Ready initiative, deep sincerity, a genuine love of service and resolute tenacity help to explain why Mildred is the most accomplished girl in Central.

HOMER EUGENE PARIS, JR.

Treasurer Senior Class; President Central Webster Club; Secretary Boys' High School Club; Business Manager Centralian; Student Council; Cabinet Boys' High School Club; Cheerleader '29; National Honor Society; Intersociety Council; Chairman Senior Gift Committee; Central Dramatic Club; "Strongheart"; Senior Ballot; "Beau Brummel."

His leadership will endure, for its basis is the sincere admiration of the entire school.

MAXINE E. FONES

Sergeant-at-Arms Senior Class; President Minerva Literary Society; National Honor Society; Student Council '29; Girls' High School Club; Managing Editor Luminary; Girls' Rifle Team '27, '28; 'Yeomen of the Guard'; 'Mikado'; Choral Club.

Unfailing ambition, deep devotion to duty, limitless energy, combined with nobility of character made Maxine a leader.

RUTH E. ABRAMOWITZ

Gregg Writers.

"To strive to please" is her aim, In this she falls not short; For after all life is a game. And this little maid is just the sort.

To play a band worth while to claim.

ALBERT LEE ADLER

Central Franklin Club; Spanish Club; Boys' High School Club.

Al was a real fellow. His friendly attitude, his true sin-cerity, his respect for all whom he met, and above all his everlasting smile, all com-bined to give him a world of friends.

DOROTHY CLEO ALBERT

"Dot's" high school career is merked with the specific qual-ities of charm, deep sincerity, dignity, and lovableness. An all around girl whom every-one likes.

LOUETTA MAY ALLEN

Sweet looking is this little maid, Lovable and gay; If you have any troubles Just call on Louetta May, For with her sunny smile She'll chase all your bl BWBY:

MARYANN EVANS ALQUIST

Thalian Literary Society: Spanish Club; Bank Cashler Girls' High School Club Choral Club; "Pinafore." Society:

A true Thalian follower pos sessed with unusual ability to make friends, and best of all.

JAMES MILLARD ANGEL

He is quiet and businesslike with a vein of jollity and fun underneath which makes him popular in the classrooms, as well as with his friends.

ZELDA L. ACKENHAUSEN

Like a child possessed of dig-nity and of charm, she has graced Central's halls and has finished her course, leaving only the most pleasant thoughts behind for others such as she. We may look for her some day behind the footlights dancing the hours away.

SILAS ADSIT

Student Council '29.

Just because there are not very many honors to grace the name of this energetic lad does not mean that he was not active in school. The little boy in the big red car and bearskin coat lent spice to every task.

KEITH P. ALCORN

Central Emerson Club; Boys' High School Club; Orchestra; Band; Intersociety Represen-tative '29.

Keith was a fellow of high ideals and strength of char-seter. How he could play the trombone!

EMILY ANN ALLISON

President Aristonian Literary Society: Student Council '27, '28, '29: Lead, 'Three Graces:" Girls' High School Club: Intersociety Represen-tative '28.

Through her rare charm and personality "Emmy" has taught us the true meaning of "Jolly Good" and her memory shall long remain with us.

ESTHER AMBER

Central Art Club; Luminary

Esther has a scholastic stand-ard of which to be proud, and her ability, efficiency, and competence is the envy of all. These qualities assure her of success in later life.

ARISTA ARNOLD

Art Club.

She's a tall slender blond, And of drawing she's fond; To everyone she's a delight, For can't you see she's— "Just right."

CHARLES PARMELES AUGUR Central Franklin Club; Le Cercle Francais; Boys' High School Club; Typographia Staff '28, '29.

-+45

A quiet, unassuming young fellow who was not known around school as well as he should have been. His work in the printshop was of the

MARIE LOIS BARKER

Had we but known Marie better we feel sure that her sterling qualities would have been better appreciated and understood. We know that success is due such a charac-ter.

WARREN R. BARTLETT

We wouldn't be a bit sur-prised if this fellow turned out to be a radio specialist or an engineer. He likes to take apart machinery but isn't so crazy about putting it to-

PAUL R. BATTENBERG

Central Franklin Club; Track Team '27, '28, '29, Central 'C' Club; Student Council '29; Boys' High School Club; Crack Company '28; Le Cercle Français; National Athletic Scholarship.

"Bat" was a loyal supporter of every thing undertaken by Central. Everybody could rec-ognize his yelling.

RICHARD H. BEESON

Central Franklin Club; Boys High School Club; Track Squad '27; Second Team Foot-ball '27.

Another of Central's little noisemakers, especially in the library at night. His trick cigar crused many a temper-ate teacher to pale.

JEANETTE BELL

Choral Club '28, '29; "Mika-do"; "Pinafore"; Central Art Club; Thalian Literary Soci-

If you can win from her a lit-tle smile.

That's sunny and very sweet;

And if you can keep that memory of her a little while.

Your day will be complete.

ROBERT BALLINGER

Central Webster Club; President German Club; Boys' High School Club; Make-up Man Luminary; Managing Editor Luminary; Band, '28; National Honor Society.

A well-known figure around the printshop and Luminary office this year. Bob has proved his worth to Central.

EUGENE A. BARTLETT

Central Webster Club; Lieu-tenant R. O. T. C.; Crack Squad, Plstoon, Company '27; Student Council '27.

This tall, stalwart soldier has held high the ideals of the army. A reel leader.

ROBERT BARTRAM

If there are any of us who are glad our high school days are over, Bob is one of them. He says books and learning are all right but they are not for

ROSE BAYLES

"Heart of Paddy Whack" cast. Rose is the "mascot" of the class of '29 and though she is very tiny in stature she can do big things in a big way and how.

JAMES E. BELL

Jim is a member of that Central bunch that yells their heads off at a basket-ball game and after the game take their celebration out on the street-cars. He is always laughing and never has a cross word for anybody.

CATHERINE BENSCOTER

Catherine's attitude toward school activities was one of helpful interest rather than of criticism. The fact that she is willing to overlook others' faults has made her a likeable soul. likeable soul.

·3 1929 6

ROSE GENE BERGMAN
Girls' High School Club
Jolly good natured I like to be,
With never a thought or care.
I like my fun in every way,
Whate'er it cost me by the

FRANCES BERNARD

If the meek inherit the world, Frances will surely be there, for she is not only shy and meek, but earnest and enthusiastic at times.

BETTY JANE BIECHELE

Student Council; El Circulo Espanol; Girls' High School Club.

She needs no tongue, For with those eyes She'll tell us all That might arise.

MILDRED MAURINE BILLINGS

Aristonian Literary Society; Central Trouvere Club; Student Council; Bank Cashier; Girls' High School Club; Officer Activity Group '27; Orchestra.

Like a beautiful Madonna she draws us to her by her magnetic personality and sweetness of disposition.

WILLIAM ELMER BLANCHARD

President Central Emerson Club: President Glee Club: Vice-President Le Cercle Français: Lead "Pinafore": Managing Editor Luminary; Boys' High School Club: National Honor Society: Intersociety Representative Declamation '29; Band and Orchestra.

An efficient, hardworking and capable person—this tribute we pay to him.

PAULINE BORROV Girls' High School Club.

Here we have a good example of one possessed with charm portrayed by deep sincerity and a quiet attitude toward all that is refined and loving.

GOLDIE BERKLEY

Just one of those quiet girls whose smile means more than words, while merry mischief sparkJes in her eyes, and her worth is more than its weight in "Gold,"

ALBERTHA BIBERT

Girls' High School Club.

A mild girl with a soft voice who is seen often but seldem heard. She came here to study and think; she has done both and on top of it has proved herself to be a loyal Centralite.

ROBERT BIECHELE

Boys' High School Club.

We hardly know what to say about him. Never blowing his own horn, he was nevertheless a hard worker and a careful student who usually succeeded with the tasks he undertook.

ABE A. BLACKMAN

Abe might go unnoticed and unsung if it were left to himself to circulate his praises. Fortunately his reticent tendencies and refreshing modesty have not entirely robbed him of his just laudation.

ROSE BLOUSTINE

All the world is "Rosy" to people like this little maid who takes life with a laugh and a carefree air, and yet beneath her frivolity lies a bit of seriousness which we admire.

MALCOLM L. BOLAND

Here's the fellow who had the unfortunate happen to him. His chemistry teacher ant down beside him the day he didn't have his lesson. Too bad, Malcolm, we suggest that you sit in the back of the room.

DALE ROLEY

President Central Emerson Clab; Vice-President Student Council; Assistant Boys' Se-nior Editor Centralian; Stu-dent Council '28; Boys' High School Club; National Honor

We wouldn't be shocked if he turned out to be a hard poli-tician after the rough cam-paigns he's been through here.

FREDA ROSE BORTNICK

One of the best things that may be said about anyone is that he is a loyal supporter of his alma mater and this may well be said about Freda!

FRANCES A. BRANDBERG

President Delphian Literary Society; Central Olympians; Girls' Rifle Team '27, '28; Hockey Team '27, '29; Basket-ball Team '27, '28; Volley Ball Team '28; Baseball Team '27, '28; All Star Hockey Team '27; Intersociety Swimming Team '28. Team '28.

An all around girl-one we

JOSEPHINE BRENNER

President Le Cercle Français; Gregg Writers; National Gregg Write Honor Society.

One of these "bright" persons in both looks and studies, and only due admiration is owed Josephine by her classmates for making Central more worth while.

MARY LOUISE BROSKEY

Thalian Literary Society; Gregg Writers; Spanish Club; Central Trouvere Club; Girls' High School Club; Choral Club; "Yeomen of the Guard"; "Mikado"; Bank Cashier.

To know her is to love her and to love her is divine.

PHIL BORRELLO

"C" Man Football '27, '28, '29; All-Star Halfback '28; All-Star Captain,

Phil was one of the most outrini was one of the most out-standing athletes Central has ever had play for her. His record was to have never played on a losing team all through his high school ca-

EDNA LUCILLE BOWLES

"Yeomen of the Guard"; "Mikado"; "Pinsfore"; Central Choral Club; Central Trouvere Club.

A nightingale having sweetness of voice and nature—one who cheers us along the way and keeps the bright side of life always humming.

WILLIAM G. BRANDS, JR.

Inter-class Basketball Team. It makes us feel good just to have him around. A cheery countenance and a "howdy" for everybody made him a person we shall not forget.

VELLA MAY BRANUM

It can be written of some that were loyal, of others that they were earnest, and of others that they were true friends. Of Vella, it can be said that she was all of these.

ROSE M. BRIEFMAN

Although we haven't seen much of this shy little girl, what we have seen does not appear "brief" in any way, but only serves to assure us of her coming success in life.

MARVEL BROTHERTON

Delphian Literary Society; Senior Ballot, Best Girl Orator.

We have heard her voice ring out in greatest plea, and it has moved us; but we shall remember her most as a sinfriend and most loyal cere frie Delphian.

THOMAS S. BROWNELL

Central Franklin Club; Boys' High School Club.

His wayy brown hair was the envy of all the girls, but he was too bashful to help them out. Everybody liked "Curly,"

PARKER VINCENT BRUMWELL

We've often wondered why we didn't notice this fellow sooner, but we believe it is because he didn't blow his horn and attract us to him. A quiet, good-looking chap who could be quite a hit with the girls if he only would.

ROBERT B. BURNS

Boys' High School Club.

This tall, wavy haired, blue-eyed ladies' man will not be forgotten by those whom he has left behind. We feel sure he will be a success at any-thing he attempts.

VERA KATHERYN BURWINKLE

Student Council '26, '28.

Such popularity is only de-served and won by those who possess as rare a personality and charm as Vera's and many envy the sweet smile which she displays!

JACK CAMPBELL

We assume that Jack is a firm believer in the theory that grades go for naught. Nevertheless, when he does set his mind on doing something he usually succeeds in the task.

DOROTHY R. CANHAM

OROTHY R. CANHAM

President Central Olympians;
Basketball Team '26, '27, '28;
Girls' High School Club; Student Council; Basketball Manager '28; Big "C"; Small "C"; Hockey Team '28; All-Star Hockey Team; Volley Ball Team '27, '28; Baseball Team '27, 28; Baseball Team '27; Swimming Team '28; Pillow Top '28. A sport in every line.

LESSE WILLIAM BRUCE

Jesse is snother one of the quiet, hard working throng so necessary to the life of a school. A studious unassuming person who retains all of his many friends—that's Jesse

ALLEN BARTON BURBEY

We understand that although this young fellow is quite ret-leent in his classrooms, just let him out on the track and watch him go !

BROOKE JANE BURTON

Grace was in all her steps; heaven in her eyes; in every gesture, dignity, and love. Her ways are ways of quiet-ness—quiet but convincing.

VERILOUS M. CALVERT

Her shy manner and sweet disposition are the envy of many and her loving smile is the aspiration of all. She is one whom we are proud to call "friend."

JEWELL CAMPBELL

First Team Football '28, '29; Captain Second Team Football '27; First Team Basketball '28, '29; Central 'C' Club; Activity Group Officer '28; All-Star Football '28; Senior Ballot, "Best Boy Athlete"

One can readily see that Jewell was a worthy sthlete. A gentleman too.

VIRGINIA E. CANHAM

President Thalian Literary Society: Student Council '29: Emerson Medal Pinner: Fea-ture Editor Centralian '29: Senior Ballot, 'Jolly Good Girl'; Senior Committee: Na-tional Honor Society,

With manner so cunnin', With style so stunnin', No wonder she's sought for, By those of the opposite sex.

HARRIET CLIFTON CANTWELL Hockey Team, '27, '28. Earnest of purpose and will-ing at all times to attack the test set before her. Harriet won the admiration of many by these rare qualities.

++40-

MARGARET JIMMIE CARTTER Sometimes charm is as equal in a quiet person as in a peppy one. Margaret is a good example and we shall long remember the pleasant thoughts she left behind.

MARY GRACE CASH

Grogg Writers.

"Cash" is her by-word. She is one who always believes in not putting off till tomorrow what you can do today, and this motto will make her a big sucress in later years.

MARIAN MERL CLARK

Marian will always be re-membered for her sweet ways and quiet, unassuming man-ner, although she did not create much of a stir while she was here at Central.

ALVIN CORN

Here is another of Central's efficient students. Always working hard on some project, Alvin will not soon be forgotten by the school in which he spread everlasting sunshine.

GEORGE R. COLLINS, JR. Central Chess Club.

Not just another senior, but one at whose name we un-consciously hesitate. We know that the men behind the name will not fall short of your expectations, should you meet

ERMA LEONA CARRENDER

Girla' High School Club; Girla' Rifle Team; Hockey Team '27.

Possessed with an unusual ability to make friends, Erma made many and lost none.

BILLY CARY

President Minerva Literary Society; President Olympien Club; Gregg Writers; Lumi-nary Staff, Sport Editor; Perfect Attendance; Hockey Manager '28; State Letter "M"; Pillow Top; Big "C"; Small "C"; Senior Ballot; "Best Girl Athlete." "Fair play" is her motto.

LOTTIE MAY CHURCH

The thing that goes the farth-

Towards making life worth

That costs the least and does the most Is just a pleasant smile.

JEROME COHEN

Perfect Attendance; Boys' High School Club; Central Chess Club; Lieutenant R. O. T. C.; Central Officers' Club; Crack Company '27, '28.

He was a bardworking capable grmy man who was liked by all who knew him. He played no small part in our victories.

JEAN WILLIAM COLEGROVE

"I liked Central so well I came back mother year. Besides school, tennis is my hobby, and maybe some day Junior Coen will be my opponent."

IRMA LEE COMBES

Intersociety Representative; German Club; President Mi-nerva Literary Society; Girls' High School Club.

Happy go lucky is Irma Lee,
With a smile as sweet as a smile can be.
She's a girl with a Joyous outlook on life
With nary a care nor a tho't
of strife.

DONITA CONANT

++45

Cute as they make them is this little lass. The only fault we can find with her is that she never makes her presence known, and we wish she would, for Donita is a girl whose friendship everyone would like to possess.

NELLIE RUTH COOKE

Choral Club; "Yeoman of the Guard"; Bank Cashier; Girls' High School Club.

One who made the great way, With words of cheer, sweet and gay, And a song on her lips the live-long day.

MAXINE COULTER

Thalian Literary Society; Choral Club '27, '28; "Yeo-man of the Guard"; "Mika-

"Don't flirt with me boys, I'm taken," was Maxine's song, for during three years she was always true to Joe.

DALE E. CRAIK

Dale went through school somewhat differently than does the average student. Overcoming a tremendous handicap, he was a joyful participant in all the school activities and retained a scholastic standing of S.

WILLA MAE CRAVEN

Gregg Writers.

Willa Mse will always be re-membered for her sweet dis-position and charming man-ner. Although she does not often voice her opinion, she makes an interested listener— which is undoubtedly an asset to be proud of to be proud of.

MARTHA ELLEN CRILEY

Girls' High School Club.

A smile that was contagious and spontaneous, wit coupled with quiet dignity, make us truly regret losing this un-assuming but loyal Centralite.

JAMES P. CONKEY, JR.

Central Golf Team.

Jim doesn't care so much about algebra or history but just put a club, a golf club we mean, in his hands, and we know he'll use it to good

MELVIN FRED COORSSEN

President Central Franklin President Central Franklin Club: Business Manager Lum-inary: Assistant Business Manager Centralian; Treas-urer Boys' High School Club; Senior Committee; Central Golf Team; National Honor Society.

An energetic loyalty, backed by an ever present wit, won for this Franklin the friend-ship of all.

CLARK CRAGHEAD

Central Franklin Club; "C" Man Basketball '28, '29; "C" Man Football '29; Central "C" Club.

If it had not been for Clark we feel sure our teams would have lacked much of that punch and fighting quality so characteristic of them.

DOROTHY B. CRAIR

Girls' High School Club. She's tall, dear and blonde you see, With ways of deep sincerity; Seeing her is liking her, And knowing her is loving her.

CHILTON CREASON

President Boys' High School Club; President Central Web-ster Club; Secretary Boys' High School Club; Student Council '27, '28; "Strong-heart"; Managing Editor Lu-minary; Bank Cashier '27; Intersociety Representative Essay '28; National Honor Society. Society.

Chilton is the most outstand-ing Christian boy of the class.

VIRGINIA KATHERINE CROUCH

Aristonian Literary Society; Central Drama Club; Girls' High School Club; Gregg Writers.

Just a bunch of sweetness coming in a small package, giving joy to all in a big way.

EDNA MAE CURRY

Junior Volley Ball Team '27. One would almost believe that Edna stepped right out of a fashion book into our midst for she is truly a belie with a little Frenchy air that is the envy of all the girls.

MINNIE DANIELS

Minnie is tall and fair and her ready smile has won her many a friend. Unless we miss our guess, she is bound to be a success in every sense of the word wherever she may chance to be.

KATHERINE E. DAVIDSON

Central Art Club.

Katherine is the kind of girl one can't help liking whether he wants to or not. One possessed with such high standards and ideals deserves the highest of preise.

ELIZABETH JANE DAVIS

Student Council '27, '28; Bank Cashier '27, '28.

One of those many persons whom it takes to fill the places in a large school. Had we known Elizabeth better, we feel sure that we should have profited by her friendship.

LAWERANCE D. DAVIS

A tall strapping black-haired young man who had very lit-tle interest in school outside the members of the other sex. A real honest-to-goodness shiek minus his tent and sand.

LINDLEY DEATLEY

President Central Franklin Club: Managing Editor Lu-minary: Cabinet Boys' High School Club' 28: Vice-Presi-dent Boys' High School Club: Intersociety Representative Oration '29; National Honor Society: Staff Photographer

A serious minded, studious young man whose every thought was in behalf of the other fellow.

CORAL BERNICE DANIELS

Girls' High School Club.

Bernice goes quietly and un-assumingly on her way do-ing what she should do, in the way it should be done; known by every one, liked by every one, and respected by every one.

GRACE DASILVA

Central Drama Club; Bank Cashier; "Passing of the Third Floor Back"; Le Cercle

Grace is helping friends each day At least that's what we hear them say. She is tall and dark and bright Industrious too-in fact, just right.

ANNA LOUISE DAVIS

Wrapped in the solitude of her own originality she is a gentlewomen who never in-sults her fellow classmates.

IVA KATHLEEN DAVIS

El Circulo Espanol; Central Trouvere Club. We've been told That she is one, Who always makes You have some fun; But still she seems To get things done.

MARGARET DAVIS

She was never one to put her-self before the public eye, but to those who have won her confidence she shows a delightful charm of manner and cheerfulness of disposi-

AGNES MARIE DEBO

It is her nature to be re-served, and because of this fact, not many have been given an opportunity to ap-preciate the true personality of this little dark-haired lady.

ALBERT DE RUBERTIS

Spanish Club.

It is too bad "De" wasn't a track star or some sort of an athlete. We can't imagine what Central's teams would do without his strong support.

BERRY DILLON

Society of Literature and History; Captain First Team Basketbeil '29; First Team Basketball '28; Captain Sec-ond Team Basketball '27.

Our basketball captain this year was a very fine one and although his team didn't win all their games he was in there fighting all the time!

DOROTHY DIXON

President Delphian Literary Society; Student Council '27; Girls' High School Club; As-signment Editor Luminary; Literary Editor Centralian.

Central is bettered by the presence of those who through work and patience seek to im-prove its facilities.

MARGARET MARILLA DODD

Choral Club President; Cen-tral Trouvere Club; Student Council '28; "Mikædo"; "Pin-afore"; Aristonian Literary Society.

With voice so musical and sweet, With her we'd ne'er wish to compete: For such a talent as she has, We can hardly strive to beat.

RUTH MARGARET DONNELL

Truly a daughter of the gods is Margaret—divinely tall and divinely fair; possessed of rare beauty—easy grace of manner and unquestioned awestness which endeared her to reall to us all.

OPAL DOSH

There she goes with a song upon her lips coming from a heart so gay, and z smile upon her face reflecting her deep devotion to all that is good and noble.

EARL C. DIETZ

Here we have one of the few good physicists in school. He was an ardent student in Room 211. We wouldn't be a bit surprised if he'd be a corking good engineer.

MARY E. DIMMITT

Girls' High School Club; El Circulo Espanol.

There is a merry twinkle in her eye.

Which seems to say as you pass by:

"Come on and let me show you how to glorify In fun, and dance, frivolity, In goodness, badness and vivereity."

MILDRED F. DIXON

"Dixie" truly reminds us of the South, for such a sunny disposition and such a lova-ble manner is only character-istic of the land her name implies.

David Dolginow

It has been said that all fat It has been said that all lat-people are good-natured and David is no exception to the rule. He always has a smile for everybody. Just another of the sun's little helpers.

BERTHA DORFMAN

Everybody likes her who knows her, and everybody knows her, because she has put forth all her effort to please others and to make everlasting friendships.

VIRGINIA MAY DOSH

—That's Doris. And Art seconds the motion.

MARTHA LOUISE LAUER

Aristonian Literary Society; Student Council '27; "Pina-fore"; Girls' High School Club; Choral Club; Bank

Everyone likes variety, and therefore everyone likes Mar-tha Louise.

WILBUR C. LAWSON

Co-captsin Track Team '29; "C" Man Track '27, '28, '29; "C" Man Football '29.

Wilbur is one of the finest athletes that has ever graced our halls. Physically, men-tally, and morally, he was pleasing to all who had con-tact with him.

FORREST H. LENTZ

Central "C" Club; Track Team '28, '29.

Our mainstay in the pole-vault this year, and he did a good job of upholding our rec-ords of former years. He tried a mustache too!

HARRIETT LEUSCH

Thalian Literary Society. There's a most alluring magic in her smile, . It cannot leave you if you see it for a while,

CLARA LARBERG

Girla' High School Club; Bus-kethall Team '27, '28; Base-ball Team '27, '28; Hockey Team '27.

Rare judgment and charming manner combined with the ability to face trouble with a smile has made everyone like Clara, and we can say that it is just such students that make this school of ours worth while.

GEORGIA LAUDERDALE

Who could resist the sweetness of her smile and the charm of her personality? Her eggerness to be liked by all has given her the honor of having many friends and few foes in all her years at Central.

EMMAGENE C. LAVERIE

MARY LOUISE LEVEY Girls' High School Club.

Easy to please, for she has proved herself of jolly good nature these three years that she has been in our midst.

NATHAN LEVINSON

Here's the other brother. He was content to study when he felt like it and then not unless his studies appealed to him. Quite a tennis player, too.

FRANK DAVID LEWIS

Central Emerson Club; Boys' High School Club; Le Cercle Francais; Sport Editor Luminary.

Frank came to Central from the American High School in Paris. We declare that we received the better end of the bargain.

KATHERINE LIGHTCAP

Minervs Literary Society; Girls' High School Club; Student Council '28; Volley Ball '27; Swimming Team '27, '28. A winning way and pleasant smile, dressed quite neat and quite in style. That's the girl, sweet of nature and attractive in looks, in other words, our Katherine.

ALICE ELIZABETH LINCOLN

Chorn Club; "Pinafore."
One of the loveliest things about Alice is that she is as kind and loving as the great man whose name she bears, and it is our wish that she may be as successful as he.

LOUISE LINDSEY

Rare judgment, deep sincerity, and lovable nature are virtues belonging only to those who set forth an effort to win friends, and last but not least, to hold friends.

MARCUS H. LEVINSON

Being an older brother has its advantages and disadvantages, according to him. His good work has made him an outstanding person.

EUGENIA LEWIS

Society of Literature and History; Senior Gift Committee; Le Cercle Francais; Student Council '28; Girls' High School Club; Championship Volley Ball '28; Luminary Staff; Intersociety Council.

With pep and style and a laugh that's hearty.
Always the girl who's the life of the party.
That's Genie.

SHIRLEY LIEBSON

A smile goes a long way, and it is only those who possess such a virtue who are headed on the road to success. Here's wishing her a pathway of success and happiness.

FRANK LINCK

Frank wasn't known around school as well as he should have been, but to those who did know him he was a true friend. An ardent supporter of De Molay, too.

LUCILLE LINDERSMITH

Choral Club '29; "Pinafore"; Bank Cashier; Central Trouvere Club; Minerva Literary Society.

An intellect of highest worth A heart of purest gold—. Love, sweetness, goodness, In her person shown.

HAROLD J. LIPPOLD

The ease with which he performed his Chemistry and Physics experiments was always a mystery to us. He should make an efficient engineer.

JEANNETTE LYON

Mailing Manager Luminary. It is our earnest desire that Jeannette may conquer the high fences of life as she has conquered the graceful art of fencing and we know she will.

MARY MARGARET MALOY

Mildest manners and gentlest heart—a quiet little girl with a lot of goodness to her. May she ever be successful in everything she undertakes to do; she has been so far, so why not in the future?

VIRGINIA MAY LOWERY

All things do not come to those who wait; Virginia's attempt at matrimony shows that. We hope that in the future she may find real happiness in all that is good and lovable.

MARJORIE MANUEL. "Yeoman of the Guard"; "Mikado".

It is not everyone who has the unusual record of finishing a high school career in three and one-half years and still not be a grind; but Marjorie did, and her sweet and winning manner made her loved by all.

MARY ESTHER LITTON

SCENE FROM "STRONGHEART"

STRONGHEART

HE missing signals—what intrigue and complications these caused. And it was all closely connected with the Indian hero of "Strongheart", a football drama. The thirty-fifth annual Christmas play was presented in the auditorium on December 14 and 15, with Miss Virginia Robertson as director.

The play opens in the collegiate rooms of Frank Nelson and Dick Livingston at Columbia University. They are planning tea for their sisters and several friends. During the afternoon Ralph Thorne is left alone in the room, and he steals the signals for a coming football game. Dick Livingston, his rival for the hand of Dorothy Nelson, owes him $3000 for a poker game and also $3000 more which Thorne loaned him to bet on the game. If Livingston cannot pay his debt he must leave the college. Thorne figures that by preventing the victory of Columbia, he will force Livingston to leave and consequently make the field clear for his own progress with Dorothy. Another reason for Thorne stealing the signals is that he has his money placed on the opposing team.

After the first half of the game it is found that the signals have been given to the rival team and that there is a traitor on the Columbia team. Strongheart, an Indian on the Columbia squad, receives the signals from the rival coach, and when he discovers they are in Dick's writing he does not give them up and thereby expose Dick, but keeps them and shifts the suspicion on himself. Because of this suspicion he is not permitted to play in the second half. Columbia wins the game and there is a party at Frank Nelson's home. Strongheart tells Dorothy of his love and is to receive his answer the following day. Through a fake telegram he finds his suspicions true concerning Thorne's guilt and accuses him. Thorne tells Strongheart that Dick and Frank will break his friendship when they find out that he wishes to marry Dorothy, and after telling them Strongheart finds that this is true.

The next day, however, he puts personal feelings aside, and clears Dick's name. Dick apologizes for his anger but says he cannot be Strongheart's friend again because of race differences. Dorothy says that she will be his wife, but after a message from his people stating that his father has died and that he must carry on the position as chief of his tribe. Strongheart remains faithful to his race and leaves Dorothy, putting love out of his life.

Paul Gribben, a hero of other productions capably and realistically played the difficult role of Strongheart on both nights. On Friday night, Pearl Munden proved herself a real actress by her excellent portrayal of the feminine lead, Dorothy Nelson. Frank Nelson was an ideal big brother as played by Homer Paris; Farrell Strawn upheld the comic part of Billy Saunders successfully, and Galen White was well received as Dick Livingston. Vivian Dale was clever as Molly Livingston. Mary Lou Herzenstiel and Mary Ellen Herndon were pleasing as Betty Bates and Maud Weston, respectively. Taylor, Ross, and Thorne, as port-ayed by Chilton Creason, William Bayles, and Jack Hanback, were entertaining and well-liked.

In the Saturday night cast, Rebecca Dunn was charming and talented as Dorothy Nelson. Donald Evans effectively played the part of Frank Nelson. Billy Rownd commendably enacted Billy Saunders, while Donald Fedderson was impressive as Dick Livingston. Molly Livingston was delightfully done by Ruth Barth. The roles of Betty Bates and Maud Weston captivated the audience as portrayed by Mary Harper and Frances Harvey. The appearance of Stephen Kaney as Reade was a signal for laughter. Leo Bergman, Joe Herzmark, and Francis Tiffany "lived" the parts of Taylor, Ross, and Thorne, respectively. Florence Hoffman showed dramatic ability as Mrs. Nelson while Blanche Kleiman played well the part of the Nelson maid

An interesting feature of the play was the appearance of six members of Central's 1929 victorious football team. They were Phillip Borrello, Art Walkley, Jimmy Hamilton, Joe Harbaugh, Jewell Campbell, and Stanley Stoeltzing.

To the stage crew, Mr. C. O. Williams, the art department, Mr. J. M. Lukens, Mr. A. H. Roberts, and many students, a great deal of appreciation is due for their cooperative efforts and aid.

SCENE FROM "MAN OR MOUSE"

MAN OR MOUSE

AS he a weak, groveling, cowardly mouse or an upright, self-reliant man? This question is cause of all the exciting action of "Man or Mouse," the 1929 spring play, which was written by Owen Lee. This romance was presented in the auditorium on March 22 and 23, under the direction of Miss Virginia Robertson, instructor in ex-

"Man or Mouse" proved to be one of the most interesting productions that the dramatic department of Central has accomplished, undoubtedly due to the fact that it is a work of a Kansas City man. Mr. Owen Lee Snook, the author, himself witnessed the production, which was the premiere high school presentation of his play. At different times he made most interesting comments on his play and also visited Central to make personal suggestions to the cast, on the character of the production.

The opening of the play finds in the lobby of the Homestead hotel, the Jolly Eight Club girls, who have come to see Peggy Lou, the daughter of Mrs. McFadden, the proprietor of the hotel, but are obliged to be entertained by Nippy, the hotel porter.

Joe Dawson, a road gang leader who has been Peggy's sweetheart, becomes furiously jealous when he thinks she has fallen in love with Russel Van Horn, a city chap who was made boss of the road work. Russel learns that his mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Willoughby and Hope Willoughby, a social butterfly to whom he is engaged, are coming. Because the road gang has gone on a strike an antagonistic feeling exists between Joe and Russel and Joe accuses the latter of sending for "the old man." When Russel's party arrives, they are introduced to Peggy Lou and Mrs. McFadden. Hope and, Mrs. Willoughby show great disdain for them and the small town. Russel realizes that Hope is not his ideal and also that she cares little for him. Russel confesses to Peggy Lou that he is unaccustomed to fighting and is afraid of Joe.

SCENE FROM "MAN OR MOUSE"

The skein tangles even more when Joe comes to the hotel and threatens that in an hour he'll be back and if he doesn't come out and fight him his gang will drag him out.

The crisis comes when Joe enters and knocks down Peggy Lou when she interferes. Then, for the first time, the courage and ambition which he has inherited from his mother flares up in Russel and the two boys go out to fight. Russel returns to the lobby badly injured but victorious. Joe creeps up from behind and is about to stab Russel but Peggy Lou shoots the knife out of his hand. Joe finally apologizes and leaves in a friendly attitude. The curtain falls with Peggy Lou and Russel in each other's arms in an inspirational ending which Old Proby, the demented Civil War veteran, aids in creating.

In the Friday night cast, Roberta Hayden was delightful as Peggy Lou; Farrel Strawn, a sophomore, displayed talent as Russel; Mary Lou Herzenstiel was capable as Hope Willoughby; Clarence Tinsley as Nippy, the hotel porter, was clever; Florence Hoffman portrayed a likable Mrs. McFadden; Jack Hanback successfully played Joe Dawson; Old Proby was well done by Elmer Hill; and Junior Bock was a laugh-producer as Rainbow Runkle. Jennie Weeks as Mrs. Van Horn; Edwin Knight, as Mr. Van Horn; John Duncan and Mary Harper as Mr. and Mrs. Willoughby, were all fine.

On Saturday night Donald Fedderson, also a sophomore, was charming as Russel; Mildred Anselm showed dramatic talent as Peggy Lou; a sophisticated Hope Willoughby was done by Harriette Newcomer; Leo Bergman's enactment of Rainbow Runkle produced wild applause; Stephen Kaney, as Nippy, rivaled Rainbow Runkle for the ability to bring laughter; Mrs. McFadden was commendably portrayed by Ruth Rubin; Galen White was a realistic Joe Dawson; Old Proby was lived, we might say, by Edwin Higgins. Barbara Gibony, as Mrs. Van Horn, captivated the audience; Mrs. Willoughby was done well by Grace da Silva; Charles Siemon played an enjoyable Mr. Willoughby; and Richard Sutherland portrayed the timid Mr. Van Horn.

Besides the director and cast there are others who contributed to the excellent presentation of "Man or Mouse" by their splendid aid. They are: Miss Coah Henry, Mr. J. M. Lukens, Mr. C. O. Williams, Mr. A. E. Harley, Miss Fern Welsh, Mr. A. H. Roberts, and the many students who willingly assisted.

SCENE FROM "H. M. S. PINAFORE"

H. M. S. PINAFORE

M. S. PINAFORE," a comic opera by Gilbert and Sullivan was presented on November 23 and 24 by the Central Choral and Glee clubs with Miss Mari F. Whitney, instructor in music, as director. The large, appreciative audiences were evidences of the great success of the opera.

"H. M. S. Pinafore," was last presented at Central in 1903. The enticing situations and the clever lines made the opera most entertaining. The rollicking strains of the choruses captivated the audience and the stirring love scenes on the deck of the old ship "Pinafore" thrilled many hearts.

The plot centers around the exchange many years before of babies which made a captain a common sailor and the tar a captain. The curtain rises on the sailors who are busy on the deck of the English ship Pinafore, preparing for a visit from Sir Joseph, in command of the queen's navy. He comes on board with an admiring group of female relatives. It is at this point that the well-known song about his "cousins and his uncles and his aunts" is sung. Corcoran, captain of the good ship "Pinafore" is much distressed because his daughter, Josephine, is in love with Ralph Rackstraw, a common sailor, but he wants her to marry Sir Joseph. She consents to this, but when Ralph starts to shoot himself in discouragement, Josephine asserts her love for him. Ralph and Josephine then plan to elope but Dick Deadeye, another sailor, warns Captain Corcoran, who stops them and sends Ralph to the dungeon. However, at this point Little Buttercup, a bumboat woman, reveals a secret. Many years ago she had a baby farm and had in her care an aristocrat and a baby of low birth. She exchanged the babies so that Captain Corcoran, the peasant child, became the aristocrat and Ralph Rackstraw, the real patrician becomes the peasant.

SCENE FROM "H. M. S. PINAFORE"

At this disclosure, Sir Joseph refuses to marry Josephine who is really not of high rank, Hebe, a first cousin to Sir Joseph, consents to marry him and console him in his disappointment. Captain Corcoran marries Little Buttercup. Josephine and Ralph are therefore left free to marry; and so in the end the plot untangles and three couples are made happy.

The same cast played both nights. Goldie Ruth Sprague as Josephine, the Captain's daughter, was charming and showed a great deal of operatic talent. The role of Ralph Rackstraw was played by Howard Green '28, who returned to take the masculine lead. He aided greatly in making the opera a success. Margaret Dodd was delightful as the quaint Little Buttercup. Billy Blanchard and Robert Warr as Sir Joseph and Dick Deadeye, respectively, vied with each other in producing uproarious laughter. Captain Corcoran was impressively portrayed by John Duncan. Bill Simms as Bo'sun and Frank Bayless as Bo'sun's mate were realistic. Hebe, played by Mary Elizabeth Pyeatt, and Phoebe, portrayed by Dorothy Peck were pleasing. A chorus of Choral Club members were the relatives of Sir Joseph while members of the Glec Club made up the chorus of sailors. The choruses deserve a great deal of credit for creating a characteristic atmosphere.

A different group of six girls from the gymnasium department under the direction of Miss Dorothy Bahe, gave a sailor's dance during the intermission of each performance. The accompaniment for the musical numbers was played by the Central Orchestra, under the direction of F. G. Curth. Virginia Caronna '28 was the planist.

The following cooperated splendidly in the production: J. M. Lukens; Mr. A. H. Roberts; Maurice Judah, posters; stage crew; art department; Ralph Spitcaufsky, Elden Arbeiter, and Joseph Weneck for scenery; and Dorothy Clatanoff, prompt book.

Arbeiter, Wasgein, Gandy, Moore, Schmidt

STAGE CREW

HE assurance of complete success in the mechanical phase of the dramatic productions at Central, has been the worthwhile achievement of the efficient Stage Crew of 1929. It is, indeed, a high honor to be appointed as a member of the Stage Crew, one of the most responsible positions that a student may receive. A member must maintain good grades, must be able to work swiftly and effectively and be able to follow instructions thoroughly. An increased number of helpers were added to this year's force, hence the work has proved an opportunity to display one's ability to cooperate successfully.

Mr. C. O. Williams, instructor in physics, has, for the last five years, appointed and counseled the crew. Albert Schmidt, the only member who has had experience on last year's crew, is the electrician. He manipulates the motion picture machine and the spotlight, which work is extremely difficult and requires a great deal of skill. The stage manager is Lonnie Gandy. He studies the manuscripts and plans the arrangement of the stage settings for the plays and operas produced. It is also his duty to operate the rheostats which were the gift of the class of '26. In working backstage with the scenery, he does general carpentering. Barrett Moore, as an electrician, oversees the completion of all special lighting effects which do not necessitate the use of rheostats. The intricate technicalities of the electricians' work require masterful ability; and Schmidt and Moore, therefore, hold responsible positions. The official stage carpenter is Kramer Wasgein. Bob Reynolds and Eldon Arbeiter, the only juniors on the crew, are general assistants. Each year some juniors are made apprentices and then the following year form the nucleus around which the new crew is organized.

The unique settings of "Pinafore," the good lighting effects of "Strongheart" and the natural atmosphere produced by the settings in "Man or Mouse" were accomplished entirely by the "unseen force" behind the drops. And so each dramatic performance was in itself sufficient proof of the success of the crew.

Many of the members of former stage crews have received positions in legitimate theaters and they now appreciate the experience obtained in this work at Central.

To the stage crew of 1929, the Central students are grateful for its efficiency and untiring efforts.

ATHLETICS

CHEER LEADERS Silverman, Paris, Smith

CHEER LEADERS

N ORDER to show that the teams have the moral support of the students, cheerleaders are necessary to arouse the fans to a vocal appreciation of the abilities and accomplishments of their representatives on the field of sport. To the three cheerleaders and their assistants goes the credit for this manifestation of loyalty that Central gives her athletes.

Kenneth Silverman, head cheerleader, was the smallest of the three. Having been an assistant in 1928, he was well able to take charge of the yells. Kenny never failed to get the support of the crowd and his enthusiasm seemed contagious.

Homer Paris made quite a comparison standing next to Kenny with his height and Kenny's lack of it. Homer, the dignitary of the squad, lent just the amount of seriousness to make the cheerleaders at once both a fun making group and serious supporters of the team.

Gilbert Smith was the comedian of the three. Always with some new trick to add life to the event. Gil managed to keep the spectators laughing at his antics. Whenever the game was slow and the spectators were becoming tired, Gil was ready with some new stunt to furnish plenty of amusement. Because of Gil's daring tricks he received much notoriety from the newspapers.

Throughout all the games a teamwork was noticeable among the cheerleaders that could only come as a result of much work on their part.

Assistants to the regulars were Charles Nichols, Archie Cullens, and Dick Brown, who, whenever needed, were ready to take their turn before the crowd. The training they received will stand them in good stead next year when they will, to all probability, become regulars.

BOYS' ATHLETIC DIRECTORS Slaymeker, Rutter, Talmadge, Johnson, Guemple,

ATHLETIC DIRECTORS

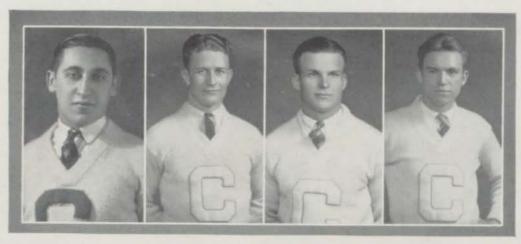

ITH the departure of Coach Louis Menze from Central athletics, many thought that a lax period in sports was at hand for the blue and white. Coach Harry Slaymaker has taken the reins with the true Central spirit and his results with each branch of athletics this year has been fully up to the high standard set by his predecessor. With the able assistance of Coach Frank Guemple, Coach Slaymaker developed an all-victorious football team, a hard fighting basketball team, and a championship track squad. In addition to establishing the winning spirit in his teams, Coach Slaymaker stands for a high degree of clean sportsmanship. Central is indeed fortunate in securing him for her director of athletics.

Frank Guemple, who came to Central this year in the capacity of assistant coach, has a commendable record behind him. After receiving his degree from William Jewell College, he attended coaching schools at Kansas University, Illinois University and the University of California. With this training behind him he coached two years at Kingman, Kansas. From Kingman he went to the Rosedale High School and coached the first Rosedale team ever to win from Wyandotte. After two years there he transferred to Northeast Junior High School, where his football team won the league championship during both of his years as their coach. Central claims him now and from the results of this year his record in the future is going to be even more successful.

T. E. Talmadge has directed the financial end of the sports for a good many years at Central and to him goes the credit for the managing of ticket sales. His is a very responsible position. Without Mr. Talmadge's assistance in the financial matters Central might easily have ended with a money shortage.

With these three directors at the head of Central's sports, another successful season has been passed. Always Central has represented the highest in sportsmanship, ability, and scholarship largely because of the influence of her athletic heads. A tradition has been established by the former coaches at Central of loyalty to all that the colors blue and white exemplify. The present coaches have already shown their willingness not only to adhere to that tradition but to carry it further.

ITH a team of veterans Central swept everything before it and finished the season with a record of eight victories and no defeats. Its goal line uncrossed by a league opponent during the entire season, the Eagles were probably one of the best teams ever to represent Central on the gridiron. The backfield composed of Hammond, Campbell, Stoeltzing, and Captain Borrello, was unbeatable. The line with Hamilton, Lawson, Bruce, Harbaugh, Clement, Spencer, and Craghead was heavy enough to be un-penetrable.

Borrello, Stoeltzing and Bruce were named on the mythical All-Star Eleven of both the Star and the Journal-Post with Borrello the captain of the group.

PRE-SEASON GAME

In the first game of the season for the Blue Eagles the dope was upset by the tune of a 27-0 Central victory over Wyandotte. The first half was fairly even with each team punting often, and ended with a 0-0 score. But it seemed that the Centralites were just saving themselves, for at the start of the third quarter the fun began. Campbell started it with the first touchdown and then Borrello and Stoeltzing followed in rapid succession. The end of the quarter found Central on the long end of a 20-0 count. The Blue Eagles added one more touchdown in the final quarter for good measure and at the end of the game had established themselves as a team of championship caliber.

-136+1

FIRST GAME.

Manual offered little by way of competition in the first league game and Central walked off with a 39-0 "track meet." Campbell bore the brunt of the offensive because of the absence of Borrello and Stoeltzing from the larger part of the game. The Blue Eagles scored in every period except the second, finishing the contest with a grand finale of 20 points in the fourth quarter.

SECOND GAME

Northeast turned the unexpected and gave the Blue Eagles a hard battle before they succumbed in the last half 19-0. The Viking Team fairly outplayed the Centralites in the first quarter and held their own in the second quarter. The Blue Eagles came out for the second half showing the Central fight and proceeded to drive for a touchdown. Borrello went over, then Campbell kicked goal. The fourth quarter found the Blue Eagles "in form" and they chalked up 12 points.

THIRD GAME

The next game found Central playing on a foreign field for the first time—at Paseo. From the start to the finish this game was a veritable tooth and toenail affair. Each team knew that victory meant probable championship returns and the battle they put up shows the value they placed upon it. The first quarter was scoreless but the next found the Blue Eagles in the scoring column with six points. The third period was also scoreless, but again in the final quarter, Central hung up a touchdown to make the final score 12-0.

FOURTH GAME

Southwest was the next Blue Eagle hurdle. The game was played on a muddy field which probably accounts for the low score of 13 for Central to 0 for the Indians. The contest was close throughout. However, Central always held the upper hand.

FIFTH GAME

Another bad football day was on hand for the Central-Westport game. Slipping and sliding their way through the Westport defense, the Blue Eagles managed to accumulate 19 points while holding the Tigers scoreless. It was a hard game and one chuck full of fight.

SIXTH GAME

In the final game with East High, the Eagles put forth everything they had and as a result chalked up 35 points. Seemingly with no effort, the Central team scored repeatedly. The Ducks had no chance for a touchdown with the ball always in their territory but their "never say die" spirit made the game interesting.

POST-SEASON GAME

The only score of the season against Central came when the Blue Eagles were playing St. Joseph Central. She took advantage of two fumbles to score two touchdowns. Except for these scores the game was entirely a K. C. Central affair. Borrello ran wild and scored four touchdowns, and with a contribution by Stoeltzing, the Blue Eagles scored thirty-three points to the losers' twelve.

HE object of the second team is not to win victories for itself, rather it is to provide suitable opposition for the first team to practice with. From the results of the first team this year, the work of the second squad has been highly successful. Every afternoon during the football season these boys work in order that Central may have a victorious first squad. Their efforts more than often go uncelebrated and un-acclaimed; however, without them the school could not have a successful representative in the interscholastic league.

The second team also serves as a developing place for future stars. Practically every first team player must come up through the ranks, that is, by way of the second squad. In this way much useful experience is gained and many outstanding players are uncovered.

This second team played five games, and though it won none of them, it put up the bravest of fights; in some instances taking defeat by the smallest of margins, as in the Northeast and Paseo games.

FIRST TEAM BASKETBALL

BASKETBALL REVIEW

ITH only two regulars back from the previous year. Coach Slaymaker proceeded to mold a team, which, though not winning many games, was thoroughly able to give any team in the league a battle. Berry Dillon, captain, and Jewel Campbell were the two veterans, and with the addition of Clark Craghead, a "sub" from last year, Earl Vasholz, and Vernie Heygood, from the second team of last year, these proved to be the five starting players. Benny Husbands took the place of Dillon at the start of the second semester, Berry being ineligible because of the nine semester ruling. Other men who proved valuable to the squad were Manko, Bird, Gilles, Griesel, and Stoeltzing, who were able to fit in any time the starting five proved inadequate.

PRE-SEASON GAMES

ALUMNI GAME. The first game of the season for the Blue Eagles resulted in a victory over the Alumni, 26-18. The Alumni composed of seven of Central's former stars, forced the present Centralities to the utmost before the result was decided. Vasholz with six field goals was the star of the game.

·3 1929 [s-

CENTRAL-WYANDOTTE GAME. Facing a huge Wyandotte team in their second game, the Blue Eagles went down to defeat by a 27-15 score. Inability to cope with the offensive of the Bulldogs was the deciding factor. However, Central showed plenty of fight, never giving up until the final gun.

FIRST GAME

The first interscholastic encounter proved to be as thrilling a game as was seen all season. With about one minute to play Lloyd of Manual dribbled through the Blue Eagle defense to score the winning goal and give the Crimson a 19-17 triumph. Berry Dillon was the main cog in the Central machine.

SECOND GAME

Another thriller greeted the fans in the second league game with the Northeast Vikings. Again Central was defeated by a two-point margin, 28-26. The Blue Eagles held the lead throughout the major part of the game, but in the last quarter the Vikings passed them and in the final minute scored the goal that gave them the game.

THIRD GAME

Suffering a relapse from their brilliant showing against Northeast the week before, the Blue Eagles dropped a one-sided contest to the Pasco Pirates, 22-11. The Centralites had the discouraging habit of hitting the rim of the basket with the ball but seeing it roll around and then out. Dillon and Campbell played well for Central.

FOURTH GAME

The Blue Eagles dropped their fourth straight league game to the Southwest Indians, 18-10. The first quarter ended in a scoreless tie, the half ended with Southwest ahead by 10-4. Both teams scored two goals in the third canto and the period ended with the Indians ahead 14-8. Southwest scored two goals to Central's one in the final period and the gun ended a slow game.

FIFTH GAME

The Blue Eagles entered the victory column in the next game at the expense of the Westport Tigers. When the smoke of the battle cleared away and the score was counted, it was found that Central had gained the advantage, 20-18. Heygood and Campbell played well for the Blue Eagles. Benny Husbands made his debut of the season in the place of Dillon and played a good game.

CENTRAL-ST. JOE CENTRAL GAME

Another close game was on the program for the Blue Eagles the next week, with St. Joe Central. The score was again 20-18, but with Central on the losing end. The play was nip and tuck during the entire game and the victor was doubtful, until the final gun was fired. No one on the Blue Eagle team made more than one goal. Griesel and Bird showed up well.

SIXTH GAME

The final league game found the Blue Eagles falling before the strong East High school team, 27-19. At the end of the third quarter, the Eagles were far behind but a last period rally brought them to within eight points of the victors. Vasholz and Campbell were the stars for Central.

POST-SEASON GAMES

CENTRAL-ROCKHURST GAME. The next night the Eagles took on the Rockhurst Hawks in a post-season game, played as a preliminary to the K. C. A. C.-Rockhurst College game. An early lead of the Blue Eagles dwindled as the game neared the close, and at the final whistle Central was on the short end of a 23-16 count.

CENTRAL-ST. JOE BENTON GAME. Central lost the final game of the season to Benton.

CENTRAL-ST. JOE BENTON GAME. Central lost the final game of the season to Benton High School of St. Joe, 32-24. The game, played on the Benton court, was featured by the play of the Blue Eagles in the opening quarter when they piled up a 9-3 lead. At the half Central was still leading 14-11, but the rest of the game was a Benton romp.

Central vs. Wyandotte

HE FUNCTION of the seconds in basketball is the same as in football—to do everything in their power to help mold a winning school team. thing in their power to help mold a winning school team. Coach Guemple developed a second team which kept getting better as the season progressed. Dropping the first few games, the seconds came back to capture the remaining contests with the exception of the Wyandotte game. The players uncovered by Coach Guemple are: Bland, Mohanna, Younger, Roitman, Needles, Goodman, Shultz, Brandon, Craig, Paxton, and Hunt.

In all, the second basketball team played eight games, of which it won three, beating Lathrop, Southwest High School, and East High School. In those games in which they were defeated the scores were very close. Our '29 second basketball team was hard to beat.

TRACK SQUAD

Back Row: Shulz, Roitman, Neyer, Parness, Jones, Orendorff, Goodman,

TRACK REVIEW

HE PROSPECTS for a brilliant track team are very bright this year with the return of a letter man in every event except one, the high jump. For the dashes Tiffany and Brannon are the veterans, for the quarter Lawson is still with us; the half mile run, should also go to Lawson; R. E. Smith and Stoeltzing are hurdlers of good quality. In the field events Lentz should win the pole vault with very little trouble, Evans should repeat in the broadjump, and Manko should place close to first in the shotput. With the high jump the only event in which Central is not sure to place, the Blue Eagles should win their meets easily and bring the City, and possibly, the State title to Central for the fourth consecutive time.

With the return of Tiffany, Brannon, and Lawson, three of the members of the recordbreaking relay team of last year, the chances for placing high in the Kansas Relays at Lawrence, and the Drake Relays at Des Moines, Iowa, seem to be especially bright. There are several possibilities who could make the fourth member of the quartet; however, R. E. Smith and Herbert Molony seem to be the first choice.

THE K. C. A. C. MEET

Coming to the K. C. A. C. annual meet with the dope in their favor the Blue Eagles proceeded to walk away with literally everything, taking a first place in every event. In the fifty yard dash Tiffany won first and Brannon third, giving Central 7 points at the start. Lawson won the quarter easily and then came back to capture the half mile run as well. The relay team composed of Tiffany, Smith, Lipscomb, and Brannon took that event without much competition. The final score was Central's 22 points to 9 for Westport which score placed her second.

THE M. U.-K. U. MEET

The second indoor meet was almost a replica of the first except that Tiffany, who was ill, was replaced by Brannon in the fifty yard dash, who won the event. The quarter and half mile runs again went to Wilbur Lawson, who seems almost unbeatable at those distances. The relay proved to be the disappointing feature of the meet, Central's lead-off man fell at the start of the race, holding the Blue Eagles to a third. The score was 17 points for Central to 10 for Pasco the second placers.

CENTRAL-WYANDOTTE MEET

Upsetting the "dope" to the tune of a 51-40 victory over the Blue Eagles, Wyandotte walked off with the initial outdoor track meet. Due to the failure of Central to place a man in the century dash and the 220 low hurdles, the Bulldogs were able to gain the margin of victory. Wilbur Lawson was high point man for the Blue Eagles with a first in the 440 and a second in the shotput. Manko in winning the shotput threw the iron ball well over 42 feet, which is quite a distance for early in the season.

CENTRAL-PASEO DUAL MEET

A rejuvenated Central track team ran rough-shod over the Paseo Pirates to slip a 59½ to 31½ victory over on Old Man Dope. Sweeping the one hundred yard dash, and the high hurdles, the Blue Eagles established themselves as the outstanding candidate for the city championship. Lawson and Fitzgerald ran a hair-raising race in the quarter but the Blue Eagle pulled away at the finish. The Central relay team of Tiffany, Brannon, Shutty, and Lawson stepped the half mile in 1:33.8, by far the fastest time yet made in the relay in this vicinity.

KANSAS RELAYS

The Blue Eagles, record holders in the half mile relay, were held to two thirds in the annual Kansas Relays at Lawrence. The half mile and the medley (440-220-220-880) were the two events that Central entered. Tiffany, Brannon, Molony, and Lawson composed the half mile team, while Klumpp replaced Molony to run with the other three in the medley. A heavy rain made the meet more a swimming contest than a track meet.

BOYS' TENNIS TEAM Hey, Surface, Taylor, Gooldy, J. Brannon, Rutter,

TENNIS REVIEW

ENNIS has been rapidly increasing in popularity at Central in the last few years and at present the boys chosen to represent Central on the court are given an honor comparable to the other three sports. Inability to play except in the fall has been a handicap to the boys but nevertheless a great deal of competition has developed not only within the school but in interscholastic circles as well.

Under the leadership of Mr. Chambers, a tennis enthusiast himself, a tournament was arranged within the school, whereby the players were chosen. Approximately 60 boys started the play which gradually narrowed down to the finalists who were declared the Central Tennis Players and given the honor of playing the other schools.

Central selected Hal Surface, a junior and Clarence Hey, senior, as her representatives chosen to play in the singles. John Brannon with Milton Gooldy, and Glenn Rutter with George Taylor were chosen to play in the doubles. In the inter-scholastic contests Central was able to reach the semi-finals in both singles and doubles. Surface was finally defeated by Flynn of Manual, the former boys' city champion and the team of Rutter-Taylor reached the next to last round in the doubles, being defeated by Hogan and Schwindler of Paseo. The singles crown went to Flynn and the doubles title to Cutlep and Griffith from Westport.

Although the Blue Eagles were unable to win a city title the players are to be complimented on their remarkable showing considering the little experience they had gained up to that time. Given a few more competitive matches it is not too much to say that we would be able to call one or two of our net men "Champion."

GIRLS ATHLETIC DIRECTORS
Miss Leibengood, Miss Bahe

GIRLS' ATHLETIC REVIEW

HIS VEAR marks the tenth successful year in girls' athletics under the supervision of Miss Dorothy V. Bahe, head of the physical education department for girls. This year might well be called an anniversary because of the high interest among the teams she has coached and directed.

Miss Rebekah Leibengood, also instructor of physical education, has been quite prominent with her work in hockey and baseball, and because of her instruction and conducting of the Life-Saving group the second term.

Besides swimming and regular gymnasium, Miss Bahe instructed her classes in dancing once a week and presented a clever sailors' clog at the opera "Pinafore", in which eight girls took part. For the R. O. T. C. Circus in March, she directed two dances by Central girls. They were "The Old Grey Mare", and "Captain Jinks of the Horse Marines", and were presented at Convention Hall, April 6.

Every year seven student managers of the different phases of the department are chosen for their ability and co-operation with the instructors. This year the seven managers were: Hockey, Billy Cary; Volley Ball, Marian Mortensen; Basketball, Dorothy Canham; Baseball, Mae Ona Gwartney; Swimming, Marna Jane Landes; Hike, Emmagene Laverie; and Dancing, Marian Palis.

Formerly one teacher was given entire charge of the sophomore classes, and the other, the instruction of the juniors and seniors, but this year the classes were divided up and each teacher was given charge of one major and one minor sport by lot.

One of the social events of the girls' gymnasium department is its Hallowe'en party, which was held this year on October 26, in the large gymnasium. The party was planned by a committee of girls from the physical education department, but all of the girls in school were invited. There was the customary wide range of attractions: costumes, dancing, grand march, games, pie-eating contest, and refreshments. In addition, a very capable fortune-teller read the palms of the masqueraders. Altogether it was a noisy and very successful party.

HOCKEY REVIEW

ROM the beginning of the school year in September, hockey is the principal sport until the weather decrees that some indoor sport is in order. Practices are held on the gravel field north of the school building every Tuesday during the season. Directed by Miss Liebengood, coach, and Billy Cary, hockey manager, the Juniors and Seniors rotate in practice with the Sophomores because of the large number of underclassmen eager to make the teams.

After the class teams were chosen, the first game was played between Juniors and Sophomores with the result 6-0 in favor of the former. The Seniors also vanquished the Sophomores 4-0. On November 22, the Juniors and the Seniors met to decide the hockey championship for 1929. After hard playing, the second half ended with the score tied 1-1. Although both teams were nearly exhausted a playoff was started. At the very beginning the Seniors shot the ball through the posts. The Juniors were unable to retaliate, and the playoff ended with a 2-1 score.

Hockey is the sport for the girl with good wind, one who is fast and nimble. To an onlooker who is unacquainted with the game, it would seem that the game was almost completely a race. At the beginning of the season the girls practicing on the field suffered from the heat, but in the last game numbed hands were a handicap.

The Senior and victorious team was made up of Billy Cary, captain; and Landes, Learned, Canham, Forgey, Brandberg, Laverie, Hilmes, Knoche, Cantwell, Gwartney, Ross, and C. Higgins.

The Junior team was captained by Madeline Touseley; the other players were Jeanne and Janice Storey, Paris, Zitzerman, Blackmore, Snell, Higgins, Cloud, Petit, Gadd, and Gray.

The Sophomore team: Dorothy Shaw, captain, and Walker, Caughlin, Funk, Dorfman, Sibley, Brown, Malave, Adelsperger, Bertman, and Smith.

VOLLEY BALL REVIEW

HIS sport is always popular because it is not so strenuous as some of the others, and consequently a larger group of girls has a chance to make the teams. All the positions on a volley ball team are of equal importance, since the players rotate.

There were no after school practices before the volley ball teams were chosen because it was possible for a whole class to practice the full period in the class hour.

In addition to the usual inter-class tournament, a team was picked from each of Miss Bahe's and Miss Liebengood's classes. The schedule was arranged by Marian Mortensea, volley ball manager, and the result of the contest was that Miss Bahe's first hour class emerged the victor.

The first interclass game was played between the seniors and the juniors; it was taken by the juniors, 34-27. The senior-sophomore game was won by the sophs 43-28, and junior-sophomore game fell to the juniors, with a score of 45 to the sophs' 36.

The games were all played before or after school, and were refereed by Marion Mortensen. On the Junior team, which won the inter-class tournament were: Gray, Gadd, Tousley, Duebbert, Paris, Snell, Richards, Scott, Higgins, Petit, and Cloud.

The Senior team consisted of Mortensen, Smith, Learned, Landes, Forgey, Gwartney, Cary, Canham, Brandberg, Roth, Dosh, and Laverie.

The Sophomore team: Cook, Hamilton, Walker, Patterson, Liston, Smith, Verti, Buechner, Ford, Dorfman, Marsh, and Upham.

From these three teams an all-star was chosen. It was a purely honorary team, as it played no games. Those representing the Seniors on it were Mortensen, Gwartney, L. Smith, and Landes; the juniors on it were Gadd, Gray, Scott, and Paris; Anna Marie Cook, a sophomore, completed the line-up.

BASKETBALL REVIEW

PIRIT and enthusiasm is never lacking where girls' basketball is concerned, for this sport is considered the most popular of the major sports. "Every girl on a team" was set as a purpose by the instructors, and the ideal was accomplished, as in every class sufficient teams were organized that every girl was a regular member of a team. These teams were chosen by lot, and tournaments were played during the class period

After-school practices were held as usual under the direction of Miss Bahe, coach, and Dorothy Canham, student basketball manager. Because of the exceptionally large amount of fine senior material, two senior teams instead of one were chosen, as nearly equal in capabilities as possible. Marna Jane Landes was elected to captain one team; L. Smith, Forgey, Larberg, Roth, Gwartney, Mortenson, Havis, Knoche, comprising her girls. The other senior team was captained by Dorothy Canham whose teammates were Lang, Laverie, Cary, Figgins, Brandberg

The junior team chose Janice Storey as captain. Her team was composed of Gray, Snell, Scott, Blackmore, Nicol, Harper, Tousley, Gadd, and Paris. Margaret Caughlin was captain of the sophomore five, the other players being Dennison, Shaw, Cooke, Adelsperger, Brown, Buechner, Evans, Austin, Walker.

During the basketball tournament which extended from April 17 to May 2, twelve games were played in place of the usual three, partly because there were four competing teams, and partly because basketball is the only sport in which a double tournament is held.

The championship was not evident until the final game when the junior team won over Canham's senior team, thereby winning the title of champions, having won five games and tied one. The senior team captained by Canham ranked second.

SWIMMING REVIEW

WICE a week the girls of the physical education department replace work in either of the gymnasiums with an hour in the swimming pool. In the beginning class the girls learn to swim and master a few fundamental strokes, while in the more advanced classes, dives are perfected, and the more complicated strokes taught.

Miss Bahe instructed a class in Life-Saving the first semester, and Miss Leibengood the second, with the result that a large number of girls passed both the Junior and Senior Life-Saving tests and were awarded badges and pins. To be qualified for the Senior Life-Saving badge, the applicant must be seventeen years of age, be able to apply artificial respiration, swim a mile, break three holds in the water, do five carries satisfactorily, and write an essay on the Prone Pressure method of respiration.

The Junior Life-Saving test is not so difficult, and girls under sixteen are eligible to earn it.

The annual Intersociety swimming meet was held as usual, late in March. Literary Society swam to victory, having amassed a great number of points. The Thalians were second, and the Aristonians third. At the beginning of the contest the outcome was doubtful, and it was not until the last of the meet that the result was certain.

The events were plunge for distance, back stroke for form, side stroke for form, breast stroke for form, porpoise for form, crawl for form, free style race, breast stroke race, back crawl race, and diving. Eleanor Higgins won first place in individual honors, and Virginia Canham, second. The former is a Delphian, and the latter a member of the Thalian Literary Society. All members of the girls' literary societies in good standing were eligible to enter in the meet. The three best in each event from each society were chosen.

Marna Jane Landes was swimming manager for this year,

CENTRAL BATTALION R. O. T. C.

R.O.T.C. REVIEW

One of the most progressive and beneficial departments in Central's curriculum is the Central battalion of the R. O. T. C. This unit of scholastic military training, which was established in the Kansas City Schools in 1927, has with each year, achieved increasing recognition and honor.

The appointment of Colonel played an important and interesting part in the year's activities. After a series of numerous tests, examinations and practical demonstrations in rifle marksmanship, command and leadership, discipline, and physical fitness, Cadet First Lieutenant Bernard C. Brannon was appointed Cadet Colonel. This appointment brought to Colonel Brannon the honor of being the first active cadet colonel to command the R. O. T. C. Regiment of the Kansas City high schools.

A new system of selecting girl sponsors in the Kansas City high schools was placed in effect for the year 1929. This method permitted the cadets to name five sponsor lieutenants. The faculty chose three of these to be promoted to the rank of cadet sponsor captains and the names of these three were submitted to the girls of the senior class, who selected Ruth Dasbach as sponsor major. Maxine Fones and Harriette Newcomer were chosen sponsor captains, and Mildred Anselm and Frances Brandberg were chosen sponsor lieutenants.

Central's unit has maintained an outstanding record in honor rating. For the last five years Central has won first place in the city individual championship. Cadet Ross Calhoun won the honor in 1929. In accordance with the success of the five preceding teams, the 1929 city team championship won first place. The members of the team were Cadet Colonel Bernard C. Brannon, Cadet Ross Calhoun, Cadet William Stewart, Cadet Staff-Sergeant Harold Kincade and Cadet Louis Steyaert,

The Central High School R. O. T. C. unit holds a record in military efficiency that is unsurpassed by any junior unit in the Seventh Corps Area.

STAFF-SERGEANT FRANK L. BOWLING CADET COLONEL BERNARD C. BRANNON

STAFF-SERGEANT AND CADET COLONEL

Staff-Sergeant Frank L. Bowling has been the director of the Central battalion of the R. O. T. C. for the last seven years. Sergeant Bowling served in the Philippines, and was in the 84th Division during the World War. The splendid record of Central's military department is outstanding evidence of his ability.

Bernard C. Brannon was appointed colonel of Central's R. O. T. C. unit by Captain Harry E. Mitchell, professor of military science and tactics in the Kansas City high schools, upon the recommendation of Staff-Sergeant Frank Bowling, and with the approval of Principal Otto F. Dubach.

SENIOR WILL

E. THE SENIOR CLASS of nineteen hundred twenty-nine, of the institution of Central High School, City of Kansas City, County of Jackson, State of Missouri, being in the act and spirit of leaving said school, and in full and unquestioned possession of sound mind, memory, and understanding, and having attained the lawful (and unlawful) age of four years, do make, publish, announce, and declare in deep gratification thereof, this, our last and final will and testament, that is to say:

To the juniors we leave numerous editorials written for a junior-senior prom, for which we held high hopes. May they have more faith in their juniors than we had in ours.

To the sophomores we leave the awe and reverence they have experienced in due regard to seniors.

To Mr. Dubach we leave this great craft of learning, which his capable hands have steered so wisely.

To Mr. Laughlin we bequeath all the complaints lodged against Central High School.

To the Slaches we leave the habitual eighth in Intersociety.

To the Websters we can only say that they aren't quite all they think they are.

To the Aristonians we leave a book on morals, and may they profit by its advice.

To the Minervas we bequeath a bucket of whitewash to be used in restoring the purity of the pure-white roses.

To the Thalians we leave their conquest of the Emersons.

To the Franklins we leave station number six at twentieth and Flora.

To the Delphians we suggest that they change their name to Central Girls' Athletic Club.

To the Emersons we leave their desire to be big shieks. We hope, though, that in the execution of this desire they won't be misled.

Lastly, we, the aforementioned and aforesaid senior class of Central High School, Kansas City, Missouri, do hereby appoint L. E. Gunter as executor of this, our last will and testament.

Any odds and ends, and all our property not already disposed of we do give, bequeath, and devise into the solicitous hands of John Hedlund.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, we have hereunto set our hand and official seal this second day of the month of May, A. D., nineteen hundred and twenty-nine.

RETROSPECT

September 4—Oh vacation! Thy joys are over. Here we are at school, and in spite of ten long months ahead we return with glad hearts.

September 5—Help! Murder! Police! The annual scrimmage for books has begun. From the looks of the rush, education has made a mighty step forward.

September 8—At last it's over! These honeyed words and smiles couldn't last forever. The Sophomores have pledged societies and now yield the foreground.

September 17—With so many deserving candidates, how can we choose? Student council finally hands the gavel to Silverman, with Boley, Hitchcock, Dasbach, Rainey and Griffith to support him.

September 18—The Luminary looks promising to us this semester, with its management in such capable hands as those of Hilmes, Fones, DeAtley and Creason.

ENING HODGE

October 13—The Viking ship of Northeast sank into oblivion when the Eagles defeated the Purple and White 19-0.

October 19—Six Centralites have been chosen to plead the cause of the Charity Drive before organizations of the City. They are Brotherton, Silverman, Simms, Brown, Creason, and Yudkofsky.

October 20—Again! Slaymaker's boys held the Paseo Pirates to a 12-0 score. It had been rumored that this was our formidable rival. If so, we needn't play the rest of the games!

IT has been a pleasure to make the photographs for this Publication and we wish to express our gratefulness to the Faculty and Seniors for their confidence and splendid co-operation.

CENTRALIAN

- October 26—This is an eventful day. Senior officers were elected and the major positions of Centralian staff announced. Himmy Campbell emerged as the dignified president with the other officers ranking as follows: Silverman, Rufi, Tiffany, Dasbach, Anselm, Paris and Fones. Rufi will head Centralian staff, assisted by Greenberg.
- Octaber 27—In this game with the Southwest Indians it was hard for the spectators to distinguish the players from the mud of the field, but in spite of the fact that the eagle is no "Mud puppy," we defeated our opponents 13-0.
- November 3—We played our fifth championship game in the league with a 19-0 score and twisted the Westport Tiger's tail into a hundred knots. Now, just one more game, and we hope Victory!

Appreciate and hope to perpetuate the splendid spirit of co-operation of Central High School.

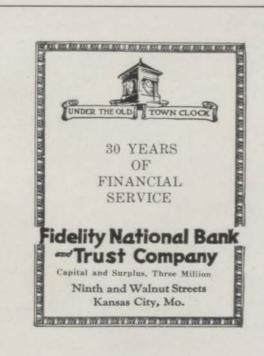

November 8—Assembly! Speaking of influence, assembly is one word in Central's dictionary that carried with it influence. The speaker was Captain Max Wordall, World War veteran.

November 14—We did it again! Or rather, the football boys did it for us. The last game of the season, defeating the East eleven 34-0. A wonderful score, finishing up a wonderful season.

November 19—What, again? No, it isn't possible! Another Assembly, just one week later? Yes, 'tis so, my children. And this was the kind we all enjoy. Acclaiming the Heroes—because Central had an all-victorious season. Long live the Blue and White!

November 23 and 24—The opera "Pinafore" was given on these two nights, and very successful it was, too. We didn't know Central had such song birds.

The Jaccard Standard of Quality

Closely adhered to in every branch of Jaccard activity, the standard of quality is plainly apparent in the products of the Jaccard shops.

Seniors in High Schools, Colleges and Universities, alert to obtain for their classes the distinctive and exclusive in Class Pins, Rings and Commencement Invitations, quickly recognize these qualities in Jaccard products.

Central High School Seniors for 1929 selected Jaccard Jewelry and Stationery.

December 10—Such a shame! Everyone catches the "flu" and nearly dies—in the hope that the school will be closed—but no such luck! School went on per usual.

December 14 and 15—"Strongheart," Central's Indian play went over big. Gribben played the part of Chief both nites—the feminine leads being taken by Dunn and Munden.

December 25-I just want to tell you-all that there really is a Santa Claus. No school today of course, but don't forget about the old gent.

January 4—Not such a good beginning! We lost our first basketball game to Manual 19-17. We haven't started yet, tho. Just watch our dust.

January 20—Today Central Junior lost their principal, Mr. Eugene Bash. They didn't have time to become closely acquainted with him, but he was with them long enough to discover his wonderful character. He died of influenza, after a nine week's illness.

January 25—Well, we all hopped at the R. O. T. C. hop and it was a great soldier's ball. After keeping us in suspense for over a week, we all are delighted to find out that Dasbach is Sponsor-Colonel, with Newcomer and Fones as Captains and Anselm and Brandberg, Lieutenants.

January 26—We didn't win this game with the Northeast Vikings, but our boys showed enough ability to heat two games.

January 28—Well, the Luminary staff is renewed. It isn't because the first staff didn't do good work—it's just that we like to give someone else a chance. The new editors are: Blanchard, Griffith, Ballinger and Sam Smith.

Our Advertisers

The advertisers in this book have always supported Central in all of its activities. Their advertisements in this annual plainly show their loyalty to the Centralian and Central High School. We owe them our continued patronage, our thanks, and our best wishes for their future success.

O the students, advertisers, teachers, and advisers who have helped to make this book possible - - - The 1929 Centralian Staff wishes to express its sincere appreciation.
