THE CENTRALIAN 1932

William Powell, a well-known screen star, who was graduated from Central in the class of 1911. He has kept in close touch with his Alma Mater and in a recent letter to the Centralian states: "The thoughts of dear old Central will ever be green in my memory."

Evalyn Knapp, also a movie celebrity and a graduate from Central in 1925.

DEDICATION

A few years ago in Central High School were a boy and a girl, who, though not unusual, showed remarkable ability in dramatics. Now these same persons are movie celebrities of renown. They are William Powell, who was graduated in the class of 1911, and Evalyn Knapp, who was graduated in the class of 1925.

They are to Central what the "home boy and girl who made good" are to a little town. Central is proud of them and their achievements, and it is with great pleasure that we dedicate this 1932 Centralian to them in the hope that they will continue in success.

Evalyn Knapp and William Powell as they appeared together recently.

FOREWORD

The magic of the movie world never ceases to enchant us. All of us, either consciously or unconsciously, have our movie heroes and heroines. Yet, we dream of them as individuals on superior planes quite aloof from ourselves. The charm and allure of movieland can well be applied to the various phases of school life, and if our 1932 Centralian portrays this theme, it will have attained its purpose.

MISS ESTHER CROWE

Miss Esther Crowe, who resigned after having taught at Central High School for forty years, was more than a teacher. She not only imparted knowledge to her students, but also imbued them with a part of the true and noble character which was hers. Attesting this fact are a few of the now prominent people who at some time in the past have known her as a teacher.

In memory of Miss Frances Knofer, who passed away in November. Although she was with us only six months, she had endeared herself to both teachers and students.

THE STARS

THE SENIOR CLASS OF 1932

IN the freshman year of the class of 1932, Linn Dannahower was chosen class President; Jack Rothschild, Vice-President; Charles Schultz, Secretary, and Beatrice Mode, Treasurer.

Among the honors gained by the Sophomores of this class were membership in literary societies, athletic positions, departmental clubs, and important parts in dramatic presentations.

The class officers in the Junior year were Rosemary Culp, President, with the following Aides: Linn Dannahower, Marleen Foster, Roberta Greding, Dorothy Mitchell, Beatrice Mode, Miles Ramage, Jack Rothschild and Charles Schultz. After a successful Junior year, the Senior year came far too soon for many.

The leaders of the class this year were Marleen Foster, President; Charles Schultz, Vice-President; Rosemary Culp, Girls' Senior Editor of the Centralian; Linn Dannahower, Giftorian; Katheryn Cassidy, Secretary; Miles Ramage, Treasurer; Roberta Greding, Sergeant-at-Arms, and Vance Kinahan, Boys' Senior Editor of the Centralian.

Early this spring, a Senior meeting was held for the purpose of electing boys and girls who seemed typical of the different phases of school activities. The results were as follows: Marleen Foster, Most Popular Girl; Charles Schultz, Most Popular Boy; Rosemary Culp, Girl Who Has Done Most for Central; Hugh Stephens, Boy Who Has Done Most for Central; Katheryn Cassidy, Belle Brummell; Miles Ramage, Beau Brummell; Virginia Busher, Best Girl Student; William Lefkowitz, Best Boy Student; Maxine Williams, Best Actress; James Redmond, Best Actor; Evelyn Maloy, Best Girl Athlete; Linn Dannahower, Best Boy Athlete; Roberta Greding, Best Girl Orator; Tom Sutherland, Best Boy Orator; Wilma Hemperly, Jolly Good Girl; James Higgins, Jolly Good Boy; Finis Smith, Best Girl Musician; Kenneth Westenhaver, Best Boy Musician. The class of 1932 has obviously led Central on to even greater success and has set a pace for the succeeding classes.

MARLEEN FOSTER

President Senior Class; President Aristonian Literary Society; President Zoology Club; Secretary Student Council '31; Junior Aide; Sponsor Lieutenant R. O. T. C.; Bronze Medal Poem Inter-society '31; Webster Medal Pinner; El Circulo Espanol; Senior Ballot: "Most Popular Girl."

"True individuality cannot be copied." A striking personality, and the most outstanding girl of her class.

ROSEMARY CULP

Girls' Senior Editor Centralian; President Junior Class; President Thalian Literary Society; Vice-President Student Council '32; Sponsor Captain R. O. T. C.; "Who's Boss"; Medal Pinner Central Emerson Club '31, '32; Le Cercle Francais; Choral Club; Intersociety Representative '31; Centralian Staff '31; Senior Ballot: "Most Active Girl"; News Editor Luminary; "Pipe the King."

True genius enlightened by a radiant personality made Rosemary one of the best liked and most respected girls of her class.

KATHERYN ANN CASSIDY

Editor-in-Chief Centralian; Sponsor Colonel R. O. T. C.; Secretary Senior Class; President Aristonian Literary Society; Treasurer Student Council '31; Chairman Senior Gift Committee; Zoology Club; Critic Central Officers' Club; Senior Ballot: "Belle Brummel."

The R. O. T. C. boys were wise when they chose her sponsor. They realized her ability to edit the year-book was not her only accomplishment.

BOBBIE GREING

Sergeant-at-Arms Senior Class; Sponsor Lieutenant R. O. T. C.; Delphian Literary Society; Assistant Business Manager Centralian; Junior Aide; Chairman Flower Committee; Student Council Cabinet '30, Secretary '31; "Johnny Get Your Gun"; "Once in a Lifetime"; President Zoology Club; Small "C"; Senior Ballot: "Best Girl Orator"; "Pipe the King."

The loveliness of her disposition was rivaled only by the loveliness her features.

CHARLES SCHULTZ

Vice-President Senior Class; Junior Aide; Football Team '31, '32; National Athletic Honor Society; Senior Ballot: "Most Popular Boy"; Second Team Football '31.

"Chuck" was truly a leader, for he was acclaimed the most popular fellow of his class.

LINN DANNAHOWER, JR.

Giftorian Senior Class; Junior Aide; Cheerleader '30, '31; Second Team Basketball '31; First Team Basketball '32; Track '31, '32; Central Webster Club; Zoology Club; Central "C" Club; El Circulo Espanol; Student Council; Boys' High School Club; National Athletic Honor Society; Senior Ballot: "Best Boy Athlete."

An athlete, a scholar, and an all-around jolly good fellow.

MILES RAMAGE

Treasurer Senior Class; Junior Aide; Central Webster Club; President Boys' High School Club; Second Team Football '31; First Team Football '32; Track '31, '32; Central "C" Club; El Circulo Espanol; Luminary Staff; Student Council; Senior Ballot: "Beau Brummel."

His abilities are reflected by his many honors.

VANCE KINAHAN

Boys' Senior Editor Centralian; President Student Council; Vice-President Boys' High School Club; Central Webster Club; Luminary Staff; Representative Older Boys' Conference '31, '32.

A popular, likable chap who won honors both many and high.

MILDRED ADAIR

Student Council '30, '31; Luminary Staff; Bank Cashier '30, '31; Aristonian Literary Society.

Her typing ability was a great aid to the Luminary. Her frank manner and sincerity won her admiration at Central.

MARY ELLEN ADKINS

We shall carry the memory of Ellen as a smartly dressed girl and a true friend to all who knew her.

VIRGINIA M. AFFLICK

Minerva Literary Society; Girls' High School Club; Olympian Club.

Virginia personified the word "chic." Her style and clothes coupled with her ease of manner made her a charming girl.

DOROTHY ALABASTER

When a person takes pleasure in reading psychological books, it shows that she has an interest in the higher walks of life. Such a person was Dorothy.

ESTHER VIOLA ANDERSON

A smile cures the wound of a frown. Esther made the day brighter for many a fellow student by her happy presence in the halls.

ROBERT M. ANDERSON

Zoology Club; Drama Club; Band.

Robert is one of the kind of boys whom one can't help liking whether he wants to or not. He is of the type that is necessary to the existence of a good school.

MARTHA JANE ADAMS

Martha Jane will always be remembered for her cheery smile and direct manner. She was liked by all who had the pleasure of knowing her.

JOHN S. ADKINS

El Circulo Espanol; Boys' High School Club.

His smiling face and pleasing personality will not be soon forgotten at Central. All who knew him will remember him by it.

CHARLOTTE AKERS

Charlotte captured the hearts of many of the opposite sex with her cheery disposition.

ELOISE VIRGINIA ALLEN

Student Council '30, '31, '32; Zoology Club '31.

Eloise and Leslie were two familiar figures around Central. Her sweet smile was attractive to all.

NORMAN ANDERSON

Student Council '30, '32.

Norman is said to have had one of the best dispositions in school. His friendliness and sense of humor have made him popular with boys and girls.

RUBY AGNES ANDERSON

Girls' High School Club; Girls' Pep Society.

Girls' High and the Pep Club were good outlets for her nature—the one for her serious side; in the other for that side which found expression in fun and jollity. Hers was a well-rounded personality.

BERNARD J. ANTHES

Personnel Adjutant R. O. T. C.; Officers' Club; Crack Platoon '31, '32; Crack Company '31, '32.
This officer of our Crack R. O. T. C. is but another example of its uniform efficiency.

ELVA LAVON AUSTIN

Elva was the sort of girl who would not stoop to petty or trivial acts, but with her chin up strove for the finer things.

FRANCES MADELINE

BALLINGER

Choral Club '30; "Bells of Capistrano"; Luminary Staff.
Her character, which was of the highest, coupled with the steadiness and dependability of her nature, made a place at Central for Madeline.

HAZEL M. BARRETT

President Minerva Literary Society; Student Council '32; Girls' High School Club; Art Club.
Hazel and her car were familiar to "our gang" around Central.

NORMAN BASSIN

Captain R. O. T. C.; Tennis Team '32; Officers' Club; Der Deutsche Verein; Crack Squad '30; Crack Platoon '31, '32; Crack Company '31, '32.
Tennis and R. O. T. C. are Norman's specialities and he excelled in both.

DOROTHY BAYNE

Aristonian Literary Society; Girls' High School Club.
A sweet girl of noble character. Dot's heart was wrapped up in Aristonian and she was a girl of whom they've just cause to be proud.

FRANK ARMANEES

The worth of this fellow is not measured in the honors bestowed upon him, but in the pleasure we derived from knowing him.

JOSEPHINE GERTRUDE BAILEY

Everyone wishes luck to one of Josephine's type, who goes about her work with a cheery smile and a light heart, never grumbling.

RUTH JEAN BARNES

Society of Literature and History.
A true follower of Slache, always ready and willing to do her part whenever asked, that's Ruth.

MARY JULIA BARTLETT

We shall long have in mind the pleasant thoughts she left behind. A charming miss whom we are glad to call our friend.

OLIVER A. BAUMAN, JR.

President Central Franklin Club; Boys' High School Club; Student Council.
Ever interested in club, this Franklin showed his ability in many ways.

IRENE E. BEASLEY

When a person sets his goal high and, in spite of all obstacles, strives to reach it, he or she can be called a success.

THE CENTRALIAN 1932

JAKE BECKER

Second Team Basketball '31;
Student Council '31.

Conscientious in all of his studies and lots of fun in school.

EDWARD CARL BERNS

Gold Medal Missouri State Contest '31; President Der Deutsche Verein; Boys' High School Club.

*Ed deserves a big place in this world and is more than likely to get it, judging by his character

LUCILLE BEVERFORDEN

A happy disposition is a great asset to a vast friendship. Such was the case of Lucille.

MARGARET LUCILLE

BINNGELI

Thalian Literary Society; Trou-vere Club; Girls' High School Club.

Margaret was a true follower of the gold and white. The interests of Thalia were always first in her mind.

CHARLES BISHOP

President Society Literature and History; Gold Medal Inter-society '31; Central Webster Club; Boys' High School Cabinet
Member; El Circulo Espanol; Trouvere Club; Band; Orchestra.

*Such honors are obtained only by

DOROTHY BLANCHARD

Hers was that refinement of manner that everyone admires.

BURTON ELDRED BEEBE

Stage Crew Manager '32.

Give Burton a radio or some electrical device to work on and he will be content.

FRANCES LILLIAN

BETTELHEIM

Society of Literature and History; Bank Cashier; "Bells of Capistrano"; Student Council
'32; Girls' High School Club.

Frances' was a character of true worth. All who knew her well recognized this fact.

CHARLES BEVIS

Second Team Football '31;
Zoology Club.

He is inclined to take things as they come, and we seldom hear a complaint from him.

ISADORE BERNBAUM

Somewhere it has been said that dependability is the chief of all virtues. Isadore is well endowed with this quality.

BERTHA BISMAN

Society of Literature and History.

*When one asked a favor of Bertha, he could be sure it would be done
if it were at all within her power.*

EWING R. BLAND

Central Franklin Club; Officer
Student Council; Alternate
Cheerleader '31, '32; Boys' High School Club.

Here is one of the really popular boys of the school. He has demonstrated that he is capable of holding his own in all activities.

LEONARD BLANKENSHIP

Zoology Club; Student Council;
Boys' High School Club.

One of those immaculate good-looking fellows whose constantly cheerful mien brings him legions of admirers. Wherever he goes, he is welcome.

DON BOOSER

Central Franklin Club; Boys' High School Club; Second Team Football '31; Luminary Staff; Student Council.

Don is one of the fellows who does things. In his quiet, unassuming way he has injected himself into almost all school affairs.

ANITA BOSHELL

Bank Cashier '30, '31, '32; Girls' High School Club; Zoology Club.

Dancing was her favorite pastime, and she really danced her way into the hearts of many.

FRANCES BOWERSOX

Aristonian Literary Society; Zoology Club; Girls' High School Club; Bank Cashier '30, '31, '32.

Frances is one of those girls whom everyone likes to call friend. Her personality and pep made her loved by all.

EDWIN M. BRAMWELL

First Lieutenant R. O. T. C.; Central Webster Club; Student Council; Boys' High School Club.

His rather limited size is compensated for by his unlimited capability, determination and likability.

CHARLES BRENNER

Student Council.

Here is a fellow who always enjoys things. He jokes continually, smiles constantly, and cuts up often.

ROBERT J. BOODY

Central Art Club.

Bob is a chummy fellow; he laughs at your jokes, listens to your hard luck stories, lends a hand whenever he can, and in all ways demonstrates that a friend is one who helps.

RUTH LUELLE BORDNER

President Society of Literature and History; Lead, "Lucky Break"; Girls' High School Club; Perfect Attendance; Senior Activity Committee.

Sweet and surrounded by many friends. Who could want more? Ruth was a popular figure at Central because of her genial manner.

EMIL F. BOWERS

Central Emerson Club; Lieutenant R. O. T. C.; Intersociety Representative '31.

Emil is light colored on top, but far from light headed underneath. His principal characteristics are amiability and determination.

LUCYLYNN BOWMAN

Girls' High School Club.

A heart more true cannot be found, Even though we search the world around.

CLARENCE BRANIC

El Circulo Espanol; Zoology Club; Boys' High School Club.

Clarence is a dandy all-around boy. His frankness and sincerity and his whole-hearted smile have won him a host friends.

JOEL MILTON BRENNER

One of the jolly fellows who seems to have a good time wherever he goes.

THE CENTRALIAN 1932

EXILEE BROUGHTON

Thalian Literary Society; Zoology Club; Bank Cashier '30, '31; Spanish Club; Student Council '30, '31; Girls' High School Club; President Girls' Pep Club; Luminary Staff.

As lovely as her name was the air of poise and sophistication that surrounded Exilee.

SOL BURSTEIN

Der Deutsche Verein.

We did not see as much of this young chap as we should have liked, but we attribute this to the fact that he was very much interested in outside work.

VIRGINIA ANN BUSH

President Thalian Literary Society; Zoology Club; Girls' High School Club; El Circulo Espanol; Senior Ballot: "Best Girl Student."

Virginia's quick wit and ready humor were a source of enjoyment to all who knew her.

KATHLEEN GERALDINE BYRNE

Girls' High School Club; Bank Cashier; Perfect Attendance.

When a person has a record of perfect attendance, it shows that he has taken a true interest in his school work.

BEATRICE CALVERT

Aristonian Literary Society; Girls' High School Club; Student Council '32; Zoology Club; El Circulo Espanol.

Her pleasing personality and charming manner combined to make her a very lovable girl.

FRANCIS JOHN CARPOWICH

A quiet, sincere fellow who never speaks without thinking things over. This has helped him make high grades and many friends.

CHARLES ELLWOOD BROWN

Charles is one of those quiet, unassuming fellows who has won the deepest respect of his friends.

VINCENT C. BURWINKLE

A steady-going, likeable fellow with boundless ambitions.

DOROTHY EVELYN BUTTES

Society of Literature and History.

"Variety is the spice of life." That was one of the things that made us glad to have Dorothy with us.

WILMA JACQUELINE BYRNS

Perfect Attendance; Girls' High School Club; Der Deutsche Verein.

A quiet, sincere girl who knew how to get the most out of everything.

MALCOLM CAMPBELL

Central Emerson Club; Glee Club.

Though quiet and small, Malcolm played a big part in the activities at school.

ESTHER M. CENCI

Society of Literature and History; El Circulo Espanol; Zoology Club; Girls' High School Club; Perfect Attendance.

A steady worker is sure to come out on top. That is why we know Esther will succeed.

THE CENTRALIAN 1932

KATHRYN CHARNO

Student Council '32; Zoology Club; Drama Club; Girls' High School Club.

We were just sorry this charming bit of personality and pep couldn't have been with us three years instead of two.

HYLE K. CLAFLIN

Captain R. O. T. C.; Central Emerson Club; Officers' Club; Zoology Club; Boys' High School Club; Crack Squad Leader '31; Crack Squad '30, '31; Crack Company '30, '31; Crack Platoon '30, '31; Second Place Individual '31.

As his list of honors show, Hyle was greatly interested in the army and succeeded in winning much distinction.

IRENE BABE CLEMENTS

Girls' High School Club; Student Council '31.

Her sincerity in her work is shown in all she undertook.

KITTY BELLE COLEMAN

Zoology Club; Art Club; Society of Literature and History; Latin Club.

Kitty was known by her beautiful blonde hair and her sunny smile which attracted so many to her.

DORIS IRENE COOPER

Trouvere Club; "Pinafore"; "In Arcady"; Bank Cashier '31; Choral Club.

Doris was truly outstanding in the music department. Her pleasing alto voice helped many of the musical festivities to be a success.

DOROTHY ELIZABETH

CRUTCHER

Drama Club; Zoology Club; "Johnny Get Your Gun"; "Once in a Lifetime"; Lead, "Dorothy Vernon of Haddon Hall".

Dorothy was a natural born actress. Her success in later life certainly lies along dramatic lines.

MARJORIE JEAN CHINNERY

Delphian Literary Society; Choral Club; Student Council '31; Trouvere Club; "Bells of Capistrano"; Bank Cashier '32.

Poise and charm were the two outstanding characteristics of Jean that made her scores of friends.

EUNICE A. CLAYWORTH

A strong heart and a winning smile

Have sped for her many a mile.

RUTH CLEVELAND

President Delphian Literary Society; Bank Cashier; Assignment Editor Luminary; Centralian Staff '32; Silver Medal, Essay Intersociety '31; Girls' High School Club; Student Council Senior Cabinet Member '32.

Her worthiness of character and charm of manner has made hers an enviable name.

SAM E. COOK

Central Emerson Club; Boys' High School Club; El Circulo Espanol; Crack Platoon '31; Crack Company '31.

Versatility was the keynote of his actions and merited for him a place of honor.

EDITH COPPS

Delphian Literary Society; Girls' Pep Club.

Edith brightened many a dark corner with her happy smile and sparkling eyes.

KATHLEEN DANIELS

Zoology Club; Girls' High School Club.

An all-around good girl who made true friends wherever she went and never lost them.

EVELYN DARRAH

Thalian Literary Society; Student Council '30, '31; Girls' High School Club; Zoology Club; Senior Flower Committee.

A charming, sweet, popular daisy who was a friend to all. She brought joy to many with her happy smile.

EVA DAVIS

Olympian Club; Trouvere Club; Choral Club; "Bells of Capistrano"; Baseball Manager '31; Basketball '30, '31; Volley Ball '30, '31; Soccer '30, '31; Hockey '30, '31, '32; Zoology Club.

Eva was interested in school activities, especially athletics. She was not only popular at Central, but also out of school.

THOMAS J. DAVIS

Rifle Team '31; Crack Platoon '30, '31; Crack Company '30, '31; "Bells of Capistrano"; Trouvere Club; N. R. A. J. R. C.

Tom's participation in activities at Central were as varied and many as are his honors.

GRACE VIOLET DECKER

Grace personified the word friend in all activities of school life.

EDWARD G. DEUSER, JR.

The real meaning of the word "student" was realized in Ed's work at school.

EDWIN A. DOEHLER

We have found it hard to make friends with Edwin, but the few who have attained this privilege certainly appreciate it.

VIRGINIA DAVIDSON

Choral Club; Trouvere Club; "Bells of Capistrano"; "In Arcady."

Virginia was a fun-loving girl who really got a lot of pleasure out of life.

NADINE GRACE DAVIS

A true example of good-heartedness—a friend worth knowing and having.

LUCILLE MARIE DAWES

Zoology Club; Drama Club.

Lucille could make a piano talk. We are glad she has a sister here who can carry on her good work.

VIOLET DELARM

Zoology Club.

Violet's name was no doubt suggested by the color of her eyes. A lovely girl of whom Central can well be proud.

VIRGINIA V. DICUS

Olympian Club; Hockey Manager '31; All-Star Hockey '31; Soccer '30, '31; President Girls' Riding Club; Basketball '30; Big "C" '32; Pillow Top '32; Championship Baseball '30.

A peppy, bright girl whose main interest centered about athletics and whose lusty cheer leading helped Central on to victory in football.

HELEN DOEHLER

Helen possessed a rare combination of traits—a willingness to work and the ability to do so.

THE CENTRALIAN 1932

HAROLD DOLGENOW

This quiet, good looking fellow has only recently arrived from another school, but many have realized his abilities and wish that he could have been with us longer.

LEONARD DOME

He may never set the world on fire, but he has made in the school a place for himself that will last.

EARNEST D. DOSS, JR.

One of those students who is interested in wood turning under the supervision of Mr. Lukens.

MARY EMMA DUNN

Delphian Literary Society; "Lucky Break"; "Bells of Capistrano"; Choral Club; Zoology Club.

"Ned" is a likable girl with a talent for acting. Her wit and charm made her extremely popular with her Delphian sisters.

KATHERINE EDELMAN

President Minerva Literary Society; Luminary Staff; Girls' High School Club Cabinet; Trouvere Club; Zoology Club; Orchestra '31; Bank Cashier; Franklin Medal Pinner.

"Kay" was as popular about school as she was with the Minervas, and her beautiful golden hair attracted many admirers.

ANNAMAE DOROTHY

EDWARDS

Choral Club.

Annamae will make some lucky man a good wife. Her favorite pastime is inventing new dishes and foods.

BESS DOLGINOW

Zoology Club; Bank Cashier '30, '31; Senior Flower Committee.

She was the real kind of a friend. Always true to the very end.

ELEANOR MAXINE DONNELL

Aristonian Literary Society; Senior Flower Committee; Luminary Staff; Art Club.

Eleanor is endowed with the talent of an artist. She can draw anything one asks her to draw.

DONALD DOWNS

One who always seemed to have a good time. "Don" was one of the fun makers of the school.

MAX A. EAGLSTEIN

Zoology Club.

Max was not known to all of us, but to those of us who did know him he is a friend for life.

PHILIP W. EDMONSON

Central Emerson Club; Intersociety Representative '30, '31.

He has made himself proficient in the art of chemistry, in order that he may enrich the world by his work as a scientific engineer.

ARTHUR ELDRED

Stage Crew.

Conscientious to the extreme, and a good worker always. A fine fellow, we'll all agree.

THE CENTRALIAN 1932

CONSTANCE ELIAS

Society of Literature and History.

"Connie" at first acquaintance seems rather shy, but she isn't as shy as one might think. A pretty girl, a true friend, and a good little sport.

WILMER ELTON

Society of Literature and History; Trouvere Club; "Bells of Capistrano"; Student Council '30; Glee Club; Senior Ballot; "Best Boy Musician."

Wilmer is a musician and actor to the very core, except that he is not temperamental. A regular fellow.

PAM JO ANNE ENDLER

Aristonian Literary Society; Zoology Club; Student Council.

Pam was one of the best dressed girls that ever graced Central's halls—like a hint from Paris.

DOROTHY ERMIS

Aristonian Literary Society; Zoology Club; Girls' High School Club.

Just like a Broadway beauty sent to dazzle and vamp—that's Dorothy.

DOROTHY EVANS

"Bells of Capistrano"; Student Council '30, '31; Girls' High School Club; Bank Cashier '30; Zoology Club.

Dot has "imps" in her eyes which give her away. A lovable, popular girl who made many friends.

ADDIE LORRAINE FAIR

"Bells of Capistrano"; "In Arcady"; Trouvere Club.

Addie proved the fact that "gentlemen prefer blondes."

MAIE LORA ELLIS

One of the first requisites of a true friend is sincerity; Maie was that to the nth degree.

JACK BROWNING ENDLER

Second Team Football '31; Track '30, '31, '32; Zoology Club; Boys' High School Club; Student Council.

We wish that there could be more like Jack, possessing such a pleasing personality and being an all-around good fellow.

REGINA ENTIN

Trouvere Club; Girls' High School Club; Orchestra '31, '32; Luminary Staff.

Regina had something on the rest of us—living for so many years in the old country. She could always find a ready listener when she chose to relate her adventures.

HELEN LOUISE ESRY

"Bells of Capistrano"; "In Arcady"; Choral Club.

A smile for everyone she knew. That was Helen Louise thru and thru.

MARION EVANS

Girls' High School Club; Bank Cashier '30.

A joy to all her teachers—especially Mr. Oldendick. If he wanted a question answered, he knew Marion could answer it.

DANIEL LEON FEINGOLD

Zoology Club; Trouvere Club; El Circulo Espanol; Band.

Dan is interested in band and music. Whatever he attempts to do in later life, if he does it as well as he has his music here, he will be a big success.

CHARLES FINNELL

When "Chuck" sets his mind on doing something, he usually succeeds in the task.

LOUIS F. FINNELL

He has the enviable ability of making friends, and will be missed in Central.

LARRANT FLOURNOY

He will succeed in his future work if he uses the same tenacious tactics he has used in his work in Central.

RUTH FOLK

Aristonian Literary Society; Le Cercle Francais.

*For you, my dear,
Many a tear will be spent.*

ALFRED GALLUP

Boys' Sport Editor Centralian; Secretary Boys' High School Club; Central Webster Club; Golf Team '31, '32; Luminary Staff; Student Council; Stage Crew '31.

Besides being a splendid athlete, Al made high grades, interested himself in publications, and was a loyal follower of the High Y. movement.

MARY GARRIQUES

El Circulo Espanol; Girls' High School Club; Hockey Team '30.

Mary was an usual girl who possessed ideals and a lovely character.

DOROTHY FINNELL

Thalian Literary Society; Student Council '32; Zoology Club; Girls' High School Club.

Poised, with an air of aloofness that is puzzling to the sophomores. Dorothy has the dignity of a queen.

LENORE FISHER

Aristonian Literary Society; Girls' High School Club; Zoology Club.

A loyal Aristonian whose modesty won the admiration of her violet sisters.

THELMA FOLEY

Delphian Literary Society; President Olympian Club; Soccer Manager '32; Student Council '30, '31; Volley Ball '30; Little "C"; Baseball '30; Big "C"; Hockey '30, '31; Pillow Top; Basketball '30; Perfect Attendance.

Central's gym department needs more girls like Thelma, who was not only outstanding in athletics but also in the hearts of her friends.

SAM FREID

His perseverance and determination arouse the admiration and respect of everyone.

FRED GARDNER

Second Team Basketball '30, '31; Second Team Football '31; Track Squad '30, '31, '32; Student Manager '31, '32; First Team Football '32; First Team Basketball '32; Central "C" Club.

The stars in his athletic crown are many. If he can overcome obstacles in life the way he has downed opponents on the field, we feel sure of his success.

CLEORA E. GAY

What can take the place of those smiling Irish eyes? Cleora was a vivacious girl who had "it" and used "it."

THE CENTRALIAN 1932

VIRGIL ROY GESCHWIND

"H. M. S. Pinafore"; "Bells of Capistrano."

Nature endowed him with a voice that was worth listening to, and he made good use of it.

MARY V. GIBBONS

Aristonian Literary Society; Zoology Club; Student Council '32; Girls' High School Club; Girls' Pep Club; Trouvere Club.

A catching smile, a winning way, A pretty face, what more to say?

LENA GINSBERG

She took a grave interest in all her high school subjects, but typing was her favorite. She knew it from A to Z.

SHALE GOODMAN

Central Franklin Club; First Lieutenant R. O. T. C.; Honorable Mention Centralian Poster Contest; Officers' Club; Crack Platoon '30, '31; Crack Company '30, '31; Senior Event Committee.

His art, ability, and everlasting good humor made him popular among his classmates.

JOHN E. GOSSETT

Student Council.

Though never outstanding in his classes, John really took a sincere interest in all of them.

HARLAND GRAYSON

Track Team '30, '31, '32; Central "C" Club.

A track star who won many events for Central.

ANTHONY GIANCERELLI

Tennis Team '30, '31; Captain Tennis Team '30.

He has attended strictly to business during the high school course and will have something to show for it besides a diploma.

RALPH GILLILAND

Ralph put a lot of effort in his work, and no doubt he and Central both benefited by his efforts.

VIRGINIA GLADISH

The highest honor a person can have is hers. She had no marks against her name.

MARTHA ELEANORA GOSS

Choral Club; Girls' High School Club; Girls' Riding Club; Shooting Club.

Martha was a diligent, conscientious worker who went about her work always with a smile.

HARRY L. GRADY

Zoology Club.

Harry's good humor and his ability to make friends insure him of more than ordinary success in the business world.

JACK GREENE

Crack Platoon '31; Crack Company '31; Non-Commissioned Officer '31; El Circulo Espanol; Student Council; Boys' High School Club.

All who knew this fellow respected him for his integrity. He is a soldier who upheld the high ideals of the army.

EDNA R. GRIMES

Minerva Literary Society; Trouvere Club; Orchestra '29, '30, '31.

A quiet girl who silently won her way into the hearts of all who had the pleasure of knowing her.

DANIEL GUPPIN

President Central Webster Club; Circulation Manager Centralian; Intersociety Representative; Student Council; Missouri State Contest '31; Boys' High School Club.

A fellow who set an example for the school with his high grades, honors, and pleasing personality.

KENNETH HAINEY

Band; Trouvere Club.

"Music is food for the soul." If this quotation is true, Kenneth will help the world to attain a larger share of happiness.

SAMUEL JAMES HAMSHAW

Central Emerson Club; Boys' High School Club.

Sam is an excellent student in physics and an excellent pal to have around.

GWENIVERE HARE

Aristonian Literary Society; Le Cercle Francais; Girls' High School Club; Zoology Club.

*Kind o' friendly,
And true blue,
Kind o' girl
You're glad you knew.*

DORIS ALINE HARRIS

Girls' High School Cabinet '30, '31.

Doris was a lovely girl with high ideals, whose conscientious work and enthusiasm brought others' interest toward the Girls' High School Club.

LEO GROSSBERG

Second Team Basketball '30, '31; Second Team Football '30; First Team Basketball '32; Central "C" Club; Zoology Club.

His principal characteristics are his long legs and his broad smile. The former made him one of our best basketball players, and the latter made him the jolly, likeable chap he is.

NADINE LILLIAN HACKETT

Ireland is not the only place that can boast of its colleens.

JOHN PRICHARD HAMSHAW

Central Emerson Club; Le Cercle Francais; Boys' High School Club.

Not outstanding as a student, but it cannot be denied that John does work hard in everything he tries.

ARMINTA JANE HANSEN

El Circulo Espanol; Zoology Club; Girls' High School Club.

*Of study took she most care and heed.
Not a word spoke she more than was need.*

DORIS RUTH HARPER

Society of Literature and History; Trouvere Club; Le Cercle Francais; Zoology Club; Girls' High School Club; "Bells of Capistrano"; "In Arcady"; Choral Club.

Doris was a stately, pretty girl who was ever thinking of the welfare of her Slache sisters.

HUDSON HARTMAN

Hudson's interest in all activities and his faithful work made him well known about school.

EDITH ALINE HAWKINS

*She's so good and fine and true.
Sweeter girls than she are few.*

FLORA LOUISE HAWTHORNE

Le Cercle Francais.

Louise was as much at home in the print shop as she was in the French room. Her work on "La Revue Francais" was a credit to her.

ROBERT HAYDEN

Boys' High School Club; Student Council; Band.

Bob studied hard and won many rewards, many friends, and much ultimate success. He leaves Central a better school for his having been here.

ELLEN HEDGES

Ellen was as energetic as the day was long. A girl deserving of good things from life.

DOROTHY M. HEIMERDINGER

Delphian Literary Society; Art Club; Zoology Club; Olympian Club; Student Council '30; Art Editor Centralian; Hockey Team '30; Girls' High School Club.

In art, Dot certainly carried off the honors. Her cartoons in the Luminary, along with the excellency of the work in this book, have revealed her ability.

CELESTE HENSHAW

Orchestra '30, '31, '32; Trouvere Club; Le Cercle Francais.

*"Music is food for the soul."
What is more soothing than a violin solo?*

WYATT HAWORTH

Second Team Football '31; "Bells of Capistrano"; Zoology Club.

A real workman when it has anything to do with the wood working department, and one of the few boys who can always be depended upon.

WILLIAM HAYDE

Zoology Club.

Honest labor means good work. Bill's labor was honest and was always good. His attitude made Central a better school.

JAMES HAZELL

Central Webster Club; El Circulo Espanol; Drama Club; Student Council.

He was a good scout in more ways than one and a boy interested both in school and club activities.

HAZEL M. HEILMAN

Minerva Literary Society; Girls' High School Club; Bank Cashier '30.

The "crooner" of Central—Hazel's reputation as a "blues" singer made her much in demand everywhere.

WILMA HEMPERLY

President Aristonian Literary Society; Student Council '31; El Circulo Espanol; Zoology Club; Girls' High School Club; Senior Ballot; "Jolly Good Girl"; Pep Club.

*The moon, the stars,
Only compare
With the brown of your eyes
And the gold of your hair.*

N. GERALDINE HENTHORNE

Trouvere Club; Der Deutsche Verein; Choral Club; Lead, "Bells of Capistrano"; Lead, "In Arcady"; First Place State Soprano Solo Contest; Third Place Inter-City Soprano Solo Contest.

We are sincerely hoping Geraldine gets all that is due her. Her fine work in the music department at Central shows great promise.

LOUIS JAMES HIGGINS

First Team Football '30; Track '30, '31, '32; "Johnny Get Your Gun"; "Once in a Lifetime"; "Who's Boss"; "Dorothy Vernon of Haddon Hall"; Officer Student Council; Central Webster Club; Central "C" Club; Treasurer Boys' High School Club; Luminary Staff; Oratorical Contest; Senior Ballot: "Jolly Good Boy."

"Bro" was an all 'round student—an athlete, an actor, and an artist.

JOHN PHILLIP HILMES

Vice-President Boys' High School Club; Stage Crew '30, '31.

"Phil" has been known as one of the most conscientious workers in the Boys' High School Club during the past three years.

ROBERT HOAGLAND

Although "Bob" has been in Central only this year, he has made a name for himself just as he had previously done in St. Joseph Central and Omaha Tech.

MARVIN HOLMES

Second Team Football '31; Crack Platoon '30, '31; Crack Company '30, '31; Lieutenant R. O. T. C.; Drama Club; "Dorothy Vernon of Haddon Hall"; Lead in "A Lucky Break"; Lead in "Pipe the King."

Marvin has a reputation as a lady killer—no fatalities reported yet, however.

MARTHA HOSTETTER

Always ready for a good time, but ever willing to settle down to serious study.

JOHN HUBBELL

Although John is quiet and retiring, he is a mighty fine fellow; a fact that we have all discovered.

HENRY GEORGE HILLSON

Sincerity of manner and a charming personality made this boy a real factor in the school.

LEWIS HOAGLAND

Lewis is one of those willing workers, one who never shirks even disagreeable tasks. He is also a "neat" basketball player.

MAX W. HOCKETT

Zoology Club.

Max has won his way into the hearts of all Central students by his correct, steadfast work.

PAULINE HORN

Toward success she will ever steer
Never lets anything interfere.

WILLIAM HOVER

R. O. T. C.; Boys' High School Club.

A practical mind and an earnest effort are two outstanding qualities that William possesses.

ETTABELLE HUGGINS

Thalian Literary Society; Central Trouvere Club; Student Council '29; Central Olympian Club; Choral Club; "Bells of Capistrano"; "In Arcady"; Bank Cashier; Hockey Team '30, '31; Basketball Team '30; Soccer Team '30; Baseball Team '30; Volley Ball Team '30.

What an unusual combination! A singer and an athlete. Ettabelle succeeded in both phases as is shown by her honors.

ROSE INGRAM

We are only sorry that Rose could not have been with us the full three years so that we could have known her better.

EDWARD IRONSMITH

Second Team Football '31; First Team Football '32; All-Star Football '32; Captain Basketball Team '32; First Team Basketball '31; Central "C" Club.

A good athlete and one we all admire. Here's hoping there are more of them in the years to come.

LOUIS JACOBSTEIN

Central Emerson Club.

Louis was active in all the affairs of the school and was one of the main stays in the Central Emerson Club.

MAE L. JEFFERSON

Delphian Literary Society; Zoology Club.

When she smiled and showed those dimples, everyone succumbed.

DONALD JOHNSON

Advertising Manager Centralian; Central Webster Club; First Lieutenant R. O. T. C.; Central Officers' Club; Cabinet Member Boys' High School Club.

Don was outstanding in his work in the army; his sound logic in "Boys' High" made him a host of friends.

ALYCE MERLE JONES

Zoology Club; Choral Club.

*Alyce always said she'd "flunk that test,"
But at heart she knew
She'd beat the rest.*

BEATRICE MARY INZENGA
Girls' High School Club.

*To girls of her kind, we make a bow,
She knew where to talk, and when,
and how.*

LESLIE JACOBSON

His willingness to become a friend made many lasting acquaintances for him among his classmates.

BRUCE JAY

The most manifest sign of wisdom is cheerfulness, and Bruce has both.

HELEN CATHERINE JIMERSON

Thalian Literary Society; Student Council '31; Intersociety Representative Essay '31; El Circulo Espanol; Bank Cashier; Assignment Editor Luminary; Student Council '32.

Truly a scholar—Helen was a talented girl whose ambition placed her on heights reached by but few.

LORETTA JOHNSON

Hockey Team '30; Zoology Club.

*Not too large,
Not too small,
But sweet and jolly,
And liked by all.*

BETTY JONES

She filled a unique place at Central. Those who knew her well appreciated her true value.

CLIFFORD H. JONES

Business Manager Luminary; Central Webster Club; Boys' High School Club; Crack Platoon '31; Crack Company '31; El Circulo Espanol.

Clifford was quite the business man, as was seen in his work as business manager of the Luminary.

HAROLD JONES

R. O. T. C.

Harold was a splendid fellow and a friend worth having. He was sincere in manner and courageous in spirit.

HUGH SUMNER JONES

Trouvere Club; Glee Club; Orchestra Concert-master '31, '32.

We had a great many musicians in school, but Sumner ranked among the best. His position as Concert-master indicates his success.

OLLIE J. JUETT

Orchestra; Band; Trouvere Club.

Whenever there was fun to be had, Ollie was always in on it. At times when things seemed dull, he made everything cheerful again.

BERNICE KATZEFF

Drama Club; Choral Club; "Bells of Capistrano"; "Dorothy Vernon of Haddon Hall"; Girls' High School Club; Bank Cashier '31.

Because of what she is and stands for, she will give the world no cause to harbor a grudge against her.

JANE ANN KEELER

Delphian Literary Society; Zoology Club; Art Club; Assistant Art Editor Centralian '32; Pep Club.

Jane possesses artistic talent, and by her clever original drawings will doubtless make a name for herself.

EDWINA JONES

Choral Club '31.

"Whatever is worth doing is worth doing well." This was Edwina's philosophy of life.

KATHERINE HELEN JONES

Minerva Literary Society; Columbia Representative '31; Vice-President Trouvere Club; Choral Club; Orchestra '30, '31; Girls' High School Club; Double Quartet Contest; Le Cercle Francais.

There is music in her heart. Katherine was a joy to students and teachers alike, because of her earnestness of purpose.

RUTH LANELLE JUDD

All who knew her admired her for her loveliness and disposition.

MARVIN KATZ

Silent and studious, Marvin applied himself to his lessons and has ended with one of the highest averages in school.

BEN KAUFMAN

Second Team Basketball '31; First Team Basketball '32.

A sterling basketball player, conscientious and thorough in his work.

MARY VIRGINIA KEITER

Common sense is as valuable to most of us as genius is to the few who possess it.

HERBERT L. KELLER

Second Team Football '31.

One of those steady good sports who takes things as they come and who never complains.

ELLSWORTH KENAGY

Typographia Staff.

Everybody is liked by someone, but when everybody likes someone, that is a most enviable state of affairs.

JEROME J. KESSELMAN

Jerome believed little in the social activities, but prepared himself for later life by reading extensively and studying hard.

MERL KING

His pleasing and sensible qualities promise future success.

ESTHER KLUTZNICK

Girls' Riding Club.

Thought is deeper than all speech; Feeling deeper than all thought.

JULIA ROSE KNEFEL

Zoology Club.

Julia was gentle of speech and beneficent of mind. A virtuous girl who went about her work quietly, making many friends.

MILDRED KELLY

"Kelly" is a familiar name in the world of dancers. We hope Mildred carries on the tradition.

JOSEPHINE KERSNICK

Zoology Club; Bank Cashier '31.

Josephine's beauty was not her only attribute—her willingness to help all who needed it endeared her to many.

WILLIAM CLYDE KILE

Zoology Club; Orchestra.

William is a quiet sort of a fellow, who, nevertheless, got into school activities and became well known.

MANUEL KLUGMAN

He can find humor in the most disagreeable situations and is willing to laugh at anyone's jokes.

FLOYD KNAUS

Central Webster Club; Snapshot Editor Centralian; Boys' High School Club; Latin Club.

He is not only a splendid fellow, but he is quite a social lion. His pleasant manner and broad smile win him friends among both boys and girls.

LUCILLE E. KNOCHE

Aristonian Literary Society; President Zoology Club; Perfect Attendance; Luminary Staff; Member Senior Speaker Committee; Student Council '30, '31, '32; Bank Cashier '30, '31, '32; Central Olympian Club; Girls' High School Club.

Very cute; quite petite. So very nice and, oh, so sweet!

HOWLAND KOEHLER

Howland has proven himself a hard worker. No matter what the task, he always tackles it and works earnestly.

JOSEPH KORT

Business Manager Luminary; "Lucky Break."

As the business executive of the Luminary, Joe demonstrated great ability as a "business man."

FRITZI KRAUSE

Fritzi was one of the outstanding members of the orchestra. Her violin music was a joy to hear.

MARVIN JOHN KUHN

He is conscientious in his work; but, at that, he is never over-worked.

MARY ELIZABETH LAFFINE

Volley Ball '30.

A loyal supporter of the Rainbow Girls; never trying to be what she wasn't—that's Mary Elizabeth.

MARTHA MARIE LANDON

President Delphian Literary Society; News Editor Luminary; Literary Editor Centralian; Girls' High School Club; Zoology Club; Student Council; Choral Club; "Bells of Capistrano."

Martha was one of our hard-working page editors. By her pleasing personality she won many friends.

MARSHALL KOENIG

Central Emerson Club; Circulation Manager Luminary; Student Council; Zoology Club; El Circulo Espanol; Boys' High School Club.

As a good student and a steadfast friend, he has made a place for himself in Central.

FREDA KRAITCHMAN

Zoology Club.

One of the girls who did not strive for popularity, but who, nevertheless, was willing to do all in her power for a friend.

ANNA KREBS

Choral Club; "Bells of Capistrano"; "Woodbine Farm"; Zoology Club.

She didn't always have a lot to say, but one could look at her and know her heart was happy.

BLANCHE KURTZ

Central Art Club; "Once in a Lifetime"; Orchestra '30; Luminary Staff.

To set a high standard and to let nothing stand in the way of attaining it—that was Blanche's motto.

ELIZABETH ANNA LAMBADER

Girls' High School Club; Olympian Club; Hockey '32; Basketball '31, '32; Soccer '31, '32.

A good sport, prominent in athletics, and liked by all.

MARY LANE

President Thalian Literary Society; Lead in "A Lucky Break"; "Who's Boss"; Pin and Ring Committee; Drama Club; Girls' High School Club; Student Council '30, '31; News Editor Luminary; Sponsor Captain R. O. T. C.

Mary personified the words joy and happiness. There was no shield her merry laughter and beautiful blue eyes could not pierce.

BERTHA B. LAPIN

Volley Ball.

Her ambition is "to keep her old friends and go on making more and more." From what we see, her ambition is being realized.

FRANCES RUTH LAUDERDALE

President Choral Club '30; Trouvere Club; Girls' High School Club; Zoology Club; City A'Capella Choir; Lead in "Bells of Capistrano"; "In Arcady"; Bank Cashier.

We shall always remember Frances for her splendid work in the lead of "Bells of Capistrano."

MARLEVENE BERYL

LAWRENCE

President Olympian Club; Volley Ball Manager '31; Baseball '30; Basketball '30, '31; Soccer '30, '31; All-Star Hockey '31, '32; Hockey '31, '32; Swimming Team '30.

One of our most prominent girl athletes.

Central Franklin Club; Senior Ballot: "Best Boy Student"; Le Cercle Francais.

The more abstruse the problem, the better Billy liked it, and the fact that he has always succeeded has made us respect him.

CLARENCE LEHMAN

Nothing suited Clarence better than to spend hours in the Chemistry laboratory.

ARTHUR J. LEVINE

El Circulo Espanol; Student Council.

Arthur can be relied upon to do his best in everything he undertakes.

ROBERT LATSHAW

Luminary Staff; Boys' High School Club; Botany Poem Prize; Glee Club.

If one hears a booming "hello" and sees a giant walking toward him, he knows it's Bob.

RICHARD O. LAWHON

Lieutenant R. O. T. C.; Crack Company '30, '31; Crack Platoon '30, '31; Officers' Club; Student Council; Boys' High School Club.

As he has grown and developed among us, we have admired him for his sincerity as well as for his humor.

HELEN FLORENCE LEE

President Society of Literature and History; Vice-President Girls' High School Club; Frances Scarritt Hanley Scholarship '31; French Club; Trouvere Club; Choral Club; Intersociety Representative; Student Council '30; All-City A'Capella Choir.

Helen has a striking personality and a talented voice. We feel confident that she will do big things in the future.

LEOLA LEGG

Leola entered Central just this year. We hope she has enjoyed that time as much being with us as we have being with her.

ROGER LEMASTERS

Student Council; Boys' High School Club.

Roger's death in his senior year saddened us all. A likeable boy whose cheery smile we shall all miss.

VIRGINIA LINDSEY

Central Olympian Club; Hockey '30, '31, '32; All-Star '30, '31, '32; Soccer '30, '31, '32; Soccer Captain '31; Basketball '30, '31, '32; Basketball '30, '31, '32; All-Star '31; Baseball '30, '31, '32; Volley Ball '30, '31, '32.

Another outstanding athlete! Virginia should be proud of her record.

CHARLES LINK

Central Webster Club.

Charles was popular because of two assets: business ability and the knack of being a good mixer.

RUTH LOFMAN

President Trouvere Club; President Le Cercle Francais; Orchestra '29, '30, '32; Bank Cashier '31.

Ruth played the piano in the orchestra for three years and during that time she proved herself to be an accomplished musician.

SHERWOOD LOVE

If you chance to meet a serious, determined looking chap who has a worldly appearance about him, then that's Sherwood. A true friend whom we've enjoyed knowing.

LUCY LEE LOWE

Aristonian Literary Society; Girls' High School Club; Zoology Club; Volley Ball '31; Baseball '31; Basketball '31; Senior Flower Committee; Student Council '32.

One of the sweetest girls we have ever known is this loyal violet who has helped to make her club a success.

VIRGINIA LUPTON

Thalian Literary Society; Trouvere Club; Student Council; Girls' High School Club.

Not too quiet—not too bold. A true follower of the white and gold.

VERA L. LUTHY

Delphian Literary Society; Zoology Club; Choral Club '30; "Bells of Capistrano."

We all like pretty girls, but that wasn't the only thing that made us like Vera. She was a conscientious worker as well.

IVO LIVELY

At a disadvantage because of his late arrival at Central, Ivo, nevertheless, has been greatly liked by all who made his acquaintance.

FLORICE M. LONG

Girls' High School Club; Chora Club '32; Aristonian Literary Society.

Florice was a pretty, charming girl, but she wouldn't give Central boys a "break."

MARGARET EVELYN LOVITT

A true friend, a sincere student, and a girl who took an immense interest in all she undertook.

VIRGINIA E. LUCAS

Delphian Literary Society; Girls' High School Club; El Circulo Espanol.

Virginia's scholastic record was rivaled only by her ability to play the piano. A talented musician and a lovely girl.

ROSALIE LURIE

Society of Literature and History; Le Cercle Francais; Art Club; Hockey '30.

Rosalie will long be remembered for her beauty and charm. Her ability as an artist was unusual and no doubt her future will be bright.

NANCY MACK

Zoology Club; Girls' Pep Club.

Her jolly nature made her a welcome guest at any party.

FRANCES MAJOR

Zoology Club; Girls' High School Club.

She possessed an unlimited supply of pep and with her "happy-go-lucky" ways, she made us feel peppy, too.

FANNIE MANDELBAUM

Girls' High School Club; Bank Cashier '30.

Fannie was a girl of quiet nature, but she possessed a depth of understanding.

RUTH MARCY

Girls' High School Club; Zoology Club; Thalian Literary Society.

Ruth brightened the day for many of her fellow students by her happy smile.

ANNETTE MARRAN

Radiating good cheer wherever she went, dressing smartly and trying to do her very best, Annette will leave pleasant memories behind her.

ELLEN MARTIN

Minerva Literary Society; Zoology Club '31; Student Council '30; Choral Club; Girls' High School Club; Bank Cashier '30; Hockey Team '29, '30, '31; All-Star Hockey Team '30; Olympian Club, '30, '31.

Ellen was always one of the best dressed girls at Central. Besides wearing smart clothes, she was a "keen" girl.

A. DAVID MASLAN

El Circulo Espanol; Art Club.

His happy countenance is only the exterior expression of his true character.

EVELYN JANE MALOY

President Delphian Literary Society; President Olympian Club; Gold Medal Intersociety Declamation '31; Zoology Club; Student Council; "Who's Boss"; Basketball Manager; Little "C"; Girls' Pep Club; All-Star Hockey '30, '31, '32; Soccer '30; Basketball '30, '31; Baseball '30, '31; Senior Ballot: "Best Girl Athlete."

She played on the all-star not only in athletics and dramatics, but in practically everything she undertook.

ROBERT MANUEL

"Would that there could have been more like him." Such was the opinion held by his classmates.

HARRIETTE IRMA

MARQUETTE

Aristonian Literary Society; El Circulo Espanol; Trouvere Club; Student Council '31.

Harriette was truly a pleasant girl whose worth was appreciated by both her classmates and her teachers. As fine a girl as could be found anywhere!

RICHARD MARSHALL, JR.

Central Emerson Club; Zoology Club; Orchestra; Band; Student Council; Senior Gift Committee; Boys' High School Club.

Richard's cheerful, bright disposition and his skill on the banjo have brought him many friends and admirers.

MARGARET ELIZABETH

MARTIN

Girls' High School Club.

It is not every girl who could come to a strange school, and in a year form so many pleasant friendships.

EVELYN MARIE MASON

With her sweetness, Evelyn spread cheerfulness throughout the school.

THE CENTRALIAN 1932

LELA RUTH MATHEWS

Society of Literature and History; Olympian Club; Hockey '30, '31; Soccer '30, '31; Basketball '30, '31; Baseball '30; Captain '30; Little "C."

Ruth was especially interested in athletics and was reputed a good sport by all who knew her.

HERMAN MATTERS

He will make a success in life because of his sincere interest in all he undertakes.

W. HOWARD MAY

Central Franklin Club; Alternate Cheerleader; "Dorothy Vernon of Haddon Hall"; "Pipe the King"; "Johnny Get Your Gun"; Zoology Club; Drama Club; Boys' High School Club.

The "dispeller of gloom," the "apostle of pep," the best liked, cleverest, snappiest fellow we know, is "Howie."

WILLIAM MCAULEY

He has a possible fault in being too willing to sacrifice his own interests to those of others.

RICHARD BYRAM MCCREARY

Central Webster Club; Second Team Football '31; Student Council; Trouvere Club; Band.

Dick is one who without regard for personal gains has contributed to the success of Central.

GRACE C. MCGAVERN

Aristonian Literary Society; Trouvere Club; Olympian Club; El Circulo Espanol; Girls' High School Club.

Her dependability and consistently high scholarship made her stand high in the opinions of all.

CLARA MATHIS

Great things are in store for Clara in the swimming line. Her record in that sport was an enviable one.

CLIFFORD HILL MAUPIN

Girls' High School Club; Zoology Club '31.

Clifford's jolly nature made her welcome everywhere.

MARY ELIZABETH MAXWELL

Delphian Literary Society; Girls' Pep Club.

This pretty red-haired girl made a business of capturing all hearts.

FREDERICK N. MCCOY

His brown curly hair and good looks made Fred a favorite with the girls.

KENNETH MCFARLAND

Kenneth is a tranquil individual whom the daily turmoil seems scarcely to affect. His energy is expended only in the direction of real accomplishment.

ALEXANDER MERGELL

He established the reputation of being everyone's friend, no one's enemy, and a fine fellow, generally.

CLARA JEANNETTE MERGELL

Girls' High School Club; Luminary Staff.

Clara was one of those dependable and capable girls who did everything that was asked of her—and more, too.

SELMA MICHAELSON

Zoology Club.

We can truthfully say that Selma earned all her honors, for when she set her mind to a thing she usually accomplished it.

ELVIN MILLER

R. O. T. C.

This young gentleman had no time to waste. He was after his diploma, and he worked hard to get it.

HELEN LUCILLE MINNICK

Zoology Club; Hiking Club; Girls' High School Club; Girls' Pep Club; Hockey Team; Soccer Team; Baseball Team.

Helen was a gym enthusiast in which work she really excelled.

BEATRICE MODE

Junior Aide; Aristonian Literary Society; Intersociety Representative, Declamation '31; "Who's Boss?" "Pipe the King"; Senior Speaker Committee.

A lovely girl whose air of refinement made her unusually popular with both boys and girls.

JOYCE MONAGHAN

Her ever-ready smile and her helpful attitude made her a favorite with the teachers and students alike.

EMMA A. MEYER

Der Deutsche Verein; Central Art Club.

Her charming smile and her sweet personality attracted many to her.

EDWARD R. MILLER

Central Emerson Club; Lieutenant R. O. T. C.; Officers' Club; Crack Squad '31; Crack Platoon '31; Crack Company '31; El Circulo Espanol; Stage Crew.

A finished soldier, and an intelligent worker in all Central activities.

ELLEN ERMINA MILLS

Society of Literature and History; Girls' High School Club; Zoology Club '31; Latin Club.

Ellen was a quiet girl, but there were splendid qualities hidden beneath her poise.

HELEN MINOR

Girls' High School Club; Lead in "Who's Boss"; Senior Gift Committee; Drama Club; Central Zoology Club; Lead, "Pipe the King."

Helen will always be remembered for the dramatic ability which she displayed in "Who's Boss?" and "Pipe the King."

HELEN S. MOLINE

Thalian Literary Society; El Circulo Espanol; Volley Ball '31; Girls' High School Club; Bank Cashier '30, '31.

Helen possessed that versatility of nature which permitted her to be either a serious student or a fun-loving girl, according to the demand of the occasion.

GLENN MOORE

President Central Emerson Club; Assistant Boys' Senior Editor Centralian; Senior Gift Committee; Circulation Manager Luminary; Boys' High School Club; Student Council.

His good nature and fairness have won for him the friendship and admiration of many.

KATHRYN MILDRED MOORE

Kathryn went about her work with much diligence and perseverance, and in so doing became a favorite with her classmates.

MILDRED MORRIS

Mildred caused many a mascu-line heart to flutter with her chic clothes.

DELANA CATHERINE

MURDOCK

Delphian Literary Society; Art Club; Girls' High School Club; Perfect Attendance; Latin Club.

The most characteristic thing about Catherine is her sweet dis-position.

BERTRAM NASTER

Silver Medal Novice Shorthand Contest, Missouri.

Bertram is one of the few who really enjoy scholastic work; no wonder he was successful.

HUGH NEVILLE

If Hugh shoots for his mark in life as straight as he shoots at a rifle target, he will certainly attain high honors.

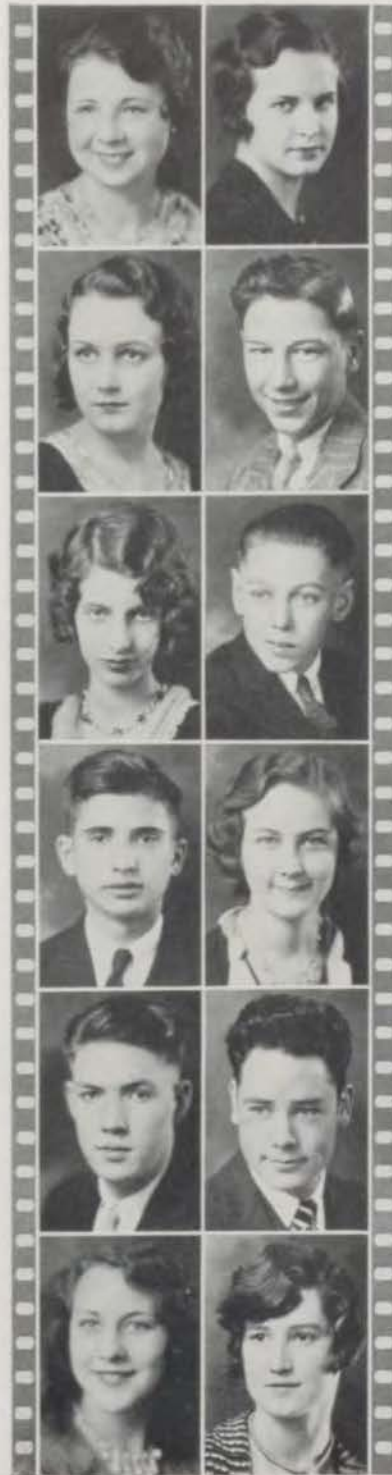

BERNICE MAUVINE

NICHOALDS

"Bells of Capistrano"; "In Arcady."

So highly this brown-eyed maiden rated

'Twas rare, indeed, when she wasn't dated.

ATHA MORLAN

Delphian Literary Society; Man-aging Editor Luminary; Girls' Sport Editor Centralian; Olympian Club; Zoology Club; Girls' Cheerleader '32; Junior Life Sav-ing; Intersociety Swimming Meet Winner '31; Senior Gift Com-mittee; Delphian Medal Pin-ner.

Atha was little and cute and quite petite. She had a talent for get-ting into mischief and getting out again.

EDWARD MULLER

Central Webster Club.

He doesn't say much, but you can tell he is thinking a lot.

W. REID MURRELL

Common-sense is an uncommon quality, but a trait which Reid exemplified.

ELEANOR NEVE

President Girls' High School Club; Society of Literature and History; Student Council '30, '31.

A girl of high ideals and noble character! She deserves much credit for the work in Girls' High School Club.

HARRY C. NEWCOMER, JR.

Boys' High School Club; Student Council.

"Newkie" has strolled and danced his way through Central, with a great amount of fun. Keep it up, "Newkie," and life will be kind to you.

JANE NICHOLS

This smiling red-haired girl was full of fun, and her wit and humor kept us all laughing.

THE CENTRALIAN 1932

MAXINE AMANDA NIEBRUGGE
Perfect Attendance.

Maxine was an attractive girl who made a place for herself in the hearts of her friends.

WILLIAM NORTHCOTT
Central Emerson Club; Cabinet Member Boys' High School Club; Luminary Staff; Student Council.

Care-free, always ready for fun, conscientious in his work, is Bill, our friend, student, and classmate.

PATRICIA O'DONNELL
Patricia will long be remembered by her classmates for her unusual abilities which were many.

CHARLES MARTIN ORENDORFF
Lieutenant R. O. T. C.; Officers' Club; Crack Squad '29; Crack Platoon '30; Crack Company '30.
He is a good leader, having the knack of command without arousing the resentment of his co-workers.

FRANK E. OTEY
Second Team Football '31; Senior Picnic Committee; Boys' High School Club; Band.
Central was fortunate in possessing such a fellow as Frank.

MARTHA PALLANICH
Zoology Club; Perfect Attendance.
Martha's hobby is sewing, but we imagine she finds many other worth-while things to do at other times.

NANCY FERN NORD
Aristonian Literary Society; Student Council '30.
A loyal Aristonian who gained the favor of her classmates through her never-failing good humor.

VINCENT E. O'CONNELL
If Vincent were writing about himself, he could truthfully say "reliable, that's me all over."

RUTH O'NEIL
Zoology Club; Perfect Attendance; Girls' High School Club.
She had a gentle and refined nature, and readily made friends.

MIRIAM R. OSHRY
Delphian Literary Society; Luminary Staff; Zoology Club; Girls' High School Club; Girls' Pep Club; Bank Cashier; Senior Picnic Committee.
Though an excellent student, Miriam was always ready for fun.

MABEL OWENS
Girls' High School Club.
Mabel's friends will remember her as a pretty, well dressed girl with a sweet and gentle manner.

DOROTHY PARKER
Girls' High School Club.
If diligence leads to success, Dorothy's future should be bright. We are proud to have had her as a friend.

VIRGINIA MAXINE PARKER

Zoology Club '31; Girls' High School Club '30.

Maxine is a jolly girl who has made her friends by being her unaffected self.

VIRGINIA O. PAULUS

Delphian Literary Society; French Club; Student Council '30, '31.

A girl whom we all admired. She was capable, dependable and a true friend.

CHARLES PETERSON

Tennis Team '31, '32.

"Chuck" longed for warm weather so that he could swing a racket—a real tennis player and a true sportsman.

ROWLAND PETERSON

He has a perfectly natural ability for conscientious and diligent work which guides his every move.

HELEN PICKERILL

Girls' High School Club; Bank Cashier '30, '31.

Helen's hobby was dancing, but she was also an excellent swimmer.

BARBARA POLLEY

Student Council '30; Basketball '30.

Although excelling in other activities, Barbara's chief accomplishment was that of being an excellent swimmer.

MERRILEE PATTON

Girls' High School Club; Student Council '30; Bank Cashier '30.

As sweet as she is attractive, and the possessor of many desirable traits—that's Merrilee.

JANICE PEEPLES

Thalian Literary Society; Trouvere Club; Choral Club; Hiking Club; Girls' High School Club; Student Council; Le Cercle Francais; Senior Picnic Committee; Basketball '32.

Janice was one of the sweetest girls ever to attend Central—a true daisy with a heart of gold.

MARTHA ELEANOR PETERSON

Girls' High School Club; Senior Flower Committee; Zoology Club; Student Council; Bank Cashier '30.

A mixture of vim and charm and individuality! No lonely evenings for this attractive little lady.

DEAN PHARES

Second Team Football '30; Second Team Basketball '30; First Team Basketball '31; First Team Football '31, '32; Student Council; National Athletic Honor Society; Central "C" Club.

Dean deserved a star in Central's Athletic Hall of Fame.

HARRY FRANK POLEN

Harry was first of all a friend. We know of no better tribute that can be paid to a fellow.

LUCILLE PORTER

Zoology Club; Girls' High School Club.

Here's another "happy-go-lucky" girl, never worried about anything. We liked her cheerfulness.

VIRGINIA PORTER

Virginia was the possessor of many virtues, chief of which were her lady-like manners.

MATTHEW POWERS

Though there have been better scholars, Matthew does not pose as the best; but he has his place and fills it well.

HARRY PREVAN

Harry is a quiet, unobtrusive chap. He minds his own business, and does it very well. His worth has been recognized and has made him many friends.

THELMA ELIZABETH QUINN

Aristonian Literary Society; Trouvere Club; Girls' High School Club; Drama Club; Orchestra '30, '31.

None of us will soon forget how much Thelma's dancing added to our programs. This talent alone made her scores of friends.

FRED RAHNER

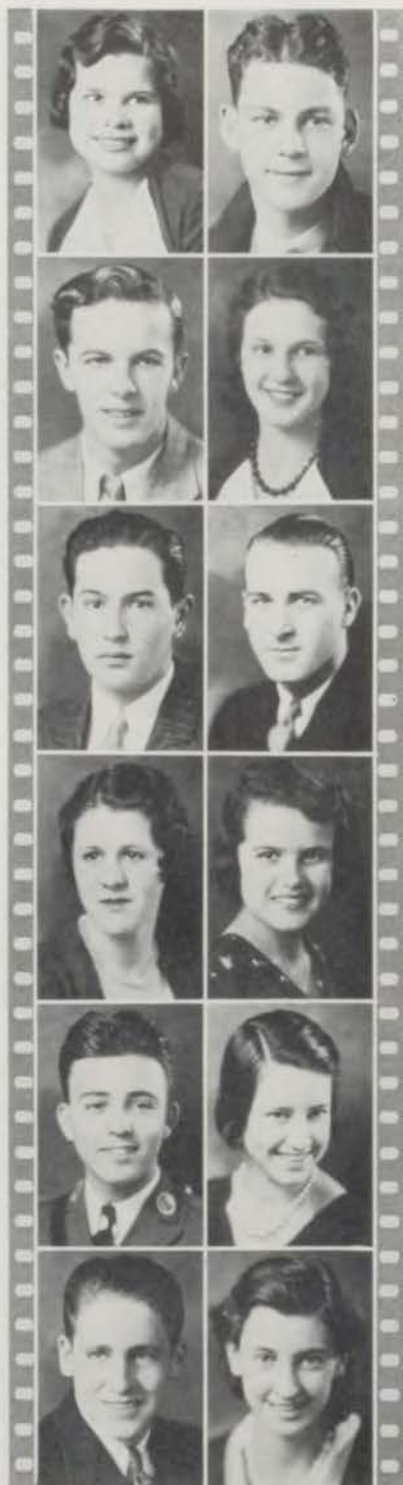

Lieutenant R. O. T. C.; Student Council; Officers' Club; Trouvere Club; Orchestra; Crack Platoon '31; Crack Company '31.

Fred certainly upheld the high ideals of the army and worked hard to promote our army unit.

JAMES REDMOND

Central Webster Club; Captain R. O. T. C.; Lead in "Who's Boss"; "Once in a Lifetime"; "Lucky Break"; "Dorothy Vernon of Haddon Hall"; Officers' Club; Drama Club; Senior Ballot; "Best Boy Actor"; Lead, "Pipe the King."

Jimmy was a boy of unlimited ability which is shown by his success in the army and in dramatics.

HOMER POWELL

A droll humorist who succeeded in his ambition of laughing his way through school, and in making others laugh with him.

ELIZABETH PRATHER

Minerva Literary Society; Girls' Pep Club; Girls' High School Club.

This entrancing little brunette charmed all of us and we shall not soon forget her.

RANDOLPH PROPST

Randolph is a dependable worker, with a pleasing personality; it is mighty nice to have him around.

ESTHER A. RADTKE

Delphian Literary Society; Girls' High School Club; Zoology Club.

Those who failed to meet Esther missed the opportunity of knowing a modest, sweet girl who was highly valued by her friends.

HELEN RAY

Helen, like her sister, also stood for real sportsmanship. Everything she did was done in a fair and square way.

FRANCES REICHARD

Minerva Literary Society; Girls' High School Club Cabinet '32; Zoology Club '31, '32; Inter-society Representative '31.

Frances was liked a lot by both boys and girls and was especially popular with her Minerva sisters.

THE CENTRALIAN 1932

ESTHER KATHERN RIFENBARK
Student Council '32.

Light-hearted and full of life, Esther was especially fond of dancing.

JOE ROBERTSON

Central Webster Club; Society of Literature and History; Boys' High School Club.

Although his interests are varied and his tastes many, he has all the fundamental qualities of a typical student.

ADELE ROSENBERG

Zoology Club; Girls' High School Club.

A mass of curly brown hair was the most charming but not the only admirable thing about Adele.

JOSEPH ROTSTAIN

Joseph is one of those capable, dependable fellows who never fail to do what is expected of them.

ROBERT RYAN

Society of Literature and History; Non-Commissioned Officer; Boys' High School Club.

Possessing a pleasing personality, Robert had the faculty of impressing others with his unobtrusive manner.

HAROLD SALWIN

Central Franklin Club; Le Cercle Francais.

Quiet by nature, he has preferred the scholastic rather than the social side of school life.

CECIL ROBERSON

His ready wit and humorous actions will be missed in the classroom.

SLOAN D. ROBERTSON

One of those quiet, studious boys who sets a good example for his more frivolous friends.

JACK ROTHSCHILD

Central Webster Club; Junior Aide; Officer Student Council; Sports Editor Luminary; Pin and Ring Committee; Boys' High School Club.

Peppy, enthusiastic, brilliant and capable, Jack is a regular fellow, known and liked by all.

DOROTHY B. RUSSELL

Aristonian Literary Society; Student Council '30; Bank Cashier '31.

Her charming way and winsome smile, Courteous manner and modest style Made true friends for her—all the while.

SEYMOUR NATHAN SALVAY

Undoubtedly Nathan will be connected with radios in later life, because of his present ability in this field.

JOHN SAMPLE

Quiet and reserved in speech, but in action one of Central's best athletes.

ELEANOR DORIS SANDY

Assistant Girls' Senior Editor Centralian; Lead in "A Lucky Break"; "Once in a Lifetime"; "Dorothy Vernon of Haddon Hall"; Delphian Literary Society; President Trouvere Club; Student Council '29, '30; "Bells of Capistrano"; Girls' High School Club.

Eleanor's ability as a leader, plus her pleasing personality, gave her a big place in Central's Hall of Fame.

WANDA JEAN SCHNEIDER

Girls' High School Club.

We are impressed by her genial disposition and by her common sense, of which she made effective use.

WILLIAM SHANKS

William was one of the most likeable fellows in school. He always had a smile for everyone.

ALBERT SCHULTZ

Lieutenant R. O. T. C.; Individual '31; Crack Squad '31; Second Place American Legion Honor Medal; Officers' Club; N. R. A. J. R. C.

Perseverance was the keynote to this army officer. The school needs fellows like Albert.

ROBERT SCOTT

Second Team Football '31; First Team Football '32; Band; El Circulo Espanol.

Bob is the boy with the red hair, unusually broad shoulders, and friendly smile, which, together with his determination, should carry him far.

One of the popular fellows in Central. His pluck and strategy in athletics and his admirable disposition have made him many friends.

MARTHA MAE SCHOONOVER

President Minerva Literary Society; Student Council '30, '31; "Who's Boss"; "A Lucky Break"; Luminary Staff; Intersociety Representative '31; Drama Club.

To be able to go through high school in three and one-half years and still be the same peppy Martha is a genuine accomplishment that all of us envy.

WILLIAM SCHRANZ

We are sure if Bill undertakes his duties in the future with the same spirit of perseverance he has used in his work here, he will realize his ambitions.

DORIS JANE SCHUMACHER

Girls' High School Club; Zoology Club '30, '31.

*"Laugh away Sorrow, Laugh away Care,
I'm out for a good time
Come if you dare."*

HELEN SCOTT

Helen was one of those cheerful girls—never a care in the world. Out for fun and a good time.

EVERETT SCOTTEN

Luminary Pressman; Non-Commissioned Officer; Type Pressman; Crack Platoon '30, '31; Crack Company '30, '31.

During the past year Everett has been the pressman for the Luminary, and he has done all in his power to get the paper out on time.

LEON SEDLER

Trouvere Club; Orchestra.

During Leon's three years at Central, he specialized in all branches of music. If he works in later life as hard as he has in school, he will be a big success.

GEORGE SELOVER

Boys' High School Club; Glee Club.

"Friendly to all, hostile to none" was the policy of George, by which he has gained many friends.

JACK ALLEN SHEFRIN

Boys' High School Club; El Circulo Espanol.

Reading and writing were Jack's favorite hobbies. He intends to be a writer, and he has made a big start for it already.

He excelled in R. O. T. C.; and the discipline obtained there is reflected in his Student Council and other activities.

BRADFORD SMITH

Head Cheerleader '32; Boys' High School Club.

"Brad" led our cheering section this year with a spirit and enthusiasm that gained for him many staunch friends.

JOHN SMITH

A fellow that the school hates to lose. He has ever played his part in the activities of school life and has never failed to do his bit for Central.

THE CENTRALIAN 1932

STANTON SMITH

Zoology Club.

Stanton appears to be the sort of fellow Central will be glad to point to as one of her graduates.

FRANK SPARR

Second Team Football '30, '31; First Team Football '32; Central "C" Club.

Frank did not know the word DEFEAT in a football game, for he was in there fighting every second.

MAYME LOUISE STAAB

Girls' High School Club.

Louise was a jolly girl who always strove to infect those around her with her own happiness.

EVELYN STEELE

A conscientious and diligent worker who was out to make the most of her high school education.

NATHAN STEIN

Central Franklin Club; Sport Editor Luminary; Student Council.

As sports editor of the Luminary, Nathan proved his interest in sports and his ability as a student.

DOROTHY J. STEWART

FLORENCE SWADE

Central Trouvere Club; Choral Club '30, '31, '32; Orchestra '30; "In Arcady"; "Bells of Capistrano"; All-City A'Capella Choir.

Florence is small of stature, but her talent, especially in music, is not to be measured by her size.

MARY VIRGINIA THOMPSON

Delphian Literary Society; Zoology Club.

Mary Virginia was a jolly, fun-loving girl. When we saw her with Mae, we knew by their merry laughter that mischief was afloat.

RUTH THORNTON

Student Council '29; El Circulo Espanol; Delphian Literary Society.

She asserts that her hobby is reading; but it might just as well be dancing, for she is certainly a good dancer.

ETTA MAE TIPTON

Thalian Literary Society.

Etta was very popular with both sexes, and when she smiled, who could withstand her?

JESS TROWBRIDGE, JR.

Second Team Football '30, '31; First Team Football '32; All-Star Football Team '32; Central "C" Club.

An active fellow who never worries. Jess has always been glad to represent Central to the best of his ability, especially in athletics.

This fellow was quite a likable chap, and was good in his school work, too.

SHIRLEY VALJEAN WRIGHT

President Central Webster Club; Editor-in-Chief Luminary; Inter-society Gold Medal Poem '30; Feature Editor Centralian; Cabinet Member Boys' High School Club; Central "C" Club.

Jean is a rare combination of student, athlete, and true-blue fellow.

ETHEL WYSS

Central Olympian Club; Soccer '32; Baseball '31.

Even tho' she was small, Ethel could set about a large task and end up with colors flying.

FRANCES ZUROVSKY

Girls' High School Club; Bank Cashier.

Her qualities are perfectly balanced, and she is a girl whom we are proud to call our friend.

NANCY RAY

Student Council '30, '31; Le Cercle Francais; Bank Cashier '31; Luminary Staff.

Nancy was a sport in the true sense of the word. "To play the game fairly" was her desire.

GEORGE RUTH

George had a smile that won anyone over—even his teachers.

MARY OVERHULSER

Zoology Club; Luminary Staff; "Pipe the King."

Mary was only with us this last year, but during that time she has won her way into the hearts of many with her cleverness and individuality.

HENRY GIRARD

"C" Club; Football Team '31, '32.

A boy with a heart as good as his football playing.

SAM ZUROVSKY

"C" Club; Track Team '31, '32.

A likable fellow with a friendly smile and an enviable track record.

SENIOR WILL

WE, the Senior Class of nineteen hundred and thirty-two of Central Senior High School, city of Kansas City, county of Jackson, and state of Missouri, regarded as capable of moderately rational cerebration, moderately accurate understanding, and at the same time appreciating the probability (1) of impending expiration, do hereby make and publish this, our last will and testament, thus nullifying any and all preceding documents of disposal:

To Mr. Dubach, we bequeath one (1) private gymnasium, in which to regain the energy exerted toward the betterment of the outgoing class.

To Mr. J. Lyman Laughlin, we leave a goodly number of incorrigibles, believing said individuals fully qualified to require his persistent and tireless attention.

To the Juniors, we leave one (1) ream of complete, comprehensive, and considerate P. G. courses.

To the Sophomores, we donate a supply of highly-colored maps of the building, for their amusement and information.

An exhaustive leaflet on "How to Recapture Charm and Popularity" goes to the popular Slaches.

We present the Websters with four (4) iron gavels and four (4) burly sergeants-at-arms for the ensuing year.

The blushing Aristonians will receive a severe shock to learn that their extreme modesty has been recognized and appreciated.

To the Minervas go one (1) catnip mouse and thirty (30) pairs of rubber-tired roller skates.

The Franklins, in recognition of their conspicuous virility, will be given one (1) can of powdered carborundum tooth powder, to be awarded the lucky member finishing the term with club grades.

To the Thaliens, we bequeath one (1) gross of limburger bath cubes, hoping that they may thus acquire distinction.

To the Delphians, we pass on the suggestion that they get a brother club.

For the Emersons, we leave one (1) double-decked perambulator, together with thirty (30) pink pacifiers, in order that they may reach school in safety and content.

It witness whereof, we, the Senior Class, have hereunto subscribed our name and affixed our seal, this first day of April, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two.

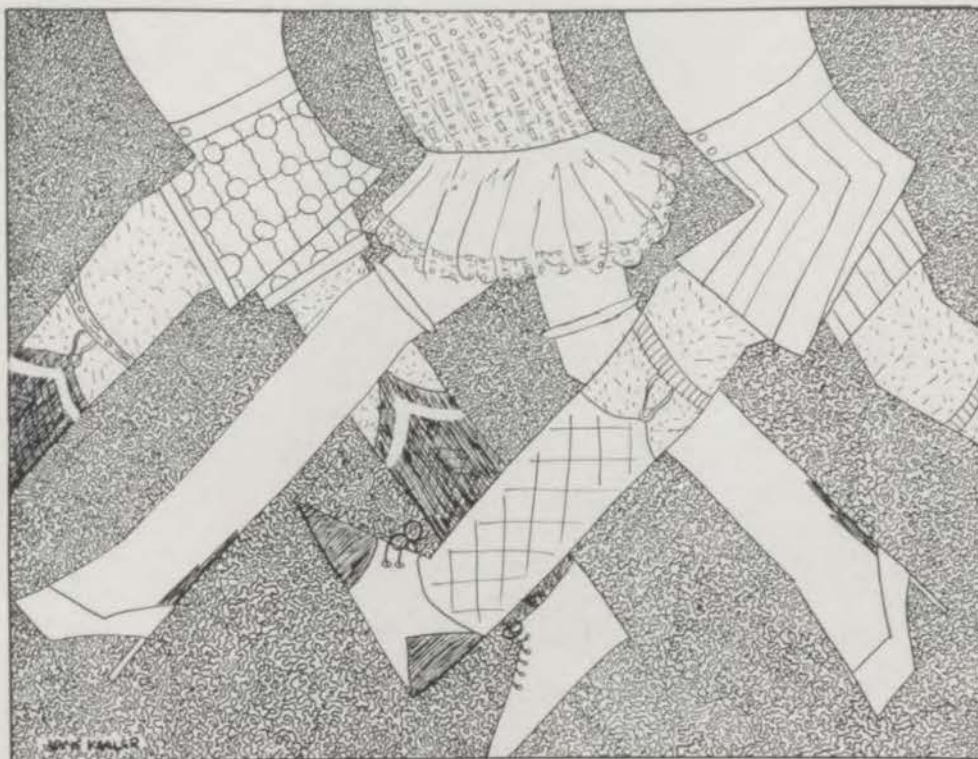

In conclusion whereof, we do, hereby, appoint, as executor and executrix of this will, Mr. G. R. Watson and Miss Katherine Baer, respectively.

THE SENIOR CLASS.

Per Jean Wright.

Subscribed at the end by the said Senior Class, testator named in the foregoing will, in the presence of each of us, the above was declared by said class to be its last will and testament, and then we did affix our names as witnesses thereto, at the end of the will.

PERSONNEL!

IN THE SPOTLIGHT

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

The National Honor Society is the only purely honorary society at Central. The members are elected each year by a vote of the entire faculty. Membership is determined on the basis of scholarship, extra-curricular activities, and character.

To be eligible one must rank in the upper twenty-five per cent of the class. However, not more than ten per cent of the class may be elected.

Honors for extra-curricular activities are based on competition, popularity, and appointment. No student can count more than two honors in the five point column and minor honors are also limited. In no case can two honors in the same activity be counted, either by duplicating or by pyramiding.

A faculty committee selects those eligible. No student who has ever been guilty of dishonest conduct or truancy is eligible. The object of the National Honor Society is to create enthusiasm for scholarship, to stimulate desire to render service, to promote leadership, and to develop character in the students of America's secondary schools.

This year 75 scholarship points were required at the end of the first term of this year. To this number is added three times the total number of honor points each pupil has obtained. Then the upper two-fifths of those eligible in scholarship and character become members of the Honor Society.

INTERSOCIETY CONTEST, 1932

WHEN the last bit of shouting had died away in the distance and the remaining fragments of crepe paper were torn from the seats, it became known that the Central Webster Club and the Central Franklin Club had amassed a total of fourteen points each, thereby gaining joint possession of the William Powell cup.

The Minerva Literary Society was second with a total of eleven points and the Aristonian Literary Society placed third with a total of eight points. The Delphian Literary Society, the Thalian Literary Society, the Central Emerson Club and the Society of Literature and History took the remaining places in order as named. The Slaches and Emersons tied for last place, however.

In the written events, Jean Wright, a Webster, won a gold medal in essay. Louise Hawthorne, a Minerva, won a silver, and Preston Russell, a member of the Central Franklin Club, was third and won a bronze medal. Margaret Ramage, an Aristonian, placed first in verse. Katherine Edelman, a Minerva, and Eugene Brownson, a Webster, placed second and third, respectively.

George McFarland, a Franklin, received a gold medal for his story. Betty Botkin, a Thalian, placed second, and Dorothea Sorenson, a Delphian, was third. In the oral events, Daniel Guffin, a Webster, carried off first honors in oration. Second place was won by Helen Weinshienk, a Delphian. Third place was taken by Ruth Learned, an Aristonian. In the extemporaneous speaking, first place went to Betty Jane Moyer, a member of the Minerva Literary Society. The Central Franklin Club, with Hanan Wedlan as their representative, placed second. Harriett Dunmire, an Aristonian, was third. First place in declamation went to Leonard Belove, a Franklin; James Redmond, a Webster, was second, and Catherine Gray, an Aristonian, was third.

Due to the fact that there could be no all-night Intersociety parties, a mixer was held in the gymnasium after the contest. The gymnasium was gayly decorated in the colors of the eight societies. Dancing proved to be the principal amusement, and the first Intersociety mixer was voted a big success. With the spirit and enthusiasm it fostered, it brought to a fitting close the forty-sixth annual Intersociety Contest.

CENTRAL CHORAL AND GLEE CLUBS

The music department, under the direction of Miss Mari F. Whitney, is composed of two groups—the Choral and Glee Clubs.

The Glee Club was organized in 1908 and has long been a factor in the success of Central's musical productions. The Central Choral Club was organized in 1910, and has as its advisers Miss Mari F. Whitney and Miss Virginia Oldham. They, too, have made Central's operas in the past a huge success and have brought many honors in music to the school.

This year no opera or musical festival were given. In former years Central has taken an active part in the festival held in Convention Hall in the spring.

Last fall they presented a program on a Sunday night at Grand Avenue Temple. They also sang several selections at the Independence Avenue Methodist Church.

The final event of the year was the Inter-High School solo contest held May 14 at Westport Junior High.

THE CENTRALIAN 1932

HARRY SLAYMAKER, Coach

The one outstanding factor of Coach Slaymaker's success in the athletic realm, which bespeaks his character, is the clean sportsmanlike type of playing he teaches his team men.

As well as turning out a football and track team each year, Coach Slaymaker also instructs five one-hour gymnasium classes, in which he teaches the same principles of sportsmanship.

FRANK GUEMPLE, Coach

Every year it is the assignment of Mr. Frank Guemple to produce a first and second basketball team representing the school, and to assist in the coaching of the football teams. This year Coach Guemple turned out a basketball team, which, although it suffered defeat from Paseo at the last moment, climbed to second place and near victory for the interscholastic championship.

MR. T. E. TALMADGE, Business Manager

Providing equipment is another important phase of athletics. To Mr. T. E. Talmadge this job falls. For the past 16 years, Mr. Talmadge has managed the financial department of athletics. Another of his experience and abilities for this job would be hard to find.

MANUEL STOELTZING, Football Captain

Captain Manuel Stoeltzing, better known as "Ug" or "Sauerkraut" by his teammates, loved to play the game of football, and he played it well. Captain Stoeltzing was a powerhouse at the position of guard and in the line, and he often left a gaping hole between the opponent's center and tackle.

He received a berth on the Star's Mythical Eleven for his prowess in football.

EDWARD IRONSMITH, Basketball Captain

Ed Ironsmith is one of the very few three-lettermen at Central. He was not only a member of football, basketball and track teams, but was also placed as an end on the All-Star Interscholastic football team of Kansas City.

In the basketball contests, Captain Ironsmith, jumping center, decided the starting plays and signaled them to his four team men.

SAM ZUROVSKY, Track Captain

Unlike many athletes, Sam Zurovsky specialized in track alone, but in his specialty he was undeniably successful. As a broad jumper, Sam broke all records at Central last year by doing the unexpected. As a dash and relay man, Zurovsky also excelled.

BRADFORD SMITH, Head Cheerleader

Brad was chosen head cheerleader after he had given a successful demonstration of his cheerleading abilities before the Student Council. Like his older brother, he was always up and ready to shout and encourage the players.

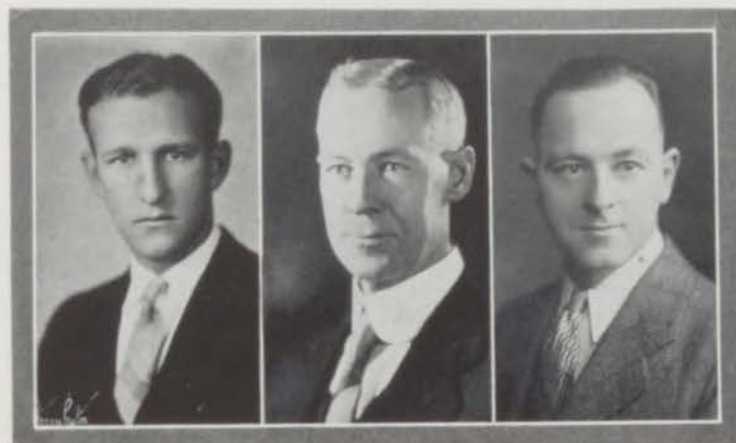

NEIL MURPHY, Junior Cheerleader

We shall never forget Neil for the pep and enthusiasm he fostered throughout the games. The "Horse and Buggy" yell was one of his specialties which really put him over.

JAMES BRADFIELD, Sophomore Cheerleader

Jimmie, although short in stature, nevertheless had a husky voice and the necessary amount of vivacity that goes to make up a good cheerleader.

WINNING a letter in athletics is considered an achievement at Central. One must win his letter by successful participation in any of the three major sports, which are football, basketball and track, or the two minor sports, which are golf and tennis.

This year there were fewer lettermen made than ever before, due to the fact that no underclassman received a letter. There were two three-letter men this year. They are Linn Dannahower and Edward Ironsmith, who won letters in the three major sports.

There were a total of thirty-one lettermen, including the letters made in all five sports.

With only three lettermen back from last year, Coach Slaymaker fashioned a Central eleven which gave an agreeable account of itself. Football was a major sport at Central in a true sense of the word. As a team the fact that co-operation is essential to success was proved, and that whatsoever the outcome of the game, it pays to "be a good sport," or "a good loser."

The Central Eagles came in second in the Interscholastic League by defeating Northeast and then Paseo. They upheld their honor in both games, for a Viking or Pirate eleven has never defeated a Central team.

When the All-Star Interscholastic football team was chosen, Central realized that three of her team-men were given a berth on that team. Jess Trowbridge, at center, Manuel Stoeltzing at guard, and Ed Ironsmith at end, were given places. Each was outstanding in his own phase of play and deserved his place on the mythical eleven.

The fellows also learned that to stand alone means defeat, and team work is essential to success. This code always won for the team when opposing play was not too strong.

THE CENTRALIAN 1932

FIRST GAME

By a score of 7-6, the Central Eagles opened the football season of 1931 by defeating the Wyandotte Bulldogs. The game was played at night in the Wyandotte stadium. It was in this contest that a long flip to Ironsmith gave Central her touchdown. Schultz kicked the point which cinched the game.

SECOND GAME

Southwest proved the second mark to fall before the blue and white to the tune of 20-0. During the Southwest game, Linn Dannahower made one of the longest runs that has been recorded in the Interscholastic league for some time. Schultz and Phares also made some outstanding plays.

THIRD GAME

Westport made a strong comeback in the last quarter of the feature game on Central's field to defeat the Blue Eagles 12-6. Central held a six point lead until the contest was reversed in the last period. Not an easy game, but a well-earned victory for Westport.

FOURTH GAME

Turning the tables on St. Joseph Central, the Eagles defeated St. Joseph 14 to 2 on the H. H. Holmes' Memorial Field. This completes the thirty-eighth consecutive game in which St. Joe and Central have competed.

FIFTH GAME

The Eagles were humbled by the well-oiled machine of the East Bears; the score being 18-12. The defeat of this game caused Central to lose the city championship. The two touchdowns for Central were scored as a result of a pass made to Ironsmith, and a run made by Dannahower.

SIXTH GAME

The Central Eagles completely smothered the Manual eleven by scoring a tally of 33-0. Dean Phares was responsible for the first two touchdowns.

SEVENTH GAME

By defeating the Northeast Vikings, the Central Eagles moved to a tie for second place in the Kansas City High School Football league. The score was 14-0 and was one of the hardest fought battles of the season.

EIGHTH GAME

Central won a decisive victory over Paseo, the city champions, making a score of 18-6. This placed us second in the Interscholastic football tournament.

The football second, trained by Coach Frank Guemple to receive the attacks of the first team, does not receive as much publicity for their good work as they should. In this type of sports practice these boys are built up into first team material, and at the same time offer the first team the opportunity to develop into an effectual unified machine. Without a loyal second team group, the first team would stand no chance whatsoever to rank high in the Interscholastic League games.

It matters not so much that they win in the second team league games for their work is reflected in the results of the first team's success.

This year Coach Frank Guemple trained a squad of Eagle Cagers which, until the last game, were in the run for first place for the Interscholastic Championship of Greater Kansas City. Central and Paseo were tied for first place. Each team had won four games and lost one, but fate proved cruel to Central, and so Paseo was the unquestioned victor after winning the game by a score of 17 to 11.

Headed by Captain Edward Ironsmith, the Eagles battled many good contestants for the title. All who saw the East-Central game will never forget it, for the Central Basketeers proved their worth to be true blue and white.

THE CENTRALIAN 1932

FIRST GAME

Central opened the 1932 Interscholastic basketball season with a 23 to 15 victory over Southwest. A crowd of approximately 7,500 attended the first games and somewhat cleared the financial outlook for the season.

The blue and white men ran away from the Indians in the final period with superior speed and plays.

SECOND GAME

22 to 19 spelled victory for the Blue Eagles in their round with the Westport Tigers. It was a close game and a hard fight. Sample and Kington proved themselves superior in every phase of the game.

THIRD GAME

Sinking a goal from the middle of the floor with less than a minute to play in the second overtime period, Linn Dannahower, guard, gave his team the needed points to defeat East. The game was the most exciting one of the entire season.

FOURTH GAME

Scoring 34 points, St. Joseph Central, the ancient contestant of Kansas City Central, was able to defeat an Eagle five which tallies 27 points. The game was not as exciting as are most interscholastic basketball games.

FIFTH GAME

Defeat was marked for the first time on the Central High School Interscholastic league basketball record, when the cagers of Manual High School defeated the Blue Eagles by a 12 to 7 score. The playing of the Central team was almost a complete loss. The defense shown was very ragged.

SIXTH GAME

With the making of four points in the waning minutes of play, Central emerged a victor over the defending champion basketeers of Northeast High School by a 17 to 14 score. Northeast was one of the strong teams in the city, and defeating her put Central in first place for the championship against Paseo.

SEVENTH GAME

The seventh game, which was with Paseo, was one of the most exciting of the season, although it resulted in Central's defeat, the score being 11 to 17. The game was very close and held the intense interest of the crowd throughout the entire game.

EIGHTH GAME

An all-victorious Rockhurst team beat Central with an edge of seven points. Dannahower and Sample showed up well.

NINTH GAME

For the first time in the history of Central, the Wyandotte basketball team was defeated by the Central Eagles.

SECOND TEAM BASKETBALL REVIEW

If the publicity of the second football team is sparse, the reserve basketball squad is much more unheard of in activity. The reserve basketball team is used as a basket for the first squad during the present and on-coming season. For that reason it is much harder to develop a second basketball team, balanced in play and maneuvering, than it is to produce a first team on the same plane.

This year, Alex George, who graduated from Central in '31, took over the coaching of the second team and did a praiseworthy job of it. As is the object of the second team football squad, so it is the function of the reserve basketball team to provide competition and new material for the coming year.

WESTPORT MEET

The Blue Eagles, out for revenge, after having lost the Wyandotte track meet, retaliated by twisting the Westport Tigers' tail and winning the events by scoring 50 points against the Tigers' 41. Although the Eagle team won, it was not without work, for the Westport stars, Reed and Walker, gave Central plenty of trouble.

The 100-yard dash was won by Zurovsky in 10 2-10 seconds. Wright captured the 440 in the fast time of 53 2-10 seconds. Walker of Westport won first in the high hurdles event. Reed of the Tigers placed first in the 220 by nosing out Zurovsky at the last second. Taber of Central won the high jump at 5 feet 6½ inches. Martinek of Westport heaved the shot 39 feet 6¾ inches to win first place in that event, while on the other hand Yoakum of Central won the 880 by clocking up the fast time of 2 minutes 10 5-10 seconds. Higgings placed first in the pole vault, but the Eagle relay team was beaten because someone on the team of the blue and white dropped a baton.

PASEO MEET

Although the score of the Paseo-Central track meet was 62 to 29, it proved one of the most interesting and exciting of the season. The Paseo Pirates had been played up considerably before the field events with the Eagles, but were considerably taken down afterwards.

Another brilliant performance was displayed by Zurovsky, the skipper of the track team, who opened the meet by running the 100-yard dash in 10 4-10 seconds, to beat Barnett of Paseo, who followed in a close second. The three places in the 440 were taken by, respectively, Jean Wright, Fell and Cheyney. Wright's fast time for the race was 52 9-10 seconds.

THE CENTRALIAN 1932

The 120-yard high hurdles were won by Ramage after Dannahower and the Paseo men were disqualified for knocking down hurdles. Taber captured first place in the high jump; Higgins first place in the shot put, and Zurovsky again in the 220-yard dash. Dannahower took first in the 520-yard low hurdles, and the relay and broad jump were also captured by the team and Captain Zurovsky.

The Blue and White team got off to an early lead when Captain Sam Zurovsky captured the first honors in the 50-yard dash; Grayson and Yoakum, respectively, scored third and fourth places in the 880-yard event, while Wright held third place in the 440's.

Central displayed a winning relay team which showed up well for the first meet of the year by capturing first place. The Central members of the relay were Zurovsky, Ramage, Gall and Wright.

WYANDOTTE MEET

The second track meet of the season proved too much for Captain Zurovsky and his Central track squad, for the Wyandotte athletes carried the day with a 62 to 29 victory.

Wyandotte won a first in every event, with Central scoring eight seconds and five thirds. A good conclusion at the end of the meet seemed that Kansas produced good runners.

STATE AND CITY MEETS

Because of the impossibility of printing the entrants of the 1931 state meet at Columbia last year, and the city meet also, the Centralian takes this opportunity to give you the primary results of both.

In the state meet the entrants from Central who participated were Charles Andrus, Bill Bayless, Bill Gossett, Allen Keyes, James Litrell, Bob Montgomery, Francis Morales, Maurice Schwartz, Donald Shutty, Calvin Smith, Sam Webber and Sam Zurovsky. Zurovsky qualified in the six place finals of the broad jumping event; Smith qualified in the 100-yard dash, the 220-yard dash and the low hurdles; Litrell and Morales qualified in the high jump; and Montgomery and Schwartz qualified in the pole vault. The state meet was stiff competition for the Eagles, and although a few of her entrants qualified, Central was not able to place.

The city meet proved that Central had a right to second place, that Paseo held third, and that Northeast was victor. For the last fifteen years, since 1917, Northeast and Central High schools have held the first places in point totals. Northeast now has eight victories to her credit, through winning first place eight times to Central's seven out of fifteen.

GIRL'S ATHLETIC REVIEW

ANOTHER year of successful ventures in the girls' athletic department has passed. More and varied activities have been carried on this year than ever before. Miss Mary Henschel and Miss Hazel Purnell planned their course this year with a view to interesting every girl in at least one line of outside athletic work. The bulletin board kept the girls posted concerning every activity.

As in previous years, the gymnasium classes sponsored the annual fall and spring gymnasium parties for all the girls in the school. These parties brought out "home talent" and introduced many new girls to Central customs. The fall party was given in the form of a Hallowe'en Frolic, with Bobbie Greeding as general manager. The spring entertainment was a "kid party."

For the first time the girls were organized in new groups for participation in outside sports. A tennis tournament was carried on in both the fall and spring between the various classes. Everyone in the gym department participated at some time in this tournament. Early in the season a riding club was organized. The girls rode on Monday afternoons and received instruction in the art of horse back riding. This was one of the most popular of all the outside sports. Several girls ice-skated at the Pla-Mor with "Big Brother Bob."

Tumbling and "stunts" played an important part in the daily class work this year. Since there was no dancing instruction, more inter-class games have been played. Swimming has always played an important role in every girl's physical-training curricula, and this year was no exception. More girls passed the life-saving tests this year than ever before. A swimming meet was held, as in previous years, by the various girls' literary societies. An annual inter-class swimming meet was also held.

The two athletic instructors were ably assisted in the coaching of the various sports by girls who had shown excellence in that particular line. These girls were also chosen for their sportsmanship as well as for their leadership abilities. The student sport managers and their respective sports are: Thelma Foley, soccer; Virginia Dicus, hockey; Evelyn Maloy, basketball; Eva Davis, baseball; Bobbie Greeding, hiking; Ruth Mathews, volleyball, and Pauline Horn and Alice Cousins, swimming.

Besides the annual season of major sports, a new group of Intra-Murals came into existence. Class teams were organized in nine-court basketball, giant volleyball and hit-pin baseball. A general tournament was held to determine which among the several groups was the champion.

HOCKEY REVIEW

THE girls in the gymnasium department started the year with a bang by entering whole-heartedly into the first major sport of the season. Although hockey caused the girls many bumps, bruises and sore shins, it has still held its time-honored place in the hearts of the sport enthusiasts.

Virginia Dicus was the student manager and Miss Mary Henschel was the coach. Early in the season they chose the teams and trained them for the championship.

The hockey season ended with the seniors emerging victorious. The seniors were undefeated and conquered the Sophomore I team 4 to 0; Sophomore II, 4 to 0; and the Juniors, 1 to 0. The Sophomore I team finished as runner-up, having defeated the Juniors by a 3 to 1 score.

The Senior team was composed of Virginia Dicus (Capt.), Martha Goss, Helen Minnick, Thelma Foley, Eva Davis, Evelyn Maloy, Helen Hildebrand, Ruth Mathews, Marlene Lawrence, Elizabeth Lambador, Virginia Lindsey and Mary Wheeler.

Those girls on the Junior squad are Jean Saint (Capt.), Ona Lee James, Virginia Shanahan, Cynthia Bigelow, Martha Goss, Elizabeth Browne, Emma Breckenridge, Irene Arnold, Sarah Hall, Jane Depher, Elizabeth Shepard, Betty DeGuehery, Elizabeth Steuck, Dorothy Daugherty, Florence Sanell.

These Sophomores compose the first team: Frances Curry (Capt.), Marian Grayson, Wilma Tanner, Wilma Mahne, Mary Ellen Manning, Elizabeth Countryman, Viola DeGasperi, Garnet Wollam, Lucena Jaegar, Mildred Dorfled, Rose Lombardino, Lorene Morris, Dorothy Davis, Vesta Roberts. The second team was composed of Peggy O'Connor, Jean Bush, Anabelle George, Margaret Phillips, Minnie Adelman, Dorothy Jean Russel, Helen Peterson, Mary Margaret Burge, Rosalie Margoline, Betty Scott, Frances Small, Lucille Rasnick, Nellie Gaugh.

The All-Star team included the following girls: Virginia Dicus, Ona Lee James, Wilma Mahne, Eva Bates, Evelyn Maloy, Emma Breckenridge, Susan Hanrahan, Marlene Lawrence, Lucena Jaeger, Lorene Morris, Mary Wheeler.

Those who received honorable mention were Thelma Foley, Ruth Mathews and Frances Curry.

SOCCKER REVIEW

NO longer can soccer be called a new sport at Central. It has now been one of the major sports for three years and has proved immensely popular because of the large amount of action throughout the game.

Miss Mary Henschel was the instructor of soccer. She was assisted by Thelma Foley, student sport manager.

The first game, played on December 14, in which the Sophomore I team played the Juniors, came to an exciting finish with a scoreless tie. On the same evening, the Sophomore II team played the Senior team. The Sophomores put up a good fight, but lost to the more powerful Senior team with a score of 3 to 0. The third game, played between the Seniors and Sophomore I team, December 15, ended with a score of 1 to 0 in favor of the Seniors. On the same evening, the Junior team was narrowly defeated by the Sophomore II team, the score being 1 to 0. On December 16 the Sophomore I and II teams played a game which ended in a scoreless tie. The Senior and Junior teams, in the final game of the season, produced the same result.

The girls who composed the several teams are as follows: Senior team: Virginia Dicus, Thelma Foley, Helen Minnick, Ethel Wyss, Eva Davis, Ruth Mathews, Rowena Patterson, Elizabeth Lambader, Virginia Lindsey, Mary Wheeler, Evelyn Maloy, Helen Hildebrand.

BASKETBALL REVIEW

BASKETBALL is an old-time favorite with most girls. Each year, however, brings a little more skill and a little more enthusiasm into the sport. Girls' basketball is not played the same as boys' basketball, but just as much practice, technique and thought are employed.

Evelyn Maloy was the student manager this year. Her duty was to assist Miss Hazel Purnell in the training and choosing of the teams.

The Seniors won the championship in the basketball tournament by downing the Juniors in the final game of the season with a score of 29 to 23. The Senior squad had played the Sophomores and Juniors twice and had defeated them each time. The Juniors won and lost two games. The Sophomores were unable to score a victory.

The following girls played on the Senior first team: Ruth Mathews, Lucy Lee Lowe, Evelyn Maloy, Lillian Franklin, Virginia Dicus, Virginia Lindsey, Thelma Foley, Eva Davis, Alma Manz and Janice Peebles. The Senior second team consisted of Helen Minnick, Helen Hildebrand, Katherine Edelman, Ona Lee James, Jeanette Baldwin, Mary Wheeler, Virginia Lucas and Rowena Patterson.

Those on the Junior first team were Betty English, Jean Saint, Elizabeth Shepard, Betty Browne, Virginia Shanahan, Susan Hanrahan, Emma Breckenridge, Jerry Howard, Frances Curry and Wilma Mahne. The Junior second team is composed of Alice Cousins, Cynthia Bigelow, Rosemary Cenci, Betty DeGuehery, Helen Peterson, Katherine Wilborn, Jane Depher, Dorothea Daugherty, Ruth Englund and Effie Henthorn.

The Sophomore first team is composed of Eleanor Tudhope, Ruth Maloy, Mary Manning, Lillian Eddins, Betty Scott, Viola Degasperri, Maxine Runnion, Isabelle Woolf and Margaret Bowles. The second team consists of Virginia Byard, Alice Keller, Sara Lesser, Rita Rigdon, Marty Burge, Vesta Roberts, Dorothy Kopplin, Wilda Tanner, Dorothy Borchert and Rosemary Delap.

INTRAMURAL SPORTS

For the first time in several years Intramural sports have been stressed practically as much as the major activities. The Riding Club was the first outside organized activity. It was a novel thing for most girls and they were enthusiastic about their rides.

The girls rode each Monday afternoon at the Horner Riding Academy. Here they received elementary instructions in the art of horse-back riding. The activity was carried on in both the fall and spring. The girls are indeed getting more crazy over horses, horses, horses.

Several volleyball tournaments were held this year, using both the giant and small volley balls. These games were played between the various gymnasium classes in order to determine the championship.

Each class, when organized into a team, chose a name which was carried throughout the year. No longer were the teams known according to their teacher or hour. Some of the names chosen by the teams were Hunkie Dories, A. B. C.'s and Central Winners.

The tournament in nine-court basketball was held between these organized class teams. In this game the court is divided into nine individual courts. One girl only from each team plays in each one of the nine courts. After a score is made the girls rotate to the next court.

The Hunkie Dories were winners of this tournament. The Central Winners were second.

Tennis tournaments were held in both the fall and spring in which every girl participated. Games were played first between all the members of a class and then these winners played the winners of the other classes.

In the fall Jean Bush and Mary Carlton were first hour winners. In the second hour Virginia Dicus and Lillian Eddins were best. Esther Marcy was the winner in the third hour class. Elizabeth Shepard and Pearl Steffie won in fifth hour, and Thelma Foley won in sixth hour.

As a climax to each season of successful sports, the teams held a banquet at which all-star teams were announced.

VOLLEYBALL REVIEW

VOLLEYBALL is one of the "Major Minor" sports. Both the giant and small volleyballs are used. There were no Senior, Junior or Sophomore teams, but games were played between the various gymnasium classes to determine the champion.

Ruth Mathews, as student sport manager, arranged and directed the schedule of games. Both teachers instructed the girls in their respective classes.

The giant volleyball tournament was won by the Hunkie Dories. The A. B. C.'s were runners-up. The Central Winners were victorious in the small volleyball tournament with the Hunkie Dories running them a close second. It was extremely hard for the girls to become accustomed to a small ball after playing with the huge giant volleyball.

HIKING REVIEW

FOR the first time in several years, hiking has been established as one of the more important minor sports. An exciting and close contest was held between the different groups organized for this purpose.

The different teams were known as the Brown, White, Purple, Green, Red, Orange, Blue, and Black teams, and the Globe Trotters. Their progress was marked on a map which was posted on the large bulletin board. On this map, the only line was Highway 50, from here to St. Louis. The distance that each girl hiked was counted separately as a part of her group's advance toward the goal of St. Louis.

The Green hiking team was the most successful of all, reaching St. Louis and then going even farther. The leader of this group was Virginia Gladish.

BASEBALL REVIEW

BASEBALL is "America's Favorite Sport" and from its popularity at Central one might believe it to be the favorite sport here. At the very beginning of spring weather all the baseball enthusiasts begin training for the baseball tournament.

Miss Mary Henschel and Eva Davis trained and coached long and industriously before the final games of the season. The teams chosen were the very best the Seniors, Juniors and Sophomores had to offer. Competition was indeed keen, because this sport did not require any particular stature.

This was the final sport of the school year and it went over with a bang. All the players were anxious to finish up their season with the same spirit in which it was begun.

SWIMMING REVIEW

SWIMMING has always held an important place in the sport life of Central's girl athletes.

There are three classes of swimming activities: The every day class work, the swimming meets, and the life-saving groups. In class the girls are instructed in the elementary factors of swimming. Here Miss Henschel and Miss Purnell work with the weaker swimmers.

Alice Cousins and Pauline Horn worked together as swimming managers. It was their duty to keep a record of the girls in the life-saving groups and in the swimming meets.

SWIMMING REVIEW, Continued

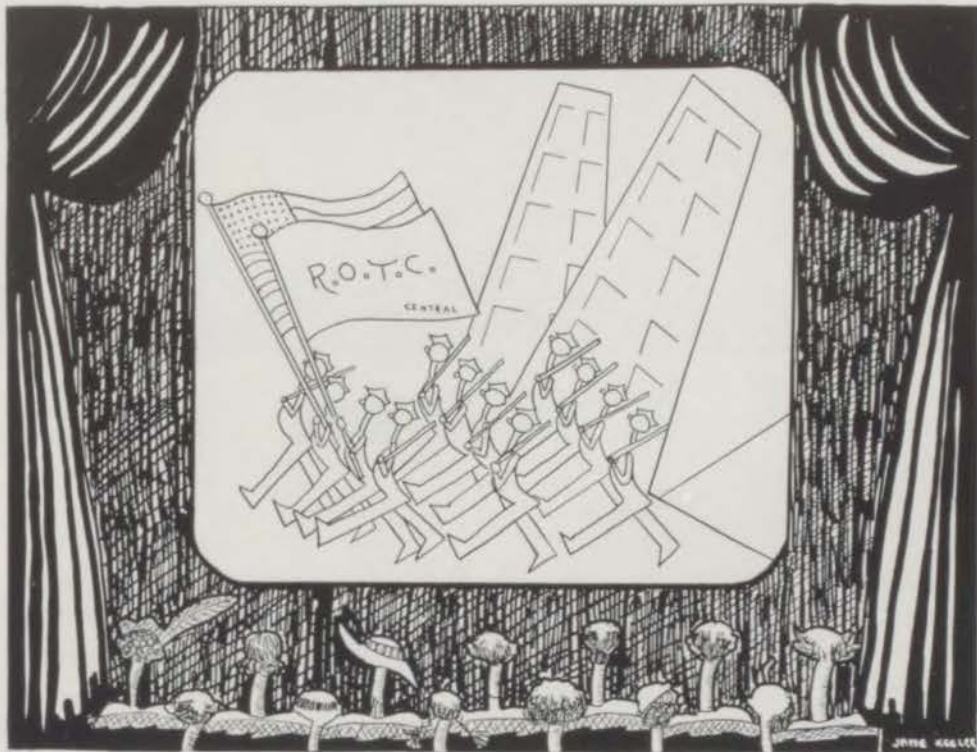

Life-saving was divided into three groups. The first group was able to pass its test in the fall.

The Inter-Society swimming meet was held on March 30. Representatives from all the girls' clubs participated in this event. The Delphians were winners, getting an aggregate of 32 points in the meet. The Aristonians were second with 28 points, and the Slaches were third with 23 points.

Fay Black, a Slache, was individual high point swimmer. She had 14 points. Alice Cousins, an Aristonian, was second with 13 points. Bobbie Greding, a Delphian, was third with 11 points. Jane Depher and Atha Morlan, both Delphians, had 8 points, thereby gaining fourth place.

In back stroke for form the winners were Fay Black, first; Alice Cousins, second; Thelma Foley, third. In back stroke for speed, Fay Black was first; Bobbie Greding, second; Ettabelle Huggins, third. In side stroke for form, Mary Carlton and Sarah Hall were first, and Vera Overly third. In side-stroke for speed, Atha Morlan was first; Mary Virginia LaRue, second; Thelma Foley, third. In breast-stroke for form, Jane Depher was first; Frances Wright, second; Mary Carlton, third. In breast-stroke for speed, Lorene Morris was first and Atha Morlan second.

The free style was won by Vera Overly. Virginia Busher was second. Alice Cousins was first in porpoise; Bobbie Greding, second; Vera Overly, third. In underwater swimming, Alice Cousins was first; Fay Black, second; Jane Depher, third; Bobbie Greding was first in diving; Mary Virginia LaRue, second; Fay Black, third. The Delphians won the relay race; the Aristonians were second; and Thaliens, third.

THE WESTERN FRONT

Central R. O. T. C. Battalion.

R. O. T. C. REVIEW

Each year the idea of military training in high schools is taking increasing hold upon the citizens and students of Kansas City. Central's Battalion has greatly aided in forming this opinion. For the last seven years Central's unit has held an honor rating issued by the War Department. Few schools in the United States can equal this record.

Central's rifle teams have had a majority of championships since this popular sport was formed on the basis of inter-high school competition. At the tenth annual circus held in Convention Hall on April 15, the Central Battalion put on a very difficult form of military drill, the Formal Guard Mount.

With such a glorious record behind them, the Central Battalion may hope to forge ahead to even greater victory in the coming years.

SERGEANT CLIFFORD MACDONALD

Sergeant MacDonald, since he assumed the duties of Instructor of Military Science and Tactics, has become increasingly popular with both the cadets and the school at large.

Sergeant MacDonald has been in the service for twelve years. In 1920 he enlisted at the Jefferson Barracks. Later he was transferred to Camp Washington. Then, with the 59th Coast Artillery corps, he went to the Philippine Islands, and then again returned to the United States. In 1924 Sergeant MacDonald came to Kansas City to begin his work under Captain Mitchell.

His worth in military instruction has been seen by the fact that Central made a clean sweep of the last R. O. T. C. field meet by taking first place in all events.

Sergeant MacDonald is greatly interested in rifle marksmanship, and is, himself, one of the best shots in the seventh corps area.

Sergeant MacDonald's ability to relate incidents from his vast store of experiences in following the colors half around the world has made for him many friends. His jovialty and patience have gained for him the respect of Central's Battalion.

CADET COL. TOM SUTHERLAND

SPONSOR COL. KATHERYN CASSIDY

Tom Sutherland was appointed Cadet Colonel by Captain Harry E. Mitchell. After a second ballot, Katheryn Cassidy was elected Sponsor Colonel.

The Cadet Colonel was chosen because of his accuracy, character, dependability and trustworthiness from the R. O. T. C. Unit. The Sponsor Colonel was presented her cape at the annual R. O. T. C. Circus held at Convention Hall.

THE PROP

"A LUCKY BREAK"

ON the nights of December 4 and 5 our annual fall play, this year the sprightly comedy, "A Lucky Break," was presented in the auditorium under the able direction of Miss Virginia Robertson.

John Bruce, a successful stock broker of New York, returns to his home town, Matasquam, Connecticut, to consult with his business manager, Martin, in regard to purchasing Strawberry Hill for oil prospects. When he arrives, he finds his old school-mate, Mrs. Martha Mullet, the proprietor of a quiet hotel which has a few guests. This hotel is located near large summer resorts, and persons who wish to be seen in society and cannot afford higher rates, come to The Mullet. Mrs. Barrett, a guest, arranges for her daughter, Claudia, to meet this wealthy young man with the hope that he may be attracted and wish to marry her. Mrs. Mullet also has aspirations for her daughter, Nora, who is a talented singer, but is handicapped by insufficient funds. Claudia loves Tommy Lansing, an artist, who also lives at the hotel. In order for Mrs. Barrett to allow Claudia more freedom, Tommy arranges with Claudia's consent for him to pay Nora attention when Mrs. Barrett is present.

Uncle Abner, the owner of Strawberry Hill, is a stingy old fellow, who owns virtually all of Matasquam. He has little faith in John Bruce, as he was induced to buy worthless bonds supposedly endorsed by Bruce. When the stockbroker attempts to buy Strawberry Hill, Ketcham refuses, as he desires to make it into a cemetery. Benny, his young nephew, who terrorizes the hotel with his trombone, is commissioned by Abner to sell lots in the cemetery under penalty of being disowned. Martin suggests to Bruce that he buy the lots by proxy through his employees in New York. He does without the knowledge of Benny or Abner, and thus buys Strawberry Hill.

Bruce becomes jealous by Tommy's paying so much attention to Nora. During a party at the hotel one evening Tommy and Claudia decide to elope. Claudia leaves an unsigned note explaining her action. Mrs. Mullet finds the note and believes Tommy has eloped with Nora. At that moment Nora enters the room and Mrs. Barrett discovers that it was Claudia. After the party, Abner encounters Bruce in the lobby, and is informed of the purchase of Strawberry Hill. He is infuriated and when he questions Benny, he discharges him. Bruce tells Benny he will employ him. Later in the evening Bruce discovers that Nora loves him.

Maxine Williams, although greatly grieved over the death of her mother during that week, went on with her part of Elmiere Ludine with the others in the cast. All through the play her words are spoken with just the right amount of emphasis and intonation to bring out the best quality of her part. Catching lines combined with unaffected acting made the audience realize that her work was that of the best.

Bella MacWatt, played by Lois Hermanson and Doris Brown, one of the social elite, with her children Priscilla and Percival, Polly Ann Sanderson and Lawrence Dunham, who make little or no peace in the hotel; Alchiba and Alphecca Dawn, Dorothea Sorenson, Peggy Nelson, Mary Emma Dunn, and Betty Jane Myer, spinsters who simply adore nature, provide humorous situations in the play. These two sisters employ the services of the dancing teachers Var, Norman Sturger and Leonard Belove, and Gura Charente, Betty Ann Darby, Manon Bell, who lead them a merry pace through the woods while attempting to teach the many intricate movements of aesthetic dancing.

The performances of Marvin Holmes and James Redmond as John Bruce on Friday and Saturday nights, respectively, were unusually well done and showed talent. Richard Scott and Jimmy Coy as Tommy, were two very gallant lovers who played opposite the capable and charming Mary Lane and Martha Schoonover as Claudia. The part of Nora, played by Margaret Ramage and Dorothy Myers, was excellent. Poise and a gracious manner found a place in the audience's heart through Mrs. Mullet, played by Ruth Bordner and Marian Feddersen.

George Lucas and Max Cooper proved very capable in their portrayal of the hot-tempered Uncle Abner. Joseph Kort and James Cornett showed ability as the business manager, Martin. Eleanor Sandy and Barbara Dornseif were very pleasing to the audience in the part of Mrs. Barrett.

Spivens, Tokin, and Watkins, were played by Robert Jolliff, Gregory Good, and Bill Simms, who displayed their talent both nights.

New scenery with interchangeable panels added much to the presentation this year. It was a setting of an old fashioned hotel, somewhat like an old farmhouse that had been remade. Previously, it was used by the Loie Bridge Stock Company. This year a collapsible ceiling made of canvas was used for the first time. The purpose of the ceiling was to improve the acoustics in the auditorium.

"PIPE THE KING"

A RIOTOUS crook comedy in three acts, "Pipe the King," by Lee Owen Snook, was presented on the nights of April 1 and 2 in the school auditorium.

This play was chosen because it was so different from any other play ever produced in Central High School. It was strictly modern in its plot, costumes and setting. The scene was laid in the solarium of the Dorset mansion located on the shores of Lake Michigan.

Cash McCord, a suave gangster, together with Stuffy, his henchman, plan to kidnap for ransom, Valeria, the daughter of the Baroness Dorset-Daugerre-von Eschenbach and Judge Edmund Dorset. "Duke" Simmons, a butler in the Dorset household, wishes to rob the family and guests of their jewels.

Loranda, a maid, and the former wife of Cash, suggests that the latter pose as the expected German prince who has had to cancel his engagement. McCord, who still loves Loranda, agrees to this plan. He and Stuffy plan to take Valeria out riding and then split the ransom money between the four of them. The Prince arrives and causes quite a stir in the household. Immediately the Baroness sets out to win him for Valeria. She and Cecily, the Judge's present wife, are continually arguing over the judge. A party is given in honor of the Prince and many guests are invited. Deborah Winchell, Mrs. Dorset's niece, is attracted to the Prince and makes Hal Stanley, who is in love with her, insanely jealous. That evening after the guests have retired, it is discovered that some valuable jewels have been stolen. The Prince has also been slugged. The women folk of the household become hysterical and much screaming is heard. The honorable Captain Wheatly steps in and calms the ladies. Katherine Wells, a reporter from the Tribune, who comes to get the story about the party, proceeds to tell Judge Dorset about the "crooks" in his home. The latter calls the revived Cash and Loranda in and sends Miss Wells into the library. Cash tells the Judge his story and the Judge is convinced of his having had no part in the robbery.

THE CENTRALIAN 1932

Meanwhile, the reporter declares she will send the story of the fake Prince to the morning press, and the Judge declares that he will reveal the story of her past life. At that moment Stuffy appears on the scene with the stolen jewels. He said that he had chased Simmons as he was escaping from the grounds. This puts Cash in the right. The women are given back their jewels amidst many "ohs" and "ahs." The next morning word is received of the death of the Prince's father and Captain Wheatly pilots him back to his home. The real prince rides by in a car and this causes a great uproar in the household. The Judge tells Cash that he will not reveal his identity and explains to the members of the family that there are two kings. One, a king on the throne, and the other, a king of himself. All ends well and the Judge declares that he is the power behind the throne.

In the Friday night cast James Redmond gave an excellent portrayal of the bland gangster. Dorothea Sorenson played very capably the well-poised, intelligent dual role of the maid. Dorothy Crutcher as Cecily Dorset was exceptionally good as a pouting, clinging vine hostess. Dexter Wasser displayed real dignity in the part of Judge Edmund Dorset. James Cornet, who played the part of "Duke" Simmons, the butler, looked and acted enough like a real English butler. Marilyn Shafer, as the Baroness, displayed real dramatic talent. Deborah Winchell and Hal Stanley were excellently portrayed by Roberta Greding and Roy Fuller, respectively. Mary Overhulser was very charming in the part of Valeria. Charles Lewis as Captain Wheatly, and Leona Stein as a reporter, were very pleasing to the audience. Henry Bear was fine as Stuffy, the henchman.

On Saturday night Marvin Holmes played the part of gangster and prince very well. Helen Minor scored a splendid success as the maid. Alfred Gallup as Judge Dorset was excellent. Leonard Belove proved to be the butler-crook that was needed. Beatrice Mode as Cecily, and Evelyn Maloy as the Baroness, were exceptionally good in their character parts. Eunice Wienshienk and John Edelman were charming as a young couple. They portrayed the parts of Deborah Winchell and Hal Stanley. Valeria, Rosemary Culp, was lovely. Kenneth Westenhaver, the captain, was very good. Helen Lee was a very engaging reporter. Howard May as Stuffy showed ability.

CONSTITUTIONAL ORATORS

Tom Sutherland, Helen Weinshienk, Irvin Raines and James Higgins were chosen, after a close preliminary contest, to compete in oration and extemporaneous speaking in a double assembly.

Their subjects were "Our Enduring Constitution," Tom Sutherland; "Our Constitution, The Bulwark of the Nation," James Higgins; "The Citizen's Privileges and Duties Under the Constitution," Helen Wienshienk; "Enemies of the Constitution," Irvin Raines.

The final contest was held during a double assembly in the school auditorium. The first group heard the orations, and the second the extemp. After close competition, Tom Sutherland was chosen to represent Central, with Irvin Raines as the alternate.

The entire oration was given, which lasted six minutes. This was followed by a four-minute extemp speech on some subject selected from their oration. The low point system of grading was used in judging the contest.

Lyman Field, of Westport High School, last year's winner, again carried away this year's contest. As last year, Glenn Ohlson, from Manual High School, placed second.

Central is truly indebted to Miss Rebecca Tomlin, instructor in public speaking, and to Mr. Elmer Rush, instructor in American History, because of the time spent in coaching and training the orators before the contest.

THE CENTRALIAN 1932

First Week—For months the pictures on the walls of Central's dim, deserted halls had longed for youthful company to chase away the gloom. September eighth, (O, fatal date!) no longer were they forced to wait—two thousand students stormed the doors, and there was barely room! The seniors came with haughty airs; the juniors freed from last year's cares; the sophies wandered in a trance from weary class to class. Once more the halls with voices rang, and once again the "dear old gang" began its annual "chatterfest" about each lad and lass.

Second Week—And hardly had we time to find the duties of our daily grind before the Publication heads were news that traveled fast. Ditmars announced that Cassidy Centralian editress would be, with Williams, Stephens, Greding, as her main "supporting cast." The Luminary's "leading man" was named as Hanan Wedlan, while Morlan, Cleveland, Rothschild, Culp, and Scott composed his corps. The business staff brought this report: as manager—one Joseph Kort; accountant, Miriam Oshry; circulation, Glenn H. Moore.

Third Week—Our student council—august clan!—gave president to Kinahan, with Wedlan, Bland, Culp, Cassidy, and Greding as his aides. Brad Smith was picked to lead our cheers; Bradfield and Murphy—little dears!—were soph and junior classmen named to rally weak-voiced maids. And in the glare of gleaming lights, while chilly thousands chattered, our team, immune to canine bites, the Wyandotte Bulldogs scattered.

THE CENTRALIAN 1932

Fourth Week—The Southwest Indians, warpath bound, prepared for Eagle meat, but found the stately bird was well-equipped with wings as well as legs. And so, despite their greatest pains, the Redmen made but meagre gains, and while we piled up 20 points, were forced to eat goose eggs.

Fifth Week—To plead the cause of charity from "stumps" in our vicinity, four students—Greding, Krasnoy, Raines, and Wedlan won the right; but out upon the football field, our team, with talents well concealed, surrendered 6 to 12 to Westport, after quite a fight.

Sixth Week—The Slaches, with reluctant poise, said "Out you go," to all their boys, and joined the four societies made up of girls alone. The Eagles felt revengeful so they hooked their talons in St. Joe, and by the score 14 to 2 came back into their own.

Seventh Week—The seniors, graduation bent, were asked to choose a president, and cast a heavy vote for Foster; Schultz got second place. Culp, Cassidy and Kinahan were three of those who "also ran," with Dannahower, Ramage and with Greding in the race. But once again our grid stock tumbled; the Bears of East our warriors humbled.

Eighth Week—With weighty problems to unravel, the seniors kept Miss Foster's gavel busy but at last agreed to shelve the caps and gowns. They then picked Smith's to take their pictures. And at the Manual clash, new fixtures—Pep Club girls—a novel group—turned out to count our downs.

Ninth Week—The school paid homage to Miss Crowe, who taught since fifty years ago, and left the faculty this year to take a well-earned rest. The first Consolidated dance was held for those who cared to prance, and Central's team was awfully rude to Northeast as its guest.

Tenth Week—Death made his presence closely felt, and crushing was the blow he dealt, by claiming our Miss Knofler on the day of Armistice. That same day, Mr. Joseph Brown, a graduate of some renown, stirred all the school with epic words for heroes that we miss.

Eleventh Week—A charging, fighting Central team made substance of our wildest dream, by forcing the Paseo Pirate band to "walk the plank." We didn't win the cup this year, but second place deserves a cheer, and anyhow we beat the champs, when Pirate hopes we sank.

Twelfth Week—Our shouts had scarcely died away when lo! it was Thanksgiving day, and all of us regretfully put down our pens and books to stay at home and stuff ourselves with food enough for ten or twelve such persons, then to blame the consequences on the cooks! Before we went our homeward way, however, we must pause to say that Heimerdinger was decreed as Editor of Art for this Centralian that you hold, and C. L. Hartman, we were told, had shown the neatest lettering and won that for his part.

Thirteenth Week—The cast that gave "A Lucky Break" was fine, but for the Drama's sake, we bring the name of spartan Maxine Williams to the fore. Both nights, she, in her role of maid, great stage ability displayed, and all the while a wreath of sorrow hung upon her door. The yearbook vacancies were filled, and this is how a few were billed: Miss Morlan—Girls' Sports; Gallup—Boys'; and Guffin—Circulation; Miss Landon—Literary ed.; Knaus—the photographing head; and Wright—the Feature Editor: blame him for this creation!

Fourteenth Week—We learned with sorrow not to look this year for that convenient book (or handbook, 'cause it's rather small) that helps one count his honors. Another disappointment, too, came when we found out that M. U. was forced to cut out most its tests because of thrifty donors.

THE CENTRALIAN 1932

Fifteenth Week—Five Eagles donned their fighting togs and faced the Wyandotte Bulldogs to signify the advent of rotund King Basketball. With less than five minutes to go, the Kingbirds were behind, but Joe—our flashy Kington—was put in and Wyandotte took a fall.

Sixteenth Week—We saw and heard with ecstasy a pre-Christmas assembly replete with voices from the sky and shepherds prayerful kneeling. Then, full of spiritual elation, we greeted our mid-year vacation, and left the building flat as any old banana peeling. We all agreed that it was best for us to have this welcome rest, but gee, 'twas hard to understand why, less than two weeks later, some kids came dragging, stumbling in, could not remember where they'd been, and yawned, "Wish I could hibernate—as do the alligators!"

Seventeenth and Eighteenth Weeks—But soon we seized our books once more, perusing them just as before, in spite of that precocious course we had resolved to follow. And our basketees' agility, combined with "cagability," gave Southwest High a neat Convention Hall defeat to swallow.

It has been a pleasure to make the photographs for this book and we wish to express our gratefulness to the faculty and seniors for their confidence and cooperation.

Nineteenth Week—Nor did their A-1 basketball relax when the forbidding pall of twenty weeks' exams drew near and blotted out elation. They took the Tigers by the tail, swung them until their stripes turned pale, then skinned three points out of their joints amid a wild ovation.

Twentieth Week—Well, those exams—they came and went. And Ramage was named president of Boys' Hi for those waning months of fleeting days and sunny. Vice-president was Kinahan, Al Gallup secretary, and James Higgins drew the task of taking up the members' money.

Twenty-first Week—Almost 200 sophomores turned timid feet toward Central's doors, while 30 mid-year graduates were forced to say goodbye. Three cheers for fighting Dannahower! He made the Greenie rooters glower by swishing through a precious goal to snap a desperate tie. The reigning Luminary staff at last resigned in youth's behalf, and let the first-term "newsies" step into their vacant shoes. Jean Wright admired how Hanan's fit; White, Lane and Landon made a hit, along with Stein, and so were picked to edit all the news.

Twenty-second Week—Charles Wood, a senior Central artist, was judged to have designed the smartest poster in a contest sponsored by the C. of C. The Central Military faction turned to its annual "Hop" for action, and St. Joe Central's deadly shots cost us a victory.

Twenty-third Week—The day that Manual's cagers meted out our team's first league defeat, events of the preceding week were featured in our journal. Bill Whinery was Council head and Catherine Gray, it further said, was junior president, while Sutherland was our new Colonel. The highest in R. O. T. C. among the girls was Cassidy.

Twenty-fourth Week—Our honored teacher, Esther Crowe, received a well-earned radio in token of her five decades of patient, faithful service. The freshly-beaten Eagle five determined that they would contrive to beat Northeast and did it, though they kept the rooters nervous.

THE CENTRALIAN 1932

Twenty-fifth Week—The treasured name of Washington was on the lips of everyone, and in his honor we convened to "make the rafters ring." The soul that set our nation free seemed near in that assembly, and must have heard each cherished word, so loudly did we sing. Our first place cage race hopes were crushed and howling Eagle fans were hushed when the Paseo Pirates seized upon the city title. Next night, our tracksters set the pace and flicked fresh splinters in their face. They garnished points in each event to score a victory vital.

Twenty-sixth Week—With winning words and vibrant voice, Tom Sutherland received first choice in tryouts for the Constitutional oration crown. The School Board banned Convention Hall for graduation (darn it all!) because of the expense involved in rent so far downtown.

Twenty-seventh Week—Our principal prosed a plan by which a student's honors can be counted without complicated, mystic mathematics. The parents of our club "elite" drew up a program to defeat the usual run of "brilliant" Intersociety antics.

THE CENTRALIAN 1932

Twenty-eighth Week—Our paper, with some pride, announced the C. S. A. had just pronounced it owner of a second place in this year's national contest. Damaris Ewing, we found out, had drawn the winning sketch about our Centralian with Dorothy Nelson's placing as the next best.

Twenty-ninth Week—Subscriptions for the Centralian began officially when a teaser was presented in a mass assembly. Our budding golf team went the rounds impatient as a pack of hounds to limber up their rusty swings and beat Old Man Bogey.

Thirtieth Week—The annual spring play, "Pipe the King," was full of crooks 'n' everything, with Minor, Redmond, Sorenson and Holmes the ones revealed. The seniors dropped their childish capers to pause a moment for the papers, trembling in a chilly wind that swept across the field.

Conclusion—But now this book must go to press, and neither does it dare to guess the outcome of those ten short weeks that lead us into June. We know the Circus is in store—the Star's contest—and, O, lots more, but most of all we realize it all will end too soon.

FINIS

ACKNOWLEDGMENT

The staff of the 1932 Centralian wishes at this time to thank those who gave so liberally of their time and effort that this annual might be produced.

To Mr. Maplesden of the Burger-Baird Engraving Company, we are especially indebted for advice given in planning this book. We wish to thank Mr. Smith of the Smith-Grieves Printing Co. for aid on type and press work. To Mr. Smith and Mr. Tyner, the photographers, we are grateful for care taken with all photographs; to our faculty advisers, Mr. Thomas Ditmars, Miss Coah Henry, Mr. Raymond Tudor, and Mr. A. E. Harley we wish especially to extend our thanks for their unending aid at all times.

And lastly, we thank the students of Central for their loyal support and to express the hope that they will ever derive continuous and lasting pleasure from this 1932 Centralian.

OUR ADVERTISERS

We take this opportunity to express appreciation to our advertisers for the co-operation given the staff in the publishing of this annual. To them we owe our continued patronage in return for their loyal support of the Centralian. These firms represent the most substantial as well as the best known business institutions of our community. To them we extend our best wishes and hopes for future success.
