Loretto is a place for learning- learning not only by reading books, but also by experiencing life and building relationships. Each student is given the chance to grow in an environment which emphasizes individuality. In a world filled with uncertainties and insecurities, Loretto helps the student to understand responsibility and the freedom which accompanies it.

TECH CREW

The Tech crew: those dedicated workers of every successful theatre who have the thankless job of preparing the sets, setting the lights and moving the props during a production. Our professional amateurs are as follows:

FORENSICS 1983

This year Loretto became an affiliate chapter of the National Forensics League. Our school advanced surprisingly well for a first year team. The small team of only ten members competed in three tournaments; held at Raytown South, Belton and Hickman high schools. The various members of the team entered the tournaments in the duet acting, poetry, dramatic interpretation and humorous interpretation categories. Loretto placed within the top five in several of these categories at every tournament. Team members: John Whitaker, Jennie Hanna, Craig Bushman, Jeremy Kohn, Joni Bishop, Anna Gosnell, John Keyser, John Kyger, Michael Bonahan, and Wendy Klinger

LORETTA CHAM

CHAMPAGNE AUCTION

1982

The Loretto Champagne Auction is an annual fundraising event. November 6, 1982 was the date of the seventh auction. The auction was held at the school, the architectural structure of the building lends itself to such an event. The gymnasium was set up with tables, chairs and the auctioneer's podium for the oral auction. Delicious hors d'oeuvres and, of course, continually flowing champagne was also available in the gym. The main hallway was lined with tables containing items for the silent auction.

Planning for the auction began even before faculty and students had returned for school in September. Enthusiastic parent leaders were organizing the years activities and planning ways to offer their expertise. The time, energy and talent these caring parents put into the auction was most definitely beneficial. The 1982 auction was the most successful ever. Over $22,400 was raised for Loretto and its students.

Hal was the catalyst and the big play man, who made things happen.

Billy was Mr. Hustle giving 110% all the time. Our best one-on-one stopper.

Bob was our main man this year, 13.8 pts. and 10 plus rebounds a game.

Jim was our best outside shot, and helped run the show.

OUR SENIORS

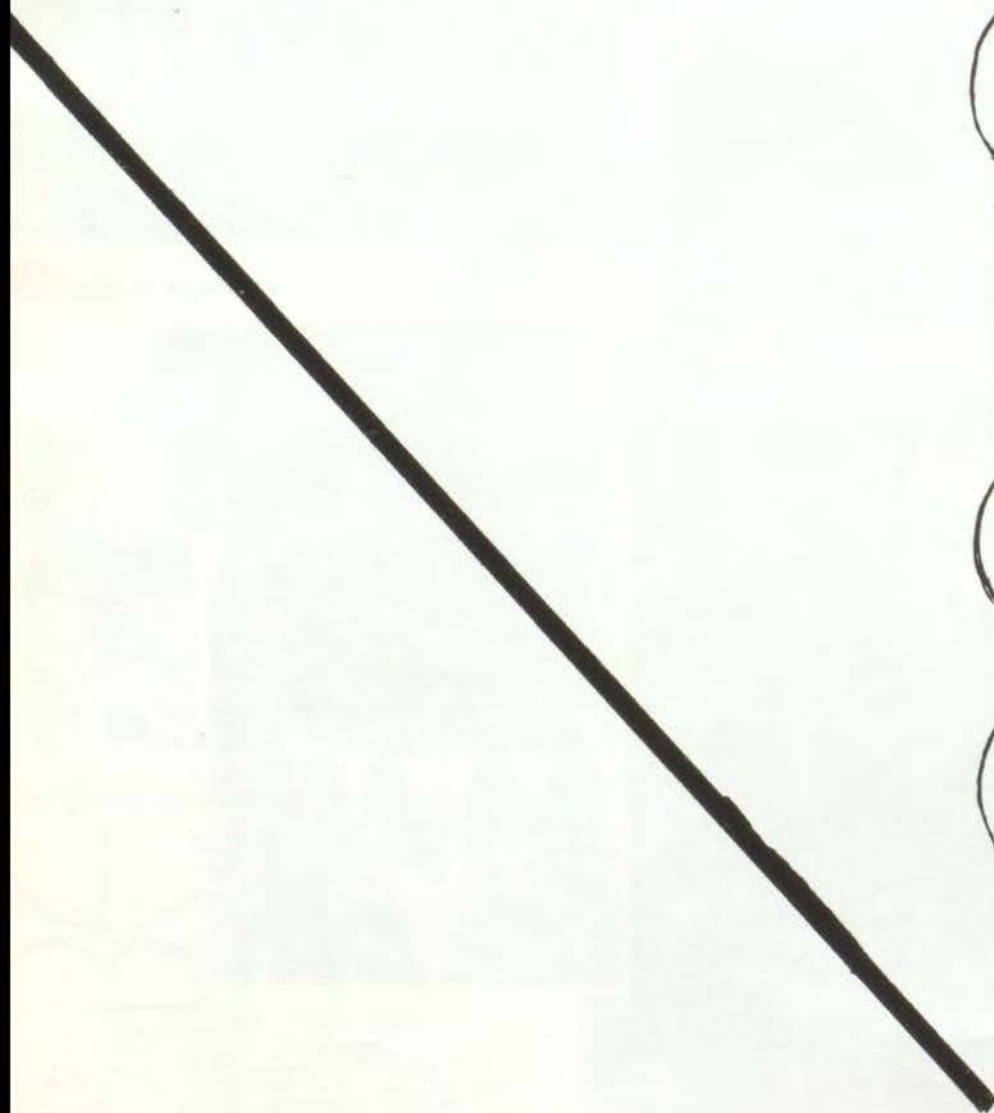

Kevin was Mr. Defense, using his quickness and jumping ability to close the middle.

UPPER

ACTIVITIES

HILLBILLIES

For as long as I can remember, the sophomores class has put on a Halloween Party in the auditorium. On this day strange people look even stranger. The traditional ghosts, witches, and clowns always show up for this event. There is a chilling horror film shown followed by refreshments prepared by the class. And of course there is always a costume contest.

This years costume contest included three catagories, most creative, most unusual, and all around best. Christina Eldridge and Chris McQueeny (above) went as siamese hillbillies and won most creative. Chris Marshall (not shown), Barry Sellars, and Eric Hilt (left) dressed up as women and won most unusual. John Hudson (below) walked throughout the school portraying one of his inventions, Smokey Lexington and won all around best.

FATHER/DAUGHTER MOTHER/SON BANQUET & DANCE

One of the upper schools biggest traditions is the annual Father-/Daughter, Mother/Son Banquet held in early spring. This year the banquet was held on Thursday, April 7th, attracting most of the upper schoolers and their parents. There was a excellent dinner followed by music and dancing. Kids never knew their parents could be so much FUN!

JR./SR. PROM 1983

The spring prom was held May 26 on a beautiful Friday night at the elegant Westin Crown Center hotel. Most of the Juniors and Seniors attended the dinner/dance and were dressed to the hilt for this special occasion. After the delicious banquet was served, the music started and the fun began!

The Senior Banquet is an annual farewell event given by the faculty for the members of the Senior class. This year the banquet was held at Princess Gardens, a delicious chinese restaurant frequented by many Loretto students. A wonderful time was had by all.

Seniors exhibit their wide range of unique and wonderful talents.

"When's the food coming?"

She couldn't resist.

SENIOR AWARDS ASSEMBLY

The very last event of the schoolyear for Seniors is the awards assembly. During this special event Seniors are awarded by their teachers for their excellence, their exceptional efforts or simply their perseverance. The Loretto Award, given annually to the Senior who most exemplified the Loretto ideal, and who worked to improve and maintain the school's traditions and goals, was appropriately given to Leslie Grady. Leslie attended Loretto for 13 years, held several offices and organized many successful events. The assembly made for a memorable last day for the Seniors.

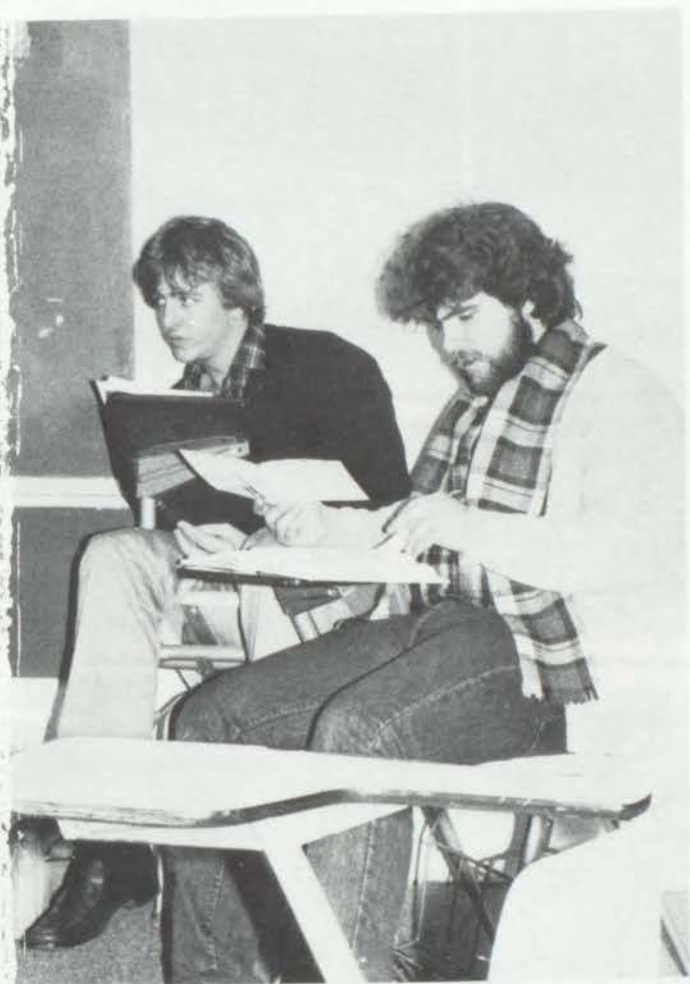

Raul Calandria, Loretto's AFS student from Uruguay for the school year 1982 to '83 has been a special friend to Loretto upper schoolers, the seniors, and his host family, the Kygers. In June, he will return to his home, Montevideo, a city in the southern-most part of Uruguay. Although he has already graduated from high school, he took a full schedule of classes at Loretto which included Computers, Geometry, Art, Politics, Philosophy, and U.S. History.

He had 3 years of basic English in High school but really learned to speak it well here. His high school, a 6-year program, required a uniform, no beard, and short hair. It was harder than Loretto and he had to pass a very tough exam to graduate. "At Loretto," he said, "the teachers care too much for you."

Raul's mother is a nurse, his father is a lawyer, his sister, who is 25, is a medical student, and his 17-year old brother is attending school in Texas with the Youth For Understanding organization. He will be returning to Uruguay at about the same time as Raul. His family apartment at home is one block from a beach on the Rio de la Plata, and he loves to go there when he is not busy. Also fun to visit are the ocean beaches about 70- miles away. He will return to Uruguay in June to begin studies at the University of Architecture. He hopes someday to be designing buildings, houses and apartment complexes.

In Kansas City, when he is not in school, Raul says his favorite activity is to be social, to be with people. When asked what he will miss at Loretto, he said, "Everybody. It is hard to say 'Hello, I'll be here for a year,'" and after that is over, it is hard to leave. It will be practically impossible to be able to see everyone again. It is hard to say goodbye to everything."
