Paseo Honor Roll

At the close of the first semester, two honor rolls were compiled, including the names of the students from all of the four classes. Many of our students won places on these honor rolls the first semester and many new names will be added at the close of the second semester. This year ten students have made the Highest Honor Roll and seventy-one have made the General Honor Roll. This number compares favorably with that of last year, as more placed on the Highest Honor Roll this year.

There are two sets of standards for the General Honor Roll. To be eligible, the student must carry at least three solids and one non-solid, or the equivalent, and the final semester grades must meet either of the following conditions: No grade below M and as many as three E's in solids, or two E's in solids and two E's in non-solids; or no grade below S and as many as two E's in solids, or one E in a solid and two E's in non-solids. To be eligible for the Highest Honor, the student must make all E's.

National Honor Society

During the last semester the second Paseo group was elected to the National Honor Society under the charter which the school received last year. Thirty seniors and six juniors were elected to membership in addition to the four students elected last year. Membership is based on scholarship, character, leadership and service. From the upper fourth of the senior class in scholarship, the faculty elects ten per cent to membership in the National Honor Society. One per cent of the junior class is elected to carry on the flaming torch until next year. The emblem of the National Honor Society is the keystone and the flaming torch. Fred Kiel is the president this year.

The senior members are: Myron Blotcky, George Boyd, Lois Jane Brandon, Theresa Brandt, Carrol Brown, Dale Bullock, Ruth Burnley, Doris Burns, Robert Craycraft, Elsie Dell, Virgil Dow, Dudley Dreher, Lois Eby, J. J. Fedler, Albert Fizzell, Clarice Ghormley, Asenath Hurst, Genevieve Kelley, Louise Elizabeth Kennedy, Fred Kiel, Eugene Liddy, Walter Lyman, Bessie Mallin, Rachel Massey, Irene Mathis, Marian Paulette, Irene Petershagen, Herbert Roush, John Rumsey, Mary Sleeper, Sophie Spillman, William Staver, Ruth Talbott and Joan Woodward. The junior members are: Danae Walters, Felice Stampfle, Franklin Carr, Marietta Seay, Marie Roediger and Eleanor Pratt.

Extemporaneous Speaker

Doris Burns was the Paseo representative in the interscholastic extemporaneous speaking contest this year. The contest is sponsored by the Young Men's Civic Forum and deals with civic and industrial questions. Doris, in the city-wide finals between the high schools, won a gold medal. She received her subject twenty-four hours before the contest. Her subject was "The Improvement of Kansas City's Contacts With Its Trade Territory." This was given at a banquet at the Baltimore Hotel.

Oration Speaker

Walter Lyman won the Oratorical Speaking Contest at Paseo. He has always displayed talent as a Orator, since he has spoken at school assemblies, has been a Charity Drive Speaker, and has spoken over the radio. He has been in all the school plays, since he entered Paseo. Although he did not enter the contest last year or the year before, he won first place this year with an outstanding oration. Walter has been prominent in school affairs and was elected the boy who has done most for Paseo on the senior ballot.

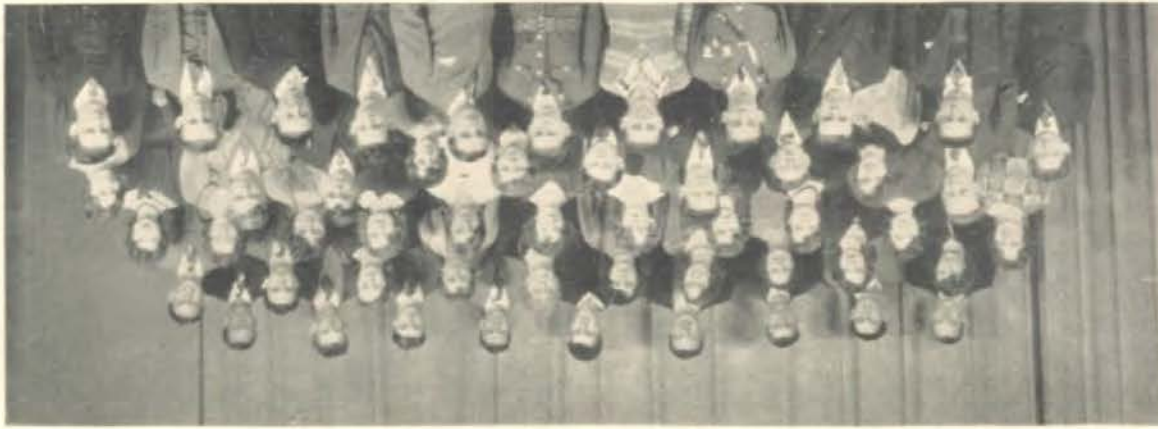

Solo Contest

Pauline Small, representing the Kansas City Chapter of the State Federation of Music Clubs, won first place in the Solo Contest held at Jefferson City, Missouri, on April 6. She also won first place in the city-wide high school music contest. At an assembly given by the charter clubs of Paseo, she represented the Thicion Literary Society by singing several solos. She took a part in the Footlight Fantasies and the Christmas pageant and has given a recital.

Student Council

The representatives for the first semester were: Myron Blotcky, Mary Merrick, Bill Townsend, Ruth Burnley, Richard DeKard, Fred Hargis, Wallace Hedinger, Hester Baker, Lewis Rowland, John Clay, William Staver, Virgil Dow, Bob Schwindler, Merial Sandy, Doris Burns, Josephine Smith, Mary Alice Brunner, Monte Rosenblum, Yvette Woodard, Winston Ankerson, Maude Ferguson, William Lutz, Paul Marchant, Mary Garland, Horace White, Audrey Willey, Virginia Bevins, Bobbie Lee Carter, Vivian Dodson, Dorothy Cooper, Glenn Lambert, Margaret Silverstein, Wayne Thompson, Dolores Walters, Frank Roberts, J. C. Kendall, Ira Wittschner, Rogar Bird, Maxine Ellison, Helen McHenry, Dick Flurry, Harriet Gaylord, Dorothy Shelton, Evelyn Keinkenamur, Paul Meyer, Harry Cashier, Milton Stomp, Elmer Englehart, Leonard Soslund, Dorothy Gleason, Virginia Mayes, Billie Slaven, George Grant, George Longan. The two senior members of the executive board were Bill Townsend and Merial Sandy; the junior members, Vivian Dodson and William Lutz; the sophomore members, Maxine Ellison and Dick Flurry; the freshman members, Dorothy Gleason and George Grant.

The Student Council of Paseo High School has been formed so as to develop a closer relationship between the faculty and the student body, to afford opportunities for student self-direction, to foster all school activities, to provide a form for discussion of student interests, and to maintain high standards of citizenship. In these respects, the Student Council has solved many problems of vital importance, and therefore fulfilled its purpose. These accomplishments have been due to the faithful efforts of the president, Robert Schwindler; the vice-president, Lewis Rowland; the secretary, Doris Burns; the treasurer, Virgil Dow; and the sergeant-at-arms, John Kumsay. The executive board, in coordination with Miss Thomas, faculty advisor, labored diligently for the benefit of the entire student body. The standing committees of the Student Council are the Property, the Courtesy, the Safety, and the School History. A gigantic subscription campaign for the Paseo Press was launched at the beginning of the first semester. This campaign was successfully conducted by the representatives in the various home rooms.

Student Council

The most important task that was undertaken by the second semester Student Council was the campaign for the selling of the Paseons in the home rooms. Each morning, the representatives took the names of those buying Paseons and took the money into the Paseon office. At the end of this campaign, the representatives had sold 1300 Paseons. The handbooks were again placed on sale, on account of an increased demand by freshmen and new students. At the beginning of the second semester, another campaign was launched for the selling of subscriptions to the Paseo Press. This was very successful and was of great aid to the Paseo Press. A resolution was passed to the effect that flowers should be purchased by the entire student body for any student who should pass away during the year. The second semester officers were president, John Rumsey; vice-president Herbert Roush; secretary, Margaret Duncan; treasurer, Fred Kiel; sergeant-at-arms, Hugh Kuder. Miss Thomas proved to be as great a help to the second semester council as she had been to that of the first semester, and she was greatly appreciated.

The representatives for the second semester were: Helen Brandon, Sylvia Katz, Dorothy Shelton, Kenneth Purpus, Myron Ellison, George Bartholomaeus, Virginia Smith, Eleanor Pratt, Glenn Freeman, Thomas McCully, Francis Uken, Wanda McCollum, John Rumsey, Virginia Spears, Carroll Godbey, Billy Talbott, Wilbur Cavender, Grant Henning, Ruth Burnley, Ray Sweeney, Mary Louise Allegri, Margaret Bowser, Dick Flurry, Velma Tanner, Lula Belle Schultz, Dorothy Gleason, Dorothy Daugherty, Bernard Gadwood, Herbert Roush, Lillian Koppel, Sadie Jarda, Madeline Boyce, Ella Mae Fairce, Bob Schwindler, Charles Gargacz, Milton Stomp, Martha Rouen, Maxine Holic, John Clay, Milton Hogan, Lois Eby, Virgil Dow, Maurine Meadows, Merial Sandy, Frank Kritzer, George Longan, Maxine Ellison, Raymond Sherman, Margaret Handy, Josephine Smith, Hugh Kuder, Jack Duncan, Margaret Duncan, Mary Bender, Fred Kiel, Ruth McClelland, Helen Martha Motley, Betty Milot. The members of the executive board were: Lois Eby, Margaret Handy, Billy Talbott, Jack Duncan, Bernard Gadwood, Virginia Smith, Milton Stomp, and Grant Henning.

Paseon Staff

The staff of the 1929 Paseon has felt that in following the good example set by the staff of the 1928 Paseon they have received inspiration and help. Since several of the members were also on the staff of last year's annual, it has been made a great deal easier for those who heretofore have had no experience in the building of the "Book Beautiful." All the members have labored diligently to produce a book which would be representative of their best efforts and which would be a true picture and record of school life at Paseo during 1928 and 1929. The book is essentially an annual for the school and not a senior book.

The Paseon, which in the past two years has won two blue ribbons and numerous other awards, has this year several added features in its art and literary work. The editors have been assisted by a great number of students in the write-ups and in the art work. It is the desire of the whole staff to thank these people who so ably helped in the publishing of the book. We also wish to thank the advisors who have been perhaps one of the biggest reasons for the success of the book. The advisors were: Mr. Cramer, business director; Miss Irene Blase, literary director, and Miss Delle Miller, art director.

Paseo Press Staff

The Paseo Press in its second year has followed the policy, adopted last year, of promoting school activities and developing a student interest. A new column, the "Dear Editor" column, was instituted so that the students would be able to speak through the medium of a newspaper which is read by at least three quarters of the student body.

Miss Koehane, who reads all of the copy, is one of the biggest factors in the success of the paper. Mr. Voth instructs the printing classes, who printed the paper and were responsible for its neat appearance. Miss Delle Miller instructs the art class, which turns out all the cartoons done for the paper. To these people, the staff owes their thanks.

Paseo Press Staff

During the second semester, the press staff has attempted to make as its main object the covering of all the news. The paper has been entered in two press associations during this semester, the Missouri Press Association and the Central Scholastic Press Association. A new addition has been made to the paper in the shape of the Raving

Correspondent, a column in which the lives of some of the prominent members of the school are told in an interesting manner. The paper, though it is yet a pioneer movement at Paseo, has proved a great success in the eyes of the staff and the student body. The second semester staff has the same group of teachers to thank for their help.

GIRLS' CHORAL CLUB

The members of the Girls' Choral Club are: Blanche Abrahams, Ila Ashwill, Ramona Blunt, Lorelei Burch, Louise Eviston, Maud Ferguson, Helen Field, Frances Harris, Jane Hershey, Margaret Hudson, Margaret Hynes, Wilma Isle, Clara Kerr, Virginia Kime, Ruth Leffler, Dorothy Lind, Lillian Manning, Betty Milot, Dorothy Murdock, Elsie Reece, Florence Roadifer, Margaret Ross, Audrey Shontz, Adeline Terwilliger, Mary Titterington, Hazel Thornton, Dorothy Waters, Ruth Weidemann, Dorothy Wickstrom, Frances Wilson, Helen Rams, Dorothy Langley, Zelpha Ashwill, Madelyn Baxter, Nora Belton, Doris Bowen, Mary Margaret Bowser, Florence Burseen, Mary L. Castledine, Helen Clemons, Phyllis Clow, Vivian Dodson, Margaret Dunn, Rosena Eldridge, Peggy Gill, Benita Ann Griffin, Alma Hatten, Florence Hershey, Jewel Hornbeck, Mary Kranitz, Anne La Culia, Maxine Lafferty, Doris Matchett, Lotus Mayes, Wanda McCollum, Betty Mary Opels, Evelyn Parsons, Esther Raines, Pauline Small, Corrinne Sorber, Vera Robinson, Dorothy Clause, Maxine Stinson, Opal Uanskiki, Mary Jane Walt, Viola May Wessel, Naida Groves. The Girls' Choral Club has been highly honored this year. They sang for the teachers of all the Kansas City Schools. They were highly honored by being asked to sing for the Prague Teachers' Chorus at the Hotel Muehlebach. In the solo Contest, Pauline Small won highest honors. The song she sang was "Care Selve" by Handel. The "octet" placed second. In the annual inter-high music contest this spring, Paseo girls came in second, having been rated one hundred per cent by one judge. The officers of this group are: president, Alma Hatten; secretary, Blanche Abrahams; treasurer, Wanda McCollum; reporter, Ruth Leffler; sergeant-at-arms, Pauline Small. The accompanist for the club was Alma Hatten, an excellent pianist. The club was directed by Miss Marguerite Zimmerman, an excellent director, to whom it owes most of its excellent showing.

ORCHESTRA

BAND

The Paseo High School Band completed a very successful year. Their membership increased from thirty-two to sixty, and much new equipment was added, due to the efforts of the P. T. A. and Mr. Stigall's donation from the Carnival fund. They played at all the football games and basketball games and placed twenty-one boys and girls in the city-wide band. The officers for the first term were: Ted Dawson, Paul Marchant, Zackie Clauser, and Leland Harned; the second term, Paul Marchant, Ben Lake, and Walter Parkins. Mr. Virgil V. Edmonds is the director. The band has a large repertoire of good music and have raised their standard to a much higher degree. An Emblem is granted for band and a chevron for each year they are members. They gave a benefit at the Oak Park Theater. This group has given programs in the assembly to the delight of the student body.

BOYS' GLEE CLUB

The members of the Glee Club are: Charles Anderson, Leon Bornstein, Donald Bowman, Leslie Boyer, Rodney Buckley, Mahlon Bullock, Ralph Colvir, Robert Cathern, Virgil Dow, Benjamin Glover, Eugene Grosch, Bob Hanks, Don Hanly, Park Harnden, Charles Hedges, Robert Hogg, Gwinn Huffman, Vern Hutson, Fred Jones, Billy Keith, Paul Kelley, Harold Kindel, Irving Lachs, Sid Lapin, Joseph Mayes, William McElreath, Raymond Perrin, Robert Pigg, Robert Quant, Willis Quant, Junior Tungett, Kenneth Robinson, Stanley Wade, Raymond Waldron, Norvell Waldron, Jean Weber, Frank Kritzer, Ralph Bevan. The officers of the club are: president, Ben Glover; vice-president, Ralph Bevan; secretary-treasurer, Virgil Dow; sergeant-at-arms, Robert Quant; reporter, Irving Lachs. In the annual inter-high music contest, the boys placed "third."

"LUCKY BREAK"

A lucky break was afforded Paseo when the dramatic department, under the direction the necessary sympathetic and philosophical "Break" Friday night, March 22, before a packed house. Myron Blotcky and Lucille Harper, as John Bruce and Nora, respectively, were very pleasing as the victims of one of Cupid's darts. Other members of the cast were: Richard Lyon, Dolores Walters, Lillian Koppel, Velma Beard, Danae Walters, Billy Baldwin, Harriet Gaylord, Woodson Longan, Bob Twyman, Lucille Terry, Betty Lindgren, Lois Derby, Florence Hopping, Alfred Woodward and Donald McCollum. The play was rich in provincial characters and dialogue as the plot concerned one John Bruce, successful business man of the world, who returns to his native town and eventually falls in love with the daughter of an old friend.

“Out of the Stillness”

“Out of the Stillness,” the annual Christmas play was presented to large audiences in the auditorium on Friday and Saturday nights, December 7 and 8, respectively. The play was a comedy drama in three acts and was presented very artistically. Elizabeth Faust, as Marion Deering, displayed her talent in the portrayal of a sister who grieves over the death of her brother in France. Walter Lyman, as Sheridan Blair, produced the necessary sympathetic and philosophical interpretation of his role, in addition to his capable acting. Eileen Deering, the would-be reformer, was played smoothly by Suzanne Lispi. An extremely difficult role, that of Jerry, who in reality was a millionaire's son but who posed as a chauffeur to the Deerings, was portrayed by Bill Baldwin. Richard Lyon added the friendly atmosphere of a neighbor, Byrne Seymour. Ruth McClelland, as Jane Carrol, was won by the persistent efforts of Seymour. Myron Blotcky and Lillian Koppell were Alfred Tevis and Cecile Tevis, respectively. Lucille Harper was Mrs. Deering; Ruth Talbott, Natalie Deering, the “Merry Widow”;

Bobby, Myron Ellison; Bess Roberts, Dolores Walters; Tom Morgan, Frank Richardson; Aunt Lizzie, Maxine Leppert; Lucy, the maid, Lucille Terry; Henry Jerome, Danae Walters. The story is: Marion Deering grieves over her brother's death to such an extent that she refuses to see John Carey, her brother's best friend. John under the name of Sheridan Blair, rents an estate adjoining the Deerings. The Deering house contains a very valuable government document. Alfred Tevis, using his friendship with Natalie as a wedge, becomes a member of the Deering house party and begins a search for the document, accompanied by his wife, Cecile Tevis, acting as his sister. Suspicion is thrown upon John Blair when the envelope is found to be missing. Next morning, Blair discloses he has been keeping Alfred Tevis under his surveillance at the request of the secret service department. The mystery of the document is solved with the appearance of Hamilton Whitney (Richard Shaw), who finds the paper. By this time, Marion has been convinced that death is no barrier and she has come to love Blair.

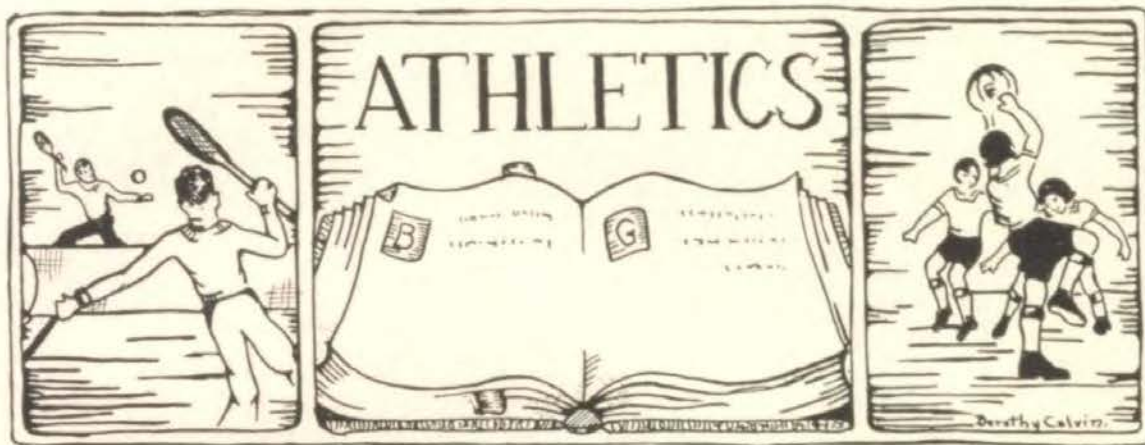

STAGE CREW

The stage crew is made up of five efficient boys who are versed in the problems of lighting, scenery, and other stage properties. This group has learned various valuable things about the decorating of a stage and the effects that may be gained by the use of lights. The members of the crew are: Albert Fizzell, Dudley Dreher, George Boyd, Clarence Lewis, and Alvin Frick. Mr. Cramer, who has been the advisor for three years, has not felt it necessary to supervise the boys continually, so a great deal of the work is done by the members themselves. It is the object of the crew to make the stage business progress smoothly throughout the play and to allow nothing that could possibly be prevented to mar the beauty and attractiveness of a production. At some of the dances, the crew was on hand to manipulate lights and to assist in decorating the rooms.

USHERS

The lunch room squad was organized to accelerate the movement in the lunch room. The members of the squad do not wish to be considered as policemen but instead as friendly assistants. The captain of the squad is Lewis Rowland. There are about fifty members under him. These boys were selected by the teachers and passed on by Mr. Stigall and Mr. Shepherd. During the year, however, the squad was placed under the jurisdiction of the Student Council. From now on, the members are to be selected by the students in the home rooms. As before, Mr. Stigall will ratify the selection and appoint the chairman. A great deal has been accomplished this year by the efforts of the captain and his assistants. It is a very difficult job to keep a cafeteria with about eight hundred people in it from being congested. This has been successfully under the sponsorship of Miss Thomas.

Again Paseo fulfilled the prophecy concerning her outcome in athletics, the prophecy being that she would do as well, if not better than, last year. The football team, playing a winning brand of ball, easily took second for another year. Last year, everybody said it was just "bull-headed luck," but after doing the same thing again, Paseo is now a school to be reckoned with. Paseo has a group of gritty, battling boys who never say they are whipped. They play fair and square at all times with great results. The basketball team, although not fairing as well in the standings as the football team, is a team to be proud of. These boys took a back seat to no one and gave a good account of themselves. The state champion East team was beaten by a big score on the opening night. The fighting Paseo basketekers were beaten only by a small margin. Basketball proved as exciting a sport this year as did football. During both seasons, especially the football season, the attendance at the games was enormous. During the football games, the stands were always packed with enthusiastic Paseo rooters, while the cheerleaders danced wildly before the mob. At the Central game, it was impossible to accommodate the crowd that came to watch these two schools clash in football.

The track team has already shown itself to be far from weak. Wyandotte downed the Paseo trackmen in a hard fought dual meet. Westport was handsomely drubbed a few weeks later, the Pirates winning nearly every event. A great deal of the success of the athletic teams is due Mr. Harley Selvidge, our faithful and admirable head coach, and Mr. Raymond Fisher, our equally hard working assistant coach. Mr. Selvidge coaches the football and basketball teams, while Mr. Fisher coaches the second football team and the track squad. Mr. Fisher was well known for his famous track work at K. U., where he won any number of honors. Besides the major athletics, there are at Paseo, two minor sports, namely, tennis and golf. As Mr. Selvidge said one day at any assembly, the boy who makes himself a good tennis player or a good golf player is really wiser than the boy who makes himself an excellent basketball or football player. He gave as his reason the fact that an older man uses golf and tennis to keep up his physical condition, while football and basketball would prove useless to him in that capacity. This year has been a successful one for the athletic department. It is to be hoped that next year and the years following will also prove so.

This year, the cheer leaders proved themselves worthy of praise. The cheering was better than ever at the football games, the opposing school doing its best to drown out the piercing yells of Paseo. The cheer leaders were elected as they were last year, the result being that the cheer leaders were the same as they were last year, except for a new alternate. Virgil Dow, who will always be remembered for his spontaneous wit and his broad grin, was the head cheer leader. John Kumsey, as an able assistant, proved to be the very "poetry of motion." Park Harnden, last year's head cheer leader, was as good as ever at leading the well known Paseo's yells. These boys were put to use at all pep gatherings.

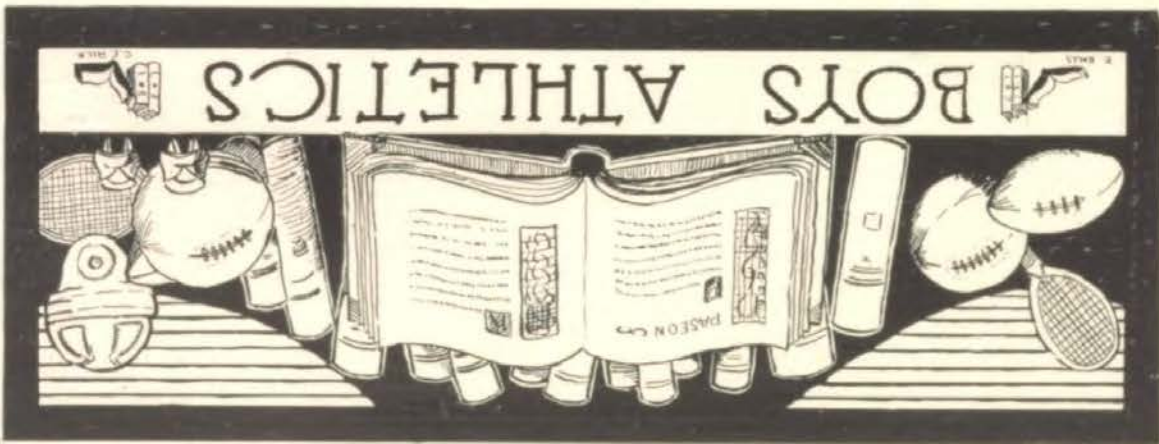

CHEER LEADERS

Little Chester, Andy Gump,
We've got _____ up a stump!
Oh! Min!

When you're up, you're up, you're up,
When you're down, you're down,
When you're up against Paseo,
You're upside down.

P-A-S-E-O, P-A-S-E-O,
That's the way we spell it!
Here's the way we yell it!
Paseo, Paseo, Paseo!

PASEO YELLS

Our Captains

Paseo had as fine a bunch of captains as has ever been seen before. John Tetyak captained the football team; Edward Donnelly and Mibbs Golding were co-captains of the basketball team, and Alfred Eisfelder led the track team. Paseo is proud of these four men, all of whom are the best kind of sports. Tetyak has been a football letterman for the past three years, and he is one of Paseo's two lettermen who have lettered for three years in football. John is a fellow who is always working for the other fellow's good, never considering himself. In his sophomore year, John played a good game of football, but inexperience kept him from being a star. However, the following year, he "found himself," and quickly showed his mettle. He staged a real battle with McIntyre of Westport for tackle on the all-star team, and he was just "nosed" out. He was placed on the second team, however. The past season left no doubt as to his being all-star tackle.

"Eddie" Donnelly and "Mibbs" Golding are both two year lettermen in basketball. Donnelly is also a track letterman, and Golding is a two-year football letterman. Donnelly made the Interscholastic all-star team, due to his outstanding floorwork and his ability to hit. Mibbs was also a star player in this past basketball season. "Bus" Eisfelder, the captain of the track team, was elected unanimously to that position. He is known as a shot-putter de luxe. His putts average around 43 feet, which is remarkable for a high school athlete. He also tossed the shot last year, being one of the two lettermen back. Eisfelder doubles at football. His tackle position was well taken care of in the past season. "Bus" is only a junior and will be back next year to make a greater name for himself. Our coaches, Mr. Selvidge and Mr. Fisher, may well feel proud of these three captains. The student body has felt that better leadership in athletics could not be desired.

Football

LEWIS ROWLAND

"Lewie" was Paseo's triple-threat star. Left halfback and co-captain of the all-star were his accomplishments. 'Nough said!

MAURICE GOLDING

"Mibbs" was feared by all schools. The big fullback was fast, shifty, and hit the line like a freight train. He played a good defense game, too.

MERRIL THOMAS

"Toughy" was a spiker to perfection. He never missed a tackle and when given the ball, could be counted on for a few yards gain.

HOWARD STOCK

"Hoddy," captain-elect, played quarter-back. He ran his team smoothly, and he was always ready to carry the pig-skin for a substantial gain.

JOHN TETYAK

"Johnny," the captain, was a tower of strength in the line. He was the unanimous choice of the judges for tackle on the all-star.

ALFRED EISFELDER

"Bus" was a very reliable tackle. He gave his end plenty of trouble all the time, and he was not the kind to get nettled.

WALLACE HEDINGER

"Wally" played a plucky game at tackle. He could always be depended upon to "come through with the goods."

ELBERT COLEMAN

"Bert" always succeeded in opening a big hole in the line and in taking out the secondary defense.

HAROLD BRAMBLE

Bramble was a great defensive cog. His end was always well taken care of. Getting down under punts was his long suit.

ARTHUR LEPPERT

"Art" was the third Paseo man to win a berth on the all-star team. Strong on defense and perfect on the snap-back, made him watched by all.

ROBERT HOGG

"Bob" proved to be a great offensive and defensive man. His good work was commendable, as he was on his toes all the time.

HOLLIS SAWTELL

"Holly" would be an adept to any team. He played his guard position in a wonderful manner. Very few men broke through his position.

JUNIOR TUNGETT

"Junie" was an end of remarkable ability. Very few gains were made around his end. He was a tough customer for any tackle.

RICHARD CLARK

"Dick" played a flashy, consistent game at half. He was the lightest member of the squad, yet was not reckoned as such by opponents.

FOOTBALL

Paseo's football team upheld the record set by last year's team. They again finished second in the Interscholastic League Race. The second team is never given the credit it really deserves. Without a hard-fighting second team, a school can never have a good first team. This year's second team was battling from the first whistle to the final gun. It succeeded in finishing well up in the league standings, giving all the second teams in the league a real battle. The captain was Howas Duvall. The members were: Claire, Marlow, Splawn, Drisko, Short, Ming, Painter, Fitzgerald, Flury, Ankerson, Adams, Dawson, Beck, Tweedie, Goldman, Black, Beal, Carr, Gusten, Coull, and Bradley. Injuries forced Howard Duvall out, so after that time, the team was ably captained by Claire Marlow.

Basketball

WILLIAM DUNCAN

"Billy" was a fine floorman. He had the rare ability to put from any position. He always delivered in a pinch.

LEWIS ROWLAND

"Lewie" became ineligible at mid-year, but while he played was one of the league's best defense guards. His offense was not hackney either.

PAUL WILLIAMS

"Lefty" was a southpaw forward who was unusually good at hooking them from the left corner.

MAURICE GOLDING

"Mibbs," one of the co-captains, was one of the finest guards in the league. He was always good for a few long ones from the center.

JUNIOR TUNGETT

"Junie" played a good guard position. He was fast and had the knack of doing the right thing at the right time.

EDWARD DONNELLY

"Eddie," co-captain, was one of the league's leading scorers. He was named as forward on the all-star team.

HOLLIS SAWTELL

"Holly," as in football, was a good guard. It took a mighty smart man to outwit him.

HOWARD STOCK

"Hoddy" played center, was fast, and could usually be relied upon to get the tip. He was a dead shot from around the free throw line.

BASKET BALL

The second team basketball squad of the past season are indeed a crew of looting Pirates to be proud of. These boys battled hard against the first team and gradually whipped themselves and the first team members into shape. The following boys played on the team: Bus Eisfelder, Harry Corrigan, Roy Audsley, Max Heffner, Chuck Anderson, Lewis Ankerson, Dick Flury, John Engberg and Bob Adams. Bus Eisfelder, Roy Audsley and Max Heffner played on the first team, but didn't have enough quarters to get their letters. The reserves played a game with a second team from each of the other high schools. They played hard and gave each team a real battle. Out of this team will be built next year's first team. If they show as much promise next year as they do now, Paseo's basketball future looks cheerful.

INDOOR TRACK

The Pirate indoor track team had a very successful season. In the first indoor track meet between all the high schools, the K. C. A. C. meet, the Buccaneers carried off third place. A number of good runners were entered in this meet, but the Pirates had little trouble taking third. By the time of the next meet, the Paseo trackmen had improved wonderfully, and finished a close second to Central. The boys on the Paseo Indoor Track Team are: Roy Englehardt, Red Smith and Donald Rubens, fifty-yard dash; Firpo Fitzgerald and George Hax, eighty-yard dash; Fred Ghrist, Lew Wenzel, Kenny Harris and Byron Smith, four hundred and forty; Bartholomaeus, Red Smith, Englehardt, Rumsey and Byron Smith. Mr. Fisher, K. U.'s famous sprinter, coached this successful team.

Track

The cross-country team ran only one race, and that was with Manuel. Paseo won that race handsomely, taking first, second and fourth place. Captain Austin finished first in the race; Red Smith, second place; Byron Smith, four place; Don Hays and Tolliver composed a team really hard to defeat. Red Smith and Chet Austin were also on the cross-country team of last year. Smith finished second and Austin third in the race run that year with Manual. Red Smith is now a member of the outdoor track team, and he is a very valuable man in that squad. Last year's outdoor track team won some stiff track meets from tough contestants. This team was piloted through the season by Raymond McNerney. Ray was the second fastest one hundred-yard man in the school; he was second only to Hickey in the two hundred and twenty low hurdles; he was a good high jumper, and was the team's leading pole vaulter. Gerald Hickey, holder of the city record and state championships in the two hundred and twenty low hurdles, was a member of the team. Frank Richardson, a streak in the hundred and the two hundred and twenty-yard dashes, won many points for Coach Fisher's crew. Other members were: Eisfelder, Smith, Hays, Hax, Fitzgerald, Humes, Watling, Rubens, Stock and Bartholomaeus. The track season was a success, owing to Coach Ray Fisher's help in the coaching end of the job. Mr. Fisher was well known at K. U. as a track man.

TENNIS

Paseo was rather fortunate in having five lettermen back for the season. The lettermen were: Captain Milton Hogan, Robert Schwindler, Fred Kiel, Jerome Sumstine and Edwin Elliott. These boys are strong players. To win a letter in tennis, a boy must win a round or more in the Interscholastic tournament. Milton Hogan and Robert Schwindler won their letters by being runners-up in the doubles tournament last fall. Freddie Kiel and Jerome Sumstine went to the quarter-finals in the same tournament by winning two rounds. Edwin Elliott, the other member of the team, won one round in the singles tournament. Tennis has proved a very valuable game this year. Coach Selvidge believes that a boy is doing a good thing in building up a good game of tennis to keep him physically fit later in life.

GOLF

The Golf team has been playing in great style. The team has met and conquered the enemy in three of four matches. The Central High School golfers were handsomely defeated twice and the Rosedale team was defeated once. The only defeat of the season was handed to them by Rosedale at the beginning of the season. Harry Sharp leads the team. The other members are: Ex-captain Fred Ellis, Merrill Thomas, Kenneth Gregg, and Fred McKittrick, who holds the place of an alternate and has done some excellent playing. These five boys are all good golfers and shoot low scores. All were members of last year's team. Golf is one of the finest games a boy can cultivate. There is nothing like a game of golf to keep a man physically fit after he has gone into business and is kept in an office all day.

Girls Athletics

The Girls' Athletics Department at Paseo is somewhat hampered by its lack of facilities; nevertheless, a very successful year has been enjoyed. It is hoped that Paseo will some day have adequate gymnasium facilities for girls, including a swimming pool and a full sized gym. Our esteemed coaches, Miss Margaret L. Taylor and Miss Julia Ayers, have been untiring in their efforts to make the past year a satisfactory one; and it is through their efforts, together with the co-operation of the students of this department, that the year has been made a success. It is the aim of the physical education department to develop girls who are physically fit; to instill in the girls a love of activity and exercise; to make the girls quick thinking and quick acting, and last but not least, to make the girls true sports, whether they are winning or losing.

The girls of the freshman, sophomore, junior and senior classes have participated in four major sports: namely, volleyball, hockey, basketball and baseball. In each of these sports a tournament is played by the teams representing the four classes; the winners of the tournament are the champions of that particular sport. After the tournament is played, an all-star team, composed of the best players, is chosen from among the members of the four class teams by Miss Taylor and Miss Ayres. It is the highest ambition of the girls of the department to be on one of these mythical teams, and for this reason, places on the teams are highly contested for by the students.

The tennis tournament will be held in the spring this year as it was last. Kay Davis, last year's tennis champion, and Felice Stampfle, the champion of the preceding year, will battle for supremacy on the tennis court. They expect to give each other a great deal of competition. This tournament is open to the girls who do not take physical education, as tennis is a favorite sport among young people.

On March 15, the girls' department gave its annual gym show, "The Footlight Fantasies." There were quite a number of solo dances on the program, and interspersed among these were choruses in which more than two hundred and seventy-five of the girls of this department took part. There were four parts to the programs, which were: "A Checkered Career," "King For a Day," "Plantation Prancers," and "Paseo Heights." The show was an immense success.

Basketball

The third sport, basketball, proved to be the most popular and it was difficult to choose teams. Finally the following were selected: freshmen: Mary Burch (captain), Dorothy Batz, Frances McLearn, Helen Bailey, Catherine Gillespie, Dorothea Eib, Virginia Watson, Edith Anderson, Margaret Barnes; sophomores: Virginia Cushman, Mildred Slaton, Ellen Jeffries, Lorna Davis, Catherine Pursell, Grace Malone, Myrtle Patterson, Mary Pfister, La Von Hudson (captain), Kathleen Bentley; juniors: Mary Holman, Lucille Owens, Margorie Parcell (captain), Mary Allegri, Dorothy Scott, Elizabeth Wilkes, Gladys Marlow, La Verne Mason, Charlotte Noble; seniors: Kay Davis (captain), Margaret Hisle, Bertha Latimer, Betty Ghormley, Annabelle Osborne, Frances Corrigan, Bernita Gabbert, Lillian Manning, Eleanor Sutermeister, Marilyn Venable. The all-star team was: Kay Davis, Grace Malone, Myrtle Patterson, Mary Allegri, Bernita Gabbert, La Von Hudson, Lorna Davis, Lillian Manning, Catherine Pursell, Marilyn Venable. The scores for the inter-class games were:

Seniors	39	Freshmen	2
Sophomore	33	Juniors	6
Seniors	17	Sophomores	21
Juniors	21	Freshmen	21
Seniors	19	Juniors	14
Sophomores	33	Freshmen	6

The athletic season was a success and the girls in the department who do not graduate are looking forward eagerly to next year.

Hockey

The girls' athletic department opened its season with the sport of hockey. The teams were: freshman—Mary Burch, Helen Bailey, Edith Anderson, Margaret Barnes (captain), Vivian Batdorf, Bernice Latimer, Frances McIlbrath, Sadie Jarda, Frances Alpert, Bernice Robinson, Catherine Gillespie, Roberta White, sub, Frances McKittrick; sophomores, Myrtle Patterson, Grace Malone, Mildred Slaton, Frances Tinsley, Thelma Wiseman, Minnie Wax, Betty Lindgren, Catherine Pursell, Kathleen Bentley, Frances Mickadeit, Corinne Harper, Mary Pfister, Vivian Green, Faye Ragan; juniors, Lucille Owens, Lorraine Best, Mary Allegri, Mary Holman (captain), Catherine Allen, Mary Titterington, La Verne Maxon, Maxine Ellison, Ida

Cunningham, Harriet Gaylord, Edna Kerney; seniors, Kay Davis, Bertha Latimer, Benita Gabbert, Annabelle Osborne, Marilyn Venable, Hester Baker, Margaret Hisle, Eleanor Sutermeister (captain), Helen Guinan, Frances Corrigan, Lillian Manning. The all-star team was: Kay Davis, Bertha Latimer, Marilyn Venable, Margaret Hisle, Eleanor Sutermeister, Helen Guinan, Lillian Manning, La Verne Mason, Mary Titterington, Myrtle Patterson, Grace Malone, Mildred Slaton, Margaret Barnes, Frances Alpert and Roberta White. The inter-class scores were:

November 19—Seniors 5, juniors 0; sophomores 3, freshmen 0.

November 21—Juniors 0, freshmen 0; seniors 1, sophomores 0.

Volleyball

The second sport to claim attention was volleyball. The sophomores emerged champions from this conflict. The teams were: freshmen, Frances Alpert, Helen Bailey, Margaret Barnes, Betty Brandon, Mary Burch, Bernice Latimer, Jeanne Martin, Margaret Martin, Isabel Owens, Loretta Present, Irene Williams (captain); sophomores, Kathleen Bentley, Elizabeth Colt, Lorna Davis (captain), La Von Hudson, Betty Lindgren, Grace Malone, Frances Mickadeit, Myrtle Patterson, Mary Pfister, Catherine Pursell, Mildred Slaton; juniors, Mary Allegri (captain), Catherine Allen, Harriet Gaylord, Mary Holman, Edna Kuney, Gladys Marlow, La Verne Mason, Lucille Owens, Rose Ross, Dorothy Scott,

Mary Titterington, Frances Watling; seniors, Hester Baker, Frances Corrigan, Kay Davis, Bernia Gabbert, Betty Ghormley, Margaret Hisle (captain), Bertha Latimer, Lillian Manning, Annabelle Osburn, Eleanor Sutermeister, Edna Valentine, Marilyn Venable. The all-star team was: Kay Davis, Bernita Gabbert, Bertha Latimer, Marilyn Venable, Mary Allegri, Gladys Marlow, Mary Titterington, Lorna Davis, La Von Hudson, Grace Malone, Myrtle Patterson, Mildred Slaton. The scores of the inter-class games were:

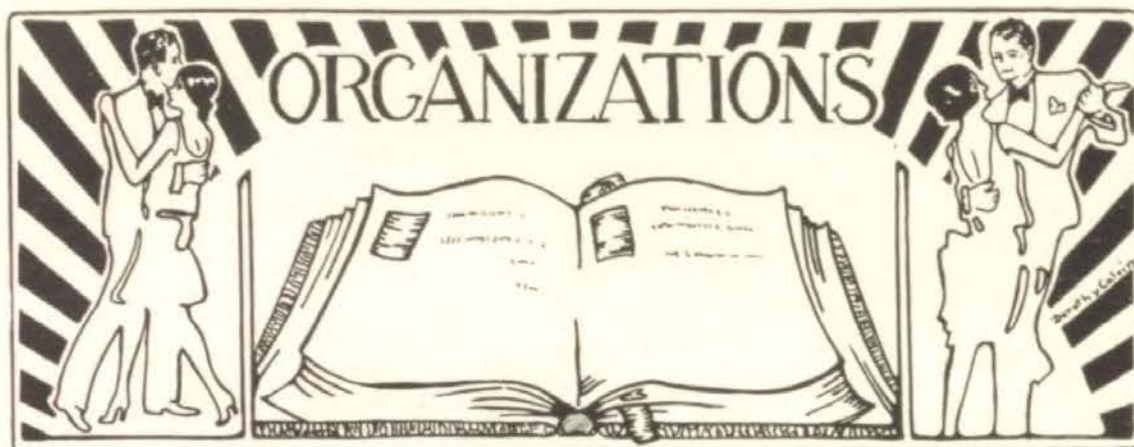

January 7—Seniors 22, juniors 17; sophomores 33, freshmen 10.

January 9—Seniors 21, sophomores 31; juniors 33, freshmen 18.

THE NINETEEN HUNDRED TWENTY-NINE PASEON

In Paseo's third year, the social life has increased rather than dwindled. There are eight literary societies, the Boys' High School Club and the Girls' Reserves. These last two are branches of the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. Another group, composed of the men who have made letters in school athletics, has also been active in school affairs. The literary societies have tried to promote interest in literature. Their programs have consisted of poems, stories, essays and other literary contributions. Each of the clubs, exclusive of the Hi-Y and the Girl Reserves, has given a dance during the year, with another social event of their own, later on. There is strong but friendly rivalry between the organizations. The clubs are: the Boys' High School Club, sponsored by Mr. Phil Morgan; the Girl Reserves, sponsored by Miss Friend; the Keats Club, sponsored by Mr. Ogg; the Zeta Literary Society, sponsored by Miss Betz; the Junto Club, sponsored by Mr. Terry; the Thicion Literary Society, sponsored by Miss Keohane; the Engineers Club, sponsored by Mr. Campbell; the Cynthia Literary Society, sponsored by Miss Weeks; the Peppy Pirates, sponsored by Miss Faulkner; the Iota Literary Society, sponsored by Mrs. Warren, and the Lettermen's Club, sponsored by Mr. Selvidge. An inter-society dance was given during the latter part of the year. The biggest event of the year was the joint program given by the chartered clubs on Friday, April 12. The scenario was written by Herbert Roush. Walter Lyman, president of the Keats Club, spoke on "What the Clubs Stand For." A sketch, "College Days," was then presented. An orchestra conducted by Leslie Boyer furnished the music. The masters of ceremonies were Herbert Roush and Bill Dalrymple. At the opening of the scene, couples were seen dancing upon the stage. Two negro waiters were seen brushing up the floor and waiting upon tables. Suddenly the curtain was drawn and a member of the Engineers' Club was called upon the stage to fix it. A specialty program was then given for the seated couples. It consisted of a song by Virgil Dow, accompanied by Alma Hatten; two dances, a reading, a song by Pauline Small, and a trumpet solo.

Keats Club

The Keats Club, organized at the beginning of Paseo's first year, early established itself as an outstanding literary society. Its members have participated in the plays, the constitutional oration contest, the extemporaneous speaking contest and musical contests. The club was represented on the honor roll, in the National Honor Society, in the Student Council and in the class officers. The Keats, with their sister club, the Zeta Literary Society, gave a dance which was enjoyed by the members of the clubs and their friends. The club has carried forward the ideals for which it stands, fidelity to the school, physical and mental integrity, and enthusiasm for noble purpose. A basketball game was played with the Junto Club, in which the Juntos won, after an exciting and thrilling game. The club also participated in the inter-society dance and in the inter-club assembly program, which was given toward the close of the year. The members feel that if the Keats Club is as great a success next year and the years following as it has been this year, that it will always be one of the most outstanding clubs at Paseo High School.

The first semester officers were: president, Walter Lyman; vice-president, Junior Tungett; secretary, William Dalrymple; treasurer, William Duncan; sergeant-at-arms, Hugh Kuder; reporter, Scott Weaver. The second semester officers were: president, Lewis Rowland; vice-president, Richard Shaw; secretary, Hugh Kuder; treasurer, Donald Hays; sergeant-at-arms, William Staver; reporter, Scott Weaver; Keatonian, William Dalrymple. Those who upheld the standards of the Keats Club this year were: Lewis Rowland, William Dalrymple, Walter Lyman, Donald Hays, Hugh Kuder, Leonard Gray, William Duncan, William Millder, William Staver, Wells Burton, Van Woodward, Jack Duncan, Junior Tungett, Robert Katenhauser, Richard Shaw, William Talbott, Scott Weaver, Harlan Splan, Lewis Ankersen, William Owen, Rodger Bird, Leonard Atkinson, Ralph Curry, Robert Gibbons, Donald Ruben, Henry Katz, Harold Francis, Frank Beck, Ray Sherman, John Clay, Rom Hudson, Joseph Mayes, Edward Polte, Edward Rowland, Jerry Duggans. Mr. Ogg, who has been the advisor for the Keats Club this year, has been one of the big reasons for the Keats being a success.

Zeta Literary Society

The Zeta Literary Society has tried to uphold the high standards that have been set in the last two years. Its members have taken part in every school activity, and much work has been accomplished within this club. The meetings consisted of extemporaneous speeches by the members, stories and essays. The club held a debate with the Cynthian Literary Society. The motto of the Zeta Literary Society is "Having received the torch, pass it on." The girls chose this year as their outfit a white sweater with a green "Z" on the front, to be worn with a green flannel skirt. The society gave a successful dance in conjunction with their brother society, the Keats Club. The dancing was in the gym, which was decorated in the colors of both the societies. Many honors have come to the members during the year. Ruth Talbott was elected to membership in the National Honor Society and was a sponsor lieutenant in the R. O. T. C. The Zetas are represented on the Staff of the Paseo Press, in the play casts and in various musical contests. The members feel that this year has been one of the most successful years in the history of the club.

The first term officers were: president, Ruth Talbott; vice-president, Catherine Montgomery; secretary, Helen Guinan; treasurer, Frances Tucker; sergeant-at-arms, Vivian Dodson; critic, Ruth Holmes; reporter, Merial Sandy. The second semester officers were: president, Catherine Montgomery; vice-president, Helen Guinan; secretary, Maude Ferguson; treasurer, Josephine Smith; sergeant-at-arms, Maxine Leppert; reporter, Frances Tucker; critic, Ruth Talbott. The members are: Bobbie Lee Carter, Vivian Dodson, Laura Edwards, Maxine Ellison, Mary E. Everly, Louise Eviston, Maude Ferguson, Helen Field, Anastatia Frisby, Harriet Gaylord, Benita Griffin, Helen Guinan, Jane Heffner, Mildred Holloway, Ruth Holmes, Lucibelle Hirsch, Margaret Knox, Margaret Landes, Maxine Leppert, Maurine Meadows, Catherine Montgomery, Helen Motley, Marguerite Nielson, Betty Opel, Harriet Rams, Helen Rams, Marjorie Rardin, Merial Sandy, Josephine Smith, Virginia Smith, Kathryn Shepherd, Margaret Swinhart, Ruth Talbott, Frances Tucker, Jean Winter, Ruth McClelland. Miss Betz, the new advisor for the Zetas, has been working with the girls most successfully.

Junto Club

During its third year the Junto Club has enjoyed unusual activity in school affairs, at the same time, furthering its purpose of promoting interest in literature, debate and athletics. In the interest of promoting athletics, the club challenged the Keats and Engineers to successive basketball games. The club emerged victorious in each encounter. Juntos have held class offices, editorships on the Paseo Press and the Paseon, parts in school plays, memberships in the National Honor Society, places on the football and basketball teams and offices in various other school groups. Every meeting has been carefully planned, and many programs of interesting readings, essays and extemporaneous speeches have been brought before the club. All the members participate in these functions and thus derive a great benefit from them. During the Thanksgiving season, the Juntos, in coordination with their sister club, the Thicions, entertained with the first dance of the year. This dance was a success, and the Juntos also participated in the inter-society dance which occurred later in the year. The members who are not graduating are looking forward eagerly to next year.

The first term officers were: president, Robert Schwindler; vice-president, Herbert Rousch; secretary, Robert Hogg; treasurer, Kenneth Harris; sergeant-at-arms, Robert Noble; critic, William Townsend. The second term officers were: president, Virgil Dow; vice-president, John Rumsey; secretary, Kenneth Harris; treasurer, Robert Noble; sergeant-at-arms, Howard Stock; reporter, Fred Kiel; critic, Robert Schwindler. The members are: Gordon Anderson, Duane Main, Fred Hargis, Richard Lyon, Don Geary, Richard Flurry, William Lutz, Max Heffner, Danae Walters, Edwin Elliott, Eugene Liddy, J. J. Fedler, Emery Clarke, Lew Wenzel, Thomas Franklin, Leslie Boyer, Alvin Wilson, George Bartholomaeus, Thomas Hudson, Don Hanly, Hollis Sawtell, Robert Schwindler, John Rumsey, Fred Kiel, Herbert Rousch, Virgil Dow, Robert Hogg, Howard Stock, Kenneth Harris, Robert Noble and William Townsend. The Junto Club feels that a great deal of the credit for its successful year belongs to Mr. Terry, the club's very valuable advisor. The year 1929-1930 promises to be as successful as has been the year 1928-1929, as several of its most prominent members are juniors and sophomores.

Thicion Literary Society

The Thicion Literary Society began its third year of activity with a meeting on the fifth day of October, 1928. The literary field chosen for the year was the drama. The name of the society, "Thicion," was chosen to embody the spirit of the members. In the southwestern part of Greece was a small village called "Thicion." Here was a shrine to which the people of the neighboring towns were accustomed to bring their gifts of beauty, love and sacrifices for the gods. The motto of the club is "Always seeking the beautiful." Blue and mist are the club colors and its flower is the tea rose. Peggy Anne Small is the club mascot. As their fall social event, the Thicions, in conjunction with their brother club, the Junto Literary Society, held the first dance of the school year. As the spring social event, the annual luncheon was planned. The club has been well represented in all branches of school activity. Three of their members have taken major parts in the school plays; two have taken part in the oratorical contest; and there were also representatives on the honor roll and in the Student Council. Thicions have also held various class offices, both in the junior and senior classes.

The club officers for the first term were: president, Mary Alice Brunner; vice-president, Suzanne Lispi; secretary, Joan Woodward; treasurer, Helen Rowlette; sergeant-at-arms, Geneva Brier; parliamentarian, Lois Jane Brandon; initiator, Virginia Bevan; reporter, Margaret Barnard; critic, Lillian Koppel. The second term officers were: president, Suzanne Lispi; vice-president, Elizabeth Faust, secretary, Lois Jane Brandon; treasurer, Geneva Brier; sergeant-at-arms, Patricia Lynds; parliamentarian, Virginia Bevan; reporter, Mary Johnson; initiator, Dorothy Craig, and critic, Mary Alice Brunner. The members are: Margaret Barnard, Virginia Bevan, Helen Brandon, Lois Jane Brandon, Geneva Brier, Ruth Burnley, Marjorie Bullock, Betty Jane Burroughs, Dorothy Craig Betty Eviston, Elizabeth Faust, Blythe Fife, Alice Hathaway, Elsie Hathaway, Melba James, Mary Johnson, Joyce Kivovitch, Lillian Koppel, Suzanne Lispi, Patricia Lynds, Rose McCorrister, Rose Meyers, Betty Milot, Charlotte Noble, Helen Rowlette, Jerremetta Ryan, Dorothy Scott, Pauline Small, Virginia Squires, Dorothy Toyne, Joan Woodward and Charline Wyatt. Miss Keohane showed her worth as a valuable advisor.

Engineers Club

The Paseo Engineers' Club has completed a very successful year in every respect. With the motto, "Science and development, one and inseparable," and the aim to gain knowledge in the field of engineering, the Engineer's Club has forged ahead. The colors of the club are purple and gold and its symbol is the oak. The meetings were spent in various interesting ways. Talks were given by Mr. Campbell on the assembly of a motor car, and one was given by David Stump on the composition of matter. The club has visited the Kansas City Power and Light Company's Laboratories and the Sheffield Steel Mills. It plans to attend the Kansas State Engineering Exhibition at the Kansas University and to visit the Ford and the Chevrolet plants. A lecture was given the club together with an extremely interesting picture concerning the enormous bridge recently completed over the Colorado River. The Engineers were represented in the play casts, the National Honor Society, the Student Council and the Paseo Press. The annual spring dance took place on the eighth of March. The gymnasium, decorated in purple and gold, with balloons floating and serpentine being thrown, was a fine ballroom.

The officers for the first semester were: president, George Boyd; vice-president, Myron Blotcky; secretary, Charles Player; treasurer, Alvin Frick; sergeant-at-arms, Howard Nason; reporter, Leon Bornstein. The second term officers were: president, Myron Blotcky; vice-president, Howard Nason; secretary, Raymond Waldron; treasurer, Minford Sherman; sergeant-at-arms, George Hax; reporter,

Cynthian Literary Society

The Cynthian Literary Society has had a very successful year. The Cynthian Star, the club paper, is the pride of the society. No one is required to make contributions but several really good numbers have been produced this year. It is customary for the editor to read the paper aloud at the meetings. In addition to the reading of the paper, entertaining programs are presented, including musical and dramatic numbers, lives of famous women and recitations of poems. The society has held a debate with the Zetas and appeared in an assembly program. It has done much in promoting school activities, with representatives on the Paseon Staff, the Paseo Press Staff, the National Honor Society, the Student Council, the Honor Roll and the play casts. The society is proud to have one of its members, Doris Burns, the contestant in the Young Men's Civic Forum Extemporaneous Speaking Contest. A very successful Christmas dance was given. The club was more than delighted to discover that they had more members voted into the National Honor Society than any other club in the school. It is hoped that this will be repeated next year. Felice Stampfle, a junior, was one of the very few juniors to be voted in this year.

The officers for the first semester were: president, Doris Burns; vice-president, Wilma Germon; secretary, Irene Mathis; treasurer, Margaret Kennedy; sergeant-at-arms, Mabel Kennedy; reporter, Rachel Massey; endymion, Clarice Ghormley; editor of Cynthian Star, Mary Merrick. The second semester officers were: president, Irene Mathis; vice-president, Muriel Smith; secretary, Bessie Mallin; treasurer, Clarice Ghormley; sergeant-at-arms, Ruth Willoughby; reporter, Mary Merrick; endymion, Virginia Hunter; editor of Cynthian Star, Lois Eby. The members were: Evelyn Bailey, Francis Barnes, Madelyn Boyce, Doris Burns, Wilma Covey, Catherine Epp, Louise Davis, Lois Eby, Dorothy Cray, Clarice Ghormley, Lucille Harper, Wilma Hermon, Virginia Hull, Virginia Hunter, Elsie Dell, Mabel Kennedy, Margaret Kennedy, Louise Littrell, Dorothy Lyman, Bessie Mallin, Audrey Shonts, Mildred Wilcox, Elizabeth Hinkle, Miriam Hancock, Marjorie Parcell, Rachel Massey, Irene Mathis, Mary Merrick, Lucille Moore, Marian Paulette, Ruth Sandy, Muriel Smith, Felice Stampfle, Mary Titterington, Audrey Trenery, Bernice Vochatzer, Ruth Willoughby, Margaret Boyser, Elsie Goldbeck, Dolores Walters. Miss Weeks has been an inspiring advisor.

Peppy Pirates Club

Three years ago on October 28, 1926, a group of peppy girls in Paseo met with Miss Eva Faulkner and organized a very lively club, Paseo's Peppy Pirates. Their purpose, to create an atmosphere of pep and loyalty to the school athletics, has continued through these three years and will go on as before. The group was cleverly dressed this year in sport costumes consisting of red skirts, white blouses and white sweaters with a pirate emblem on one side. In the latter part of November, the club gave a successful dance in conjunction with the Glee Club. The Peppy Pirates also helped to give the Inter-Society dance which occurred later in the year. Little Miss Virginia Ann Christine is the mascot. The motto of the club is "All for Paseo, and Paseo for all." It has been the custom for the club to go in a body to the football and basketball games. The gay costume, which forms a red spot in the grandstand, and their yelling lent pep and interest to all the athletic events. The members of the Paseo Peppy Pirates believe they have spent a very valuable and interesting year. They are looking forward eagerly to next year and other activities.

The officers for the first semester were: president, Eleanor Sutermeister; vice-president, Margaret Jean Duncan; secretary, Wanda McCollum; treasurer, Mary Garland; reporter, Yvette Woodard; sergeant-at-arms, Dale Bullock. The second semester officers were: president, Margaret Jean Duncan; vice-president, Dale Bullock; secretary, Ruth Sharon; treasurer, Dorothy Parsons; reporter, Mary

E. Ford; sergeant-at-arms, Florence Flannigan. The members are: Margaret Duncan, Eleanor Sutermeister, Bernice Gallagher, Ruth Sharon, Juanita Taylor, Nona Lien, Mary E. Ford, Margaret Hisle, Wanda McCollum, Dorothy Parsons, Yvette Woodard, Margaret Handley, Marjorie Harn-den, Evelyn Burke, Eleanor Duggan, Laura Ward, Velma Beard, Frances Harris, Florence Flannigan, Bernita Gabbert, Alice Sanford, Adeline Termulliger, Mary Garland, Mildred Slater. Miss Faulkner, who teaches commercial subjects, has been a valuable advisor. A combination of Miss Faulkner's ability to inspire the girls onward, the pep of the club's members, and the leadership of the officers has made the Paseo Peppy Pirates Club a great success for the year 1929.

Iota Literary Society

The Iota Literary Society began its second year of activity in September, 1928. The members feel that the purpose of the club, which is promoting an interest in and a love for literature, has been accomplished this second year of activity. The real name of the society is "Ion," the Greek word for violet, but upon the suggestion of one of the members to use the first letter of the word "Ion" for the public name, this was agreed upon. The society's colors are lavender and silver, and the flower is the violet. The Iota Literary Society has been represented in school plays, general honor roll, sponsor major nominees, girls' athletic teams, school committees, Paseo Press Supplement, and the public speaking contest. The club had its annual fall dance January 18, 1929. It was a great success. During the month of March, a mothers' and daughters' tea was held. Members of the society have attended football games in a group. The members have produced original essays and poems, and they have taken up the study of the drama. At one of the meetings an important speaker was engaged to come and talk to the girls.

The first term officers were: president, Carroll Brown; vice-president, Martha Leffler; secretary, Ruth Comer; treasurer, Lillian Manning; sergeant-at-arms, Alma Hatten; critic, Edna Swenson; reporter, Ruth Leffler. The second term officers were: president, Martha Leffler; vice-president, Dorothy Vaught; secretary, Maxine Grant; treasurer, Anna Kayser; sergeant-at-arms, Ruth Leffler; critic, Carroll

Brown; reporter, Lorraine Miller; chief initiator, Virginia Kime. The charter members are: Carroll Brown, Phyliss Clow, Ruth Comer, Alma Hatten, Anna Kayser, Martha Leffler, Ruth Leffler, Lillian Manning, Gertrude Slabotsky, and Edna Swenson. The other members are: Blanche Abrahams, Dorothy Calvin, Marjorie Frayling, Ethel Grant, Maxine Grant, Ernestine Hale, Selma Hempel, Dorothy Jones, Virginia Kime, Corinda Mayes, Mildred Molony, Lorraine Miller, Dorothy McCain, Ruth Oakley, Irma Tetyak, Mary Elizabeth Taylor, Edna Valentine, Dorothy Vaught, Marylin Venable, Frances Watling. Mrs. Warren has helped the girls in many ways, and has taken a great interest in the affairs and undertakings of the society.

Boy's High School Club

This year the Boys' High School Club started with three boys of last years' club as a nucleus for the foundation of a better club. Each of these boys brought a new member, who in turn brought another. In this way, the club grew rapidly and successfully. In every meeting, the subject for discussion or lecture has forwarded the purpose of the club, which is to create, maintain and extend throughout the school and community higher standards of living. One of the high lights of the year was the banquet given for the first basketball team and officers of the Lettermen's Club. As a result of the success of this dinner, a faculty banquet and a parents' banquet was held. Mr. Phil Morgan had charge of the club and a great deal of the success was due to his good advice. He led the discussions and assisted the boys in solving their problems. This club is one of the worthiest that has ever been organized at Paseo for boys. Any boy may be a member by attending the meetings.

The officers for the year were: president, John Rumsey; vice-president, Rodney Buckley; secretary, Robert Noble; treasurer, Fred Kiel. The other members of the cabinet were: Hugh Kuder, Herbert Roush, Lewis Rowland and Richard Shaw. The members of the club are: Gordon Anderson, Oddie Branham, Sumner Brooks, Rodney Buckley, Robert Butterworth, George Boyd, George Bartholomaeus,

Lettermen's Club

The Paseo Lettermen's Club is an organization composed of men who have won their school letter in inter-scholastic competition in football, basketball, track, tennis or golf. The club is represented in the senior offices, the junior offices, the Student Council, the senior play cast and musical contests. The junior organization is composed of men who have won their second team letters in inter-scholastic competition. This is a most loyal organization and was instrumental in the success of the undertakings of the Lettermen's Club. The officers of the club are: president, Lewis Rowland; vice-president, John Tetyak; secretary-treasurer, Howard Stock; reporter, Junior Tungett. The members are: John Tetyak, Junior Tungett, Merrill Thomas, Howard Stock, Hollis Sawtell, Lewis Rowland, Arthur Leppert, Robert Hogg, Wallace Hedinger, Maurice Golding, Alfred Eisfelder, Elbert Coleman, Richard Clark, Harold Bramble, William Brasher, Donald Geary, Lewis Gard, Edward Donnelly, Frank Richardson, Robert Fitzgerald, Orville Watling, Paul Williams, Billy Duncan, Fred Kiel, Robert Schwindler, Milton Hogan, Fred Ellis, Donald Ruben, Marcus Smith, Fred Grist, Lambert Englehardt. Mr. Selvidge was a peppy advisor.

The most important event of the year was the Minstrel Show given Saturday, April 13, in the Paseo Auditorium. The program was divided into two parts, the first part consisting of songs and humorous dialogue, and the second part consisting of a play, "Good Mornin' Judge." Luke Warm, a police judge, was played by John Tetyak. Howard Stock and Wallace Hedinger took the parts of policemen, while Bill Brasher portrayed the blustering sergeant.

Peter Pineapple, nearly a detective, was played by Don Geary. Art Leppert, as Zeke Whitehead, "thar' with the razor," frightened the whole court. Come on Whitehead, Dick Clark, and Alabama Screwluce, Alfred Eisfelder, brought down the house with their dialogue. Lewis Rowland and Mibbs Golding, as Lilly White and Samantha Primrose made fascinating negro ladies. John Beall and Joe Landis played the banjo, while Jack Kinzy and Bobby Howes played the saxophone.

Girl Reserves

The Girls' High School Club or Girl Reserves, a junior organization of the Y. W. C. A., began its third year of work and programs with a party to which nearly two hundred girls came with the purpose in mind of becoming acquainted with both new and old girls in Paseo. This party was given primarily for the freshmen girls, who, during the summer, had been adopted as "little sisters" by the older Girl Reserves. With these new girls, the club's membership will no doubt reach the one hundred and fifty mark. Every girl in school is invited to join and take part in its project. The programs for the year have been planned to insure the members something tangible to help them live better Christian lives.

The officers for the year have been: president, Merial Sandy; vice-president, Suzanne Lispi; secretary, Marguerite Nielson; treasurer, Frances Tucker; senior triangle chairman, Ruth Burnley; junior triangle chairman, Margaret Knox; sophomore, Virginia Smith; freshman, Norma Lispi; service, Mary Titterington; devotionals, Beth Blachley; program, Ruth Talbott; publicity, Virginia Squires; camp and conference, Lois Jane Brandon. The Girl Reserves triangle, Miss Swinney; sophomore, Miss Friend; senior triangle, Miss Eckles; junior triangle, Miss Swinney; sophomore, Miss Riley; freshman, Miss Ayres. The Girl Reserves is perhaps the worthiest organization for girls at Paseo.

Persons not directly concerned in school work are insisting that education means more than academic attainment; that the greatest function of the teacher is to help the student find himself; that in addition to knowledge and intellectual qualities, the school should help the student in the realm of his personal relations and in the control and direction of his emotions; that the school should be of value in every phase of life. Modern education stresses the importance of the school as a means of teaching high ideals of character and citizenship, and as a laboratory in which these ideals may be developed and practiced. Authorities claim that clubs furnish the best means for such teaching, and that in a club a student finds a favorable opportunity to practice the qualities of a good citizen and to enjoy the practice. According to recent psychology, the test of character and of citizenship is what an individual does with satisfaction. In the social environment of the club, moral judgment and moral responsibility are experienced by the members, and the approval of the group is the great satisfaction. Paseo has adopted the slogan, "A club for every student, with advisor for every club." These clubs meet the first and third Fridays, during the last hour, the regular hours each being shortened ten minutes for this purpose.

Muir Club

"The world is our playground; the sky is our roof." This was the creed of John Muir, a lover of the great outdoors. He loved to roam the dark forests, listen to the call of the birds, the chirp of the sparrow, the cry of the robin, or song of the Kentucky cardinal. John Muir was a part of the outdoors, as he was a discoverer and writer on the national parks of this country in the present century. Only you who have felt the same urge know the beauty and satisfaction of reading and studying Muir and following his footsteps, as the Muir Club was organized to do. They are organized to study the rugged natural beauty of Kansas City and nature in all its avenues. A fine lecture was given by our own Mr. Edmonds on collecting and preserving animal specimens. Another fine talk was given by Warren Payne on the subject of birds. Elwood Shirling entertained the club by a discussion of the natural features of the Rocky Mountains where he has put in several summers climbing up near the timber line. At one meeting, great scientific discoveries of the past were discussed. A wienie roase was given in the spring.

The first semester officers were as follows: president, William Besack; vice-president, Byron Smith; secretary-treasurer Warren Payne; reporter, Alfred Rosenstock; sergeant-at-arms, George Kegan. The second semester officers were: president, William Besack; vice-president, Warren Payne; secretary-treasurer, Elwood Shirling; reporter, Herbert Posnak; sergeant-at-arms, Kenneth Robinson. The members are: David Cutting, Joseph Frondizi, Robert Gibbons, Joseph Hamburg, Clyde Harper, Harold Harris, Ernest Hoffheins, Leonard Holdren, George Kegan, Donald McCollum, Joseph Moore, Harry Shear, Carl Slater, Kenneth Shreeve, Edward Stinson, Raymond Sweeny, James Wilson, Woodrow Lee, Ralph Locatelli, William Besack, Byron Smith, Warren Payne, Alfred Rosenstock, Elwood Shirling, Herbert Posnack and Kenneth Robinson. Most of the members have a scientific hobby such as birds, the raising of stock, mountain climbing, aeroplane building, and the study of prehistoric animals. It is the creed of the club that every student should follow some field of science. Mr. Lovejoy has been a very interesting advisor.

Fraternian's Recreational Club

The Fraternian's Recreational Club is a club made up entirely of boys and has the sole purpose of giving its members a worthwhile diversion from the school studies. All of this year's activities have been devoted to accomplishing that purpose. The members have enjoyable times together and have received practice by participating in various sports. The club has made visits to the Pla-Mor Ice Palace where the members have skated and, perhaps, fallen down. The members participated in a baseball game with Mr. Richmond's Baseball Club. At some meetings, when the weather was not favorable for a trip, moving pictures and slides were shown. Later golf and tennis matches were a part of the program. The sponsor, Miss Downs, has been very liberal in giving the club many privileges on trips. She has taken a great interest in seeing the club have the very most enjoyable type of programs. To keep the club in good order, at the beginning of the year, rules of order and conduct were passed by the members. Most of the members take an interest in seeing that the club is an asset and pleasure to everyone else in the group. The various types of entertainment officered by the club make it very desirable to belong to the group.

The membership of the club was somewhat smaller than anticipated, but nevertheless, the year was considered very successful. The work of the Fraternians has been entrusted to the following officers. For the first semester they were: president, Kenneth Van Cleave; vice-president, Woodrow Johnson; secretary-treasurer, Earl Van Cleave; reporter, Lawrence Wylder. The second semester officers were: president, Lawrence Linck; vice-president, Kenneth Van Cleave; secretary-treasurer, Woodrow Johnson; reporter, Russell Swanson. The members are: David Bachas, Edwin Barnes, Harold Bickerdike, Morris Butchman, Robert Quant, Burns Fogel, Loyal Cross, William Cross, John Engberg, Virgil Flanders, Herbert Flanagan; Robert Hawkins, Woodrow Johnson, Edward Linck, Lawrence Linck, Luvinn McKnight, Henry Trudell, Robert Hermanson, Morris Eggleston, Harold Mears, Russel Swanson, Kenneth Van Cleave, Earl Van Cleave, Murray Schell, Thomas McCully, Robert Pigg and Lawrence Wylder. Miss Downs has been a very capable and interesting advisor. The club is looking forward to next year and having a larger membership including boys with wide interests and valuable suggestions. The pleasure gained in such a group is well worth the time spent.

SPORTS CLUB

The Sports Club is a club for upper-classmen who wish to be in a group which spends its time on various sports. The time of the members was spent in basketball, baseball and volleyball. An interesting program was given by Phil Bagby, the Rockhill tennis professional. Mr. Bagby gave a talk on the fundamental strokes of tennis and gave a demonstration in the gym. The Sports Club invited the Tennis Club to see this interesting demonstration and to hear the valuable talk. A great many of the members of this club are lettermen in various sports and have found this way of promoting their interest. Mr. Selvidge, Paseo's well-known coach, and the dean of Kansas City coaches, is the advisor of this group. The boys consider themselves lucky to have such a man with them. The Sports Club has been a real success.

The officers for this year were: president, Dick Clark; vice-president, John Tetyak; secretary-treasurer, Wallace Hedinger. The members of the club are: Ankeron, Bathe, Bradley, Branhan, Campbell, Canino, Cherniss, Clark, Coleman, Corrigan, Coull, Craycraft, Curtin, Digel, Donnelly, Eisfelder, Elliss, Englehardt, Fisher, Fitzgerald, Frick, Gadwood, Geary Grosch, Gussman, Hall, Halstead, Hedinger, Sells, Kelley, Kellogg, Kubitzki, A. Leppert, Long, Mallman, Manning, Marlow, Payne, Painter, Peterson, Quinn, Ramel, Richmond, Roscoe, Royse, Russell, Sawtell, M. Smith, R. Smith, Sumstine, Schauble, Schnider, Shivers, Tetyak, Thomas, Whitney, Williams and Ghrist. For boys, there certainly could not be a more interesting club than Sports with as helpful an advisor as Mr. Selvidge.

ACTORS' CLUB

The Actors' Club, sponsored by Miss Francis, has undertaken several one-act plays, which were given in the meetings and acted by the members. Discussions, which were lead by Miss Francis, and which embraced the subject of the drama were also a part of the club meetings. A play called "The Sweet Meat Game," which had been worked out by some of the members, was presented to the group. Marjorie Bernhardt acted the part of a mother, Jack McCaughey that of a father, Barbara Jane Stoltz was the son and Bob Twyman was a dragon. The Actors' Club has had three presidents. They were Ralph Bevan, Lilliam Koppel and Rodney Buckley. The other officers were: vice-president, Virginia Nivens; secretary, Hester Baker, sergeant-at-arms, Bob Conrad; reporter, Jack McCaughey. Miss Francis, who directs all of Paseo's plays, was the advisor.

THE SPEED DEMONS' CLUB

Those girls who intend to become stenographers need more than anything else practice on the typewriter. A group of girls who take typing formed this clan. Most of their time was spent in practice on the typewriter, with occasional programs to make it more interesting. At the middle of the year, this club joined the Mandolin Club under the name of Just We Girls. The officers were: president, Ida Spector; vice-president, Esther Rains; secretary, Mildred Dunlap; treasurer, Bobby Horn; reporter, Laurine Miller. The members were: Cathryne Allen, Vera Brophy, Mary Bender, Josephine Cooper, Mildred Dunlap, Helen Heath, Geneva Horn, Grace Hill, Celia Kallis, Marie Kubitzky, Laurine Miller, Esther Rains, Carolyn Savidge, Ida Spector, Mary Elizabeth Taylor, Anna Weatherford. Mrs. Neher, an expert typist, was the advisor of this club.

TYPOGRAPHICAL CLUB

This interesting club is organized for the purpose of visiting printers and printers' supply shops. The officers for the first year, David Caldwell, Edward Crumbaugh; vice-president, Albert Sharon; secretary, George Hirsch; treasurer, Frank Beck; sergeant-at-arms, Harold Stockton; reporter, Edward Zammar. THE NINETEEN HUNDRED TWENTY-NINE PASEON

The Paseo Battalion of the R. O. T. C. has just completed its third successful year under the training of Sergeant Turley. During the latter part of the year, after Sergeant Turley's marriage to Miss Ayres, another Paseo teacher, Sergeant Heatherly took the place of Sergeant Turley and rounded the corps into fine shape. Both of these men were D. E. M. L.'s and both were non-commissioned officers in the United States Army. The good form shown by the battalion in all its parades and in its splendid presentation at the annual R. O. T. C. Circus was due a great deal to these two instructors. Firing was begun enthusiastically by the squad by the beginning of December, and by the middle of January it was in good condition. The squad fired in the city match, and won fifth place. One of the most outstanding events of the year was the R. O. T. C. Circus which occurred the sixth of April. All the Kansas City High Schools were represented at this, and each gave a special number for the benefit of the large crowd, which packed Convention Hall. Paseo presentation at the Circus was a drill in marching calisthenics led by Major William Staver. The boys were dressed in their regular uniforms except that they wore no coats. The girls' gym department of Paseo presented a dance. All the girls wore blue overalls and large straw hats. Another important event of the year was the annual R. O. T. C. Hop given under the auspices of the Officers' Club. At this dance, Sponsor Major Suzanne Lispi was presented with her insignia as was Major Bill Staver. The cadet captains and the sponsor captains were also appointed. An annual R. O. T. C. assembly was given in which three awards were given to boys by the Heart of America Association. There were three medals, one of gold, one of silver, and another of bronze. These were awarded for proficiency in R. O. T. C., for firing either in the corps area match, or in the Hearst Trophy match, for the selling of Circus tickets, or for a high score in the code efficiency test. The grand climax of the year was the field meet at which all the Kansas City High Schools demonstrate their proficiency at military tactics.

Sponsor Major

Suzanne Lispi was appointed Paseo's third sponsor major during the month of March. Contrary to the usual custom, this year there were five sponsor officers. They were: Major, Suzanne Lispi; captain, Joan Woodward; captain, Pauline Small; lieutenant, Ruth Talbott; lieutenant, Josephine Smith. Each cadet was allowed to nominate as many girls as he wished. This list was sent to the office and it was cut to twenty-five. The list was then returned to the boys, and every cadet voted for five. These five girls were to be the sponsor officers. The faculty cut this list to three. At a meeting of the senior girls, these three were introduced and each girl was allowed to vote. Suzanne Lispi, who won the final vote of the girls, was presented her cape at the annual R. O. T. C. Circus.

Major

Bill Staver was appointed Paseo's third major at the annual R. O. T. C. Hop in March, and from then on took command of Paseo's battalion. At the R. O. T. C. Circus Major Staver led the boys in a drill in marching calisthenics. Bill was a member of the rifle team, was an expert marksman, was a member of the crack company and was on the city rifle team. He became a sergeant in his junior year at Paseo. The rank of major is the highest that can be given before the field meet, which is the final and most outstanding event of the year. To the major of the school winning this field meet goes the honor of being the colonel of Kansas City's entire corps next year. This is the highest honor that can be awarded to any cadet in Kansas City.

SPONSOR OFFICERS

This year, instead of having only a sponsor major, it has been decided to have instead five sponsor officers, the major, two captains, and two lieutenants. In electing these five officers, each boy was allowed to nominate as many girls as he chose. These girls were discussed and the list was submitted to the office. The number was cut to twenty-five. Upon the return of the list, the twenty-five girls were introduced to the boys by Sergeant Turley and a list of their honors was read to the boys. Five girls were then elected to be sponsor officers and this list was submitted to the faculty. The faculty, after having the girls presented and their honors read, promoted three girls to the rank of captain. From these three, the sponsor major was chosen. The captains are Joan Woodward and Pauline Small. The lieutenants are Ruth Talbott and Josephine Smith.

RIFLE TEAM

The rifle team of Paseo's battalion won fifth place in the city championship this year. The members of the team are: Minford Sherman, David Caldwell, Tommy Hudson, Bill Staver, Jerome Sumstine, and David Whitney (an alternate). This team represented Paseo in the Corps Area Match and in the Hearst Trophy Match. The Heart of America Association has offered three medals to the members of Paseo's R. O. T. C., which may be won by numerous things, among which are firing in the Corps Area Match or in the Hearst Trophy Match. Last year and the year before, the rifle team from Paseo won second place in the city championship. Both of these times, when it was slightly beaten, the winning team was more experienced and older. One of Paseo's most excellent shots last year, Milburn Con-cannon, won a scholarship to the Wentworth Military Academy.

Company A

Company A was organized two years ago by Captain Fred Barker, who commanded it all of last year. This year it is under the command of Captain Thomas Franklin. The two first lieutenants are Raymond Sherman and David Caldwell. The two second lieutenants are David Stump and Thomas Hudson. The first sergeant is Homer Collins. The platoon sergeants are Morris Rothstein and Paul Dwyer. Bill Staver, who last year was the first sergeant in Company A, is the major of the battalion this year. The company is divided into two platoons each under the command of a captain.

Company A was well represented in all R. O. T. C. activities this year. It had members on the rifle team, and it was well represented in the R. O. T. C. marching calisthenic drill that was given at the R. O. T. C. Circus by Paseo's battalion this year. The captain of this company, Thomas Franklin, is a competent militant. He was a member of the Officers' Club last year and was a non-commissioned officer. Raymond Sherman, a first lieutenant, is also accomplished along the military line. He, too, belonged to the Officers' Club in his junior year and was a non-commissioned officer.

Company B

Company B was organized at the beginning of last year, and it was then under the command of Milburn Concannon, who later became major. This year, it is under the command of Jerome Sumstine, who has shown his leadership and ability in this position. The first lieutenants are Frank Kritzer and Bill Jeffers. The second lieutenants are George Boyd and Park Harnden. The first sergeant is Robert Quant, and the platoon sergeants are Charles Payer and Joseph Mayes. The supply sergeant was Minford Sherman. Company B claims almost all the men on the rifle team.

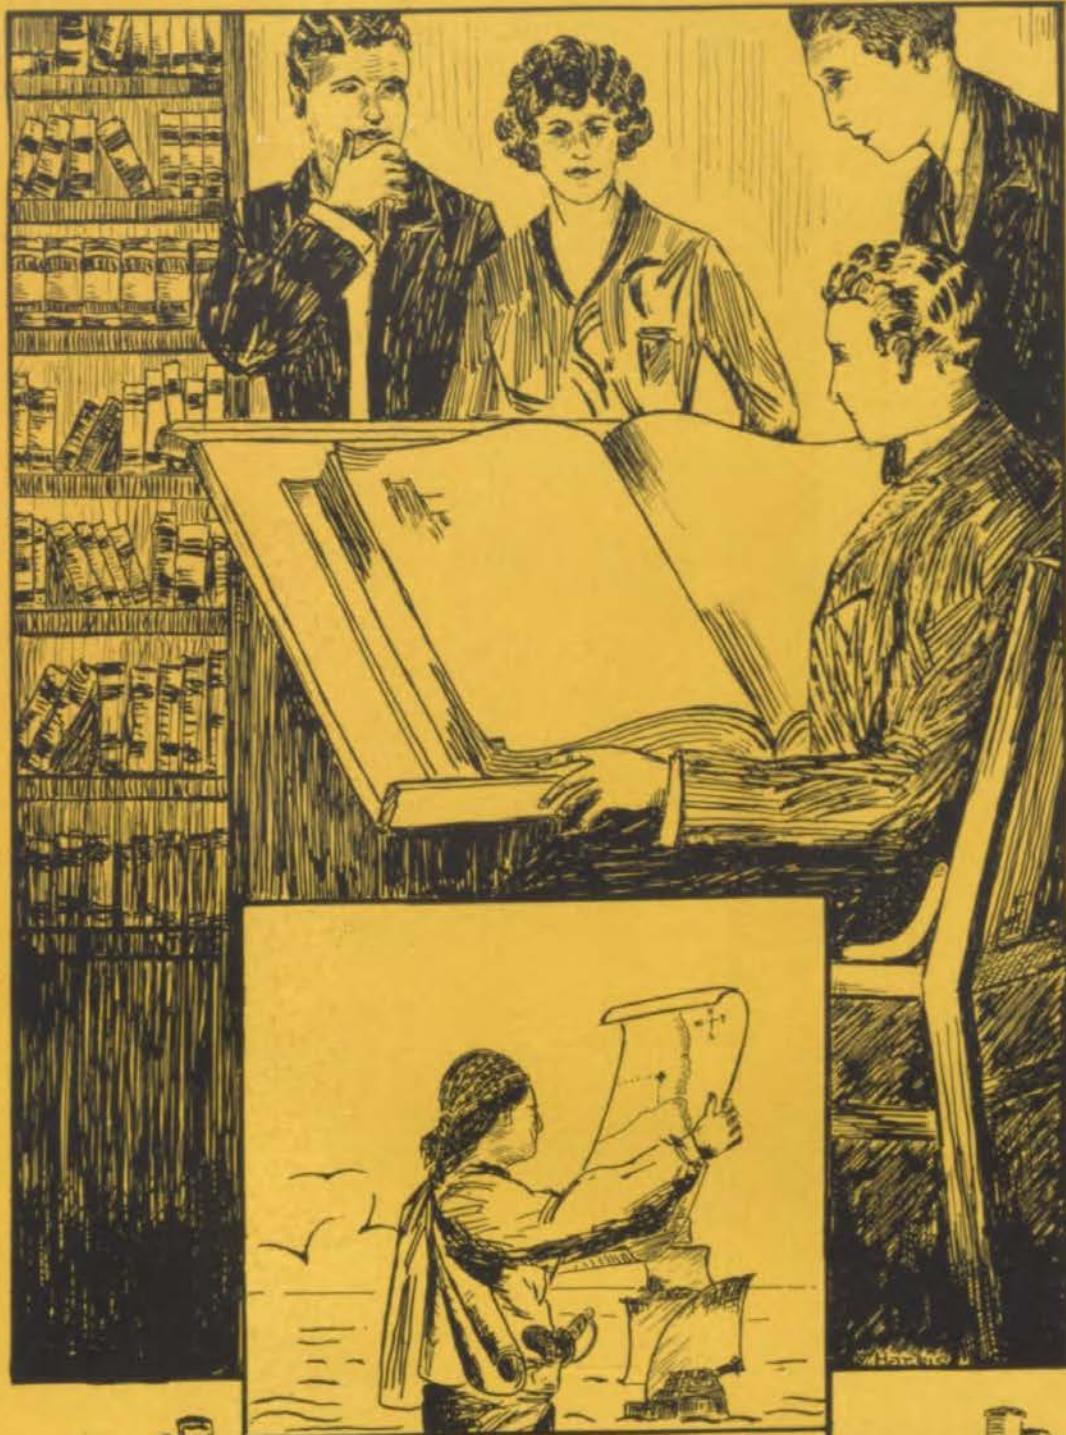

Company B took a most active part in the R. O. T. C. Circus. Frank Kritzer, a first lieutenant and the biggest man in the R. O. T. C. this year, proved his ability as a leader. Bill Jeffers also demonstrated that he was well acquainted with military tactics. George Boyd, a second lieutenant, was a competent military man, as was the other second lieutenant, Park Harnden. This company has worked hard and long in its drilling. This showed up in its excellent presentation at the R. O. T. C. Circus at Convention Hall in April. It made a good showing at Government Inspection.

THE NINETEEN HUNDRED TWENTY-NINE PASEON

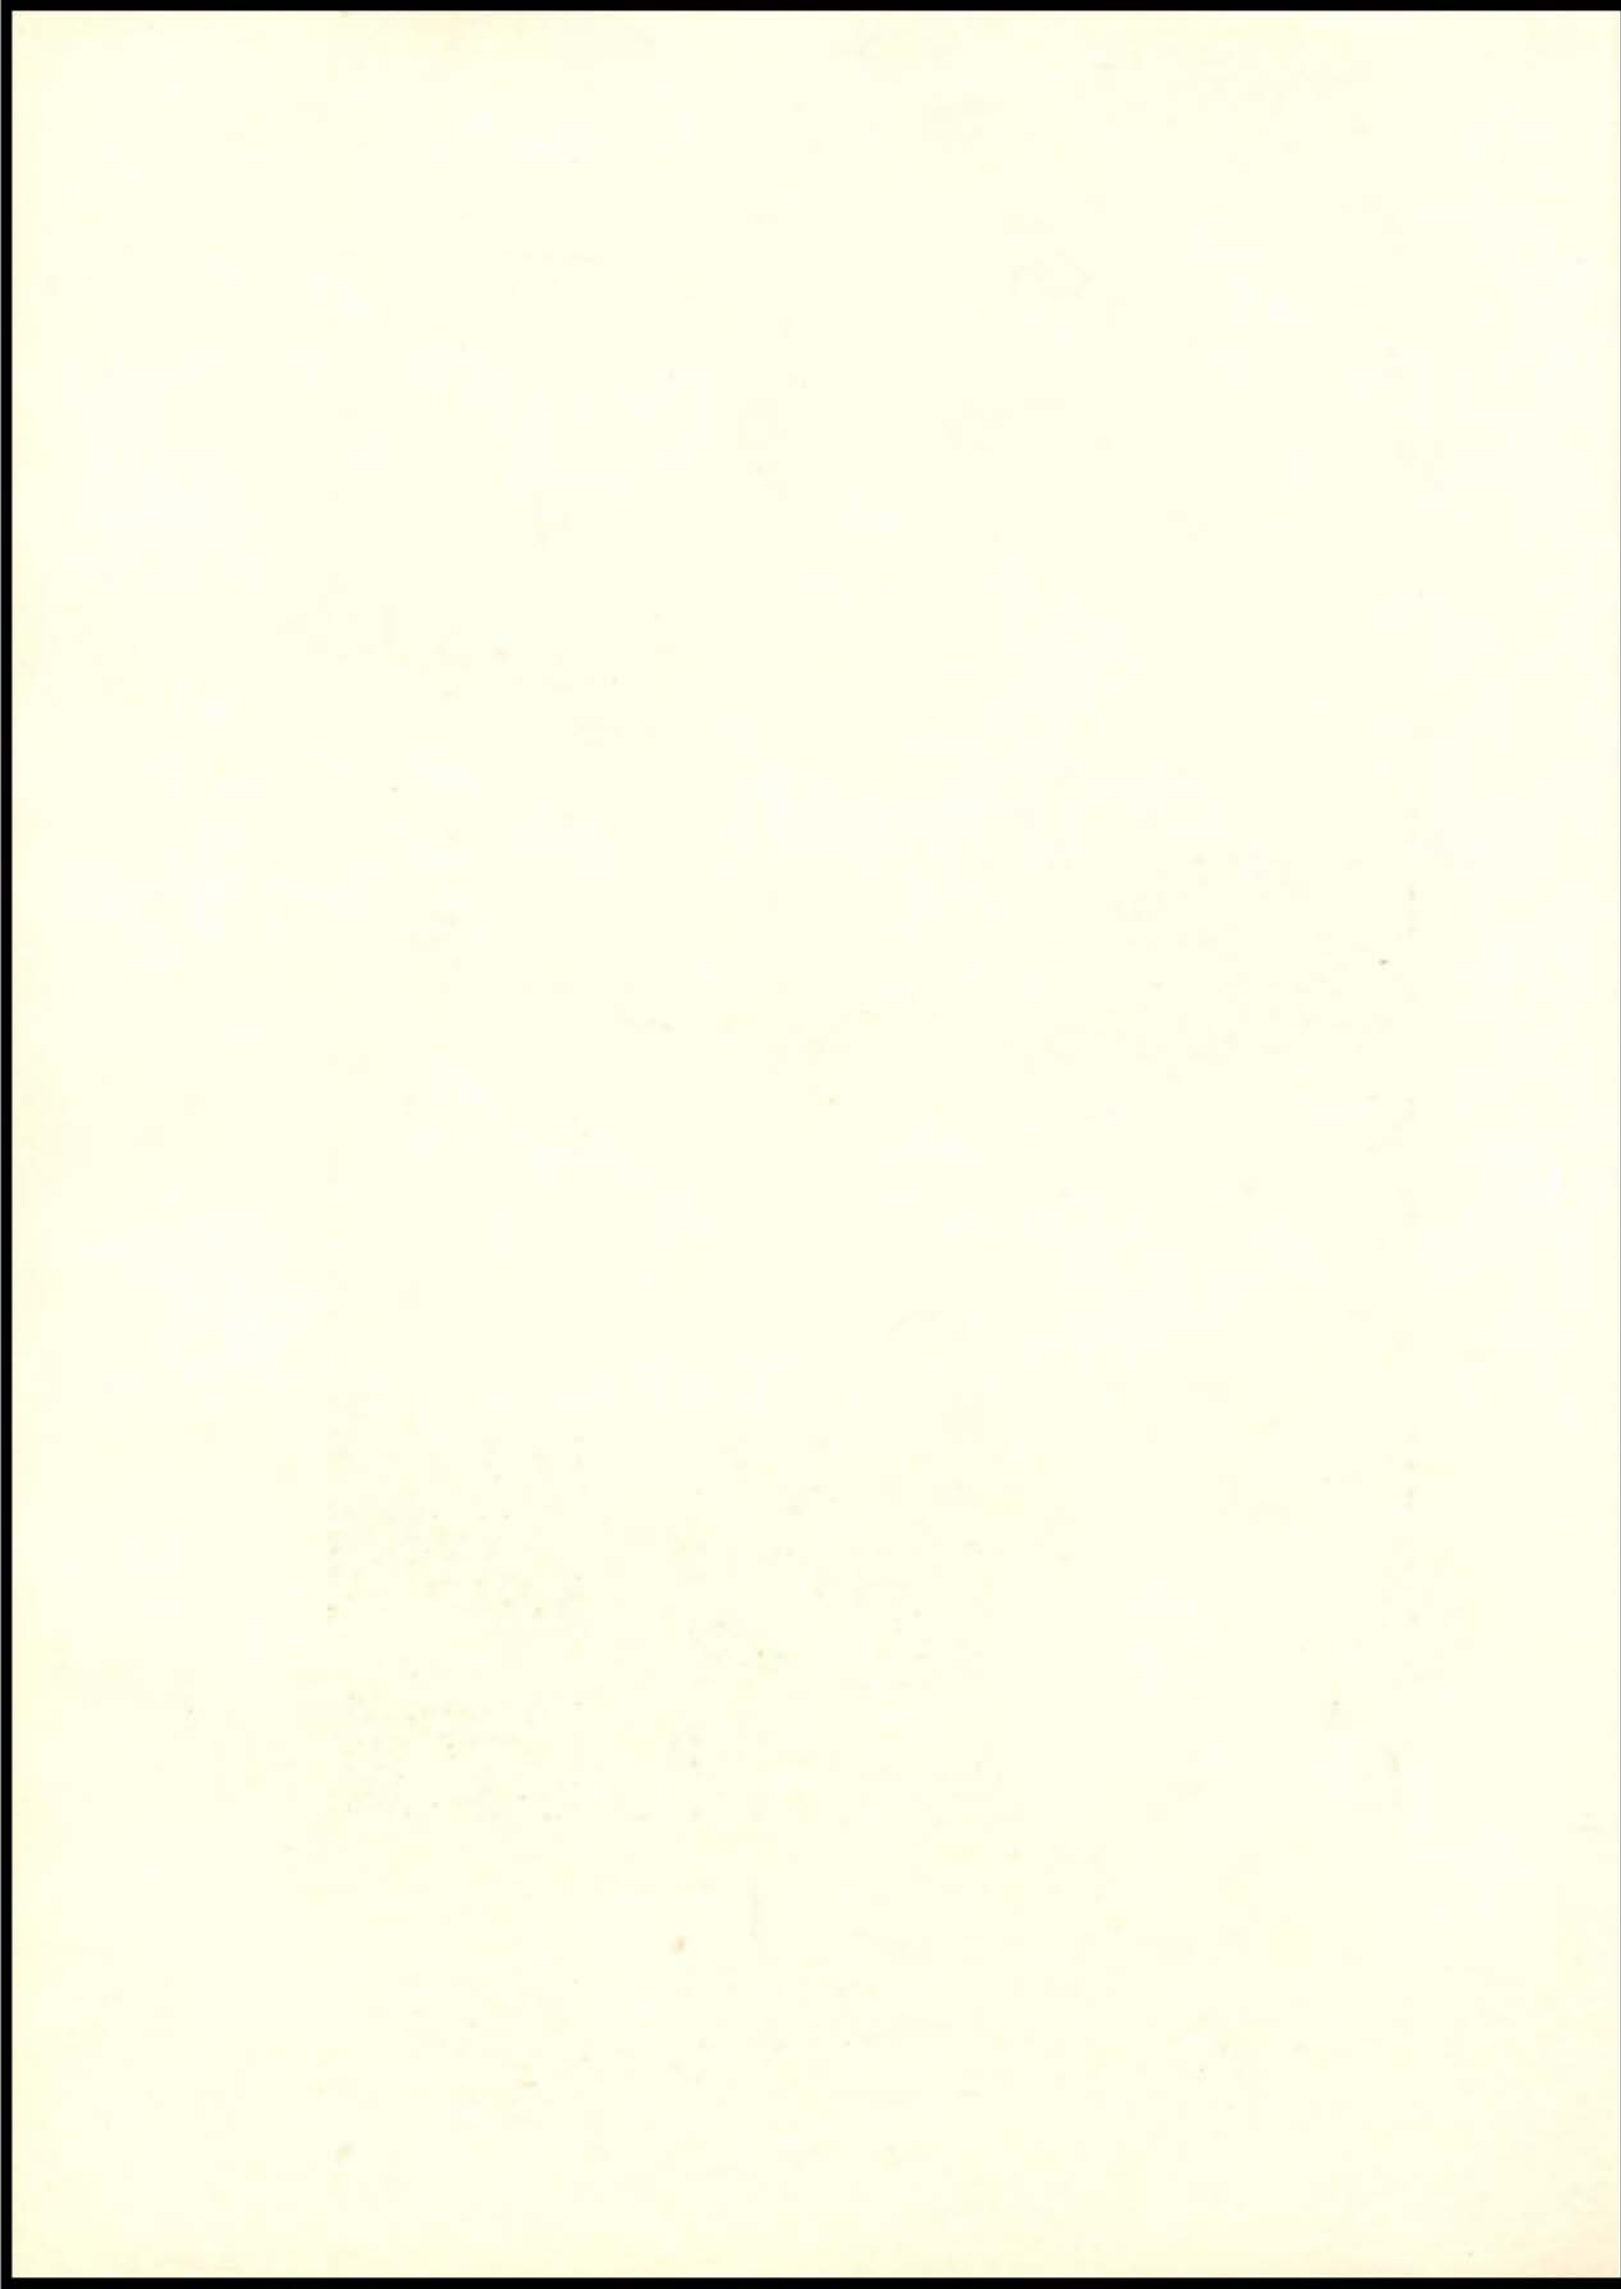

Devally Calusa

CHEST O' PEP

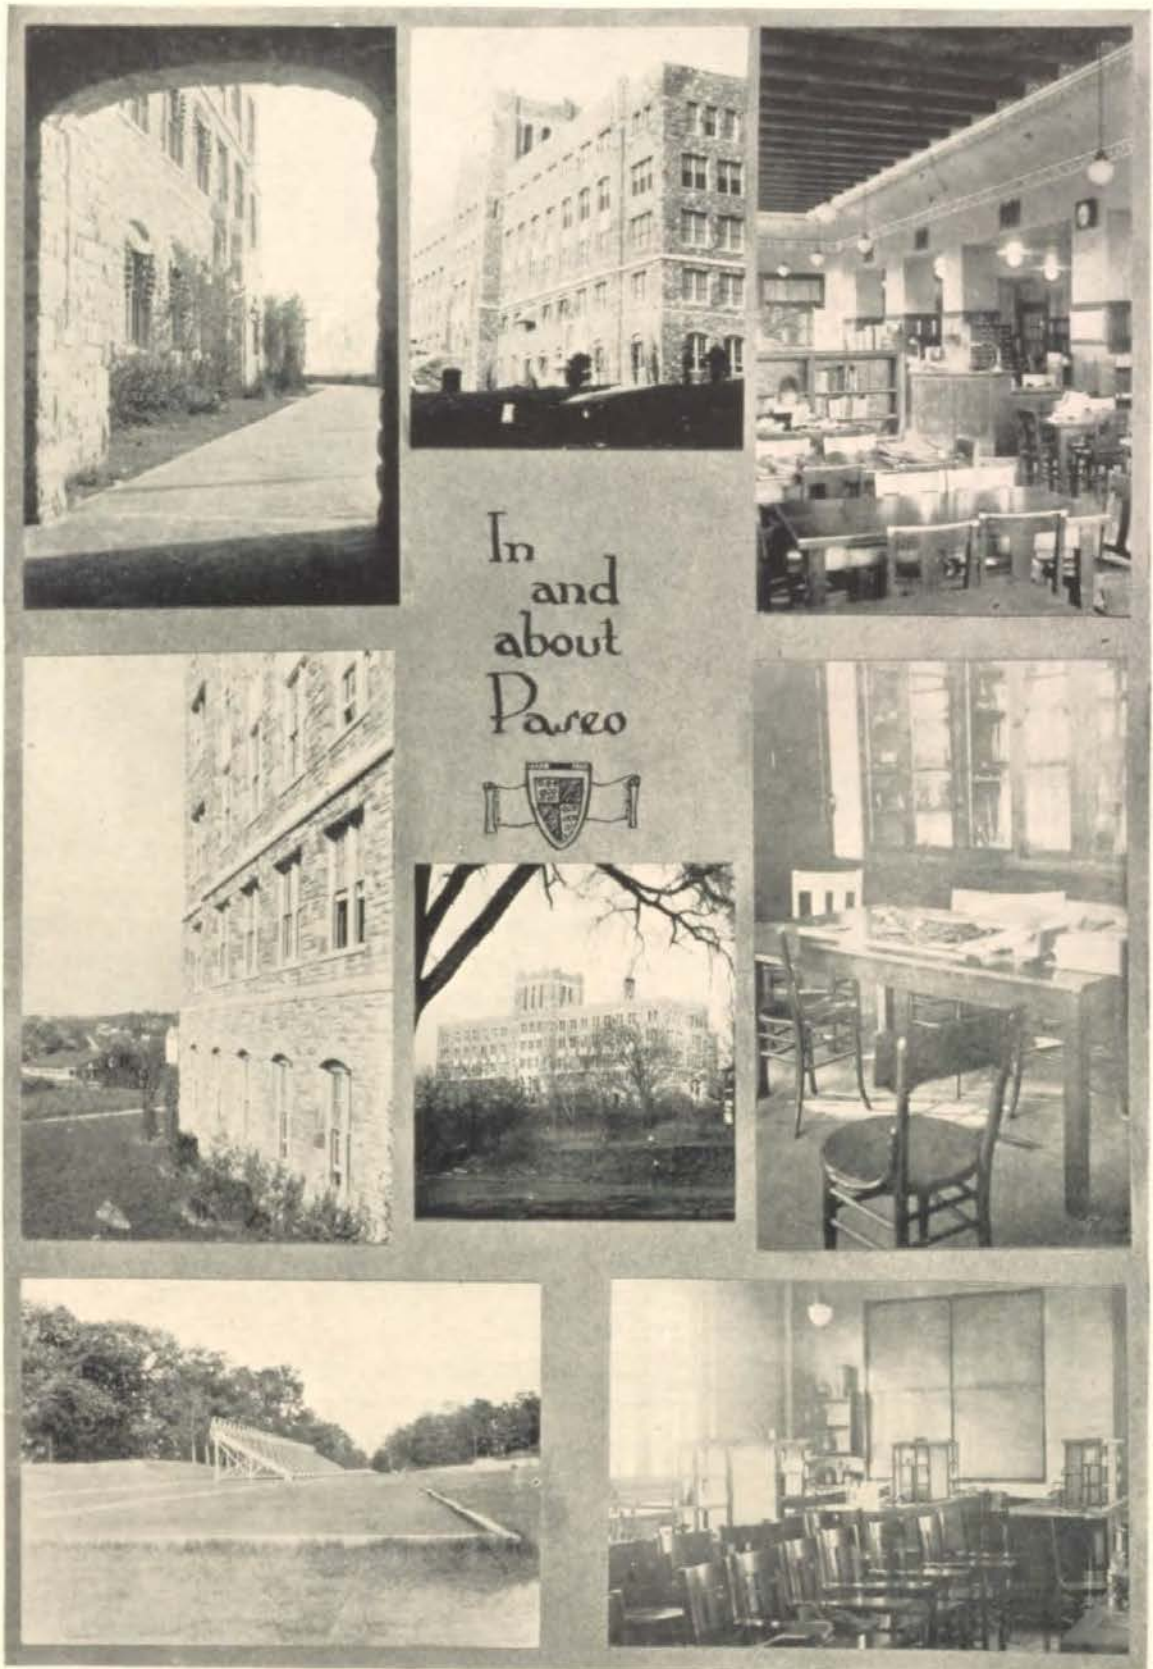

The following pages makes up the Paseo-scope, or a group of interesting snapshots. This section has appeared in the two preceding Paseons. It contains snapshots of well-known students, places of interest around the school building, familiar classrooms, and pictures of teachers. This should be of greatest interest to the students who read this book, as nothing is more interesting than to see pictures of sights viewed every day at school. This will serve as a sort of record in pictures of the good times that were had at Paseo by all the students. Some of the pictures are: Pictures of the members of the football and basketball teams, the carnival, the Christmas tree, track men, those officers of the R. O. T. C., and Suzanne Lispi, sponsor major, and pictures of the home room which won in the Paseo advertising campaign. Those who have grown to love Paseo will enjoy the pictures of the interiors and the exteriors of the building, the pictures of the athletic field, the entrances to the building, and spots of nature around the grounds. It should be a pleasure, indeed, to look back some years hence and see these pictures of our Alma Mater, which were taken by students.

The interiors are of the halls, the classroom, and the lunchroom. Among these are included the science laboratories, the household art rooms, the typing room, the auto mechanics shop, and the art room, where artists who have toiled over the Paseon were busily engaged. A call was sent out to all the students for pictures, and immediately it was answered. These pictures were taken by students who spent a great deal of time in working them out. Some of the pictures are merely informal groups, which were snapped by a student. The newest feature of this section is the baby pictures of well known students. This should prove the greatest pleasure to those who see them. This was one of the most important selling points for the annual, and it certainly created a stir. Howard Nason, the photographic editor, and James Burnley, his assistant, wish to thank those students who were kind enough to hand in photographs or snapshots. It was due to their efforts and to the efforts of those who worked in the art department that this section of the book was made a success. As an aid to the next Paseon staff, it is suggested that students begin taking pictures now to go in the Paseon of 1930.

PASEO'S PICTURE COLLECTION

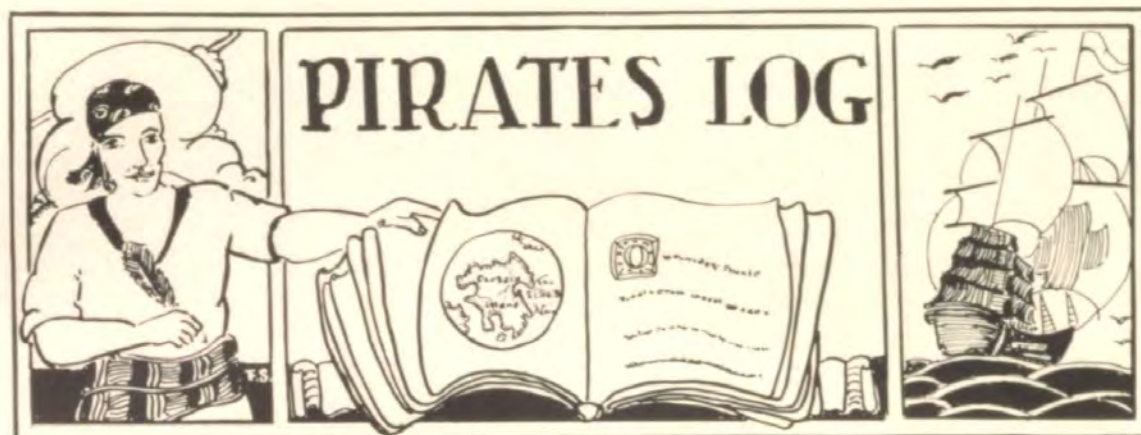

There is a general movement over the country for high schools to acquire originals. The picture committee at Paseo, in an effort to arouse interest in Paseo acquiring originals, arranged for an exhibition of twenty-eight original paintings during the picture fortnight, from May 1 to May 14, 1928. The senior class of 1928 fell in with the plans of the picture committee and purchased an original, "Springtime in New England," by Harriet Lumis. The P. T. A. also purchased one of the pictures exhibited during the fortnight, "The Dunes," by Miss Floy Campbell.

There are four pictures. They are: (1)

"Springtime in New England" by Mrs. Harriet Lumis. This is an original oil, costing $200. It was a gift of the class of 1928 and is hung in the front hall. (2) "The Sentinels" by Miss Delle Miller. This is also an original oil, and was a gift of the artist. It was secured by the picture committee of 1928. (3) "The Dunes" by Floy Campbell. This is an original water color, costing $50. It was a gift of the P. T. A. in 1928. (4) "The Carmel Coast" by Theodore Griley. This is an original oil painting. It was a gift of the artist and was secured by the picture committee of 1928.

THE NINETEEN HUNDRED TWENTY-NINE PASEON

Two years ago, the log was of a pirate exploring unknown seas. Last year, it was of a pirate turned aviator. This year it is of a pirate, who, though still an adventurer and a traveler, has turned scholar and gone in search for the Book Beautiful. His journeys are made on land and sea, wherever his search takes him. He has gone into the nooks and crannies of examinations, has blundered onto dances and parties, and has come into several fierce combats with various high schools. The journey began with over two thousand pilgrims. The enthusiasm soon spread, and before long, Paseo claimed the largest group of pilgrims in Kansas City. The journey began well under the leadership of Colonel Stigall and Captain Shepherd. The band moved over the bump of first grade cards with a few casualties and got well on its way toward the search. It was found early that some on board were very much used to these voyages and were little perturbed by the dangers that continually beset the way. To cheer the searchers on and to give them diversion in their spare time, club life was taken up again this year where it was dropped last.

The literary societies began their activities, and the Girl Reserves and Boys' High School Club began their meetings, both of great value to the students of Paseo. The Student Council was organized and was given a group of officers. The Paseo Press began a second year of informing the students of what was happening in the school. The football season proved the worth of Paseo's gridiron men and the Pirates received second place in the Interscholastic League Race. Central was the only school that was able to conquer the pilgrims on their third voyage. The Dramatic department gave three successful plays during the year, which were: "Out of the Stillness," "A Lucky Break," and "The Call of the Banshee." All of these productions found favor with large audiences. Several promising speakers were produced in the Oratorical and the Extemporaneous Speaking Contests. Brains are one of the biggest features of this voyage. Weary with the toil of the journey and the mental strain of the search, the pilgrims paused along the wayside to dance and to frolic in a series of dances and parties given by the literary societies and chartered clubs. When the Book Beautiful was really discovered the wanderers agreed that the trip had been a real success.

September 4, 1928.

Pirate Jym starts on his third voyage, this time on a quest for the Book Beautiful. He has turned scholar. In spite of the intellectual spirit of this trip, Jym has lost none of his lusty spirit of old. He has with him, 1,931 others bent on the same quest.

September 17, 1928.

Since the quest must be organized, the pilgrims have elected a Student Council to guide them.

September 21, 1928.

The Quest halts for a pitched battle with De LaSalle, in which the Pirates score their first victory.

September 25, 1928.

Virgil Dow is elected head cheerleader to cheer the warriors on.

October 4, 1928.

East High attempts to waylay the pilgrimage but are ignobly defeated. March on!

October 11, 1928.

The pilgrims pitch camp on a warm autumn night to hold open house.

October 27, 1928.

Pilgrims walk right over Westport without even looking behind.

November 1, 1928.

A special vanguard is sent out to search for the Book Beautiful, in the person of the Paseon staff headed by Walter Lyman.

November 2, 1928.

Another vanguard sent out in the shape of the Press Staff, under the leadership of Fred Kiel.

November 9, 1928.

King Carnival enters the midst of the Crusaders and reigns for a night.

December 7, 1928.

More frivolity in the shape of a Christmas play. With this before them, the Crusaders cannot forget the search.

December 20, 1928.

Lewis Rowland elected to lead seniors toward "promised" book.

February 18, 1929.

One of our most ardent crusaders, Doris Burns, is to represent Paseo in the Ex-temporaneous Speaking Contest. Good luck, Doris!

February 22, 1929.

Hail! Suzanne Lispi is Sponsor Major and Bill Staver is Major. We need some militants among us.

March 5, 1929.

Campaign for sale of Paseons starts. Maybe this will be the Book Beautiful.

March 6, 1929.

Elsie Dell, one of our young artists, wins first place in the R. O. T. C. Poster Contest.

March 8, 1929.

The seniors mix with the sophomores in the gym to show a spirit of brotherliness in the quest.

March 13, 1929.

The Girls' Gym Department entertains with the Footlight Fantasies.

March 21, 1929.

Walter Lyman, a promising orator, wins first place in the Oratorical Speaking Contest. Here's luck to Walter at Convention Hall!

March 22, 1929.

The Pilgrims have a lucky break when "A Lucky Break" is presented on Friday. Pirate Jym likes it.

April 6, 1929.

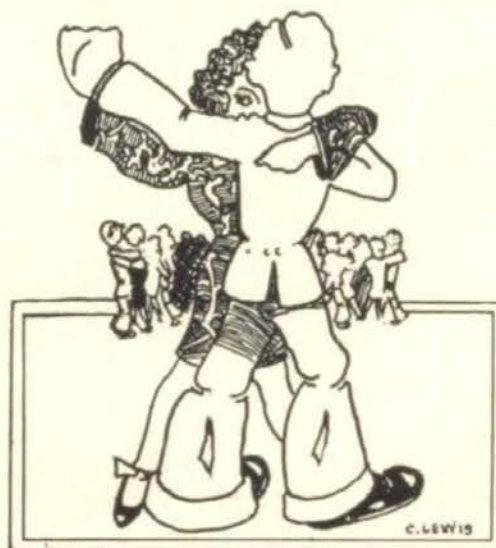

Ten percent of the senior class is honored by being voted into the National Honor Society.

May 17, 1929.

The juniors entertain the seniors with a prom. Pirate Jym attends it.

May 31, 1929.

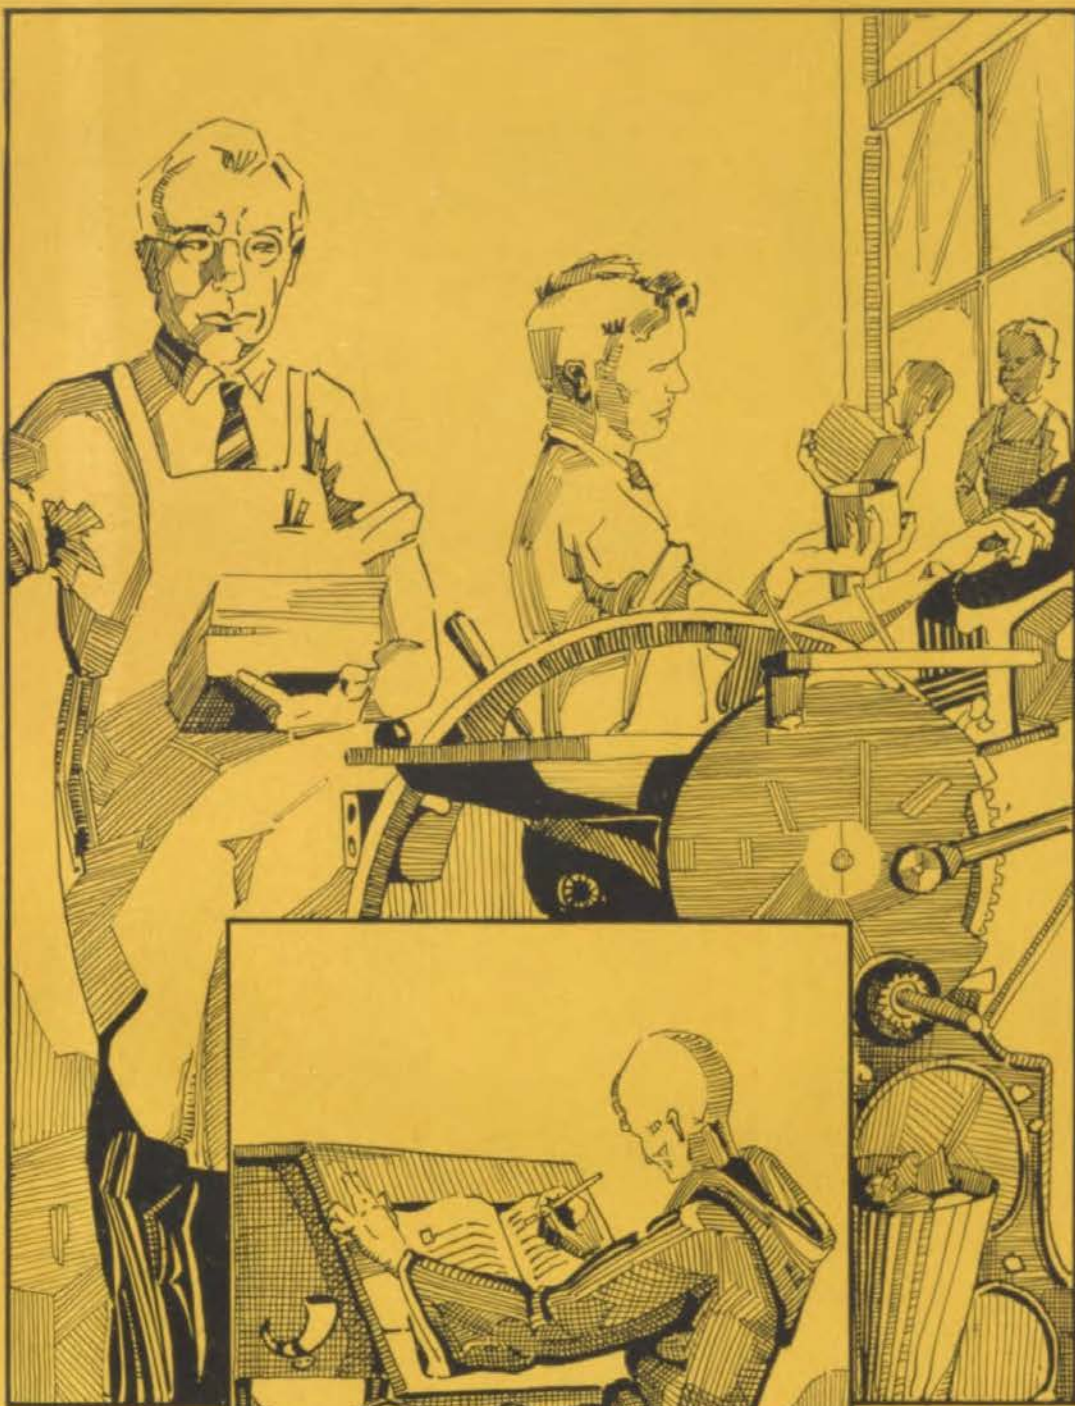

Eureka! The Book Beautiful is discovered in the form of the Paseon. The seniors depart with a copy under their arms.

THE NINETEEN HUNDRED TWENTY-NINE PASEON

All of us should want problems to solve, difficulties to overcome, things to do that test our strength and increase it. It is a fine thing to want to climb physical hills: it is a far finer thing to want to climb spiritual hills. Taken in both these senses, I like this prayer:

*"God, give me hills to climb
And strength for climbing."*

Dr. Stigall

Harry R. Stephens

Lincoln once said, "I'll work hard and maybe some day my chance will come." We all know the result of his struggle to secure an education. Men who have made the most of their abilities have been the hardest workers. Honest effort backed by enthusiasm is the surest way to achieve success.

CASH, CHARLES

Behold a future successful business man! He was bank cashier for his home room and was also the sergeant-at-arms in his home room.

CELLIER, EDWARD

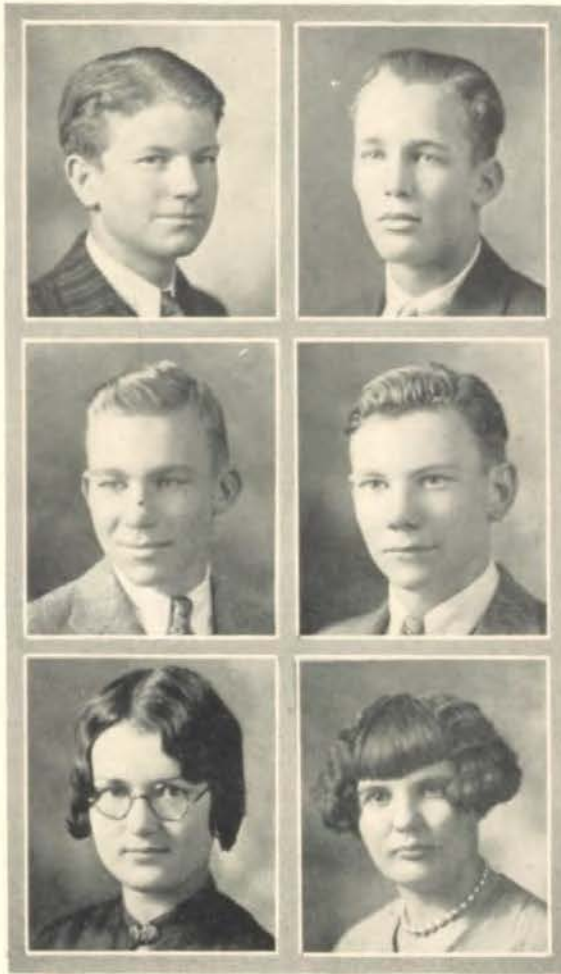

Edward, a member of the senior basketball team, is vague as to what line he is going to follow, but he is decided on the fact that he is fond of athletics.

CIES, CATHERINE

We have with us nothing less than an aspiring linguist, who will continue her studies at Lindenwood College. She won a declamatory contest at Craig, Missouri.

CLARK, DICK

Dick was one of the reasons Pasco won second place in football. He was a member of the football team and the Letterman's Club. He was president of the Sports Club.

CLARKE, EMERY

Emery was Paseo's artist. He was a member of the Junto Club, Student Council and Tennis team. He was art editor of the Paseon and won a scholarship to the Art Institute.

CLAY, JOHN ANDREW

John, a member of the Student Council and the Property Committee, is going to J. C. next year. His main interest in school was track.

COLEMAN, ELBERT H., JR.

This useful member of the 1928 football team seems undecided as to what his plans for the future are. Football took most of his time and interest at Paseo.

COLEMAN, RICHARD LEE

He is one of the few students who say they are interested in gaining knowledge. He was secretary of the Parliamentary Law Club, a football and cafeteria usher.

COMER, RUTH NADINE

Ruth was secretary of the Iotas and was a charter member. She was also a member of the Choral Club. She will go to California University.

CONCANNON, NELDA

Nelda should make a wonderful cook if she is as interested in that subject in the future as she is now. She was a member of the Girl Reserves.

COOPER, NELLIE JOSEPHINE

Joe was a member of the Speed Demons and the Soterian Clubs. She was alternate to the Student Council and took a minor part in "Sally and Company."

CORNETT, NAOMI LEIGH

We are waiting to see what kind of a journalist Naomi will make after she's through Kansas University. She belonged to the Etiquette Club.

CORRIGAN, FRANCES M.

Frances won two athletic pins. She was a member of the hockey, baseball, basketball, volleyball and endball teams. She was vice-president of the Mask and Wig Club and on the makeup committee.

COUGHENOUR, FRANCES C.

The fact that Frances wants to be a dancer has not lessened her interest in French at Paseo. She was the reporter for the French Club.

CRABAUGH, LOIS LOUISE

It remains to be settled whether Lois will be an artist or a bookkeeper. Her interest in art, though, was manifested by her membership in the Palette and Brush Club.

CRAYCRAFT, ROBERT

Bob was a member of the Junto Club and track team. His inclinations veer toward aviation, but most everybody's do, these days.

THE NINETEEN HUNDRED TWENTY-NINE PASEON

CUSHMAN, PAULINE ANNABETH

Pauline, a newcomer to Paseo, is going to Kansas University next year. She was a member of the Recreational Club and tells us she was fond of U. S. history.

CUTTING, DAVID RICHMOND

He is a member of the Muir Nature Club. He frankly admits that he intends to go to K. U., and become a big business man.

DALRYMPLE, WILLIAM J.

William anticipates chemical engineering as a career. He has been secretary and Keatonian of the Keats Club. He is a member of Chess Club, the Hi-Y and the Student Council.

D'ASTA, MARY

Mary was a Student Council representative, a Girl Reserve and a member of the Palette and Brush Club. She intends to go to Teacher's College.

DAVIS, KATHRYN LOUISE

Kay, the winner of a 50-point letter, 100-point pin, 200-point ring and 300 and 400-point letters, was tennis manager, endball manager, winner of Missouri state letter, and girl's sport editor of this Paseon.

DAVIS, WILMA R.

To be a typist or a stenographer is Wilma's ambition. She has been a member of the Parliamentary Law and Recreational Clubs and was her home room reporter.

DELANEY, LUCILLE

Lucille, who was president of the Recreational Club, was both secretary and vice-president of her home room. She was on the general honor roll.

DELL, ELSIE

This Iota of Paseo's senior class expects to take the work of a government railway mail clerk.

SWANSON, RUSSELL

Russell was a member of the Hi-Y, the Recreational, the Mystic, and the Parliamentary Law Club. He says he's doing his best to get out of going to college.

SWENSON, EDNA O.

This Iota is also a member of the Tennis, Orchestra, and Choral Clubs. She was a member of the Double sextet which received awards in assembly in 1928.

TALBOTT, RUTH

Ruth was president of the Zetas, treasurer of Junior Class, on the honor roll, and in two of the plays. She was the Frances Scarritt Hanley girl in 1928 and was sponsor- lieutenant.

TAYLOR, JUANITA MARY

This Peppy Pirate is a member of the Play Reading and Social Dancig Clubs, and on the basketball, volleyball, endball, and Tennis teams. She won a typing award for accuracy.

TETYAK, JOHN JOSEPH

John will be remembered as Paseo's football captain and tackle on the all-star team. He was also an officer of the Sports and Lettermen's Clubs.

THOMAS, MERRILL

This football player is a member of the Sports and Lettermen's Club, and the golf team. He is chiefly interested in athletics.

THOMPSON, HUGH

Hugh was a member of the Chamber of Commerce Club, the Crack Company. He will study aviation at Kelley Field, Texas.

THORP, HORACE ORVILLE

Golf seems to be Orville's profession. He is a member of the R. O. T. C. and is interested in golf.

TINSLEY, VIVIAN FRANCES

Vivian was an officer of the Spanish Club. Her favorite studies were zoology and literature. She will study stenography at a business college.

TOWNSEND, WILLIAM U., JR.

This officer of the Junto Club also belonged to the Know Kansas City Club. He was on the executive board of the Student Council and was chairman of the property committee.

TOYNE, DOROTHY MAY

This Thicion member was also reporter of the Speed Demons. She was much interested in shorthand and typing and will attend business college.

THE NINETEEN HUNDRED TWENTY-NINE PASEON

TUNGETT, JUNIOR

Junior was vice-president of the Keats, reporter for the Lettermen, and a member of the football and basketball teams. He had a major part in the Mins-trel show and was an editor on the Press.

TWYMAN, ROBERT M.

Bob was a member of the Actor's Club, had leads in "Helena's Husband" and "The Lucky Break," received honorable mention in a poster contest, and made a stage design.

UKEN, ALBERT

Albert, whose hobby was golf, was a member of the Officers' Club and crack platoon and company. He was a sergeant in R. O. T. C.

VALENTINE, EDNA

Besides being an Iota, Edna was also a member of the Muir Club, Girl's Sports Club, and was on the volleyball and hockey teams.

VENABLE, ANNA MARILYN

Marilyn was a member of the Iota's, the Soterian Club, and is outstanding in girl's athletics. She was awarded the 200 point pin in athletics, and three typing awards.

VOCHATZER, BERNICE JUNE

In addition to being a Cynthian, Bernice was a member of the Soterian and Accountants' Clubs, and the Student Council. Due to her excellence in typing, she was on the Paseon staff.

WAGNER, MARY VIRGINIA

A loyal Zeta, Virginia also belonged to the Social Dancing, Etiquette, and Accountants' Clubs. She took part in the Footlight Fantasies of 1927.

WASHBURN, B. ORVILLE

Orville was a member of the Boy's High School Club and the Mask and Wig Club. He hopes to go to Junior College next year.

WATLING, ORVILLE W.

Orville expects to study either mechanics or business for a profession. He was especially interested in track and other athletics.

WATTS, RETTA VERDETTA

Verdetta was an officer of the Chess Club and belonged to the Social Games Club. She won first place in a safety poster contest, and will take a J. C.-M. U. course.

WEATHERFORD, ANNA

Anna was a member of the Speed Demons, the honor roll, and the Student Council. She won several typing awards and was vice-president in her history class.

WHITE, MARJORIE JEAN

Marjorie was a member of the Friendship Club and the Actors' Club. She was the president of her home room and had a small part in the spring play.

THE NINETEEN HUNDRED TWENTY-NINE PASEON

WHITNEY, DAVID V.

This rifleman was also the sergeant-at-arms of the Chess Club, and was a Student Council alternate. The rifle team was the center of his interest.

WILLOUGHBY, ROBERT

Another R. O. T. C. corporal was Robert, and a member of the Postage Stamp Club. He will continue his interest in drafting at Junior College.

WINTER, JEAN

Jean was a member of the Zeta Literary Society, was president of her English class, and was reporter for the Parliamentary Law Club. She will go to K. U.

WITSCHNER, ROSE

Rose was president of the French Club and was a Student Council representative in 1925. She will continue her study of French at Junior College and M. U.

WOLVERTON, A. J.

To get a diploma seems to be the peak of A. J.'s ambitions. He was a member of the Travel Around the World, and the Vocational Guidance Clubs.

WOODWARD, YVETTE

A Peppy Pirate reporter was Yvette, and also a member of the honor roll. Her favorite studies were History and English and she will go to Junior College.

WOODWARD, JOAN

Joan was secretary of the Student Council, the Thicians, and the junior and senior classes. She was a sponsor captain and was on the Press staff.

WYATT, CHARLEIN M.

Charlein, who will go to Northwestern University, was a Thicion, a member of the Soterian and Parliamentary Law Clubs, and a Student Council alternate.

WYLDER, LAWRENCE N.

Lawrence was a member of the Recreational and Hi-Y Clubs and of the football squad. He expects to study engineering at Harvard.

YEARIAN, HOWARD B.

Howard was a member of the Parliamentary Law Club. He seemed to be more interested in History than any of his other subjects.

YUKON, GERALD

Gerald was a member of the Spanish Club and the Etiquette Club. He expects to take a course at business college next year.

VAUGHT, DOROTHY MARIE

Dorothy was a parliamentarian of the Iotas, a member of the Gregg Writers and the Needlework Club, and the honor roll. She was in "Sally and Company" and was a Charity Drive speaker.

THE NINETEEN HUNDRED TWENTY-NINE PASEON

ALLM, CLAIR

Clair was a member of the Etiquette Club. He played on the second basketball team and was a member of the Student Council. He will go to K. U.

BARNARD, MAX

Max was a member of the Glee Club and the Etiquette Club. He left Paseo at the middle of the year.

CROSS, WILLIAM

William, a nature enthusiast, was a member of the Muir Naturalists and of the Stamp Club. He plans to go to Junior College next year.

COPPAKEN, MARTIN

"Marty" was a member of the Gun Club and of the Etiquette Club.

KELLOGG, NORMAN

Norman was a member of the Sports Club. He was also his home room representative to the Student Council. He will attend M. U.

LUNDBERG, JOE

Joe was a member of the Baseball Club.

SOMMERHOUSE, CLEO

Cleo was a member of the Baseball Club. He plans to attend the Kansas City Junior College next year.

Senior Ballot

On Friday, April 12, the senior class met to name a senior ballot. This is one of the most outstanding events of the school year. The candidates are discussed by the seniors and as much excitement is prevalent over the outcome as over the election of the senior officers. To be elected is a reward of the effort and the popularity of the students.

Boy Who Has Done Most for Paseo—
Walter Lyman.

Girl Who Has Done Most for Paseo—
Doris Burns.

Best Boy Student—Fred Kiel.

Best Girl Student—Ruth Burnley.

Most Popular Boy—Virgil Dow.

Most Popular Girl—Pauline Small.

Best Boy Athlete—Lewis Rowland.

Best Girl Athlete—Katherine Davis.

Best Boy Actor—Myron Blotcky.

Best Girl Actress—Suzanne Lispi.

Beau Brummel—Robert Schwindler.

Belle Brummel—Josephine Smith.

Jolly Good Boy—Herbert Roush.

Jolly Good Girl—Alma Hatten.

Junior Officers

The juniors now feel that it is their turn to have the center of the stage and be applauded as have the seniors. They are, in short, craving attention. And why shouldn't they have it? The junior class, this year, has been as any preceding third year group. The class was organized as it was last year. The balloting was done in the home rooms. On the final ballot, the following officers were elected: president, Howard Stock; vice-president, Billy Duncan; secretary, Francis Tucker; treasurer, Max Heffner; sergeant-at-arms, Felice Stampfle; gift-receiver, Danae Walters; reporter, Virginia Bevens. These officers presided for the first time at a meeting on Tuesday, March 19. The juniors were addressed by Mr. Shepherd, and Howard Stock announced that the meeting had been called to plan a junior-senior prom. Each junior was as-essed fifty cents to meet the expenses of the dance. The prom was a huge success and the seniors agreed that the juniors had outdone themselves in this brilliant affair. The juniors mixed with the seniors at a mixer in the gymnasium after school Friday, March 22. There were juniors on the football team, the basketball team, the Student Council, the National Honor Society, The Paseon staff, The Paseo Press staff, and the extemporaneous speaking contest. It is noticeable that Howard Stock, the president of this year's junior class, is the captain-elect of the 1929 football team. The position of business manager of The Paseon was filled by William Murray, a junior, while the position of advertising manager was also filled by a junior, namely, Charles Gibson. The assistant editor of The Press, Felice Stampfle, was a junior.

Many firms like to emphasize quickness and cheapness. We give these things their due importance, but not their chief important. Our organization's supreme emphasis is laid on quality. Bender's quality has given satisfaction to the customer for the past ten years. It makes new customers enthusiastic and keeps old customers true.

Jack Osterman
says
"CANDY gives me PEP"

Jack Osterman, Chicago's Own Dynamo Of Jazz, now appearing at the Balaban & Katz "Oriental" Theatre, Chicago, says: "It's like this: Candy gives me 'pep'—soothes my throat and adds lots of pleasure to life. Like all actors, I watch my weight and you may be sure that I wouldn't eat candy if I thought it brought any bulges to the old frame. I don't get a cent for this endorsement, which is best proof that I like candy."

Jack Osterman

Candy is one of our best "quick-energy" foods for it is ready to be burned as fuel almost as soon as eaten.

Eaten as part of one's diet, candy has no unique fat-producing qualities. Those who are reducing find that a little candy prevents fatigue and nervousness. The great cause of fatigue is insufficient sugar in the blood.

The Quizzer's Song

I teach the trusting little tots
The things that they should know.
Painstakingly I shape their thoughts.
And watch their powers grow.

I guide each adolescent mind
In paths of rectitude,
I am their Mentor, firm but kind,
The guardian of my brood.

My mission is a worthy one,
With pride my bosom swells,
But some day ere my life is done,
I'll choke the damn dumb-bells

There Ought to Be a Law

A fellow out in Steamboat Rock fell down and barked his shin,
He nursed it and he cursed it with a grim and grisly grin.
Then wrote and told his congressman about the stump that tripped him
And voiced indignation incontinently gripped him,
The congressman got busy with a ream of legal-cap
(Though few of us had known that Steamboat Rock was on the map);
He framed a law forbidding leaving stumps six inches high—
It passed; and now 'tis one of those we all are governed by.

Full many a little citizen grows "all het up" and vocal
O'er something superpiffing and superlatively local,
And drives his representative (who yearns for re-election)
To make a nation's law about some localized affection.
We break a law an hour, on an average, I guess,
For multitudes of laws produce a law-ignoring mess.
Our country's bulky statute-books contain a million laws
That, if enforced, would place us in constabulatory claws.

'Tis safe to say that each of us, without one lone exception,
Breaks every day a dozen laws of which he's no conception.
There's scarcely any human deed that's natural or pleasant
But that one day that self-same act has peeved some paltry peasant
Who promptly got his congressman to pass a law about it,
That you and I in innocence or ignorance might flout it.
For broth is not the only thing spoiled by too many cooks—
'Twould do our country worlds of good to "thin" our statute books!

The Waste Basket Test

What Is the Fate of Your Printed Advertising?

Does it go into the waste-basket with no more than a glance, or is it kept to be read again and again—and, finally, to be acted on to your profit and the reader's satisfaction?

To gain attention your Printed Advertising must be, first of all, attractive. To sell your goods or service it must be so convincingly written it cannot be ignored.

Convincing—selling—advertisements are the result of study and research which bring a sympathetic knowledge of the user's wants and needs. Advertisements must be PLANNED before they are written.

And, finally, Advertisements intended to escape the waste-basket and to do a good selling job, must be printed well on good paper and with fresh, clean type.

A capably manned Plan Department is at your service in preparing the ground-work for your Advertising—in producing copy that will impel your prospect's favorable action.

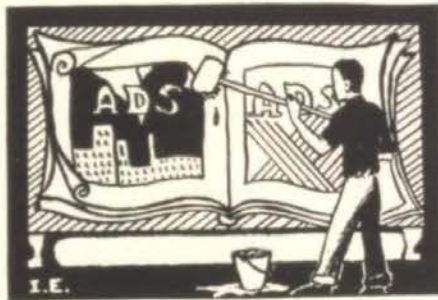

Expert typographers will dress your carefully planned copy attractively, commanding both attention and respect for your message.

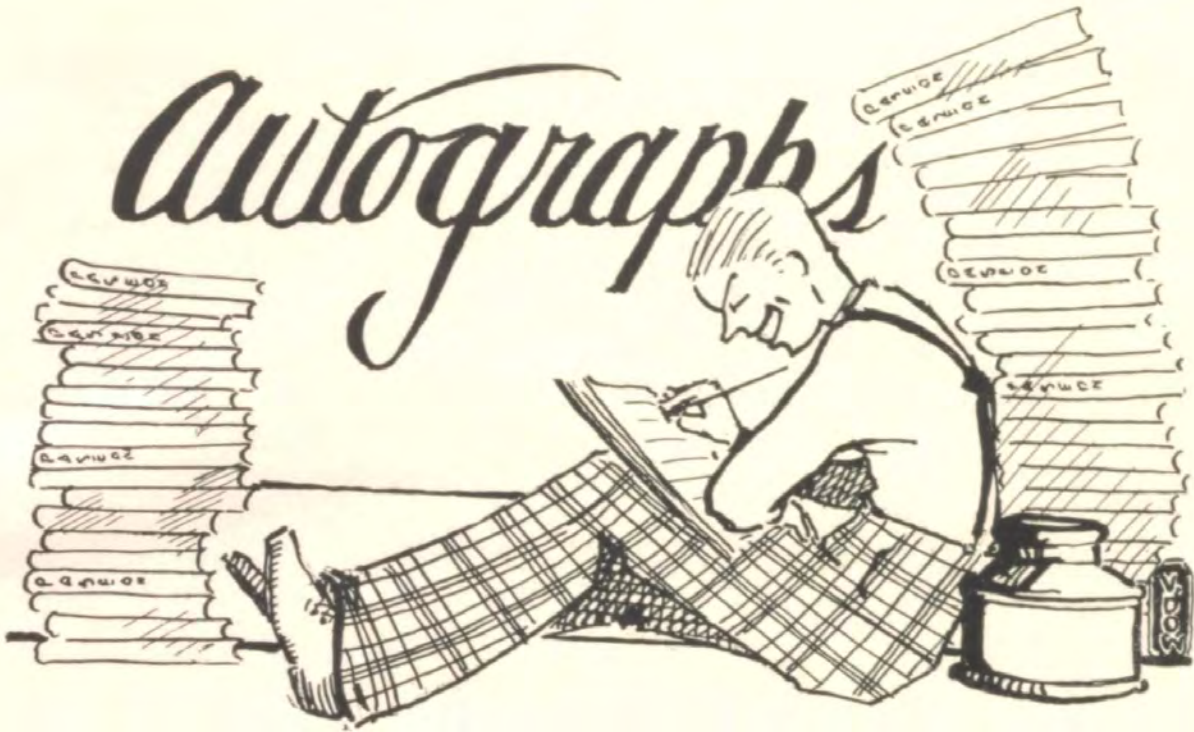

You are invited to call us into consultation on your advertising problems.

Acknowledgments

THE staff of the 1929 Paseon at Paseo High School wishes to thank their many friends and assistants who have made this annual possible. Without the aid of any number of persons who have labored diligently without receiving any reward or notice, the annual would have been a much more difficult project to undertake. We extend our cordial appreciation for their many valuable suggestions to our advisers, Miss Blase, Mr. Cramer, and Miss D. Miller.
