Renaissance

As days turned to weeks, a closer day was coming, and that date was August 25, 1982 where you would meet all the new students and teachers. You would get a chance to see what teachers were still here and what teachers were not and even which ones taught a different subject.

Since Reagan had been cutting funds on the employment programs, there were not many businesses or companies hiring. It really was hurting the seniors, because they would have to pay for announcements and class rings, all the good things that seniors purchase.

For most students it would be a chance to see who was more into designer clothes or who was still wearing the plain pocket jeans and T shirts. "The Lee jeans are in style now, simply because they are sporty and they aren't as expensive as designer jeans," said Sheila Fitzgerald, senior.

Renaissance

The school year was filled with many rebirths that affected the student body and faculty members as well. There were a lot of teachers laid off and new ones shipped in. "Many students were discouraged because of that but hung in there anyway," said Leona Conway, junior.

Dean William Rowan felt that an organization should have no more than one on-school-time activity a semester. "I felt that was not enough to keep the students motivated and spirited," said Billy Hale, junior. Dean Rowan also expected the students to get more involved in various activities and tasks but didn't allow enough time for students to complete the goals he set.

Mr. Leo Wright, Building Manager, said, "Students are writing on the walls more this year than before in markers that won't come off by using just a little comet. You have to paint over the writing." But Mr. Wright did have one good thing to say about the school year. "The students seem to get along much better than they did last year. There weren't very many fights."

HOMECOMING

Sitting in the cold, watching the start of an exciting game made everyone anxious for halftime to come quick. We all were waiting for the big moment to come, wondering who was to be Homecoming Queen.

We wished each other the best of luck and waited patiently for the time to come. Approaching halftime, I was beginning to feel nervous. As we waited on the track for the final moment, I began feeling relaxed because we knew there were just friends and alumni in the stands.

As the underclass names were

There were three, but only one could win.

being called, I said to myself, "I know I didn't win because Marilyn and Irma had an advantage. Marilyn is a cheerleader and Irma is a football manager and I'm just a loyal fan."

All the time something kept telling me that Marilyn was queen and Irma was first runner up and I was second runner up.

We all three stood there waiting for the big moment. I heard the announcer say, "Second runner up, Irma Salazar," and I was really surprised. A smile came upon my face.

The announcer waited for a moment, then said, "First runner up." I knew it was me. It was too good to be true, but I was happy to be first runner up.

As the announcer said, "The 1982-83 Homecoming Queen is Marilyn McGautha," the biggest smile was on her face and I was very happy for her.

Dazzle into the World of Fashion

Fashion this year centered around variety. Clothing styles changed almost overnight from knickers to mini - skirts. Mix and match ensured that everyone was different. Colors were used in combinations never before seen. Reds and blacks dominated the scene with flashes of pink and plum. Styles ranged from punk to ruffles and lace reminiscent of a bygone day.

SSR & W + BEST sharpen skills at LA South

Wouldn't it be nice to sit down, pick up a book and read for a solid thirty minutes without being interrupted?

It was easier done than said at Lincoln Academy which set up a new program called Uninterrupted Sustained Silent Reading (U.S.S.R.).

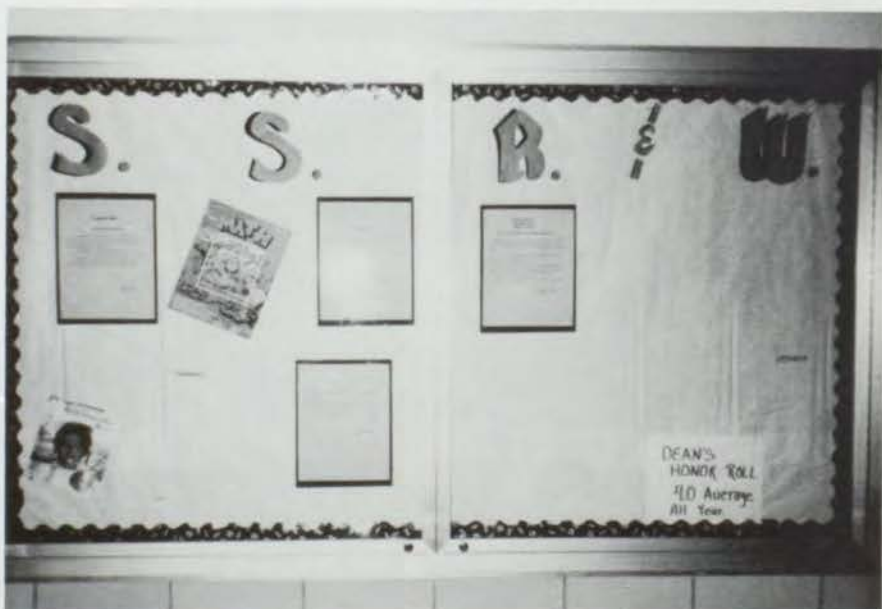

This program was set up to do just that. Giving each participant a chance to enhance his reading skill by setting aside a few minutes two days a week for reading and reading only.

There were absolutely no interruptions! Teachers, students, administrators, security guards and any other living thing capable of reading, used the U.S.S.R. period to ease the pressures of the day and read for pleasure.

"Last year we successfully incorporated a Silent Reading and Writing Program into our daily instruction that had tremendous impact upon the student achievement level, said Dr. William Love, Dean of the South Campus.

The purpose was to get people to do more reading. No one was asked to report what they read. The emphasis was allowing students to select whatever materials desired, picking from a variety offered by the Resource Center. The variety was changed occasionally to provide students with a variety of offerings.

On trial for murder . . .

What is it like?

Murder, rape, assault were the subjects of some of the social studies classes this year.

Students of Mrs. Judy Morgan's Crime and Delinquency class go to a courtroom and actually see a trial in progress. A man was on trial for the murder of his girlfriend.

Even though the students didn't get to see the whole trial, they still had their own opinion of how it would turn out. Sherri Green, sophomore, said she thought the man should have been convicted. The students really enjoyed the trial. Lelaunda Austin, senior, said it was very interesting to find out how our judicial system works.

But the trials were not just in real courtrooms. Mrs. Morgan had her own trial with the students, with the murder and witnesses, the judge and even the murder weapon. "The purpose of the trials is to show the students how it was to be in a trial and to be on trial." Most of the students thought it was fun. Delmar Coppage, senior, said, "It had a lot of action, and it seemed very real. "It wasn't like a regular classroom trial, it was unspeakable," said Keith Johnson, senior.

But when it came down to the decision of the jury, all the classes had their own opinion of how it would turn out. "It was a very interesting experience," said Terri Neal, sophomore. "It made us think about other things going on around the world that could be very exciting, especially when you're involved."

It's a Computer World

The students are slowly but surely taking over the Academy. Everywhere you look students are taking charge. They're working in the office, library, bookroom, even the classroom.

That's right, Debora Blosser, senior, has begun teaching for a grade. "I needed something to do for a project in my GT science class. Mrs. Miriam Simon suggested I teach South Campus students to run and operate computers," said Debbie.

"It's not really a class, it's more like a seminar or group session," said Mrs. Nancy Fellingner, South Campus teacher.

The students seem to enjoy the class. "I like working with Debbie," said Julia Holmes, eighth grader. "She's a great influence on all of us."

"The class is entirely run by Debbie," said Mr. Wholf. "I offer no assistance whatsoever. I watch her work from time to time, but I never get in the way."

Debbie is trying to give the students some type of an edge. Our world is one of technology and intelligence. "By the time we're out into the world and begin setting our goals, this nation will be completely and entirely computerized," said William "Billy" Watson, eighth grader. Students in Debbie's class are Tony McClosky, Tammy Shepard, Lori McCallop, Kim Kindred, Ameer Khan, Theodos Logan, Carl Sharp, Delisa Rooks, Robert Meier, Clayton Rainey, Steve Snowden, Julia Holmes, and Billy Watson.

Students learn TV world

The American Cablevision of Kansas City, Inc. has added another program to its schedule. The program is called "The Generation Rap." It involves teenagers and adults talking about current issues and its technical crew is made up of students from Lincoln Academy North, with supervision by GT Coordinator, Miriam Simon. The crew members are Seniors Janet MacDonald, Walter Youngblood, junior Dennis Burk, sophomores Shawn Gentry, Vicki Davis, Justina Robinson, Monica Tindall, Clarisa Reynolds and freshmen Ellen Binder, Susan Blevins, Lisa Fillpot, Todd Norris, Dennis Price and Craig Tyson.

The students are in charge of cameras, audio, video, switcher, promotions, with some directing the technical crew and production. "We were tired of just watching tv and not knowing how programs were made, we decided then to find out how," said producer Monica Tindall. The students not only learn how the programs are made but make it possible for everyone to see their program once a week for a half hour.

Lincoln is the only school in KC to have the opportunity of working with Cablevision this way. Summing it all up best Monica Tindall said "When working with Cablevision we handle a lot of precious equipment and take on a lot of responsibilities which may be helpful for any job."

Organizations

Three new groups were adopted here at the Academy. Jobs for Missouri Graduates is designed to teach students the basic essentials of finding the right job and how to keep it. "Basically our job is to make students aware of job searching skills. We make them aware of community employment and give them some type of career path," said adviser Ms. Janet Watson.

Xinos, a sorority sponsored by Phi Delta Kappa, an honorary teachers' fraternity, was formed to help high school ladies higher their goals of education and help make their and other communities better. They held a bake sale and visited Swope Ridge Nursing Home and Zion Grove Church. The group was sponsored by Mrs. Helen Ragsdale, social studies teacher.

The third group, Micro-nauts, helped students expand their knowledge of the computer world. It was sponsored by Mrs. Donna Gray, mathematics teacher.

Trials and Tribulations

Trials and tribulations hounded the marching band on their trip to Florida A and M to perform at the Rattler Strike and the homecoming parade. They raised part of the money by selling raffle tickets; the band members paid for the other part out of their own pockets.

Next there were problems with the buses breaking down once on the way there and once on the way back.

But band members thought the trip was worth every minute of it. "The way the crowd accepted us made us feel good when we performed," said Kiphanie Radford, sophomore. "Florida is a band city and Kansas City a drill team atmosphere."

While in Florida the drum majors were ranked second over all high school bands there.

The band chose to go to Florida because Mr. Calvin Whitmore III graduated from there. "I knew Florida A and M had an outstanding marching band," said Mr. Whitmore. "Also high school bands from across the country performed there."

Besides going to Florida the band collected several awards, including first place in the Hispanic Day parade and first place as marching musical unit and second place in showmanship at the Antioch Pre-American Royal parade. They also performed in the American Royal and Veteran Day parades and in Drill Team competition.

The band felt good about their year. "I appreciate getting back to marching, since last year our program was cut short by the absence of Mr. Whitmore," said Steven Mitchell, junior.

Conceiving and Achieving

"Whatever your mind can conceive it can achieve through working with the concert and gospel choir," said Cynthia Hayes, senior

The choir has proved this saying true by participating in a number of activities including Christmas carols at the Country Club Plaza, Crown Center, and City Hall. This year the choir's spring production was "The Wiz." The concert Choir was also chosen to compete in the Annual Youth Festival sponsored by the Mid Town Kiwanis.

The Gospel choir was very busy touching the hearts of others by singing for the Lord at churches throughout Missouri Promising Future? Fame? Success? Monique Drake!

Acting, the ability to perform, is a God-given talent given to only a few chosen people. One of these people is Monique Drake, a junior who is making a name for herself. Monique has serious plans about pursuing dramatics as a career.

She has been in debate for three years and says that there are some advantages and disadvantages of being a part of the group. "Acting calls for constant practice and commitment, but it's well-worth the try," said Monique, "because I like to get attention."

This year Monique ranked first out of 88 participants in a forensics tournament at Ruskin High School. She also won first place in an oratory speech on child abuse.

Monique was motivated by Carol Burnett. However, she likes drama better than comedy.

The key to being good at what she does is that she has to make herself the person in the situation, "I have to try to forget who I am so that what I am doing will be effective," she said. This year at the talent show she did an excerpt from the Broadway play "For Colored Girls Only Who Have Considered Suicide when the Rainbow Is Not Enough." "I had to pretend that I was a mother who didn't want her children to be killed," she said.

'We aim to support'

Roaring, cheering, and leading the LA Tigers on to victory was the main goal for the cheerleaders. Leading cheers at a pep assembly or a game gave the cheerleaders the satisfaction of knowing that they were rousing the spirit in everyone they cheer to.

Everyone thinks cheerleading is all fun and games but Renee Gardner, varsity cheerleader, knows it is not. "The cheering association wasn't as organized as it could have been," she said. "Therefore things didn't go as smoothly as they did during my previous years as a cheerleader."

The cheerleaders had a new sponsor this year, Mrs. Lois Malone, Debate and English teacher. Mrs. Malone took a huge responsibility this year. She agreed to be the sponsor of 23 cheerleaders, a job which demanded a lot of time and dedication.

"A sponsor shouldn't show favoritism, but should treat everyone the same," said Marilyn McGautha, varsity cheerleader. If a sponsor is going to go by the cheerleading rules, these rules should be enforced all year and not at one particular time.

Jason Duckworth, junior, thought the cheerleaders did a good job. "I think the ladies contributed very much to all the athletic events they cheered in," he said. "I think I am speaking for all athletes in saying that we really appreciate the support and pride that the cheerleaders bestow on us and in the crowd."

Striving for Better School

Over the Christmas holiday they donated $100 to Lincoln for a new snow plow, a money donation to Lincoln's baseball team, and a turkey and groceries to three needy families in Kansas City. The "they" I'm speaking of is Lincoln's own Student Government.

Student Government also sponsored LA's football Homecoming and a clean school contest which involved all the student body to keep LA clean.

Andre Pugh, Vice-President feels their main goal is a better school but says "If students realize their responsibility as an individual student, being concerned for their environment, the home of the Blue Tigers would be appreciated by everyone."

Library can be fun

What makes being a library assistant a fun and interesting job? "I like getting to meet more people and getting to read interesting books before other students get to read them," said Wendell Moore, sophomore.

Dessie Wilborn, senior, finds shelving books the most difficult. "But I enjoy it," she said.

Students went to the resource center to assist some times during the extended fourth hour when there was usually no class work to be done.

The library assistants, along with the Book Club members, took part in many activities. In December the annual luncheon was held for members who wanted to participate. The luncheon consisted of different dishes brought by the members.

Other activities sponsored by the assistants were the selling of Pumpkin and Santa grams.

Micro- takeover

What has two legs, speaks a computer language and is able to punch in any program in a single bound? Give up? A Micronaut.

If you are asking yourself, "What is a Micronaut?" You are not alone. Although the Micronauts have been established for three years, not much has been said in their recognition.

The Micronauts are a group formed by the students and sponsored by Mrs. Donna Gray, computer programming teacher. There are six members. James Messick junior and team teacher; Mike Van Horn, junior, William Westerman, freshman, Jill McDonald, junior, who are advanced programmers, and Maria Tindall, junior, and Marc Evans, sophomore, who are considered beginners.

"I enjoy computers and it is a good beginning for a career," said James Messick. "I want to be ready with computers when they take over the world."

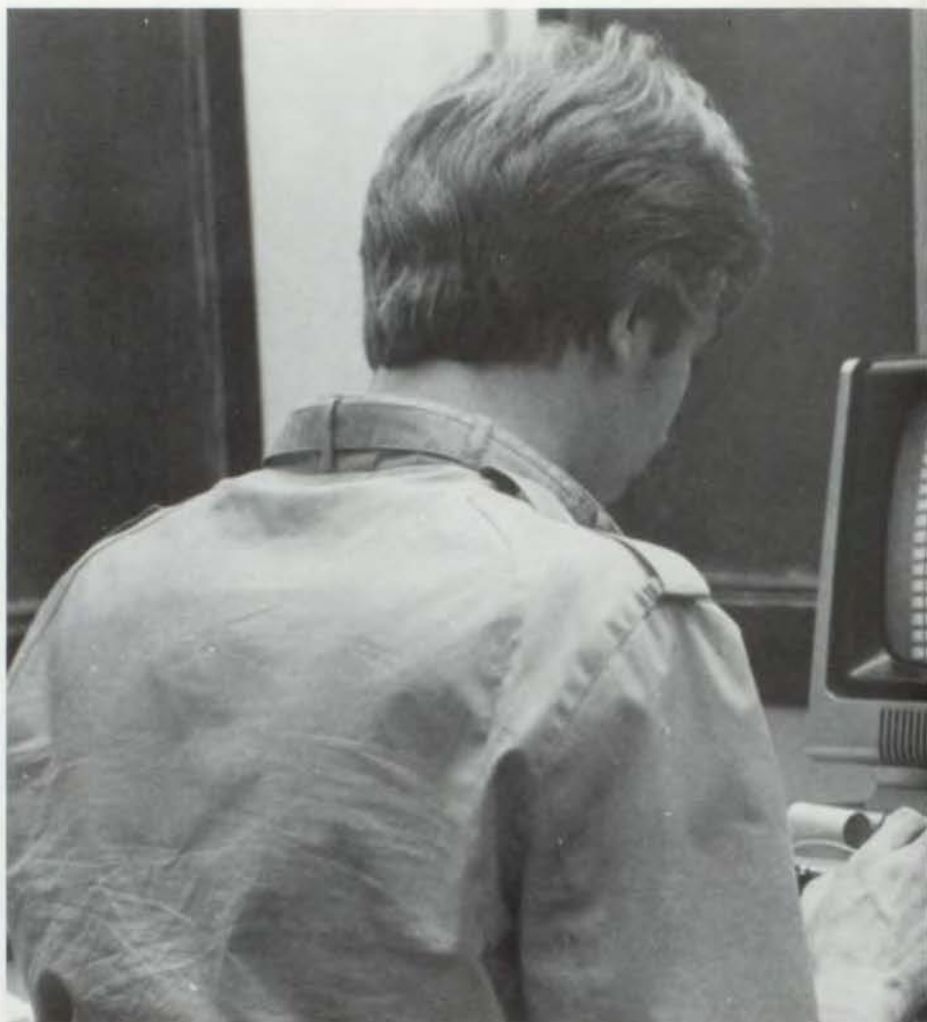

The Micronauts started when a group of Mrs. Gray's students entered a contest. They decided that they would like to get better at their programming skills and to enter more contests.

"To be a Micronaut, one has to be a top-notch programmer," said Mrs. Gray.

"Being a first year computer student, I feel it was an honor being asked to be a Micronaut," said Marc Evans.

Each student works in his own class time. Usually the members do extra programs to improve their skills.

Rebuilding year not too costly

The newly-painted helmets full of headhunters which honored the players, were just a part of the changes in the Varsity Blue Tigers football team. Coach Jerry Price, the biggest change of the Blue Tigers, summed it by saying "This season was a rebuilding year." The season was long and extremely tough, probably because of the schedule or, as according to the Kansas City Times, Varsity was only "An overly-experienced Junior Varsity."

The season was highlighted by Miguel Warren, becoming the first Lincoln Blue Tiger to rush for over one thousand yards. "One thousand yards was hard to get" said Miguel, "but the offensive line helped out a lot."

The Blue Tigers ended the 1982 season with a hard earned four and five record and having several players honored. Players picked for Interscholastic League were junior Miguel Warren, first team running back, junior John Kemp, second team center and linebacker, junior Elgie Hurd, second team guard, and senior guard Charles Lona for honorable mention.

Several comments were made by players after the close of the season. "I think we had good coaching, but we just didn't play up to our expectations," said junior wide receiver John Brooks.

Sophomore cornerback Anthony Tatum said, "Our record could have been better, but for a bunch of first-year guys I think we did all right."

Senior guard Charles Lona commented on next year's team, "Next year's team should be awesome. The team will be experienced, I'm looking ahead for next year so I can pick up the newspaper and all I'll be able to read about is the Blue Tigers."

Juniors add helping hand

Starting the season with a devastating loss against the Paseo Pirates, the JV Tigers were forced to send down Varsity players to help out.

Among the players sent down was quarterback Jason Duckworth, junior. "At first I didn't feel this was enough," said Jason. "We needed more experience, and not knocking the other JV players, but I needed more players I felt comfortable with."

Other varsity players helping out were juniors Steve Burton, Elgie Hurd, Tim Lona, Daniel Tancredi, Paul Tancredi, and Elmer Wyatt.

Finishing up the season with a 3-3 record, Coach Bernard Williams said, "The junior varsity would have been better if they paid more attention, worked harder, and played less."

JV wins IL championship

“I feel if we had more people out we would have had a good season,” commented Captain Jerome Gilbert on the not-so-successful varsity cross country season. The disappointing season didn't spoil the efforts of our varsity runners though. Giving all they had for the Tiger squad were seniors Derrick Frazier, Charles Jackson, Dennis MacDonald, Paul Newman and Jerome Gilbert.

On the other hand, the Junior Varsity Cross Country squad had a lot to celebrate, finishing first in the Interscholastic League Junior Varsity meet with the help of Bobby Hayes, junior, who finished first with a time of 12 minutes, fourteen seconds.

“The competition was tough, but with the help of my teammates I knew we could win,” said Bobby. Other JV runners were juniors John Toynton, Brett Wyatt, and Damon Hopkins and sophomores Daryl Shaw and Ray Eubanks.

Cross Country Coach Luther Brown had this to say about both the Varsity and Junior Varsity squads: “I would like to congratulate all of the young men who endured the practice and stayed out for Cross Country. I feel that all of them are champions.”

An anxious wait for the ball is what Maria Tindall, Christine Robinson and Latonya Davis share in a game against Westport.

Team undaunted by conflict

The girls' volleyball team finished under .500 in a season that saw many players leave midseason. The reason many teammates left was, "because of personality conflicts with coach Essie Daniels," said senior Latonya Davis. This was the biggest reason the team did not play well.

Christina Robinson, senior, felt otherwise, "I felt we had very little communication on the floor between players."

Despite the conflicts the team finished strong. Coach Essie Daniels felt that the players pressed into action this year as a result of the quitting will provide a strong nucleus for future teams.

Varsity Blue Tigers struggle

"I don't know what happened to us this year," commented senior Joyce Smith. Joyce wasn't the only fan to make this comment about our Lincoln Blue Tiger varsity basketball team. Starting the season by playing Central the Tigers lost by a devastating score of 57 to 35. After that the team didn't get better, losing eight straight, the Tigers finally won one by beating O'Hara 49 to 44.

There could be many reasons why the Tigers did not play up to their expectations. "I feel the lack of confidence among the team caused a lot of problems", commented junior Damon Hopkins. "Not only that but the lack of experience has been the major problem," continued Damon. Losing all but one of last season's players, the Blue Tigers coached by Samuel Cofield had to rebuild the team'

Getting the ball was the intention of junior Ronald Hammons.

The whole rebuilding process reminded fans of football season seeing old players such as Damon Hopkins, showing he still can hit 20 points a game. This year also saw new faces on the court showing they were ready for varsity. Such players as Brett Wyatt, John Golston, Darryl Shaw, and Ben Suber came up from junior varsity to help the team out.

The Tigers struggled this year but Damon Hopkins summed it best for the Tigers, "Our rebuilding year is over. Next year we're going to be the dominant force in the Metropolitan area."

Lincoln vs. Rockhurst proved to be an exciting game. The Tigers were up by four points at the beginning of the fourth quarter. It was offense against defense, but the Hawklets managed to tie the game. The score was 42 to 42, time was running out and there were three seconds left on the clock; The crowd grew tense, but Miguel Warren managed to keep his cool; he knew this last shot could either win or lose the game. They executed their plays with great precision and followed through until they heard the "swish" of the nets.

The freshman team attended the Blue Valley Tournament. Their record was 0-1 going into the tournament. They showed their superiority by defeating both Bonner Springs and Blue Valley, and winning first place in the Blue Valley Tournament.

The Varsity Blue Tiger girls survived another year of disappointments. From starting center Michelle Johnson, who fractured her leg in warm-up before playing the Paseo Pirates, to having another year of more losses than wins. The record didn't show it, but according to captain Regina Bowen what was lacked was teamwork. "At the beginning we didn't play as a team, we all seemed to play individually." Other comments came from sophomore Penny Hudson, "I feel the girls didn't get along too well during the season."

What ever it was holding the Lady Tigers back finally seemed to loosen towards the end of the season or as Regina Bowen stated, "The team finally started working together, learning the true meaning of teamwork." Even though the Lady Blue Tigers, who is coached by Manfred Sasser, had a not-so-successful season, memorable moments appeared. Fans saw senior Regina Bowen have her best year ever. Others saw sophomore Penny Hudson step into the varsity spotlight, giving all she had for the good of the Tigers. The season also saw seniors Latonya Davis and Sharon Reid keep up their fine offense and defense skills.

With seniors Regina Bowen, Latonya Davis, Sharon Reid, and Jackie Sawyer leaving the Lady Tigers, the team seems hopeless. Not according to Regina Bowen, "With Penny Hudson, Michelle Johnson, Justina Robinson, Patricia Hayes, and Monica Tindall, the team ought to be outstanding." The Lady Blue Tigers can only wait and see.

Funds help start season

With football in the spotlight what is everybody talking about baseball for? "We want new uniforms", said junior, Jason Duckworth. The players have started the 1982-83 baseball season a little early by raising money for the team. "We need transportation, uniforms, and not to mention other necessities," commented Coach Bernard Williams. The team started by asking for donations: pennies, nickles, dimes, the team was in great need of money. Then Coach Williams decided to sell the most popular item at Lincoln: candy!

The money is not all that's needed for our Blue Tigers, with the team loss of experience players, the team was left desperate. Luckily, someone answered the Tiger's prayers, with newcomers such as John Brooks, Kevin Lucas, and Phillip Taylor. There's no stopping those Tigers now!

Returning players include seniors; Delmar "Buster" Coppage, Robert L. Smith, Antoin Foster, juniors; Royce Allen, Lacy Eldridge, Elgie Hurd, Jason Duckworth, Miguel Warren, Jim Messick, Brent Marley, Jeff Davis, and sophomores Oliver Hurd, Anthony Tatum, Martez Gardner.

Manager Irene Salazar commented on the coming season, "We're going to take state this year." Whatever the outcome may be the Blue Tigers will be number 1 in Lincoln Academy's heart.

Seniors Sheila Fitzgerald, Reba Stewart, Rebecca Wright, Michael Merriwether, and Leila Akridge are in a playful mood.

"What play is he talking about?" Senior managers Teresa Malko and Irma Salazar ask themselves as Senior James Armster uses verbal and hand motions to explain.

From Thrills to Agony

Cheering, jumping and yelling are what LaTonya Davis and Tonya Moore do each school year. These Varsity Cheerleaders rooted for the Tigers for four years. Through the thrill of victory and the agony of defeat, they stayed behind their team.

Latonya decided during her freshman year that she wanted to spend some of her time cheering for Lincoln. "I like to support the girls' activities as much as I do the boys'," she said. "During the time I'm cheering, my main goal is to generate spirit through the crowd and lead our team on to victory."

Would Tonya choose to cheer at some other school? "No," said Tonya, "because I'm proud to be cheering for the Lincoln Academy Fighting Blue Tigers."

During the four years LaTonya and Tonya cheered, they felt that their senior year was the best.

Tusha: Lincoln's Songbird

To most of her fellow students, Tusha Kimber is a normal, hardworking senior. To the musical world of Lincoln, she is one of the best singers to come to the school.

Tusha was a member of the District Choir for three years and a 1982 member of the State Choir. She received a I (the highest high school rating) in the District's music festival and a II at the state music festival her junior year.

Tusha performed in the Honors Recital in the Conservatory at UMKC and in her sophomore year was a pit singer for the school production of "Godspell." In her junior year she was one of the lead characters Ado Annie in "Oklahoma."

"I am very proud of my accomplishments and appreciate the honors I have had," said Tusha. "I hope one day to become a professional musician."

Who's Who?

Lincoln Academy has several sets of twins, sophomore girls, junior boys and two very special hard-working senior girls. These girls are Irma and Irene Salazar.

They've been at Lincoln since their ninth grade year. Since then they've been working in any capacity where they are needed. This year Irene was president of the senior class and Irma was vice-president of Honor Society.

Irma was also football manager.

After four years people still get them confused with each other. "I get a little frustrated when people still get us confused," said Irma. To cut down on complication, Irma got her hair cut, but that still didn't help matters. People still got confused.

One question people like to ask twins is did you ever change classes with one another? "Only when we were young," they said, "but not since then."

Ten years from now they won't even look alike. They'll each be one of a kind.

Key to Success

As everyone knows, the cost of a college education keeps going higher and higher with no end in sight. Competition is fierce among top students all over the country for scholarships.

Elizabeth Kohler has succeeded in reaching the semi-finalist stage of the prestigious National Merit Scholarship competition. This honor was bestowed upon her on the basis of her preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test scores.

"I didn't do any special studying," said Elizabeth. "I just participated regularly in class work and had some preparatory courses in the Summer Scholars Program."

How to take the test is almost as important as what you know, Elizabeth thinks. Some of her test-taking tips are "Keep calm; don't get so involved in the test that you forget about school work."

Elizabeth hopes to become a finalist and then go on to win a scholarship. She plans to go to college and major in veterinary medicine.

Sisters have gift of fashion

Jackie and Angela Brown

Fashion has been one of the most popular subjects for decades. Well, here at Lincoln we have two experts on the subject. Jackie and Angela Brown design and make patterns for clothes.

These sisters have been sewing for only a year and have already designed outfits for singing groups and dancing groups, but mainly for themselves.

Jackie and Angela feel that their skills of sewing and designing were just "gifts from God."

For their careers Jackie hopes to be a fashion designer and Angela wants to be a model. They have had thoughts about having a business of their own to run it in the family.

Newcomer . . . An Instant Tiger

Starting quarterback for Lincoln, number 10, —; starting guard for the Tigers, number 22, —; advancing to the sectional meet, —. If this were a quiz, not one Lincoln fan would fail. The blanks belong to none other than junior Robert Golston.

After moving here from Texarkana, Arkansas, Robert immediately found starting positions in football and basketball. In football, Robert was honored as Newcomer of the Year, while in his sophomore year he was already experiencing varsity basketball. In track and field he ranked fifth in state.

"The boys back home told me things would be different in the city, especially sports," said Robert. Well, he proved that whatever the sport may be, he fits in Kansas City as a Lincoln Blue Tiger.

Doubling their talent

Twins are part of Sweet Sensations

Sharon and Karen Hardy

Have you seen Karen or Sharon today? Yes, these are two familiar faces in the Lincoln halls this year. These very talented sophomores are no other than the Hardy twins, the relatives of Jackie and Monica Hardy. All four of these young ladies sing in a group called the Sweet Sensations.

Karen and Sharon do things other than sing on their free time. They enjoy sleeping, watching TV, and partying on their weekends.

They both agree that they like to do the same things as most normal twins are likely to do.
