PREFACE

THE fruits of labor are doubly sweet when shared with friends. With this incentive, the staff has worked unceasingly to record Viking school life in the entirety.

Mark Twain and the spirit of American youth are the undercurrents of thought. May all Vikings awake to the inspiring challenge that awaits American youth: Seek peace and universal understanding.

Forever,

—The Nor'easter

DEDICATION

IN the spirit of American youth, lies the hope of nations for a more stable world society. To this dynamic type of peace-loving and progressive democracy, which must not fail its great trust, we, the staff, dedicate this Nor'easter Annual.

—The Editor

MEMORIAL

Mrs. Sabra Cunningham passed away July 24, 1935. Before coming to Northeast as a member of the original faculty which was organized in 1913, she was Vice-Principal of Spalding's Commercial College.

Mrs. Cunningham made fast friends of her students, who recognized her ability not only in her own field, Shorthand and Typewriting, but also in English, History, and world affairs. Her classes were always stimulated by her pertinent and thought-provoking remarks.

She spared no effort in helping her students prepare themselves for lucrative positions and gave them proper contacts with important business executives.

Mrs. Cunningham will be remembered as a teacher who was loved and respected by all students, and who occupied a high place in the esteem of the Faculty.

Josephine Scaglia, a Junior at Northeast, passed away March 3, 1936. Although of quiet nature, she had the admirable quality of making friends easily. Although not interested in extra-curricular activities, she was one of the outstanding girl athletes of the school. As a student, Josephine was well thought of by her teachers for the enthusiasm and perseverance which she employed in tasks assigned to her.

Josephine will long be remembered as a loyal Vi-queen who, through her sincerity, friendliness, and integrity of character, made a bright spot in the school life of Northeast.

George Williams, a Sophomore at Northeast, passed away April 10, 1936. Although having been at Northeast only a short while, he soon gained the respect of his fellow classmates and teachers. George was active in the Scout work and held one of the principal positions in his troop. He will be remembered by those who knew him as a conscientious and true friend.

Helen Gorham, a sophomore in our school, passed away Friday, April 24, 1936, at St. Mary's Hospital. Although extremely self-critical, she was very lenient in criticism toward others. This tact won her many friends who valued her charm and personal qualities. As a talented student in the arts of painting and music, Helen always sought the beautiful in life, trying to make her own as full and beautiful as her high ideal. Her friends will long remember this lofty idealism which manifested itself in her youthful personality.

LITERARY SOCIETIES

Northeast is proud of her Literary Societies. The Alphas, the first to be organized, started the trail of society organizations, which lead to the seven societies that are extant. Organized for the purpose of developing literary ability through the writing of orations, short stories, essays, and poems, they abetted their purpose by the establishment of the Annual Literary Contest in 1914.

The "Lit." Contest is the sun around which the careers of the Literary Societies revolve. Without the "Lit." Contest the whole society organization would collapse. A high standard is maintained for the compositions which are submitted in competition for the gold, silver, and bronze medals. It is this spirit of competition which always makes the "Lit." Contest an event to be keenly anticipated.

It should not be thought that the literary societies are all work and no play, even though their main theme is literary endeavor. For their members are congenial groups who find mutual interest in their own social activities. These gatherings sponsor an intimacy among the members which is an active factor in the formation of friendships which are revered long after school days are over.

The Literary Societies are an integral part of school life and we are glad that such opportunities for friendship and literary development are made possible. Perhaps, some day, one of these contest winners will carve a niche for himself in the literary history of our country. Who knows?

THE INTER-SOCIETY DANCE

The Inter-Society Dance was held last year on Friday, November 22. This dance is an annual affair, being arranged and paid for by the societies themselves. Aside from the Literary Contest, it is the most eagerly awaited event of the whole society year. The orchestra was an excellent one, and the dancers showed their approval by demanding encores.

The committees which ably managed the dance were:

ALPHA LITERARY SOCIETY

"Peggy, darling, everybody says Alpha—Alpha—Alpha and there should be no hesitation on your part to say it too. By all means, my dear, join the Alpha Literary Society.

Each year the Alpha girls are the most prominent in the school. There is sociability, too. Each spring we have a large social event that is really the most outstanding event of the year, except the Literary Contest, of course.

This year another added feature was the debate between the Alphas and their brother society, the Debaters. Incidentally, we won.

Then, of course, there is the Literary Contest, Alpha Society has always ranked high in this and we have won the contest six times.

I must study my Comparative Anatomy now, but I hope that I have convinced you that the Alpha Literary Society is one of the most attractive Northeast societies for girls to join."

MY CHAPEL

MARJORIE KITTREDGE

Clonian Literary Society

My chapel was not made by man
 With stained glass and polished seat.
 My chapel is the open field
 With soft grass carpet 'neath my feet.

My chapel is the forest of May
 With scented violets as a floor.
 I worship there in peace . . . alone,
 My chapel has no lock nor door.

My chapel walls were made by God,
 The slim white birch and pine tree strong.
 My chapel roof, the sky above;
 The feathered choir trills sweet its song.

I feel a sermon throbbing there;
 No one but God can teach so well . . .
 The way all things look up to Heav'n
 With reverent silence in the dell.

The sunlight filters through the trees,
 Breeze makes the flowers dance and sway;
 The wondrous harmony of God
 Is glorified with each new day.

And when it's time to light the lamps,
 And vesper hymns are echoed here,
 The lights of Heav'n, the stars that shine,
 Illume the sky in radiance clear.

The sleepy birds chirp in their nests,
 The flowers of night bloom in the glen,
 The breath of eve says soft each tree,
 The tired world sounds sweet . . . Amen.

NORTHEAST SOCIETY OF DEBATE

Way back there in 1913;
 A group of boys pow wowed together,
 Founded a club of great big he-men,
 "Big shots" of Northeast, these he-men
 Called themselves good old "Debaters,"
 Brothers to the lady Alphas.

Next, along in 1914,
 Lit Contest, with all its glory,
 Found itself turned to Debaters,
 Good, hard workers, those Debaters,
 Bad—for little sister Alphas.

Now Pop Carder is the big chief;
 He, with Wyatt, Fate, and others,
 Guides old N. S. D. straight forward
 Through this never-ending Leap Year.

BANK NIGHT
 HELEN WILKS
School-at-Large

At 7:00 o'clock precisely, a little old man walked down Main Street toward the Paramount picture show. He carried a big parasol over his arm, and his clothes were tattered, obviously hand-me-downs from a larger person than he was, perhaps his son. At any rate, he wore a huge smile on his face and anyone could see that he was as happy as a child. Nothing, not even an impending cloudburst or his shabby clothes could prevent him from going to the Paramount on "bank-night" if he had fifteen cents, the price of a ticket. This night, he had succeeded in getting the money from his daughter-in-law, but it had taken strategy—downright strategy. He was thinking that unless he was lucky tonight, he might not be able to come again, for 8x15c is $1.20, and that's how much he had already wasted in coming to bank-nights. He put away such gloomy thoughts as he approached the entrance and stopped to read the posters. Yes, it would be a good picture because Joe Dix was the leading character and that name implied a western thriller. Reaching into a frayed pocket, he drew forth two nickels and five pennies. With these, he bought his ticket and went inside.

He was about ten minutes early and so he had the privilege of picking his seat. He walked down in front and debated over the west section or the center one. Deciding upon the latter, he sat down and began to build air castles with the $500 that he had a chance to win. So intent was he upon his dreams, that he didn't even know the picture had started until some people near him started to clap for the hero on the screen. Then, coming to a realization of the present, the old man stood up and clapped faster and louder than the rest of the spectators even though he didn't know what had happened in the story.

He wasn't quite so exuberant, however, when he emerged from the show with the rest of the crowd. He still remembered the manager's words when he announced the winner:

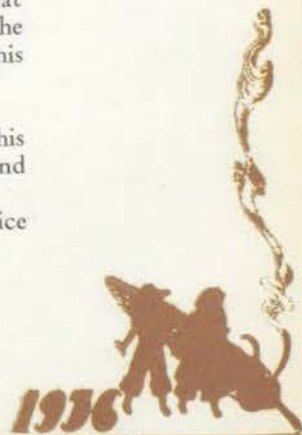

"Mrs. Minnie McCarthy—is Mrs. Minnie McCarthy present? Will she please step forward?"

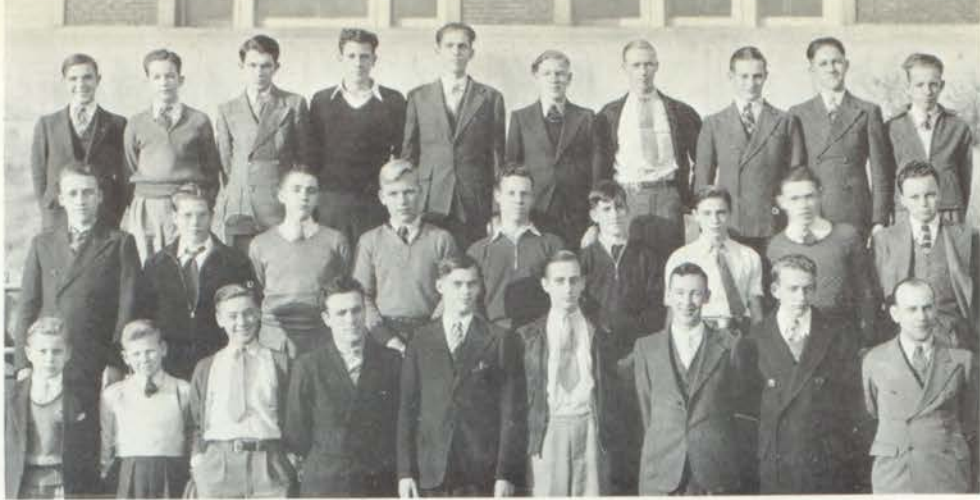

And the little old man down in front had turned around in his seat and looked and waited, but Minnie didn't step forward and the manager finally had declared the contest closed for the night. Next week $550 would be given the winner. But that wouldn't help any because daughter-in-law had told the little old man that he could not come again and as he thought of her words, a big tear rolled down his cheek and he turned up Penny Street in the dark.

8:30 o'clock the succeeding Saturday night still found the old man using his same strategic methods on his daughter-in-law, Lizzie, in order that he might attend bank-night. He had launched his campaign early that morning with:

"Well, Lizzie, here 'tis Saturday again. Sure is a purty day—I'll bet it'll be nice tonight."

And Lizzie, who pretended not to take the hint, answered:

"Yes, that's why I'm doing the washing today. But you never can tell, spring weather's so changeable."

Later on in the afternoon, the old man had followed Lizzie to the back yard where she was gathering in her clothes.

"Say, Lizzie," he said, wrinkling his brow, "Do ya' know what ya' did with the picture show page of the paper? I wanta' see what's up to the Paramount tonight."

On being informed that his son had taken the paper to work with him, the old man retreated into the house in a dejected manner, but with hope still springing in his breast.

Now, it was different. With only a few minutes left, he could not afford to "beat around the bush," and so he approached the table where Lizzie was scraping up the dinner dishes.

"Lizzie," he said, "If you'll let me have just fifteen cents, I'll scrub the kitchen and clean the pantry for ya' tomorrow."

"Now papa, I said last week that I wasn't going to give you any more money to waste on picture shows, and I meant it."

"Aw, but Lizzie, ya' never can tell—I might win the $550, and then wouldn't ya' be tickled? Aw, please Lizzie, I've only got ten more minutes to get there."

THETA LITERARY SOCIETY

We Thetas are good at all contests, We're fifty girls in blue and white,
 At all of them we do our best. We're fifty girls all here to fight,
 Our snapshots put us in first place, We're fifty girls with Owl so wise
 And Lit. Contest is our other race. That watches us with two great eyes.

Theta's our name, we're proud to say,
 Theta's our spirit, we're on our way,
 Theta's our joy, our hope, and heart;
 We're for Theta and Theta is smart.

OUR FAMILY REUNION

LUCY ANN KERR

Clionian Literary Society

Sometimes I wish our family hadn't come from the fine "Old South" with its many traditions, strong family ties, and the custom of family reunions. Although many years have passed since the existence of our family's old southern home, and although the brothers and sisters are scattered from one end of the continent to the other, they will gather at last once a year for a grand and glorious family reunion.

It is always held at Uncle John and Aunt Martha Reyburn's because they have the largest house. After a great deal of correspondence, hours of planning on the telephone, and arguments about where the out-of-town relatives will stay, arrangements are finally made, and the day of the gathering arrives.

At six o'clock in the evening, the large white frame house is in readiness for the occasion. In the dining room the table is stretched to great length and laid with a snowy-white cloth. The cut-glass chandelier reflects tiny gems of red, blue, and yellow, and the centerpiece of yellow jonquils and white narcissus is from Aunt Martha's garden.

Some of the nieces and nephews have been helping with preparations during the afternoon, and are anxiously awaiting the rest of the crowd. Soon the cars roll up, and young and old pour into the house. Each aunt has her arms loaded with casseroles and dishes, for at our reunions each aunt contributes toward the feast with her special

DELTA LITERARY SOCIETY

"Ever Faithful"—That's the motto of the Deltas and a fitting one too. This band of loyal girls makes the society what it is today. The members always uphold the ideals of the school as well as the society.

The Delta Literary Society for girls was organized February 25, 1921. Although it is among the youngest of societies, it has risen to fame for its friendliness and literary interests.

This year a new formal and very beautiful method of initiation has been adopted to be used in the future.

The colors are of shades of green and white. The society dresses are always of this combination and are of a different style each year. The Delta flower is the lily of the valley.

salads, cakes, and other delicacies. Aunt Martha always makes the Parker House rolls, which everyone finds impossible to duplicate. The men carry card tables, that are to be used by the children, for, in spite of the size of the dining room table, there isn't room at it to accommodate them all.

In a short time everyone has arrived. The men gather in the living room to discuss business, compare the points of Buick versus Dodge, and later turn their attention to the "New Deal" and the weather. The younger children slide and race across Aunt Martha's new carpet, and touch their elders, who shriek as they jump from the electric shock. Upstairs in bedrooms, and in the kitchen, groups of mothers discuss the latest spring fashions and recipes.

Dinner is soon called, and the dining room swells with laughter and talk as everyone searches for his place card. The only quiet moment of the evening comes when Uncle John asks the blessing. Grouped at one end of the table, along with four dishes of olives, are all the young people, who are none too fond of family reunions, but come to enjoy the food, and because their parents make them. From their direction comes most of the laughter and wise-cracking. Tall, handsome young "Ken," at home from college for the week-end, is the center of attraction among the young feminine cousins. The conversation of the adults concerns the absent relatives, their plans for summer

DELPHIAN LITERARY SOCIETY

President—PHILLIP LYON

"Will the Delphian Literary Society please come to order."

"The secretary will read the minutes."

Secretary—HELEN CHILDRESS

"Our Delphian Literary Society which was organized in 1916, has had many important meetings this year. Last semester new members were elected, and wore ribbons of our colors, purple and yellow. Our annual social event consisted of a roller-skating party. During many meetings we discussed literary topics and the Literary Contest took up much of our time. We have had a very profitable year, and we take great pride in our society and our advisor, Mr. Calvert."

vacations and honors won by the children at school. Aunt Fannie, who has no children to talk about, since she is the old maid of the family, is telling of the happenings at missionary meeting, or relating something about "a gentleman who used to pay her attention" in the days of long ago. When the dessert of ice cream and cake is served, every woman makes sure her husband gets a large piece of her cake.

After dinner the young people plan to escape to the recreation room for a grand evening of bridge and dancing, but, before such a thing is possible, Aunt Fannie arises with paper in hand and announces that everyone must now go to the living room for the program. It's impossible to imagine a Reyburn family reunion without a program.

Reluctantly, the young and, joyously, the old take their places in a big circle. With Aunt Fannie in charge, the program, beginning with the youngest children so that they may go to sleep if it lasts too long, gets under way. Janie, who is nine years old, recites the "pieces" she learned at the age of five when she studied expression. Then another of the little nieces plays the "Edelweiss Glide." As Aunt Fannie starts to announce each number, every young person cringes with fear that his turn will be next. They are relieved and amused for a time while jovial Uncle Ben in a lofty tenor sings "Sweet Evelina," very dramatically, as he accompanies himself on the piano. Uncle Frank contributes the next vocal number, "Home on the Range." Aunt Madeleine really enjoys her part, for she studied dramatics and dreamed of a career on the stage, until she met Uncle Stanley. Now, an imposing, white-haired matron, she realizes her clubs and other social activities are rapidly depleting the modest fortune Uncle Stanley left her, and she is considering "crashing Hollywood." She tells the assembled family that all her friends say she can step right into the shoes of Marie Dressler. Yet she, personally, thinks

STATION S-T-A-F-F'S INITIAL BROADCAST

An all-star show was presented over fictitious radio station S T A F F to introduce a new product on the market, the 1936 Nor'easter Annual.

The first star presented was the famous Tell-me-a-story Lady, Boydene Burns, who gave some of the modern doings in Mother Goose Land.

The Staff Trio, Mary Frances Sharp, Betty Good, and Donnasue Lohmeyer, were quite up to the occasion with a very unusual rendition of a new tune, "Fifty-two Ivories," composed by Miss Lohmeyer.

A well-known sports commentator, Don Sturges, gave a vivid description of the athletic record of Northeast this year and a prediction for the future which met with decided approval.

Miss Dorothylu Devin made her debut as a singer on this program but she was not a stranger to the audience for she had made quite a name for herself on the stage. Her latest role was that of Patricia in the current success, "Heart Trouble."

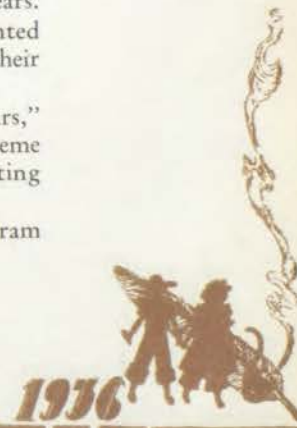

The sponsors sent a personal representative, Jeanne Altergott, whose talk made the audience more fully aware of the sincerity and goodwill of the sponsors.

A short advertising skit was given by those famous advertising geniuses, Richard Griffith and Marian Whitaker, showing of what use their product will be in future years.

A take-off of those master comedians, Fred Allen and Portland Hoffa, was presented by Lowell Hall and Rolena Hays, who are fast making a name for themselves with their clever work.

The studio audience joined in singing the theme song, "Stack Up Your Dollars," to the tune of "Pack Up Your Troubles in Your Old Kit Bag." The words to the theme song were composed by Prof. E. D. Phillips some years ago, but still prove stimulating to the sale of our product.

The mistress of ceremonies was Miss Ruth Aronson who conducted the program with unusual poise.

THE FIRST SEMESTER COURIER STAFF

Working under the usual handicap of creating interest in the paper for the first few weeks of school, the First Semester Courier Staff started the year off with a bang!

Initiating several new ideas, including a new method of distribution and an original drive for subscriptions, the paper achieved remarkable success in the first term of school. The subscription contest resulted in more subscribers to The Northeast Courier than there had been for several years.

An unusually large Staff and "Cub" group increased the difficult problem of co-ordination, but after a plan of work had been introduced and settled, each editor did his share to produce a publication worthy of student-body interest. Northeast may now feel that the Courier has come through with flying colors for a bang-up success for the year 1935-1936.

"HEART TROUBLE"

In a blaze of glory the members of the department of Public Speaking presented "Heart Trouble."

"Poor Pop, poor old dear, he gets nothing at all," these words from the song "Poor Father" might have been sung about Mr. Morrison in "Heart Trouble."

The Morrison family was a drag on poor father's nerves. He had one sympathetic friend, his younger daughter. For all her exhilarate spirit and inseparable courage to her father, he repaid her with kind service and devotion.

The "know-it-all" was the laugh of the town. That one unavoidable fellow was Junior Morrison. Laura, the older daughter, was a "have-it-her-own-way" person, and, believe it or not, she met her own "Waterloo" with her apron on.

The unexplainable heart of Mrs. Morrison turned from self aspiration to devotion for the members of her family.

A lesson for all who have the fever commonly known as "Americanitis."

AMERICAN LEGION CONTEST

In the American Legion Oratorical Contest, Northeast was represented this year by Gordon Windell.

Contestants were required to deliver a six minute original oration on some phase of the Constitution.

On March 6, Gordon was judged the winner over three other Nor'easters, Jack Pearce, James Brown, and Margaret Davenport. One week later, on March 13, at East High School, he defeated contestants from East High School, Manual Training High School, and St. Aloysius Academy to become this district's entrant in the zone contest.

On April 3, he competed against three other district winners in the zone contest at Edison Hall.

He displayed his talents ably but victory was not to be his.

His subject was "The Constitution, Its Origin and Development."

 Row 2—Constance, Snipes, Miss Hobbs, Morgan, Baker, Hopper, Duigan.
 Row 3—Redding, Ware, Walker, Bryan, Spaeth, Lawson, Windell, Woods.

THE DRAMATIC CLUB

The Northeast Dramatic Club, which has completed the eighteenth year, under the direction of Miss Helen Hobbs, has successfully carried on its work of developing dramatic appreciation and ability among the students. The colors of the club are crimson and tan, and its emblem the masque of comedy and tragedy. Various long and short plays, scenes, and pantomimes have been interpreted and presented for an assembly. The pupils learn how to set and costume plays and how to "make up" the characters.

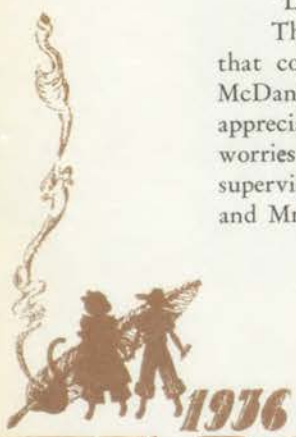

The picture includes not only the Dramatic Club, but some students from the dramatic classes.

STAGE CREW

"Let it go!"

The drop came slowly down. The stage crew was at work. The three sturdy males that composed the stage crew of 1935-36 were Lee Conway, Jack French, and Bob McDaniels. Their work is of great importance to the school, and their help is more than appreciated at the school dances. The new Public Address system has added to their worries this year, but they have handled it in characteristic Northeast spirit. They are supervised, aided, and abetted by two members of our estimable faculty, Mr. Pinkney and Mr. Babbit.

Marie played some rather coarse roles. Still, an actress must be broad-minded, and Aunt Madeleine begins the well known "Tristan and Isolde," which she gives every year, but stops a moment in the middle to say that at one time, when she gave this at a recital, a famous dramatic critic said he had never heard a more touching performance. There is a burst of laughter from the young people. This they immediately regret, after seeing the looks on their parents' faces.

Aunt Jane, who still possesses some of her girlhood beauty, has a lovely voice. She has neglected her vocal lessons since her marriage, however, and never finds time to learn new songs; hence, her annual contribution to the program is "The Rosary." After unsuccessful attempts to coax solos from the younger people, a chorus is finally arranged. The result is "Oh Suzanna."

Just as everyone thinks the program is over, Aunt Fannie, who corresponds with all the cousins and distant relatives, comes running down the steps with her hands full of letters, which she passes to the various nieces to read aloud. There is one from Aunt

MARK TWAIN ASSEMBLY PROGRAM

Northeast celebrated the Mark Twain centennial with an assembly consisting of citations from his works. Miss Hobbs directed groups of her pupils in these. Entertainingly presented for the audience were Aunt Polly, Becky, Tom, and Huck.

As a beginning Aunt Polly leniently allowed Tom to trick her out of a whipping, Tom being played by Don Martin and Aunt Polly by Betty Smith.

Several school scenes followed. In the first, Willadean Weber and Betty Bell impersonated Tom and Becky respectively in an ardent love scene. However Gordon Windell nipped it in the bud. In the next scene Becky, (Jane Barker to you), generously shared her gum with the lovesick Tom, (Boydene Burns), who rewarded her with a kiss. In the last school scene, Wallace Austin playing the villainous teacher, gave Tom, (Melba Hughes), the beating of his life while Shirley Pierce playing Becky, gave a grievous scream each time the teacher struck Tom.

Paul Spaeth and Don Martin, playing Huck and Tom, next demonstrated such midnight wart cures as "spunk water" and "dead cats." Such eerie noises precipitated their grave yard stroll that they soon gave up their venture in fright.

Congratulations to these and also Felix Canatella who gave "The Golden Arm," and William Obercrom as Mark Twain, for an excellent assembly.

OUR FAMILY REUNION Continued

Elizabeth, who lives "back East," and who is again at her favorite hobby of remodeling her house. This time it is to be Georgian, and the children fret and the uncles yawn while they listen to a description of draperies, rugs, and period furniture. The letter from Cousin Alice, in Cuba, contains several kodak pictures, which travel around the circle. In it she tells of her engagement to the most wonderful man in the world. Aunt Fannie appears not to hear when "Ken" asks if this is the third or the fourth time she has been engaged.

Finally the program is over; someone strikes the chord of "La Golondrina" on the piano; and Aunt Fannie sighs while her brothers and sisters recall the days of prosperity when they were all young and spent the summers in Mexico. The songs swing from sentimental to gay, and at last, to the strains of "Dixie" and "Home, Sweet Home," everyone gathers wraps, cake-covers, and sundry bundles. Then with a babbling confusion of good-byes, and hasty plans for another meeting in the future, the cars roll down the drive. After the excitement of the day, everyone is silent on the ride home, until mother remarks that our family reunions are always so lovely. The young people sleepily agree, and are thankful it is over for another year.

SENIOR PLAY CAST

 Row 2—Cannatella, Washburn, Miss Hobbs, Barker, Gardner, Smith.
 Row 3—Hall, Creveling, Browne, Cooper, Austin.

"THE THIRTEENTH CHAIR"

"The Thirteenth Chair," a three-act mystery by Boyard Veiller, was presented May 15 and 16 in the Northeast Auditorium.

During the entire play mystery, mixed with laughter and tears, prevailed.

At the beginning of the play Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Crosby are giving a dinner party to announce the engagement of their son, Will, to Helen O'Neill. As the surprise event of the evening, Madame Rosalie La Grange, a medium, performs a seance. Toward the end of this spiritualistic meeting, a scream is heard and when the lights are turned on, they find that Edward Wales, a guest, has been stabbed in the back. Mystery prevails!

Sorrow and tears play a great part in the second act and Inspector Donahue adds to their trouble by his quests.

In the last act, the ghost of the dead comes back and traps the murderer and he confesses.

NORTHEAST ART CLUB PUNCH

SCENE: A puppet stage. As the curtain rises, two small boys quarreling violently, appear, followed by a dog which adds to the confusion by barking loudly.

"I'm not afraid! But today is the thirteenth and I won't go. So there!"

"Don't be superstitious. You know very well how successfully the Northeast Art Club has completed its thirteenth year. The stage, its settings, and even we ourselves were made, and demonstrations were presented by the members under the supervision of their advisor, Miss Newitt."

The little puppet having been fully convinced of his foolishness, walked off arm in arm with his companion, led by the dog, wagging his tail proudly.

NATIONAL SCHOLASTIC ART CONTEST

Northeast is very well represented in the National Scholastic Art Contest held each year in Pittsburgh, Penn. The following students entered work in the respective divisions: Design; Anna Alexopoulos, Betty Ann Moyer, Lucille Wynn, Jeanne Altergott, Kathleen Easterwod, Elaine Grant, Christine Shead, Ted Morris, Dorothylu Devin, Josephine Henry, Evelyn O'Bannon, Hazel Fath, Ursula Zahn, Joan Hoerath; Applied Design; Jeanne Altergott, Valeda Ball, Helen Gale, Mary Ann Berry, Loris Grant, Martha Kilcrease, Billy Cline; Pictorial; John Weir, Virginia Lyon, Louise Rouse, Earl Bennett, Peggy Bender, Martha Tullis; Advertising; Martha Tullis, Peggy Bender, Dorothylu Devin; Crafts; Billy Cline; Portrait; James Teason; Block Print; Martha Tullis.

Row 1—Alexopoulos, Carpenter, Zahn, Tullis, Miss Newitt, Wright, Clow, Cone.
 Row 2—Craig, McNellis, O'Bannon, Altergott, Devin, Rodman, Cline.
 Absentee—Haase.

THE NOR'EASTER ART COMMITTEE

The Nor'easter Art Committee, with Martha Tullis as chairman, is composed of students whose work has passed the requirements for entrance. In order to retain their membership on the committee the students must attend every meeting unless a legitimate excuse is offered. This year the students cut all the lettering on the subdivision pages and on the opening pages of the book. Anna Alexopoulos designed the cover page. Much credit is due the art staff for their splendid work on the artistic features of the Nor'easter Annual.

NORTHEAST ART HONOR SOCIETY

We have a new society in Northeast. We call it the Northeast Art Honor Society. Its membership is given as a reward to the foremost artists of the school. Last year an exhibit was given by the Art Department. Twenty-two students were chosen by a group of judges for charter membership in the Society. The first meeting was held on March 24, 1936, officers were elected and the Northeast Art Honor Society was formed and launched.

BOOK PLATES

One of the best examples of correlation between different departments of our High School is that between the departments of English Literature and the fine art of free-hand drawing and designing. When the Northeast High School was established in 1914, Prof. E. D. Phillips conceived the idea of having his students in English Literature design original book-plates as labels for their private library, which training would include designing of illustrations for various kinds of publications, and the making of commercial "Ad" posters and cartoons for "Comics."

This innovation led to the broader idea of cooperating with the graphic art department in order to enlist a larger number of pupils, and to produce a greater variety of art works. The excellent results of this scheme proved the value and need of such a correlation policy, and created a new and special section in the "Nor'easter Annual" known as the "Book-Plate Section," which now is captioned with an attractive book-plate for our school and used to identify all the books belonging to our school's library of English classics. This section is annually embellished with the choicest book-plates designed by the English Literature and graphic art pupils of the current year.

It was this attractive feature of our "Annual" that caused it to win honors at the yearly Missouri Inter-High School Journalistic and Magazine Contests, and to be specially honored by the "National English Teachers Association," which met in Kansas City in 1929.

This year's Book-Plate harvest offers the accompanying interesting group of 13 original designs, submitted by our art loving volunteers, who attempt to combine beauty with utility.

Too much credit and praise cannot be extended to Miss Mabel A. Newitt, the head of graphic fine art department, for instructing and inspiring these art-loving young artists in these enviable accomplishments.

Musical

MR. FRENCH

MR. CHAFFEE

At the head of the Music Department at Northeast High School are Mr. Chaffee and Mr. French, who strive each year to make Northeast outstanding in music.

SUCCESSFUL GRADUATES IN MUSIC

It is proper that recognition should be given in this department to the graduates of Northeast High School who have succeeded in a musical career. Naturally, recognition cannot be given in this small space to all the successful graduates, but a few can be noted. Perhaps the best known of these graduates is Harry Stockwell, who has sung in motion pictures and with various stock companies. Leith Stevens, also a Northeast graduate, is an arranger, composer, director, and pianist at Radio City, New York. Mrs. Margaret Minnis Byrnes, Mrs. Elsie Frisbie Norman, and Louise de Louis are all concert soloists. Merle Smith and William De Rubertus are members of the Kansas City Philharmonic Orchestra. Gregory Haines and Buford Estes are members of popular orchestras in the East.

Northeast should be proud of these illustrious graduates.

THE A CAPPELLA CHORUS

The A Cappella Chorus is composed of voices which have been carefully selected from all the other choruses. Annually this chorus sings at various churches and entertainments. This year the chorus was invited to sing at the Kansas City Teacher's Institute.

THE GIRLS' CHORUS

The Girls' Chorus is composed of girls who love to sing and who desire to learn more about music. This chorus also sings at various entertainments and sometimes at the Parent-Teachers Association meetings.

THE BOYS' CHORUS

The Boys' Chorus was established for the same reason, or purpose, as was the Girls' Chorus. This chorus sang at Open House this year and also for other school activities.

THE ORCHESTRA

The orchestra was particularly successful this year. The students especially enjoyed the orchestra's rendition of popular songs in the assemblies.

THE BAND

The band is composed of forty-seven young boys and girls who are interested in instrumental music and who want to learn more about it. The band plays at all the school's football games and for some basketball games.

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS

SENIOR CLASS

This year as we leave the halls of Northeast, resounding with the cheers of many victories, we have a sad yearning for the happy moments spent within her portals. It is hard to leave when you realize that your best friendships will probably be severed and the happiest days of your life lost forever.

We are truly grateful for the many hours spent by the faculty in helping us through periods of struggle and accomplishment. As we leave Northeast, we sincerely hope that we have blazed the trail to greater heights and triumphs. With much sorrow, this class of '36 leaves you.

 DiGEORGE, JOSEPH—Who cares for fame—not I.
 DOUBLEDEE, MARY ALBERTA — In her we see a bright future.
 EAGAN, DOROTHY—D. L. S. 3, 4; Art Club 3, 4; Glee Club 3, 4. Her hobby is roller skating—we guess it's the floor that is appealing.
 EDGEComb, RUTH—Art Club 2; Vice-Pres. Art Club 2. Joy is the best of wine.
 EICHENBERG, MILDRED — Com. Club 4; Hockey Team 2. Friendship is but a name. I love no one.

ELY, BOB—He shows ability in many ways, but never comes through.
 ENGLE, PAUL—Be proud of thy integrity and good deeds.
 FAHRNI, EDNA MYREE — Courier Staff 4. Another candidate for Northeast's "poets" corner.
 FIELDS, ROSCOE CONNER—R. O. T. C. 2, 3, 4; Courier Staff 3; Rifle Club 3. He is precisely what he seems to be—a friend.
 FORGEY, HELEN LOUISE — Quiet and shy, but well liked by all who know her.
 FORRESTER, DONALD — Sometimes I sit and think, but usually I just sit.
 FORTE, PHILLIP—A real booster for his school.
 FREDERICK, MARY RUTH—A red-head with plenty of "wim, wigor, and witality."
 GARRETT, OLIVE EVELYN—Silence that speaks and eloquence of eyes.
 GASH, RICHARD WILSON—B. L. S. 4. A little folly is desirable in him that will not be guilty of stupidity.
 GIARRAPUTO, VIRGINIA ANNE—A lovely girl of whom Northeast can be proud.
 GIBBS, EVERETT—One in a million.
 GILLESPIE, ROBERT W.—Always ready to do his part.
 GRAY, HARRY—'Tis true that he is much inclined to talk to all woman-kind.
 HANNAH, VIRGINIA DARLINE—She shines as a diamond among the jewels.
 HARR, PHYLLIS MARGARET—The kind of a girl we all like.
 HARRYMAN, ARLIE ELLEN—A friend to everyone.
 HARRYMAN, WILMA BEATRICE—Let everyone speak well of her.
 HAYES, FRED—A very popular chap—he with the dark eyes.

SENIORS WITHOUT INDIVIDUAL PICTURES

- HAYNES, ALBERT EARL—After three years at Northeast, he still hasn't overcome his bashfulness.
- HENRY, BERNICE MAY—Her friends are real friends, her enemies—she has none.
- HENRY, GAIL ALTMAN—Bank 3, 4; Boys' Chorus 3, 4; A Cappella Chorus 4.
He has a personality all his own.
- HEOTIS, JAMES—Courier Staff 4.
He is most deserving of praise who cares not for praise.
- HILDRETH, JOE ELCANEY—We'll never forget his quiet presence.
- HONKE, MARTIN K.—Bashfulness is the scarlet hue of modesty.
- HOUSE, EVERETT EUGENE—Who invented lessons?
- HOUSE, RAYMOND—He keeps his achievement from us—who is she?
- HRENCHER, LEONA MARIA—D. L. S. 4; S. L. S. 2.
With her ability and initiative she will go far.
- HRENCHER, SARAH AGNES—A good student; a modest maid; and an everlasting friend—what more?
- HUKILL, LEONARD DAVID—Leonard was never incorporated with a labor union.
- HUTSELL, MARGARET A.—A swell girl to have around.
- IRVINE, ANDREW—A swell fellow.
- IRVINE, MABEL MARCELETIA—Art Club 2, 3; Courier Staff 4.
Just a lady fair.
- JENKINS, FORREST EARL—Hi-Y 4.
He is interested in his work shop.
- JOHNSON, RAY—Football 3; B. L. S. 4; Band 2, 3, 4.
Mere luck never did anything twice.
- JOHNSON, YVONNE—Girls' Chorus 4.
A sweet blond with a winning smile.
- JONES, BUFORD—A member of the "Grand Old Family."
- JORDON, VIRGIL—R. O. T. C. 3, 4.
The smiling Troubadour.
- KELLY, JAMES—Quiet, but always ready for fun.
- KERR, JOE—Hi-Y 4.
His smile has been his source of friendship.
- KLASSEN, J. RAYMOND—Com. Club 4; Hi-Y 2, 3, 4.
A jolly good fellow as any and all will admit.
- KLINOCK, EDITH—Hon. Roll 2, 3, 4.
She and daVinci had one thing in common, brains.
- KNAPP, ROSE LUCILLE—Graceful and useful in all she does.
- KRYKLA, ANNA—T. L. S. 2.
She always puts her shoulder to the wheel.
- LAMAR, MARGERY—Girls' Chorus 4; Olympics 4; All-Star Volley Ball 4.
Her heart and hand are at your service.
- LARSON, EARL—We shall never meet a better fellow.
- LATTA, ARTHUR—Stud. Coun. 2.
A loyal supporter of Northeast
- LEONE, JOE—Truly a student and a loyal Viking.
- LONG, ELIZA ANN—Ann was always gone a long time when she left classes.
- LYNCH, VETA MAXINE—She's new at Northeast but she has made many friends.
- MCCANNON, THOMAS—A cute little boy, with cute little ways.
- MICHAEL, ESTELL—A good reputation is more valuable than money.
- MORRIS, MARY ETTA—A budding authoress in our midst.
- NAERT, HONORE—A quiet unassuming chap who one day may surprise us.
- NEWTON, BERNICE—The kind of girl we like to have around.
- NICHOLS, JEAN—There never was a dull moment in Nickie's company.
- O'SHEA, MICHAEL JOSEPH—Football 3, 4; Basketball 3, 4; Track 3, 4; Senior Play 2. It's the Irish in us.
- O'SULLIVAN, JAMES—Another Irishman in our midst—just look at that smile.
- OVERTVELDT, LEONA—The type of person we all like to know and call "friend."
- POLITO, THEODORE—'Tis true that he is much inclined to talk to all womankind.
- REAVIS, ANNA KATHRYNE—Neat as two pins.
- REGISTER, LELAND—To work is to progress.
- REID, RICHARD SELLARD—100 per cent all the way through.
- RICHARDSON, ROYAL—A happy man makes many friends.
- RILEY, CAMDEN W.—We sing his praises highly.
- RILEY, JAMES A.—He is "cursed" with the hobby of stamp collecting.
- ROBERTS, ANNA PATRICIA—Olympic Club 2, 3, 4; All-Star Hockey 3, 4; All-Star Volley Ball 2, 3; All-Star Track 2, 3; All-Star Basketball 2, 3.
Another of those "all-star" athletes.
- RUBICK, MERLE—A "declaimer" to the Nth degree.
- SAVONA, VITO—Men are not to be measured by inches.
- SCHAFFER, ELSIE JANE—Her good humor is a fountain which never runs dry.
- SCHMITZ, KATHRYN LOUISE—Honor Roll 3, 4.
Her face betokens all things dear and good.
- SCOTT, FRANCES LOUISE—Girls' Chorus 2, 3, 4; Com. Club 3.
We leave her to her dreams.
- SELF, CHARLES WALTER—R. O. T. C. 2, 3.
A self-made, hard-working fellow.
- SESSLER, WILLIAM BARRETT, JR.—He's the kind we're proud to have known.
- SEVEDGE, EDWARD—Oh! That red hair.
- SIEFKAS, JOHN RAY—R. O. T. C. 4.
Persevering in all he does.
- SIX, RUTH—We love her for her smile.
- SMART, EARL—Following in his brother's footsteps—on the field.
- SMITH, LOIS ELIZABETH—She can swing a neat needle and thread.
- SOPCICH, JOHN—A steady, industrious chap.
- SPECTER, MARTIN—Quiet and unassuming, he goes his way.
- STECZ, ANNA—Just an old fashioned girl—sweet and dependable.
- STEWART, IONA MAY—Millikan Club 3, 4; Sec. Mil. Club 4; A Cappella 3, 4; Treble Clef 3; Girl Reserves 2. A uniform catches her eye.
- STIVER, HERBERT—Company, halt!
- STRICKLE, VIRGINIA ADALINE—What a cook!
- STURGEON, JACK—A likeable fellow.
- SUDDARTH, JAMES—A loyal Northeast Booster.
- SUMMERS, KENNETH—Northeast will miss this loyal Viking.
- SYKES, MARGUERITE—All who knew her, enjoyed knowing her.
- TALBOT, MARK—We expect him to leave any time for the South Seas in his sailboat.
- TODD, L. HOWARD—Band 2, 3; Orchestra 3.
The kind of fellow whose presence is ever enjoyable.
- TRAYLOR, HERBERT—Millikan Club 4; Vice-Pres. Mil. Club 4; Band 2, 3, 4.
If you ever want a picture taken, just call Herb.
- VENTOLA, LOUIE—Ladies' man. No!
- VITTORIA, HENRY—And do the ladies like him!
- WALKER, JAMES KINYON, JR.—Quite versatile, don't you think?
- WEBB, JACK, JR.—R. O. T. C. 2, 3; Band 2, 3; Crack Platoon 2, 3.
The real ladies' man, but he's already taken.
- WEINSTEIN, YETTA—Yetta really knows a lot—just ask her.
- WELLS, ERNEST—His name's Ernest, but he's known to his friends as "Ernie."
- WHALEY, ROBERT—Could we find a better one?
- WHITTAKER, NAOMI LEE—The type of girl who goes her quiet way but accomplishes much.
- WILLIAMSON, NELLIE LUCILLE—A Cappella Chorus 2, 3, 4; D. L. S. 3, 4; Dramatic Club 3; Pep Club 3.
Quite the society whirlwind.
- WISE, CHESTER EUGENE—His name implies what he is.
- WOMACK, LEE—Stud. Coun. 4; Rifle Team 4; B. L. S. 4; Crack Platoon 2, 3.
A high ranking R. O. T. C. boy.
- WOOD, MARY—An asset in any circle.
- YOKLEY, EARL SUMMERS—Come my friends and let us wander.

JUNIOR CLASS

S. O. S.! S. O. S.! The good ship Viking is in danger. Her main crew, the Senior Class, is deserting her. She is stranded in the Northeast section of Kansas City on Van Brunt Reef. Captain North and his courageous crew are reported to be leaving the Viking ship June 5, 1936. All hands on deck! S. O. S.! S. O. S.! Whoever hears this call, reply with haste. Give previous record of ability to Sail on.

Junior Class answering: "Stand by! We are on our way with a fleet of Northeast underclassmen. Stand by for further information!"

We will arrive to take the helm of the Viking ship in time to see the crew of Seniors change onto the Ship of Life. We will guide the Viking Ship in her regular course, ever the course to Victory. We have helped capture championships, scholastic records, contests and thus we have succeeded in always maintaining the high standards of our predecessors. Our record is above reproach. You may expect us at the Viking port the fifth of June. We will take entire command when we bid you adieu.

Bon voyage!

JUNIOR COLLEGE CLASS OF '36

Those who are familiar with the records of Northeast Junior College and who possess, by virtue of that intimacy with attendance, a feeling of close concern in its affairs, find cause for pride in its past achievements. But it is not alone the record of the past of Northeast Junior College, however glorious, of which its friends are proud. A survey of its present expenditure and perfection must thrill them all with a feeling of triumph, with a measure of the satisfaction and exultation that is the reward of those whose unselfish expenditure of energy and wealth meets fruition in the Northeast Junior College of today.

If human vision could really penetrate the future, surely the gratifying spectacle of Northeast Junior College of a distant tomorrow would reward its gaze!

ANDERSON, MARY VIRGINIA—
Blame it on my youth.

BERGER, ROBERT EARL—A real mathematician.

BERRY, KATHERINE ELIZABETH
One of the best-dressed girls in Northeast.

BLACK, CLIFFORD—I'm a little big shot now.

BOYER, BETTY CATHERINE—Born to lead, not to follow.

BOYLE, DOROTHY JOSEPHINE—
Two for tonight.

BROOKS, HAZEL HARRIS—Why
Garbo went home.

BRYAN, NADINE—A mannequin in the making.

BURCH, JUANITA ANN—The spark that starts the fire.

CHARLTON, ANNA ELEANOR—A
"g-girl"—good looking, gracious, and generous.

COUSINS, HAROLD PREWETT—He doesn't say much, but he thinks a lot.

DIXON, DOROTHY LEE—An ambitious secretary.

DOLL, DONALD PHILIP—Debonair
as a top hat.

ENNIS, RAYMOND—At your service,
madame.

FATH, DOROTHY M.—Generally seen but not heard.

GRAVETTER, JACK ALLEN—Little man, you've had a busy day.

GULLEY, DAVID ARTHUR—I've got a feelin' you're foolin'.

HARMON, JIMMIE D.—Tall as a figure lengthened on the sands.

HAINLINE, BLANCHE—When I grow up!

HIBBS, MAX—A human dynamo. He made the wheels of Northeast turn around.

HELM, DOROTHY MAE—Sedateness is her crowning glory.

HOPKINS, LORRAINE—An athlete, a scholar, and an all-around good scout.

ISHMAEL, CHARLES HAMILTON—I am a man of peace.

JONES, VERNON WADE—Unobtrusive, but a fine scholar.

KEARNS, JOYCE MARIE—In your own little innocent way.

MILLER, ELLA LOUISE—Is everything okey dokey now?

MOORE, MARIAN—Love in bloom.

MOORE, MILDRED—Is it just a school romance?

NOGGLE, NANCY ELIZABETH—
Could there be a more perfect girl!

PALMER, ALFRED L.—Steadfast in his purpose.

PETERSON, ROBERT—Man about town if there ever was one!

PORTER, DONALD—A gentleman makes no noise.

RAILEY, ANNA MARGARET—Ask her for the key to success.

RAND, WILLARD—A newspaper editor in the making.

RAUSCH, LOIS MARIE—Hers was that refinement of manner that everyone admires.

REED, GWENDOLYN YOVENNE—
So lovely and so sweet.

REICH, HELEN—She tops all with her toes.

RISING, ROBERT R.—A man of great talents.

ROOD, MILDRED ELISABETH—A dependable secretary.

RUSSELL, MARTHA INEZ—She has executive ability.

SCRIVNER, HELEN ROSE—She's a blond—nuf said.

SHOSTAK, SARAH — Sophistication personified.

WALKER, ROBIN E.—Seldom is wisdom gained without suffering.

SPRINGER, LUCILLE MAXINE—A beauty queen.

TANGBLADE, ELMER A.—Titles are the least of the trifles.

STARCKE, SEWELL K.—Without doubt one of Northeast's most popular leaders.

ULRICH, CHARLES HENRY—Those who say the most talk the least.

VERNON, VIOLA MAE—Accent on beauty.

CARPENTIER, ROBERT L.—No inferior complex.

TAYLOR, HAROLD IVOR—No one is wise enough alone.

STUCKEY, LLOYD—An A-1 artist and athlete.

LADE, WALTER EMIL—I am that I am!

TAYLOR, LOUIS—Genuine wit implies wisdom.

ZELDIN, ISAAC—His ambition and initiative should get him somewhere

JOHNSON, CARL—Six feet plus of brains and brawn.

SMITH, JACK T.—I ate a tambourine—that's why I talk in jingles.

JUNIOR COLLEGE HOMECOMING DANCE

The N. J. C. Alumni Homecoming Prom was held Monday night, December 23. The Gym was decorated in red and green. A tall, lighted tree was placed in the center of the Gymnasium. Music was furnished by an eight piece orchestra. A floor show was presented by:

Helen Reich

Tony Merlino

N. J. C. Trio

Dana Malone

The committee in charge of the arrangements was:

William DeJarnette

Roy Bredberg

Max Hibbs

Elaine King

Martha Russell

Mildred Rood

Advisors: Mr. Harman, Mrs. Bell, Mr. Calvert, Mr. Pinkney, Miss DeWitt.

We wish to express thanks to the students, teachers, and departments for their cooperation.

THE NORTHEAST COLLEGE "Y'S"

The Northeast Junior College Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. were organized in the fall of 1932 for the purpose of providing some definite organization wherein Junior College III students may meet to discuss matters relative to their social, intellectual and spiritual development. Miss Agnes Engel and Mr. Harry Harlan act as advisors. Once a month the two groups have a joint meeting—usually in the form of a pot-luck supper.

NORTHEAST JUNIOR COLLEGE

The Junior College Course is a three-year course beginning in the junior year of the high school. Northeast is the only school in the city offering such a course. The course has three divisions: the Engineering, the Liberal Arts, and the Business Department. Other courses will be added when the demand justifies them.

The Engineering course requires Mathematics each year: College Algebra, Trigonometry, Physics, Engineering Drawing, Analytics, Calculus, and Surveying. Such other subjects as Chemistry, English, Machine Drawing, Descriptive Geometry, Materials, and Analytical Mechanics are included in the requirements.

The Liberal Arts course offers the usual subjects given in the freshman and sophomore years of college, such as English, Mathematics, Science, Social Studies, and foreign languages.

The Business Department exists for those students who desire junior college work and also those who wish to prepare for commercial occupations.

To satisfy the present demands the course is divided into three divisions; namely, Accounting, Clerical, and Secretarial. Students are permitted to major in any one of the three divisions or elect a general course. Upon graduation, they can command a position in six to ten different types of work. This not only makes possible many chances for employment, but also greater opportunity for advancement. The students are qualified for the specialized jobs of large corporations as well as for the general work of a small office.

The Class of 1936 is the fourth Junior College class to graduate from this system. An approximate total of 240 have been graduated from our courses (including the class of 1936); of those, 80 have entered college. Sixteen of the first year class graduated from senior college with their Bachelor's degree last June. These sixteen made unusual records at the schools they attended. Of those graduating from the Business Department, 88.1% have succeeded in getting jobs with representative business firms in the city.

Arrangements have been made with the various colleges belonging to the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, that our graduates will be admitted to their junior classes. The institutions attended by our graduates thus far are the University of Missouri, University of Kansas, Northwestern University, University of Texas and several colleges in the middle west.

This Junior College offers an unusual opportunity to the patrons of the Northeast High School for their children to obtain a junior college education at a comparatively low cost.

COLLEGE III WITHOUT INDIVIDUAL PICTURES

- | | | |
|--|--|--|
| ACKELS, JEAN—Easy on the eye. | ELLIOTT, BETTY JANE — Love makes the world go round. | KING, ELAINE—Heart breaker. |
| ADAIR, EDITH MAE—It takes two to make a bargain. | ETZENHOUSER, HAROLD CARL—He is the profile of wisdom. We can depend on H. C. | KUNZ, MARY ALICE—There's music in the air wherever she goes. |
| ANDERSON, JANICE — Everything she touches takes on a new aspect. | FORRESTER, MARGUERITE — Would that there were more like her. | MAUZEY, VIRIDIE E.—Still steadfast, still unchanged. |

JUNIOR COLLEGE II CLASS OFFICERS

THE JUNIOR COLLEGE II CLASS

We, the students of the College II Class, wish to express our appreciation of the opportunity of receiving a college education. We have chosen our careers and have made a start in the world. Some of us have chosen the Secretarial course, which has all the advantages of a good business course; some of us have chosen the Engineering course, which prepares for further study in this field; and others have chosen the Liberal Arts course, which includes all subjects that a cultured person would need in the social world. We students in the beginning of our career have an exceptionally high standard of scholarship. Although we are regular college students, we still enter into the activities of the High School. We have helped to extend the honors of Northeast High School in dramatics, athletics, and journalism.

We hope our school will be proud of us in the years to come and will look with satisfaction upon us as graduates of Northeast Junior College.

ANDERSON, GERALDINE—T. L. S. 2, 3, 4.
She has her choice out of school.

JUNIOR COLLEGE I CLASS OFFICERS

THE JUNIOR COLLEGE I CLASS

"Don't die on third base!" This is a common expression of the American people. We, the Northeast Junior College I Class are not yet on third base, but are just rounding the curve to second. The path heading to first base was not an easy one. It required all the effort that could be put forth by both the teachers and pupils. As a whole, we are a successful and satisfied group.

We are not yet college students, but have been trying this year to become more sensible and earnest, for we know that we are to be America's voting citizens in the near future. Through the untiring efforts of our able instructors, we have learned to be better American citizens and to appreciate our fellow students.

Northeast can expect bigger and better things from our class. We do not accredit this to our efforts alone, but to the fine equipment, and improvements that have been made possible by the classes which have gone before us.

So, Northeast, prepare yourself for another brilliant run! We're going to take our third base standing up.

BANK-NIGHT Continued from page 16

He said this with great plea in his voice, but Lizzie, who had heard it so often before, refused to be moved.

"No, that's final, papa. I need the money to pay the gas bill, and besides a person as old as you are shouldn't be running around to shows all night—you need the sleep."

To say something about his years always made the old man angry and so he turned on his run-down heel and made a triumphant exit out to the front porch where his son was sitting.

"Clifford," he began, "Didja' know tonight's bank-night—they're giving away $550 free up to the Paramount."

"Yeh, dad, I saw the sign when I came past. But really they don't give it away—it's just a scheme to get all the people to come—dontcha' know."

"Oh Clif, 'tis not! A Minnie Carter got it last week and I'd stand a good chance tonight—will ya' gimme' fifteen cents?"

Clifford laughed and said, "Well, dad, if that's what you want, you'll have to go to Lizzie. She budgets all my money. I've got only my car-fare to town and that's all in tokens."

The old man grumbled something about taking a walk and so he stepped off the porch and disappeared down Penny Street. He turned up Main Street toward Paramount almost instinctively, and he ran the two blocks to the show. He hardly knew what he was about, and anyone who saw him would have sworn he was crazy. When he panted up to the door, he looked about wildly and entered the lobby. From somewhere inside came the sound of a man's voice. Yes, it must be the manager announcing the winner of the $550.

"—happy to announce the lucky winner as Mr. Josiah Winthrop. Will he please come forward?"

"Josiah Winthrop"—why that sounded familiar to the old man. Why yes, he remembered—it was his own name!

Wild horses couldn't have kept that old man from running down the aisle—even if he didn't have a ticket. He bounded down to the stage and up the steps like a 10-year-old, and his heart was beating at 1000 beats a second—he could hear it.

"Mr. Winthrop, the management of the Paramount is happy to present to you, the winner of the drawing, $550."

"Oh thank ya', thank ya'." But as he said this Josiah glanced back at the door-man with a fear clutching at his heart. That man was smiling from ear to ear. As far as he was concerned no one need ever know that the old man hadn't been on a back seat.

FIFTY YEARS OF CONTESTS

The beginning of one of the most outstanding features of high school life in Kansas City was commemorated at the fiftieth annual literary contest at Central High School. The distinction that has so recently graced our own Mr. Edward D. Phillips can come to no other person, for he it was who organized the literary societies of Kansas City. Little did he realize fifty years ago when he originated the literary contests, what a thrilling influence he would have on youthful story writers, essayists, poets and orators throughout the years. It was appropriate that the school where Mr. Phillips first saw his ideas of the literary society established, should do him honor. Central high school honored herself and Northeast, of which he is so beloved a member, by inviting him to be her special guest at the fiftieth anniversary literary contest. We can conceive of nothing that would show greater appreciation of his work and influence than the presentation of a silver loving cup by Central. At the close of the program, Mr. Dubach, principal of the school, stated that the occasion deserved special notice. He then presented Mr. Phillips, who stepped forward with that same quick decision displayed by him fifty years ago, bearing a cake with fifty lighted candles. Then, as if to show that his "eloquutionary powers of explosiveness" had survived the years, he extinguished the lights with one breath.

Mr. Phillips, Northeast is proud of you and glad that you came this way. You have truly laid up treasures in the lives of your students, who are now found in every quarter of the globe.

WE SALUTE YOU! DEAN OF KANSAS CITY SCHOOLS!

The purpose of the Northeast High School and Junior College Parent-Teacher Association is to promote child welfare in all its phases, to bring into closer relationship the home and the school, to develop between educators and the general public such united efforts as will secure for every child the highest advantages in physical, mental, moral, and spiritual education.

Through the proceeds derived from our Dance, Card-Party, and Floor Show we have met our yearly budget. In so doing, we have been able to contribute to the Mary Harmon Weeks Fund and the Gold Star Scholarship Fund. They give aid to worthy students, enabling them to continue their education. We also contribute to the Northeast Y. M. C. A., which lends inspirational advice to the young boys of this community.

We are very proud of the record our young people of Northeast have made this year. We want the students of this High School and Junior College to know that they have the best training that is possible to give them to meet successfully all obstacles, May our motto ever be, "Excelsior."

ATHLETIC STAFF

Northeast's record-breaking athletic record of the last two years is the result of a superior coaching of good athletic material. With a marked ability to pick the right boy for each position, the coaches have been able to devote more time to individual instruction and spend less time in wasteful general preparation.

Only the highest ideals of sportsmanship are taught and practiced by the Viking teams, a fact which is a credit to the athletic staff.

The football team, under Coach Davis, turned in its second consecutive title. Coach Peters took an inexperienced group of boys and successfully defended the basketball championship, while the track team, under his tutelage, won the dual meet title and shows promise in the City meet May 16. Mr. Pickens handled the unpleasant but necessary task of finances. Mr. Deniston, assistant manager, has been in charge since the Board of Education granted Mr. Pickens a leave of absence.

TEAM CAPTAINS

Albert Blake led the football team to its second consecutive title by hard blocking and smashing tackles. For his fine leadership and ability, he was awarded a berth as end on the All-Star.

Tilford Denton was elected honorary captain of the basketball team at the close of a successful season. His cool, steady playing and fine scoring obtained for him a position on the All-Star. He will return next year.

Bill Wilcox promises to be a powerful high hurdler in addition to being a fine high jumper on the track squad. He has accounted for many points in dual meets this year.

Elmont Dye, one of the smoothest sprinters in Northeast for years, is the other track captain. Dye runs the 100 and 220 yard dashes, anchors the relay team, and broadjumps. He will bear a major share of the burden at the City meet May 16.

BOYS' ATHLETICS

FOOTBALL

Maintaining the pace set in 1934, the 1935 gridsters, ranked as outsiders at the start, systematically downed five league teams to gain the second consecutive football title, and incidentally, the second in the history of the school.

With just one letterman returning, Coach Mount Davis was faced with the job of defending the league championship. Whipping up a team out of a group that had managed to keep undefeated in second team competition the year before was no easy task. Employing the Notre Dame offensive, the technique of which they mastered after hard practice, the team showed remarkable improvement from game to game. Its running plays functioned well behind excellent blocking, and it resisted attacks on its goal line with well trained stubbornness.

Harry Ice, half-back, was awarded the Nigro-Notre Dame Trophy as the most outstanding gridster in Greater Kansas City. His streaking, hip-weaving runs, his passing ability, his punting, and his sterling defense work made him stand out as one of the league's greatest stars. Captain Al Blake, end, and Ice gained positions on the Inter-scholastic League All-Star team, Ice being elected co-captain. Several other Norsemen were singled out for second All-Star and honorable mention honors.

Jim Wirthman, smashing tackle, with a combination of speed, weight, and ability, has been selected to lead the defense of the championship next fall.

Prospects for next fall are only fair, with six lettermen returning. Three of these lettermen have had little game experience.

The second team, coached by Mr. George Calvert, played better than the record showed. Its last game, perhaps, is an indication of its possibilities. The young Vikings turned on a withering attack to down the East Cubs 19-0. Several second team boys may prove to be valuable in the next championship drive.

The inexperienced Vikings, baffled by a trick defense and a high powered Bear offense, were routed without glory. Layton's plunges were the feature of the game.

Turning on the full power of the running attack in the fourth quarter, the Purple, after much fumbling, took the Tiger's measure. Ice and Layton made several long runs.

CENTRAL 0

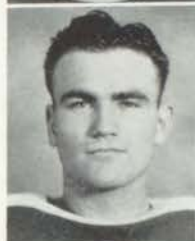

The Norsemen cracked the Eagles wide open at the start with Ice's 65 yard run on the second play of the game. Ice, behind the perfect blocking of Kimak and Layton, made other long runs.

HARRY ICE, HALFBACK—This speedy triple-threat man was a major factor in the Viking's winning of the championship.

CHUCK KIMAK, QUARTER — His vicious tackling and his fine blocking made him an important cog in the Viking machine, offensively and defensively.

BILL LAYTON, FULLBACK—Combining shifty ball-carrying ability with fine blocking talent, he was invaluable to the team.

JOHN McADAMS, HALFBACK — His great height enabled him to be a good target for passes, as well as a ball carrier.

JIM WIRTHMAN, TACKLE — Smashing, bruising boy who opened up holes for the backfield and ruined enemy plays.

RALPH BROWN, END — Always a steady blocker, his pass snagging and defense tactics were likewise of the best quality.

MIKE O'SHEA, GUARD — Smashing down enemy tacklers was his job, that he did it well is shown by the fact of the winning of the championship.

FRANK JANACARO, TACKLE — He worked up to a starting berth by smooth blocking and tackling. He was valuable in keeping up the teams morale.

PASEO 7

In a businesslike way the Purple swarmed over the Pirates, every play working smoothly and the enemy attempts being easily frustrated. All scoring was done in the first half.

FRED DREYER, GUARD—Playing every minute of every game, his smashing, crashing, diving style was a powerful factor in the line.

JACK FRENCH, CENTER—His consistent, well-placed passes, in addition to his defensive work, made the Purple center as strong as any.

HARRY RILEY, HALFBACK — His scampering runs and his wit and humor made up for his diminutive size.

MIKE ONOFRIO, TACKLE—His size gave him an advantage over enemy lineman. He will be depended upon heavily next fall.

MIKE ONKA, GUARD—Clearing the way for the backfield was his job, and he did it with skill and accuracy.

DICK DEXTER, QUARTER—Running interference and tackling enemy runners was his duty, which he did in a smooth way.

DELBERT COLLINS, END—Blocking with skill and tackling with vigor, he proved he was an asset on defense or offense.

DON STURGES, END—A midseason injury kept him from showing his full ability, but he gave full account of himself when he did play.

In the hardest fought game of the year, the Vikings, on a dismal, damp field, pushed over a score in the third quarter that proved to be the margin of victory. Kimak and Ice led the attack on the Crimson.

EAST 9

Overcoming an early Bear lead, the Norsemen, exhibiting a smooth aerial attack in addition to many fine runs, took the championship. Ice, Blake, and Layton starred offensively, while Kimak was a defensive power.

DICK ELAM, HALFBACK—His speedy running in the East game was indicative of his ability as a ball carrier.

JOHN JURICAK, CENTER — Courage and ability will make this sophomore a true power in the title defense next season.

RALPH BRUCKER, TACKLE — One who was always ready for the fray with good defensive tactics and smooth blocking ability.

LADDIE LITTLE, GUARD—His infectious good humor, combined with his blocking ability, make him a big hope next fall.

REX JACKSON, FULLBACK — Always capable of a rugged defense, he also had ability in lugging the pigskin.

MELVIN WITHERS, HALFBACK—His blocking and end sweeps helped offensively, while his tackling and pass breaking-up scored defensively.

EMIL FRIES, GUARD—Modest, his defensive ability will gain for him a major burden in the games next fall.

ROBERT BITNER, STUDENT MANAGER—His zeal for work has made him the manager of the football, basketball, and track teams.

BOYS' ATHLETICS

BASKETBALL

Fighting an uphill battle all the way, the Viking basketball team turned back opponent after opponent to successfully defend its basketball championship.

The prospect of maintaining Northeast's high reputation in basketball was anything but rosy this year. Without a single letterman returning, Coach Reaves Peters was forced to pick a team from untried reserves and second team material. This he did, showing skill and judgment in keeping the team light and fast.

The team, always displaying a fighting, sporting spirit, no matter how great the odds, developed against non-league opponents. Not always victorious, the ambitious little group was smart enough to remember the tricks their more experienced opponents employed, and to use them later in league play.

Never a favorite to win, the Purple would put on an exhibition of speed, courage, skill and teamwork that would dazzle opponents. The Norsemen went undefeated in league play after they lost their first game to a larger Westport quintet.

Overcoming a Crimson lead in the third quarter, the Vikings doggedly outfought the Manual five to emerge champions for the second straight year; and increasing Northeast's string of championships to six in a row; two city football, two city and one state basketball, and one city track title.

The team, upon winning the league championship, became the Kansas City entry in the State Tournament at Columbia. Playing only five days after the exhausting Manual game, the team relaxed too early before the Louisiana, Missouri quintet, and lost after gaining an early lead.

Coach Peters also found time to develop a second team that went undefeated through the league season. From this group of youngsters and the returning All-Star letterman, Tilford Denton, Coach Peters must select a quintet to defend the title next year.

THE LETTERMEN

BILL LAYTON, FORWARD—Always a scoring threat, Bill's size enabled him to dribble around larger opponents with ease. He was adept at smothering enemy plays with his well developed defensive ability.

HERB GREGG, FORWARD—Herbie was the smallest man on the team, but his ability to snag shots off the backboard and convert them into Viking points gave him a berth on the All-Star team.

J. T. TURNER, GUARD—His cool, calculating style kept the team level-headed in the tight spots, while, at the same time, he turned on a withering barrage on the opponents' goal.

JOHN McADAMS, CENTER—Few of the centers of the league could out jump him, while his hook-shots from the left often boosted the Purple scoring column.

CHARLES FOLKERT, GUARD—"Red's" ability to score when the going was tough gave heart to the team. He was a good ball-handler, also.

TILFORD DENTON, GUARD—High point man of the team, his consistently excellent performances gained for him a position on the All-Star team.

HARRY ICE, GUARD—A fast, clever ball-handler, as well as a constant scoring threat, he helped keep the Norsemen in the running many a time.

TRACK

Showing real promise in early dual meets, the 1936 track squad will defend the championship, won in 1935, just a few days after the Nor'easter goes to press.

Defeating Southwest, Paseo, Manual, and Central in order, the Vikings, with but two lettermen back, have shown a great deal of team spirit and individual determination. Twice the outcome of the dual meets depended upon the relay event, and twice the relay team rose to the occasion and won. Such spirit is rare in track teams, and may go far in helping the Norsemen to victory.

Captained by Bill Wilcox and Elmont Dye, the track squad, with the events, follows: Dashes—Dye and Jim Worthman; 440—John Parker and John Glenn; 880—Honore Naert, Charles Kimak, Carl Lambrecht, and Ralph Brown; High Hurdles—Wilcox and Ray North; Low Hurdles—Harry Ice and Naert; Pole Vault—Gregg, Mike O'Shea, and Glenn Rapp; Broadjump—Dye, Rapp, and John McAdams; and the Shot Put—McAdams, Ralph Brucker and Jack French.

Beginning this year, the University of Missouri is offering a state letter to any boy who qualifies to the time and distances set by them. To be eligible the boy must qualify in a regular track meet. Elmont Dye, sprinter, received a letter in both the 100 yard dash and the broadjump. Bill Wilcox, high hurdler, received his letter by "topping the timbers" in 16 seconds flat. Other boys on the squad hope to qualify this season.

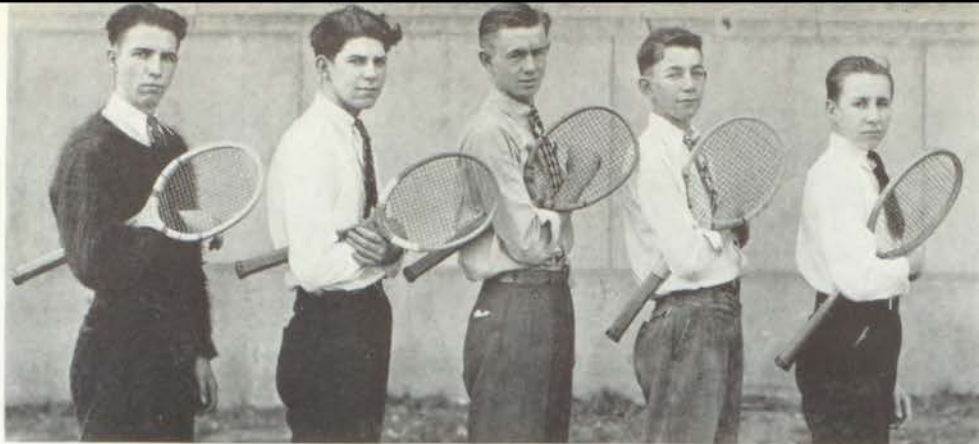

The annual Kansas City High Schools' Medley Relay at the Kansas Relays was declared no contest on a technicality, and will be run later.

Northeast's purple clad Vikings annexed their seventh consecutive championship in the City Track Meet at Southwest, May 16, with a total of 44 points.

TENNIS

This year's tennis team, captained for the second consecutive year by Roy Smith, was unsuccessful in its bid for the title.

Chosen after a school-wide tournament, the team consisted of Roy Smith, Buster Howard, Billy Henderson, Jimmy Stanley, and Harry Barton.

The tournament was held early in the fall this year to enable the teams to take advantage of summer practice.

The Vikings, although they did not win, forced their opponents to play their hardest in order to win.

The City meet, held on the Rockhill courts, was won by Westport.

Ferguson, Stanley, Hixon, Hall

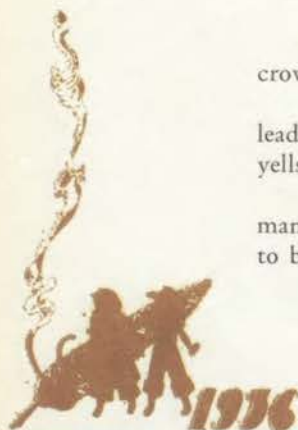

CHEER LEADERS

The job of leading the cheering at Northeast this year was well handled. Large crowds attended each game, and the cheering helped many times to bolster the athletes.

Lowell Hall, head cheerleader, Jimmy Stanley, Billy Ferguson and Herman Hixon lead the yells, putting much pep and enthusiasm in the crowds and players. Several new yells were introduced by this quartet.

They also are the guards of the time-honored Northeast tradition of good sportsmanship by the crowds. That the Viking crowds maintained the tradition is a credit to both the cheerleaders and the crowds.

Jimmy Stanley will be the only boy to return next year.

MISS BLAND

The ultimate aim of the girls' athletics department has been to instill in the girls clean physical and mental habits, good sportsmanship, and knowledge and skill in the various games. Health habits include such things as care of the fingernails and teeth, and good posture. This work has been carried out successfully by Miss Stewart and Miss Bland, with the help of the student managers and the pupils themselves.

During the year, from September until June, the girls have hockey, giant volley ball, basketball, volley ball, tennis, baseball and dancing. One day of each week is devoted to swimming. The girls also have track and hiking in the spring.

LIFE SAVING

The Junior and Senior American Red Cross Life Saving examinations are given to all girls who are interested by the American Red Cross Life Saving Examiner's Board.

To be eligible to take the Junior Life Saving examination, a girl must be between the ages of twelve and seventeen and must have had at least eight hours of practice.

The applicant is required to disrobe in deep water and swim a hundred yards. She must demonstrate, in good form, the four carries—head, cross-chest, hair and tired swimmer's; and three approaches—back, surface, and underwater. She must break the three holds—front, back strangle, and double grip on the wrists. The applicant must administer artificial resuscitation, Prone Pressure Method.

The Senior Life Saving test is much harder. A girl seventeen years of age or a senior may take this test. In addition to the above mentioned requirements, a senior applicant must write an essay on "Prone Pressure Method of Resuscitation," and pass an oral quiz on life saving. She must carry a subject fully dressed for one minute, break two persons locked in front strangle. She must demonstrate the fireman's or saddle-back carry from shallow water.

After the applicants have passed the examination, they are allowed to wear an American Red Cross Life Saving Emblem and become a member of the American Red Cross Life Saving Corps.

OLYMPIC CLUB

The Olympic Club was organized in 1919 under the supervision of Miss Nellie Stewart who is the advisor. During the various seasons, teams are formed in hockey, volley ball, basketball and track. The club promotes not only athletic ability but also friendliness, sportsmanship, and good, clean character. May it continue this program throughout the remainder of its career.

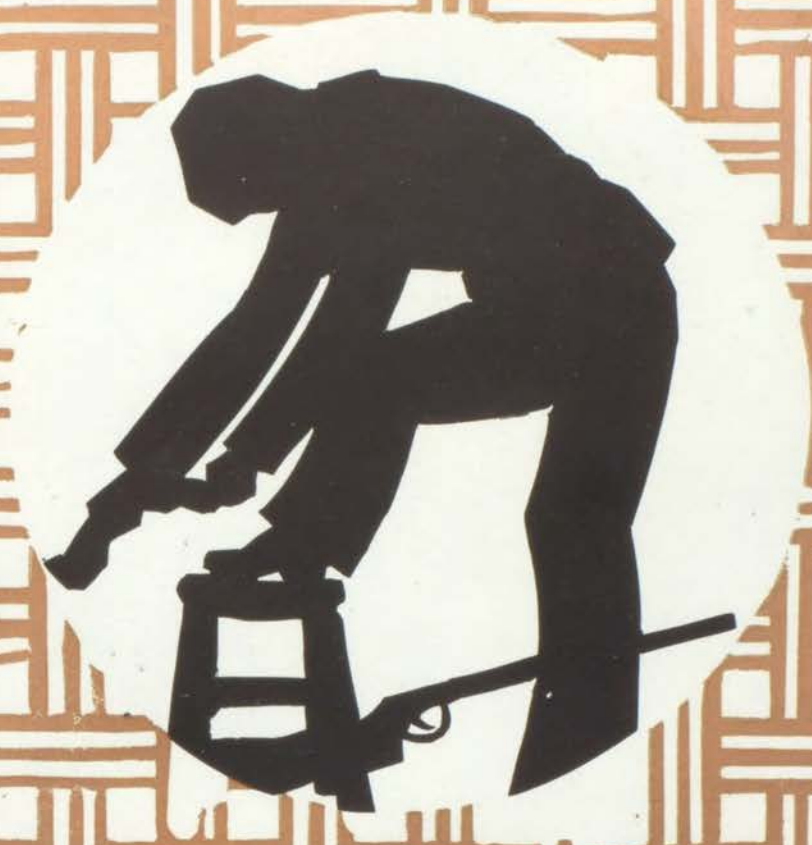

THE SEALS

The Seals, a swimming club for girls, was organized in 1927 by Miss Ivy Clayton. The purpose of the club is to promote health, encourage good sportsmanship, and insure physical development through swimming. Under the supervision of Miss Vera Bland, the present advisor, the girls are taught the finer points of swimming and diving. Frequently, games such as water polo and water baseball are played. One of the big aims of the girls is to pass the American Red Cross Life Saving test. The colors of this club are blue and white; the emblem, a seal.

THE VIKING RIFLE CLUB

The Viking Rifle Club under the supervision of Sergeant P. K. Healy has had another successful year. The Junior National Rifle Association granted the club its third successive charter in February, 1936. This year approximately sixty cadets joined the club, making it the largest organization of its kind in the city.

Many of this year's members have become skilled riflemen, and as a result a large number of our cadets have won medals. Phillip Payne and Allan Lay qualified for the Expert Riflemen Medal, which is next to the highest award presented by the National Rifle Association.

The success of the R. O. T. C. Rifle Team is often determined by the kind of material turned out by the club.

The officers of the club are:

President, Captain Lee Womack
 Vice-President, Staff Sergeant Lowell Hall
 Secretary, Sergeant Allan Lay
 Treasurer, Corporal Phillip Payne
 Executive Officer, Captain George Myers

CALENDAR OF EVENTS

Row 1—Womack, Stiver, Lay.
Row 2—Captain Hall, Sergeant Healy, Payne.

THE RIFLE TEAM

The 1935-1936 R. O. T. C. Rifle Team has done its part towards winning a high rank for the Northeast Battalion. Despite the strongest competition in years, the team placed second in the Annual City Rifle Match. The total score was 857 out of a possible 1000. Central High School won first place with 887, and Westport placed third with 842. Each of the five men on the team was presented a silver medal. The school received a second place cup.

Herbert Stiver, a veteran of last year's team, qualified for the Sharpshooters medal. The other four men on the team received the Marksmen qualification medals.

Lowell Hall was reelected captain of the 1935-1936 team. This makes his third year of competitive firing. Sergeant P. K. Healy instructed and coached the team.

The team members and their scores:

Herbert Stiver	177
Phillip Payne	173
Lowell Hall	170
Allan Lay	169
Lee Womack	168
Total Score	857

R. O. T. C. CIRCUS

With the colorful interior of the new Municipal Auditorium as a background, three thousand R. O. T. C. cadets marched to the throbbing rhythm of the military bands. Ten thousand spectators thrilled as the various maneuvers unfolded before them.

All of the R. O. T. C. units in Kansas City, and many out of town military organizations took part in the gala event.

The Northeast Battalion was number six on the program presenting Company Drill in a spectacular manner. The fourteenth annual R. O. T. C. Circus ended with the playing of the National Anthem by the Northeast band.

Many honored guests were present, among whom were:

- Major General Frank C. Bolles
- Major General Herbert J. Brees
- Brigadier General E. M. Stayton
- Mayor Bryce B. Smith
- City Manager Judge H. F. McElroy
- Mr. Wallace Sutherland, Pres. of the School Board
- Mr. George Melcher, Superintendent of Schools

THE R. O. T. C. HOP

The Northeast R. O. T. C. Hop proved a great success this year. The twentieth of March, 1936, was the night reserved for the celebrated affair. The militaristic decorations, consisting of paper streamers, crossed rifles, sabers, and the guide-ons of the different companies, formed a perfect background for the uniformed cadets and girls in sparkling formals.

The Major and Mrs. Joseph H. Grant as well as members of the faculty, alumni and students were present at the dance.

THE JUNIOR RESERVE OFFICERS TRAINING CORPS

"The general object of this course is primarily to lay the foundation of intelligent citizenship by inculcating in the students habits of precision, orderliness, courtesy, correctness of posture and deportment, leadership, and respect for, and loyalty to, constituted authority; and secondarily, to prepare him for further military instruction which will qualify him for a position of leadership in time of National Emergency."

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

A boy entered the sanctum and handed to the teacher in charge several small white envelopes. A ripple of talk penetrated the air, but soon a hush fell upon the room as these envelopes were distributed. Those receiving them were awed and subdued. Those who had worked for all through their High School careers and now that it was settled they treated it with the reverence it deserved. They walked as in a dream for the next few days. In a special assembly these pupils received a pin, which made their hard work in high school seem worth while, and which they will be proud to own all their lives. It is of more than passing interest to note how the classes are represented in this year's membership. There are 28 seniors, 22 college II, 3 college I, and 2 juniors.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council of Northeast High School has always held an important position in the life of our school. Discussing school affairs, aiding in the work of the Red Cross, urging the care and appreciation of school property, are only a few of the things which they do. A new feature added just this year to their many activities was the test given to every student in accordance with the Safety Council, and which brought important safety problems to the attention of the student body. As representatives of the students themselves, the Student Council reflects the standards by which our students are judged, so therefore the members of the Council are chosen with care and we are justly proud of them.

Bonjour, Mademoiselle! Bonjour, Monsieur! Est—ce que vous faites partie du Cercle Français? Non! Pourquoi pas? Nous nous y amusons bien. De plus, on y apprend bien des choses intéressantes. On chante en français, on joue des jeux en français et on donne des pièces françaises. Il faut devenir membre de notre cercle si vous vous intéressez à la langue la plus claire, la plus belle de toutes les langues—la langue française.

LATIN CLUB

The Northeast Latin Club, which was organized under the leadership of Miss Murdock in 1927 and discontinued last year, was reorganized this year with Miss Mary Alice Miller as advisor. The purpose of the club is to provide Latin students an opportunity for acquiring additional knowledge of the language, literature, and civilization of the Roman people. The motto of the club is, "Per ampliora ad altiora"—"Through wider experiences to higher planes."

THE COMMERCIAL CLUB

The Northeast Commercial Club was organized by Mr. Coleman in 1923, with Miss Helen Ganzer as its first president. It has since been a continuous organization. It was organized for the purpose of creating an interest in Commercial life by research and contact.

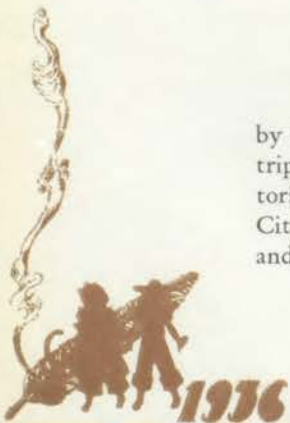

This year our membership has decreased materially, yet, we have made several interesting visits to commercial houses where we have been cordially received. Each member expressed delight with the various trips. The excursion was looked forward to with a great deal of interest. The last one was a trip to the Loose-Wiles plant, with which we were delighted.

MILLIKAN CLUB

The Millikan Club, named for R. A. Millikan, a well-known scientist, and advised by Mr. Pinkney, keeps up on all phases of modern science. This year the club made two trips to the Power & Light Building. Our public address system, installed in the auditorium this year, was explained by a representative of the Radio Laboratories of Kansas City. Many experiments were performed throughout the year that were very interesting and instructive. The club now has thirty-two members.

 Row 2—Marguerite Herbst, Jeanne Ladish, Dorothy Studds, Marjorie Kittridge, Betty Simmons, Jimmy Walker, Harry Baker.

SECOND GENERATION

This is the first year that Northeast High School has drawn attention to the large number of second generation students who are enrolled. We are proud of them, and also of their parents, former graduates of Northeast. Moreover, we believe that this is the first time that any high school in the city has been represented in such a way. Following is the roster of the alumni and their children enrolled in this school:

Alumni	Second Generation
Marian Blakeslee (Mrs. J. Walker) 1916	James Walker, P. G.
George A. Studds, 1917	Dorothy Studds, College Fresh.
Dorothy Barto (Mrs. H. E. Devin) 1915	Dorothylu Devin, Senior
Helen Clausen (Mrs. D. S. Roach) 1916	{ Geraldine Roach, Junior College
Genevieve Suddarth (Mrs. J. L. Simmons)	{ Gloria Roach, Sophomore
Henrietta Burre (Mrs. L. Faller) 1917	Betty Simmons, Junior College
Barbara Jefferies (Mrs. Raymond) 1917	Warren Faller, Junior College
Edith Burk (Mrs. D. S. Kittredge) 1918	Jack Raymond, Junior College
Edith Turner (Mrs. A. P. Ladish) 1919	Marjorie Kittredge, Junior
Adrain P. Ladish, 1919	Jeanne Ladish, Sophomore
Naomi Atwell (Mrs. Nichols) 1919	Rosalie Nichols, Sophomore
Lillian Watson (Mrs. Lillian Baker) 1919	Harry Baker, Sophomore
Victoria Ross (Mrs. Balsbaugh) 1919	Victoria Balsbaugh, Sophomore
Florence Johnson (Mrs. Florence Dole) 1918	Jo Marie Dole, Sophomore
Dora Plummer (Mrs. Herbst) 1919	Marguerite Herbst, Sophomore
Lawrence Miller, 1914	Betty Miller, Sophomore

1935-36 is Northeast's twenty-third year, nearly a quarter of a century. When we realize what great changes have taken place, including the World War, we can begin to appreciate the element of time. Northeast alumni are making priceless contributions to their Alma Mater in their sons and daughters. We find eight sophomores, one junior, one senior, one post-graduate, four College I, and one college freshman among this illustrious group. May they continue to uphold their parents' high standards.

KANSAS CITY PUBLIC LIBRARY (Northeast Branch)

"Books are the treasured wealth of the world, the fit inheritance of generations and nations."—THOREAU

The Northeast Branch Library functions both as a school and public library. It opens for work at 8:15 every school day, and closes at 9 o'clock at night. On Saturdays it is open from 9 A. M. to 9 P. M.

Over 30,000 passes for admission to study periods in the library have been used. In addition, many Junior College students have had the use of the library study hall. Library lessons were given to 850 pupils in October and November, 1935.

The boys' and girls' department provides reading material (picture books for children of pre-school age) on through the grades into the Freshman year in High School. From November until after Easter, there is a story hour for children at 10:30 every Saturday morning.

Adult patrons are welcome at all times. Between 700 and 800 adult registrations, which include only those over 18 years of age, are received yearly.

CONTEST WINNERS

It is with pride that we, the 1936 Nor'easter Staff, present the winners of our photo contest. The competition was so keen that the judges were unable to decide on just two people, so we were forced to include the four highest. Our judges were, in our estimation, competent and representative. We had a sculptor, two art teachers, two business men, a professional man, and a librarian. They based their judgment on character, personality, poise, and intelligence as revealed in the photograph. All of the pictures taken by members of the Senior class, with the exception of those Seniors on the Annual Staff, were submitted for judgment, the above four people having been selected as the "cream of the crop."

SPECIAL OPPORTUNITY ! ! !

For the benefit of future Staff Members the Staff of 1936 has written several explanatory and helpful pamphlets. These pamphlets are sold or given away every evening in Room 312.

"The Art of Applying Make-up," by Ruth Aronson.

The author points out that this art is very important if a feminine editor-in-chief is going to hold the interest of her co-workers.

"How to Loaf,".....Richard Griffith.

The author seems to be well informed on this subject.

"Cartoons" Joe Metschan

Mr. Metschan offers a copy of the blotter on his desk in the Staff Room as a frontispiece. Very interesting and amusing.

"But, Mr. White—" Dorothylu Devin
The trials and tribulations of an Art Editor.

"Quotations"..... The Class Editors
The Class Editors have been kind enough to enter in this pamphlet their stock quotations. Try them out on your friends.

"How to Stick Thumb Tacks into Boxes".... Lowell Hall and Dick Dexter

An interesting course giving a new and novel method of wasting time. The second lesson in their course is "How to String Beans."

"Writing Locals".... Marian Whitaker

The author seems to be in a muddle about her subject. We don't advise the purchase (don't let them give it to you, either) of this pamphlet.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT

The custom of thanking people is one that has never grown antiquated so here and now, we, the Staff of 1936, want to express our appreciation to our friends. Had it not been for their cooperation we would have been unable to publish an Annual.

Our deepest gratitude goes to Mr. Haines, photographer of the Haines Studio; to Mr. Dew of the Teachenor-Bartberger Engraving Company; to the Faculty; and to Mr. Lowell and the entire staff of the Lowell Printing Company.

We want to thank our Advertisers, School Clubs and Societies, and the Student Body for the financial aid that they rendered.

Words are inadequate when we come to thanking our Advisors. Their assistance was the light that guided us through many a dark hour and it is to them more than to anyone else that we offer our sincerest thanks.

FREE Sight Meter Test in Your Home

To make home lighting safe for your eyes your lamps should provide sufficient and correct light. There is but one way to be sure you are getting safe illumination—an accurate test with a sight meter. A free lighting survey will tell how much light you now have in your home and how much you should have according to the new Science of Seeing. For this service that costs nothing, ask your mother to call GRand 0060—ask for a Home Lighting Advisor.

LIFE INSURANCE,

A Bulwark of Safety

Because—

- Children must be free from the struggle for existence;
- Family ties must be held together and homes made secure with the necessities of life;
- Youth must be educated to meet the demands necessary for entering into modern business;
- Every man and woman desires safety and security against the vicissitudes of life.

Life Insurance has built up A Bulwark of Safety, taking many of the "IFS" out of life and making possible the fulfillment of our most precious desires.

"Cut Corners" to a Job!

Make This a Useful
Summer! . . . Be on a Payroll 3 Months Sooner!

WITH High School behind you, there's no time to lose. It is time to think seriously about what you are going to have to offer the world in exchange for a living.

College of Commerce has been thinking of that for you. Your program already is outlined here at the Streamline School.

In twenty-five years we have supplied the answer to the job question to many hundreds. Now, from Executive chairs in Big Business Concerns, they look back gratefully to the months they spent here, preparing to answer "Ready" when their big chance came.

Drop in and learn the kind of preparation College of Commerce has made for you!

Jack Smith, New Plan III, says that sailors can't play cards because they're all sitting on the deck.

Harry Ice thinks "Smelling salts" are sailors with B. O.

Julia Hoffman has never had an over-time for mis-demeanor. No-o-o, she's never had her. Oh! Julie, where've you been?

Jay Lane went out for football this year. Went out is right for he was out almost from the first. Remember Jay, there are two goal posts—one at each end of the field.

Jane Ware, Willadean Weber, Betty Bell, Shirley Pierce and Lucy Ann Kerr went without make-up for one whole day on a bet. Several senior boys said they would wear it the following day if the girls would go without it.

P. S.—The boys didn't live up to their half of the bet and they haven't heard the last of it.
