Eastonian Staff

Let us introduce the sophomores on the staff, Mike Smith, Robin Kelsey, Teresa Kelsey, and Marie Pacheco.

Who can forget Kaprise Sanders, she's hard at work again. A seniors work is never done.

Greg Carrin, Arthur Segura, and Robert Worley like the girls as you can tell they are busy with royalty. Wouldn't you know they're juniors.

Candita Crawford, Yvonne Walls, Carla Frankoviglia, and Lisa Plymell contributed greatly to the production of this year book.

Heritage Club

The Rainbow People add a new dimension to our knowledge of history as they perform during an assembly for black history month. Ms. Schaaf and her daughter worked with the students to make this production a very successful event. Congratulations on a great all student performance.

EAST ECHO

Mrs. Florence Singleton's creative writing class publishes the "East Echo", our school newspaper.

Diligence pays off when the product is finished. This year the "Echo" was mailed to all East patrons in order to keep parents and students informed.

In memory of Robert Barbe . . . Bashful, brawny, "Bob", was how they put it in his high school yearbook. Mr. Barbe graduated from East in 1935. He has been a faithful supporter of East since then. Mr. Barbe and his brother took over Barbe Florist when their father passed away, and Bob bought his brothers share in the company. We regret Mr. Barbe passed away this summer, but his wife will continue to support East as her husband would have done.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

From: All of us on the Eastonian staff.

To: You, who helped make the 1984 Eastonian a success.

We want to offer a special thanks to our principal, Mr. Arnold Davenport, and our assistant principals Mr. Wesley Elders and Ms. Patricia Hansen. We appreciate you!

And to the faculty; thank you for all you have done for us, this year, all you've done in the past, and all you've yet to do! Keep up the good work!!!

Of course, we can't forget the students, our fellow classmates, we've spent this year together as friends and classmates. Congratulations to the class of '84. To the students of the classes, '85, '86, '87. May your years at East be filled with happy memories.
