams he has developed twelve, while one tied for first honors. When the fans look for a likely winner, their glance never fails to realize the merits of his training. Because he shoots square with the players and the schools, he has commanded their respect. Finishing his ninth year as athletic director of Central, it might be said of him that as one of Kansas City's leading coaches he is idolized by not only the players, but all the students.

In 1918 Mr. Harry S. Slaymaker was graduated from Central high school. Nine years later he returned as assistant coach. During the time he was away, he was preparing himself for his future life as an athletic director. At the Kansas City Junior college he was a basketball star. At the University of Illinois he was a football, basketball, and baseball man. Upon his return to Kansas City, he became the instructor in physical training in Westport Junior high school. The record of the first teams is not only evidence of the ability of the head coach but equally a rating of the assistant, for it is on the Blue Eagle reserves that the varsity is formed. Although it is only his second year under the Blue and White, sufficient trust has been placed in Mr. Slaymaker to turn the track squad into his hands. He possesses not only a knowledge of his subject but a Central spirit acquired from an association of four years as a student.

On a par with the other two directors is Mr. T. E. Talmadge, head of the business department of Central. Since his worth is not measured by the same unit as that of coaches, we shall say for him that he has made our teams possible not through advisory lines but on a financial basis. Should the school lose Mr. Talmadge, it would be a difficult task to find one competent of assuming his responsibilities.

TO finish a football season a champion is a major accomplishment, but to finish with a team that has never tasted of defeat is a record that is remarkable. An all-victorious eleven signifies not only superlative gridiron tactics, but a coaching staff that is composed of only the best and students that are ready and willing to support their representation.

A new athletic stadium was Central's boast, but pre-season dope said it was to witness an inexperienced team fight an uphill battle. Northeast was by far the favorite, and with John Madison, captain, the only regular from last year's team, it did not look promising for the Blue and White. However, with the finish of the season there came an all-victorious team, and six of the Blue and White warriors received berths on the mythical eleven. John Madison was chosen captain and quarterback by the Star, while Leland Page led the team picked by the Post. Phil Borrello, Jack Whelihan, Jewell Campbell, and Rodney Richardson were the other Central boys unanimously chosen all-stars.

PRE-SEASON GAME

Upsetting the dope, the Blue Eagle team dedicated the field with blood and hung the scalp of Excelsior Springs up high to dry. The score was 18 to 2 and the play was practically all in the enemy territory. The boys may have been green, but the showing they made in the season opener caused the dopesters to resharpen their pencils and to make out a new list with Central as a contender for the championship. Excelsior Springs threatened but once, and then Captain Madison, fearing a fumble, allowed the visitors to down him behind his own goal line for a safety. It was in this contest that first notice was taken of the new location of the goal posts, ten yards behind the goal line.

FIRST GAME

The contest with East high school was easy for the Blue and White. At all times Coach Louis E. Menze's boys were the aggressors. It was the first league contest for the new school, and it was greeted with an overwhelming defeat; score, 38 to 0. The playing of the Blue Eagle's backfield was remarkable for it plunged and passed its way to new glory. Using his triple threat to its best advantage, Leland Page was the individual star.

SECOND GAME

Manual was the next stepping stone to Central glory, and the Blue Eagles downed their bitter rivals with an 18 to 0 score. It was the turning point in the minds of those doping the teams, and now Central was the favorite, although by a very small margin. When Jewell Campbell fell on a Red warrior's fumble, the tide swung easily in the Central favor; and from that point the Blue and White clearly showed their superiority.

THIRD GAME

It was the third game of the season that proved the most interesting in the league. More than 2,000 saw Central down Northeast with a 16-7 score for the 1928 championship. The outcome of the game was always in doubt, for each team was ready to take the breaks. Phil Borrello thrilled the crowd with his sensational runs. Jack Whelihan proved a valuable safety man, playing a good game in both the offensive and the defensive.

FOURTH GAME

Although Paseo put up a stiff fight, her brand of football could not compare with that of Central. The Blue Eagles in winning 12 to 0 were easily chosen to end the season, the champions. The Blue and White went through a crucial game, for the shifty Paseo backs would take advantage of the slightest let-up.

FIFTH GAME

Southwest was the only other team in the league besides Northeast that was able to cross the Blue Eagle goal line. Because of this, the southsiders gloried in their defeat. The Central score was large, but a drive in the third period netted the enemy a touchdown. Final score, 47 to 7.

SIXTH GAME

The Central gridsters finished league competition in great style when they defeated Westport, 32 to 0. The Blue Eagle warriors were at all times masters of the situation, for they scored at will and held the enemy in their own territory. There remained but one barrier in the path of the undefeated—St. Joseph Central.

POST-SEASON GAME

The last contest of the season was like a story book game—where the hero in the last minutes of play grabs the ball and dashes away for a touchdown. Jewell Campbell was that hero. The score was tied 6 to 6. There were three minutes left to play, and the Central warriors were close on the enemy goal-line. Once before they had progressed this far and had been repulsed. Three times Jewell Campbell crashed against the enemy line. With seven yards to go, the Blue and White gathered themselves for the last desperate attempt. Faking a line plunge, Campbell carried the ball around right end for a touch down. That night a bonfire on the campus proudly roared out the record of an all-victorious season.

UNSUNG heroes" are the words best fitted for those who made up the Blue and White reserves. Every afternoon they practiced with the same spirit shown by the first team men. Every week they shifted to a new set of plays to prepare better the first eleven for its games. Little wonder that Coach Harry S. Slaymaker could not lead the league for he accomplished a far more difficult task—that of molding an all-victorious school eleven. The quality of the mold is spoken for by the varsity whose record is one of honor and glory bestowed upon them by spectators of a critical nature.

East high school did not have a second eleven, and as a result forfeited the first contest to Central. By a bare three point margin, Manual took the second, winning only after a hard battle. The next setback to the Blue Eagle eleven was administered by Northeast. The teams, evenly matched, played an interesting game, the score being 6 to 2. Coach Slaymaker's eleven swept the Paseo Buccaneers under an avalanche to win 20 to 0. It was the first Blue and White earned victory. After losing to Southwest, Central climaxed the season by defeating Westport, 14 to 6.

LADY Luck was not with the Central boys during the 1928 basketball season. It was the crucial game of the year—one that meant the championship for the Blue and White—and on that night with their opponents at the height of their ability, the Blue Eagle quintet broke, and was swamped under a 34 to 25 score. Sickness was the indirect cause of Central's being beaten in the second round of the state tournament. A similar bugaboo followed the Central players throughout all their games but they were defeated only two times.

PRE-SEASON GAMES

When St. Joseph Benton came to Kansas City, the basketball fans saw one of the greatest forward combinations Central has ever known. Dick Hawk and Captain Jack Roadcap displayed a fast brand of basketball. Their passing and unerring goal shooting continued throughout the season until Roadcap was forced out by the nine semester playing rule. Benton met defeat with a 30 to 18 score. The "Alumni" were next, and they were administered the same medicine, 34 to 26. Going out of their home state seemed to bewilder the Blue Eagle aggregation, for they met their first defeat at the hands of Kansas City, Kansas. Score: 14-27. Wm. Chrisman proved easy to Central. They were playing a preliminary game to the K.C.A.C.—Cook encounter, and Central won 30 to 19.

FIRST GAME

Although the Blue and White lost some hair to Kansas City, Kansas, they had three scalps hanging from their belt when they made their opening bow at Convention hall. East high school was the first victim and was held to 13 points while Central received 31.

SECOND GAME

Fears that Manual threatened Central proved entirely ungrounded, for the Blue Eagles swept them off their feet to win 38 to 12. The Red and White had fight enough, but they were no match for their stronger rivals.

THIRD GAME

The only defeat of the league season for Central came when she played Northeast. Central was decidedly off form while Northeast was at the height of her career. Page was the outstanding star in this game, and his fighting spirit kept the Blue and White in the running. Score: 25 to 34.

FOURTH GAME

Paseo was the unfortunate. She took the small end of a 34 to 16 score. Hawk could not be stopped, and he paved his way for an all-star berth. This was Dorsey Moulder's first game as a regular, but he was veteran-like in his playing. Roadcap was taken out after the third game, and so he did not play in this one.

FIFTH GAME

The next to fall before the Central onslaught was Southwest. The Blue Eagle quintet was nearing the peak of her playing form. She was not to be stopped since her defeat by Northeast. Almost every member of the squad played in this game.

SIXTH GAME

A break in the team's interscholastic schedule allowed a game with Rockhurst. It was to decide which team would go to Columbia to the state tournament. During the first half, Rockhurst played a fine game, but she was no match for Central in the second period. The final score was 30 to 10 in Central's favor.

SEVENTH GAME

Westport presented the last barrier to Central's tying for second place. A defeat would cause a tie with East, but there was no defeat. Westport counted but 15 points, while the Blue and White doubled this score. Through this victory, Central won the right to enter in the state tournament.

POST-SEASON GAMES

With the close of the interscholastic league, Central placed three men on the all-star eleven—Dick Hawk, Charles Kauffman, and Leland Page. Kauffman was high scorer with Hawk a close second. Page's guarding placed him as a state all-star. In basketball as well as in football, Lee played a consistent game with the same fight that could not pass unnoticed.

Central went into the state tournament the favorite, but after they had eliminated their opponents in the first round, Kauffman was taken to the hospital with the "flu". This left but seven men on the squad, and in the next game, with Springfield, the Blue and White met defeat. The game ran into extra periods, and each time another man was eliminated on fouls. In the final there were but three Central players in the game, and they could not stand against a five-man onslaught.

Coach Menze had developed one of Central's best teams, but the breaks fell wrong. One of the best things about the boys was their spirit of co-operation and the way in which they took their hard luck. They were never too sure, but they never lacked confidence. It was typical Central spirit, that spirit which has always possessed the teams of Coach Menze.

COMPLETING a successful season, the Blue and White reserves have developed good material for next year's first team. Although the season began unfavorably, Coach Slaymaker's quintet finished far from the bottom, with a string of four straight victories. In many of the encounters, played as preliminaries to first team games, the crowds received their thrill in the former. The first game of this nature was with Kansas City, Kansas. The play went into two extra periods. In the final play-off the Blue and White was defeated by one point.

There were four men on the 1928 quintet that were outstanding both as individual stars and as good team men. Earl Vasholz proved effective at center and was also an accurate goal-shooter. Vernon Heygood and Ernest Gilles, forwards, passed with clock-like regularity and also could be counted on for necessary points. Ernest Griesel was a guard of city-wide reputation. His ability to protect the Blue and White goal, coupled with a good aim, was responsible for his fine record. The whole team showed true Central spirit and should place several regulars on next year's team.

TRACK REVIEW

THE Central track team of 1928 represents a possible championship team. Although this is a sport that is more individualistic than any other in the Kansas City high schools, it is one that demands a well rounded team. The Blue and White is developed in every event but that of the weights; however, it is probable that after this book has gone to press, there will be some men that will have developed in this event, for there is excellent material in Leland Page and Joe Harbaugh. There have been but three meets, and from these the Blue Eagles carried three scalps. The first, which was the K.C.A.C. meet, Central won with 19 points, while her nearest rival, Paseo, had but 15. The M.U.-K.U. dual-meet was the next victory for the Blue and White.

The dope favored the Blue Eagle track team for they had many of their letter men from last year. Bernard Brannon, Wilbur Lawson, Francis Tiffany, and Orville Alspach compose a relay team that is a favorite for the state championship. Brannon is one of the best dash men in the city. Lawson is outstanding in the state as a quarter-miler. The broad-jump record is in grave danger, for Alspach is consistently jumping within four inches of the national one. He continually betters twenty feet and is counted on as a sure point winner. Tiffany rounds out the quartet. He is also a broadjumper.

Roy Wheelock, Bert Mills, and Paul Battenberg complete the point winners in the runs. Bert Mills has great possibilities as a half-miler. Although he had only trained for a short time, he placed third in the K.C.A.C. meet. Battenberg is a strong contender for half-mile honors. He ran second to Chronic of Paseo in two city-wide races.

K. C. A. C. MEET

| | 50 yd. | 440 yd. | 880 yd. | Relay | Total |
|---------------------|--------|---------|---------|-------|-------|
| Central | 2 | 7 | 5 | 5 | 19 |
| Paseo | 6 | 1 | 6 | 2 | 15 |
| Westport | 3 | 3 | 0 | 3 | 9 |
| Manual | 0 | 0 | 0 | 1 | 1 |

Proof of a well rounded team consisted of a place in every event in the K.C.A.C. meet at Convention hall. Paseo held the edge at the end of the 50 yard dash, for they placed a first and a fourth while "Sunny" Brannon placed third. Wheelock and Lawson made up for this in the 440 when they ran third and first respectively. The 880 proved the most interesting race of the evening. Chronic of Paseo nosed out Battenberg of Central only after a hard battle. Several times Battenberg tried to take the lead but was unable to. Mills of Central was third. At this point the score stood: Central 9, Paseo 7. The outcome of the meet depended on the relay, and the Blue and White easily won this event.

M. U.—K. U. DUAL MEET

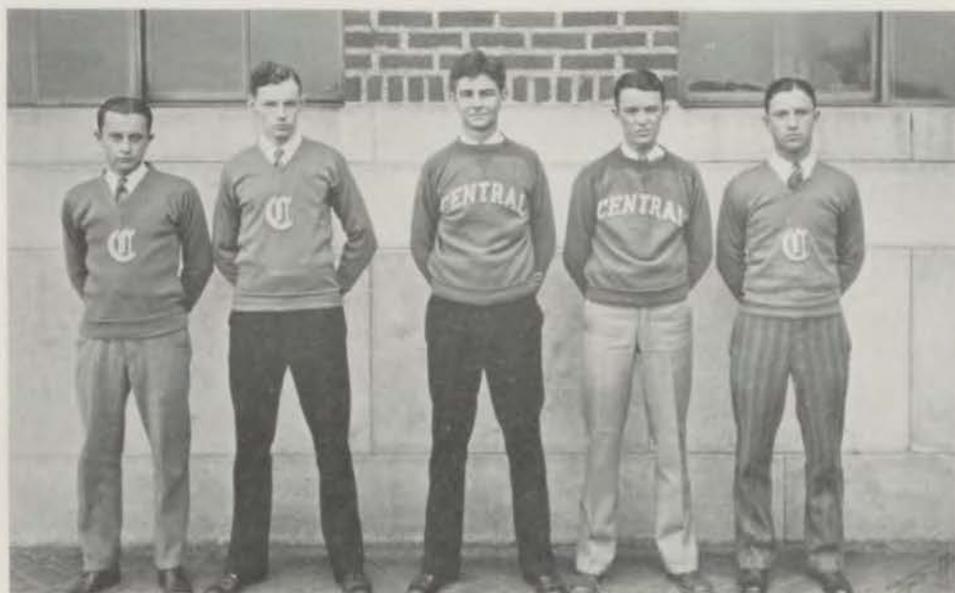

| | 50 yd. | 440 yd. | 880 yd. | Relay | Total |
|---------------------|--------|---------|---------|-------|-------|
| Central | 5 | 4 | 3 | 5 | 17 |
| Westport | 3 | 7 | 0 | 2 | 12 |
| Paseo | 3 | 0 | 5 | 3 | 11 |
| Northeast | 0 | 0 | 3 | 0 | 3 |

Again Central was the victor, but this time in the M.U.-K.U. dual meet. Brannon upset the dope to win first in the 50 yard dash. Lawson, a sure first, had the breaks against him and placed second. As in the K.C.A.C. meet, the half-mile was the stellar event. As in the former race, Battenberg tried to pass Chronic but could not. Central won the relay, thereby cinching the meet.

PASEO-CENTRAL DUAL MEET

Seven firsts and six seconds won for Central the dual contest with Paseo. Lawson was the Blue and White high point man with 10 points. The dashes went to Paseo; the distance runs to Central. Paseo was outstanding in the shot-put; Central, in the jumping events. The final score: Central 53, Paseo 38.

So far Central is undefeated. She has great prospects for a state championship.

Hey, Brannon, Hawk, Roadcap, Rutter
BOYS' TENNIS TEAM

TENNIS REVIEW

THE Central tennis tournament suffered continual delays because of inclement weather. Jack Roadcap was the singles' winner, defeating Richard Hawk straight sets: 6-1, 6-4. These two boys composed the doubles team that defeated Glen Rutter and Alex George in straight sets: 6-4, 6-4.

Beginning the contest in the early fall in order that the weather might be fitting for tennis, Hawk and Roadcap soon were chosen as the favorites in both events. In the semifinals Hawk defeated Harry Moore, 6-1, 6-2, and won the right to meet Jack Roadcap. Both Hawk and Roadcap were displaying excellent form.

The game was played on the Linwood courts. After the boys had warmed up, Hawk served. Roadcap's returns, although not brilliant, were steady and consistently irritating. The first four games passed. They were easily Roadcap's. In the fifth game, the most interesting and hard fought of the match, Hawk's serves worried his opponent. The game see-sawed from deuce to advantage, and from advantage to deuce until Hawk gained the advantage, and took his first game. The two finalists were somewhat tired in the second set, and both settled down to conservative play. The game score shifted back and forth until, at 5-4, Roadcap snatched up the deciding points with a spurt which Hawk could not equal.

Although Hawk and Roadcap defeated Rutter and George in the doubles' finals, they chose to represent the school in the singles, and the latter were entered in the doubles. Bernard Brannon and Clarence Hey composed the second team. In the interscholastic league, Central came out on top in the first round: Hawk won his game, and Roadcap won by default. When they went into the second round, Hawk was matched with Junior Coen of Southwest while Roadcap was to play the state champion of Missouri. Both boys were eliminated at this period. Rutter and George were decidedly more successful, since they were eliminated only one round from the finals. Hey and Brannon, in the doubles, were eliminated in the second round. Compelled to play the city champions, they were no match for their opponents.

GIRLS' ATHLETIC DIRECTORS

Miss Leibengood, Miss Bahe, Miss Glick

GIRLS' ATHLETIC REVIEW

THE material from which Miss Dorothy V. Bahe and Miss Rebekah Leibengood, instructors in physical education, chose the girls' athletic teams for this year was unusually large, and the excellent ability of a great many of the girls in the gymnasium department made rivalry keen and increased the enthusiasm for the various sports.

The greatest factor, however, in the success of the year for the girls' gymnasium department was the outstanding leadership and interest of Miss Dorothy Bahe, sports director. This year was the ninth one in which Miss Bahe has directed the girls' gymnasium department, and was also the ninth one of a series of what may be called successful years for both Miss Bahe and the department.

Miss Rebekah Leibengood, assistant director of athletics, very ably cooperated with Miss Bahe in developing an enthusiasm among the girls which has not been surpassed nor even equaled in previous years. Miss Leibengood devoted her time to coaching the sophomore teams and to directing the sophomores in their gymnasium work. As a result of her efforts, the sophomore teams won several of the interclass tournaments.

At the close of the last year, seven student managers were chosen to assist in the directing of the sports. Because of their unusual interest and co-operation with the directors, they should be given recognition. Ione Bodley was chosen swimming manager; Dorothy Lane, baseball; Elda Hartung, hockey; Marion Mastin, volley ball; Norine Welch, basketball; Margaret Zener, hike; and Marie Van Deusen, dancing. The duties of these managers were to supervise sport practices, to arrange the tournament schedules, and to assist in selecting the teams.

It has been the custom of the gymnasium department to hold several social activities during the course of the year. At the annual Hallowe'en Party, October 30, all girls of the school were invited, but members of the department arranged the party. The girls were attired in costumes depicting characters ranging from the childish tot in rompers to the bewitching vamp of Old Spain. The evening was spent in dancing and in contests and games. The party was brought to an end with the serving of refreshments.

The basketball season, because this sport is considered the favorite among the girls, was closed by a party in honor of the winning team. This year the seniors were so honored by a party in the lunchroom. Olympians and members of all basketball teams attended.

BASEBALL REVIEW

HERETOFORE, baseball has held a minor position in the girls' gymnasium department; but this fall, the baseball season opened with more enthusiasm and vim than ever before. Fine sportsmanship and excellent teamwork were high points throughout the season.

Coached by Miss Dorothy V. Bahe and Miss Rebekah Leibengood, instructors in girls' athletics, tournaments were played off among the gymnasium classes and the respective sophomore, junior, and senior teams. The inter-class tournament served as practice to develop team-work and the fine points of the game.

According to the schedule arranged by Dorothy Lane, baseball manager, the first game was played on November 16 between the sophomores and juniors, resulting in victory for the underclassmen with a score of 12-0. After struggling through the second game of the season, the juniors were forced to bow to the seniors, 22-20. By a count of 20-17, the seniors in the final game succumbed to the invincible teamwork of the sophomores who were then declared all-victorious champions.

It is a custom in the gymnasium department for Miss Bahe and Miss Leibengood to choose an all-star team for each of the sports at the close of the inter-class tournaments. Five sophomores held positions on this year's all-star baseball team. They are: Jeanne Storey, pitcher; Madalyn Gray, catcher; Janice Storey, first base; Desa Lee Snell, second base; Madeline Tousley, left field. The remaining positions were filled by three juniors: Frances Brandberg, second base; Katherine Forgey, short stop; Lillian Lang, center field; and two seniors: Dorothy Canham, third base; Catherine Schlotzhauer, right field.

A game played between an alumnae team, organized by girls who have been active in the gymnasium department, and the all-star team, which was won by the all-stars, was a fitting close to the 1927 baseball season.

VOLLEY BALL REVIEW

THIS sport has always been popular with the girls of the gymnasium department, partly because volley ball offers an opportunity for a larger number of girls to be on teams than any other sport. Three separate tournaments were held during the season, which ended the third week in December. The first was a tournament among the gymnasium classes.

Miss Dorothy V. Bahe and Miss Rebekah Leibengood then chose the sophomore, junior, and senior first and second teams. The members of the sophomore first team were: Janice Storey, captain; Jeanne Storey, Cravens, Paris, Gadd, Snell, Shaw, Brown, Tousley, Gray, Hendricks, and Scott. Those on the junior first team were: Mortenson, Reddings, Gwartney, Forgey, Curry, Lightcap, Landes, Carey, and Brandberg. The members of the senior team were: Schlotzhauer, Stanley, Bernstein, Lane, Mastin, Welch, Crafton, Hartung, and Canham.

Marion Mastin, volley ball manager, arranged the schedule for the first and second tournaments so that the first team games were played after school, and the second team games in the mornings before school.

In the first team tournament the opening game, between the sophomores and juniors, was won easily by the sophomores. Score: 47-15. The juniors were again defeated in the junior-senior match by a count of 35-22. The final game brought the inter-class championship to the seniors who conquered the sophomores, 40-29.

Each second team won one game: the juniors, from the sophomores; the seniors, from the juniors; and the sophomores, from the seniors.

To close the season Miss Bahe selected an all-star team, in which the sophomores were represented by Gray, Tousley, and Jeanne Storey; the juniors, by Mortenson and Gwartney; and the seniors, by Lane, Bernstein, Welch, and Mastin.

BASKETBALL REVIEW

ALWAYS, the most popular sport in the girls' gymnasium department is basketball. It was even more a favorite this year than in previous years. Norine Welch acted as student manager and arranged for a double tournament to be played. Basketball is the only sport in which a double tournament is held. Some of the games were played at seven o'clock in the evening and others, immediately after school.

After a process of elimination from the previously selected gymnasium class teams, the senior, junior, and sophomore class teams were chosen. The members of the senior team were: Norine Welch and Sally House, forwards; Marion Mastin and Freda Bernstein, centers; Dorothy Lane and Ione Bodley, guards. The junior team includes: Dorothy Canham and Lillian Lang, forwards; Emmagene Laverie and Billy Cary, centers; Marian Mortensen and Mae Ona Gwartney, guards. The members of the sophomore team are: Hazel Pederson, Madalyn Gray, and Janice Storey, forwards; Madeline Tousley and Dorothy Blackmore, centers; Mary Louise Paris and Doris Gadd, guards.

On March 29, the seniors were forced to bow to the sophomores with a final score of 29-21. The following evening the sophomores triumphed over the juniors. Score: 29-21. In the third game of the tournament on April 3, the seniors won from the juniors by a slight margin. Score: 14-12.

In the second round of the tournament the tide turned. In the first game the juniors won a victory over the sophomores on April 4. The score was 16-15. On April 5 the sophomores met defeat at the hands of the seniors. Score: 17-9. The final game of the season was the determining factor of the championship. On April 10 the seniors won from the juniors with a score of 15-11 and, therefore, gained the championship of the basketball tournament.

SWIMMING REVIEW

SWIMMING met with unusual response and interest from the girls of the department. Much effort was spent in teaching them life-saving. The girls were willing to give time and thought to this useful activity; and as a result, at the close of the year twenty-three qualified for the senior test and twenty-five for the junior test. To be eligible for the senior test one must have reached the age of sixteen. Younger girls may take the junior test.

Among the qualifications for the senior test are breaks of back and front strangleholds and wrist-holds. One must be able to do the head, cross-chest, two-point, and tired swimmer's carries. Additional approaches, land carries, and the prone-pressure method of resuscitation make up the requirements. The junior test is less difficult since a smaller number of carries and holds is required. The insignia awarded the girls who are able to meet required qualifications is a National Life-Saving Corps badge and pin.

It has been the custom during recent years to hold a girls' intersociety swimming meet. All girls who are members of a literary society are eligible. This year the meet was held during the first part of March in the Central pool under the direction of Ione Bodley, student manager of swimming. Tryouts were had during the week before the meet, and when the contest drew near, competition was keen. After a close race, the Delphian Literary Society ended in victory, but it was not until the final event was completed that the victor was evident. Virginia Lee Warner, an Aristonian, was individual point winner, having won two first places, two seconds, and a third.

CENTRAL BATTALION R. O. T. C.

R. O. T. C. REVIEW

WITH each year, the Central battalion of the R.O.T.C. has achieved increasing honors and recognition. Scholastic military training, which was introduced in the Kansas City high schools in 1917, has been recognized as one of the most progressive and beneficial courses open to students.

The Central unit has been under the direction and supervision of Staff-Sergeant Frank L. Bowling since 1923. An excellent staff of battalion officers has materially aided in the accomplishments of the R.O.T.C. in 1927 and 1928. Edward Stewart was appointed honorary major in January, and Harvey Anselm received his commission as major in February.

The R.O.T.C. circus has long been an institution in the Kansas City high schools. The sixth annual circus was held at Convention hall on April 21. Each high school illustrated a military tactic or drill which was accomplished in commendable fashion. Central's participation was outstanding for its value as a representation of the amount of work done in the military department during the year. The girls of Miss Dorothy V. Bahe's gymnasium department were represented in the "Dance of the Nations" with an English Maypole dance. The feature of the circus was the presentation of the caps and capes to the eight girls chosen sponsor-majors by the seven Kansas City high schools and Lathrop Trade school.

Central's unit has had more than its share of honors in the last five years. At the annual interscholastic R.O.T.C. field meet in 1926 and 1927 the Central unit won first place in every event, including company drill, platoon drill, squad drill, individual drill, and rifle marksmanship. Because of the excellent training, Central received an honor rating from the War Department in 1926 and 1927. With the glories of the past accomplishments urging them on, the members of the Central unit of the R.O.T.C. unflinchingly strived in 1928 to equal and surpass their previous records.

SPONSOR AND CADET MAJORS

Mary Butterfield was elected sponsor major of the Central battalion of the R. O. T. C. by the cadets of the unit, the faculty, and the girls of the school. Miss Butterfield received her cap and cape at the annual military circus on April 21 when her office was formally recognized.

Roy H. Anselm was appointed cadet major of the Central battalion of the R. O. T. C. on February 1. This promotion was made by Captain Harry E. Mitchell, P. M. S. T., with the recommendation of Staff-Sergeant Frank Bowling and the approval of Principal Otto F. Dubach.

 Front Row: Lieut. Reid, Lieut. Schwartz, Lieut. Wright, Maj. Anselm, Sponsor Maj. Mary Butterfield, St. Sgt. Bowling, U. S. Army, Maj. Stewart, Capt. Fones, Capt. Metzger.

OFFICERS' CLUB

THE Officers' Club is an organization consisting of all commissioned officers in the Central battalion. The officers elected by the club are as follows: President, Roy Harvey Anselm; vice-president, Shirley Metzger; secretary, Murray Schwartz; treasurer, Clark Reid; sergeant-at-arms, Jack Willoughby; and adviser, Staff-Sergeant Frank L. Bowling.

The meetings of the club are held once a week. The Officers' Club discusses the problems of the R.O.T.C. unit and the ways and means of bettering military conditions in the school. They also sponsor all the extra-curricular activities of the battalion.

The merit system, under the supervision of the Officers' Club, was introduced at Central in September, 1928. This plan, which has been adopted by many high schools throughout the United States, has proved effective at Central. In some respects it is similar to the honor system used extensively in the class-rooms. Merits are given for good conduct, military honors, and the general habits and ability of the cadet. Demerits are given for uncleanness of equipment and general bad conduct. Five Central cadets did not receive a demerit during the entire first semester. They are: Sergeant Bernard Brannon, Corporal Marion Boren, and Cadets Billy Rownd, John Major, and Andrew Leone. The inspection is conducted each hour under the supervision of an officer. The merit system has many advantages. The cadets, besides being able to determine their own grade and military ability, take a personal interest in the success of their battalion.

The club is under the direct advisership of Staff-Sergeant Frank Bowling. Sergeant Bowling was detailed to duty with the Kansas City high schools in 1923. He first enlisted in the United States army in 1904 and served for six years in the Philippines. Sergeant Bowling was with the eighty-fourth division in the World War. He came to Central from the Disciplinary Barracks at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, where he was instructor in infantry drill.

RIFLE TEAM

THE Central Rifle Team is an organization that is more active and successful than any other phase of military work. It is under the direction of Staff-Sergeant Frank L. Bowling. The membership in the Rifle Team is limited to sixteen cadets. All cadets desiring membership take a target test at the beginning of the first semester. The sixteen making the highest scores in marksmanship are eligible.

The Central Rifle Team belongs to the National Rifle Association. About forty cadets have passed the requirements and thus have become members of this organization. The Rifle Team has entered many contests with other high schools throughout the midwest. The Central team has won first place in the Interscholastic City match every year since 1925. The contest is under the supervision of Captain Harry E. Mitchell, professor of military science and tactics in the Kansas City high schools. In this match Central cadets won the first four places. Cadet Major Harvey Anselm, Cadet Major Edward Stewart, Cadet First Lieutenant Murray Schwartz, and Cadet First Lieutenant Joyce Wright were outstanding for marksmanship. Central won this match with a total of 4131 points out of a possible 4800, thus winning the Schmelzer Arms trophy cup.

The Kansas City high schools belong to the Seventh Corps Area, which is composed of eight states. In the Corps Area rifle match, sixteen members of the Central team were placed on the team representing Kansas City. There are four requirements that the cadets must pass for the Corps Area match. They must take thirty shots prone, ten shots sitting, ten kneeling, and ten standing, totaling sixty shots.

In 1927 the Rifle Team was given a bolt action rifle for winning the match. The battalion possesses six other bolt action rifles which are used only in marksmanship matches. The equipment which Central has provided for the R.O.T.C. has largely been responsible for the success which the Rifle Team has attained.

SENIOR WILL

WE, the senior class of nineteen hundred twenty-eight, of the institution of Central high school, City of Kansas City, County of Jackson, State of Missouri, being in the act and spirit of leaving said school, and in full and unquestioned possession of sound mind, memory, and understanding, and having attained the lawful (or unlawful, as the case may be) age of four years, do make, publish, announce, and declare in deep gratification thereof, this, our last and final will and testament, that is to say:

To the juniors we leave a fund of fifty-five (55) cents to be expended on a dance of strictest propriety and rigorous censorship, with the hope that they will not follow in our footsteps.

To the sophomores we leave the great ocean of knowledge and a very frail craft in which to traverse it to our own happy ending.

To Mr. Dubach we leave the "front hall". May he keep it quiet.

To Mr. Laughlin we bequeath a crop of five more literary societies to console him in his old age.

To the Slaches we leave a history of their own club. May they sincerely repent for their past wrongs.

To the Websters we can only bequeath a solemn bit of advice: Come off the high horse.

To the Aristonians we leave a faded violet as a token of our sorrow for their many years of literary concealment.

To the Minervas we leave the stern injunction that they repel any and all suggestions that they enter Intersociety again under such odds.

To the Thaliens we leave thirty pairs of "specs" for the labor requiring midnight oil. They may be used on dates.

To the Emersons we leave this parting advice: Choose a sister club while you can. They're getting "wise."

To the Delphians we leave the Emersons with the hope that the two will finally join hands in their uphill struggle.

Lastly, we, the aforementioned and aforesaid senior class of Central high school, Kansas City, Missouri, do hereby appoint John Hedlund, Esq., as executor of this, our last will and testament.

Any odds and ends, any and all the rest of our property, real and personal, not already disposed of, we do give, devise, and bequeath into the willing hands of the editor-in-chief of the Centralian, for him to dispose and rid himself of to the material wealth and prosperity of that publication.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, we have hereunto set our hand and fixed our seal this twenty-first day of May, A. D., one thousand nine hundred and twenty-eight.

Per CHARLES HACKLER.

FOREWORD

The following pages contain the advertisements of those firms which have always supported this school in all of its activities and which have taken a leading part in the life of the community. Without their continued aid and generosity, this annual could never have been published. We owe them our thanks and our best wishes for future success—and those of you who will be here next year owe them your patronage and backing.

RETROSPECT

First Week—On the memorable day, Tuesday, September 16, 1928, the good ship Central, with a cargo of 1712 students set sail on its round-the-world-of-knowledge-cruise. Captain Dubach was at the helm. Immediately there began a contest on board for supremacy. The Student Council elected Dave Newcomer its head and shook its fist at the Activity Groups, led by presidents Madison, Willoughby, Stewart, and Hackler.

Second Week—The Big Three Circus just blew in. Whoopee! Newcomer, Hackler, and Metzger have been chosen to delight the mob as Big Voice, Acrobat, and Clown, respectively. Newcomer and Hackler are veteran performers, while Metzger is a promising novice. Of the thirty candidates who tossed their hats in the ring, Anderson, Cook, Schwartz, and Webb won the managing editors' undisputed privilege to hang their coats on a nail in the Luminary sanctum.

Third Week—There were four pistol shots and a Central enemy lay dead. The Blue and White grid giants had taken their first football victim. The four shots were the quarter signals. For each of the first three Central chalked up 6 points, and then Excelsior Springs fired back 2 points for the final shot. If you don't comprehend football jargon, we simply wish to say: Central beat Excelsior Springs by a score of 18-2.

"The general public is woefully ignorant of the services and qualifications of Morticians. They know nothing of the skill and experience necessary to correct embalming. They are uninterested in receiving vaults and Columbariums. They are unacquainted with casket values. They have no idea of the cost of a funeral. Surely they should be informed on a subject which—sooner or later—will be important to them."

So said a well know educator. To those who do wish to acquaint themselves with these facts, D. W. Newcomer's Sons offer an enlightening booklet, "A Profession and Its Service."

Fourth Week—The interscholastic football league games began Monday with the Central eleven trimming East 38-0. Except for a few scratches and bruises the local gridmen looked as if they had just finished practicing when the final whistle blew. Even a nearsighted person can tell that the boys will cause their opponents no end of worry. The whole family got together for the first time to hear Dr. C. E. Barker point out the path of success.

Fifth Week—With a smashing offensive the Blue Jerseys shattered Manual's hopes for a Red and White pennant by stacking up 18 points against an enemy goose egg. Three touchdowns at the half entitled the Centralites to some haphazard fun in the remaining rounds. With a master gesture, Hawk and Roadcap battered through a Rutter-George combination to emerge Central doubles' victors. Despite straight sets, 6-4, 6-4, the net crown final battle was not a parlor affair.

Sixth Week—With a 19-7 score the pace-setting Blue forced the potential North-east gridsters into ignominious defeat—a defeat which virtually awards us the pennant at their expense. The Purple's eleven put up a plucky battle, gaining the only touchdown against Central this far, but the breaks of the game and Borrello and Page were insurmountable obstacles. Now we know that Herod wasn't the only cruel person—five-weeks' grades.

Seventh Week—Charles Hackler was elected president of the class of 1928 on the second senior election ballot with David Newcomer coming second for the office of gifforian. The following were elected to other offices: Jack Pollitt, Edith Wells, Shirley Metzger, Lewis Gabbert, Marguerite Atteberry, Jessie Claire Fleenor. By a 12-0 score, the Menzemen sounded the death knell for a group of south-side buccaneers. Faseo duelled well to the end.

Eighth Week—To win their sixth straight game, the Central eleven defeated Southwest 47-7 on the Orange and Black field. Coach Menze sent in some second-string men who played well and looked promising for next year's threat. After demonstrating his knowledge of what a good annual ought to be, Ed Dyer was commissioned to prove his theories as editor-in-chief of the Centralian. Mary Cook will act as understudy.

Ninth Week—With the longest forward pass on record in any interscholastic game, the local battlers took their final glorious bow while Westport, their last rival, took home a 32-0 defeat. Central's sterling record has called for an encore in the form of a battle with the mighty St. Joseph Central. Regardless of the outcome, a new cup will find a place in our crowded trophy case.

Tenth Week—By a ponderous action of the student body, Central will henceforth bear the name of Blue Eagles. After about seven preliminary drawings of eagles which after all were either bluebirds or hawks, the Student Council picked the design which will adorn those of athletic prowess in the future. The bird, besides being the American national emblem, typifies poise, power, and perseverance—qualities of which Central is the highest exponent.

Eleventh Week—With the realization that Old Central again has emerged victor over her fellow institutions and that the eleven best football men in the city were her sons, the followers of sport turned out en masse to powwow around a roaring bonfire and to hum the chanties of victory. After the lusty warriors had satisfied their campfire spirit, they broadcast the glad tidings to none too interested citizens.

Twelfth Week—The final acme of gridiron fame is ours. After severely chastising the local contenders, the Central huskies played the final trump card and ended the play for this season. St. Joseph Central was mowed down before our mighty machine of brain and brawn by a 12-6 score. Anselm, Hesler, Fones, Park, Cook, and Metzger were commissioned to be the high chiefs of the khaki-clad warriors of militarism.

Thirteenth Week—The tempted football hero and his girl's steaming waffles were the theme of the annual Christmas play. To the genuine surprise and enjoyment of the audience, eleven shy, grinning athletes—real ones—trooped out in the last act to supplement the actions of Gabbert and Gribben, the fictitious brawny heroes. Emily Ann Allison and Rebecca Dunn were the tempting makers of harmless waffles. The waffles looked very good.

Fourteenth Week—Teachers' glares, students' thrills, blinding flood light, and the steady click-click of the camera were all evidence of the two days of no-school which the filming of "A Day at Central" occasioned. After the director had made himself unpopular by picking three girls and two boys for star parts, a typical school day was "shot." If we have no other claim to fame, we are at least actors.

Fifteenth Week—Some forty individuals rejoiced in the fact that they were appointed senior committee members. Poor souls, theirs is labor and no reward. They deserve much and get little. So that their parties through the holidays would be enjoyable, the eight literary societies elected second term officers. They're here! What? Those Christmas holidays! Two weeks of vacation in which to think of nice ways to tell your friend about your gifts.

Sixteenth Week—To open the basketball season, the Central basketball team presented themselves a Christmas present in the form of a victory over St. Joseph Benton, 30-18. Not content, our progressive quintet took the stiffness out of our former stars' joints by trouncing the Alumni 34-26. Roadcap, Hawk, Kauffman, Page, Dillon, Campbell, and Craghead are the mainstays. If their stellar antics continue, we shall be little surprised if Father Dope is badly jostled.

Seventeenth Week—A little visit to our twin-city, Kansas City, Kansas, resulted in a trimming for our courtmen, 27-14. The big floor and strange environment worried the boys, and they were blind on goals. To counterbalance this defeat our boys pulled themselves together and romped over our other twin city's quintet, William Chrisman of Independence, 30-19. Captain Roadcap admitted that a sound beating once in a while gives the team the necessary morale.

Eighteenth Week—By a score of 31-13, the local boys made their debut in the interscholastic league race. The east-siders bore the brunt of a terrific Blue offensive. It is not hard to see a warning and threat for Northeast, if this brand of basketball continues. Was it the bus ride, the strangeness of the gymnasium, or tough breaks that allowed St. Joseph Central to steal a 26-22 victory from the Central basketekers?

Nineteenth Week—Our hereditary foe, Manual, engaged with us and lost. Their "one man" team dropped the tilt to the Blue and White floormen by a 38-12 score. The worst, however, is yet ahead—Northeast. Fresh talent has been chosen to pilot that Central publication—the Luminary. With many an admonition and suggestion, the old editors stepped out to make room for Gabbert, Lane, Pollitt, and Reid, whose policies will now hold sway.

Twentieth Week—Fighting to the bitter end, the Central basketball team lost a 25-34 court battle to the Northeast Vikings. The tussle was a much closer affair than the score would indicate. Erratic shooting and nervousness played a tragic role for the local boys. This does not seal our doom. We probably will meet in the state tournament. Woe be to you, Northeast, when we meet you in our real form.

Twenty-First Week—The Student Council, materially governing the school, and the Boys' High School Club, ruling our morals, elected second semester officers. Hessler will head the political group, while Newcomer is at the helm of the Christian organization. Although the Blue Eagles' chances for the cup are slight, there is no neglect in their attitude on the basketball court. Getting back in stride, the local five downed Paseo, 39-16.

Twenty-Second Week—After a week of stump speeches, radical politics, and alluring platform principles, the four activity groups selected Reid, Reichard, Selover, and Metzger for gavel pounders. With a setting of safety and good will at the R. O. T. C. Annual Hop, Mary Butterfield and Roy Anselm received knowledge of their offices as Sponsor-Major and Cadet-Major, respectively, of the Central army. To clinch second place, the Central basketball team trimmed Southwest, 37-12.

Twenty-Third Week—To confirm the fact that the Eagle is in every way the superior of the Hawk, our basketball team administered a sound beating to Rockhurst on their own playground. Although the score was 30-10, the westside boys did not play a promiscuous game. For one brief hour the Washington University Glee Club conquered the sharps and flats. "Go to second hour classes." Yes, it was an assembly.

Twenty-Fourth Week—If green, midyear sophs. accomplish little else, they at least make us bigger. They caused us to forge ahead of Paseo in enrollment with 1802 students. By defeating Westport, 30 to 15, the local five won the privilege of appearing in the state tournament at Columbia. Beware, Northeast! Not content with football and basketball honors, the fame of Central is bobbing up in track. We won the K.C.A.C. meet!

Twenty-Fifth Week—Although our team didn't place first in basketball, the genuine tribute and real compliment of three of the five all-star berths came to us. Hawk, Kauffman, and Page, teamed with Olds and Renfro of Northeast, compose the mythical quintet. Captain Roadcap gets an equal ovation, although the nine semester rule cut short his career. We said we were real trackmen last week. We proved it again by "copping" the M.U.-K.U. meet.

Twenty-Sixth Week—To prove the efficiency and value of R.O.T.C. in the high school curriculum, the Central unit held the attention of all the students while it successfully weathered an inspection and presented itself a Sponsor-Major. The band did very well, thanks. After an extended absence (bordering on wilful truancy), Principal Dubach has returned from eastern school conferences with several "pet" administrative schemes. We hope they work.

THE MAKING OF A BOOK

DO YOU know that certain customs in the art of book making have come down to us out of the long ago past and have survived the tests of a changing world? ¶Today publishers are utilizing laws of proportion, margin, spacing and typography, not as slaves of ancient custom, but as students of the fine art of making the eye serve the mind. ¶The selection of type faces, the handling of title and introductory pages, chapter headings, the kind of paper for the book and cover—all must be considered with reference to the subject matter and the class of readers to whom the book will appeal. ¶To those who contemplate the publishing of a book, monograph, biography, genealogy, or booklet for private or general circulation, an invitation is extended to consult with Twenty-Seventh Week—The excitement over senior ballot and junior election makes the narrator of these tid-bits unsteady in writing his "bunkum." Jimmy Campbell had political thralldom over the underclassmen and so wears the diadem of the junior class monarch. Hackler, Boyd, Newcomer, Wells, Dyer, Franz, Holt, Fleenor, Gabbert, Buechner, Page, Bodley, Schwartz, Webb, Pollitt, and Mitchell compose a group of sixteen senior ballot members who captured the seniors' favor.

Twenty-Eighth Week—To win the last game before the state meet, the Blue and White cagemen caged in De LaSalle to the tune of 29 to 16. The game on the Redemptorists' court bore the earmarks of a superior brand of basketball on both sides. Velma Johnston "copped" first and Dorothea Pickett second in the annual Luminary short story contest. Five and two dollars were the awards offered.

Twenty-Ninth Week—With a sincerity not yet imparted to this printed page, we speak of Central's elimination at the state tournament. It was an epic of struggle. The "never say die" of Central fame characterized the dogged resistance which three basketball men put up against five opponents in a three play-off game. Let us mention here the names of that squad, victorious in defeat: Hawk, Moulder, Dillon, Husbands, Page, Whitaker, and Craghead. Hall!

Thirtieth Week—In starting a new line of endeavor, the juniors won the interclass meet by one and seven-tenths points. The whole affair looked good for Central.

And now, we come to the end of our story. We have set forth briefly the happenings of the main part of a year at Central. We believe this year to be an outstanding Central one, but that is for history to decide. Adios.

The 'GOLD STANDARD'

WHAT the gold standard means in money values, the Burger imprint is to the college and school annual world. It signifies the designing genius which has created the greatest annuals, the utmost in printing plates, and a service which is truly specialized, intelligent, interested, and thorough, comprehending every phase of yearbook building and financing. ¶ This book is a product of such service. ¶ An inquiry about your book will be welcome.

Work vs. Play

"Play usually wins in this competition —but Work, especially school work, has its good points. Foremost among them are Irving-Pitt student note-books. With covers of such beauty and durability, the notes inside seem easier to take. No wonder the majority of Kansas City students own Irving-Pitt note-books.
