It's hard to explain what Loretto is or who we are — you see

we're still in the process of discovery and it is very exciting.

Each student is respected and recognized as an individual with specific skills, talents and gifts.

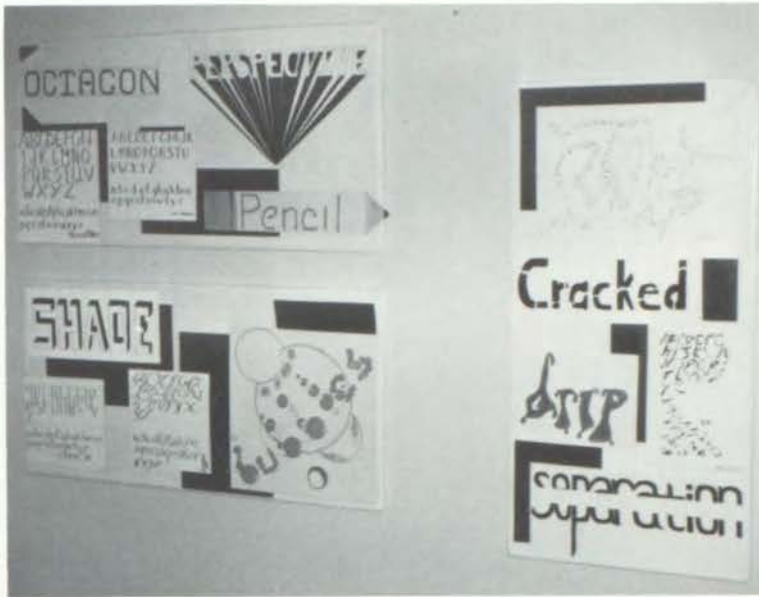

Thank you for the flight to Mr. George Langworthy

Too often students dislike school. Our students love it. Ask them.

We do more than just open books. We're Loretto. We open minds.

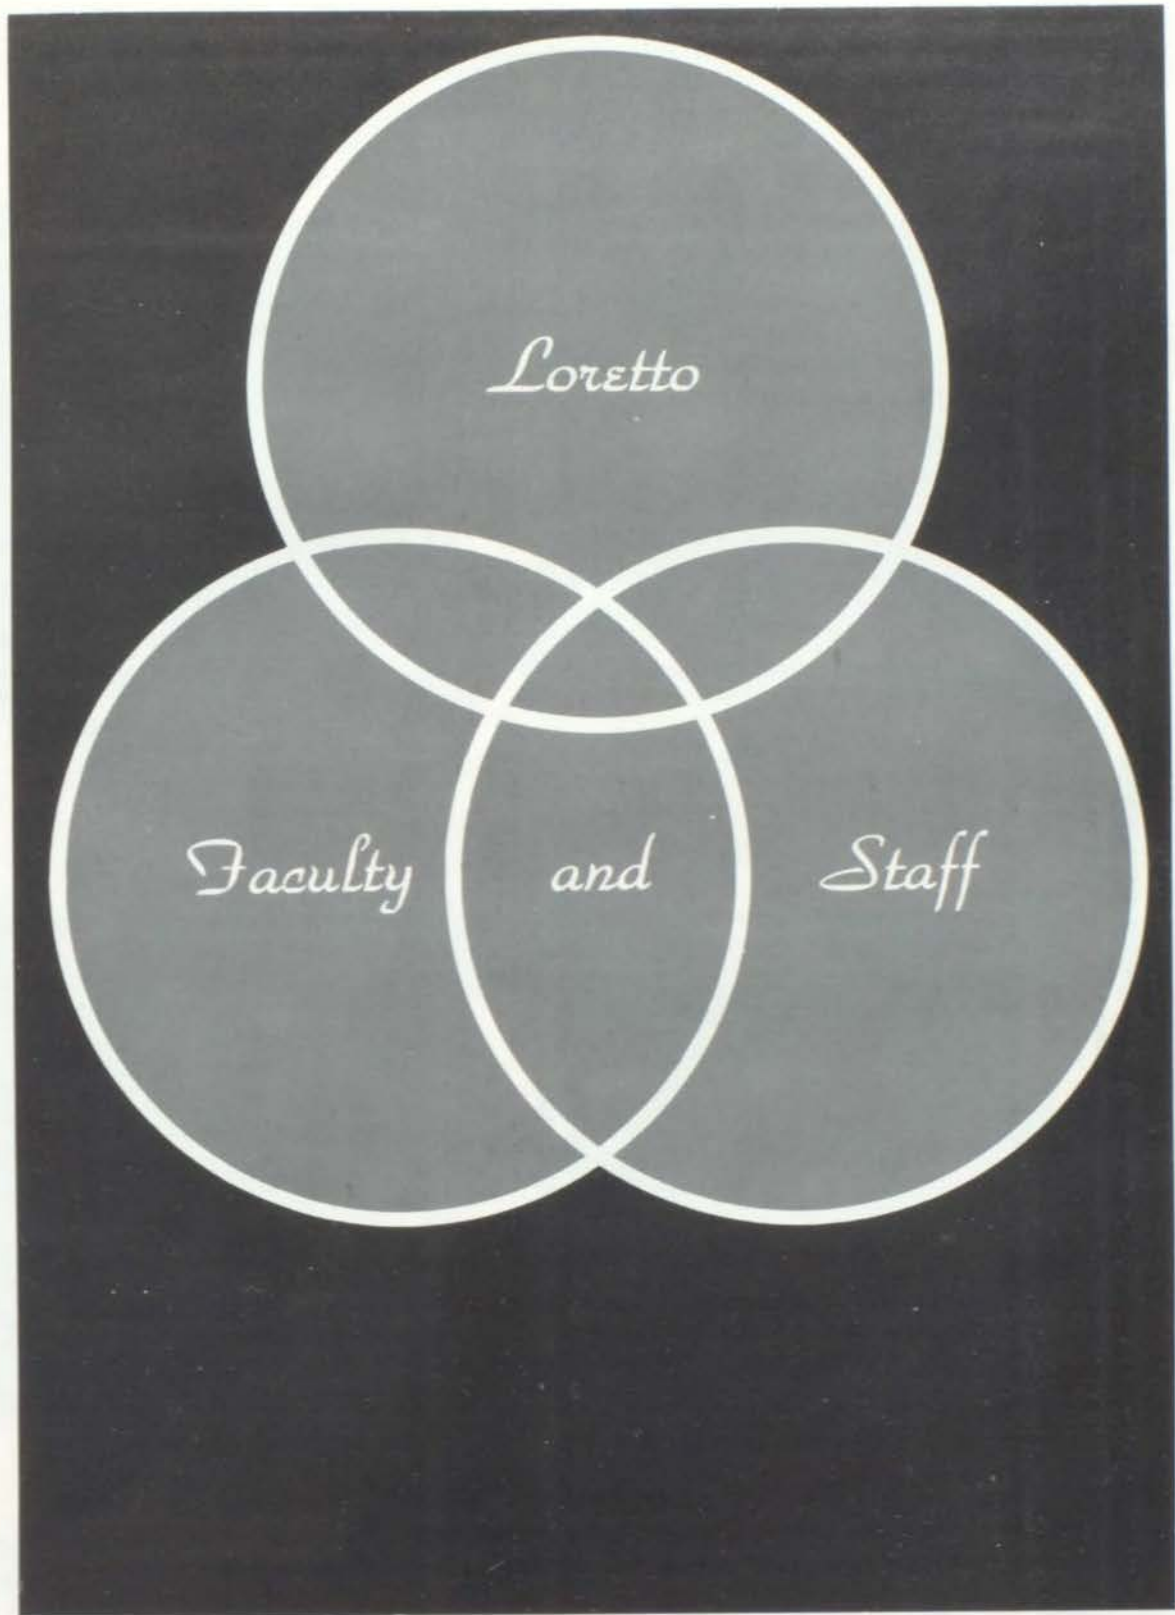

This kind of "teaching" is really closer to "sharing."

I like M.S. because it has lots of good values classes. You can be yourself and move along at your own pace.

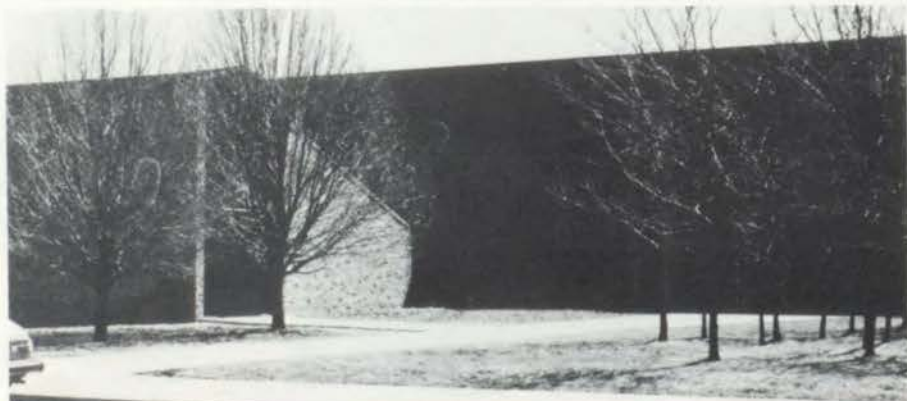

Middle School

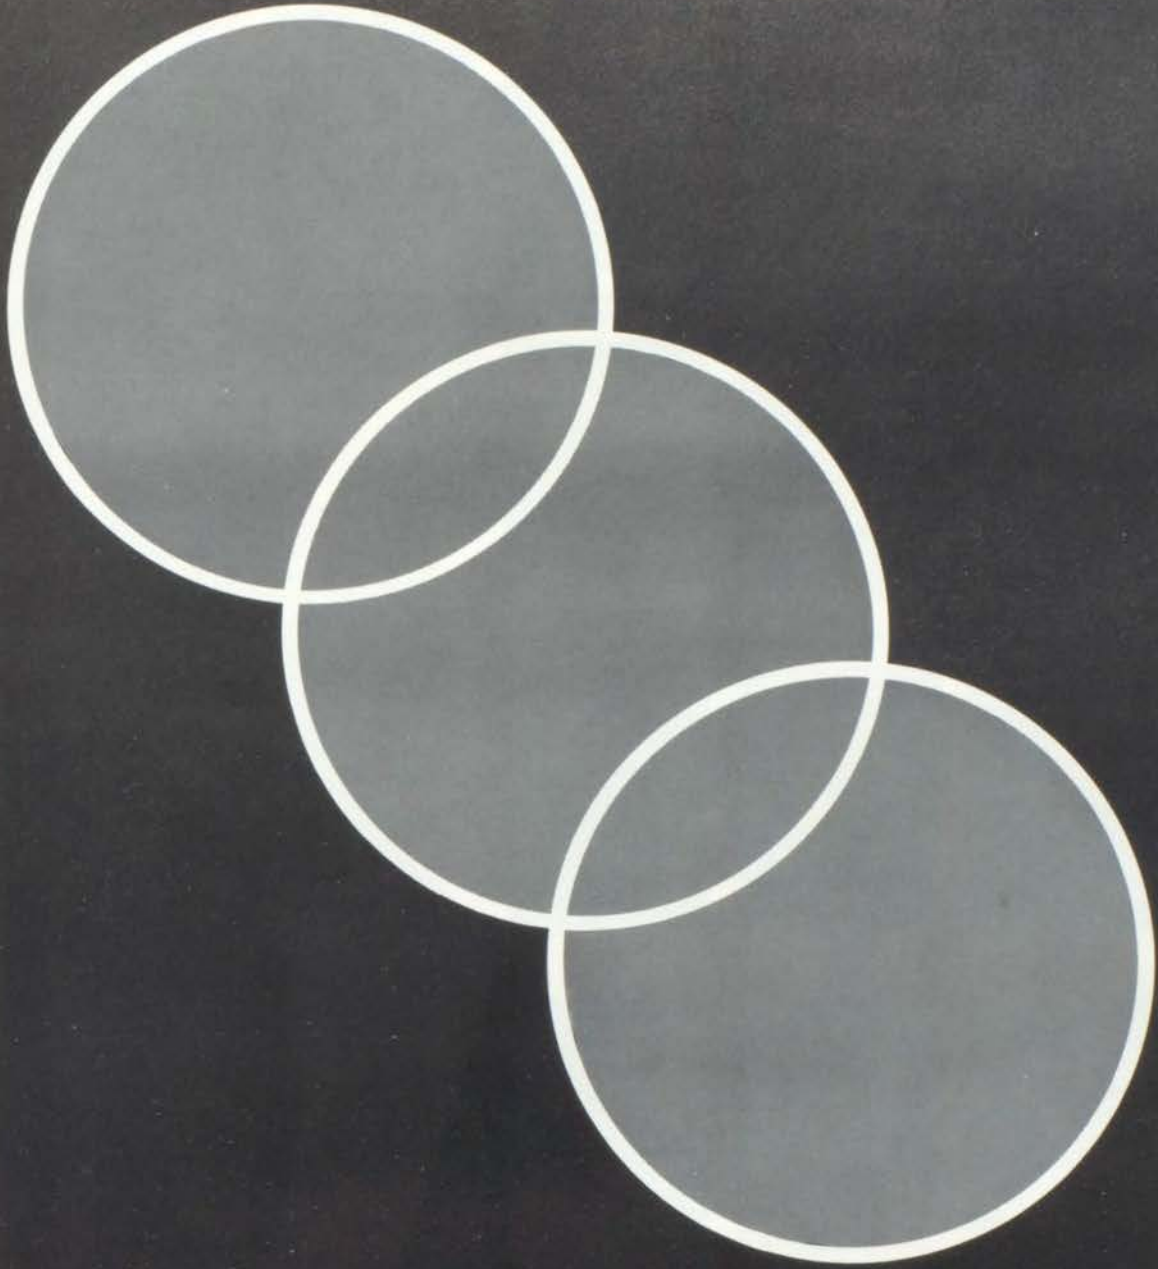

As we walk through Middle School doors, the thoughts that come to mind are joyous times we spend together sharing opinions and views, learning about ropes and canoes.

As we walk through Middle School doors, the thoughts that come to mind are speaking with understanding teachers, communicating with other kids, investigating the new world ahead and hand in hand.

As we walk through Middle School doors, we finally find our true friends and feelings. We will face the future together.

At the close of the decade of the 70's an inexperienced but eager staff set out to produce a yearbook that would please everyone and accurately reflect that year. They didn't know it was an impossible task when they set out to do it.

After much hard work drawing layouts, cropping pictures, and writing copy the staff discovered the real slavedriver: the deadline. A yearbook is put together literally a few pages at a time with deadlines that must be met. This year, having very few on our staff we found it very difficult meeting each one of those deadlines. The staff worked hard to produce this book and did their best in working with what they had.

I sincerely hope we have reached our goal — that you have found yourself, your friends, and your activities well represented, and that in the future, perhaps another ten years from now, this book can help you remember the '79-'80 year at Loretto.

As editor, I would like to say to my staff members that it has been great working with each one of you and I appreciate your dedication in making the '79-'80 Mandella possible, but most of all my special thanks goes to one terrific individual, Shaun McMahon, without his advice and unceasing encouragement none of this could have been possible.

Sherri Nachbar

We wish to express our sincere gratitude to Mr. and Mrs. Justus for their generous assistance to the '79-'80 Mandella

The image features three large, overlapping circles with white outlines and a light gray fill, set against a dark background. The circles are arranged in a triangular pattern, with one at the top and two below it. To the left of the circles is a white rectangular box containing the word "Music" in a cursive font.

Music

Notes and Tunes

Loretto orchestra continues to excell and improve. Their activities, varying from St. Pat's Day performance to Loretto's assemblies, always seem to capture everyone's attention.

Concerts were a good time to feature individual voices, and gave singers experience in singing a solo, or in small groups, before an audience that listened attentively and was always appreciative.

Drama

The Hobbit Scores

Bilbo, like Tolkien, is quite a story teller.

for the Middle School

Gollum has a rather dominating personality

With a little help from his friends Bilbo Baggins is able to bring a peaceful resolution to the story's conflict — What an adventure!

Lower School Production

Under the direction of Lucy McBee the children in the lower school presented an impressive theatrical extravaganza concerned with world peace — unless we become like little children . . .

Maybe they know something the rest of us don't.

The Imaginary

Moliere's 17th Century play was presented by the Upper School. All Moliere's plays reveal a rational sense of humor. His laughter is never malicious though; it is aimed at human foibles grown excessive to the point of being ridiculous.

The upper school cast portrayed the ridiculous to perfection.

Invalid

The Miracle Worker

Works Its Miracle
on Loretto

The story of Helen Keller and her teacher Anne Sullivan has warmed the hearts of people all over the world.

Anne worked hard to bring Helen to the realization of the world around her.

Growth and learning are sometimes painful experiences: pushing, pulling, testing limits, uncertainties becoming certain and certainties being questioned. Helen experienced the pain of growth and rejoiced in her success.

Perhaps there is a little bit of Anne in all of us.

Obviously, JV basketball did not have a winning season, although they came close in winning a couple of games. Teamwork and team spirit kept the team together making the game more fun.

JV basketball team was extremely small and young, but hours of hard work made the game more interesting.

Boys Sports

LORETTO FIRST BOY'S TEAM

The first year ever to have a boy's basketball team. The team started off with no coach. The boys had so much enthusiasm to play ball, but no one to stand behind them. Once the coach arrived things start to die, but those who played had the best time ever. Without any experience made the game more difficult to win. Better luck next year!

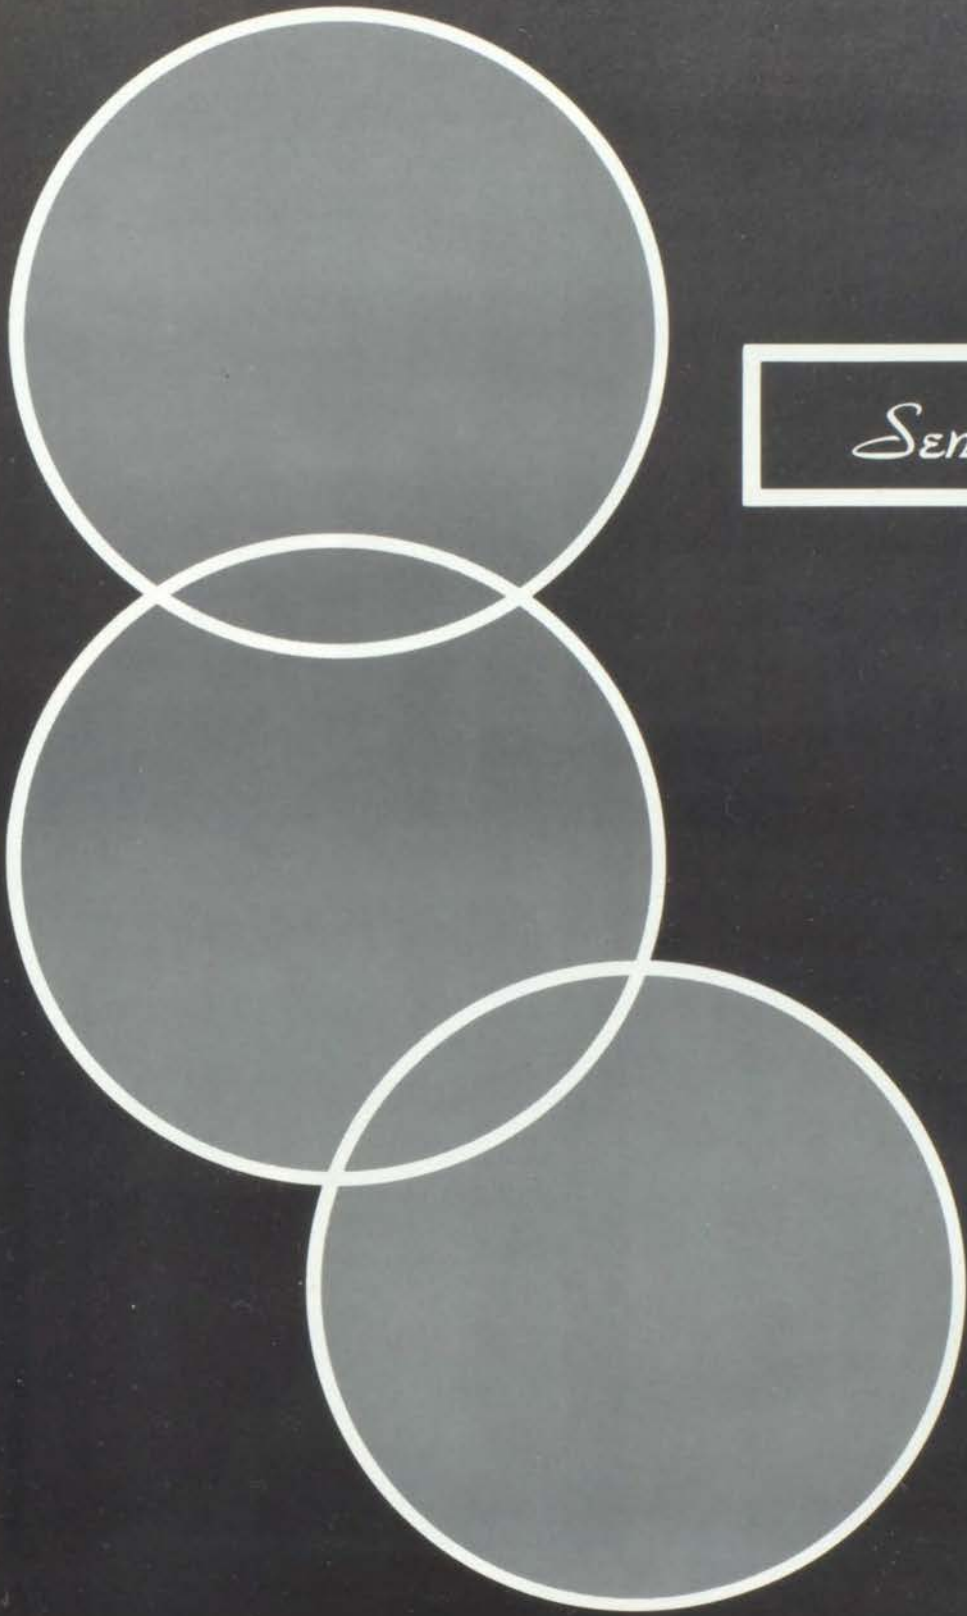

Lower School in Action!

The First Time Is Never Easy

The season marks a remarkable year for boys sports. Both upper and middle boys started their own basketball team. Without their enthusiasm and spirits none of this would have existed. The boys were excited about being the first to start a team. They know to say, "were going to represent Loretto's winning team." Things didn't quite work out that way, but they had a great time and year. Better luck next year guys!

Senior Banquet

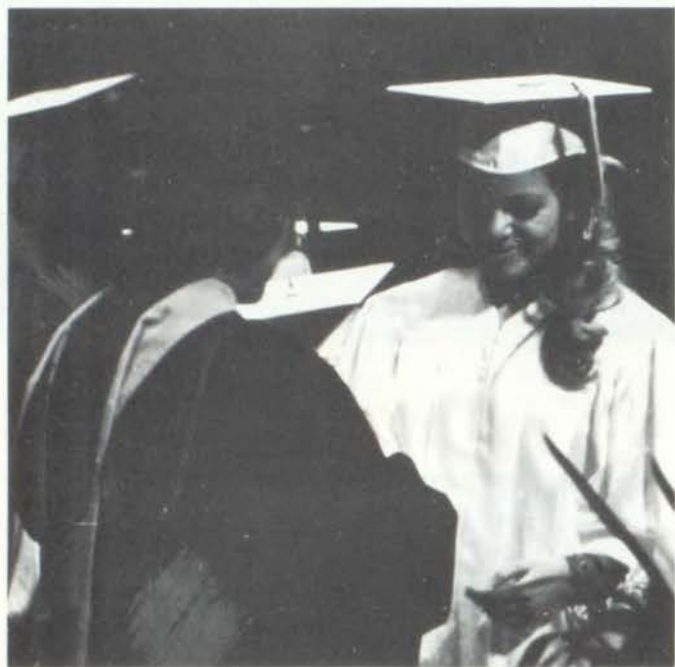

Each year the Loretto upper school faculty shows their appreciation to the Senior Class by fixing them dinner and putting on a skit. This year the teachers decided to do something different, instead of putting on a skit. Each individual Senior received a present, as each one stood up and opened their gift, they had to explain why they got it and what teacher gave it to them.

Graduation

Graduation was held at Avila College, in Goppert Theatre on a beautiful Thursday night. (May 22nd)

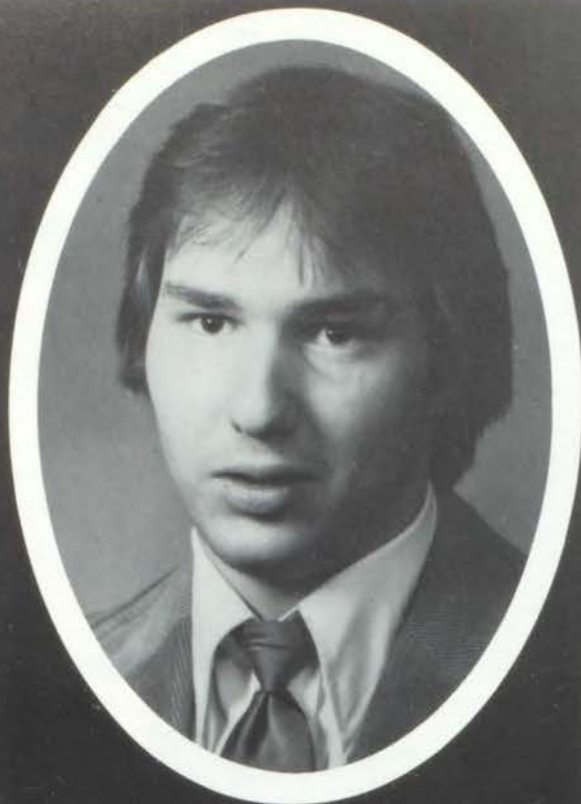

THE CLASS OF 1980

SENIORS COMPLETE GOALS AND FACE NEW RESPONSIBILITIES

Well, here it was. It finally arrived. You were a big man on campus now — a SENIOR. To some being a senior just meant finally graduating, but to others it meant a real sense of accomplishment. Members of the class of '80 were special. The small class of 47 seniors students achieved success in many areas of school life: music, drama, art, sports and many more educational areas. Many held responsible jobs, or had enrolled in college courses while still seniors. There never was nor will there be another class like it.

The Loretto Medal of 1980 Awarded to Mary MacNaughton

The Loretto Medal is given yearly to the senior who has in the opinion of the faculty and seniors, best exemplified the ideals of Loretto in Kansas City.

Mary certainly possesses ample qualifications.

In her twelve years at Loretto she became an accomplished musician who plays four instruments; won the National School Orchestra Award for her long tenure with the Loretto Orchestra; was active in community government and school affairs; she was also a National Merit Finalist.

Our best wishes and our love are with Mary MacNaughton always.
