Are you optimistic about the way things are going?
No, I never ever think of it at all.

Don't you ever worry when you see what's going down? No, I try to mind my business; that is, no business at all.

Don't you ever feel repression just closing in around?
No, the campus
here is very, very free.

Thank you for the talk, you know you really eased my mind.
I was troubled by the shapes of things to come.

Well, if you had my outlook your feelings
would be numb, you'd always think that everything was fine.

We can make it happen.
We can change
the world now.

We can make it better.
We can make it happen.

ACADEMICS

What is this power you speak of and this need for things to change? I always thought that everything was fine.

Board and Administration Vital to Smooth Functioning District

The 1973-74 school year opened with an enrollment of 14,169 students in the district, dispersed among 14 schools.

In the regular bi-weekly meetings the six Board Members established policies concerning educational matters and made decisions in the areas of budgeting of funds, formulation of curriculum, and the addition of new programs and services to expand the quality of education in the district.

Working along with the School Board to carry out its policies and regulations was Mr. Tom Foraker, Superintendent of Schools, a position he has held since 1959. Keeping the district schools operating smoothly was Mr. Foraker's chief concern. Assisting him in this capacity were the two Assistant Superintendents of Schools, Dr. David De Helms and Mr. Joseph Nesbit.

Principals Attempt to Fulfill Student Needs

According to Mr. Lawrence, the atmosphere at Hickman Mills in 1974 was basically positive and relaxed in nature. He cited several reasons—good, informal relations between students and teachers, the abundance of educational equipment made available to students, and the shift from a college preparatory curriculum to one also providing courses for the more vocationally-oriented students.

He did feel that one area that could have been improved was the communication between the administrators and the students. He wanted students to know that his door was also open to them, not only to faculty members and parents.

On the subject of school spirit, which some individuals felt was lacking at Hickman Mills, Mr. Lawrence thought that perhaps outside activities of students, such as jobs, and the unity problem inevitably present in such a large school both contributed to a lessening of school spirit from the previous year.

Mr. Lawrence and Mr. Vanderwood discuss a school matter.

Below: Mr. Gentry-Claus pays a visit to the Child Care classes.

Mr. Gentry's duties as Vice-Principal chiefly centered on disciplinary matters. He felt that HM's largest discipline problem was the lack of parental support in trying to keep students in school. According to Mr. Gentry, attending school regularly is equivalent to holding a job—both mean accepting responsibility and are obligations necessary to later life.

Contrary to popular belief, Mr. Gentry did not enjoy suspending students, but he did like having the opportunity to meet some of the student body.

HM's other Vice-Principal, Mr. Mallory, was in charge of student activities this year. As he had been a classroom teacher in previous years, this was a new experience for him.

"One slight disadvantage to administration as opposed to teaching is that I get to know only a few individuals well," stated Mr. Mallory.

He also said that we had a unique situation here at Hickman Mills in that there were no past traditions or institutions for students to follow. He thought that the students had learned by the experience gained throughout the year.

English Stresses Communication

Miss Mitchell checks over themes.

The many facets of our language were reflected in the course offerings in the English Department. The courses centered around writing, literature, and grammar. Through the writing and grammar courses, students learned how to present their ideas in the most effective manner. In literature courses, students were exposed to how others had portrayed life so that they could use this knowledge in understanding themselves and the world.

Semester courses divided these areas into such diverse aspects of the subject as American Humor, Language of the Film, Essentials of English, Professional Writing, and others. These courses increased the interest in English classes by allowing new aspects of the traditional to be studied.

Foreign Language Increases Awareness

In Foreign Language lay the key to international communication, appreciation of other cultures, and a deeper understanding of one's own heritage. To aid the student toward these objectives, the Foreign Language Department offered instruction in the areas of French, Spanish, and German. Through modern audio-lingual techniques, students became acquainted with the spoken language as well as with the customs and habits of a foreign people. It was through familiarity with another society that we could grasp a deeper realization of ours.

The Social Studies Department served mainly to assist students in relating the past to the present and in understanding why certain events took place so that this knowledge could aid in their future decisions.

Several new semester courses were added by the department this year. These included less traditional courses such as Family Relations, Contemporary Issues, and Sociology for seniors; and also several more specialized courses such as History of the American Frontier. The teachers and students both liked the semester courses. They felt more was learned from the students concentrating on one area of history.

Math Helps Develop Reasoning Skills

The basic purpose of the Mathematics Department was to help the students organize their thinking and discipline their studies.

Math students, whether in Introduction to Algebra or in Trigonometry, attempted to grasp the concepts of their problems rather than just trying to get the right answer. Mathematics helped the students understand why rather than teaching only the processes needed for arriving at the right answer.

Mrs. Ray, head of the Mathematics Department, felt that they had everything they needed to adequately teach the eight subjects offered this year.

Science Involves Many Facets of Learning

Solving chemical equations, using the microscope to observe living cells, experimenting with bacteria, studying the human body . . . these were all examples of what science students did to learn the basic scientific concepts and methods. Another important function of science courses was to teach students to draw logical conclusions from facts and to observe without prejudice.

Science at HMHS had taken on a less traditional image with the inclusion of contemporary topics such as conservation and ecology and with the development of a unique course, Vertebrate Preparation, in which there had been a growing amount of student interest.

Fine Arts Department Uncovers Student Talent

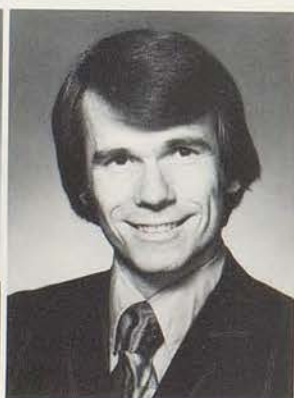

The Fine Arts Department involved students talented in the areas of music, speech, and art. Students first took courses teaching general techniques and then progressed into classes involving specific areas of each field, enabling them to pursue their interests in depth. Art students took courses in sculpture, painting, or graphics after the basic Art Foundations course. Music students had courses such as Advanced Winds and Mixed Ensemble available to them, while drama students could go into areas of Debate or Tournament Forensics.

Tournaments, concerts, and art and music contests provided opportunities for students to display their acquired skills.

Traditionally, the Practical Arts curriculum was divided into Home Economics for females and Industrial Arts for males. This segregation was preserved in the Home Economics department this year, but a few females ventured into Industrial Arts classes.

The emphasis in both departments was learning through the practical experience gained by working on various projects. However, the simple making of projects wasn't the only aim of the courses. In woodworking, a student learned how to make a table, how to figure the cost, and also how to design the table he wanted to make.

An innovative day school program was introduced in the Child Development classes, giving the girls the chance to observe and work with children. These two courses indicated the direction this field was taking.

The Business Department was primarily concerned with developing various skills necessary to existence in the business world. The entire program was structured around courses designed for the teaching and mastering of skills, and advanced classes which created realistic, on-the-job situations. Mastery of the various business skills provided many job opportunities for students.

DE and Office Occupations were programs offered to senior students. Those enrolled were allowed an early dismissal from school, enabling them to go to jobs. Both programs enjoyed a successful first year, and the business teachers reported a growing interest in these programs.

An integral part of the curriculum at HM was Functional Education, a program designed to aid students who have difficulty with the fast pace of specialized courses. Individual attention and personal interest in each student was given by Mrs. Lynn Brown and Mr. Dave Tyler. Math, social studies, business procedures, home living, reading skills, and crafts were taught. The Cougar Inn financed various projects. Some students took other classes or worked on outside employment. The ultimate goal of Functional Education was job placement.

Aerospace One of Many Areas Studied in ROTC

Our Air Force ROTC unit at Hickman Mills was one of 275 similar units in the nation. All aspects of aerospace, both civilian and military, were studied. Training in leadership abilities and in the responsibilities of citizenship was an important part of ROTC. Special benefits in the form of college scholarships and a higher rate of pay in the Armed Services were available for those students who successfully completed the three-year program. Special field trips to KCI and to Municipal Airport were included, giving students a chance to learn about general aviation operations.

Lower Level Houses Gym and Driver's Ed.

The aim of the Physical Education Department was to develop coordination and promote the practice of good sportsmanship through participation in team sports and intramural activities. The basic fundamentals of each unit were stressed rather than proficiency in the intricate details of the sport. The addition of several new units such as archery and badminton to the curriculum added a different dimension to the gym classes.

Teaching students to drive safely was the ultimate goal of Driver's Education. Correct procedures for basic skills such as starting the car to the more advanced techniques of freeway driving were presented in the classroom. Students were then able to apply these methods during supervised in-car-practice periods. Some of these practices were during class hours, but students also had to devote after school time to gaining more driving experience. Developing in students a sense of the responsibilities undertaken when driving a car was another aim of the Driver's Education instructors.

Hickman Mills' nurse, Mrs. Frounfelter, had been with C.S.D.#1 for fifteen years and had worked on the secondary level for four years. She saw an average of fifty students a day, most of whom she felt had legitimate complaints.

There were three main objectives of a high school counselor; to guide the student in his academic life; to provide counseling to ease adjustment to personal problems; and to aid each individual in his choice of a vocation. The Counselor's office was much more than a place to have schedules adjusted or talk about grade-point averages—it was a place to discuss freely any topic of personal concern, because all confidences were strictly maintained. The Guidance Department sponsored such projects as college representatives and group counseling. Mrs. Frazier felt that awareness of the full scope of the counselors services was too often lacking. All counselors strongly encouraged all students to take full advantage of these services. As Mr. Anderson stated, "Ideally, there exists between student and counselor a type of on-going, continuous relationship which lasts throughout the entire high school career." It was up to each individual to realize the potential of that relationship.

ORGANIZATIONS

Art Club was designed to let the art student express his individual talents outside of class.

Creating fire and disaster drill instruction signs for the classrooms and making projects to exhibit in the hall display cases were among the club's activities this year.

Officers included: Allen Barnes, President; George Renault, Vice-President; Cindy May, Secretary; and Mike Reynolds, Treasurer

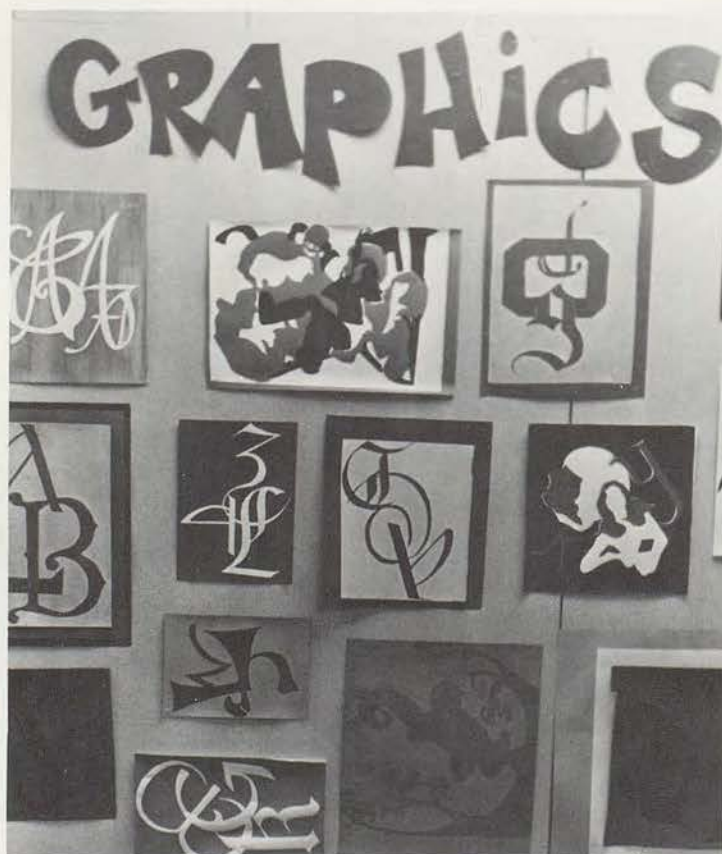

Other Art Club members were: Cindy Andress, David Bahr, Cindy Bustard, Preston Callicott, Sharon Carmody, Tomo Cummings, Yvonne Dupont, Linda Fletcher, Cynthia Gordon, Michelle Guardado, Laura Hader, David Hartman, Nancy McHendry, Marshall Mabry, LaDean Manning, Terri Meador, Dan Rich, Sharon Scotten, Melanie Simmermon, Allen Smith, and Lisa Spradlin.

Photography Club Enlarges Talent

Mr. Lehmer, sponsor.

This year's Photography Club made great progress due to limited membership. Each member was able to spend more time in the darkroom than would be possible with a large group.

The club sold all-purpose cleaner to raise money for darkroom supplies.

Members were: Steve Georgi, president; Karen Jones, vice president; Karla Franta, secretary; Karie Robinson, treasurer; Bill Arrington; Amy Dotson; Kyle Drake; Paula Hoskins; Melodee Jones; LaDean Manning; Burton Russell; Pam Taylor; and Stewart Williams.

Where did you take THAT picture?

New Horizons Explored by HM Scientists

Many Science Club members furthered their interests through field trips to the Midwest Research Institute and to UMKC Science Department. Members promoted student interest in science by creating a bulletin board that displayed man's scientific accomplishments as well as the effects in the world around him.

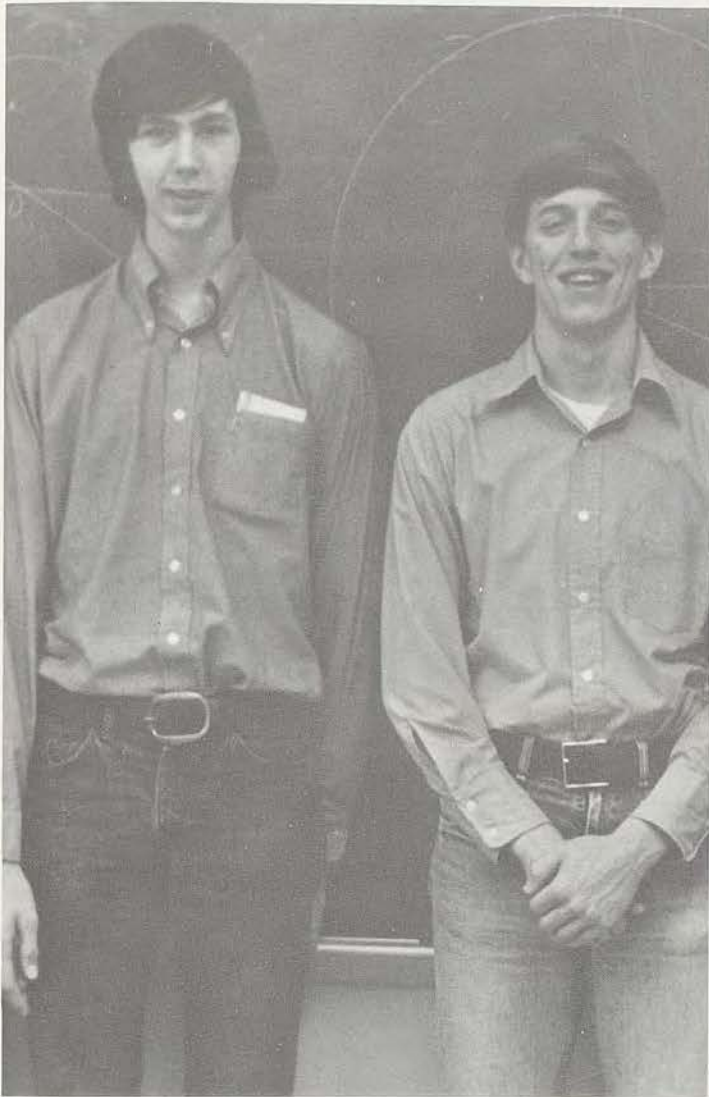

The 1973-74 Science Club officers were: Laurie Eschbaugh, President; Jeff Campbell, Vice-President; and Preston Conner, Secretary. Other members included: Jerry Benson, Marcia Covell, Charles Dupont, Steve LaRue, Randy Mangels, Marc Meredith and Bonnie Sharp.

Mr. Eatherton discusses upcoming field trips.

David Munter, Pres. and Charles Johnson, Vice Pres.

Math Club aimed to familiarize its members with different fields of math. The members took on an attitude like that of a troubleshooter. They sought to go beyond what they knew by exploring areas unknown to them. With the aid of field trips and guest speakers the Math Club members became acquainted with various areas of math.

This year club members attended a math contest in Warrensburg and a High School Achievement Bowl at the University of Missouri at Rolla.

JV Cheerleaders Know the Score

The Hickman Mills Junior Varsity Cheerleaders won two blue ribbons, superior; three red ribbons, excellent; and a spirit stick when they participated at summer camp in Marshall, Missouri for the National Cheerleaders Association this year.

The cheerleaders had a car wash in order to make money to go to camp.

The Junior Varsity cheerleaders were: Debi Lonergan, captain; Cathi Herrera; Lea Kempinger; Debbie Schirmer; and Suzanne Smith.

Hey, this is fun!

The Hickman Mills High School Varsity Cheerleading Squad attended summer camp for the 1973-74 year in Mississippi at the Old Mississippi University. The squad acquired five blue ribbons and the spirit stick as well as trophies for sportsmanship and for being one of the ten top squads at the camp. They were nominated for the Coca Cola award in addition to the other honors.

The girls enacted several money-making projects such as a car wash and washing car windows at a drive-in theatre. The money was used to pay for summer camp.

Members of the varsity squad were Cathy Viles, captain; Mina Andrews, co-captain; Ann Baker; Carol Gramlich; Rita Hardin; and Becky Kamitsuka.

Hail, Cougars!

Chanters Put a Hold On HM Cougars

Chanters cheered at wrestling match.

Go for a pin!

This year Chanters worked to draw more support for wrestling as well as serving as baseball cheerleaders, for the first time. The girls sold Cougar bumper stickers as this year's money-making project.

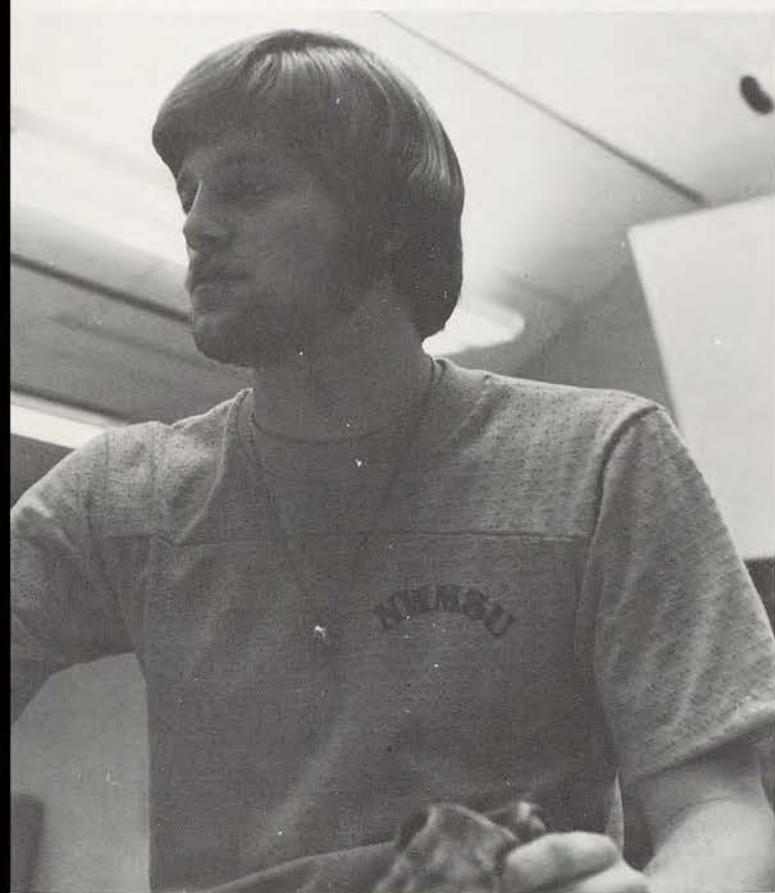

The Chanters were: Renee Ackerson, captain; Nancy Haworth, co-captain; Bonne Brack; Julie Cox; Vickie Deaton; Amy Eft; Donna Hammer; Debbie Lord; Pam Muninger; and Sandy Neitch.

Lettermen Display Cougar Pride

Those HM Cougars who lettered in a varsity sport were initiated members of the Lettermen's Club. This year's club activities included attending the NAIA Basketball Tournament and the Big 8 indoor track meet.

Members were: D. Andries, G. Badall, G. Barber, R. Bechtel, R. Bell, S. Bogart, M. Brantner, J. Casey, D. Cavender, D. Cochran, M. Cook, W. Daugherty, M. Day, M. Deveney, M. Dillard, B. Dirks, D. The Hikers, composed of junior and senior girls this year, provided half time entertainment for all Hickman Mills home football and basketball games. They worked in conjunction with the Pep Club to provide school spirit throughout the year.

Last summer the Hikers attended camp at Warrensburg, Missouri. They placed second in competition among thirteen area schools. To finance the trip, the Hiker members sold stationery made from recycled milk cartons.

Officers included: JoCinda Nuccio, Captain; Jackie White, Co-Captain; Cindy Harness, Secretary; Nancy Houpt, Treasurer; and Debbie Liston, Sergeant-At-Arms. The remaining Hikers included: Laurie Blackburn, Donna Byers, Kim Callahan, Karie Carpenter, Vickie Carroll, Lisa Duncan, Jolene Gallagher, Jan Howland, Brenda Kruger, Vickie Lathrop, Teri McCreedy, Nancy McFarland, Ruth Randol, Becky Raup, Denise Reid, Sheila Roden, Linda Seutter, Jackie Solomon, and Fleta Sweet.

Honor Students Make The Grade

Members of the National Honor Society were selected on the basis of scholarship, leadership, character, and service. National Honor Society was involved in community projects this year such as making coloring books for children in Mercy Hospital and entertaining senior citizens.

FTA: More Than Grading Papers

Future Teachers of America was designed to let the student experience actual teaching situations. Each member's goal is to teach at a school in the CSD#1 district for a day.

A minimum of 1000 points is required. Points can be earned by grading papers, putting up bulletin boards, other displays, and tutoring.

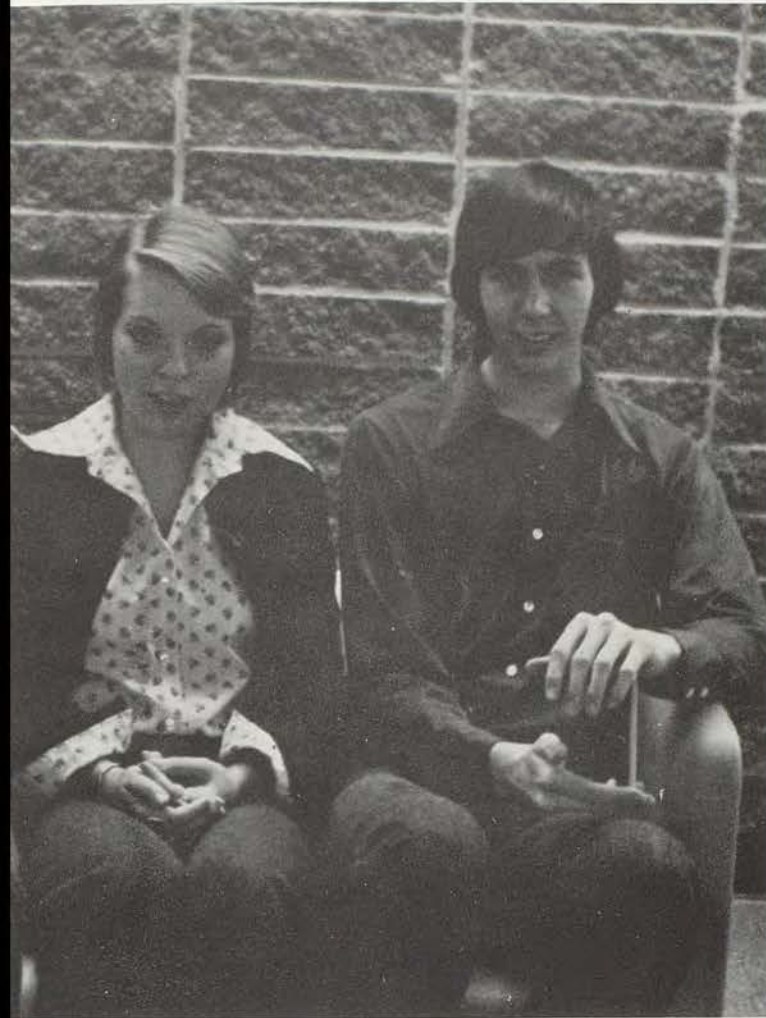

Members included: Cindy Andress, Greg Antey, Terry Benson, Jeff Campbell, Connie Cochran, Tracey Creech, Rosalind Fisher, Nanci Frank, Karie Gideon, Cindy Gordon, Sandy Graham, Lauree Hacker, Steve LaRue, Phil McCollom, Dan Meier, Debbie Noonan, Sharon Norman, Sheri Parrish, Kay Scherer, and Jeanette Thurmond.

Right: Officers were: Dana Dunsworth, President; Stephanie Sellmeyer, Vice-President; Mary Luther, Secretary; and Gayle Richardson, Treasurer.

Write on, Quill and Scroll

Officers: Debbie Sutton, Pres.; and David Munter, V.P.

Quill and Scroll is a journalistic honor society restricted to juniors and seniors who have done superior work in some phase of journalism. The Hickman Mills chapter of this nationwide organization was established during the latter part of the 1972-73 school year. Because of this, Quill and Scroll was not able to actively take part in school affairs.

PRIDE Has Worlds of Fun

Responsibility and teamwork were key elements in the production of the 1974 PRIDE Yearbook. Due partly to the success of early sales, a color endsheet was added to make the Pride "bigger and better."

The staff was headed by Patti Allen, Editor and Greg Williams, Assistant Editor. Mrs. Bonnie Evans served as Sponsor. Business was handled by Mike Armstrong, and David Munter while George Barber, Eddie Henderson, and Steve Powell developed as photographers. Steve Gouge was Sports Editor. The Class Editors were Barb Dennis, Tressa Mason, Vickie Overman, Sheila Roden, Nancy Smith, and Terri Vasquez. Working on the Academics section were Marsha Faulkenberry and Debbie Walters. Debbie Liston and Kim Shearer managed Special Activities, while Renee Haines and Cindy Holmberg took charge of the Organizations. Randy Read worked on Advertising for the PRIDE which made its debut this year. Candi Lacy wrote the Index. Cindy Gamel and Donna Hammer served as typists.

Cat Tracks' Extras

Betty, are you getting all of that?

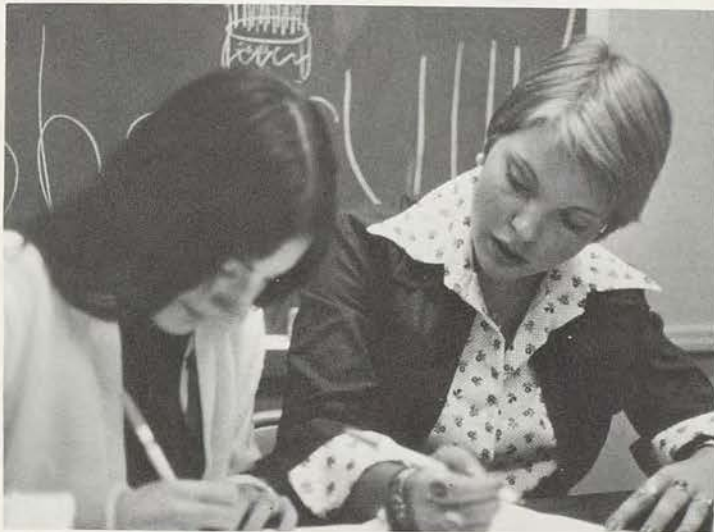

Deadlines mean sore fingers.

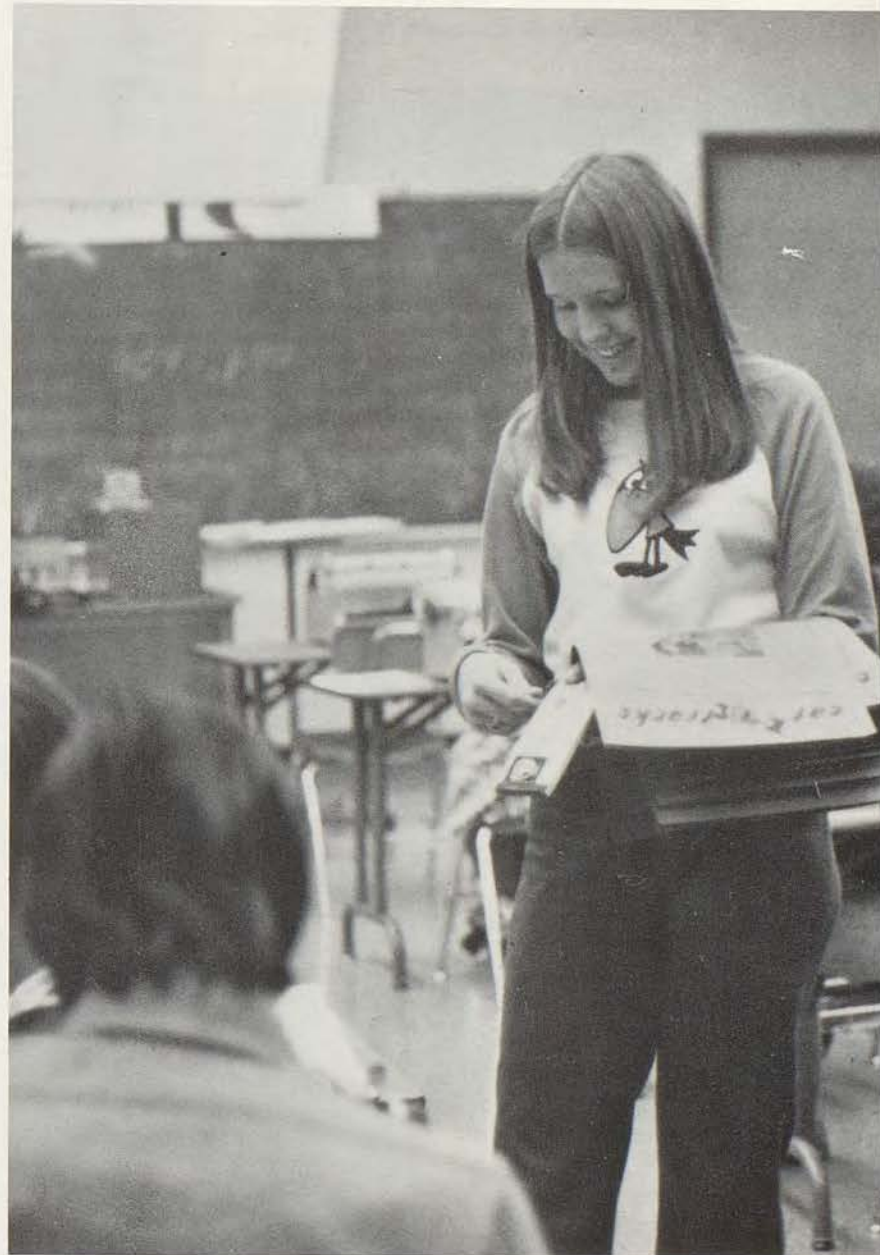

Below: That's going in the Cat Tracks?

Cat Tracks was financed this year by the Board of Education and by student subscriptions. The staff experimented with several new ideas which included the rotating of staff positions each issue; printing on colored paper to blend with the holiday spirit; and modifying the cougar on the front page masthead.

Cat Tracks, published monthly, is a member of the Missouri Interscholastic Press Association and International Quill and Scroll. It won first place in the Columbia Scholastic Press Association last year.

"Put your tricycle in high gear and sell magazines" was the theme for the 1973 magazine sale. The sale, lasting from October 17 to October 30, was handled differently this year. To stimulate student's enthusiasm to sell, STUCO sponsored tricycle races. The contestants were selected from a system of ratios of people in class to the amount of money turned in. Each turn-in morning, a race was held. The winners of each race were then in a Grand Prix run. Mrs. Petterson's German I class was the winner and they received all the ice cream they could eat during an activity hour.

The money that Hickman Mills High School received from the magazines that were sold, was used to help furnish the Mall.

STUCO Gets Things Done

"First Gear" entertains at Hickman Mills.

STUCO is an organization of student-elected representatives. Their aim this year was "to provide opportunities for student participation".

On September 25, STUCO sponsored an all school musical concert featuring "First Gear". An assembly was held prior to the concert to introduce the members of the group. Mr. Lewis and Mr. Horne won first place in a Twist contest and were awarded a "First Gear" album.

The Student Council received 25% of the advance tickets sold to the concert and 10% of the tickets sold at the door. After expenses were paid, the Student Council made approximately sixty-five dollars.

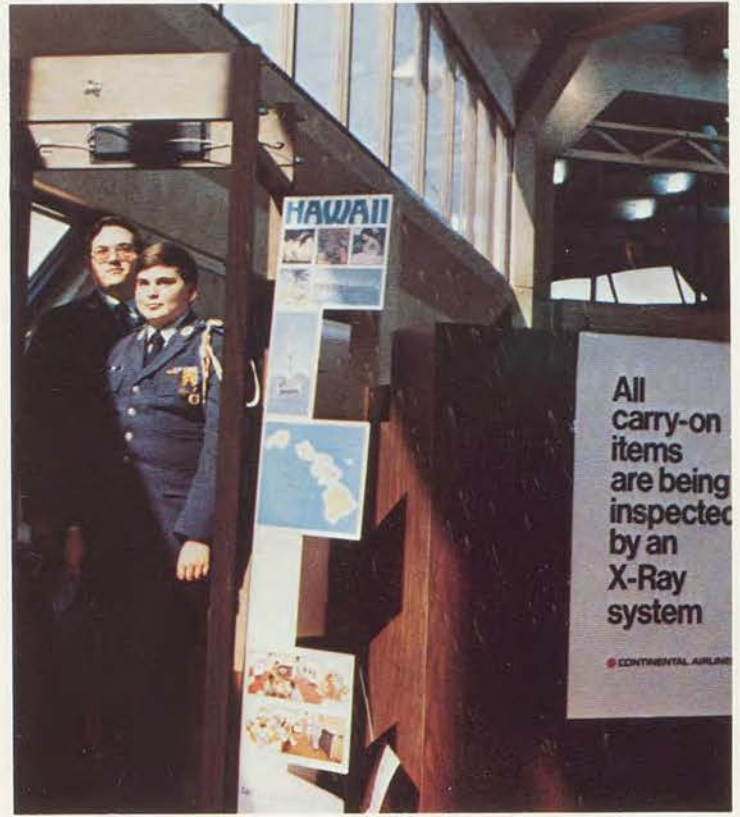

Blow your heart out, Larnelle.

ROTC On Home Ground

Members of the Air Force ROTC travelled to Kansas City International Airport in the autumn to have pictures taken and to see the new terminal. ROTC was very active this year sponsoring an all-school dance, a skating party at Grandview Roller Rink, field trips and guest speakers.

Band Places at Contests

An early morning practice.

The Hickman Mills High School Marching Band competed with other district bands in Warrensburg and Fayette this year. The band took third place in street competition with David Duewel winning first place for the best drum major at Fayette.

Members of the band are anticipating a summer trip to Canada, where they have been invited to participate in the "Three Rivers Music Festival" at Winnipeg in June, 1974.

Several fund-raising activities were initiated to finance the trip. These included: selling cotton candy at football games, working at the Arrowhead concession stands, turning in retreadable tires to tire companies, and sponsoring an all school spaghetti dinner.

Senior members were: L. Addison, C. Andress, E. Booth, M. Buddemeyer, B. Cochran, M. Cook, J. Cutler, K. Douglas, D. Duewel, J. Evans, G. Fenner, S. Generaux, C. Graham, D. Hollon, S. Hoskins, M. ## Orchestra Performs with Other Musical Talents

The orchestra was very active this year combining school performances with other outside activities. They accompanied the Hickman Mills Choir at the Broadview Christian Church in a Christmas Cantata. The orchestra also participated in the district's Festival of Strings and the Regional Music Festival contest in Warrensburg.

School-oriented concerts consisted of a joint concert with Ervin Junior High, a combined winter concert with the Hickman Mills Band, and an all school Christmas assembly.

Orchestra members were: Linda Milberger, concertmistress; Jennie Miller, Greg Barnes, Tina Vasquez, first violin; Paul Davis, Karen Albertsen, Mary DeVaul, second violin; Karin Andrews, Kim Parketon, viola; Reida Morrison, cello; Gary Maples, bass; Denise Moyer, Sally Generaux, flute; Elizabeth Booth, David Duewel, oboe; Karen Schultema, Teri Giltner, clarinet; Cindy Hobbs, bassoon; Mark Lacy, Robin Pritzel, trumpet; Mike Cagle, John Cutler, trombone; and Linda Knight, Beth Cochran, Lisa Thornberg, percussion.

Music Is Love, Love Is Music . . .

Molto Allegro was the tempo for the Concert Choir this year. Their voices were heard here at school where they gave three concerts and participated in the Music Department Variety Show, at various schools where they performed, in Kansas City where they sang for the patrons of Crown Center, and in Warrensburg where they competed in District Contest.

Choir officers this year were Ted Largo, President; Susan Duncan, Secretary; Marsha Beckham, Historian; Randy Jones, Robes.

Mrs. Mary Siddens directed the group and Miss Jenny Miller accompanied.

Members included: L. Addison, C. Andress, M. Beckham, R. Benoit, L. Binder, C. Blackman, R. Bogart, S. Bogart, B. Bouldin, M. Brantner, L. Brown, C. Bustard, V. Carroll, D. Cochran, K. Cornell, B. Mixed Ensemble, Mrs. Siddens, and Student Teacher, Mr. Mason.

A new class was born this year. It had no official name, but its members were known as the Mixed Ensemble. The group included eighteen of the top members of the Concert Choir.

Another addition to the Music Dept. was Mr. Mason, Student Teacher from UMKC. Mr. Mason student taught all the classes, but was especially instrumental in the Mixed Ensemble.

Members included: P. Ralls, T. Gilstrap, M. Murphy, J. Moore, S. Bogart, M. Hawley, R. Jones, D. Garrett, V. Carroll, C. Lacy, L. Milberger, K. Douglas, P. Eatherton, G. Lang, D. Resig, M. Beckham, B. Williams.

People Who Believe in Music . . .

The Lyric Choir this year increased in size and proclaimed its womanhood with such songs as "Hey Big Spender" and "I Am Woman." In the fall the girls gave a Concert; during the Christmas Season, they caroled at the Blue Ridge Mall and gave a Concert at Broadview Christian Church. Spring brought the Variety Show, a concert, and the trip to Warrensburg for District Contest.

Officers for the Lyric Choir were Cheryl Howland, President; Fleeta Sweet, Secretary; and Cindy Atkins and Debbie Skaggs, Robes.

Mrs. Mary Siddens directed; Miss Tammie Gilstrap accompanied.

Members included: C. Shane, K. Holmes, C. French, V. Carroll, P. Fulton, F. Sweet, C. Atkins, D. Skaggs, S. Stone, D. Brasher, P. Moore, K. Brack, D. Warner, L. Brawley, A. Baker, C. Howland, K. ## Are the Happiest People I Ever Seen

The ever-smiling Girls Ensemble.

The only extra-curricular group in the Music Department was the Girls Ensemble. The girls practiced twice a week with the theory that practice makes perfect. This theory was justified in the concerts, the Variety Show, and performances for clubs and organizations.

The nineteen girls comprising the group were: Danette Moore-accompanist, K. Lawrence, L. Addison, L. Henderson, D. Moore, K. Holmes, K. Meadows, M. Pypes, B. Dailey, S. Holmes, N. Smith, S. Day, D. Riggle, J. Stewart, C. Sirna, M. Rhoades, D. Williams, C. Andress, and B. Crowe.

Stage Crews Step Into Limelight

This year's Drama Club did not function as a single unit since the members consisted of anyone who participated in the production of any play this year. This included make-up, stage, and properties crews, etcetera, as well as stars of the productions. No formal meetings were held but the Pride staff felt that these people should be recognized.

NFL Participates in District Tournament

You tellin' me my boy can't read?

The Hickman Mills National Forensic League consisted of anyone who earned 25 forensic points in a high school speech tournament. Most members could earn a maximum of 150 points, however, those who participated in debate or extemporaneous speaking were able to gain additional points. Several members attained 250 points qualifying them to participate in the NFL district tournament and giving them the opportunity to advance to state and national levels.

Each NFL member received a membership pin. The stone in the pin designated the number of points each had earned.

Members were: Cathie Bradley, Dave Cavender, Shellee Crough, Dan Curry, Nancy Houpt, Betty Kolbet, Jacque LaNoue, Debbie Liston, Nancy McFarland, Vickie Moore, Mark Murphy, Ruth Randol, Mark Scott, and Tom Whiteman.

Bridge Club Plays Their Cards Right

Bridge Club was established last year because several students expressed interest in learning the game. Bridge provided a social activity during the activity period which could be carried on outside of school. One of the main projects during the year was to play in novice city tournaments. In preparation for these tournaments, the members met every activity period and improved upon their basic skills.

FHA Adopts Needy Family

FHA began the first year by electing Darlene Resig, Pres.; Stephanie Sellmeyer, Vice-Pres.; Linda Addison, Sec.; Vicky Thurman, Treas.; Gina Lang, Chaplain; Marsha Beckham, Reporter; Dana Dunsworth, Parliamentarian.

The club was organized to educate girls to become better homemakers. FHA sponsored an adopted family providing them with food and clothing. Their money making projects were bake sales and cookbook sales.

Other members included: Gayle Richardson, Patrice Hill, Becky Warren, Penny Johnson, Barbara Jobe, Robin Duncan, Toni Bloomfield, Susan Issitt, Debbie Schiedt, Susan Sinclair, Brenda Dalley, Patti Cornet. Sponsors: Miss Gelwick and Mrs. Tischer.

The Psychology Club sponsored by Mr. Super, elected Tim Fox, Pres.; Sue Stone, Vice Pres.; Paula Clingenpeel, Sec.; and Martha Nixon, Treas.

The club was originally formed because of the increased interest in mental health and mental illness areas. The Dope Stop Teen Program at HMHS originated from this club. Increasing communitive techniques was worked on this year. The activities planned for the year consisted of field trips and various speakers. While not working on any special activity, the club met for rap sessions.

DECA Sells Itself

The Distributive Education Clubs of America are composed of students who are studying in the field of retailing. DECA is a two year course. The first year is DECA I, composed of juniors, which concentrates on classroom projects. DECA II, seniors, are dismissed from school early to gain actual working experience.

This year DECA sponsored a Candy Counter as well as a sign shop. In January, DECA participated in tournaments in the fields of Sales Demonstration and Job Interviews.

The senior members of DECA were: B. Anderson, F. Arnone, D. Bahr, S. Bedell, K. Brewer, J. Brown, T. Brown, S. Carbah, J. Casey, A. Clark, J. Coons, M. Correa, A. Day, T. Earliston, M. Ehlert, C. ## VICA Sponsors 'Student of the Week'

The Vocational Industrial Clubs of America, also known as T & I, was established this year for seniors with a part-time job dealing with a particular trade or industry. If the student had no job, he was required to have two interviews a day in hopes of obtaining a position.

One of VICA's main projects was sponsoring the Student of the Week. Two students, recommended by a club sponsor, were chosen by the VICA members.

Other projects consisted of taking food, donated by the VICA students, to poor families in the Kansas City area.

VICA members were: B. Anderson, G. Borgstadt, D. Brunssen, M. Buddemeyer, M. Burton, C. Chase, R. Clevenger, M. Cockrell, B. Cranfill, D. Dalton, S. Downing, L. Dupey, T. Epperson, B. Francis, D. ## Office Occupations Makes Debut

Office Occupations was a new organization tuned to the purpose of coordinating class material and actual office work. The organization and its related class worked hand in hand, as both activities occurred in the same time span.

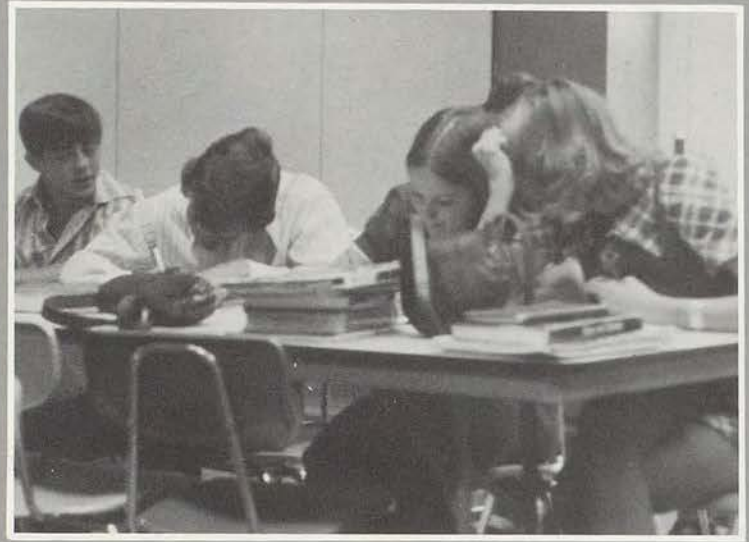

Mrs. Burkhart, club sponsor and teacher, took on double duty. She guided her students in learning office skills and at the same time advised them as to where they could apply their newly learned skills. Teacher and students took time in class to plan special activities. This year's activity involved a field trip to Smith's Secretarial Service, a supply store and printing company. Students who participated in Office Occupations could have a good chance for future job opportunities.

Members included: Diana Allmon, Debby Berry, Glenda Bohannon, Jenny Cook, Judy Davis, Barb King, Phyllis Kirk, Cheryl Losh, Jama Lujan, Susie Rimmer, Curtis Smith, Anne VanHoecke, Kathy Walker, and Cheryl Williams.

Hickman Mills Gets Into First Gear

Student Council "made it happen", Tuesday, September 25, by presenting "First Gear" in concert. An audience of approximately nine hundred gathered to hear such songs as "Feeling Stronger Everyday", "Sweet Surrender", "Duke of Earl", and some original songs such as "Future of Rock-n-Roll" and "So Glad".

The group was harvested from all parts of the country by Splendor Productions. "First Gear" consisted of Larnelle Harris, "Big Russ" Gregory, Don Perry, Bill Sanders, Wally Gilmour, and Jerry Idle.

In an interview, several gave advice about forming a successful rock group. They all agreed a combination of personality, hard work, and practice, practice, practice was the key to musical stardom.

The audience's opinion of the concert can best be summed up by quoting a Senior, "It was a really good concert. I enjoyed the flow of the music from song to song and talking with members of the group after their performance."

Jacque Solomon Reigns Over Autumn Daze

The 1973 Queen Coronation, an Autumn Daze, was an array of spirit and color. The festivities began with Spirit Week, sponsored by Pep Club, highlighting such events as Teenybopper Day and Crazy Socks Day.

Climaxing Spirit Week was the Queen Coronation Game. During half time, Jacque Solomon was heralded Queen and Renee Ackerson and Kelly Robinson became her attendants. Junior attendants were Kim Jeter and Jackie White while Sophomore attendants were Kim Brack and Kim Phillips.

A dance followed the game at the school Activity Room. "Ashbury" provided the music for those attending.

The second annual Queen Coronation passes with the Edsel replaced by Football Homecoming next year in honor of the returning Seniors.

Dramatists Put It All Together

The Hickman Mills Drama Department opened its second season with "Inherit the Wind". Credit should be given to the members of the Drama II class and other interested students for the backstage operations. The set, prop, publicity, and make-up crews helped in organizing and producing the play.

The play, which ran four nights, played to a near sell-out crowd every performance.

The major objective for the fall play was to provide a budget for dramatic activities during the year. It also gave students the opportunity to display their talents and gain acting experience.

"He Who Troubleth His Own House"

Big city reporter

"Inherit the Wind", was the Drama Department's fall production. It was presented under the direction of Mrs. Betsy Sexton and Student Director, Diane Williams on November 6, 7, 8 and 10 in the Instructional Center. Mr. Roy Vanderwood, Technical Director along with the help of Jim Bodenhiemer, Stage Manager, contributed their technical knowledge to building the set.

3-n-1 for Triple Entertainment

Finally got someone to shut her up.

3-in-1 hit the stage for its third annual presentation enabling students of the Tournament Forensics and Speech I classes to show what cuttings were going to tournaments and to raise money for the all school musical.

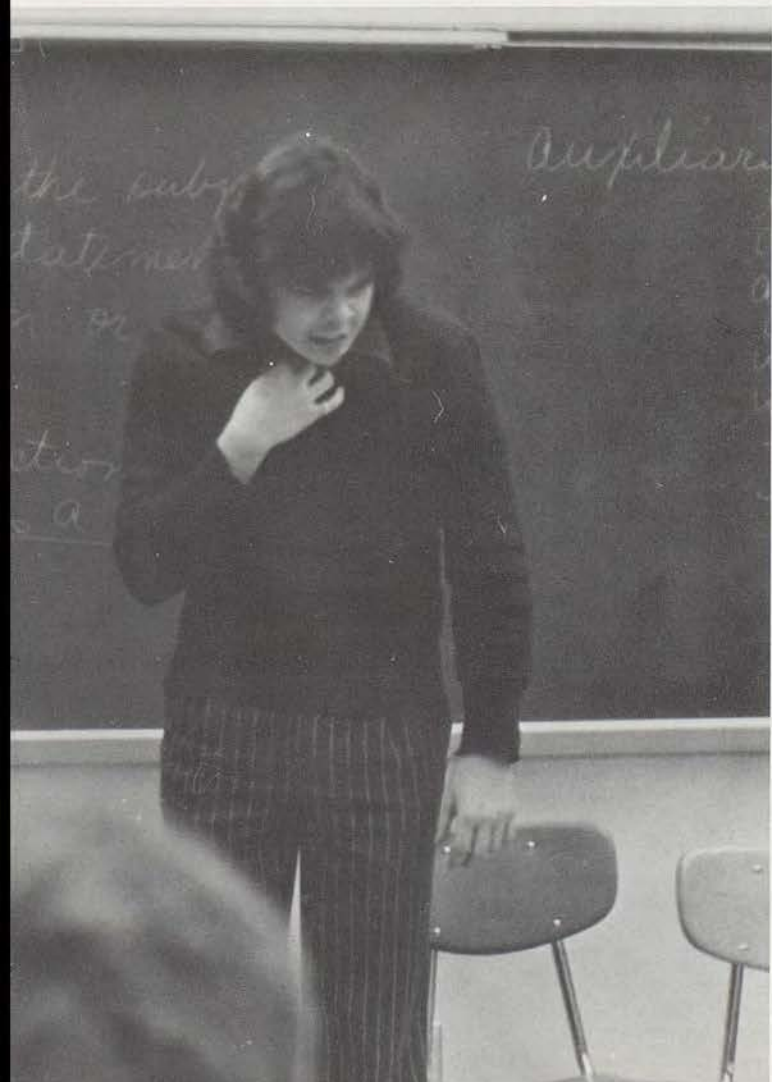

Mr. Vanderwood, sponsor, described 3-in-1 as three rooms consisting of individual acting, duet acting, and Readers Theater, for which a rotating audience paid one price for all three.

3-in-1 took place during the activity periods of January 16 and 17 with an evening performance on the seventeenth.

Those participating were Dan Curry, Randy Read, Debbie Liston, Tom Whiteman, Nancy Houpt, Diane Williams, Dave Garrett, Jacque LaNoue, Ray Roach, Randy Curry, Ted Largo, Carol French, Jim Solo, Susie Seabeck, Bob Cloyed, Vickie Moore, Carol Rhoades, and Marilyn MacDowell.

Jim Solo and Susie Seabeck performed their Readers Theater, ADAM AND EVE.

And time runs out.

Hickman Mills Falls Short by Four

The crowd goes wild.

... all for HM stand up and HOLLER!

The Ruskin Over the Hill Gang may have out dribbled the Over the Belt Gang from Hickman Mills but as the old cliché goes "it's not whether you win or lose, it's how you play the game." On Monday, January 7, 1974, the two opposing faculties met on the Ruskin basketball court, the Hickman Mills "gang" defending its title, and the Ruskin "mob" in hopes of nabbing the coveted trophy.

The Over the Belt Gang ranged from L. Frazier's 6'1" to T. Benyo's 5'8" with R. Dawson, D. Elston, G. Harnden, D. Karaff, H. Gentry, B. Morrin, D. Plymell, T. O'Brien, R. Stillwagon, and R. Beeson in between.

Supporting our team were the Hickman Mills' post-teenage faculty cheerleaders, the Garter Belt Gang: J. Lankford, D. Micketto, C. Johns, B. Lacy, J. Miller, L. Langford, S. Hunter, J. Meyer, and L. Brown.

The Ruskin Over the Hill Gang chalked up their first victory when the game ended with a score of 64-61.

A Winter Wonderland for Nancy Houpt

It was a victorious evening for both the Cougars and Nancy Houpt as HMHS won its 1974 Winter Queen Coronation game, and Nancy was crowned queen during half time ceremonies.

Pep Club girls spent weeks in preparation for the suspenseful event by decorating for the dance and crowning ceremonies to a Winter Wonderland theme. The Ruskin stage was adorned with a royal sleigh in anticipation of Her Majesty and the court.

This year's winter queens were a part of a new system of royal selection. A ballot box was placed in the mall for names of prospective queens and attendants. The student body then voted during their lunch shifts in order to narrow the field down to five seniors, one junior, and one sophomore. Then, out of the five seniors, the queen was chosen in an all school vote.

Attending Nancy Houpt were Terry Heath, Sr.; Cindy Harness, Sr.; Melanie Mayer, Sr.; Renee Ackerson, Sr.; Debbie Noonan, Jr.; Jill Peters, Soph.

Cabaret: A Collage of Cougar Talent

A new concept of entertainment in the form of the Cougar Cabaret spotlighted the evenings of Feb. 28 and March 1 in the HMHS activity room. Sponsored by the Music department, the program highlighted musical arrangements from the 20's to modern times.

Some highlights of the show included selections from Funny Girl and West Side Story, Big Spender, I Am Women, I Can See Clearly Now, Mammy, When Sunny Gets Blue, and a tribute to Glenn Miller.

The Cabaret was a music department sponsored project with the money divided between the choirs and the band. Those contributing to the success of the program were Dan Curry, who served as emcee, Mrs. Mary Siddens, Mr. Verl Mason, Nancy Smith, Nancy Houpt, the Girls Ensemble, the Lyric Choir, the Mixed Ensemble, the Concert Choir, and the Stage Band.

Metric Week Measures Up

Metric Week, which was held March 4-8 gave a new view of measurements to the students of HMHS. The highlight of the week was the Miss Metric Contest in which Nancy McClendon dominated a field of 18 contestants who had been nominated by their friends.

Other aspects of the week were showcase displays and a math contest which involved estimating the metric measurements of such items as a football, a rod, a cube, etc. Terry Heath proved women to be intellectual as well as aesthetically superior by winning this contest.

There were also several informative messages written by David Munter, Rick Windhausen, and Steve Rethmeyer and given on the morning announcements.

It was hoped that the week would increase the students' awareness and understanding of the metric system.

Solo rushed for over 100 yards every game except against Winnetonka, when he was injured.

Long hours of sweat, hard work, and "giving it all you've got" paid off for the Cougars, for they finished with a 7-3-0 record in this, their second year.

Several players were given special recognition for their playing ability: Jim Solo, John Moles, Frank Kurtz, Mark Kessler, Dave Andries, Mike Thompson, Keith Moore, Jon Linn, Jim Reid, and Dave Fletcher.

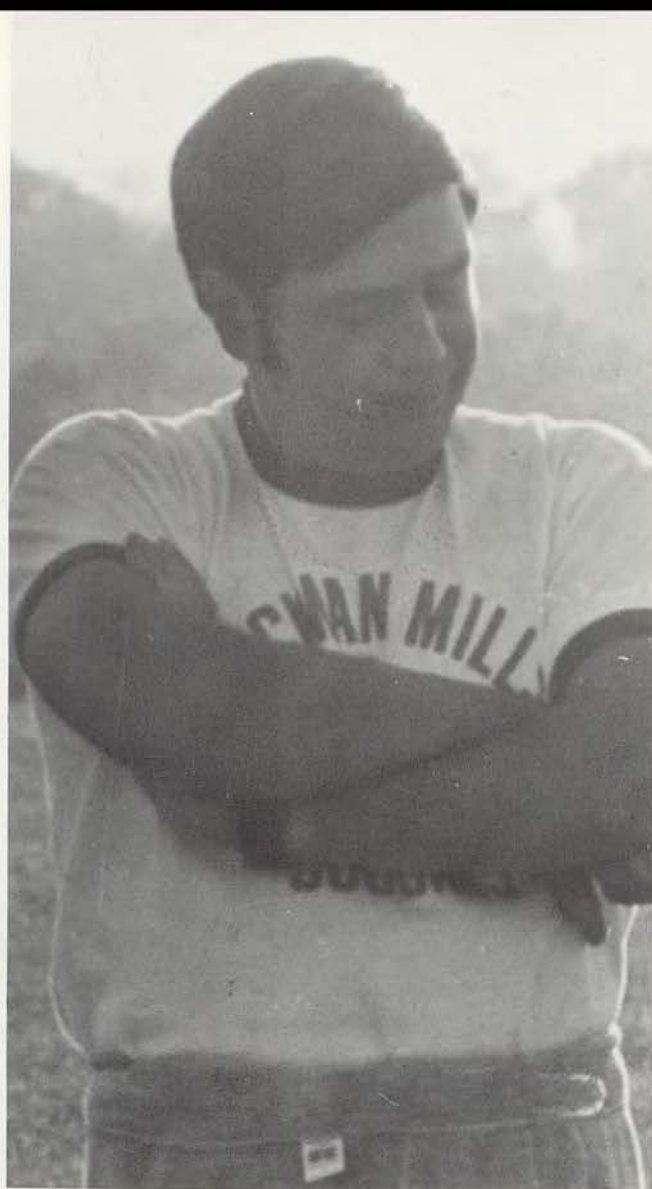

Solo, the squad's top runner for the season, was chosen for the All-Conf., All-Dist., All-Metro, and All-State teams, after rushing for 1409 yards for the Cougars. Moles, tackle and guard, was chosen for All-Conf., All-Dist., All-Metro, and received honorable mention on the All-State squad. Kurtz received All-Conf. Defense, and Kessler was 2nd team All-Conf. Center and received honorable mention for All-Metro. Andries made 1st team All-Conf. Guard, and Linn-QB and Moore-RB made honorable mention All-Conf. Fletcher-T, Reid-E, and Thompson-DB, all received All-Conf. Defense.

When Coach Larry Frazier was asked what the goal was for next year's Cougars, he replied, "Win the Conference and State Championship. We might not make it, but that's our goal!"

This year, the 1973-74 Junior Varsity football team had several new faces, and some veterans of last year. A total of seventeen players were on the team. Many did double-duty by playing on the JV team or Varsity team as needed.

Seven games were played compiling a 1-6-0 record. Some of the outstanding players this year were Russ Hall, George Barber, Dan Daley, Tom Williams, and Randy Bechtel. The team was directed by Head Coach Dave Karaff, and assistant Roy Stillwagon. The coaching staff remarked that they thought the team showed extremely good sportsmanship in the face of defeat. Coach Karaff stated, "Though we did not win but one game, all of them were close, which shows good signs for the future."

A lesson in the futility of coaching.

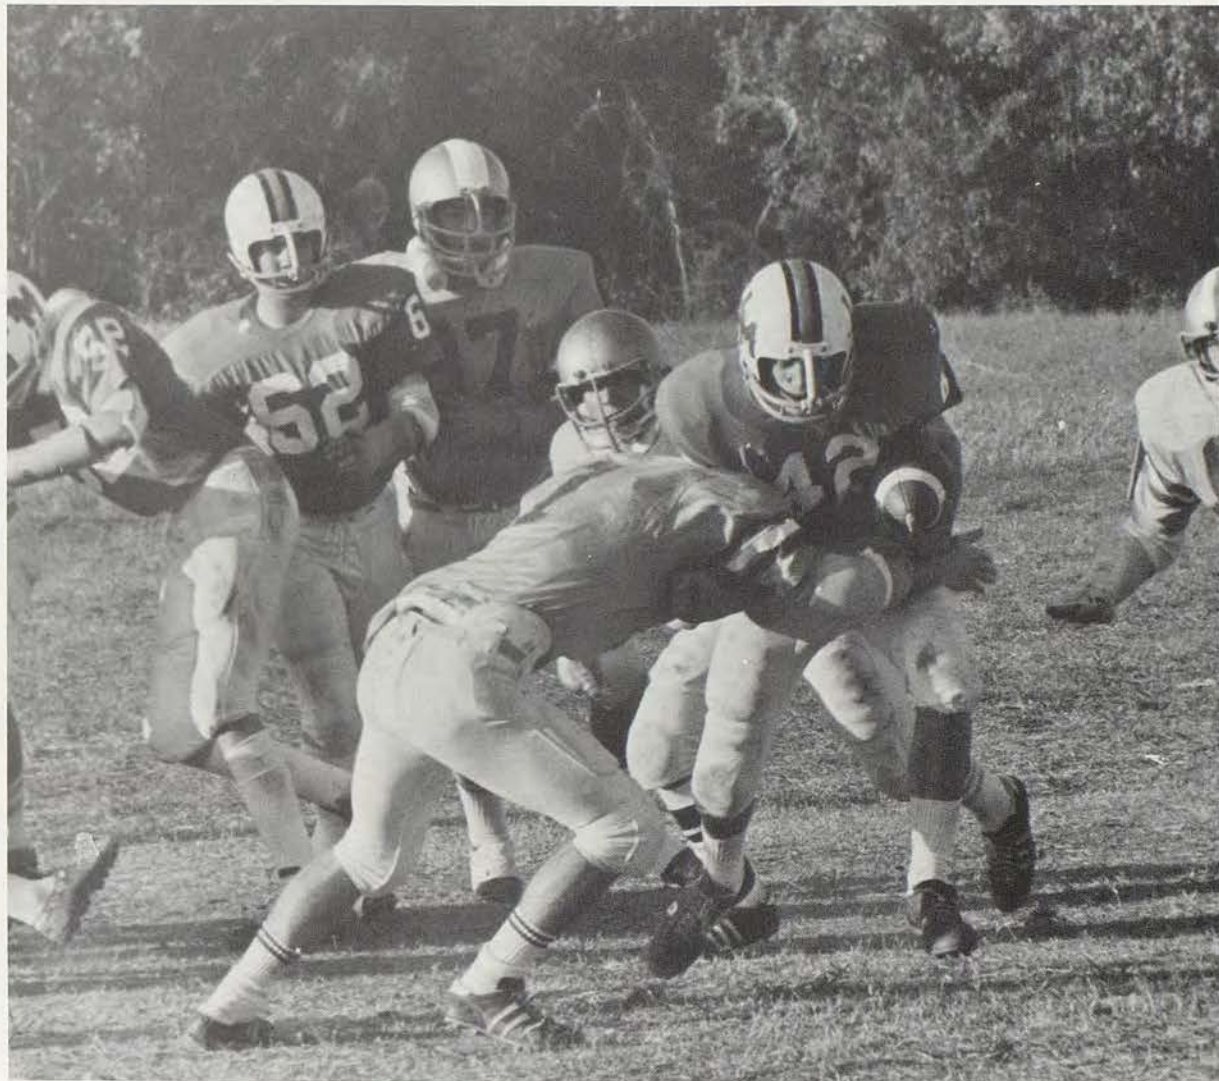

Now boys, THOSE are cheerleaders.

On August 15, a total of 33 sophomores began their careers as HM Cougar football players. It started with hard practices and weight lifting sessions. During the next few weeks there was much to learn about Cougar Pride.

Head Sophomore Coach Jim Shaffer feels that even though the team's record was 5-4 the season was a success because of the experience the team gained this year.

The 1973-74 Varsity Basketball squad completed its season with a 4-19 record. This year was the Cougars first year in a major conference league: The Big Six. The other five teams in the conference were Raytown, Winnetonka, Oak Park, Raytown South, and Truman.

The team was coached by Mr. Greg Harnden, Mr. Tom Benyo and Mr. Tom O'Brien. This year's team consisted of 4 returning seniors of the previous season and 2 returning juniors. The low Cougar record did not reflect the pride and determination that was exhibited throughout the season.

The Sophomore squad was led through the season by Coach Tom O'Brien. They ended the season with a 4-14 record. The players gained experience needed to fill the shoes of the J.V. and Varsity players.

This season the J.V. team met their new competition in the Suburban Conference head on, but found stiff opposition in the opposing teams with a 5-13 record. Coach Tom Benyo gave his all to teach the team good technique as well as good sportsmanship.

HM X-Country

The last two weeks of summer found the HMHS Cross Country men vigorously testing and improving their endurance and stamina for the season to come. With the crack of the starter's gun on September 14, the '73 Cross Country work began. The Cougars found that hard work paid off by placing 5th, 4th, 3rd, 5th, and 6th, in invitational, conference, and district meets. Hard work also paid off for Paul Russ, the squad's outstanding runner this season. Paul placed first out of 83 runners in the Liberty Invitational and went on all the way to the regionals, where he placed number 31 out of a field of 68 other Cross Country men.

Hickman Mills Grapplers

The 73-74 Cougar Grapplers, encouraged by the chanters, wound up their season by sending two boys to the state competition. Overall, the grapplers had a good season, with it's ups and downs as in any sport. Lots of hard work, running, weight lifting, reducing and sweat went into their season.

Outstanding wrestlers of the season were as follows: Nick Nuessle, placed fifth at Regionals; Joe Thomas, placed fourth at Regionals; Keith Moore, placed second at Regionals and went to State; and Jim Reid, placed second at Regionals and third at State. This year's Lettermen included Kevin Vaught; Joe Thomas; Larry Kessler, a freshman from Ervin Jr. High; Rex Hudgins; Dave Hartman, co-captain; Daryl Jackson; Nick Nuessle; Mark Guinta; Keith Moore, co-captain; Randy Read, co-captain; and Jim Reid, co-captain.

Intramurals Give Variety of Activities

Take approximately 300 students, the opportunity to participate in nine active sports, four faculty members with definite sponsorship tendencies, mix well with enjoyable, healthy sports and competition and view the results with pride: The 1973-74 season of the HMHS intramural program.

Sponsored by Mr. Hamann, Mr. Lewis, Mrs. Mickleto, and Miss Johns, the year's "extra-curriculum" included flag football, softball, handball, ping pong, and horseshoes. In a co-educational vein, archery, badminton, and volleyball provided simultaneous exercise for participants of both sexes.

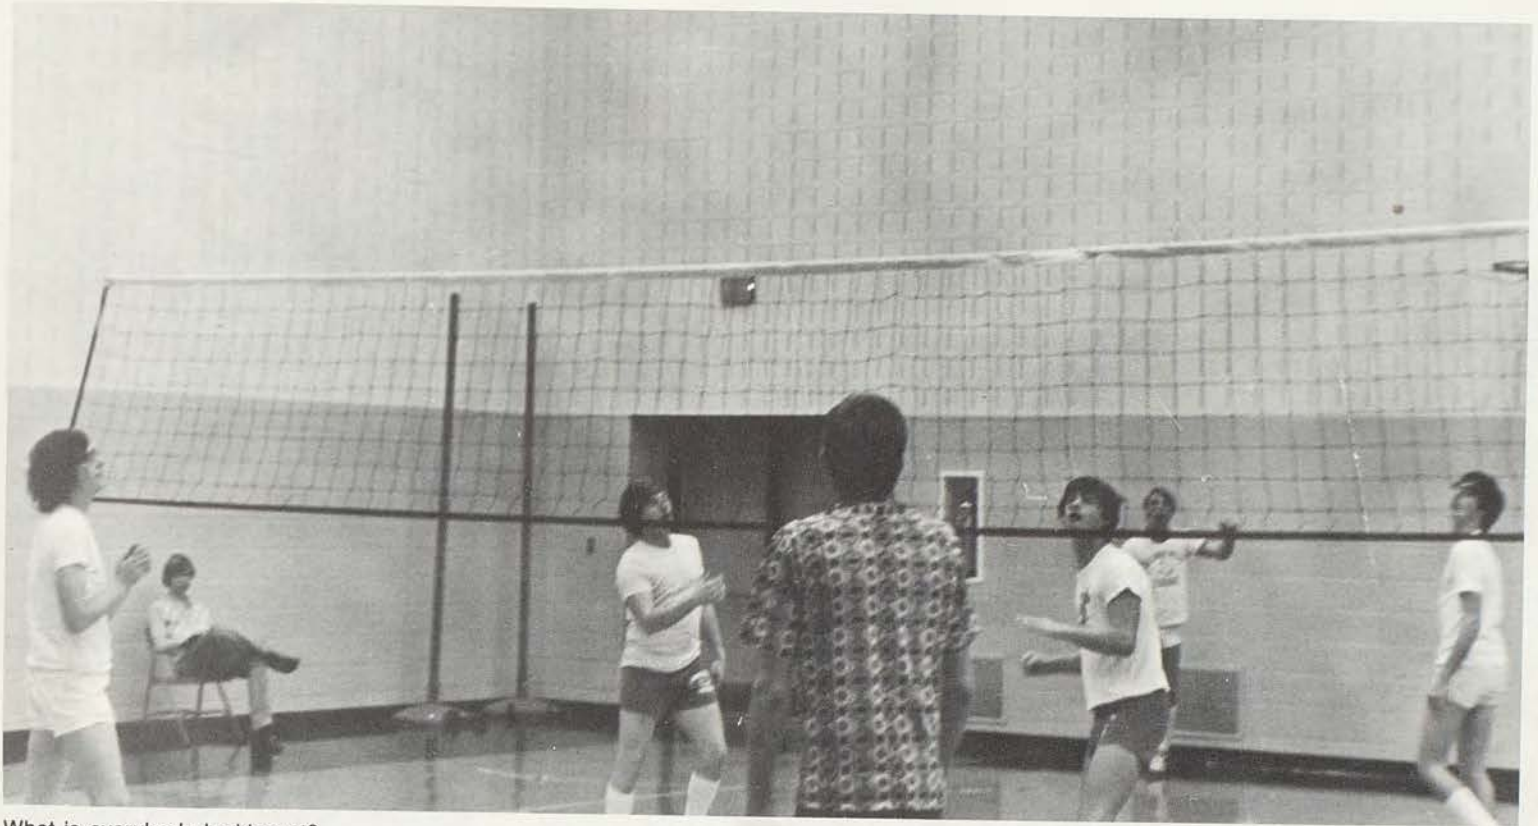

Mr. Hamann looked forward to expanded activities next year with completion of the new gymnasium and voiced his hope that 1974-75 would bring more participants and a greater student role in organization of the intramural program.

Class of '76

The Class of '76, comprised of 635 sophomores, walked through the doors of Hickman Mills High School for the first time as students on August 27, 1973. With an enthusiastic outlook on the year ahead, the sophomores proved to be a spirited class. Many became involved in clubs and activities and participated in the various sports programs. Officers were elected in September and dues were collected and put in the treasury.

As a whole, the sophomore class was impressed with their new school. Mike Harris, President, summed up the general attitude when he commented, "The rivalry we felt in Junior High has disappeared as we became teammates and worked together under a common goal—to make HMHS number one."

Class of '75

Hickman Mills High School Junior Class consisted of 548 members. The Junior's main concern this year was the planning of the Junior-Senior Prom. Several class meetings were held at which time the theme and band were decided.

The Junior Class, the Class of '75, will be the first graduating class to have attended Hickman Mills for three-full years.

School—What has it been? What did it mean? Whatever the definition, on May 18 we left it all behind to seek our fortunes. Of course, memories will glow long after little more remains of graduation than yellowed announcements stored in faded yearbooks. Memories of last minute homework preparation; of lettermen and cheerleaders; of going steady. Memories of irate teachers and hall passes; fire drills and school lunches; of felt pumpkins at room parties. Perhaps our education might best be compared to a book of four chapters.

Chapter 1, Elementary School 1962-1968, begins the story. As students of the many area grade schools we learned to learn; to realize that we were important; that we could be speakers as well as listeners.

The story continued with Chapter 2, Junior High 1968-1971. We watched the future class of '74 mature as the three years of Junior High passed.

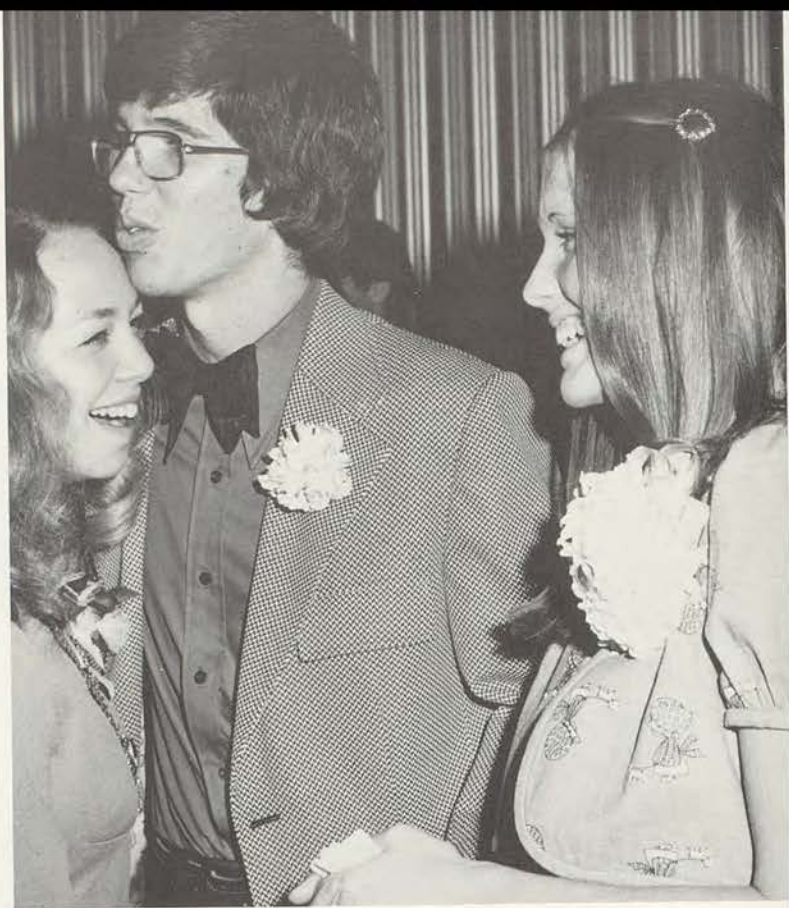

In 1971 we finally hit the big time—Chapter 3, High School 1971-1974. Due to the delayed construction of HMHS, 1100 of us were crowded into Ruskin HS. Fall 1972 saw our class divided as we opened a new school in anticipation of becoming the first graduating class of HMHS. We all survived the final, senior year and bid farewell to the years that molded us into what we are. The years we left behind.

Finally we arrived at the last chapter of the book: Graduation, but there is a sequel to this book, title unknown.

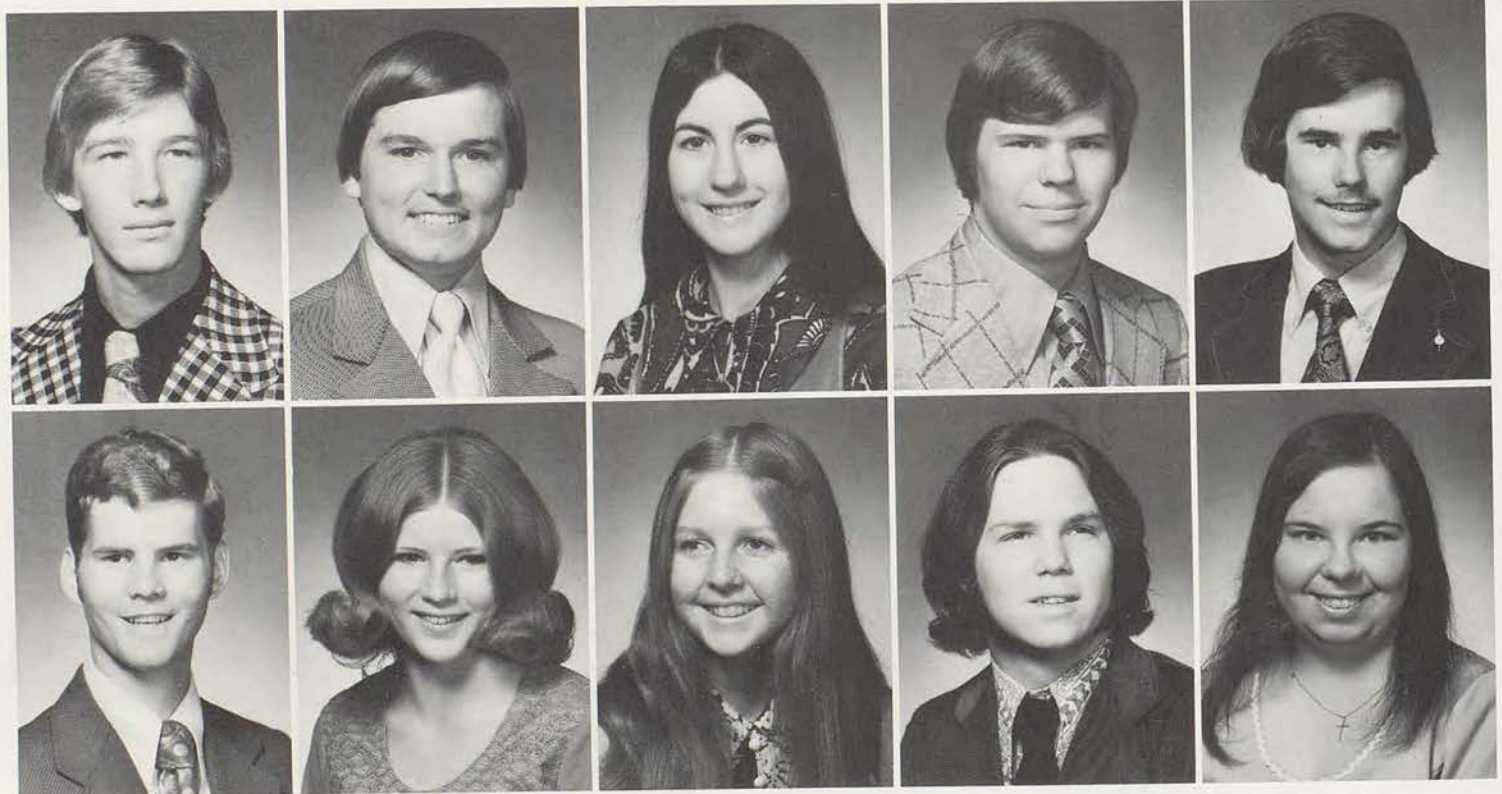

Class Officers: Danny Koontz, Pres.; Jacque Solomon, Vice-Pres.; Nancy Houpt, Sec.; Terry Heath, Treas.

IN MEMORIUM
Martha Nixon
1956—1973

It's time to share.
Please, care for life while it's still with you.
Friends can slip away so soon and leave us
all in empty rooms.
Remember:
Extended arms haven't time for hate.

We have to try.
It's not too late to see what life is for.
Open souls will be the door for finding answers of the heart.
Life will then fulfill its start on Love.

Jane Russo

This index is dedicated to all you Z-people who go through life at the end of the alphabet. From the first day of elementary when the teacher said she ran out of crayons and Yates took all the good colors; or at lunch when the pizza was gone and you got liver. The '74 Pride staff knows how you feel—so you go first.

Together

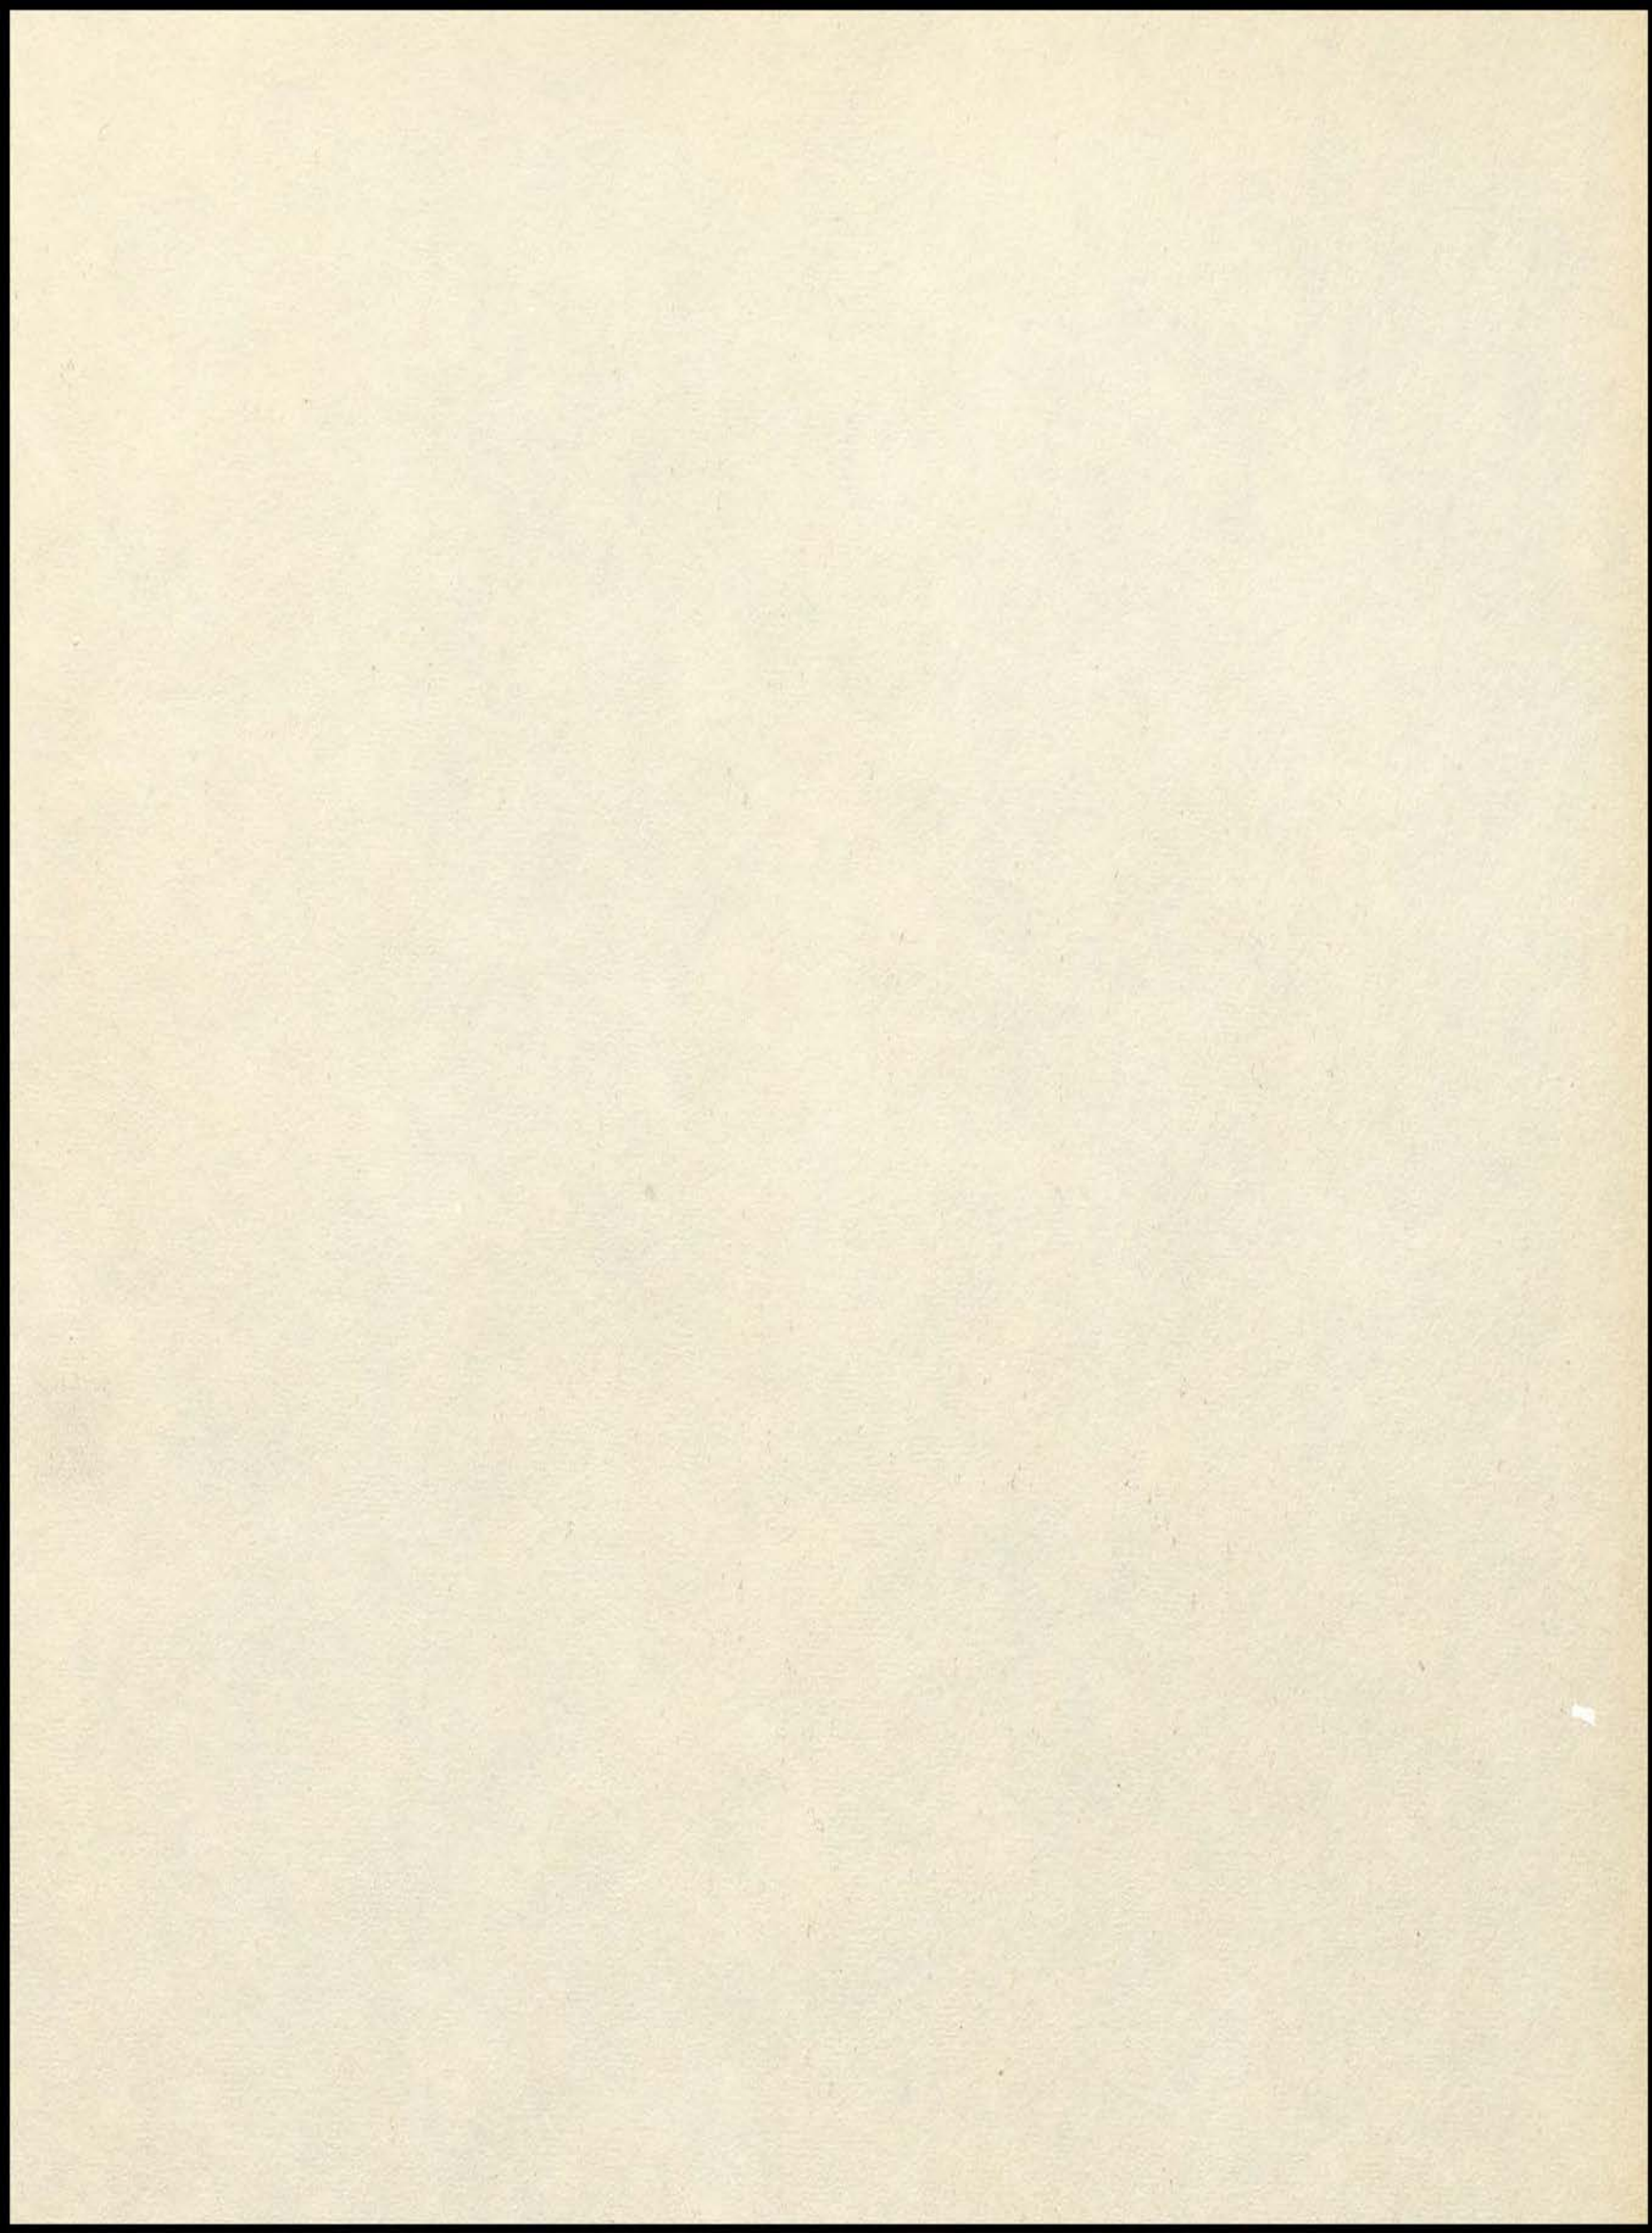

Together we walk . . .
friends in our sameness . . .
in our differences . . .
in sunshine and rain . . .
through field and forest . . .
across mountain and river . . .
giving . . . sharing . . .
in simplicity and trust . . .
together in the journey of living.

And though the path divides . . .
and sometimes we must move in and out of different doorways of the world . . .
and across other vistas of experience . . .
still we are together,
in the heart of things . . .
patient as seedlings . . .
till we bloom again along the same flourishing byway.
