Sound Mind, Sound Body

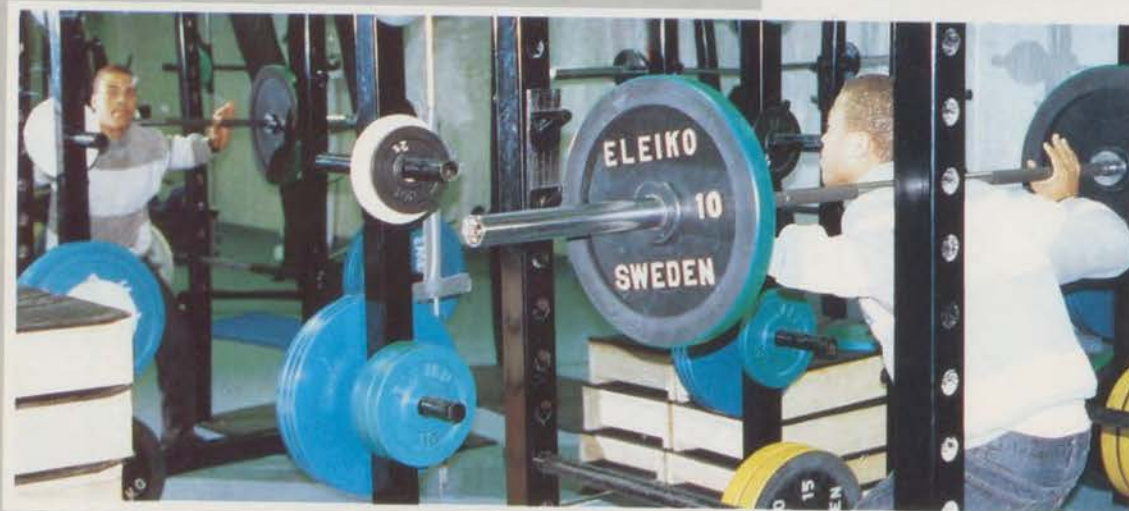

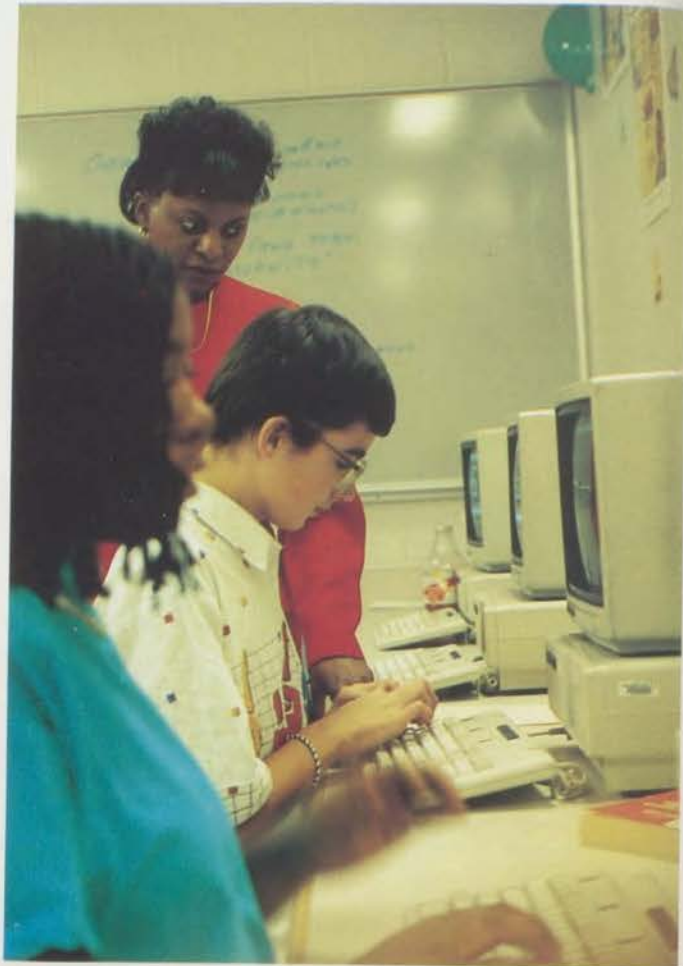

Sound Like You?

Sound Mind and Sound Body is an unusual theme; however, it is appropriate for the students at Central High School. Sound Mind refers to an individual who has a broad but balanced background in education. Sound Body suggests an individual who is healthy and accomplished in physical development. Both express the common theme of excellence and typify the Greek philosophy towards life. We at Central are striving to obtain these goals; therefore, we challenge others to do the same. . . Sound Like You?

Dismantling a statue of Lenin was symbolic of what was to happen to the world's strongest socialist nation in 1991. After an August coup attempt by hardliners to remove Mikhail Gorbachev from power failed, the USSR was living on borrowed time. Week by week Gorbachev's authority weakened and Russian President Boris Yeltsin's influence grew as the republics called for the end of the Soviet Union. In December, 11 of the 12 republics formally ended their relationship with the Soviet Union and formed the Commonwealth of Independent States. Gorbachev resigned shortly thereafter and the leaders of the new commonwealth began the long process of settling their differences.

"I HEARD IT THROUGH THE GRAPEVINE," that the Class of 1992 was going to be a great class. That was back in the fall of 1988 when the current graduating class was just on the threshold of their freshman year; since then, hard work, lots of fun, and multitudes of many-faceted experiences have molded into the fruition of that prediction. Being a sponsor for these energetic, friendly youngsters has been, at once: fun-filled, hard work, and sometimes heartbreaking. For example, two class members, Marcel Hardaway and Tawana Morgan, lost their lives before they reached the senior year and the loss will always hurt when I think about "The Vintage Bunch" in the years ahead. The pain of these losses is balanced by the joy I feel when thinking about what has gone right for most of these spirited young Central Eagles over the four years that I have known and worked with them. Three other staff members lent their help with this class, and the Vintage Bunch and I are indebted to them for their part in making 1992 a great year. The first helper, in 1990-91, was Mrs. Juanita Carroll, who co-sponsored the sophomore class with me. Mr. Mark Yulich became co-sponsor during the junior year and served through the first semester of this year. When Mark was given the challenge to organize a Letter-Men's Club, Mrs. Renee Gray, former 1991 co-sponsor, joined us to help with graduation activities. All of these dedicated staff members contributed their individual talents and are appreciated for everything each of them has done to improve the high school careers of the class of 1992. It takes a team effort to do anything worthwhile. Every staff member and support person at Central High School

"Class", is something Central has a lot of. Accounting, Computer Science, and Greek Art are just a few of the unique classes we offer here at Central.

Another new thing we are adjusting to is how our class schedule is set up. Hours one through four are known as the High Days, and hours five through eight are the Low Days, allowing us to have longer class time and fewer classes per day.

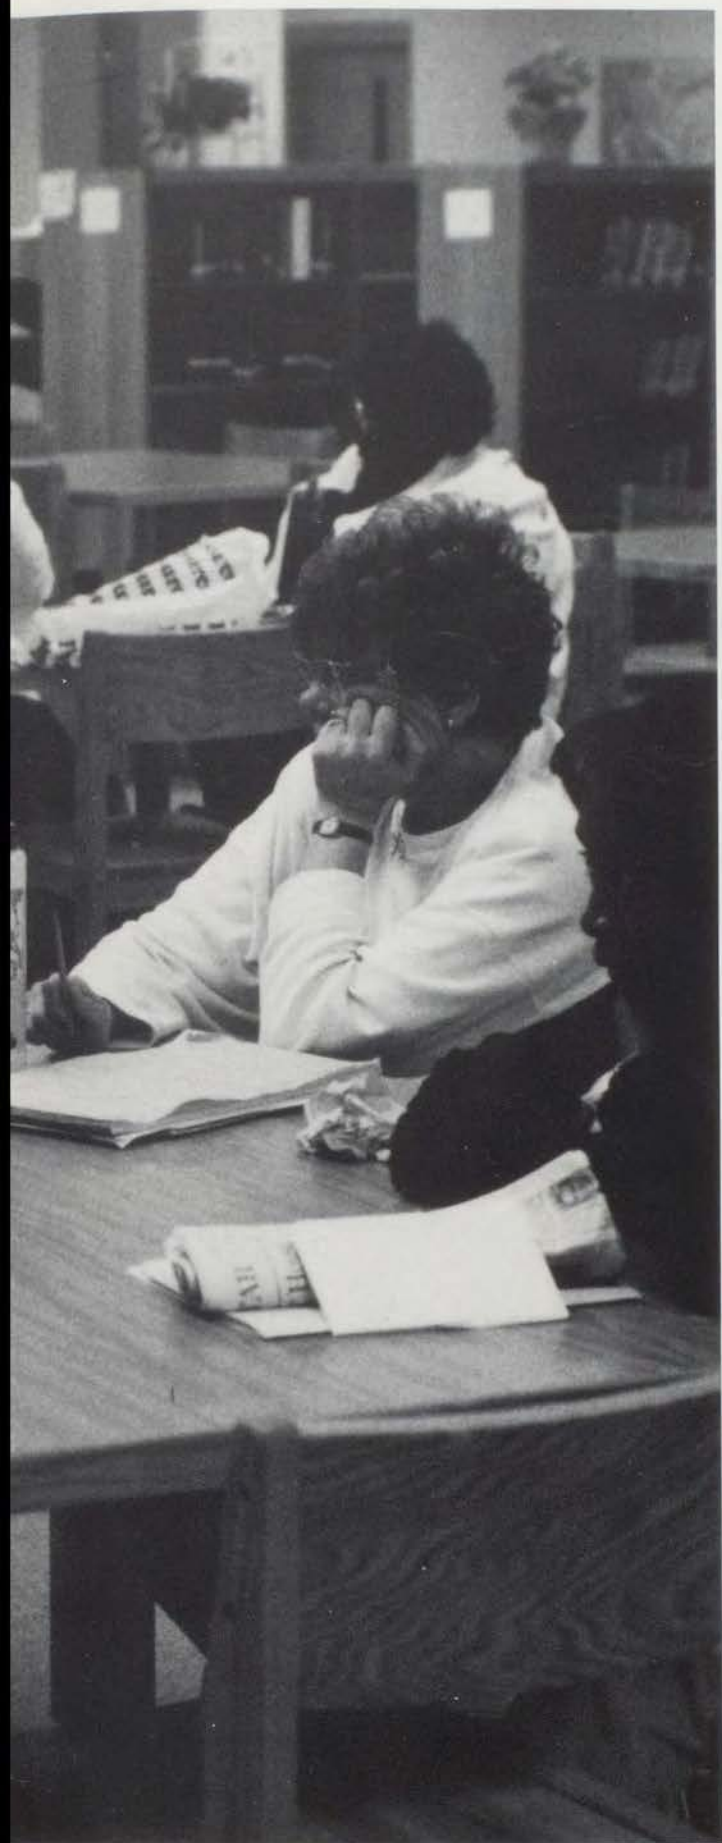

All students on the computer side are required to take a certain number of computer classes to graduate. Some of these required classes are Pascal, BASIC, and Fortran.

All in all, most of the students, old and new, seem to be adjusting quite well to the "new" Central's academic program.

Although it was a hectic beginning moving into a new building and adapting to new classes, the students have shown their true spirit and have kept their Peace of Mind through it all.

Brenda Gray, Curriculum Coordinator for the Classical Greek theme and nine other Central staff members went to Phillips Academy to learn more about the Classical Greek Studies and the additional courses that are now a part of Central's Greek curriculum.

Following Ms. Gray's encounter with Maxine Grogan, Dean of Admissions at Phillips Academy, it was concluded that three scholarships for the six week summer session at the Academy would be offered to Central students.

After the screening and interviewing process had been conducted, the winners of the scholarships were Misty Owens, Erin Riley and Kaileen Wilson. The amount of the award was approximately $4000.

When the winners of the scholarships were asked what their feelings about the award were, a few of their responses were as follows.

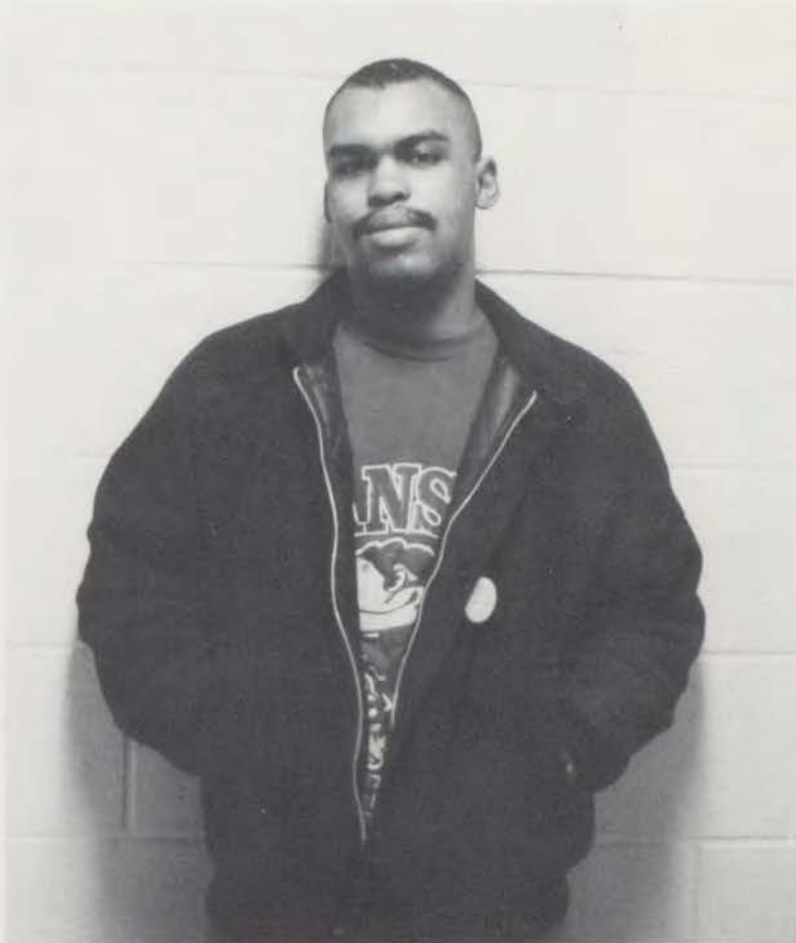

"I am extremely honored that I was one of the three students selected to go to Phillips Academy for the summer session. This is a chance of a lifetime that I wouldn't have had if I had not come to Central. I plan to represent this school to the best of my ability while at Phillips Academy," answered Erin Riley.

Misty Owens' reply was, "I feel very privileged to get the chance to go to such a wonderful place. I will represent Central High School the best that I can. I hope in years to come, students will be as excited about going as I am. I am very grateful."

Arthur Benson, Clinton Adams and Ms. Turner (an AT&T representative), donated money toward the students' airfare.

Phillips Academy, located in Andover, Massachusetts, is one of the highest ranked high schools in the United States. The Academy is an impressive scholastic community of over 1200 students from all over the world.

Black History Essay Winners

Edward Wiley, first place winner of the Black History month essay contest.

The following is a copy of the winning essay written by Edward Wiley for the Black History Essay Contest.

A Desperate, Determined Road to Freedom

Black history to me has been a desperate, determined road to freedom. Since we were brought to this country, as slaves, there has been an urge to regain the basic human rights that had been taken away from my people.

From time to time, we have had many great leaders who have devoted their lives to regaining freedom for our people. Slaves such as Sojourner Truth and Harriet Tubman helped other slaves become free. Abolitionists such as Frederick Douglas, worked for not only antislavery, but also for the civil rights of blacks, particularly women's rights.

As time progressed, more and more blacks made their names known in different aspects of life. For instance, Paul Dunbar was considered to be one of the best poets, black or white, of the nineteenth century. And, of course, Langston Hughes was another.

By the twentieth century blacks started making names in music, television, and sports. Scott Joplin was crowned the king of ragtime blues. Count Basie was a great orchestra leader. Everybody listened when Josephine Baker sung. Jack Johnson was the first black heavy weight boxing champ. Joe Louis became champ in 1935. Jesse Ownes and Ralph Metcalf stood at the top of the pack of all the athletes in the 1936 Olympics. Jim Brown and Ernie Davis started us in football. And in basketball it was Oscar Robertson, Elgin Baylor, and Wilt Chamberlain. And in television Charlie Chaplin paved the way for black actors and actresses.

By the 1960's black people came together and took a stand for the rights due them. Dr. Martin Luther King and Malcom X wanted us to separate from the white people. All three were assassinated, but what they worked and died for, lives on today. Hopefully, forever! Other people made contributions that helped shaped the country. Rosa Parks took a stand when she wouldn't give up her seat, on the bus, to a white person. From that the city buses were soon desegregated.

I couldn't even come close to mentioning all of the black people who have contributed to our progress, but I thank them all for what they accomplished or contributed. These people proved that the black race is not, or ever, will be, inferior to any other race in this world of ours.

I still continue to praise those people who not only contributed to the Black race, but to the betterment of life for other races as well. Thank you our great ancestors. We will remember you forever.

Dewanna O'Guinn, second place winner.

Ella Carroll, third place winner.

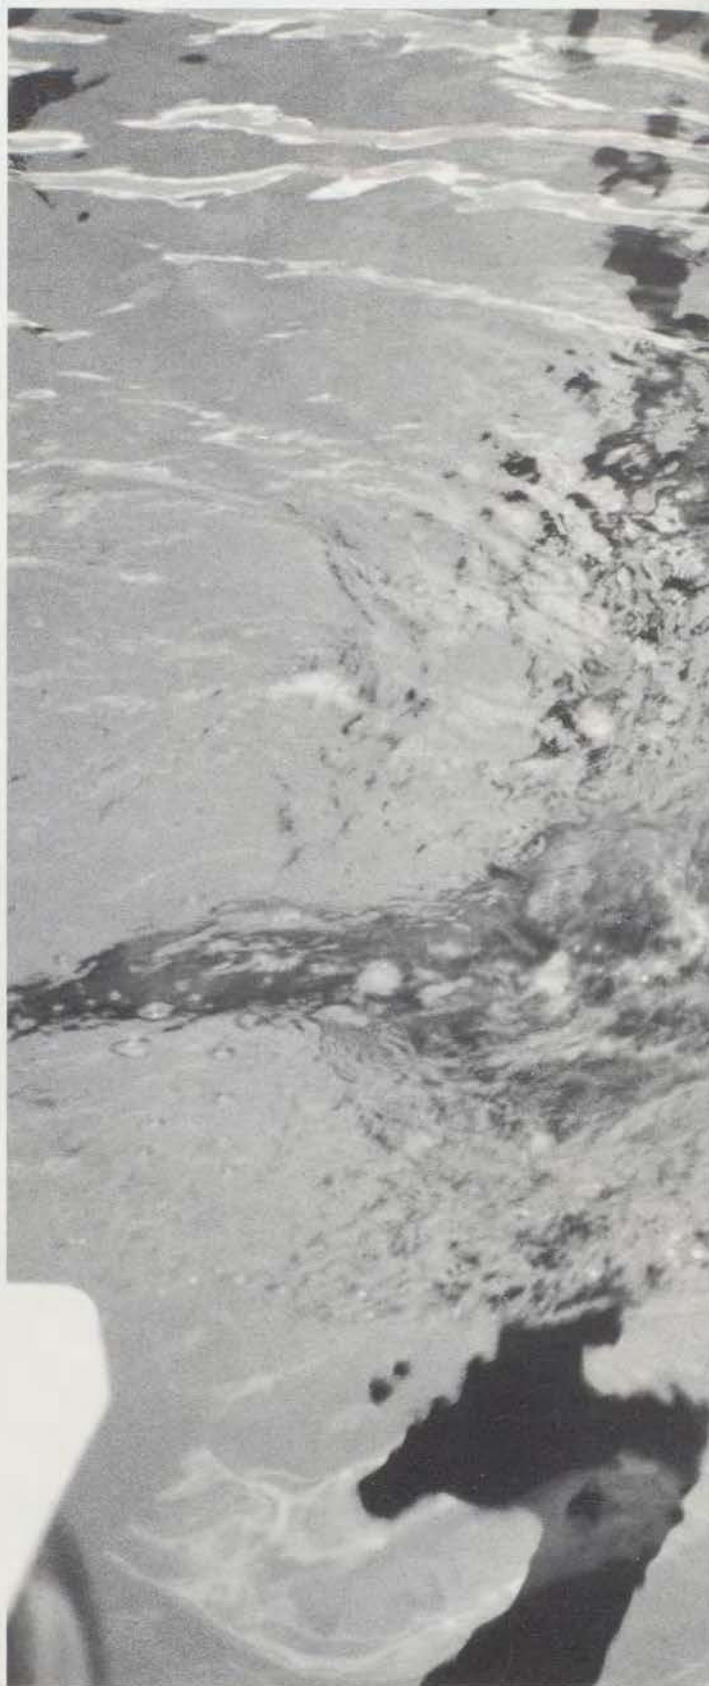

SPORTS AT CENTRAL

For the past three years, the Central High School Mighty Blue Eagles have been strongly competitive in football, basketball, cross country, track, and volleyball. Last year our football team did a good job, winning the Interscholastic League Division and going on to District play. Basketball and other sports also placed first.

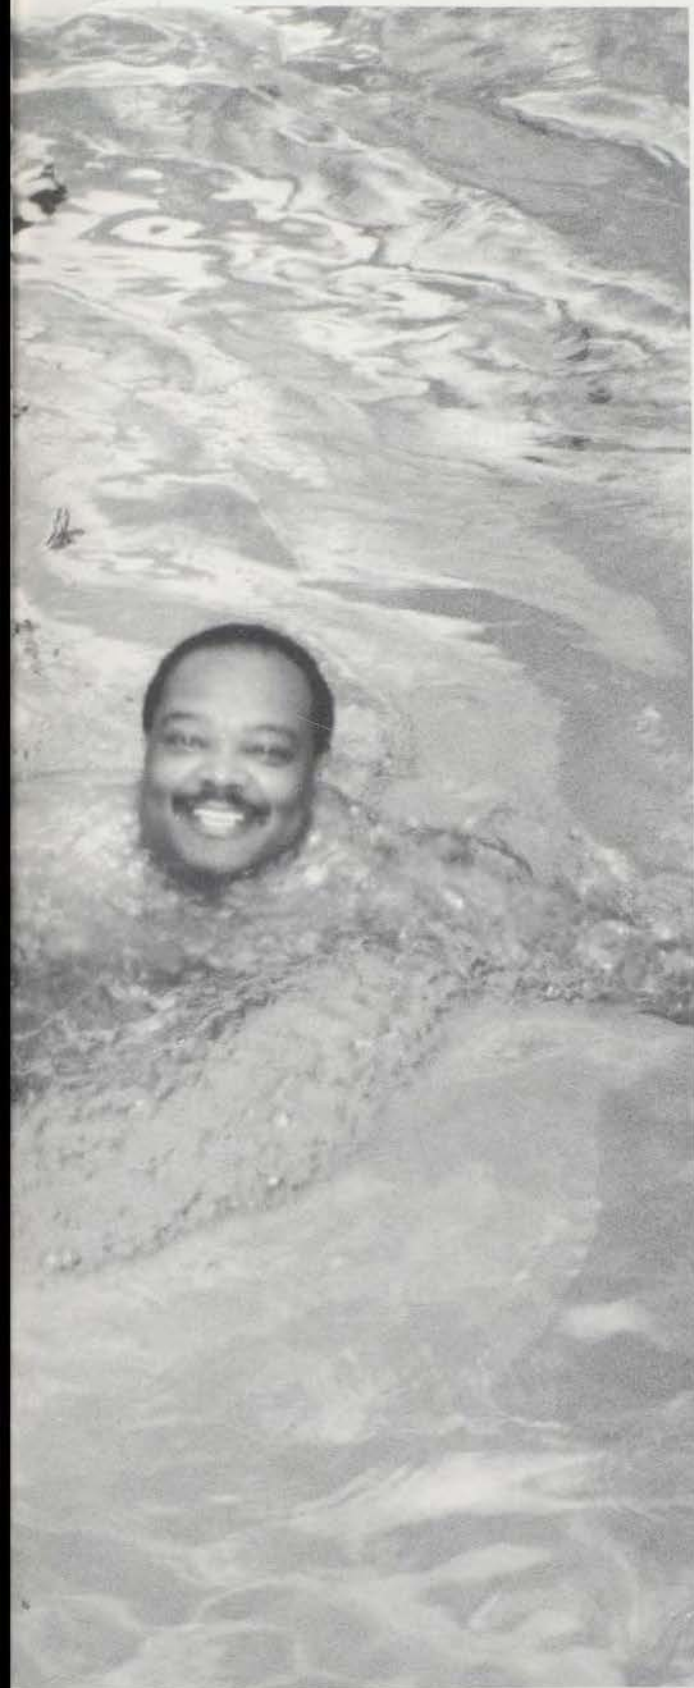

Coach Ed Bielik shows off the new weightroom his team will use.

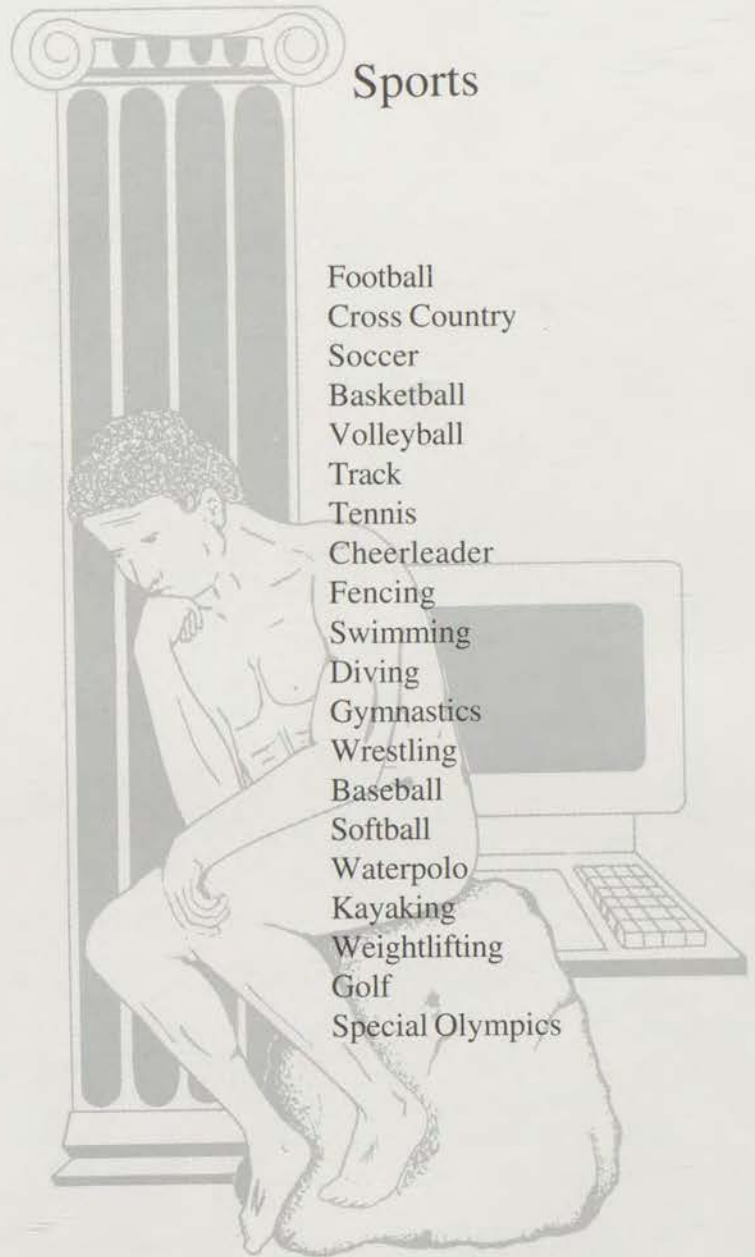

In addition to a brand new 32 million dollar school we have several new sports: wrestling, swimming, diving, fencing, gymnastics, tennis, racketball, handball, baseball, softball, golf, weightlifting, canoeing, and soccer. We are hoping that we will be competitive in all of these new sports in the years to come. As long as the athletes do their best, we can surely be proud of them whether they win or lose.

It has been an excellent year for Cross Country/Track coach Willie Mahone. Not only has he been picked as the number one track coach of the year; but now he has been appointed interim vice principal of the Greek theme for Central High School. We are very proud of Coach Mahone for his longtime dedication to Central's athletes and athletic program. Thanks Coach, for all of your inspiration to us all.

Several Central players rest on the sidelines during the game.

The 1991 Central Varsity Football had a very disappointing year. They posted a dismal 0-6 record in the Interscholastic League, and 0-9 overall. They opened up their season with a 22-6 loss against St. Thomas Aquinas and ended their season with a 32-10 loss to Van Horn. Even though they were winless there were a few bright spots. Senior tailback Demitrius Clay posted several 100-yard rushing games. Sophomore quarterback Brent Stone came off the bench and scored two touchdowns in the homecoming game against St. Joseph Lafayette. This team might have been bad this year but they won't be down for long they'll be back next year.

Fencing 1991-92

Two fencers duel a practice at the gym in Vail, Colorado.

Coach Steve Butler and Coach Vladimir Nazlymov would tell you it was the beautiful facilities and the unique opportunity of fencing given to students that brought them to Central. Both coaches share the dream of sending at least two people to the 1996 Olympics. Their dream is well on its way.

Central can boast of having the only full scale program in the United States. A grade school student can receive training and continue throughout highschool. Because of the intensive and technical program offered, there is little competition for Central students in the Junior Olympic division. After only two months of training, two people placed: Jeremy Summers received 6th in the under 15 Sabre division and Sean Bates received 4th in the under 17 Sabre division.

This year alone the students have travelled as far away as Vail, Colorado and St. Paul, Minnesota and as close as the Market Center here in K.C. where the Junior Olympics was held.

We congratulate the team and agree with the coaches that we are certainly proud of their efforts and accomplishments.

There are many words to define the people of Central High School. For example, the people who strive hard to get the best grades possible, would be called the leaders. Those who don't have a care in the world, would be called the wanderers.

This section will be about all the students and their accomplishments over this school year. In addition to the student portraits there will be candid shots of every part of Central Computer Unlimited Classical Greek Magnet High School.

To sum it up, the people at Central High are very special in their own way and a picture is worth a thousand words.
