ADMINISTRATORS LEAD THE WAY

Here at Paseo, we strive to combine academics and the arts to achieve excellence with success. It takes self-determination, good study habits and ambition. Our goals are to achieve success in school and to prepare ourselves in whatever we choose to do in the future. We know that with appropriate leadership these goals will be accomplished.

PIRATES IN ACTION

Mr. Couhlin teaches to a wide awake class.

Mr. Walker show us his new creative dance move.

Ms. Prude tells Michael Lopez for the last time, "I've got a man!"

Clarissa Edmondson exhibits master makeup skills.

Activities

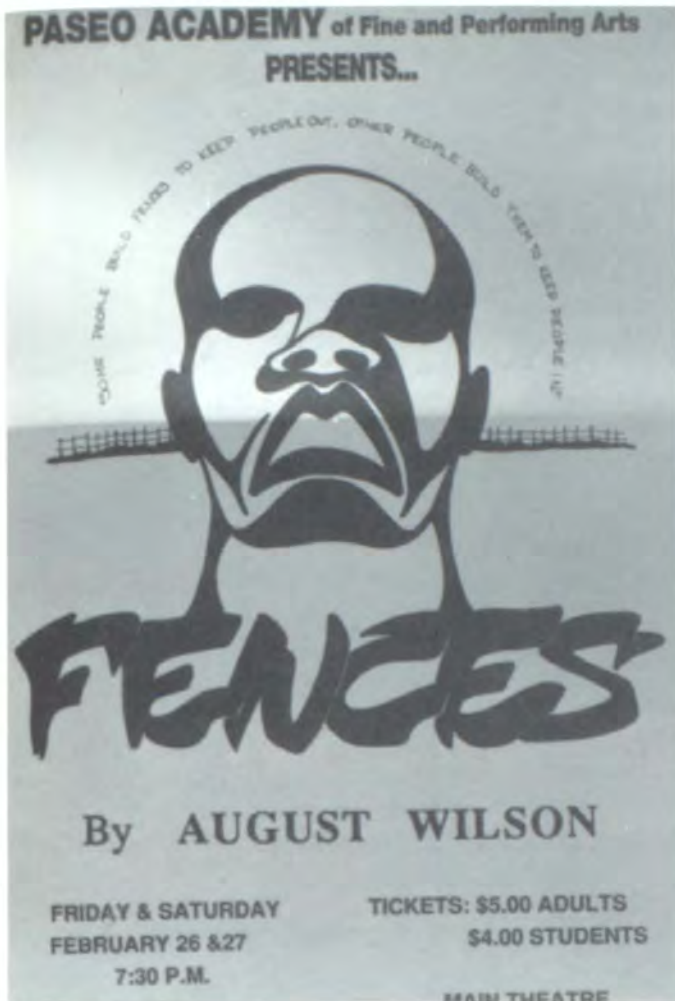

Kisa Bell and Dani Haseltine exhibit creative costumes for the Paseo Mardi Gras celebration.

Brandi White tastes Mardi Gras delights.

David Barret and Nat Kelly "rock around the clock" in Grease.

Fences written by African-American playwright, August Wilson was magnificently performed by 7 student actors. After being snowed out on the weekend our students prevailed with outstanding performances by all. The lead thespians were Dwayne Woods as Troy and Ernestine Boles - the devoted wife of Troy. This play was scheduled to be performed in commemoration of Black history month. Thanks to the hard work and dedication of Mr. Erbe, director, Mr. Blackwood, set & design, Ms. Conner, costuming and makeup and Ms. Dickey, sound & lights, Fences proved to be a successful production.

Grease was the first main stage performance in our new facility. This production gave over 75 of our students an opportunity to "strut their stuff" in a variety of ways. Grease was superbly performed by many talented students and opened to rave reviews in December 92. Our lead student actors were Natalie Sullivan as Sandy and Jim Henley as Danny. The diligence and expertise of Mr. Hogue as director made this play a "must see." Again, thanks to Mr. Erbe, asst. director, Mr. Walker and Ms. Ernst, choreographers, Ms. Connor, costuming & design and Mr. Sampsell, pit orchestrator, all of with whom success is synonymous.

WHERE THE ACTION IS

Tiffany Foster and Stacy Mowry enjoy our Halloween extravaganza.

Lamont Edwards shakes it up in his creative Wanda costume.

Dr. Corey Scott escorts Lamont "Wanda" Edwards to the emergency room.

Marlon Stewart expresses himself on canvas.

Amy Barber shows off a costuming department special.

Milton Wright poses for the camera while Marcus Harper gives us a drum beat.

Socializing and harmonizing at a school dance.

HOMECOMING ROYALTY 92-93

Senior King and Queen - Miss Tameria Jefferson and Ronnie Nevels.

This year at Paseo the yearbook staff and sponsors decided to have a "Homecoming." this was not a traditional football homecoming, but a celebration in honor of Paseo being back at home upon the hill. Our students voted on royalty for each grade level. The candidates were then presented to the students and staff in our first all school assembly this year. The following evening at a semi-formal dance the winners were announced and all celebrated in style!

Senior Attendants - Miss Antoinette Jackson, Mr. Jason Mabin, Miss Elda Pecina and Mr. Jamille Griffin (not pictured).

Junior Prince and Princess - Miss Lashana Thomas and Mr. Laurence Smith.

MORE ROYALTY

Freshman Prince and Princess - Miss Shenora Shaw and Mr. Juan Qualls.

Dedicated dancers, Amy Ogea, Ms. Ernst and Candice Schwalm selling Paseo attire for their department.

Dancer, Salynda White reaches for the stars.

Artist, Dawn Blackman perfects her self portrait.

BLACK HISTORY MONTH - A SCHOOLWIDE SUCCESS

During February, many faculty and departments expanded their usual culturally diverse lessons to include extra assemblies and performances by a number of departments and organizations. Mr. Hopkins educated us with a daily black history lesson, the dance department and the NIA organization performed separate assemblies and thanks to Mr. Riley we were also exposed to the expertise of Dr. Margaret Burroughs and musically educated in a one woman show by the multi-talented Mrs. Maggie Brown.

Dr. Margaret Burroughs educating a student on his art.

The talented Monique Jones gracing an audience with her dance presence.

Ms. Goode, NIA sponsor, was very pleased with her student performers.

A BUILDING IS DEDICATED

"REMEMBER WHO YOU ARE"

On October 18, 1992 a building dedication was held to present The New Paseo to the alumni, students, parents and local dignitaries. During the dedication a plaque was presented to Principal Patti Bippus, from the alumni. The plaque now hangs in the front hall near the office. Students and Staff at Paseo Academy for the Fine and Performing Arts would like to say, "Thank You" to the alumni for their continuing support.

YEARBOOK ROYALTY

Yearbook Royalty, Nyree Powell, April Blackman, and Katosha Drummer

Thank you, Queen Nyree Queen April and Queen Katosha

The yearbook royalty for 92-93 was chosen by the sponsors based on their dedication, willingness to work many hours and their all around help in making deadlines. The majority of the pictures in the yearbook were photographed by these three ladies. Again, thank you for your hard work and assistance.

Mrs. Dixon & Mrs. Horne

Dawn Blackman and Tim Ely share a hug and a smile.

Shawn Lyons plays saxophone music

Trish Moore and Kerry Nelson display their feelings about leaving school at 2:45.

Anxious students gossip on their way to class

Students enjoy the Mardi Gras festivities.

Eryke Hastert works while listening to her sounds.

Yolanda Coleman offers a friendly smile as the librarian aide.

Oops!!! Another baby picture. Guess who? ... It's Christina Wilcox.

Malika, Michelle, Tina and Derrick concentrate on Geography.

Isn't she lovely! Again, guess who? ... Why, it's Nikkita Williams!

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

We would like to thank all the students and staff for their help in completing the 1992-93 Yearbook. Special thanks go to Ms. Kathy Mendenhall and Mr. Mario Jordan for their expert assistance in photography, and to Mr. Joe Coughlin for the beautiful calligraphy. Also our student volunteers put in many late hours and caught many activity buses. As yearbook sponsors we want to express our gratitude to any person we forgot to mention. We hope you have enjoyed the 1992-93 yearbook and hope to see you next year. Congratulations to the graduating Seniors. YOU ARE SO BEAUTIFUL!
