Northeast cheerleaders stomping at the Pep Rally

Health Fair for the Health & Wellness students

Show Choir sings at Awards Ceremony for outstanding students

Spring Bling '06

Spring Bling '06 got started the right way at Northeast. Cheerleaders and JROTC performers did an excellent job at the pep rally for our courtwarming basketball game. The Health & Wellness small learning community held a Health Fair for its students. Stations were set up for the students to visit with experts in their health career fields. Many students had an exciting time talking with experts at the different stations. The Show Choir performed at an Awards Ceremony for students who did outstanding in certain classes. The biggest event of the spring was the Teachers vs. Students Basketball Game. Teachers claim it was a blow out, but students want a re-match. Students and staff members can't wait to see the next match up.

STUDENT QUOTES

DO YOU LIKE YOUR COMMUNITY?

Megan Woodrome, a senior at Northeast says, "I've been in the Health & Wellness community for all four years that I've been here at Northeast, and I've always liked it!"

Elaine Wagner, a sophomore at Northeast says, "I have been in Health & Wellness since my freshman year at Northeast. I think it's fun, & we have a lot of good teachers in this community!"

Tierra Morrison, a senior at Northeast says, "I have been in this community ever since I was a freshmen & I enjoy it a lot because it is helping me to prepare me for my career in nursing!"

The Health and Wellness community is one of the four small learning communities at Northeast High School. The small learning communities were established in 2003. The Health and Wellness community is mainly about trying to help students to have more concern for their personal health issues and to give them opportunities for internships and health careers. Many students have chosen to be in this community not because they want to be a nurse or a doctor but because this community is also based on other things besides the medical field. It also revolves around gymnastics, fitness, dieticians, veterinarians, and anything that relates to having or keeping a healthy body.

Mr. Zuber

Mr. Zuber is the Health and Wellness Counselor. He said, "I really like all of my students, and I want them to strive to be the very best that they can!"

Ms. Roberts is a Health and Wellness Teacher. She said, "Health & Wellness is the best because we have new leadership & creative ideas to benefit the Health & Wellness students."

Express Yourself

Tattoos, body art, and body piercing have always been a big trend in the adolescent culture. There are teenagers everywhere from many different countries and various backgrounds who use these trends to make a statement.

Some use these trends to tell a story or to prove their courage; others may view tattoos, body art, and piercings as a sign of beauty or a way to show their individuality. No matter what the reason is, tattoos, body art, and piercings are all ways to express yourself and show your individuality within a fashion trend.

These are Northeast most loved Teachers. See if you can match their quotes with their pictures. Be sure to read the quotes carefully. (Don't worry: the answers are at the bottom of the page!)

Mr. Mark Gifford teaches Biology, Chemistry and Physics. He's also a sponsor of the Robotics club. He summed up his childhood in a meaningful quote, "It was fun as a kid, but rough as a teenager."

Mrs. Monika Raglin teaches sophomore students. She's from the Kansas City area. She attended Hogan High school and stated, "I love going to school."

A. This teacher grew up on a farm in Leon, Iowa. This teacher is proud to be an American.

C. This person teaches African-American History and American History. This person grew up in an all black high school and community. The first time this person sat next to a white person was freshman year in college.

D. This person teaches physical education to seniors and juniors. In high school, he was a good athlete and graduated from Southeast High school.

B. This teacher is fairly new here at Northeast. This person teaches Chemistry, Physics, and Biology. They were raised in a Phillipino home with an ocean nearby. Their most memorable childhood memories are of running barefoot and praying together with their family at 6:00 p.m.

Marcel Duncan says, "This football season was great & also the best that we've had since my freshman year! It was also upsetting for the team. We had our good times along with our bad times this season! The coaches were great! I'm going to miss football, & I wish good luck to next year's team! I'll be here to support you!"

Trey Shirley says, "It was a good year for playing with people that I have just met this year!"

Hosea Adams says, "Football is the dream life!"

THE BATTALION STAFF CONSISTS OF ONLY JUNIORS & SENIORS! THE BATTALION COMMANDER MARY SCOTT SAYS, "IT'S NOT EASY BEING A LEADER IN J.R.O.T.C.; PEOPLE ARE ALWAYS WATCHING YOU TO SEE IF YOU ARE DOING THE RIGHT THING & SETTING A GOOD EXAMPLE FOR THE OTHER STUDENTS. These last few years have been very challenging for me. I fought to finish my goal of graduating from Northeast, & tried to learn from the experience. I will miss the things & the people at Northeast, but I will especially miss my sergeants & Viking Battalion. You guys kept me sane & gave me hope for my generation. I will never forget drill meets, long hours of practice, & the people of room 123. Next year, Juniors it's all yours. Senior class, don't ever be afraid to be who you are & never go with the flow because you are afraid. Live life slowly & don't ever take a day for granted.

CONGRATULATIONS!!!

Tierra,

Look at you now, you go girl! All blessings come from God and that's what you are, and he blessed me with you. Your birth helped to instill strength and courage in me that helped to mold me into the woman and mother I knew I had to be for you. You have blossomed into a beautiful and intelligent young woman now. You have and I know you will continue to make me proud. It is an honor and a privilege to have you call me mom. To me you are like 1st prize in a sweepstakes and I won!

Colophon

The 91st edition of the Northeast High School Nor'Easter yearbook was printed by Jostens Printing and Publishing Co., Topeka, KS. The Jostens representative was Carl Caldwell. The press run was 275. The Nor'Easter was created by 21 staff members on 10 Acer computers using Jostens YearTech Online program, Microsoft Word, and Picasa. The yearbook staff developed the theme. The cover is studio screen with gold hot foil. Endsheets are snow white. Paper is 80 pound glossy. Yearbook staff members took pictures with digital Olympus and Canon cameras, and all print images were scanned using a Lexmark X2250 printer/scanner/copier. Additional photos were taken by Mr. Ray, Northeast Photography teacher. Portrait photos were taken by Lifetouch Photography. The book contains 104 pages with one signature of color. Special thanks to all 2007 advertisers, and all students, faculty, staff, and friends who contributed to this year's success.
