FOREWORD

IN OUR annual of nineteen twenty-seven and twenty-eight, we have tried to show some of the backgrounds which gave our school its sure foundation; through a few illustrations of our homes and business activities to show from what we draw our support; to give glimpses of precious hours dear to the heart of each of us who was so fortunate as to be enrolled in classes of nineteen twenty-seven and twenty-eight.

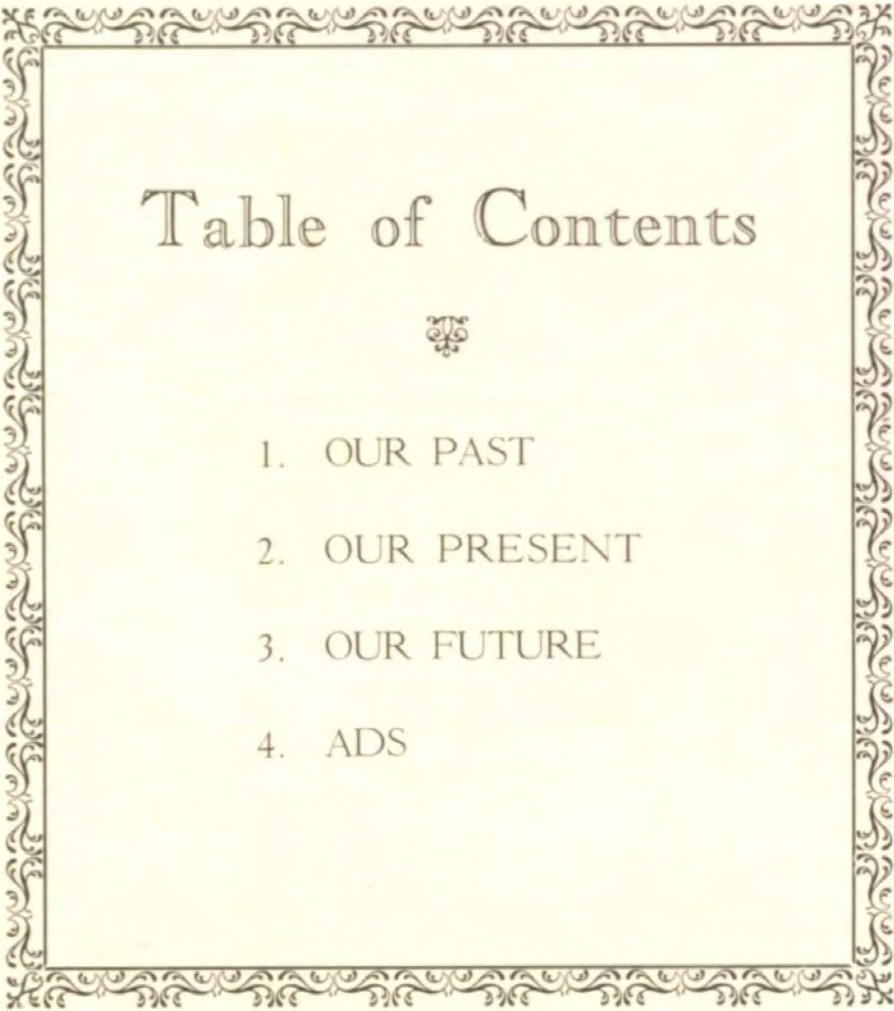

On the pages of Seniors have been included the pictures of some of those "old grads" whose work has been outstanding.

DEDICATION

TO the pioneer spirits of our past, who held always a vision of a community energetic and devoted to true educational advancement; to the spirit of the present embodied in the spirit of liberty, holding high her enlightening torch; to the spirit of progress in our future, entrusted to those of our graduates who uphold those ideals for which the best in our past and present have stood, we dedicate our annual of 1927-28.

A decorative rectangular border with intricate scrollwork and floral patterns surrounds the central text.

Jeremiah Odell

JEREMIAH ODELL was born in east Tennessee about 1787. He made a tour through Missouri looking for a home and found it in Howard county, near a fort which the settlers used as a protection from the Indians. He then went back to Tennessee for his bride, Elizabeth Gregory, in 1818. His next move was to a tract of land in Saline county. Here he built a home about a mile northeast of Marshall. In this home he lived with his wife, seven sons, two daughters, and a maiden sister, Betty. The county seat of Saline county had not yet been selected and in 1839 he gave sixty-five acres in Section fifteen, Township fifty and Range twenty-one for this purpose. The Rea and Page mill is near the northeast corner of this land, the gas plant near the northwest corner. The home of the son, Calloway Odell, stood near the southwest corner of the tract. Jeremiah Odell lies buried in the Odell graveyard northeast of Marshall. His home, which was built nearby, has fallen into decay. The home pictured below was the home of Calloway Odell. This home was, until recent years, an old landmark, nestling among modern homes, but it, too, has been torn down.

The Odell family were land owners and the name is connected with agricultural interests in the county. Odell Avenue, on which our high school is located, is the main thoroughfare of the town.

Joseph Huston

JOSEPH HUSTON emigrated from Augusta county, Virginia, in 1819, and settled a few miles from Arrow Rock, later moving to the town. Here he became a prominent citizen, served as Justice of Peace, and Judge of the County Court. In 1829, the town of Arrow Rock was established. Meredith M. Marmaduke, afterwards governor of Missouri, as county surveyor, laid off the site.

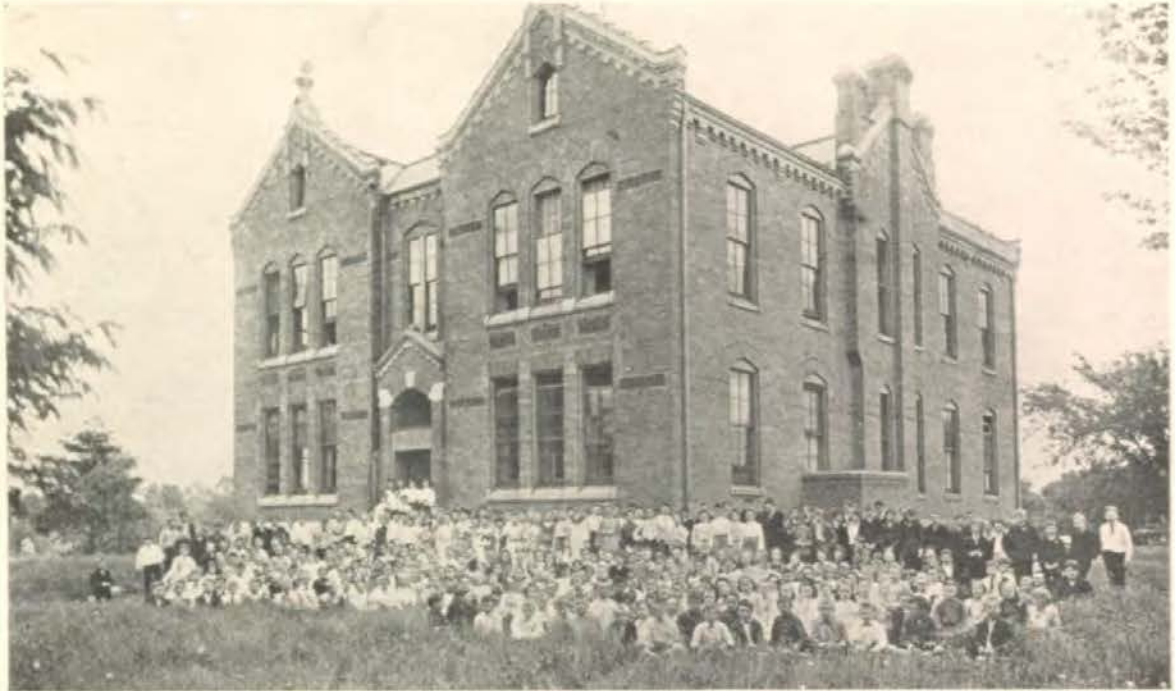

Arrow Rock has become a historic shrine. In 1826 the Tavern was taken over by the D. A. R.'s of the state, and is now a shrine containing many historic relics. Here may be seen prints of "Order No. 11," and "The Stump Speaker," paintings of note by the artist, George Bingham, whose home was in Arrow Rock.

Joseph Huston, Jr., later moved to Marshall and became the founder of the Wood and Huston bank.

The Tavern was built in 1834, by Joseph Huston, Sr. In connection with the Tavern was a store room, where Joseph Huston opened up a general merchandise store. Hundreds of tourists yearly visit this shrine.

BENTON, our first ward school of any pretensions, was built in 1881 by Mr. E. R. Page, at a cost of $17,000.00. The superintendent of schools then was W. E. Coleman. Our first high school classes were organized at Benton under Supt. T. E. Spencer. In 1883, Eastwood, a duplicate of Benton, was erected and our first class in high school work graduated from Eastwood in 1884.

OLD HIGH SCHOOL

The picture to the left, represents the first high school built on Odell Avenue. It was erected in 1903 by E. R. Page, at a cost of $41,000. Mr. E. J. Scott was superintendent when the building was commenced, but died suddenly, and Mr. H. H. Edmiston became superintendent. The building was destroyed by fire on Dec. 7, 1921.

Dr. John Sappington

DR. JOHN SAPPINGTON, founder of the Sappington Educational Fund that has sent many poor but worthy children through school, was born May 15, 1776.

Dr. Sappington compounded a medicine for the cure of malaria from which he amassed a fortune and generously set aside $20,000 for the education of poor children, in a will so cleverly worded that no lawyer has been able to break it. The fund has permitted many an ambitious child to fit himself for a successful life.

Dr. Sappington died in the eighty-first year of his life, September 7, 1856, near Arrow Rock.

Below is tabulated the data obtained from the Missouri Valley College and Marshall High School records of the number educated on the Sappington Fund since 1918.

Evolution of Marshall High School

IN OCTOBER 21, 1881, under the superintendency of W. E. Coleman, there was a class organized to do high school work. In 1884 the following members of the first class graduated: Mattie Walker, Nettie McMillan, Lena Sappington, May Spencer, Belle Hutchinson, Minnie Eakin, Belle Nordyke, Thomas B. Harris. Members of the class who are still living are: Thomas B. Harris, a Methodist minister in Saline; Minnie Eakin Campbell, of Marshall, who has won membership in the Writers' Guild because of the charm of her verse; Belle Nordyke Crawford, who lives in Topeka, Kans.; Nettie McMillan, who makes her home in Texas; May Spencer Boulware, Palmyra, Mo.; Miss Belle Hutchinson, Louisville, Ky.

On June 1, 1882, the high school department, under Mr. T. E. Spencer's superintendency, was continued. In May 31, 1892, Mr. Spencer resigned as superintendent and became editor of the Southern Magazine, Louisville, Ky.; later he took charge of the military school at Sweet Springs. From June 1, 1892, to May 31, 1895, Mr. R. H. Emberson served as superintendent.

In June 6, 1895, Mr. T. E. Spencer again took charge as Superintendent and served until June 31, 1902; Mr. B. G. Shackelford then became superintendent. In July 31, 1903, Mr. Shackelford resigned and Mr. J. M. Taylor became superintendent, serving two years. On July 31, 1905, Mr. Taylor gave up his work in Marshall to take charge of the McCume Home in Kansas City, Mo., and Mr. E. J. Scott succeeded him as superintendent of the Marshall Public Schools. Mr. Scott died suddenly in August, 1907, and Mr. H. H. Edmiston was elected August 16, 1907. In 1908, we moved into a newly built high school. In December, 1921, a fire left us without a high school home. Temporary quarters were arranged in the North School Building. In 1923 a $300,000.00 high school rose phoenix-like upon the site of the burned building.

Mr. H. H. Edmiston went to St. Louis schools in July 1, 1910. Mr. Edmiston was succeeded by Mr. E. F. Thompson. He was succeeded by Mr. L. J. Hall who served till July 31, 1916, when he in turn was succeeded by Mr. W. M. Westbrook, August 1, 1916. Mr. Westbrook has been our superintendent for the past twelve years and has seen our enrollment grow so that now we are being faced with the necessity of erecting a building in South Marshall so that the three-grade rooms may be moved, and our first floor be given over entirely to the high school work.

Marshall's school plant now includes four grade schools, providing for six grammar grades and our Junior-Senior High School, with an enrollment of 525. The entire enrollment is 1,507. Forty-seven teachers are employed.

MISSOURI Valley College, a co-educational school owned by the Presbyterian Church U. S. A. was founded in 1888. It has a faculty of twenty members, and a student enrollment of two hundred and thirty-two. There is a beautiful forty-acre campus with seven buildings—the main building, the Murrell Memorial Library, two Dormitories, Stewart Chapel, Morrison Gymnasium and the power-house. The college has returned to Saline County approximately 2,500 former students and alumni.

GEORGE A. MURRELL, a pioneer of Marshall and Saline County, left thirty thousand dollars for the purpose of erecting a public library for the use of the people of Marshall, and the students of the college. The building was completed in the fall of 1927, at a cost of $90,000.00.

MERCY ACADEMY — In 1884, the Sisters of Loretto established a Catholic academy here for the education of young girls of that religion. Since that time it has changed management to the Sisters of Mercy. At present it has an enrollment of about one hundred and fifty students, which includes pupils of all twelve grades. The courses offered are commercial, academic, music and expression.

Below is pictured the MISSOURI STATE SCHOOL for the Epileptics and Feeble-minded. The institution cares for over 700 patients at present, and renders a great service to the public welfare of the state. The site occupies a tract of 288 acres.

W V. TIPPING MONUMENT COMPANY. The present W. V. Tipping Monument Co. was started in 1874, by James A. Tipping, the father of W. V. Tipping. It was built up successfully by using the best obtainable material and by using the best of help.

The material used is from Barrie, Vermont—the “Rock of Ages” granite. Barrie is known as the greatest granite center in the world.

CLIFF B. GOODWIN WHOLESALE COMPANY. This Company is a strictly Marshall enterprise. It was established October 1, 1915. Mr. Goodwin has been a Marshall booster ever since he started in business.

Mr. Goodwin renders first class service and is always ready to co-operate in Marshall's interests.

THE GAS PLANT. The first gas plant established in Marshall was the Coal Gas Plant, built in 1885. This plant was dismantled in 1924, and during the same year the Water Gas Plant was put into service. This new plant has a capacity of making gas at the rate of 18,000 cubic feet per hour. It has the storage capacity of 135,000 cubic feet. Marshall has 12 miles of gas main and 800 consumers.

THE SHOE FACTORY. A branch of the International Shoe Company, located here in Marshall, is a very valuable asset to the town.

The factory has about nine hundred and fifty employees, with a yearly payroll of seven hundred and fifty thousand dollars. It has a maximum capacity of fourteen thousand shoes daily.

The factory has brought many new residents to Marshall and has contributed to the enlargement of our town.

Chamber of Commerce

THE Marshall Chamber of Commerce was organized twenty-five years ago. It was then known as the Marshall Commercial Club.

Five years ago the name was changed to the present one and the building in which they carry on business was bought at that time.

The Chamber of Commerce is always on the alert to bring new industries to Marshall. Two recent important ones are: The International Shoe Factory, and the Nicholas-Beazley Airplane School and Factory.

Some of the other work done by this organization is the issuing of automobile license, controlling the credit bureau, employment bureau, and pushing for better roads. The Chamber of Commerce is now making a move to get a condensery brought to Marshall.

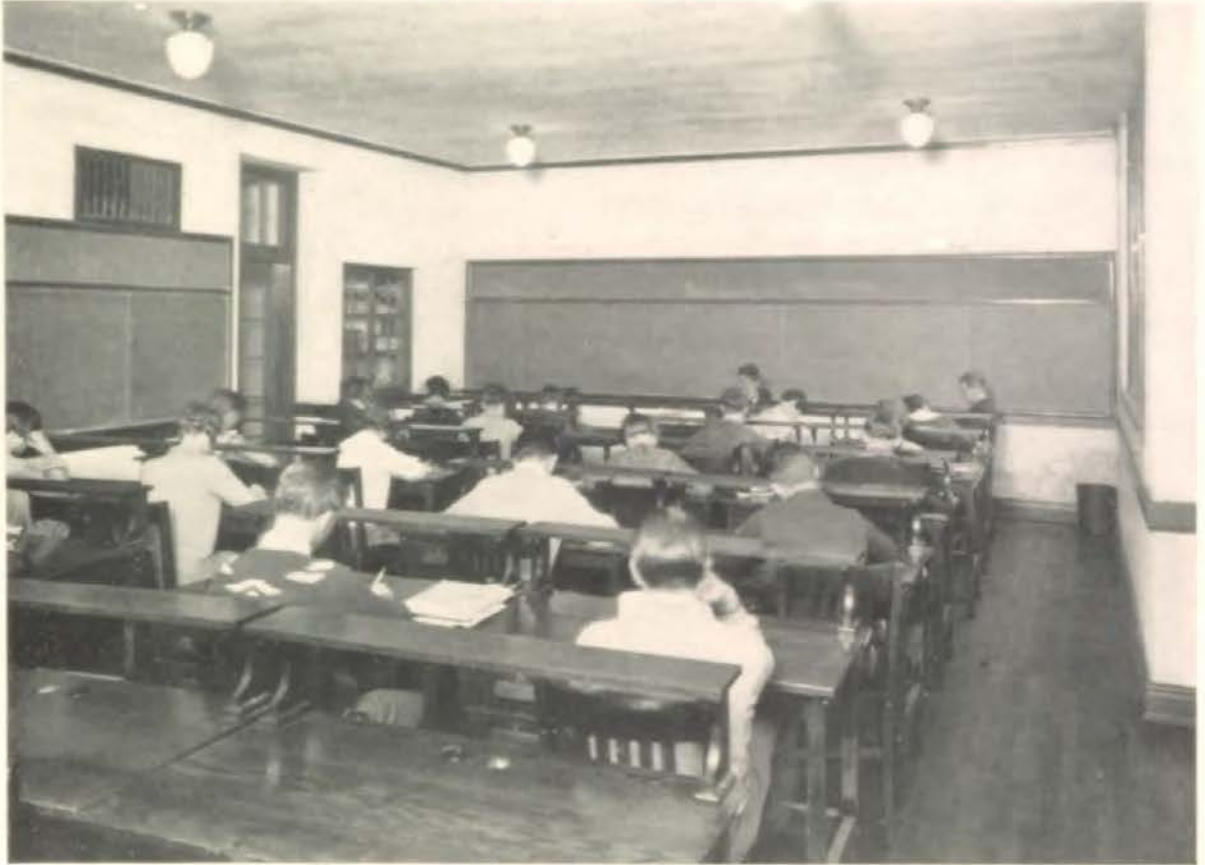

The members of the organization are the merchants, business and professional men of Marshall. At the present time there is a ninety per cent membership.

Vocational Agriculture

THE above is the picture of the freshman class in Vocational Agriculture. They are taking their first year's work which is preparatory to the study of Animal Breeding.

The principal aim of Vocational Agriculture is to prepare the boy for the farm. The work in the department is divided into two classes. First, the study of live stock, crops, soils and horticulture, with practical work in feeding, and the use of fertilizers, crops and varieties best adapted to maintaining soil fertility; and actual work in the pruning of various kinds of fruit trees. The second class of work is called farm shop practice, and consists of actual work in carpentry, iron working, and belt lacing. Wagon beds, poultry houses, brooders are a few of the articles made in this class.

Commercial Department

EACH day one hundred and forty students pass through these class rooms. They are engaged while here in the study of Typewriting, Shorthand, and Bookkeeping. There are at present three classes of second-year typists, two of first-year stenographers, one of bookkeepers, and one of second-year stenographers. The department gives a thorough course in these subjects, so that anyone who has completed the course is qualified for the routine of the average office. It is hoped that future demands will warrant the addition of courses in Commercial, Law Office Practice, Business Arithmetic, Business Geography and a second year of Bookkeeping. Certain students in each of the classes are at present "in training" for the contests at Warrensburg this spring. The department feels that it will gain its share of the honors offered in these contests.

Biology Class

THIS group is a class in biology in the science lecture room. Two classes in biology and two classes in chemistry meet in this room three days each week. The other two days are spent in the laboratory. The science lecture room is completely equipped for demonstration, for showing moving pictures and stereopticon slides. The demonstration table is equipped with hot and cold water, gas, electricity, and all the necessary apparatus for demonstration work. The work done in this room is a combination of lectures, demonstrations, and recitations.

This is the first year that a course in biology has been offered.

Sewing Department

THIS sewing class is composed of Senior High School girls. They are: Lucinda Hanna, Margaret Vinyard, Kathryn Huff, Virginia Buie, Virginia Spicer, Mildred Small, Flema Harrison, Lorene Barnes, and Pauline Townsend. Miss Bessie King, instructor.

The room has very good equipment for sewing. There are six sewing machines; two ironing boards, which are built into the wall; two electric irons; six sewing tables, with seating accommodation for four at each table; the instructor's desk; a large triple mirror; a skirt stand; two closets, one with a lavatory and the other one with shelves for the finished sewing projects. The books comprising the Home Economics library are also kept there.

The first work taken up is very simple, such as hemming tea towels and similar work. After the more simple processes in sewing have been completed the advanced steps are taken, finally each can make a dress.

Manual Training Department

THE Manual Training Department for the year of 1927-28 was under the supervision of Mr. William Lyon, from Warrensburg. The department is divided into two parts, one large room for machinery and cabinet work, and a smaller room for finishing work.

The present machinery in the department consists of a jointer, a power saw, a lathe, and a grinder. Only second and third-year students had the privilege of using the machines the first half of the year, but all were allowed to use them the last semester.

The classes began the year's work by making hatracks, and other small articles. Some of the furniture made this year included: footstools, phonographs, a vanity dresser, library tables, end-tables, and book-ends. An art-fiber class of boys and girls met during the activity period. Floor-lamps, writing desks, telephone tables, and baskets were made.

THE M. H. S. Band has been one of the most valuable assets to the High School during the school year of '27-'28. The Band's chief purpose was to serve as a pep unit in which it excelled everything else used in creating pep.

Under the direction of Professor G. A. Parker, the above pupils have rendered their services in making this activity successful during the year '27-'28.

The Girls' Pep Club

THIS club was organized in nineteen hundred and twenty-six by a group of Senior High School girls. They took the responsibility of establishing pep in the student body during the football season by taking charge of the pep assemblies or finding another capable group to take charge.

Beginning at the left, the members are: Elizabeth Nooe, Mildred Newell, Kathryn Huff, Genevieve Dyer, Nadyne Phillips, Virginia Aldredge, Velma Putnam, Lavinia Lower, Marianna Smith, Vivian Ruff, Anna K. ## Basket Ball, 1928

AFTER a very successful football season, Marshall High followed with a second place basket ball season, winning from William Chrisman in the final game of the year. Coach Markey turned out a winning team, in spite of the fact that only two lettermen were back from the 1927 Championship team. Marshall played nineteen games during the season, winning fourteen and losing five. Three of the five losses were to Sedalia, the 1928 Big Conference champion, with one loss to Wm. Chrisman in league play, and one loss to Clinton in the semi-finals of the District tournament. Nine wins and three losses comprised our conference games. Marshall also won the Consolation Tournament at Missouri Valley College.

In the last three years of basket ball Marshall has won 43 games and lost 16.

Track

Cup at left, first place in Big Seven; center, second place, William Jewell Meet; cup at right, first place, 880-yard relay.

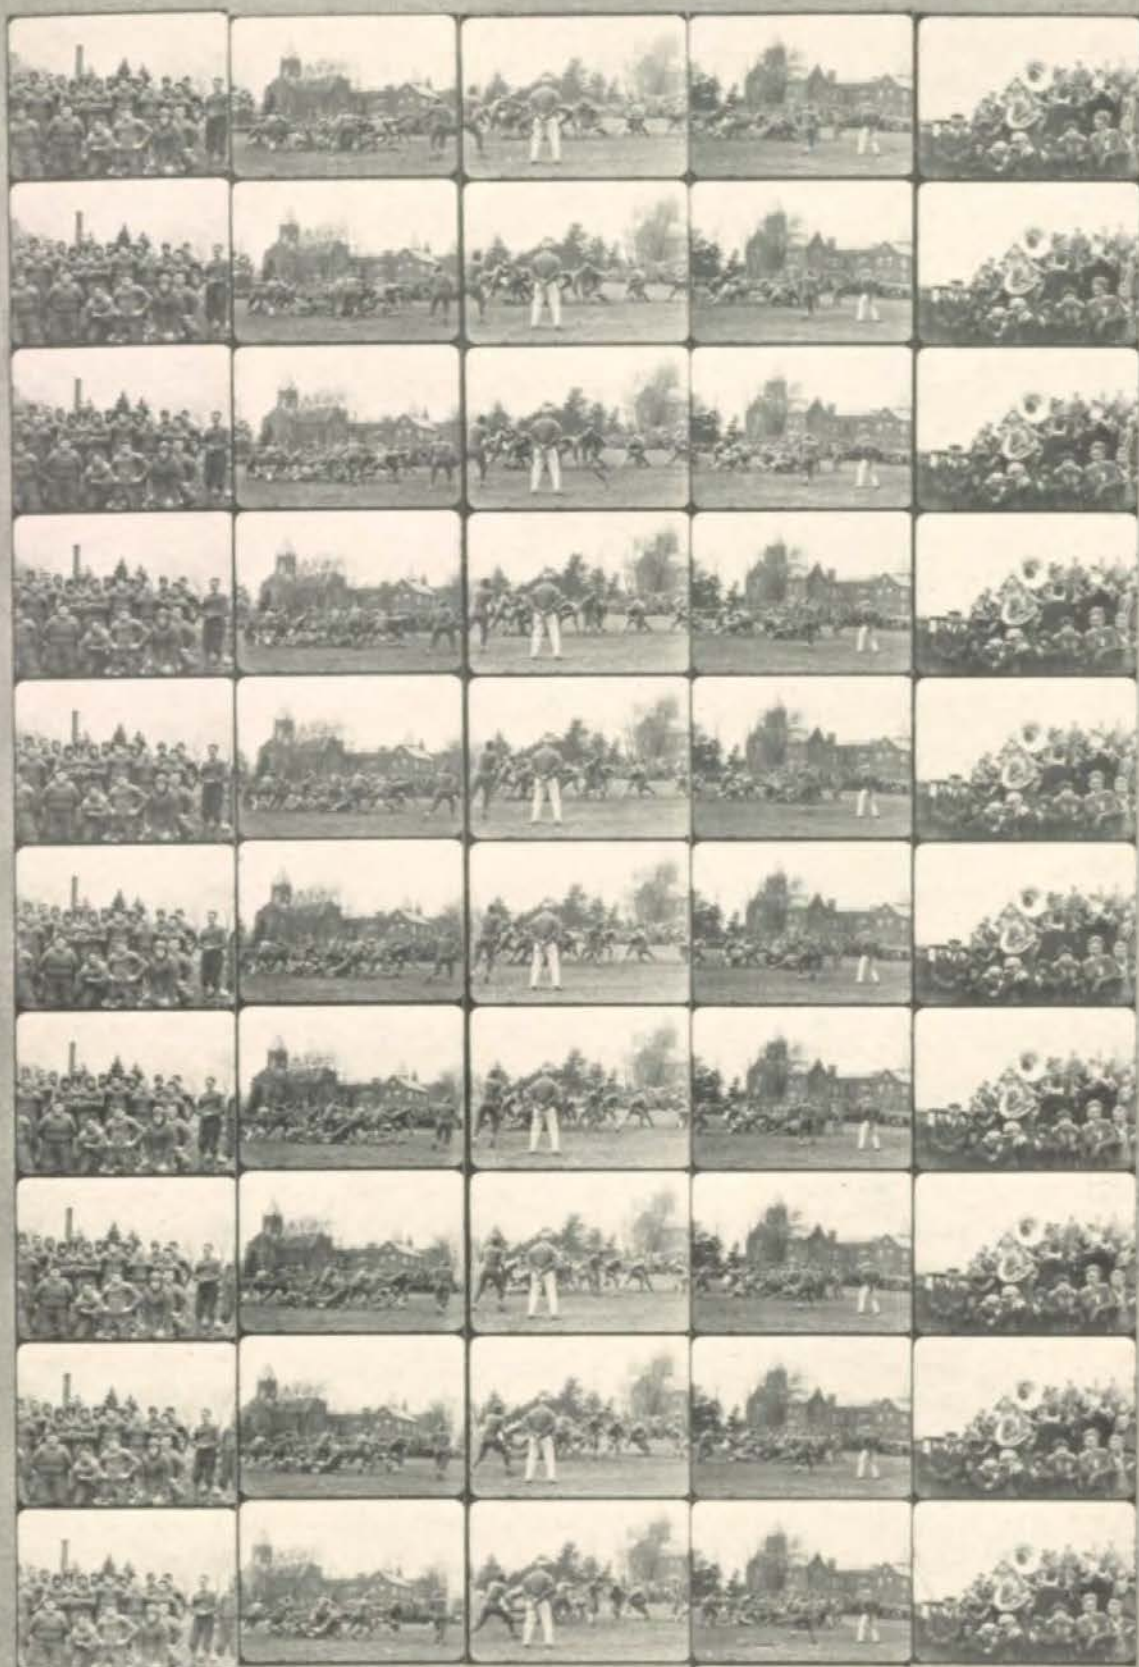

The Track squad was the third squad sent out by Marshall High School in 1926-27, to win first place in the Big Seven Conference. Van Winkle, Marshall's outstanding track and field star, scored  $23\frac{1}{2}$  points, placing Marshall second in the William Jewell College Meet. Two new records were set by Van Winkle in this Meet. In the District Meet at Warrensburg, Marshall took second place, with 27 points, and Van Winkle set a new record in the javelin throw with a heave of 172 feet 2 inches.

Marshall won the Big Seven Meet with a total of  $43\frac{1}{2}$  points. Van Winkle set four records, and the 880-yard relay team, composed of Humphreys, Hutcherson, Ashford and Van Winkle, ran the distance in 1 min. 36.2 secs., breaking the old record by one and two-fifths seconds.

Senior High Physical Education

PHYSICAL Education, commonly known as Physical Training, does not mean simply building big muscles but also building good minds. There is something of the old Greek theory, to have a good mind one must have a good body, in this work. One-half unit of credit at Marshall High is given for a year's course in Physical Training.

The aims of the Physical Education department are:

- a. Knowledge of and practice of common laws of health.
- b. A discovery and overcoming of the principal physical defects.
- c. A presentable, self-respecting posture.
- d. The training of the body along the lines of beauty in action and rest.
- e. Moderate skill and ability in the common forms of sport, especially those carried into later life.
- f. Passing of the standard tests in athletics at the proper ages, and, finally, achieving the symmetrical development of social and physical co-ordination represented by the state letters.
- g. Formation of social adjustment and friendship.
- h. Development of right ideals of personal conduct.

Junior High Physical Training, Boys

THE Junior High School Physical Training classes give the pupil a well-rounded program in development. The program is grouped around the major sports but not along the lines of elimination. Every boy is given equal opportunity to participate in the activities, and the program is planned so that every boy, regardless of his physical qualification, may participate.

Corrective gymnastics are also included, as it is this period that physical defects may be corrected. During the end of each season tournaments are held to decide the champions in the different sports. The Missouri Athletic badge tests are also used and have proven very interesting to the pupils of the dear old Marshall High.

Senior High Girls' Physical Training

IN the Senior High School girls' physical training classes, the various sports are taken up, also folk dancing, state letter work, and other games.

Starting in the fall with basket ball, then continuing with volley ball, baseball, tennis, and track, class teams are organized and inter-class tournaments are held. From these class teams a school team is chosen, and in nineteen twenty-seven and eight, basket ball games were played with Missouri Valley College and Mercy Academy, and volley games with the college. The girls lost the basket ball game to the college but won from the Academy, and won one volley ball game from the college.

For the first time, letters were awarded this year to those girls making the school team.

On one day of each week folk dancing is taken up. Dances of other countries are taught and the American barn dances, country dances, colonial movements and clogs. Many of the Junior and Senior girls are working on state letters, and several have won them this year. A half-unit credit is given for a year of work.

Junior High Physical Training, Girls

THE work of the Junior high school girls that is carried on each year in physical training corresponds to the course with the Senior high girls. A schedule is arranged for the week's work. Relays are held every Monday. One day each week the girls study hygiene, while the other days they play either volley ball, baseball, basket ball, or work on some of the Scout badge tests. The eighth grade won in the volley-ball tournament. As many badge tests that have been the standard of the state, the girls complete. The physical training department has benefited the girls a great deal. The seventh, eighth, and ninth grades, (which include Junior high), the girls cannot enter into basket ball games between the classes, but the classes have several prospective players for the following years.

Our Orphan

*"He who gives a child a treat,
Makes joy-bells ring in Heaven's street,
And he who gives a child a home
Builds palaces in Kingdom Come."*

—JOHN MASEFIELD.

THE Marshall High School was elected sponsors of a Near East Orphan on December 17, 1926. Each student bears a portion of this responsibility by contributing a small fee regularly. By this method the students are able to furnish the necessary clothing and food for this orphan one year.

The orphan's name is Dickranoohi Jwelgian. She was born in 1916 at Yoyghad and is receiving care and training at the Near East Relief Orphanage at Hilltop. The exact date of Dickranoohi's birth is not known because of her parents being killed by the Turks and she was taken to the orphanage by her brothers, of whom she has never since heard.

This small child is in the lower grades of the school where she is learning clean habits and all sorts of art work. To complete the training and care of Dickranoohi it will take six or eight years and it is the aim of the high school pupils to continue this sponsorship until she becomes self-supporting.

Student Government

STUDENT Government in Marshall High School is conducted under a constitution drawn up in 1917, and amended somewhat in 1927. This organization has done much to raise the standards of Marshall High.

The preamble is stated thus: "We, the students of Marshall High School, believing it to be to the best interests of the High School in maintaining order and in training students for future citizenship; do hereby adopt this constitution."

The organization is similar to that of our National government and is composed of the Executive, Legislative, and Judicial departments.

The President of the student body must be a Senior in good standing. He presides at assemblies and appoints sergeants and members of the Student Court.

The Legislative authority is vested in a Student Council, composed of two members from each homeroom group. This body makes all laws governing the conduct of the students in the hall.

The Judicial department is composed of a Chief Justice and six associate justices. It interprets the laws and prosecutes offenders.

ADVICE

The wise man of the day tells the younger generation to specialize.

The way to specialize is to study every phase of a profession chosen or a business enlisted in. Know all that there is to be learned about it, and then, perchance, new light will be shed upon the way, and it may become the student's privilege to be the originator of a new system, the diviner of a new truth that will revolutionize business and link his name with those of the immortals.

Thrift

THIS Bank is a believer in the habit of Thrift, particularly for the young, and was the first to establish a Savings Department in Marshall. For the same reason it undertook the task of handling the School Savings accounts of this city, not for any pecuniary profit involved but to encourage the practice of regular saving among children. The ideal situation will not be attained until EVERY child in the public schools has a Savings Account in which regular weekly deposits are made.
