VOLUME VI - MCMXXXII

DEDICATION

¶ Upon thy staunch foundation were these United States established and for thy principles they stand, OH, WASHINGTON; so it is right that we, in the two-hundredth anniversary of thy birth, do dedicate this 1932 PASEON to thee . . . . .

FOREWORD

From chaos to harmony; from oppression to freedom; from obscurity to world-wide prominence; thus has been the advance of this nation. And may this same spirit of progress be fittingly expressed in this record of the memorable year, 1931-32.

PRESENTED BY THE CLASS OF 1931

THE Class of 1931 presented as a class gift this title picture of a full-rigged pirate ship, which will add lasting beauty to Paseo's halls and will be an inspiration to the many who daily pass by it.

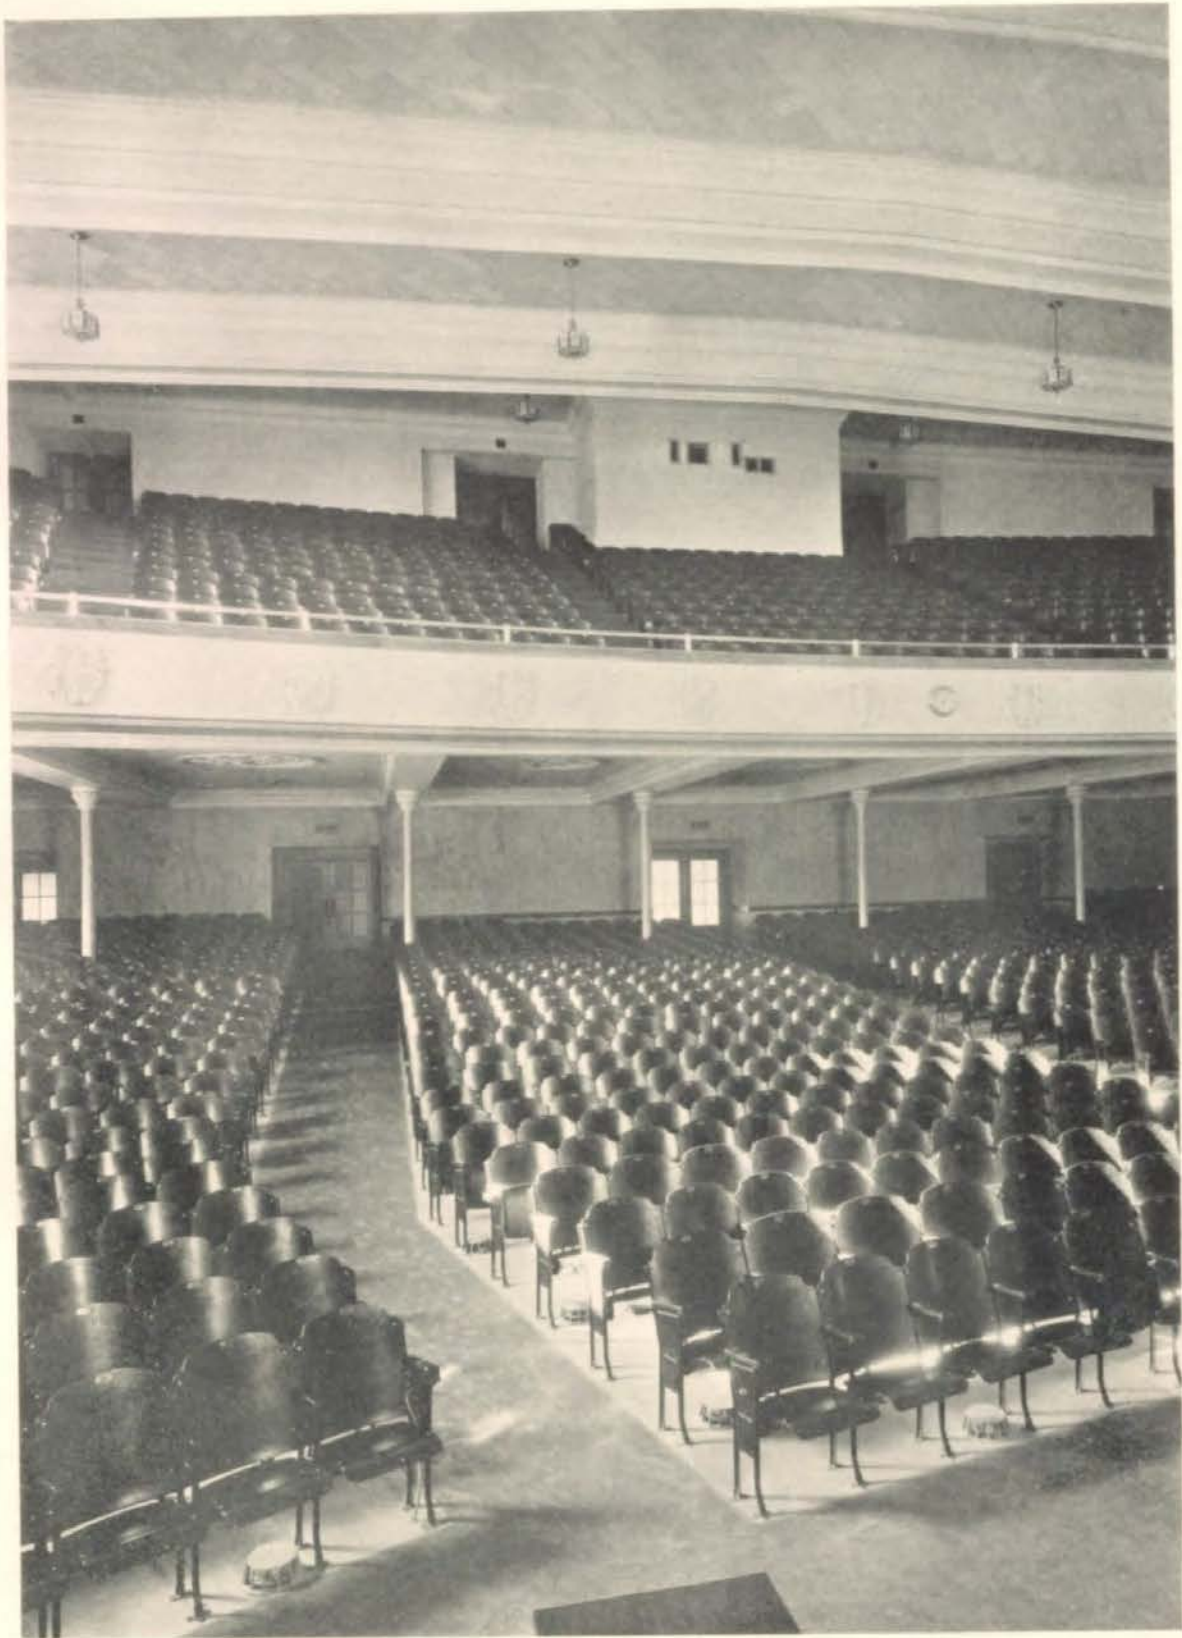

ON March 21, M. Paul Claudel, French Ambassador to the United States, visited Paseo as the guest of Mr. Paul Constant, French vice-consul in Kansas City. Paseo was the only public high school that was so honored. M. Claudel spoke in assembly, stressing the importance of continued good will between France and the United States and expressing his appreciation of the welcome given him here. In the group shown on this page are: Miss Annette Moore, vice-president of the Board of Education, M. Claudel, Mr. Constant, Mr. Stigall and Mr. Shepherd.

Paseo Parent-Teacher Association

"To promote child welfare in home, school, church, and community; to raise the standards of home life; to secure more adequate laws for the care and protection of women and children." That is the object of the Parent-Teacher Associations. Even though this has been a year of depression, the Paseo association feels that it has fulfilled the program outline in the beginning of the year. Due to the splendid help and co-operation of the teachers, students, and parents, the membership has passed the 500 mark, making this the largest high school association in Kansas City. The parent education lectures by Mr. Arthur Gilbert of the Teachers College were well attended.

The theme for the year's program, "Co-operation Between Home and School," with both the faculty and students having a part, seemed to be well liked as shown by an increased attendance.

The officers of the Parent-Teacher Association this year were as follows: president, Mrs. A. Barnby; second vice-president, Mrs. W. R. Melton; third vice-president, Miss Mabelle M. Miller; recording secretary, Mrs. W. R. Hossman; corresponding secretary, Mrs. H. G. Flury; treasurer, Mr. Harry R. Shepherd; sergeant-at-arms, Mrs. Robert Israel; auditor, Mr. G. M. Lortz, and historian, Mrs. William Gallagher. The chairmen of the standing committees were: publicity, Mrs. D. O. Garman; room mother, Mrs. Paul Campbell; mutual help, Mrs. A. M. Perkins; parent education, Mrs. Cordell Scotten; citizenship, Mrs. John P. Eldridge; ways and means, Mrs. William Townsend and Mrs. A. C. Holt; hospitality, Mrs. Walter Parkins; program, Mrs. A. P. Rosenstock; better films, Mrs. Frank Ross; press, Mrs. J. E. Peuter; literature, Mrs. Carl Jensen; and founder's day, Mrs. McNelsen.

This statement by George Washington is worthy of careful consideration:

"Nothing but harmony, honesty, industry, and frugality are necessary to make us a great and happy people."

George Washington

The nationwide celebration of the birth of our beloved Washington this year has brought out with refreshing vigor the influence of his ideals and teachings upon American life. Nothing greater was said by him than this:

"I hope I shall possess firmness and virtue enough to maintain what I consider the most enviable of all titles, the character of an honest man."

You and I cannot accept less as the rule and guide of our daily conduct.

Traffic Squad

The Traffic Squad, the able patrolmen of the lunch room, have just finished a year of free "feeds" and efficient service under the direction of Mr. Harry Shepherd, vice-principal. This year Ivan Tweedie was the director-general of this capable group. The other officers were: captains, Vincent Dasta, Fred Polte, and Harry Myers; and lieutenants, Charles Garbacz, Milton Stomp and Bob Stampfle.

Student Council (First Semester)

The Student Council of Paseo High School was organized the first year of Paseo's existence and has been an important factor in bringing about a closer relationship between the faculty and the student body. With the council as a medium, an opportunity has been given the students to express their opinions and desires.

Due to the cooperation of this select group, the athletic department was able to sell 835 football tickets and 535 basketball tickets. The securing of 1330 subscriptions to the Paseo Press, a donation of $263 to the Junior Red Cross, and a voluntary contribution of $98 to the student floral fund, are other accomplishments of this organization. During the Christmas season, a Christmas tree adorned the main entrance to our school. A movement to standardize senior rings and pins was adopted by the Student Council. Much of the success of the Student Council, first semester, has been due to the faithful and untiring efforts of Miss Eleanor A. Thomas, faculty adviser, and the chairman of the standing committees. They were: property committee, Martha Leinbach; courtesy committee, Martha Werthe; safety committee, Grant Henning; and school history committee, Harry Myers. The officers

Student Council (Second Semester)

The outstanding accomplishment of the second semester Student Council was the sale of approximately fifteen hundred Paseons. The sale was conducted through the home rooms by representatives. Of equal importance was a campaign to promote good manners and good character in the school. Twenty speakers conducted discussion in the Student Council meetings.

An extensive safety campaign was conducted under the auspices of the safety committee in which posters illustrating safety were distributed to each room in school.

The officers of the Student Council for the second semester were: president, Milton Stomp; vice-president, Ellsworth Van Orman; secretary, June Boyce; treasurer, Jimmy Hazlett; and sergeant-at-arms, George Hart. The chairmen of the standing committees were: safety, Grant Henning; school history, Dan Kelliher; courtesy, Maxine Duncan; property, Stanley Rowson. The senior members of the executive board were Evan Walden and Helen Brown; the juniors were Eugene Pirtle and Virginia Ryneal; the sophomores were Richard Baker and Betty Van Orman; and the freshmen were Dorothy Skaer and Dorothy Benson.

Custodians

The custodians, that hustling group of industrious men who come early and stay late, cleaning up the school and grounds, are forever striving to keep up our motto, "Paseo, the Beautiful." The custodians are: first row, left to right; Mr. H. C. Greene, who works on the first floor and in the girl's gym; Mr. J. G. Harlan, night fireman; Mr. B. Burnside, who works on the third floor west; Mr. J. B. Nash, custodian; Mr. T. G. Oakes, who works on the second floor west; Mr. J. M. Watson, engineer; and Mr. J. B. Williams, who works on the first floor east. Second row, left to right: Mr. C. V. Strong, who work on the fourth floor east; Alvin Bohner, who works part time in the library; Mr. H. E. Simmer, who works on the fourth floor west; Mr. John Marx, boiler fireman; and Mr. William Stockton, who works on the first floor west.

Cafeteria Force

Classes

POLTE, FRED

His sophomore year Fred had the lead in a German play, was a member of the Student Council executive board, won laurels in German contests at M. U., and was president of the German Club. He was a member of the National Honor Society, made the General Honor Roll three times, was a Traffic Squad captain, and president of the Keats Club, Student Council, and senior class. This second team football letterman also took part in the Lettermen's Minstrels.

VAN ORMAN, ELLSWORTH

Ellsworth was a member of the football team and the All-Star Football Team his senior year. He was vice-president of the senior class, treasurer and vice-president of the Student Council, and an officer of the Keats and his home rooms. He was a four year band member, a member of the All City Band two years, and the Rhythm Pirates his sophomore and junior years, and was a member of the Lettermen's Club, Honor Roll, and Traffic Squad. He took part in the Minstrel Shows.

BARNES, MARGARET

Margaret was secretary of the senior class and a sponsor captain. She was president of the Soterians and the Peppy Pirates, a Press reporter, vice-president of the Student Council and a member of the property committee of the Student Council. She was captain of the hockey team and a member of the All-Star Hockey Team her freshman and sophomore years. She participated in the Footlight Fantasies and Fashion Show, and will go to Junior College.

KINZY, JACK

Jack has led a very active life, for two years he cheered for his dear old Alma Mater. He was president of the Juntos and many of his home rooms, was sergeant-at-arms of the junior class, and treasurer of the senior class. He was a member of the band four years, a Press reporter, bank cashier, and took part in a great many plays. This Student Council representative likes to collect china dogs and says he will go to Kansas University.

TWEEDIE, IVAN

Ivan, who was a member of the football team two years and captain of the team his senior year, also claimed membership in the indoor track and All-Star Football Team. He was student manager of basketball, chairman of school history committee, a Student Council representative, and a member of the Quill and Scroll. He was sergeant-at-arms of the senior class, director general of the Traffic Squad, sports editor of The Press, Hi-Y president, and an officer of the Engineers and Lettermen's Clubs.

DRAYER, HARRIET

Harriet was our very charming sponsor major, but her list of honors does not end with this. She was also vice-president of the junior class, reporter of the senior class, vice-president of the Choral Club, and president of the Iotas. This home room officer was a member of the Sigma Kappa, National Honor Society, General Honor Roll, and Girl Reserves. She took part in "The Touchdown" and will attend Horner Institute.

LYONS, JACK

Jack was president of the junior class and Mask and Wig Club, gift receiver of the senior class, vice-president of the Vergilians, and secretary of the Keats. He was chairman of the property committee of the Student Council, and had parts in "The Touchdown" and the French play given in the assembly two years ago. He also was our very militant and stern major and tops his list of honor by saying that he was cheerleader for two years.

AIRHEART, CARL

Carl was a member of the German Club his junior and senior years and a foreman in the metal work shop. He intends to honor this school next year with his presence by taking a P. G. course, after which he will attend J. C. and M. U.

ALLEN, DELORES

That music is her hobby is amply proved in that she was in the A Cappella Chorus, won second place in a music contest with a contralto solo, had lead in this year's Christmas Pageant, and held offices in the Choral Club. She was an Iota.

ALLEN, EDWIN

This future channel swimmer has won laurels in swimming, his hobby. He has been vice-president of his home room, and played on the junior-senior inter-class basketball teams. He desires to attend the University of Southern California.

ALLSMAN, MARY

Mary is a genuine seamstress, professing an extensive interest in sewing. She was secretary of her home room her sophomore year and has heaved many a sigh over the thrilling escapades of the Paseo sportsmen of the athletic field.

ALPERT, FRANCES

Apparently all fields of sport have been invaded by this treasurer of the Atalantas, who this year was manager of the hockey teams, a member of the Choral Club and mixed chorus. She wishes to become a gym teacher and will attend J. C.

ALPERT, MORTIMER

Ah! a musician. He was violinist in the orchestra for four years, during the last two of which he was concert master. He will go on the concert stage. He was assistant cashier of his home room and likes to play tennis.

ANDERSON, ALICE

A future radio celebrity, Alice proclaims as her hobby the venerable art of playing the piano. She also loves all sports, and served in the capacity of secretary and reporter of her home room her freshman and senior years.

ANDERSON, EDITH

This girl, a typical example of the modern girl, has participated in numerous athletic activities her sophomore, junior, and senior years. She was a home room officer and historian of the Atalantas. Her hobby is sewing.

AREND, IRMA JEAN

She intends to be a future school marm after she attends Teachers' College. At Paseo, she was reporter for the Paseo Peppy Pirates, a member of Sigma Kappa, and president of her fourth hour class.

ARNI, OTTO

Otto was a member of the French Club, and he intends to go to Junior College. He claims a strong interest in all that pertains to basketball or football, though he doesn't participate in them. His ambition is to travel.

ASJES, BILLY

What have we but a future Bobbie Jones? Or will he be just one of those golf bugs who neglect their wives? Billy was a member of the golf team during his senior year. He also claimed membership in the German Club.

ATCHISON, MARGARET

Margaret evidently hopes to become somebody's secretary—and a very efficient one, too—for she was a member of Embryo Steno Club and aims to attend some business college. She may be a housewife too, for she loves sewing.

AUBRECHT, ANNA

Much of this young lady's invigorating poetry has found its way into the columns of the Treasure Chest. She was a member of the German Club and contemplates attending Junior College. Her favorite ambition is to play tennis divinely.

BAIER, BENNIE

This shining star in the field of militarism was treasurer of the Officers Club, sergeant and second and first lieutenants in R. O. T. C., and won two sabers and first place American Legion medal. He will attend Missouri University.

BAILEY, HELEN MAE

Helen was a member of the Choral Club, Girl Reserves, and Thicians, an officer of her home room and the Sigma Kappa, a Paseo Press reporter her junior year, and on all athletic teams her freshman and sophomore years. She will attend Junior College.

BAKKER, NORTON L.

Norton was one of those boys who contributed so much to the success of our auditorium activities by being a member of the Stage Crew. He will train to enter the quick lunch and drug sundry business by attending the Kansas City College of Pharmacy.

BARNES, HENRIETTA E.

Henrietta seems to be following the fashionable trend, being interested in both business and sports. She was on the gym teams her freshman, sophomore, and junior years, a member of the Choral Club, and will attend Central Business College.

BARROW, SUMNER

This boy puts a little variety into the usual locales for further scholastic accomplishment by planning to attend the University of Texas. He was a member of the orchestra his freshman year, reporter for his home room, and a Student Council representative.

BARTLOW, CHARLES H.

This boy shuns football and basketball for bowling and fishing. Perhaps he, like Izaak Walton, will give the world some philosophy. He was an officer of the Engineers, a member of the Honor Roll, National Honor Society, and Traffic Squad.

BARTON, RICHARD

Baseball is Richard's favorite pastime, and a very profitable one, too, judging from pecuniary and popularity aspects. He was a member of the Engineers, held various home room offices, and will attend Junior College.

BASILE, ANTHONY

Anthony was on the football team and track squad, rightly claiming athletics as a hobby. He was secretary of the Keats, a home room officer, lieutenant of R. O. T. C., on the Traffic Squad, and will attend the University of Missouri.

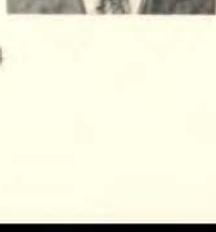

BELL, ANNA RUTH

Anna seems to claim no interest in sports, and it is nice—and a rare thing—to meet a girl who is domestic. She was a home room officer, a member of the French Club, the General Honor Roll, and G. R. cabinet, and will attend Junior College.

BELTON, EMMETT JOHN

Emmett was always glad when the "2:30" bell rang, and lost no time in leaving the portals of Paseo far behind. So, he has no social achievements to brag of. He does state, however, that he likes all sports, especially golf.

BERG, MAXINE

Canines of all classifications claim this girl's affection. She also is fond of all kinds of sports—especially basketball. But besides being a mere connoisseur of dogs, she displays rather business-like tendencies by desiring to be a stenographer.

BERGH, HARRYET MARIE

This "chawming" Miss fostered literary aspirations by being reporter for The Press and the Thiclon Literary Society and a member of the Treasure Chest. She was a Girl Reserve, a home room officer, and will attend Missouri University.

BERGH, HELEN MARTHA

Helen displayed her pulchritude to good advantage by participating in three Fashion Shows and the Footlight Fantasies of 1929. She was reporter for her home room, a member of the Treasure Chest, and will continue education at J. C. and M. U.

BERTRAM, ROBERT

Outward appearances are deceiving, and this boy established a record in the gym classes in the "push-up," a strenuous form of gymnastics. He was president of "Beau Brummell" of his home rooms and on a program committee.

BICKERS, MARTHA JANE

Like hundreds of other girls, Martha says that her hobby is dancing, that she is crazy about sports, and that she will go to Junior College. She was a member of the Iota Literary Society, and was president of her home room her freshman year.

BLACHLY, MARGARET LUCILLE

Margaret was a member of the Peppy Pirates, Girl Reserve cabinet, Student Council executive board, and the Choral Club. She was reporter for her home room and will attend the Kansas Agricultural College. Her hobby, strange to say, is eating.

BLAINE, ELMO LOWELL

Elmo may be a carpenter, for his hobby, woodworking, indicates that. And do we not need carpenters as well as aviators, electrical engineers, etc.? He was cashier of his sophomore home room, and says he likes football and basketball.

BLEDSON, SUSIE LUCILE

Way back in 1930 Susie flickered faintly in sports, being on most of the second teams. Since then she's been a member of the Cynthians, Choral Club, and Sigma Kappa, and a Student Council alternate. She may attend Junior College.

BLITZ, HERBERT S.

Herbert informs us that he is one of the many hundreds who think that they will attend Junior College. He also gets quite a thrill out of seeing a basketball game and went out for the basketball teams his junior year.

BLOTCKY, BETTYE JAYNE

Bettye insists with set determination that her name be spelled "Bettye," not "Betty." She was a member of the Choral Club and Girl Reserves, cashier and "Jolly Good Girl" of her home rooms, and a participant in the Christmas Pageant.

BOLINGER, NANCY

Nancy offered so much competition to the family radio at home that she decided to put her voice in a better atmosphere by being in the Choral Club for two years. She is very fond of basketball and was a member of the Soterian Club.

BORN, ETHEL

Art is Ethel's hobby, and a considerable amount of her superior art work will be found in this Paseon. She was a member of the Soterian Club and the Peppy Pirates, and most fittingly elected "Belle Brummell" of her home room her junior year.

BORNSTEIN, BESSIE

A thoughtful girl, Bessie spends her time making character analyses. She participated in the last three Fashion Shows and the Footlight Fantasies of 1929, was a member of the Sigma Kappa, and bank cashier for her home room.

The Paseon

BOSCHENTREITER, ALBERT A.

Who knows but what Albert may burst forth some day in the field of art, for he was a member of Schmidt Smearers, had cartoons in The Press, and will attend the Art Institute. He was an officer in his home room his freshman year.

BOSTER, JR., WILBUR L.

If enthusiasm would make an aviator, Wilbur would certainly be an ace. He was a member of the Hi-Y Club and the R. O. T. C. Officers Club, a sergeant in R. O. T. C., and will attend Junior College. He was president of the metal work home room.

BOTDORF, VIVIAN MAURINE

This girl was an officer of the Atalantas, winner of Paseo letter and chevron, captain of junior basketball and student manager of volleyball teams, member of Honor Roll and Quill and Scroll, business manager of The Press, and advertising manager of the Paseon.

BOWSER, JOHN FRANCIS

Varied have been the interests of this lad who was a member of both General and Highest Honor Rolls, the National Honor Society, the band, Traffic Squad, and the Glee Club. He was treasurer of the Engineers, on the Hi-Y cabinet, and will attend J. C.

BOYCE, JUNE KAYE

June had the lead in "The Touchdown," was a member of the Honor Roll, National Honor Society, and Treasure Chest, a Thicion officer, reporter of the junior class and The Press, a sponsor captain, and on the Student Council executive board.

BOYD, JAMES

James can aim as well as any gangster, being a sharp shooter in the '31 classification and on the rifle team his last two years. He was first sergeant in the R. O. T. C., a Traffic Squad member, and an officer for his home room and the Engineers Club.

BOYER, MAURICE CLAIBORNE

Integrity must be Maurice's foreword, as he was treasurer of the Engineers. He was a Student Council representative, president of his home room, on the safety committee, a member of the Treasure Chest, and will attend Michigan University.

BRADLEY, SARAH AGNESS

This girl fittingly claims dancing as her hobby, for she is well versed in the art of bending double, fancy leaping, and other such aesthetic movements. She was a member of the orchestra and Sigma Kappa, and plans to be a technician.

BRADLEY, EVELYN BLANCHE

Evelyn, like her sister, claims considerable agility in the Terpsichorean art and is confident of its value in keeping the supple waist-line. She had small parts in some of the plays and plans to take a technicians course.

BRANDON, BETTY MAY

Betty was a member of several athletic teams, the Atalantas, Cynthians, Treasure Chest, Choral Club, and Sigma Kappa. She held offices in her home rooms and in the freshman and sophomore Girl Reserves Triangles, and will attend Teachers College.

BRANDT, DONA PEARL

Dona was a bank director her senior year, a Student Council alternate, a member of the Vergilians and National Honor Society, and held offices in the Treasure Chest, senior Girl Reserve Triangles, and her home room. She will train to be a nurse.

BRAUN, EDWARD PAUL

This boy is real truthful and admits right now that he is not going to college; and such originality is to be praised. He was an officer for his home room his sophomore year and claims baseball as a hobby.

BREEDING, EDITH

Edith was president and treasurer of the Cynthians, vice-president of Sigma Kappa, membership chairman of the G. R. Triangle, Student Council alternate, member of Atalantas, and on all athletic teams her freshman and sophomore years.

BRENNAMAN, DONALD

Although Don is rather minute as to size, he does aspire to things in a "big" way. He likes all sports, and most of all baseball and basketball. He had a minor part in the play, "Dido and Aeneas."

BRENNER, ROBERT OWEN

In a field apparently swamped by the fairer sex, Robert has shined. In other words, he was a member of the tennis team. He also claims membership in the Engineers Club and junior and senior basketball teams and will attend J. C.

BRIER, HAROLD

Here is a rival for Rudy Vallee, and another reason why women leave home; he played a saxophone in the band. He held offices in his home rooms his freshman and junior years and likes swimming and ice skating.

BROWN, GLENN ORRIN II

Glenn is a linguist, as he was a member of the French Club, and took part in a French play, "French without a Master." He was a member of the Keats Club and the Treasure Chest, and will continue his education at John Brown's.

BROWN, HELEN R.

Helen was treasurer of the National Honor Society, a member of the Zetas, Treasure Chest, and Mask and Wig Club, held offices in her home rooms, French Club, and G. R. Triangles, was on executive board of the Student Council, and participated in school dramatics.

BRYAN, JACK MORGAN

Jack admits a distant relationship to William Jennings Bryan, and he intends to be a lawyer. Maybe he too, will hold spellbound some Congress in the future. He was an officer in his home room and a Student Council representative.

BURCH, MARY MAUDE

This girl has proved her ability in athletics, for she was a member of all the athletic teams, won Paseo letter, Missouri State letter, and 300 point chevron, was secretary of Atalantas, and manager of baseball. She was a Press reporter.

BURGHARDT, MARY VIRGINIA

Intellectually inclined, Mary was a member of the National Honor Society and Treasure Chest. She was a home room officer, a member of several athletic teams and Peppy Pirates, won the Paseo letter in sports, and will attend New Jersey State College.

BURGHARDT, ROSE CATHERINE

Athletically inclined, Rose received the Paseo letter in sports, and was on several athletic teams. She held several offices in her home rooms, was a member of the Peppy Pirates and Treasure Chest, and will attend New Jersey State College.

BURKE, RUTH ELIZABETH

Byron, Keats, and Wordsworth claim the admiration of this girl who says that English is her favorite study. She was a member of the Girl Reserves for four years, plans to attend Kansas University, and is fond of tennis.

BURKHARDT, FRED R.

In a day when the "big city" holds such irresistible attraction and when people want to be big business men and powerful executives, it is remarkable to hear some one say that he will be a farmer. Fred was a member of the Hi-Y and likes science.

BURNLEY, GERTRUDE IRENE

The higher arts are cherished by Gertrude; as proof, we may say that she was secretary of her cooking class and will in the future attend Horner Institute. She was a member of the Girl Reserves and has a weakness for canines and athletics.

BURRUSS, NELSON

This boy admits that he is rather reluctant about coming to school, finding the prospect of a movie too pleasing to resist. He was a member of the winning football team and sergeant-at-arms of his home room. He will attend business college.

BUTERBAUGH, CARL

Carl showed quite decided musical tendencies, being a violinist in the Paseo Orchestra and a member of the All State Orchestra. He was a member of the R. O. T. C. Officers Club his senior year and plans to attend Kansas University.

CAHILL, CECILIA

Cecilia typifies perfectly the spoilt child, for she confesses a decided dislike for spinach. But she regains the poise of a young lady when she plays tennis, her favorite sport. She was reporter and assistant cashier of her home room, and a member of the G. R.'s.

CALLAHAN, RUTH WINIFRED

Although Ruth has only been at Paseo three years, having come from Southwest, she has made the most of her time. Hence, she was a member of the Sigma Kappa, the Choral Club for two years, and the Economics Club.

CARR, RUBEY

Her home rooms held Rubey in high estimation, having chosen her "Class Pest" and president (of her home room). She participated in the leaping league of the R. O. T. C. circus, was a member of the Peppy Pirates, and likes sports.

CARROLL, EDWARD C.

Even though Ed came from Westport and has only been at Paseo for one year, he is like the average boy, hating history and loving swimming—and boys will be boys. He was a member of the Junto Club and is determined to attend K. U.

CAVENDER, WILBUR B.

When one considers that Wilbur has been a member of the Engineers, the tennis team, and the Traffic Squad, vice-president of his home room, and a Student Council representative, we hope that next year at Junior College he won't be so burdened down.

CHUMLEA, CLAUDE P., JR.

One of those naughty "Gentlemen of the Press," Claude was column editor of The Press, in the Quill and Scroll, and likes printing. He was a member of Hi-Y, the National Honor Society, Honor Roll, Spanish Club, and Student Council. He will go to M. U.

CLARKE, HELEN RAY

Helen was freely endowed with intellectual ability, being a member of both Highest and General Honor Rolls, the Cynthians, and the National Honor Society. She was a home room officer, a Student Council alternate, and exchange editor of The Press.

CLOND, KENNETH LEE EDWARD

Music hath charms for this young gent, who was a member of the band, the Mixer Orchestra, the orchestra, and Glee Club. He was an alternate in the Student Council, belonged to the Juntos, and will attend Junior College.

CLOSSON, WALTER H., JR.

Walter claims his hobbies with an eye to practicality and scientific value, for he especially likes electricity and modeling airplanes. He was cashier for his home room his sophomore year and will go to Junior College.

CLOUGH, ELSIE ELDORA

Elsie tends to scholastic rather than to domestic tendencies, claiming that she has a liking for science and mathematics. She was a member of the Soterian Club, likes to play tennis, and will go to Stephens College.

CLOUGH, RUTH MAXINE

Varied interests are shown by this girl who was a member of the Treasure Chest, Mask and Wig Club, and the band. She was a Student Council representative, secretary of the boys' chorus, an officer of the G. R. Triangle, and will ultimately attend Northwestern University.

CLYDE, WALTER

In order to get experience in dodging future bill collectors, Walter was a member of the cross-country team. He will continue his education at Junior College. He took French and likes commercial subjects.

COBLEIGH, MARJORIE ANN

This girl has picked a wise profession—operating a beauty parlor—because woman will eternally have her vanity. She was a member of the Embryo Steno, Soterian, and Choral Clubs, and took part in two Fashion Shows and the Footlight Fantasies.

COLBERT, NADINE MARIA

Here is a girl who possesses the charm which would be expected of one who was a secretary of her home room, a member of the Paseo Peppy Pirates and claimed dancing as her hobby. She will attend the University of Indiana.

COLEMAN, ANNA FRANCES

Another girl who is following the modern trend, Anna would have startled her grandmother with her liking for athletics of all kinds. She was a member of the Atalantas and won the 75 point letter of Paseo.

COLLINS, CECIL L.

Music will hold a future for Cecil, as he was leader of the Mixer Orchestra, and a member of the band and orchestra three years. He was an officer for the Juntos, a member of the Student Council and Traffic Squad, and a lieutenant in the R. O. T. C.

COMER, DOROTHY MAE

When the grind of being a home room officer presses Dorothy, she dashes off poetry for the Treasure Chest. She was a member of the Soterians, Girl Reserves, several athletic teams, National Honor Society, and made the Honor Roll four times.

COX, EDWIN R.

This boy divides his time between parliamentary and literary suits by being a home room officer and a member of the Treasure Chest Club. He took auto mechanics and liked such sciences as botany.

CRAIG, SARA GRACE

As Sara departed last December for Ramona, California, it was impossible to get a list of all her honors. However, she was a member of the newswriting class, and enrolled in such subjects as Spanish, geometry, and American history.

CROWE, HELEN LEE

Helen may be a future politician, due to her love of being on committees and in clubs. She was an officer of the Cynthians, Mask and Wig Club, and Vergilians, and a member of Sigma Kappa, Student Council, National Honor Society, and Honor Roll.

CROY, CLAUDE W.

Claude rarely ate breakfast food; he belonged to the Pep Club. He was a Press reporter and treasurer of the Treasure Chest, held various home room offices, and anticipates a Junior College-Missouri University course.

DAHLSTROM, HAROLD L.

Echoes of the Metropolitan Opera. Harold was really some yodeler and he belonged to the Glee Club. He was a member of the Keats Club and was an officer on the Hi-Y Cabinet. He was quite interested in social sciences and commerce.

DALE, CHARLES

Between being a member and librarian of the band for two years and catering to his hobby, printing—and Mr. Voth—Charles has been kept quite busy at Paseo. In the future his presence will be seen at Junior College.

DASTA, VINCENT P.

This officer of the Keats and his home room was a captain of the Traffic Squad and second basketball team, a member of the Hi-Y, the Student Council, and the first basketball team, and took part in the Lettermen's Minstrel.

DAVIS, RICHARD GARLAND

Ah! An outdoor man—camps—fishes—hikes—that sort of thing. And he confesses that he pings a mean pong, but his pool game is not so good. He went out for track his sophomore and football his senior years and did some reporting for his home room.

DAVIS, ROBERT

Robert seems to be suffering from an inferiority complex, for considerable effort was expended getting him to list his honors. He was vice-president of his home room and won third place in the Kansas City Bicentennial Poster contest.

DENNISON, THEDA MIRTHLEE

Membership in the National Honor Society and Honor Rolls justifies Theda's desire to be a teacher. She had a major role in "The Kangaroos," was a home room officer and a member of the Vergilians, Girl Reserves, and Mask and Wig and Choral Clubs.

DEWEY, JOHN M.

Quite naturally football is John's hobby, having played on the winning football team. He was a member of the Keats Club, Student Council, Lettermen's Club, Traffic Squad, and senior day committee. He will attend Washington University.

DIEHL, VINCENT EDWIN

Vincent "tooted the flute" quite faithfully, having been a member of the orchestra and a four-year member of the band. His hobbies are science and mechanics and he will join the ranks of the printers in the near future.

DINOVA, MARY

Another girl who is following the modern trend, Mary claims as her hobby typing and says she may go to business college. She was a member of the Soterians and Spencerians and is extremely fond of dancing.

DISLEROD, VARDON BOYNTON

Vardon's interest in R. O. T. C. is proved by his being a first lieutenant and a member of the rifle team. He was a member of the Engineers, and his hobby, firearms, seems a practical one with so evil a force as racketeering to combat.

DITLOW, MARJORIE DARLINE

Here is a rarity—a good old-fashioned girl. She was one of the founders and officers of the Home Economics Club and intends to be a nurse. She was a home room officer, a four year member of the Girl Reserves, and likes to go on hikes.

DOD, HANNAH G.

Quite a compatible field was found for Hannah in the Treasure Chest, and her material was quite meritorious. She was a member of the Vergilians, likes to draw and sketch, and will continue her education at Junior College.

DODSON, VIRGINIA LOIS

Virginia, contrary to the mode, combined pulchritude with artistic ability, winning several poster contests. She was president of the Zetas and several home rooms, a Student Council representative, and will attend the Art Institute.

DOUBLEDAY, CHARLES

An exponent of provincialism, Chuck likes to sit by the fire and whittle. How quaint! He served in the capacity of assistant editor of The Press, was a member of the Junto Club, Quill and Scroll, and the band, and will go to Yale.

DOUBLEDAY, MAX

Max, noted for his prodigious head of hair, tromboned in the band two years, was president of the German Club, an officer of the Juntos, a member of the Student Council and Quill and Scroll, and feature editor of The Press. He will attend K. U.

DUER, JOSEPH

Joe has the ear marks of a lawyer, as he tried out in the preliminary oration contest and may attend law school. He was assistant business manager of The Press, a member of the Traffic Squad, Quill and Scroll, and Hi-Y, and Vergilian reporter.

DUFFY, ANNETTE

Annette has been so busy studying interior decoration that she hasn't quite made up her mind about college, but she thinks it will be Horner. She was numbered in the ranks of the Cynthians and took her Student Council duties quite seriously.

DUNAWAY, MARY HELEN

This active young lady says that she likes athletics and mentions her fondness for basketball and all sports. She tops the list by admitting that she was a substitute on the senior hockey team. Doesn't she ever relax?

DUNCAN, MAXINE

Maxine, a sponsor lieutenant, will continue to radiate charm at Horner Institute next year. She was a member of the Student Council and chairman of senior day committee. She held important offices in her foods class, French Club, and Zetas.

EATON, EDWIN L.

Edwin, who seems to possess a knack for vaudeville, participated in the senior day assembly. He was an officer in his home room and in his spare time engages in his hobbies, basketball and golf. He plans to attend Missouri University.

EBERT, ROBERT EDWIN

That breeze that swept by was Bob, on his way to the University of Southern California to win some of those Wykoff laurels. Bob was on the track teams three years. Sad, this Junto and Lettermen's club member was one of those notorious playfellows.

ECKLES, DOROTHY SCOTT

All the milk of human kindness is displayed in Dorothy who wants to be a nurse at Mercy Hospital. She was a member of the Girl Reserves, held home room offices, and participated in the senior English assembly. She is fond of basketball.

EDENS, OMA

Oma aspires to the alluring art of hair dressing and shows considerable fortitude by wanting to work in the mighty business world after leaving dear old Paseo High. She was a reporter for her home room when she was a sophomore.

EDMONDS, LAURETTA

M. U. will be a brighter place next year when Laurretta goes there and takes her hair along, which was put to such use in her portrayal of Queen Elizabeth in the senior English assembly. She was a member of the Quilt and the Recreation Clubs.

EDMONDSON, CLARA

"I have enjoyed my years at Paseo"—on these famous words Clara bases her claim to undying fame. She also enjoys reading and playing the piano. Her favorite subject is shorthand, and she wishes some day to be a book-keeper or secretary.

EGBERT, MARIE E.

This Iota and Soterian may be a future Jim Reed. Marie's present qualifications are several sophomore offices and vice-presidency of her senior home room. She also took part in "Mix Well and Stir." Missouri University is her intended college.

EIB, DOROTHEA L.

During her years at Paseo this Atalanta made athletics her pastime. Dorothea played on the soccer, hockey, basketball, and baseball teams. She also belonged to the Girl Reserves and was a home room officer. She plans to attend Baker University.

EISEN, MOLLIE

We'll bet that Molly would be the pride of any home room, fulfilling so capably the office of vice-president, secretary, and program committee chairman of her home rooms. She has ever been inspired by the desires to travel and be a stenographer.

EISFELDER, MAYBELL, ELIZABETH

If the title of "most valuable player" were conferred in girls' sports, this Atalanta officer would have strong claims for it. Two year's soccer, hockey, volleyball, and baseball experience, and an athletic letter and shield are Maybell's qualifications.

ELLISON, MYRON KEITH

Meet Myron, who, among other things, is the Junto secretary. His other claims to fame are being a member of the Traffic Squad and Hi-Y, sports editor and assistant advertising manager of the Paseon, and having had a major part in "Out of the Stillness."

ENGWALL, HELEN LEONA

To be the Babe Ruth of her sex is the ambition of this maiden. Choral Club training has produced a lusty voice for bawling out umpires, and to prepare for all other emergencies, she expects to enter nurses' training.

EPSTEIN, JESSY IRENE

A rival of Hettie Green is Jessie; her business acumen was proved by success as assistant advertising manager, circulation manager, and associate editor of the Paseon. She was a reporter for The Press and French Club and a member of the Mask and Wig Club.

ERICKSON, JOHN

In accordance with his Viking blood, this sturdy youth likes to travel. Basketball is his favorite sport; wood-working, his hobby. Junior College is destined to be his future alma mater, and he is a shining gem of the Treasure Chest Club.

ERNST, WALTER JOHN

A saxophone player — and he admits it! For three years Walter has played in the band. He has also served three years in the R. O. T. C., and is interested in military tactics. He plans to attend night school at Junior College.

EVANS, GRACE MILDRED

Mildred had an important part in the publication of three of our annuals. She has held positions of advertising manager, assistant circulation manager, and circulation manager on the Paseon. For two years she was a member of the Mask and Wig Club.

EVANS, VIVIAN

Vivian claims English as her favorite subject; so quite naturally she enjoys reading. She also likes music, but reveals a practical side of her nature by being a member of the Girl Reserves and sergeant-at-arms of her senior home room.

FALKE, MARIE DOROTHY

This future confidential secretary enjoys typing and ice skating. She plans to specialize in shorthand and typing at business college. The nerve she gained as a sophomore reporter on The Press may aid her in saying, "Sorry, but the boss it out!"

FARMER, MARGARET

This girl possesses a literary future, for many of her short stories and bits of poetry found their way into the columns of the Treasure Chest; and she will take up journalism at M. U. She was a member of the Girl Reserves.

FIELD FRANCES MAE

Frances likes dramatics, had a part in "The Touchdown," and will continue her study of emoting at Horner Institute. She was an officer of the Iotas, French Club, and her home room and was a member of the Pep Club and the Girl Reserve Triangle.

FLANAGAN, LEELA FRANCES

Leela can certainly make those fingers fly; and to good advantage, for her senior year she was secretary to Miss Eleanor Thomas and typist for the Student Council. She held offices in her home rooms and was a member of the National Honor Society.

FLESHMAN, JUNE

June's hobby is having dates with nice little boys, and in order to give them medical aid in case she loses control and deals a trusty left, she plans to be a nurse. She was secretary and treasurer of her home room her junior year.

FLICK, CLAIR D.

While Clair does not intend to go to college, his later life will certainly be full of interest, judging from his hobbies, electrical and scientific work. He was bank cashier in his home room his freshman and junior years.

FLYNN, MARCELYN M.

Rather divergent hobbies have been chosen by this girl, who expresses a liking for reading and tennis. She was a member of the Girl Reserve Triangle and anticipates a Junior College-Missouri University course.

FORD, LILY

Lily tends to the artistic as well as the domestic, claiming singing and cooking as her hobbies. She was secretary of her cooking class, a member of the Home Economics and the Choral Clubs, and participated in the Christmas Pageant.

FOSTER, MARTHA JANE

Although Martha came from Lawrence High School just last year, she has taken an active interest in dramatics, playing minor roles in "Dido and Aeneas" and "The Touchdown" She was reporter of her home room her senior year and likes dancing.

FOUSHÉE, IRMA

Membership in the Choral Club and participation in the Christmas Pageant, Fashion Show, and Spring Festival indicate an interest in vocal work and sewing. She will attend Junior College and was critic and sergeant-at-arms of her home rooms.

FOUTS, MARY JAYNE

Mary is apt to soar to great heights, for her sweet voice has received commendation. She sang in the senior English assembly, was president of the Choral Club, parliamentarian of the Thicians, an alternate in the Student Council, and held several home room offices.

FOWLER, LEWIS EDMOND

This quiet, reticent chap held numerous home room offices, was a member of the Engineers Club, National Honor Society, and Honor Roll, and gave invaluable assistance on the Traffic Squad for two years. He will attend Junior College.

FRIEDBERG, NORMAN

Watch the birdie! Norman was photographer of the Paseon and was crazy about chemistry, his hobby. He was a member of the German Club and the Treasure Chest, became interested in Hi-Y, and plans to attend Junior College.

FUNK, HENRIETTA MARIE

We feel that being elected sergeant-at-arms of the Home Economics Club will greatly aid Henrietta in becoming someday an austere, orderly housewife. She was a member of the Soterians and will attend Junior College.

GARBACZ, CHARLES JOSEPH

This Student Council representative possessed a commanding personality, being a lieutenant his senior year and a member of the junior year of the Traffic Squad. He was a member of the Engineers, won a second team letter in football, and will attend Georgia Tech.

GARDNER, LOUISE MAY

This Press reporter was president of the Peppy Pirates, Sigma Kappa, and her freshman home room. She was a member of the G. R.'s, Student Council, and several athletic teams and took part in the Footlight Fantasies and "The Touchdown."

GARNER, RUBY L.

Ruby came from the Marshall Missouri High School, where she participated in the school plays. She is an exponent of grace and agility, liking dancing and tennis. She worked in the office, fourth hour, during the second semester.

GARNETT, ROBERT MASON

Bob's time was divided between being a member of the Student Council his sophomore year and secretary and banker of his home rooms. There is a slight possibility that he may attend the Flint, Michigan, School of Technology.

GEAGAN, OLIVE

Maybe Olive will assert the rights of the fairer sex, being a member of the Parliamentarian Club and debating team her junior year and vice-president of her public speaking class. She was a G. R., a Soterian, and took part in the Footlight Fantasies.

GIBIAN, LUCILLE RUTH

The charm of Lucille's face and her membership in the Mask and Wig Club signify that she is proficient in the art of make-up. She was a Press reporter, Student Council alternate, a member of the Honor Roll and National Honor Society and will attend J. C.

GLEESON, J. L., JR.

Quite a worldly gent! Joe admits he has found the fairer sex rather expensive, and that he will attend the school of hard knocks. He was a home room officer, a four year member of the band and orchestra, and a member of the Mixer Orchestra.

GOLDBECK, MARTIN

Besides being a member of the Engineers Club, National Honor Society, and the Honor Rolls, Martin was a first lieutenant in the R. O. T. C., a member of the rifle team, and for two years served on the Traffic Squad. He will attend K. U.

GOLDMAN, SHERIDAN PAUL

Sheridan was a member of the orchestra and for three years helped increase the volume of the band to a great extent. He admired all his teachers, and hopes some day to acquire their profundity of humor and sarcasm.

GOODRICH, MARTHA JEAN

Martha acquired industrial habits by being stenographer of the Paseon. She was an assistant bank manager, home room officer, a member of the Treasure Chest, G. R.'s, National Honor Society, and the Honor Rolls, and took part in the "Footlight Fantasies."

GRANT, GEORGE

Imagine a member of the National Honor Society and Honor Roll entering tennis as George does. He was an officer of the Keats, and his home rooms, a Student Council representative, a trumpeter in the band three years and the orchestra.

GRANT, ROSE LEAH

Rose is going to be a nurse, and, since her hobby is basketball and swimming, there are indications that she is aiming to get a set of powerful lungs and muscles—like every nurse should have. She was a member of the Soterians.

GRAY, FRANCIS CAMPBELL

An interesting future is in store for Francis, as he plans to drive to Washington this summer and work. He likes all sports, especially baseball. He will attend the Kansas State Agricultural College at Manhattan.

GRIFFITHS, MILDRED

Mildred confirms her love of dancing by her participation in the "Footlight Fantasies." She was president of her home room her junior and sophomore years. She had a minor part in "Dido and Aeneas" and will attend Junior College.

GRIMES, EVERETT ONEL

Onel depicted a Saxon thane in the senior English assembly, but assures us he has come back to modern times by being a member of the golf team and the Hi-Y. He also is very fond of sports.

GROGAN, MARY

Mary has only been at Paseo two years, but she has shined in sports, nevertheless. She was a member of the Atalantas and most of the athletic teams, won the senior singles and doubles in the tennis tournament and was a home room officer, a G. R., and a Sigma Kappa.

GUDELSKY, NAOMA

Naoma evidently believes in physical fitness; she says that her hobby is taking long walks. She was reporter for her hygiene class her freshman year and in the way of academic tendencies, is more interested in her secretarial studies than any other.

HAMILTON, MARGARET E.

Margaret is suffering from a romantic complex and she loves movies and collecting pictures of movie stars. She was a home room officer and a member of the Iotas and most of the athletic teams her junior year. She will attend Stephens College.

HAMBURG, MARY T.

Mary holds high hopes of some day numbering among the students going to Junior College; after that, she intends to enter the world of the professional and business woman by being a stenographer. She was president and secretary of her home room.

HANCOCK, MIRIAM J.

Miriam, known for her ability to write notes, was a Cynthian and French Club officer, a member of the National Honor Society, Honor Roll, Student Council, and Quill and Scroll, had a part in "Out of the Stillness," and was feature editor of The Press.

HARPER, LEONARD WALTER

Leonard has not expressed definitely his ambition in life, but he does say that he was a member of the Traffic Squad his junior and senior years. After leaving Paseo, he will enter the security and ease (?) of life at Junior College.

HARRIS, EDWARD A.

Edward, who was editor of this Paseon, was a member of the Traffic Squad, Mask and Wig Club, Hi-Y, National Honor Society, and Honor Roll. He was reporter for the Treasure Chest, vice-president of the Juntos, and a Student Council representative.

HART, GEORGE E.

Fulfilling the jobs of junior class treasurer and Student Council sergeant-at-arms has made this chairman of the senior day committee and Junto president, both honest and forceful. He was a member of the Traffic Squad and basketball team.

HAYES, RICHARD W.

Richard is another student who caters considerably to his feminine admirers. These females admire his remarkable physique, which was developed by his hobbies, football and wrestling. He was a member of the Hi-Y and the Traffic Squad.

HEFTER, HELEN VANNATTE

Helen ought to appreciate the full value of money, for she was bank cashier of her home room three years and will attend business college. She was president of her home room her sophomore year, a member of the Soterians, and likes tennis.

HEINLEN, BARBARA EARLE

While "Barbara" means uncivilized in Latin, this girl seems to show some signs of refinement by her membership in the Girl Reserves. She receives considerable pleasure from Spanish and history and her liking for typing may make her a "boss's steno."

HEMPSTEAD, GILES WILLIAM

This big he-man was a second lieutenant in the R O. T. C. his senior year and will live in the wild and woolly west when he attends the University of Nevada. But he has shown some signs of refinement by being a member of the Treasure Chest.

HENNING, GRANT H.

Grant was kept busy this year taking care of the crowds that flocked around our ice cream counter. He was a member of the Engineers, National Honor Society, Honor Rolls, and Student Council and was chairman of the safety committee.

HENRY, GLEN B.

Glen says his hobby is track; that being the case we wish him a ripping good start. He was a member of the second team squad in '29 and vice-president and reporter of his home rooms. He expects very hard to attend the University of Kansas.

HODGES, HENRY ROBERT

This handsome young man, whose admirers number many among the fairer sex, was a sergeant in R O. T. C. and a member of the Officers Club. He was twice vice-president of his home room, and active member of the Hi-Y, and will attend J. C.

HOLDREN, LEONARD

Leonard must be endowed with a good memory, for he recalls his membership in the Muir Naturalist and Know Kansas City Clubs. He was president of his sophomore and treasurer of his junior home rooms. Reading and golf are his main diversions.

HOLLEY, ANNABELLE

Annabelle's diversion is her hobby, swimming. Her literary ability blossomed out through the medium of the Treasure Chest and she numbered in the ranks of its members. She will acquire more knowledge and skill at the Asters School of Designing.

HORNBECK, WILLIAM R.

Who can't sympathize with this gentleman. He has an aversion to arising at too early an hour from his slumbers. He likes to play tennis and was vice-president of his senior home room. He may go to a law school in Kansas City.

HORST, MARCIA

This lucious Miss has shown her dramatic ability through rolls in "Dido and Aeneas" and "The Touchdown." She was a member of the Vergilians her junior year and Iotas and held several offices in home rooms. She especially likes swimming.

HOSHAW, FRANCES JEANNETTE

This quiet, conservative student was represented in many lines of activity. She was a member of the National Honor Society, Cynthians, Soterians, French Club, and Treasure Chest. She was also an officer in her home room and plans attending Junior College.

HOWE, MAXINE RUTH

Maxine believes in business as well as pleasure. She will take a business course even though she is fond of dancing. She was treasurer of the Peppy Pirates, and alternate in the Student Council, and secretary of her home room.

HULL, MARJORIE

Marjorie must be musically inclined and who wouldn't be after three years in the Choral Club. In the field of acting she had a minor part in "Contents Unknown" and during her freshman year participated in the "Footlight Fantasies." She belongs to the Sigma Kappa.

IRELAND, MARGARET MARIE

A very musical little girl is Margaret, whose hobby is playing the piano and singing—and her dog actually likes it! She was a bank director, pianist of the first hour gym class, a two year member of the Choral Club, and took part in "Footlight Fantasies."

IVES, WALTER ROBERT

That Walter's hobby is automobiles is shown by the fact that he is the proud possessor of an Austin. He was a member of the Schmidt Smearers and will attend the Kansas City School of Art. He was also interested in athletics.

JACKSON, WILLIAM B.

William was a member of the Engineers and junior and senior basketball teams. His hobby is athletics, and he plans to attend business college. He does possess unusual distinction by expressing a decided dislike for work of all kinds.

JACOBSON, VERNA C.

Verna aspires to the noble art of chest heaving, having had an important role in "Contents Unknown" and she will go to Horner Institute. She belonged to the Choral Club and was an officer in her home room and vice-president of the Peppy Pirates.

JONES, CHESTER A.

Investigation of the "Mammoth Cave" will occupy Chester's time in the future; he will attend the K. C. Dental College. He was a Press reporter, treasurer of his home room, and a member of the Student Council and junior class basketball team.

JONES, DORIS LUCILLE

During her one year at Paseo, Doris has made swimming and dancing her favorite pastimes, and she is interested in all athletics. Due to the valuable information which she got in being a member of the Sigma Kappa, she will take up nurses' training.

JONES, VIVIAN L.

Vivian's tastes run from literature to pep. She was a member of the English Coffee Club and Peppy Pirates, and participated in the "Footlight Fantasies." She was a Student Council representative and secretary of her home room her sophomore year.

JORDON, DONALD

It isn't often that military men aspire to artistry or refinement, but Donald is an exception. He was a member of the Mask and Wig Club and a sergeant in the R. O. T. C. and his hobby is auto mechanics.

KARGES, MARTHA JEANNETTE

Many and varied have been the interests of this Zeta. Martha was a Press reporter, secretary of the Girl Reserves her sophomore year, a Student Council representative, and an enthusiastic buccaneer of the Buccaneer Boosters.

KAUFFMAN, MARY MAXENE

Mary manifests her business ability through the fact that she was director of the School Savings Department and plans a business college course in the future. Besides being an active Girl Reserve, she has held numerous home room offices.

KEENAN, ROBERT J.

Minneapolis must produce oddities; Bob hailed from there and says he likes school. During his brief year at Paseo he was elected to membership in the Juntos and was a Student Council representative. He will attend Rockhurst College.

KEITH, ALLEANA ALICE

The pianist of the freshman and senior orchestras anticipates the occupation of a nurse. As revealed, her hobby is music and she will also be among the troupers to Junior College. She was a member of the Way D'Art Club and held various home room offices.

KEMPNER, FREIDA E.

This girl will never ruin her husband's stomach with her cooking—she will enter the business world instead. As qualifications, she says that her favorite studies are commercial ones and that she will attend Huff's School of Commerce.

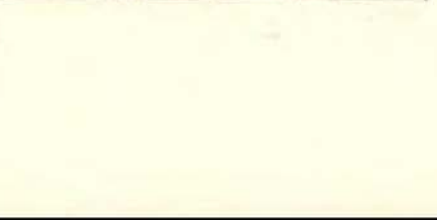

KERN, EDITH MARGARET

Edith is a conformist in her liking for dancing and a good time. Her freshman year she was assistant bank cashier of her home room and a member of the Hiking Club. She was a member of Sigma Kappa and will attend business or Junior College.

KIMBER, RODNEY

Here is one of those conservative high school students. As a Press reporter and bank cashier, Rodney showed a business-like temperament. He was musically inclined, being a member of the Glee Club, likes tennis and golf, and will attend Junior College.

KING, EILEEN MAE

Another ardent follower of the commercial courses is Eileen, who anticipates carrying on her business studies at Huff's School of Commerce. She was a member of the Soterians and a bank cashier for her home room for two years.

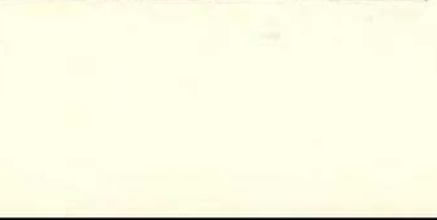

KING, RUSSELL E.

Just another happy victim of the golf microbe, says Russell; and he won't carry it to extremes. Combined with this disability is considerable aptitude for typing (which is his favorite subject). This is his first year at Paseo.

KNOX, RACHEL MATEEL

This Frances Scarritt Hanly girl was president of the senior Girl Reserves, a Cynthia, member of the National Honor Society, on the Highest and General Honor Rolls for four years, and secretary of the Treasure Chest. Rachel will attend Junior College.

KOLLESCHNIG, MAXINE LACY

Maxine came to Paseo during her junior year and served in the office of reporter for her home room. She was a member of the Sigma Kappa first semester and the Soterians second semester of her senior year. She plans a J. C.-M. U. education.

KREBS, WILLIAM E., JR.

This senior feels the call of his Alma Mater so greatly that he intends to take a P. G. course next year. In the years 1930-31, he was a substitute on the rifle team. He was president of his senior home room and held various other home room offices.

KUSNETZKY, BENNIE

Bennie, who assures the world that swimming is his hobby, was an active member of the Hi-Y. He will attend the University of Illinois and during his four years at Paseo he has held many offices in his home rooms.

LA CROIX, HELEN

Helen has been a member of our happy family for the last two years. Her hobbies are dancing and all forms of athletics. That she intends to enter the world of business is evident by the fact that she will attend business college. She was a Zeta.

LAKE, BEN

Music has played a large part in Ben's school life. He has been in the band four years, in the orchestra two years, and the Glee Club, and was in the winning boys' quartet. He was in the Mixer Orchestra and a member of All-City Band and Orchestra.

LAND, WILLIAM L.

This athletic young man has fond dreams of becoming an ice-hockey player. Bill, who was a member of the band and an officer in his home room, plans to attend Junior College for the next two years.

LARK, MARGARET CECILIA

Margaret (Miss Lark to you) managed to gather quite a few honors in her three years here. She was editor of the Press, a member of the Quill and Scroll, National Honor Society, Student Council, Honor Roll, and Sigma Kappa and was president of the Cynthians.

LATIMER, BERNIECE B.

Berniece was mainly interested in athletics. She was a member of the Atalanta Club and won a Paseo letter. She made the basketball, hockey, and baseball teams. When she finishes school, she will lead a very active life as a gym teacher.

LATTA, KARL

Karl frankly admits that his list of honors consisted mainly being elected "Class Pest" on home room ballots. His integrity is to be admired. He also admits that he disliked botany. But he has financial ability, being twice cashier of his home room.

LAWTER, CLAUDE E.

Claude has been kept very busy devoting himself without undue discrimination to his three years—musical, military, and literary. He was a member of the band four years, the R. O. T. C. three years, and the Treasure Chest his senior year.

LEBO, W. HOWARD

Howard was one of the literary lights in the Treasure Chest Club, that noble organization of followers of the purest art (and of Miss Blase, for he was a member of her home room). He plans to attend Junior College.

LEE, CHARLES AYLETTE

Charles is interested in artistic things. He was a member of the Schmidt Smearers and won fourth place in an R. O. T. C. Poster Contest. He naively informs us that his hobby is art. He unfortunately dislikes English.

LEINBACH, MARTHA ESTELLE

Martha was a member of the National Honor Society, the Honor Roll, and Peppy Pirates. She was a Press reporter and was chairman of the property committee of the Student Council. She was also vice-chairman of the senior Girl Reserve Triangle.

LEINBACH, MARY ELLEN

Mary Ellen (believe it or not) really likes mathematics! She names it as her favorite study. She was cashier in her home room, a Treasure Chest member, and plans to attend Junior College. Anyone liking mathematics ought to succeed down there!

LEIS, CECIL

Cecil is a war-like lad interested in anything having to do with army life. He was a captain in the R. O. T. C., a member of the rifle team and an office holder in the Officers Club for two years. He also enjoyed the distinction of being a Junto.

LEONARD, PAUL J.

Paul is one of those athletic gentlemen who is fond of nearly any sport. He especially liked baseball and track. He was vice-president of his home room, and intends to take it easy in the future by not going to college. Smart fellow!

LEONARD, VIOLET V.

Violet has participated much in spectacular dramatics, having had parts in the Footlight Fantasies, Fashion Shows, Christmas Pageant, R. O. T. C. Circus, and All-City High School Pageant. She was a member of the Girl Reserves and Choral Club.

LESSNER, EMANUEL

Emanuel's interest in athletics is definitely proved by the fact that he thinks he will attend Notre Dame. We are very glad to meet a student who has sufficient financial stability even to contemplate such a locale as Notre Dame.

LEVIN, FREDA

Freda goes in for things in a big way. She played on all the girl athletic teams—all of them, too. Then to top the list, she claimed membership in the Atalantas. She was one of those charming clothes-horses in last year's Fashion Show.

LEVIN, JEANETTE

Jeanette, who was advertising manager and business manager of the Paseon, also liked athletics, was an Atalanta, and a member of several athletic teams. She was a member of the National Honor Society, Honor Rolls, and Vergilians, and a Press reporter.

LEVY, RUTH MILDRED

Unlike the rest of us, Ruth spends her time having a good time. She was a member of the Iota Literary Society and Student Council, president and cashier of her home room, and her senior year a bank director of the School Savings Department.

LEWIS, JAMES WILLIAM

This quiet gent is really quite war-like. His hobby is guns; he was a R. O. T. C. lieutenant and will attend Kelly Field. Besides holding home room offices, he was a track letterman and a member of the Traffic Squad, Engineers, and Lettermen's Club.

LEWIS, ROBERT

Robert has many hobbies, the favorite of which is athletics. He also hopes to go to Junior College. Due to his inherent modesty and reticence, he did not enter much into school life, mainly fulfilling the role of the student.

LISPI, NORMA

Norma had important parts in many of our plays, "The Kangaroos" and "Contents Unknown" among them. She was an officer in the Mask and Wig Club, Girl Reserve Triangle, her home room, and the Thicions. She was a Student Council and Soterian member.

LOCATELLI, RALPH T.

This member of the Muir Naturalist Club rightfully says his hobby is chasing bugs (himself not included). He was vice-president, cashier, and assistant cashier of his various home rooms and a member of the Know Kansas City Club.

LOEBLICH, ALFRED

R. O. T. C. has been Alfred's field. He was a corporal, sergeant, lieutenant, and in '32, a captain. He was commander of the crack squad in '31, a reporter for The Press and Officers Club, and won awards. He hopes to go to Wentworth and Kelly Field.

LOEBLICH, FRANK

The hobby of this young man is hunting, though he doesn't say what. He likes basketball and in gym played on all the inter-class teams. He will spend the next two years of his promising life at Junior College.

LONG, MARY

Mary is another of those numerous devotees to the Terpsichorean art, and she likes all sports. She belonged to the Girl Reserves, was secretary of two of her home rooms, and plans a J. C.-M. U. course.

LONG, MILDRED LEE

Another woman who is taking advantage of her newly acquired freedom, Mildred will be a stenographer; but we'll bet that her hopes will fall and that she will end up by being a devoted wife. Her senior year she was secretary of her home room.

LONGAN, GEORGE BAKER

George was one of the reasons why Paseo won first place in basketball; he played center. He was a member of the Student Council twice, National Honor Society, and Engineers. His hobby is radio construction, and he will attend Michigan University.

LORTZ, JACK B.

Jack announces that he was a first lieutenant in the R. O. T. C. and a member of the Officers Club. For two years he toiled on the Traffic Squad and was a member of the National Honor Society, Honor Rolls, Vergilians, and the Junto Club.

LOWE, CLARA MARIE

Intentions of "taking a beauty course" have been announced by Clara, but it has not been made clear whether she meant beauty in terms of her own face or others. We feel that it must be the latter.

LOWE, ROBERT L.

Bob revealed his executive ability by being president of the Glee Club, his geometry class, and junior English class. He played on the first basketball and second football teams his senior year and participated in the last two Christmas Pageants.

LYNCH, PAUL

For four years Paul served faithfully in the band, and his outside activities included membership in the Hi-Y. His plans for the future consist of a course at Central Business College after which he will enter the business world.

McCOLLUM, VIRGINIA LEE

This girl associates with the loftier arts; says she likes music and will specialize in it at the College of Emporia. She likes sewing, took part in one of the Christmas Pageants, and held offices in her sophomore and junior home rooms.

McDANIEL, RAY

Ray, whose husky vitality and manly vigor made quite an impression—physically and otherwise—on many people about school, was captain of the All-Star Football and school basketball teams. He held offices in the Lettermen's Club, Hi-Y, and home rooms.

McILRATH, FRANCES MARIE

Numerous home room offices are claimed by Frances who was a reporter for The Press and a member of the Treasure Chest. She was an alternate in the Student Council and held offices in the Mask and Wig Club.

McWILLIAMS, SOPHIA BARBARA

Sophia has entered fields unusual for her sex. She was the only girl charity speaker and tried out for the Oratorical contest. She was a member of the Choral Club, Treasure Chest, Soterians, a Student Council alternate, and took part in plays.

MANNING, MAVIS

Conflicting aptitudes are displayed in Mavis. She wants to be a stenographer and will attend Central Business College; yet she is fond of athletics and likes sewing. She was a member of the Girl Reserves and Soterian Club.

MANRING, ROBERT C.

What mental profundity has been bestowed upon Bob! He likes chemistry and will take up engineering at Junior College. He was a member of the band four years, the tennis team, and Engineers. His hobbies are guns and motorcycles.

MARTIN, FRANCES

Frances is another who thinks grace and agility ought to be requisites of all girls. Her hobby is dancing, and she was president of her home room her freshman year. She will be another of the Paseo recruits to Junior College.

MARTIN, MARGARET E.

Margaret has achieved much in sports, being president of the Atalantas, member of all girl athletic teams, soccer manager, and winner of Paseo letter and shield and Missouri State letter. She was a home room officer and will attend a teachers college.

MASON, MARIE LILLIAN

Marie came from Northeast last year, but during her one year here she was a member of the Home Economics Club. After graduation from high school she intends to take up a nurse's training course.

MAYER, EDITH LORENE

Edith believes a little hardship in life makes it more interesting, so she claims horseback riding as her hobby. She was cashier in her home room her freshman year and for three years has been a member of home room program committees.

MAYES, VIRGINIA

Vocal culture has claimed much of the time of this Cynthian. She sang in the Triple Trio, which won second place in a city contest, and took part in Christmas Pageant, R. O. T. C. Circus, and Footlight Fantasies.

MAYNARD, MARY ELIZABETH

Another adherent to the modern social order and taste, Mary is fond of all sports. She has participated in athletics at school, being a member of the second team basketball her sophomore year. Her junior year she was a Girl Reserve.

MESSECAR, VIRGINIA

"What the well dressed woman will wear" has always proved of interest to Virginia, whose hobby is clothes of all kinds. She was a member of the Peppy Pirates, was secretary of her sophomore home room, and will attend Junior College.

MEYER, PAUL WESLEY

Paul will cure the future ills of the world, for his intention is to be a doctor after he studies medicine at a Philadelphia college. He was a member of the Engineers Club, Traffic Squad, band, and Student Council. He was an officer of the German Club.

MICKADEIT, MARIE E.

Marie was interested in mathematics; anyone would have to be to take four years of it. She likes the domestic arts, also, having won a prize in the Fashion Show last year. Her future college will be Junior College.

MILLER, BESS B.

Certainly pleasant days will confront Bess if she attends Horner Institute next year. She was cashier of her home room her junior year, a Student Council representative, and a member of the Mask and Wig Club. She took part in an assembly play.

MILLER, PHILMORE JACKSON

Jack has intentions of being a future surgeon, so we wish him a ripping good success. He was a Student Council alternate and sergeant-at-arms of his home room. His favorite subjects were chemistry and Latin.

MILLER, JOSEPH W.

This literary genius was a member of the National Honor Society, Quill and Scroll, and Student Council. He was on both Honor Rolls, held offices in the Keats Club, Treasure Chest, and Spanish Club, was column editor of The Press, and on senior gift committee.

MILLER, JUAL

After years of experience, Jual has reached the conclusion that he can't stand the women; they can't get along without him, though. His associations with high society have taught him not to overbid his bride hand. Baker University will win him next.

MOORE, BEULAH M.

A practical side is revealed in Beulah's nature by her desire to attend some business college. She was a member of the Iota Literary Society and Choral Club, and was secretary of her home room. Her hobbies are music and basketball.

MOORE, REDONDA

"I belong to El Circulo Espanol and my hobby is studying Spanish," said Redonda, eating her chile con carne. She was a member of the Mask and Wig Club, assistant advertising manager of the Paseon, a home room officer, and will attend William Woods.

MORRIS, RUTH EVELYN

Ruth has maintained a very active schedule in high school. She has held numerous home room offices, was a Press reporter, Honor Roll student, Student Council representative, and a member of the Spanish Club and school history committee. She will attend J. C.

MOSELEY, IRENE L.

Irene gained considerable repute for herself as a linguist by her work as vice-president of the German Club, a position which she held for two years. She was secretary of her home room, played on the hockey and soccer teams, and will attend J. C.

MOSELEY, MAXINE

It is girls like Maxine who make Paseo such a sweet place to attend. She was a member of the Treasure Chest, treasurer of the Iota Literary Society, and vice-president of her home room. She is especially fond of commercial subjects.

MOSSMAN, HELEN M.

Hiking and all sports are Helen's hobbies; as proof she says that she was a member of the hockey team her sophomore year. For two years she was president of her home room. She was a Press reporter, bank cashier, and a member of the Sigma Kappa.

MUELLER, JAMES R.

Music has been James' field in high school; he was a member of the band and All City Band. He was a sergeant in the R. O. T. C. After leaving Paseo, he will work for two years, then go to some military school.

MULLIS, MAXINE I.

An admirable woman! Maxine admits that her favorite pastime consists of that art so peculiar with women—talking. She was a Student Council representative two years, a member of the Girl Reserves, and bank cashier for her home room.

MUNSON, GENEVIEVE EDITH

Genevieve will probably be a dressmaker, and to judge from styles today, there won't be much dress to make in the future. Her hobby, playing the piano, will enliven her spare hours. She was cashier for her home room her freshman years.

MURRAY, BLOSSOM

Blossom holds pretty definite ideas about the future as she says, "I will attend one of the business colleges at Kansas City." Her junior year she was a bank director in the School Savings Department and her senior year cashier of her home room.

MYERS, EVA

"Best Girl Student" is a most exact description of Eva. She was secretary of the National Honor Society and Thicians, assistant editor of The Press, and a member of the Quill and Scroll, Mask and Wig Club, Student Council, and both Honor Rolls.

MYERS, EARL HARRY

The "Best Boy Student" was sergeant-at-arms of the National Honor Society, a member of the Treasure Chest, Honor Roll, Quill and Scroll, and senior gift committee, business manager of The Press, and an officer of the Engineers and Traffic Squad.

MYERS, MADOLIN

Madolin came from Dallas, Texas, at the end of last year, and in her short time here has proved herself most adept in the field of art. Some of the art work in this Paseon bears her signature. She plans to attend Junior College.

MYLAR, JAMES O., JR.

The pleasing voice of this young man was a part of the Glee Club. James had a part in "Out of the Stillness," and was a member of the Stamp Club. He will attend the Missouri University of Agriculture.

NASON, MARGARET ELIZABETH

Margaret is one of those domestic young women who like to sew. She will further her career at Junior College and Warrensburg with a home economics course. She was initiator of the Thicians, a Press reporter, and held several home room offices.

NAUMAN, EDWARD F.

Edward was assistant editor of the Paseon, a first lieutenant in R. O. T. C., a member of the school band and orchestra, Mixer Orchestra, and All City Band, and president of the Engineers. He will attend the University of Southern California.

NAYLOR, LYLE

"Belle Brummell" was president and secretary of the Thicians, and a member of the Student Council. She took part in the Footlight Fantasies, and was a home room officer. Lyle will attend Junior College after graduation.

NESTER, ELMER O.

Sports, singing, and having a good time proved to be Elmer's hobbies at Paseo. He held several home room offices, and was a Student Council representative, and a basketball letterman. He will continue to receive athletic honors at M. U.

NEWTON, DON EDWIN

This quiet young gentleman was interested in athletics his freshman year. Don has held several home room offices including that of president and reporter. He is undecided as to his future college, but wherever he goes he is sure to be liked.

NICHOLS, ARTHUR

Although Art has been a member of the school and All City Band for several years, he says that his favorite pastime is baseball. He was a Student Council representative and held various home room offices. He will attend Baker University.

NICHOLS, LEE

Perhaps another "Lindy" exists in Lee, as he is very much interested in aviation. Lee was a member of the Hi-Y during his years at Paseo. The Findlay Engineering College will claim him next year.

NICHOLS, MARJORIE

"I enjoy music and love to tease people," said this heartless lady. She was assistant business manager of The Press her junior year, a member of the Quill and Scroll, Sigma Kappa, and Girl Reserves, and held sundry home room offices.

NILSON, JOHN T.

This boy, a disciple of Isaak Walton, rightly claims fishing for his hobby. He also likes drafting and mathematics. His senior year he constructed a jig saw and lathe for use in the wood-working department.

NIXON, FREDERICK WARREN

Fred owned a Ford and with such experience as he got in running that remarkable machine he expects to take up engineering at Junior College. He was a R. O. T. C. sergeant, Press reporter, a four year member of the band and in the All City Band.

NORMAN, RUTH LILLIAN

Ruth was a good typist, hence, her remarkable ability in athletics is explained. She was a member of the German Club for two years and was on several athletic teams her freshman and sophomore years. She also held various home room offices.

O'BRIEN, MARY ELIZABETH

Mary has a sweet smile (any boy will testify that) but she advocates no tooth paste. However, she was a member of the Thiclon Literary Society and held the office of secretary of her home room. She plans to take a course at Junior College.

ODER, WILLIAM A.

William, a reticent senior, finally confessed that his favorite sports were swimming, basketball, and tennis. His chances of entering the world as a business man are good because he ranks bookkeeping at the top of his studies.

OFFUTT, JAMES BASIL

Strangely enough, Basil, a member of the second football team, is attracted by art. He was a member of the Schmidt Smearers, was president of his home room, and his junior year claimed membership on the Traffic Squad.

OLSON, GUSTAV ROBERT

Gus, who possessed a strange weakness for females, was a member of the Engineers Club. He has held various home room offices, including assistant cashier, and was on the Traffic Squad two years. He will attend Kansas University.

PAFFEN, ROSCOE ANDREAS

Roscoe came from Central High School his junior year. His hobbies are electricity and sports of all kinds, tennis being his favorite. Next year he will attend Junior College where he will continue his study of electricity and German.

PARSONS, MABEL MARGUERITE

A serious turn of mind is shown in the favorite studies of this senior; history and bookkeeping. Mabel was a Student Council alternate her sophomore year and a member of the National Honor Society. She will attend Kansas City Teachers College.

PARSONS, RICHARD G.

Dick, whose Grecian contour drew forth from fair maidens many a sigh, was sergeant-at-arms of the Junto Club. He also took an intense interest in home room affairs, being president of one of them. He was a member of the golf team.

PATTERSON, CORAMAE

As Coramae left school last December, it was utterly impossible to get a list of the honors which she made in her years at Paseo. She took clothing and millinery and showed her liking for English by having taken four years of it.

PAUL, GENEVIEVE

This Titian haired young lady was an officer of the Paseo Peppy Pirates and a home room executive. Her hobby is dancing and she will attend Junior College. She was also an alternate in the Student Council.

PEDERSON, MYRTLE L.

Myrtle, a future style authority, won first place in the Fashion Show with one of her remarkable creations. She intends to go to Junior College, was a Girl Reserve, and played center on the basketball team. Her hobby is ice-skating.

PETERS, GLENDORA

"I am going to a business college and intend to be a steno or something," says Glendora, leaving us sorely perplexed as to what a "something" is. However, we wish this Peppy Pirate success in the future.

PIGG, DOROTHY CAROLINE

At an assembly last year, Dorothy was one of those debaters who fought the naughty chain store. She was also a charity speaker and held offices in the Parliamentary Law Club. This Treasure Chest member took part in "Mix Well and Stir."

PIGG, ROBERT

Robert, during his many years at Paseo, was a member of the Glee Club and Hi-Y. He was reporter and vice-president of his home room. His hobby is boxing and he plans to attend Rockhurst College.

POLLMAN, FRANCES E.

That French is Frances' favorite subject is well testified by the fact that she can say "Parley vous Francaise" to a high degree of perfection and artistry. She plans to attend Ward Bellmont.

POLLOCK, JACK CARLTON

At East Jack was very, very active in activities. At Paseo he was sergeant-at-arms of his home room, a member of the Vergilians, and a participant in the assembly play, "The Floral Shop." He will attend Junior College.

POLSKY, ANNE

Anne played in the orchestra and aided the Student Council considerably in its activities by being one of its mighty members. Her greatest interest was in commercial subjects, but she found time to be a home room officer.

POWELL, NORMA LEE

Norma intends to put her high school commercial training to work by entering the business world after graduation. Her hobbies are swimming and dancing. She was secretary of her home room for two years and cashier.

PRESENT, LAURETTE

Page Columbo, Vallee, Crosby, and others. Laurette has a yen for good (?) singers. She was a member of the Peppy Pirates. During her first three years she played on all the girls' athletic teams.

PRICE, JOSHUA

Joshua claims as his profession chemical engineering; and he will go to Junior College to get his training. He was a sergeant in the R. O. T. C. and was a member of the Mask and Wig Club and the Traffic Squad.

QUINN, JOHN

John runs as spontaneously as silk hosiery does. He was a member of the 1930 indoor track team, and served in the capacity of home room president his senior year. Industrial arts and the social sciences claimed much of his attention.

RAGAN, IRENE

Irene was a member of the Sigma Kappa. Her hobby, consistent with all her sex, is watching athletic events. She may take a business course prior to her entrance in the business world. Commercial subjects claimed most of her attention.

RANDALL, PORTER M.

Porter's high school days have been filled with spice, due to his extreme distaste for history. He likes golf and chemistry. He was a member of the Treasure Chest Club and the Traffic Squad. He will attend Kansas University.

RANDOLPH, MILLIE I.

Millie's sweet smile has won for her many friends at Paseo; nor will she soon be forgotten by them. She was president of her home room, a member of the Treasure Chest, and will train at Menorah Hospital to be a technician.

RAUSPAW, EDITH LOUISE

Edith tested her integrity by being a bank director her senior year. She was a member of the Honor Roll and was a Student Council representative. Her favorite subjects are commercial subjects, and she likes dress designing.

REDD, STANLEY E.

Stanley just missed the mark in high school; he was vice-president of the Engineers Club and his senior home room. He was a member of the Officers Club. He says he does not expect to attend college at the present time.

REDD, VELMA IRENE

Velma appreciates good art, and her hobbies are dancing and collecting pictures. She was a member of the Iotas, the Choral Club three years, held home room offices, and took part in three Christmas Pageants. She will go to college.

REITZ, ERNA MARIE

Erna was one of those peppy cheerleaders of the equally peppy Peppy Pirates. Of course, she will go to college. She was a member of the Girl Reserves and German Club, and is especially fond of swimming.

REITZ, HARRY

Harry may not have possessed the pep of his sister (see above) but he was a regular little darling in the eyes of our fairer sex. And is this not a distinction to boast of? He was a member of the German Club and secretary of the Juntos.

REMM, H. CLIFFORD

Clifford shows real humanitarian traits when he says that he won't list the many offices he has held; it would be too tedious to his dear fellow students. His hobbies are bridge, dancing, and having a good time wherever he may be.

RENFRO, EVELYN MARTHA

It is quite evident that the realms of domesticity will be abandoned by Evelyn. She expresses her love for business by intending to go to Huff's School of Commerce. She was a bank director her senior year and likes typing.

RICHART, VIRGINIA

Virginia, noted for her love of horses and equestrian sports, was treasurer of the Cynthian Literary Society and a member of the Treasure Chest. Next year she will attend the French Academy of Notre Dame de Sion.

ROBERTSON, HOWARD C.

Howard was a sax blower in the band for four years, and in that time emitted a considerable quantity of air from his powerful lungs. He will attend some business college. He was interested in such sciences as botany.

ROBINSON, BERNICE MARY

What aptitude must this girl possess! She was on the hockey, soccer, and baseball teams, and a member of the band and Girl Reserves. Aside from being a home room cashier, she likes secretarial work.

ROBINSON, ROBERT

Robert must lead a diversified life, judging from his hobbies, radio, golf, and playing the violin. He says he enjoyed school because he did not allow the teacher's authority to hamper his own personal liberty.

ROGERS, RAYMOND E.

We wish Raymond luck at Notre Dame next year. He was vice-president and cashier of his sophomore home rooms, and his junior year was a Student Council alternate. He likes to play golf and ice-skate.

ROLLINS, EVA MAE

What can't sweet smiles and superfluous charm do for a girl? Eva was vice-president of the Zetas, secretary and treasurer of the Vergilians, held home room offices, and was a Student Council representative. Her hobbies are swimming and tennis.

ROSE, VIRGINIA LEE

Virginia was quite the politician. Life in high school to her was just one home room office after another. Among the many such offices she has held are: cashier, vice-president, reporter, and secretary.

ROSENBERG, BERTHA

Bertha, although reticent at first, admitted that she intends to be a bacteriologist and will pursue the microbe at J. C. and M. U. Outside of science she likes to drive around, go to parties, dance, and collect jewelry.

ROSENBERGER, GLADYS E.

Common sense is quite apparent in the hobbies selected by Gladys; sewing and making friends. She was secretary, president and sergeant-at-arms of three of her home rooms. Her foods class used good judgment in making her their secretary.

ROUEN, MARTHA JANE

Martha, whose charm had a devastating effect on many a boy's heart, was a Student Council representative and cashier of her home room for two years. She was interested in the domestic sciences, salesmanship, and commercial geography.

ROWSON, STANLEY

Stanley's mind is in the clouds most of the time for astronomy and aviation claim his interest. He was a member of the Traffic Squad, Honor Roll, Treasure Chest, and National Honor Society. He was copy editor of The Press and will go to J. C.

ROXBURG, EDITH AMELIA

"Sprechen sie Deutsch" holds true for Edith, who was in two German plays and a German Club member. Her aesthetic nature makes her like art and outdoor athletics. She was in the Fashion Show and will attend the Art Institute.

RUMBECK, DOROTHY LAVON

Dorothy's interest in music is testified by her being president of the orchestra, G. R. music chairman, and assembly pianist. She held offices in the Student Council, Cynthians, and her home room, and was a member of the National Honor Society.

RUSSELL, WINIFRED

Although Winnie came from East High School, Wichita, her junior year, she obtained success in making faces. She was an officer in the Treasure Chest, Girl Reserves, and home rooms. She was a member of the Cynthians and will attend J. C.

SANDFORD, RUTH LAVINA

Ruth was vice-president of the Iota Literary Society, secretary of the German Club, treasurer of the Soterians, and held home room offices. She was a participant in the German play and "The Touchdown," and plans to attend Junior College.

SANDHAUS, HAROLD M.

Harold, a devotee of all antiquity, was a member of the Vergilian Club. He was on the Honor Roll and served in the capacity of Student Council representative for his home room. He likes sports and intends to go to Junior College.

SCHAPER, WILLIAM A.

William is just ca-ra-zy about printing, but he doesn't mind going to a ball game now and then or doing a little reporting for his home room. He is headed for Junior College next year.

STEVENSON, CATHERINE ALICE

This remarkable athlete has been president and vice-president of the Atalantas, girls sports editor of the Paseon, a member of twelve athletic teams in three years, the Honor Roll, Soterians and Vergilians, and held numerous home room offices.

SCHWARTZ, DAVID

David, while not of the feminine sex (needless to say), was proud of his legs. Through their means he won third place in the cross country race against Manual in 1930. He was secretary of his home room his junior year.

SCOTT, KARL LEO, JR.

Karl, the cause of many a teacher's grey hairs, says his hobby is throwing papers. He also loves mathematics, having studied it four years. He was a home room officer, a member of the second team football his junior year, and will attend K. U.

SCOTT, KENNETH

The literary editor of the Paseon and feature editor of The Press was vice-president of the National Honor Society, and a Junto and Vergilian officer. He was a member of the Traffic Squad, Mixer Orchestra, Treasure Chest, Quill and Scroll, and Honor Rolls.

SCOTTEN, MAXENE

That Maxene likes music, drawing, and reading is shown by her membership in the Choral Club, her participation in Christmas Pageant and R. O. T. C. Circus, and that she was initiator of the Cynthians and a Press reporter. She will attend J. C.

SEESTED, GUS F.

A very long time ago, Gus, in his freshman year, was president of his home room and he was again honored with the same position his senior year. He was a runner-up in the spring golf tournament in 1929 and will attend business college.

SHARP, EDWARD

A musical genius! Ed was the director of his own jazz orchestra and he warbled quite effectively in the Glee Club. He is not only interested in golf, but likes to play it. As to future plans, he will take a pre-medical course at Junior College.

SHARPE, THOMAS JOHN

Tom likes his R. O. T. C. His junior year he was an expert rifleman and a member of the rifle team. His senior year he was captain of the rifle team and an R. O. T. C. captain. He won a third place American Legion medal.

SHINER, LAWRENCE JASPER

That athletics is Lawrence's affinity is proved by his being a member of the second team and a substitute tackle on the first team. He was also a track letterman. His weakness is dancing, and he will attend J. C. and K. U. two years each.

SHIPLEY, HAROLD EDGAR

That Harold likes things of an athletic nature is proved by the fact that he took gym all four years of his high school course. Even his hobby is athletic—tennis, and he sang in the Glee Club.

SHIVELY, WILLIAM BYRON

This boy who has no hobbies wants to be a lawyer some day, but will have to confine his efforts at the present time to shystering. He was a member of Know Kansas City Club and reporter of his home room.

SIMS, FERN MARIE

Fern enjoys the distinction of having completed high school in three years and liking to cook. She was a member of the Soterians, on several athletic teams, and a home room officer. She will attend Kansas City Teachers College.

SKAER, EVERETT

Everett, a member of the basketball team, contributed his part to Paseo's first place in the interscholastic basketball championship. He was a member of the Keats Club, president of his home room, and will attend Oklahoma A. and M.

SMITH, CLEVE CALVIN

Cleve admits his weakness for a perfectly shocking hobby: electrical experiments. He also likes auto mechanics. He was a member of the track team his junior and senior years, and he is fond of all sports.

SMITH, EUGENE ELMER

Eugene possessed unusual artistic ability. He had cartoons in The Press, but much of his clandestine art is of an unexposable nature. He was a member of the Traffic Squad, Lettermen's Club, and 1930 football team, and was an R. O. T. C. officer.

SNYDER, BEATRICE

Beatrice was a member of the National Honor Society, both Honor Rolls, Quill and Scroll, and Mask and Wig Club. She was a Student Council representative, an officer of the Soterians and Cynthians, and business manager of The Press.

SNYDER, MINNIE MAXINE

Minnie was custodian of supplies for the Mask and Wig Club, a member of the Treasure Chest, and took part in the Fashion Show and Footlight Fantasies. She likes to travel and make collections of various things (maybe money) and will attend J. C.

SPALITTO, CHRISTINE

Christine has definitely decided that in the future she will be a steno, office wife, or what have you. She likes commercial subjects very much, and her hobby is dancing. As a sophomore she played on the baseball and basketball teams.

SOOTS, LAURA BETH

Aside from fiddling in the orchestra, Laura was a member of the National Honor Society and Honor Rolls. She was vice-president of the Vergilians, and, since her hobby is scribbling, it is quite natural that she should take up journalism at college.

SOSLAND, LEONARD

Leonard represented Paseo in the Star's Constitution Oratorical contest. He was a Student Council representative, a member of the Engineers Club and Quill and Scroll, and feature editor of The Press. He was reporter for the Vergilians.

SPECTOR, RUTH

Maybe the future of henna still holds great possibilities. One of Ruth's hobbies is red hair, and maybe for herself. She was secretary and cashier of her freshman and sophomore years, and a member of Der Deutche Verein. She likes dancing.

STADLER, WILMAURINE

Wilmaurine is interested in commercial subjects, and can even type her own name on a typewriter. She was a member of the Soterian Club, and likes reading. She also is fond of skating and watching a hockey game.

STEELE, ROBERT

This jolly, good natured chap was a letterman in tennis, a member of the Engineers Club, cashier of his senior home room, and an officer of the Treasure Chest. Junior College will find his name on its enrollment files next year.

SCHRAM, KATHERINE LOUISE

Like Helen Wills, Katherine possesses both charm and ability in tennis. She was a member of the Girl Reserves and held the office of secretary of the Iota Literary Society. Her future college is Junior College.

STEVENSON, DWIGHT

Evidently this enterprising young man is preparing to be a business man, for he will enroll for a course in the Kansas City Business College next year. He admits his hobby is playing golf, like that of other business men.

STEWART, MARJORIE JUANITA

Marjorie, who came to Paseo from Westport High School her senior year, confesses a liking for basketball, not only as a spectator, but as a contestant. She says her hobbies are swimming and dancing.

STIFFELMAN, DAVID S.

David, who was treasurer of the Junto Club, a member of the German Club, Mask and Wig Club, the Glee Club, and the Hi-Y, will attend Missouri University. This calm, sedate student was an officer in his home room his junior year.

STILLWELL, JOSEPHINE

Josephine, who reflected charm and beauty throughout the halls of Paseo, was a reporter for The Paseo Press. She was president of her home room and a representative in the Student Council. She will attend Junior College.

STOLLER, ADELINE CECILE

This young vocalist has been a member of the Choral Club for two years and a member of the German Club for one year. She plans to attend Kansas City Horner Institute. She was interested in millinery and sewing.

STOMP, JOHN MILTON

The president of the Student Council, National Honor Society, Keats and Officers Clubs was a member of both Honor Rolls, and Quill and Scroll. He was assistant editor of The Press, a Traffic Squad lieutenant, and chairman of senior ring committee.

STRAUSS, SYLVIA

A large part of Sylvia's time is claimed in the winter by ice-skating, and in the summer by tennis. In the future, stenographic work will be her occupation. She learned other valuable business-like traits by being cashier in her freshman home room.

STRICKLAND, PAUL DAVID

Perhaps his military environment at Paseo, where he was a corporal in the R. O. T. C. and a two year member of the band, is responsible for Paul's aspiration to military achievement. He will be further trained in strategy at West Point.

STUCKERT, EMMA

In this year of depression Emma has capably filled the position of a banking director in the School Savings Department. She plans to take a special business course next year in preparation for a career as a bookkeeper or a buyer.

STUESSI, BEVERLY

Beverly is interested in anything, whether it is getting his physics lesson or playing baseball. That his hobby is photography is manifested by his work as photographer of the Paseon. He will continue his education at J. C. and K. U.

STULTZ, BRUCE W.

This little dickens got great joy out of arguing with his teachers (though in fun, as you might know). He was president of his home rooms his freshman and sophomore years, a member of Hi-Y and the Juntos, and will attend Missouri University.

SULZER, FRANK X., JR.

Frank devoted his high school days mainly to holding various home room offices. He has been president of his sophomore home room and sergeant-at-arms of his home room his junior year. His hobby is metal work.

SUNDBERG, FLORENCE ELVERA

Florence, while a very timid little lady, does say that her favorite subject in a school has been foods. She was a member of the Soterian Club and expresses her belief that every student should get his lessons.

SVOBODA, HOWARD ANTHONY

Howard was a member of the band, track team, German Club, Hi-Y, and the mixer committee. He was a Student Council representative, an officer of the Juntos, and his home room, gift receiver of the junior class, and a captain of the cheerleaders.

SWAIN, EDWARD LeROY

Edward was a member of the English Coffee Club, the Stamp Club, and the Officers Club. He was an R. O. T. C. lieutenant, and held several home room offices. He derives many pleasant hours from collecting stamps and coins.

SWYDEN, ELIZABETH

This girl has been a great help in her many home rooms. She was president and cashier of her freshman and parliamentary of her senior home rooms. Elizabeth was "Best Dancer" of the parliamentary Law Club and was in the Footlight Fantasies.

TALMAN, MORRIS HAROLD

Morris was quite a help as a Student Council representative, being chairman of the school history committee. He was vice-president of the Keats, home room president, a member of the Traffic Squad and second team basketball, and a Press reporter.

TANNER, VELMA ALBERTA

Velma was sergeant-at-arms of the Peppy Pirates, a home room officer, a National Honor Society, Girl Reserves, and Student Council member, and a participant in the Fashion Show and Footlight Fantasies. She will attend Teachers College.

TARPY, EUGENE

Eugene was a member of the German Club his junior and senior years. He was sergeant-at-arms of his home room and his hobbies are basketball and golf. He is undecided as to whether he will attend Rockhurst or Junior College.

THAXTON, HAZEL CHRISTINE

Hazel, the gal with the golden tresses, was a member of the Thicton Literary Society. She was reporter for her home room her freshman and senior years. She seems to plan a "business-like" career, as she will attend business college.

THOMAS, CHARLOTTE

"A little bit o' heaven"—Charlotte portrayed an angel in the Christmas Pageant. She was a member of the Peppy Pirates and Choral Club. She held home room offices, had a minor role in "The Touchdown," and will attend Kansas University.

THOMAS, OSCAR

Oscar played in the band for four years, and claims no little ability on the keys of a typewriter. He believes dancing is the secret of a fine physique and is headed for Junior College next year.

THOMPSON, HOMER

Homer was a member of the Stage Crew three years, being manager two years. He was also interested in dramatics, and had parts in "Contents Unknown" and "Mix Well and Stir." He was a member of the second team football squad and a home room officer.

TINSLEY, LLOYD

As all that Lloyd would say about himself was that his hobby was building model boats and airplanes, we will add some personal conclusions. He had beautiful curly hair and was tall and lithe of body. He liked commercial subjects.

TITUS, VIRGINIA LEE

It seems plausible when Virginia says she likes history, but as to foods—does she mean cooking or consuming them? She was a Student Council representative and for three years cashier of her home room. She will not go to college.

TOLIVER, RUSSELL

Like many of his fellow Paseoites, Russell's hobby is sports. He was a member of the track and cross country teams. In his home room he was vice-president, and his future college will be Rockhurst. He actually enjoys going to school.

TOMLIN, CLYDE RUSSELL

That popular aversion, history, is this boy's favorite subject. Claude was cashier and president of his home room and quite often partakes of a refreshing basketball game. He will attend Kidder Junior College.

TURNER, FRANK

Frank regarded high school as a great big playground, and his report card certainly bears out the fact that he believed in "pleasure before business." He was interested in metal and woodwork commercial subjects.

TURNER, JEAN

Jean left school last fall, so it was impossible to get a list of all her honors. However, at Paseo she enrolled in such subjects as sewing and foods, showing a taste for the domestic arts. She also took history and botany.

TURNER, SUSAN MILDRED

Susan was sergeant-at-arms of the Iotas and president of her home room. She had a small role in "Dido and Aeneas," likes dancing, and played on the junior volleyball championship team. She will attend Sarachon Hooley Secretarial School.

UKEN, GEORGE FRANCIS

Francis is another golf bug, but he has put his golf bug to good advantage by being a member of the golf team his senior year. He was a home room officer, a Student Council representative, and a member of the senior class basketball team.

VAN SKIKE, GLADYS N.

Gladys was rather musically inclined; she sang in the Christmas Pageant and was a member of the Choral Club. Her junior year she was cashier of her home room and in the Fashion Show. She will attend Chillicothe Business College.

VINBERG, WILLIAM L.

William's band experience at Paseo will prove very profitable to him in a peculiar way. He says he will attend the Kansas City School of Undertaking. We remind him to play his musical instrument if business is dull. His hobby is ice-skating.

VON DEMFANGE, WILLIAM

In a few years it would not be surprising to see a young man hang out his "sign" announcing a new engineer by the name of William Von Demfange. He was an Engineer his senior year, and will attend Junior College where he will study his favorite course.

VON VOIGHTLANDER, ELEANOR

Eleanor has attended Paseo for only two years, and she plans to take a P. G. course here a while after she graduates and before she enters Junior College. The Soterian Club claims her as a member, and her "pianistic" ability won her a place in the orchestra.

WALDEN, EVAN

Except for being on the championship basketball team and the football squad, Evan naturally dislikes athletics. Ahem! This Keats was twice a board member of the Student Council, and was sports editor of The Press. He wants to be a tiger at Missouri University.

WALKER, LORENE

Indubitably a most extraordinary creature. Without a flinch this member of the Sigma Kappa says her hobby is reading, but she also likes singing. In her junior year she was secretary of her home room. Union College at Lincoln is her destination.

WALLER, JOE

Attention, all seniors dissatisfied with their announcements! Joe was on the senior announcement committee. However don't blame him too much for his friends in the Keats, traffic squad, band, and Hi-Y, of which he was "sec." may come to the rescue.

WARD, ROBERT JOHNSON

Preacher's sons are usually regarded as the worst of kids, but Bob's record at Paseo in the one year that he attended proves that the old axiom is far from true. He was a member of the basketball squad and Student Council as well as a home room officer.

WATERS, FRANCES LEE

The muscle that Frances undoubtedly gained as a member of three girl's athletic teams should help a great deal to lift faces and massage scalps of beauty-seeking people. Various home room offices were held by Frances, who will attend Barthlot Beauty College.

WATLING, ERMA CLARENE

Erma will not be accused of taking sewing only to be in the Fashion Show, although her hobby is dancing and a good time. The minute-writer of the Thicions appeared in "A Lucky Break," cartooned for the Press, and expresses a desire to attend Art Institute.

WATSON, PAUL

This cultivator of mustaches was an officer of the band and orchestra, a Press reporter, and a member of several other musical organizations, National Honor Society, Honor Roll, Engineers, Treasure Chest, and Student Council executive board.

WATSON, VIRGINIA LEE

That Virginia was athletic is proved by her membership on four major athletic teams. She was vice-president and treasurer of the Peppy Pirates, a member of the Spanish Club, and a home room officer. She took part in "Contents Unknown."

WEAST, EDWIN F.

Edwin believes that a few brains won't hurt in army life. An Honor Roll student, he was a member of the National Honor Society, and Engineers and Officers Clubs. He was a non-commissioned officer in the R. O. T. C. his junior and senior years.

WELLS, FERNE MAXINE

Three years membership in the Choral Club, and participation in the Fashion Shows and Christmas Pageants of the last three years constitute Maxine's claim to fame. She was an assistant bank director and likes reading.

WERTHE, MARTHA CAROLYN

Martha, who possesses all the charm of one of those cigarette "ad" girls, won a prize in the Fashion Show. She was an officer of the Thicions and a member of the safety committee and chairman of the courtesy committee of the Student Council.

WEST, BOB

Robert (or Bob), who believes that life should possess no idle moments, says he liked to loaf in Paseo's spacious halls. He was sergeant-at-arms of his home room and a Hi-Y member. He will continue to fascinate the ladies at K. U. next year.

WHITACRE, JUNIOR GRAHAM

That Junior was an ardent student of Spanish is confirmed by the fact that he took it four years and was treasurer of the Spanish Club. He was a member of the Hi-Y and lists chemistry as his hobby. He will attend Junior College.

WHITE, ELTON JOSEPH

Elton, who made life worth while for many a girl by his gigolo activities, liked dancing very much. He is also fond of outdoor sports, and held very many home room offices. His future college will be Kansas University.

WILK, MAY

May, a member of the National Honor Society and Cynthians, was president of the French Club and secretary of the Soterians. She held offices in home rooms, the Choral Club, and Girl Reserves, was a Press reporter, and will go to Teachers College.

WILKES, FRANCES McCLELLAND

This Girl Reserve was also a member of the National Honor Society and Treasure Chest. She has been on both General and Highest Honor Rolls, was secretary of the German Club and reporter of the Ciceronians. She will go to Junior College.

WILLIAMS, IRENE

Irene held offices in the Cynthians and her home rooms. Her freshman year she was on several athletic teams and her junior year she added to the pulchritude of the Student Council by being a representative. She will attend Teachers College.

WILLIAMS, NELLIE MAE

Music plays an important part in little Nell's life. She was a member of the Choral Club for three years and the Iotas. Her hobby is dancing, and she was vice-president of her junior home room. She will attend a Springfield business college.

WILSON, DOROTHY ANNABELLE

Dorothy, whose merciful heart is displayed by her aspirations to be a nurse, attended her freshman and sophomore years at Jane Hayes Gates Institute. She was a home room officer and says her favorite pastimes are swimming and reading.

WILSON, ELIZABETH MAY

Elizabeth boasts the accomplishment of being reporter of her home room her freshman year. The world of business will claim her attention in the future, after she takes a course at the Kansas City Business College.

WINTER, JAMES

James was interested in science but his infirmity was history. He was a home room officer and plans to attend some business college. Some of the husky he-man is displayed in his liking for hunting and boxing.

WISS, EULA ELIZABETH

That this senior has a decided tendency for athletics is shown by the fact that she was on the volleyball, baseball, basketball and hockey teams. She likes basketball best and was vice-president of the fourth hour gym class.

WITHROW, LURA HELEN

This sponsor lieutenant's activities were many and varied. Lura was secretary of the junior class, a Press reporter, a Thiclon and home room officer, and a member of the senior day and mixer committees. She will attend Warrensburg State Teachers College.

The Paseon

WOLFSON, LOUIS M.

Louis trod the halls of Paseo clad in the gleaming light of pure intelligence. He was on all the Honor Rolls, the Highest seven times, was a National Honor Society member, president of the German Club and Ciceronians, and will attend J. C.

WOLVERTÓN, GENE ELWOOD

That athletics is Gene's hobby is proved by the fact that he was a basketball letterman, playing in the games at Convention Hall. He plans to attend Notre Dame, and was a member of the Traffic Squad and Keats Club.

WOODS, DORIS ELENE

Doris, a member of the Peppy Pirates, was president, vice-president, secretary, and cashier at different times in her home rooms all four years. She had a small part in "Dido and Aeneas," and her future college will be Kansas University.

WOODS, JOHN JAY, JR.

John came from Westport this fall, where he claimed membership in clubs, the band, and Student Council executive board. This year at Paseo he was a member of the band, the All City Band, and had a leading role in "The Floral Shop."

WORKMAN, ARDATH ELOUISE

Ardath proclaims her love of music by the fact that she plays the piano for a hobby, was a member of the Choral Club, and a participant in the last three Christmas-Pag-eants. She was secretary of her junior home room and will attend J. C.

WRIGHT, ALLEN

Allen, unlike his famous namesakes does not claim aviation for his hobby. Instead, he says his hobbies are radio and chemistry (which he took). He also played the trombone in the band.

WRIGHT, JAMES A.

Jimmy suffered many a severe blow for the sake of the Pirate eleven. He was a football and track letterman, member of the Lettermen's Club, and winner of the Bill Cunningham Memorial cup in '30. He will attend the University of Minnesota.

WRIGHT, OWENITA GENEVIEVE

Owenita left school at start of the semester and it was impossible to get a list of her honors. She was interested in singing, as is shown by her membership in the Choral Club. She took sewing and such sciences as physiology.

YATES, MARGARET

Margaret, an Honor Roll student, was reporter of the National Honor Society, president of the Treasure Chest, a Zeta officer, a junior member of the Student Council executive board, chairman of the junior G. R. Triangle, and a Mask and Wig Club member.

YOUNG, NANCY

Nancy Young will long remember her youth at Paseo. She was an officer of the Thicians. Her home room thought her capable of holding the office of vice-president, and she will attend both Junior College and Kansas University.

YOUNG, ROBERT M.

Robert has pretensions of scholastic ability. He was elected "Best Boy Student" of his home room his junior year. His hobby is athletics, but his main interest lies in lofty things—aviation.

YOUNT, RAYMOND RUPERT

In his years at Paseo Raymond learned to like his R. O. T. C. He also believes in physical fitness, having been sergeant-at-arms of his home room his junior year. He was interested in bookkeeping and took French.

Junior Officers

This year's graduating class, the class of 1932, is without a doubt, one of the best graduating classes to leave Paseo. But where would they be today without some sort of criticism. Their chief source of criticism came from the junior class, the class of 1933, for which the seniors are greatly indebted. Next year's graduating class, we feel, will be equally as important as this year's. The officers of the junior class this year are: president, Jimmy Hazlett; vice-president, Bob Barnes; secretary, Mary Lee Jones; treasurer, Jess Allen; sergeant-at-arms, Jim Welsh; reporter, Martha Kuhn; and gift receiver, Dan Kelliher. In the picture they are: first row, left to right; Martha Kuhn, Jimmy Hazlett, and Mary Lee Jones. Second row, left to right: Jess Allen, Dan Kelliher, Bob Barnes, and Jim Welsh.

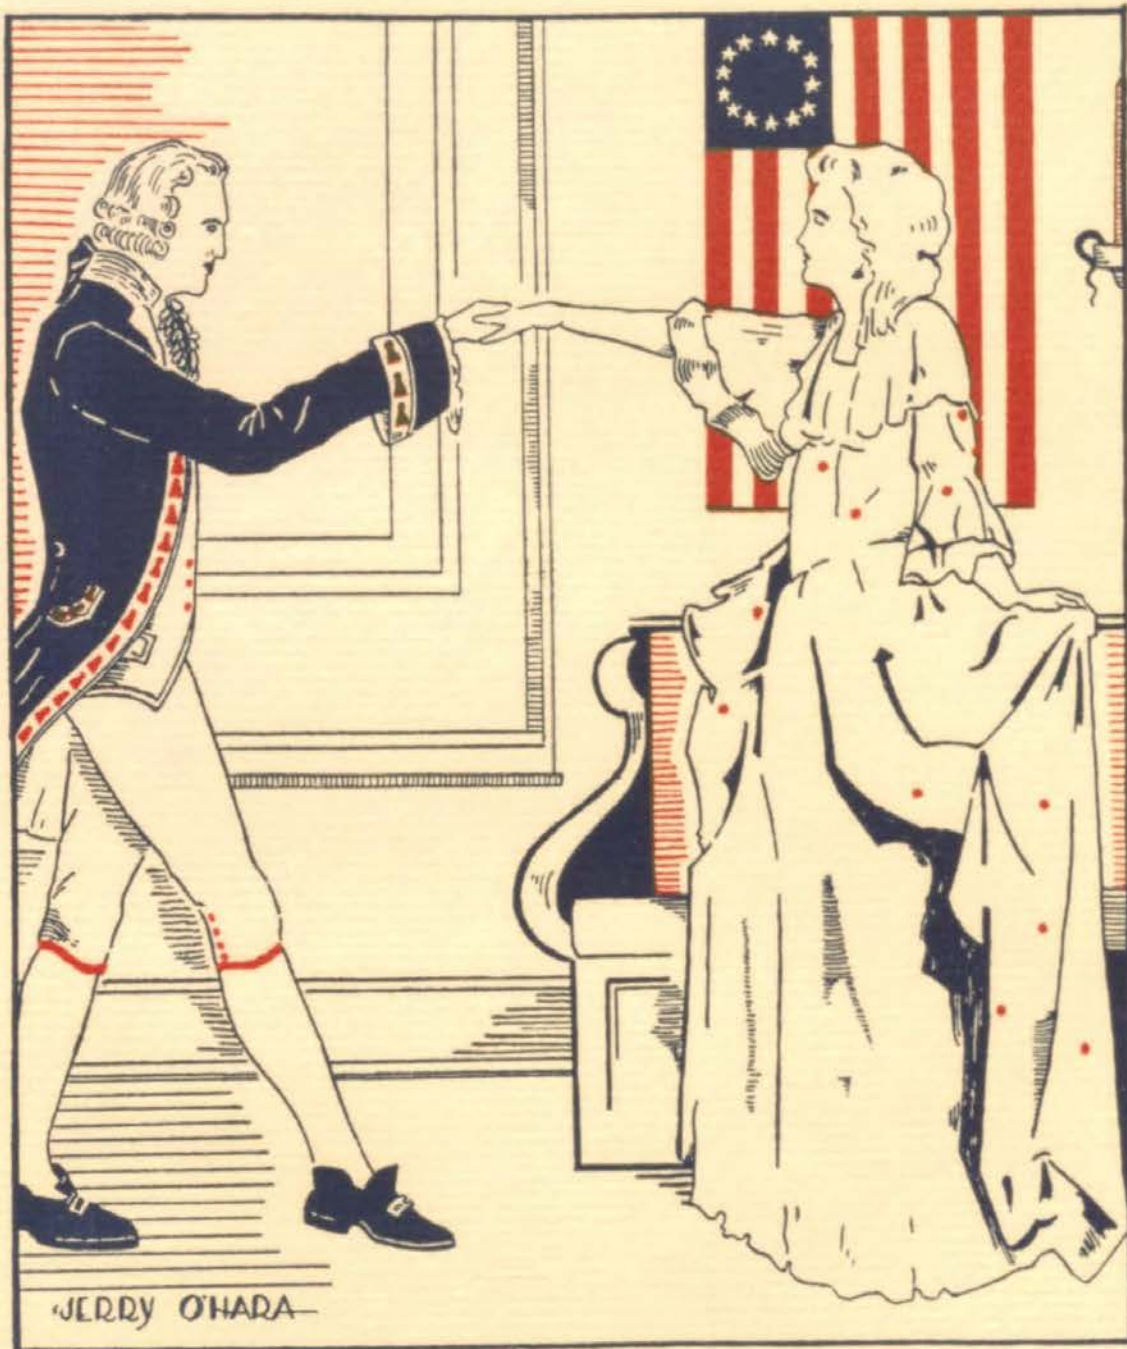

Jimmy Hazlett was a junior member of the National Honor Society, a member of the highest honor rolls, a member of the Executive Board of the Student Council, an officer of the Keats Club, and a member of the Traffic Squad. Bob Barnes was president of his home room and a member of the Traffic Squad. He was recently elected president of the Keats Club for next year. Mary Lee Jones was a frequent member of the honor rolls and a junior member of the National Honor Society. She has been elected president of the Zetas for next year. Jess Allen is a second team letterman in football and basketball, a member of the golf team, a Student Council representative, the manager of the band, assistant sports editor of the Paseo Press, a member of the Quill and Scroll Club, a member of the traffic squad, and the honor rolls. He is a junior member of the National Honor Society, and is next year's president of the Juntos. Jim Welsh, who came to Paseo last year from Westport, was a cheerleader and an officer of the Junto Club. Martha Kuhn is secretary of the Zetas next year. Dan Kelliher is editor of the Paseo Press, an officer of the Keats, a member of the Executive Board of the Student Council, a junior member of the National Honor Society, a member of the Traffic Squad, and a member of the highest honor rolls. He took second place in Paseo's oratorical contest and has been in several school plays.

The junior class has been greatly honored by having four first team football lettermen, three members of the Paseon Staff, and three members of the Paseo Press Staff.

National Honor Society

The National Honor Society is a national honorary organization of which Paseo High School is a member. Every year ten per cent of the senior class and one per cent of the junior class are chosen on the four characteristics: scholarship, character, service, and leadership. The officers are: president, Milton Stomp; vice-president, Kenneth Scott; secretary, Eva Myers; treasurer, Helen Brown; reporter, Margaret Yates; and sergeant-at-arms, Harry Myers. In the picture at the top of the page, the members are: first row, left to right; Patricia McIlrath, Helen Clarke, Kenneth Scott, Milton Stomp, Harry Myers, Heler Brown, Margaret Yates, Eva Myers, and Martha Goodrich. Second row: Charles Bartlow, Leela Flanagan, Dona Brandt, Martha Leinbach, Frances Wilkes, Virginia

Quill and Scroll Club

The Quill and Scroll Club is an international honor society for high school journalists. Students who have done superior work are recommended for membership toward the close of their second semester, and their work and record are inspected by the national secretary before membership is granted. The number usually recommended from a class seldom runs over twenty-five per cent.

To become a member of the Quill and Scroll, one must have attained scholastic rank in the highest third of his class; he must have done distinctive work in some phase of high school journalism; and he must be recommended by the supervisor of the journalistic work in his high school.

The National Honorary Society for High School Journalists desires to make membership an honor that will stand everywhere for the highest type of journalistic achievement. The nation's faith in its journalists may be kept only in the zealous search for truth and the impartial and accurate presentation of it to the millions who look to the printed word for guidance in pursuing the affairs of life, and in directing the powers of government.

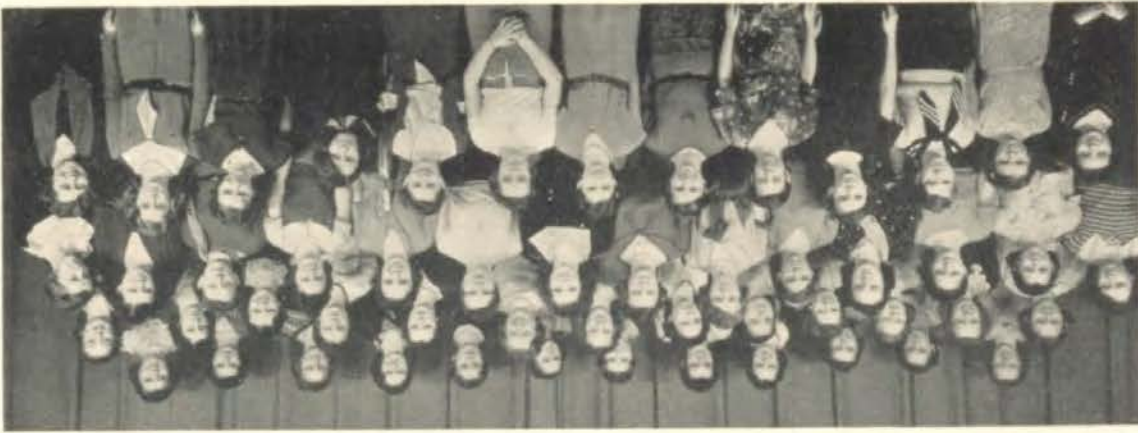

The influence of the journalist is far-reaching. With this influence goes the obligation to fight corruption in any form, and to devote himself to the public welfare.

The badge of the Quill and Scroll is symbolic of the painstaking efforts of the scribes of old to record the events and thoughts of their time in permanent form. The Quill represents the meticulous care which must be put forth to turn thoughts into proper language. The Scroll signifies the permanence for which a journalist, in his writing, must always strive.

Girl Reserves

The Girl Reserve Club is, primarily, the junior organization of the Y. W. C. A. Its purpose in the school is to develop a friendly feeling among all girls. Its members strive to live up to the purpose and code which they proudly accept upon becoming members.

The Girl Reserve's slogan is "to face life squarely"; her purpose is "to find and give the best"; and her code is "As a Girl Reserve, I will try to be gracious in manner, impartial in judgment, ready for service, loyal to friends, reaching for the best, earnest in purpose, seeing the beautiful, eager for knowledge, reverent to God, victorious over self, ever dependable, and sincere at all times."

The Girl Reserve officers this year were as follows: president, Helen Brown; vice-president, Margaret Blachly; secretary, Billie Gallagher; and treasurer, Melba Slaughter. The chairmen of the standing committees were: service, Anna Ruth Bell; program, Helen Lee Crowe; publicity, Jeanne Mason; music, Dorothy Rumbek; devotionals, Betty Aines; and camp and conference, Betty Bates. The club is also divided into four triangles according to class. The chairman of these triangles were: seniors, Rachel Knox; juniors, Marion Corson; and sophomores, Alma Larson. The freshmen had two chairmen; one for each semester. They were: Margaret Lackey and Josephine Swearingen.

The club adviser is Miss Marie Friend, but each triangle has its own adviser. They are: seniors, Miss Ora A. Eckles; juniors, Miss Elizabeth Minckemeyer; sophomores, Miss Beverly Sehorn; and freshmen, Miss Katherine Pipkin and Miss Margaret Taylor. The club has had a larger enrollment this year than ever before.

Iota Literary Society

The Iota Literary Society, Miss Alice Wulfekammer, adviser, has just ended another successful year. The Iota Literary Society has as its members, many honored students. Harriet Drayer was sponsor-major of the R. O. T. C. Unit. Frances Fields and Harriet Drayer were in the "Touchdown." Vivian Allen was girls' sports editor of the Paseo Press. Harriet Drayer was a member of the National Honor Society, and Arlene Martin was a member of the Paseon's staff of artists. The Iotas gave their annual spring luncheon April 23rd, at the Terrace Cafe at the Hotel Bellerive. They also participated in the intersociety dance. The officers for the first semester were: president, Harriet Drayer; vice-president, Ruth Sandford; secretary, Katherine Schram; treasurer, Maxine Moseley; reporter, Vivian Allen; sergeant-at-arms, Susan Turner; and initiator, Frances Field. The officers for the second semester were: president, Ruth Sandford; vice-president, Maxine Moseley; secretary, Susan Turner; treasurer, Frances Field; reporter, Betty Aines; sergeant-at-arms, Vivian Allen, and initiator, Pauline Basile. The members

Thicion Literary Society

In October, 1931, the Thicion Literary Society began its sixth year. The motto of the Society is "Always seeking the beautiful." The club colors are blue and mist, and the flower is the tea rose. The name of the club was taken from a small city in Greece, where there is a shrine to which the people from the neighboring villages and from the country all around brought gifts of beauty, love, and sacrifice. The club's social event of the year was a luncheon and a theater party to the Shubert Theater to see the "Bandwagon." They also took part in the Intersociety dance. The club has been well represented in all branches of school activity. Many were members of the National Honor Society, on the honor rolls, the Choral Club, the Student Council, the Girl Reserves, and several of the school plays. June Boyce and Lura Withrow were sponsor officers. The club chose a new and attractive dress this year. It had a blue flannel gored skirt and a gray and blue sweater with a choker collar. The emblem of the club was also sewed on the sweater.

The officers of the club for the first semester were as follows: president, Lyle Naylor; vice-president, Lura Withrow; secretary, Eva Myers; treasurer, Martha Werthe; sergeant-at-arms, Nancy Young; reporter, Harryet Bergh; initiator, Margaret Nason. The officers for the second semester were: president, Lura Withrow; vice-president, June Boyce; secretary, Erma Watling; treasurer, Margaret Nason; sergeant-at-arms, Harryet Bergh; reporter, Mary O'Brien; initiator, Nancy Young; parliamentarian, Dena Krehbiel; and critic, Lyle Naylor. The members of the club are: first row, left to right; Sylvia Lachs, Lura Withrow, Erma Watling, Lyle Naylor, June Boyce, Dena Krehbiel, Inez James, Virginia Hawkinson, and Virginia Ryneal. ## Junto Literary Society

The Junto Club, one of the first chartered clubs organized at Paseo High School, came through for the sixth successful year in the history of Paseo. This year the Juntos chose a new and efficient adviser in Mr. E. E. Pringle, physics instructor. The following are the officers of the club for the first semester: president, Jack Kinzy; vice-president, Howard Svoboda; secretary, Myron Ellison; treasurer, Harry Reitz; reporter, Dick Parsons; and sergeant-at-arms, Cecil Collins. For the second semester the officers are: president, George Hart; vice-president, Edward Harris; secretary, Kenneth Scott; treasurer, David Stiffelman; reporter, Charles Doubleday; and sergeant-at-arms, Max Doubleday. The fellow-members of the club are: first row, left to right: Tom Boyce, Claude Butterworth, Leonard Strauss, John Black, David Stiffelman, Edward Harris, Walter Gosting, Dick Parsons, Howard Svoboda, and Harry Reitz. Second row, left to right: Bob Johnson, George Hart, Jack Kinzy, Jim Welsh, Bob Keenan, Myron Ellison, Roddy Osborn, Bob Ebert, Cecil Leis, and represented by several honorary positions of the school. Kenneth Scott, Jess Allen, Jack Lortz, and Edward Harris were members of the National Honor Society. Jack Kinzy was a senior officer. Jess Allen and Jim Welsh were junior officers. George Hart was an officer of the Student Council. Myron Ellison, Kenneth Scott, and Edward Harris were members of the Paseon Staff. Jess Allen, Max Doubleday, and Charles Doubleday were members of the Paseo Press Staff. George Hart and Bob Ward were basketball lettermen and Cecil Collins, Cecil Leis, and Jack Lortz were officers of the R. O. T. C. The Juntos had a joint meeting during the second semester with their sister club, the Thicion Literary Society. At the meeting pledges were formally initiated. Ice cream and cookies were served.

Cynthian Literary Society

The Cynthian Literary Society has successfully completed its sixth year. This year the society climaxed its many activities, in celebrating the Washington Bicentennial, having programs on the famous women of the revolution. The Cynthian Star, the club paper, is regarded with pride and interest. The editors of the Star this year were Dorothy Rumbeck and Winifred Russell. The motto of the society is "Ad Astra" (as high as the stars). The Cynthians have been very high in school activities. They have been represented in the editorship of the Paseo Press, other staff positions, offices of the Student Council, members of the highest and general honor rolls, members of the Paseon staff, and all girl's athletic teams. They have also been honored in having nine members of the National Honor Society, which is the largest number for any girls' club in school. The Cynthian Literary Society is very grateful for the fine supervision and companionship that was given by its adviser, Miss Mabelle M. Miller, who was newly elected this year.

The officers for the first semester were: president, Edith Breeding; vice-president, Melba Slaughter; secretary, Irene Williams; treasurer, Virginia Richart; sergeant-at-arms, Helen Lee Crowe; reporter, Margaret Lark; and Endymion, Maxene Scotten.

Second row: Mary James, Helen Egan, Miriam Hancock, Virginia Mayes, Ruth Barr, Mary Scott, Miss Miller, Susie Bledsoe, Helen Wilkerson, Winifred Russell, Mary Thomas, Annette Duffy, and Virginia Richart. Third row: Bernina Hoshaw, Kathleen Holder, Winifred Finley, Maxene Scotten, Rachel Knox, Norma Hossman, Dorothy Rumbeck, May Wilk, Francis Hoshaw, Helen Clarke, and Melba Slaughter.

Paseo Engineers Club

The purpose of the Paseo Engineers Club is to bring together boys who are interested in engineering and science and to aid them in selecting the fields in which they expect to work. In order to forward these purposes, the club's programs this year have consisted of discussions of the various phases of engineering and studies of the requirements for entrance and graduation in engineering colleges. The club has also made trips to a number of industrial plants.

These expeditions included visits to the new municipal electric plant in Kansas City, Kansas; the North Kansas City water station, which purifies all the water used in Kansas City, Missouri; the Loose-Wiles Biscuit Company, where the products were generously sampled; the Chevrolet assembly plant at Leeds; the new building of the Kansas City Power and Light Company; the Hiland and Jackson telephone exchanges, where both the manual and automatic exchanges were inspected; and the furnace and engine rooms at Paseo.

About half of the members of the Engineers have been on one or more honor rolls. Eleven of them are in the National Honor Society. The Engineers are also represented in Quill and Scroll and the Treasure Chest.

The first semester officers were: president, Edward Nauman; vice-president, Stanley Redd; secretary, Harry Myers; treasurer, Maurice Boyer; sergeant-at-arms, Ivan Tweedie.

For the second semester the officers were: president, Harry Myers; vice-president, Ivan Tweedie; secretary, Martin Goldbeck; treasurer, John Bowser; sergeant-at-arms, Leonard Sosland.

Zeta Literary Society

The Zeta Literary Society was the first literary society organized at Paseo. Each Zeta tries earnestly to uphold the motto, "Having received the torch, pass it on." During the past months, the Zetas have received many honors. Zetas have been chosen as officers of the National Honor Society and junior class; they were well represented on both honor rolls, in the Student Council, the Choral Club, on play casts, and the Paseo Press Staff; one of the sponsor lieutenants was a Zeta. This year the girls selected a new club dress consisting of a dark green wool skirt and a white polo shirt bearing the word, "Zeta," written across the back. The officers for the first semester were: president, Virginia Dodson; vice-president, Eva Rollins; secretary, Margaret Yates; treasurer, Mary Lee Jones; sergeant-at-arms, Martha Karges; reporter, Nadine Ervin. Those who held office during the second term were: president, Virginia Dodson; vice-president, Margaret Yates; secretary, Martha Karges; treasurer, Helen Brown; sergeant-at-arms, Martha Kuhn; reporter, Haroldean Bell; and critic, Mary Lee Jones. The members of the club are: first

Keats Club

The year of 1932 sees the end of the sixth successful year for the Keats Club, this year under the leadership of a capable and efficient adviser, Mr. J. A. Leach. The colors of the Keats club, which was named after the English poet, John Keats, are gold and black. It is in these colors that the Keats made their attractive tie and handkerchief, a new item in the club this year.

The Keats have had as speakers: Harley E. Selvidge, football coach, and Robert Armour, basketball coach. The club was also well represented in several honorary positions of the school. Fred Polte and Ellsworth Van Orman were senior class officers. Fred Polte was president of the Student Council first semester and Milton Stomp, second semester. Anthony Basile, Ellsworth Van Orman, Ray Dowling, John Dewey, and Elmer Nester were football lettermen. Everett Skaer and Evan Walden were basketball lettermen. Dan Kelliher was editor of the Paseo Press. Milton Stomp, Fred Polte, Joe Miller, and Evan Walden were other members of the staff, and Gerald Novorr was on the Paseon staff.

The officers for the first semester were: president, Fred Polte; vice-president, Milton Stomp; secretary, Anthony Basile; treasurer, Joe Miller; sergeant-at-arms, Morris Talman; and Keatonian, George Grant. Second semester; president, Milton Stomp; vice-president, Morris Talman; secretary, Vincent Dasta; treasurer, Ellsworth Van Orman; sergeant-at-arms, Jimmy

Paseo Peppy Pirates

The Paseo Peppy Pirates have completed another successful and eventful year, making the sixth year of the organization. They have retained their little mascot, Virginia Ann Christine, and worthy adviser, Miss Eva Faulkner. Miss Faulkner was made chairman of the adviser's committee of the intersociety mixers as she has been a club adviser longer than any other sponsor. The Pirates joined in the intersociety mixers and helped to make them a success. They also participated in the intersociety dance held with the other societies on April 22nd. The entire club met at the Hotel Baltimore for a luncheon early in the year. In the past year the Pirates have been honored by securing responsible positions at the school. Peggy Barnes was secretary of the senior class and vice-president of the Student Council. Martha Leinbach, Velma Tanner, and Mary Burghardt were members of the National Honor Society. Mary Burghardt, Rose Burghardt, and June Austin were members of the Treasure Chest Club. Louise Gardner was in the "Touchdown." The officers of the club for the first semester were as follows: president, Louise Gardner; vice-president, Virginia

Lee Watson; secretary, Peggy Barnes; treasurer, Maxine Howe; sergeant-at-arms, Velma Tanner; and reporter, Irma Jean Arend. ## Soterian Club

The Soterian Club, which has just completed its sixth year of existence, was organized in 1927 by the girls of the first hour physiology class. This year, as in former years, it again has Miss Eleanor A. Thomas as adviser. The name, Soterian, was adopted in 1928. It is the Greek word for health, and the name seems a suitable one since the purpose of the club is to forward health. The club, along with the other three physiology classes, gave a tea for the mothers and the women of the faculty. This tea has been the custom in previous years, but it has been only in the past two years that the faculty women have been included. The tea was held in the cafeteria and was very successful, being made up of refreshments and a musical program by the girls. Also, during the year, a Washington program was given in honor of the anniversary of the birth of George Washington. The program consisted of group singing, musical numbers, and readings.

The club is represented by members of the National Honor Society, Student Council officers and representatives, sponsor officers, senior class officers, and members of the Paseo Press staff. The officers of the club for the first semester were as follows: president, Margaret Barnes; vice-president, Martha Werthe; secretary, May

El Circulo Espanol

The Spanish Club, under the guidance of Miss Flora May Sanders, has as its chief purposes the establishment of a wider, interest in the Spanish language and an increase in the members' ability to speak the language fluently. Members of the Spanish Club must be voted in by former members of the club. The membership is restricted to only those who make nothing below an "M" in Miss Sander's Spanish classes. Before the club can organize, they must have as members at least four boys and four girls who are not seniors, so that there are eight members to carry on next year. The colors of the Spanish Club are Spanish tile and black. The pin of the club is diamond-shaped, having the letters "E. C. E." in gold on a black background. The black background is bounded by a gold edge, with red lines in the border. The guard is a gold "P." The club has a party at the home of one of the members once every month, at which Spanish games are played. They frequently have school meetings in Miss Sander's fifth hour Spanish class of which the majority of the members are a part. The members of the Spanish Club are: first row, left to right; Ruth Barr, Rose Eisenberg, Lucille Turquette, Kathryn Woodley, Miss Sanders, Velma Tanner, Francis Vetter, Dorothy Steward, Virginia Lee Watson, and Mary Louise Gunn. Second row, left to right: Jack Kinzy, Junior Whitacre, Harry Myers, Stephen Hamm, Houston Bliss, John Agee, Joe Miller, Merritt Glidden, and Claude Chumlea. The officers of the Spanish Club for the first semester were as follows: president, Harry Myers; vice-president, Kathryn Woodley; secretary, Velma Tanner; treasurer, Junior Whitacre; reporter, Jack Kinzy; and sergeant-at-arms, Joe Miller. The officers for the second semester were as follows: president, Joe Miller; vice-president, Dorothy Steward; secretary, Frances Vetter; treasurer, Merritt Glidden; reporter, Harry Myers; and sergeant-at-arms, John Agee. The Spanish Club was reorganized this year for the first time in five years. The club was well represented on the National Honor Society, the Paseo Press staff, senior class offices, and various clubs. The reunion of the Spanish club this year has been enjoyed by all the students of Miss Sander's advanced Spanish classes and all the members of the club feel that they have experienced a most entertaining and educational year.

Vergilians and Ciceronians

Best Boy Student.....	Jimmy Hazlett
Best Girl Student.....	Patricia McIlrath
Most Popular Boy.....	Joe Duer
Most Popular Girl.....	Ruth Gardner
Beau Brummell.....	Eugene Pirtle
Belle Brummell.....	Virginia Papenhausen
Class Pest.....	Harold Sandhaus

English

What's in a Name

During Christmas time, home room 445 secured a needy family to take care of on Christmas Day. Many boxes of food and toys were sent to the family. On the return to school after the Christmas holidays, the room received a letter from the family, thanking them for their helpful assistance in their time of need.

Cub Reporters

Home room 102, Miss Helen Keohane's future "Walter Winchells," is a group which contains exceptionally good students, for it is the only class in school for which students are actually selected according to their ability. Out of sixty-five applicants to the newswriting class, only thirty-five were selected. Newswriting is a one year course taken in place of English. It gives fine training and preparation for newspaper work. To this semester's "cub" newswriting class will be given the task of publishing the Paseo Press, the school newspaper, next semester. Miss Helen Keohane is the instructor. The paper is printed by the printing classes of which Mr. James A. Voth is the adviser. The officers of the home room are: president, Bob Barnes; vice-president, Warren Scott; secretary, Kathryn Woodley; sergeant-at-arms, Clark Parkins; reporter, John Black; Student Council representa-

The Intellectual Pups

Bow Wow! The intellectual pups greeting you from kennel number 345! Sighted land September 7th; barked at enough doors to win two contests; made no yelps about sharing our bones at Christmas; and have English treed forever. So say the intellectual pups of 345. The pups have chosen the following as head pups of their organization for both semesters: presidents, Edwin White and Anna Fizzell; vice-presidents, Dorothy Robinette and Eleanor Tarson; secretaries, Anna Fizzell and Carl Rollert; treasurers, Betty Lou Mechem and Sidney Meacham; assistant treasurers, Rupert Jarboe and Dorothy Agee; sergeant-at-arms, David Williams and Walker Abington; reporters, Lucy Jane Moore and Edwin White; Student Council representatives, Lois Evans and Wilma McCollum; and alternates, Robert Drisko and Betty Lou Mechem. In the picture at the top of the

McMillan's Mighty Monarchs

Home room 330, Miss Sadie McMillan's junior English class has been very successful in all of its undertakings; thus it boasts of its name, "McMillan's Mighty Monarchs." The officers for the first term were: president, John Quinn; vice-president, Garland O'Connor; secretary, Johnnie Holford; treasurer, Woodrow Means; reporter, Victor Swyden; parliamentarian, Alfred Blumberg; Student Council representative, Floyd Snitz; and alternate, Vivian Harding. Second semester: president, Victor Swyden; vice-president, Vivian Harding; secretary, David Martin; treasurer, Bob Greeley; reporter, Garland O'Connor; sergeant-at-arms, Joe Swan; Student Council representative, Remigio Abalos; and alternate, Charles Fuller. In the top picture the members of the class are: first row, left to right; Pauline Brenner, Bob Greeley, Marguerite Hay, Virgil Perrin, Ruth Miller, Dorothy

Home Room 324

The English Walnut Club, Miss Mary Lawrence's mid-year freshman home room, has had a very eventful year. Several good programs were put on by the room. Among them was an Easter program which was well planned and executed. Four Washington programs were given and much interest shown by the entire club. Every two weeks a regular meeting of the club is held, and consequently much experience has been gained by the members. The objects of the English Walnut Club are: to practice Parhammentary Law; to learn to organize and conduct meetings; to prepare and arrange programs; and to furnish entertainment for its members. The officers of the English Walnut Club are as follows: president, Johnnie Ezzell; vice-president, Geraldine Bauer; secretary, Margaret Cheatham; treasurer, Joyce Brandberg; sergeant-at-arms, Conrad Haney; reporter, Lacy Thomas; Student Council representative, Marjorie Sue Over; and Student Council alternate, Charlotte Leipscher. The members of the club are: first row, left to right; Johnnie Ezzell, Paul Hedinger, Ralph Keith, Richard Long, Will Moore Fortner, Miss Lawrence, Maryl Marker, Lacy Thomas, Samuel Heinlen, Winfred Leamon, and Gilbert Tulper. Second row, left to right; Geraldine Bauer, Martha Jane Aines, Maxine Yost, Hassie Phillips, Margaret Cheatham, Betty Laudon, Charlotte Leipscher, Robert Riley, Richard Browning, Donald Blum, Conrad Haney, Joyce Brandberg, and Naomi Gibson. Third row, left to right: Nathlee Miller, Nadine Bernstein, Evelyn Lewis, Margaret Walkey, Forest Lewis, Verne Wilkinson, Marjorie Sue Over, Lanora Wilkin, Ralph Williams, Richard Browning, and Richard Kolls.

Although the class has only been banded together for a half year, Miss Lawrence feels that the semester has been very profitable for the students and herself and that the club's high ideals and numerous activities have made it worth while.

Mathematics

Miss Dwight's Efficiency Experts

Miss Ruth Dwight's home room, room 232, have chosen the name, "Miss Dwight's Efficiency Experts," because of their efficiency and capability to work applied mathematics. This home room, composed of ambitious mid-year freshmen, chose the following students for officers: president, Billy Steffens; vice-president, Daisy Lee Overbey; secretary-treasurer, Eddie Aubuchon; reporter, Dorothy Hamon; assistant reporter, Ralph Generaux; cashier, Jack Elsloo; assistant cashier, Kathryn Holman; Student Council representative, Harriet Thompson; and Student Council alternate, Marion Rosser. The members of the home room are:

Spirits of 439

Home room 439, Miss Katherine McCreath's spirited algebra students elected the following officers: first semester; president, Robert Oliver; vice-president, Roy Miller; secretary-treasurer, Richard Dale; reporter, Helen Martha Bergh; cashier, Harold Evans; assistant cashier, Helen Bradbury; and Student Council representative, Beverly Berry. The officers for the second semester were: president, Erma Herrin; vice-president, James Mylar; secretary-treasurer, John Kunkel; reporter, Marian Blender; cashier, Helen Bradbury; assistant cashier, Roy Miller; Student Council representative, Helen Martha Bergh; and alternate, Bob Elwell. The results of a class ballot were as follows:

Best Girl Student.....Minnie Snyder
 Best Boy Student.....Earl Newton
 Most Popular Girl.....Helen Martha Bergh
 Most Popular Boy.....Roy Miller

Prettiest Girl .....Lola Selders
 Most Handsome Boy.....Norman Damm

Miss Kaufman's Angle Worms

Home Room 212

Mr. Harry Ogg's home room, which is composed entirely of boys, was a solid geometry class first semester and a trigonometry class the second. The room is very grateful to Mr. Ogg for his help in mathematical problems too deep for their young minds. The officers are: president, George Longan; vice-president, Martin Goldbeck; secretary, Bob Brenner; reporter, Paul Meyer; Student Council representatives, Maurice Boyer and Lewis Fowler; alternates, Lewis Fowler and Ivan Tweedie. The members are; first row, left to right; Andrew Smith, Louis Wolfson, Joshua Price, Bob Brenner, Maurice Boyer, Bob Ebert, Ivan Tweedie, Paul Meyer, Cecil Collins, Bob Schaff, and Wesley Vance. Second row, left to right: Bob Manring, Jack Lortz, Leo Veale, Giles Hempstead, Edwin Weast, Mr. Harry Ogg, Lewis Fowler, Martin Goldbeck, George Longan, and Bill Gibson.

Sisson's Sorrows

We're From "Cell" 116

"We're from 'Cell' 116!" So shout the ambitious inmates of Miss Lottie Cell's home room. This home room, composed of mathematical young aspirants, prides itself in being one of the most active home rooms in the "big house" for the year. The home room had different officers every week at the beginning of the year in order to give experience to as many members as possible. The main officers of the class for the first semester were as follows: president, Millie Randolph; vice-president, Henry Spann; secretary, Jeanne Manring; assistant secretary, Elza Runkle; treasurer, Borden Ward; reporter, Hugh Whiteside; Student Council representative, Dorothy Quant; Student Council alternate, Jack Miller; banker, Betty Lou Murdock; and assistant banker, Jerome Chelemer. For the second semester, the officers were: president, Jerome Chelemer; vice-president, Elza Runkle; secretary, Jeanne Manring; assistant secretary, Dorothy Quant; treasurer, Betty Lou Murdock; reporter, Jack Miller; Student Council representative, Helen Maddy; Student Council alternate, Jerome Chelemer; banker, Betty Lou Murdock; and assistant banker, Jerome Chelemer. The following topics were discussed: Paseo Handbook, Margaret King; Personality and Character, Millie Randolph; Charity, Margaret King; Thrift, Anna Coleman; Different Clubs, Elza Runkle; Parliamentary Law, Janvier O'Hara; and Christmas program, Jerome Chelemer. The topics, Red Cross and Famous Men, were discussed by the entire class.

Languages Ad Astra Club

The best way to describe the efficiency of Miss Jane Adams' freshman home room is to say that they're all around one hundred per cent. The room was one hundred per cent in student handbook subscriptions, Paseo Press, Paseon, and football ticket sales, P. T. A. memberships, Junior Red Cross, fire prevention slips, and class pins. The officers were: presidents, Mary Harbord and Jack Grover; vice-presidents, Jack Grover and Jeannette Spears; secretaries, Clarke Ecton and Jane Martin; sergeant-at-arms, Fred Littooy; reporters, Jeannette Spears and Kenneth Hudnall; cashiers, Warren Rush and Jane Martin; representatives, Mary James and Dorothy Skaer; alternates, Jack McCart and Lawrence Condon. The members are: first row, left to right; Betty Jean Bond, Sylvia Snyder, Nona Belle Duff, Harriet Berkowitz, Jeannette Spears, Mary

Best Girl Student.....	Mary Harbord
Best Boy Student.....	Fred Littooy
Best Looking Girl.....	Mary Jane Dunnuck
Best Looking Boy.....	Billy Norton
Best Girl Athlete.....	Dorothy Skaer
Most Popular Girl.....	Jeannette Spears
Best Boy Athlete.....	Jack Grover
Most Popular Boy.....	Clarke Ecton
Class Pests.....	.....Jane Martin and Kenneth Hudnall

Latin-ears

Los Loros Espanoles

French Club

The French Club under the able leadership of Mr. Constant has come to the end of a most successful and delightful year. The club has regular monthly dues, the proceeds of which were used on a picnic given in the spring. The room has appreciated immensely Mr. Constant's help and guidance and enjoyed the many jokes and stories he has told. The officers are: first semester; president, May Wilk; vice-president, Betty Bates; secretary, Frances Field; treasurer and cashier, Eva Key; assistant cashier, Virginia Hawkinson; reporter, Clark Parkins; representative, Virginia Baker; and alternate, Mildred Johnson. Second semester; president, Marguerite Sowell; vice-president, Eva Key; secretary, Ionne Chambers; treasurer and cashier, Jack Gunn; assistant cashier, Jane Wallace; reporter, Jessy Epstein; representative, Frances Field; and alternate, Helen Wilkerson. The members of the class are: first row, left to right; Billy Phaling, Billy Likes, Eleanor Nelson, Mary Ann Allen, Ellen Scott, Frances Field, Maxine Nash, Julia Beebe, Mary Ruth Wood, Marjorie Clark, and Jessie Schnoebelen. Raymond Yount, Helen Wilkerson, Virginia Baker, Mr. Constant, Elmer Howe, Jack Gunn, Jane Spalding,

Eva Key, and Betty Bates. Third row: Jane Wallace, Marguerite Sowell, Virginia Hawkinson, Ida May Richmond, May Wilk, Salvatore Polsinelli, Sol Nadlman, and Ionne Chambers. A class ballot was held, in which several members were chosen to best represent various outstanding types of students. The results of the ballot are as follows:

Most Popular Boy.....	Jack Gunn
Most Popular Girl.....	Betty Bates
Best Looking Boy.....	Billy Phaling
Best Looking Girl.....	Marguerite Sowell
Best Boy Student.....	Bill Phaling
Best Girl Student.....	May Wilk
Beau Brummell.....	Elmer Howe
Belle Brummell.....	Frances Field
Class Pest.....	Eva Key
Class Pet.....	Ellen Scott

The French Club has been represented in the National Honor Society, Paseon Staff, the Christmas play, the Zetas, the Peppy Pirates, the Iotas, the Cynthians, and the Mask and Wig Club. The room has had many interesting home room programs, which have been enjoyed by all. Besides their many other activities, the room adopted a family for Christmas.

History

Home Room 228

Home room 228, Miss Ora A. Eckles' students of American history, has elected the following officers: first semester; president, Morris Talman; vice-president, Wilbur Cavender; secretary-treasurer, Kathryn Woodley; sergeant-at-arms, Karl Scott; cashier, Cecil Leis; assistant cashier, Mortimer Alpert; Student Council representative, Jimmy Hazlett; and alternate, Dan Kelliher. Second semester: president, Morris Talman; vice-president, Catherine Stevenson; secretary-treasurer, Helen Louise Schmidt; sergeant-at-arms, Wilbur Cavender; cashier, Cecil Leis; assistant cashier, Mortimer Alpert; Student Council representative, Dan Kelliher; and alternate, Charles Garbacz. The members of the class are: first row, left to right; Fannie Zulkowitz, Helen Gibbons, Audrey Mason, Angelina Spalitto, Catherine Steven-

Home Room 443

Mr. J. A. Leach's home room, 443, is banded together to study the history of civilization. These studious consumers of history have elected the following as their officers: first semester; president, Reed Gentry, vice-president, Martin Scott; secretary, Norma Jeanne Tabler; treasurer, Bob Evans; sergeant-at-arms, Bob Creel; reporter, Betty Harrison; cashier, Luther Marshall; assistant cashier, Violet Gladue; representative, Denton Cook; and alternate, Lee Branditz. The officers for the second semester: president, Denton Cook; vice-president, Elizabeth Holland; secretary, Dale Snelling; treasurer, Bert Hathaway; cashier, Jack Matchette; assistant cashier, Violet Gladue; reporter, Helen Hamilton; representative, Eldon Carter; alternate, Elwin Jones; and sergeant-at-arms, Paul Schwark. In the picture at the top of

Study Hall

Home Room Cafeteria

The curriculum of the cafeteria home room does not include the study of mass production of food, and has nothing to do with edibles of any kind. It is merely a study hall, under the direction of Miss Carrie B. Stittsworth. There, on the fourth floor, the members of the home room are very near to heaven; and it is a veritable paradise, for tempting odors seek their way out of the kitchen amid the studying (?) students. So the studying students have in their minds all the pleasures of pumpkin pie, caviar, chile, and what not. Besides this unusual locality and environment, the cafeteria home room also enjoys the distinction of being one of the largest assemblages of students in the school, having almost 100 members. Considering its size, it has always ranked high in annual sales, banking, and other school activities.

In the picture at the bottom of page 122, the members are: first row, left to right; Dorothy Dobbs, Lura Withrow, Martha Beall, Grace Klass, Charles Steacy, Mildred LaScala, Jennie Poe, Barbara Bates, Helen McMahan, and Loula Shepherd. Second row, left to right: Fred Macker, Walter Janzen, Lenora Donoho, Miss Lytle, Helen Anderson, Roma Venable, Dick Mears, and Max Raupp. The juniors of the class, that bright and smiling group at the top of page 125, are: first row, left to right; Kathleen Hoag, Lillian Gudelsky, Bernice Montfort, Frances Cooper, Mary Orear, Virginia McIntosh, Dorothy Barnes, Lillian Bernstein, Thelma Wright, and John Phillippe. Second row, left to right: Harry Brelsford, Clark McCarty, Clementine Browning, Dorothy Smith, Dolores Crowl, Lucille Turquette, Miss Lytle, Frances Lucille Vetter, Sam Restivo, Edgar Brinton, John McMillan. Third row, left to right: Mary Elizabeth Owens, Alberta Moore, Leonard Fromson, Arthur Thieman, George Ernst, Billy Olsen, Lawrence Swem, and Leslie Olsen. And in the picture at the bottom of the page, behold the mighty senior! They are: first row,

Home room 246, of which Mr. Robert Armour's home room is a part, is occupied by three home rooms; Mr. Selvidge's, Mr. Fisher's, and Mr. Armour's. The officers are: president, Paul Ramsey; vice-president, Howard Chidester; secretary, Morris Hughes; treasurer, Albert Swartz; representative, Paul Ramsey; 1st semester alternate, Felix Keane; and 2nd semester alternate, Morris Hughes. The members of the class are: first row, left to right; Marvin Anwander, Emery Story, Joseph Johnston, Lester Saferstein, William Comer, Richard Garland, Junior Doughty, Billy Bruce, William Ennis, Bob Hall, and Daniel Stephens.

Because of the fact that home room 246 is a gym class, they have very little time for programs and other home room activities.

left to right: John Clyde, Billy Stevenson, Lyle Withers, Francis Polsinelli, and Russell Watts. In the picture at the bottom of the page, the members are: first row, left to right; Elmer Worcester, Harlan Anthony, Wayne Foreman, James Sexton, Aubert Slocomb, Harry Noble, Mitchell Bernat, Richard Benne, Earl Holtman, Ray Parrent, Russell King, and Harold Sandhaus. Second row: Owen Withrow, Carl Jensen, Vincent Andrus, Carl Sharratt, Tom Moellenbrock, Bob West, Leo Owings, Ralph Sokoloff, Jack Moorhead, Bob Keenan, and Victor Thompson. Third row: Glen Henry, Richard Hayes, Elmer Mills, James Lewis, Wayne Mishler, Frank Loeblich, Charles Bartlow, Richard Davis, James Canada, and Bruce Walker. Fourth row: Charles Jones, Junior Mosely, John Dewey, Robert Stampfle, Jimmy Winter, James Dougherty, Russell Toliver, and Edwin Cox.

Ennis' Energy

Home room B2, the girls' gym home room chose the following officers: presidents, Bennie Parker and Jane Crawford; vice-presidents, Louise Richardson and Kathleen Holder; secretary-treasurers, Jane Crawford and Margaret Alt; reporters, Adela Rosenberg and Margaret McKay; Student Council representative, Sally Long; and alternate, Mildred Hall. The results of a class ballot were as follows:

Best Student.....	Annabelle Roth
Best Athlete.....	June Mollenkamp
Prettiest Girl.....	Margaret McKay
Most Popular.....	Kathleen Holder
Class Pest.....	June Marchant
Wittiest Person.....	Aileen Ennis
Belle Brummell.....	Margaret Alt
Best Personality.....	Jane Crawford
Class Pet.....	Sally Long
Most Timid.....	Helen Miller

Pippy's Pals

"Pippy's Pals," Miss Katherine Pipkins' home room, is composed of second year gym girls. Their time is spent in a varied course of physical education. The officers for both semesters are as follows: Anabelle Scott, Helen Garnett, Mary Caywood, Winifred Russell, Isobel Bash, Barbara Ayres, Marguerite McDonald, Dorothy Dunham, Virginia Ryneal, and Helen Hensley. A class ballot was held, the results being as follows:

Girl Who Has Done Most for Class.....
 .....Virginia Ryneal
 Most Popular Girl.....Mary Caywood
 Wittiest Girl.....Helen Garnett
 Prettiest Girl.....Miss Katherine Pipkin
 Best Girl Athlete.....Roberta Perry

 Girl With Personality Plus.....
 .....Winifred Russell

Smitty's Grown Up Kiddies

"Fisher's Poor Fish" is the name that Mr. William Raymond Fisher's home room has chosen for itself. The members elected Frank Fowler as Student Council representative and Glen Shupe as alternate. The members are: first row, left to right: John Marx, Fred Rynal, Frank Fowler, Kinyon Searcy, Henry Present, Merle Simmons, and John With-Second row: Alex Silverman, Vincent McCoy, Frank Beets, Jack Mc-Lear, Robert Jacobson, Coach Fisher, Harold Boyd, Wendell Kelley, Sandford Pond, W. S. Thomas, Lester Herndon, and Louis Sommer. Third row: Joseph Reichmeyer, Edmond Peck, Frank Gro-gan, David Derby, Don Harrison, James Harper, George Burley, Herbert Peter-son, and Billy Kerr. Fourth row: Claude Orr, Ralph Switzer, Bob Donnelly, Leo Fromson, William Bibby, Du Wayne Monson, Glen Shupe, and Bob Wheeler.

Paseo Seasons

This year Coach Selvidge saw his dreams come true as the Paseo Pirates were crowned Interscholastic League football champions for 1931. Full of spirit and determination to win, the Bucs brought home a Westport Tiger, battered up after a tough battle that ended 6-0 in Paseo's favor. It was in that game that Van Orman raced to the goal line for the only counter of the entire four periods. Backed by a line led by Captain Tweedie, Manual was held scoreless as the Pirates piled up twenty-one points. Van Orman made the first two touchdowns and Ray McDaniel, our flashy quarterback, made the other. A week later the Northeast Vikings, who had been doped to win the championship, changed their minds as they met their Waterloo in a thrilling battle that ended 6-0. The score was 0-0, with just a few minutes left to play, when Barney Hays, intercepted a pass and on the next play carried the ball to the goal line from where a backfield man plunged over to win our third straight. After sinking the Viking ship, the Paseo eleven went out on another bold foray and returned with twelve more feathers in their hats, scalping the Southwest Indians 12-0. The Pirates were now leading the league and were beginning to build up vague ideas of a championship. They went into that East game bound to win, but at the half the situation did not look very bright. The score was tied 6-6. Neither team was able to score in the third period and it remained a deadlock in the fourth quarter until the last few minutes of play when they plunged down behind that hard-hitting line to the three yard line from where Ray McDaniel pushed over to another score, and another victory was added to Paseo. That goal not only won the game but it put Paseo in undisputed possession of first place. This was an important date in the history of Paseo, as it was the first championship in any major sport that this school had received. In the last game of the season the Bucs met with heavy seas, where they were foundered by the Central Blue Eagles to the tune of 19-6.

Later word was received that Ray Mc-

Daniel was to be the captain of the all-star team. Others who received all-star mention were: Ellsworth Van Orman, fullback; Barney Hays, end, and Captain Ivan Tweedie, guard.

Then came the good old basketball season, bringing with it a new coach, Mr. Bob Armour. Coach Armour made a fine start on his voyage of coaching by giving Coach Selvidge's football ace a mate, as he coached his first and Paseo's first championship in basketball. This year the same plan as last year was used in electing a captain. A captain was appointed before each game and then at the end of the season, the first squad met and elected a boy whom they believed was outstanding, as a leader and in his basketball ability as well. The captain of this year's team was Ray McDaniel, our fast and shifty guard.

The squad got off to a fine start by defeating the Westport and Manual teams 25-14 and 22-13, respectively, but as all great groups must at some time fall, the Paseo five bowed to the Northeast quintet 32-23. To make up for this defeat, the Bucs took their spite out on the Southwest Indians and brought back a decisive victory with a score of 15-11. The next week they met the East "Greenies" and in a thrilling game that ended 10-8, the Pirates again emerged victorious and went into a tie with Central for first place. Then to play Central. This game created much patriotism and school spirit long before and long after it was played. This was Paseo's big chance to win their first championship in basketball and their second Interscholastic League championship of the year. Central had always been our jinx and no matter how strong Paseo was they were quite sure to receive some real competition from them. This time both were supposed to have been evenly matched, but when the game got under way before a record-breaking crowd, the Pirates began to "strut their stuff." At the end of the first quarter the score was 3-0 in Paseo's favor, and from that time on the Eagles never emerged a point ahead of the Bucs and the game ended 17-11.

Cheerleaders

"All right now, everybody up—let's give a "bullpup" for the cheerleaders who never give up." Let's yell for the boys who made all the noise and led us on to two Interscholastic League championships in one school year. Let's yell for the boys who awakened the good old Paseo spirit and brought out the record-breaking crowds to see the teams rush to victory. Let's give them one more loud applause for their untiring efforts at all pep gatherings and assemblies. The fine group of cheerleaders this year was composed of Howard Svoboda, head cheerleader, and Jack Kinzy, Jack Lyons and Jim Welsh as his assistants. The yells which proved to be most popular with the students were "Soup" and "Two Pirates." No one will ever forget the good time had by all at the outdoor assemblies under the direction of this fine group of boys. Jim Welsh is not in the picture.

Paseo Captains

Paseo's captains this year were the "cream of the crop," and that is saying a whole lot for them, as they were chosen from one of the finest groups of athletes Paseo has ever had, and from the finest group of athletes in the 1931-32 Interscholastic League. This group of captains not only showed their sportsmanship, but also lead their school to many victories. Ivan Tweedie was chosen to lead the Pirate eleven this year and he did a fine job of it too. Ivan was a veteran on the football field, was a member of the track team and was student manager of the basketball team. After the basketball season was over Ray McDaniel was elected captain of that sport. He was also captain of the All-Star Football Team. Jimmy Wright was elected captain of the track team. He was a two year letterman in football as well as in track. For our golf captain Francis Uken was crowned king, while Frank Miller was made captain of the tennis team.

This year Paseo's coaches not only turned out excellent teams, but they also turned out some of the finest individual players in the Interscholastic League. This was proven by the unusually large representation of Paseo athletes on the all-star football team, one of whom was the unanimous choice of all the coaches for captain; he was Ray McDaniel, also elected to a second position on the all-star basketball team. Ivan Tweedie was an all-star guard, while Barney Hays and Bill Van Orman were elected to the positions of end and fullback respectively. After the basketball season, George Logan was elected captain of the all-star basketball team as a center, and Evan Walden was made an all-star guard. All of the other regulars on the basketball team received some sort of all-star mention. Van Orman is not in the picture.

All Stars

We owe a great deal of credit to our coaches this year, if for nothing else than for decorating our trophy cases with so many new trophies, but that is not the outstanding reason. The main reason is that they showed their superiority as coaches when they developed championship teams. Coach Selvidge, football mentor and dean of Kansas City coaches, produced his first championship team while here at Paseo, losing only one league game. Bob Armour was made head basketball coach and piloted his first championship team. Mr. Armour has been working in ward and high schools for many years, but this was his first year as a head coach. Ray Fisher was our coach for track and he coached his inexperienced indoor track team to a first place position in the league. Mr. Fisher, a former track star himself, has coached many fine track teams and coached another one this spring.

Coaches

Indoor Track

Outdoor Track

Second Football Team

Second Team Basketball

Tennis Team

This year Paseo did not do so exceptionally well in tennis, but the fighting spirit remained even in defeat, as the court men gave their opponents a real work out, besides winning a few rounds in both the city and the state tournaments. Only one veteran was back, Frank Miller, who was captain of the team. Miller won the Paseo tournament for three years in succession, allowing his opponents to receive little scoring against him. He also won second place in the state meet, advancing to the finals. Bob Steele, another of the tennis team, advanced to the semi-finals in the Interscholastic League meet. The members of the team were: left to right: Bob Brenner, Bob Manring, Bob Steele, G. M. Lortz, Paseo's tennis adviser, George Longan, Captain Frank Miller, Reed Gentry, and Wilbur Cavender. The spring tournament was played in the latter part of April.

Golf Team

Paseo placed third in the Interscholastic League golf tournament this year, which was more than was expected due to the fact that they had no veteran golf men back. Southwest won first and Westport placed second. In the Paseo golf tournament, John Withrow and Jess Allen progressed to the finals, both of these being underclassmen and great finds to the team. Owen Withrow, a junior, is probably the star of the team, constantly turning in scores in the low eighties. The members of the team are: left to right; Billy Asjes, Owen Withrow, Captain Francis Uken, Coach Herb Campbell, Onel Grimes, and Dick Parsons. Jess Allen also made the team this spring and is not in the picture. Next year Paseo will have three veterans back on their golf team, and with the able assistance of Coach Campbell, there are possibilities for them to again be champions.

Lettermens' Club

The lettermen did not become famous only from winning championships for the school, but they also derived much publicity and popularity from the inevitable show that they put on. They produced their fifth annual minstrel show, April twenty-ninth. The first part of this show consisted of the usual patter and wisecracks between the interlocutor and the endmen, with singing and dancing specialties interspersed. The latter were given by "The Tuneblenders," a quartet of WDAF fame, consisting of Ben Lake, Verne Hutson, Lawrence Linck, and Bob Cothorn. Jess Allen, Frank Miller, Paul Watson, and Glen Ralston presented numbers on their band instruments, while Ray McDaniel and George Longan entertained with a bit of singing (?).

The second part consisted of a play entitled "High Brown Breach of Promise." The main characters were as follows:

Judge Goose	.....	Fred Polte
Bennie Buzzer	.....	Ivan Tweedie
Sheriff Shrinks	.....	"Cub" Van Orman
Lawyer Snip	.....	Evan Walden
Lawyer Snap	.....	John Dewey
Rastus Jones	.....	Elmer Nester
Ammonia White	.....	Ray McDaniel
Aunty Louder	.....	Tony Basile
Mr. Bucksaw	.....	George Longan
Mr. Sparerib	.....	Russell Toliver

This skit was a tremendous success, under the able direction of the three coaches, Mr. Selvidge, Mr. Fisher, and Mr. Armour. The Mask and Wig Club was also credited for its success.

Girls' Athletics

Atalantas

The Atalanta Club was organized in February, 1930, and is composed of those girls who have been awarded a "Paseo" letter for earning seventy-five points in the girls athletic department. The points are won by the girls for being on any of the class teams which competed in soccer, hockey, volleyball, basketball, baseball, tennis, R. O. T. C. dance, hikes, and term grades of "E." Those earning one hundred and fifty points are eligible to hold an office. The club is represented on the senior ballot, on the honor roll, the Paseon Staff, the Paseo Press, in the Student Council, and the National Honor Society. Miss Julia Smith is the adviser of the club.

The name, Atalanta was taken from that of a beautiful girl in an old Greek myth. Because she was a very fast runner, Atalanta claimed that whosoever could beat her in a race should be her mate. The cost of defeat was death. Hippomenes with the aid of the gods and some golden apples won the race.

The purpose of the club is mainly to make the girls good sports and to create a real interest in girls' athletics. At the close of each year, the club chooses from its senior members one girl whom they name Atalanta as a special honor to typify the one after whom the club is named. Last year this girl was presented a cup and the Atalanta ribbons on senior day. The officers for the first semester were: president, Margaret Martin; vice-president, Catherine Stevenson; secretary, Mary Maude Burch; treasurer, Frances Alpert; and historian, Edith Anderson. The second semester officers were: president, Catherine Stevenson; vice-president, Vivian Botdorf; secretary, Maybell Eisfelder; treasurer, Edith Anderson; and historian, Letha McCracken.

Girls' Athletic Review

Even as the Paseo students applaud their athletic teams, so do they show that same fine spirit of cooperation and esteem toward those members of the faculty who have expended their boundless efforts in the development of girls athletics worthy of the Scarlet, Gold, and Black.

Miss Julia Ann Smith has been in charge of the girls athletic department for the past three and one-half years, and through her efforts, there has been an increasing interest in girls' athletics. Under her efficient leadership, with the understanding and capable aid of Miss Aileen Ennis and Miss Katherine Jane Pipkin who have been at Paseo three years, the Athletic Department was placed as one of the foremost of the school activities. Our coaches with their pleasing personalities, their able and energetic direction have won themselves "warm spots" in the hearts of the girls. Miss Smith supervises the seniors and juniors, Miss Pipkin the sophomores and Miss Ennis the freshman.

The sport managers are selected at the end of each year, by the coaches, from the junior class. They are chosen for good sportsmanship, instinctive knowledge, and persistency, from girls outstanding in the sport they are to manage. The managers and their respective sport for 1931-32 are as follows: Margaret Martin, soccer; Frances Alpert, hockey; Vivian Botdorf, volleyball; Catherine Stevenson, basketball; Mary Maude Burch, baseball; and Virginia Lee Watson, tennis.

At the end of each term those girls who have earned seventy-five points are awarded their "Paseo" letter. Each girl must earn a hundred and fifty points in order to receive a shield upon which can be worn, if earned, an honor stripe for the honor roll, a chevron for each additional seventy-five points after their letter award, a star for each captainship and the girl managers receive an emblem representing the sport which they have managed.

This year as in previous years the department had a part in the R. O. T. C. Circus held at Convention Hall. One hundred and sixty-nine girls appeared in a Virginia Reel Dance and made a very pretty showing in their costumes of the Revolutionary Period.

The girls swimming classes as last year, were held every Monday at Central Junior High affording opportunities to the girls otherwise unattainable. Two of the outstanding swimmers who are now working on their Senior Life Saving Badge are Virginia Papenhausen and Betty Ann Stuart.

The girls who have won their Missouri State Letters are Margaret Martin and Mary Maude Burch.

Soccer

Soccer came first in the series of sports this year and after much interesting competition, the seniors emerged victorious, playing their games at Forty-ninth and Paseo on the parkway. The sophomores, who this year have shown themselves in every sport, to be superior players compared with previous years, won second place, realizing their hopes in very close games with both the seniors and juniors. The freshmen playing soccer for the first time showed excellent team work and did not lack in enthusiasm. The captains were: Isabel Owens, Letha McCracken; Geraldine Bryan, and Kathryn Rosser, of the senior, junior, sophomore, and freshman teams respectively.

The second sport of the season to claim attention was hockey. Practices were held after school, each class meeting one night a week at Forty-ninth and Paseo. Many girls answered the hockey call. Each team elected a captain and with ideal hockey weather prevailing, the tournament started. There was much closer competition in hockey this year, each class having an over supply of excellent players, everyone of whom had high hopes of her team winning, so that it was with a lot of peppy and ankle skinning games, which finally decided the seniors, the championship team. The junior and sophomore teams tied for second place by virtue of a tied game with each other.

Volleyball

Volleyball, the first of the minor sports, is gaining more popularity among the Paseo girls, as was seen by the large number of girls out for this sport. A regular inter-class tournament was held, the games being played after school. The seniors were victorious, winning a close game. The sophomores this year, surprised the juniors and in a breath taking battle defeated them by a close score. The freshmen showed themselves to be strong material for future years. The captains were as follows: senior, Virginia Lee Watson; junior, Catherine Pfister; sophomore, Virginia Fessler; and freshman, Patricia Clark.

Basketball

Basketball again proved to be the most popular sport with the girls. Two months were spent in intensive practice after school by those trying for places on the teams. Then the first and second teams of each class were picked after which the tournament was held. The seniors showed their superiority by defeating the juniors 22-16 thereby claiming the championship. Each team elected a captain. They were: Margaret Martin, Mary Frances Daniels, Nona Jean Eisfelder, and co-captains; Rose Daniels and Sally Long, of the senior, junior, sophomore, and freshman teams respectively. The seniors after winning the championship, for the first time in the history of the school played the alumnae girls but due to the alumnae superior strength and years of experience, the seniors, although the champions of the school, were no match for them.

team in the upper picture, left to right were: Edith Anderson, Maybell Eisfelder, Margaret Martin, Mary Maude Burch, Mary Grogan, Catherine Stevenson. Vivian Botdorf and Isabel Owens were not in the picture. The members of the other teams, in the bottom picture, first row, left to right were: Virginia Mastin, Rose Daniels, Harriet Tuttle, Helen Bibby, Stevia Slaughter, Patricia Clark, Kathleen Holder, Norma Ames, Sally Long. Second row: Helen Egan, Geraldine Bryan, Charley Jean Ebel, Pauline Basile, Nona Jean Eisfelder, Marie McCully, Mary Ghrist, Virginia Fessler. ## Baseball

As baseball is the last sport of the year, the pictures are of the 1931 teams. The seniors of last year came through as expected and defeated the freshman, their only real foe. Because it was impossible to take the championship picture of last year's seniors this honor was given to the freshman of last year who by virtue of hard playing easily won second place over the other teams. "Babe Ruths" and "Lou Gehrigs" were plentiful on all teams and all girls enjoyed the sport unmindful of baseball fingers and sore muscles. The juniors played hard, but because of a deficiency in number they could not overcome their opponents' score. The captains of each team were as follows: senior, Corinne Harper; junior, Maybell Eisfelder; sophomore, Mary Frances Daniels, and freshman, Maxine Albaugh. Outside officials umpired the games nicely.

Tennis during the fall of the 1931 season proved successful for Paseo. When the tournament games ended, not only did they have a great many outstanding players but they also had Nora West, who last summer brought a crown of glory to Paseo by winning the City Girls' Championship. Both Mary Grogan and Jean Haist were defeated in the city tournament by Nora West. In the inter-class tournament Mary Grogan won the senior singles; Nora West the junior singles, and Emily Dunlap the sophomore. In the doubles Grogan and Watson were the senior winners; Haist and West the junior winners and Bryan and Larson the sophomore. In the finals Nora West, playing a hard driving game, won from Mary Grogan who in turn had won from Emily Dunlap. Mary Grogan and Virginia Lee Watson won the doubles from both West and Haist, and Bryan and Larson by default. In the spring another tournament was held in which most of the same girls competed. The girls who were members of the Paseo Girls Tennis Team in the bottom picture were: left to right, first row; Catherine Pfister, Alma Larson, Pearl Keys, Mary Burghardt, Ruby Carr. Second row: Geraldine Bryan, Marie Johnson, Emily Dunlap, Ellen Lind, Mabel Lundy.

R. O. T. C.

R. O. T. C.

Paseo's R. O. T. C. Battalion has been better this year than ever before. The first thing of importance this year was the making of commissioned officers. Fifteen officers were started as second lieutenants, most of whom were promoted about Christmas time. The Paseo Battalion, with the Paseo Band, took part in the Armistice Day parade. The band was resplendent in their new cords, innovated this year. In November the Battalion and the band performed at the American Royal.

On April 17, at the R. O. T. C. Circus, Paseo gave a company drill while the band played. John Sorensen, with Tony Basile as trainer, won first place in the blank cartridge race. All the Sponsor Officers of this year and all of the Sponsor Majors of previous years took part in the concluding number, an important part of which was the presentation of a cape to Sponsor Major Harriet Drayer.

The girls in the gym department, dressed in costumes befitting an event in commemoration of Washington, did a Virginia Reel, a pleasant relaxation after the stiff militarism of the preceding numbers.

April 28, the Corps Area inspection took place. At this event, Paseo offered a formal guard mount and, assisted by the band, they made a very creditable showing. After the guard mount, Lieutenant Colonel Randol asked various questions and observed the maneuvers of drill units. From the data gained from this he rated Paseo in comparison with other schools.

The Paseo Rifle Team was made up of the highest scorers in the Battalion. The team adopted a new and better looking jacket this year. They won fourth place in the City match and fifth place in the Missouri Valley Rifle Meet. Its members are: Captain Tom Sharpe, captain of the team and "Expert Rifleman"; Captain Cecil Leis, "Expert Rifleman"; Lieutenant Vardon Dislerod, "Sharpshooter"; Lieutenant Martin Goldbeck, "Expert Rifleman"; Sgt. James Boyd, "Sharpshooter"; Harry Higgins, "Sharpshooter"; and James Webb, "Expert Rifleman."

The school to have the colonel is determined by the number of points won. In every competitive event, the schools receive a certain number of points, depending on the way they placed. The school taking first place in the event is awarded the highest number of points, second place gets a few less, and last place gets none. This year points can be made by the Rifle Team, the Corps Area Inspection, and the Field Meet. The school with the second highest number of points makes the Lieutenant Colonel. The Field Meet usually takes place at 39th and Gillham Road about May 15.

During the first semester the commissioned officers had a party at Tom Sharpe's home. In addition to the officers, Sergeant Burnett, Miss Downs, and Lt. Bayer of the Reserve Officers were present. Because everyone knew everyone else, the party was eminently a success. Another officers party was given in May.

The R. O. T. C. annual picnic was also held in May. All cadets were entitled to attend this picnic and those who cared to, brought dates. At these picnics, games are played, but the principal pastime is overeating. Sergeant Burnett, Miss Downs, and the Sponsors are always present at this event.

This year an automatic rifle was obtained from the government and much pleasure was derived from studying it. No class time could be spared for it, so those who were interested stayed after school. An automatic rifle, to those who are unfamiliar with the type used in the U. S. Army, is a sub-machine gun, with a magazine of twenty shots.

The Paseo R. O. T. C. Battalion, while it has not accomplished all it wished to (as is the way with most organizations and people), feels that all it has done is due to the perseverance and loyalty of their instructor, Sergeant Burnett, who, in addition to the regular class periods, has spent many hours before and after school in giving the Battalion and band additional help and instruction.

Sponsor Major

From the five sponsor officers who were elected by the R. O. T. C. cadets, Miss Harriet Drayer was made Sponsor Major. Many girls were nominated for the position but the cadets selected only five to be sponsors. The faculty eliminated two of these who became Sponsor Lieutenants and the senior girls elected from the remaining three, Miss Drayer as Sponsor Major. The other two became Sponsor Captains. The position of Sponsor Major is considered the highest honor that a girl can receive in high school. The battalion has, on all occasions, received the loyal support and co-operation of Major Drayer and is very glad to have had her as Sponsor Commander.

Major

On March 18, 1932, Captain Jack Lyons was promoted to the rank of Commanding Officer of the Paseo battalion of the R. O. T. C. by Sergeant A. V. Burnett. Major Jack Lyons has studied R. O. T. C. for four years. In his sophomore year, when Sergeant Amy was instructor at Paseo, he was First Sergeant of C Company. He was First Lieutenant in C Company last year and Captain of C Company this year, until his promotion to Major. In last year's circus, he was in command of Paseo's part of the jumpstick relay.

He was active in many school events, was a member of the Keats Club and had a major part in the senior play. Jack was also president of his junior class, and giftorian of the senior class.

Sponsor Officers

About twenty-five girls were nominated for sponsor offices. Of these, a few were eliminated by the office because of ineligibility due to low grades. Those left were voted on by the cadets and the five highest were made lieutenants. The faculty eliminated two who remained lieutenants. The other three became captains. The senior girls selected one of the captains to be Sponsor Major. The results were; Sponsor Major, Harriet Drayer; Sponsor Captains, Peggy Barnes and June Boyce; and Sponsor Lieutenants, Lura Withrow and Maxine Duncan. This complicated election was developed because it insured an absolutely fair ballot. The sponsors were well represented in other extra-curricular activities.

Captain Peggy Barnes was vice-president of the Student Council, reporter, president, and secretary of the Peppy Pirates, president of the Soterians, captain of the freshman and sophomore hockey team, on the All-Star Hockey Team, on the Press Staff, and was voted Most Popular Girl on the Senior Ballot.

Captain June Boyce was vice-president of the Thicions, secretary of the Student Council, was on the Press Staff, had the lead in "Touchdown," major part in the senior play, a part in the Washington Pageant and "Out of the Stillness." She was a member of the National Honor Society, the Honor Rolls, and received the title of "Best Girl Actress" on the Senior Ballot.

Lieutenant Lura Withrow was secretary of the junior class, president, vice-president, and initiator of the Thicions, member of the Student Council, parts in the senior play and Washington Pageant, was on the Press Staff, and the courtesy, mixer, and senior day committees.

Lieutenant Maxine Duncan was president of the Zetas, president of her home room, chairman of the senior play and courtesy committees and a member of the Student Council and Girl Reserves.

The R. O. T. C. has had the loyal support of the sponsors in all events in which they had a part. They not only sold a number of R. O. T. C. Circus tickets, but together with the sponsors of other schools, furnished an important part of the program. The Circus of 1932 was an innovation in that the Sponsor Majors of previous years took part in the concluding number.

Rifle Team

The Paseo Rifle Team has diligently used ammunition in an attempt to win more trophies for the battalion. The first event of the rifle team was the city match, when the rifle team fired in competition with the other schools in the city, in which they won fourth place. At the Missouri Valley rifle meet at Booneville, Missouri, our team placed fifth in its class. Tom Sharpe was third high at this meet in the junior R. O. T. C. class. The members of the team are: first row, left to right; James Boyd, "Sharpshooter"; Tom Sharpe, "Expert Rifleman" and captain of the team; Martin Goldbeck, "Expert Rifleman"; and Vardon Dislerod, "Sharpshooter." Second row, left to right: James Webb, "Expert Rifleman"; Cecil Leis, "Expert Rifleman"; and Harry Higgins, "Sharpshooter." The title following the names represent medals they have won, "Expert Rifleman" being higher than "Sharpshooter."

Officers Club

The Officers Club consists of all commissioned and non-commissioned officers, including sponsors. Upon promotion to a rank higher than that of a private, a cadet is automatically made a member of the club. Miss Marguerite Downs, sponsor adviser, has held that position, by election once a year, since the founding of the club. The purpose of the club is to further the interests of the Paseo Battalion by governing all activities and by the judicious expenditure of the battalion funds. The officers are: president, Milton Stomp; vice-president, Jack Lyons; secretary, Tony Basile; treasurer, Bennie Baier; and reporter, Alfred Loeblich. The meetings of the club are not governed by parliamentary law but by a means which Sergeant Burnett has found more efficient. The club feels that it has fulfilled its purpose in making the battalion a better one.

Paseo Press

First Semester

"All the school news in the Press," one of the slogans for the campaign, possibly simplifies the object and work of the Press best. In the fifth year of its existence, the Press has been classed as an individual source of school news, and its first semester 1932 staff and reporters feel that they have received a most helpful and enjoyable experience, writing for the Press and receiving valuable instructions from Miss Keohane, adviser and most inspiring guide in news-writing. Seven members of the staff were admitted into the Quill and Scroll, and several members received honor in the various news contests. A special Christmas edition was one of the features this year, along with two Treasure Chest publications. Much credit is given to Mr. James A. Voth, head of the printing department, and to the art department for their valuable assistance in the publishing of the Press.

Paseo Press Second Semester

The winning of three interscholastic championships gave the Press an opportunity to make use of banner headlines. Nothing short of an earthquake merits a banner head in the Press, and two appearances of this rare type of headline created a sensation. During this semester Paseo, for the first time, received a First Class Honor Rating from the National Scholastic Press Association. The Press stressed feature stories more than in previous years, and gave more space to girls' sports. Due to the work of the advertising department, the Press came out with a six-page edition toward the end of the semester. All work was done by members of the newswriting class. Former six-page editions had been affected only with the aid of the Treasure Chest literary supplement. This semester also saw the first newswriters-printers ball game, which resulted in a 17-11 victory for the Printer's Devils.

Paseon Staff

The staff of the 1932 Paseon has striven this year to produce a book worthy of its name, and in every way fulfilling the ideals set by its predecessors—a book embodying a fitting theme and representing and identifying in some way every student in the school. But to edit and produce the Paseon would be a prodigious—an impossible—task, were it not for the unsparing and generous aid given us by many teachers and students about the school. To them we owe much of the success of this book, and to them we extend our heartiest thanks.

The staff was chosen by means of contests held during the summer and by various try-outs after the beginning of the school year last fall. While the greater part of the staff this year had no previous experience, several of its members were juniors, who will be back next year to lend their assistance to the production of another—and even better—annual. Only four of this year's staff were previous members. The advisers of the 1932 Paseon were: Miss Irene Blase, literary adviser; Miss Willa K. Schmidt, art adviser; Mr. G. G. Carman, business adviser.

The "Touchdown"

The "Touchdown," a four-act comedy on the Siddell college campus, was given as the Christmas play on December 11th and directed by Miss Anna McCoy Francis. The leads were taken by June Boyce as Rena Maynard, lovely sweetheart of the campus, and James Tobin as Grant Hayden, handsome sculptor and football hero. The Indian football enthusiast, Watassa Faulkner, was played by Harriet Steinle, and David Williams took the part of Robert Hayden, Grant's younger brother, in poor health and in love with Watassa. The part of Junius Brooks, a fat, smiling and sentimental sophomore, was taken by Jack Kinzy. Gene Clarke, coach of the Siddell football eleven, was played by Jimmy Hazlett. The part of Alfred Woolfe, a dissipated football player in love with Rena Maynard, was played by Major Barnes. Dollie Sylvester, sweetheart of the coach, was played by Harriet Drayer, and the part of her sister, Evelyn Sylvester, called "Echo" because she followed Dollie everywhere, was taken by Frances Field. Priscilla Parmell, dean of women and old maid school teacher secretly admiring the professor, was taken by Helen Brown. Henry Sumner, one of the younger professors, was played by Jack Lyons. Louise Gardner took the part of Margery Carson, sought after by Junius Brooks. George Thomas took the part of George Holman, and Orma Skates took the part of Frank Mitchell, football rooters. The Paseo winning football team, the Glee Club and the mixer orchestra assisted in the production.

The story dealt with the difficulties arising from a plot by the villain, Woolfe, to overthrow Grant Hayden, protect his position on the football team for the most important game of the season, and to win Rena Maynard for himself. The plot was discovered, however, and the incidents were corrected in time to place Grant Hayden on the team to win the football game. In the picture, the cast of the play are: first row, left to right; Frances Field, June Boyce, Harriet Drayer, Jack Kinzy, Jack Lyons, Orma Skates, Major Barnes, and Louise Gardner. Second row, left to right: Helen Brown, Harriet Steinle, George Thomas, Miss Anna McCoy Francis, James Tobin, David Williams, and Jimmy Hazlett. Much credit is due Miss Anna McCoy Francis, director, for her untiring patience and efforts in producing the play, one of the most outstanding successes ever produced at the school.

"Cat O' Nine Tails"

Mystery, drama, comedy, and romance, all helped to make the senior play, "The Cat O' Nine Tails," a great success. It was presented on the evening of May 20th to a large audience. It was the first play ever given at Paseo in which there were no leads, but every part an important one.

The action takes place at the Gordon Lodge near the Canadian line in Maine. The time is spring. The cast of characters is as follows:

James Gordon, Sr.....	Jack Lyons
Mrs. James Gordon.....	Frances Field
Fox.....	Lewis Latshaw
Miss Smith.....	June Boyce
Jimmy Gordon.....	Jack Kinzy
Betty Webber.....	Harriet Drayer
Theodora Maitland.....	Maxine Duncan
Henry.....	John Woods
Jacob Webber.....	Jack Pollock
Bridget.....	Ionne Chambers
Peggy.....	Lura Withrow

Mr. Gordon has come to Gordon Lodge with his wife to stay until the time for him to return certain very valuable papers to his employers who have entrusted them to him during the time that England and Japan are bidding for them. At the lodge with them is a young society girl, Theodora Maitland; Henry, a half-witted chore-boy, who spends his time quoting Shakespeare; and Jacob Webber, the caretaker. During the evening on which the play opens, Jimmy Gordon and Betty Webber return from their respective schools. They have been secretly married. The same night Mr. Gordon receives a mysterious note from one who signs himself the "Cat O' Nine Tails," requesting the official papers. There arrives a detective, Miss Smith, who has a letter of introduction from the United States Marshall who says she is tracing a super-criminal, "Cat O' Nine Tails," in the interest of the Paris police. Another detective, Mr. Fox, arrives, who has been hired by Mr. Gordon's employers. All the household has become worried over the mysterious note, and when more notes are received, all suspicions seem to point to Mr. Gordon, whom Fox attempts to arrest. From then on the play rises to a hair-raising climax in which many secret passages are discovered in Gordon Lodge, and Henry, the chore-boy, is found to be the "Cat O' Nine Tails." The play was very capably directed by Miss Anna McCoy Francis, director of dramatics at Paseo. The play was well backed by members of the senior class as well as patrons of the school.

Washington Pageant

In assembly on Monday, May 25, Paseo High School paid tribute to George Washington by celebrating the two hundredth anniversary of his birth with a Washington Pageant. The pageant consisted of seven parts. They were: overture of patriotic hymns by the orchestra; roll call of the thirteen original states; representation of the spirit of '76; military revue by members of the girls' gym department; a playlet, "The Birth of a Nation's Flag"; a salute to George Washington; and the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner" by the entire audience. In the first part of the program, the thirteen states were portrayed by Ionne Chambers, Louise Gardner, Dorothea Eib, Irma Jean Arend, Katherine Park, Mary Elizabeth Kelley, Frances Pollman, Geraldine Hornbuckle, Martha Jane Foster, Helen Lee Crowe, Ruth Ardis Gray, and Lura Withrow. Jimmy Hazlett took the part of Uncle Sam and Ruth Sandford the part of Columbia. In the second part, the spirit of '76 was represented by Ellsworth Van Orman, John Bowser, and William Hewitt. The third part, "The March of the Colonials," was well done by the following girls: Onita Nelson, Helen Lumary, Zudora Padgett, Virginia Fessler, Lillian Mercer, Angelina Spalitto, Mary Yocum, Helen Ridgell, Martha Fizzell, Chesney Beals, Martha Bickers, Lily Checkla, Bobby Ann Timken,

Charley Jean Ebel, Peggy Miller, Florence Graham, Jane Crawford, Lucille Rauschkolb, Maude Frandle, Martha Lambert, Florine Fowler, Lois Stosberg, Jeanne Belson, Justine Stuessi, Elizabeth Vance, Joyce Colvin, Lucille Mankameyer, Margaret Hedges, Marie Gervy, Betty Jane Thompson, Mary Shepherd, Doris Lee Dorsette, Vera Lee Walters, Jeane Thompson, and Nellie Moore. In the fifth part, the play, the cast of characters were as follows:

Mask and Wig Club

Stage Crew

The members of the stage crew are: left to right; Charles Hofheins, Norton Bakker, Jefferson Wilkerson, Mr. H. V. Campbell, adviser, Homer Thompson, manager, and John Watling. This year's stage crew, under the able supervision of Mr. H. V. Campbell, is composed of five boys. Homer Thompson, manager for the second consecutive year, has been an outstanding worker on the crew for the past three years. His faithful spirit and ability to get co-operation from all members of the crew has been a big asset toward its success. Homer operates the switchboard, with John as his understudy. Charles has charge of the booth and operates the spotlight. Jefferson and Norton operate the curtains and look after the scenery. Much of the scenery that has to be made for every performance is made by the stage crew.

Choral Club

The Choral Club, under the direction of Miss Marguerite Zimmerman, has been outstanding in its work throughout the year. The first appearance made by the Choral Club and Mixed Chorus was at Open House, at which several numbers were contributed for the program. For Christmas the musical department presented a pageant, "Why the Chimes Rang." The major characters were: the old woman, Delores Allen; the two brothers, Francis Tobin and Ray Poage; the uncle, J. Buckingham; and the angel, Charlotte Thomas. The minor parts were taken by Melba Slaughter, Verna Jacobson, Norman Ellsworth, Ralph Harrison, George Thomas, Asahel Rutt, and Clarence Wilborn. The priests were characterized by the boys of the Mixed Chorus and the choir by the Choral Club. On the day before the Christmas holidays, the girls marched through the halls, dressed in long black robes, singing the old familiar Christmas carols. In the afternoon of the same day, the Choral Club and Mixed Chorus sang at the Union Station with other high school choruses.

During the year, the Choral Club had engagements to sing at the Grand Avenue

Temple and the Pheonix Methodist Church. Both the Choral Club and Mixed Chorus participated in the celebration of the George Washington Bi-centennial at Convention Hall where songs were sung by all high school choruses. The Choral Club also sang in the Washington Pageant, "The Birth of a Nation's Flag," which was presented by the dramatics department, under the direction of Miss Anna McCoy Francis. In April, the Choral Club sang at the Teachers Institute before both high school and grade school teachers. Miss Zimmerman received many compliments on the singing. At the annual spring Fashion Show the girls did remarkably well when they sang several numbers without a director. Miss Zimmerman was judging a contest and therefore was unable to attend.

Paseo entered the music contest again this year. The soloists this year were: soprano, Mary Jayne Fouts; mezzo-soprano, Margaret Ireland; contralto, Delores Allen; tenor, Bob Lowe; baritone, Verne Hutson; and bass, Eugene Pirtle. We also entered a triple trio, quartet, and octet.

Choral Club

Mixed Chorus

Orchestra

Band

Perhaps the most unusual thing about the Paseo Band has been its growth and corresponding improvement in the quality of its music. Six years ago the band was organized with only thirteen boys to lend volume to its tone. By the end of that school year the band had more than doubled its membership. At the beginning of the 1931-1932 school year they boasted of a roll of one hundred and eighty musicians. The band, which for the past six years has been under the direction of Mr. Virgil V. Edmonds, has grown to be the largest band in Kansas City and the middle-west. Because of the fine efficiency of the R. O. T. C. Band, it was featured at the R. O. T. C. Circus, the band concert, the minstrel show at Francis Willard School, the band assembly program, the football and basketball games, and approximately forty other performances. Their success in the Armistice Day Parade was also made possible through the untiring efforts of Mr. Edmonds; the band manager, Jess Allen; and the assistant manager, Joe Marsden. Cecil Collins, leader of the Mixer Orchestra, was also assistant director of the band. The band also had a few other officers. They were: drum-major, Barthel Concannon; and librarian, Charles Dale.

Although quite a number of the band members are graduating this year, Mr. Edmonds believes that the band will increase in size next year as it has in previous years and that the R. O. T. C. Band next year will be better trained for marching, having had much experience this year.

Mr. Edmonds feels that much credit is due to the faculty and students for their co-operation in making this year's band the most outstanding high school band in the city.

Mixer Orchestra

The Mixer Orchestra under the able direction of Cecil Collins, this year played for all class mixers, intersociety mixers, and the intersociety dance. In the try-outs held in the boys' gym at the beginning of the year, Cecil's orchestra and Ed Sharp and his Music Blasters ran close competition for the position of school Mixer Orchestra, Cecil's orchestra winning by a nose. The orchestra was chosen by the mixer committee composed of Miss Eckles, chairman, Mr. Lortz, Mr. Limerick, Mr. Pringle, Miss Hardin, Miss Downs, Miss Davis, Miss Minckemeyer, Mr. Armour, and Miss Pipkin. The members and their positions are as follows: first row, left to right; Kenneth Clond, trombone; Jess Allen, trumpet; Cecil Collins, trumpet; Leonard Smith, guitar and violin; Roland Sandgren, saxophone and clarinet; Paul Watson, saxophone and clarinet; and Harrison Bell, saxophone and clarinet. Second row, left to right: Edward Nauman, bass horn and string bass; Joe Gleeson, percussion instruments; Kenneth Scott, piano; and Benjamin Lake, vocalist. All but three of the members go to Paseo. Roland Sandgren was a former member of Paseo's student body.

The orchestra appeared in assembly during the second semester, playing several popular numbers which were enjoyed by all. Because the members of the orchestra donated their services free, the chartered clubs gave them the job of playing for the intersociety dance given on the evening of April thirteenth in the boys' gym. Besides taking an important part in the senior day assembly, they also assisted capably in the "Touchdown," the spring play, an outstanding success. The large crowds which attended the mixers this year prove the ability of the orchestra. Because of their vast popularity about school, they won many outside positions. Throughout the year, Joe Gleeson and Ben Lake shared honors in doing the orchestra crooning at all the mixers and at the assembly program. Ben Lake also assisted Cecil in directing the orchestra.

Cecil and his orchestra have been very popular this year at the school because of the good judgment used in picking the instrumentation and the music.

The practice of organizing a mixer orchestra was not officially begun until last year when Dick Jacobs and his Rhythm Pirates offered to play for the mixers free.

Oration Speaker

On Washington's birthday, February 22, in assembly, Leonard Sosland was unanimously chosen to represent Paseo in the Star's Oratorical Contest. Leonard delivered an effective oration on the "Development of Democracy under the Constitution." His equally impressive extemporaneous speeches were: "The Three Great Compromises of the Constitution," which he gave in the first assembly; and "The Influence of the Presidential Veto Power," which he gave in the second assembly. At Convention Hall on the night of April 16th, Leonard stirred the judges with his speech, (the same as he had given in assembly) and his vivid extemporaneous talk. He took third place and has won for himself the distinction of being the first boy from Paseo to have placed in an Oratorical Contest.

Journalism Winner

Dan Kelliher, who has distinguished himself about school in many fields and was the first junior to become editor of the Paseo Press, has also proved his excellence in the literary contest, both in school and in the state.

Dan's news story, "Paseo Basketeers Rout Central for League Title," placed second in the news story division of the Missouri Interscholastic Press Association Contests for individual work.

His essay, "De Valera's Challenge to the British Empire," placed second in the Mahan Prize Essay Contest, a subdivision of the English branch of curricular contests held by Missouri University. The contestants were given a list of topics to choose from and allowed two hours for writing.

The Paseon

September 8.

Ye olde Pirate Jym, with his vessel, the Spirit of Paseo, sets out on a nine months' journey o'er the seas of knowledge. He is accompanied by 2,300 sailors, who claim their hero is George Washington. May their journey be successful—may they drink more of the waters of knowledge than is usually done.

October 1.

Edward Harris is chosen to do George Washington justice by editing the 1932 Paseon. Fred Polte wields the hammer of the Student Council.

October 22.

The smart set is swept to the depths of desperation: there can be no more of those glamorous club dances. The Press rates All American Honors.

October 31.

Three cheers! The ambition of years is achieved! The Pirate pig skin experts bag first place in city championship.

December 11.

Hot passion and salty tears. Our Bernhardtts show their skill in the Christmas play, "The Touchdown."

January 25.

An ever-increasing number of sailors take part in this spectacular voyage with Pirate Jym after some inspiring Christmas holidays. Miss Margaret Lark hands the quill to Dan Kelliher, who is next to edit The Press.

February 11.

Feminine superiority again. The fairer sex fairly monopolizes the Honor Rolls.

February 18.

Milton Stomp heads the Student Council.

March 3.

We win city championship in basketball. Jack Lyons proves a Byronic major, and Harriet Drayer, sponsor major, shows the stimulating effect of pulchritude on the gentlemen sex.

March 11.

The school is benefited intellectually by the senior English assembly program.

March 21.

M. Paul Claudel proves to be the hero of the day when he speaks in assembly.

April 15.

The R. O. T. C. Circus goes over with a bang; militarism shows its laurels.

April 16.

Leonard Sosland does his duty and wins third place in the Star's Oratorical Contest.

April 25.

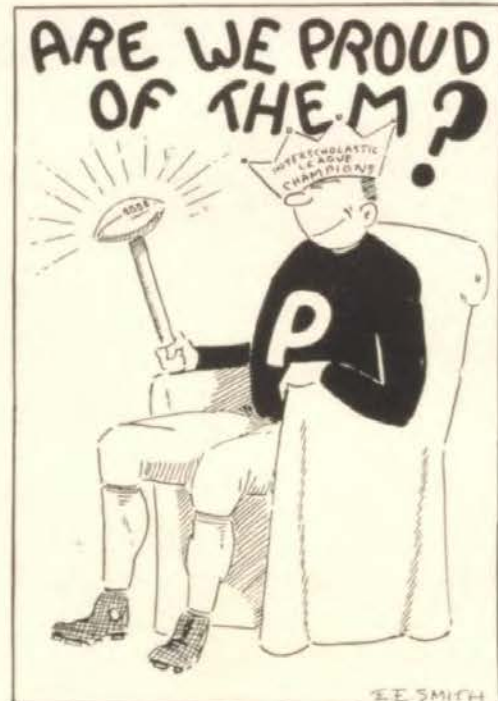

The Washington Pageant results in a production of breath-taking beauty, fully worthy of George Washington.

April 29.

Our sportsmen go in for heavy dramatics; the Lettermen's Minstrel draws a big crowd and much grease paint is used.

May 14.

Paseo tracksters come through for their third successive championship by winning the city track meet at Southwest High. Singers win city-wide music contest.

June 7.

The culmination of years of effort and hope! The seniors graduate, and think very well of themselves.

June 10.

VACATION!

The salty tears of parting and farewell mingle with the waters of knowledge. They have drunk deeply.

Senior Will

We, the senior class of Paseo High School, in the city of Kansas City, in the county of Jackson, and in the state of Missouri, being of sound mind and understanding considering the certainty of death, and being desirous of settling our worldly affairs, do therefore make and publish this, our last will and testament, thus revoking and destroying the validity of all former wills by us at any time heretofore drawn, in manner or form, that is to say:

To Mr. Stigall we leave all that is remaining of "Paseo, the Beautiful" after we, the mighty seniors, declare our supremacy on senior day.

To Mr. Shepherd we leave the junior class that he might possibly, in some way or other, make desirous citizens and noble "Pirates" out of them.

To Mr. Carman we leave all of the copy of this annual that he might show the survivors of this class how to produce another successful "year marker."

To the Engineers we leave the "squad car" to perform all the frequently necessary operations so that it may continue to be the benevolent omen to lead our football team on to victory.

To the Juntos we leave all of the brighter class (?), if there is any left, that they might produce some more vigorous "he-men."

To the Keats we leave all of the freshmen so that they will not break their practice of pledging the smallest forms in the school.

To the Zetas we leave our second-hand gum in the cafeteria and auditorium to give their little jaws plenty of training for spilling their lines to the Paseo heroes of '33.

To the Thicians we leave our old Ballyhoos, Whiz Bangs, Slapsticks, etc., in order that they might be able to tell some good ones next year.

And to all other clubs we leave our old ear muffs so that they will not have to listen to the braggards of the above clubs.

To the juniors we leave the rule of good old Alma Mater; let's hope they are able to control such an unruly mob of bums.

To the sophomores we leave the position of chief critic for the juniors. Heaven knows they need criticism. We also leave $.35 as a start on the Prom of '33.

To the freshmen we leave the flag and flagpole so that they will become bigger and better boy and girl scouts.

In testimony whereof, we, the members of the senior class of Paseo High School have hereunto set our hand and seal this fifteenth day of May, in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and thirty-two.

THE SENIOR CLASS.

Per Myron K. Ellison.

Signed and sealed by the said senior class of Paseo High School, in our presence and by the above party, published and declared as our last will and testament, and at its request and in its presence, we subscribe our names as witnesses.

Class Prophecy '32

An occasion surpassing all precedents for glamour and magnificence was the Washington banquet, given by Paseo alumnae on the roof garden of the Hotel Tweedie last night, February 22, 1962. Almost 400 guests attended, and chief among the many distinguished personages assembled for the occasion was the President of the United States, the Honorable Harry Myers, and the gracious First Lady of the Land, Mary Jayne Fouts.

The occasion was indeed beautiful. The decorations, wrought by the inimitable hand of Mlle. Mimi Hancock, interior decorator who came from her Parisian salons especially for this occasion, were bizarre, and yet exquisite. Beautiful broadcasting towers of immense size, done in grey cellophane and which served the purpose of coat hangers, caused much comment from the guests. Mlle. Hancock said jokingly, "I'll bet they're the freshest broadcasting towers you ever saw—wrapped in cellophane"; and her distinctive witticisms caused a fervor of laughter and established her reputation as a wit. Her newest creation—a card table with legs shaped like mermaids—received much praise, especially from the men. Other features of the decorations were davenport shaped like skyscrapers, and huge lanterns shaped like rockets which cast their red light over all. The beauty of the occasion was enhanced by a warm breeze and the ultra-violet rays which a gracious moon was casting down; and it was a thrilling sight to view the airplanes and zeppelins, brilliantly lighted, sailing through the starry sky.

Mr. Ivan Tweedie, sponsor of the banquet, and his wife, Laura Beth Soots, were receiving the guests. Mr. Tweedie's warm hand-shake and smile did much to make the guests "feel at home," and his tiny wife, clad in a superb creation of embossed tinfoil (designed by Virginia Messecar) attracted much attention.

The business world was represented by: Howard Svoboda, famous cigarette magnet (Dew Drop Ciggies), and his wife, Margaret Nason; Elton White, owner of the Prima Dona Dance Halls, Incorporated, and his wife, Helen Bailey; Harry Hayward, shovel magnate, and his wife, Dorothy Rumbeck, also famous as a concert pianist; Jack Kinzy, cattle king, with his charming wife, Martha Werthe; Mr. George Hart, eighth vice-president of Hart, Schaffner & Marx, and his wife, Lyle Naylor; George Grant, executive of the Cut-em Razor Co., and his wife, Maxine Howe; Mr. Edward Harris, silk stocking magnate, and his wife, Ruth Rose; Mr. Richard Parsons, golf ball manufacturer, and his wife, Erna Reitz.

The professional world was represented by: Mr. Robert Ward, minister, and his wife, Elsie Clough; Dr. Richard Hayes, physician, and an expert at extracting dust from young ladies' eyes, and his wife, Maxine Clough; Mr. Max Doubleday, manufacturer of German dictionaries and writer of the famous book, "How to Learn German in Sixty Seconds," and his wife, Edith Breeding; Mr. Frank Miller, tennis star, and his wife, Virginia Dodson; Joe Miller, editor of the Nutmeg Iowa Bugle and writer of many fine editorials on "The Waving Corn of Dear Old Iowa," and his wife, May Wilk; Milton Stomp, principal of Paseo High School, and his wife, Velma Tanner.

There were many representatives of the United States Army: Jack Lyons, general, and his wife, Eva Rollins; Martin Goldbeck, machine gun expert, and his wife, Norma Lispi; Alfred Loeblich, and his wife, Rose Burghardt; Vardon Dislerod, an officer, and his wife, Helen Lee Crowe.

Margaret Lark, prominent newspaper woman and prospective nominee for senator from Missouri, brought along her husband, Paul Strickland. Myron Ellison, millionaire interior decorator, escorted the beautiful Maxine Duncan (Miss Duncan won a nation-wide beauty contest in 1936, if you remember). Myron was rather dejected. "I've know her since childhood and she still refuses to say 'yes'." Miss Duncan was wearing an exquisite platinum diamond-studded wrist watch—a recent gift from Myron. June Boyce, famous Broadway stage star, was accompanied by her third husband, Jual Miller. As Jual entered the garden he did the cutest little tap dance—just as he used to do at the Gayety Burlesque. Clifford Remm also brought along Harryet Bergh. It is rumored that they are "that way" about each other. Louis Wolfson and John Bowser, scientists of distinction, interested many in their discussions about a new rocket car which they are inventing.

The Paseon

But most distinctive and unusual were the many professional women attending the banquet. Margaret Yates, clad in a coat of spun glass, was perhaps the most distinctive. Miss Yates has established her reputation as a novelist, "The Passion of Polly," and "Life in a Sewer," both stories of man's regeneration through love, being the most distinguished. Miss Yates lives a quiet life on her estate at the top of Pike's Peak, where she "is away from the grief and strife of this cruel world, wrought by man's hand." Eva Myers, president of the American Federation of Women Typists, known for her agitation for better wages and fewer husbands for women; Martha Goodrich, secretary to J. P. Morgan III; Helen Brown, discoverer of vitamins L, M, N, O and P, and writer of the book, "The Advantages of Canned Milk in the Diet of Little Children"; Virginia Richart, famous equestrian and horse authority, and Helen Clarke, Martha Leinbach, and Frances Hoshaw, school teachers—these, examples of a few, were fitting representatives of women's efforts for greater freedom. By eight o'clock most of the guests had arrived, but the President and his wife were as yet unaccounted for, and it was feared lest something had hindered the chief executive and his wife. However, the private zeppelin of the president—the Mayflower—was soon seen looming through the sky. It was a beautiful sight, painted in stripes of red, white and blue, with a neon lighted American eagle posed on its massive rudder. The ship was moored to the hotel's flag pole, and President Myers with Mary Jayne Fouts alighted. The President apologized for his tardiness, saying that he had to appear in some newsreels, sign some autographs, and pose for a silk stocking advertisement. The simplicity and unaffected manner of the president made all admire him. He is certainly a man of the people, and few can forget how he earned his way through college as a bootblack. Mrs. Myers was equally as gracious and charming. She wore a beautiful gown of chromium plated cellophane, embroidered in zeppelins. The president's wife has been noted for her agitation against the entrance of woman into the business world and their abandonment of the simple joy of household duty; she has opened a recipe column in all the papers ("What the President Likes"), and has written beautiful poetry on home life. Here is an excerpt from one of her poems:

With the babe's sweet smile;
The fond husband's caresses—
Content all the while . . ."

Certainly the First Lady of the Land is correct; woman is usurping man his natural right to work. It is estimated that woman has put out of employment over sixty million men.

The banquet was about to begin when a loud whoop was heard. Suddenly an airplane landed and out jumped Ray McDaniel, who had just made a non-stop flight from his home in Hollywood, California. Mr. McDaniel is the most famous cowboy actor living today. Ever since his appearance in the thriller, "The Vengeance of Red Glutch," women have gone wild over him. His wife, Erma Watling—a former movie queen—was badly bruised up, due to altercations which the two had when Ray came home from a Hollywood party intoxicated. Erma, clad in her gorgeous creation of embroidered aluminum, said that she dearly loved her husband—no matter how cruel he was to her. That certainly is a example of pure love.

So then the banquet started. First there was a grand march to music played by Cecil Collins' Symphony Aces. Many of Mr. Collins's most famous marches were played, and he is certainly justified in his cognomen of "America's March King." Those in the orchestra were Kenneth Clond, Carl Buterbaugh, Ellsworth Van Orman, Charles Dale, Charles Doubleday, Sheridan Goldman, O. W. Thomas, Fred Nixon, Allen Wright, and Joe Waller. All through the banquet the orchestra played selections by that modern virtuoso, Paul Watson. His "Concerto for the Oboe"; his "Song of the Street Cleaner," his most wierd, all were played in a magnificent manner.

As the guests were seated at the table, a thrill of applause was heard; people were charmed by the magnificence and daring of the table setting. Dishes of enameled copper and goblets of beautiful silver, which reflected the light beautifully; silverware of the new permanent wave design; table cloths of silk tinted with flashes of lightning on a blue background; bowls and bowls of orchids—it would be impossible to describe the beauty of it all! All table decorations were furnished by the Dahlstrom Dish Company, Inc.

The Reverend Lewis Latshaw gave the invocation. His wife, Lura Withrow, looked at him with fond eyes, as she thought about his wondrous character regeneration—how from a mere playboy he had risen to a position of great standing. Then the food was served. How delicious it was! Dave Stiffelman, president of the Bestever Oyster Co., furnished the oysters for the cocktails. Bread and rolls were furnished by the Hotcha Bread Company, of which Bennie Kusketsky is the president. Bennie Baier, president of the International Canners Incorporated, furnished baked beans, Boston style, canned peas, and grapefruit marmalade. Gus Olson, owner of the El Bullo Meat Packing Company, furnished roast hams and delicious little sausages. Vegetables were donated by the Locatelli Vegetable and Fruit Company.

After the banquet, Mr. Tweedie arose to announce the rest of the program. He introduced President Harry Myers, who gave a speech, in which he said that American democracy was challenged; that the American womanhood should not be allowed to go stockingless. Then Mr. Leonard Sosland, United States senator from Hawaii, spoke on the value of cigarettes in making the nation race conscious. There was a galaxy of speech-making and toasts after this. Mr. Milton Stomp, Principal of Paseo High School, concluded the speech making with a talk on pensioning teachers and professors in their old age.

The high spot of the program was reached. A program of unusual variety was to be presented by the guests there. By common consent (mostly from the ladies), Mr. Joe Gleeson was asked to sing. Joe, the "Shiek of Radio Land," sang in his famous "Vod-deo-o-do" manner. The women thought he was the cutest thing, and even the president's wife cast him a sweet smile. It was rumored that Helen Bergh, Joe's wife, was made very jealous. Mr. Benjamin Lake, famous basso of the O. K. Civic Opera Company, then sang the Prologue from "Pagliacci." Dorothy Rumberg, famous concert pianist, played several of her own compositions (she is a remarkable composer) and ended her program by playing some finger exercises by Carl Czerney. Then Mortimer Alpert, orchestra leader and concert violinist for a famous coffee company's radio program, played some selections, accompanied by D. Rumbeck. Then D. Rumbeck accompanied Dolores Allen in several brilliant operatic arias. D. Rumbeck's husband, the former Harry Hayward, was draped over a davenport asleep.

Peggy Barnes next offered to do her bit. Miss Barnes is still the reigning star of Broadway, and every season she continues to star in more and more musical comedies with great success. Her reputation as a dancer, singer, and comedienne is without equal. She sang an old song, popular when she was a little girl, "Yes, We Have No Bananas"; she made it both humorous and pathetic. Then slipping off her evening gown (an unusual creation of diamonds and rubies), she appeared clad in a romper suit, and continued her antics by doing her famous tap-routine. Miss Barnes still says she will never go in the movies nor get married.

Harriet Drayer was the next celebrity to appear. Harriet has succeeded remarkably in the ability to stay and look young; she appears to be not a day over forty. She smiled very graciously and made a short speech which endeared her in the hearts of all. It is no wonder that she was regarded as such a charming night club hostess of many years back.

"Folks," she said, "I want you to meet my husband—my fourth one. But my love is still going strong, and I love him—oh how I love him! Meet my husband, Mr. Bob West." Her husband (who accumulated a vast fortune at—Well, never mind, we won't say here) bowed sheepishly and sat down. Harriet, to show her love and devotion, sang an old love lyric. And what mellow tones that girl did produce!

Harriet received much applause for her number, but the night was passing swiftly on; many rose to depart. Soon the sky was alive with airplanes and zeppelins, carrying away the reluctant guests. Mr. Tweedie was heartily congratulated on the success of his banquet; the others, who by their speeches, entertainment, or donations also received commendation. All in all, it was most successful.

I was the last one to leave; and as I gazed upon the roof garden, now empty and quiet, I realized how great is the part which fate plays in our lives. Many there were who graduated from old Paseo High in 1932 with the best of hopes for future achievement and success, but not all of these have attained their goal. Many have tasted the bitter dregs of defeat and disillusionment, living lives of few accomplishments and little renown. A few have succeeded. To the others, may thoughts of encouragement and good will be extended. May the lot of all be future happiness and prosperity.
