NOR'EASTER

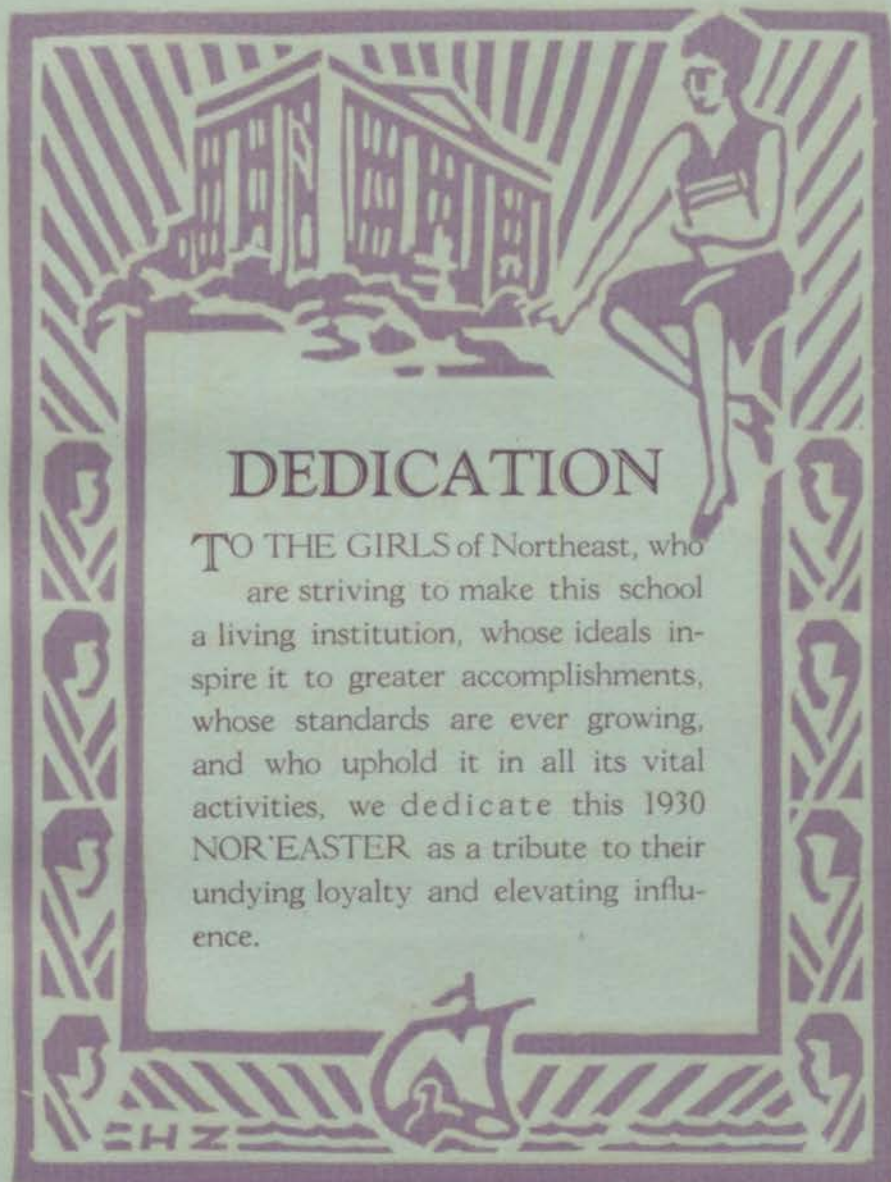

--- 1930 ---

Edited by the
Nor'easter Staff
Northeast High School
Kansas City, Missouri
Volume XVII

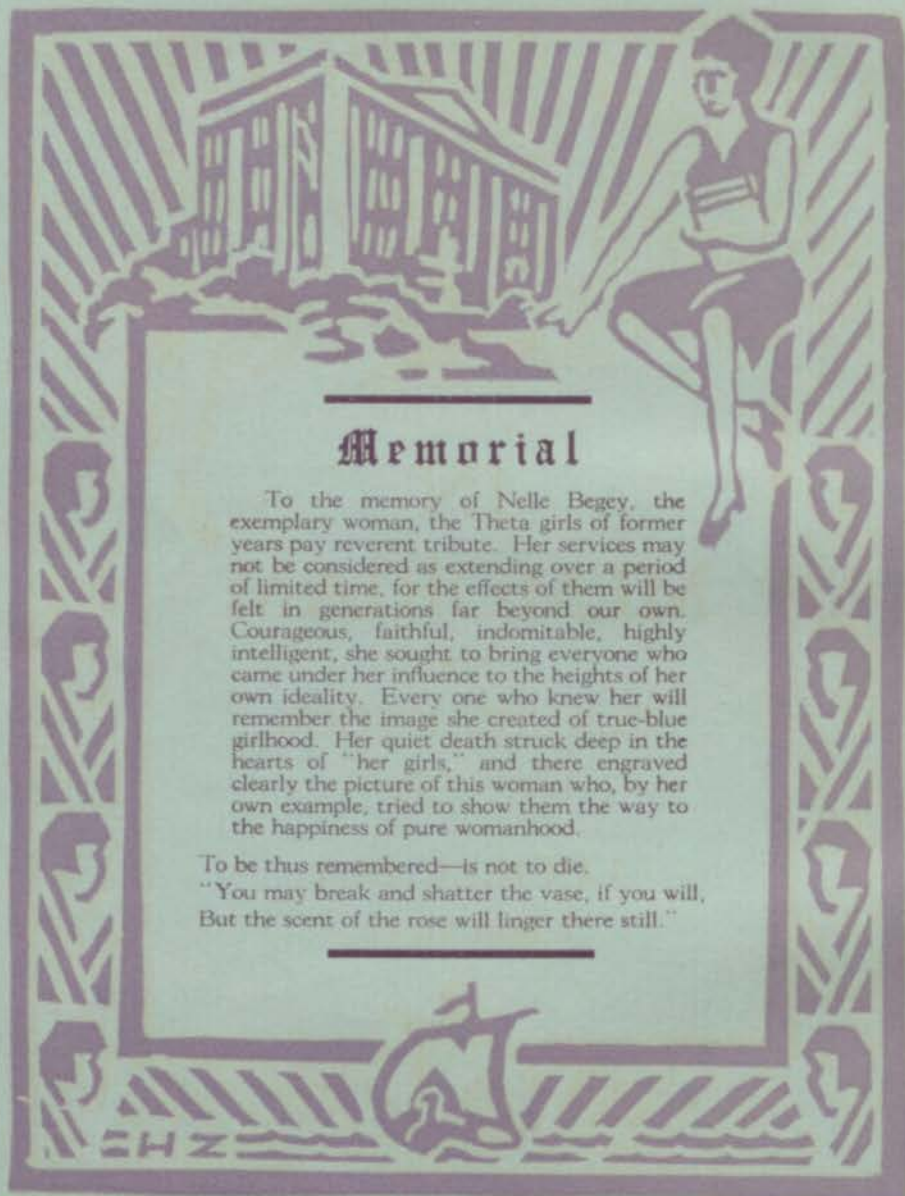

FOREWORD

If in the golden chain of pleasant memories this 1930 Nor'easter will furnish one small, but strong link, the staff will enjoy the satisfaction of having achieved something worth while. . . .

DEDICATION

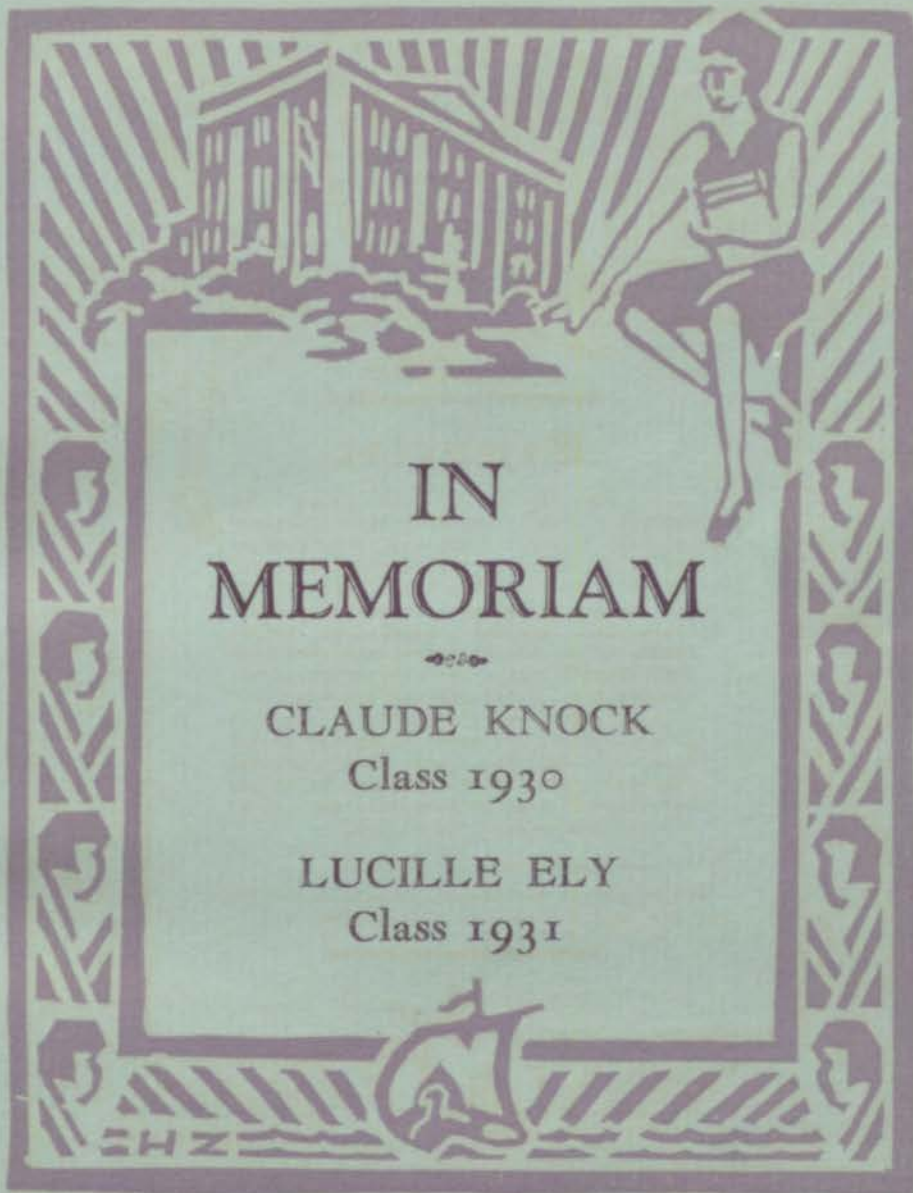

TO THE GIRLS of Northeast, who are striving to make this school a living institution, whose ideals inspire it to greater accomplishments, whose standards are ever growing, and who uphold it in all its vital activities, we dedicate this 1930 NOR'EASTER as a tribute to their undying loyalty and elevating influence.

Memorial

To the memory of Nelle Begey, the exemplary woman, the Theta girls of former years pay reverent tribute. Her services may not be considered as extending over a period of limited time, for the effects of them will be felt in generations far beyond our own. Courageous, faithful, indomitable, highly intelligent, she sought to bring everyone who came under her influence to the heights of her own ideality. Every one who knew her will remember the image she created of true-blue girlhood. Her quiet death struck deep in the hearts of "her girls," and there engraved clearly the picture of this woman who, by her own example, tried to show them the way to the happiness of pure womanhood.

To be thus remembered—is not to die.
"You may break and shatter the vase, if you will,
But the scent of the rose will linger there still."

FEATURES

The Viking Stronghold

"There it stood on high
A monument to knowledge."

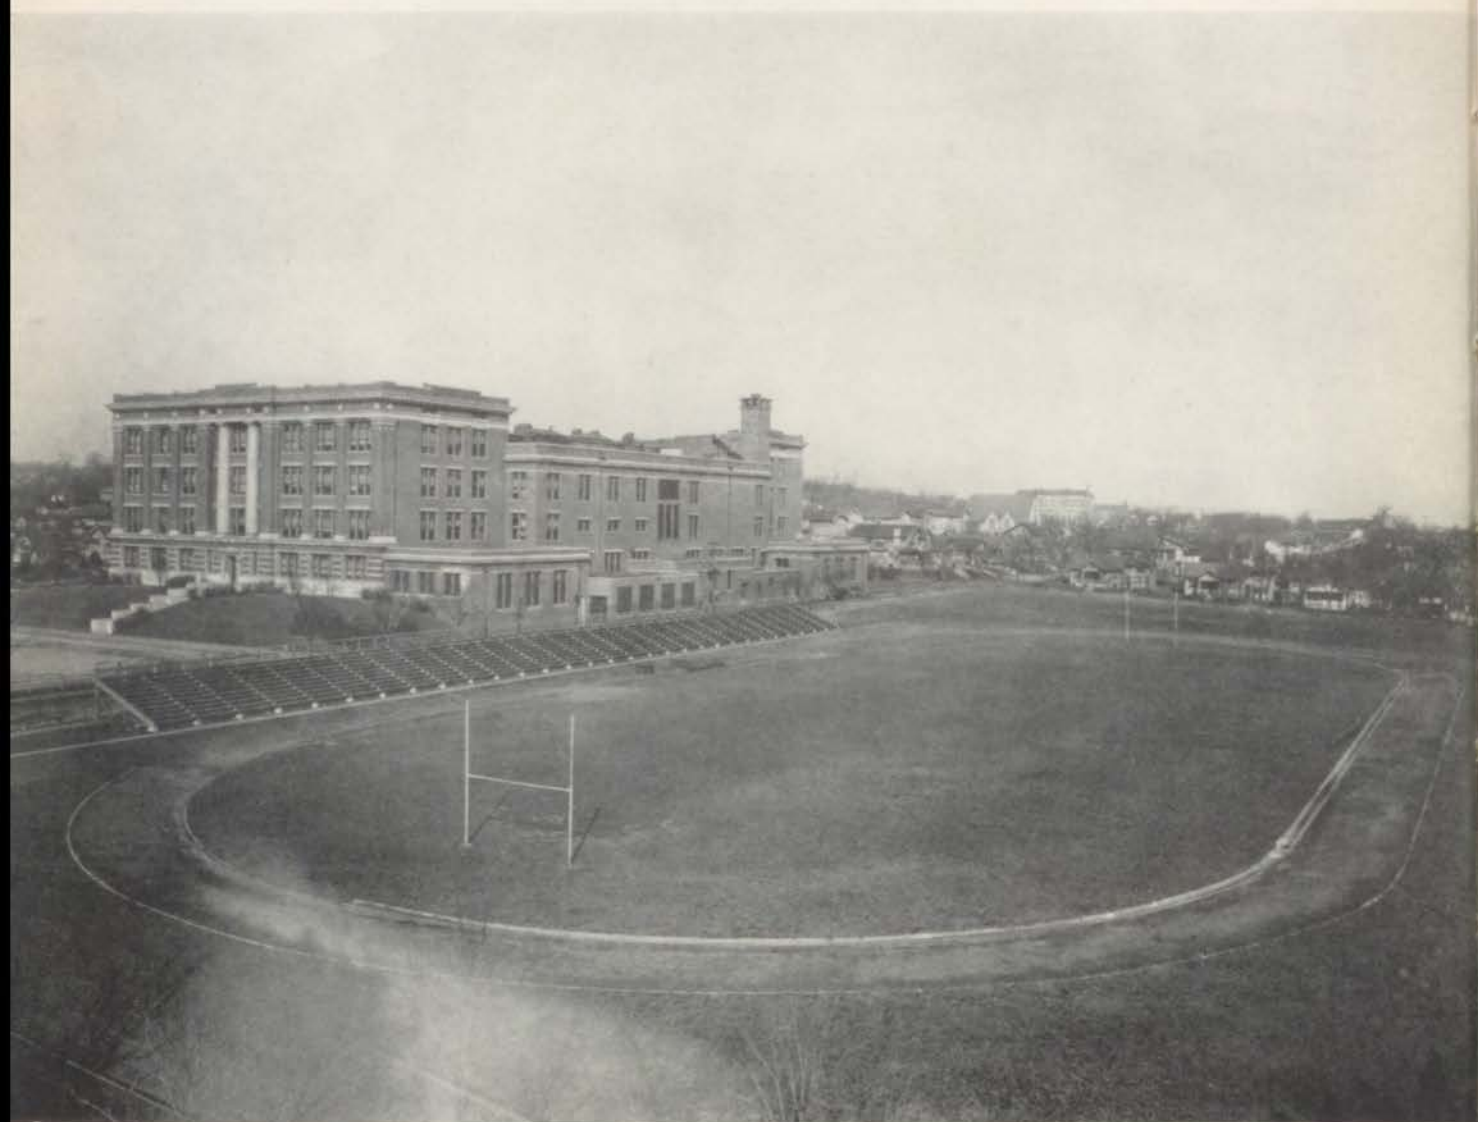

When Winter Comes

"In the winter cold and drear
We must make our own good cheer."

The "Hi-Y" Building

"So long as men can breathe or eyes can see,
So long lives this, and this gives life to thee."

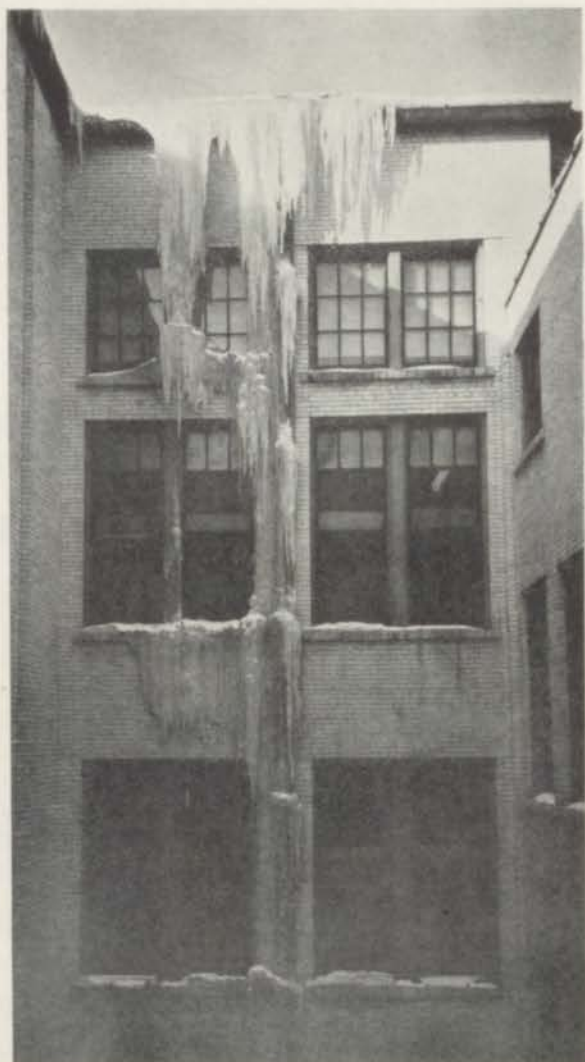

Sports and Knowledge Inseparable

"For men may come and men may go,
But I go on forever."

Comrades

"We have been friends together
In sunshine and in shade."

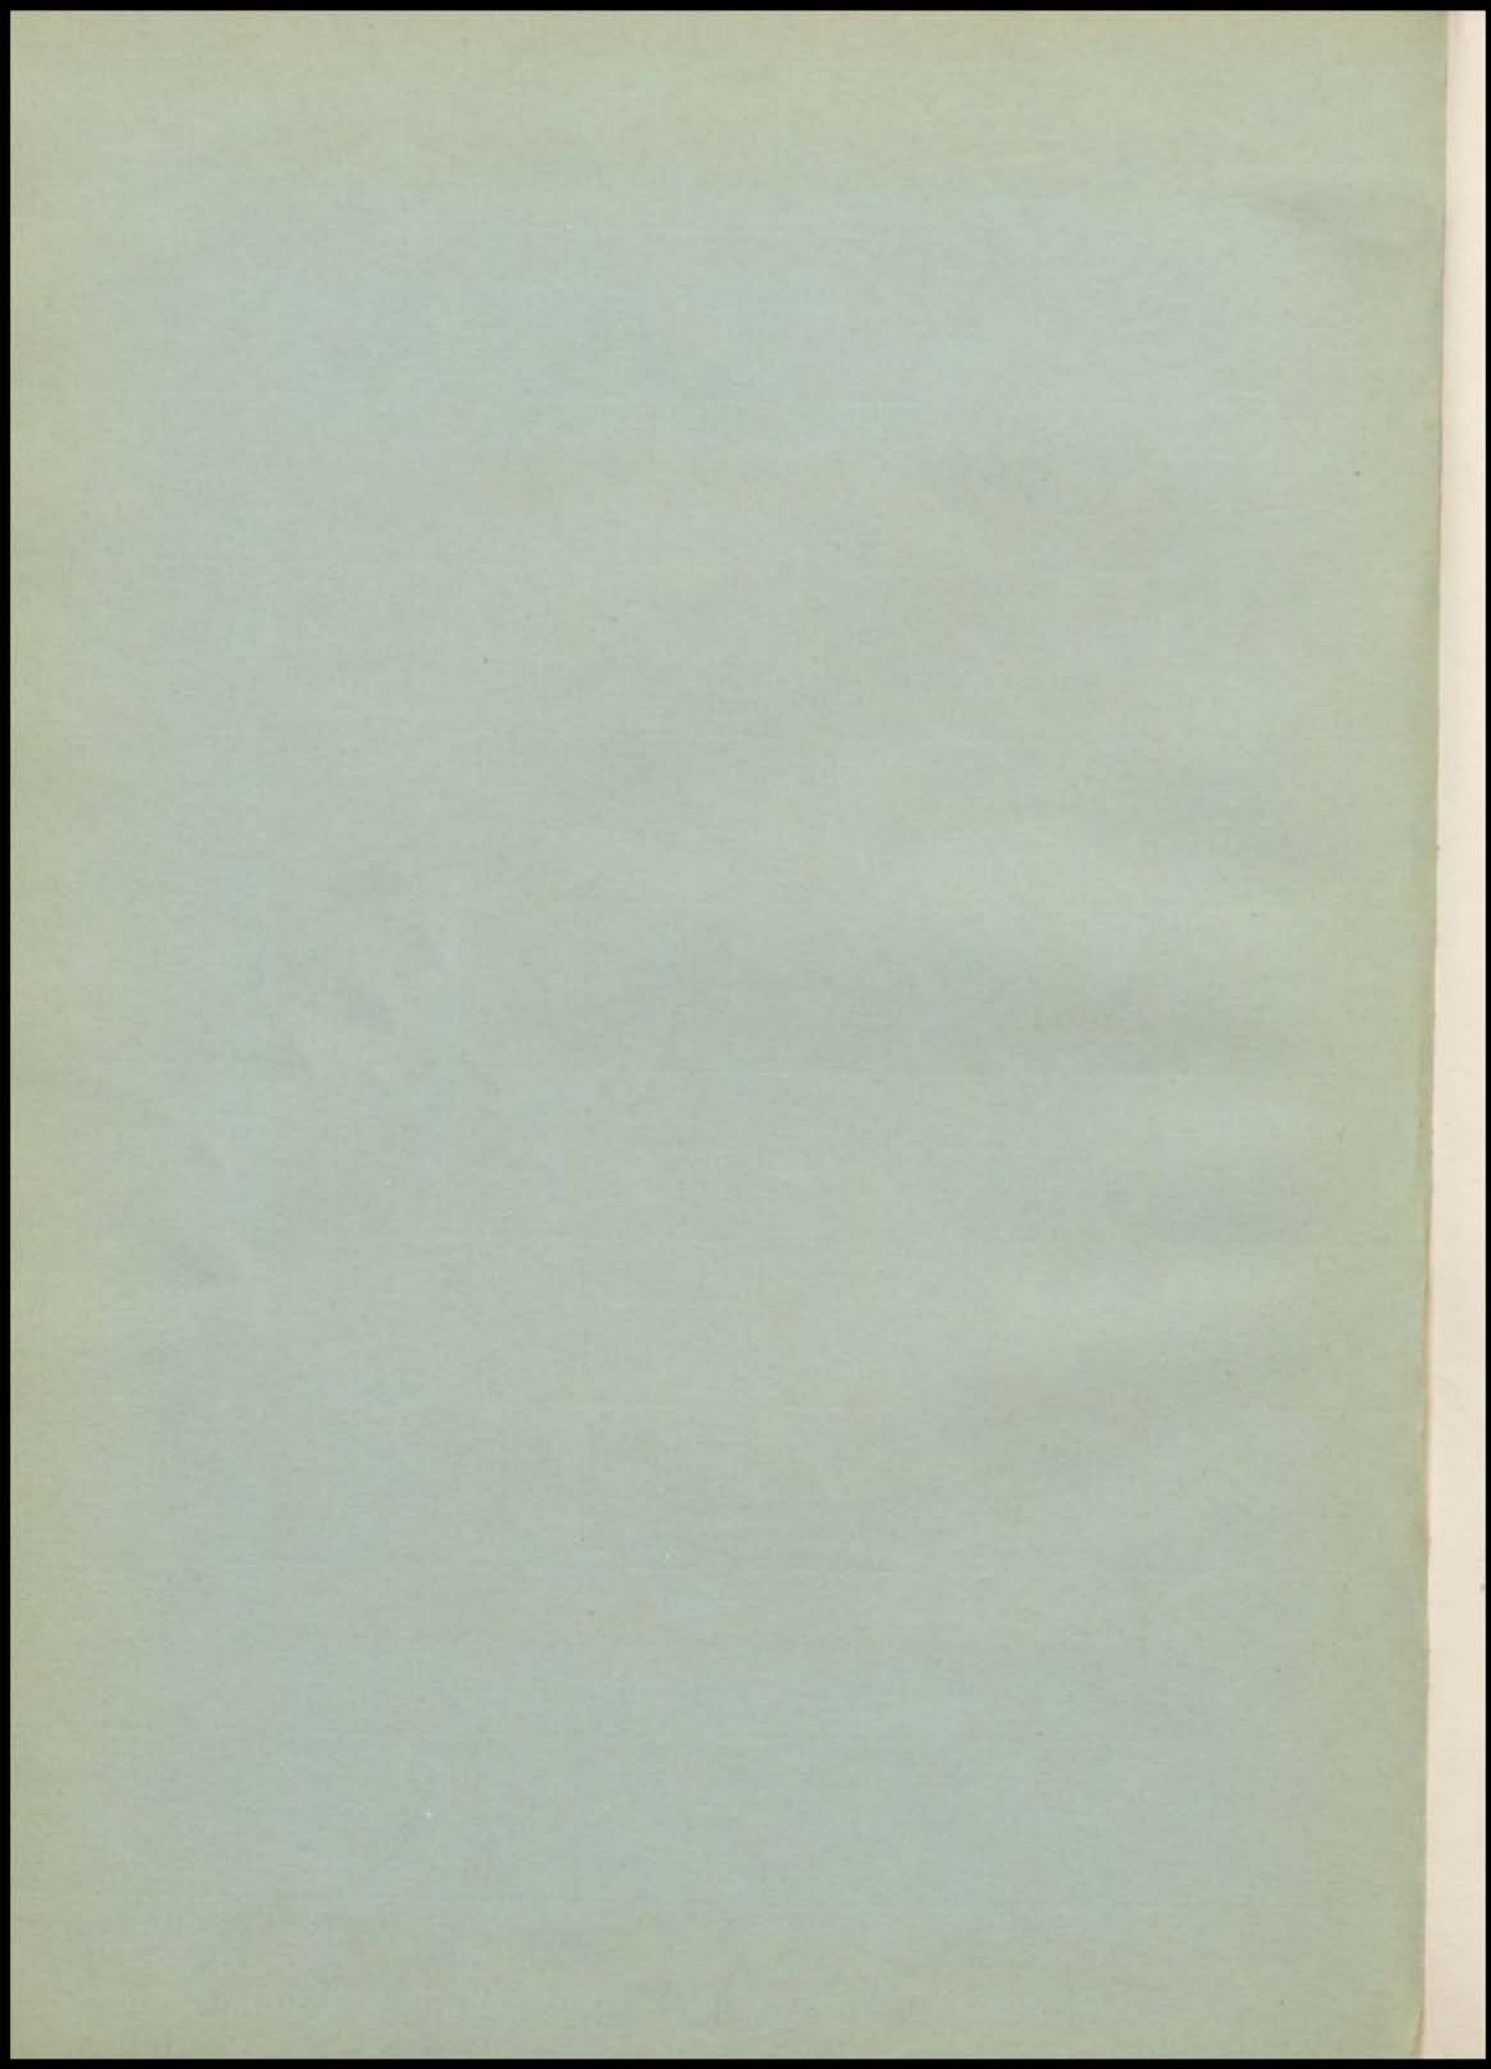

North Wind's Masonry

"Colder and louder blew the wind,
A gale from the northeast."

BACK of every great achievement in science, every triumph in art and music, every brilliant statesman, there are the shadowy figures of those who have made this success possible.

We owe much, and sometimes all, to the continuous guidance, the invaluable advice and unfailing instruction of our teachers.

Our faculty at Northeast has the satisfaction of knowing that they have left their mark on many of our successful "Alumnae."

They locate our latent abilities, and develop them; they direct our feet along the path of the right vocation, and all we can give them is our everlasting gratitude and appreciation.

Parent-Teacher Association

Row 3—Mrs. Bleistein, Mr. Davis, Miss Baskin, Miss Weaver, Mr. Chapin, Mrs. Dobson.
 Row 2—Mrs. White, Mrs. Butterfield, Mr. Harlan, Mrs. Horn, Mrs. Manning, Mrs. Primm.
 Row 1—Mrs. Thomas, Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Adamson, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Frie, Mrs. Gunn, Mrs. Flowers.

THE Parent-Teacher Association forms a home and school partnership and provides the necessary medium for establishing a unity in educational standards. It develops co-operation among the parents and affords them an opportunity to understand better the school system and its needs. It brings to the teacher the viewpoint of the home and the sympathetic appreciation of the parents.

The Parent-Teacher Association offers a vision and presents a challenge for trained parenthood. It enables parents, teachers, and others who are interested in the well-being of young people to declare their independence and to unite their forces in an intelligent effort to secure better homes, better schools, and better communities for better boys and girls.

A DOUBLE-DUTY always rests upon the shoulders of Seniors. Not only must they guide the Viking ship safely through the present trials and conquests, but they must leave behind them an example of true, courageous leadership; they must give the lower classmen an ideal of sportsmanship and service, which will remain with them forever as a goal to be attained.

This class of 1930 has succeeded wonderfully in all of these respects. No higher tribute could be rendered them than this: You have added a gem which truly will shine forever in the diadem of "THOU DEAR NORTHEAST," because in victory or defeat you have "kept the faith."

WE, the Senior Class of 1930, on leaving, wish to thank all the people who have so kindly and graciously helped us to prepare for our future. We have spent many happy and enjoyable hours in our high school days and we want you to know that the memory and spirit of Northeast will live with us forever.

We have striven during our school years to be ever loyal to the customs and true to the spirit.

Now that our high school days are over;
And we are planning for some future career.
May you know the most beautiful memory
Is that of our own Northeast dear.

NORTHEAST need have no fear for the future, when it rests with the Class of 1931. They will guide her on to victories and glories undreamed of in the past, holding the four ideals of character, scholarship, leadership and service.

Next September, our present Juniors will assume the position of leadership open by the departure of the very capable Seniors of 1930, and because they have been inspired by the Northeast spirit, they will carry "Thou Dear Northeast" to further glories.

Junior Prom

THE Junior Prom was given May 17, 1930, by the Juniors in honor of the graduating Seniors. A very good orchestra furnished the music and beautiful decorations lent springtime color to the scene. Refreshments were served and the dancers spent an enjoyable evening.

The following are the committees which helped to plan and manage the entertainment.

The Freshmen of yesterday, the Sophomores of today.

WE, the Seniors and Juniors, are glad to welcome the future makers of History of "dear old Northeast." The Sophomores have taken an active part thus far at Northeast. They are represented on the highest and general honor rolls, the Annual Staff, in the R. O. T. C. department, in our societies, clubs, orchestra, band and numerous other activities.

They have merely started their journey here and we wish them the best of success in every activity that throws honor upon our dear old Alma Mater.

Here's to the class of '32.

Sophomore Class

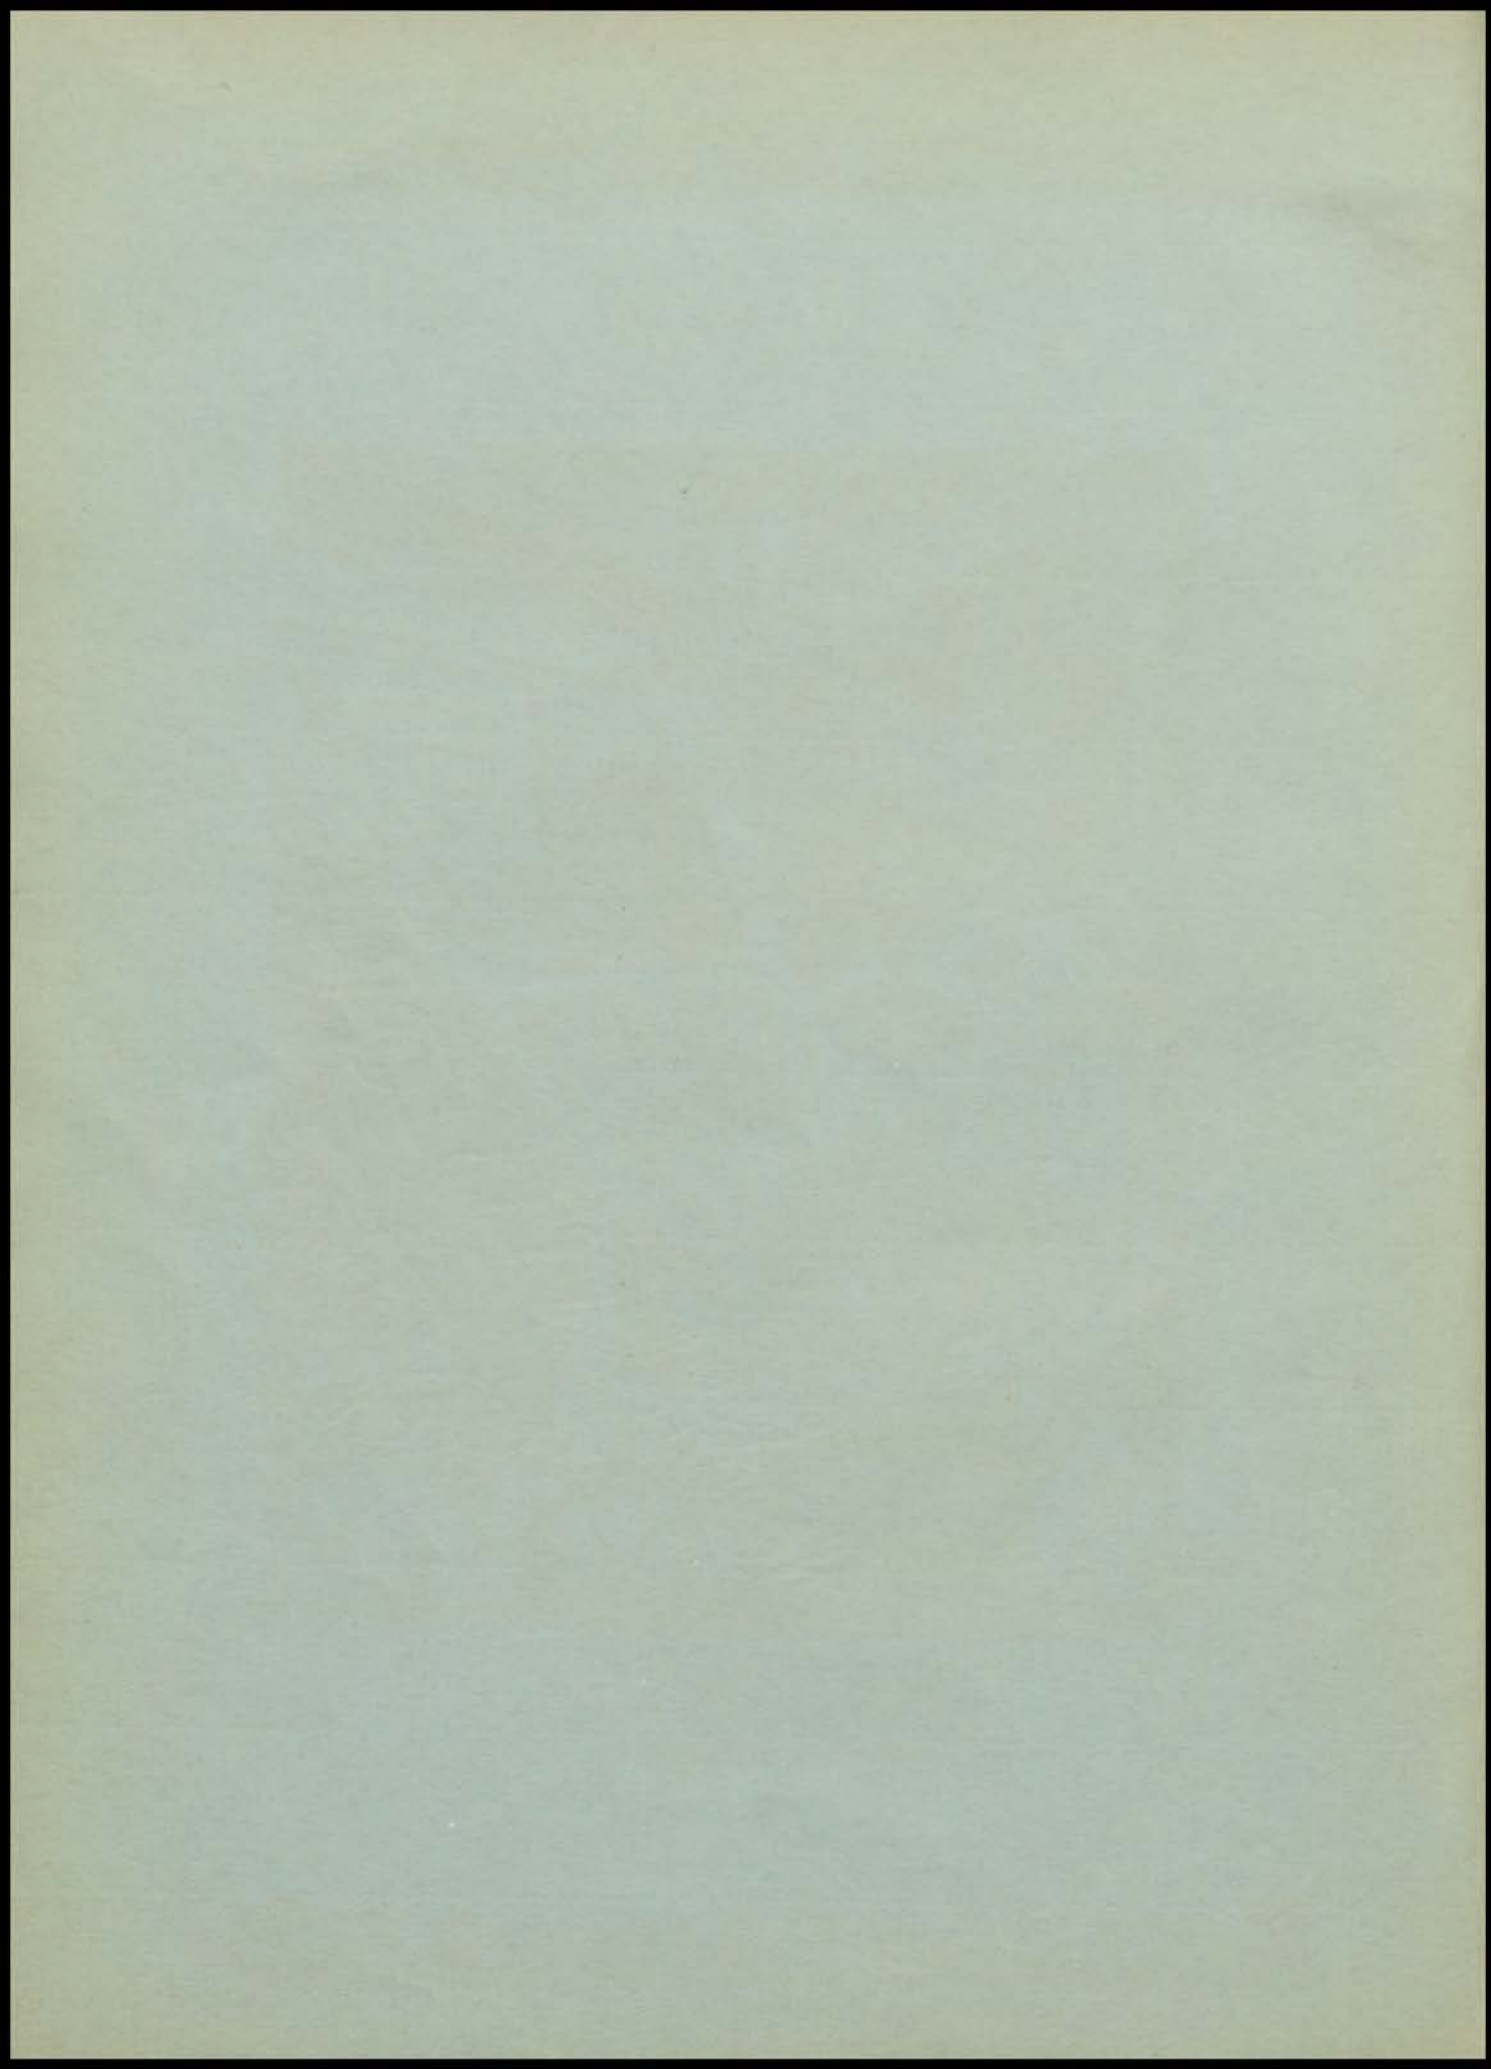

GROUP A

THE infants of Northeast have shown an unusual amount of ability this year and they are learning fast the rules that regulate this house of learning. We can easily foretell that the class of 1932 will be a successful one.

GROUP B

THE Literary Section of the Annual this year is devoted primarily to the winning essay, story and poem in this year's Literary Contest on April 25th. The eight Literary Societies were organized for the purpose of interesting promising students in the world of good literature and encouraging them to write.

The Literary Contest is held annually and is the crowning event of the year so far as the Literary Societies are concerned. This year the Debaters, the first boys' society organized, carried off the honors.

The Literary Contest was made colorful by the vari-colored dresses of the girls and the banners. The societies entered the auditorium in chronological order while singing their songs. Later in the evening, stunt songs, which caroled the virtues of the one society while friendly jeers were made concerning the others, were sung by each society.

Excitement was queen for the night. We believe that the audience was almost as thrilled as the contestants.

The Literary Contest---1930

THE Northeast Society of Debate carried away the laurels at this year's Literary Contest with eleven points, although not without a stiff struggle. The school-at-large won second place with eight points and Bentons and Thetas tied for third place with six points each. The event was a mass of colors, banners and songs. Every society looked its best and was confident of a good representation. The societies entered the hall according to chronological order, marching to their official song. Before seating themselves they sang another song. Later on in the evening each society was given the chance to sing a "stunt song" which consisted of verses about the other societies. The rest of the evening was spent in hearing orations and declamations of the various societies. While awaiting the decisions of the judges, each group attempted to outdo the others in the matter of songs and yells. It was quite entertaining and most exciting.

The results of the Literary Contest are as follows:

Short Story	Poem	Declamation	Oration	Essay
Raymond Isham (Debater)	Helen Clark (Theta)	Dorothy Standlee (Delphian)	Howard Adamson (Benton)	Edward Weld (School-at-Large)
Randall Kenney (Shakespeare)	Elizabeth Stephens (School-at-Large)	Arthur Young (Debater)	William King (Debater)	Winifred Snodgrass (Delta)
Beth Bolitho (Theta)	Everett Saunders (Benton)	Mary Virginia Hallett (Alpha)	Myrno Tanner (Clonian)	Rosamund Hadley (Alpha)

"The Moving Finger"

By

RAYMOND ISHAM, SOCIETY OF DEBATE

(With apologies to E. P. Oppenheim)

"The moving finger writes, and having writ, moves on."

THE early morning commuter's special train sped on its way to New York. In the club car some of the more successful suburbanites lolled in easy chairs, reading or playing cards. Through the tenous blue haze generated by cigars and cigarettes could be seen a man in a chair by the window, reading a book of the modern type so touted by various book-of-the-month clubs. The man was well dressed and wore his clothes with an air—"savoir fair," the French name it. He didn't seem to be the type of man to read such stories on a commuter's train.

T. P. Burnham was an assistant cashier in a large New York bank. He was an efficient man and the steadiest in the concern, but promotion, for him, came slowly. When the high, mysterious moguls of the institution conferred behind closed doors they said he lacked imagination. Of course, it wasn't good for a man to be too independent, but where would they have been if they hadn't pushed themselves? The directors of the bank were inclined to judge others by themselves, but they could pay for their fun, and their subordinates couldn't.

The giants of finance who ruled the bank judged the labyrinthine stock market with uncanny accuracy, but they failed utterly on so simple a problem as Burnham. If they had found the books he read, if they had seen his wary survey of each man who entered the wide doors of the bank, or if they had seen the way he handled the gun issued to each officer—but they didn't. "Burny" was a man cheated by fate. Had he lived in the age of chivalry, Sir Tristram must have looked to his romantic laurels. Had he been a Tartar born Gengis Khan had gained a dashing horseman. But, the only son of a financier, T. P. became a bankman, living his life of thrills in ephemeral novels and working off his desire for adventure wielding a suburban rake, hoe and spade making a useless, prosaic "kitchen garden."

On this particular day T. P. Burnham strode forth from Grand Central Station day-dreaming like an arrant schoolboy. The milling mass of humanity surging around him concealed many potential enemies. One must be careful, that slouchy man might be a gunman. For one inane second T. P. hoped he was, then bit his lip in self-disgust and contempt. Try as he would he couldn't break himself of the habit of peopling his world with interesting people. As he entered the bank he wistfully reflected that peace and safety weren't all they were said to be.

He passed the cashier's desk, half-hoping to be reprimanded for something—anything that would break the hated sameness of his intolerable existence. But his own efficiency kept him from even that doubtful pleasure and in five minutes Assistant Cashier Burnham faced a new day from behind a steel desk and a mask of studied indifference.

"Yes, Mr. Mallory, I'll get those st——. I beg your pardon. But those are not in my departm——. Yes, sir."

On the other end of the office line Mr. Mallory stared at his phone and said meditatively, "That cinches it. Why couldn't you have gotten angry for once? Hansen will take over Desk A, your rightful promotion—but we need initiative and confidence.

"You're too meek, T. P., you lack imagination." Not five minutes later, a vice-president told T. P. the same thing in some of the concise, pointed language for which New York is justly famed. As the most high and mighty twenty-first vice-president left his desk T. P. almost lost his calm, but not quite. He glanced casually around the main lobby as was his wont. A goodly number of people, none promising of interest, greeted his eye.

His wandering gaze had completed its innocuous circuit when it was drawn to an ill-assorted group near the vault door. There were three women and five men. What it was that attracted his interest he couldn't tell—but yet—ah!

The "women" threw off their incumbering wigs and, drawing guns from blouses, became three units of an audacious gang robbing a bank in daylight. A menacing gesture from one sent the patrons scurrying to one side away from a wicked looking pistol. The man worked with marvelous rapidity, herding employees and customers into a teller's cage. One rash clerk reached for an alarm. Spat! Coughing, the loyal one sprawled on the floor, his blood forming a ghastly tracery on the green and white marble. Inspired by his act and fanatically unmindful of his demise, an assistant teller drew a gun. His shot went into the ceiling, for when it was fired he was collapsing under the murderous impact of a .45 slug. It seemed as if the bandits would succeed in their venture. Two of their number had already collected thousands of dollars and, as yet, no alarm had been given.

The awful silence preserved by the gunmen was broken by a woman's hysterical scream. A bullet drove her way with a chilling whine. This last act was the one useless barbarism that tilted Fate's incredibly erratic balance against the takers-of-other's money. From his unseen position on the floor T. P. obtained his pistol from his desk. Rising to his feet behind a pillar, he fired. One bandit dropped and five looked for the marksman, guns ready. Burnham sank to the floor and fired again, twice, from between the close set uprights of the office rail. Two bandits fell and the three gunmen left drew together in alarm, firing at the gun-smoke. But, silent footed, T. P. had crawled to another vantage point. He fired twice more and left one man facing him, the other two in the vault unheeding of the shots. Empty gun in hand the slayer stepped from his last point of concealment. His face was grim and without a sound he leaped upon the remaining gangster, the gun sweeping down in a flashing arc. As the last one fell under the blow someone thrust shut the vault door and the other two were trapped.

After the acclaim of the officials had subsided Burnham filled his portfolio in his usual manner and with promotion in the offing left for his evening train. As he passed a bookseller's he paused. He was sure to receive remuneration for his loyalty, and—he fell. He bought an extra book on the strength of his brighter prospects.

As he sat on the train and avidly perused the lurid pages of the novel, how must the Gods on high have frowned in defeat. They had given him his hour, his longed-for moment of glory, and the civilization-stifled man hadn't recognized it. The moving finger had paused, but moved on, nor would it return.

On Wall Street

By

EDWARD WELD, SCHOOL-AT-LARGE

TEN years hence I will have little idea who was President in 1929, nor will I know any of the political happenings of that year, nor any of these things that a boy should remember; but I will always recall, even if I live to be one hundred, the twenty-fourth of October. I call this my emancipation day.

I have a reminiscence even of the weather. It was one of those gray autumn days which come with the first chill wind as a warning for winter. Indeed, as I walked home from school about five o'clock that evening, it in no way prepared me for one of the most blissful moments of ecstasy in my life. The hearty greeting the family offered made me feel as if the household was in mourning. In a few seconds I pictured numerous tragedies that might have brought this dead quiet, but none of them offered a solution.

For some months previous to this time the stock market had been the topic of conversation and even this was hushed. What had happened was far beyond my power of perception. A few hours later I read of the Wall Street landslide and all was explained.

This tumble struck a note of sorrow and dismay for everyone. America was leaning back in the big armchair, when suddenly Uncle Sam discovered he was several million in the hole. Now, I stand corrected on one point, for I am the one person—and the only person I know of—who was hilariously jubilant over this sudden downfall of prices. It was as if those gray clouds, which had shaded the sky all day, had unexpectedly vanished. This will perhaps seem a peculiar reaction; but knowing the circumstances, you will grant that it was only human.

It was early in the spring of twenty-nine that I first noticed this fever beginning to rage. Everyone was making money hand over fist, and my Mother and Sister began talking about it. Of course I didn't take this very seriously at first. They said that Mrs. A—— had made a few thousand on Consolidated Tank, and Mrs. B—— was reaping a reward for buying in on Milo Wash Machine when it was down to seven. Whenever they returned home from a bridge party they were overflowing with these stories of success.

"Did Mrs. L—— show you that new sealskin coat?" one of them would begin.

"Yes, isn't it beautiful, and she bought it on her profits from Indian Mercantile. It's a wonder we didn't take fifty shares of that. I told you last March it was going up."

"Everyone else is getting rich on the market. I think we should take a chance. It's a sure thing you never get any place if you don't, and if there ever was a good time to buy in it's now."

The funny part was this. None of these women had made a cent. They just thought they had. They were counting what they could make if they cashed in. It got to the point where it was impossible to consider yourself with the "four hundred" if you weren't interested in the exchange. The quickest and easiest way to become interested was to turn a few thousand over to a broker. And that is exactly what these two illused specimens of femininity did! The sudden enthusiasm was really remarkable.

From that day until the twenty-fourth of October I digested nothing but stock. We had it twice a day and all day on Saturday and Sunday. Don't think that I am exaggerating, for that is what we had and all we had. Mother was so busy during the day, receiving the quotations over the phone from a downtown office, that she forgot the old pride she had once taken in the domestic arts.

At the evening dinner table I would invariably launch forth on the best book of the month or a show that I had just seen. All of my efforts were to no avail, and in a few minutes after we had settled down Sister would begin: "Well, Gordon's went to sixty-four today. Why, you know, Mother, that's nineteen dollars profit on the share. Let's see, how much is that for fifty shares——?" With her fingernail she would make a few hurried deductions on the table cloth. "It's nine hundred and fifty. That's more than I could make teaching school for six months!"

This was only the beginning. For the rest of the evening they would recite stock quotations—interspersed with speculations and "how to make your first million" fairy tales. Either one of them could give from memory the closing prices for the past month. How well I know this! Many an evening it was necessary for me to endure a conversation monopolized by stocks. I did it, showing as much disgust as possible.

I might have enjoyed the radio, but this was given over to speeches on the financial condition of the country. There were plenty of these lectures, for all of the business magnates were heralding the unequalled prosperity.

Whenever the report came that Gordon's was unsettled and it was probable it would slip down a few notches, Mother and Sister would rush to the brokers' offices for authentic information. Of course these agents told them that Gordon's was going to a hundred, and if they wanted to strike right they should take another fifty. They were right about everything except the hundred and that figure should have been twenty.

To add to my other misery, during all this time I never had a chance to glance at a newspaper. The two kept them in their possession, and read every column religiously that they might not miss a line published on the exchange. This was an easy problem to solve, though, and done with fifteen cents a week. I subscribed for another copy and had one all of my own.

To be sure I couldn't help but collect a little of this anxiety and soon found myself reading the financial page. I immediately perceived what it was all about. In the first place the paper said the market had been inflated and the interest on call money was increasing. I knew that they had broken in at a poor time, and that it would be best to sell right away while they could make a few dollars. But what good would it do to tell them that? They were positive of what was going to happen. They had already built their home on Easy Street and were planning on a trip north the next summer, to say nothing of the car they had picked out. If I had advised them they would have called me kibitzer. Their intelligence would have been insulted and I would have been in everything but good reckoning with the family. Even though it hurt me, I managed to be quiet and see them swindled.

For several days after this twenty-fourth of October I never heard a word about the market. I was as felicitous as a caged bear, just turned loose. But when the women had recovered from the shock they mentioned the subject—this time in a little different manner. They wailed and moaned at their loss, condemning the brokers who had given them the "authentic information." Telling them that they weren't good sports and that they weren't taking their medicine, only made matters worse.

Mother later told me that I would have to do on a smaller allowance. I understood perfectly and it was more than a pleasure, for I was again enjoying my home. The discourse of the evening had gone back to normal. We discussed varied subjects but mostly those that interested me. Freedom of the radio had been restored.

The once enthusiastic "plungers" lost all interest. They had firmly decided to settle down and hold Gordon's as an investment, contenting themselves with the monthly dividends. Their remorse was so weighty they didn't bother themselves to look at the quotations.

I earnestly prayed that this peace might be everlasting, but the Fates are against me. Within the last few months Gordon's has leaped back to forty points; the women have had several interviews with the brokers; and they are as enthusiastic as they were before the crash. Again I am compelled to digest stock; again I must listen to their daily oration of figures which, mechanical as it is, resembles most the notations thrown out by an adding machine. In general, I may say, affairs are in the same state as they were last fall.

Lethargy

By

HELEN CLARK, THETA LITERARY SOCIETY

Across pale azure skies
The fleecy clouds float
With silent ease,
Like misty galleons
Of my dreams.
The golden fingers of the sun
Part the leafy curtains of my canopy
And, with changing fancy
Like mischievous elves,
Interweave my face with light.
My grassy couch is soft and
The daisy pillow, crushed beneath
My careless head,
Emits a strange, familiar fragrance.
Only the soft, liquid note of an oriole,
Falling like golden rain
Upon my numbed senses,
Profanes my lethargy.

I would that life might be
Just such a lethargy;
That pain and care and sorrow
Would board those cloudy vessels
And sail silently away;
That peace and faith would live
In such close communion that
Love would be the
Ensign of the world;
And that in this dream Utopia
Only the golden song of hope would disturb
Our Lethargy.

Benjamin Franklin the Diplomat

Howard Adamson, Benton

AS WE Americans look down from the summit of our modern progress, we find that the advancements and achievements of today are due to the successful leadership of a small group of men who aroused patriotism in the hearts of their countrymen, led them in securing freedom from the oppressing hand of a mighty empire and in forming the first real republic the world had ever known.

Let us now consider the early days of American History.

For several years the thirteen colonies were under English rule. They were satisfied with the then existing conditions. But, in 1765 the Stamp Act was passed and during the next few years the increase in taxes was so great that the proud hearts of the colonists revolted.

In 1776 the Intercolonial Congress met in Philadelphia and drew up a document which Daniel Webster well called "The Title Deed of Our Liberties."

The Colonists, though never lacking in courage and perseverance, did not have sufficient funds for carrying on war with so powerful a nation as England. There was but one alternative, it was to seek aid from France, the country most friendly to the colonies at that time.

The question of what man should be sent to France was of most vital importance. Yet, the selection of the man for this most arduous task was not difficult, for there was but one man in the colonies perfectly fitted for the task.

He was a man who had attended the school of practical experience, who as a boy had read every book within his reach, one who had been a close observer of humanity and had not only the ability to see the qualities of his fellow men but also the even more valuable ability to detect his own shortcomings. One who since childhood had been preparing himself for a great public work. He, the son of a poor tallow candler, had now risen to the great heights of one of the most skilled diplomats the world has ever known, Benjamin Franklin.

Franklin was a man who had great knowledge, will power, determination and foresight. As early as 1751 he foresaw that a union of the colonies was necessary and was thinking out methods of overcoming provincial prejudices and antipathies.

Franklin, always a firm believer in the relationship between the colonies and their mother country, did all in his power to prevent the final breach which might bring on war. From 1757 to 1775, with one visit home of two years, he was in England diplomatically engaged in defending the interests of the colonies.

During those sixteen years of unflinching service for his country, Franklin gained much wisdom. When sent to France in 1775, he was ripe with the experience of many years of service for his country.

This was no easy task to secure for his small and bankrupt country, loans amounting to millions of francs; however, by his scientific reputation, his dignity of character, and his charm of manner, which made him extremely popular in French literary, social and political circles, he secured for his country, aid and concessions which no other man could possibly have obtained.

So completely had Franklin won the love and admiration of the French that his picture was hung in every prominent place, his name highly applauded by all, and upon his departure for America in 1785, King Louis XVI presented Franklin a picture of himself set with 408 diamonds.

When Franklin arrived home he was not allowed his long desired rest, for he was soon made president of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and in 1787 he was a delegate to the convention which framed our national constitution.

Franklin was the greatest diplomat of the eighteenth century. He never spoke a word too soon; he never spoke a word too much; he never failed to speak the right word at the right time.

A French poet paid him this tribute:

"Legislator of one world!
Benefactor of two!
All mankind owes to you a debt of gratitude."

THE strain of a lovely melody, the strokes of a master's brush, the clear, full notes of a lyric soprano, the deep, soul-stirring tones of Shakespeare—what would life be without these?

Every student at Northeast has a rare opportunity to know those things which give the final touch to culture and grant a true appreciation of the finer things of life.

This year our Assemblies have been doubly enjoyable because of our Glee Clubs and the Orchestra.

The poster and other exhibits of the art students have been notably worth while, and Herbert Anderson's design was chosen for the third annual National High School Art Exhibit.

The whole school realizes the great success of the Christmas and Senior plays and also the skits in the Assemblies.

Surely such delightful subjects and capable instructors will not be overlooked by Nor'easters next year.

Christmas Play

Bruce, Kinell, Steele, Gunther, Smith, Dubiner
Clark, Thomas, Cowan, Miss Hobbs (Adviser), Spencer, Patch, McBride

“ALL-OF-A-SUDDEN-PEGGY,” the annual Christmas play, was received enthusiastically by the large audiences on Friday and Saturday nights, December 13 and 14. Lord Anthony, played by Robert Bruce, was highly amusing in the characterization of a middle-aged English aristocrat. Lady Crackenthorpe, an aristocratic and unsympathetic English woman, was played with great feeling by Roberta Jane Thomas.

The characterization of Peggy, a vivacious girl, who marries her mother off to Lord Anthony Crackenthorpe, so she might be free to marry Jimmy Keppel, was expressively played by Ruth Spencer and Evelyn Cowan. Jimmy Keppel, the younger son of Lady Crackenthorpe, was portrayed by Morton Steele, who entered wholeheartedly into the play.

The great success of the play is due to the untiring efforts of the coach, Miss Helen Hobbs, and the cast.

Senior Play

"THE Tailor-made Man," chose as the Senior Play this year was very successfully presented, both nights, May 9th and May 10th. Under the capable coaching of Miss Helen Hobbs, the unusually large cast of thirty-two played their respective parts with so much feeling and good judgment that both audiences felt amply repaid.

The large cast is one of Miss Hobb's main ideals for a senior play; to allow as many seniors as possible to take part in their own production.

The leading part of the "Tailor-made Man" was played with deep insight into the character by Howard Horn and Morton Steel.

Orchestra

Row 4—Hunter, Dunn, Miller, Schroeder, Richards, Meehan, Barnard, Carl.
 Row 3—Frederick, Totta, Briggs, Watmire, Dittmer, White, Leppert, Turner, Abel, Thompson, Evans.
 Row 2—Press, Boyer, Phillips, Chambers, Owens, Mazza, Hundley, Charleton, Cousins, Hoover.
 Row 1—Miller, Sevier, Rhodes, Mr. Chaffee, Wildish, Raccagno, Euler, Halvey, Hawkins, Spencer.
 Absentees—Stevens, Giamalva, Fischer.

THE orchestra under the direction of Mr. F. E. Chaffee has just finished one of its most successful years. It has played for most of the assemblies, at the Christmas and Senior plays, and is going to play at the graduation exercises. Northeast feels very proud of the work of this orchestra, which has in it some remarkable talent.

Band

Row 5—Givvina, Wilson, Kipp, Field, Seely, Means, Richards, Dunsmouth, Maxim, Moneson, Cady, Rambo, Levy, Gay, Carl, Canterbury, Herberster, Evans, Browne, Davis.
 Row 4—Fredricks, Ruto, Combs, Benedict, Shank, Miles, Spencer, Field, Wermington, Hoiser, Kelly, Voss, Wagner, Hall, Field, Hall, Allspaugh, Webers, Thompson, Glass.

 Row 2—Aldrich, Williams, Clark, Kleinfelter, Nolte, Patti, Egan, McInurt, Cock, Menaco, Ispetina, Valentine.
 Row 1—Yamoch, Stubbs, McKinney, Brassfield, Curl, McCance, C. W. Gordon, Moise, Webb, Haines, J. Garritt, Summers, Spencer, Irmand.

THE 1929-30 Band, numbering 80, is the largest in the history of Northeast High School. It is also the largest band in the Kansas City School System enrolled in one class. The activities of this organization consist of playing at the football and basket ball games, the American Legion Parade, R. O. T. C. Circus and other events.

The Band has as its objective, instrumentation which will permit it to be classed as a Symphonic Band and quite a few of the numbers studied this year are movements of the Symphonies and standard compositions.

The Student Body is unanimous in saying that the Band this year is the best in the history of N. E. H.

Treble Clef

Row 5—Shelton, Smith, Wilson, Corby, Smith, Lutz, Porter, Wetz, Anderson, Kenmuir, Morris, Russel.
 Row 4—Roshong, Vinckier, Schwenk, Metchan, Anchors, Bjorkman, Sheets, Boyce, Chaffee, Patch, Vaughn, Welborn, Smart, Nichols, Wagner, Finnell.
 Row 3—Record, Bowman, Lewis, Dimmitt, Ridley, Martin, Baker, Nichols, Mr. Chaffee, Alfred, Hamilton, Uhlig, Hoover, Bryant, Nolte, Briggs.
 Row 2—Root, Tanner, Meehan, Altergott, Carlyle, Thompson, Gunn, Fischer, Bryan, McDaniels, McCarty, Griggs, Stokes, Stallard.
 Row 1—Savoia, Albro, Gualitz, Williams, Shaw, Foley, Phillips, Smith, Owens, Hogz, Bicknell, Bundy, Stevens. Absentee—Stroupe.

THE Treble Clef this year has done the work of a voice class including vocal exercises and solo work, and also the work of a girl's chorus. The club with the Glee Club sang the "Hallelujah Chorus" at the Union Station, Christmas, where they received much comment on their splendid work as a mixed chorus.

Part of the class time was spent in selecting soloists, a quartette, and a triple trio that will compete in an inter-school contest April 26. The group or soloist that receives first place will sing at the inter-school club contest May 16.

Northeast Glee Club

Row 2—Pratt, Atwell, Weiser, Eisman, Eichman, Bivona, Boyce, Barlow, Holland.
 Row 1—Young, Kenne, Lovelace, Tamblyn, Mr. Claffee, Parsons, McCintceek, Woner, Lewis, Hamilton.

Special Honors

THE Nor'easter devotes an Annual Page to students who represented Northeast in outside events. Milton Bobier '30, was Northeast's representative in the Star's Oratorical Contest this year. Milton has been interested in oratory for the last seven years. He also was Northeast's Charity speaker over the radio.

Mr. Chaffee's pupils held a solo contest in Assembly and the following were victorious; Mayflor Gunn '30, Soprano; Jewell McCarty '31, Alto; Meredyth Smith '31, Mezzo-Soprano; Dan Weiser '30, Baritone; Bert Young '30, Tenor; Loland Barlow '31, Bass.

Northeast has been well represented in Art this year. Margaret Lyons '32, ranked first in the Safety Cartoons, while Mildred Snow '31, won second place. Henry Zahn '30, won first in the High School Women's Poster Contest and the poster of Margaret Goodell '31, gained first in the Safety Contest. Marguerite Daghy '31, won fourth place in the R. O. T. C. Contest.

Herbert Anderson '31, won the distinction of having his design entered in the National High School Exhibit.

The Spanish department has brought new honors to the school again. Rosemary Stahl won first place (gold medal), and Esther Newton third (bronze medal), in advanced Spanish tests at Columbia.

Theodore Millard won second place (silver medal), in elementary Spanish.

This victory entitles Northeast to a plaque which is given by the University of Missouri to the school having the most points in each of the departments represented in the curricular contests.

Della Verne Hoover won second place (silver medal), in the Alto contest at Columbia.

ANOTHER successful school year is about to be completed and in remembrance the Northeast Annual Staff of 1930, through months of time, effort and willingness, are able to present to the school our ideal year book. We think it is one of the most interesting and beautiful annuals ever published.

It is mainly, through the co-operation of the teachers, students, and the various organizations that we are able to publish such a successful annual.

The staff members have greatly enjoyed doing this work, and mainly because it is for the Nor'easters and "Dear Old Northeast."

Annual Staff

Johnson, Richardson, Nunnelley, Mr. White, Joller, Busey, Shatto, Schafer, Sharp, Winters, Miss Pile, McBride, Zahn, Miss Newitt, Mr. Phillips, Turner, Clark.

THE Annual Staff has done its best this year in issuing an Annual which they feel will mean much to all Nor'easters in the years to come.

Positions on the Annual Staff are secured through competition. A meeting of the applicants for positions on the Annual Staff is held in May of the preceding year. Thus they have all summer in which to prepare their plans.

These plans consist of a dummy of the particular department that the applicant desires.

These plans are called for on October 15, and are judged by the faculty advisers. The chosen members of the Annual Staff are announced on November 5. The bookkeeper and secretary are appointed. The student who secures the most advertisements in a given time becomes advertising manager.

We have given you an embossed calendar of the year. You have your leaders, your plays, your triumphs in athletics, literature, and fine arts. In fact, every detail of note during the past year is bound in one volume, which we hope will keep the memories of "Thou Dear Northeast" always bright in your thoughts.

We believe this Annual has the embodiment of all you hold dearest, and we assure you it is of you, by you and for you.

AN INCREASED number of readers stands out in every staff member's mind, as the foremost accomplishment of the Courier for the first semester. The subscription list was raised from some eight hundred to over a thousand readers, a paramount figure in the history of Northeast.

In looking back over the work, we see two reasons for the greater support from the student body: First, the student became acquainted with the paper in meetings, which were given over to discussion of the Courier: Second, the editorial policies were changed to arouse greater enthusiasm in school problems. The "Courier's Weekly Platform for Northeast" was adopted, and under this head judgments on problems of school concern were advanced.

Several enlarged, special editions were published during the first semester. The open house edition was distributed to the parents and friends of Northeast on the night of the homecoming. Through this publication, an attempt was made to acquaint outsiders with our school.

This staff established tradition in more than one way for journalism classes. A banquet was given at the end of the first semester in the new Hi-Y building. A program was furnished by one of the newspapers of Kansas City.

THE Courier Staff of the second semester endeavored to create greater interest in the paper by varying the make-up of each issue and extending the range of news.

All school activities were published, some a day after happening. Pictures and features of the leading Universities and Colleges of the vicinity were published to aid the Seniors in making their choice of a school for next year.

New features were added and a six-page All-Fool's issue was published. This group successfully maintained the high type publication of the first semester.

A survey taken in the home rooms showed that 350 parents, 100 exchanges and 900 subscribers for a total of 1,330 persons read the paper each week.

The Courier was entered in the Missouri Inter-Scholastic Press Association at Columbia and in the National Scholastic Press contests at Minneapolis, Minnesota. A first class rating was awarded the Courier at the latter.

BOOK PLATES

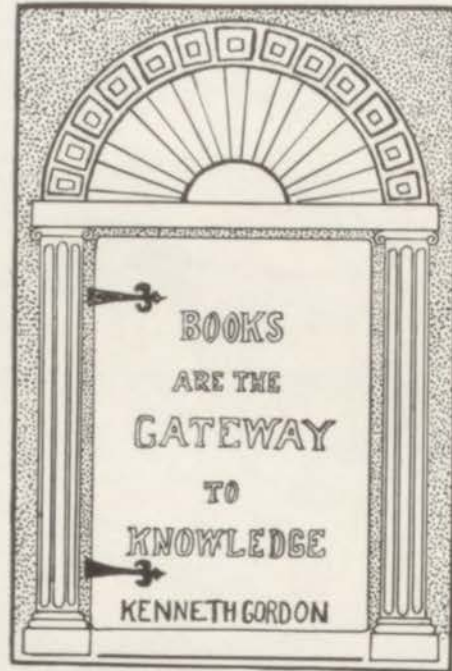

FOR the fifteenth year, Mr. E. D. Phillips' Senior English Literature classes have tested their skill in designing book-plates as an artistic feature of book-making. The constant motives are, not only to cultivate the pupil's aesthetic taste, for beauty's sake, but to develop their practical ability in commercial art. One of the motives educationally is to correlate the art department with the English department.

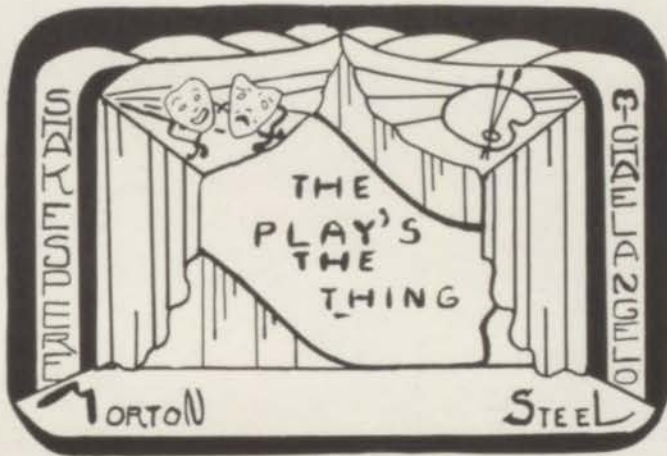

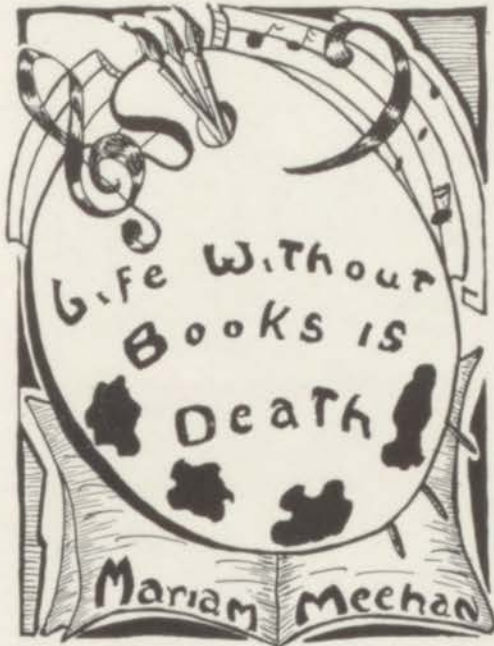

Too much credit cannot be given to Miss Mabel A. Newitt for the kind spirit and patience which she manifested while directing the pupils in this work.

The full page print of twenty-four book plates is a copy of the large, framed, wall-poster which, by request, was exhibited at the "National English Teachers' Convention," in Kansas City, in November, 1929, and displays samples of each year's designs for fifteen years.

AN ARTISTIC FEATURE OF BOOKS
THE BOOKPLATE

Designed by Senior English Literature Students of Northeast High School, E.D. Phillips, Head of Engl. Dept. Instructor.

For fifteen years, the designing of bookplates by the Senior English Literature classes of the Northeast High School of Kansas City, Mo., has been a distinctive feature under the directions of E.D. Phillips.

Prof. Phillips' reasons for this innovation are— to correlate art with literature; and to develop the pupils' talent in design, not simply to cultivate a love for the beautiful, but to enable him to use his creative talent industrially in the making of posters, illustrations for books, and various kinds of gift cards as well as bookplates.

THE R. O. T. C. unit is of much more importance than most students realize. The R. O. T. C. is not only efficient in training young men in military matters but also in obeying orders, to correct their carriage and to aim for the higher things in life.

The Cadet Hop this year was the first to be held at Northeast recently. The sponsors of the other high schools attended the dance and Evelyn Cowan, Sponsor Lieutenant-Colonel, and Lieutenant-Co'onel Fred Rutledge presided as host and hostess.

The R. O. T. C. Circus which has been the annual event of this order for the last eight years went off with flying colors. The largest American Flag in the United States was exhibited at this Circus. Sponsors chosen by the cadets receive their capes at this event. For the last two years it has been the custom to have five sponsors and this year the lucky girls were Sponsor-Lieutenant-Colonel, Evelyn Cowan; Sponsor Captains, Helen Hitchcock and Mayflor Gunn; Sponsor Lieutenants, Ruth Spencer and Marjorie Shumway.

Company "A"

THE cadets of Company "A" have shown a fine spirit in developing manhood and citizenship, qualities which are the highest aim of the R. O. T. C. In the work of the year, every member doing his part, there has been built up a comradeship and loyalty to the organization and to Northeast High School that the members of Company "A" will carry with them the rest of their lives. Led on by its officers and non-commissioned officers, this company has worked its way up to the achievement of its highest ideals.

Rifle Team

Standing—Sergeant Leonard Heatherly, Lieut. Col. Fred Rutledge, Sponsor Lieut. Ruth Spencer, Captain Charles Baxter, Lieut. Robert White, Jr.
 Kneeling—Sergeant Raymond Hall, Sergeant Robert Morrison, Corporal Lawson Baxter, Sergeant Donald Mc'Callum.

THE Northeast Cadets have improved greatly in marksmanship during the last two years. The rifle teams, under the personal supervision of Sergeant Heatherly, have worked hard many nights a week to develop accuracy on the mat for the glory of "Old Northeast."

The R. O. T. C. Hop

GIRLS in formal dress and cadets in their uniforms made a pleasing picture as they danced about the gymnasium floor, with an arc light flashing from couple to couple at the Cadet Hop.

Lieutenant-Colonel Fred Rutledge and Sponsor Lieutenant-Colonel Evelyn Cowan acted as host and hostess to the fifty-four couples who attended. Evidently the music furnished by Henry Weiland and his orchestra was very fine, since the majority stayed for all sixteen dances and two extras.

The gym also had on patriotic costume, being decorated with potted plants and a large American flag, which hung at the east end.

The battalion commanders and sponsors from Lathrop, Central and Paseo attended the hop. Northeast's faculty was represented by Mr. Chapin, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Davis, Captain and Mrs. Gunn, Miss Dowell, Miss Jansen, Miss Packard and Miss Taylor. Harley Ferguson, Northeast's Sponsor Lieutenant-Colonel last year was also there. Other guests were Captain and Mrs. Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. Ellis, Mr. and Mrs. Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Horn.

THIS department is headed by Coach Peters and assisted by Coach Davis. The activities of this department are calisthenics, tumbling, games, swimming, basket ball, baseball and track.

In the fall the classes have out-of-door sports, as baseball and track. During the winter months they are confined to calisthenics, tumbling, swimming and basket ball.

The important event of the year is the inter-class basket ball tournament. The teams are chosen from the separate classes. The event is run off after school hours to decide the champions.

The department strives to produce a well-rounded boy, not only physically but one who will be outstanding in sportsmanship and character.

Athletic Officers

MR. FULTON

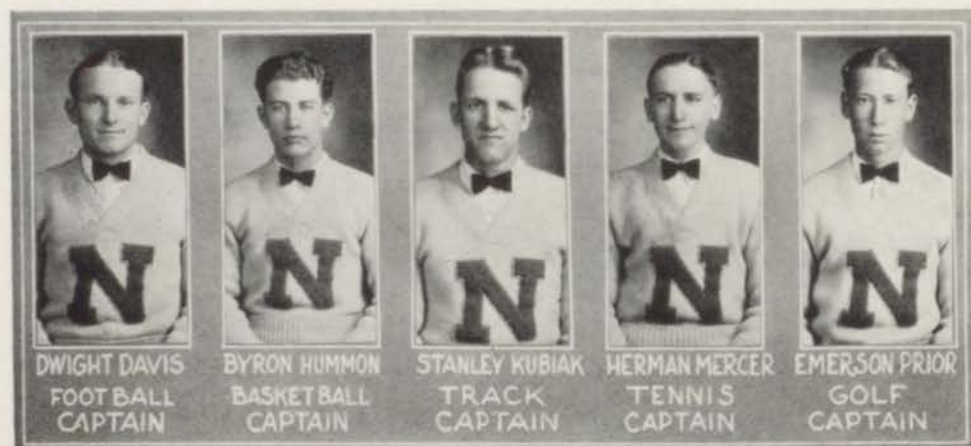

MR. PETERS

MR. DAVIS

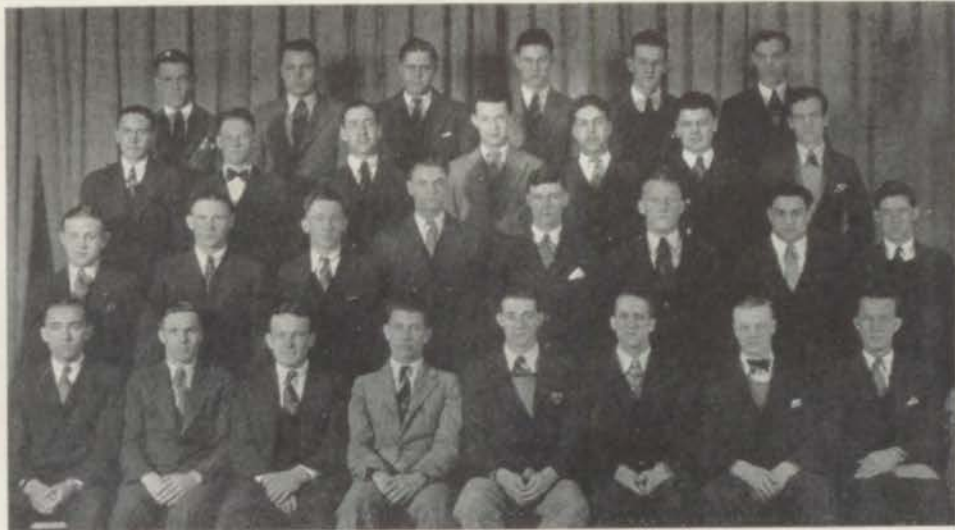

ALTHOUGH the Viking teams were not all champions, they all excelled in leadership and creditable sportsmanship. Mr. Reeves Peters, during his nine years at Northeast, has an enviable record. He has brought Northeast athletics into national prominence through his excellent coaching ability. His teams are known for their sportsmanship, competition, and clean, hard play.

Mr. Fulton has made our teams possible by his good management of financial affairs, which he has placed on a paying basis.

Mr. M. E. Davis, assistant coach, has been doing his share by developing new material for the coming season in sports.

 Letter men not in the picture—Springer, Haynes, Patton, Alexander, Preston, Davis, Prior, Tanner, Ramel, Ponich, Young, Bingham, Nealeim.

THE Northeast "N" Club differs from all other organizations, in that it has no social functions and no regular meetings. Those who have reached the highest goal in athletics, winner of the coveted "N," are eligible for membership. It has done much in advancing the school spirit and sportsmanship of those men who try out for the athletic teams.

The club has a tradition behind it, and any boy would deem it an honor to have the privilege of wearing its insignia.

A winner of a football or basket ball letter must have played a majority of the quarters during the season of sport. Those who advanced to the semi-finals in the annual inter-school tournament are awarded tennis letters. Track men must place first, or second to a Northeast man in a dual meet, or place in the finals in an indoor meet, city meet, or state meet, to win the desired symbol.

Football

THE Viking football team opened the Greater Kansas City football season with a defeat at the hands of William Christman High, by a count of 25 to 0.

* * *

Using a straight plunging and running attack, the St. Joseph Central football team easily downed the Viking eleven, 21 to 0, in a game at the Western League Ball Park, St. Joseph, Mo., before a crowd of 2,000.

* * *

A superior offense gave the Central Blue Eagles a hard won 13 to 0 victory over the Vikings on the Northeast field. This marked the eighteenth consecutive victory for the Blue Eagles, and the eighth successive one in which the opponent failed to score.

* * *

The Northeast Vikings lost their second inter-scholastic league battle to the East "Ducks" by a count of 6 to 0, on the Northeast gridiron. The Light-Stoup passing combination was the instrument by which the "Ducks" made their lone tally of the game, late in the second quarter.

* * *

Few more spectacular football games have been played on Kansas City gridirons than the one between Northeast and Southwest. Northeast was defeated 18 to 7, but the Vikings battled their heavier rivals in a manner most creditable to themselves and their school.

* * *

After a severe battle on the old gridiron, the Paseo Pirates managed to overcome the Northeast Vikings with a final score of 19 to 0. Our ship was receiving a strong wind in the first half but could not compete with the Pirates.

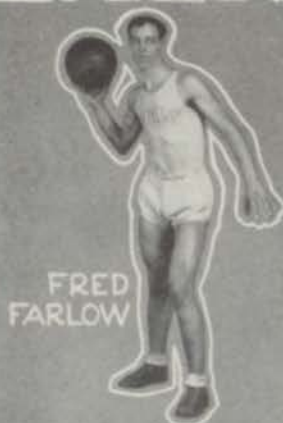

* * *

The Viking eleven broke into the winner's class by winning from the Manualites by a score of 32 to 13. The Crimson team held well for a quarter but succumbed before the Hawthorne and Springer combination in the second half. Northeast scored three more touchdowns than the register shows, but because of penalties they were declared illegal. All were the results of passes.

* * *

The Westport "Tigers" growled at the Vikings with no avail. Both teams showed skill developed through steady training throughout the game. The game ended with the score 0 to 0.

BASKET BALL

CAPTAIN

Basket Ball

IN REVIEWING the games of the basket ball season we are more than ever convinced that our team made a better showing than it is credited with by the majority of the student body. Playing eight games the Purple quintet won five and lost three contests.

* * *

At the beginning of the season Northeast defeated the Wyandotte Bulldogs, recent victors over Central, and predictions were that Northeast should have no trouble winning from the Blue Eagles. Central, however, upset the dope and went off the floor, a 18-15 victor. This was the first of a series of upsets administered by the Central team.

* * *

The next league tilt found the Vikings matched with East. The Bears made baskets from all angles in rapid succession and before the final whistle sounded had piled up a score of 29 points, and Northeast was held to 6.

* * *

A much improved Northeast team went on the floor for the Southwest game and amassed a total of 22 points, while the Indians garnered 16 points. This was the first inter-scholastic league victory for the Northeast team.

* * *

Paseo was the next opponent to face the Viking charges. By virtue of a 22-13 victory, Northeast was in a triple tie for third place in the league.

* * *

The second decisive upset of the league play was the Northeast-Manual tilt. White, a Manual forward, scored sixteen points to win high point honors, and almost single-handedly defeated Northeast. This upset put the Vikings' quintet in the third place, rather than a tie for second with East.

* * *

The result of the Northeast-Westport game was uncertain after the defeat of East at the hands of the Tiger cagers, however, from the starting whistle Northeast held an advantage. The score ended 22-18, placing Northeast in undisputed possession of third place.

* * *

The Northeast basketeers were eliminated as contenders for the state tournament by East, last year's state champion, in their first appearance at the Armory.

* * *

The game started with the Purple cagers on their mettle as a result of a pep assembly. They were supported by one of the most enthusiastic crowds of the season, and were determinedly fighting for victory, but the Bears rallied full force in the last half to finish, a 26-10 winner.

Track

NORTHEAST has always been favored with a track team that does credit to the school and the coach. The track team of 1930 is no exception to the rule.

Although Coach Peters has only six letter men to use as a nucleus for the 1930 cinder edition, he has rounded a formidable array of track artists that will make a strong bid for the city and state title.

The outdoor track season began with a bang. The Vikings defeated the Blue Eagles by a large majority of points in the first contest. The Vikings won in three more consecutive meets with Southwest, Westport, and East. Northeast took every first place, tying for one. The Vikings are expecting a championship team this year.

There are many outstanding track athletes at Northeast this year. Captain Stanley Kubiak is one of the fastest men in the hurdles, and was also captain of the Viking squad last year.

George Uits is expected to break the hurdle record this year, as he has already outjumped the present record. George is one of the best hurdlers in Northeast history.

Eugene Preston is a persistent high jumper. He jumps at 5-8 and 5-9 consistently.

Maurice Neale, a newcomer at Northeast, has already acquired laurels. He is expected to break the broad jump record.

Haynes and Patton represent Northeast in the 100 yard dash.

Bob Browne, Lawrence Ramel and Warren Alexander are swift cinder men.

Virgil Lynch is a speedy hurdle man.

Frank Springer and Ponich are the long endurance mainstays on the Vikings squad. They run the 8-80 yard dash.

Kenneth Davis and Wyeth Brewer are also high jumpers of great ability.

The boys that represent the Vikings with the pole are Dick Masters, John Wilfong, Bud Bingham and Virgil Young. They can really get up in the air.

Wyeth Brewer, Clay Reppert and Phil Oleno have made a name for themselves pushing the shot.

Two other broad jumpers of outstanding ability are Frank Springer and Warren Alexander.

The Track Meet is the last Athletic event of the year. A very exciting event is expected this year, due to the fact that there is some of the best material at Northeast that we have ever had. In Track, as in all other events, the aim of the department is kept in mind; strong muscles, healthy bodies, clear minds and clean sports.

THROUGHOUT the year in all athletic events, the Viking cheer leaders have contributed much in keeping up the morale of the team. Northeast is proud of these cheer leaders who have aided in promoting sportsmanlike conduct among those who attended the school contests.

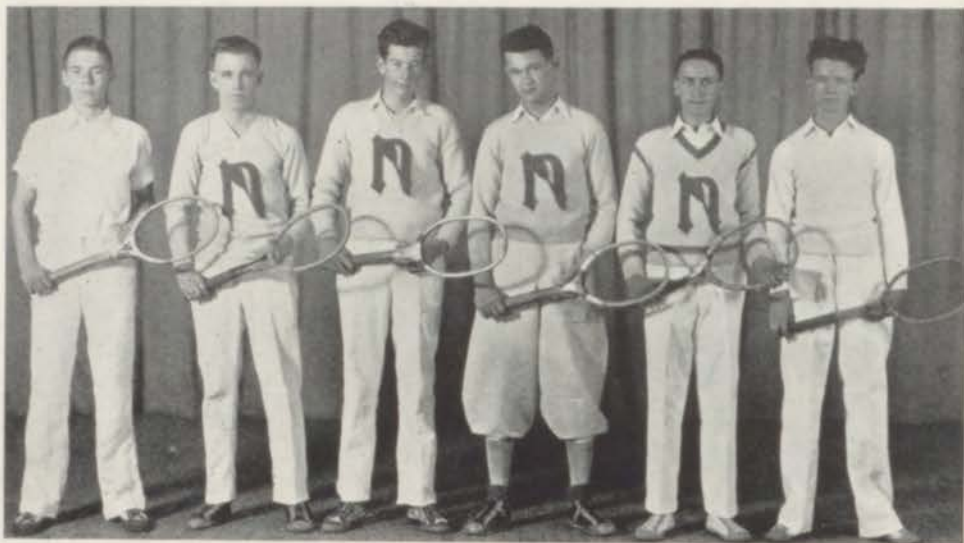

Arthur Young was one of the finest cheer leaders Northeast ever had. His ability to conform his movements to cheers of the crowd greatly aided the rooting section. Arthur was the only veteran in the trio, having filled the capacity during his junior year. His "pep" and smiling countenance will be missed in athletic circles.

Frosty Garrett has established a fine record during his year of service as a cheer leader. Even Frosty admits that he is good.

Bob Browne, a senior, is the third member of the trio. Bob has made a record for himself as a cheer leader and was also an important member on our track team.

James North, alternate cheer leader, and a senior, has distinguished himself by filling the position of an absent cheer leader in a capable manner.

Tennis

GAY, NOBLES, MILLER, CAMPBELL, MERCER, JOHNSON

NORTHEAST representatives took second place in the Inter-Scholastic Tennis meet held in October. Coach M. E. Davis was in charge of the meet. Captain Herman Mercer, Viking ace, and Frank Miller gave a good account of themselves in the singles. Mercer advanced to the second round, where he was defeated by Cutlip of Westport, in a hard fought match. Miller, by good playing, advanced to the finals, where he was defeated by Cutlip.

Jay Campbell and Wallace Nobles entered in the doubles and advanced to the semi-finals, where they were defeated by Westport. Richard Johnson and John Gay, the other doubles entrants, were eliminated in the first round by Paseo.

Captain Mercer and Campbell, veterans of last year's team, and two others will represent Northeast in the coming state meet, to be held at Columbia in May.

UNDER the faithful guidance and coaching of the instructors, Miss Clayton and Miss Stewart, the girls of the athletic department have successfully completed another year of interclass competition.

The object of the department is to develop skill along certain lines of athletic endeavor, and to promote the spirit of fair play and clean sportsmanship. In addition to the interclass match games and tournaments, the department offers dancing and swimming. An all girls' gym party is given each year in which all the girls of the department may participate and which affords ample enjoyment for all.

This particular department of the school is of rare interest, and its accomplishments are noteworthy to the extent that they are health-giving and enjoyable.

Athletic Officers

Miss Stewart

Miss Clayton

ANOTHER successful year in the realm of athletics has been recorded. The clean sportsmanship, competition, and the spirit of fair play exercised by each member of the teams, is due entirely to the splendid coaching of Miss Clayton and Miss Stewart. Miss Clayton is coach of the Sophomore teams and is in charge of all swimming activities. Miss Stewart supervises the Junior and Senior teams, has charge of all dancing events, and is adviser of the Olympic Club.

Much credit is due also to the sport managers who worked diligently and faithfully in producing winning teams and in cultivating the spirit of clean, hard play and true sportsmanship.

THE girls' physical education department at Northeast has an organization called the Northeast Olympic Association. The object of this organization is to develop skill in various athletic enterprises and to promote the spirit of fair play and good, clean sportsmanship. The club was organized in the year 1919-1920, under the supervision of Miss Stewart, who is its present adviser.

After a girl has received twenty-five athletic points, and when her grades reach the standard set by the school, she is automatically admitted into the organization. The following point system is used: Hockey, 10; Volley Ball, 5; Basket Ball, 10; Baseball, 10; Junior and Senior Gym, 10; Dancing, 10; Life Saving, 10.

FIELD hockey is one of the most thrilling of fall sports for girls. The girls had two months in which to display their abilities; a squad of twenty Seniors, twenty Juniors, and twenty Sophomores was chosen to represent the classes engaged in competition.

Due to adverse weather conditions, the final games were postponed until after Thanksgiving. The girls were loyal to their teams and captains and displayed excellent sportsmanship and co-operation.

For the first time in the history of Northeast, the Sophomores obtained the hockey championship. The Juniors and Seniors are proud of their underclassmen and expect still greater things of them in the future.

VOLLEY ball is one of the most fascinating sports of the year. The season this year began January 7, and lasted until January 23. There are twenty-one girls on a squad and each girl playing two games receives five athletic points. From this year's results, a tie between the Seniors and Juniors, we are assured of some real competition next year. Much enthusiasm, sportsmanship and teamwork were shown. Fifty-nine girls received points for volley ball this year.

THE 1930 basket ball season opened with enthusiastic response from about seventy girls. Of this number, three squads were chosen, each squad consisting of eleven players.

Class practice was held every Monday, Wednesday and Friday, beginning the latter part of December, 1929. The tournament games were played off during the month of March, 1930. The tourney this year ended in a tie between the Seniors and Sophomores.

Splendid teamwork and clean sportsmanship were displayed by all the girls during the entire basket ball season.

Tennis

AFTER the major sport season has drawn to a close, the girls of the Physical Education Department have tennis to look forward to. Tennis, one of the most invigorating sports of the season, offers not only splendid exercise for the development of a healthy body, but also much enjoyment is derived from it. The girls are very interested in participating in the tournament each year. The tournament games are played off during the last two or three weeks of school, on nearby courts. Much clean sportsmanship and fair play are exhibited on the court. This year's tennis prospects are exceptionally outstanding; very interesting and well matched tournament games are expected.

Baseball

BASEBALL, which is one of the favorite sports, is the one to end the season in the Girls' Athletic Department. Tournaments between the Sophomores, Juniors and Seniors take place in order to determine the championship. The competition is very keen. Ten points and a chevron, or numerals, are given to every girl who participates in at least two of the four games played.

The new equipment, consisting of outdoor bases and a home plate, secured by the Girls' Athletic Department last year, plays a very important part in the contest. The games, as usual, will be played on the football field. Outdoor baseball rules for girls will be followed.

Dancing

IN REVIEWING the various activities carried on in the physical education department, one must not overlook the delightful work done by the dancing classes.

Much of the success of the Pageant, given for the "Gold Star Scholarship Fund," is due in part, at least, to the attractive and colorful dances put on at this entertainment. Then, too, the girls furnished part of the program of the Parent-Teacher program given in the High School Auditorium, April 4.

The girls enjoy the training and work earnestly to participate in these events. Dancing lends grace and poise to the pupils and much benefit is derived from it.

Northeast Seals

Row 3—Kelner, Czano, Hambel, Uhlig, Hentschel, Lane, Mann, Ricker.
Row 2—Bliss, Simms, Cope, Clayton, Veitan, Sadler, Bagby, Fisher.
Row 1—Davis, Dreyer, Curtis, Gardner, Costello, Hill, Roshong.

THE Northeast Seals were organized in 1927. The purpose of the club is to promote health, encourage sportsmanship, and to acquire greater perfection in swimming. Instruction is given in swimming for form, endurance, diving, and speed and the big aim is American Red Cross Life Saving. The club colors are blue and white and the emblem is a seal. Miss Clayton is the adviser. One of the big social events of the year was a swim at the K. C. A. C.

Life Savers

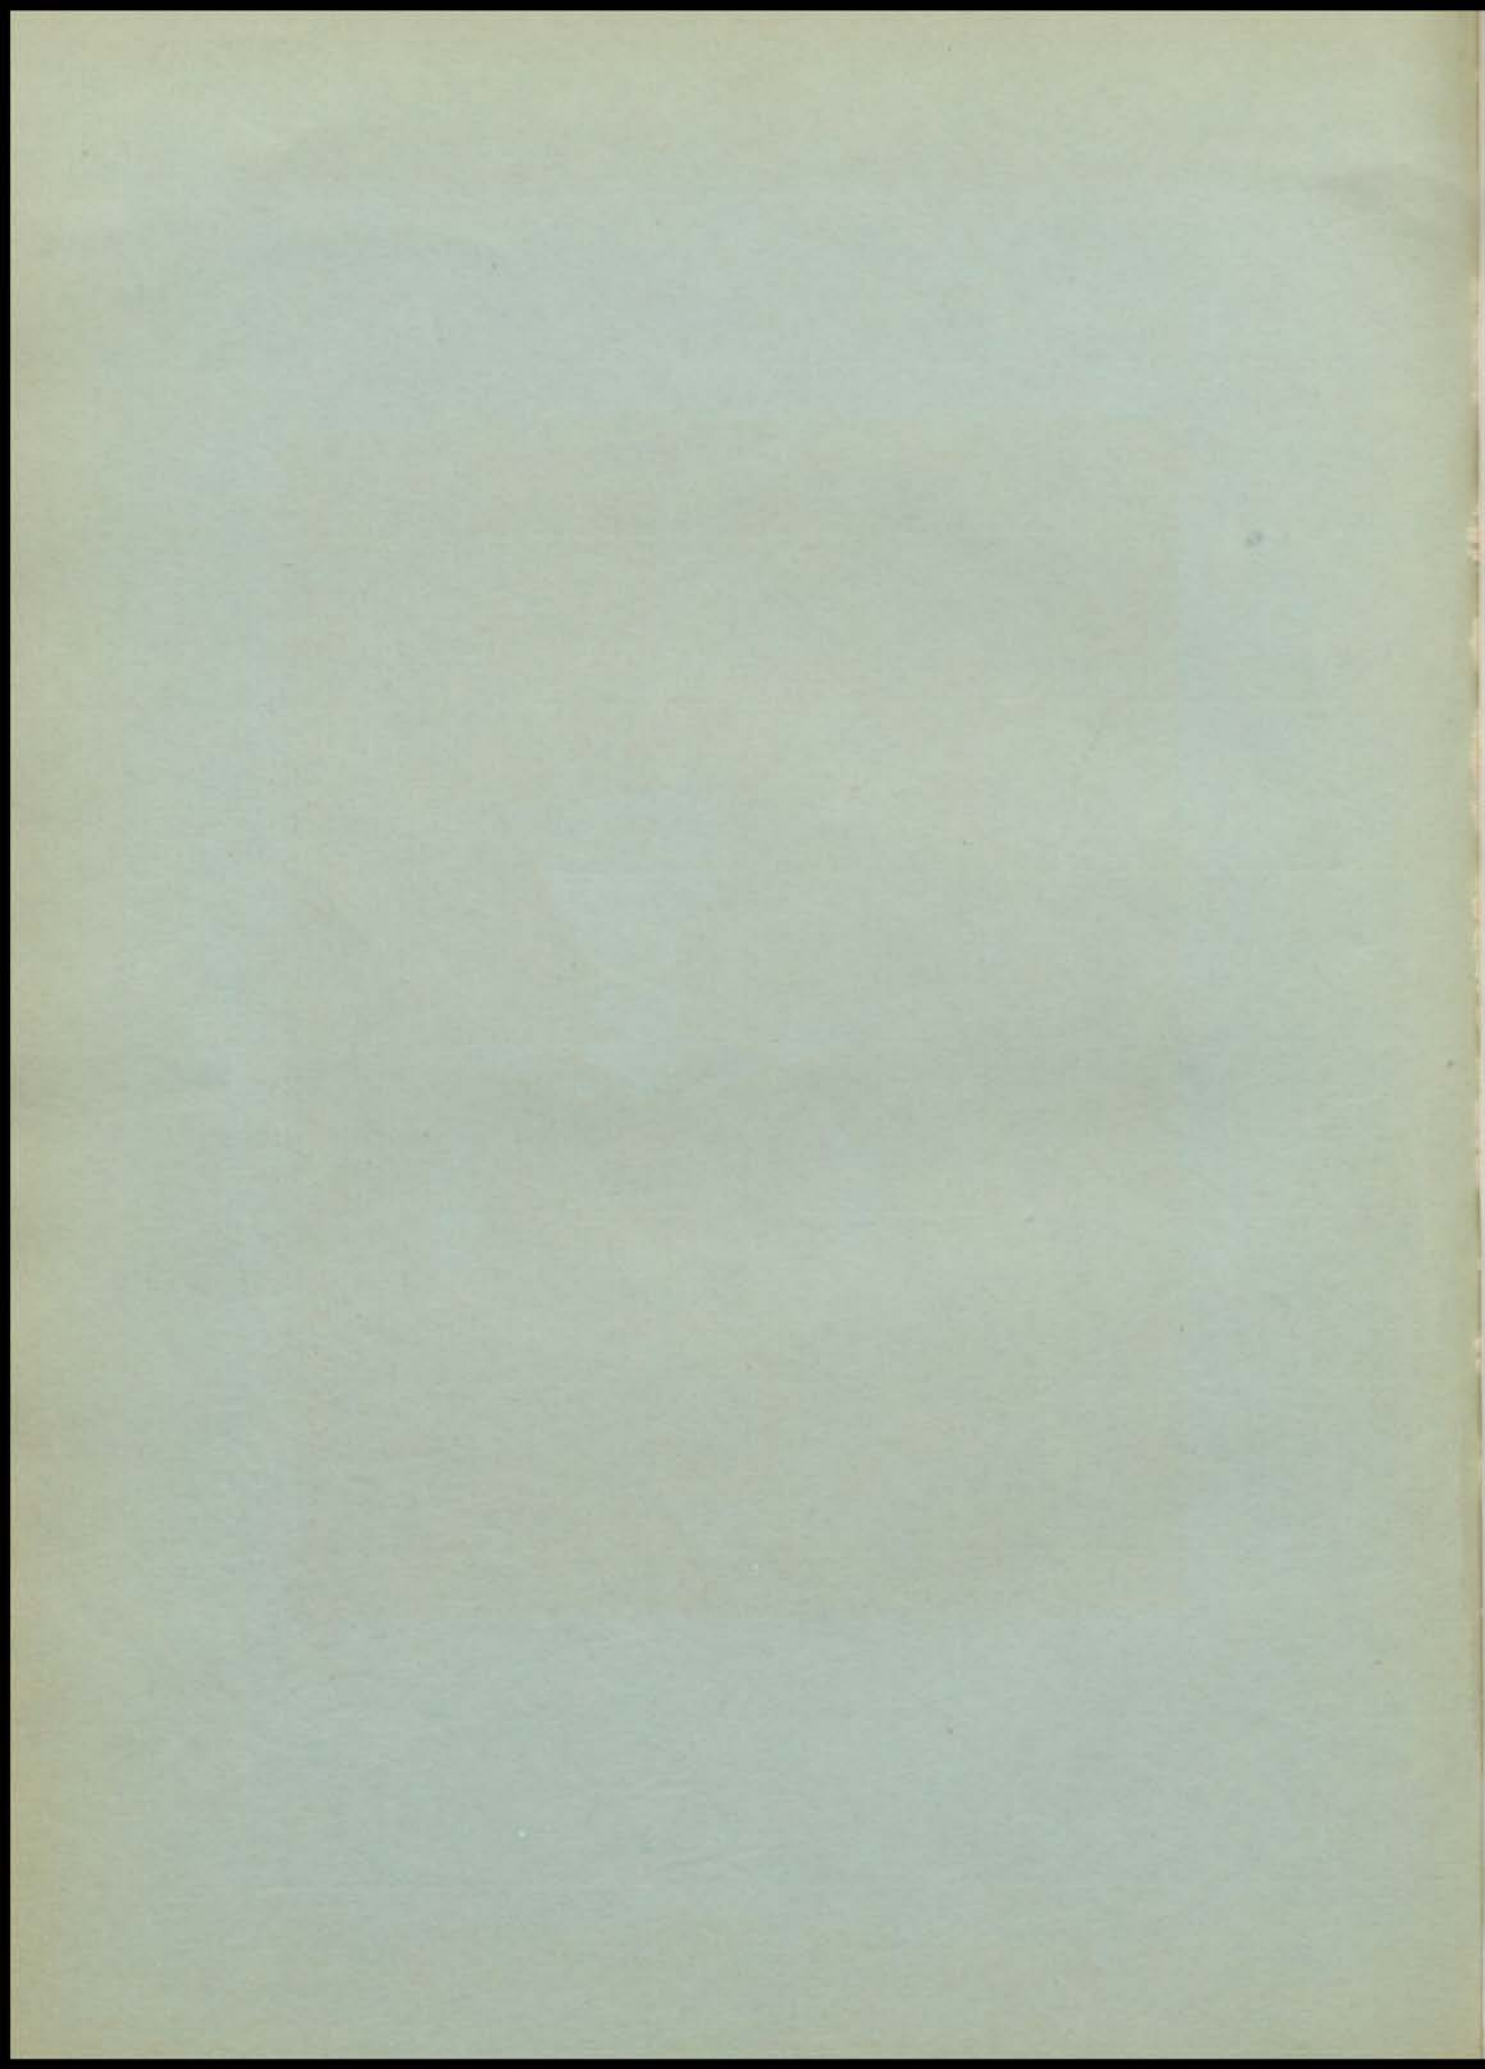

Row 3—Barron, Roshong, Grant, Gardner, Smalley, Uhlig, Bliss, McBride.
Row 2—Merlino, Davis, Simms, Chinn, Hambel, Dreyer, Ketner, Costello.

SWIMMING affords greater opportunities for keen enjoyment and individual development than any other one activity of the physical education program.

Many of our best swimmers are members of the American Red Cross Life Saving Corps. With this group, the annual mile swim at Lake Tapa-wingo, and canoeing are "headliner" attractions.

THE Literary Societies of Northeast are indeed a great advantage to the students. Not only do they develop and encourage our literary talents, but we gain friendships of the right kind, we meet boys and girls who have ideals and a goal to which they strive.

We learn the joy of clean, glorious companionship; we gain confidence in ourselves and a new interest in life.

The societies are not cliques, but they hold a very democratic relationship to each other. This year the annual society dance was given by all of the societies together and it was a grand success.

Each year in April occurs the Literary Contest, which is the climax of the year for the societies. It is a mad revel of color, yells and song. Each society vies with the other in the matter of dress, songs and the amount of noise they can make, as well as the literary distinction that they may achieve.

National Honor Society

Row 4—Isham, Sharp, Mainsechen, Smith, Young, Horn, Weiser, Alexander, Means, Mesner, Browns, North.

 Row 1—Supofsky, Tanner, Reppert, Bobier, Adams, Ellis, Griffith, Primm, Dean, Branstetter.
 Absent—Ginsberg, Weld, Ketchum.

BIDS to the National Honor Society were presented to forty Seniors and five Juniors this year. This is the greatest honor conferred upon the student body.

The purpose of the charter of the National Honor Society granted to Northeast High School on May 21, 1923, is to promote scholarship, leadership, character, and service among high school students. Only Juniors and Seniors who are outstanding in these qualifications may belong to this organization.

Ten per cent of the graduating class and five Juniors usually receive this honor.

 Row 1—Cowan, Corderman, Knox, Corby, Cobb, Manning, Fields, Workman, Swearingen, Gunn.

THE Alpha Literary Society, organized in 1913, is the oldest society in the school. Their motto is "Esse Quam Videre," "To be rather than to seem," and is achieved as the gold and white has won in the Literary Contest for five years. The social event of the first semester was an inter-society dance on December 6th. A bridge luncheon at the Hotel Bellerive, was given during the second semester. Miss Sizemore is the Alpha adviser.

Debaters

Row 4—King, Merser, Kinell, Reppert, Rowe, Sharp, King, Haines, Holland, Smith, Ormiston.
 Row 3—Kratky, Lyman, Garrett, Cohen, Meehan, Conklin, Swain, Gray, Slagle, Springer.
 Row 2—Abel, Bobier, Ellis, Isham, Rhoades, Nobles, Gay, Crowe, O'Neill, Alford.

THE Northeast Society of Debate is the oldest boys' society in Northeast and was organized in 1913. The society was founded originally for debate and literary activities, but during its existence has so widened its scope that every branch of school life is represented in the group. The honor rolls, class cabinets, R. O. T. C. officers, athletics, and the Senior Ballot are a few of the activities in which Debaters have participated, and have shown their leadership.

Shakespeare Literary Society

Row 4—Morrison, Yankee, DuBois, Initiator, 2; Sexton, Whitesell, Kerr, Hopkins, Anderson, Sgt.-at-Arms, 2; Rising, Harbison.
 Row 3—Gibson, Roberts, Ginsberg, Clayman, Dumit, Smith, Hitchcock, Euler, Ramel, Broadway.

THE Northeast Shakespeare Club received its charter during the first year of the school's organization. The motto is, "It is Not the Trappings of Knowledge, But Wisdom Itself." The colors are black and gold, and the flower is the violet. A dance was given in conjunction with the other societies for the social event. Miss Lettie Evans has been the adviser since 1925.

Delphian Literary Society

Row 4—Boyce, Hazelbaker, Baker, Lyons, A. Richards, Malenschein, Nieman, Darling.
 Row 3—Marks, Roberts, Tanner, Eslick, W. Richards, Clark, Peyton, Talbot, Eagles, Callahan.
 Row 2—Harris, Swaim, Spencer, Keal, Standlee, E. Baker, House, Simms, Closson, Hibbs.
 Row 1—Merrill, Sarli, Thayer, Schwenk, E. Swaim, Taylor, McBride, Obier, Vinckler, Turner.

THE Delphian Literary Society was organized in 1916 for the purpose of studying English literature, and the fostering of the highest social ideals in Northeast High School. It is one of the two mixed societies in the school, and is the fourth oldest society in Northeast. The emblem consists of the Keystone and Aster, with purple and gold for its colors. The motto is "Virtue non verbis,"—"Deeds, not words."

Clionian Literary Society

Row 4—Fletcher, Holschow, Brooks, Hundlay, Bredburg, Markowitz, Brooks, Tuxson, Mallon.
 Row 3—Snelling, McLornen, Mendburg, Stahl, Allred, Eder, Shumway, Hawkinsmith, Poltaine, Carnaham.
 Row 2—McKinley, Smedley, Burns, Tuttle, Eels, Sawyer, Newton, Hambel, Stutts, Sanders.
 Row 1—Lowen, Spenceer, Tanner, Miss Davis, Lester, Dearing, Root, Griffith.

THE Clionian Literary Society was organized in 1916, with the aim to "uphold the highest standard of scholarship, literary and social life." The purpose of the society is "to develop literary ability, and to promote democratic ideas and congenial spirit among the girls." The name for the organization was chosen from Clio, the Muse of History. The colors are red and white, and the motto is "Ta Kta Kte Ete," which means "Seek the beautiful." Miss Jeanette Davis is the present adviser.

The Benton Literary Society

Row 1—Browne, Belser, Adams, Surofsky, Brooks, Dobson, Horn, Dearing.
 Row 2—Neivel, Atwell, Wilson, Campbell, Mr. Hibbs, Rutledge, Baggerly, Shurin, Comstcek, Rapaport.
 Row 3—Adamson, Saunders, Morris, Bleistein, Boring, Brooks, Miles, Davis, Blake.
 Row 4—Means, Kilgore, White, Kalew, Holman, Harper, Eubanks, Baxter, Jolley.
 Absentee—Fitzgerald.

THE Benton Literary Society was organized on March 11, 1921, for the purpose of promoting literary ability and a better appreciation of art. The motto of this society is "In Hoc Signo Vincemus" and the colors are blue and gold. Mr. Carl G. Hibbs is the adviser. The first semester social event consisted of an inter-society dance with all the societies in school.

Delta

Row 4—Bryant, Day, Bronner, Kratky, Howser, Sanderson, Eads, Overman, Riemensnider, Kaiser.
 Row 3—Wildish, Frie, Snodgrass, Westman, Schuble, Schuble, Shaw, Henderson.
 Row 2—Owens, Huff, Herbst, Monroe, Hunter, Vaughn, Lenz, Shott, Peterson.
 Row 1—Fraser, Hummon, Dean, Hays, Miss Gaylord, Meehan, Busey, Clark.

THE Delta Literary Society was organized February 25, 1921. Its purpose is to promote the literary ability of its members, and to uphold the ideals of Northeast. There are forty members in the society, who are all outstanding in school affairs, and ever bear in mind their motto, "Always faithful." The colors are green and white, and the flower is the lily of the valley. Miss Gladys Gaylord is their adviser.

Theta

Row 4—Peters, Smith, Milam, Wetz, Grant, Houser, Green, Metschen, Huffman, Sharp.
 Row 3—Middleton, Henion, Lutz, Masonbrink, Chaffee, Hamilton, Pugh, Ginhart, Shumway, Waltermise.
 Row 2—Ely, Bailley, Noble, States, Bolitho, Miss Weaver, Harbison, Hentzhel, Lee, Brunson, Campbell, Shaw.
 Row 1—Hall, L. Hall, De Angelo, Cunningham, Treas. 3; Nunnolley, Treas. 1, 2; V-Pres. 3; Bier-smith, Pres. 2, Sec. 1; Clark, V-Pres. 1, Pres. 3; Hoerman, Sec. 2; Milburn, V-Pres. 2; Hawkins.

THE Theta Literary Society was organized in 1921. Its motto is "Knowledge Is Power," and the flower is the Iris. The colors of this Society are blue and white. Its purpose is to stand for all the higher aims in both scholarship, and social life, to promote the high ideals of true blue girlhood and to represent Northeast in all that is loyal and trustworthy. The social event in the first semester was an intersociety dance and a tea was held at the Brookside Hotel the last semester.

THE twenty-eight clubs of Northeast take a very active part in the school life. The majority of them are departmental and with this view in mind, all possible is done to further the student's knowledge of the particular subject. Students may belong to two clubs providing they do not meet on the same day. Most of the clubs meet every other Monday, with their advisers.

The only requirement is to have an "M" average in the subject which the club is interested, together with an interest in the department.

Girls' High School Club

THE Girls' High School Club is a friendly, Christian organization and the only club to which every girl in school is eligible. Its members, Girl Reserves, are striving to live well developed lives and be true to the purpose of the club, which is "To find and give the best." Their symbol is a blue triangle, whose sides represent Health, Knowledge and Spirit. Their activities are those which best work out the things for which they stand.

Each year a Junior girl is chosen to be the honor girl of the club because of her outstanding qualities as a Girl Reserve. Helen Cobb is the Frances Scarritt Hanley girl for this year.

Hi-Y Club

THE Northeast Hi-Y Club is the only boys' organization in the school primarily organized for character building. The club was established in 1920 with Harry Harian, the present adviser, as the Y. M. C. A. representative. The program and activities of the club have been greatly enhanced in the past year by the erection of the new Northeast Y. M. C. A. branch building at Van Brunt Blvd. and Smart Avenue.

Stage Crew

SHANK ISHAM SMILEY WIESER

THE stage crew was first organized in 1928. The purpose of this group is to aid in any way possible the work required in putting on the plays or the assembly programs. Those on the first crew were Harold Woods and Dan Weiser. The work of '28 was not hard enough to require additional help. The following year, '29, the size of the crew went to four. Woods was elected manager; Weiser, electrician, and Ralph Grimshaw and Raymond Isham were made helpers. The crew worked together well and ended a very successful year. The beginning of '30 found another change. By graduation Woods and Grimshaw were lost. In their places were put Ralph Shank and Harry Smiley. Weiser was elected manager and Isham as electrician, with the two mentioned above as helpers. Weiser was also the motion picture operator of the crew. Mr. Pinkney is the faculty adviser for this group. His work is very much appreciated.

Hygeia Club

Row 3—Newsom, Harbert, Stephens, Wiss, Wheatley, Rea.
 Row 2—Chambers, Garten, Miss McElwain, Sharp, Dean, Cooper.
 Row 1—Bronner, Owens, Huff, Savoca, Westman, Moore.

THE Hygeia Club was organized in September, 1928, by a group of girls enrolled in the Girls' Physiology classes. The object of the club is to promote health habits and attitudes. At the first meeting it was decided to open the club to all girls interested in health projects.

One meeting each month is devoted to activities.
 The club aims to hold as many meetings out of doors as possible.

Art Club

Row 3—Hitchcock, Martin, McCance, Gray, Zahn, Steel, French.
 Row 2—DeHardt, Addington, Smith, House, Coons, Sarli, Goddell, Wells, Heckman.
 Row 1—Fowler, Young, Wildish, Milburn, Miss Newitt, Mazza, Primm, Monroe.

THE Northeast Art Club was organized in 1922. The colors of the club are blue and gold. Its purpose is to stimulate an interest in the art work of the school, appreciation of the pictures and statuary in the building, a knowledge of our civic work, and a desire to visit exhibits that come to museums and galleries. Miss Newitt is the present adviser.

Northeast Dramatic Club

Row 3—Lester, Cowan, Roberts, King, Steel, Crumb, Keal, Merrill.
 Row 2—Baker, Standlee, Bailey, Harbison, Wetz, McBride, Clark.
 Row 1—Tate, Patch, Gunn, Miss Hobbs, Huston, Jolley.

“THE Play's the Thing,” from Hamlet, is the motto of the Northeast Dramatic Club. The purpose of the club is to develop dramatic appreciation and ability among the students. The colors of the club are French Blue and Crimson and the hyacinth is its flower. The emblem is the combination of the Greek masques of Comedy and Tragedy. The club was organized in 1927. Miss Hobbs is the coach and adviser this year.

History Club

Row 2—Schneider, Bryant, Moriarity, Basham, O'Mara, Flensburg, Miss Thompson.
 Row 1—Clippinger, Atkinson, Hockensmith, Sevedge, Box, Bradley, Dunbar

THIS club was organized for the purpose of creating a greater interest in the subject, and to develop a more vivid historical background than the time allotted to the class period permits. We are also endeavoring to establish a world point of view. We play historical games, celebrate anniversaries of noted characters, attend plays related to the subject, and encourage the reading of historical fiction. Our social event the first semester was a picnic dinner at the Hi-Y building.

Hiking Club

Row 2—Callaham, Richart, Powell, Miss Baxter, Phillips.
Row 1—Cade, Chayman, Thompson, Parsons, Bryan, Hargis.

THE Hiking Club was organized in October, 1929, the purpose of which is to promote good fellowship among the members. The chief activity is hiking. Visits to many interesting places in the northeast part of the city have been made. Occasionally, longer excursions have taken the members to such places as the Municipal Airport. Special activities have taken the form of picnics. Miss Baxter has always been the adviser of this organization.

Vesta Club

Row 2—Wallace, Piconi, Holcomb, Miss Baskin, Simpson, Stokes, Suddath.
Row 1—Belcher, Rambo, Overman, Gunther, Lee Pellet, Kaiser.

THE Vesta Club was organized in May, 1921. The purpose of this club is to arouse greater interest in home economics among the girls of Northeast. Those enrolled in either foods or clothing, or having completed two years of either are eligible for membership in this club. Miss Baskin is the present adviser.

The club provided toys, a tree, and food for a family at the Christmas season and made cookies for the children in Mercy Hospital.

Boys Aquatic Club

Row 2—Keith, Humphrey, Knotts, Theme, Miles, Fugate, Cousins, Adamson, Ahleen.
Row 1—Gregg, Padget, Rutledge, Fulton, Supofsky, Soblin, Hopkins, Brennan.

THE club was organized in November, 1927, with its chief aim to offer organization life to a group of boys who were not interested in social functions but desired the advantages afforded by the swimming pool and its surroundings for the improvement and maintenance of good health. Other aims are, improvement in swimming and diving and general water work, such as would make enjoyable outside water sports, as canoeing, rowing, etc. Mr. Barry Fulton has been the adviser of the club since its organization.

Aeronautics Club

Row 3—Koch, Hunter, Garfield, Basye.
Row 2—Garvin, Linn, Corwin, Harbison, Looney, Laurenzana.
Row 1—Schultz, Runsbey, Roedi, Miller, Woner, Eslick, Garvins.

THE Aeronautics Club was organized in 1929 to foster "air mindedness." The aims of the club are: To become acquainted with the different types of aeroplanes, to learn the different positions a boy might fit himself for in aeronautics and to understand the air laws. Model airplanes are constructed and trips are made to the airports, welding schools and flying schools.

Quilting Club

Row 3—Rowley, Roberts, B. Schuble, E. Grube, Brackenbury, Bertha Schuble.
 Row 2—Stewart, D. Euler, Warren, Simms, Land, Record, McChan.
 Row 1—Good, Bowen, Pratt, Sager, Nash, Euler.

THE Quilting Club was organized in October, 1928. The colors of the club are pink and green. The purpose of the club is to give girls, domestically inclined, an opportunity to piece a quilt and also to spend a social hour together twice a month. The first of May an exhibit is made of all the quilts. A prize is given for the best quilt. Twelve quilts were on display this year. There is one special social event each semester.

Golf Club

Row 3—Golden, Metcalf, Kubiak, Summerwell, Prior, Slagle.
 Row 2—Record, Porter, Oleno, McIntruff, Dowell, Miller, Tanner, Strohm, Henderson.
 Row 1—Foster, Worden, Webb, de Ruelle, Michaux, Armstrong, Scherrer, Stump, Sapp.

THE Golf Club was organized in the fall of 1929 with 32 boys and three girls as members. A tournament was planned and play started immediately. The outcome of this tournament is to determine the boys most capable of representing Northeast against the other city high schools. A match was planned with each high school in the city. It was decided there were to be no dues or expense, except an annual picture, because the expense of clubs, balls and tees is paid by each member.

French Club

Row 1—Crows, Sgt. A 2; Sawyer; Baker, Pres. 1, Sec. 2; Miss Hofacker; O'Neill, Pres. 2; Clark, Treas. 1-2.
Row 2—Farrand, Simmons, Chapman, Benson, Gaultz, Engelbert.
Row 3—Wormington, Day, Kirscher, Sgt. A 1; Rowley, Stephens.
Absentees—Ohler, Guenther, Sec. 1, V.-Pres. 2, Lee, O'Connor.

LE CERCLE FRANÇAIS, Les Penseurs, était fondé au mois de septembre en 1914. Le but de cette Société est d'offrir aux membres un moyen d'augmenter leur connaissance de la langue française, de la parler avec plus de facilité, et de la comprendre quand on leur parle dans cette langue. Puis, les membres arrivent à connaître plus intimement les grands chefs-d'oeuvre de la littérature française, l'architecture de ce beau pays, le caractère du peuple français, les coutumes, les moeurs, et, en effet, l'importance de la France, de sa civilisation, de la langue française, non seulement au point vue de la diplomatie, mais aussi de l'art, de la science et de l'industrie.

La Sociedad Castellana

Row 3—Bruce, Vinekiet, Reichman, DuBois, Reppert, Millard, Miller, Palmer, Parsons.
Row 2—Dearing, Pickering, Castillo, Hogue, Gaucher, Hargis, Whinery, Oakley, Wright, Brooks, Miller.
Row 1—Gray, Branstetter, Marks, Newton, Senora Bell, Stahl, Fletcher, Hamm, Markowitz.

LA SOCIEDAD Castellana fue organizada en el año 1914 con la Senora Bell como consejera. "El trabajo lo vence todo" fue escogido para el lema y la flor es el tulipán rojo. Los miembros tienen que pagar multas si hablan inglés durante las reuniones. Cuando hacen los negocios del club y cuando toman parte en el programa tienen que emplear el español todo el tiempo. De este modo pueden obtener más práctica en el uso de la lengua.

Northeast Mathematics Club

Row 4—Holland, Sexton, Manischien, Phipps, Isham, Pierce, McMahon, Turner, Meehan, Tanner.
 Row 3—Hood, Metschan, Lutz, Masonbrink, Smith, Orter, Houser, Cobb, Betz, Hamilton.
 Row 2—Siler, Garrett, Shumway, Lewis, Mr. White, Thomas, Busey, Workman, Cartmel, Clark.
 Row 1—Young, Ketchum, Brown, Manning, Knox, Johnson, Goodrich, C. Brooks, White, Stanley.
 Absentees—W. Brooks, Bliestin, Denson, Glenn, Adamson, Lochman, Nobles, Pratt.

THE Northeast Mathematics Club was organized in 1916 for the purpose of promoting an interest in the study of Mathematics. The figure of the Pythagorean theorem has been adopted by the organization as its emblem. The club has been under the efficient supervision of Mr. White since 1922.

Northeast Latin Club

Row 4—McLae, Fitzgerald, Woodford, Ellis, Cropper, Hall, Nash, Ginsberg, Spencer, Bradley, North.
 Row 3—Ailor, Ditto, Hunter, Peters, Swain, Miss Murdock, Stevens, Killam, Grogan, Seeley, Stevens, Lee Ailor.
 Row 2—Tuttle, Smedley, Hadley, Hibbs, Courtney, C. Holliday, M. Holliday, Atha Vaughn, Anita Vaughn, Broadway.
 Row 1—G. Yankee, Polsky, Kenney, Saunders, Griffith, Anderson, Winters, Hamilton, M. Yankee.

THE Northeast Latin Club was organized in 1927, by a group of students interested in the Latin language, literature and civilization. The motto is "Per Ampliora Ad Altiora." The color is royal purple, and the flower, the laurel. Miss Murdock has been the adviser of the club since its organization.

Millikan Club

Row 4—O'Halleron, Rambo, Smiley, Dobson, Shanks, Rhodes, Preston, Jones, Charlton, Kilgore, Baggerley.
 Row 3—Stewart, Meehan, Gordon, Jolley, Mr. Pinkney, Horn, Darling, Thayer, Brasfield, Gra-
 Row 2—Hall, Ormiston, Gardner, Campbell, Whitesall, Baldwin, Boyce, Hawkins, Mize, Andrews.
 Row 1—Mesner, Ruble, Adams, Bobier, Sharp, Weiser, Means, Ellis, Stubbs, Kerr.

THE Millikan Club, named in honor of Mr. R. A. Millikan, eminent scientist, was organized in 1926. Its purpose is to help the members understand science as it is applied industrially. The programs and discussions are about aeroplanes, telephones, radios, motor cars, and other developments particularly in the fields of Chemistry and Physics. Outside speakers add interest to the meetings. Frequently the club attends as a body certain scientific exhibitions. Mr. Pinkney is the adviser.

Music Appreciation Club

Row 3—Garrett, Haynes, Kington, Shatto, Lyons, Roberts, White, Walker.
 Row 2—Albro, Charno, Shelton, Workman, Maddox, Gebaur, Dale, McGinnis.
 Row 1—Bredberg, Hitchcock, Frie, Corby, Conderman, Fields, Arends, Smith.

THE first Music Appreciation Club to be organized in the Kansas City Schools was chartered at Northeast in November, 1923. Its purpose is to acquaint the members with a better understanding and love of music, both semi and fully classical. The colors chosen for the organization were rose and silver, and the pin a miniature lyre. The programs consist of musical selections and reports of prominent musicians.

Commercial Club

Row 4—M. Stout, L. Stout, Wehmhoener, Maxwell, Naher, Martin, Row 3—Minshall, Rapoport, Muzzy, Crotty, Byrd, Parsons, Cross, Manley.
 Row 2—Easterwood, Adams, Lee, Gregory, Rice, Kratky, Butterfield.
 Row 1—Press, Lapin, Gregg, Antes, Vaughn.

THE Northeast Commercial Club was organized March 9, 1922, for the purpose of carrying on a successful and interesting study of the business world. Each year the club takes trips to large banks, and other business houses with the view of finding how their enterprises are conducted. The programs consist of interesting and valuable talks and readings along business lines. The club colors are gold and silver, and its motto, "Efficiency Wins." Mr. Coleman and Miss Janson are the advisers.

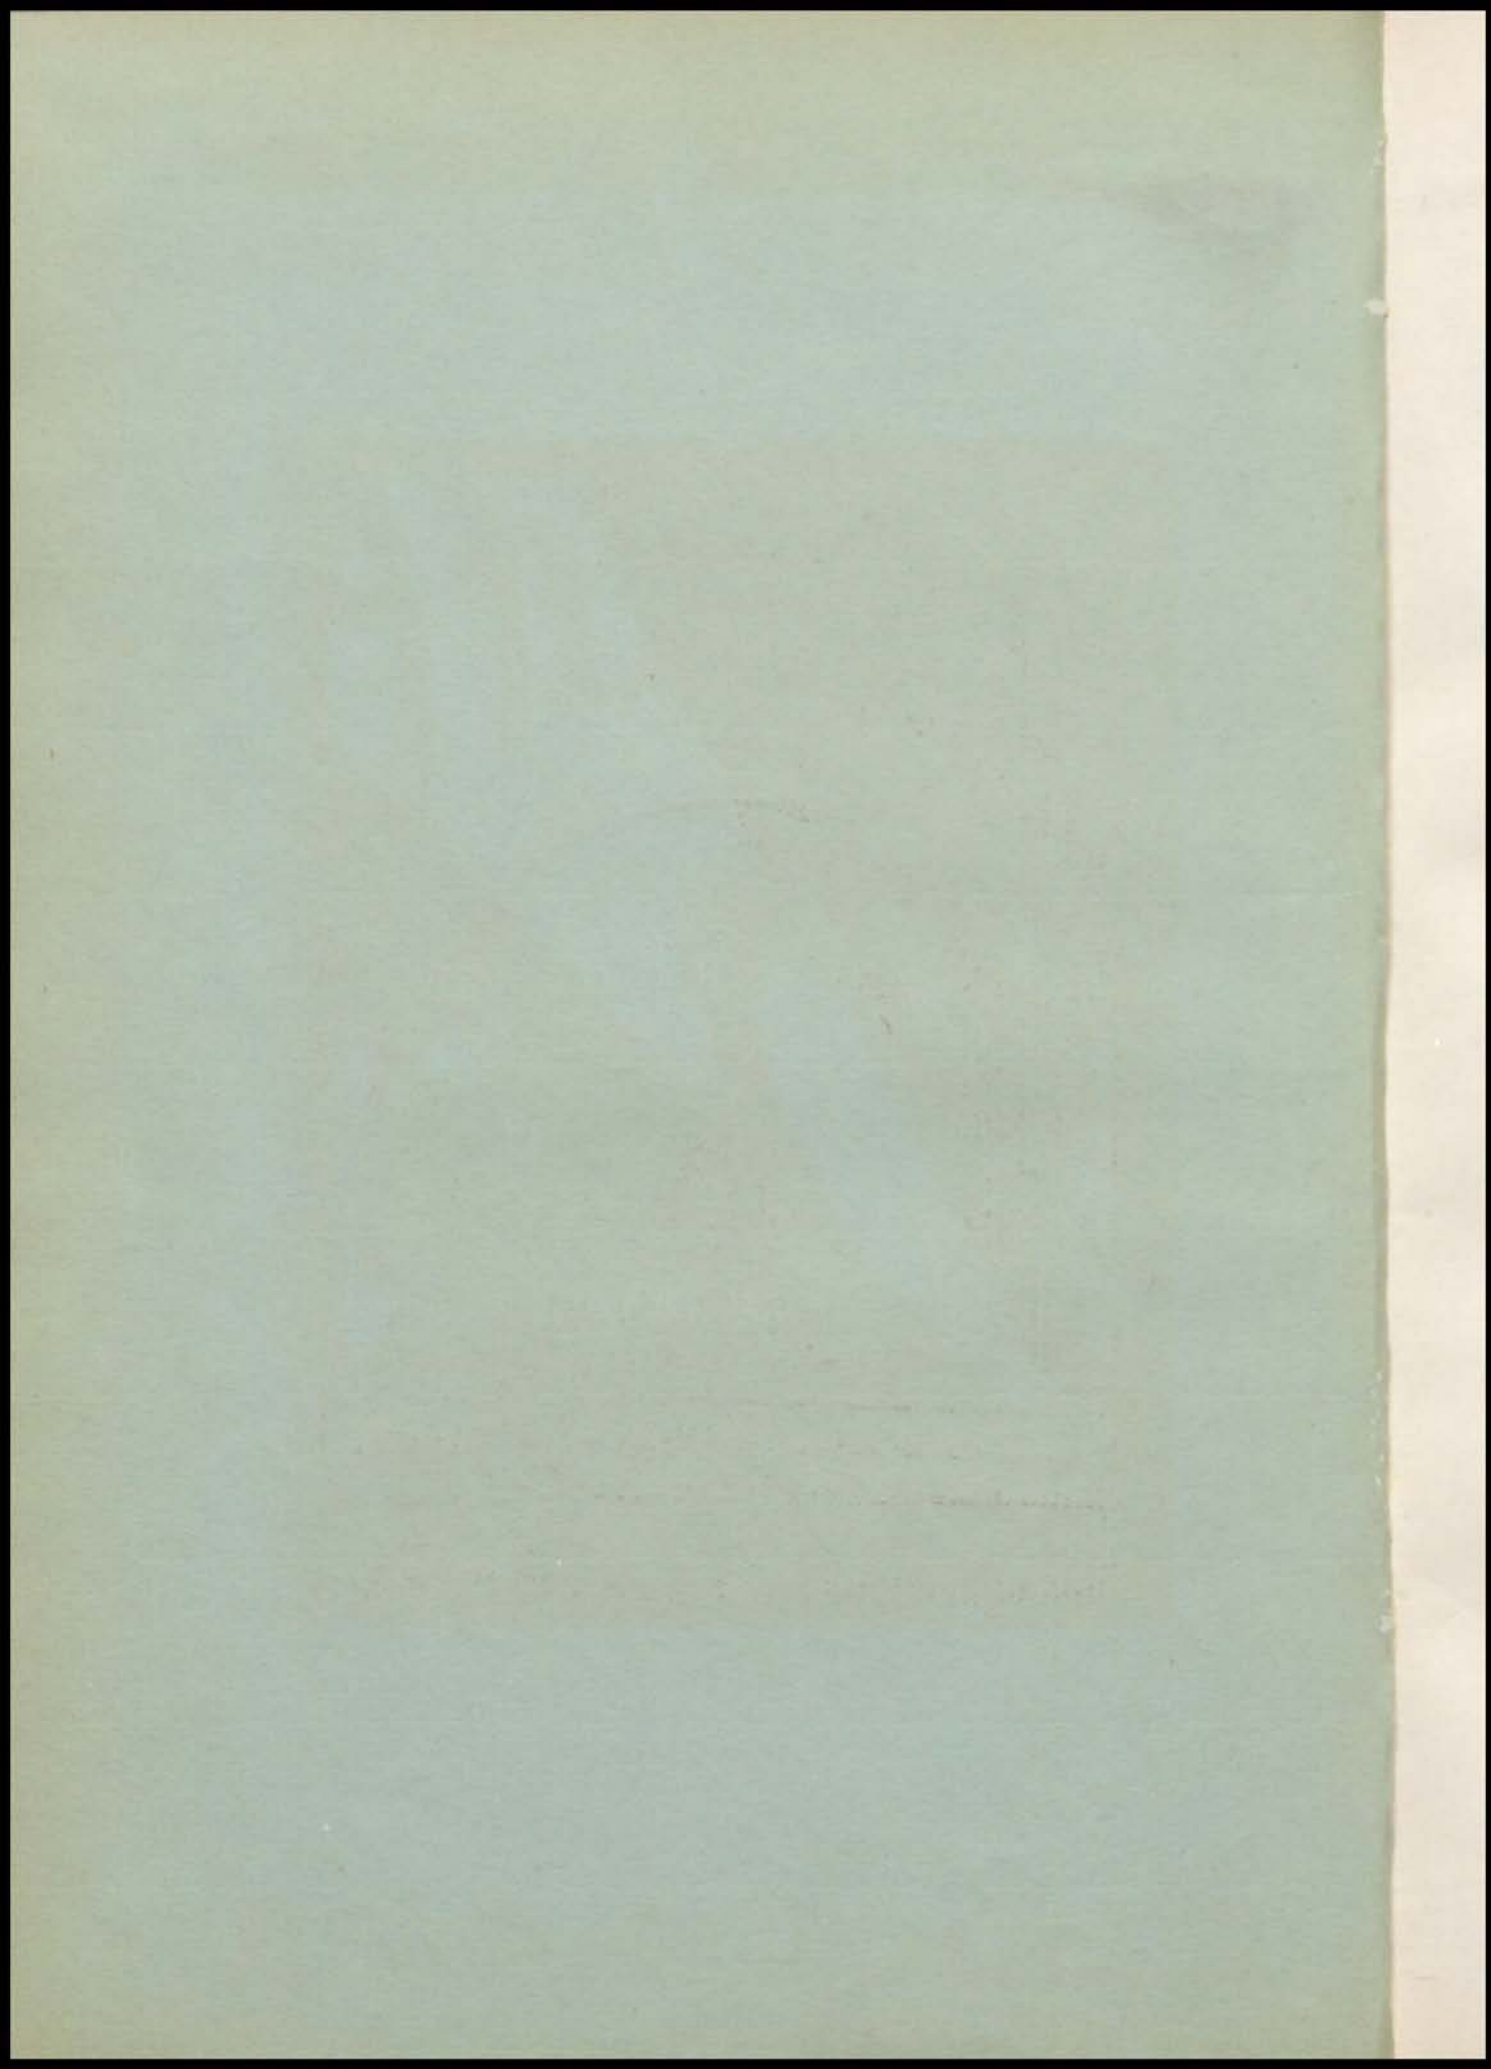

Biology Club

Row 3—Williams, Engleman, Fokker, Larson, Haskins, Noble, Kratky.
 Row 2—Easterwood, Adams, Lee, Gregory, Rice, Kratky, Butterfield.
 Row 1—Chaffee, Smith, Carlisle, Lynam, Carnahan, Albred, Gumpelin.

THE Northeast Biology Club was organized September, 1929. It consists of pupils who are taking, or have taken, Biology, Zoology, or Botany. This club supplants the Botany Club. Its purpose is to study living things. Miss Marguerite Gregory is the adviser. This club endeavors to make its members better acquainted with plant and animal life of all kinds and urges them to make collections of plants or animals.

OH—
 Conductor: "Fare, lady!"
 Old Maid: "Why, you little Dickens."

LOST!!

Three credits; some place between first and second floor.

One boy friend; almost new. Finder need not bother about returning.

Evelyn Cowan: "I didn't make good in that exam."

Julia Lester: "Why not? I prayed for you during that hour."

Evelyn Cowan: "Well, that shows how much influence you have."

Mr. Miller (in Geometry): "Now, class, watch the blackboard and I'll go through it again."

He: "Are you fond of moving pictures, Jennie?"

She (honestly): "Yes, Sandy."

He: "Then, maybe, Lass, you'll help me to get half a dozen doon out o' the attic."

Nurse: "That's a bad cough."
 Dick Masters: "It's the best I have."

Mr. Laury: "James Adams, sit down in front."

Jimmy: "I can't."

Sophie, starting a debate: "My worthy exponent—"

Mr. Laury: "If these acids were combined we would be blown to the sky. Now, class, step closer so that you may follow me."

WHY NOT?

If a person who fails is a failure,
 Would a person who quails be a quailure?

If a person who makes plays is a playwright,
 Would a person who makes hay be a hay-writer?

Would a person who makes hay be a hay-writer?

If drinking too much makes a drunkard,
 Would thinking too much make a thunkard?

But why increase the confusion?

Still I would like to ask in conclusion,
 If a chap from New York is a New Yorker,

Would a fellow from Cork be a Corker?

Clyde: "Ever been pinched for speeding?"

Lowell Johnson: "No, but I have been slapped for going too fast."

Question: "What is your idea of an ideal school?"

Marion Meehan (looking for mirror): "Where studies are a minor consideration and a beauty shop and social etiquette department operate in connection with the school."

Frosty Garrett: "Where Will Rogers and his relatives are teachers, and Jokology is the only subject."

Ola Arends: "Where there are four handsome men to one girl and the teachers delight in hearing their pupils giggle."

The hours I spent with thee, my Geometry,
 Are as a hard day's work to me.
 I count them over, every one apart,
 My drudgery! My drudgery!
 Each hour a month, each month a year,
 To age a youth who's used to fun,
 I study on to reach the end, and there
 an F is hung.
 Oh, many shows I did not see,
 I stagger on, and hope at last I've raised
 that F,
 Kind friend, I've raised that F!

NO REASTER

Perplexity Box

Dear Chaperone: How can I overcome sudden fits of laughing in class?

Helen Clark.

Answer: When you feel these spells coming on, stuff your handkerchief into your mouth and remain silent until you are seized with fits of coughing, this will stop all thoughts of laughing.

Dear Chaperone: I live in the country and raise pigs. I don't mingle with the fair sex. No use, for if you have a girl friend everybody thinks that you are going to marry her. They are too much trouble anyway. How can I get rid of freckles. Answer at once.

—Milton Bobier.

Answer: I suppose as long as you are such a woman hater, your main object in getting rid of the freckles is to please the pigs. Well, for your great affliction, stir a cup of fresh grated horseradish into four cups of sour milk and let stand over night. Then apply freely.

Senora Bell: "Give the preterite of Huir."

Ralph Marshall: "Whee!" (Hui).

Senora Bell: "That's right."

THE FIRST MATE

Dear Sir: My son, Lowell Johnson, tells me he is given too much work to do. He says he has to translate sixty hexameters of Latin each day. Now, I looked hexameter up in the dictionary and found it was a poetic verse of six feet. That makes three hundred feet or one block of poetry a day for my son to translate. I think that one-half hexameter a day is enough for a boy of his age.

NOR'EASTER'S TWENTY-THIRD PSALM

Mr. Chapin is my supervisor, I shall not want.

Miss Sizemore maketh me to study History.

She leadeth me to my grave with Louis XIV.

Mrs. Bell restoreth my soul with Spanish.

She leadeth me in the paths of translation.

For her name's sake.

Yea! Though I shall walk through the valley of the shadow of my Geometry class,

I shall fear no failure,

For Miss Pile is with me.

Her brain and her teachings they comfort me.

Mr. Coleman prearest bookkeeping to keep me busy.

He annoints my head with long exercises;

My Commercial vocabulary runneth over.

Surely good recitations, with some stalling

Shall pull me through these days of my life,

And I shall remember them forever,
Amen.

My Dear Fellow Vikings:

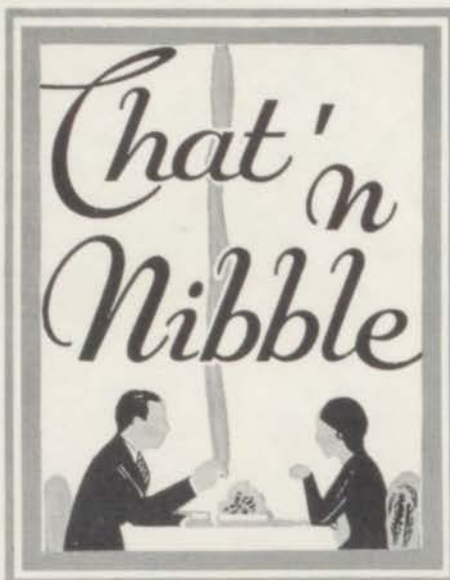

Do you realize that, on the average five hundred dollars are spent annually by the advertisers listed in this section. This financial support has been especially beneficial in the publication of our 1930 Nor'easter.

I believe we, as a student body, should express our sincere appreciation by patronage.

Yours truly,

September Events

SEPTEMBER 3 the good Viking ship Nor'easter set sail for parts unknown with many passengers. Much disturbance aboard at first, due to the numerous new passengers of a peculiar shade of green; but which is soon quieted by our worthy Captain Chapin. We put into port the 20th and 28th of September for our strong Vikings to display their strength at a game known as football. The ship then sailed sadly out of port after the defeats at the hands of the warriors of St. Joseph, Central, and William Chrisman. But never say "can't" to the Vikings. It does seem as if Naomi Lee Smith was strolling down the deck one sunny morning and M. E. Davis spoke to her; Naomi Lee wanted to know "who that fresh fellow was that spoke to her." Well, anyway the Vikings Bold are on their way for another year of marvelous journey.

October Events

NOW that the ship has settled down to its regular course, we know that Senora Bell is still opposed violently to "Sophomores"; that M. E. Davis still clings to his "paddle"; that Miss Henry still says "quiet please," and that Miss Pile still believes in giving long lessons. October 4th, William J. Welch speaks in assembly on "Safety." Now, Frosty, do you call that "safe" rushing around that "certain girl?" The "Gods" do favor the Viking ship. No storms, as yet, have appeared on the horizon.

November Events

NOVEMBER 7th—Open House—
We put into port in order to be inspected. The ship was scrubbed so much we hardly recognized it. George Jolley wondered how much the "free Couriers" cost the Courier staff. (As usual thinking about the cost of things.) We suddenly have a musical ear. We have the Boys' Glee Club of Park College board the ship for an hour or two of music. November 18th—Margaret McBride was heard to announce that she was going to "Park." Have a monotonous voyage until the M. U. Band appears on board, November 22nd, and stirs us with some good old "Mizzou" songs. Margaret has changed her mind and has decided to go to M. U. because of one "Blond" in particular. Hurrah! ('n other exclamations of joy or otherwise), the Vikings put into port for one day, Thanksgiving, November 28th. It has been noticed that since Thanksgiving everybody shuns (?) "Turkey 'n Dressin'."

December Events

THE Nor'easter ship had a very lively month. Our Worthy Captain Chapin called an assembly December 5th and presented the sturdy Viking Co-Captains of Football, John Wilfong and Virgil Lynch, for the voyage of next year. Had a very calm sea December 6th, so we held an inter-society dance. Everybody put on his "Viking go-to-meeting" clothes and made merry. Did notice that Arthur seemed "knocked" out by Elbert's little sister, otherwise known as Naomi Lee. Northeast now has two "All-Of-A-Sudden" Viqueens, since Evelyn Cowan and Ruth Spencer appeared in that famous Viking production, "All-Of-A-Sudden-Peggy" December 13th and 14th. "Ye Merry Vikings of Yore" boarded the ship December 19th for the Alumni Basket Ball game. The gods are good to us—Christmas Holidays start December 20th.

January Events

THE ship resumes its course January 2nd. Our Worthy Viking sailors clashed in a Basketball game with the Wyandotte Bulldogs January 3rd, and then sailed gayly away after a victory of 18 to 15. We awoke one day to find our ship almost weighed down with snow. Much to our surprise we saw the dignified "Bill" King sprawling on the snow covered deck with his books (studious?) strewn about with the (little Viking, Sophie) Johnny Johnson, trying to wash his face with snow. More fun! Wish it would snow oftener. January 16th the ship stops to take on new passengers. They have a hard time at first finding their way around the ship, but the older passengers are very kind (?). January 25th, Evelyn Cowan is selected the Viqueen leader of the R. O. T. C. Everyone wondered why the cadets had such a broad grin on their faces—"The All-Of-A-Sudden-Peggy."

February Events

IT DOES seem as if the Vikings and Viqueens of the ship Nor'easter have gone in for farming (on a ship?) or "sum'pin!" The stalwart Vikings appeared in coveralls, overalls bandanas, and what not. The Viqueens are quite girlish in gingham and hair ribbons. The worthy sailors of the Nor'easter meet in a basketball game, February 21st with De La Salle, and display their manly strength by winning 18 to 12. Surely the Vikings aren't going to leave their trusty ship and take to aeroplanes! Aviators' program in Assembly February 28th, Marion Meehan was heard to say that she "adored" aviators, so Thorsall how about being an aviator?

March Events

MARCH! The month of stormy weather (sometimes) but nothing can daunt the good ship of the Vikings. Another Glee Club is again our guest. This time it is the Girls' Glee Club of William Woods. Several boys were heard to say, they wished they could go to William Woods. (Why—?) as Joe Roverts said, "they were all 'Peaches 'n' Cream.'"

April Events

APRIL 1st, it seems as if our dignified Editor-in-Chief, Andy Sharp, was given a piece of candy filled with alum and then—he wasn't quite so dignified. April 11th, the Viking Cadets are on exhibition at the R. O. T. C. Circus. April 12th, Milton Bobier represents us in the "Star's Oratorical Contest." Bob Brown seems to like to "Constitute the Constitution." April 25th, the societies of the Viking ship hold the Annual "Lit Contest." What was our consternation at hearing our ship's sides creak, trying to hold the songs and yelling.

Congratulations, Northeast

May Events

MAY 9th and 10th the Seniors put on the play "Tailor Made Man." Now Northeast has a "Tailor Made Man" as well as the "All-Of-A-Sudden-Peggy." The good ship anchors for a night of fun; she is decorated with lights, streamers 'n' everything. May 17th ('M don't worry Sophies your time is coming.) Jr.-Sr. combat. May 24th the Juniors and Seniors take it out on each other. May 25th the Seniors appear on deck in disguise. Hurrah! It is class day. The Seniors try to hold the Juniors up to ridicule. Oh, well, Juniors, you'll be big 'uns next year.
