FOREWORD

Too long have the school and the government been thought totally different institutions. Only now are we realizing that they are not "horses of a different color"—that a democratic country means democratic schools—that the Junior citizens practice leadership, individual enterprise and initiative, cooperation, selfgovernment, suffrage, and organization within the halls of education just as the Senior citizens exercise the same American prerogatives in the business and political worlds.

The staff has compiled the '41 Nor'easter with this new emphasis. We give you a picture record of life at Northeast, as it is, as we want it always to be, typical of the American Way.

The EDITOR.

Principal activity of the second semester Student Council was preparation for the first High School Day, March 28, when students took over city executive positions. The student mayor, municipal judges, and councilmen were elected in a manner similar to that practiced by adult constituents. An intensive study of the city charter preceded the election. This was a new opportunity for training Kansas City's high school youth in citizenship and civic leadership.

Second semester staff was led by: David Woody, Editor-in-Chief; David Quick, Business Manager; Bob Bingham, News Editor; Bob Pierce, Sports Editor.

Going to the M. I. P. A. Convention, at Columbia in the Spring is the reward for outstanding members of the staffs. There they compete in newswriting contests, and enter their paper in competition with those of other schools. Northeast newswriters and the Northeast Courier have always ranked high at these meets.

A FREE PRESS

An Integral Part of American Democracy

Activities and events at Northeast are reported and written by members of the newswriting class, and printed on the school press by members of the printing classes. The result is the Northeast Courier—a typical school paper in a typical American high school.

Newswriters, who must constantly be on the alert for news and subjects for editorials—who must get the facts and get them straight—who must distinguish between essentials and non-essentials, are learning the fundamentals of Democracy, and how to implement them. That is the aim of all schooling in America.

The Courier is a four-page paper, published weekly, under the direction of Mr. G. S. Marsh, Newswriting instructor.

Co-editors for the first semester were Dorothy DeGroff and Edward Engleman; Business Managers were Mickey Hoverder and Erlyne Eubank; Sports Editors were Stanley Walker and Donald Sanders; News Editors were Colleen Hatfield and Richard Connell.

Popular Orchestra (upper)

Marching Band (lower)

Music is rhythm—so there is music in the hundreds of feet on the stairs at school, and even a kind of music in the crowded lunchroom. Yes, but there is a far more pleasant type of music here at Northeast—the band and orchestra. When either takes the stage during assemblies, it is greeted by rounds of applause.

At those football and basketball games every student present swelled with pride and probably nudged his friend and said, "There is our band! The players are as good as they look in those classy uniforms." That's absolutely correct; there is nothing that makes a person "wake up and live" more quickly than good band music. Now while you are so wide awake, think of all the past honors they have won for the school. See those medals adorning those jaunty purple coats? There is going to be another one added this year. What? why, Northeast is going to place in the annual State Band Contest.

The well-known Viking Varieties featuring the popular orchestra, and the annual Band Concert conducted by the director, Mr. Nevin E. Wasson, were again a great success.

The large number of individuals interested in putting across good music, seventy-five band members and forty-seven orchestra players, assures Northeast of one of the Number One ratings in the Class A division of the city.

HONOR ROLLS RECOGNIZE OUTSTANDING STUDENTS

Northeast students who are outstanding in scholarship receive the recognition that is their prerogative as Americans. Pupils who have no grade below "E" with the exception of Physical Education are placed on the High Honor Roll. Those who receive a grade average of "S" are on the General Honor Roll.

Parents and Teachers Work Together

The Parent-Teacher Association provides an opportunity for parents and teachers to meet on a common ground and to discuss the problems of the pupils. The resultant harmony between home and school is indicative of what can be accomplished under a democratic system.

SOCIETIES STEP OUT SOCIALLY

Dances and good times are always of interest to social-minded American youth, and members of Northeast's literary societies are no exceptions. The Inter-Society dance is a formal affair held once a year, and is the high point of the society social season. Each organization also has a social event each semester.

 groups for twenty-eight years.

To promote good fellowship in a group of young people, music is very valuable. The local music groups, under the direction of Mr. Frank E. Chaffee, have provided much entertainment for their audiences and have received the benefit of a musical education.

The A Cappella Choir took part in the Annual Band Concert and sang for Open House this year. They also appeared at churches throughout the city. This group will conclude an active season by participating in the graduating exercises.

The Boys' and Girls' Choruses were established to give their members fundamental training in group singing. These groups have contributed much to the music appreciation in the school.

FOOTBALL 1940

The 1940 football season was replete with upsets and unusually close games. The Viking's record of two victories, five defeats, and a tie is, in itself, unimpressive; but the squad had the color and undaunted courage to make every game a thriller. Lacking the consistency and coordination to win a championship, the inexperienced Vikings, nevertheless, gave every opponent a tough battle with their unpredictable, inconsistent style of football.

The early season aggressiveness of the Vikings wasn't enough to upset a highly touted Chrisman eleven. Northeast lost the non-league game 7-0.

Inspired by their brilliant play against the Bears, the Vikings, although deep in enemy territory most of the game, barely eeked out a 7-0 victory over the Paseo Pirates. Two touchdowns in the last quarter defeated the Southeast Knights 13-0.

With the Southeast victory, the Norseman were riding high in the league's driverseat when undermined by the Westport Tigers 14-0. The defeat toppled the Vikings from the lead and they didn't regain their form until the final league game of the year.

A complete collapse of the Viking's defense enabled the Central Blue Eagles to march to an easy 25-0 victory. Central won the league title—being undefeated in five games.

After two crushing league defeats, the Norsemen went to Rockhurst for a game under the lights. But the Hawks' triple-threat combination of speed, power, and deception proved another catastrophe for the Nor'easters. This time the score was 21-0.

Mustering all their reserve power for the league finale, the Vikings fought the heavily favored East Bears to a scoreless deadlock. The tie enabled Northeast to finish in the upper bracket of league standings.

The Ward Cyclones frustrated several Viking drives in the shadows of the goal posts to gain a close 7-0 decision over the Northeast gridsters.

A swarm of Viking tacklers fail to halt a Central ball-lugger but Carl Wiggins gets his man a moment later. The Eagles won 25-0 and went on to win the title.

Mel McCulley evades an East tackle to reel off a substantial gain that launches a Vikings' offensive.

A despondent squad of Vikings leave the gridiron after being toppled from the league lead by the Westport Tigers. The score was 14-0.

The entire Bear line engulfs but fails to halt the plunging McCulley who makes it first and ten for the Vikings on the East 40-yard stripe.

A bit of superb broken-field running is exhibited by Mel McCulley. But it wasn't enough to defeat the East Bears. The game ended in a scoreless deadlock.

Kenny Olson runs interference for McCulley who begins a touchdown drive that defeated Southeast in the season's biggest thriller.

Carl Wiggins temporarily halts an Eagle touchdown drive by tackling Bud French, the spark-plug of the Central offense. The defeat eliminated the Vikings from the title race.

Girls'

The hockey season opened in the fall with shouts of "sticks" and ended with many bruised shins. The All-Star games were not played because of bad weather. Inset is the hockey manager, Lourene Hisle, who had charge of after-school games and kept the equipment in good condition.

Inset is Betty Noel, basketball manager, who organized the after-school teams and had charge of all the equipment used.

Basketball practice began earlier than usual to make ready for a demonstration for the physical education teachers and student managers of the other high schools in Kansas City.

Sports

Volleyball practice began early in the fall and was carried through until spring. Boosting and spiking techniques were mastered before any games were played. Inset is the volleyball manager, Vivian Ratliff, who organized after-school games and took care of volleyball equipment.

Inset is Madeline Layton, ping pong manager, who had charge of this year's tournament.

Jeanne Rogers, champion of last year's ping pong tournament, is paired with Barbara Bjorkman, while Virginia Bloemaker and Lourena Hisle look on.

With the coming of spring, basketball and volleyball gave way to baseball, America's favorite sport. Margaret Etxel, baseball manager, upper left, was overseer of all equipment.

Any time during the year, swimming in the Northeast pool is a favorite. Lower right is Mary Sellers, swimming manager.

The Girls' Physical Education Department is headed by Miss Nellie Stewart, teacher of volleyball, hygiene, and individual sports, and Miss Yera Bland, who coaches hockey, basketball, swimming and baseball. Northeast's Vi-Queens, like girls all over America, learn cooperation, leadership, and a sportsmanlike attitude.

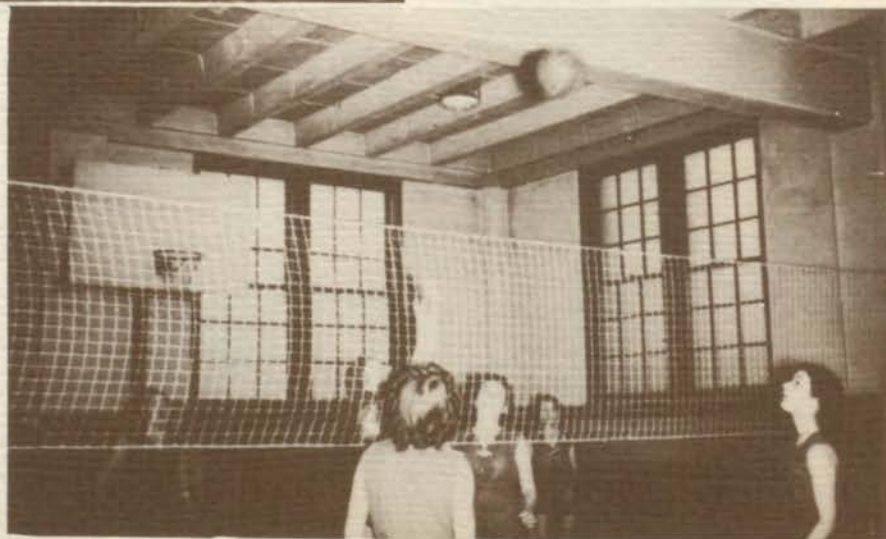

Barbara Bjorkman and Gloria Webster, co-hiking managers, organized several hikes in the fall consisting of twenty miles with fifty girls participating. Thirty miles of hiking in the spring completed their program.

Playday was held at East High School, February 15, with the Northeast Vi-Queens taking honors in volleyball, and with only one loss in basketball. Playday practice began early and the girls were in tip-top condition.

Those attending for basketball were: Noel, captain; Diesko, Rickert, Layton, Ziegenhorn, Larson, McCormick, Sellers, Kissie, Grouse, Bennett, and Fraxier. These girls participated in volleyball: Ratliff, captain; Cook, Burton, Webster, Uhlig, House, Davis, Knight, Milan, Longstreet, Wampler, Bernhardt, Grace, Luteran, Bachmer, Etxel, and Rennison.

Basketball 1940-41

The Northeast basketeers fought a see-saw battle this season. In winning six and losing five games, the Vikings had only an average season, but they managed to uphold the twenty-one-year old tradition of not having finished below third place in the Interscholastic League during that period.

Making their debut against a seasoned Wyandotte quintet, Northeast was overwhelmed by both size and experience, losing 35-21. The Ward Cyclones, likewise, possessed too much power, and turned back the Vikings 33-17. A victory over the Alumni launched the Vikings on a four game winning spree. Rockhurst was the loser of a 25-23 overtime game, which proved to be the biggest thriller of the season.

Paseo's zone defense proved to be a puzzle but not a catastrophe for the Norsemen. Resorting to a passing game, Northeast gained an easy 12-10 decision. Continuing their winning ways, the Vikings trimmed Manual's Crimson 23-20.

Snapping the Vikings' four game winning streak, the Westport Tigers handed the Northeast quintet its most decisive defeat of the season. The final score was 46-26, Westport. Central, taking advantage of a psychological edge over the Vikings, handed the Nor'easters another humiliating defeat; the score was 45-25. Inaccurate shooting and poor rebound work contributed to the Vikings' defeat.

Coach Reaves E. Peters, who for the twenty-first consecutive season has turned out a first division basketball squad.

Mr. D. L. Deniston, who again handled all the financial burdens of interscholastic sports.

The defeat sent the Vikings into a three-way tie for third place. But the Vikings rallied to beat Southeast 33-30, and added the East Bears to their list of victims by a 24-20 score to gain undisputed possession of third place.

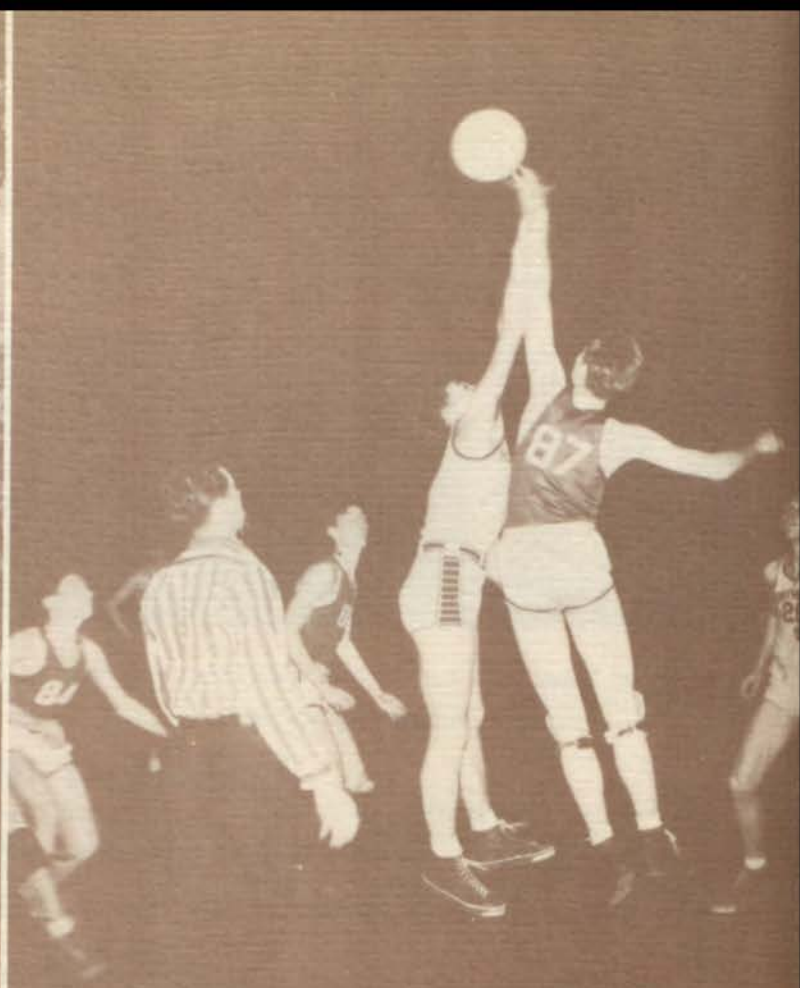

But in the league finals, the Southwest Indians, led by a sophomore, rallied to upset the Viking quintet, 18-15. Had victory been Northeast's, a tie for second place would have been gained.

Coach Reeves E. Peters is giving his usual half-time pep talk to the players. He is probably mapping out the strategy he expects the boys to use in the remaining half.

Mel McCulley attempts a pivot shot as Tom Hayter moves in to take the rebound in case he misses.

Wesley Galloway battles a Paseo Pirate for possession of the ball as Paul Wilson looks on. Paseo's adherence to defensive strategy enabled the Vikings to win an easy 12-0 decision.

Kenny Bounds misses a one-handed push-shot in the Central game. Inability to hit the basket and poor rebound work defeated the Vikings 46-25.

Track 1941

By winning their first three dual meets, the Northeast tracksters remain in the race to retain the dual track championship, which was won last year. Only four letter-men returned this year but new talent has been sufficient to round out a well-balanced squad.

Prospects for a victory in the inter-city track meet are only fair, but the Vikings will be seeking revenge for the upset defeat by Southwest last year.

A silver trophy was awarded the Vikings for winning the 880-yard relay at the Kansas Relays. It was the third time that the Vikings have won, and the trophy is now a permanent possession of Northeast.

Members of the team practice the pole-vault.

R. O. T. C.

Sergeant P. K. Healy

As Military Instructor, he has guided the Northeast Battalion in becoming an honor school and maintaining that excellent rating.

Colonel Burr P. Irwin

He, as Professor of Military Science and Tactics, along with Captain Charles R. Hermann, assistant P. M. S. & T., has supervised the Kansas City Regiment in its functions.

Cadet Major Richard Ball

He has excelled in R. O. T. C. all during his three years' training and now is Battalion Commander. He has been a member of the rifle team for three years.

Effective leaders, in peace and in war, must be trained to do their jobs. Thus, in these days of world strife, when we are working at full speed to enlarge and improve our military forces, the Reserved Officers' Training Corps is assuming a more and more important role.

Since the first War College the idea of having military training in the schools has been enlarged upon until now more than 6,500 commissioned officers graduate from the R. O. T. C. annually.

Cadets learn to shoot straight and to think straight; to give orders and to obey them; to be prompt, courteous, and trustworthy; to lead and to follow.

With its program stressing organization, loyalty, and respect for authority, the R. O. T. C. helps to develop in our youth the qualities that make for success in a Democracy.

Sudents who enroll in R. O. T. C. are taught the fundamentals of the military profession for the purpose of making good citizens of them as well as good soldiers; for, an intelligent citizenry guiding the affairs of our nation will lessen the possibility of our sacrificing our soldiers on the field of battle.

Americans first, last, and always, the R. O. T. C. boys march on!

Selected as one of the ten highest scoring teams in the Ninth Corps Area to fire in the National Inter-Collegiate Match, the first rifle team has shown the skill which they have developed during the school year.

We, the Junior Class of 1940-41, strive to uphold the spirit and the honors left to us by the seniors. We try to set a goal and a standard to the sophomores who will carry on our duties next year.

We support our school and the school activities in every possible way. Many of us are on the Annual Staff, Courier Staff, Girl Reserve cabinet, and this year the Queen of the R. O. T. C. Hop was a Junior.

We, the Juniors, hereby pledge ourselves to do bigger and better things for Northeast in the coming year.

CLASS PROPHECY

Dear Diary:

June 1, 1951

We finally reached the old home town this morning from South America. My, but it is good to be back in good old Kansas City. It's been ten years since I've seen all my old friends and fellow students back at Northeast. It's quite astonishing how many of the "old grads" have gone to the top and made names for themselves in the world.

We were quite thrilled when the new Mayor, the honorable Walter Allen, met us at the airport with his large delgation, consisting mainly of Marshall Leavitt with two gardenias and a ten-cent seegar. That Rolls-Royce of his was a neat job, all right, and who should have been sitting in the chauffeur's seat but Johnny ("Home, James'") Armbruster.

The policeman who let us go through the red light was none other than Smilin' Walt Boeth who held up traffic to stop and chat with us. He has finally finished the last chapter of his 25 Volume "How to Reduce with Ease" and intends to begin trying the various methods right away.

There was a big bouquet of roses waiting for me when we arrived at the Ritz-Burton-Green Hotel from the busy chairman of the Women's Clean-Up Campaign, Doris Lloyd. The maid I rang for turned out to be Maryan King, pert and peppy as ever. While we were discussing the good old days when we were still in high school we heard some staccato raps on the window—and, though slightly alarmed, investigated and found outside the inseparable team of Walker and Hornaday from the "Window Washing Experts" Agency owned by the fabulously rich eccentric, Paul (Play-boy) Hartege, who has founded the "Musical Madhouse" for disappointed orchestras, bands, and singers, who want to end it all—but don't quite relish the idea of joining the souls in Davy Jones Locker—down in the deep, blue sea. . . .

Instead of Mildred Gendler's name as Editor of the K. C. Gazette I saw John T. (Tycoon) Nagle's. The two-inch headlines announced the sixth marriage of Brenda Beaumont, the famous screen star. The photograph looked somewhat like Elizabeth Young, long known for her multiple conquests.

The melodious notes of "Home, Sweet Home" drifting up from the street below diverted me from my newspaper and leaning out I was mildly shocked to learn the identity of the musicians. There was Bob Merrill blithely wheeling his Hot Tamale cart along the street while harmonizing with his play, Charles Gathright, a six-foot streetsweeper.

Returning to the newspaper I finished the funnies and turned back to the feature page. Never would I have thought that Paul Robbins would ever have been Vice-President of the School Board or that Wesley Galloway would ever end up being "Uncle Willie" on the Kiddie's Hour heard on C B M K at 4:15 every afternoon through the courtesy of Lasker's Cod Liver Oil. Both of these singular items I read in the columns, "Gossip by Giesy" and "Men About Town" by Shirley Settle.

Before going to bed after a busy day I glanced at the newest best-seller by Theodore Ruhling—"How to Be a Contented Bachelor." It looks quite interesting—Ho-humm. . . .

June 6, 1951

Today was the wedding of Shirley Breuer and her patient admirer, Lee Mathews. The maid of honor was June Scott and the best man was Jackie Butts and, of course, he lost the ring. A lot of people that I knew were there and I heard all about the where-abouts of some of my former classmates of whom I had lost track.

I learned yesterday that Joey Bondon was the prosperous proprietor of a music-store and talent agency. . . . It seems he is on the look-out for new voices—and new faces.

Speaking of faces, Fanny Lou Lyman has perfected a new Glamoura make-up guaranteed to bring swarms of admirers if applied nightly with a soft cloth. All of her magazine ads now feature the lovely countenances of Virginia Miller and Betty Hickey, known as the Lamarr sisters.

I visited the Nelson Art Gallery this afternoon to see the new collection of pictures by Andre. I just happened to see the initials, A.A.A., in the corner of one airplane mural and wondered if, by any chance, it might have been painted by my old friend, Alvin Annis. My surmise was correct.

It was quite a surprise to see "Littlejohn" Lembke selling toy airplanes on the sidewalk. When he graduated we all thought he would accept a job as a model for the "Tootsie" ads, the breakfast cereal of Champs, not Chumps.

But imagine my sheer amazement upon seeing Paul O. Whittle walking up and down Van Brunt Boulevard between two big sandwich boards—"Eat at Joe's Place" while rewriting his Unabridged Whittle Dictionary.

Curious to see where Joe's place was we dropped in that evening for a ham-cheese-pickle-onion and lettuce-(mustard optional)-burger, (only 10c), after a lecture on "How to Detect Counterfeit Money" by that noted Crime-Chaser, John Q. Dart. I wondered if Joe could possibly be the same Joe Burke I had known as a basketball star at Northeast. Sure enough, there he was—standing behind the counter arguing with his pretty waitress, Jeaniah George, over the outcome of the baseball series between the K. C. Blues and the Minneapolis Minnows. It seems that Mel McCulley is the catcher of the local team.

I remember how all the girls used to sigh over that handsome Bob Brockhouse. He and his three partners, Bill Elliott, Raymond Brackenbury, and Richard Hale, have started a "Homely Hearts Circle" for domestic-minded males.

This week here has been one glorious time, going places, doing things, seeing "everybody and his uncle," and looking up old friends. It is altogether too short. Perhaps I can persuade my "better half" to stop here again when we return from New York. I had better pack and go to bed so as to be fresh for our early start tomorrow. . . . Good-night, dear diary—and pleasant dreams.

Mr. L. A. Pinkney,
Senior Class
Adviser

We, the graduating Seniors of the 1941 Class, are ending our fun-filled days here at Northeast and are ready to step out into a changing world. Because of world conditions of today, America will play a major part in international affairs in the future. The citizens of tomorrow will be none other than the Youth of today—the young students of our high schools and colleges.

Of great use to the betterment of our nation will be the training and education of its Junior Citizens. The qualities developed in the high school, like leadership, cooperation, and responsibility, show what an integral part of our later life is prefaced by our pre-maturity.

Having enjoyed our three years here, cheering our teams, debating our club "issues", making new friends among fellow-classmates and teachers, participating in the social life, dances, banquets, concerts, contests, plays, campaigning for elections of Class Officers and City Hall Day nominees, and trying to get our lessons, let us all do our best in trying to make dear old Northeast proud of her grads—and America proud of its young men and young women.

—Helen Staeuble,
Senior Class Editor.

Class Will

To the Juniors from the Seniors

We, the Senior Class of Northeast High School of this year of our Lord, one thousand, nine-hundred and forty-one A. D., being of sound (?) mind—do declare the following to be our last will and testament.

We bequeath to All the undergrads the chance to improve their minds and personalities by appropriating the educational and social opportunities found in abundance here and by endeavoring to follow more closely in our illustrious footsteps.

INDIVIDUAL BEQUESTS:

Mildred Gendler has graciously made a gift of her wisdom and managerial ability to Dorothy (Deloveley) DeGross.

Morton Walker has presented Stanley Walker with the privilege of carrying on the Walker tradition—"Make it good . . . and loud!"

June Scott has given Jane Wade the latest news on Up-to-the-Minute-Modes.

Melvin McCulley has transferred his official title, "Lord of the Locker Room", and his nickname, "Muscles", to Long-Fellow—alias Kenny Bounds.

Margery Stubbs has bestowed her overflow of pep on Nancy Elsas.

Dwight Dunning has transferred his title as Ladies' Man to Georgie-Porgie Polk.

Walter Allen has bequeathed his ability to make interesting speeches and to plug sundry organizations to Paul Nance.

Jacky Redding has presented her flaming red hair to John Hanaway.

Richard Ball has given his superior knowledge of "Military Science and Tactics" to Merritt Powles.

Vivian Ratliff has left her athletic agility to Elizabeth Beard.

Wesley Galloway has granted Bob Bingham the ability to make friends and influence people.

Alice Lewis has willed her 1927 Joke Book to the "Funny-Bone Column" in the Courier.

Harry Runyan has decided to leave the Debate Team in the hands of Norma Stephens.

Kenny Burton, with the million-dollar voice, has conferred his "musicability" on Bill Gray.

Frances Giesy has at last realized that Pat Wilcox should receive some of her artistic talent.

Margaret Ellenz leaves Jane "Little-Joe" Davidson a copy of "Receipts for Romance."

Joey Bondon has agreed to give his "savoir-faire" and "chairmanship-itis" to up-and-comin' Bryan Wheeler.

Shirley Breuer has left the G. R. Triangles to Lorine Westcott.

John Nagle and Morton Walker have left the second year Spanish Class to any one who can take it.

Phyllis Stites has decided to let Richard Connell play all the piano accompaniments in the future.

Bill Ost has passed on his title, "Tall, Dark, and Handsome", to Dick "Glamour-Boy" Fetter.

Don Merrill has presented his hearty laugh and title of "Kewpie Kut-Up" to his successor, John "Champ" Spencer.

Margaret Miller has willed her royal title of Glamour Girl No. 1, to beautiful Janice (Juliet) Barrett.

"Buddy" Clark has long had the intention to pass on to handsome Harold Rice the honor of being Northeast's Beau Brummel.

Marilyn Becker has left "Ways to Entertain Permanent Guests" to Gwen (Touchdown) Harger.

Phyllis Mayfield has granted to Joanne Rutledge a full measure of ability in shorthand and typing—99 44/100 percent perfect!

"Buddy" Bissing has given his favorite sure-goal basketball toss to "Prince" Charlie Shields.

Ed Runner, the "smile-catcher", has bequeathed his photographic technique to Don "Little Flower" Thomas. Donna O'Hara and Leverett Glaxe have left the drums to George "King of Swing" Miller.

Lois Doran has bestowed her "enchancing eyes" on Donna Moran.

Harvey "Just a Gigolo" Garner has decreed that Tom (Truelove?) Hall should take up his profession.

Eva Marie Yose has at last decided that Mickey Hovender should be the "Life of a Party."

Roger Mills has said that he would relinquish his position as an indefatigable arguer to Harold Branch.

Dot Baker has left the Pep Club to Martha Largent and Eleanor Kearney.

Joe Rabb has willed to Ralph Chambers the ability to dance like a dream.

David Hornaday has not been able (as yet) to decide whether to tell his "How to Charm the Girls in One Easy Lesson" secret to Toddy Aikens or Neal Doran.

Having duly and legally willed the aforesaid items to our Junior and Sophomore followers, we, the Senior Class of '41, do set our hand and seal to this weighty document in the sincere hope that all may prosper and benefit by these bequests.

Signed.....

The Senior Class.
