August 28, 1972, Marks Opening of HMHS

The history of Hickman Mills High School had its beginnings in 1902, when the growing community of Hickman Mills constructed Ruskin in the area of Edwin Hickman's old grain mill. The Board of Education made two purchases of land in 1958 and 1966 totaling 66 acres near the old Santa Fe Trail, as a future High School site. In 1967, the school received its name and Mr. Douglas Lawrence was appointed its planning principal.

Actual construction began in September, 1968, when a contract was awarded for the first phase of building. Construction was financed by bonds and special building levies voted by the patrons of the district.

Beginning in the fall of 1970, finished portions of the building were occupied by the students of Santa Fe Elementary School. During the fall of 1972, the elementary students were gradually phased out of the high school classrooms as the elementary school neared completion.

New Ideas, Innovations In New High School

When school convened at Hickman Mills High School for the first time, students were introduced to 44 classrooms, a cafeteria, media center, and instructional center. Each different department was grouped and specialized according to its needs.

Apart from the classrooms, there were several "special features" which Hickman Mills High possessed. One such feature was the Foreign Language Lab equipment which could be moved from room to room. A 225-seat Instructional Center was used either for activities by the speech and drama classes or for lectures to large groups by various speakers. Another attractive feature was the Media Center. Besides 7100 books, the Media Center contained areas designed for both private study in carrels and for small group study in conference rooms.

The story of Hickman Mills High School is not complete—indeed, it is only beginning. It will become a full senior high school in 1973 with the addition of seniors. Its first graduation exercises will be held in the spring of 1974.

Other features such as a new academic wing, auditorium, and swimming pool are still in the planning stages. With the addition of these features, Hickman Mills High will become one of the largest and most modern high schools in Missouri.

JV Brings Spirit to HM . . . .

The Junior Varsity Cheerleaders, headed by Ann Baker and Cathy Viles, started their season early in the summer of '72 at a cheerleading camp in Marshall, Missouri. Returning home to cheer on the Junior Varsity teams, they brought back with them a spirit stick, showing that our girls had the most spirit at Marshall that summer. Selection of the cheerleaders, both J.V. and Varsity, was based on tryouts, academic grades, teacher's evaluations, their skill, and, of course, their spirit.

Other members of the squad were: M. Andrews, C. Gramlich, J. Austinson, K. Cook.

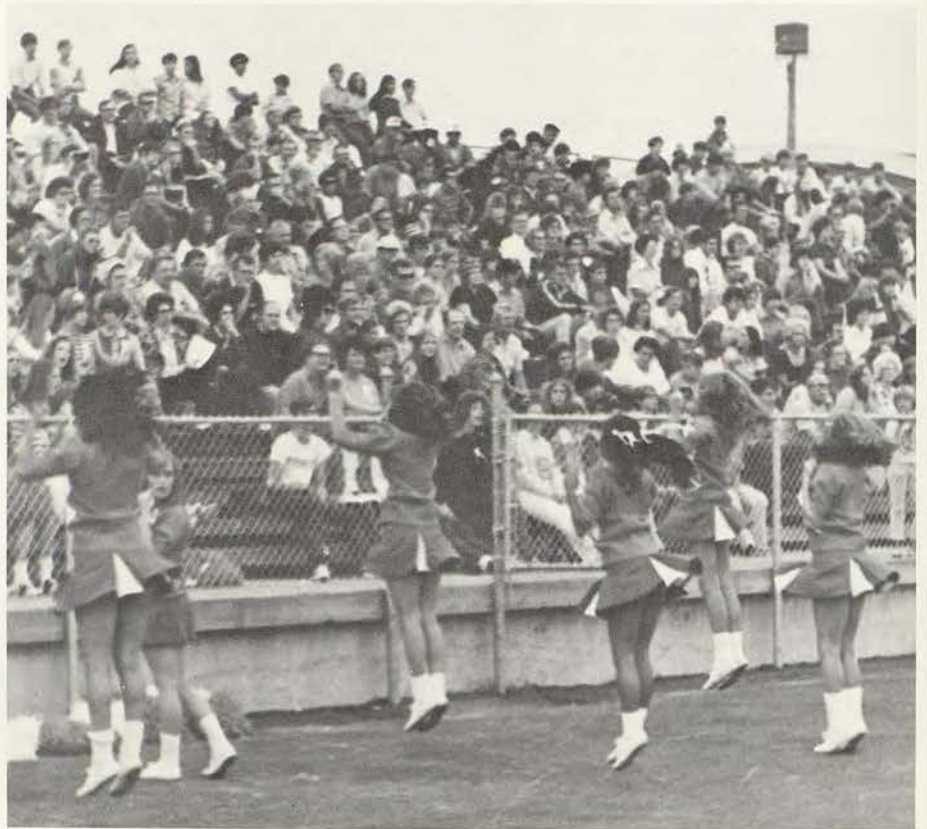

Precision and practice pay off.

. . . And Varsity Carries It Through

The Varsity Cheerleading Squad, comprised of four juniors and two sophomores, traveled down to Marshall, Missouri in the summer of '72 for a cheerleading camp.

Bringing back their enthusiasm and pep to cheer on the Varsity teams, their schedules included a bake sale and after-school practices. They cheered us on to many victories through the year and always lent a smile at defeat.

The six girls who "carried it through" were Jenny Cook, head cheerleader; Rita Hardin, co-captain; Glenda Bohannon, Becky Kamitsuka, Kathy Johnson, and Teri McCready.

Pep and Pride

That enthusiastic group of girls known as the Pep Club started late in the 71-72 school year by electing S. Duncan, K. Talmadge, C. Pitts, and S. King, as officers. A uniform was chosen and a constitution written during the summer of 72.

The main activity was supporting the sports program by attending games and painting spirit signs. Other activities involved the planning of Football and BB Homecomings, and promoting a Spirit Week. Pep Club won $50 in a contest for selling more tickets to the Faculty BB Game than Ruskin.

Football Coronation

Friday, October 13, certainly was not unlucky for Mendy Jeter who was crowned HMHS's first Football Queen. Attending her were the junior attendants; Kelly Robinson, and Jackie Solomon; and sophomore attendant, Karie Robinson.

Mendy and her attendants reigned over the Hogan Football game and at the dance in the school's cafeteria.

Regardless of the date, there was no need for superstition that night.

Fred Spille makes it the crowning moment.

The Queen and her Attendants were entertained at the half time of the HM-Hogan Basketball Game by the Hikers and the Cougar Pep Band. Later, in the school activity room, everyone danced to the sounds of "Bittersweet".

HM Christmas Spirit

The holiday season invaded Hickman Mills at full force in December. Evidence of the Christmas spirit was everywhere.

As a start, the Student Council sponsored a Christmas Dance on the eighteenth of December; the band, Jaded, performed. December 22, the choir and orchestra performed a Christmas concert for over three hundred people.

The art department worked busily on a large papier-mache snowman, which stood in the mall during the season. The main office was decorated by one of the office secretaries. The Student Council purchased a ten-foot tree for the student mall, which was decorated by the art department, with money contributed by students. The first holiday season at Hickman Mills was seemingly enjoyed by all.

Another Victory

The cries of victory were loud and joyous on the night of January 29, when the Hickman Mills faculty defeated the Ruskin faculty in a rousing basketball game. The Hickman Mills team of "Gentee!" Harold Gentry, "Handsome" Greg Harnden, "Pretty-boy" Tom Benyo, "Luscious" Larry Frazier, "Cuddlin'" Dave Karaff, "Rover" Roy Stillwagon, "Butterball" Bill Morrin, "Tricky" Dick Plymell, and "Jumpshot" Jim Shaffer, with "Demon" Doug Lawrence coaching, walked off with a huge trophy and a winning score of 48 to 46.

To cheer our faculty on were "Dainty" Donna Akin, "Clumsy" Carol Johns, "Shapely" Sharon Hunter, "Idle" Ina Gunther, "Jealous" Joyce Lankford, "Ramblin'" Rosa Solomon, "Lackadaisical" Lynn Brown, and "Peppy" Patty Owen.

At half time, the Hickman Mills Hikers and Ruskin's Blue and Gold Diggers performed. The Hickman Mills Pep Club was presented with a fifty dollar check for selling the most pre-sale tickets as opposed to the Ruskin Pep Club.

Watch out Ruskin, we'll get you again next year!!

Guess who?

Go get 'em girls!

HM brings trophy home.

Journalism Dept. Sponsors All School Carnival

To Celebrate St. Pat's

"Step right up folks, and dunk your favorite coach," was one of the many cries heard at the HMHS all school carnival, sponsored by the Journalism Dept., March 16, 1973. The carnival was held in the mall and the surrounding area. Each club and organization sponsored a booth. There were such booths as Arm Wrestling Booth, Sponge Toss, Fortune Telling, Hat Wheel, Fish Tank, Cake Walk, and Old-time Movies. Of course, there were refreshments for everyone.

One of the highlights of the evening was the appearance of Greg Austin from WHB radio, who distributed free records and was DJ at an informal dance held in the cafeteria.

If a carnival is judged by the happy faces of young and old alike, this carnival was a huge success.

"You pays your money and you takes your chances."

Up the Down Staircase

Students hard at work.

Sylvia's Suggestion Box.

It's over; we did it!

"Up the Down Staircase," an adaption of the book of the same title, was the first play to be presented at Hickman Mills High School. On November 8-10, the Instructional Center was turned magically into a New York City high school classroom. Here, Sylvia Barret dealt with the trials and tribulations of teaching.

Leading the cast of thirty-one was Debbie Liston as Sylvia Barret, the teacher; Randy Read, Joe Ferone, a contemptuous boy; Tony Harris, Paul Barringer, the Romeo of the English Department; and Jacque LaNoue, Bea Schacter, the friendly teacher across the hall. Others of the faculty were; Dan Curry, Dave Garret, Nancy Smith, Becky Hamilton, Diane Williams, Steve Walker, and Nancy McFarland.

Among the students were, Tom Whiteman, Ron Eisenhower, Vickie Moore, Jane Russo, Kathy Lawson, Mark Scott, Rhonda Mazon, Jim Bodenheimer, Carol French, Terry Shoemaker, Connie Andress, Ray Roach, Ruth Randol, Debbie Noonan, Mark Thomas, Tara Jacobs, Betty Kolbet, Cathy Purnell, Kim Shearer, and Kim Callahan.

A Hickman Mills "First"

Dr. Clark's words of wisdom.

Teachers have conflicts too.

Rehearsal can be fun, but work too.

The faculty of Calvin Coolidge takes a bow.

Credit should also be given to the twenty-three students who handled publicity and stage management.

Mrs. Betty Sexton was Director; Diane Williams was Student Director; and Mr. Roy Vanderwood was Technical Director.

"Up the Down Staircase" was a very successful "first", and one that will be remembered for a long time.

HM Performs 3-n-1

December 20 and 21, during the activity periods and on the night of the 21, the drama department presented a 3-n-1. It consisted of a one-act play, duet actings and individual actings. Basically a 3-n-1 is when the audience pays one admission price to view three types of entertainment.

Debbie Liston and Randy Read did a one-act play, "Terrible Jimmy Fitch." Randy portrayed a psychopathic church robber who had scarred the face of his girlfriend Sally. Debbie portrayed the part of Sally.

Dan Curry, Diane Williams, Tom Whiteman, Nancy Houpt, Jaque LaNoue, Betty Kolbet, Randy Curry, Becky Hamilton, and Jim Bodenheimer did either duet acting, individual acting or both.

3-n-1 was something new at Hickman Mills, and it was received with enthusiasm.

AFJROTC Military Ball

Queen: Lorna Henderson

Princess: Gina Johnson

A happy Queen and Princess with dates.

On March 4, 1973, the AFJROTC held their first Military Ball. The event took place at the Sirloin Stockade at which time the guests danced and ate.

During the course of the evening Lorna Henderson was chosen Queen over the Ball. Her escort was Paul Green. The princess who attended Lorna was Gina Johnson who was escorted by Greg Rector.

HM's Musical: Once Upon a Mattress

The Chorus and Dauntless sing a "Song of Love".

"A princess is a delicate thing, delicate and dainty as a dragonfly's wing." No matter how hard one tried the lyrics of this song from the musical "Once Upon A Mattress" could never fit the main character of the play, Princess Winnifred. The two act play presented April 11-14 was a take-off on the fairy tale "The Princess and the Pea." The humorous interpretation of the musical was about a kingdom in the Middle Ages where no one could marry until the prince was married. The Queen, the mother of the prince, in order to keep her son from marrying devises all sorts of impossible tests for the princesses who come suing for the prince's hand.

The wacky Princess Winnifred was portrayed by the equally wacky Nancy Houpt. Prince Dauntless, a Mama's boy, was portrayed by the very versatile David Duewel. Queen Aggravain was Debbie Davis, her husband, King Sextimus, was portrayed by Dan Curry. Other major characters were: Candi Lacy, Steve Walker, Mark Murphy, David Garret, Amy Dotson, and Greg Ropchock. Understudies for the major roles, who also doubled as Ladies and Knights were: Nancy Smith, Rhonda Mazon, Diane Williams, Ted Largo, and Jim Bodenheimer. Other Ladies and Knights were: Paula Ralls, Kim Meadows, Linda Reynard, Becky Kamitsuka, Kim Callahan, Tam-mie Gilstrap, and John Hill.

Mr. Roy Vanderwood and Miss Mary Rapps worked together to produce the musical. Debbie Liston was the Student Director, and Beth Cochran the Stage Manager. Jocinda Nuccio choreographed the musical.

Be Done

Long hours of practice in all kinds of weather, a little strict discipline, and a lot of pride paid off for our team with a 5-4-1 overall record. The team showed steady improvement as the season wore on winning HMHS's first varsity game against Blue Springs on October 6. The spirited Cougars then went on to win four of the remaining games.

The varsity team surprised many people who said it couldn't be done. Coach Larry Frazier showed them it could!

And to Lose

Above: Practice pays off in the game.

The sophomore football team, like the varsity, became accustomed to practice, practice, and more practice.

The team was at a slight disadvantage as many of the stronger sophomore players were used on the varsity team. The overall team record was 1-6-1.

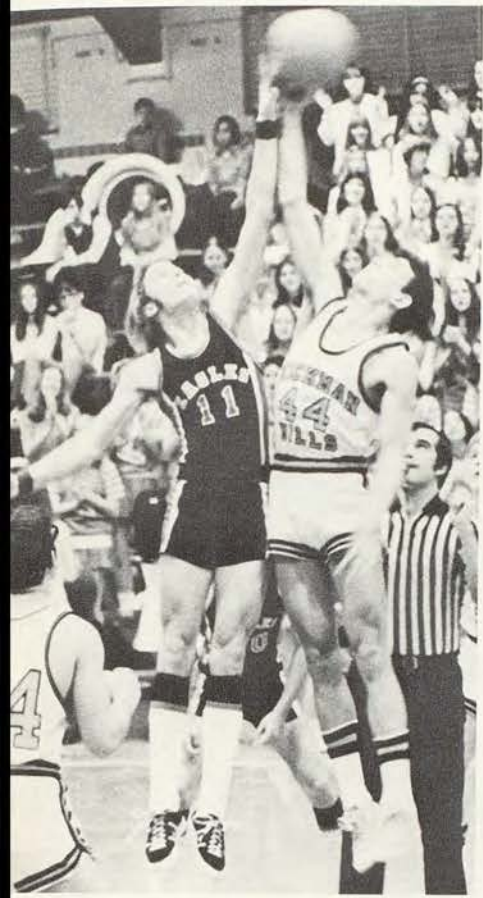

It's all one big game of keep-away.

Although the Cougars had a somewhat disappointing basketball season, 2-19, the team retained its pride and spirit. The Cougars had drive, determination, and the desire to win, but lacked experience. Coach Greg Harnden pushed his boys hard, but the competition proved to be stiff and the scores decided the games. Coach Harnden also stated, the experience gained this year should prove beneficial next year as we join the Suburban Conference, in addition to the fact we will have nine returning lettermen.

JV Battles for an 11-10 Season

Under the leadership of Coach Tom Benyo the JV Basketball team battled its way to a 11-10 team record. The JV Basketballers' handicap, like all HM teams, was the lack of experience coupled with the fact the sophomores played a Junior Varsity schedule. Coach Benyo was pleased the boys had a winning season.

Those who attended the games, Varsity and JV, were proud of the effort put forth by our Roundballers.

HM pushes for the pin.

Morrin shows off 1st place trophy.

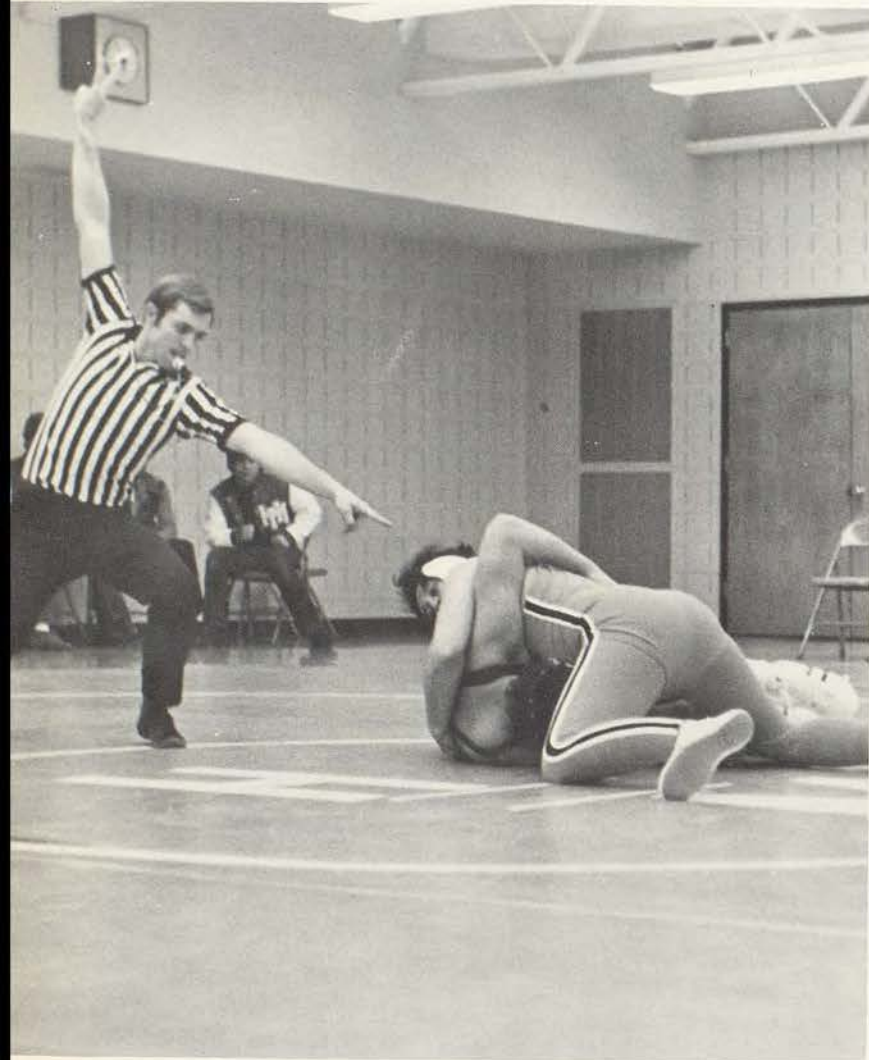

The 1972-73 wrestling season got off to a slow start. The wrestlers were held back by the late arrival of mats and uniforms. The first dual meet took place three days after the mats arrived and many of the boys were lacking experience. Despite the inexperience Coach Bill Morrin was not disappointed.

Two Advance to Regionals

Don't push-ups go the other way?

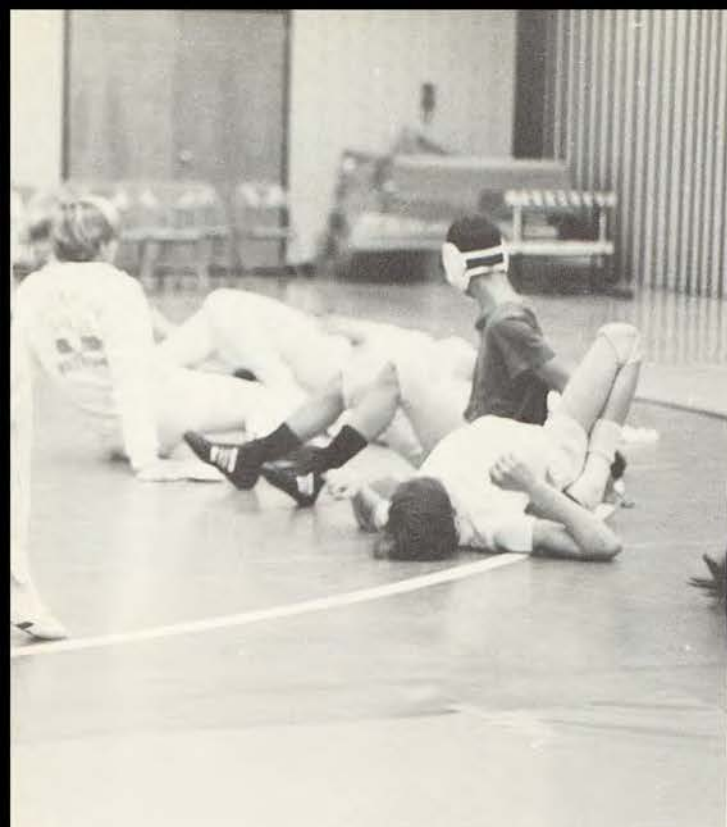

Dale Savage, a junior, and Joe Thomas, a freshman at Baptiste Jr. High, placed in district at Ray South. They then went to regionals where they failed to place.

Coach Morrin was very proud of the entire team in that the team was new and this was also his first year coaching.

Speed it up, boys!

BELOW: Does throwing a frisbee require that much energy?

As the PRIDE went to press, the HM varsity track team had just begun preparing for the coming season. Because of cold and rainy weather at the start of the practices, the team was forced to run the halls in the building. As the weather got better, the team traveled to Baptiste to make use of the track, high jump and pole vault equipment. Head coach Roy Stillwagon said he did not have as many boys out for track as he would have liked. But we were all optimistically looking forward to the coming season.

HM Baseball Joins Conference

David Hughes pitches to . . . . .

The baseball team at HM was the only sport to join the Suburban Conference this year. With this schedule, the team played Lee's Summit, Park Hill, Liberty, Excelsior Springs, Blue Springs, and Ruskin.

Unfortunately, as in other spring sports, we were unable to cover the games due to the PRIDE'S deadline.

In the workouts, Head Coach Karaff said he was happy to see so many of his former players from Ruskin at HM.

Players this year were: B. Arrington, J. Brown, D. Daley, C. Daugherty, W. Daugherty, M. Davin, M. Day, R. Eisenhower, T. Harris, B. Hickerson, B. Hill, D. Hughes, T. Jones, L. Juedeman, D. Kidd, J. ## Tennis and Golf

Four!

The golf and tennis teams were just forming as the PRIDE went in to the press. Coach Harnden and Coach Stathos had called meetings for those boys who were interested in these sports, to make plans for future events.

Since the coaches had not had a chance to work with the boys, they could not make any predictions for the season.

A New Program Begins

ABOVE: Rotate 90 degrees clockwise, . . .

To fill in the void left on Wednesday and Thursdays by the flexible scheduling the Physical Education Department originated intramurals, a program in which students competed in many of their favorite sports, both major and minor, with other students of Hickman Mills. Some of the sports the students were active in this year were handball, volleyball, archery, speedball, wrestling, basketball, horseshoes and softball.

HICKMAN MILLS SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL

When will you realize
That the sun you worship
Is not the only one
And by far not the most important.

When will you acquire
The knowledge of men's past
And realize your mistake
Of trying much too hard to please.

When will you accept
The fact you're not perfect
And that you need not be Accepted by mankind.

John Casey

The warm breeze in the air

The beauty of nature

Why is there war
Why is there hate,
Will people reform

DON'T

If you do,
 don't because you shouldn't everyone knows that.
 You simply don't people would stare;
 it is against all rules
 of etiquette.
 So don't.
 Your mother would just die
 of embarrassment because you just don't.
 Don't
 even though you think you must.
 Simply
 gain control of yourself and Don't.

The Unfinished Poem

One bleak winter day, an angry young man
 Stormed into a room, pills in his hand.
 He glared at the room with vengeful eyes
 Blurred with the tears he had tried to disguise.

He threw himself down on a hard, weathered chair
 And pretended for a moment that someone was there.
 He cried out to them his deep-hidden thoughts
 Of the one-sided battle he'd all his life fought.

He raved on for an hour, then suddenly quit
 He stared at the pills in a raging fit.
 He grabbed the bottle with a trembling hand;
 His one-way ticket to a forbidden "Land."

His pulse throbbed wildly as he swallowed the pills
 Intent in mind; one rebel to kill.
 In a turmoil his thoughts whirled fiercely round
 Then he took a pen and wrote some of them down.

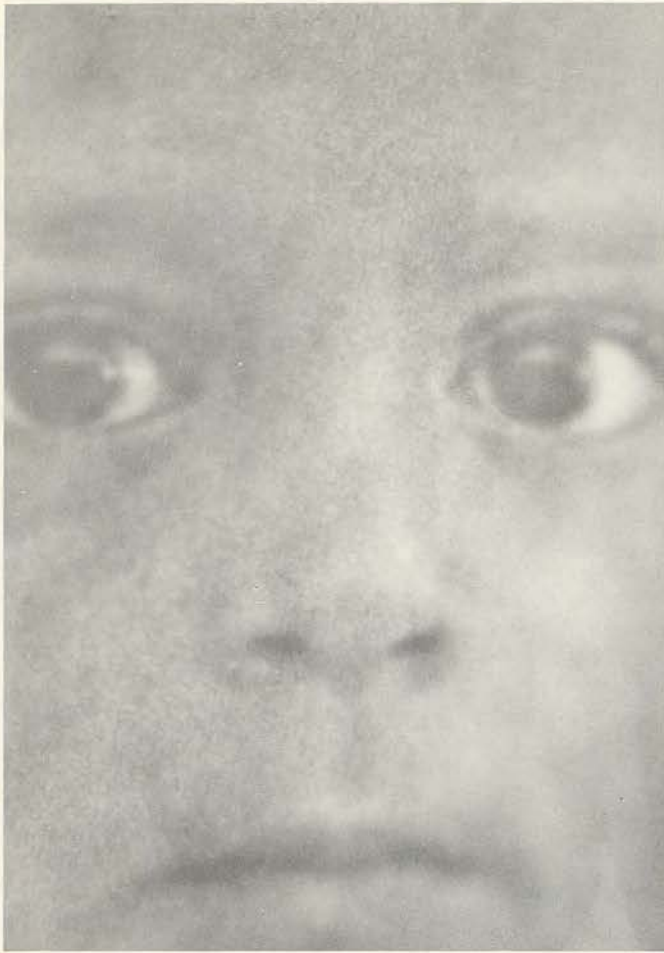

Before he had finished his poem, though,
 Across his young face crept Death's silent shadow.
 He quietly slipped into velvet black night
 Now his was a world of bright hope and new light.

The next day two men found the boy on the floor,
 They saw the empty bottle and walked out the door.
 So disgusted they were by the foolish man,
 They missed the unfinished poem near his hand.

Vickie Overman

The pain of hunger it stings tis true
 But endure it child for your country calls
 She can hardly feed you and drop bombs too
 War is needed because without it no walls Without it the money of the world would go to waste
 Because historians have looked back and gazed
 They didn't care how many people were fed
 Just how many wounded and how many dead
 And think child of generations to come
 Think of how proudly they'll stand
 Cause our flag flies over all the land
 Be proud child into history you've been carved
 And you deserve it, for your country you starved.

John Casey

The Rainbow

The morning sun of spring
Shines through the dewy grass,
Creating a colored rainbow, shining
Like glass against the golden morning.

A child came toward the colors . . .
They looked like ribbons that his dead mother would always tie in her golden tresses when she wore her green dresses.

As he advanced, the ribbons got fainter
And when he reached for them - - - they were gone.

The child cried.
He cried for things he wanted - - - but couldn't have.
He used to hear his mother say: "The best things in life are free"—but to the Child, the treasures of life couldn't be held forever. Like his dead mother—and the rainbow.

If You Love Me . . .

Speak up, but not too loud
Be careful, but not too cautious.

Support me, but do it honestly
Love me, but please don't break my heart.

Happiness

Happiness is being alive
Living and loving until you die
Caring and sharing for a special one,
Understanding problems which have begun
Working together to iron them out,
That's what happiness is all about.

Love

Too much of love we all pass by,
With heedless ear and
careless eye,
Yet with our hopes we go along,
Blind to the beauty and deaf to the song.

as the brown frost-bit corn
in the fields below
the icy winds
shedding trees of their leaves
the animals will starve
if first not freeze
winter is white
that makes death
it covers the land
and suffocates her breath.

Tara Jacobs

On Dying

sandwiches & simple things that make my life beautiful seem to be rippin' me off.
my life is doomed
to an unwarranted death
like that of Atlantis which just faded into the past without warning.
and you know life & simple things are going to sneak away slowly, & a beautiful black demon is going to ride up behind you and rip you off.
don't panic . . .
for death itself
is an un-lived experience.

Vonnie Gamlin

"Mind Schedules"

Nobody lifts up his eyes;
to see life and death pass each other;
thru the door.
His cold heart swarms for himself,
Nobody else is going to listen
or hear the thoughts which crept upon the Soul's mind
of a Tea-party in the middle of Time's Square;
to hear the hush of race
which is nothing more than color; abstract illusions of memory.

Jacque Solomon

SPRING

Time is now
for it has sprung winter is over spring has begun
robins flying daffodiles bloom
ground hogs shadow
rains coming soon
beautiful faces
smiles and lights
easter parades
childrens delights
this is the season
for young and old
new life and beauty
and memories of old.

Tara Jacobs

Memories

There are bad ones,
And there are good ones,
But no matter what type they may be
They will always be . . . MEMORIES.

Connie Cochran

Wet Thoughts

What does a fish think
As he floats quietly near the bottom
Staring up at the outside world
Through the distortions of the water
Do thoughts run through a fish's mind
While a little boy tosses pebbles into the water
And watches them sink to the bottom
What does a fish think
Does a fish think Fishes think
But no one knows what.

Dick Evans

Beauty

Beauty is as plentiful as people are Found wherever the snow falls and water flows
Its nourishment is the truth,
faithfulness and love.
Yet, unless it is searched for beauty is hidden.

Tonie Earlston

Got To Get Home

Long way home
Long time gone
Got to get home on my own.

My folks have been prayin'
My thoughts have been strayin'
Got to get home on my own.

Seen some people
Seen some things
That's why I want to go home.

I have been cryin'
I've seen my friends dyin'
That's why I want to go home

I just can't take it
I just can't make it
Have to get home on my own.

Karen Jones

Whose To Judge?

Who says what is right,
what is this rule?
who says who you are,
who runs the school?
People say things,
but what is true?
what is plastic?
who are you?
who has the right
to say what you are?
who is to judge,
if you're out too far?
what is the strength,
that makes you breathe?
I don't need you,
Nor you me . . . ?
MUSIC GETS LOUDER!

Tara Jacobs

"Life is just a box of prunes."
Barb King

"All's well that never begins."
Mike Martin

Like days gone by
And time to come,
I sit and watch
The people run.

Millions will watch,
Just as I do,
Wondering what
It will come to.

Should we all act
Upon our will,
Or maybe pray
Or just stand still?

God only knows
Just how and when,
It had a start,
Now it must end.

I've seen them run
In days gone by,
Now I will watch
The people cry.
