CLASS SONG

Oh! there was a little duck,
And he had a webbed foot,
And he lived in the hollow by a mulberry root,
He ruffled up his feathers,
Just to keep his tummy warm.
He said, "Another Junior won't do us any harm."
Duckety-duck-duck, quack, quack.

History of the Senior Class

The class of 1922 has paved a most remarkable path in the history of the Kansas City, Kansas High School. The class of '22 has been noted all through school as a class that could be depended upon to work for K. C. K. H. S. and that would adapt itself to any circumstance which might arise.

When the upper classmen looked over the Freshmen entering the higher school of learning in September, 1918, there was a critical respect mingled with outward disdain. As Freshmen the members were well-behaved in the class-room and more easily disciplined than the others, because they had a fear of being sent to the office, and what was worse, the thought of being seen on the way by one of the teachers, a favorite janitor, or an upper-classman. However, the class soon became more independent. Many of the Freshmen invested in War Savings Stamps and Liberty Bonds. All helped to put the class at the front in athletics, music, and scholarship. In the spring of '19 the students joined in welcoming the soldiers of K. C. K. back home.

When the members of this class became Sophomores they put all Freshman thoughts away. According to the Pantograph, the Sophomore class of 1920 was the largest, "peppiest," and brainiest class in the school, because it had the largest enrollment and a great number of honor students.

After winning many victories in the Sophomore year, the members entered the Junior year with the determination to boost K. C. K. H. S. The members chose the class colors, blue and red; the mascot, a duck—chosen because he is always happy when it is dark, gloomy, and rainy. Over one hundred and fifty students and teachers enjoyed the slippery slides, see-saws, 'n everything at the Kid Party. The Junior-Senior Banquet was voted a success by all present. There were many Juniors on the Honor Roll throughout the year.

As Seniors the days were profitable ones to be remembered by all. Officers elected were Ralph Russell, president; Elsie Schlosser, vice-president; Marie Garrett, secretary; Lester Kornfeld, treasurer; Mr. Bell, class sponsor. The class of '22 won the Pantograph cup, first place in selling tickets for "Clarence," put on an original Annual Day program, and led the Honor Roll most of the time. The Seniors point with pride to the athletic teams of the past. They have represented the High School in a way which brings credit to it and to themselves by playing the square, clean kind of a game. The debaters of this and previous years were largely representative of the class of '22. The class looks forward to the usual Senior activities, and last of all "the Senior's Paradise"—"Commencement!"

It is with regret that the class gives up the leadership of the school but they realize their glory has been won and it is now time for the following classes to have an opportunity to do their part for the school.

Wishing principal, faculty, and students, the greatest success that could be wished, the Seniors of 1922 go to find their places in the world. "Farewell!"

Gertrude G. Laing, '22.

To the Class of '22

Now harken sons of '22,
Warriors all, so tried and true,
Before you mount the hill of life
That's only gained by toil and strife.

Gone are the days of careless good,
Now lay aside your childish mood,
The sterner sounds of life ring clear,
And to them must you lend your ear.

Four years in Dear old K. C. High
You've worked with courage great and high,
Yet soon these cares will petty seem,
And all your past a careless dream.

For life will prove a bitter school,
And many drown within its pool,
But as the sun from clouds shines out,
So shall you conquer fear and doubt.

Cast off your weaknesses and then,
Stand forth as noble, upright men,
With purity and faith as guides
No shame within the future hides.

So to you with ambitions fair,
We turn our hopes in earnest prayer,
And trust that no act will you rue
Our blessing on you, '22!

History of the Junior Class

One day a bold, handsome lion, who was out for his afternoon walk, met a duck walking in the same direction quacking softly to itself. When the duck saw the lion it started to walk faster, but the lion soon caught up with the duck and passed it, and despite all the efforts of the poor little duck to catch up, the lion was always just a little way ahead.

The lion is the mascot of the Junior class which entered the halls of learning in September, 1919, with fear and trembling. Like all Freshmen the members of the class looked with awe on the mighty Juniors and Seniors, but this feeling was soon lost when they found that the upper classmen were human like themselves.

This was the first Freshman class to be organized in the history of the High School. They soon proved that Freshmen could take as great a part in school activities as any other class by leading in the fields of music and athletics.

The lion roared louder during his Sophomore year, and the Sophomores, following the lead of their mascot, became so active in school affairs that even the staid Seniors took notice. Two of the Sophomores were members of the champion team of the Northeast Kansas Basketball League. The Sophomores were represented in the music contest at Emporia and in almost every other field of school activity. The first event of the season was a "kid" party at the gym. For one evening they forgot their cares and studies and acted naturally. In the spring a picnic was held that proved to be almost as much fun as the party.

But as a Junior the lion was in his glory. The duck, bull-dog, and eagle quaked with fear when they saw him stalk gravely along. The Juniors had representatives on the honor roll, football team, basketball team, track, debate teams, Pantograph, and practically every club in school.

If pep could be changed into money the Juniors would be unable to count their wealth, because wherever pep and enthusiasm are needed the Juniors are on hand with all that can be used.

Led by their mascot the Juniors successfully carried out their Junior Day program and the Junior-Senior reception. The biggest social event of the year was different from anything that any other class had ever given before.

The Juniors are expecting their lion to lead them again next year as successfully as he has in the past so that all that the class may do will be for the benefit of the High School.

History of the Sophomore Class

The master poet, Longfellow, in describing in verse an ancient time-piece, says,

"Half way up the stairs it stands,
And points and beckons with its hands."

May a comparison not be drawn between the class of '24 and Longfellow's clock? Half way up the stairs stands the Sophomore Class, half through its climb for a high school education, and standing on the landing, reviewing the past, and contemplating the future, the class points upward to the goal of graduation, and beckons to those below to follow.

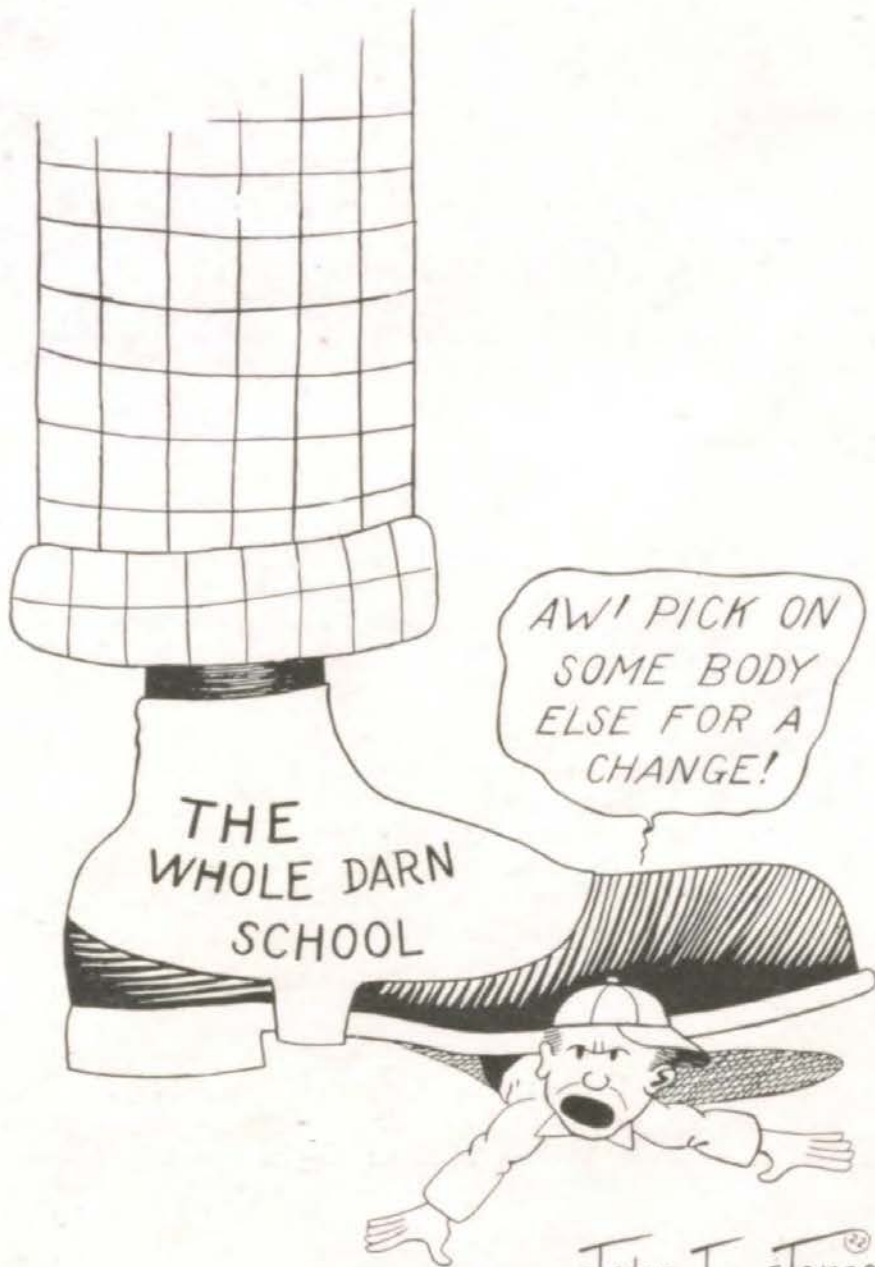

Upon entering this school in September, 1920, the class experienced the usual criticisms and gibes from the older students. They called the Freshmen "green." At the time, it never occurred to these new High School recruits that there might be some truth in the allegation, but with an enrollment of four hundred and twenty-five they entered school activities with so much "pep" that soon the respect of all was gained. The organization of the class resulted in the election of Clarence Mott, as president; Ruth Fine, vice-president; Helen Saunders, secretary; William Griffith, treasurer, and Coach Corsaut, sponsor. Purple and white were selected as class colors and the bull dog was made the mascot. Scholarship, athletics, and social life were all given whole-hearted support. In scholarship the Freshman class gave the upperclassmen all through the year a close race and finished with next to the largest number of names on the honor roll. In athletics the Freshmen class soon demanded a place, having a right to do so after winning second in the girls' basketball tournament, first in the Sophomore-Freshman track meet, and first in the girls' inter-class track meet. The class of '24 also had candidates for places on the first team in football and in basketball. Under the able direction of the class officers a party was given at the "gym" in mid-winter. The April first stunt at the Art Theater was given first honors. The efforts of the students and the good instruction of the faculty took the class through the Freshman year with an honorable record.

In September, 1921, the members of the class of '24 assembled from all points of the compass where vacations had been spent, returning to the school of their choice with renewed vigor for the work of the Sophomore year. The class was greatly enlarged by the addition of graduates from Junior High School, the increase in numbers making the Sophomore class of 1921-22 the largest in the school. An election of officers resulted in the choice of William Griffith as president; Helen Saunders, vice-president; Jessie Sullivan, secretary; Emmett Reynolds, treasurer, and Mr. White, sponsor. From the very beginning of the year the class has stood high in all school activities. It has improved its athletic record. The Sophomore girls won first in the inter-class basketball tournament, and some of the boys were selected for places on both the first basketball team and on the track team. One-fourth of the band and one-third of the orchestra are members of the class of '24. The yearly class party was a feature of the social life of the school. All through the year the class spirit has kept the Sophomores one hundred percent loyal to the school.

As the class pauses, "half way up the stairs," the students look back with satisfaction over two well-spent years, then turn their faces upward, determining greater triumphs for the class of '24.

FRESHMAN GIRLS

FRESHMAN BOYS

History of the Freshman Class

In the year 1921 a band of pioneers landed at the fork of the Kansas and Missouri rivers. They were later called, by historians, the Fresh Men, probably because the land had formerly been settled by others, but without complete success.

Not long after the Fresh Men landed they realized that no great success could be attained without the aid of strong leaders, so they called a meeting of the entire company. After careful consideration they decided upon Thomas Flynn as chief, Ruth Wilcox as his assistant, Madge Buchan as scribe, and Jack Schopflin as keeper of the funds. This accomplished, they felt that nothing could impede their future achievements.

The Fresh Men, however, soon learned that the new country, was quite new to them, and they might not have succeeded in their new undertaking but for the help of a band of wise men and women who inhabited the country, and who claimed to have been descended from a race of gods. They devoted their time to helping others. These persons were also versed in the magic art of how to bring success or failure to any undertaking.

The natives of the country consisted of three tribes, one following another, who, after a short sojourn, moved westward leaving a few hundred stragglers. The members of the oldest of these tribes were very haughty and over-bearing toward the Fresh Men. Their ways were so unlike those of the Fresh Men that they had hardly considered them rational. They were called the Insainyers. The Fresh Men, however, had the satisfaction of seeing the remaining Insainyers, who had been coddled and protected for many years by the Maestros, expelled from the land and sent out to take care of themselves. The great migration was called commencement as meaning that the Insainyers should commence for the first time, to do something for themselves without assistance.

The members of the next oldest tribe, while lacking the haughtiness of the Insainyers, never-the-less refused to have any conversation with the Fresh Men, from which the Fresh Men concluded that they did not know anything to say. This tribe was called the Jejuniers.

The last and youngest tribe, which just preceded the Fresh Men, were the Soffts, so named from their easy going manner and dislike of hard work.

After many months of hard labor the Fresh Men made great headway in all their work. To celebrate their success they held high festival in their banquet hall. After they had shown their skill in sports and games they sat down to a big feast.

Among the ruins of Quivera the Fresh Men found a huge stone upon which was engraved a snail. It was the mascot of the former races. Many were in favor of choosing a mascot but none wanted a snail. After much consideration the eagle was chosen, because it is a bird of great strength and fighting ability, and these were qualities the Fresh Men hoped to have.

They were happy with their choice of a mascot and officers, for they really believed that with those qualities of the eagle in mind as a goal, and under the leadership of their wisely chosen officers that nothing could prevent them from holding their new possessions.

Ralph Emerson, '25.

ATHLETICS

231 1115A

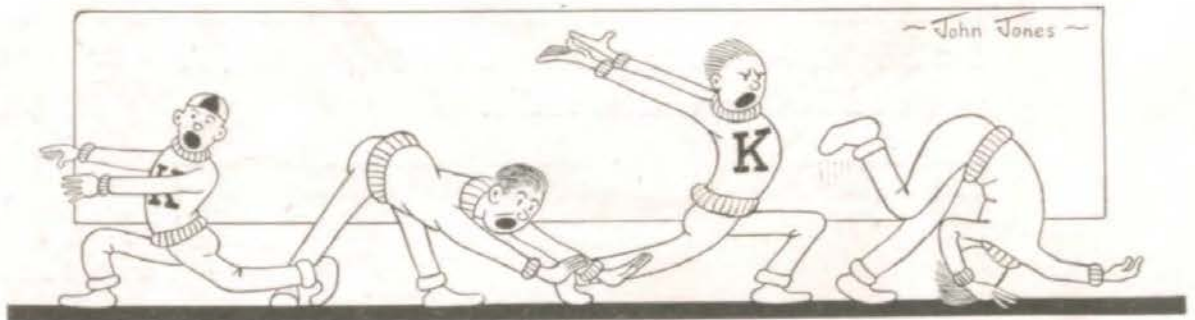

Physical vitality is indispensable to success. Realizing that the possession of a strong, vigorous physique and a powerful vitality is essential to mental development, the students have displayed great enthusiasm for athletics. This enthusiasm results not only in the subsequent acquisition of physical strength and endurance but also in a true school spirit. Invaluable training is received in athletics as it fosters self-confidence and decision of character; cultivates perseverance and reliability; promotes independent thinking and determination; and develops the ability to meet life's ups and downs with a smile.

History of Athletics in the Kansas City Kansas High School

We may consider the progress of athletics from many points of view, but we must justify athletics on the ground: first, that they keep boys in school; second, that they are an incentive to study, in that no athlete can compete without first passing in three-fourths of his studies; and third, that they develop right attitudes.

Our equipment for athletics consists of two gymnasiums and an athletic field. From a physical program for the management of which a Senior boy served as coach, the High School has developed a program that requires the services of three women and two men coaches, from a program calling for no girls' athletics, the system has expanded in recent years to include girls' athletics in every form. The attitude of the student body toward clean athletics has grown to such an extent that students themselves will see to it that no ineligible player is permitted to go upon the field with them.

—Clarence T. Rice.

In 1915, football was brought back into the Kansas City Kansas High School after being barred for nine years. The 1915 team only won one game during the entire season. It defeated Olathe, which was one of the strongest teams in the state.

As the knowledge and spirit of the game increased, the per cent of games won each year also increased, until the 1921 when the Crimson gridgers defeated all comers and won the State Championship, with a total of 197 points to their opponents' 39.

Much credit for winning the State Championship is due to Coach C. W. Corsaut, who has put athletics on a firm basis in the school.

Foot-Ball

The Kansas City Kansas High School football team was without a doubt the champion of the State of Kansas for 1921, as it defeated the seven strongest teams in the state, and was neither tied nor defeated during the season.

The Crimson squad opened the season by defeating the Alumni by a score of 7 to 0.

The first out-of-town game was with Hutchinson and the Salt City eleven went down before Corsaut's gridders with a score of 13 to 7.

The following week Coach Corsaut took his warriors to Independence, Mo., and trounced the strong contenders for the Western Missouri Conference, 21 to 7.

Baldwin saved herself from a white-wash with a drop kick in the last quarter of a one-sided game, the final count being 40 to 3.

The next week Leavenworth was trampled under a 42 to 0 score, on the Old Soldiers' Home field.

Coach Watt's Argentine aggregation was next, and the hitherto undefeated Blue and Gold eleven was sent home smarting after losing a hard fought game, 7 to 3.

There was joy at the Athletic Field, November 4, when Lawrence was defeated, 25 to 6. This was the first time Kansas City had defeated the Lawrence eleven in six years.

Emporia fell, 14 to 13, before the Crimson Bull Dogs in the hardest fought game of the season.

The last game was played November 18, with Fort Scott. The visitors proved to be no match for K. C. High as a 28 to 0 score would indicate.

A game for Thanksgiving Day could not be scheduled.

Second Football Squad

Top Row—Bazan, McMahon, Peebles, L. Doughton, Hinton, Baldwin, Bell, Ball, W. Wingett, Craun, Koerner, Rider, Sandford, R. Doughton.
Lower Row—Larkin, Frush, Zuber, Mathews, Hawkins, Kroh, Snyder, Jolliff, Kitchell, Davis.

Much of the success of the State Champion football team is due to the Crimson second team.

Under the watchful eye and care of Mr. Bell, the second team was developed into a machine that made excellent opposition for the Bull Dogs in scrimmage practice. The 1921 second team could put up a good showing against the average high school team. The reserves played the first game against the Rosedale first team and won a hard fought game, 13 to 7.

A return game was played with Rosedale October 20, and the Crimson reserves easily trampled the Green and White eleven under a 27 to 0 score.

The seconds journeyed to Bonner Springs to play their Thanksgiving game. Although the Crimson team lost, 7 to 0, it outplayed the Cement City squad in every department of the game. The score was made in the final quarter of the game when a Crimson warrior in his attempt to break up a forward pass knocked the ball into the hands of a Bonner man who was standing back of the goal.

BASKETBALL

When the football season was over all eyes turned toward basketball. Uniforms were issued to Captain Harold Schmidt, Herbert Proudfit, William White, Reginald Vance, Abe Kitchell, Lloyd Wilson, Cameron Hanna, and Clarence Motts.

The prospects for a winning team were not bright at first of the season as the coach was unable to get two suitable guards. At the opening of the Northeast Kansas League Coach Corsaut lost several good men when he enforced the eligibility rules. Another hard blow was felt when Bill White moved out of town, thus leaving the coach up against a harder problem and the loyal fans very gloomy.

The Northeast Kansas League ended March 4, with Topeka the champions and Kansas City and Horton in a dead-lock for second place honors. Topeka won nine games out of ten, having lost one to Horton. The Kansas City and Horton quintets each won seven games and lost three.

The Kansas City aggregation went to Bonner Springs, March 3, and won first place for the second time in the second annual invitation tournament held in the Bonner Springs High gym, and annexed the Lowe-Campbell trophy by winning from Lawrence, 19 to 5; DeSota, 44 to 13, and Merriam, 55 to 11. The Kansas City team scored 118 points to its opponents' 29.

The following week the basketball team went to Atchison and won the championship of the Northeast Kansas district. The team was awarded another silver trophy. Winning the district tournament made the Kansas City squad eligible for the State Tournament held at Lawrence, March 16, 17 and 18.

Kansas City drew a bye in the first round of the tourney. In the second round Kinsley went down to defeat under a 35 to 15 score before Corsaut's cagers. Winfield, one of the strongest Arkansas Valley teams, was eliminated by the Crimson quintet, 38 to 32, in the third round. In the fourth round Kansas City met Fort Scott, the State Champions, and was defeated after a hard fought game, 39 to 33.

Basket Ball

HAROLD SCHMIDT, Captain

"Schmidty" has played on the team three years as forward. He is an excellent floor-man and a good shot. Harold was given a position and captaincy of the Northeast Kansas League All-Star Team.

HERBERT PROUDFIT, Captain-elect

"Herb" well rated the captaincy of next year's team, as he is an excellent player in all departments of the game. He played two years on the team and was picked as forward on the second Northeast Kansas Team.

HAROLD ZUBER

"Zub" is a big man on the Crimson team, both on offence and defence. Zuber is best on short shots. At the Bonner tournament Harold made a big hit.

ARTHUR HARTFELDER

"Art" started the season as center but was shifted to running guard. Hartfelder covered the floor well and is good on long shots. He will be back next year.

REGINALD VANCE

Vance proved himself worthy of a uniform in the inter-class tournament. Ever since "Reg" has been making forwards take desperate chances on long shots. He will be back next year.

RICHARD YOUNGMAN

Youngman plays forward, and became popular for his natural ability to shoot goals. "Rich" is expected to be a star forward next year.

CLARENCE MOTT

Mott plays running guard and is an excellent shot. He plays the floor well and is expected to be an important cog in the Crimson quintet next year.

JOHN KROH

John plays forward, is a good shot, and works in with the regular combination well. Kroh will make a good man on next year's quintet.

in Convention Hall, March 25th, in which Short placed in the half mile.

As the basketball season was drawing to a close it was not unusual to see the track men working out on the cinder path across from the High School or on the indoor track at the gym. The three letter men at the start of the season were Kunz, Russell, and Morris.

The first contest of the season for the track squad was at the K. C. A. C. indoor meet February 25th, held in Convention Hall. The relay team, composed of Russell, Mott, Folks, and Yount, won over the William Chrisman High of Independence, Mo. Herbert Short also placed in the half mile.

The second meet was in conjunction with the Missouri Valley track meet held

The third meet of the season was a dual contest between Olathe and K. C. K. in which the Crimson and White runners were doped to win.

As the season came to an end, the track followers saw the team enter and make good at the State meets held at Lawrence, Emporia, and Manhattan.

Although there were only three letter men upon which to build a track team the coach succeeded in putting a strong squad in the State and Dual meets.

The "K" Club

The "K" Club was organized in 1918 with the object of promoting the athletic interests of the High School in every way, but more especially by the creation of a friendly spirit between the various branches of athletic activities.

The Club met the latter part of November and elected the following officers:

President	Wyeth Walters
Vice-President	Harold Schmidt
Secretary-Treasurer	Nona Snyder
Sponsor	Coach Corsaut

In the latter part of April the members put on a field meet at the Athletic Field at Fourteenth and Armstrong. They also put on a smokeless smoker in the Gym at Eighth and Armstrong, the first part of May.

On March 23th, in appreciation of the Coach's work, the members presented him with a small loving cup.

Those having football letters are Morris, Walters, Schmidt, Wilson, Randall, Kunz, Russell, Wingett, Ackerson, Wadhams, Alexander, Hanna, Snyder, and Kroh.

The basketball men are, Schmidt, Proudfit, Zuber, Vance, Hartfelder, Mott, Youngman, and Calahan.

The track "K" men are Kunz, Russell, and Morris.

The tennis men are Mott and Bell.

RUTH FINE

Ruth Fine, captain, is K. C. K.'s speedy running center. The opposing team always passes the ball over center when she is on the job.

ALICE BISHOP

Alice Bishop, guard, plays a hard defensive game. She has the ability to break up the forward's dribble and keep the ball in the end of the field.

EVELYN CORDNER

Evelyn Cordner, forward, is very fast and plays the floor well. Her ability to make long shots were a feature in every game.

FAYE THORNBURGH

This is Faye's second year on the team, and as jumping center, the team finds in her a strong foundation upon which to build their game.

RUTH CONQUEST

Ruth Conquest, guard, carries a reputation of never letting a forward shoot a goal. Her passing from center to forward tipped the score in K. C. K.'s favor.

LUCILE CULLITON

Lucile Culliton, forward, is playing her second year on the team. The opposing team soon found that if Lucile got the ball she would raise the K. C. K. score.

Record of 1922

This is the second year in the history of a High School girls' basketball team. The first half of the year the coaching was carried on by Miss Helen Barnett, assisted by Miss Alta Miller. The last half of the year Miss Hammett returned and the girls finished a very successful season. Out of seven games played the home team lost two, both of these being to Haskell.

It takes more than reputation to discourage K. C. K.'s team as was shown when Baldwin arrived. The team showed them up by winning 18 to 14.

The girls attended the Bonner tournament, losing to Bonner, 13 to 7. The girls attended the Baldwin tournament with sixteen other teams. In the first round K. C. K. defeated Hiawatha, 18 to 14, and then followed this up by defeating Waverly, 28 to 3. Everything looked bright when the Paola game began but seven seemed to be their unlucky number again. They lost, 15 to 7.

In summing up the year's work the substitutes deserve credit for the excellent work which they did. They are Dorothy Miller, Mildred Meyer, Anna Graham, Thelma Roberts, and Viola Sowers.

The prospect for next year is very bright as most of these girls will return next year.

FRESHMAN GYM CLASSES

Class Tournaments

The annual inter-class basketball tournament opened December 2. The Hi-Y offered a silver loving cup to the winners of the boys' tournament, and the Y. W. C. A. also offered the girls' champions a silver cup.

The Juniors won the boys' tournament by defeating every other team. The first game was played between the Juniors and the Freshmen. The '23 quintet defeated the Eagles, 32 to 10.

The second game, between the Seniors and the Sophomores, the upper classmen won by a narrow margin of 10 to 9.

The Lions of '23 beat the Bull Dogs and the Bull Dogs in turn beat the Freshmen. The Freshmen also fell before the Senior quintet, leaving the Lion and the Duck tied for the lead. The game between the two upper classes was the most exciting game of the tournament, the duck lost much of its down while it was attempting to tie a knot in the lion's tail. The Junior lion came out victorious by a 25 to 16 score.

The Sophomore girls easily won the Y. W. C. A. trophy by defeating the Seniors, Juniors and Freshmen. The basketeers of '24 made 110 points to their opponents' 34. The Senior ball tossers came out second by winning from the Juniors and Freshmen. The cagers of '23 and '25 came out third and fourth respectively.

The Sophomore girls have a good chance of retaining the Y. W. C. A. trophy permanently by winning the tournament the next two years.

Official "K's" and Requirements

It is customary, in the Kansas City Kansas High School, to award the different styles of "K's" because there are many activities in which the students may participate.

The first requirement to win a letter in any line of activity is to pass in at least three basic subjects.

The special requirements for each "K" are as follows:

In football a person must play at least nine quarters through the season.

In basketball a person must play at least seven halves during the season.

To receive a track letter a person must make at least seven points during the season, providing there be three or more dual meets.

Tennis "K's" shall be awarded to the players representing the High School in the outside meets, providing there be one.

The girls, to win a letter, must be on the basketball squad and must play in at least one-third of the games played during the year.

For the debate letter a student must represent the High School in at least one debate and be recommended by the Coach and Forensic Council.

The persons receiving an Honor "K" must be on the Honor Roll every six weeks for one year or make four ones for five successive six weeks.

Our School

If you want to go to the kind of a school
Like the kind of a school you like,
You needn't slip your clothes in a grip,
And run away in the night.

You'll find elsewhere what you left behind
For there's nothing that's really new,
It's a knock at yourself when you knock your school
For it isn't your school; IT'S YOU!

Real schools are not made by students afraid
Lest somebody else gets ahead;
When everyone works and nobody shirks
You can raise a school from the dead.

And if while you make your personal stake
Other students can make their's too;
Your school will be what you want it to be
For it isn't your school; IT'S YOU!

Crimson and White

Crimson and white softly blending
Glow the bright gleam of our crest,
Emblem of ideals unending,
Fealty to all that is best;
Loyal to country all-Glorious,
Fairest of lands 'neath the sky!
Loyal to her all-victorious,
And our dear old K. C. High!

Thru fair or thru stormy weather
"Never strike sail to a fear!"
Working and playing together,
Tackle the line with a cheer!
Add one more page to the story
That shall be told by and by,
How we strove on for the glory
Of our dear old K. C. High!

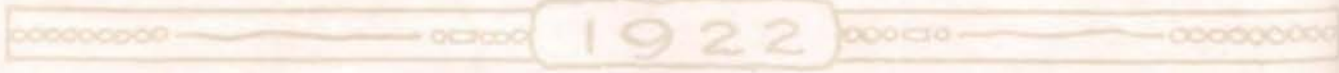

Swiftly the bright hours are fleeting,
Life's gliding by like a dream;
Soon these gay scenes of our meeting
Will float adown memory's stream.
Pledge then the bond ne'er to sever,
Keeping alive the fond tie
That shall unite us forever
To our dear old K. C. High!

This year the English department has made the most striking progress of any of the departments. More interest has been taken in the subject than heretofore. As a result of the new interest, the English Club has been organized, composed of students making "ones" in English. Mr. Morgan's Senior English Class also organized under the name of Ye Olde English Club. May this department continue in the future as in the present, to rise from its old fashioned position as one of the "required" and therefore abhorred subjects. May it, as it has this year, take the place which rightfully belongs to it, among the subjects to be "mastered and learned." May those teachers who have striven to impart to us at least a partial appreciation of the literature of the language which we speak; who have tried to help us speak and write that language at least somewhat similarly to the way it should be spoken; may those teachers realize the gratitude of those students who now are leaving K. C. H. S. Perhaps it will not be expressed by them, perhaps it will be only an unsprouted seed in the minds of those from whom it shall come; but it is there and when more years bring on more realization, the sunshine of heart shall make it spring to life, and blossom out as the rarest flower of that rare plant called gratitude.

When we were Freshmen meek and small,
 We thought it was a bugabear;
 When we were Sophomores loud and tall,
 We took it like a convict's share;
 When we were Juniors so sedate,
 We joyfully saw our labor's fate;
 When we were Seniors wise and great,
 Alas, we took English 7-8.

Languages

Someone has said that to be educated one must know the languages: the languages of nature, of art, of beauty, and last but not least, some of the languages of one's fellow-men. If this be true, then the students of K. C. K. H. S. are well on their way to being educated. The interest in the languages is very high. Latin, the foundation of French, Spanish, and a great part of English, holds a high position in the languages studied. It has been taught not with the mere purpose of a letter-perfect knowledge of what has been called a dead language, but rather as a help to the better understanding of the English language and an appreciation of that ancient literature and civilization which have continued throughout the centuries.

The modern languages have been taught with the purpose in mind of acquiring for the pupils an active understanding rather than a passive knowledge, together with the appreciation that a language embodies the mind and soul of a nation. Though many of the students of these languages may never visit the countries where they are spoken, yet through the efforts of their instructors, their knowledge has been increased, their appreciation quickened, and their vision broadened.

"Language is an art, and a glorious one, whose influence extends over all others, and in which all science must center."—Tooke.

Social Science

A. M. Miller

W. J. Logan

J. B. Tague

H. W. Ross

Those studies which make clear the relations of Mankind to each other, their past deeds, their present needs, and their future possibilities: these are included in the Social Sciences. American and European History, Commercial and Economic Civics, Citizenship and Commercial Law, are taught at various times in the course. For graduation, one year of American History is required. However, most of the students take at least two years of social science. Next year it is planned to put even more emphasis on these studies. Since they teach the obligations and responsibilities of citizenship, the social sciences are most necessary to those who intend to become constructive citizens. Toward this end, the instructors in this department, have worked faithfully and patiently. If the students go out of K. C. K. H. S., with some realization of what they owe to society, to these, their teachers, belongs the credit.

"History is philosophy teaching by example."

Science

Ray Busenbark J. G. Bell E. Brown W. P. Harriss Gladys Beck L. B. Grimsley

In this age when science is all-powerful, no educational institution would be complete without an adequate science department. K. C. K. H. S. is fortunate in having a competent corps of science teachers, and a very complete department in that line. Botany, Biology, and Physiology represent the Biological Sciences; General Science, Physics and Chemistry the Physical Sciences. Although there are many different subjects, there is much co-operation between them. The science teachers have labored faithfully with the purpose in mind, "Not necessarily to make scientists, but to produce students." To them is due much of the credit for the high standards of this High School.

"The strength of all sciences consisteth in their harmony, each supporting the other—for were it not better for a man in a fair room to set up one great light or branching candlesticks of lights, than to go about with a small watch candle into every corner."

Mathematics

M. Schimelfenig R. E. Clark Mary Helwig W. A. Smith Lucy Dougherty W. H. White

Mathematics is one of the strongest departments in the High School. As two years of Mathematics, Algebra and Geometry, are required for graduation, the Mathematic teachers are in touch with, and exert an influence over all the pupils who go through the school. Most of the students are not content with two years, and usually take at least one semester more of mathematics.

Of all the things to which we've been
Exposed to, in four years of sin,
Two things we're sure, have taken strong
And they'll stick with us all life long
Those Algebraic A. B. C.'s
And Geometric Q. E. D.'s.

"Mathematics charm the passions, restrain the impetuosity of imagination, and purge the mind from error and prejudice; besides they may serve for a pleasant entertainment for those hours which young men are apt to throw away upon vices; the delightfulness of them being such as to make solitude not only easy but desirable."

Commercial

A. M. Bogle

J. E. Boyd

Ethel Baugh

Mary Sellards

Alta Haynes

Kate Sellards

The Commercial department with its expert teachers is essential to the educational efficiency of Kansas City, Kansas High School. Many of the things studied in high school may never be put to practical use, but rather serve to develop the mind. Those things learned in the Commercial department will be found to be most useful in life after leaving school. Business principles, Bookkeeping, Salesmanship, Commercial Arithmetic, Typewriting and Shorthand are included in the course. The fact that the graduates of this department are always in demand by business men, testifies to the efficiency of the instruction. The service rendered the High School by the Typewriting department is beyond comparison. It is called upon to render some service every day of the school year, which task it proceeds to perform quickly, efficiently, and with tireless energy. The funds of the High School are in charge of Mr. Bogle and it is due to his untiring efforts that the many thousands of dollars making up the fifty some different funds, are kept straight. With her many other duties Miss Haynes is also librarian. The efforts of the Commercial department are appreciated by all the students and teachers.

Household Arts

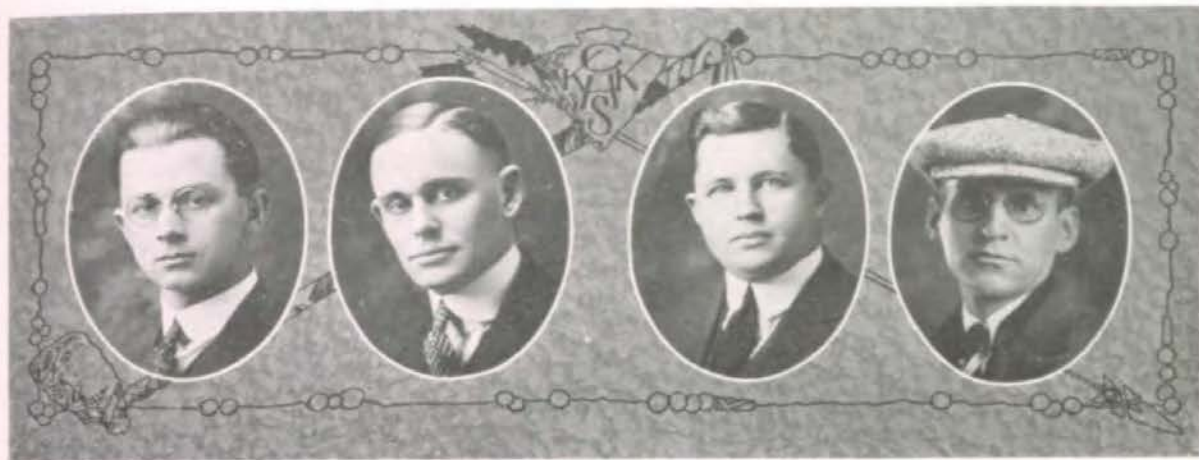

Effie Adams

Reva Lint

Flossie Brown

This department is a very important one, for the girls. Every girl is encouraged to take at least one year of Household Arts. Two subjects are taught. Domestic Science, taught by Miss Adams, includes the study of foods and their preparation and Household Management. The girls learn to cook all kinds of foods, and learn the comparative value of different foods. Domestic Art, taught by Miss Lint and Miss Brown, includes Sewing and the study of clothes and textiles. In the same way as other departments, the Household Arts department is called on to serve the High School, with its knowledge and skill. The Domestic Art department has made the costumes for many of the school plays and has put on several fashion shows. Miss Adams has helped with her department many times, to make things successful in the school.

Mechanic Arts

J. D. Wolfe

C. N. Jones

A. S. Marvin

E. E. Damon

The Mechanic Arts department is made up of four very different subjects. Wood-working, taught by Mr. Wolfe, is an efficient department, although perhaps it deserves better equipment. This department is also called on by the school for a good many services. Machine Shop and Pattern Making are taught by Mr. Marvin, while many of the students take the subject for the training it gives, yet many become expert machinists under the efficient instruction, and will, no doubt, later fill important positions as such. Mechanical and Architectural Drawing are taught by Mr. Jones. These subjects are very practical and are much in demand. The products of this department include blue-prints, specifications for buildings and lettering. It is called upon to render many services to the school and it always answers the call. The Printing department with Mr. Damon as instructor is one of the most important departments of the High School. It is conducted along the lines of a regular printing establishment, and its activities include the printing of four school newspapers, grade cards, calendars, report sheets, certificates of different kinds, tickets, programs, posters, in short everything imaginable that is necessary to be printed for the High School.

Fine Arts

Anna Keener

Vivian Turner

Victor Liska

This year the Art Department has been reorganized by Miss Keener. The results of her efforts have been evident throughout the year. Besides the regular course in Freehand Drawing which includes all the regular art work, there are two new courses, Interior Decoration and Costume Designing. The class in Interior Decoration has taken the art room as a study and used their knowledge in making it more harmonious in effect. Their studies include design, color scheme, etc. The course in Costume Designing centers principally in the study of designs. Some of the crafts are also included in this course. "Tie and Dye" and Batik were studied. Textile designs and the painting of trays were also included. However, the greatest value gained from the study of these subjects is an appreciation for good art. This appreciation has been the highest goal of Miss Keener's efforts.

This is Mr. Liska's first year in this High School. He has reorganized the music department and it has flourished under his direction. May his next year in this School be as successful as this year.

In the spirit of sincere appreciation, it may be said that to Miss Turner belongs the credit for whatever success Kansas City Kansas High School has achieved in the way of drama during the last two years.

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB

BOYS' GLEE CLUB

ORCHESTRA

BAND

Glee Clubs

The Glee Clubs have been very active under the direction of Mr. Liska. They produced "The Pennant," a farce on school life. Besides the Glee Clubs have given many concerts at the different churches. By means of these concerts, much money was raised for the Music department. In March, a Minstrel Show was put on which was pronounced by all to be a great success. The Boys' Glee Club won second place at the Annual Music Contest held in Emporia, April 14, 1922.

The officers of the Boys' Glee Club are Chester Kunz, president; Virginia Clevenger, vice-president; Harding Wingett, secretary; Ralph Werbe, librarian.

The officers of the Girls' Glee Club are: Mildred Lewis, president; Frances Williamson, vice-president; Louise Hoch, secretary-treasurer; D'Arlene Madison, librarian.

Band and Orchestra

The Band, a new feature in the High School, is composed of twenty-eight pieces. Uniforms were obtained for the members, and this new organization entered into the High School activities. The value of this organization is beyond estimation. It added pep to the football and basket ball games and accompanied the Wyandotte delegation to the Kansas Day Exercises at Topeka. The Band won second place and a cup at the Music Contest held at Emporia.

This year the orchestra had forty-three pieces. The orchestra entered the music contest at Emporia, April 14, winning third place. K. C. K. H. S. may well be proud of her violinists, for Leopold Shopmaker received first place in the violin contest.

The Kansas Annual Music Contest at Emporia was the big event of the year. The Kansas City, Kansas High School chartered a special train to take the 125 students to Emporia. The music students displayed the spirit of K. C. High when they marched up the main street of Emporia to Albert Taylor Hall, with banners waving. The Kansas City, Kansas High School won third place in the contest as a whole.

Twelfth Night

“Twelfth Night”

Presented by the Senior Class of 1922, April 21, 1922

The chief aim in the study of applied drama has been appreciation. All plays studied and produced have been of literary value. The development of appreciation led to a desire to present a play by the greatest of all dramatists. Hence Shakespeare's comedy, “Twelfth Night,” was selected for the final effort of the year's work.

Forensics

H. W. ROSS
Debate Coach

The supreme advantage of debate is that it compels a man to think. Training in public speaking is conducted with the aim, first, to produce sound thinkers, second, to train these thinkers in the clear, concise, and effective oral expression of their own thoughts and to support these thoughts by proved evidence and well known authority. The importance of science, method, order, principle, and system is learned in debate. Debate prepares students for better citizenship so that they may be of more service to the community in which they live.

Forensic Council

The Forensic Council is an innovation in the High School. Its membership consists of students who have received a letter in debate. The Council chose for officers:

President	Chester Loughbom
Vice-President	Walter Wingett
Secretary-Treasurer	Elsie Schlosser
Sponsor	Mr. H. W. Ross

The purpose of the Council is not only to take charge of all Inter-High School debates, but also to encourage and promote interest in debate among the students.

When the Council was first organized there were seven members; but during the school year ten names have been added to the roll.

With the graduating of the Class of '22 fourteen members will be taken from the Council, leaving three to continue the work that was so great a factor in making the debate year a successful one.

Larger City League

Winning second place in the Larger City Debate League last year Kansas City, Kansas, again decided to try their luck this year. Heretofore the league was entered by schools from all sections of the state. This year, however, it was divided and only three schools took out membership in the Northeast Kansas division of the league. They were Leavenworth, Atchison, and Kansas City.

The question, "Resolved, That Further Immigration of the Yellow Race Into the United States Should be Prohibited," was debated.

The first debate was held February 23, 1922, between Leavenworth High School and Kansas City Kansas High School. The negative team, composed of Kenneth Tarpley, Jessie Clyde, and Robert Klempnauer, made the trip to Leavenworth. The affirmative team, composed of Frances McCarthy, Elsie Schlosser, and Mont Clair Spear, debated at home. Again K. C. K. H. S. was victorious.

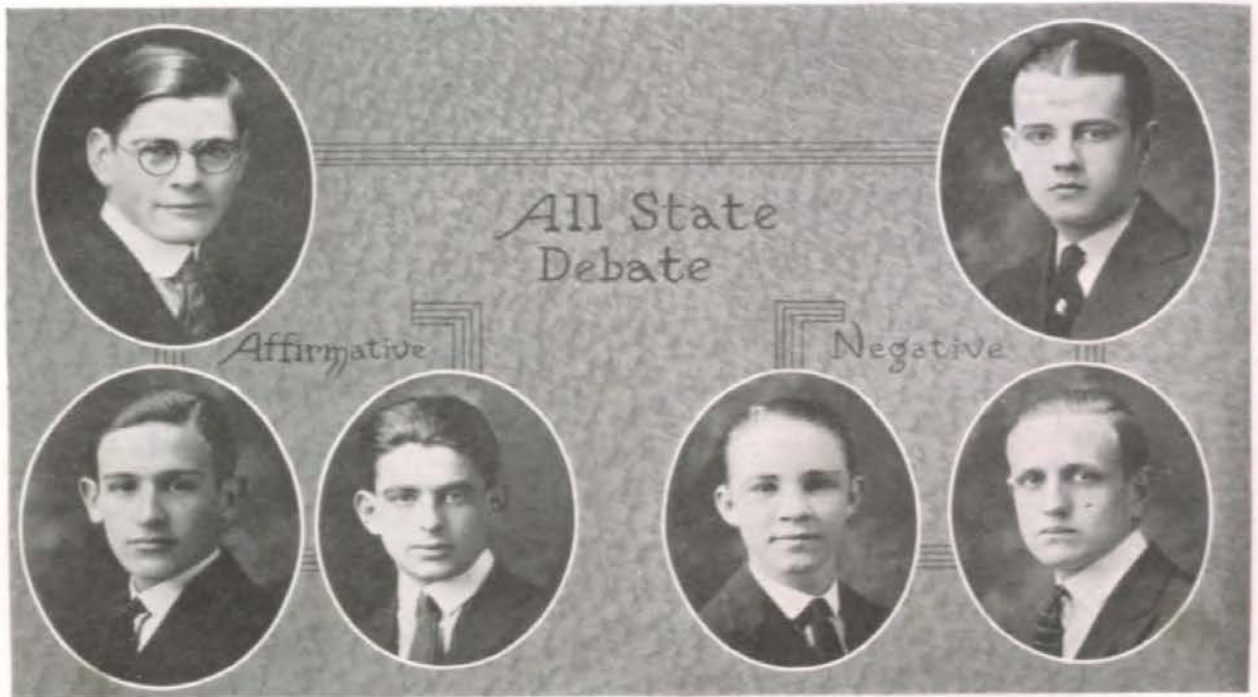

March 7, 1922, the affirmative team journeyed to Atchison and the negative team remained here. Successful as always at home, Kansas City won a unanimous decision; of the other end of the debate we can only say: No one ever spoke truer words than he who said: "Every man sometime meets his Waterloo." Witness, this year's debate at Atchison. A fine team met a better team and a fine team lost.

Although Atchison won two to one at Atchison, Kansas City, Kansas, has maintained her high standard and now holds the Championship of the Northeast Kansas division of the Larger City League.

The Larger City League in all probability will be reorganized next year, with a greater number of schools in this section as members, under the name of the Kaw Valley Debate League.

All-State League

The close of the school year of 1920-1921, found Kansas City Kansas High School in possession of the championship of the second district in the All-State Debate League. This year the High School again entered the race, with Lawrence and the State Championship as their goal.

The question, "Resolved that the United States should grant immediate independence to the Philippine Islands." The teams chosen were: Affirmative, John Alden, Brewster Morgan and Morris Killmnick; negative, Chester Loughbom, Walter Wingett, and Marvin Barnes.

On January 17, 1922, Kansas City, Rosedale and Olathe met in a triangular debate which resulted in unanimous decisions in favor of Kansas City. The schools next to leave the race were Paola and Vinland. Kansas City met and defeated them, January 30, thus maintaining the supremacy of K. C. K. H. S. Colony now remained the only obstacle on the track leading to the district championship. This was cleared, February 10, with colors flying, and the teams brought home another cup, the second to be won in debate. K. C. K.'s debaters reached the district championship without a single decision against them.

The debate with Atchison, March 28, 1922, gave Kansas City the championship of the first and second districts. The affirmative team went to Atchison. This was the closest debate of the year. The negative team won a two to one decision, while the affirmative lost two to one. Although tied for decisions, the Crimson teams received higher grades, and won the inter-district championship by 20 points.

Kansas City entered the semi-finals with Neodesha, winner of the third and fourth district, April 13. The debate was held at Neodesha, Kansas City's negative team travelling. By a two to one decision K. C. K. H. S. again proved her superiority and won the right to enter the State finals at Lawrence. The chances for becoming State Champions are the brightest and in all probability the teams will bring home the cup from Lawrence. If the improbable should happen, the debaters have made a good showing, and set a fast pace for next year's debaters to attain. However, the unforeseen is not going to happen, and all are looking forward to Kansas City, Kansas High School being the conqueror. Rah! for the State Champion Debaters.

Abbott Phalps—Abbott quoted everything from the Bible down to the latest telephone directory.

Katie Schlenker—The debater who could bring tears to the eyes of a brass Buddha. Her entreating eyes and agonized expression won the hard-hearted judges, who wiped their eyes and wrote, "Affirmative."

Kenneth Dengel—The fastest talking debater who ever used the Wood-Forbes report. He gave the atmosphere terrific punishment. The judges gave two rounds to the atmosphere. (Rosedale.)

Margaret Morgan—The girl with the smile like a poor man's lease, from year to year. She smiled, the audience smiled, the judges smiled, and K. C. K. H. S. smiled, when K. C. K.'s teams won the debate.

Moyne Deane—Another Junior with a reputation as a debater. Moyne made the judges think they were getting flowers by wire.

Kenneth Tarpley—His fictitious facts and figures made his opponents gasp, and while they were recovering the judges gave the vote to the Negative.

Kansas City League

In hope of arousing interest in debate throughout the city, Mr. Ross, Kansas City debate coach, organized the Kansas City League early in the year.

Although all the High Schools in the city were asked to enter, Rosedale and K. C. K. H. S. were the only ones to accept.

The question for debate was, "Resolved, That the United States Should Grant Immediate Independence to the Philippine Islands."

The debate was held February 3, 1922. The affirmative team, composed of Katie Schlenker, Abbott Phelps, and Kenneth Dengel, went to Rosedale, while the negative team, composed of Margaret Morgan, Moyne Dean, and Kenneth Tarpley, remained at home.

The negative team, at home, won a two to one decision. At Rosedale the debate was a fight to a finish and Kansas City lost two to one. The debaters were foemen worthy; the school can well be proud of the team that represented K. C. K. H. S., but their opponents were unusually good, that was all. The winning of the debate was decided by grades, and Kansas City won by twenty-seven points, thus giving her the championship in the Kansas City League.

It is expected that the League will again be organized next year, and that many more secondary schools will apply for membership. However, Kansas City has a good start, and no doubt will come out ever victorious.

Debate Club

The Kansas City Kansas High School Debate Club was formed by the merging of the two debate clubs of last year. The officers chosen were:

President	Orin F. Nolting
Vice-President	Elsie Schlosser
Secretary	Brewster Morgan
Treasurer	Kenneth Tarpley
Sponsor	Mr. H. W. Ross

The main object of the Club is the promotion of interest in debate among the students of the High School.

The Debate Club is one of the most active organizations in the school, its membership being composed of students on the debate teams and those interested in this activity.

At the meetings which are held semi-monthly, an interesting program is given or a debate held. One of the most important inter-club debates was that with the Kansas City University, in which both our teams won unanimous decisions.

The training acquired in debating is not only an aid in public speaking but helps one to express himself concisely and clearly whenever he may be called on to do so.

Besides the benefits derived from debating the Club has enjoyed several social events.

Organizations

Clubs and organizations are vital in the production of school spirit. The Kansas City Kansas High School is very fortunate in having teachers and students interested enough along certain lines to organize clubs and societies.

A student must enter into the club life of school in order to get the real benefits of school life. The clubs foster self-confidence, which is indispensable to one's social success as well as business success.

Every student in High School should participate in as many activities as he possibly can, as the organizations cultivate better acquaintance and better friendship among the students and faculty advisors.

Another year has quickly passed, and again the Quiverian is presented to the public. It is the hope of the staff that this edition will prove a success. It has been a pleasure for the editors to make this Quiverian possible, but it would have been a hopeless task without the aid which was received from the faculty advisors, Mr. Bell and Miss Patterson. The amount of time and labor they have spent to make every detail of the annual the very best is heartily appreciated by the editors, and the staff wishes to take this opportunity to thank them. At this time, too, the staff desires to thank the Burger Engraving Co., and the Schooley Printing Co., for their helpful suggestions, and also the many students who have given their help willingly whenever called upon. It is to this spirit of co-operation that the Quiverian owes its success.

The Pantograph

The third year of the Pantograph's existence was fully as successful as the first two. Due to the increased number of advanced journalism students who returned, the Pantograph appeared for the first time on September 23, several weeks earlier than the previous year. On this day, subscription campaign was started in which over 800 subscriptions were obtained. The Pantograph offered a prize to the class having the largest number of paid subscriptions, a silver loving cup, measuring fifteen inches in height. The originality of the idea appealed to the students and the classes went into the race with much enthusiasm. When the campaign ended, it was discovered that the Senior class had the greatest percentage of paid subscriptions. They had a total of sixty-five per cent of the class subscribers to the Pantograph. The Juniors ranked second with fifty-four per cent.

The staff of the Pantograph was appointed early in the year by Miss Helen Patterson, journalism instructor.

The editorial staff entered the paper in the annual state high school newspaper contest last year and was awarded first place by the judges in class one, including papers printed by schools of 500 students or over. It was also awarded second place in class of six papers printed in the schools' own print shop. The Pantograph also expects to enter the 1922 contest and there is no reason why the paper should not receive first place again.

Spanish Club

The Spanish Club is the High School's largest and most active organization. Its membership for the school year of 1921-22 was 175.

THE OFFICERS

Meetings are held regularly once every six weeks period during the second hour. The programs are tinged with as much local color of Spain as possible, in order to stimulate interest. Membership is open to all students of Spanish and also to those who have formerly had one year of the language. The social activities of the club have comprised a carnival given in the gym, a picnic, and several minor events; all being extremely successful. The presentation of "Castillos de Torresnobles," a three-act Spanish play, on the evening of April 6, 1922, was a fitting climax of the most satisfactory year the club has had.

“Castillos de Torresnobles”

“Castillos de Torresnobles,” the second annual play of the Spanish department was presented April 6, 1922, featuring the ten characters shown in the above picture.

The play was highly successful and was well received by a large audience. It portrayed Spanish life in castle and village, and was full of local color and action; moonlight serenades and special musical numbers adding a great deal and giving a true Spanish background.

Honor Society

"Make 'Ones' in your subjects" is the motto always before the eyes of the ninety-three members of the Honor Society. The society's purpose is to make the scholarship standard in Kansas City Kansas High School the highest in the state, and advancement toward that goal has been rapid. With twenty-four more members than last year and an increase in the honor roll of over twenty-five per cent, the club's activities have far surpassed those of former years.

The officers elected for this year are:

President	Brewster Morgan
Vice-President	Harold Minnear
Secretary	Donald Coburn
Treasurer	Bernhard Alden
Sponsor	Miss Garrett

The inauguration last year of awarding "K's" to all students placing on the honor roll six times brought forth remarkable results: five more students receiving letters this year than last. This public recognition of excellence in scholarship has been a great factor in the development of the society of which nearly eight per-cent of the student body are members. The students who received honor "K's" last year and returned to school again this year were John Alden, Orin Nolting, Jesse Clyde, Margaret Morgan, Opal Southard, Harding Wingett, Carl Hepp, Helen Saunders, Thomas Cunningham, Lorraine Bowler, Robert Shannon, Inez Gillett, Alma Hahn, Ruth Dale, Elsie Schlosser, Genevieve Young, and Moyne Dean. These are the students who have attained the acme of scholarship, the highest position in the Honor Society.

Societas Classica

The Classical Club is reorganized each year at the beginning of the second semester. It is the only club besides the Honor Society that has a standard of scholarship as a basis of membership. Students who have had at least one semester of Latin and are making a grade of not less than "two" in all academic subjects are eligible.

The officers elected were:

Consul Primus	Brewster Morgan
Consul Secundus	Helen Saunders
Scriba	Nellie Freeman
Quaestor	Carl Hepp
Mentor	Mr. R. L. Ward
Concilium	Orin Nolting

Several interesting programs depicting Roman life and customs were given the latter part of the year. The Classical Club has always stood for the promotion of more interest in the study of Latin. A member of the club, after making a thorough investigation, found that there were 452 students in the High School who had studied or were studying Latin.

Le Cercle Francais

Vous Demandez si nous avons un Cercle Francais? Oui, Monsieur, Mair permettez moi de vous repondre en Anglais.

The French Club confers upon the school a signal honor, since it is a university branch of the great international organization, "La Federation de L' Alliance Francaise." To strengthen brotherly relations with France, the members carry on correspondence with students in French colleges, and the club supports a French orphan, Marie Vermet, of Fessy, a town in the Alps. Colloquial French is stimulated by the plays presented before the club and its guests. A program was given in a general assembly in memory of Theodore Roosevelt, who was a member of the organization. A lecture on "Les Miserables," several talks in French by the French consul and other natives of "La Belle France" gave the French students practice in following connected discourse. Hikes and automobile trips furnished relaxation.

So between the class-room work and the club activities the members feel that they are doing their part in developing a sympathetic and intelligent appreciation of French institutions and ideals.

Officers for the year 1921-22 are:

- President John Alden
- Vice-President Isabel Miller
- Secretary Rachael Cathcart
- Treasurer Brewster Morgan
- Sponsor Miss Ethel Vaughan

The Art Club

The Art Club is organized from among the members of the art classes.

The club has held several meetings under the leadership of its officers, who are:

President	Russell Peterson
Vice-President	Harold Borowski
Secretary-Treasurer	Helen Radford

With the assistance of its sponsor, Miss Keener, the club was able to bring the great landscape painter, Birger Sandzen, to the Kansas City Kansas High School for a lecture.

At a special assembly the Art Club raised sufficient funds among the students to buy a landscape painting by Sandzen which will hang permanently in the high school.

Members of the club in the various classes study cartooning, poster painting, commercial art, landscape drawing, still life, and crayon drawings.

The club considers itself honored that its sponsor won the bronze medal with a woodcut at the annual exhibit of the art institute in Kansas City, Missouri.

The Art Club inculcates a full understanding of the usefulness and importance of art work to the student as tersely expressed by Ruskin who says, "Remember always you have two characters in which all greatness of art consists:—First, the earnest and intense seizing of natural facts; then the ordering those facts by strength of human intellect, so as to make them, for all who look upon them, to the utmost serviceable, memorable, and beautiful."

A membership campaign was soon launched, the result being that 250 girls signed up for membership. The purpose of the club is to develop complete physical fitness, to encourage mental improvement, to broaden fellowship, and to foster Christian understanding.

THE OFFICERS

President	Edith Haak
Vice-President	Elizabeth Eagle

Meetings were held every other Wednesday at which varied programs were given. The programs were only a small part of the good times enjoyed by the members. Among the other events of the year were a truck ride to Wildwood, a Hallowe'en party and a Mothers' and Daughters' banquet. The club sponsored an interclass basket ball tournament and presented a cup to the winners. At Christmas time, the club helped to give a party for about 150 poor children. Eight girls attended the mid-winter conference at Topeka, bringing back many new ideas for the coming year. Much of the success of the club is due to the efforts of some of the faculty advisors and Miss Bedrosian, the High School, and the Industrial Secretary of the Y. W. C. A.

The Hi-Y

The Hi-Y was first organized in 1920 with the purpose to create, maintain and extend throughout the School and community, high standards of Christian character, to promote clean speech, clean athletics, clean scholarship and clean living:

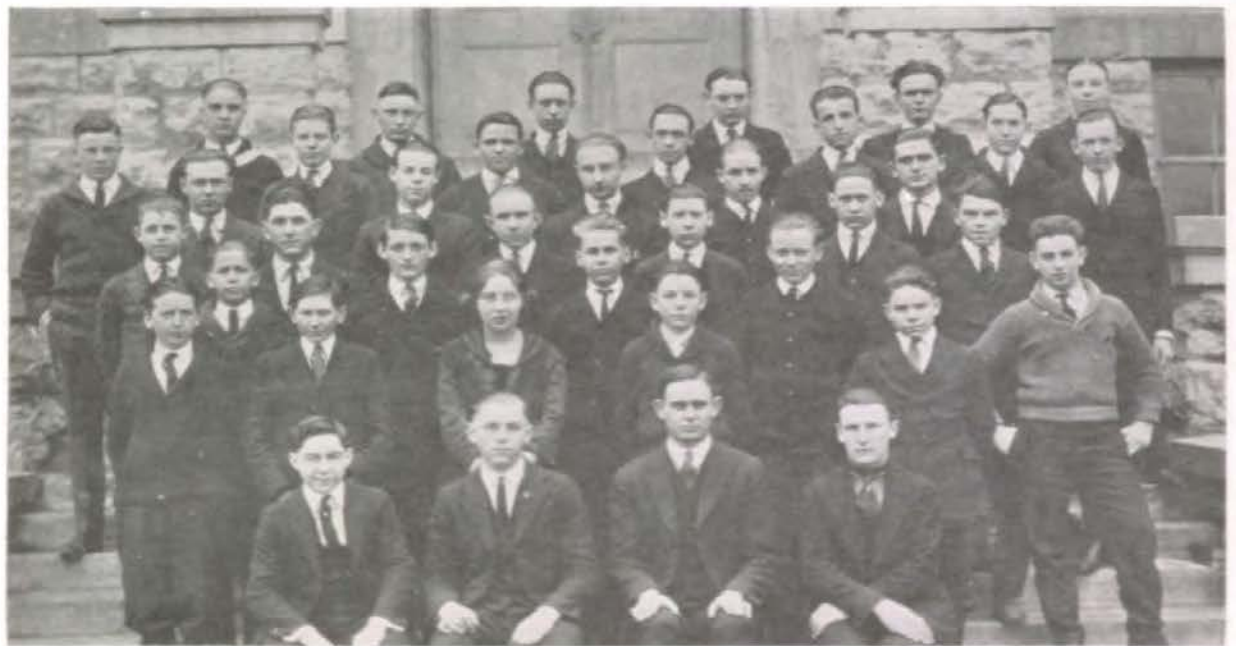

The officers elected were:

President	John Alden
Vice-President	Lester Kornfeld
Secretary-Treasurer	Brewster Morgan
Sponsors.....	Mr. J. I. Wolfe, Mr. Ray Busenbark, Mr. W. A. Smith

This year the Hi-Y gave the football banquet, at which "Potsy" Clark, K. U. football coach, was honor guest.

The Hi-Y also conducted the Inter-Class Basketball Tournament. The club sent Mr. Wolfe, Chester Kunz, and Donald Coburn, as delegates to the Older Boys' Conference at Emporia.

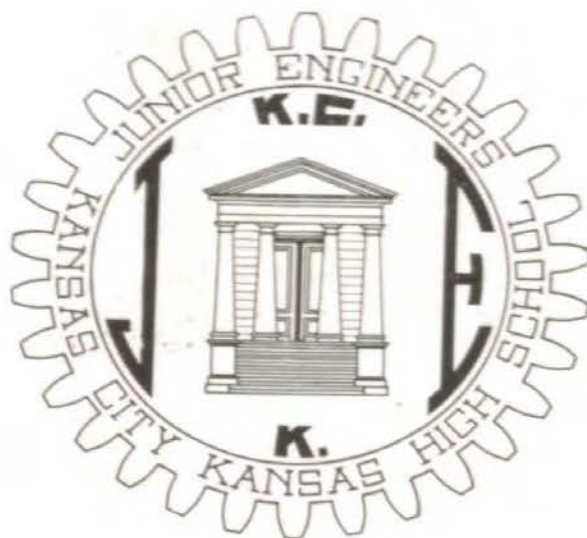

On Wednesday, March 15, the club conducted a special boys' assembly, at which Mr. B. V. Edworthy, State Boys' Secretary, spoke. During the remainder of the day Mr. Edworthy held personal conferences with many of the boys. In the evening the officers of the club entertained Mr. Edworthy with a dinner at the Grund.

Junior Engineers' Club

The Junior Engineers' Club was organized February 10, 1922, for the purpose of promoting a higher standard of scholarship in engineering, uniting the five classes of mechanical and architectural drawing in the school into one active organization and striving for the advancement of engineering both as a science and a profession.

The following officers elected at the time of organization were: Engineer-in-Chief, Mont Clair Spear; Assistant Engineer-in-Chief, Milburn Ross; Secretary-Treasurer, John Ogden, and Advisor, C. N. Jones.

The Senior Party

The Senior Party of 1922 was enshrouded in mystery for several weeks before it occurred. This served to bring out every class member, and when the time for the party arrived, every senior who was not otherwise engaged, appeared at the gymnasium. Upon their arrival, the guests discovered that the hall had been converted into a large barn. The floor was covered with hay, sawdust and straw. Chickens of two varieties were present, and between the cackling of one variety, the giggling of the others, and shouting of the boys, a hubbub ensued until the crowd gathered to hear a short program which had been arranged by the party committee. The clown chorus brought a storm of laughter and applause from the merry-makers. Harley Stephens and Ralph Russell each sang a solo. Chester Loughbom in his Sheik dance, however, capped the climax of the program and really made the program a success. Refreshments were served following the program. The unusual variety of the "eats" appealed to everyone, especially the boys, some of whom were suspected of going without supper so they might make up for lost time at the party.

The party now became a huge mixer and the boys and girls mingled together with the result that many new friendships were started. And so when the time for leaving came, the Seniors were surprised to find that the evening had slipped by so quickly and with some regret that their school days were nearly finished.

Junior-Senior Reception

The Junior-Senior reception, April 29, was acknowledged by Juniors and Seniors alike as the big social event of the year. A banquet at the Chamber of Commerce club rooms interspersed with music and followed by short after-dinner speeches was the main attraction, but there was more than this. Before the dinner a short "get-together" period devoted entirely to becoming acquainted with the Junior or Senior you didn't know was held, and it was a revelation to some Seniors to find out how many of their classmates they didn't know after going to school with them four years.

Then came the call to "eats" which was answered by a rush. And how they did eat. Over three hundred hungry students asking for "More bread, please," "Kindly pass the sugar," and "Just one more cup, thank you." The Seniors appreciated the treat given them by the Juniors, and the Juniors enjoyed entertaining the Seniors as well as having a wonderful time themselves.

Finally, after the last dish of ice cream had disappeared, and all the dishes had been cleared away, the speaking began. First came a speech by Mr. Rice and then some talks by some of the students. The talks were enjoyed by everybody, being short and to the point. After the speeches the reception was officially over, but little groups gathered here and there to talk over the evening's pleasure. "It was a real reception," said the Seniors. "Thank you," the Juniors replied.

Junior Party

The 1922 Junior class of the Kansas City Kansas High School had for its class party this year something different from the class parties of previous years. They had a theatre party at Newman's Royal, Kansas City, Missouri. There were loge seats reserved for the one hundred Juniors who attended. The feature play was "Bebe Daniels" in "A Game Chicken." Everyone who attended enjoyed the picture and thought that was a good way to get the class together and get acquainted. The students had a good jolly time in a gentlemanly way and were not boisterous or rough as some groups of high school students are inclined to be when they get together for a social time. They voted this type of party a distinct success, due to the novelty of the idea.

The Sophomore Party

One of the peppiest parties of the year was the Sophomore mixer held in the gymnasium the twenty-first of January. The class was well represented and the fun started with a grand march led by Bernice Brown, who, together with Miss Barnhart, had charge of the games. The march became a snake dance which broke up to give way to a fast and exciting peanut hunt. Ted Coffin's group won. When everyone had recovered from the general scramble, refreshments of punch and ice cream sandwiches were served and then the fun was renewed. In the game that followed, the boys who lost in "Whip-rope" had to pay a forfeit. Everyone enjoyed a surprise when the boys came out in tissue paper ballet skirts to pay their forfeits and did a Hula-Hula dance.

After another snake dance and with everyone in high spirits, the festivities closed.

The Freshman Party

The most successful Freshman party of the year was given at the "Gym" at Eighth and Armstrong on Friday evening, April 7, 1922.

Over one hundred and seventy-five guests were present, including some of the faculty. The features of entertainment, which were five concessions, proved to be the most popular event of the evening. The concessions were "Men Only," "A Swimming Match," "Long Distance Runner," "Art Gallery," and "Fortune Telling." The Fortune Telling booth was very popular. Many humorous and clever prophesies were made, telling the Freshman of his future. Two cents admission was charged to each concession.

Games were played during the evening. Some of these were the "Flying Dutchman," "Red Rover," and "The Squirrel in the Tree."

The orchestra was composed of five pieces. The Freshman musicians furnished much popular music for the evening. The orchestra played some numbers while the refreshments were being served. The refreshments were ice cream sandwiches, which proved very delightful after playing lively games all evening.

The members of the class became acquainted with each other during the two hours of fun. The party proved a financial as well as a social success.

The Shirt Tail Parade

Shirt tail parades! Kansas City, Kansas High School, has had many of them but the one last October 21, was voted the most successful of them all. It was a day of success. The ever-victorious football team carried the crimson and white banner to victory when it defeated Leavenworth high school that afternoon. The student body scored another victory that night when it carried off the $100 prize offered by officials of the Food Show for the organization having the largest crowd at the exhibit.

Never was there so much school spirit. The team was met at the interurban line and literally carried down the Avenue. Street cars ceased to run, automobiles stopped, and all Kansas City, Kansas gazed at the wondrous sight: hundreds of students marching in night shirts, headed by a blaring band. The oldest residents had never seen such a sight. On went the madly yelling line, circling street cars, around lamp posts and telegraph poles, on down to Sixth street.

Nothing could daunt this cheering, laughing, crowd of boys and girls, led by the band playing "Onward K. C." They filed into the Electric theater, up and across the stage before the astonished eyes of 2,000 people, and finally passing out into the street, they trooped down to the Food Show.

Here the band remained, playing several numbers, while the students viewed and sampled the various foods, and finally tiring of the show, by groups they drifted to the Avenue where new sights awaited them or possibly to their homes where mother's accusing glance told them that they had remained too late. In all it was a glorious night. The clear, crisp autumn air reverberated with school spirit, and the shadows echoed cheers long after the last tired but happy boy had crawled between the covers.

Annual Day

"Anyday," the day chosen by the Senior class for the presentation of the 1922 "Quiverian" was a financial success, over 900 annuals being pledged and later paid for. But "Anyday" was more than a financial success; it was a theatrical success. The entire program was crowded with original wit and humorous acting, which, coupled with clever production made it one of the best programs ever given by a senior class on annual day.

Each department of the book was portrayed by a short scene, all of which were so amusing that the assemblage, teachers included, rocked with mirth while everyone cried "more." After an hour of rollicking entertainment the more serious side and real purpose of the assembly was entered into. However, the students would not permit the mere signing of a card spoil the good time they were having, so while a ten-piece orchestra played, virtually everyone "signed up." Then came "Pass to your third hour class," followed by sighs.

Daydreams

Oh, daydreams what a joy you are,
I'm bringing visions from afar
Of rosy castles in the air
Where all will be so bright and fair.

To children even in their play
Come shining forms of sprite and fay
And dreams of lands with fiery steed
Where each will then be king indeed.

And then the maiden fair and sweet,
Hath dreams of him whom she will meet;
Some valiant knight of noble mind,
To be her lover true and kind.

The young man too, has dreams of fame
Of fortunes great, exalted name,
Of gilded palace blessed by fate
Wherein shall dwell a loving mate.

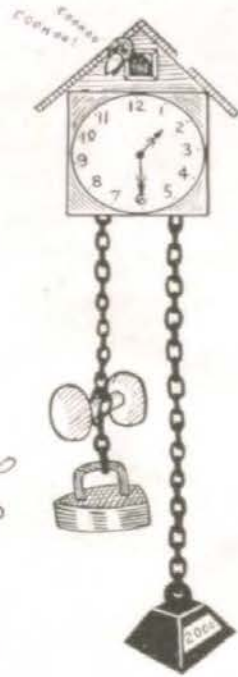

In later years the dreams are filled
With fancies dear and hopes to build
A house of happiness for those
They love, a place of sweet repose.

And tho' they're fanciful, these dreams,
They have their purposes. As beams
Of light they pierce the somber night
And make life kinder seem and bright.

The Alumni Association of the Kansas City Kansas High School extends to the Senior class of 1922 a most cordial welcome into its membership.

The members of the alumni have watched with pride the splendid record of the class of 1922. It has more than lived up to the traditions of the school with respect to scholarship and school activities in all lines. We are sure that the future record of the class of '22 will be as brilliant in dealing with the problems of life as it has been in the class room and in the various contests of brain and brawn in which they have participated. We hope that your interest in the high school will continue and that every member of this year's Senior class will take an active part through the Alumni Association in rendering such assistance as will not only enable the school to continue to occupy the high place it now does, but to become better and better as the years go by.

—M. L. Alden.

Alumni

The Kansas City Kansas High School certainly has reason to be proud of her former graduates. They have won fame for themselves, and at the same time, reflected considerable credit on their high school training in every walk of life. Ralph Foster, who departed from these halls of learning in 1909, was not content with only high school education, and was awarded a scholarship to Oxford University. Then came Glendon Allvine a few years later and became press agent for the Paramount Motion Picture Co. Percy Drisko is a famous cornetist on the Pantages Vaudeville Circuit. The school has produced any number of first-class lawyers. Mr. M. L. Alden, president of the Alumni Association, is probably one of the most successful lawyers who have graduated from here. Roy Hubbard, Nelson E. Johnston and Lee Judy are also former K. C. K. H. S. students. Hubbard and Judy at one time played on the Crimson and White football teams. Frank Farley and Arthur Fecht became noted chemists. The school alumni boasts of many successful business men, among them being Dan Fennell, of the Kansas City Railways Co., Clement Ismert of the Ismert-Hincke Milling Co., and John Carlson, president of the Rotary Club.

Raymond Clapper, who was with President Harding during his presidential campaign, is now at the head of the United Press Bureau in China. Robert Shannon, another old-timer, now is a famous play writer. Ben Young and Irving Root are educators. Maurice and Willard Breidenthal are the school's representatives as bankers. Dr. Richard Speck, of Colorado, and Dr. L. B. Gloyne and Dr. LaVerne Spake of Kansas City, are former students. Archie Chapin, who also studied in these halls of learning, is an artist and cartoonist. Clay Roberts went to Africa and built railroads, but is now at home. Lieut. Com. Joy Omer, Helen Honnell and Ranier McKenzie are missionaries. The Kansas City Kansas High School has worthy representatives in athletics. Every follower of sport has heard of Tristian Spurgeon, or as he is more familiarly known, "Tris" Spurgeon, who plays fullback on the University of Kansas football team. Another Kansas City boy played on the famous Center College eleven. The high school furnished both students and alumni during the World War and many performed deeds of bravery and covered themselves with glory with the Army, Navy and Marines.

Mr. Howard Morgan, Miss Inez Mackinnon, Miss Gladys Beck, Miss Ethel Vaughn, Miss Helen Martin, Miss Maude VanCleave, Miss Reva Lint, Miss Alice Barnhart, Miss Hallie Lasley, Miss Mary Helwig, and Miss Alta Haynes were once mere students here, and not teachers. However, they returned to impart some of the knowledge they received to less fortunates who still had to learn. Mr. F. L. Schlagle, principal of the Argentine High School, once was a follower of the Crimson and White, but he changed his allegiance later. The grade schools of the city also boast a number of high school graduates. A number of school principals at one time went to school at Ninth and Minnesota.

Hereafter if any person asks you what becomes of Kansas City Kansas High School students after they graduate, refer them to the "Quiverian" for substantial evidence that this school contributes her full quota to the hall of fame.

History of the High School

The Kansas City Kansas High School was first founded in 1886 at Seventh and Pacific, the site of the present Riverview School. Dr. John Wherrell was the first principal. Until this time the young people of the city had been content to attend the Palmer Academy, which was organized in 1878 at Seventh and Ann, the present location of the Central School. This institution offered Classical, English, and Commercial courses.

In 1888, the High School was forced to seek a new location and the academy site was bought by the Board of Education. Here the school remained for ten years, when it was again necessary to change the location. Students were being taught in rented quarters, and the attendance was increasing rapidly. In the autumn of 1899, the high school opened in the present location, Ninth and Minnesota. The building at that time consisted of thirty-six rooms, including the auditorium and study hall.

Still the enrollment increased, and it was soon necessary to add the present north section of the building. The removal of the negro students to the Sumner High School proved to be only a temporary relief, and in the period of years from 1903 to 1905 the enrollment increased from 756 to 906. In 1909 it was necessary to build an addition on the south end of the building to accommodate the great increase of students. In 1910 the present building of 79 rooms was opened with Mr. Miller as principal. During Mr. Miller's administration, the night school was inaugurated. It was soon taken over by Mr. I. B. Morgan.

Still the school grew, until now, in 1922, there is an enrollment of close to 1,450 students and 50 teachers are employed. In addition, there is an efficient corps of Janitors. At the present rate of growth, with the building badly crowded, it is only a matter of time before either a new high school will be a necessity, or additional rooms will have to be added on the west.

The school also has a brilliant athletic history, having won the Northeast League Basketball Championship twice and the State Championship in football.

History is still in the making in debate, and a brilliant future is before the Crimson debating squads.

With such a notable past, it seems impossible that the future of this high school can hold anything but success for the students who are to come. The school's teams have shown time after time that they are capable of excelling the schools of Kansas City, Mo., and those in the State of Kansas. It only remains for the students to do it.

Fresh-man Prim-er

A lit-tle Fresh-man has just come to school.
 He is ve-ry happy.
 He says that he will have a Good Time.
 He does not know how man-y les-sons he must learn.
 He thinks that he knows a Great Man-y Things Now.
 Ask the Fresh-man What he Knows.
 He will Tell you at Once.
 The Fresh-man meets man-y O-ther Boys and Girls.
 Some of them are Fresh-men, too.
 The Freshman has no eas-y time.
 He tries to fool his Teach-ers.
 His Teach-ers try to fool him.
 Some of the Teach-ers are very kind.
 Some of them Like the Fresh-men.
 Some of the Fresh-men like their Teach-ers when they give them a good grade.
 My!! wasn't that a hard sen-tence to read?
 I think so. Don't you?
 The Fresh-men had a Part-y.
 All the Boys and Girls came to the Part-y.
 They played Games and Had a Good Time.
 They had man-y things to Eat.
 It was an Hi-la-ri-ous Evening.
 Study hard, Fresh-men, the words are get-ting hard-er all of the time.

The Little Fresh-man has been at School Near-ly a year.
 He has had a Good Year.
 He has Work-ed hard, too.
 Ask him What he knows Now.
 Per-haps he will not Tell you.
 Soon he will have read all this Book.
 Then he will not read the Fresh-man Prim-er an-y more.
 He will be a Soph-o-more.

Advise to Freshmen

Freshmen should linger in the halls between classes and not be so inconsiderate of an instructor as to get to class on time.

The library is set aside for conversation. Persons who look as if they wished to study inform them of the fact that the campus is vacant.

Students are expected to be absent whenever possible. It makes less work for the already over-burdened faculty, and anyway if attendance was regular they never would use up all those absence slips.

Don't waste your time reading all the library references given you. Your teachers have never read all those books, and they think you are mentally unbalanced anyway.

The Tally

It isn't the lesson we intended to do,
 Or the lesson we've just begun,
 That puts our name on the honor roll,
 It's the lessons we've really done.

Our ones are built upon things we do,
 Our sixes on things we shirk,
 The student who totals the biggest plus
 Is the student who completes his work.

Our Friend

There is a clever little bird,
Of whom you all no doubt have heard.
And to our H. S. it's been loyal through and through,
It's the witty little duck of the Class of '22.

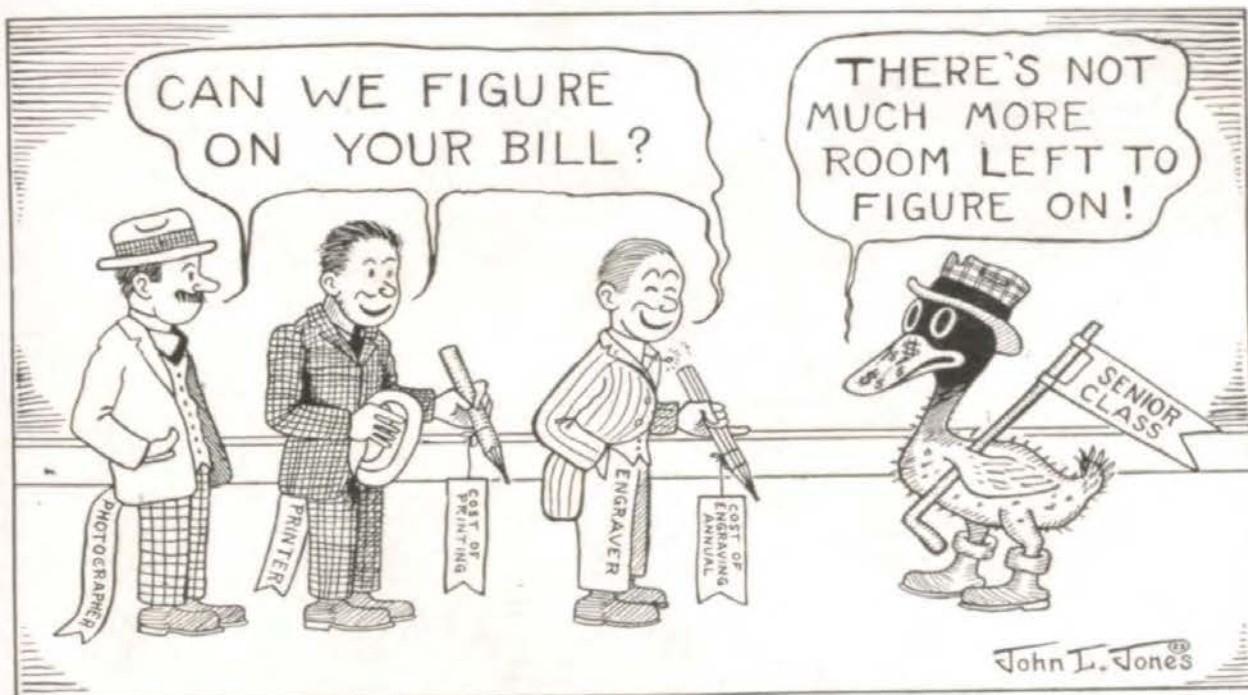

Other mascots this year have been well led,
But when it comes to speed; the duck is at the head.
Who was it away with this year's honors flew?
It was the clever duck of the Class of '22.

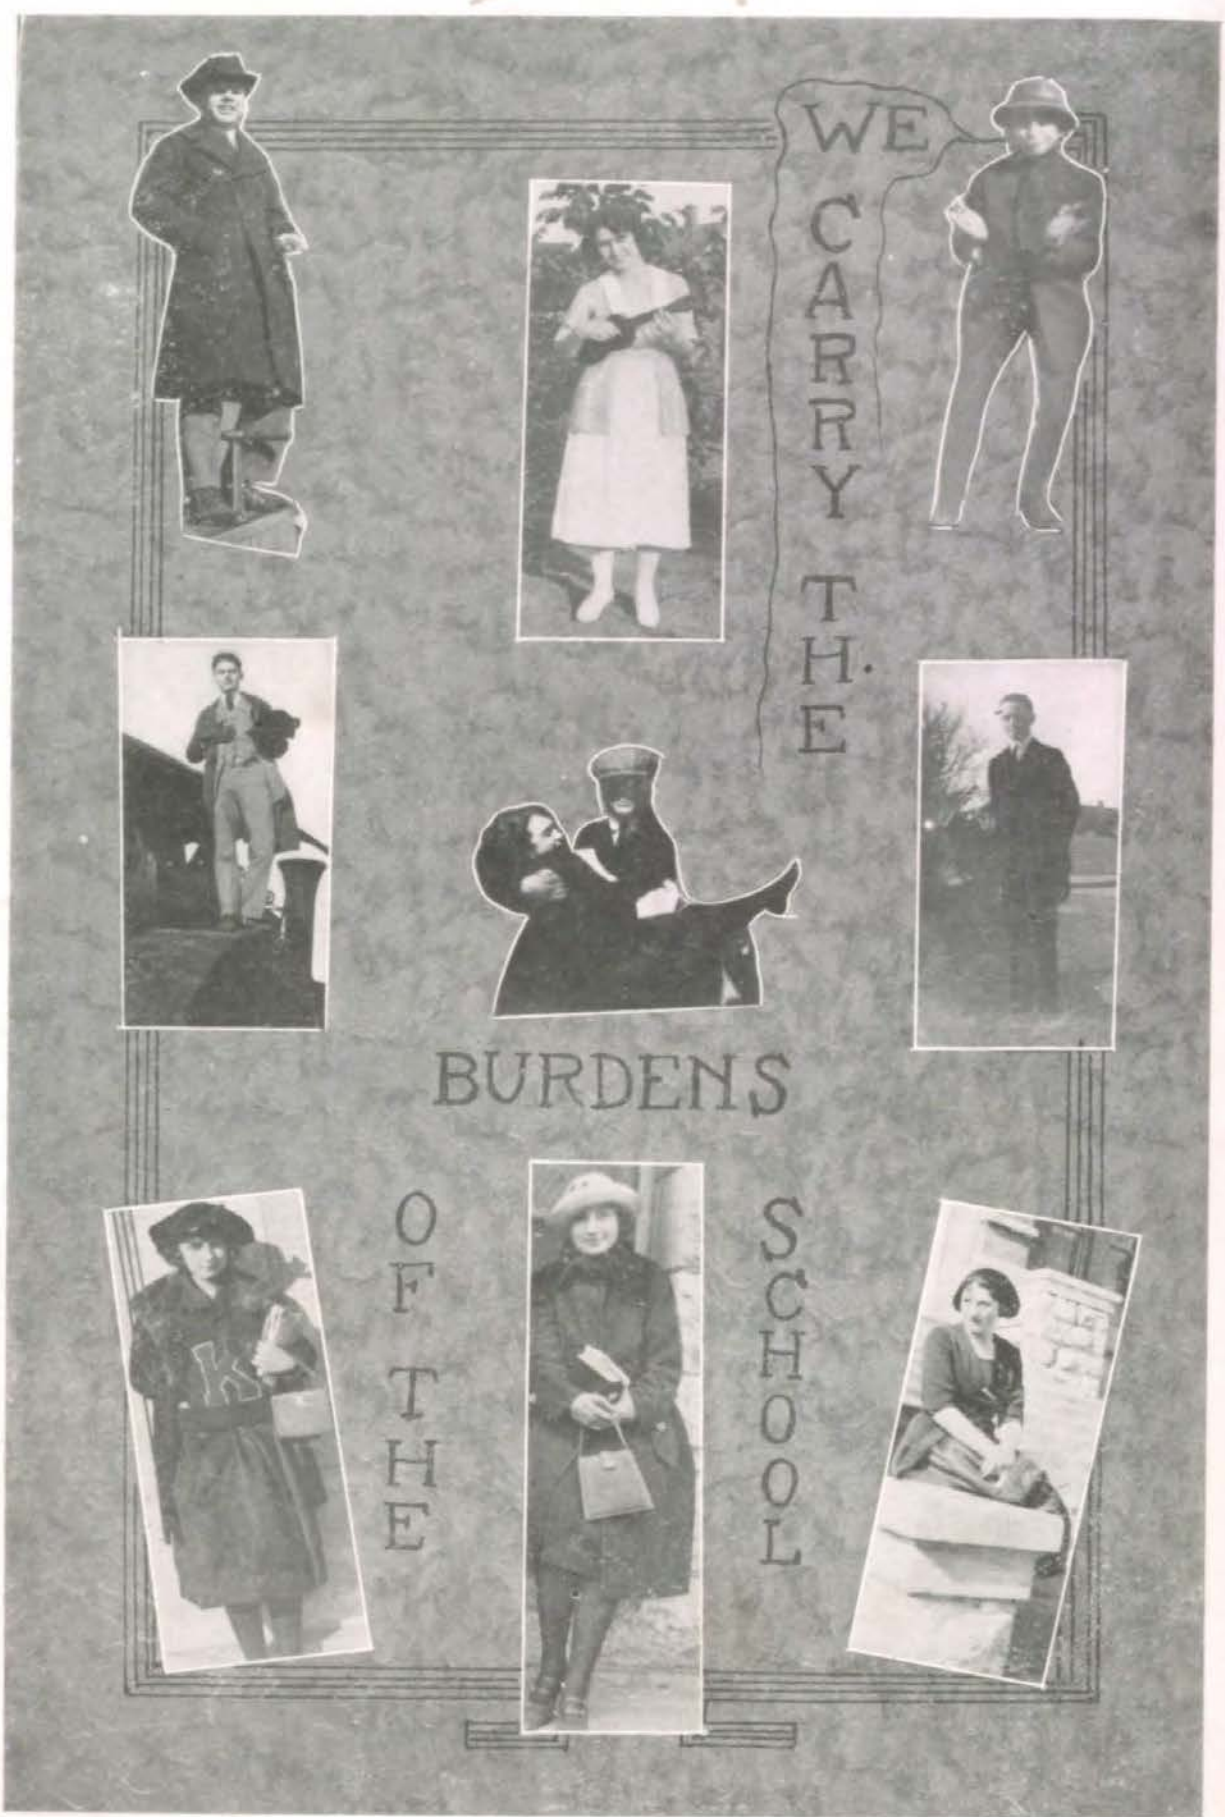

When seeing this boy with two web feet and a big bill
The Seniors will shout hip-hooray, and with pep will fill;
What is it that makes it impossible to feel blue?
It's that smiling little duck of the Class of '22.

And now that we Seniors are going away,
With us the spirit of this friend will stay,
And to our old H. S. it will always be true,
For it has learned a great lesson; the little "duck of '22."

I hope you got along fine with Rice?"

I said it's not right."
"No. What I smoked, dad, were cigars and a pipe."
"You didn't go 'round with the boys who were tough?"
"I went with the girls. But I never was rough."
"You never went to a midnight revue?"
"No. I went with the chorus when they were through."
"I hope you didn't get fighting my son?"
"No one would try it; I would always run."
"I suppose in all sport you took a delight."
"Yes. I loved to dance without any light."
"Did you always try to help your football team win?"
"No. I'd much rather help a girl try and swim."
"How much learning, my boy, can you show?"
"I've forgotten more than you'll ever know."
"I'm glad to see that my son you're a man."
"Yes. I can do more than you ever can."

Senior Picnic for Juniors

You and your sweetheart are cordially invited to attend a moonlight afternoon picnic, given by the Starvation Club at Misery Grove, August 32, 1922. The music will be furnished by the undertakers and directed by Old Black Joe. Admission free for all who have pocket books. Orphans accompanied by parents will be admitted free for 10 cents. To get to the Grove, take the P. M. Railroad. If you miss the boat, swim after it, as there is no extra charge for swimming. Patrol wagons will be furnished free of charge. If the weather is fair, the picnic will be postponed till the next rainy day. Everybody is welcome. While there, eat all you want, but die at home, as all persons found dead in the grove will be arrested. Hoping you will be sorry, we are,

Yours truly,
THE SENIORS.

Cake-Eaters

Why do we have Cake Eaters?
 'Tis a puzzle to all good readers.
 Never the less there's a reason there
 Be it their face or the way they part their hair.

Now they're just Cake Eaters,
 Some day they may be wife-beaters.
 However it is only fair,
 As long as this is just "Hot Air"
 To think of the present Cake Eaters
 As being, some day, our National Leaders.

Though just how, when, or where or why
 This name they have will cease or die,
 Will be for them to contemplate,
 But they will wish the forbidden cake
 They had not ate.

A Mistake

He met her in the pasture
 Where the summer flowers grow,
 And they walked along together,
 In the evening afterglow.

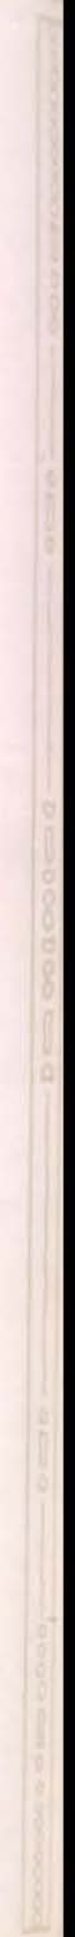

When they reached the gateway
 He stooped to raise the bars
 And she raised her soft eyes to him,
 As radiant as the stars.

But she neither smiled nor thanked him
 Because she knew not how,
 He was a barbed city vamp
 And she a country crumb.

Compound Jumbles

Who ever heard a basket ball,
 To see a dish rag in the hall?
 Or saw a corn stalk silently,
 Watching a maiden blush on the tree?
 Did you ever see a coal chute craps,
 Or a hay stack cards for ginger snaps?
 'Twould be funny to see a buggy whip
 The town pump for a cooling sip?
 Would the shutter stare, with many sighs,
 At the window blind in both its eyes?
 Would the blackberry jam his wooden leg
 In anger through a nail keg?
 It would make the dirty water pail,
 To see a door step on a nail,
 Or watch the cranky fountain pen
 A pig up with a setting hen!
 Should the shoe string beans and never mutter?
 Should the coffee urn its bread and butter?
 The wagon spoke, "don't be absurd,
 Please don't misuse the compound word!"

Mixed Up

The other day while out walking in the park we passed two girls who were very clever looking.

We looked back to see if they looked back to see, if we looked back to see, if they looked back to see, if we were looking back to see, if they were looking back to see, if we were looking back to see, if they were looking back to see.

Chet—"I say, Dick, old boy, some girls!"

Heights

Height of Optimism—Changing your socks from one foot to the other so that the toes will not fit the same holes.

Height of Speed—So fast that when he turns the light out at night he is in bed before the room is dark.

Height of Laziness—A fellow who gets up at 5 o'clock in the morning so he'll have more time to loaf.

Height of Courtesy—A man who retires early rather than keep the bed bugs waiting for their supper.

Height of Substitution—A man who substitutes talcum powder for a bath.

Height of Meat—A girl who is so fat that she wears inner tubes for garters.

Height of Curiosity—A woman sticking her finger into a bowl of soup to see if it leaves a dent.

The Faculty Make-up

Spanish is a language old,
Whose secrets are foretold,
The teachers, Garrett and Thompson
Should remember never to scold.

A mathematics teacher, Miss Dougherty,
Can solve the problem x plus three,
If you do not believe she can,
Ask a foreigner or any man.

As I have said before
And shall say forever more,
That strange and dangerous doctrines
Are heard within Miss Miller's door.

Mary, Mary, quite contrary,
How are your typists getting along,
One bunch here, one bunch there,
The whole bunch typing to a song.

The waters flow in Turkey creek,
The price of pork is sat:
The sorghum runneth sweet and slick
But Jones, He ne'er gets fat!

Mr. Damon supervises printing the news,
And lots of other stuff,
And by the time it all is done,
It's pretty near enough.

The teacher of the "gym" band
Is a man in general demand,
A winner, he, of the athletic dash,
And dreadful handy, at "making a mash."

Amid the town's uncertain whirl
Behold the healthy farmer girl;
She knows the way to crack pecans
And all the field mice' winter plans. (Beck)

Use your brain
That's what it's for,
If you don't
There'll sure be war. (Grimsley).

And pay attention to the music sign.

Judge for Yourself

If she is small, petite and affectionate and has a sort of baby talk sense of humor, she is cute.

If she is a person who talks three times as much as she says and on three times as many topics as she knows anything about, she is gushy.

If she pulls crazy fool tricks all the while and rolls her eyes so funny-like and is peculiar, she is dizzy.

If she wears her limbs too high and her neck too low, she is uppish.

If she is loose and limpid and if, when you're dancing with her you think you have a wet rag in your arms, she is a clinging vine.

If she is a stunning looker and can dance like a fool, and is popular with the men, she is a queen.

But, if she is vivacious and quiet, modest and clever, not homely nor pretty, but beautiful and if she can talk sense if she wants to, she is a real woman.

Oh, Girls, Girls, Girls,
 You are something more than human!
 Ever changing, ever charming,
 And sometimes quite alarming,
 And though you spend our money,
 We can only call you honey,
 With eyes so fair, and hearts so true,
 We live and die for you, for you.

There is always a chance for a blind woman; she can qualify as a chaperon. Girls now-a-days are very much like salads—a great deal depends on the dressing.

"May I print a kiss upon your lips?"

"Yes, provided you promise not to publish it."

Too Bad

Never chase boys, or believe their song—I don't.
 My parents told me not to smoke—I don't.
 Nor listen to a naughty joke—I don't
 They told me it was wrong to wink
 At handsome boys, or even think
 About a coca-cola drink—I don't.
 To dance or flirt was very wrong—I don't.
 Never chase boys, or believe their song—I don't.
 I kiss no boys, not even one—
 In fact, I don't know how it's done;
 You wouldn't think I have much fun—I don't.

Good Night

You sing a little song or two,
 You have a little chat,
 You make a little candy fudge
 And then you take your hat.
 You hold her hand and say "good night,"
 As sweetly as you can
 What do you think of such an evening
 For Russell, that Beautiful man?

Morris (affectionately)—"Gladys, dear, I've had something hesitating on my lips for some time and now—"

Gladys (interrupting)—"Oh, Carl, how I do hate those little moustaches."

Margaret Irvin—"Why is the referee walking back with the ball?"

Walters—"Schmidty was penalized for holding."

Margaret—"Oh! How like Harold."

Arthur L.—"Mr. Busenbark informs us that there is no more hell!"

Chet K.—"I know it, Bell just gave it to me for not having my note book."

Mr. Bell—"Do you know how to stop falling hair?"

John A. (promptly)—"Yes, sir. Get under it."

"Three balls," yelled the umpire.

"Now's your chance to soak it," said Kornfeld to the batsman.

Roy S.—"Are your wienies healthy?"

Liska—"I have never heard one complain of being sick."

Question—"Why do girls wear one-piece bathing suits?"

Answer: "Why do stores have glass show cases?"

An ankle slim,
 A calf divine,
 This is no bull,
 She's a cow of mine.

You may pick beautiful strains on a mandolin for an hour and the girls don't even look out of the window, but just one honk of a horn—Oh, Boy!

Dick—"I found this hairpin in my pocket. Is it yours?"

Mildred (severely)—"No, I use light hairpins. This is black."

Dick (brightly)—"H'm! guess my fountain pen's been leaking again."

"Brother," screeched John Alden, "don't let me hear of you shooting craps again. Those poor little things have just as much right to live as you."

Teacher—"We should never do in private what we would not do in public."

B. Morgan—"How about taking a bath?"

In the park with Naomi Parker, when weather's fair.

She keeps her fellow away from the school.
- P—Is for Palmer, who has a good time,
With Wilson, the boy who goes through the line.
- Q—Is for Quiverian, the best of them all,
For her gorgeous pages we all will fall.
- R—Is for Russell, a boy of deep thought,
He and his girl have their wedding clothes bought.

But Frances is strong for him just the same.

Who thinks Elsie Schlosser is very nice.

But divorces oft-times make us disband.

When you see Edith Addison he's always around.

Her last name is Williams, her first name is Verle.

No one knows the facts, but the Heavens above.

But if you should ask her, she will always say nay.

When she gets married we'll all have a feast.

The Spirit of K. C. High

When you are all worn out with care,
 And come to that part of life's road,
 That narrows and gets very steep,
 And nobody lightens the load—
 Then turn your thoughts backward awhile,
 And take down this book from the shelf,
 While scanning these pages once more,
 Just banish sad thoughts of yourself.

Then think of our dear K. C. High,
 But not of the building alone,
 Nor only of room twenty-three,
 Where for lateness we had to atone.
 But think of your comrades and friends,
 And all the good times that we've had;
 We always were ready to laugh,
 But never were sullen or sad.

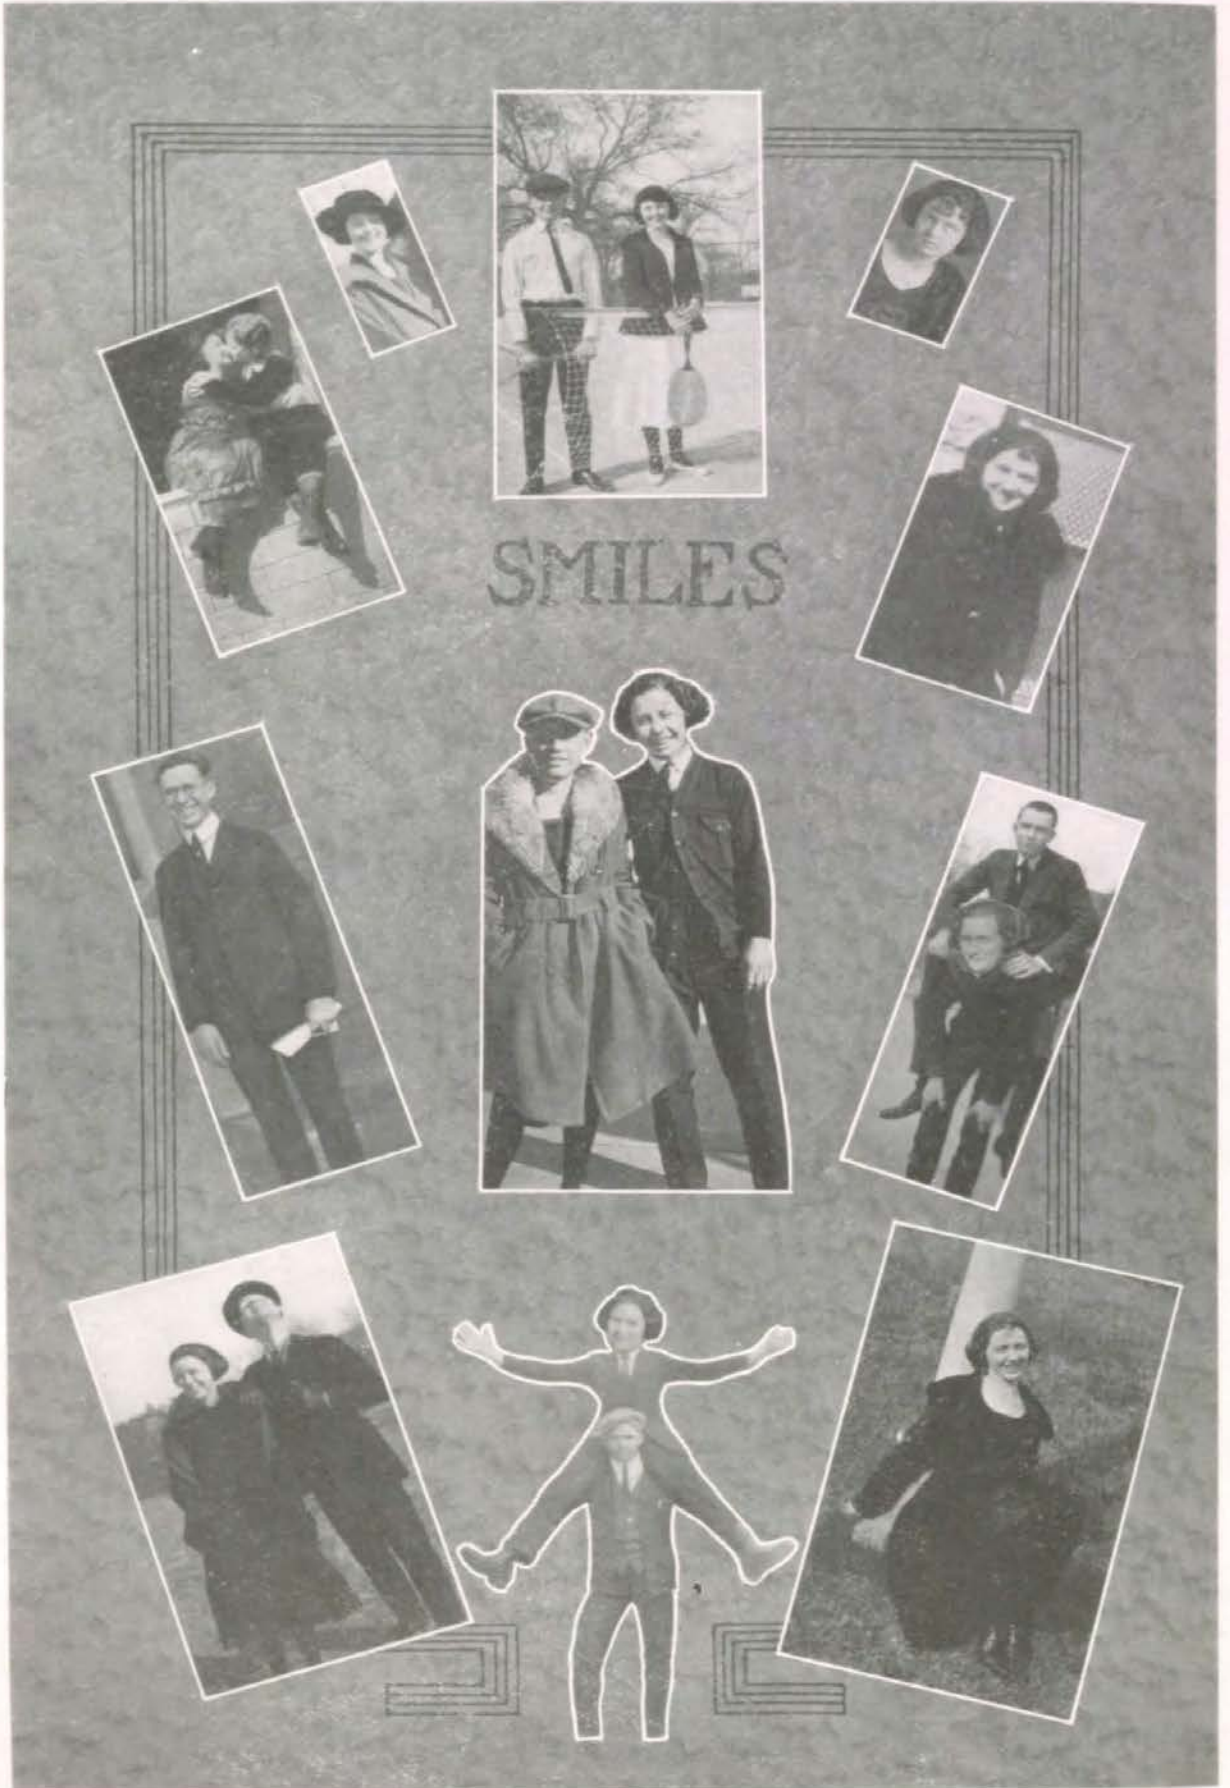

Then we had a fine football team,
 We haven't forgotten them yet,
 With Wingett and Russel and Red
 And Guzzle and Morris and Chet;
 And never a game did they lose.
 Herb, Schmitt, Vance, Zuber and Art.
 Our basket ball team did comprise,
 All fighters, and each did his part.

We won too in track and debate;
 Our arguments were so complete
 That when we would get up to speak
 All rivals were doomed to defeat.
 Oh, those were the happiest days!
 "We won it!" was ever the news.
 We always were winning, and yet,
 We never forgot how to lose.

Oh! we had the spirit then,
 The spirit of old K. C. High;
 We went at our tasks with a will
 And boosted her name to the sky.
 We always were fair to our foes,
 Good sportsmanship was our chief aim;
 And whether in studies or sport
 Our spirit was always the same.

So when on life's highway you meet
 With jealousy, hatred, and strife;
 When rivals are often unfair,
 And baseness and discord are rife:
 Then baseness and discord defy,
 And think of the spirit we had,
 The Spirit of old K. C. High!

—John Alden.

You have spent many happy moments in looking through the Quiverian; you have reminiscently read the histories and the accomplishments of the organizations; you have smiled at the jokes and laughingly gazed at the pictures.

We have endeavored to make the Quiverian a true history of the school. We do not lay claim to perfection, but if it has vividly portrayed to you the life and spirit of dear old K. C. High, and if it will in the future bring back happy memories, we feel that our toil has not been in vain.

The Rotary Code of Ethics

For Business Men of All Lines

Adopted by the Sixth Annual Convention of the International Association of Rotary Clubs at San Francisco, Cal., July Nineteenth to Twenty-third, Nineteen Hundred and Fifteen.

My business standards shall have in them a note of sympathy for our common humanity. My business dealings, ambitions and relations shall always cause me to take into consideration my highest duties as a member of society. In every position in business life, in every responsibility that comes before me, my chief thought shall be to fill that responsibility and discharge that duty so when I have ended each of them, I shall have lifted the level of human ideals and achievements a little higher than I found them. In view of this, it is my duty as a Rotarian,— 1st—To consider my vocation worthy, and as affording me distinct opportunity to serve society.

2nd—To improve myself, increase my efficiency and enlarge my service, and by so doing attest my faith in the fundamental principle of Rotary, that he profits most who serves best.

3rd—To realize that I am a business man and ambitious to succeed; but that I am first an ethical man, and wish no success that is not founded on the highest justice and morality.

4th—To hold that the exchange of my goods, my service and my ideas for profit is legitimate and ethical, provided that all parties in the exchange are benefited thereby.

5th—To use my best endeavors to elevate the standards of the vocation in which I am engaged, and so to conduct my affairs that others in my vocation may find it wise, profitable and conducive to happiness to emulate my example.

6th—To Conduct my business in such a manner that I may give a perfect service equal to or even better than my competitor, and when in doubt to give added service beyond the strict measure of debt or obligation.

7th—To understand that one of the greatest assets of a professional or of a business man is his friends and that any advantage gained by reason of friendship is eminently ethical and proper.

8th—To hold that true friends demand nothing of one another and that any abuse of the confidence of friendship for profit is foreign to the spirit of Rotary, and in violation of its Code of Ethics.

9th—To consider no personal success legitimate or ethical which is secured by taking unfair advantage of certain opportunities in the social order that are absolutely denied others, nor will I take advantage of opportunities to achieve material success that others will not take because of the questionable morality involved.

10th To be not more obligated to a Brother Rotarian than I am to every other man in human society; because the genius of Rotary is not in its competition, but in its cooperation; for provincialism can never have a place in an institution like Rotary, and Rotarians assert that Human Rights are not confined to Rotary Clubs, but are as deep and as broad as the race itself; and for these high purposes does Rotary exist to educate all men and all institutions.

11th—Finally, believing in the universality of the Golden Rule, all things whatsoever ye would that men should do unto you, do ye even so unto them, we contend that Society best holds together when equal opportunity is accorded all men in the natural resources of this planet.

has every advantage over the boy who does not have that opportunity; and, if you will point out to us a boy or girl who makes good grades and at the same time is saving, even a small amount regularly, we will show you a boy or girl that will succeed in whatever they undertake.
