Reflections

The pages of this yearbook reflect the moods and the real personality of individuals. It shows the reflections of the inner East High School.

Reflections are the way we are and want to be. The way we act is what will reflect on us in years to come. Reflect on the past and remember the sad, happy, frustrating and wonderful times.

Reflect on times which we see. Loving, understanding, happy and free.

Reflections on feelings good or bad.

Reflections on moods happy or sad.

This year reflect and go with the times.

This year reflect and let go of your minds.

“Sometimes, not often enough, we reflect upon the good things.

And those thoughts always center around those we love;

And I think about the people who mean so much to me,

And who for so many years have made me so very happy.

I count the times that I have forgotten to say
Thank You and just how much I love them.”

Felice Mancini

Administration

Mr. Fred Heine, the knot that held East High School together, did not have an easy task. Pulling together the strands of a high school, students, faculty and other staff members, took someone trustworthy and likeable. Someone who could gather all the loose ends to make a bonding relationship among all people who make up East High School!

2. Chow time

1. Mr. Fred Heine

3. Another hour till lunch!

1. Mr. William Love - Vice Principal

Our vice principals were helpful to our No. 1 principal. They rounded up students with conference cards, and organized their problems.

We had three vice principals, Mr. William Ridley, Mr. William Love, and Mr. William White. We are truly thankful for them. If not for them, students would have been in the office all day.

2. Mr. William Ridley - Vice Principal

3. Mr. William White - Vice Principal

The main concern of the vice-principals at East High School was to keep things under control and running smoothly. Mr. William White was in charge of most hall sweeps. Mr. William Love spent a great deal of time in the office with the conference card lists, and Mr. William Ridley was in charge of student schedules, thus forming a solid, efficient system.

1. It's been a long day.

Dear Sir: you have just been suspended!

Look at that pretty brown Cadillac.

Faculty

English

The Language Arts Department gave students an opportunity to select from a variety of English classes. Students were able to select from such offerings as mythology, science fiction, composition, short stories and several others. These classes helped students to further their education and enlarge their view of the world.

MATH

Adding, subtracting, multiplying, and dividing are the basic processes of the mathematics classes. There are many levels from advanced algebra, geometry, and trigonometry to general and refresher math. This variety offered stimuli and satisfaction to those students who found that dealing in abstracts offered rewards.

Mr. Bruce Cohen

Mr. James Ellis

Mr. Raymond Galler

Mr. Harry Hommes

Mr. Rickman Lewis

Ms. Wilmoth Nichols

SCIENCE

Mr. Robert Holder

Mr. Charles Mostar

The science department was really on the job this year. They taught us more about the world, our surroundings, and the inner side of us. The courses offered were biology, human science, ecology, and general science. The teachers in this department worked very hard in getting the students more interested in science. Whether it involved bones or snakes, the teachers of science taught it all.

HISTORY

History repeats itself. Events have a great deal in common. What's different about events is the names of the heroes, and the dates.

Plans of opponents vary from time to time. This makes history special to read and experience.

The purpose of the Creative Arts Department was to help the students to learn and to establish in different fields. Besides having the regular courses, such as foods, photography and art, students learned to achieve and also to have fun in these different courses.

Students also learned to correspond in either French or Spanish.

Vocations

A sound body is the basis for a sound life. The Physical Education program at East offered the opportunity to students to remain physically fit. The R.O.T.C program allowed anyone interested in the discipline of military life to participate in that area.

Business courses allowed students to develop the skills necessary to pursue a career as competent office employees.

Dedication

Student Life

This year has been one of many different experiences. The bussing of students seemed to involve the lives of everyone. Those bussed into East High faced the problem of meeting new people and finding their way around in a new environment. The students from East had to readjust their views to students with different loyalties. In general the necessary adjustments were made. Strangers became friends, school rivalries were discarded.

The 1977-78 yearbook is dedicated to all the students of East High School for their spirit, cooperation and ability to make a go of what was said to be totally impossible.

Congratulations and be proud!!
You did it!!

"With a little help from Cheryl, Mike peeks for a solution."

Where have all the buses gone?

Keep those love letters going!

Student Life

The game can't be all that bad.

"Now class," let's not fall asleep!

Partnership is succeeding.

Student Life

"My eyes adore you."

"Wow! This is hot stuff."

Where were you when the lights went out?

"Oh" "Oh" ...caught you in the hall sweep.

Student Life

"Hey gang, one more time!"

"Lights... Camera... Action."

A typical class, you see that school is a lot of fun!

"I'm going to get this right if it's the last thing I do!"

Student Life

She's one of us!

When will this day end?

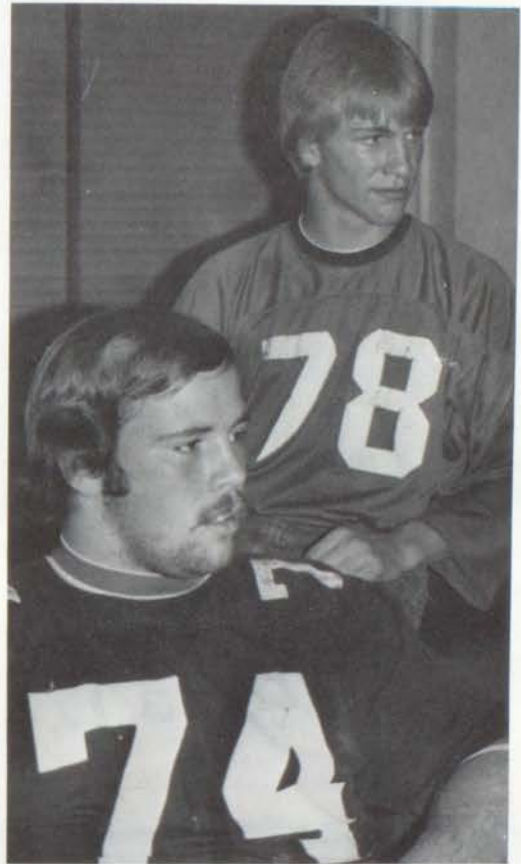

Let's shake a leg Barbie!

Student Life

Which one?

Your @ # $ % ¢ &! us.

There they are!

Ch-E-E-E-se

I lost my contact.

Thank God its Friday!

If they only knew, it was just a wig.

It's my turn now.

The following pages are dedicated to those men and women who have battled in competition for East High School.

Whether in vigorous sport of football, the tenacity of volleyball, or the mind-boggling concentration of chess, every opponent became a new and different obstacle to overcome, each a new experience in its self.

East's football team had a total of ten men chosen for the All-City All-Star Team. 1st team members were Reggie Hill, Dwayne Kleyh, David Kessler and David Reese. 2nd team members consisted of Steve Manning and Kevin Sly. Those chosen for Honorable Mention were Leodus Washington, Edwin Ty Harris, Mike Beasley and Craig Spencer.

In two meets, one at Minute Circle Friendly House on October 22, and the other at Winnetonka High on November 12, the Chess team finished 1st and 5th respectively.

1st r. Reggie Hill, Mark Hubler, Richard Talley, Craig Spencer, Darren Jackson, Ty Harris, Robert Green, Jerry Clark, 2nd r. Mr. R. G. Suhl, Mr. Virland Harris, Brian Dennis, Steve Reese, John Huffman, Mike Beasley, James Walker, Richard Gardner, George McCarthy. 3rd r. Mr. Karl Morrow, Head Coach, David Reese, David Kessler, Steve Manning, Mark Salley. 4th r. Cleon Wiggins, Greg Beasley, Raymond Suber, Mike Frizzel. last r. On November 15, 1977 a Banquet was held honoring the outstanding volleyball players. The 1st team all stars were Dede Brozovich and Eugenia Hill. Receiving Honorable Mention were Rosey Brozovich, Carla Williams, Brenda McGlothlin and Becky Tompkins.

Carla Williams goes down for the dig.

Chess

Brian sees a move for Mr. Buchanan, Steve Walker, Ruben Vargas, and Joe Wright.

Steve Grimes is deciding where to plot his move.

"I've got them now," says Joe Wright.

"Where shall I move next!" says Dwight Walker.

"This is Cinchy," says Dale Walker.

This was the second year for girls' volleyball at East. The girls worked hard to achieve their goal. There were many new members on the squad with only a few returning from last year. The league was divided into two divisions, Small 5 and Power 5. The team finished second in their division and second in the league with two All Stars and four honorable mentions.

During November, four weekly rap sessions were conducted with a workshop Wrap-up following in December. Students and community people acted as group facilitators, listening to students' concerns and needs.

The success of the program provided an environment for students and staff to know each other, share problems and needs, and work together to solve them, developed leadership, and generated parent and community participation in East High School.

Enthusiasm and continuing work on the program was provided through the Human Relations classes of Ms. Bonnie Dennis.

You see, I was right.

Look at that streaker.

Gee whiz.

Look at that fool.

Oh! Gosh, my athlete foot hurts.

Hi down there.

Hi up there.

Oh really!

How long will this be going on?

Well, what do you have to say for yourself.

HuH!!!

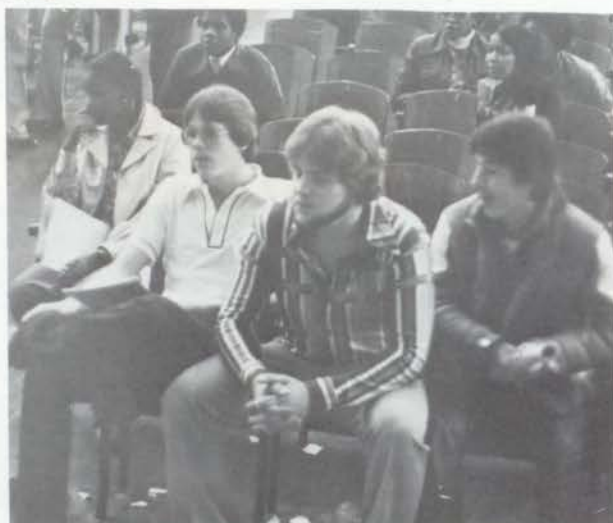

Mr. Holder gives good points.

This year the varsity cheerleader squad consisted of ten girls. Two of the girls, Karen Jones and Jannette Wilcox, came from Central High School. The other cheerleaders were Vicki Hudgens, Becky Tompkins, Annette Douglas, Stacy Morgan, Melinda Hudgens, mascot, Barbie Madick, and Jackie Walker, and Cheryl Wofford. The sponsor of all the cheerleaders was Ms. Bonnie Dennis. The cheerleaders and their sponsor supported the football teams throughout the season. The football team won the "77" championship trophy. The basketball team competed hard. Hang in there Bears!

It looks like Vicki is at it again.

Hey gang!

Walk for Mankind

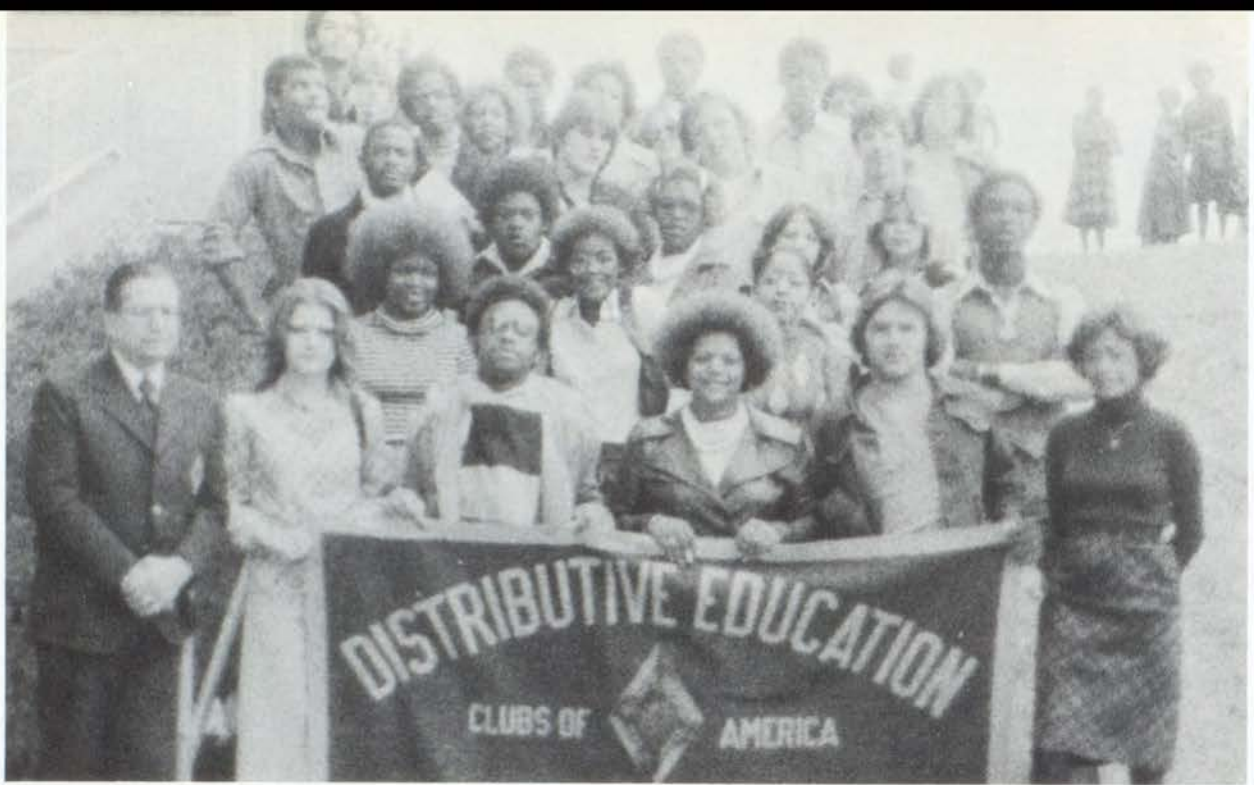

Veronica Peña and Mike Potts were the King and Queen of Hearts candidates this year for Walk for Mankind.

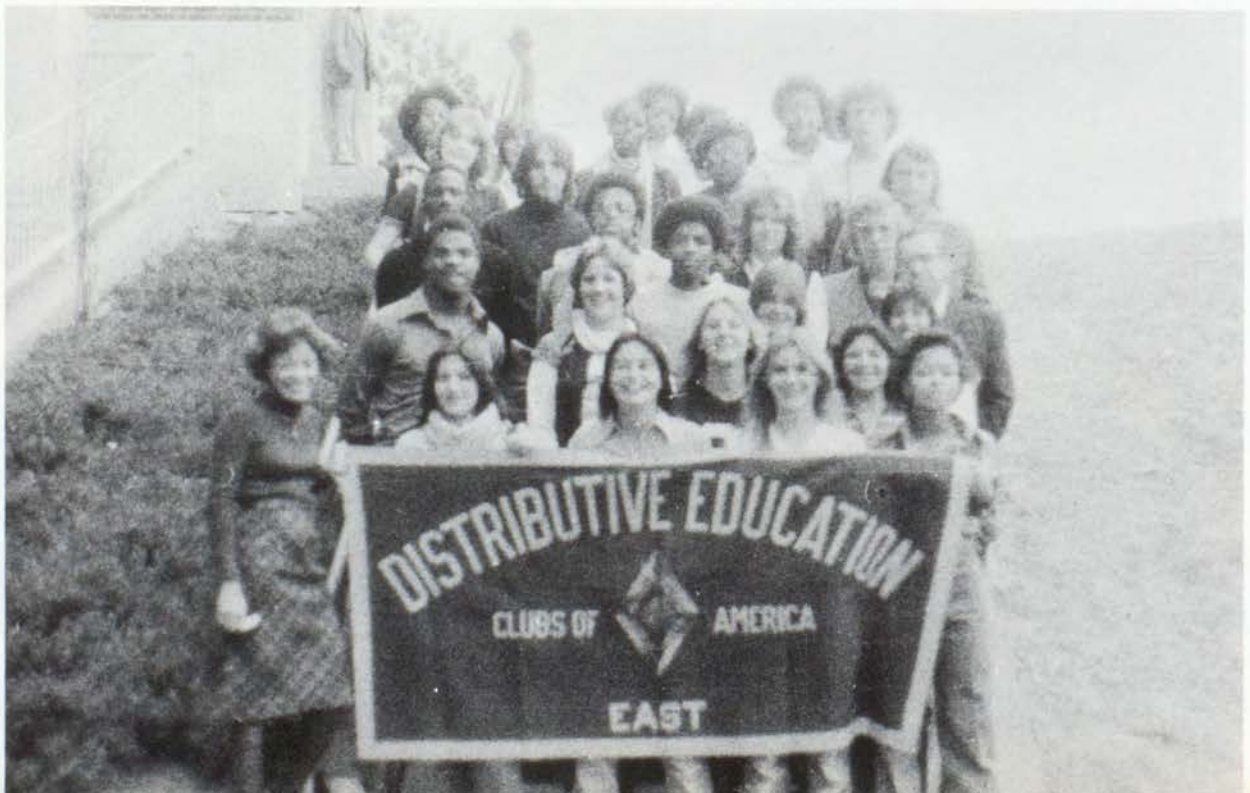

Pom Pom

The DECA Club was sponsored by Mr. Ray Galler and Ms. Laresa Slater. DECA stands for Distributive Education Club of America. DECA prepared us for jobs, taught us about social security and our incomes. DECA this year, consisted of about forty members.

Echo

The Echo has been a part of East for 52 years. The Echo is published by a devoted staff, and Ms. Marilyn Stallings, their advisor.

The main goal of the Echo was to keep the student body informed on all of the happenings at East. Like any other school paper, there was confusion at times, but the staff braved it through and always seemed to form a most interesting and exciting pack of memories.

There were times when news was hard to find, but with vigor and determination, it was done and done well!

1st row, Steve Grimes, Brenda McGlothin, Leroy Armstrong, Kim Carnahan, and Marcia Edwards.

Eastonian

As shown, the yearbook staff this year had different ideas about their well-composed picture. Each member added their own special flair by their attire. Ms. Elaine Schlozman, sponsor, comes from an Indian background, as you can tell. Hidden beneath her mask, Dede Brozovich, strikes again. Pam Stuerke, posing as a glamour girl, contrasts with the tough, cool attitude of Michele Wolfer, as she attempts to bum a ride to Warsaw. Along with her, go her buddies, Becky (Broadway) Tompkins, Trisha Rue, dressed for the occasion, and solemn Barbie Madick, editor-in-chief. Debbie McGee, just seems to be enjoying the whole matter, while beside her, Rhonda Ragsdale and Sam Stallings, are out to paint the town red. Richard Talley, seems to be just hanging around as Andrew Persley appears to ignore the whole situation.

Websters

Leundis

Pep Club

What did you say you had for lunch?

So what's the punchline?

Mr. Eckhoff explains the problem to Chris Willis.

Mr. Coombs, the serious side.

Rosey Brozovich goes for an easy two.

I'd better get the HE double toothpick out of here!

Would you look at this.

I just don't understand.

If you think I'm going to do that...

Take two of these and call me in the morning.

Now, I know circles are supposed to be round.

Ah! This feels good.

Whistle while you work, da da de dum da de da!

All right, who put the twinkle in my chair.

I'm sure having a good time.

Oh, how dreadfully ghastly.

Psst. What's the next answer?

Are you sure you spelled this right?

Boy, I wish I could get out of here.

Tough Stuff.

Smiley.

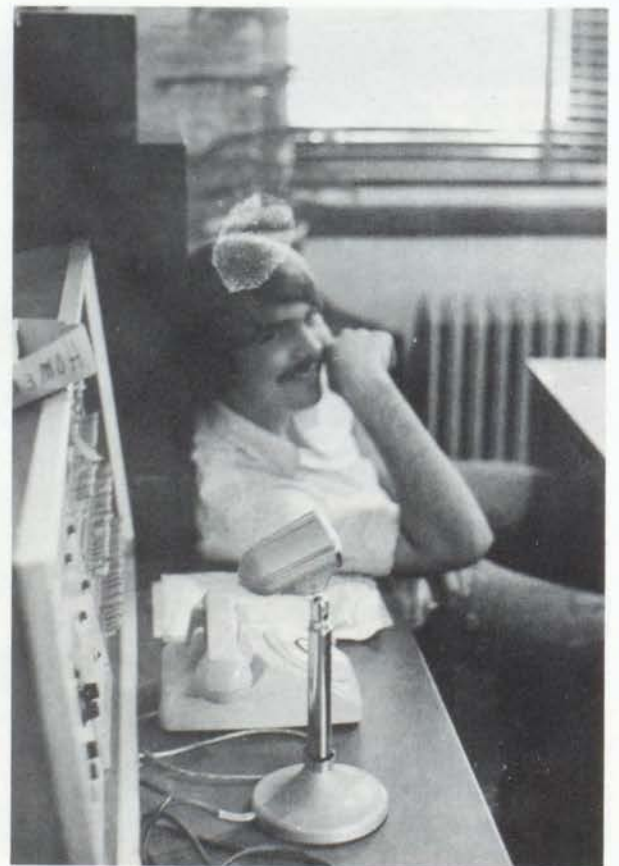

Oops, wrong team.

Art students make posters.

All's well that ends well.

My place or yours?

There she is, "Miss America."

Let's see, slot A into tab B...

Mrs. Rinkenbaugh puzzles.

What did ya use, invisible ink?

See, Orafix works!

All right now, let's get it together.

If they could only hear us now.

Any more requests?

John Huffman and Sharon Roseburr play as if it's cinchy.

St. Louis Air Force Band.

Oh! Mr. Casanova himself, Mr. Tom Mallot.

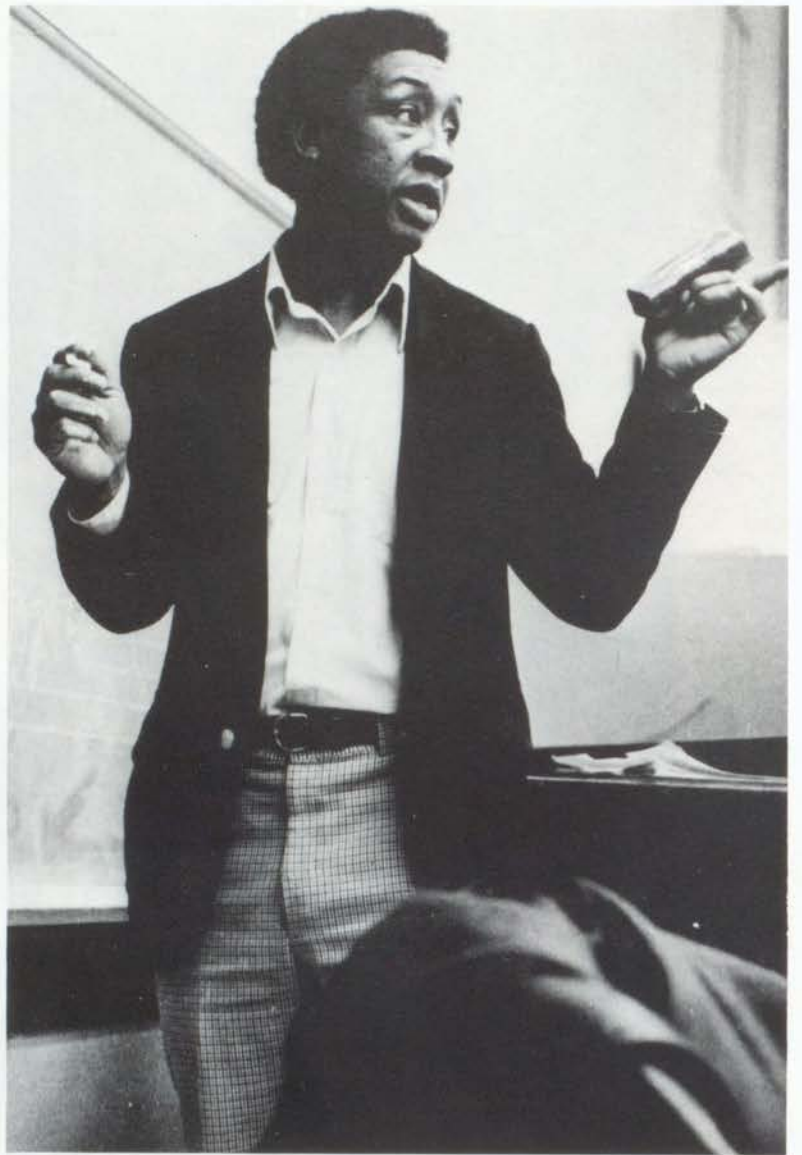

May I have this dance, my little chickadee?

It's Boogie time again.

Play that funky music!

The band classes led by Mr. Sylvester Heath, get a few pointers.

What's that!

I've got it now.

Play that by me again.

A one and a two!

The Air Force Band said, "Phew!"

Do the Hoakie-Pokey.

A new kind of greeting.

Up and Overrr.

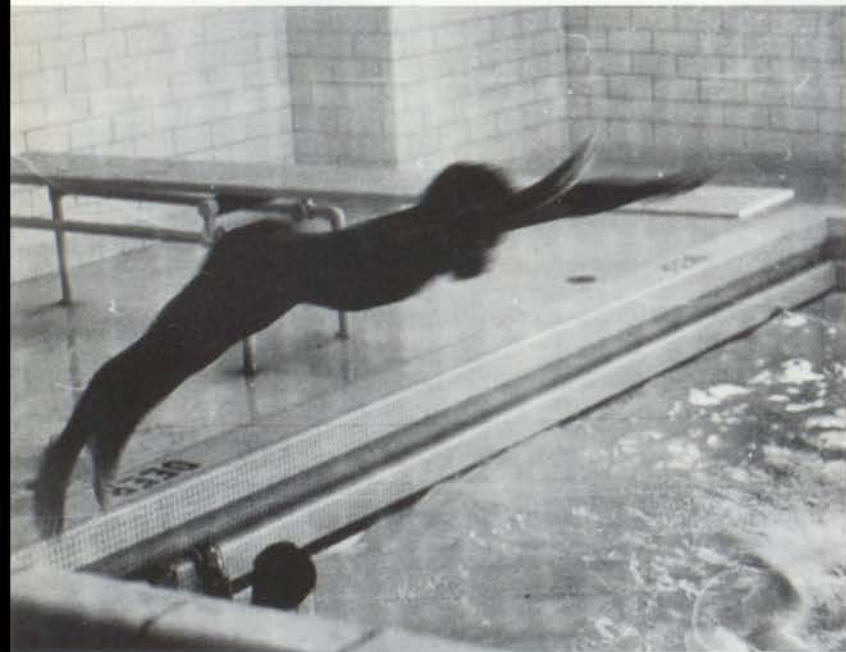

It'll make ya flip.

Karen Jones goes for a perfect form.

Nancy Minks does a knee scale.

Alle-oop.

1977-78 Eastonian Queen

Eastonian Queen for 1978 was Betty Stout. The other candidates were Dede Brozovich, Vickie Hudgens and Brenda McCarthy. They were graded on poise, intelligence, response and appearance. The queen candidates were selected by the teachers, who filled out nomination forms. The nominations were tabulated by Helen Mead and Karen Shinn.

The nominees were screened Wednesday, February 1st. The screening committee consisted of Ms. Bonnie Dennis, Ms. Helen Blanton, Ms. Geneva Reiman, Mr. John Hopkins and Ms. Linda Harris. Betty was the girl they felt had an excellent all-round performance at East.

1977-78 Sweetheart Queen & King

Becky Tompkins & Mark Salley.

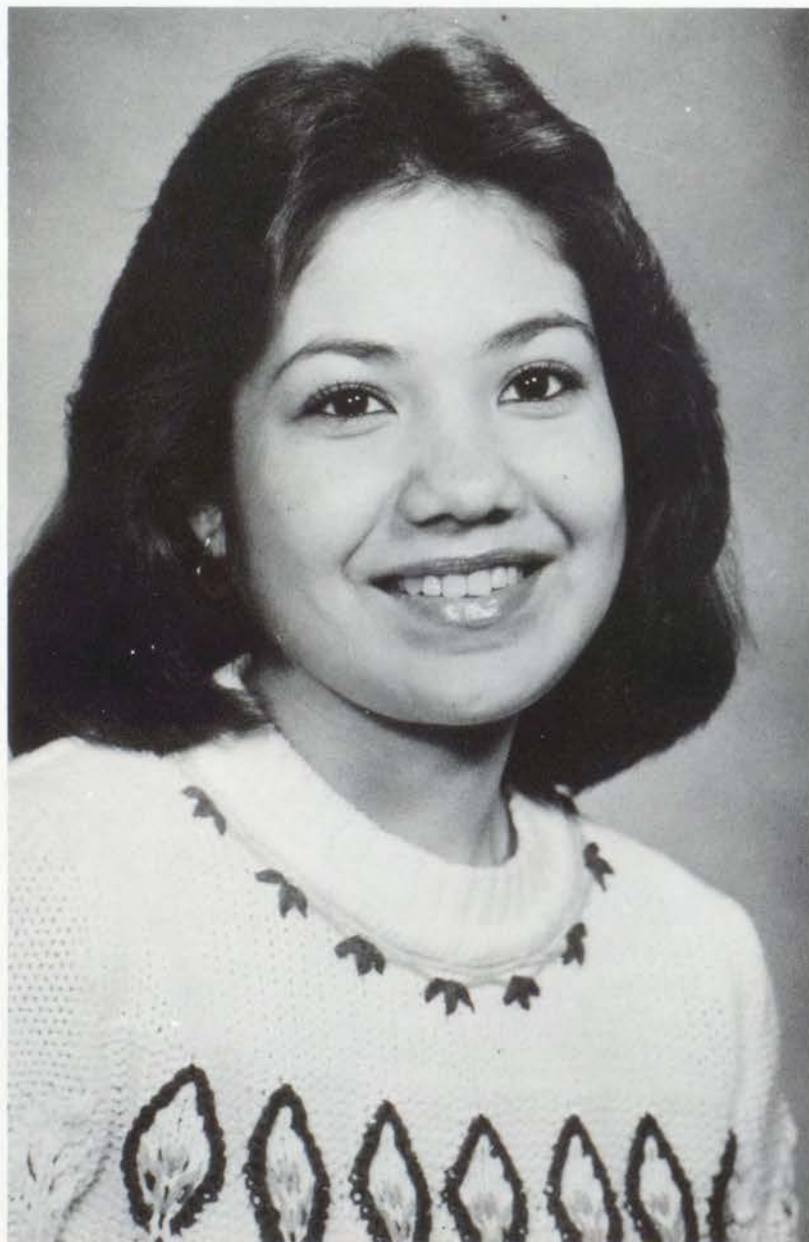

The Sweetheart Dance was held on February 18 at Whatsoever Community Center, from 8:30 to 12:30. The dance was sponsored by Inter-Society. Leundis Literary Society decorated the gym. The music was provided by a live disc-jockey.

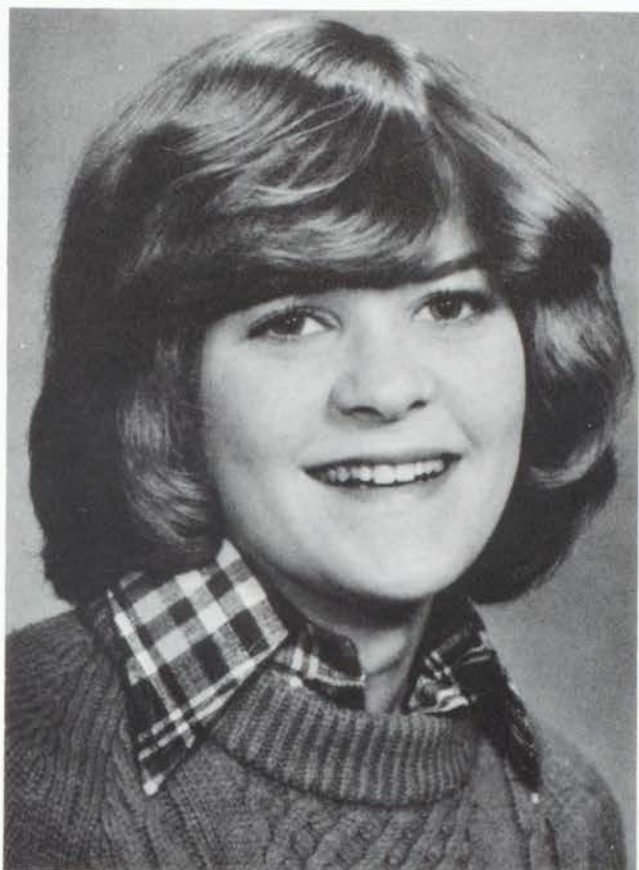

The whole atmosphere centered on who would win the King and Queen of Hearts. The voting for this event was done at the dance. Each ticket bought for entering the dance was placed into the box of the competing couples.

There were seven couples entered in the contest. Representing Leundis, Mark Salley and Becky Tompkins were crowned king and queen, by last year's queen Brenda McGlothlin. Melinda Hudgens and David Kessler, representing Websters, were 1st runners-up. Ronie Pena and Mike Potts were 2nd runners-up, representing Walk for Mankind.

We have looked into our reflection. We see past memories and future goals. The 1977-78 Eastonian wished to show that each person, although a separate individual, joined together to form East High School. Spanning those special moments in times of joy and sorrow, victory and defeat, Eastonian breathes the beginning of a new life, the ending of an old.

This school and this year saw another reflection which we will call the future.
