THE LEGEND OF THE CENTRAL SPIRIT

A long, long time ago when Central was young, without tradition and void of support save her ambition and faith in life, she looked out upon a cheerless and discordant world; and while the teachers and parents dreamed dreams, the pupils had visions.

They had heard it said that the stars represent the highest reach of earthly ambition and that they symbolize our faith in life; and their hearts were saddened that our dull ears are not tuned to hear the music of the stars and that our eyes are not given the power to see the beautiful strands by their rivers and lakes. After much patience they discovered that it is on the wings of faith that we rise to catch the beauty and the fragrance of the forget-me-nots of the angels; that it is by faith that we reach the carpeted meadows of heaven where dwell the spirits of harmony, cooperation, and good will. They learned that life grows like that it feeds upon; therefore they visited the star land and sought an interview with the ruling spirit. They were graciously received by the Great Spirit of Good Will.

Upon being asked what they wished they trembled with the fear that they were asking too much. They wanted the Great Spirit to return with them to dwell at Central. The Spirit said that was not necessary since he had a better plan. He would appoint them to be his ambassadors to carry back to Central the spirit of harmony, cooperation, and good will to be duly installed by them through their daily behavior, as the spirit of Central; on this condition: that from year to year there should come to the Great Spirit an assurance that harmony and good will continue to be the leading spirit of the school.

It is the good fortune of the class of 1940 to be the ambassadors to relay the message of good will to the Great Spirit. And so with becoming modesty and truth the class submits its record. This record is gathered from various organizations, including classrooms, societies, councils, and the student body. It is a record of willing obedience, cooperation, and good will left with the school it loves.

In Memoriam

Miss Victor Ellen Levy, study hall teacher for the last two years at Central, who passed away on October 23, was a native of Missouri. She was educated in Warrensburg Teachers College and Missouri Valley College, and has been connected with the Kansas City schools many years, having taught in Greenwood, Benton, Irving, and Blenheim.

Although frail in body for the last few years, she always kept the interest of the school child at heart. She was patient with the pupils, thus enabling them to bring out the best that was in them.

Miss Levy had real humor and was able to appreciate and enjoy the wit of others. She was a person unusual in the versatility of her interests. Most of her time was devoted to teaching, but she possessed dramatic and literary ability and had taken part in many plays at the Resident Theatre.

Miss Levy was active in her church and she will be greatly missed there as well as in her school.

The death of this teacher, who gave such fine service for many years to the education of children, will be a severe loss to all who knew her.

Students at Central High were shocked to hear, the afternoon of April 4, that Albert Lipsey had died during the morning after only a week's illness. He had lived all his life in Kansas City, Missouri, having attended Horace Mann, Central Junior, and Central Senior high schools.

Since he was twelve years old, Albert had been a scout in Troop Number 61 and would have become an Eagle the week following his death, for he had passed practically all of his merit badges. As an outstanding leader of the organization, he had been a junior counselor and lifeguard at the Scout Camp in Osceola, Missouri, last summer. Al possessed the cherished claw of Mic-o-say, the highest honor a scout can achieve. He was a regular member of the Sunday school and congregation at the Keneseth Israel Beth Sholom Synagogue.

Albert was looking forward to commencement. He had been a popular member of the Senior Class and had formed lasting friendships. His classmates will long remember him for his sterling qualities of character. His was the type of young person that is dignified, yet friendly; quiet, though enthusiastic; unobtrusive, yet influential.

TA GOB S

Oh, Brentano! How richly are we compensated for our incessant toil in scientific research. The greatest discovery of the age—Central High School! Look, Apuleius, how like gods and goddesses the occupants appear. Indeed, my good Brentano, we have discovered a marvelous wealth of culture and the source of the long-sought-for moral philosophy of life.

CLASS OF 1940

Swishing skirts, happy laughter, and exclamations of "Oh! and Ah!" rend the air as spring brings that grand occasion, Graduation, at last. But underneath this happy, excited chatter will be something deeper, more penetrating, a certain sorrow that tells us it has all come to an end. These last four years have been so filled with activities that time has not been sufficient to enjoy these days to their fullest extent. But now, with the sudden realization that they are to end, comes appreciation, in part at least, of what these crowded years have brought. The class now known as Central's Class of 1940 was first organized in 1936, as freshmen at Central Junior. Then several of its members won places at the front of the class with high scholastic honors, winning silver and gold medals as awards.

At the head of the organization was the following group of elected officers:

Frances Maloy.....	President
Guy Loughead.....	Vice-President
James Fowler.....	Secretary
Dick Beach.....	Treasurer

Moving to the senior building, many students made records for themselves. A few had parts in the spring play, "Headed for Eden," and Dick Beach won a gold medal in Formal Essay.

In its junior year, hitting its true stride, the class moved forward with many honors and added responsibilities falling upon its members. In dramatics Frances Maloy and Alfred Eigenberg had important roles in the spring play, "New Fires," and Marilyn Dewar, Rosemary Richardson, and Vera McNary were starred as soloists in the Jubilee.

First place ratings were captured at Intersociety by Bob Havighurst for Biography and Bernadine Aaron in Declamation. Silver medals were won by

The class chose officers as follows:

James Fowler.....	President
Dick Beach.....	Aide
Frances Maloy.....	Aide
Bob Havighurst.....	Aide

With the beginning of the senior year, this class once again blossomed out and began to show their worth as overlords of Central.

Frances Maloy was elected president of the Girl Reserves for the year, sharing honors with Bob Havighurst and Dick Beach who were chosen to head the Boys' Hi-Y.

Guy Loughead and Vance Olson both won berths on the second team of the mythical all-star eleven.

Raoul LaNoue was given the appointment of major of the Central Battalion and proved his worth as commanding officer. The Central Round-Up was a great success, and many of the senior class participated.

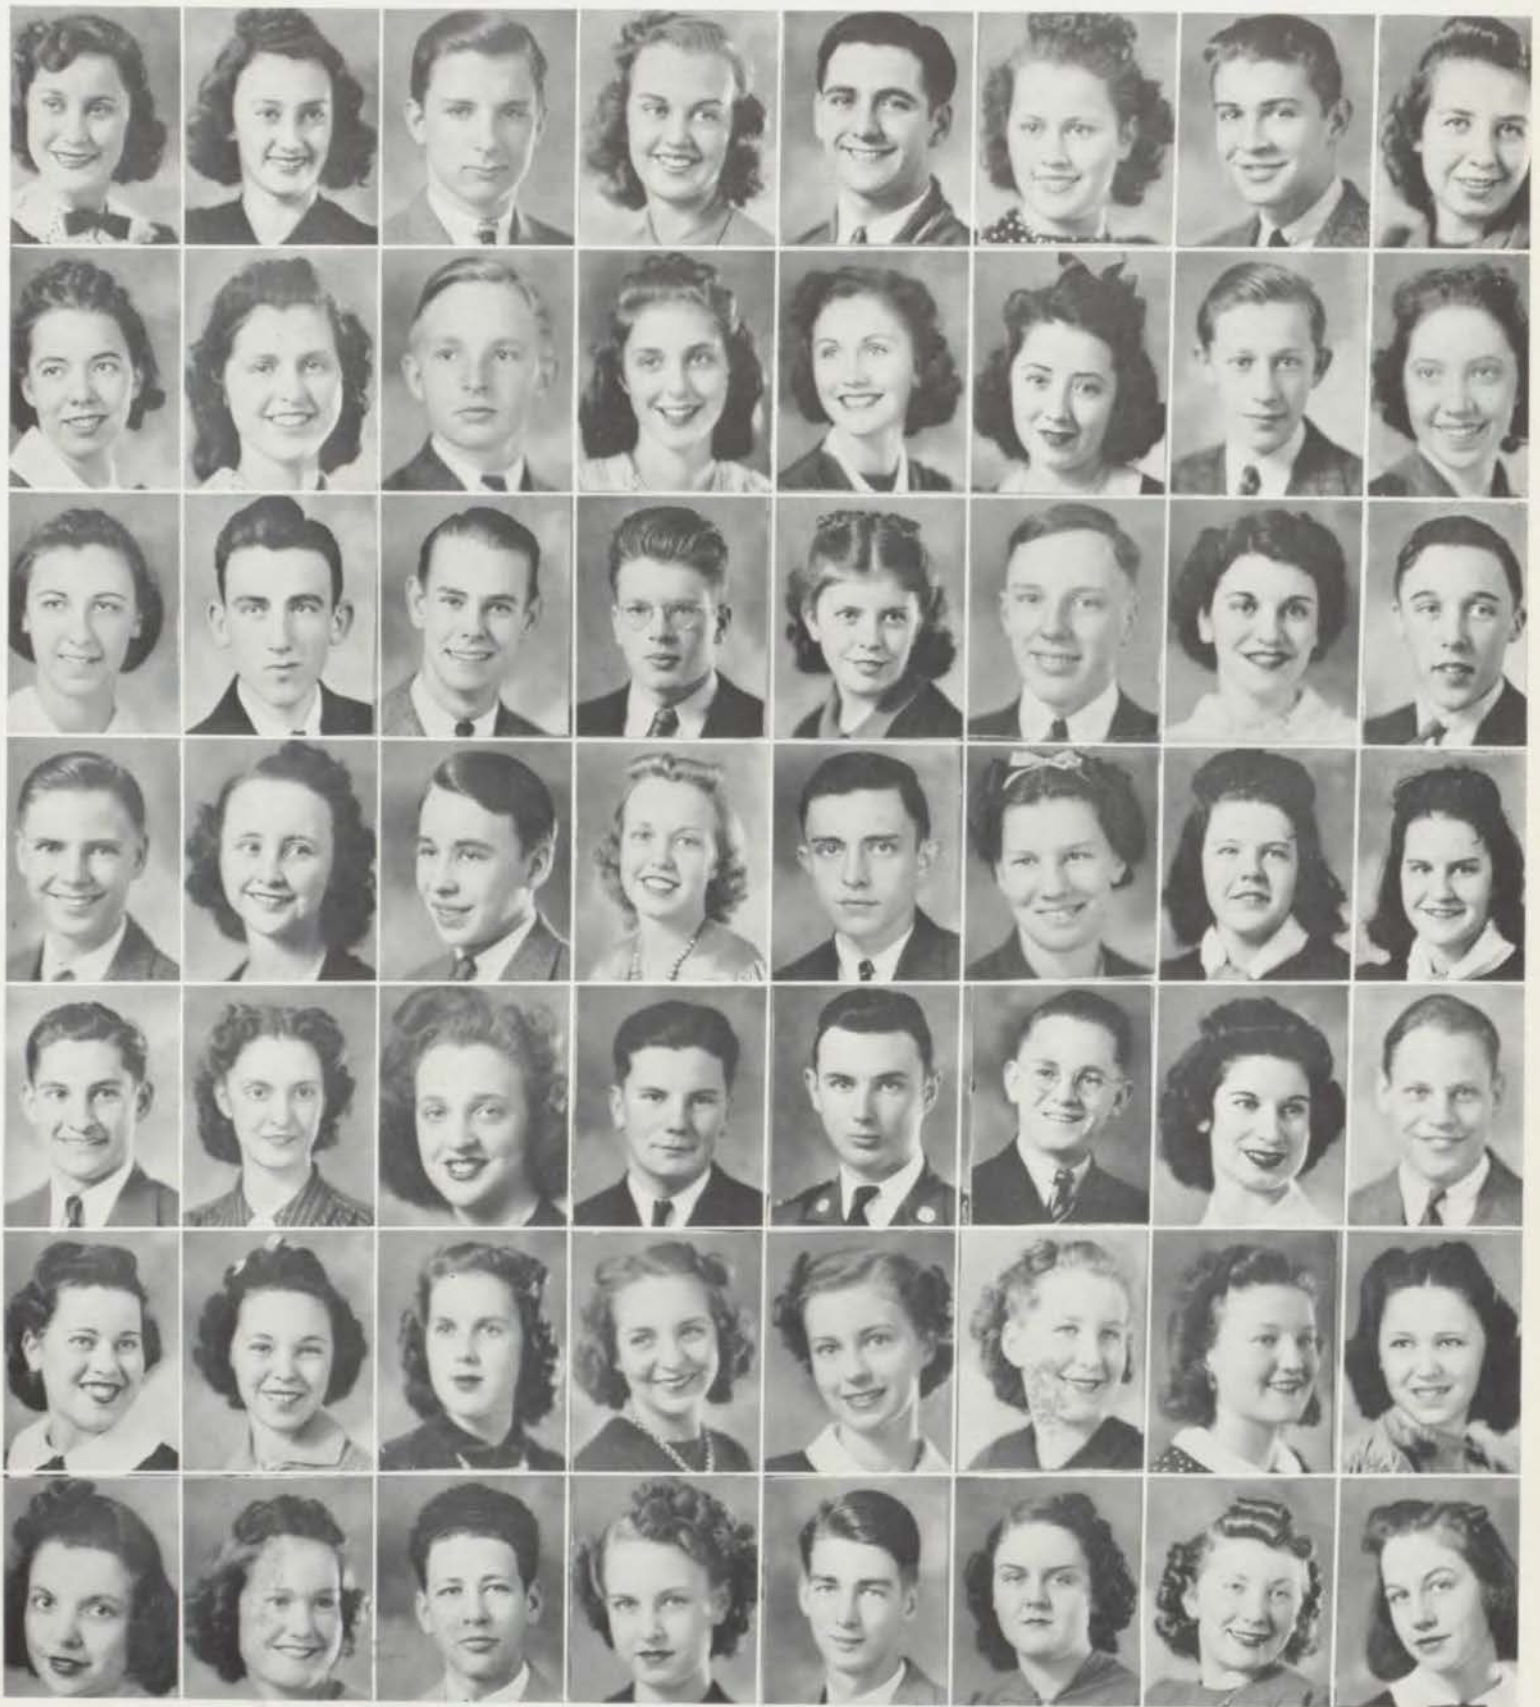

The Student Council chose as the two presidents, Bob Havighurst and Jack Carduff, while the spring play once again starred Bernadine Aaron and Frances Maloy.

The highest grade on the Senior Test was 140, our class showing up well.

The remainder of the year was a thrill-packed, never slackening era of enjoyment with Senior Ballot, R.O.T.C. Hop, National Honor Society, and Intersociety following each other in rapid succession, each event helping to make our final year at Central our most pleasant one. Ah, yes! we do have some wonderful memories.

MID-YEAR CLASS OF 1940

Mid-year commencements at Central High School arose out of the effort to meet the demands of pupils whose school record does not fit into the regular terms of the school year. This irregularity is caused by any one or a number of reasons, often quite beyond the control of the individual student. Change of schools and sickness are two of the most common causes for irregularity resulting in mid-year graduation.

Although the class misses the beautiful glamour of the spacious auditorium and the thrill of a large audience, the members have, instead, the comfortable feeling of closing their school days in the old school they have learned to love. No regular June class has had this satisfaction since the first year of the new building.

Although the members of the mid-year class are seriously hampered in school activities, many of this year's class achieved reputation for themselves in certain fields. Especially is this true in the field of sports.

Harold Schumacher and Winston Balke were both two-year lettermen in basketball. Balke was captain of the team and received honorable mention on the All-Star team two years.

Harold Schumacher was a track letterman, establishing a new record for the high hurdles since track was first introduced into Kansas City high schools as an Interscholastic sport.

Winston Balke was a member of the school's softball team as was Wilfred Atkinson.

This mid-year class was well represented on our golf team with three lettermen and one substitute.

The substitute is Sam Rogozenski whose brother Morris along with J. D. Doughty won team letters. The other letterman was Ralph Zimmerman.

Bill Grimm, end on this year's football team and only two-year letterman on the squad, upheld the honor of the class on the gridiron by making the second All-Star team with his fine playing and captaining of the Blue Eagle team.

Marvin Powell was a cheerleader that gained quite a reputation for his tumbling, spirit, and voice.

Gail Brown, the only member of the class who belonged to a literary society, was a member of the Central Jefferson Club.

When the class was organized, the first order of business taken up was the election of the class officers. The results were:

Carl Schmidt . . . . .	President
Marvin Powell . . . . .	Vice-President
Charlotte Koob . . . . .	Secretary
Bette Jeane Reed . . . . .	Treasurer
Jeanne Stead . . . . .	Giftorian
J. D. Doughty . . . . .	Sergeant-at-Arms

The business world of today demands that all people have some sort of school record. Central High School is here to furnish that record. This mid-year graduation is no longer an experiment; last January the eighth mid-year class graduated with a membership of forty-eight, bringing the total number of graduated to four hundred and thirty-eight. May the work so well begun grow through the years to come, and may no one desiring an education be denied the opportunity in Central High School.

NEBULAE

Just as nebulae are too remote to shine individually, the juniors and sophomores must band together to shine in the school.

CLASS OF '41

Once again the Junior Class is proudly acclaimed for its attainment of the standard set forth by the class of last year. It has helped with its enthusiasm and talent to uphold the grand tradition that is Central's.

The history of the class of '41 began in its freshman year with the election of the following officers: president, Dick Kelley; vice-president, Beverly Bash; secretary, Bill Dietrich; and treasurer, Hazel Jones.

During its sophomore year the class held its own with many of its members gaining recognition in various activities. Marilyn Williams, Loren Fitzhugh, and Jack Jarvis had parts in the Spring Play while on Intersociety Night gold medals were won by Beverly Bash and Florence Patton.

This year the class has continued its splendid progress. In the athletic field many juniors were prominent and were cheered on by Bill Dietrich and the drum majorettes, Peggy Ryan, Mary Rogers, Anna Lee Feiner, and Roslouse Yancey. Dick Kelley earned a letter in football while Herb Sarver, Jack Morris, Sam Mazon, and Floyd McHenry won awards in basketball. Stuart Thompson, Joan Lane, Marilyn Williams, and Jack Jarvis participated in the spring play "June Mad," and Dick Kelley, Wayne Wills, Peggy Ryan, and Wynona Beresford showed exceptional talent at the Central "Roundup."

With such ability the seniors of '41 should be among the best under the leadership of Bill Dietrich, president, and Beverly Bash, Dick Kelley, and Marilyn Williams, aides.

GUIDING LIGHTS

As the North Star leads people of the world, so our principal, vice-principal, and teachers guide us in the path to scholarly success.

This is the twenty-first issue of the Centralian since I returned to Central as principal. The years have been busy and happy, strange as that may seem to some of you. I treasure my Centralians. They are of immense value to me as well as of real interest. Their pictured pages refresh my memory concerning the nearly eleven thousand people whose names I have been privileged to read at commencement time. To this year's class I offer sincere congratulations and the hope that the years to come may be thoroughly worth the living.

OTTO F. DUBACH

FACULTY

The Centralian is my "Who's Who" for Central students. As a teacher, I enjoy leafing through for my students' pictures; and often getting down from the shelf an annual of former years to confirm my belief that certain illustrious citizens had been my students.

As vice-principal, I take particular pride in the composite picture the book gives of our school: the students, the faculty, and the activities. I congratulate the staff on its accomplishments and offer my best wishes to the 1940 class for useful and successful lives.

STUDENT COUNCIL

This year the Student Council carried forth its responsibilities with renewed aggressiveness and enthusiasm. As a result of the fine cooperative spirit between the student governing body and the salesmanship classes, a new percentage record was attained in the sales of Activity Tickets and Centralians. The Student Council production, The Central Roundup, was highly successful. Tuberculin tests were made available to the seniors and the mixers were attended by enthusiastic crowds.

The Student Council displayed its leadership and initiative by extending its influence throughout the high schools of the city. The first inter-high Student Council meeting of the year was held at Central. Later, under Central's leadership the same organizations were called together to discuss plans for backing the new arrangements of the mill levy. Indeed the Student Council of Central High School has distinguished itself as a most active one, greatly interested in the welfare of our school and community.

The classic halls echo with the shouts of victory, and the victors march in dignity before the admiring throng. See, Brentano, the trophy bearer and the mighty hero walk through the star-lit garden at the end of the mall where they turn into the primrose path of love and, guided by faith in Him who planned the universe, walk courageously to meet and win the battle of life.

AUROLA BOREALIS

Central, too, has her Aurora Borealis, typified by the plays, concerts, and departmental clubs.

BAR C ROUNDUP 1940

"Bar C Ranch, we're on our merry way." With a chug, chug, Bar C Special, engineered by a capable group of talented performers, pulled out of the station on the stage of Central's auditorium the evenings of December 7 and 8, bound for fun, frolic, and laughter out the western way.

This western theme opened up the great "open spaces" and offered many opportunities for an entirely new and different Variety Nite than ever before witnessed by Central.

The '40 Jubilee was sponsored by the Student Council under the student committee of Bob Havighurst, Imogene Butterworth, Billie Parkins, Dorothy Boden, Jimmy Fowler, and Ed Christman and was witnessed by large enthusiastic crowds both nights.

THE LUMINARY

This year Central's journalism department felt greatly handicapped by the loss of Raymond W. Tudor, who on a leave of absence, went to the University of Kansas for a higher degree. That is until the arrival of Edward L. Salmon from Northeast Junior. Mr. Salmon, as adviser for the Central Luminary, has guided the staff well, endearing himself to all.

At the Press Conference at the University of Missouri, April 27, the Central Luminary placed third in the state. The special Christmas edition, edited by Martha Ryan, received second place. Albert Jacob's cartoons placed third, with Bernadine Aaron's poem receiving honorable mention. The staff can well be proud of its record.

CENTRAL CHORUS

An interesting and colorful program for this year began when the Central Chorus, under the outstanding direction of Miss Mari F. Whitney, sang at the Municipal Auditorium for the opening of the charities campaign.

Although the chorus has been, for the most part, an a cappella choir in previous years, it has been using, this year, a great many pieces with accompaniment, whenever suitable music has been available. Such a plan has made its musical programs even more varied and interesting than formerly.

Miss Whitney is preparing for the national music contest to be held in Kansas City, May 10, 11, and 12. She plans to enter a girls' trio, made up of the following voices: Elizabeth Egy, Vivian Ritchey, and Martha Ryan. A mixed chorus will compete with many other choruses for ratings. Mary Elizabeth Sneary, Lila Lee Knox, and Mamie Lou Remy will be among the soloists who represent Central in the contest.

MERCURY

The Central teams fulfill in every way the qualities of the god Mercury.

FOOTBALL

The 1939 Blue Eagle football squad, with only one returning letterman, opened the season September 22 in a night game against the Wyandotte Bulldogs on their home field . . . Although Central's team of inexperienced men lost six games in the season that followed, Coach Slaymaker was able to announce, at the Award assembly on November 22, one game won and one game tied and to cheer loyal Centralites with the news that the team will be able to start next year more auspiciously with six lettermen . . .

Against the larger Wyandotte team, Central opened the season by scoring their first touchdown on a triple pass from Lewis to Morris to Loughhead . . . But this was to no avail, as the Bulldogs scored two touchdowns and a safety . . . Wyandotte 16, Central 6 . . .

League competition started the following week, with Westport at Central . . . Late in the third quarter John Scanlon, Tiger halfback, intercepted a Blue Eagle pass on his own 20 and raced 80 yards down the sideline for the only score of the game . . . Westport 6, Central 0 . . .

Leaving the league the following Saturday, the Blue Eagle squad met the Rockhurst team in their annual battle . . . Led by their two halves, Johnny Steck and David Leonard, the Hawks scored at will on the ground and through the air . . . Rockhurst 33, Central 0 . . .

Returning to league warfare against the East squad, the Blue Eagles again met defeat . . . But scored their first league touchdown of the season in the last quarter . . . East 12, Central 6 . . .

Winning their first game of the season was the squad's experience the following week when they met the Southeast team, who just entered the league this year . . . Guy Loughead made the biggest gain any Central player made all season in one play in this game, going around right end for 62 yards . . . Southeast 7, Central 18 . . .

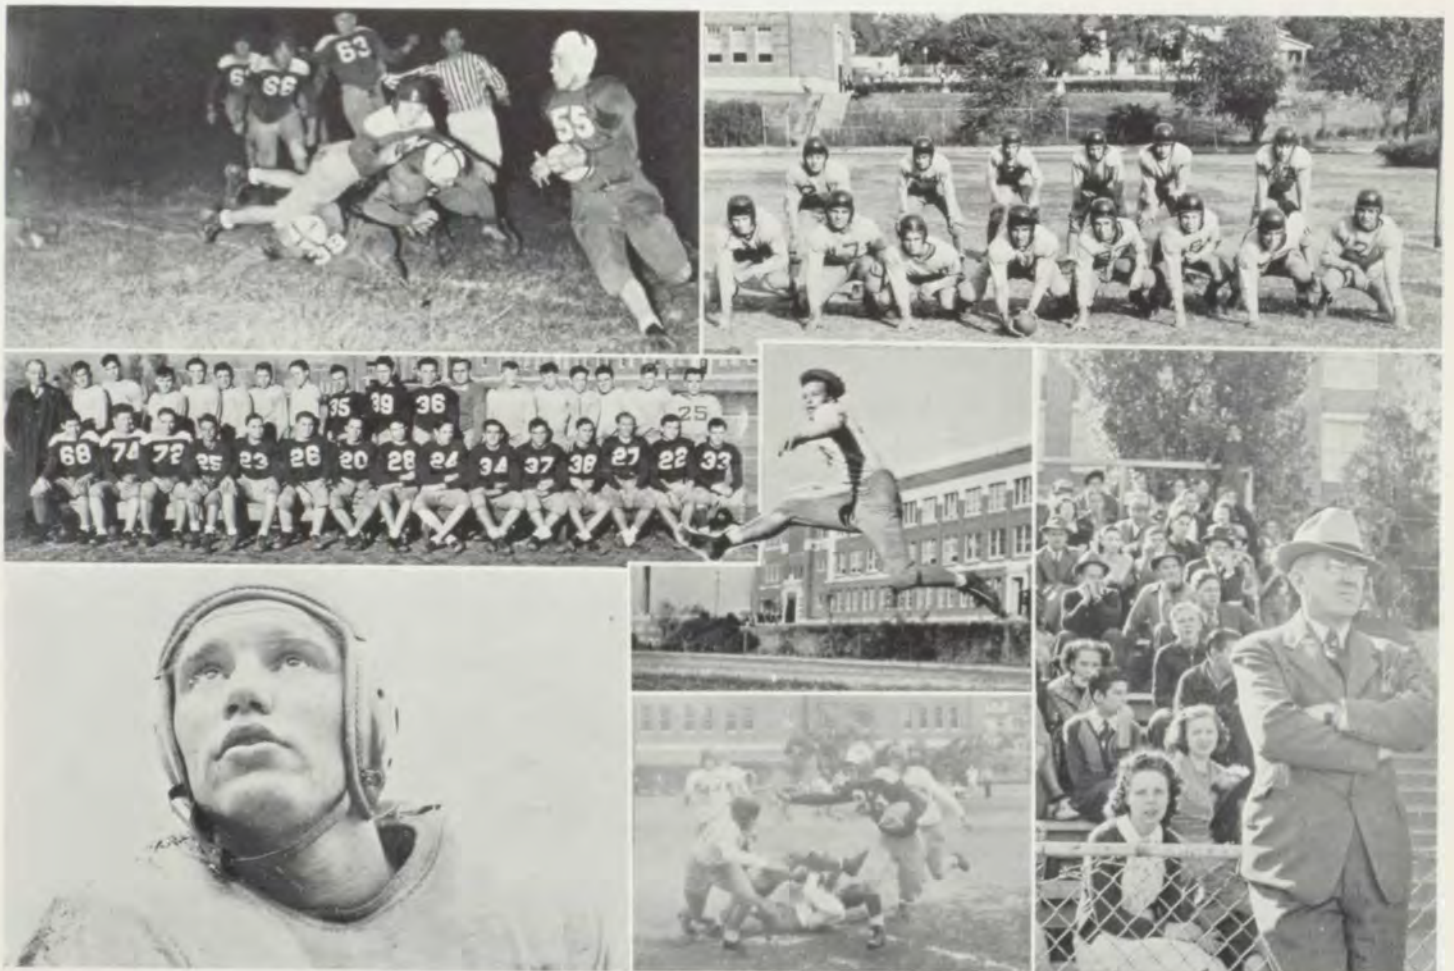

With less than two minutes to go in the final quarter of the Northeast game, and the ball in mid-field, the Central squad was virtually assured of a boastful scoreless with the powerful Vikings . . .

But in two passes by Pierce, one to Carr and the other to Balke, all of this was changed when their aerial attack was successful for a last-minute touch-down . . . Northeast 6, Central 0 . . .

Central gained a tie with the favored Paseo squad the following week-end on their home field . . . Loughead scored all of our points when he plunged over for the touchdown from the two-yard line and was successful on the conversion attempt with a quarterback sneak . . . Paseo 7, Central 7 . . .

Meeting the Southwest team who had already won the Interscholastic championship for the second straight year, the Central team was turned back with ease . . . One of the best teams the league has seen in a number of years, the 1939 Southwest Indians scored twice in the first quarter and once in each of the others . . . Southwest 31, Central 0 . . . And so endeth the football season . . .

GOLF CHAMPIONS

In the fall tournament for the City Interscholastic Golf Championship the 1939 Blue Eagle golf team, composed of Bill Troupe, Danny Davis, Morris Rogozenski, Charley Rodecker, and J. D. Doughty, won first place, defeating Southeast, Southwest, Westport, Paseo, and Northeast . . . The final standings of the team are: Central, 1,427; Southeast, 1,504; and Westport, 1,512 . . . Paseo and Northeast dropped out of competition before the final round had been played . . .

The tourney was played at the Swope Park course in four rounds on Saturday mornings . . .

Jack Genereaux of Southeast was the low man for the four rounds with 325 strokes. Bill Troupe and Danny Davis of Central were second and third respectively with 340 and 351 strokes . . .

In the first round the Central squad went into an early lead of 14 strokes . . . Keeping up this pace, the Blue Eagle squad went on to win the 1939 championship by 24 strokes over their nearest competitor . . .

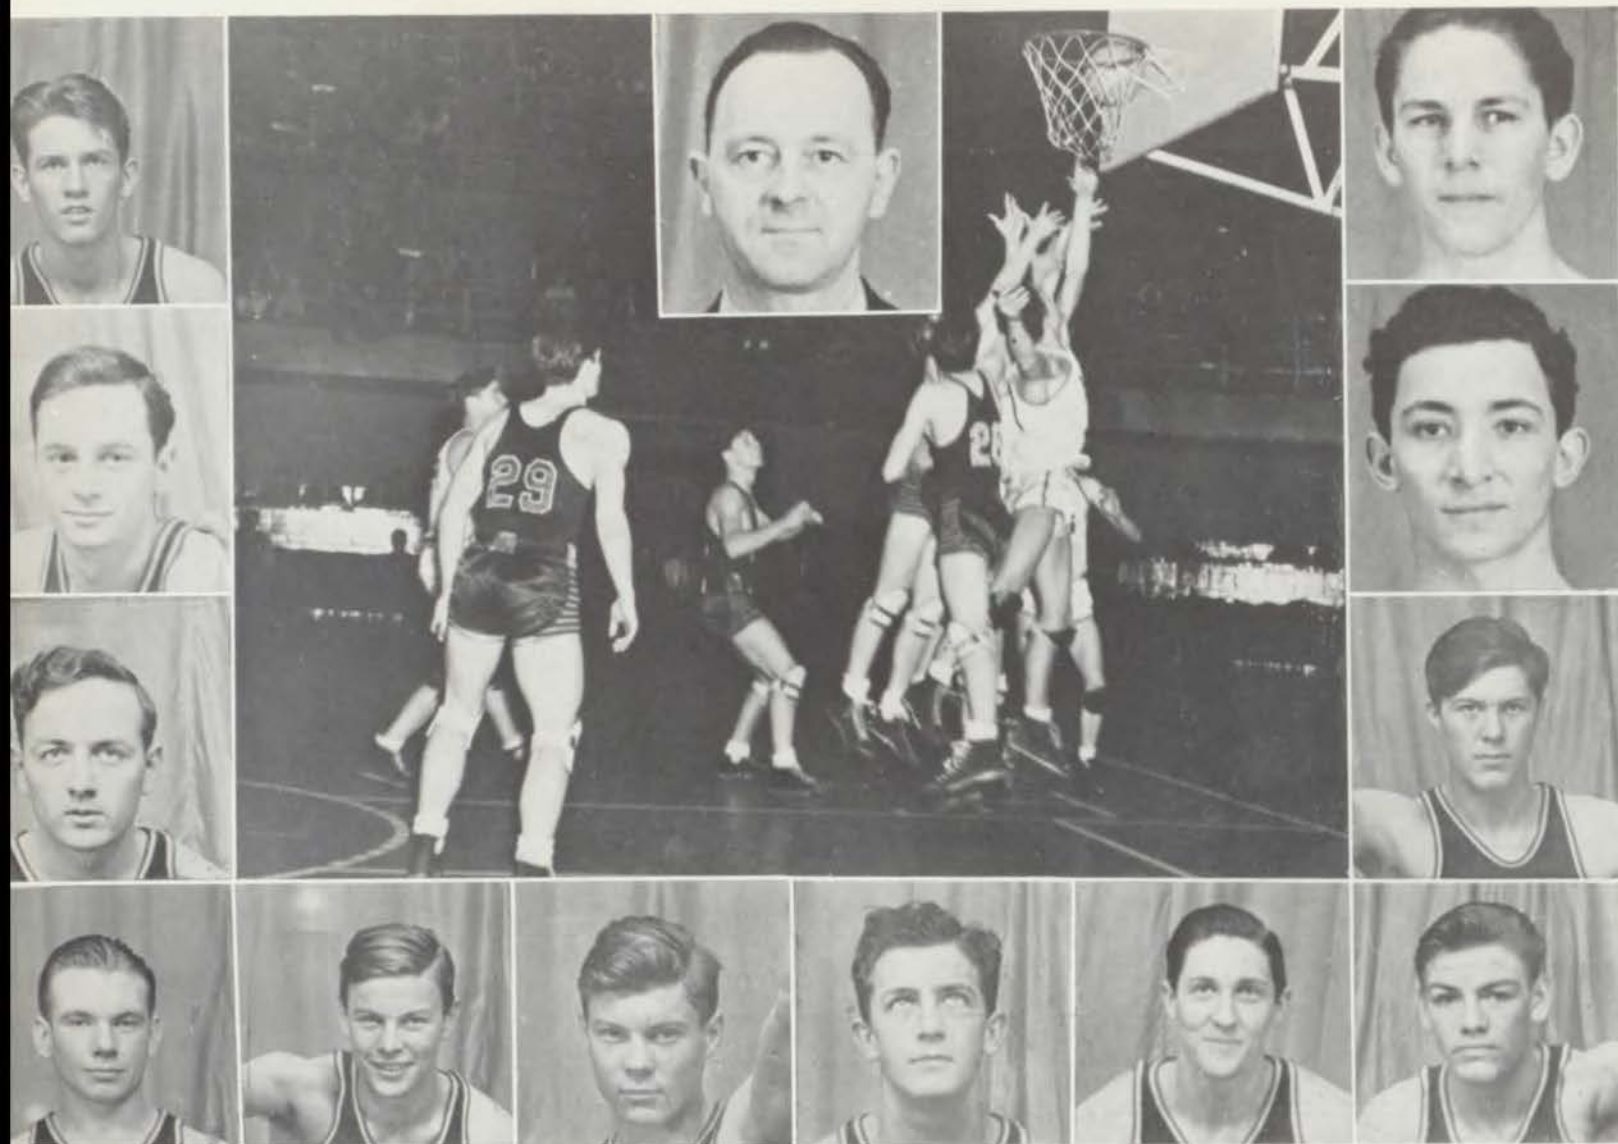

In the state tournament which was held in Kansas City for the first time, at the Meadow Lake golf course, October 14, Central was represented by Bill Troupe and Danny Davis . . . They won second place, missing first place by 11 strokes in the two-man team event against competition from high schools all over the state . . . Bill Troupe was fifth low man of the state in individual scoring and first of the golfers representing Kansas City high schools . . . Danny Davis tied for tenth place in the state, and for third place among this city's golfers . . .

Four of the five golfers that lettered, Davis, Rogozenski, Rodecker, and Doughty, are being lost by graduation . . . So with only one letterman back, Bill Troupe, who has been on the team for two years and who will captain next year's squad, B. B. Blackford, the coach, will have to find replacements to win the 1940 championship . . .

Every spring there is a practice and elimination tournament for the selection and development of new members for the team. Play is after school, so anyone can try out. Perhaps part of this success is due to the good playing, sportsmanship, and encouragement given the team by our "honorary" player, Mary Wylie. The boys always worked hard to improve their game when Mary was in the "gang."

This is one of the best golf years that Central has enjoyed since golf was introduced as an interscholastic sport and the record of this 1939 squad can be held up as a model for future golfers that carry the Blue and White colors to the fairways and greens.

BASKETBALL

This year Central was highly favored by being represented in the Interscholastic league by a team that never knew when it was licked, whose substitutes were as reliable as the starting line-up and could always be counted on to be doing their best in every game . . .

Figured as the league's dark horse, the Blue Eagle squad lived up to this expectation in its first four games by winning them, but about-faced and dropped the three remaining games to gain a fourth place tie with Westport . . . In the three defeats no loss was by more than six points . . .

During the season many stars were produced from the Blue Eagles' ranks but the prominent factor of this year's squad was teamwork . . . Game after game "Coach" Guemple pulled off the Central bench a new "student body hero" to be put in the limelight only to be replaced the following game by some other "unknown" . . .

The squad started its regular season against the alumni team and in a fast, well-played game were defeated 37 to 31 . . . Winston Balke was the game's high point man with sixteen . . .

The Blue Eagles went over to the Ward court in Kansas City, Kansas and were defeated 25 to 21 . . . Balke was again high point man, this time with seven . . .

The Blue Eagles went to town in their following game, bombarding the backboard from every position on the court to defeat William Chrisman 43 to 17 . . . Balke and Paul Bockshammer were our high point men with nine and eight respectively . . .

During the Christmas holidays we played two games, one with William Chrisman and the other with Rockhurst . . . Meeting Chrisman first on Saturday, we defeated them 22 to 14; the Rockhurst squad, however, retaliated against us by handing us a 25 to 22 defeat . . .

League competition started the fifth of January and found Central pitted against the favored Westport Tigers . . . At the end of the third quarter the score was 9 to 16 in favor of Westport and the seconds entered the game . . . With one minute of the game left the score was 20-20 and Herbie Sarver sank his third goal to give Central a victory instead of the expected defeat . . .

The Blue Eagles established a new Municipal Auditorium scoring record against Southeast the following game, rolling up a score of 42 to 16 . . . This was the last game for Winston Balke and Harold Schumacher because of mid-year graduation, and in it Balke scored sixteen points to be the game's high point man . . .

Central chalked up her third straight victory the following week when, led by Herb Sarver, the team defeated the East Bears 25 to 19 . . .

The team's fourth victory was gained at the expense of Manual in their next game when Don Sarver and "Bud" French piloted the Eagles to a 23 to 21 win . . .

Our victory string was snapped in the next game against the Northeast Vikings, our team losing 22 to 16 . . . Don Sarver and Floyd McHenry were the important cogs in our defense and offense . . .

The next game ended with the Blue Eagles on the short end of a 24 to 18 score against the Paseo Pirates . . . "Bud" French turned out to be our high point man with eight . . .

The season's finale against the favored Southwest Indians found the Blue Eagles striving hard to overcome an early lead but losing 20 to 17 . . . This last game produced no standout players but furnished further proof of the ability of our squad to show exceptional teamwork . . .

If we had won this game, and we needed only two more goals to do it, we would have won a second place tie with Southwest . . . We would have been declared second place winners since we had defeated them, thus representing Kansas City in the Inter-City series with St. Louis . . . Incidentally, Paseo, the Interscholastic champions, and Southwest, the runners-up, won their games in this third annual series with the winning St. Louis highs . . . The Paseo Pirates also went on to win the Consolation championship at the State tournament in Joplin . . .

TRACK

As this story is being written, track is still around the corner and our squad is rounding into shape to be in top condition when the season begins . . .

Jim Hessler, Bob Wren, and Hank Schulte are returning from last year's team and are going to prove plenty troublesome to the league's dash men before the season ends . . .

John Branahan, Vance Olson, and "Chuck" Ward are vying for the starting honors in the quarter and half miles . . .

G. J. Hubbard will be carrying the Central colors over the high-jump bars this season . . .

It is going to be a close contest to determine who will be doing the pole vaulting for the alma mater with Jimmy Fowler, Joe Mallot, and Jack Finley fighting for this position . . .

Bud French, who is proving himself to be the fastest man on the squad on the inside track, may be winning the 100 and 220's this year. He is only a sophomore and has already won letters in football and basketball . . .

So, when the season starts Central will be there doing her best. Our team doesn't appear to be of championship caliber, possibly not even in a position to be considered as a dark horse . . . But you can depend on this squad doing their utmost in every event in every meet . . . and waiting until a future year to bring the championship back to Central.

TENNIS

Central placed only one man in the Interscholastic tennis finals, this being Sam Mazon who, won second place in the singles when defeated by Bob Hall of Westport.

Representing the Blue Eagles in this tournament were Sam Burman, Tommy Williams, Clarence McBeath, and Sam Price in the doubles; Ray Howell and Sam Mazon in the singles . . .

The Blue Eagle squad of next year will be a definite contender for the championship with Mazon back and new recruits coming up from the ranks . . . So be on the watch for Coach Noah Alexander's experienced and well-trained squad.

BOYS' INTRA- MURALS

The Intramural program began with touch football. Mr. Slaymaker's fifth hour class won the championship when they defeated Mr. Heischman's third hour class, 6-0.

In basketball, the sophomores played a double round robin with Coppaken's team winning the championship; Kilpatrick's team won the championship in the junior-senior round robin.

Ping-pong has been running all year with no champion yet determined. Boxing was left out of the program this year, due to no appropriate place in which to hold the tournament.

The most successful year in the history of Central's Physical Education Department began September, 1939, and ended May 24, 1940. During this time there were many more and varied activities than in the preceding years. The department, one of the largest in the city, had a much larger attendance of upperclassmen than any other. An intense effort was made by both teachers to have some one of the activities appeal to everyone's taste. This evidently was accomplished. Proof of this was the tremendous coming out for the after-school sports. Part of the enthusiasm shown by the girls was due to the many new activities offered for upperclassmen.

Giant Volleyball started the season with a huge tournament. So large was it, that it ran overtime into the Hockey season.

The Hockey season seemed to appeal to so many that a double tournament was necessary to include all who wished to participate in this invigorating outdoor sport. Beautiful and very pleasant weather added to the success of this season.

Next came Volleyball, in which was shown more interest than ever before. Twenty teams entering this tournament were the turn-out of but five classes. This tournament was also the largest in school history.

Basketball comes to the front now. Never before has there been such excellent and sensible playing among so many girls as there was this year. For a period of eight weeks the girls stayed every night in spite of other school activities to satisfy their lively enthusiasm for the sport. Quite an asset to this tournament was the ample support offered by a most obliging staff of referees, umpires, scorers and timers. The girls have certainly improved in showing the proper respect for their officials.

Individual Sport then made its debut to a very successful season. This consisted of outdoor and indoor activities. The sports included in this most enticing season were Tennis, Table Tennis, Aerial Darts, Softball, Shuffleboard, and many other games. The tournament came to a very successful finish the last week of school. Not many girls wanted to see the end of the term come so quickly.

Throughout the duration of the year two Inter-School Playdays were held one at Manual and the other at Southeast. The first Sports Day competition consisted of Basketball and Volleyball. Central's vivacious feminine stars emerged victorious in every game to bring fame and glory to their beloved Alma Mater. A most entertaining and outstanding program was contributed to by the various representatives of the high schools participating in this exciting and unique Playday.

The second Playday which was an Individual Sports Day, gave many girls the opportunity to participate and enjoy it. These many contestants have come to realize that these competitions are really for fun and play instead of hard work.

SPORTS

Two Gym Parties, both supported by the Physical Education Department and backed by the Olympians, were tremendously enjoyed by all who attended. At the first a most outstanding performance given by some of Central's leading talent went over as the best program ever given at a gym party. The program for the next party challenged that of the former, however, and was quite outstanding. Something different in the entertainment line was the exhibition fencing match and musical fencing. This appealed to just about everyone. The seniors on the program realized this was their last gym party and put all they had into it to make it tops. Few will forget the happy memories of these parties.

Toward the end of the year we started the swimming season which was quite beneficial to those who swam. Miss Henschel was the swimming instructor. She also taught a diving class for advanced swimmers. The Block System (swimming 3 days a week for 6 weeks instead of 1 or 2 days a week for the length of a term) was used for the first time by Central's Physical Education Department.

The Baseball Season, also held at the last of the school year, was cut short to fit the nine months' term. In spite of this obstacle, we had a very good showing at Individual Sports Day.

The gym, now two years old, has been the main factor in luring the girls to take Physical Education. It has been used for the Girl Reserve parties, a faculty party, Camp Fire and Girl Scout meetings, and the Gym parties. We certainly wish to thank all who helped to make the building of this very nice gym possible.

Without Miss Purnell's aid in taking pictures the department's section in the yearbook would not have amounted to much. We certainly appreciate this support given by one of our instructors.

The last week of school was exciting enough. Award Day was held at a Mass Assembly. Many girls at this time received those emblems of three hard years of work and active participation in all activities.

This year's seniors are leaving a challenge to the juniors to make next year as successful and enjoyable as this year 1939-40 has been to all involved.

Our department has had a most successful venture, and the outgoing senior managers wish to extend sincere thanks to our most able instructors, Miss Purnell and Miss Henschel, and to the students who took such an important part.

R. O. T. C.

The start of the school year found the cadets facing a different situation than in former years. A new streamlined style of drill was introduced to simplify and speed up all drill movements, and cadets acting as officers were forced to learn all over again how to drill a platoon and company to conform to new regulations.

When the first few weeks were well under way, the acting officers were given a test to prove their knowledge of military science and tactics. Raoul LaNoue placed first and was commissioned as a second lieutenant along with Myron Nelson, Cleland Hughes, Paul Sieben, Elmer Caulk, Bill Matthews, James Vleisides, Howard Watkins, Robert Levy, Thomas Lloyd, Thomas Jones, Clarence Regas, and Robert Lemon. Raoul LaNoue was acting major.

The first outside activity of the battalion was its participation in the Armistice Day parade led by the Central drum majorettes.

The results of the second promotion list found Raoul LaNoue and Myron Nelson promoted to the rank of captains and Elmer Caulk, Cleland Hughes, and Thomas Lloyd commissioned first lieutenants.

The highest post in the battalion was filled

December 17 when Raoul LaNoue was promoted to the coveted position of cadet major. Cleland Hughes, Elmer Caulk, and Thomas Lloyd were raised to the rank of cadet captains at the same time.

Settling down to the routine of drill and classroom work, the cadets began to look forward to the next scheduled event on the R.O.T.C. calendar, the annual military hop.

Elizabeth Ford was crowned queen with Virginia Buford and Jeanne Lewis as her aides. The hop was, in the opinion of many, the most successful one in the history of Central's R.O.T.C. battalion.

At the same time Myron Nelson was promoted to cadet major and Bill Matthews raised to the rank of captain.

The list of guests included Colonel Burr P. Irwin, Major Duggan, and Mr. C. O. Williams, who crowned the queen and presented her and her aides with flowers.

Due to a shortened school year it is impossible to record all the events of the year in this book, but it is with a hopeful heart as the book goes to press that the battalion looks forward to the Circus, Corp Area Inspection, and Field Day, the results of which you will know by the time you read this.

Look you, through this high-powered lens; what is it we see on yon high eastern hill, Brentano? It is Old Central in the morning light of the rising sun. There she stands towering above all others and built for the ages. Time seems to weave for her a crown of dignity. Teeming with the vigor of youth, she continues to send out her light in radiant splendor. The class of 1940 contributes its quota to the thousands who have left their Alma Mater. The class will walk the halls no more, but it leaves a never-dying record to the school it loves. My dear Apuleius! How bountifully science has rewarded us for our patient toil. It has revealed to us the Horn of Plenty out of which is poured, as an elixir of life, an endless stream of friendliness and good will upon a troubled world.

And now we come to that last sign of the stars, Pisces, master of sorrow. Since he happened in on the occasion of Commencement, his arrival was quite timely, for where else would sorrow rank higher than at the time when you see many friends for the last time. But what memories are left you. Four hectic years of high school life with its ups and downs which bumped you along on your way through life. So now, we leave you to your memories, having proved to what a great extent the stars entered into the trials and tribulations of Central's students.

Aquarius, father of all hopes, aspirations, friends, and societies, came around at the time of the track meets and Intersociety. Running made an all high as the race for success and fame ran high in the hearts of Central's hopefuls. The track team must have run too far, though, for in their determination to win they forgot apparently what they had set out to win. All in all, though, our team really showed some grit. In Intersociety the societies under the guidance of Aquarius showed some real fight and competition, doing all possible to run their rivals into the ground with their slam songs and yells. If noise meant anything, there would have been nine clubs tied for first place. But alas, Aquarius had to pass on to make way for another and with him passed this year's Intersociety, leaving behind a trail of broken hearts and happy hearts. Hearty fellow, that Aquarius.

Capricorn, overseer of honor and ambition, was the next to be reckoned with. Upon the cast of the Spring Play "June Mad" fell this task, envied by all, of winning honor and glory for Central. The reckoning must have proved fairly successful for the play was a smash hit, playing before a record audience. Kissing the nectar of some fair lady's sweet lips seemed to be the undercurrent theme with a wealth of fun surrounding it. Capricorn surely smiled on Central when he saw these happy family groups, leaning towards the slap-happy variety, get together. A girl just out of the cradle making love to a boy just out of college—moon-struck grownups—a career-struck girl—an air-struck boy—all struck the audience as being the tops in the entertainment field at Central.

HOROSCOPE

By IRVING GEWERTZ

To follow the horoscope start on next page, reading down, then read up on this page.

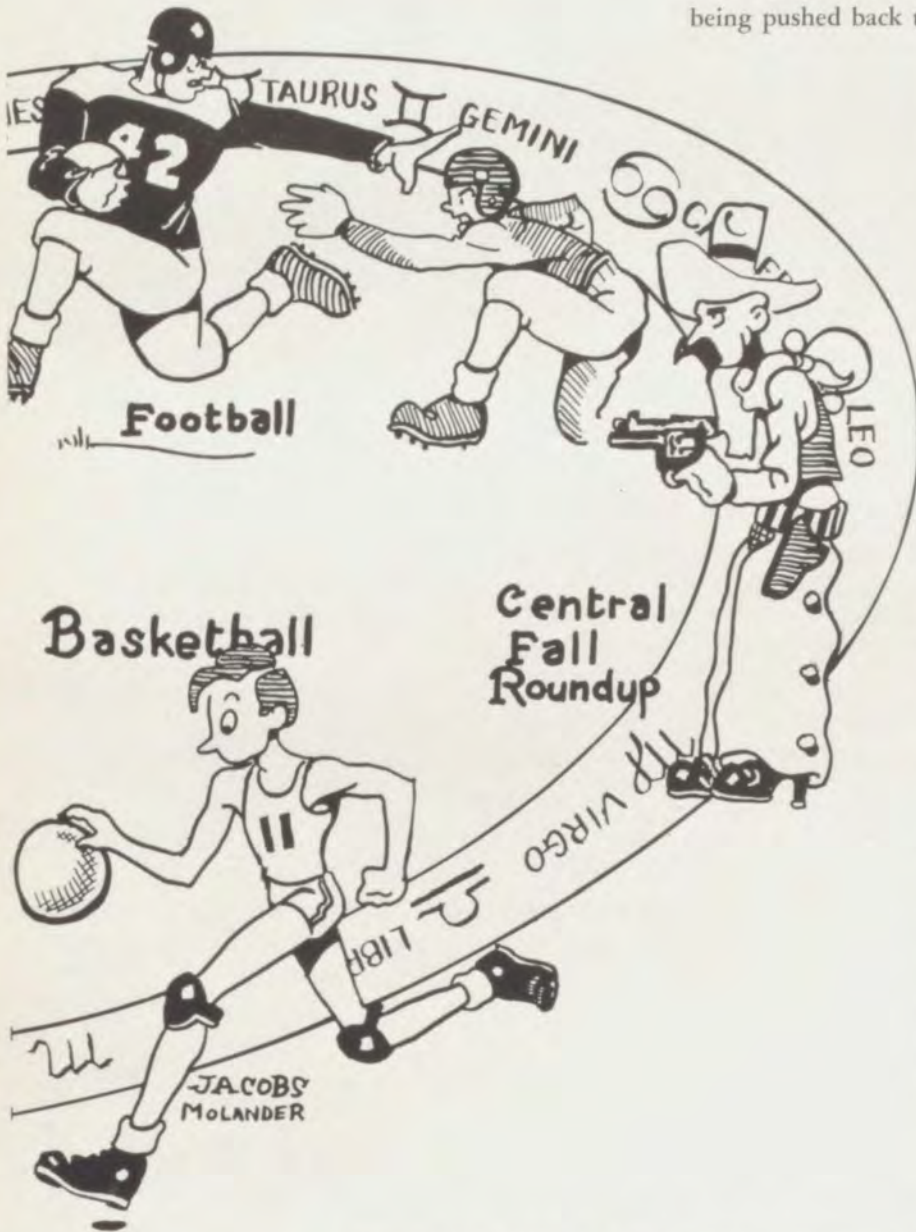

Pledge Day, that day long awaited by the gleeful club members, came around under the influence of Sagittarius, overlord of long journeys, particularly by water. "Long journeys" was putting it mild for those luckless pledges, and running, walking, buttoning, eating salt-pepper-and-mustard sandwiches along the way were merely a few of the many tasks. What about the water? Well, they were in hot water all the time, weren't they? Or were they? "Ah, for the life of a pledge" seemed the slogan of the hour.

In looking back on the past school year we are amazed to find that in every field of activity the constellations of the horoscope have guided each of our moves to the wink of an eye. Some of you "studes" may doubt this, but our facts are based on actual happenings. Witness this march of events:

Football was the first to fall beneath the axe of the stars. Aries, Taurus, and Gemini all spent their wrath upon luckless Central. Aries, ruled by Mars, saw headstrong Central practising and resolved that this year was a good one to cool Central off; so after the "sweat" came the chill. No matter how hard the doomed team tried, it was of no avail. All the sliding, slushing, falling, flying, fighting spent on their respective opponents resulted only in their being pushed back two steps for each one they went forward. And when the other team didn't succeed in pushing them back, the referees seemed to come to the enemy's aid by penalizing Central. There was no getting around it—Aries reigned supreme—and Central didn't reign at all. "Stormy weather, eh! what?"

Then came the Central Roundup, and luckily it came at a favorable time, for Leo, ruling over all amusements, was in a good mood—(right after dinner time.) Of course, it is never possible to have everything perfect, and on this occasion there raged a feud between Leo and Cancer, lord of sorrow. Cancer succeeded in downing all the directors, picking them off with colds, fevers, and heart attacks. Ah! 'twas a sad outlook for the Roundup cast. But wait, Leo, not going to be deprived of his entertainment, came in at the nick of time, pulled the students together under their own directors and the "play went on" to the applause of a satisfied audience and to the utter disgust of that poor old villain—Cancer. Leo rides again!

Virgo, goddess of health and service, next came into the limelight fostering basketball, and Central's hopes soared high as Libra, lord of partnerships, allied with Virgo, saw Central walking hand in hand with sweet Victory. Ah! What a glorious time it was for those first four eventful weeks. But again a villain appeared in the form of Scorpio, ruler of death, and luckless Central shivered in defeat as Virgo and Libra were sent into the shadows of the past. With scrabble of disdain, Scorpio spent his wrath on Central, and who were we to object when Virgo and Libra fled? Our team was buried beneath an avalanche of points till our heads felt like the day after the night before. Central was buried in a dark corner with a tie for fourth place. That's right—blame it on the stars.
