BLACK IS ...

JOE

LEADERSHIP

... helping and guiding the young body thru that grey jungle

Mrs. Lillian Hayes—
Kansas City Teachers College, 25 years Main Office
Secretary. "Turned Mission Impossible into Mission Accomplished".

Mr. Cecil Hayes—
Masters Degree—Central Mo. State College (Warrensburg). AB Degree—Baker University, teaching career—25 years, career at CHS—13 years of physics, photography, chemistry, mathematics. Also,
School Photographer "... He was there when no one else was."

The ~~Hayes~~
Experience

Black Is Dedication—Dedication—Dedication—Dedication—Dedication—

Understanding . . . Strength . . . Trust . . . Intelligence . . . Love . . . Life. Blackness is a state of mind . . . considered the ultimate in a world where the "original concept" is assumed forgotten.

The Brother and Sister, in this case, are not dashiki-clad, afro-sporting, cadillac-driving individuals. And though their skin lacks ebony pigment, all the things we have strived to achieve through self expression, in bringing the word "Black" it it's ultimate are there, within this pair. A pair extraordinaire' with separate "ways and means," but working toward the same cause. Both acting with distant, but equal force to keep CHS to-geth-er. Definitely Black . . . in every sense of the word.

America, behold your "Great White Hope" for understanding . . . strength . . . trust . . . intelligence . . . love . . . peace . . . and life!!

Do things seem a little "Hayes'y"? . . . Brother, that's the way they're supposed to be.

DIG IT.

Pride Corner—
Pride, is working to make the title
"WE SHALL OVERCOME" obsolete.

4 corners=the basic CHS structure

4 corners=a SQUARE

A square can be a lost body; a box floating infinitely, without value, into time and space; entirely out-of-it . . .

. . . a square can be a super-hip creation of lines and angles coming together to form the essence of originality . . . WOW!!

A square's depth is in the eye of it's beholder.

The student body here at CHS would like YOU to experience what OUR 4 corners consist of. The 1970/71 Centralian presents:

The 4 Corners of Blackness . . .
(cr)

Take me; every lovin' inch is yours!

Candid Corner—
. . . showing us, sometimes happy, sometimes sad, always frank, never posed, just . . . being ourselves.

"Everybody over there . . ."

"If I can just get one more piece of tape . . ."

Unity Corner—
To be Centralites, together, and Black: that's where it's at!

HEALTH OCCUPATIONS

D. Washington, J. Madison, A. Swopes.

The Health Occupations class this year has expanded its areas of clinical practice. The students have the same academic background as the pre-nursing students, but work in a variety of areas besides nursing service in the hospital.

The other areas in which they are working are in nuclear medicine, physical medicine, which includes physical therapy, occupational therapy, and correctional therapy. Still other areas are electrocardiography, the dental clinic, central service, research surgery, and nursing service working on the hospital's patient units.

NURSING

E. Brooks, E. Bell, K. Washington, P. Hunter.

The pre-nursing class spends fifteen weeks doing bedside nursing care on three surgical units at the Veterans Administration Hospital. They also spend four weeks at Little Sisters of the Poor where they learn geriatric care on the infirmary wards. At the Foundation School for the Mentally Retarded they have the opportunity to spend four weeks, generally as classroom teacher's aides.

Their classroom academic activities include studying anatomy and physiology, medical terminology and abbreviations, normal nutrition, personal and community health, professional ethics, and most important of all—nursing fundamentals.

C.O.E.

Mr. Jack Bush

For many years educators and employers have been aware of the increasing complexity of youth's problem as they move from school to work. The explosion of the youth population, the technological revolution, and automation are all contributing to the seriousness of the problem. Assistance in the solution of this problem is a universal need of all youth, irrespective of their level of schooling or the job which they desire to enter.

Because of the rapid changes taking place in all types of employment and the increasing complexity of entrance requirements, youth are confronted with an almost insurmountable task as they approach the age when they must choose and prepare themselves for entering a career. A large number end up on the unemployment list simply because they cannot cope with this problem.

Public secondary schools throughout the country have accepted the responsibility of providing assistance to young people in analyzing and solving many of the problems related to choosing and preparing for a career. Many plans have been successfully used and various types of training have been provided.

In many of the nation's high schools a part of this responsibility has been met through programs of work experience education. Effective work experience education results only when a program encompasses a systematic plan whereby young people, while still in school, gain realistic employment experience through part-time work performed under school supervision and control.

Many types of work experience programs are in operation in the school throughout the country. In any plan it is assumed that a student is employed part-time in a training situation that is supervised by the school and the pupil is enrolled in a school program that is related to the type of work in which he is engaged.

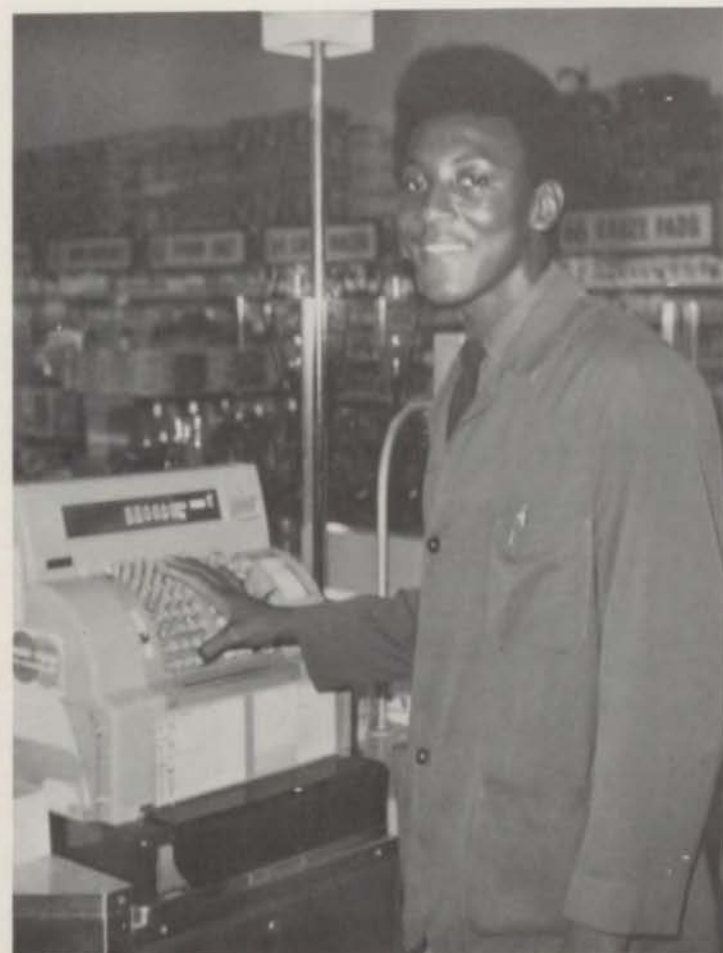

This program in Kansas City, Missouri is called Cooperative Occupational Education and has as its purpose the extension of vocational learning opportunities for the pupil through part-time employment in the occupation of his choice.

LUMINARY STAFF

Mr. L. C. Darden

The Luminary publishes 16 issues per year. The students are led by Mr. L.C. Darden who has had eleven years of experience as a newspaperman.

The Luminary is designed to keep the student body informed to the latest happenings at the school as well as encouraging them to become better students.

This year's Luminary Staff is composed of an editor-in-chief, assistant editors, page editors, legmen, a production manager, and a business manager.

The editor-in-chief is the head of the entire staff, directing all other workers, both editorial and business.

The assistant editors aid the editor-in-chief as well as write features and editorials.

The page editors, aided by page assistants, are responsible for assigning, gathering, copy-reading, and editing all news on the page.

The legmen or reporters are very important. They go out and get the information needed when assigned a story.

The production manager makes sure everything is ready for the production of the paper.

The business manager takes care of all business and financial matters.

When all the members of the staff work together, the result is an outstanding newspaper.

“71”

THE TENACIOUS TWELVE PLUS 1

Tenacious Twelve Plus 1

Twelve Tenacious, vigorous, courageous, Brothers and Sisters collectively, express what they saw in the year of 71.

They chose a theme concerned with black consciousness and Black pride told in terms compatible with their own experience and self-awareness—told like it is.

They have recorded more than a candid yearbook. It is explosive . . . Black imagery. Image, in this sense, has the meaning of—self-concept.

Especially outstanding are the division pages. Thanks to the artistry of Brother Johnson and the poetry of Sister Reed each division expresses a "state of mind".

The condition of your/our mind is in question.

Are you ready?

DE LA SALLE 8-CENTRAL 0

Central opened it's 1970-1971 football season on September 17 by dropping the first game to De La Salle, 8-0. The Titans did their scoring in the first quarter, following a blocked Central punt; the conversion run was successful. The rest of the game was even, both defenses holding well.

CHILLICOTHE 40-CENTRAL 6

The Eagles non-league games came to a bad end by losing to Chillicothe 40-6, September 25. Central's only score came in the fourth quarter due to a Hornet fumble.

LINCOLN 12-CENTRAL 6

The Lincoln Tigers slipped by the Eagles 12-6, on October 3. Central scored in the 1st quarter and Lincoln scored twice in the 4th to win the game.

CENTRAL 37-MANUAL 6

Scoring in every quarter, the Eagles crushed Manual 37-6 on October 17. A powerful defense kept Manual from scoring until the 4th quarter.

CENTRAL 12-NORTHEAST 0

The Eagles over-powered Northeast as they recorded their first victory of the season, 12-0 on October 9. Scoring in the second and fourth quarter brought their league record to 1-1.

CENTRAL 12-VANHORN 7

On October 24, the Eagles defeated Van Horn 12-7. Central's defense was excellent, and at this point, led the league.

CENTRAL 12-PASEO 2

The Eagles gained a hard fought victory over Paseo 12-2 on October 30. Central scored in the third and fourth quarters.

CENTRAL EAST

SOUTHEAST 26-CENTRAL 21

The Eagles lost an important and close game to Southeast 26-21, on November 7. The game was marked by the Eagles second half comeback, and a disputed call by the referees which decided the game.
