SM

The first part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that every entry, no matter how small, should be recorded to ensure the integrity of the financial statements. This includes not only sales and purchases but also expenses and income. The document further explains that proper record-keeping is essential for identifying trends, managing cash flow, and complying with tax regulations.

In addition, the document highlights the role of the accounting system in providing timely and reliable information to management. By analyzing the data, managers can make informed decisions about the company's operations and future growth. The document also touches upon the importance of internal controls to prevent errors and fraud, ensuring that the financial data is accurate and trustworthy.

Finally, the document concludes by stating that a strong foundation in accounting principles is crucial for the success of any business. It encourages the reader to continue learning and applying these principles in their professional and personal life.

PASEO HIGH SCHOOL

KANSAS CITY, MISSOURI

I am deeply appreciative of the friendly spirit in which I have been received and of the many courtesies which have been extended to me. Your excellent school spirit, your loyalties, and your enthusiasm spring from the fine ideals you have developed over a period of years. I have an abiding faith in the Youth of America and particularly those of Paseo High School. My associations with you have sustained this faith. I am fortunate to share with you the days that lie ahead. May I be worthy of this opportunity.

J. C. Bond.

Your friendly welcome made me feel at home when I came into your halls as a stranger; and as I learn about your fine tradition, the mutual respect between faculty and students, the cooperative spirit of the student body, your pride in desirable achievements and your unexcelled loyalty to accepted ideals, I realize that I am privileged to be a part of Paseo High School.

Sincerely,

W. Lawrence Cannon.

"Remember Who You Are" is one of the strongest bonds between Paseo High School and Mr. Stigall. It means more to us than a mere statement of facts or belief. These words stand for the encouragement, the development, the spirit, and the personality, with which Mr. Stigall has endowed our school. When we repeat them or translate them into action, we once again thank our past principal for his work in helping us along the pathways of learning. They remind us of his fine personal character, his friendly comradeship with his associates and his students, and his progressive educational ideals. His challenge and encouragement go with us as we graduate to higher honors and a broader life.

B. M. Stigall, Principal of Paseo High School from September, 1926, to January, 1945.

YOUR COUNTRY

SEITER.

“Remember Who You Are—whether you want to or not, you represent your country . . .”

Today Paseo is being represented all over the world by boys who have known this motto and creed as well as we who are here now know it. They are finding it is truer than they ever before realized.

They know that it is an honor to represent their country—the United States—and they are making it possible for the coming generations to be proud of that honor.

Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends. John 15:13.

Student Council

Our governing body has been very successful this year in enlisting the aid of the students, through the homeroom representatives, in improving conditions around Paseo caused by wartime shortages and strains. Hosts and hostesses were stationed on each floor to guide visitors and keep the halls cleared during class periods. Whole-hearted cooperation was given to cleaning up the halls and cafeteria.

As sponsoring sales of tickets for the football and basketball games, and subscriptions to the Press and Paseo have always been part of the Council's work, a School Spirit Committee was newly formed to further support these projects.

Officers, elected last spring, served for the whole year. They were: president, Bill Bowman; vice-president, Dean Lueking; secretary, Jack Hirsekorn; treasurer, Betty De Jarnette; sergeant-at-arms, Jim Silvius.

Traffic Squad

The badge of the Traffic Squad, worn this year by eighty-eight junior and senior boys chosen for their character and leadership, commanded respect for those responsible students who gave an hour of each day to supervise and correct traffic in the halls and cafeteria.

Help shortages in the cafeteria were alleviated by the carry-away plan for dishes instituted by the Squad. The boys also kept students out of the halls during lunch hours and away from their lockers in class times.

Mr. J. C. Bond was sponsor for the first semester, and Mr. Lawrence Cannon served the second semester. Officers were: General, Bob Ahlvin; Captains, Blake Bush, Dean Lueking, and Ewing Williams; Lieutenants, Norman Fabes, Bob Ingels, Dick Ingels, and Jim Silvius; Sergeants, Sal Capra, Dick Donovan, and Kenneth Marker.

Health Room Assistants

These seven senior girls were chosen by Miss Powers, the school nurse, as her assistants in the health room. They helped with the freshmen and senior tuberculin tests and co-sponsored with the Paseo P.T.A., the Christmas T.B. stamp sales.

Office Assistants

Assisting in the office each day, these girls gain valuable experience in typing, filing, and office routine. Aside from this, they are the girls who write admits and assign overtime.

A. A. U. W.

Betty Ann Schmuck, top-ranking senior, is chairman of this group of girls who were selected in their freshman year for their scholastic ability.

Red Cross Council

As shown in the adjoining picture, Harriet Bigus, Betty De Jarnette, Marie Schmidt, Shirley Klevatt, John Larberg, Bob Ingels, and Jerry Kaplan, under the direction of Miss Pauline Wolfe, are the charitably-minded persons who represent Paseo in the city-wide Red Cross Council.

They attended all meetings of the Council and brought back information to the school. Filling the veterans' Christmas boxes was under their supervision, as was the annual Red Cross membership drive. Bob Ingels was chairman of the group.

¿Habla Ud. el español? If you do, there are good times to be had behind the portals of 412. Miss Nelle Cody's Spanish clubs had two initiations and feasts, a Christmas party at the Port, and many interesting meetings, besides the main event of the year—the Pan-American Banquet, which was held at the Hotel President. Many eminent guests witnessed the crowning of Dorothy Dubach as Pan-American Queen, and the presentation of the third-year medal for excellence in Spanish to Betty Schmuck.

Officers for El Ateneo were: Pat Sholders and Betty Schmuck, presidents; Betty Schmuck and George Sellars, vice-presidents; Sonia Snyder and Chaya Ettner, secretaries; Jerry Kaplan, treasurer; George Sellars and Don Smith, sergeant-at-arms.

Extra scholastic activities included singing at the Westport Presbyterian Church, the William Rockhill Nelson Gallery of Art, the Organists' Guild, and the Missouri State Teachers' Association. They will also sing at the Commencement exercises.

Orchestra, Band, and Mixer Band

These three groups, under Mr. Eugene Beeman's able generalship, furnish the instrumental music which we hear everywhere around school. The band, with Bill Hurst as Student Director, played at football and basketball games, for assemblies, P.T.A., Commencement, school plays, grade school concerts, and the All-City Band Festival. The proceeds of the Annual Spring Concert this year began a fund for new band uniforms.

Other officers are: secretary, Betty Lou Cowan; treasurer, Jerry Breitag; librarian, Vernon Bingaman; and quartermaster, Harris Lee.

And that smooth band whose music you heard at all the school dances and Inter-Society too, was our own Mixer Band, under the student direction of Jerry Breitag. They also played for the Variety Show, Assemblies, Home and Arts Night, and several civic programs.

The third group, which is pictured above, is the concert orchestra. Its officers were: student director, Vernon Bingaman; concert master, Jack Herriman; secretary, Joyce Cowling; treasurer, Mary De Shon, and librarian, James Cook. Grade school concerts, assemblies, Open House, P.T.A., Commencements, Spring Concert, and the All-City Orchestra Festival, were enlivened by their appearance.

English and Fine Arts Assembly

Several impressive tableaux, a play, square dances, and other performers illustrated the theme of "Art Is Universal and Eternal" in the annual assembly presented by the Senior English department. These pictures show Gladys Reeds as the Madonna, Sonia Snyder as Kwan Yin, Blake Bush as "Lefty" in "Western Night," and Mr. Bond presenting the poetry cup to Eileen Weinberg as Jerry Epstein looks on. Mary Miner, also a divisional winner, is not shown.

The Freshman Induction—once again an inspiration to the incoming freshmen, was originally Mr. Stigall's idea. This ceremony, when originated, was the only one of its kind in the country—since then it has become a tradition in many schools. By means of colorful tableaux, the ideals and opportunities of Paseo are presented.

Representing their class as Freshman Boy and Girl, Bobby Lee Morris and Annabelle Patterson were introduced to the figures representing the ideals of Paseo by the Senior Boy and Girl, George Sellars and Olivene Sharts. Portraying the figures were Barbara Loren, Silver Sincerity; Jim Ross, Blue of Loyalty; Bob Ingels, Red of Courage; Dorothy Dubach, Gold of Honor; and Dolores Travalent, Green of Youth. A faculty committee, composed of Miss Blase, Miss Betz, Miss Seehorn, Miss Swinney, Miss Taylor, Miss McGinnis, Miss Baity, and Mr. Crocker deserve much credit for their fine work on the production.

"Janie" was the timely comedy chosen for the Senior Play this year. Members of the large cast were: Charles Colburn, Benton Munday; Elsbeth Colburn, Jeanette Stahl; Lucille Colburn, Eleanor Parelman; Rodney, Richard Guest; John Van Brunt, Jerry Epstein; Janie Colburn, Betty De Jarnette; Bernadine Dodd, Jackie Lester; Paula Rainey, Dorothy Dubach; Scooper Nolan, Norman Fabes; Thelma Lawrence, Beverly Herschman; Dick Lawrence, Bill Lashbrook.

From a hundred hardy aspirants, including five veteran players, Coach Mount E. Davis formed an eleven that was always on top as far as spirit and teamwork were concerned, if just a little short on final point tabulations. The Pirates met the Rockhurst Hawks in their initial encounter, only to be turned back by a score of 13-0. Many rough spots were smoothed and Coach awaited the first interscholastic contest with Southwest. The Warriors had a powerful "war-party" and the Buccaneers went back to the hill licking their wounds after the 20-6 scuffle. Ready for more the team faced the Southeast Knights October 12 at Ruppert Stadium. Don Mathews, Jerry Breitag, and Martin Munson did credit to Alma Mater but couldn't alter the losing 16-0 score.

Knowing thoroughly what defeat meant the Bucs were determined to clip the wings of the Central Eagles and did that task neatly by walking away on the victors' end of a 12-6 count. Lionel Turner and Bob Zimmerman assured the win by exhibiting brilliant teamwork. The next encounter found Paseo opposing East, the league leaders. In the third stanza Bill Bowman snagged an East pass and raced some 90 yards for pay dirt. However, the Green and Black offensive rolled up 47 points to 12 for the Bucs.

A strong Buc line couldn't hold a powerful Ward combination in the next game and and the Bowman-Mathews aerial team couldn't balance the scores, but the squad held the Cyclones to a 13-0 win. November 3 saw the Pirates downing a favored Westport team 6-0. In the final exhibition the Northeast Vikings downed a fighting Buc crew 20-0.

The coveted football letter was awarded to: Bob Bonette, Bill Bowman, Jerry Breitag, Blakely Bush, Norman Fabes, Bob Izard, Jim Johnson, George Kennard, Horace Lansdon, Bill Lashbrook, Dean Luecking, Bill Marvin, Don Mathews, Norman Maltzer, Martin Munson, Ed Peterson, Gene Shay, Jim Silvius, Lionel Turner (captain), Jim Wood, and Bob Zimmerman. Receiving reserve letters were: Bob Baker, Ed Cleary, Dave Cowger, Delmar Hanan, Bill Hurst, Dick Karner, Bob Strieby, and Paul Sturm. George Kennard, left tackle, and Don Mathews, left end, received honorable mention on the all-city star squad.

Playing smooth ball and always showing that indomitable team spirit, a fighting Pirate cage crew wound up an exciting season with a 6 won, 5 lost record. Glennon was the first victim, 32-16.

The Bucs then traveled to Olathe, Kansas, where they toppled the Olathe High School team. Now ready for plenty, the "Red and Gold" confidently met Westport on the first night of interscholastic play, but though a furious contest ensued, the Tigers spurred in the last half to a 35-20 win.

The next game brought the "hard-to-beat" Ward Cyclones to the Pirate hardwood, but the crafty Dorneyemen were beaten back 27-20. Despite a tight zone defense against Northeast and a terrific battle, a 28-18 defeat was the final result.

Now, for two league contests the Bucs had been pent up, and something was bound to pop when they met East! The outcome—a barrage of Pirate points led by Bob Phillips to secure a 41-35 victory. The Bucs then went to Rockhurst to topple that team for the first time in three years, 33-22.

Ah! But the happy outlook was blackened once more by the Central Eagles who took the Pirates, 25-17. A tall Southwest crew was the next foe. During the encounter the lead changed hands many times and it was only in the final minutes that the lanky warriors used their height to advantage and took a 32-22 decision.

The next two ball games were payment of long hard work: Dean Lueking sparked his team in the Knight contest, tallying 10 counters in the 32-20 win. In the last night of play with Manual, Bob Phillips and Doug Keaton each potted 13 points while the quintet compiled an imposing 54-24 score.

Jim Silvius, a mainstay on the team, was chosen honorary captain. Phillips, lanky pivot man, gained a berth on the second team all-stars. Silvius and Keaton won honorable mention for their meritorious playing.

Winners of the Basketball letter were: Jim Silvius, Bob Phillips, Doug Keaton, Sal Capra, John Miller, Kenneth McCallister, Bill Marvin, Alex Krantz, Dean Lueking, and Dale Owings.

Third Row: Leonard Caskey, Leroy Woods, Richard Ward, Horace Lansdon.

Second Team Basketball

Second team cagers won their two initial games, defeating Glennon and Olathe, but lost the league opener to Westport. A Ward foe proved too much for the Pirate crew in a 22-26 tilt. The Central game was a heart-breaker, being lost by a point, and the tall Southwest seconds eked out a similar two-point win. The Bucs were outclassed in the Rockhurst fracas, but Manual fell before a strong Corsair squad, Bob Zimmerman and Dale Thorp making 26 points between them. The Pirates split the next pair, dropping the first to Southeast 26-29, and sinking an East five 42-13, and, ending the season, they trampled a Northeast team 27-21. Bob Zimmerman was elected honorary captain.

Second Team Football

A scrappy Buc reserve squad, ending the season with a .500 average, took setbacks in the grid encounters with Southwest 20-7, and with Southeast 18-0, but then went on to win three straight contests. "T.D.'s" by Jack West and Jim Flanagan helped the Pirates trounce an East crew 13-0, while Bill Schmuck hit pay dirt twice in the Central scrap to round out a 12-0 score. The Corsairs then whipped a Westport team 18-0, West, Schmuck, and Bob Phillips each tallying, but suffered a last game defeat at the hands of Northeast, and took a similar loss in the only non-league game with Ruhl-Hartman. Leon Flappan, outstanding player, was elected captain, while twenty-four other players were awarded second team letters.

Track

Track

As ye 1945 Paseon goes to press, the schedule of Pirate trasksters, coached by James Bradshaw, is yet to be completed, with only two dual meets held thus far. With six returning lettermen, Blakely Bush, Bob Izard, Martin Munson, Don Mathews, Bill Bowman, and Oscar Kastner, the cinder men looked to a more successful year than the previous one, but their hopes have been somewhat marred by defeat in their first two starts, being the initial meet to Northeast and then suffering another loss in the encounter with Southwest. But Buc chances are brightened by the fast sprinting of Bill Bowman, who piled up 13 points against Northeast and Blakely Bush and Bob Phillips.

A highlight in the track season was the inter-class day. Bob Izard coached the victorious juniors, who accumulated 53½ points. Coaching the other classes were: Blake Bush, helping the sophomores; Oscar Kastner, directing the seniors; and Bill Bowman, supervising the freshmen. Bob Phillips was the man to watch, totaling 15 points for his winning Junior squad.

Winning the first interscholastic crown was the 1944-45 Pirate swimming team's contribution to Paseo's many athletic honors. From more than 30 eager contestants a final squad of 13 finished the season, including Don Byers who came within 4.4 seconds of tying a state record for the 100-yard free style race, and a crack relay team who did not lose a contest in four starts.

Under the able coaching of James Bradshaw, the tank crew met Manual for their initial encounter. Tallying up 6 "firsts," the Bucs outswam the Manual stokers to a 43-14 victory. The Warriors from Southwest were the next to take their marks against the Pirate divers, only to be driven back to their tepees by a 30-27 defeat.

The final league meet with Northeast could mean a clean championship slate or a three way tie for the top position. True to form the Corsair swimmers led the Viking crew all the way, clinching the city title in the final event. For payment of a pre-meet wager, Mr. Bradshaw was thoroughly dunked in the briny depths by the team members, winding up a highly successful first year.

Winning the new Swimming letter were: Bob Bensted, Larry Bratschie, Bob Bonette, Lawrence Catron, Bob Ingels, Bob Strieby, Don Byers, Kenny Grim, Nierman Gregory, Dick Ebbert, and Gene Pryor. Returning to provide the nucleus for the '46 squad will be Byers, Grim, Gregory, Ebbert, and Pryor.

Girls' Athletics

"Living the active life of a gym student was the lot that fell to every freshman and senior, plus a number of sophomores and juniors. We seniors complained about having to take physical fitness, but I can't remember our reasons for doing so—I guess, being a nearly graduated individual, I have contracted that forgetfulness which is peculiar to old age.

"Well, anyway, after a lot of digging at home and hunting all over town, each of us produced the necessary equipment for gym: a blue garment known as a gym suit; some tennis shoes or reasonable facsimiles; a waterproof (?) bathing cap, which often looked more like the cover for a refrigerator bowl.

"We played hockey first—this was sure starting off the year with a bang! After our first engagements on the hockey field, I remember how we went around comparing our bruises gained from those mighty conflicts. Basketball followed hockey. Ordinarily, basketball is spelled as one word, but as far as I'm concerned it could be basket ball, for the two never seemed to meet for me. Just when we had nearly perfected our basketball plays, we had to start playing volley ball. Forgetting all previous feelings about this game, I must admit one of its net results was a lot of fun. We played aerial darts a few times, but did not have an interclass tournament as with other competitive sports. By this time, it was spring and time to go outside and play softball. I was one of those half-baked batters—the kind that's always done after three warm ups. Tennis was the final sport of the year. We had then reached the lowly state of serving a ball.

"Those were not our only activities, though, for we also went in swimming once or twice a week; we had classroom days; played ping pong in the annex; did calisthenics; and danced—we got a big kick out of the square dances.

"We also had a well planned after-school program. The basketball, volley ball, and softball playdays teams were chosen from those who participated in after school sports. Each of these teams contended against like teams of other schools on its individual playday. Miss Bradley was quite pleased with Paseo's standing. (That's my school!) Those girls who had gained sufficient points through entering into after school activities, were given school letters. Those who passed the junior lifesaving test in swimming are: Kay Gregory, Marian Rose, and Judy Lyter; Betty Barker, Phyllis Freeman, Olivene Sharts, and Martha Stout passed the senior test. Elsie Thomas won the all-school ping pong tournament, and Martha Stout was champion badminton player.

"This is just a brief summary. I haven't mentioned the life and death struggle occurring every time we got our baskets, the ribbing we took and enjoyed immensely, the clean gym suits we forget, our harmonizing of Christmas Carols, and so many things."
—A Senior.

R. O. T. C.

Under the new instruction of Sgt. R. C. Davidson, the Paseo R.O.T.C. battalion goes on record as having the largest enlistment in the history of the school. The cadet Major is Richard Haggard, who placed third highest in rank among the officers of the city and is Major on the Regimental Staff.

Captain George Swenson is the battalion adjutant and Captain James Donovan is the plans and training officer. The latter officer is in charge of the planning of maneuvers and the annual R.O.T.C. picnic. The supply room is in the charge of First Lieutenant Albert Stewart with Sergeants Jerry Connelly and Stanford Katz as the battalion supply sergeants. The battalion record and secretarial work is done by Staff Sergeant Raleigh Fleming, who is the Sergeant Major of the battalion.

A new feature in R.O.T.C. this year is the Enfield rifle. For the past two years cadets have been drilling with wooden Victory Trainers, and due to a surplus of Enfield rifles, the latter have been given to the Kansas City battalions to be used for drill and general rifle marksmanship.

This year the Kansas City regiment was the first one to have the federal inspection, which was held during the week of April 19-25. In past years the federal inspection was mostly oral and lasted about half a day. The inspection for this year was based on a written examination, and a full day inspection was held at each school.

Company A

Under the command of Captain Jack J. Hirsekorn, the largest company in the battalion this year has First Lieutenant Phillip Trusler as second in command and platoon leader, first platoon; Second Lieutenant Her-

Many awards and recognitions were given to the members of the team. Captain Wayne Spilker received a star for rifle marksmanship, and Lieutenant Henry McDonald and Private Gordon Brown received the rifle marksmanship ribbons. The latter cadet also received a star.

Private Fred Cohen goes on record as having the highest score in the prone position in the Seventh Service command. Private Brown fired the highest in the kneeling position in the Seventh Service command.

R.O.T.C. Ball

Major Richard Haggard and Miss Dorothy Dubach led the Grand March at the annual R.O.T.C. Ball which was held March 2 in the girls' gym. Miss Donna Chapman was crowned queen of the Ball, and Miss Audrey Bernstein and Miss Dorothy Dubach were the queen's attendants.

Two main presentations were awarded. The Swem Saber to the best second lieutenant in the battalion and the Gary Lee Tobolsky Cup. The Swem Saber was given to Lt. Henry McDonald. A new award this year was the Gary Tabolsky Cup which was awarded to Pfc. Robert Wood, the most outstanding private first class in the batallion. The gym was very attractively decorated by a special committee. This and many other things made this one of the best R.O.T.C. Balls that has been held for many years.

MISS BETZ

Learning to read and to converse in German was the enjoyable task of Miss Betz's homeroom. By conducting class work and homeroom activities in German, Fraeulein Betz helped her students to acquire a more practical knowledge of the language. Officers of the semesters were: Presidents, Dean Lueking and Dorothy Shields; vice-president, Carl Koffler; secretary, Marion Sorg; treasurers, Joan Davis and Mac Helberg; reporters, Ed Peterson and Bill Luce; sergeant-at-arms, Warren Rennieke; Student Council representatives, Dorothy Shields and Marion Sorg; alternates, Sherman Fabes and Marjorie Kelly; War Stamp treasurer, Bud Kellmer; assistant, Kismet Clayman.

MISS BLASE

This more than faithful homeroom of Miss Blase not only prepared their assignments for second year Latin each day (?), but also ranked high in most of the homeroom contests and more than tripled their goal of donations to the Red Cross. Officers for both semesters were: Presidents, Louise Huffman and Dick Cummings; vice-presi-

MR. BRADLEY

The students of homeroom 110 spent much of their class-time making possible Paseo's weekly sale of War Bonds and Stamps. MR. BRADSHAW

The boys in this first year gym homeroom really enjoyed calisthenics, but showed little enthusiasm for basketball, or have we got our facts twisted? Well, to go on, we should like to inform them, in case they were impressed another way, that their teacher, Mr. Bradshaw, highly praised them for their work in athletics. Their representatives to the Student Council were Don Guemple and Carleton Lindgren; the alternate was Joe Dameron. Bill Bowman took care of War Stamp sales each week.

MRS. BURTON

"No man's land"—this describes Mrs. Burton's third year sewing class. With no masculine distraction, the girls were able to concentrate on their work and become proficient in their skills and practices. They elected these officers for the year: Presidents, Virginia Hund and Dorothy Koepke; vice-presidents, Dorothy Koepke and Margaret Fogle; secretaries, LaJoy Derr and Georgia

Harrington; treasurers, Joan Fish and Katherine Ammon; reporter, Beverlemae Pohl; sergeant-at-arms, Beverly Vanice; Student Council representatives, Katherine Ammon and Carol Gramm; alternates, Carol Gramm and Joan Fish.

MR. CAMPBELL

Solving for "x" claimed the time of Mr. Campbell's first year algebra class. Hard-working and enthusiastic as they were over algebra, these students gave in to their teacher's plea and had a humdinger of a Christmas party. These officers were elected for the year: Presidents, George Satterlee and Donna Woolridge; vice-president, Kenneth Dubach; secretaries, Charlene McCoy and Charles Heller; reporter, Charlene McCoy; Student Council representatives, Eugene Kirk and George Satterlee; alternates, Donna Woolridge and Jim Rathke; War Stamp treasurers, Donna Woolridge and Charlene McCoy; assistants, Kathryn Koontz and Janice Zitron.

MISS CODY

Since Spanish will be one of the most important foreign languages after the war, many of Paseo's students enrolled in this course. The members of Miss Cody's homeroom were among those who enrolled for first year Spanish. These seniors and senioritas elected the following officers for both semesters: President, John Miller; vice-president, Nancy Lucas; sergeant-at-arms, Guy Boyer; Student Council representatives, Bill Schmuck and Jerry Coel; alternates, Orene Brown and Jacqueline Sheskin; War Stamp treasurer, Orene Brown; assistant, Arlene Morsman.

MISS CRISSMAN

Getting copy in on time was the main worry of Miss Crissman's homeroom. These newshounds were responsible for the editing of our own Paseo Press, famous for miles around. They elected the following people as their officers: President, Mary Miner; Student Council representatives, Bill Lashbrook and Sarah Purtzer; alternate, Leon Kupper; War Stamp treasurer, Isabelle Friedman.

MR. CROCKER

Mr. Crocker's homeroom climbed to greater heights—4th floor to state it definitely—in order to delve deep into our nation's history. Democratically, we'll have you know, the members of this second hour class elected the following officers: President, Jim Silvius; vice-president, George Sellars; secretary, Eugene Rapiet; treasurer, Norma Huddleston; sergeant-at-arms, Joseph Fountain; reporter, Judy Leslie; Student Council representatives, George Sellars and Bob Ahlvin; alternates, Pat Lewis and George Sellars; War Stamp treasurers, Helen Hoare and Elneta Richmond; assistants, Elneta Richmond and Betty Thurman.

The boys of Coach Davis's homeroom "accentuated" physical activities and "eliminated" mental strain. Perhaps this explains their reason for taking three years of gym. Stanley Lettas was the Student Council representative, Don Ebbert, the alternate; War Stamp treasurer was Gerald Bowman.

MISS DAUGHERTY

We were unable to discover any misdemeanors committed by Miss Daugherty's homeroom. The reason undoubtedly behind this is that these students were too engrossed in their study of Civics. Governing this second hour class were: Presidents, John Luman and Raymond Gould; vice-presidents, Mary Ure and William Walters; secretaries,

MISS ECKLES

In room 226, was Paseo's "problem" class—oops! We mean the American Problems class. With inquiring minds and knowledge of current events, Miss Eckles' students came to class each day, and we may now consider America's problems solved. Homeroom officers were: Student Council representatives, Wayne Spilker and Joyce Reboul; alternates, Mitchell Wood and Roger Evans; War Stamp treasurer, Joan Kerr.

MISS FAULKNER

Typists, one and all! (we hope). Learning to type with speed and no errors was the goal of Miss Faulkner's homeroom. The members of this second hour class chose these officers for the year: Student Council representatives, Ewing Williams, Gloria Horn, Alex Krantz, and Shirley Hansen; alternates, John Miller and Pat Maret; War Stamp treasurer, Dolores Rach.

Fourth Row: Bud Oliver, Robert Judeman, Raymond Erickson.

MR. FRANKLIN

World History was taught by Mr. Franklin to his second hour class, so it naturally follows that these scholars at times encountered one of their teacher's famous tests. They elected the following people as their officers: President, Dick Shively; vice-president, Bob Stottle; secretary, Arlen Wallis; treasurer, Carol Merritt; sergeant-at-arms, Lee Rue; Student Council representatives, Louise Senior; alternate, Carol Sims; War Stamp treasurer, Eugene Gelhaar; assistant, Louise Senior.

MISS GREENE

In addition to their study of Civics, these members of Miss Greene's homeroom started a correspondence with several English children. They were very much pleased at receiving a number of interesting letters from their English pen pals. Homeroom officers were: President, Robert Smith; vice-president, Doris Garrett; secretary, Helen Rogers; Student Council representative, Barbara Callaway; alternate, Helen Rogers; War Stamp treasurer, Annabelle Patterson; assistant, Gene Kopitnick.

MR. JOHNSON

The scarcity of garden tools meant nothing to the students of Mr. Johnson's homeroom, for they had the necessary skill and materials to make their own. This metal work class also produced kitchen chairs, plaques, saws, lathes, and many other useful articles. The officers for both semesters were: Student Council representatives, John Meyer and Doris Whaley; alternates, Francis Steehn and Jim Kelly; War Stamp treasurer, Jim Kelly.

Third Row: Francis Steehn, Jim Gumminger, Jim Storm, Marvin Wolfe, Leon Kueck, Gerald Hodgins, John Cloud, Leonard Carlson, Nicholas Herbst, John Drake.

MISS JOHNSON

The subject studied in Miss Johnston's second hour class was World History, so that is the reason you saw all the members of this homeroom carrying home those familiar blue books each night. We know their hard study will prove valuable to them. Officers serving this homeroom were: President, Dale Thorp; vice-president, Phyllis Sandbrook; secretary, Patsy Helm; treasurer, Ramon Koenig; sergeant-at-arms, Robert Switzer; Student Council representatives, Jo Ann Sturges and Margery Kastner; alternates, Margery Kastner and Rosemary Moody; War Stamp treasurers, Margery Kastner and Rosemary Moody; assistant, Kathryn Illig.

MISS JOHNSTON

Having second hour each day for doing homework not finished the night before helped a lot, so these scholars say. At Christmas time, Miss Johnston's homeroom indulged in a party with plenty of fun had by all. Officers they elected were: Presidents, David Campbell and Barbara Norman; vice-presidents, Ann Jouras and Barbara Fishman; secretary, Shirley Jones; treasurers, John Saeger and Marilyn Richards; Student Council representatives, Barbara Norman and Ann Jouras; alternates, Barbara Fishman and Shirley Jones; War Stamp treasurers, Harriet Medov and Mary Jo Peterson; assistants, John Saeger and Marilyn Richards.

MISS KAUFMAN

"In any right triangle, the square of the hypotenuse is equal to the sum of the squares of the other two sides" (courtesy Mr. Pythagoras), as can easily be proved by Miss Kaufman's homeroom after a year's study of geometrical propositions. This homeroom's officers are: Presidents, Bob Moore and Winthrop Wyman; vice-presidents, J. G. Luker and Beverly Slater; secretaries, Anna Lee Holloway and Joan Harris; treasurers, Anna Lee Holloway and Bob Hanson; reporters, Helen Greenburg and Lewis Schanker; sergeants-at-arms, David Crawford and Jim Flannegan; Student Council representatives, Dave Schmidt and Tom Lynch; alternates, Tom Lynch and Rose Marie Rutledge; War Stamp treasurer, Rose Marie Rutledge; assistant, Virginia Lee Jeter.

MR. KOENIG

We salute Mr. Koenig's homeroom for its splendid record in the sale of War Stamps and Bonds. Setting not only a school record, but also a city record, these boys were 100% in participation for fifty-two consecutive weeks. It is quite permissible for their top vest buttons to be missing. Officers of this homeroom were: President, William Sprandlin; vice-president, Bob McLeroy; secretary-treasurer, Charles Price; Student Council representative, Charles Owens; alternate, Billy Tucker; War Stamp treasurer, Frank Gossett.

Fourth Row: Don Byers, Porter Mitchell, Herbert Shour, Charles Best.

MISS LENHART

The students in Miss Lenhart's homeroom did not limit themselves to the study of American History, but also kept well informed as to the current events and their relationship with the past. Guiding the activities of this "historical" class during the year were the following: Presidents, Mildred Sefton and Ernest Holzapfel; vice-presidents, Ed Cleary and Jim Johnson; Student Council representatives, Shirley Ralls and Mildred Sefton; alternates, Kahleen Fisher and Beverly Muirhead; War Stamp treasurers, Rosemary Richards and Shirley Ralls; assistants, Kathleen Fisher and El Cleary.

MR. LOVEJOY

"There's a long, long trail awinding" up to 424 where the subject of the plants, insects, and birds was thoroughly explored by the members of Mr. Lovejoy's homeroom. Here you see real lovers of nature! Isn't that so, Mr. Lovejoy? Officers of the semesters: Student Council representatives, Joe Stewart and Herbert Shour; alternates, Dorothy Kolb and Ester Stahl; War Stamp committee, Shirley Baker, Roberta Winer, Frieda Siess, and Dick Gaul.

MISS MCGINNIS

These fellows and girls of Miss McGinnis's homeroom were really kept busy second hour. You see, this was a "study" hall. They did neglect their study for awhile though so that they could have a Christmas party with games and plenty of refreshments. The officers of this homeroom were: Student Council representatives, Gene Droskin and Janet Clifton; alternates, Janet Clifton and Thelma Schindler; War Stamp treasurers, Irene Johnson and Marilyn Finley.

MISS McMILLAN

"I dood it" or similar grammatical errors will never leave the lips of these freshmen, for Miss McMILLAN's homeroom spent much of their second hour studying English grammar. They put their learning to practice by giving oral reports before the class and writing special book reports. Officers for the year were: President, Colleen Crouse; vice-president, Ernestine Ward; secretary-treasurer, Stanley Block; Student Council representative, Jerry Higginbotham; alternate, Betty Bradshaw.

MISS MINCKEMEYER

The students of Miss Minckemeyer's second year algebra class knew all the answers, being aided, of course, by their answer books. Their problems, therefore, were quite easy, as they had only to discover how the answers were found. Officers of this homeroom were: Student Council representatives, Bob Delfs and Sal Capra; alternates, Melvin Rozier and Bob Phillips; War Stamp treasurer, Richard White.

MISS MITCHELL

Stout-hearted girls are these, since they led such a strenuous life in Miss Mitchell's home-room. Such sports as basketball and swimming were active enough, but those calisthenics really could wear a person down, or else build her up. This gym class elected these officers: Student Council representatives, Nancy Niemeyer and Sally Richardson; alternates, Jo Ann Heckert and Evelyn Brunn; War Stamp treasurer, Billie Updike; captains for sales contests, Mary Joyce Hale and Joan Barrett.

MISS MOLONY

Miss Molony's study hall homeroom in 109 laid aside their books each morning at 11:00 in order to hear the news broadcast, thus keeping well informed on local and national affairs. The officers they elected for the year were: President, Bob Klein; vice-president, Martha Timms; secretary, Larry Beamer; treasurer, Barbara Woods; reporter, Barry Davis; song leader, Martha North; Student Council representatives, Evan Hammett and Norman Fabes; alternates, Barry Davis and David Swyer; War Stamp treasurer, Darlene Ortleb; assistant, Grace Phillips.

MRS. REBER

The enthusiasm and spirit of these junior and senior girls in Mrs. Reber's homeroom knew no bounds. Entering wholeheartedly into each school activity, they lent their great wisdom and many talents wherever needed. They have a lot to remember, including the human science they learned. The following served as homeroom officers: President, Betty DeJarnette; vice-president, Pat Bales; secretary-treasurer, Dorothy Dubach; reporter, Jeanette Stahl; Student Council representative, Charlotte Saeger; alternates, Sally Hawkins and Carolyn Brew; War Stamp treasurer, Roberta Coldsnow; assistants, Laura Mae Walton and Joyce Bohling.

MR. RICHMOND

The students of Mr. Richmond's homeroom were kept in the limelight by speaking in assemblies and homerooms, at grade schools, and also on a radio program. By the way, they talked themselves into buying more football and basketball tickets than any other homeroom. Governing this homeroom were: President, Phil O'Leary; vice-president, George Swenson; secretary, Diane Grider; treasurer, Gladys Reeds; Student Council representatives, Oscar Kastner and Janet Seiter; alternates, Janet Seiter and Phil O'Leary; War Stamp treasurer, Gladys Reeds; assistant, Mary Lou Evans.

MISS SCHMIDT

With Miss Schmidt as "teacher," these students in homeroom 310 studied advanced art. Many of their works of art were on display in the school during the past year. Homeroom officers were: President, Douglas Keaton; secretary, Rosaline Baker; librarians, Rosemary Banner and Lyle Gelhaar; Student Council representative, David Campbell; alternate, Paul Fritts; War Stamp treasurer, Barbara Hands; assistant, Diane Daniels.

MRS. SHAWVER

It can be truthfully stated that the members of Miss Shawver's homeroom entered into their share of our school's activities. Incidentally, we might add that they had a little time left in which they learned all about first year algebra. The Student Council representatives were Charles Kahn and Leo Sturm; alternates were Stanley Weinsheink and Joan Harrison. War Stamp treasurers were Norman Meltzer and Bobby Smith; assisting were Stanley Weinsheink and Gertrude Yodler.

MISS TAYLOR

Unusual as it is, the stronger sex seems to have had the upper hand in Miss Taylor's junior English homeroom. This we concluded from the following elected officers: Joe Proctor, president for both semesters; Don Rudnick and Herbert Cohen, vice-presidents; Jerry Connelly and Beverly Tucker, secretaries; Herbert Cohen and Clifford Dillard, treasurers; Clifford Dillard and Howard Kahn, sergeants-at-arms; Horace Lansdon, reporter. (Politics—the girls were outnumbered!) Dorothy McGuire was War Stamp treasurer; assistants were Jewel Venyard and Barbara Planzer.

MRS. WARREN

First year art was studied by Mrs. Warren's second hour class. Their course of study started with printing, which was followed by chalk work, the study of color harmonies, the practice of figure drawing, and finally sketching. Their officers for the year were: President, Janice Low; secretary-treasurer, Norma Peterson; Student Council representative, Jeannine Kahn; War Stamp treasurer, Charles Henel; assistant, Charles Cowger.

MISS WEEKS

English literature was tossed about by the seniors in Miss Week's homeroom, but we predict it will survive in spite of this. All facetiousness aside, though, they had many interesting discussions beginning under the influence of this subject. The officers they elected were: Presidents, Ruthe Diefendorf and Rosemary Klausman; vice-presidents, Sonia Snyder and Bill Maize; secretary-treasurers, Ed Guthrie and Shirley Carr; reporters, Marjorie Edwards and Ann Harper; Student Council representatives, Ann Harper and Ruthe Diefendorf; alternates, Blakeley Bush and Albert Stewart; War Stamp treasurers, Albert Stewart and Doris Eikenbary; assistants, Christine Snow and Bob Bensted.

MR. WEHRLE

It seems as though the invention of the flying machine had something to do with Mr. Wehrle's class, called aeronautics. Well, anyway, both the boys as well as both girls came through with "flying" grades. Presidents were Bob Bonette and Charles Shreve; vice-presidents, Jimmie Wood and Bob Lyon; secretaries, Vernon Bingamon and Barney Foster; reporters, Barney Foster and George Burras; sergeants-at-arms, Charles Shreve and James Colton; Student Council representatives, Shirley Ferdina and Jimmie Wood; alternates, Stanley Epstein and Betty Cowan; War Stamp treasurer, Betty Cowan; assistant, Dick Donovan.

MR. WITHERS

The interest shorthand held for the students of Mr. Withers' homeroom can hardly be realized—why, nearly every time we saw them, they were writing shorthand. Yes, this subject, mysterious to the lower classmen, is familiar to them. Their homeroom officers were: Student Council representatives, Shirley Bennett and Shirley Zito; alternate, Yvonne Eastham; War Stamp treasurer, Irma Jean Wiley; assistant, Yvonne Eastman.

MISS WOLFE

We have Miss Wolfe's homeroom to thank for much of our entertainment this year. Putting their talent to good use, these Drama Workshop students took part in many of the plays presented in assemblies and shows. These officers were elected for the year: Presidents, Dorothy Hilbert and Donna Chapman; secretaries, Mabel McKinstry and Shirley Lindauer; War Stamp treasurers, Shirley Klevatt and Dorothy Hilbert; assistants, Lora Gilmore and Beverly Kresse.

MISS WULFEKAMMER

Miss Wulfekammer's homeroom being a third year cooking class could have the kind of parties everybody likes, and they did, too. They also helped along the P. T. A., not saying how much, by furnishing refreshments for its meetings. These students served as officers during the year: President, Joan Cunningham; vice-president, Darlene Bender; secretary, Marjorie Smith; sergeant-at-arms, Alan Birkett; critic, Minnie Jo Fisher; reporter, Barbara Falk; Student Council representative, Pat Clippard; alternate, Shirley McElligott; War Stamp treasurer, Marjorie Smith; assistant, Mary Smith.

MISS ZIMMERMAN

Familiar or unfamiliar, those strains of music which floated through the halls second hour originated not in the clouds, but in Miss "Jimmy's" homeroom, which is only on the fourth floor. This first year music class elected the following officers: President, Joan Macey; vice-president, Marjorie Phillips; secretary, Billie Williams; reporter, Elaine Lewis; Student Council representatives, Marjorie Phillips and Barbara Davis; alternates, Jay Palmer and Bill Stephens; War Stamp treasurer, Joan Lemon; assistant, Annette Gressman.

Class of '47

Experienced with the trials of program changes and the frequent appearance of over-time study hall cards, the sophomore class continued as an integral part of Paseo's student body. The Student Council, chartered clubs, R.O.T.C., and other organizations claimed many sophomores, and a few promising athletes were weeded out for next year.

Capably led by the following officers, the Sophomore Triangle of the Girl Reserves took up many interesting and patriotic projects: President, Anna Lee Holloway; Vice-President, Beverly Slater; Secretary, Margaret Dickinson; Devotional, Jo Ann Harris; Music, Shirley Hamilton; Pianist, Mary Gay Stephenson; Service, Arlene Morsman; Social, Barbara Esterle.

The Sophomore Mixer committee cooperated fully with the school in giving those after school "jive sessions." Larry Nelson, Carol Merritt, Mary Gay Stephenson, and Dick Kelley were the mixer boosters.

With two more years ahead, the class of '47 is already showing that it will be outstanding in athletics, scholarship, and school pride.

Class of '48

We have almost forgotten that in the early part of the school year, 422 hardy and courageous souls ventured into a new and exciting world. To these "pioneers," many of whom are outstanding, go the thanks and best wishes of the Senior Class.

At the annual Freshman Induction, Bobby Morris and Annabelle Patterson were chosen to represent the Freshman Class. Swinging into school activities, the first mixer was held, with the following committee in charge: Janice Low, Dick Fowler, Billy Chabino, and Jo Ann Heckert. Participating on the Student Council, they were also represented on the Executive Board by Sally Richardson and George Satterlee.

The Highest Honor Roll boasted many Freshman; Marjorie Phillips, Rita Copaken, Sally Richardson, Ann Eylar, and Donna Wooldridge, being the proud and wise students.

A successful year was spent by the Freshman Triangle of the Girl Reserves, headed by the following officers: President, Barbara Davis; Vice-President, Beverly Hill; Secretary, Nancy Niemeyer; Treasurer, Annabelle Patterson; Social, Marilyn Tredway; Membership, Donna Hoglund; Service, Betty Meek; Devotional, Dorothy Shepp; Pianist, Nancy Edsell; Songs, Marjorie Phillips. Once more the year draws to a close, but not before the Freshman Poetry Reading Contest was held and Emily Cassidy emerged the winner.

So until next fall, the Senior Class wishes to present their deepest congratulation—for sticking it out this long.

Junior Officers

First Row (Bottom): Joe Ann Ogg, Phil O'Leary, George Kennard, Mary Ellen Whitney. Second Row: J. G. Luker, Jo Ann Emert, Chuck Lancaster.

Junior Officers

PHIL O'LEARY—Phil was elected president of the junior class, undoubtedly because of his wide interest in Paseo activities. He was a cheerleader, member of the tennis team, and in the Engineers, Hi-Y, Discussion Club, and representative to the All-City Student Council.

J. G. LUKER—J. G. was in the Pan-American League, El Ateneo, Student Council, and Traffic Squad, besides being elected Gift-Receiver for the class. You also saw him sleeping at the games as one of the cheerleaders.

GEORGE KENNARD—Juntos, Hi-Y, and the football field claim the spare time of this "tiny" vice-president of the junior class. He played well enough to rate an All-Star honorable mention and also received a basketball reserve letter.

JO ANN EMERT—Secretary of the junior class, Jo Ann was also on the Paseo press and in A Cappella. A member of Zetas, she has the popularity to achieve many honors before next June.

CHARLES LANCASTER—Treasurer of the class, "Chuck" was in Juntos and Hi-Y. He lettered on the basketball second team and is expected to rank high next year. Good luck follows this popular junior.

MARY ELLEN WHITNEY—"Whit" pepped up the entire school with her charm and vivacious personality. She was sergeant-at-arms of the junior class, member of Zetas, Pan-American League, and the Student Council.

JOE ANN OGG—Joe Ann was a member of the Pan-American League and on the Paseo Press. She represented Zetas on the Inter-Club Council and also served as reporter of the class.

YOURSELF

SENIOR OFFICERS

FREDERICK DEAN LUEKING—Dean takes offices with the speed that he exhibits on the basketball court; he was president of the Senior Class, treasurer of his Junior Class, vice-president of the Student Council, and president of Juntos Literary Society. An outstanding basketball letterman, he also played first team football. Dean's cheery smile will take him far with the aid of his friendliness and determination.

BETTY DE JARNETTE—"Betty De" was giftorian of the Senior Class, gift receiver of her Junior Class, president of Zetas, vice-president of A Cappella, treasurer of Student Council, and a member of Girl Reserves. She aided in the preparing and opening of our Pirates' Port and is extremely popular with all of the student body. Junior College will be her next stop.

JAMES EDWIN SILVIUS—Vice-president of the Senior Class, Jim also was the vice-president his Junior year. The Juntos are proud of Jim as is Paseo for his football accomplishments and his skill at basketball, for which he was given honorable mention on the All-Star team. An Eagle Scout, he also was on the Traffic Squad, Student Council, and in the A Cappella. The Navy attracts Jim, and we know he'll make good in it.

ANN FRANCES HARPER—The Senior Class chose Ann as their secretary. She was president of Cynthians, president of Girl Reserves, secretary of Discussion Club, feature editor of Paseo, vice-president of Interclub Council, a member of Quill and Scroll, and was another pretty nurse's assistant. This future journalist will attend Junior College.

DOROTHY LOUISE SHIELDS—Treasurer of her Senior Class, sgt.-at-arms of her Junior Class, secretary of Zetas, president of Discussion Club, worship chairman of Girl Reserves, nurse's assistant, and associate editor of the Paseo were just a few of Dot's many achievements. She'll enter K.C.U. with many other Paseo graduates and her pleasing personality will help her along the road to fame!

ROBERT C. AHLVIN—Bob's friendly ways won him the sgt.-at-arms of the Senior Class, and Junior Class reporter. He was president and Keatonian of the Keats Literary Society, General of the Traffic Squad, Hi-Y treasurer, R.O.T.C. Captain, Paseo Press reporter, and cheerleader. Hunting on the family farm took up lots of his time, but he won't have to hunt long to find success wherever he goes.

DOROTHY JEAN DUBACH—"Duthy" was elected reporter of the Senior Class, president of Zetas, and treasurer of the Pan-American League. She was also in the Girl Reserves, El Ateneo, and the Gold Figure in the Freshman Induction. Spanish was her favorite, but she has the ambition to be a radio announcer. Junior College will take this popular and charming Paseo Senior.

Senior Will

With hearty congratulations and backslaps from our families and friends, tumultuous cheers from next year's seniors, and a minimum of tears from the faculty, the class of '45 is at last ready to take its formal leave of Paseo's halls and favorite haunts. We decided, however, that four years is a long time to spend building up habits and personalities and what-have-you, just to walk away and leave it all, so we're doing something entirely new and original. Being sly ones, we've decided to leave (surprise!) a Senior Will bequeathing our various possessions to the Class of '46. We'll expect only the best of care to be taken of them, so with that in mind, we'll immediately break the suspense and proceed as planned.

Bill Bowman is to be remembered for his all around likability and just being a good guy with Phil O'Leary coming up to carry on for him. Betty De Jarnette leaves that (Oh, you girl, yum, yum!) reputation to Joe Ann Ogg. Taking personality from Dean Lueking and Helen Hoare will be Chuck Lancaster and Joan Cunningham. "Bink" Huffman and Larry Bratschie's swooning will be handed to Jo Ann Emert and Joe Proctor on a silver platter a la love-bird. Since Dorothy Shields goes out, we'll have to leave the famous Shield's tradition unfilled. Thanks for everything, Dot!

Exchanging gorgeous blond wigs will be Dorothy Dubach and Mary Ellen Whitney. Jim Silvius leaves his muscles (or are they just football pads?) to George Kennard and expects him to be a winner next year.

Martha Laue and Arthea North take over where Pat Sholders and Betty Ann Schmuck leave off to bring their class out of a scholastic rut. Ann Harper leaves her big brown eyes to Pat Maret and Bob Phillips will shoot those buckets for Dale Owings.

The responsibility of carrying on Ruthe Diefendorf's ever-pleasant ways will fall on Judy Leslie and Georga Harrington will be heir to Sally Hawkins's refreshing quality of sincerity. Meanwhile, Bill Hurst casually leaves his easy going manner to Duane Nelson.

Dependability boy, Jack Hirsekorn, thinks Jerry Kaplan will do well in his shoes (size 11) and Hank Sprague is looking forward to the (shall we say) convenience of Larry Silks's little red book.

Editor Jimmy Ross says he wants to be left to Bob Delfs so Bob Delfs will fill the tough position of living up to the Ross characteristics. Rosemary Bohon will assume Marie Schmidt's duty of head-diplomat, and we mustn't forget that Horace Lansdon will occupy Martin Munson's niche by always having the right answer at the right time.

It seems that Yvonne Eastham is the only one qualified to take up Shirley Rall's role of little, cute, and fascinating femme fatale. The logical one to carry Bob Strieby's appealing mannerisms in his absence is Kenny Grim, the Ewing Williams leisurely passes on that exhausting stride to Larry Dallam. And Bob Ahlvin has been whitewashing his special straitjacket and all for Phil Johnson.

Lively "Jinky" Kahn can see no other but Shirley Zito (of the same specifications) to occupy her throne after the diplomas have been handed out and Janice Wiseman has been breaking in Martha Timms to take over for her as the "China Doll" for '45.

Roberta Coldsnow's coveted position of prettiest girl will go to Shirley McElligot and "Mike" Sorg inherits Sonia Snyder's common sense. Next year's seniors must have their red-heads, so Pat Lewis and Johnny Ann Evans will be appointed to carry on for Rita Johnson and Bob M:Grath.

Nancy Lucas and Sally Purtzer will pick up where Martha Jo Huff leaves off in keeping their class in good spirits, and those oh-so-broad shoulders Bob Ingels has tacked on will be for Dick Marshall to sport next year.

Jo Ellen Parsley leaves that certain eye flutter to Norma Huddleston to have and to hold—(boys?), and Diane Grider is still auctioning off her wardrobe to Gloria Horn.

Well, we've had our little say so we'll strike out for the nearest door before you've had a chance to have your little say. That's all our lawyer will allow us to give (the rest goes to charity, you know) so we'll have to sign off.

Nine Months on

September—The annual battle begins with a big enrollment but the usual manpower shortage. Freshmen are duly inducted officially and otherwise. Mr. Stigall's portrait is presented to the school in a surprise assembly with talks by Betty De and Dean Lueking. Bucs bow 13-0 in our annual defeat by Rockhurst. First Press comes out published by Quill and Scroll with Pat Sholders at the helm. Southwest Indians scalp Pirates 20-6 in the first league game of the year.

October—A "coke dance" at the Pirates' Port led off October's social season and other activities included a Hallowe'en party with Keats Literary Society carrying off the prize for the most successful booth. Daisy Houston rocks school starring in Friday 13th assembly. The Press staff elects Jerry Kaplan to represent Paseo in the newly-instituted, weekly, school news-casts over KMBC. Corsairs are trampled by East, Ward, and Southeast but in turn, manage to topple Central Eagles.

November—Grateful studes take time out for a three-day vacation during the Missouri State Teachers Convention.

That teachers convene
Is a modified blessing,
There absence is keen
But our homework distressing.

Serious-minded students pay off election bets. (Eh, Lash?) A school-wide drive to stop hitch-hiking is begun with a special assembly. Jim Ross is elected editor of the Paseo and organizes staff for . . . work!! First snow of the year falls (all .001 of an inch) to remind us that it's time to begin Christmas shopping.

December—The inter-society barn dance with Mr. Richmond's scarecrow presiding started out the holiday social season. Lionel Turner's teammates chose him captain of the football squad. Our basketball season is opened successfully with the defeat of Glennon and Olathe. Dean Lueking takes over duties of piloting the seniors as class president. Selected as giftorian and vice-president were Betty De and Jim Silvius. Coach Bradshaw directs newly-instituted intra-mural sport of wrestling. El Ateneo holds its annual Christmas pinata party at the Pirates' Port with much success. Paseo-ites leave for the usual holiday round of receiving gifts and going down-town to exchange them.

Four Floors . . .

January—January's entrance saw the appointment of Richard Haggard as Major of the R.O.T.C. battalion. Jerry Kaplan is elected editor of the Press and Mary Miner, associate-editor. Enthusiastic Paseoites jive at Dizzy Izzy Dance at Port. "Thanks for Everything" assembly honors Mr. Stigall, who retires after eighteen years as Paseo's mentor and over fifty years in the public school system of Kansas City. Among the distinguished speakers were Mayor John B. Gage, Dr. Herold C. Hunt, and H. Roe Bartle. The Tabolsky cup is presented to Bob Wood as the outstanding first year Pfc. The juniors pass out offices to Phil O'Leary, J. G. Luker, George Kennard, Chuck Lancaster, Joe Ann Ogg, Jo Ann Emert, and Mary Ellen Whitney.

February—That boy did it again! Bill Bowman gets himself elected president of the All-City Student Council to add to his other honors. A new yell introduced in a pep assembly fails to ward off defeat by Central, 25-17, but revived Bucs come through Southeast and Manual games, top-scorers. Other athletic victories include swimming meets with Manual, Southwest, and Southeast at the Paseo pool to make our tank men city champs. Coach Bradshaw received a dunking by celebrating team-members, Bob Strieby, Larry Bratschie, Charlie Pryor, Bob Bensted, Don Byers, and Bob Ingles. The first junior meeting gets plans under way for purchase of senior rings and senior prom.

March—Donna Chapman, vivacious junior, leads off March presiding as queen of the R.O.T.C. ball. Attendants were Audrey Bernstein and Duthy Dubach. The annual P.T.A. assembly head lined three plays—Junior's Mustache, The Ghost of Jerry Bundler, and I'm a Fool, presented by the D.W. An Assembly was also given by the English department and a Junior Town Meeting by speech students. Home and School Night presented by faculty and students plugs non-solid subjects.

April—The track season opens with Northeast turning back the Pirates in the first inter-scholastic meet and the Juniors winning the inter-class tourney. In an impressive program, the National Honor Society members are inducted. Couples dance to Johnny Coons' orchestra at the Junior-Senior Prom held at the Little Theatre.

May—Betty De, Bill Lashbrook, and Norman Fabes star in the Senior Play, "Janie." Long suffering seniors clip juniors' locks on Senior Day.

June—Graduation comes at last for the seniors (some of 'em anyhow.)

The Spirit of '45

List', my juniors, and you shall hear
The perfect story of we seniors this year.
We, the class most likely to succeed
Did it without doing a studious deed.

We have all the beautiful girls,
And all the brains to boot,
"Trig'" never sets our heads in whirls
And our boys are really zoot!

Why, we can keep our prattle goin',
And we can do things up right,
We go to football games even tho' it's snowin',
We can open our lockers without a light!

We have Munson, the gent style horse,
And Bush's wit, which really disarms.
We have Sholders and that 5-1 course

Of course there's Bowman in his busy shoes,
And editor Ross ready to turn on the heat,
Plus Bink and Larry, their fights and coos,
To make up a class both solid and reet.

Our Martha Jo can keep 'em in the aisle,
And Kastner we boast an Encyclopedia hound,
While Silks has priority on numbers to dial
And Ralls is the most glamorous ever found.

Also we brag on the E. Williams stride,
And Dubach and Coldsnow and Parsley so fair,
Not to mention the games Silvius tied—
All of which makes us a class really rare.

Now if you find you're needin' some help
Just consult the '45 Hall of Fame,
And when we hear your call or yelp
We know you love us, just the same.
