THE EASTONIAN
OF PROGRESS
1935

PUBLISHED BY

THE EASTONIAN STAFF
OF
EAST HIGH SCHOOL

KANSAS CITY, MISSOURI

EDITOR'S PREFACE

With the sincere hope that you, the students of East High, will find herein a full, accurate, and pleasing record of the thrills, joys, sorrows, laughs, disappointments, triumphs, and friendships of 1934-'35, the Eastonian staff gives this yearbook, the product of their sincere endeavor, over to you for your approval or censure.

The task of making this Eastonian a human and living record, which we hope it is, has been a task to which we feel we are not adequate. If we have in any measure helped to preserve for your future enjoyment, the pleasant memories of this school year we feel our task has been fulfilled.

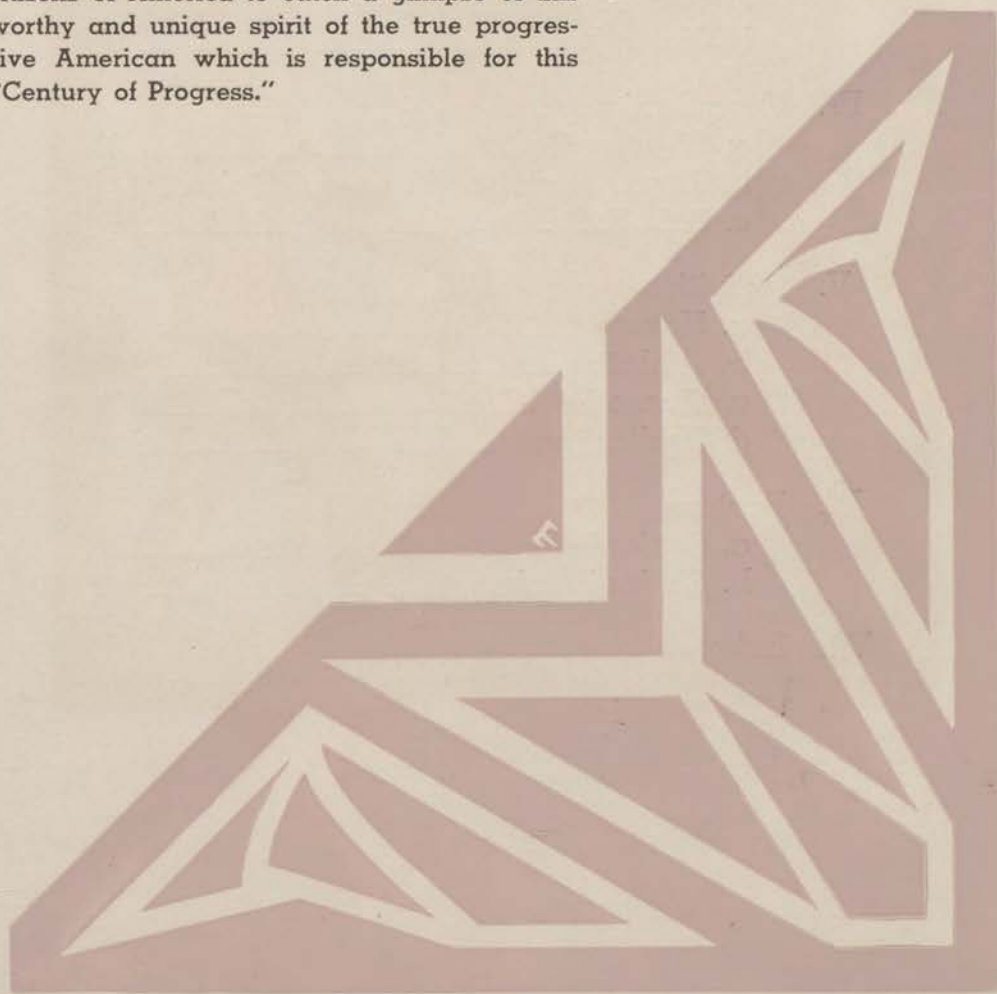

THE EDITOR

DEDICATION

The new era, the New Deal, the new spirit of fight to help ourselves and one another, the spirit shown by individual, group, and nation today, which the youth of today must acquire, is the most vital and vast aspect of life about us.

This book is called "The Eastonian of Progress"; and to this new high ideal of progress it is dedicated. With its dedication goes the hope that it may in some small way help the future citizens of America to catch a glimpse of this worthy and unique spirit of the true progressive American which is responsible for this "Century of Progress."

VIEWS

PROGRESS IN COMMUNICATION

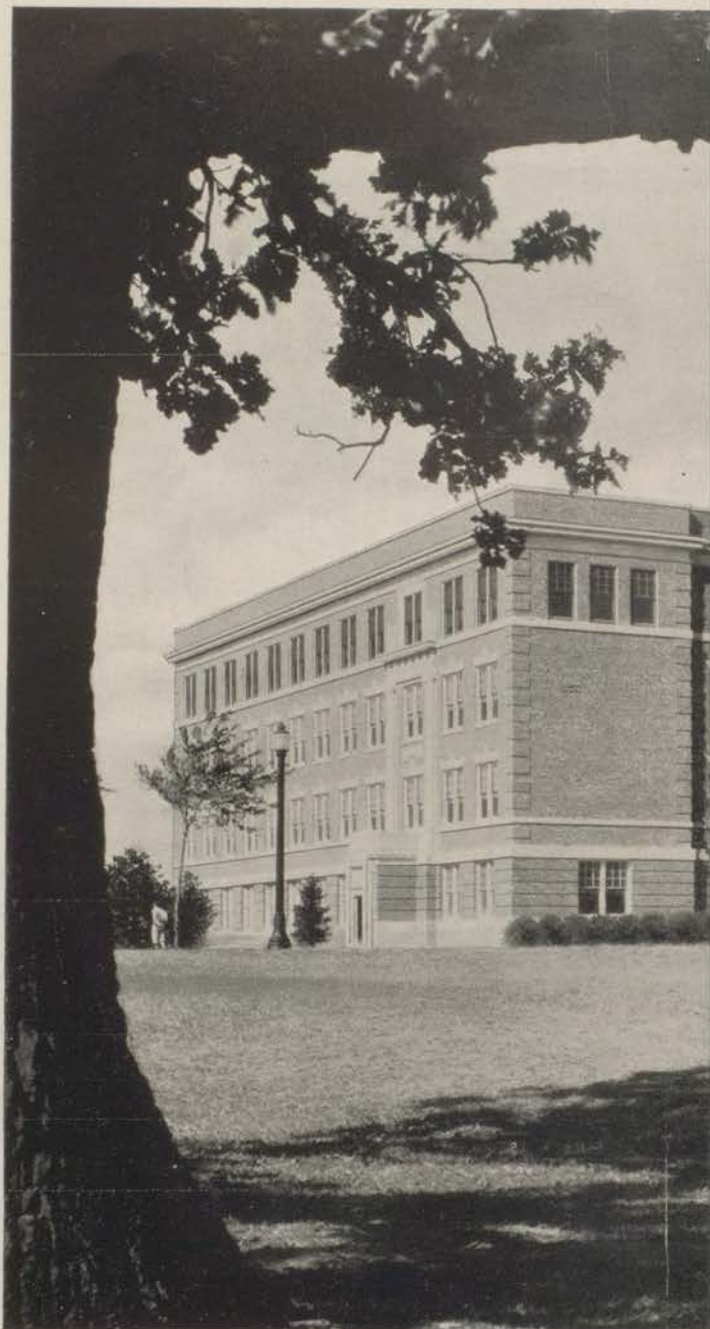

From native signal drum and smoke signals of the past to the amazing apparatus of today which we call television, the wide panorama of progress in communication is one continual parade of romantic conquering of obstacles and the solving of nature's puzzling laws.

A complex civilization such as ours would be impossible were it not for speed in communication.

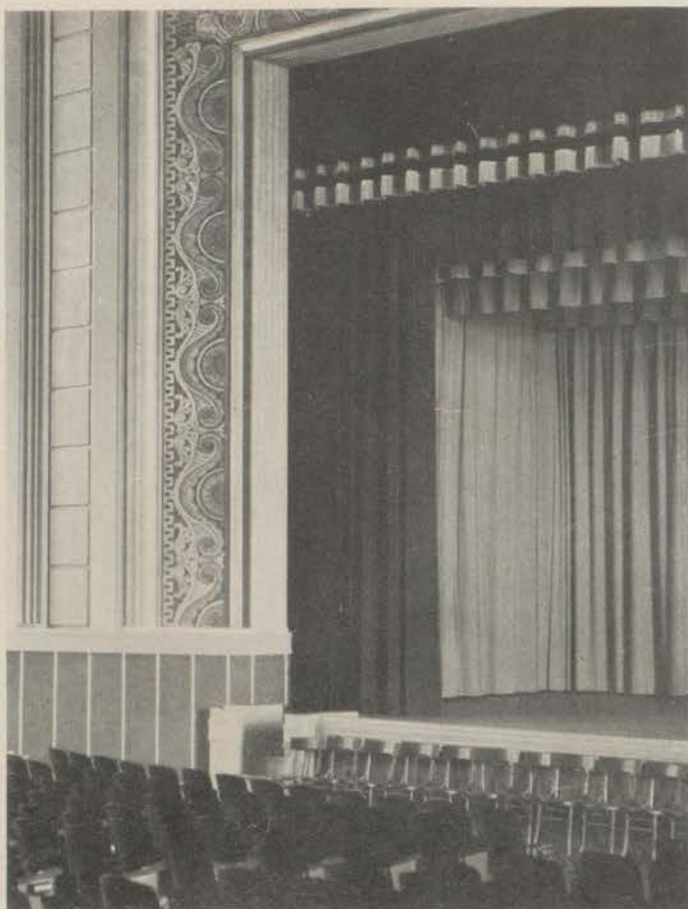

Yuletide Campus

Imposing and beautiful stands this symbol of educational progress. Facing the East where rises the sun, where stretches the broad vista known to Missourians as Blue Ridge; facing the hills over which came the Indian and the pioneer, which saw Kansas City grow from a tiny trading post to a mighty metropolis—East High School, a symbol of the progress of Missouri, offers the rich heritage of the past to the student of today, that he may build for those to come as his forefathers built for him.

From this stage, with its beautiful architecture and excellent settings, comes inspiration to enhance aesthetic appreciation in our students. A well-rounded personality, rather than an animated compilation of historical facts, mathematical formulae, and rules of grammar, is nurtured to a fuller development within the walls of our auditorium.

ADMINISTRATION

PROGRESS IN GOVERNMENT

The ideal which safely and surely guides the Ship of State through the reefs of disaster today is man's conscious effort to better his mode of government by educating himself, through the mistakes of the past to meet the needs of the future.

Another distinctive type of administration and government which has developed in this present Century of Progress is that which controls large civil organizations such as mercantile corporations, banking trusts, manufacturing establishments—widely differing lines of business and industrial administration which represent progress in the efficient governing of human affairs.

Mr. CLIFFORD H. NOWLIN
Principal

To the Class of 1935:

Hail and farewell are the greetings in high school, and in the graduate school of life. You have lived in our family a short four years—a brief moment on the calendar of time. You have made a good contribution to the growing traditions of East High School, and we expect you to make a high record on the annals of the world.

Cordially your friend,

C. H. NOWLIN

Mr. JOHN R. WAHLSTEDT
Vice-Principal

To the Seniors:

A sincere farewell to you. It has been a genuine pleasure to have known you these four years; and I am hopeful that your graduation does not end this friendship. Good luck and best wishes to you as you continue your journey.

To the Underclassmen:

I regret that it has been impossible to become more personally acquainted with each of you during the past year, but I am looking forward to your return when I shall strive to know each of you better.

Sincerely yours,

JOHN R. WAHLSTEDT

DEPARTMENTS

The modern high school must consider two types of students: Those who will continue their education in college; and those who must enter the business world after graduation from high school. The subjects offered at East, therefore, are both college preparatory and vocational. At the same time the fact is not lost sight of that a high school education should enrich one's present living. In other words, the high school curriculum attempts the great task of developing a well-rounded personality and preparing the student for future activities.

Our own English language is probably taught and studied more extensively than any other subject in the school course. No amount of other learning can atone for poor preparation in this one subject; therefore East High attempts to build a firm foundation upon which to support all other branches of study.

Mathematics, a study whose importance was recognized even as early as the time of the early Egyptians in the solving of their practical problems, holds a prominent place in the curriculum. The ever-laboring teachers of this subject attempt not only to prepare the students to combat mathematical problems but also to train their minds in general alertness, accuracy, and methods of thinking.

As the nations come more into contact, knit by advancing methods of communication and transportation, it is becoming a business necessity instead of a social achievement to be able to interpret the various languages. Both Latin and Spanish, the only languages taught this year, have an unquestionable importance in the present day world, the one because of its use in the professions, as well as that foundation it gives for modern languages, the other because of the ever growing importance in world business of South America, Mexico, and other Spanish speaking countries.

By teaching today's youth the story of past civilizations the teachers of the social sciences play an important part in preparing the next generation to carry forward civilization's torch, avoiding pitfalls and obstacles that lay before their fathers, and striding forward with greater courage and confidence.

Business, social life, indeed the very framework of civilization is founded upon science. With the first appearance of scientific subjects began civilization itself and the advances of the two have been parallel throughout their development. This course offers unlimited opportunities for young Pasteurs and Curies.

Because of the large number of high school graduates who must plunge immediately from high school into the business world, it is imperative that some sort of training in business methods be given them. The fundamentals of such commercial training are taught by the commerce department of East.

The study of practical arts—woodwork, metal work, drafting, cooking, and sewing—has a lasting and easily recognized value. Besides preparing students for a permanent career in this field, these subjects may constantly be applied to needs of the home.

Music, art, dramatics are essential to the full enjoyment of life. While many students have found the beginning of a life career in these high school courses, those, also, who do not expect to follow the arts as a profession will find that these subjects round off the entire education with a culture valuable in later walks of life.

The work of the R. O. T. C. and athletics departments recognizes the fact that physical well-being is a prime necessity for work of any nature. It is the work of these departments to build the bodies of students physically in order that their mental ability may be unhampered.

LIBRARY

The two years of efficient service by the East Branch Library have proved its use both for educational and recreational purposes to the school and entire surrounding community. The wealth of available knowledge, 15,000 books, covering every department of literature, is invaluable to the students in every field of research. Indeed, the value of so close a store of literature is hardly to be overestimated.

In charge of East's library is Miss Rachel Agg, helpful because of her long experience at both Central and Kensington. The children's department is under the able supervision of Mrs. Maude Martin. Assistants in the library work are: Miss Sarah Bower, Miss Idris Smith, and Miss Mary Ross for part time work. Robert Crees and Preston Russell are pages in the library.

HEALTH DEPARTMENT

Miss Alice Walton, finishing the second year of her important work of keeping the student body physically fit, has brought the entire school to a realization of the true value of East's health department. Though East High School is comparatively free of disease, still there is an ever present need of such inspired work against pestilence as has been done by Miss Walton.

"TEACHERS ARE PERSONS"

For years the legend has been extant that pedagogues are a stern, peculiar set, learned, it is true, but utterly helpless in practical affairs. Teachers, according to this legend, are utterly without the sense of humor which makes life pleasant for the rest of us.

To some extent even today the belief persists that the teacher is incapable of anything more human than the Pythagorean theorem or Avagadro's hypothesis.

At East, however, this unfortunate tradition is belied by the very human and benevolent activities carried on by the faculty.

If pedagogues of past centuries could but view with what relish and uproarious delight Mr. Wahlstedt, Mr. Esther, and their cohorts greet the capture of a ten-pound bass or crappie, they would turn in their graves with loud wailings and bemoanings for the extinct good old days of dunce caps and stout rulers.

During the school year, there is always a program of dinners and parties which the women of the faculty sponsor, to say nothing of a series of volley ball games between the men of the faculty and the boy students, of fly casting in the gym, of fishing trips, hunting trips, sponsoring of student athletics, etc., ad infinitum.

From this account it may seem that the faculty activities consist of nothing but entertainment for themselves. However, the long list of charity and benevolent contributions, so often escaping notice, greatly overbalances the amusements participated in by the faculty. From the employees of East High School this year $507.25 was pledged to the charity chest. Two hundred seventy was collected for the Y. M. C. A., of which amount $216.50 came from the faculty and other employees at East. The women of the faculty contributed $71.75 to the Gold Star Scholarship Fund, which supplies money for incidental expenses to needy high-ranking students in Junior College, Teachers College, and all the high schools. In addition there were contributions to the Y. W. C. A., the Junior Red Cross, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, and Campfire Girls. All teachers are members of the Parent-Teachers Association which sponsors many other worthy enterprises. Keeping all these facts in mind, it cannot but be realized that East is fortunate in having such a fine group of upstanding, civic-minded and co-operative men and women for her faculty.

 Second Row: Shornick, Busch, Kohlbeck, Williams, Cunningham, Olson, O'Maley, Bugg, Simpson, Stebbins.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council bodies of both semesters ably fulfilled their duties, conforming to the high ideals and standards traditionalized by former student governmental organizations. The purpose of Student Council is to render the highest type of service to the student body. This purpose was followed to the letter, the Council even giving way at times to conflicting enterprises which it considered more important. Its accomplishments were many, and all represented worthy achievement.

The sponsoring of a school dance orchestra was one of the outstanding undertakings of the organization. The orchestra played for various school dances, mixers, and also for outside engagements. It proved to be very popular among the student body. The musicians were all students of East and were led by Parry Smith. The orchestra, known as "Parry Smith's Syncopaters," was composed of: piano, Ellen Gray; drums, Dick Cullen; clarinet, Parry Smith; trombone, George Callen; guitar, Charles Quinn; saxophones, Maxine Boyce, Judson Cooper and Arthur Borden; and trumpets, Carl Hall, Vincent Dawson, Max Fisher and Wilson Sprout.

The Council of the first semester sponsored three mixers. The first was a Halloween mixer, an all-school mixer held in the cafeteria of the school. The next was a freshman-sophomore mixer to teach young social aspirants the art of dancing. It also was held in the cafeteria. December 24, a grand Christmas mixer was held in the lower hall amidst all the attendant good feeling and spirit of the season. Parry Smith's orchestra played for all these occasions.

The first semester body awarded honor pins to the students of outstanding achievement, as is the custom of the Council. They also revised the constitution, and gathered sickness, disease and accident statistics for the school nurse.

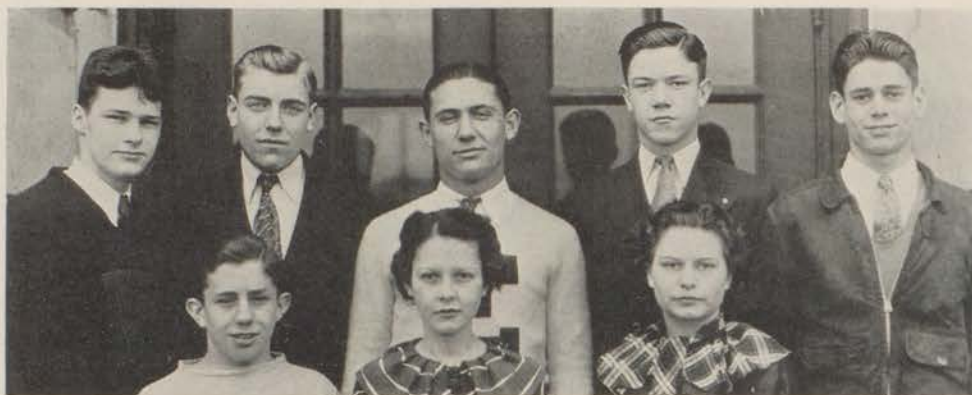

The second semester Student Council was installed in a formal ceremony at assembly in February. This Council sponsored a program of homeroom bulletins designed to enlighten students in phases of society and its practises not taught as regular subjects. These bulletins provide for a program in each homeroom to be participated in by the students. They enable the students to study the problems of life and allow for a discussion of practical application of the principles learned in study.

A candy sale at the Senior Play was one of the methods of increasing the treasury.

The St. Patrick's mixer was the contribution of the Council to the social life of the school. A king and queen, Glenn Stebbins and Elva Jane Olson, were elected by popular vote. Frank Doane and Margaret Jenkins won the dancing contest.

In May the honor pins were awarded; a mixer was held May 8, and the activities of the Council were concluded with the installation of next year's officers May 31.

SENIOR CLASS

Back Row: Dettweiler, Weis, Messer, Trowbridge, Corbett.
Front Row: Reynolds, Lee, Bugg.

OFFICERS

President - - Ted Dettweiler

Since Ted displayed his ability as chief executive of the class of '35 last year, the Seniors saw fit to bestow this honor upon him again this year.

Vice-President - - George Weis

Running Ted a close second in the favor of the class, George was given the office of vice-president.

Secretary - - Yvonne Bugg

As popular as she is efficient, the Seniors made no mistake in this choice.

Treasurer - - Irvin Trowbridge

Well experienced in financial matters, there could have been no more proper selection for treasurer than Irvin.

Sergeant-at-Arms - - Henry Messer

"Hank's" conduct on the gridiron contributed much to his election.

Giftorian - - Kenneth Corbett

Gift-receiver for his Junior Class last year, Kenny advanced higher because of his gift of oratory.

Reporter - - William Reynolds

"Bill's" experience on the East Echo served him in good stead when it come to his election.

Mascots - - Dorothy Lee and Leroy O'Brien

Lacking neither in pep nor good cheer, these mascots were the proper decision of the Senior Class.

HISTORY

The Senior Class this year, through hard work and perseverance, achieved results of which they might well be proud. They presented a Senior play, "The Yellow Jacket," which would have done credit to professional actors. The Seniors were present in practically every activity, having worthy representatives on the athletic field as well as in the annual Literary Contest and other events.

The sponsors of the class, Mr. L. C. Monroe and Mr. B. W. McDaniel, gave indispensable aid in the Seniors' various undertakings.

JUNIOR CLASS

Back Row: Simonsen, Taylor, Slater, Gray.
Front Row: Tipton, Sawyer, Heady, Lee, Smith.

OFFICERS

KENNETH HEADY - - - - - President
"Kenny's" unanimous election to this high office testifies to his ability and popularity.

WILLIAM SLATER - - - - - Vice-President
"Bill's" sincerity and steadiness made him the proper nominee for this position.

MARY JANE TIPTON - - - - - Secretary
Her jolly laugh and cheerful personality were attributes necessary to this office.

ELLEN GRAY - - - - - Treasurer
Ellen's business ability and integrity qualified her to fill this trust.

TED TAYLOR - - - - - Sergeant-at-Arms
Active and cheerful, he fulfilled his duty.

GEORGIA SAWYER - - - - - Gift Receiver
A flair for oratory made this little lady the correct choice for this office.

ESTELLE LEE and WALTER SMITH - - - - Mascots
Abounding in pep, this well-matched pair possessed sunny dispositions which fitted them admirably to be general gloom chasers for the class.

HISTORY

Setting precedent, this Junior Class was the first to elect a leader unanimously. Kenneth Heady was the deserving recipient of this distinctive honor. Also the talented president of the Junior Class represented East High School in the oratorical contest sponsored by the American Legion.

The class of '36 followed the excellent example set by their predecessors by purchasing their Senior rings early so as to lessen the costs of the fourth year.

It was through the ceaseless efforts of the class sponsors, Miss Martha Abbott and Mr. John Broadlick, that the Juniors were able to present to the departing Seniors a fine "prom."

SOPHOMORE CLASS

Front Row: Jones, Weis, Hudnut, Lee.

OFFICERS

President - - Ted Weis

The sophomores gave recognition to the fact that Ted was best qualified for this highest office by electing him by a unanimous ballot.

Vice-President - - Wilbur Wynn

Sincerity contributed as much to his popularity as did his quietness.

Secretary - - Frances Hudnut

Her task was not easy but she fulfilled it thoroughly, as is her wont.

Treasurer - - Donald Lee

Small but capable "Don" gives conclusive proof that "the best things come in small packages."

Sergeant-at-Arms - - Richard Davies

Though his stature is misleading, "Pewee" made a completely satisfactory sergeant-at-arms.

Reporter - - Edith Gaba

Efficiency and ability were assets in Edith's election.

Mascots - - Constance Jones and Charles Grube

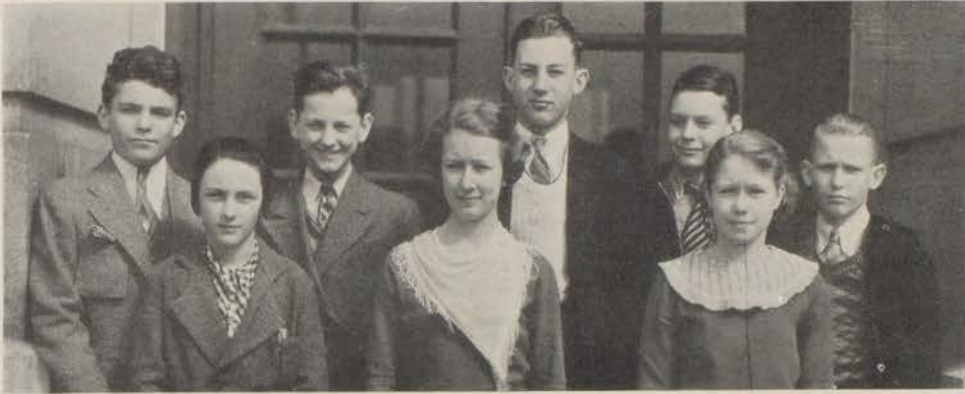

As the nominees were well endowed with sunny dispositions, the class could not have erred in its decision.

HISTORY

Following the unprecedented example set by the junior class, the sophomores elected their president by a unanimous ballot. This year was the first in the history of East High to see any unanimous election of president. The sophomore class was well represented with members in the various extra-curricular activities.

The second year class displayed their good judgment in electing for class sponsors Miss Anna K. McGloin and Mr. E. F. Thelen.

Front Row: Marshall, Busch, McLeroy.

OFFICERS

President - - Wilson Sprout

Though new to this city, Wilson soon became exceedingly popular with his classmates as is evidenced by his election to the office of president.

Vice-President - - Billy Cottrell

Affable and friendly, Billy has made a good start on the long road to success.

Secretary - - Irene McLeroy

Irene was well fitted for this office as she had been secretary of the student council at the school she had graduated from and was well familiarized with secretarial duties.

Treasurer - - Seymour Mouber

This little "Britisher's" ability in the dramatics department greatly increased his popularity.

Sergeant-at-Arms - - Richard Dettweiler

The freshmen evidenced prudence in bestowing on young "Dick" this honor.

Reporter - - Marguerite Busch

According to the start she has made she should go far in the journalistic field.

Mascots - - Sudie Marshall and Vernon Duckworth

Alike in stature as in nature, these two made excellent luck charms for their trusting classmates.

HISTORY

The youngest class should go far in the coming years if its efforts of this year are to be taken into consideration. There were many members of this class in the drama department who gave a satisfactory account this year and in the future several leading parts should fall to their lot. It was similarly well represented on the gridiron, basket ball court, and the track with youthful aspirants, making up for inexperience with their ambition to "make the team."

Miss Vee Flinn and "Coach" Cohlmeier were the efficient class sponsors.

ASSEMBLIES

The faculty and student body co-operating in the preparation of assembly programs have each been responsible for many very instructive as well as entertaining programs. Credit should be given to the faculty committee for their splendid work on this activity.

Contrary to the common thought, the weekly assemblies are not held wholly for the sake of the amusement of the student body, but for its education and enlightenment, and often for the benefit of those participating in the programs, as well. The presentation of a group of entertainers from the Gillespie-Sullivan School of Dancing in one of the assemblies provided a pleasant interlude between more serious programs. Everyone enjoyed it, and it brought pleas for more such assemblies.

There were, however, other programs equally interesting to the more serious minded. The dramatics class established this year presented several short plays to further knowledge of the drama among both its members and the school at large. As usual, the orators representing the various literary clubs addressed the student body Friday morning before the Literary Contest.

Distinguished speakers from outside the school were procured for many of the assemblies. In October, Miss Louise Abney, the speech instructor at the Kansas City Teachers College, talked on the cultivation of personality. Later Doctor Harry L. Ice, pastor of the Independence Boulevard Christian Church, spoke on the possibilities of a world war in the near future. Jack Dunn, a former student of the McKinley High School, Honolulu, compared his country to ours. Among the other speakers were Dr. Burrell A. Jenkins, Tom Collins, editor of "Galley Three," and Ernest C. Wilson, pastor of the Unity School of Christianity.

The speaking chorus from Paseo High School was featured in one of the assemblies. Norvell Slater, from Radio Station WHB, sang and played at another. Among the choruses heard this year were those of the Western Dental College, Washington University of St. Louis, and University of Kansas City. East High's Chorus, Senior Choral Club and Junior Glee Club also entertained the school. An unusual program of popular and classical instrumental selections, in which each section of the orchestra was formally introduced, was also presented by our own musical department.

Outstanding among the special assemblies, ones held on days other than Friday, was that at which the students saw and heard the famous blind man, Mr. W. R. Duckett, and his celebrated collie dog, "Scottie."

STUDENT BODY

PROGRESS IN TRANSPORTATION

The pack mule, the ox cart, the stage coach—these compared with our modern modes of transportation explain why the provincialism and superstition of the past are giving way to the cosmopolitanism and the understanding of the present. No longer need one spend his days within a few miles' radius of the place in which he was born. Within a few days—within a few hours—he may be whisked away to the center of a community vastly different from his own.

Perhaps the most romantic characteristic of modern travel and transportation is its speed. The fleet grace of the modern automobile, airplane and locomotive testify to the tremendous progress made in the art of moving from place to place.

COMMITTEES

The main idea of committees in the senior class is to eliminate unnecessary called meetings of all the members. With this idea in mind the president of the senior class chose what he thought appropriate personnels for the respective committees. Generally much time and thought are spent by these students for the good of the class. If a person desired to be on a committee he told the president and if the president could do so he would gratify the wish.

The committees and their members:

Selection of Senior Play—Barbara Allen, Mark Clarkson, Richard Darling, Hazel Dawson, Ted Dettweiler, Henry Messer, Bill Reynolds, Max Sympson, Stanfield Thomson, Bill Walker, George Weis, Frank Westbrook.

Commencement exercises—Ted Dettweiler, George Weis, Yvonne Bugg, Irvin Trowbridge, Bill Reynolds, Kenneth Corbett, Henry Messer, Dorothy Lee, LeRoy O'Brien.

Senior party—Eunice Lefebvre, Tom Maloney, Bernice O'Maley, Glenn Stebbins, Irvin Trowbridge.

Announcements—Ted Dettweiler, George Weis, Yvonne Bugg, Irvin Trowbridge, William Reynolds, Kenneth Corbett, Henry Messer, Dorothy Lee, LeRoy O'Brien.

Ring—Lois Jean Gowdy, Esther Stenfors, George Weis.

Caps and Gowns—Mark Clarkson, Gene Davis, Ted Dettweiler, Naomi Edmondson, Tom Maloney, Bernice O'Maley, Bill Reynolds, Glenn Stebbins, Esther Stenfors, Stanfield Thomson, Irvin Trowbridge, George Weis.

Junior-Senior Day—Mr. Thelen, Ted Dettweiler, Kenneth Heady, Barbara Allen, Alice Bauchop, Esther Brown, Yvonne Bugg, Glenn Stebbins, Stanfield Thomson.

DEPARTMENTAL EXHIBITION

For a number of years, a fashion show given by the clothing department has been an annual performance. Previous to this year, the display was always given at the May Parent-Teacher Association meeting. However, this year five departments, the woodwork department, the art department, the home economics department, the commercial department and the orchestra gave an exhibition Friday evening, May 10. The exhibition was composed of work done by the students throughout the year and it topped the year's activities.

The exhibit of the woodwork department consisted of a number of articles made by the boys of this phase of manual training under Mr. Lynne Monroe. Perhaps the furniture which drew the most comment was an early American bedroom suite made by George Miller. This is considered one of the most beautiful pieces ever made at East High School. Occasional chairs, radio benches, end tables, coffee tables, and cedar lined walnut chests were on display. A desk with a bench with the Egyptian vase design also drew much comment.

The students of the art department displayed for the interested spectators their marionettes. In room 215, and the front hall the art department had on display some of the work done by students, now commercial artists. Some of the students were working in the art room to show the friends how the art work is done. Miss Martha Abbott directed the art exhibit.

Both branches of the home economics department had exhibits. The foods department under the direction of Miss Genevieve Nowlin had its exhibit in the trophy case in the front hall. It consisted of canned food. Each girl in the clothing department modeled a garment she had made this year. There were formals, afternoon dresses, sport dresses, house dresses, pajamas and slacks. This fashion show was given in the auditorium with the orchestra, directed by Mr. Wendell Ryder, playing a number of selections. Miss Beneta Reid is the instructor of this department.

The commercial department had a demonstration of typing and work done on the new mimeograph machine. This was in the front hall. Miss Mabel Cobb, Miss Louisa P. Johnston, and Miss Minnie Baker are the instructors in this department.

The exhibition was a success and every piece of work deserves comment because of the unusually high quality of all.

ORGANIZATIONS

PROGRESS IN BUILDING

Huge piles of steel, stone and concrete have risen, rearing their heads high into the blue of heaven far o'ershadowing the humble tepee and crude lean-to of early man. These modern marvels of beauty and strength have been built to withstand the ravages of tornado and flood, and to defy the demon fire.

Besides these "commerce castles," there are the wonders of engineering at Muscle Shoals, and such stupendous construction works as Boulder Dam and the San Francisco Golden Gate Bridge. All these represent the great progress made in the last century in architecture and building.

The Kalailu Literary Society was organized in October, 1926, to create a greater interest in literary works, to further the study of parliamentary law, and to foster among its members a finer spirit of friendship. From the third objective comes the name of the club and the motto, "True friendship conquers all."

The club won second place in the annual Literary Contest, May 3. It won the contest in 1928 and tied for first in 1929.

In the past two years, the society has closed its social activities with a party after the contest, followed by a sunrise breakfast. This year, because of conflicting school activities, the breakfast was substituted by a picnic in the latter days of May.

Miss Emir Ammerman and Mr. Baird Parks are the advisers.

The Leundis Literary Society, an all-girl club, was organized November 8, 1926. It was the second club to organize at East. The name Leundis symbolizes the three principles of the society—learning, understanding, and discernment. The society has won three of the annual literary contests and has tied for first place in two.

The activities this year consisted of a rush tea and a joint dance, line party, sunrise breakfast and picnic with our brother club, the Hamilton Literary Society. The society also presented the annual "Follies" in the Outburst.

The Leundian girls have accomplished many things this year. They were well represented in all of the dramatic performances, the National Honor Society, and in the official staffs of other organized groups.

The advisers are Miss Eva Van Natta and Miss Vee Flinn.

The Hamilton Literary Society, the only all-boy literary club at East, was organized in February, 1928, to encourage higher standards of literary and parliamentary work.

The activities began with the initiation party at the Jackson Avenue Christian Church, soon after the new members were elected. Near Halloween the Club co-operated with its sister society, Leundis, in holding an apron-overall dance. Later, the combined groups held a line party at the Midland Theatre.

The Club won the eighth annual Literary Contest, May 3, and tied for first with Leundis in the fifth, in 1932.

Mr. Garland Nichols and Mr. Ralph Tiefel are the advisers.

The Eulexia Literary Society, a group of girls interested in literature and in the maintenance of high scholastic records, remains the youngest club of its kind in the school. Its principal objectives are the stimulation of more creative writing, and the promotion of a greater appreciation of good literature.

The club is distinguished by its large number of outstanding students and leaders. One-fourth of the 1935 National Honor Society was composed of Eulexian Girls. Others in the club were active in school affairs.

The girls hold an annual Founders' Day Banquet at the Newbern Hotel and have a tea each semester for the new members.

Miss Marie Burrus and Miss Edith Tarbet are the advisers.

THE LITERARY CONTEST

As much noise and excitement attended the Eighth Annual Literary Contest as could be expected at the dethroning of a ruler.

The Leundis Club's loss of the crown was largely due to its ranking third in all the oral events. This was no disgrace, however, as these three races were very close.

With its sister club thus disposed of, the Hamilton Club won by a majority. The Kalailu Club with its four second places held second place in the scoring.

By the scoring system used, Hamilton totaled eighteen points; Kalailu, twelve; Leundis and Eulexia, eleven; and the School-at-Large, two.

As usual, first place winners were awarded gold medals; winners of second place, silver medals; and of third place, bronze medals.

The Athenian Club was organized in December, 1929, to promote sportsmanship and high ideals, to further girls' interest in athletics and to make girls' athletics more important in school activities.

Basket ball, endball and volley ball are the games played most often after the business meetings. Every year the members of the club hike to Swope Park and hold an elaborate picnic.

This year Miss Rose Segelbaum aided Miss Hazel Roads as an adviser of the Club.

The Art Club has well served its purpose since its organization in 1926. It was founded to further interest in art work among its members, and to aid in school activities.

Making figure sketches, pencil and water color drawings, and works in chalk and charcoal, takes up the time of most of the meetings. This year the club took a trip to the Kansas City Power and Light Building to observe the effects of various lighting in color. Christmas cards were made and sent to the faculty and the parents of all the members.

The Art Club made the scenery or decorations for all the major school events of the year and had an especially difficult task with those for the Senior Play and the Outburst.

This year members of the Club entered their work in competition for membership in the local Art Honor Society. As usual, Miss Martha Abbott, the art instructor, and Miss May Farr Hiatt were the advisers.

The Commercial Club, one of the oldest, largest and most active organizations at East, has been especially busy and prosperous this year.

An elaborate Christmas party was one of the greatest events. In accordance with the resolution that more students should take part in the programs, all of the entertainment was given by members of the club.

The featured attractions of most of the meetings were speeches by outsiders on how to get along in the business world, or demonstrations of various machines commonly used in office work. The club took a trip through the factory of the Lee Mercantile Company to see the methods used by the workers.

Miss Louisa Johnston has been with the club since it was founded. Mr. Baird Parks also served the club this year.

Mixed chorus singing in its highest development of beauty and depth of feeling is the goal of instruction in the chorus, organized in September, 1934.

Numerous occasions were afforded this group of singers to gain experience in performing before appreciative audiences. At the Helping Hand Institute, at the annual Christmas program sung in the Union Station, and at several of our school assemblies, the chorus demonstrated its ability to sing difficult compositions. Also the young singers had the novel experience of singing over the radio on one of the series of programs sponsored by the Board of Education.

Along with solo entrants, trio, and quartet entrants, the chorus participated in the annual city-wide music contest Saturday, May 11. As usual the competition was keen and feeling ran high as it always does in inter-school contests.

The Boys' High School Club or Hi-Y, a part of the Young Men's Christian Association, was organized in 1926 in order to create, maintain, and extend high standards of Christian character throughout the school and community.

Because of increased membership in this, its ninth year, the club has been divided into three organizations. The juniors and seniors comprise one division, and each of the two lower classes has a club of its own.

Speakers are procured for most of the meetings. Nevertheless, the members are encouraged to express their opinions on anything being discussed.

The club also sponsors banquets, smokeless smokers, and outings, to stimulate good fellowship, make school life more enjoyable, and give one an adequate life philosophy.

Mr. John Moore, the Y. M. C. A. secretary in charge of the East Hi-Y, has been with the club five years.

Girl Reserves are striving to uphold high standards of girlhood and to establish sound principles for future life.

At the beginning of each semester, the new girls in school were entertained at a party by the Girl Reserve members. In the inter-club events at the Y. W. C. A., including the Christmas pageant, Palm Sunday ceremonial, and the closing banquet program, members of the East club had important parts. The freshman triangle entertained the club on March 26 with a play entitled "America for Americans."

Advising the one hundred eleven members were Miss Virginia McClure, Miss Mabel M. Cobb, Miss Jessie Marie Willitt, Miss Pearl Jenkins, and Miss Genevieve Nowlin.

R. O. T. C.

Master Sergeant
Harry E. Strider

R. O. T. C.

With the passing of the school year 1934-35, East's R. O. T. C. Battalion saw the passing of the most eventful and successful military season in its career.

Instructors were changed several times during the year. In order of their appointment, the instructors were: Master Sergeant Earl Ruth, successor to Sergeant J. T. Jenkins, who returned to the regular army in the summer of 1934; Lieutenant Depew, who taught while Sergeant Ruth was ill; Sergeant P. K. Healy of Northeast; Sergeant Fred Faust of Manual, who taught after Sergeant Ruth retired; and finally Master Sergeant Harry E. Strider, who was transferred from R. O. T. C. duty at the University of Minnesota to East.

Sergeant Strider is a man of wide experience, and East is indeed fortunate in having him as military instructor.

Another honor for the East Battalion was the appointment of Carl Hall to the rank of lieutenant colonel, second in command of the R. O. T. C. Regiment. Lieutenant Colonel Hall is an outstanding man in school as well as in R. O. T. C., holding many high offices in clubs, publications, and so forth. He is the first officer from East to attain this high office. East is justly proud of this splendid example of an officer and a gentleman.

Cadet Captain Bill Walker was promoted to the rank of major in command of the East Battalion upon Lieutenant Colonel Hall's promotion. His dynamic personality inspired the cadets to a greater proficiency in all their work. His leadership was of the highest type.

BATTALION HEADQUARTERS

Second Row: Lieutenants Fletcher, Sympson, Chamberlain, Gibbs and Thomas.
 First Row: Captain Jackson, Sergeant Strider, Lieutenant Colonel Hall, Major Walker, Captain Harrison, Lieutenant Cullen (Battalion Adjutant).

The R. O. T. C. of East High offers a field of training which leads to the development of a well-rounded citizen and, in case of a national emergency, an efficient soldier. The course is primarily for the development of habits of precision, neatness, orderliness, amenableness to discipline. In addition, knowledge of personal hygiene and sanitation and a general military knowledge are acquired by the student from a pursuance of R. O. T. C. training.

The inculcation of intelligent leadership in the cadet is one of the aims of military training. Both cadet officers and non-commissioned officers lead the units in drill and in various exercise. They are also utilized in teaching the cadets the different subjects covered in R. O. T. C. work: drill and command, military courtesy, sanitation and first aid, rifle marksmanship, physical training, musketry, national defense and the R. O. T. C., scouting and patrolling, map reading, interior guard duty, and combat principles.

INSPECTION AND FIELD DAY

The general inspection of the East R. O. T. C. Battalion took place the morning of April 30. This is an annual event, conducted by an officer of the regular army to determine the proficiency of each R. O. T. C. unit in both theory and practice. The inspecting officer was Captain Eugene H. Mitchell of the Inspector General's office at Omaha, Nebraska.

At the annual field day which is to be late in May, East will enter competition in company drill, platoon drill, squad drill, and the individual competition.

RIFLE TEAM

Competing against teams varying from high school to college caliber, East's rifle team, composed of third year men in R. O. T. C. and coached by Sergeant Earl Ruth, gave a creditable performance through the rifle season although they failed to win firsts in matches of note.

The East R. O. T. C. Rifle Team placed third in the city rifle match fired in January. The third place cup became the permanent possession of the team, having been won twice previously. At the matches fired at Kemper Military Academy, Boonville, Missouri, the team entered the high school competition for the Leacock Trophy, which East has also won twice before. In addition, the team was represented in the Kansas City R. O. T. C. Rifle Team for the corps area match, the national match, and the Hearst Trophy match.

To help support the school athletics; to enable parents to become better acquainted with the coaches and to know what is going on in the way of athletics in the school are the purposes of the Mothers' "E" Club.

During the school year the club sponsored many activities. First, there was the monthly meeting, in a member's home, to which both mothers and fathers of the boys in the athletic department were invited. The monthly meetings were usually attended by forty or fifty persons.

On November 21, the football banquet was served in the school cafeteria, with an attendance of two hundred and fifty. A basket ball banquet was held in honor of the team on March 5. May 16 marked the day for the track banquet. At each of these banquets, those of the team who had earned a letter, were presented one by the coaches.

Whether the school wishes some entertainment or financial backing, it can usually depend upon the P.-T. A. to supply it. This year the club sponsored its annual card party at Sni-a-Bar Gardens, the book review on Lloyd Douglas's book, "The Green Light," "The Womanless Wedding" in the Harvest Moon program, a benefit picture show at the Ashland Theatre, and its annual picnic. The proceeds of these activities went into a fund to be given to help various organizations in the East High district.

The parent-education classes were sponsored by the P.-T. A. These classes were held eight times with an average of sixty attending. The purpose of these meetings was to discuss problems confronting the parent and the child.

ORGANIZATIONS

Extra-curricular organizations are becoming increasingly important in the life of the modern school. Not only do they provide pleasant social intercourse among the students, but through their programs and their opportunities for development of leadership, they perform an important educational function. Thus educational leaders, as well as the students themselves, justify the existence of these clubs.

Because the hope for the creation of an activity in which the departmental clubs can definitely compete with each other has never yet materialized, these organizations are not inspired to further existence by such affairs as the annual Literary Contest held by the literary clubs. But the individual's consciousness of the enjoyment and education an organized group can bring him, and, perhaps, his ambition to lead the group some day, have kept these institutions very much alive.

Furthermore, their being is justified by their decreasing the ignorance of the rules of parliamentary law, and their great advancement of interest and appreciation for the kind of study or training with which they are associated.

Beside their great benefit to their respective members, the four literary clubs not only entertain the school and community at each annual Outburst and at the Literary Contest, but they provide for the remainder of the student body almost as much excitement and merriment as they reserve for themselves.

The parents' organizations are also great assets to their members and to the school. The Parent-Teachers Association was responsible for the joyous afternoon at Fairyland Park on May 22.

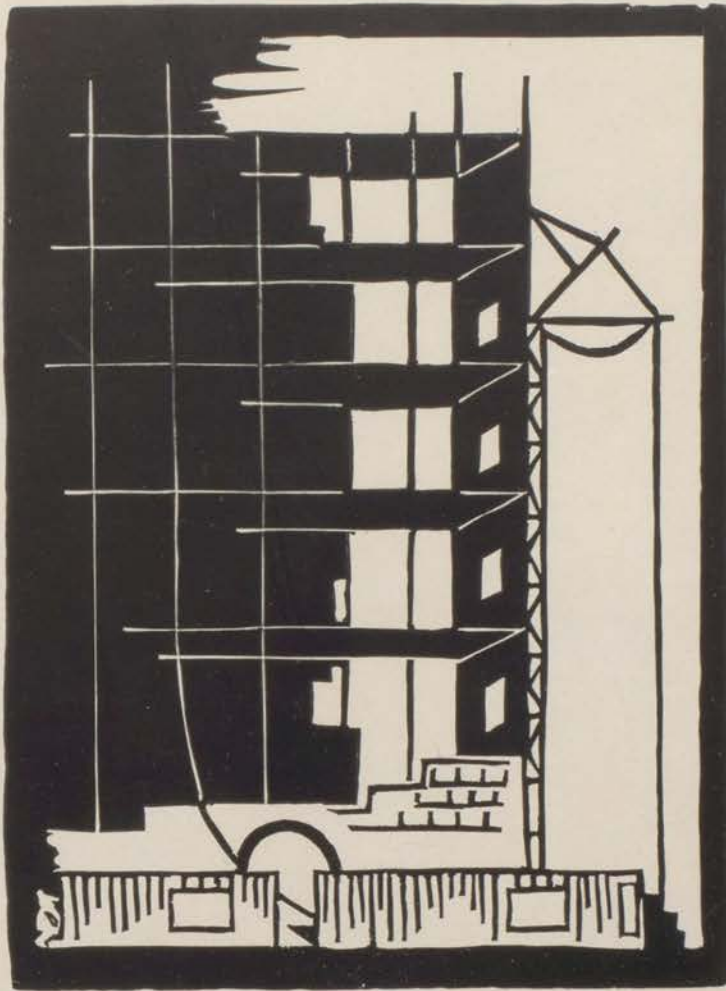

ACTIVITIES

PROGRESS IN RECREATION

With the advent of the talking picture, the radio, and the versatile machine called the automobile, man's recreational opportunities were broadened and enhanced tremendously. It is no longer necessary for man to "rise with the sun and go to bed with the chickens," lacking anything to do after his work of the day is finished. Modern science has given him untiring story tellers more thrilling and versatile than the ancient bard, more nearly universal than the stage play: the "talkie" and the radio; it has given the swift, economical and comfortable steed, the "auto," with which he can ride "out to Old Aunt Mary's" for a visit and be back in time for "Amos 'n Andy."

So wondrous are the manifold recreational facilities of modern man that in truth there should be never a dull moment in the life of a normal human being today.

HONORS

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

Top Row: Laura Jane Gordon, Maxwell Sympson, Dorothea Meyn, Charles Vierling, Veneta Roberts.

Second Row: Irene Galbraith, Richard Darling, Edna Tarwater, Carl Hall, Hazel Dawson.

Third Row: Esther Brown, Naomi Edmondson, Evelyn Pruessner.

Fourth Row: Yvonne Bugg, George Weis, Shirley Randol, Ellis Lynn, Eugenia Bell.

Fifth Row: Erma Balfanz, George Callen, Alice Bauchop, Albert Lucas, Jane Matchett.

The climax of the four-year high school course occurs with the election of the National Honor Society. All the achievements and successes of the past four years make for eligibility for the honor. Scholarship is an essential point for membership. From the upper quartile, fifteen per cent of the total senior class is chosen. Leadership, service, and character are the three other cardinal principles upon which the final selection is based. Two-thirds vote of the faculty is another requirement for membership.

The installation ceremony was held in assembly, Friday, May 17. Bishop Robert Nelson Spencer addressed the assembly. The purpose of the National Honor Society was explained by Albert Lucas. Charles Vierling interpreted the meaning of the society's symbol. The four candles representing the principles of the organization were lighted by members of the group. The candle of scholarship was lighted by Alice Bauchop, the candle of leadership by Carl Hall, the candle of service by Yvonne Bugg, and the candle of character by George Callen. Irvin Trowbridge read the Scripture and Eugenia Bell offered prayer.

The officers of the 1935 chapter of the society, elected May 9, are: President, Albert Lucas; vice-president, Carl Hall; secretary, Yvonne Bugg; treasurer, Richard Darling; sergeant-at-arms, George Weis; reporter, Evelyn Pruessner.

The faculty committee who computed the scholarship and activity credits were: Miss May Farr Hiatt, chairman; Miss Martha Abbott, Miss Evelyn Gilchrist, Mr. R. E. Tiefel, Mr. J. N. Broadlick and Mr. J. R. Wahlstedt.

On Wednesday, May 15, the faculty gave a banquet in honor of the society. The senior girls of Miss Genevieve Nowlin's home economics class prepared the dinner. The banquet is now an annual affair.

SENIOR BALLOT

Top Row: Irvin Trowbridge, Boy Who Has Done Most for East; Yvonne Bugg, Girl Who Has Done Most for East; Betty Mathis, Most Popular Girl; Dorothy Lee, Society Belle; Ted Dettweiler, Most Popular Boy; Alice Bauchop, Best Girl Student; Charles Vierling, Best Boy Student.

Second Row: Derwin Blankenship, Best Boy Athlete; Elva Jane Olsen, Best Girl Athlete; Edna Tarwater, Best Girl Orator; George Weis, Social Lion; Kenneth Corbett, Best Boy Orator; Esther Brown, Best Actress; George Callen, Best Actor.

AWARDS

SCHOLASTIC HONOR ROLL

On September 28, the Student Council presented forty-six honor pins to students. Alice Bauchop was the only person to receive a gold pin. Silver pins were awarded to these students: Hilda Balke, John Gilpin, Carl Hall, Albert Lucas, Helen McCreedy, Norman Mercet, Dorothea Meyn, Ted Taylor and Charles Vierling.

Those receiving bronze pins were the following: Bob Boehm, June Borgman, Rose Ellen Brown, Yvonne Bugg, Margaret Burmeister, George Callen, James Cammack, John Davis, Hazel Dawson, Ruth Eastman, Martha Epstein, Charles Grube, Kenneth Heady, Paul Flucke, Helen Goldborough, Dorothy Jessen, Alma Koiner, Dorothy Ottman, Billy Piehler, Beverly Raymond, Loraine Roberts, Veneta Roberts, Georgia Sawyer, Joe Sheeley, Allen Smith, Margaret Smith, June Stites, Buckner Teeple, Kathryn Tucker, George Weis, Ed Weis, Ruth Lee Williams, Dorothy Wilson, Alice Woodward, Ona Woodward and Wilbur Wynn.

DRAWING HONOR LIST

Appointment to the Drawing Honor List demands of a student two qualifications: A grade of "E" in Art; and outstanding service rendered to the school. Service to the school includes the making and painting of scenery for plays, drawing tickets for mixers, designing posters, assisting in preparing costumes, constructing marionettes, and giving marionette shows.

This year Miss Abbott chose fifteen students for the Drawing Honor List. They are: Barbara Allen, Chester Duderstadt, Guy Allen, Roberta Eastman, Edwin Gray, Louise Buzan, Dorothy Craig, Bill Gibbs, Kathryn Haberkorn, Howard Krebs, Roberta Keenan, Norman Kratschmer, Jim Walls, Elva Jane Olson and Charles Grube.

Jim Walls and Howard Krebs received first and third places respectively for the best drawings in Missouri high school newspapers.

TYPING HONOR ROLL

As an inducement for the typewriting students to strive for more speed and greater accuracy in typing, the Woodstock Typewriter Company offers a gold pin or a bronze pin with a guard to students. To receive a bronze pin, the student must write forty words a minute for fifteen minutes with five or fewer errors. A guard is added to the bronze pin when the pupils write fifty words. To receive a gold pin, the pupil must write sixty words a minute.

This year Elsie Baldwin was the only person that received a gold pin. Those receiving the bronze pin and guard were: Veneta Roberts, Virginia Grisham, Lorene Erichson, Rosena Lovell, Dorothea Meyn, Grace Stevenson, Leeta Bell Snow, Mildred Nixon, Betty Peckenpaugh, Vera Murphree, Evelyn Pruessner and Frieda Peuster.

Those receiving the forty awards were: Edith Hare, Orville Johnson, Martha Rumans, Helen Bureson, Winston Shornick, Mary Saathoff, Kathryn Anderson, Frederick Block, O'Neida Hood, Hugh Johnson, Willis Smith, Wilma Crawford, Eugenia Bell, Irene Galbraith, Nadine Plaskett, George Callen, Helen McCreedy, Mary Conner, Virginia Hassler and Elva Jane Olson.

MUSIC CONTEST

Outstanding were the achievements of the choral music department of this year under the direction of Mrs. Carrie Margaret Caldwell and Mr. John R. Wahlstedt. Not only did the department win first in the annual high school music contest held at Central Junior High School, but members of the department won honors at the regional contests held at Springfield, Missouri.

In the city contest, a mixed chorus of seventy voices placed second. The chorus this year became a regular subject and participated in several programs, among them a Christmas program at the school and the annual carolling at the Union Station. Mr. Wahlstedt is the director.

The boys' quartet, composed of Albert Lucas, Joseph Snyder, Walter Ganzer and Glenn Stebbins, placed third in the contest. A second place also was won by the girls' triple trio, composed of Mary Louise Riffle, Juanita Warden, Emmogene Lane, Irene Higgins, Laura Jane Gordon, Margaret Jenkins and Gladys Hill.

Albert Lucas won the only first, singing in the boys' high voice division. Walter Ganzer placed second and Glenn Stebbins third in the medium and low voice division, respectively. In the girls' medium voice division Margaret Jenkins placed third. In the high voice Laura Jane Gordon placed second, and Mary Louise Riffle placed second in the low voice.

The girls' trio, Margaret Jenkins, Irene Higgins and Mary Louise Riffle, placed first in the Bi-annual Convention of the Southwest Music Supervisors' Conference at Springfield, Missouri, April 5, being the only trio to be graded in the highest class. The soloists, Laura Jane Gordon and Margaret Jenkins, were two of the eight selected to enter a contest to be held in New York in 1936. They ranked first and second respectively. All are pupils of Mrs. Caldwell.

A first place was also won by a string quartet composed of three Westport boys and Barbara Smith, a 'cellist at East. Barbara Smith won the Missouri State Music Contest in the 'cellist division and now is entering a national contest to be held at Madison, Wisconsin. She is a member of the East High orchestra directed by Mr. Wendell M. Ryder.

ATHLETICS

BOYS' ATHLETICS

J. C. Cohlmeier

The job of developing and perfecting powerful teams falls upon the shoulders of Coach Cohlmeier, who has charge of the football and basket ball activities. Coach Cohlmeier will always be remembered as one to build up the bodies of his charges and to teach them the high ideals of good sportsmanship.

E. F. Thelen

By working and co-operating with Coach Cohlmeier at every opportunity, Mr. Thelen proved himself to be an able and a valuable assistant. Mr. Thelen supervised the track team, and coached the second teams in football and basket ball.

B. W. McDaniel

Mr. McDaniel, or "Mac," as we call him, had the duties of financial manager. "Mac" had charge of the football and basket ball ticket sales campaigns, and as a booster and a go-getter, there is none better.

Once more East has passed through a fairly successful athletic year—a year which saw clumsy aspirants blossom forth into fine athletic machines—saw them climb the ladder of success—all of which was due to the touch of a master hand, known as the coaching staff.

MANAGERS

Kenneth Corbett

Raymond Castor

Bob Stacy

As managers, "Cab," "Willie," and Bob were responsible for the condition of the athletic equipment.

THE FOOTBALL SEASON

When Coach Cohlmeier issued the summons for football men, about sixty boys responded, making one of the largest squads in the history of East. Coach was well pleased by the fine attitude and the outstanding fighting spirit of the boys. The line was exceptionally light, the heaviest member weighing about 167 pounds; but it was well balanced.

There were seven letter men from the previous year to form the nucleus of the 1935 team. Their snappy, fine co-operation, and good "heads-up" playing made it one of the finest teams ever produced at East.

This year East possessed one of the smoothest football machines in the Inter-scholastic League. Its rhythm, perfect timing, and fine teamwork made it a pleasure to see it function against opposing elevens. Although possessed of these fine qualities, it did not seem to be "in the books" for East to take the championship. Instead, it finished in a tie with Central for third place. Aside from the games in the League, East went to Ottawa before the opening of the Inter-scholastic League, and played the Kansans under the lights to a scoreless tie.

The scores of the games of the Inter-scholastic League:

East ----- 6	Central ----- 7
East ----- 0	Paseo ----- 7
East ----- 19	Southwest ----- 0
East ----- 18	Westport ----- 0
East ----- 0	Northeast ----- 12
East ----- 19	Manual ----- 0

THE "STOOGES"

THE CHEER LEADERS

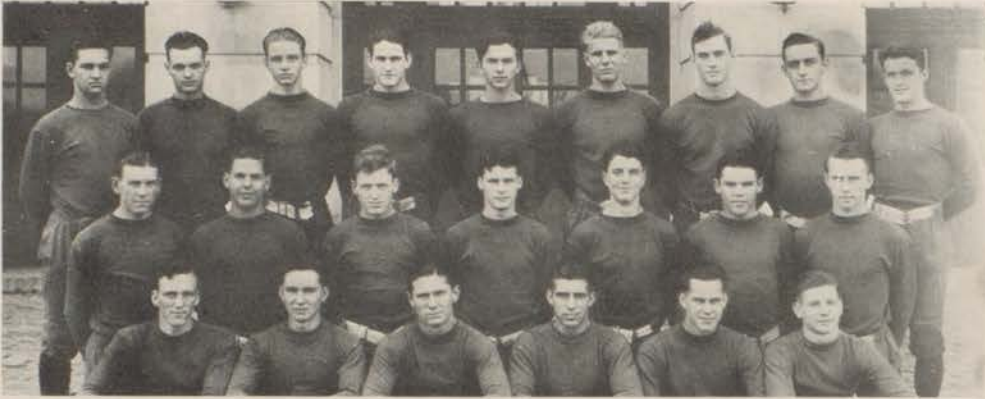

Left to right: Frank Westbrook, Leonard Santoro, Harry Bradbury.

A team without support of the student body is like a ship without a rudder. For without that much needed support, a team does not have as good a chance of winning as one with a peppy bunch of rooters behind it. East has always been noted for its outstanding school spirit, and the cheer leaders this year did much to uphold this tradition.

Perhaps the dirtiest jobs on the football field were those of the waterboys. 'Twill be many a day before they be forgot.

FIRST TEAM FOOTBALL

Third Row: Davis, Maniett, Lucas, Hansen, Clarkson, Trower, G. Miller, Maxwell, Soltys.
 Second Row: G. Butler, J. Miller, Maloney, Dettweiler, Gaba, Gordon, Slater.
 First Row: Hitchcock, W. Butler, Messer, Blankenship, Barbe, Black.

THE SEASON

Twenty-two first team letters were presented to members of the squad this year. The backfield men receiving them were: Blankenship, Walter Butler, Gordon, Lucas, John Miller, Maloney and Black. Linesmen receiving letters

Co-Captain

"Hank" Messer

were: Messer, Hitchcock, Barbe, Gordon Butler, Maxwell, Soltys, Gaba, George Miller, Davis, Maniett, Clarkson, Hansen, Trower, Slater and Dettweiler.

A tackle and a halfback shared the honors of football co-captains this season. Henry Sylvester Messer, better known as "Hank," was the linesman, and Derwin Osborn Blankenship, "Jo-Jo" to his friends, the back. Both boys hold berths on the mythical all-star eleven.

Co-Captain

"Jo-Jo" Blankenship

SECOND TEAM FOOTBALL

Back Row: W. Smith, McCormick, Wynn, Stacy, Foale, Hildebrand, Henry, Strain.
 Second Row: Yates, Riggs, Crosby, Hill, Souther, Kay, LaFountain, Duderstadt, Bingham, Mathis, Smith.

THE SEASON

At the close of the football season, it developed that the second team was also tied for third place but with the Westport reserves. The Cubs won two games, lost three, and tied one. All that those boys received were hard knocks, hard work, and little recognition for their fine fighting spirit and teamwork.

Mr. Thelen had two willing and able assistants in John Moore, East "Y" secretary, and Leo Argo, letter man last year, who helped build up the bodies for the forthcoming knocks.

Robert "Pint" McLeroy, quarterback of the second team, was elected captain by his fellow squad members.

FIRST TEAM BASKET BALL

Left to right: McLeroy, Castor, Black, Funston, Hill, Trower, Slater, Butler, Gordon, Hubler.

As has almost always been the case, the East basketeers have been small in stature; but in speed, teamwork and aggressiveness, they are unexcelled. East's cagers had one of the strongest defensive teams in the league, if not the strongest, but their chief drawback proved to be their lack of offensive ability. Coach Cohlmeier instructed his young basketeers in the "man-to-man" defense in the first part of the season. As the season waned he worked out a new method of zone defense, which worked with the movement of the ball. These defensive tactics proved to be so effective, and Coach Cohlmeier was so pleased with his experiment, that it is probable East's future teams will have an almost impregnable defense.

New uniforms of shiny material added greatly to the team's appearance this season.

CO-CAPTAINS

Paul Gordon

Two forwards, Paul Gordon and Harold Funston, share the honors of co-captains for the basket ball team this year. For their fine playing, good spirit and "heads-up" playing, the other members of the team selected them for these positions. Being two of the outstanding players of the league, it is no wonder that these two boys were chosen to lead the East quintet.

STATISTICS AND SUMMARY

Winning more games and having a higher percentage of points than the varsity regulars, the East reserves took third place in the second team Inter-Scholastic race. They broke even in the number of games won and lost, winning three and losing three. Although their accomplishments were not as well sung as they might have been if they were members of the first string, they put into the game all the things that it takes to make a winning team. These boys tried hard and deserve a lot more credit than they receive.

The first attempt against rival basketeers resulted in a close, hard fought battle with the Central reserves, in which we came forth with a victory, 12-11. The second game found us on the short end of the score, 11-23, with Niemeyr and Carnagey leading Paseo's Pirate attack. Not liking to be set back on their heels, the Cubs promptly beat Southwest's second team to the tune of 15-9, McLeroy starring for the East five. But the next game, the Westport quintet weren't going to let us repeat the preceding victory, and "took us" for the count of 10-16, and Northeast also launched an attack on our small quintet, scoring 23 to our 16 points. The "never say die" spirit came true in the last league game, with McLeroy and North shooting at the "bucket," for four field goals and one charity toss apiece, to nose out the Manual basketeers 24-23.

SUMMARY OF THE BASKET BALL SEASON

East's first team played a total of ten games, winning three and losing seven. Despite the deficit in the "win" column, the boys made an enviable record as fine sportsmen and equally fine teamworkers.

The first game was played against Warrensburg High in Warrensburg, Missouri. East was completely outclassed and, though the boys never ceased battling, they could not cope with the Crimson's all state center, Golay, who scored 21 points. The score of this contest was 31 to 14.

East's second attempt found the team defeating the Alumni in a thrilling 28-27 game. Following the triumph over the Alumni, East took Liberty in stride by a 22 to 11 count.

The Interscholastic League opener against Central found East flashing its greatest offensive drive. The Bruins emerged triumphant by a 29 to 15 score.

Paseo, who later went on to tie for the championship, nosed East's basketeers out in a hard fought 17-15 game.

Southwest defeated East in another close game by an 18 to 15 score. After the Southwest defeat, East succumbed to the Ottawa five.

Westport also triumphed over the Bears, the score being 15 to 6. In this game East could not score a single field goal.

Northeast, state champion of 1935, beat East in the fifth league contest 20 to 15.

Manual administered the most crushing defeat of the year in the Bruin's final game, 35 to 20.

East's basket ball quintet was given little chance for a first division "berth" at the beginning of the season and for once the so-called "experts" were right.

East's squad, boasting some of the smallest players in the league, acquitted themselves nobly despite their low standing in the league. Every game was bitterly fought and with a few "breaks" East's representatives would have been near the top of the league.

It was a case of "a good big man" being better than "a good little man." Despite the great handicap of small size, the old never-say-die spirit was evidenced in every game.

TRACK

Third Row: Wilson, Dawson, Ragsdale, L. Butler, Maniett, Riggs, Henderson, Branham, Boosman, Soltys.
 Second Row: Yates, Dettweiler, Cummins, Ullman, Cullen, Henehan, Trowbridge, Lucas, Gaba, Trefz.
 First Row: Wynn, McLeroy, Hoover, Kennicut, Hildebrand, W. Butler, King, Black, Hickman, Caviar, Moore, Easterman, O'Brien, Stacy.

Proving what the track teams of East can do when they are given co-operation and support, the team won three out of four meets, thereby establishing a record that has probably never been equalled in the track history of the school.

Several new school records were broken this season, and with a new track in mind, Coach Thelen expects to have some boys to better even these and maybe establish some new inter-scholastic records. New records this year were: Cummings, high hurdles, 16.8 seconds; Gaba, low hurdles, 24.9 seconds; and the relay team, one minute thirty-five and three-tenths seconds.

The four highest ranking point winners were: Lucas, Gaba, Butler and O'Brien.

The tabulation of meets is as follows:

	Points	Points
Southwest	49 1/2	East 41 1/2
Leavenworth	39	East 61
Central	33	East 48
Westport	18 2/3	East 72 1/2

CO-CAPTAINS

The co-captains this year were Albert Lucas, pole vaulter, hurdler, shot putter, and broad jumper, and Leroy O'Brien, dash and relay man. Because of their outstanding abilities and fine sportsmanship, the two, "Al" and "Larry," were accorded this honor by their fellow team mates.

INTRAMURAL SPORTS

BASKET BALL

One of the activities, which claims some of the greatest interest and whole-hearted support of the student body, is that of the intramural sports. This year basket ball volley ball and track made up the major foundations of this enterprise.

These sports were organized for the purpose of providing a recreation period for the boys who did not have a chance to play or were not members of the varsity team.

In the basket ball tournament, the interclass teams were divided into three leagues, and known as A, B and C leagues. Each class entered a team in each league, and the winners of the B and C leagues would play the winner of the A league for the championship. It resulted that the juniors took first place in the C league; the senior B team defeated the junior C team, and in the championship battle they also outpointed the A team in a fast, close game. The final score was 9-11.

There was also a club league, of which some were capable teams. The Kalailu Literary Club breezed through with a championship, with the Hamilton, Glee Club, and the R. O. T. C. finishing in their respective positions.

A home room league was organized in which home rooms on their respective floors combined and entered one team in the league. The third floor seemed to be the particular one destined for first place, as they finished with a perfect percentage.

TRACK

The seniors literally "walked away" with the laurels in the inter-class track meet, having placed first in every event except the pole vault. The final count stood: Seniors, first with 43½ points; juniors, second with 25½ points; sophomores, third with 16 points; freshmen, fourth, after gathering in a total of 3 points.

This meet helped Mr. Thelen select his candidates for the track team, and also to see what they could do.

VOLLEY BALL

Toward the close of the scholastic year, the athletic department seemed very interested in the game of volley ball. Two leagues were formed with four teams each, one playing on every Wednesday and Thursday evening after school. The faculty and the fifth hour gym class tied for first place in the Wednesday league, and in the play-off, the faculty emerged the victor with the scores 21-8, and 21-20. They also won first place in the Thursday league.

The teams as they finished:

Faculty	4	2	Faculty	4	2
Letter Men	2	4	Fourth Hour	3	3
Third Hour	2	4	Sixth Hour	3	3

GIRLS' ATHLETICS

With the present mode of living, the preservation of health is frequently neglected. Health is constantly being torn down, and nothing is done to regain that item so essential for a successful life. Wornout bodies are a detriment to any person. Exercise is one of the most valuable ways to build up the human body. It is this point especially that is emphasized in the physical education department of East High School.

Exercise is the physical movement of the muscles of the body. Therefore, exercise may be gained in a number of ways. This includes, in our school, the uniform method of drill, baseball, endball, volley ball, basket ball, dancing and tennis. Not only are these valuable in exercising the body, but in playing games the student has a chance to develop her body, and to breathe directly the fresh outdoor air.

In the two years of gym work required for graduation from the Kansas City school system, the pupil gets this daily exercise. Unfortunately, there is a great percentage of pupils that must give up this hour of gym in the remaining two years of school because their present programs are full. It is for this type of student particularly that the new type of gym—the after-school activities—is being organized.

Under this plan, there will be four major types of after-school work. They are baseball, basket ball, volley ball and endball. All girls, whether enrolled in a gym class or not, are permitted to join in these activities.

In addition to the physical power developed by exercise and play, there are certain mental elements gained through the gym department. Fair play, cooperation, sportsmanship, alertness and speed are all gained.

All freshmen girls are required to take hygiene several times a week. A fundamental knowledge of the human body is necessary. Freshman hygiene supplies this to all incoming students.

Miss Hazel M. Roads and Miss Rose Segelbaum direct the girls' athletic work at East.

POINT SYSTEM

This year ends the old method of awarding honor pins to the girls enrolled in gym classes at East. The new system is a much broader one, allowing any student the opportunity of winning a medal.

The type used this year could be won only by students of the gym classes. To obtain a small green "E" the pupil must have had sixty points of which twenty were team points. A large green "E" was awarded when the student acquired one hundred points, thirty of which were team points. One hundred and fifty points, of which forty were team points, were required for a pillow top. The highest reward was the gold "E." In order to get this, the person must have had two hundred points including the fifty team points. Each team, whether baseball, basket ball, volley ball, or endball, was a step toward an award. The remaining points were given on a basis of sportsmanship, hiking, skating, preparedness, the grade of "E" in gym, and the number of stunts passed.

In the new method of obtaining awards, no credits are given for work done during the school period. In this way, the girl not enrolled in a physical education class has as much chance to win an award as the pupil in a class. The system is divided into five specific divisions. Under each division are the activities that make toward a point. The first division is after school attendance. This means that the girl must be present at a certain per cent of the entire meetings. The maximum number of points that can be gained in one year is one hundred and fifty. Also, she must be dressed properly for the occasion. The second division is made up of general requirements. These are posture, teeth, and all-around physical condition. A possible number of points to be gained by this is one hundred. Special awards make up the third division. These two hundred point awards can be gotten by being a squad leader, by showing excellent sportsmanship or some similar superior trait. The fourth division is individual achievements. This includes stunts, skill tests, etc. One hundred possible points can be won each year in this division. Fifth is after school athletics. This means participating in volley ball, endball, baseball, tennis and basket ball. One hundred fifty points is the maximum total in this.

The awards to be given in this system will differ from the old ones. When the four hundred and fifty points goal has been reached, a small "E" will be given. At one thousand points a large chenille "E" is given. The last award is an "E" pin, awarded when two thousand points have been won.

Girls who began their work this year or during the year 1933-34 were awarded points under the new system. Those whose activities began before that will remain under the old system.

Under the old system, Daisy Chenault and Elva Olson won "E" pins. Betty Peckenpaugh was awarded a pillow top. A large "E" was given to Velma Campbell and Dorothy Jendrasiak. A small "E" was won by Estelle Lee. Under the new system, Dorothy DeWeese, Helen Klotz, Pauline Rodak, Faustina Rizzotto, and Loraine Roberts won a small "E."

THE OUTBURST

Music, dancing, singing, military drill, and farce—the 1935 Outburst given on March 1 and 2 was filled to the brim with all of these, each presented in a delightful pageant representing the different months of the year, with a holiday from each.

Staging the Outburst was a difficult but artistically finished task. The scenery was beautiful and was economical in that it was later used in other school productions.

Numerous sideshows of unusually high merit added to the merriment of the evening.

PROGRAM—MAIN SHOW

Directed by Miss Martha Abbott, chairman; Miss Cecile Burton, Mrs. Carrie M. Caldwell, Mr. Edward Thelen, Mr. Wendell Ryder, Miss Hazel Roads, Miss Rose Segelbaum, Mr. Lynne Monroe, Miss Mary Latshaw, Miss Edith Tarbet.

"THE TAVERN"

"Heaven help a sailor on a night like this."

"THE TAVERN"

Lightning, thunder crashes, pouring rain, and howling wind contributed to the reality and vividness of the rustic stage setting and the convincing acting in the annual mid-year play, "The Tavern," presented Friday, December 14, under the capable direction of Miss Cecile Burton.

Ingenious mechanisms for the production of sounds and light representing a raging storm were designed for "The Tavern" by the physics department and constructed by the woodworking department under the direction of Mr. Broadlick and Mr. Monroe respectively.

Side-splitting comedy and hair-raising drama delightfully mixed by the master hand of George M. Cohan, and presented by a group of well coached and talented amateurs, served to hold a large audience intensely interested during the entire performance.

"THE YELLOW JACKET"

"All we want is a bowl of Chop Suey."

"THE YELLOW JACKET"

East added another leaf to its wreath of laurels when the senior class of '35 presented "The Yellow Jacket," a Chinese play by Hazelton and Benrimo, April 5, in the school auditorium. The play was directed by Miss Cecile Burton. As "The Mikado," "Abraham Lincoln" and "Twelfth Night" marked bold steps forward in high school dramatic productions, so was "The Yellow Jacket" a distinct departure from the usual high school repertoire.

A distinctly oriental atmosphere was created by the scenery, costumes, and the music. Most of the ornate furniture and the colorful, intricately designed tapestries and costumes were authentic. An innovation, which was conducive to the proper mood in the audience, was the use of incidental music, written especially for the play. An overture, "In a Chinese Temple Garden," was the contribution of the school orchestra led by Mr. Wendell M. Ryder.

OTHER DRAMATIC AND SPEECH EVENTS

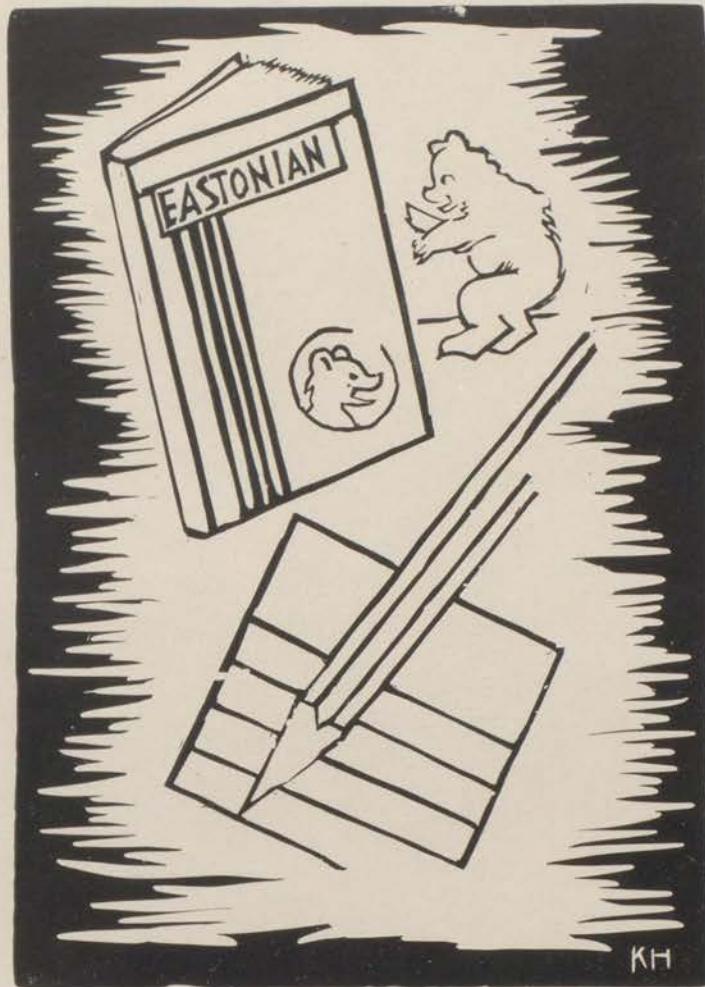

Aside from the major events connected with the dramatics, speech, and music departments, were the Minstrel Show, the Harvest Moon program, and several assembly plays and charity orations.

Those participating in the orations given in an assembly during the Charities Campaign November 14-21, were: Barbara Allen, Leland Gordy, Stanfield Thomson, and Ted Taylor.

The dramatics class presented two one-act plays, "The Fire Alarm" and "In An Elevator," in an assembly during the current school year. The first was a farcical play on a fire in a hotel in which no one seemed to mind, not even the occupants, bellboy, nor firemen. The second dealt with the conversation of five women in a department store elevator, which had stopped between two floors and could not be moved either up or down. "A Night of the Trojan War," a one-act play which East students presented before the Regional Conference on the Cause and Cure of War, was repeated in assembly.

With the student body's co-operation, the faculty presented a Minstrel Show. The male members of the faculty as humorous end-men, boys in the chorus to laugh and applaud at "good, funny jokes" pulled by the end-men, musically inclined members of the student body, and some men of minstrel show talent made up the cast of the show directed by Mr. John R. Wahlstedt.

Convulsions of laughter prevailed throughout the entire program of the "Harvest Moon." The "Womanless Wedding," presented by the P.-T. A. with the co-operation of the students and the faculty November 2, furnished everyone a good night of fun. Who could keep from laughing when one sees a femininely dressed man stroll complacently and serenely down the aisle? It was a "high-class weddin'" and from the looks of things, we wondered who was "gypped," the "wife," husband, or the families of both. There were also wrestling matches demonstrated by Mr. Cohlmeier's wrestling "chorus." Several solos were given by Hugh Brown, a small boy violinist, two skits by Miss Burton's speech classes, and several musical numbers by students, former students, and the East High School orchestra.

Journalistic and business methods are learned by the students who manage and write The East Echo. In doing the various jobs there is an ample opportunity to see for oneself whether journalism and business are professions which one wishes to enter.

Each semester a new staff takes over the management of The Echo. This gives a large group an opportunity to see their writing in print or to manage the business and advertising of a paper.

The editorial staff, which includes editors, feature editors, sports editors, reporters, etc., does the actual gathering and writing of news, "makes up" the paper, and reads proof and copy.

Classroom editors are assigned to each floor to "cover" completely the news which takes place in the school. Exchange editors gather news from papers of other schools. Club editors "cover" the activities of the various clubs in the school. Sports editors write sports forecasts, reports of games and sport comments. Feature editors prepare special articles, humor or gossip columns and human interest stories. The editors assign stories, write headlines, read proof and copy, and make up the "dummy" from the "galley proofs." The reporters stand ready to cover any assignments which the editors may give them.

Miss Dorothy W. Varney directs the editorial staff.

Business and advertising methods connected with the publishing of a newspaper are learned by putting them into practice in the publishing of The Echo.

As the major part of the income of a professional newspaper is derived from its advertising, no preparation for newspaper work is complete without attention to this very important matter. Indeed, without the support of its advertisers, The East Echo could not be published. The greater portion of The Echo's advertising comes from merchants of the East Side, who, in return for their expenditure, have a right to expect patronage from those whom The Echo reaches—students and patrons of the school.

The members of the business staff are provided the valuable opportunity of meeting the public through advertising solicitation. Under the direction of Mr. Baird Parks, they not only take care of soliciting and collections, but they also keep the records of receipts and expenditures.

Another branch of business activity is circulation, which includes planning of sales campaigns, keeping records of subscriptions, and delivering and mailing copies of the paper.

The Eastonian is one of the largest undertakings ventured during the school year by any group of departments. In the publication of the book, three of the major divisions of the school combine. From the English and newswriting classes, the editorial staff is chosen by Miss Dorothy W. Varney. To be considered for the staff, one must write his suggestions for bettering the Eastonian. From the final group chosen, Seniors who wish to try for the position of editor are required to make a "dummy." This year, Bill Walker was chosen editor-in-chief because of the originality and superiority of his rough draft of the book.

The art staff is chosen by Miss Martha Abbott. Its work consists in mounting photographs and in working out pictorially the theme of the book. The rubber cuts for making the division pages are the work of the art staff. Barbara Allen and Howard Krebs are the co-art editors.

The commercial department of the school is the one upon which the financial success of the Eastonian largely depends. The subscription and advertising campaigns are directed by this department. Irvin Trowbridge, business manager, leads the business staff. William Reynolds was chosen circulation manager, while Charles Jacobs heads the advertising campaign. Students of bookkeeping keep all the business records. This includes keeping records of the cost of the book, as well as a record of each Eastonian sold. The typists are also from this department. Miss Minnie Baker is business adviser. Mr. Baird Parks directs the advertising campaign.

The important matter of group photographs is supervised by Mr. W. M. Grube.

FEATURES

RESEARCH, MOTHER OF PROGRESS

Behind the scenes in the swiftly moving play, the "Century of Progress," behind, in fact, progress of all sorts, there is a more vast, a more subtle progress: the progress of the seeing eye and the learning mind; that which supplies the "horse sense" to the many scientific playthings either invented deliberately or discovered accidentally.

This progress in Research has given us so many "indispensable luxuries" and vital necessities that it would be impossible to list them all, but it would be well to remember that if the pen is mightier than the sword, so is the microscope mightier than the hammer of Thor.

SENIOR WILL

The time must come for all good things to end (or leave) and we, the Senior Class of 1935, being of sound mind as proved by previous Ohio University Intelligence Test, and realizing that soon we depart, do hereby bequeath the following, to those we leave behind:

To Mr. Nowlin, we bequeath our sincerest wishes for many more years of the most thankless job we can think of, Principal of East High School, and our highest regards.

To Mr. Wahlstedt, we leave the stupendous task of collecting the remaining sum due on our grand piano and hopes for more luck with his voice classes.

To the faculty, we bequeath a stiff 300 question test, in memory of many such bestowed on us.

To the class of '36 we leave the hope of getting the senior dues in, their various pecuniary affairs settled, and the wish that they try and shine as brightly as we have tried to do.

To the sophomores we leave the joy of being upper-classmen the next year, and our most condescending look to bestow on the lowly under-classmen.

To the freshmen we leave a bottle of striped ink, a season pass to the assemblies, and a book of "Silly Nertz Rhymes," to pass away the time they find no use for after unwisely (Hear Yel) ditching class.

To the literary clubs, we leave two hoarse shouts, and a roll of crepe paper in preparation for next year's Literary contest.

To the departmental clubs we bequeath Caesar, a fresh collection of bugs, a cookbook, a box of water colors, a couple of nice voices, a good looking stenographer, a strutting drum major and thanks for many good times.

To the general clubs, we leave our best wishes for a long and prosperous future, and the dues we've owed for years.

To the custodians we leave two nice water pails and a pair of new sponges to erase the many locker notes, love letters, and such.

To you all in general, and no one in particular, we bequeath sincere thanks for many good times, dreams fulfilled and dreams shattered, our many stiff tests, and the unforgettable four years of happy daze we've had while at East.

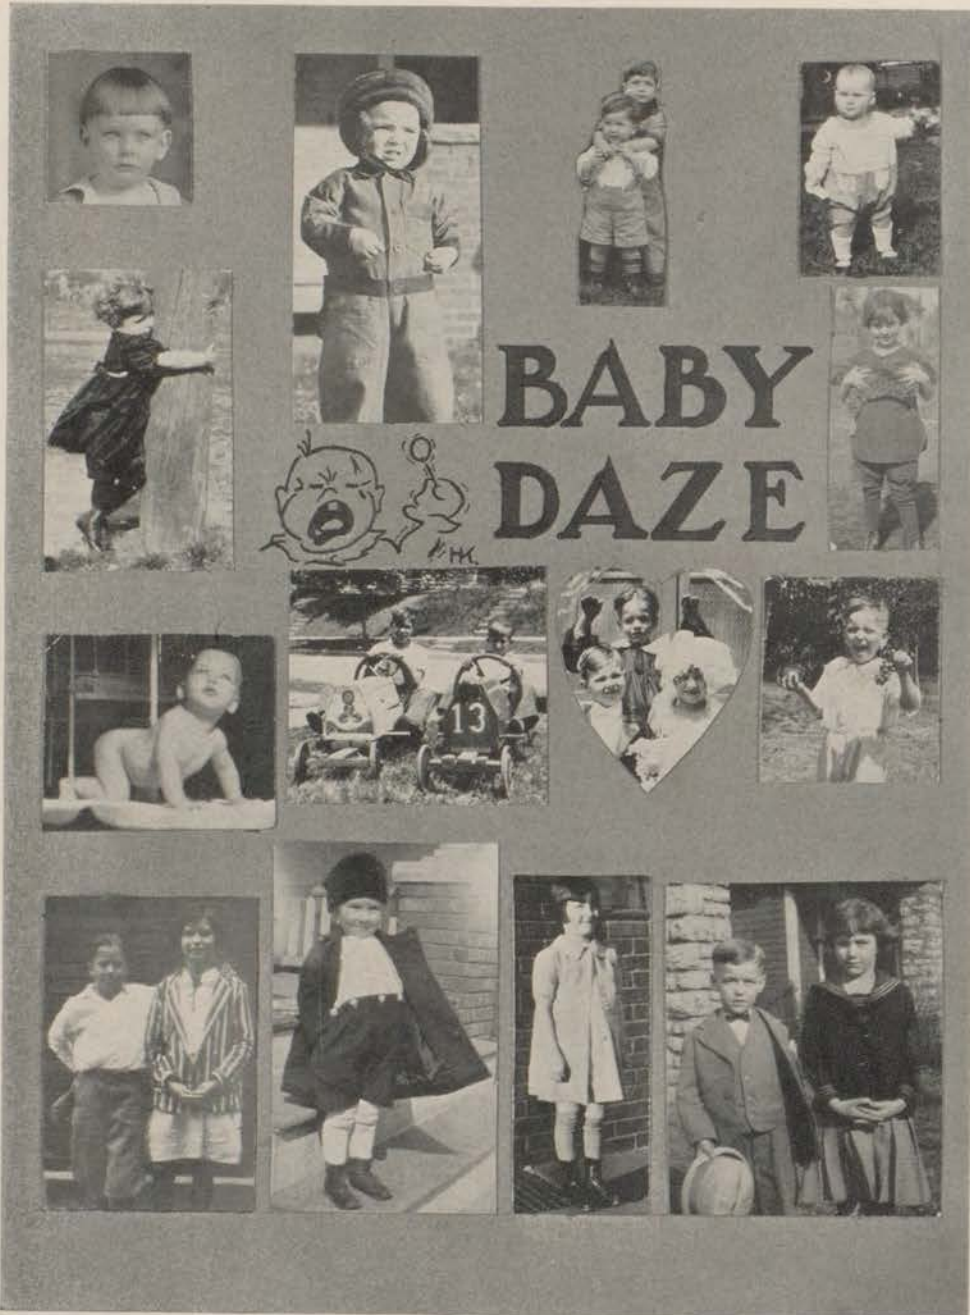

In witness, therefore, we, the graduating class of 1935, leave our little x this sixth day of June, 1935.

(Signed) The Senior Class

EYES + LIGHT = SIGHT

His Eye Tasks Were Easy

The cave man who played hide-and-seek with dinosaurs and other prehistoric animals had at least one advantage over most of us living today. Insofar as can be learned, his eyes usually remained keen and clear until a ripe old age. Perhaps that is because he did no reading or other close eye work.

The observance of three simple rules will do much to prevent abuse of the eyes. The first is to refuse to read fine print or look at small objects for long periods at a time. The second is to have the eyes examined regularly by a competent eyesight specialist. The third is to make sure that there is ample lighting wherever close eye work is done. Then we will at least compensate in some measure for the burdens imposed by our present-day civilization.

The Good Ship East High School
SEPTEMBER

Dear Log:

"1266 Students Throng Halls"—Caption from the maiden voyage of the Echo with Alice Bauchop at the helm.

The new Student Council ship, George Weiss, the captain, got under way on September 19.

Mr. Allen Whisamore, a new sailor at East, replaces Miss Melba Schoenlein, now Mrs. Jack Hughes, in the biology department.

Miss Mary Latshaw, returning from Hawaii, is enthusiastic over beauty and grandeur of the "49th state."

What-knots—New home room officers; first P. T. A. meeting; a new sergeant for the R. O. T. C. boys; try-outs for football.

OCTOBER

Dear Log:

Regrets of a student—"46 Pupils Earn Honor 'E' Pins." The literary clubs elect new members; 54 lucky persons and hundreds of broken hearts.

The Minstrel Show on October 5 takes the cake, plus "Cab" Betty Mathis, and a few of the faculty.

With the posting of the list of candidates for graduation in lower hall, a lot of five-year seniors emitted a sigh of relief that nearly tore up our new athletic field, rapidly progressing under the supervision of the Federal government.

First football game lost to the Central Blue Eagles 7-6.

What-knots—The new stamp club; first F's of the season distributed on report card day; many broken cameras after first Eastonian pictures are taken.

Flash—We get our fur pulled by the Pirates of Paseo, 7-0, but scalp the Southwest Indians, 19-0, so we feel better.

The Photographs in this Annual were made by

NOVEMBER

Dear Log:

Hear ye—hear ye—you amateur actors, an excellent play, "The Tavern," draws near.

One up, one down, our football score—Tigers whipped 18-0, but the Northeast Vikings get us 12-0.

A novel speaker in the October 26 assembly, Jack Dunn, a young Hawaiian student.

Bill Walker, elected to steer the schooner, the Eastonian. Ted Dettweiler boosted to senior presidency by a cheering student body. Kenneth Heady will receive the hand-claps and hisses as the masculine lead in "The Tavern."

We hand the Manualites a nice Thanksgiving banquet, a 19-0 defeat.

What-knots—The Faculty get free secretaries for ten weeks, courtesy of the short-hand classes; the parents hear final educational address; the home room pictures are finished; Henry Messer and Jo-Jo Blankership are crowned (!) co-football captains; new literary club officers.

DECEMBER

Dear Log:

The senior ballot chosen by the crew—Alice Bauchop and Charles Vierling, Yvonne Bugg and Irvin Trowbridge received the highest honors.

"The Tavern" goes over with a bang on December 14.

Kenneth Heady unanimously elected to the captaincy of the Junior Yacht.

Lovely Christmas carols fill the auditorium with a Christmas spirit.

Carl Hall is appointed to the office of major.

The East Basketeers begin practice.

What-knots—The children's letters to Kris Kringle amuse; the Eulexians hold their Founder's Day Banquet; the Echo, all dolled up in green and red, makes a nice Christmas gift; 300 years for the high schools; our Chorus on the radio in series of broadcasts.

JANUARY

Dear Log:

Woe, woe, me, me, my. The reason for this splurge of melancholy is final exams this month.

The new "Echo" crew arrives, with three jolly good fellows, George Callen, Carl Hall, and Ted Taylor, at the helm.

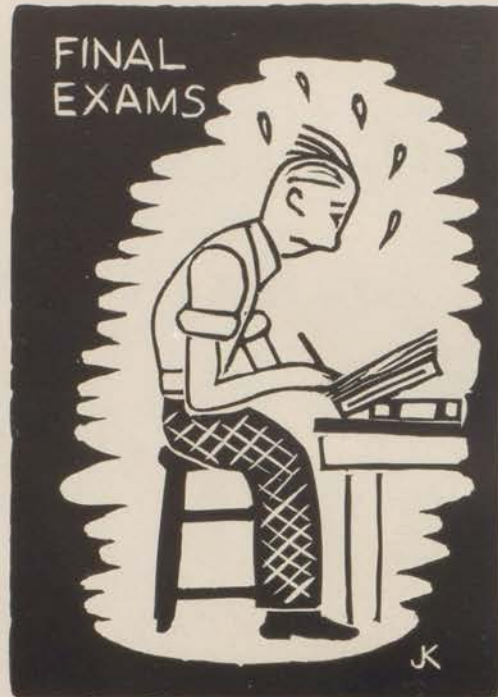

New Year's Day recalls the many happy events of 1934.

New Student Council officers take over the Ship of State at dear old East, Yvonne Bugg heading the crew. Carl Hall is promoted to Lieutenant-Colonel, the highest R. O. T. C. position ever received at East. Hurray for the army!

A counterfeit "dead" collie in the hall, causes quite a commotion.

Ted Weis repeats a freshman coup d'etat, and takes over captaincy of the sophomore class.

What knots—Plenty of talent tries out for the annual "Bust-Out"; 98 new catastrophies, i. e., freshmen, wandering dazedly around the halls; four East amateurs meet a professional, George M. Cohan, backstage.

FEBRUARY

Dear Log:

The "Outburst" theme for this year will be a calendar, plus eleven sideshows.

A famous collie dog was the guest in the February 11 assembly. He was here with his blind master, Mr. W. R. Duckett, whose guiding star he has been for the past nine years.

The Eastonian order will be limited, so get your money in!

"The Yellow Jacket," a Chinese play, will follow "The Tavern" in the dramatic spotlight.

The Vikings sunk us 18-13, but we really played ball!

Sergeant Ruth retired February 28.

The new home room officers came to bat.

Many interesting personalities among our new freshmen. Wonder what kind of seniors they will be.

A very popular assembly presented by the Gillespie-Sullivan Dancing School. "More, more," the pupils cried!

MARCH

Dear Log:

At the Mad-Hatter's party were: the newly elected members of "The Yellow Jacket" cast; a Saint Patrick's dance, sponsored by the Student Council; the gay side of East High, aroused by the "Outburst"; the basket ball team, receiving their awards; the Western Dental College Glee Club, as special guests; a great many absentees, as a result of colds, and the measles (childish, what?); the Ides of March banquet presented by the Latin classes in the cafeteria; lots of private student parties; and the new temporary Sergeant Faust for the R. O. T. C.

Sergeant Harry E. Strider arrives at last to take permanent charge of the Army.

APRIL

Dear Log:

Daffy dilly, dally. (This spring weather's got me.)

Our girls really showed them, down at Springfield.

Jane Gordon and Margaret Jenkins, the girls' trio, and Barbara Smith, all captured the highest ratings. (Listen to the mocking bird, treeeeeeeeeeeee.)

Wilson Sprout proves to be the choice of the freshman class.

"Prominent careers may be due to luck," says Tom Collins. I believe him.

The Lit. Contest will come off on May 3. Lots of noise, slams, secretive slummy songs, and dirty looks and frenzied work as a result.

SENIOR CLASS OF 1935

MAY

My Dearest Log:

(Even I vary a little now and then.)

Heigh-ho and a ho-hum. May, the month of picnics and parties, is here. Everyone got out his Sunday-go-to-meetin' duds and hit the high spots. This festive division of the year was inaugurated with the annual Lit. Contest accompanied by its slam songs and other depreciating gestures and also by the various oral events. The Hamiltons won this classic event by an astounding margin.

The Junior-Senior Prom on May 17, always a gala occasion, was followed by the annual P.-T. A. picnic at Fairyland Park on the 22nd. The teachers, usually stern, abandoned their dignity to sneak a slide down the long chute, a roll in the barrel or even a blood-curdling ride on the Skyrocket.

JUNE

Mostest Dearest Log:

The end of school and the departure of the seniors has left me in a state of unbounded ecstasy as is evidenced by my endearing terms. However, when the seniors once again returned for Commencement, June 6, and again took over the control of the school my happiness was brought to a halt.

This year most of the underclassmen, even though the grim shadow of the final exams hung over them, marched through the halls with a smile on their lips and a devil-may-care attitude. This feeling was probably brought on by the long, languorous vacation soon to come.

What-Knots—Having just eight days to write about didn't hold me down any.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT

Words of praise can never repay service well rendered; nor can they express gratitude for indispensable advice, guidance, and friendship offered by kindly instructors to admiring students.

Any attempt to thank those whose names are herein listed would become clumsy and ineffectual. But the combined staff of the 1935 Eastonian will carry with them for many years to come an enviable collection of pleasant and heart-warming memories of days spent learning and working with our loved and respected friends on the faculty and in the business world.

To Miss Varney, Miss Baker, Miss Abbott, Mr. Parks, Mr. Grube, Mr. Smith of the Smith-Grieves Printing Company, Mr. Cooksey of Teachenor-Bartberger Engraving Company, and to those friends of East High whose confidence in us we hope is not misplaced—the advertisers—to each of you we say: "From the bottom of our hearts our sincere thanks for a most enjoyable and valuable lesson."

THE 1935 EASTONIAN STAFF.
