Beyond this page you will see some of the key stakeholders on our journey to whole school reform and academic excellence. The students and staff are organized into communities that are theme based – Business and Finance, Engineering and Technology, Health and Fitness, and Life and Language. In each of the SLC's emphasis is on the 3R's – Relationships, Rigor and Relevance.

The 2003-2004 school year is year one of the district wide reform initiative: Achievement First. It is the beginning of lasting relationships, expanded knowledge and experiences and increased successes

Small Learning Communities

For the year 2003-2004, Northeast High School is entering into a new educational reform initiative. In conjunction with the institute for Research and Reform in Education (I.R.R.E.), four small learning communities (SLC) have been formed from student interest-surveys. The SLC's are Business & Finance, Engineering & Technology, Health & Wellness, and Life & Language. Within the community, students receive instruction in core courses as well as theme electives.

Each of the four SLC's has a coordinator, vice-principal, counselor, core teachers, and elective teachers. This division promises to create a better student/teacher relationship. Research from I.R.R.E. indicates an improvement in academic performance results. Therefore, students will be better prepared for the future.

Health and Wellness

Life and Language

“We mean Business!”
Mr. Gifford is the Business and Finance coordinator

As well as providing diverse learning experiences in all curriculum areas, the Business and Finance SLC offers thematic courses in entrepreneurship, sales, marketing, finance, accounting, business management and human resources management. This community is for students who like to earn money, to be a leader, to organize people or to work with numbers.

This SLC's vision statement includes the belief that “education must develop the individuals potential and prepare each person for effective participation in our society.

The Business and Finance Small Learning Community

“Communities are about building relationships. We should be creating a ‘family-like’ atmosphere so that kids will have another place to go to.”

Mr. Tipton is the Business and Finance Vice-principal

The Engineering and Technology Small Learning Community

The Engineering and Technology SLC strives to prepare students with an understanding of engineering and vocational skills. Students are enabled to enter the workforce or a post-secondary institution well prepared.

As all the SLC's do, Engineering and Technology offers basic education in core subject areas. Beyond this the thematic electives prepare students for jobs as electricians, broadcasters, computer programmers and graphic designers. In addition, college preparatory and advanced placement classes in math and science are offered. These blend instruction and hands-on experiences that emphasize problem-solving and critical thinking skills.

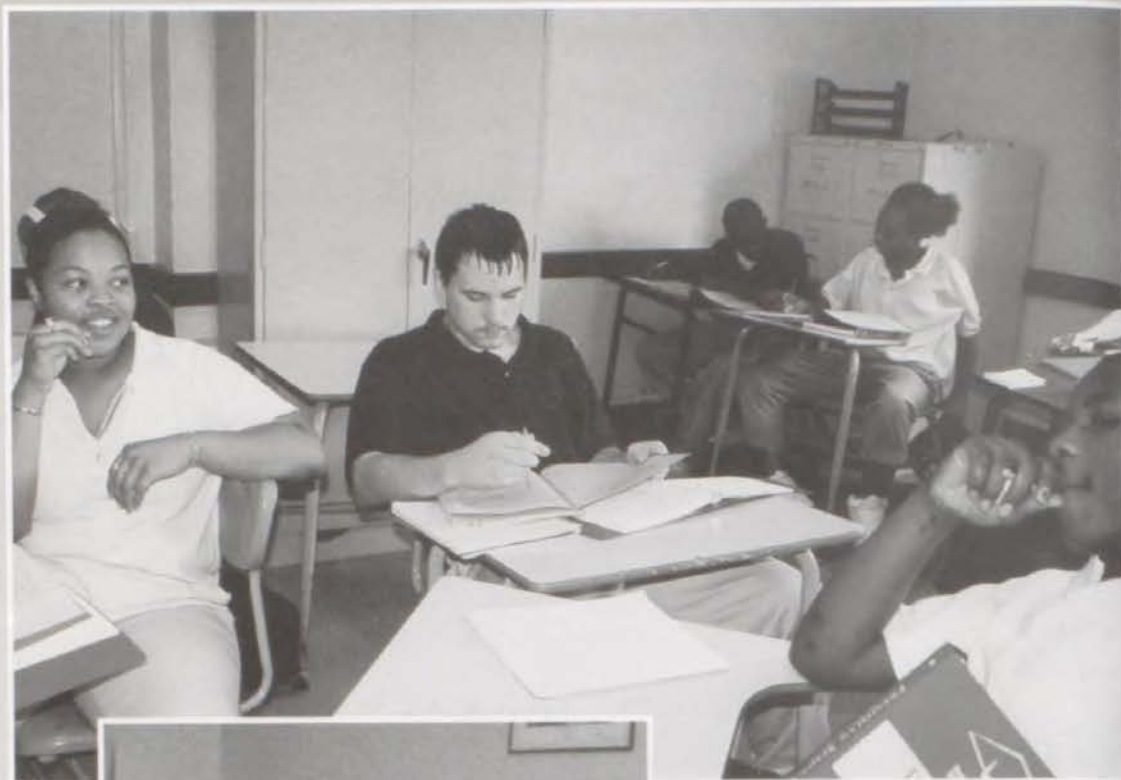

“Believe that you can do anything and you will; believe that you can't do anything and you won't”

Mr. Shelton is the Engineering and Technology coordinator

“Your attitude is a matter of choice”
Ms. Morgan is the Engineering and Technology Vice-principal

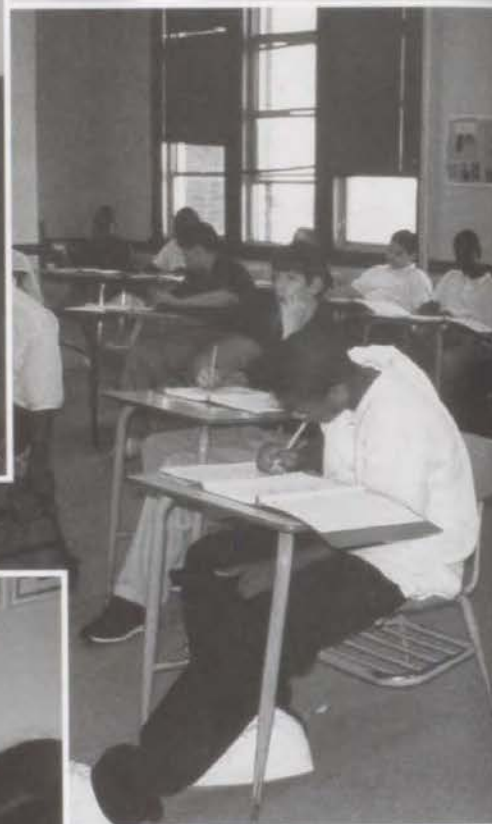

“Success seems to be connected to action. Successful people keep moving. They make mistakes, but they don’t quit.”

— Conrad Hilton

“Use this advice for your own life plan of action.”

Mr. Kilgore is the Health and Wellness Vice-principal

The Health and Wellness Small Learning Community

The Health and Wellness SLC will focus on careers in medicine and sports. After basic education in the core subjects, students may gain skills in physical education, physical therapy and medical emergencies: to name a few. Many of these offer a great potential of employment because they encompass one of the fastest growing industries.

Through this SLC, the students acquire authentic real world experience that will boost their critical thinking and problem-solving skills. Job shadowing and internships are a great benefit to students in this SLC.

This has been an interesting and challenging year. Small Learning Communities are an excellent opportunity for teachers and students. I am learning and developing skills that I never knew I had."

Ms. Harris is the Health and Wellness coordinator

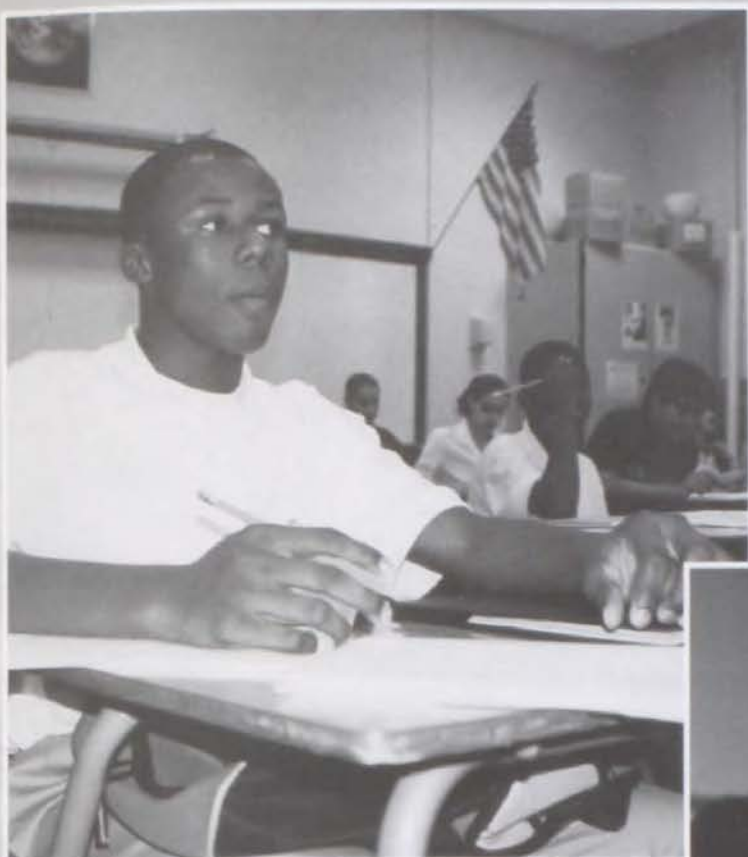

“As we change, the world seems to shift also. Northeast’s Life and Language small learning community embraces our multicultural origins while we learn the components for our future and success.

Ms. Stapinski is the Coordinator for Life and Language

Life and Language Small Learning Community

“An exploration values and cultures is an explicit part of the life and language community. Direct interaction in the community triggers an ongoing examination of belief systems of all participants in the community, including the construction and reconstruction of cultural meanings from experiences and the fostering of different cultures as individuals.”

Ms. Espinoza is the Vice-Principal for Life and Language

The Life and Language SLC focuses on their student's communication skills. Students in this SLC will learn basic skills in English and how to assimilate into a common culture. The objective is to make students ready to become adults who are successful, contributing members of society. The elements of education, diversity, community and career counseling will make students ready to join other communities in order to further enjoy job shadowing and internships experiences.

Senior Prom

"Make It Last Forever"

April 13, 2003

The prom committee worked together to provide a final evening of enjoyment for their junior and senior class.

The tone of the evening was set by a harpist greeting celebrants in the corridor with music from the classics to rock and roll. Then, two cultures denoting "Prom 2003" ushered participants into the ballroom where a six foot star separated the dance floor, buffet and picture areas.

Two hundred North-easters and their guests danced the night away. Their enjoyment made all the hard work on invitations and moments worthwhile.

King Eron Williams and Queen Sonia Sanchez reigned over prom!

Wykechia Hinson and Steven Graves take off for the prom!

Many couples enjoyed the evening including Flora Phommachan and her date!

*Tonight a curtain closes.
And we take a final bow.
To the four years we have spent
Which are slowly fading now.
But let time stop this evening
For just an hour or two.
As we recall the memories
That seem right now, too few.
And gathered all together,
We'll not say "goodbye"
For thoughts that will prevail
With us, of you, will never die.*

Graduation

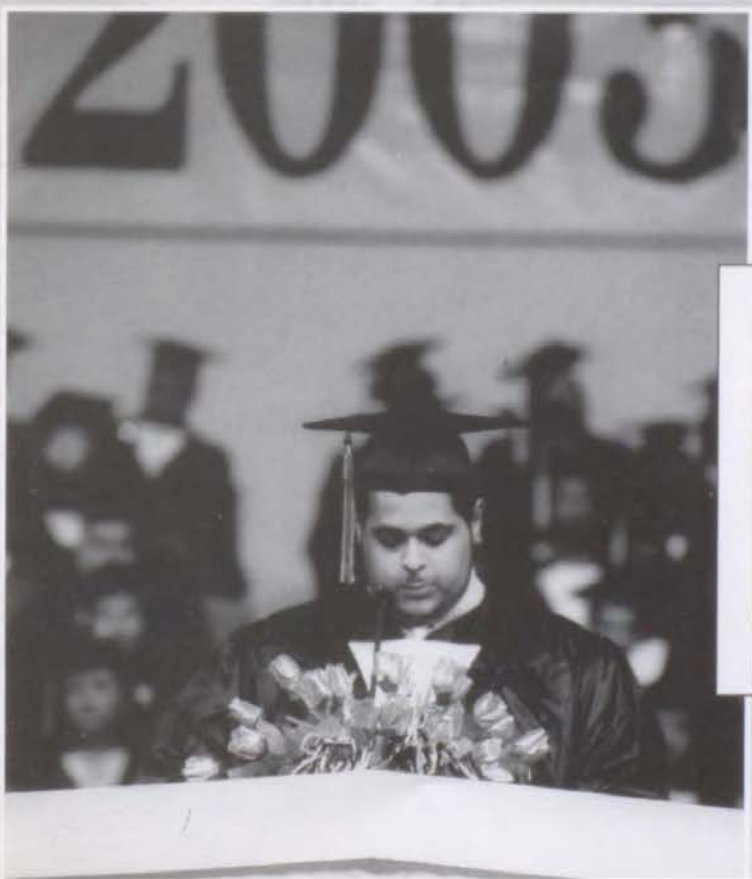

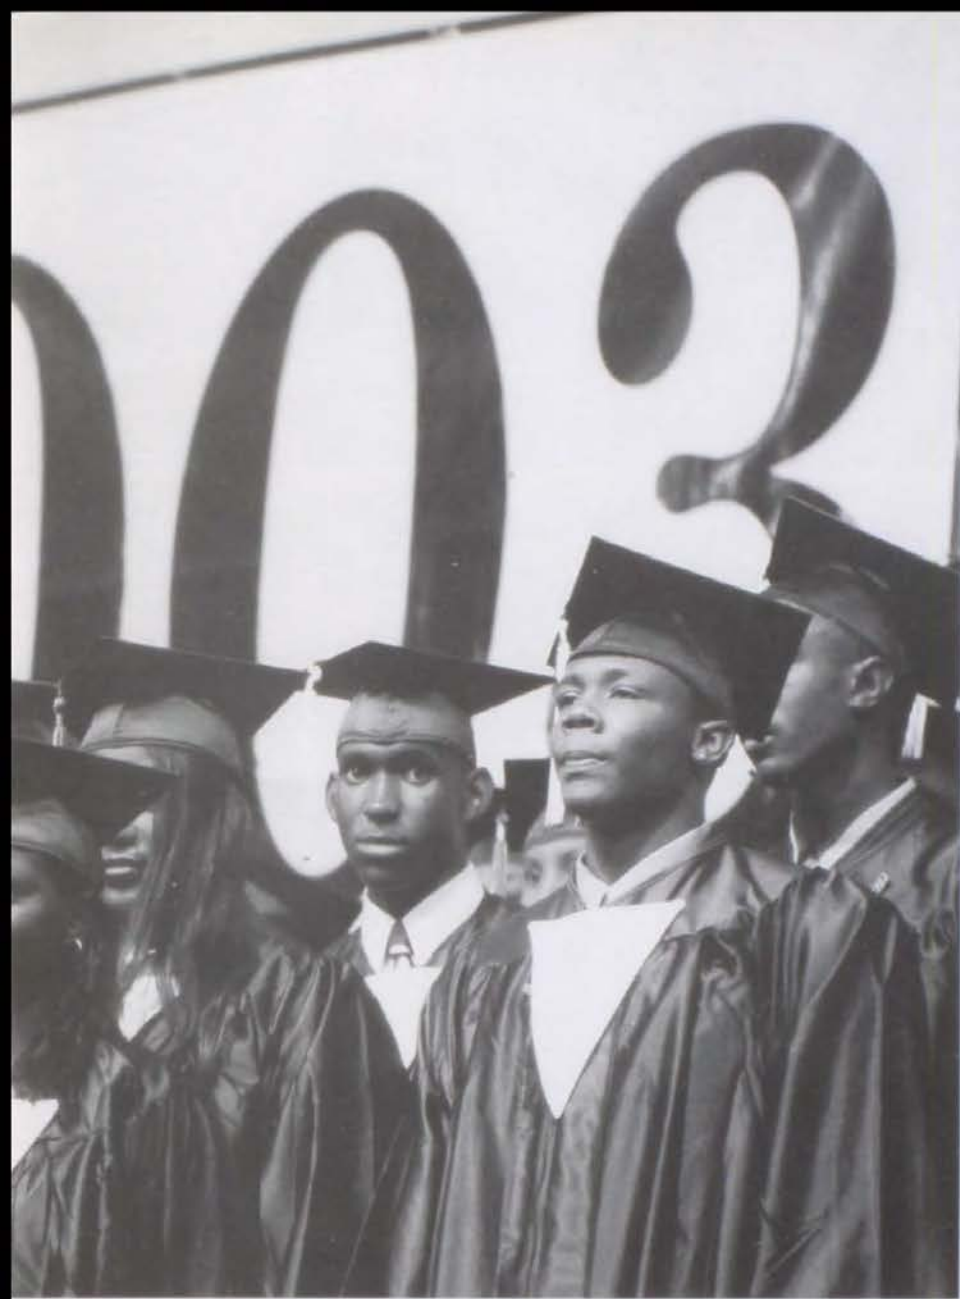

May 29, 2003

Commencement 2003 was an extraordinary good bye to the Senior Class. The Valedictorian, Flora Phommanchanh, recounted the events of the past four years. Quyen Pham, Brian Brooks, Meleah Browning added their special memories during the other student speeches.

The evening came to an end with the farewell speech. Beverly Hampton, the senior class president recounted the nostalgic story about the senior class. A confetti cannon gave a final salute to the senior class of 2003.

Seniors wait for the magic moment when they receive their diplomas.

Brian Brooks finishes his thoughts during his graduation speech!

Our Four Years Here Were...

MAN! My junior year was so much fun. That's when I played all three sport: football, basketball, and track. It was also the year that the football team rebuilds itself by scoring more points then anyone in the Inner-Scholastic League (IL). I was the starting receiver and corner back. This was a season I will never forget. Oh! Basketball season was also a rebuilding year, the team had more to lose then the football team, since they won districts the year before. They struggled that year for different reasons, but my senior year will be THE year for the basketball team... so far so good.

Track season will be a memorable. I had the most fun, probably because of all the girls that were running... "hee hee." Though it was a cold season, we still placed in second in the IL; next to third place state champions Central. This year will be different because I am a senior.

The class of 2004 is the originator that will always be copied. Much love to all my fellow classmates and good luck in life.

Moses David Fields

I remember my freshman year like it was yesterday. It was nothing like my senior year. My freshman year was so fun: We had different dress up days. We had great rallies. We also had a great talent show.

All the seniors seemed to be so much bigger than the freshman. We would always get picked on by them. No one ever seemed to get kicked out of school, or even get suspended. Now I'm a senior, I've been here at Northeast for four years, and I'm ready to graduate and go out into the real world. So now I'm saying goodbye to Northeast, and farewell to all the underclassmen.

Tiffany Soto.

I remember my sophomore year, because it was like nothing had ever gone wrong. We had all kinds of fun and we got the chance to wear what ever we wanted, most of the time. I had joined new clubs, lost some friends, and gained some later. I didn't care about much. We were bigger and ready to take in new challenges then. Now, I'm a senior and I want to say that we gave it our all! Now its' your turn. To the underclassmen we say goodbye. . .

Russell Lambertsen.

My senior year has been exciting so far. The year is half way through, and I feel that I have accomplished so much in so little time. Being a senior has its ups and downs. Some of the ups are... As a senior I get to be dismissed early, and most importantly I will be leaving school in May and going on with my life. The downs are all the work, time, and effort that has to be put into the assignments, anywhere from reports to exams, this is all part of being a high school senior and trying to make it through. Love to the graduating class of 2004 and good luck to the classes to come.

4 THE MONEY

When you were a child you couldn't wait to have a job and money in your pocket. Many advised you to enjoy your youth because it will bring the best times of your lives and not to worry about working. You would be doing that soon enough. Then, you entered high school and all of that changed because you always needed money for this or for that. Whether it was for food, dances, fieldtrips or fund-raisers you need money to be able to participate in these things.

What do you like or dislike about your job? Senior Johnny Lopez said, "I like my job because I get to work with a forklift loading and unloading trucks that go to and from St. Louis and Detroit. Senior Tha Chun said, "I dislike it because of how busy it can get around the holidays and on the weekends". Many people work for different reasons, but it is unanimous that you all love your paychecks whether you get them weekly or bi-weekly. We all need money in one way or another. Senior Dustin Vargas said, "When I get my check I either put it in the bank to save it or it goes to fees at school". Senior Raymone Parks said, "I spend my checks on clothes or other needed items". Senior Jordan Gordon said, "My check goes directly to the bank. Half of it goes to my checking account; the other part goes to my savings. I only spend the money that I have in my checking account".

Class

Of 2004!

With each passing day and each passing year, we build up a wealth of memories. Memories which will last a lifetime or should we say memories of a lifetime. We will remember well the times we failed. Success or failure, each of these events which we tucked away left us changed from what we were. So with these memories carefully packed away, we spring out of our protective shell to grow. At times we may pause to look at what we had or who we were, but it only persuades us to search again for new memories.

For Your Yearbook Information

In considering the 4x4 scheduling, one distinct advantage appears: Students are able to focus on four classes/areas of study instead of eight. Therefore students should be better able to master content and apply skills learned in their four courses. 4x4 scheduling is also easier for counselors because we have four classes to balance, not eight. However, since only four classes are offered at any one time, there is one clear disadvantage for students- fewer opportunities to earn "make-up" credit for failed courses.

4x4

For the year 2003-2004, the seniors as well as the juniors, sophomores, and freshman are embracing a new program to improve academic progress. We have a new partner IRRE (Institute for Research and Reform in Education) and IRRE plan's to team with the schools and district to improve teaching and learning. IRRE has standards for students, which they are expected to achieve and to be involved in high stakes testing tied to those standards. This program has focused on the needs of students struggling with literacy and math. IRRE works with each school and the district to learn more on where they are before joining with them to expand instructional improvement. IRRE works with schools on three complementary approaches to improving instruction:

1. 4x4 scheduling is used to give students more time in language arts and math with lower student/adult ratios for as much of that time as possible. 4x4 scheduling is discussed in each class section by the counselors.
2. Working with all staff to increase the difficulty of what they teach and to engage all students to learn.
3. Identify and supporting visible instructional leaders to sustain and focus on teaching and learning.

Std # 02007	Freshmen
PHYSICAL SCI ENGLISH 9 ALGEBRA 1 WORLD HISTORY

"I believe that there are good and not-so-good aspects to the 4x4 schedule as adopted by Northeast High School this year. The positive aspects for me are that the students get the opportunity to receive instructions in all classes each day rather than every other day. The material remains fresh in the minds of the students so that recall and review of previous material does not have to be as stressful. Also, most courses are only 18 weeks in duration as opposed to being a year long. Perhaps, one of the reasons that it is a good thing also can make it unattractive to students. That is the fact that the students do see the same teachers every day. This does require that the students stay ahead in regard to assignments and class projects."

We can't forget the people who work hard behind the scene of the school who do the nitty gritty no one else could do. In the cafeteria the staff works hard to feed the hungry staff and students with good food. We have our security staff that works hard trying to keep our school safe. We also have new police officers helping our security staff patrol the grounds of the school. Custodians are last but not least, they stay late everyday cleaning to make sure the school looks good the next day. So next time you see these people wish them a nice day.

'04 Football

The Viking Football team began with a positive sign. They scored 21 points against Salem HS, the 2002 3-A State runner-up. Several touchdowns were called back. This was the difference between victory and defeat. The team was lead by Eric Anderson, Lorenzo

Dean, Ryan Johnson, and Michael Parker in victories over Southeast and University Academy to prove their potential. This year our football team has put spirit, heart, and soul into every game. As long as the Northeast Vikings football team strives for the best, Purple Pride will survive forever.

Injured Gerald Greenfield paces behind the team waiting for his return to action.

“Destined for Victory” is how you would describe the boy’s soccer team this year. They had a long and arduous season with other schools canceling games. With districts right around the corner, they again must face Raytown South once again. With a record of 10-2-1 and most of the team leaving at the end of the year, the underclassman must step it up a notch next year.

Building For The Future

This was a building year for the Northeast High School Volleyball Team. With only two seniors on the varsity squad, many underclassmen received valuable experience. Next year's squad will benefit from this. The "Purple Pride" should be on fire when the 2005 edition hits the court.

HOME COMING

Northeast 53 - Van Horn 12

On November 6, 2003, Northeast had its Homecoming for the 2003-04 school year. The Northeast football team played against Van Horn. We won with a final score of 53-12. During halftime, the 2003 Homecoming Royalty was presented. Freshman prince and princess were Ngoc Tram Dinh and Andres Uribe. The Sophomore prince and princess were Veronica Henderson and Evan Ross. The Junior prince and princess were Kelsha Donell and Jeremy James. The Senior king and queen (bottom left) were Stephanie Parish and Freddy Vickers. Congratulations to all nominees. Also, congratulations to the Northeast football team on a well deserved victory!!!

COURT WARMING

On the night of February 13, 2004 Northeast had its Courtwarming at Manual, the Northeast Vikings as well as the lady Vikings played against Southeast. Both the boys and the girls teams came out victorious blowing their competition away.

Running 4 Glory

The boy's cross country team included Okleo Omot, Lenés Chery, Mabor Riak, Simon Holguin, Gabriel Allen and Robenson Presuit.

The girl's cross country team included Taabo Mikaya, Dina Yakata, and Aboul Arou.

Once again, the Northeast Cross Country team dominated the Interscholastic League Championship. In the girl's competition Dina Yakata placed 1st, Taabo Mikaya placed 2nd, and Aboul Arou placed 7th. They were all named to the IL All-Conference team.

In the boy's varsity race, Okleo Omot placed 1st, Lenés Chery placed 2nd, and Fidel Gutierrez placed 3rd. In addition, Gabriel Allen placed 5th. These four men's finishers dominated the IL League All-Conference men's team. Mabor Riak finished in 16th place and Simon Holguin in 22nd place. With these victories under their belts, both teams are now headed to District and State competition.

BASEBALL

READY

FOR

2004!

The 2003 Baseball season was a success although the overall record was not. The team won six Conference games, and defeated the previous district champions on two occasions. Outstanding players were Bryan Simons with a .667 batting average. Clinton Christman was our best pitcher. He had the best record and was the most effective catcher while batting .642. Freddie Vickers improved in the field and at the plate. We have great hopes for the 2004 baseball season with over half of our team returning. Returning players are Alain Icart, Jr. Nations, Brian Marcille, David Arrieta, Anthony Clark, and Mike Parker. We finished the season losing six games by less than one run per game. We scored 30 runs and allowed 36. This year we will turn that around.

"Everyday is a new opportunity. You can build on yesterday's success or put its failures behind and start over again. That's the way life is, with a new game everyday, and that's the way baseball is."

At the time the yearbook went to press, girls' soccer team is meeting and practicing for the spring season. Shown are Ariadna Garnica, Nallely Garnica, Phala Thach, Claudia Alvidrez, Monica Alvidrez, Johana Parra, and Jessica Renteria.

Can They Do It?

The girls soccer team hopes to improve their record this year. They want to create a big winning streak! The girls coach, Mr. Gifford stated "this is a new team. It's our 2nd year together. Last year was fairly unsuccessful but this year promises to be much better." With a confident coach, this team is sure to improve greatly. With the girls practicing hard, we hope that they can do it!

The Boys Varsity Basketball Team showed such great potential for the 2004 campaign that Mr. Madison remained as coach although he retired from his teaching duties. Once again, perseverance was the key as many teams in the district had improved since last year. As the Vikings face district competition, we hope the last game is a victory at "State"

NHS

Mrs. Waller is the Sponsor for the National Honor Society 2003-2004.

National Honor Society was started in 1921. Its purpose was to emphasize academics. For a student to be asked to join NHS, they have to maintain a 3.5 gpa from their freshman year throughout high school. At the end of a student's sophomore year, they are asked to be a member of NHS. When you are asked to be a member of NHS, you attend a candlelight ceremony where the four qualities of Honor Society are discussed: scholarship, leadership, character, and service. The students have to coordinate 4 projects each, but because NC is the best, they coordinate 8 projects a year. Some of the past projects are adopting a family at Christmas time, Teacher Appreciation Day and walkathons to raise money for kidney disease.

The Vocational Education program is an everyday class that students take to get a head start in their field of interest. The classes are offered at Manuel Tech Center and at East Campus. The program offers students to study Culinary Arts, Collision Repair, Nursing, Broadcasting, and Fashion Design among others.

The program has proven to be successful as it encourages students to pursue their career dreams by involving them in hands-on activities. Also the programs available give insight to students about what goes on in the "real world"

DECA

What is DECA? It is a program for making students who wish to burrow deeper into the world of retail. DECA teaches marketing students how to plan, organize and control a business. This is the second year for the Northeast DECA.

DECA members are Betty Parton, Courtney Winfield, Kerra Wilborn, Ivory Duncan, Madonna Guerra, Alexis Holden, Jasmine Jackson, Rafael Jones, Krystal Palmerin, Jessica Renterria, and Stephanie Williams

Principal's Leadership Group

Principal's Leadership is a collaboration between Northeast High School and Avila. Principals Leadership is lead by Professor Maria Hunt. Professor Hunt helps bring the students leadership skills up to a higher level. The students brainstorm about what should be done to have a brighter future for NE. Principal Clark is an active member as is school counselor Ms. Suzane Fisher.

Polar Bear Club

Polar Bear is an organization that's part of the gym department. The club is lead by Coach Small, she is the sponsor and she is the one who makes sure that every student does their exercises in a good, effective and safe way. The club offers students a chance to work out in a regular gym without the hassle of the membership fee.

Academic Team requires focus, but this is over the edge!

The Academic Team

During February & the beginning of March all of the JROTC academic team, including Northeast's very own, get a chance to compete in a mind game called The Knowledge Bowl, which is similar to Jeopardy. The game is based on their ability to ask and answer questions in a matter of minutes, knowledge, and most of all, teamwork. This is a double elimination format in which if you lose twice you'll be eliminated from the competition. They only practice two times a week. Lt. R. Hilliard believes "The academic team is for students who enjoy studying and competition." Last year they won the 2nd place trophy at the championships, beating Lincoln College Prep two years in a row. This year is looking bright for our young academic team.

JROTC

The mission of JROTC is to motivate young people to become better citizens. It tries to teach leadership, responsibility, teamwork and goal setting. The advantages of being a JROTC cadet are that it prepares you for the real world, and teaches you to have respect for authority in class. There are so many great activities to get students out from behind their desks, including opportunities to learn, make friendships, and learn teamwork.

Armed Drill Team

It takes motivation, dedication, and sacrifice to become a winning team. In the 2002-2003 school year, the Armed Drill Team was very successful. They went to all the drill meets and placed in every event. Their hard training and every day practices pay off. They went to Florida and took first in Armed Exhibition and second in the Armed Regulation. For this year, it's going to take a lot of hard work. Since the school year began, there have been issues with the scheduling system. But we have faith in the team that they will strive for the number one spot this year.

Reaching for the TOP

Unarmed Drill Team

Candace-Russell is the Unarmed Drill Team Commander for the year 2003-2004. The Executive Officer is Barbara Wright. This year will be a competitive and successful drill season. The Unarmed Drill Team has lots of teamwork, team spirit, team motivation and a lot of team dedication. Its members demonstrate team dedication by staying after school on Tuesdays and Thursdays. The best part of being on the Unarmed Drill Team is the drill meets they attend and the big trip to Daytona Beach, Florida.

Color Guard (For the Flags)

The school year of 2002-2003 was a rebuilding year for the Color Guard with only one senior member on the team. They lacked a lot of experience. This didn't bring their motivation down. The Color Guard of Northeast (The Guard Doggs) has always been a winner, so their goal was to bring that level of excellence back. They went through the year placing in five out of seven drill meets. They finished in first place on Field Day and in third place at the National Competition. With a total of seven seniors, the Color Guard will be at full strength. Color Guard. Row 1: Justin Vargas, Cieara Jackson, Adriana Garnica; Row 2: Nicholas Dobbins, Christopher Hernandez, David Arrieta, Jose Ayala, Yoleidis Venta, and Antoine Brown.

MARKSMANSHIP

The Rifle Team

The rifle team is a very competitive Olympic sport. It consists of three-catergorized positions: prone, kneeling, and standing. To qualify for the rifle team, an individual needs to shoot over 200 pts. on all three targets. They had won the Springfield Competition for five consecutive years until last year. This year, they have a very strong team that will win first place. Their team wins district competition every year. At the end of the year, their best shooters will be selected to go to Jefferson City for State competitions.

4 Points of the Compass

This activity is a way of land navigating. A team consists of three cadets who use a compass and map to find their way through a course. During competition, there are several levels of courses. White is the easiest and red the hardest. Cadets learn to work as a team. For their efforts, teams receive medals in all the categories.

This work uncovers evidence to be used against other teams. When the debates are over, the Northeast team brings home plenty of awards and medals along with the respect of many competitors.

Eight cars. One garage.
Something's gotta give.

It won't make the decision any easier, but you'll be glad to know every 2003 Volkswagen comes with over 50 standard features and a way down their lease rate or APR. Better bring one of those magic eight ball things with you.

Eighteen years ago, you were my precious little baby. Now you have blossomed into a beautiful, intelligent, and wise young lady. I am impressed with your perseverance and determination to get to graduation day. No matter what anyone said or thought, you were going to walk across that stage. Now you have your whole life ahead of you. If you keep God first, not only will he make all of your dreams come true, but you'll find out that there is nothing that you can't do.

I Love You Your Mom.

Congratulations !

Julian Daniel Cook

You have accomplished so much. This is just a little something to show how proud we are of you. Hope you succeed in everything you do.

-With love from the Cook family-

School uniforms, What do "U" think?

"I'm for the uniforms. I'm never sure what I want to wear in the morning."
Gabrielle Walker

This is the second year that Northeast High School students had to wear uniforms. Most students have gotten used to the idea, but there are still a few who would rather wear their own clothes.

We are Northeast. We are the Vikings. Names with long and rich past but even a brighter future. Through these halls ring our voices --Voices of the young, voices of tomorrow. We are growing, striving, reaching to find our own identity. At times we struggle within ourselves in silence like the moment before the dawn, and just as suddenly as the first rays of morning explode over the earth, we lash out to find our place.

Putting the yearbook together was frustrating and hard. A lot of work, time, effort, and dedication was put into making this yearbook the best one Northeast has ever seen. From working long days to finish pages, to funding the production of the book; we faced many challenges, but we managed to work through them. We'd like to thank everyone who bought books and ads. Without their time and money, our book would not have been possible.

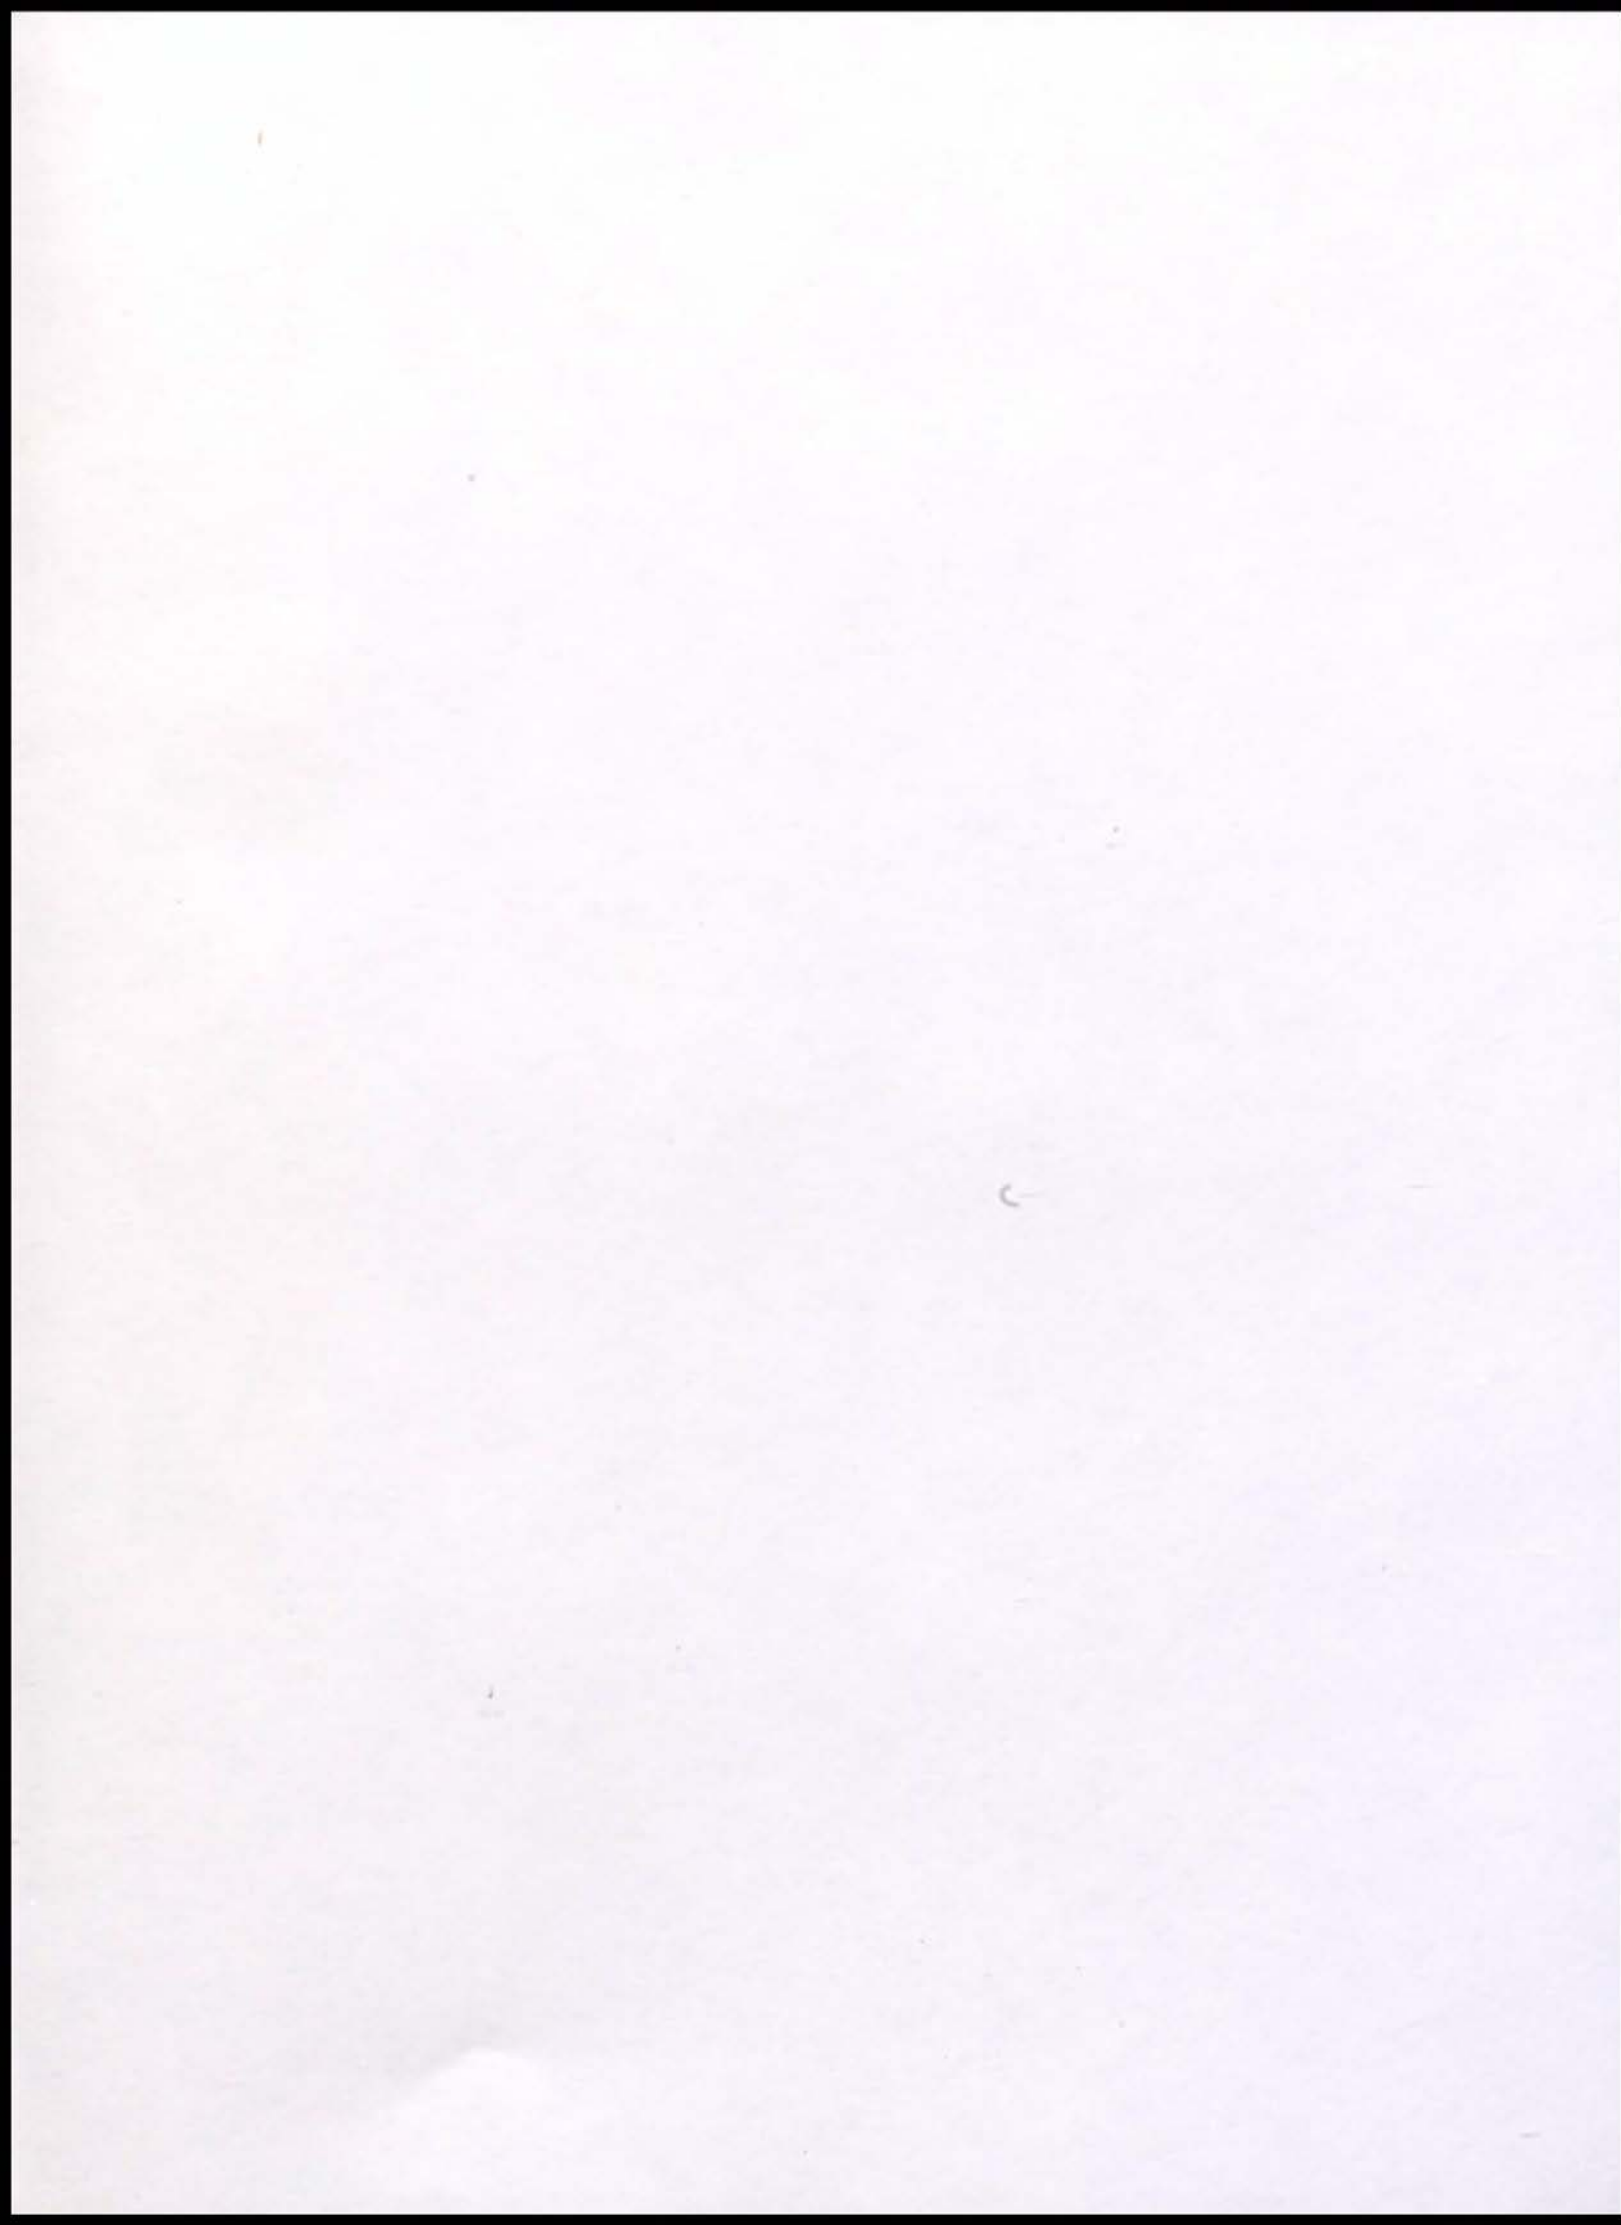

This year was more difficult than any other year. Despite the struggle to get a working system, and meke deadlines, I did whatever it took to get the job done. I stayed at school late, gave up my dismissal hour, and stayed late on half days. It was all like having a second job without the pay. Some days were good, some were bad, but I was always happy to work side by side with Mr. Gray. Thank you for putting up with me every day.

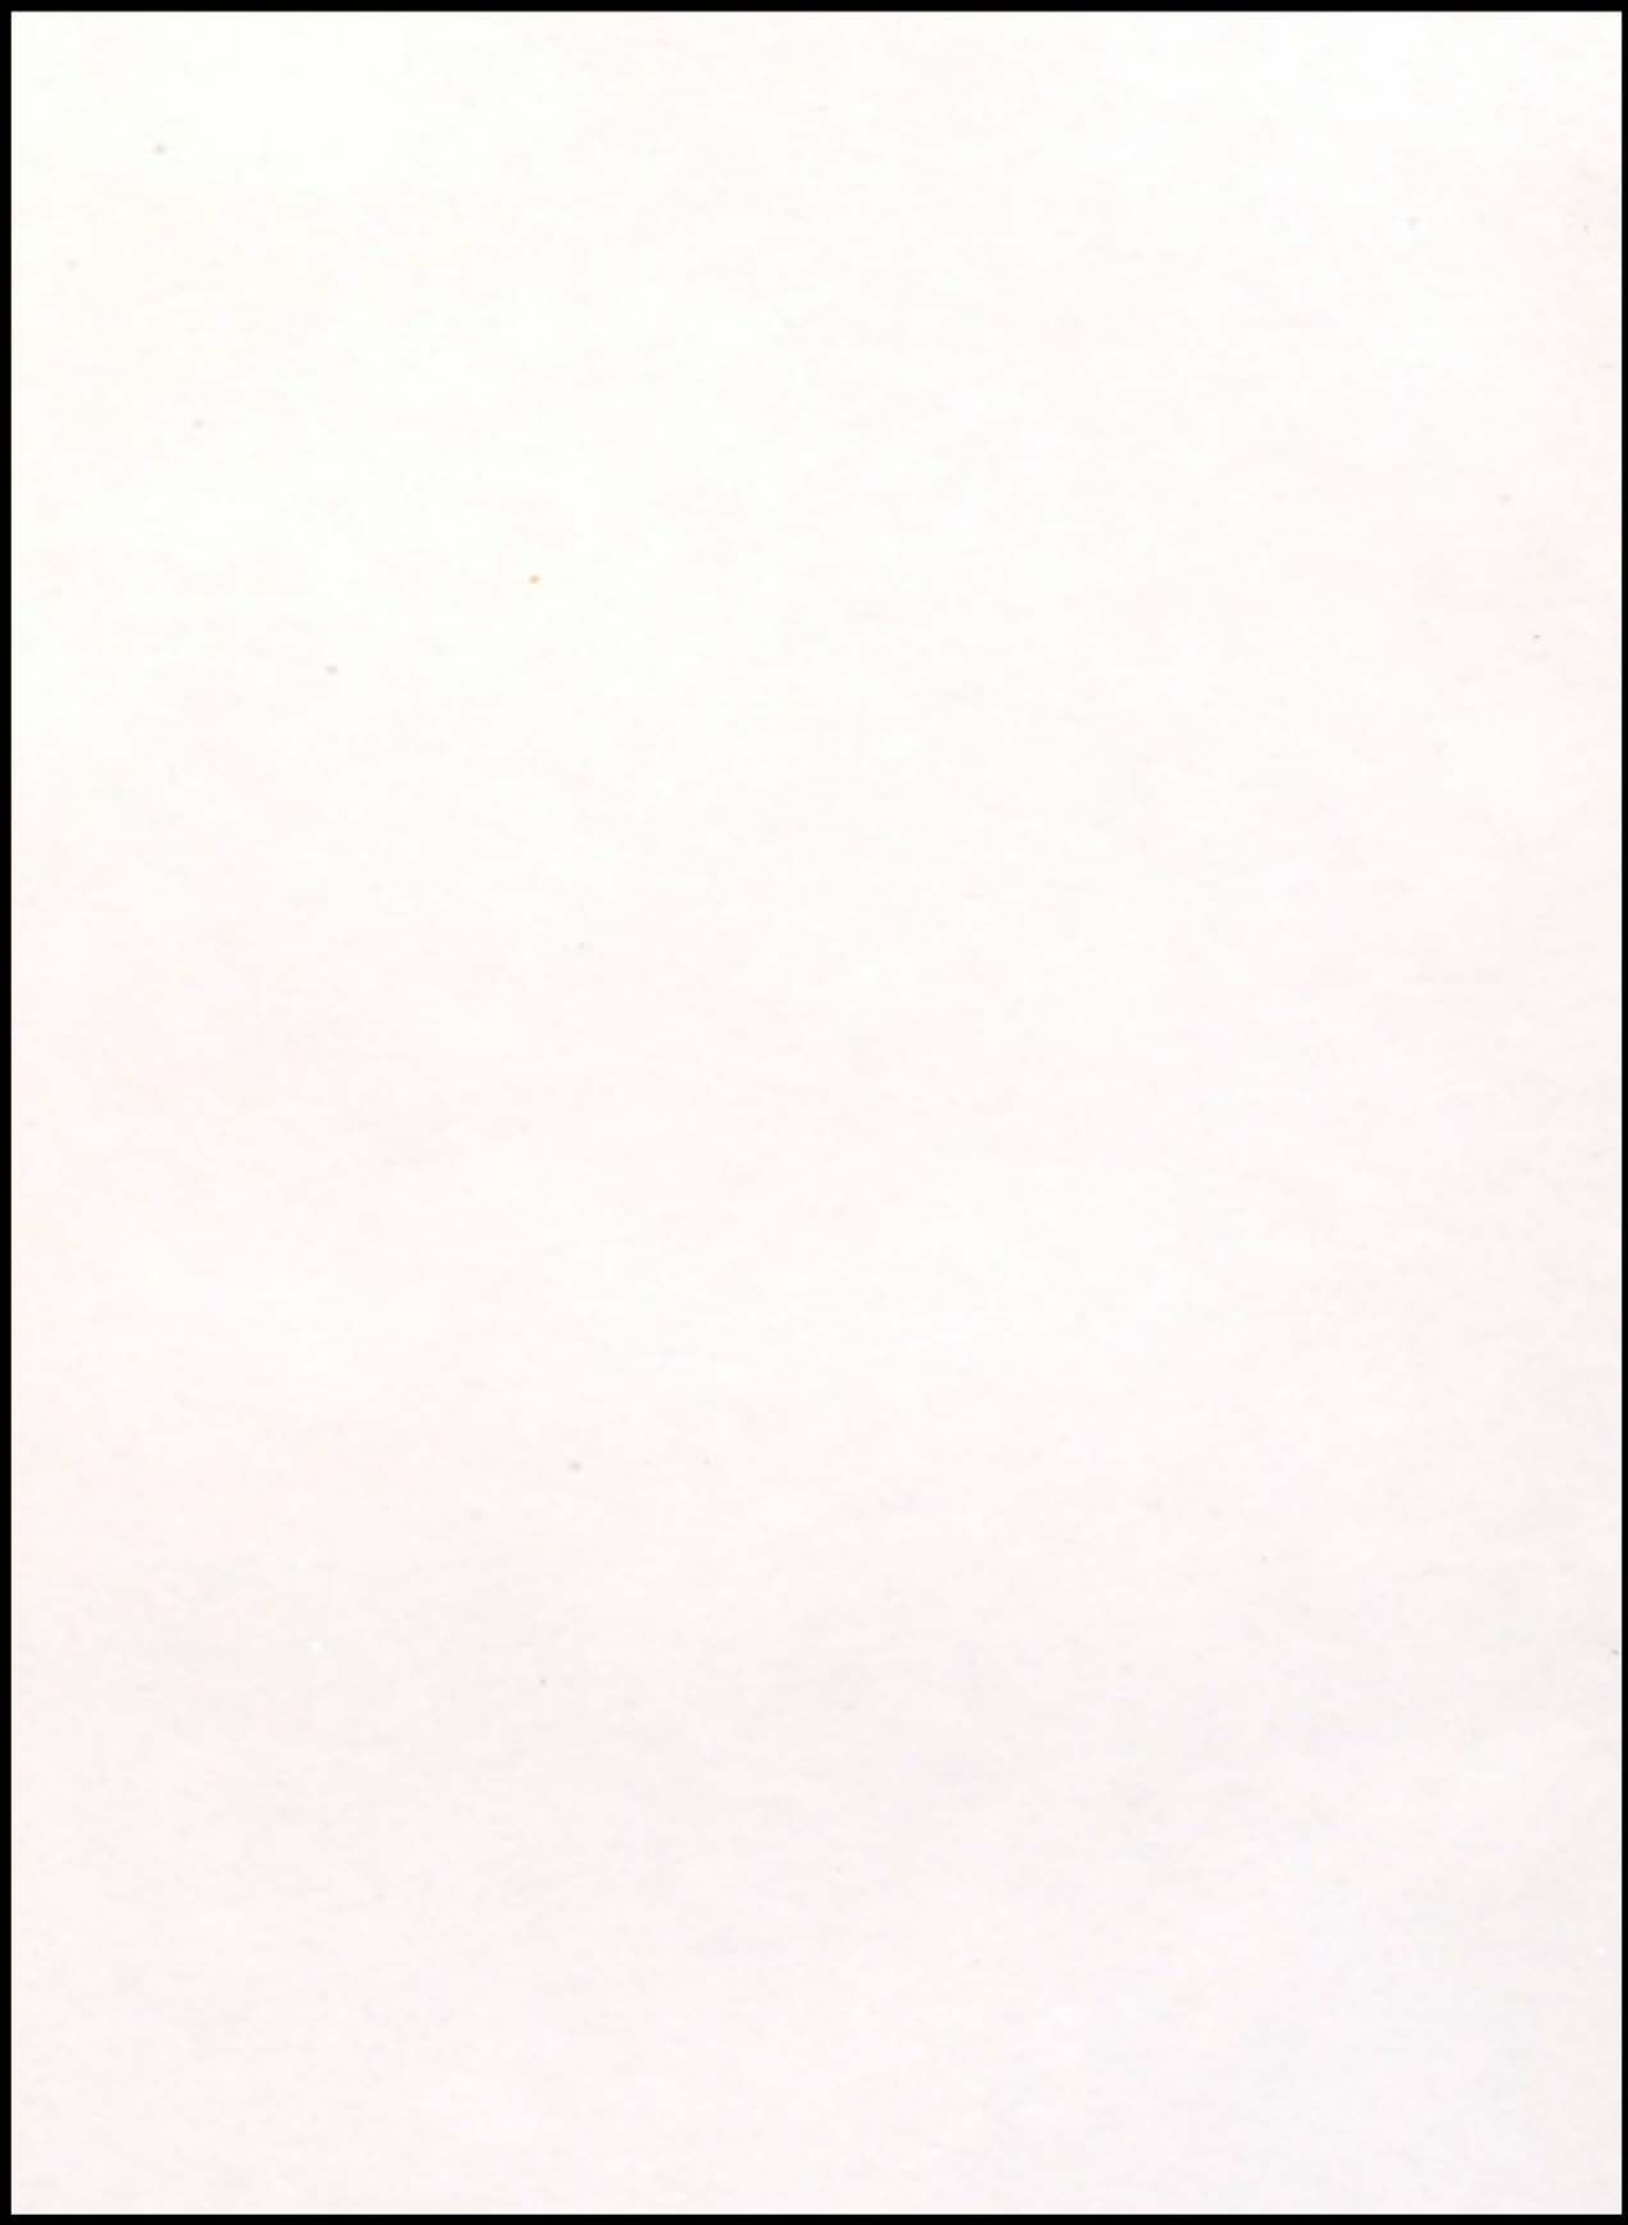

To my yearbook staff you were a difficult group to work with, but in the end I felt that we made a great accomplishment. I'm very happy you endured my attitude, the lectures, and the nagging. I hope you realized how much you work helped in the final production of this book. Thanks to all my staff and the people who helped me even though they weren't part of the staff. Thanks for making the necessary pictures and writing the copy that went into this book. I hope everyone appreciates all the work, time, effort, and dedication my staff and I invested in this yearbook. Being the yearbook editor was quite an experience, but I enjoyed it. I wish much luck to the next editor and hope that he or she enjoys the job as much as I did.
