HISTORY OF THE SCHOOL

Country Day School was founded in 1910 and was the third of the Country Day Schools in the nation. Pembroke School, founded in 1925 at Seventy-fifth and State Line, joined the older school in 1933 to form Pembroke-Country Day School.

The school has always maintained high scholastic standards. It has been accredited by the North Central Association, the University of Missouri and the Missouri State Department of Education. But more important is the reputation our graduates have given Pembroke-Country Day School among the colleges of the nation. Throughout the nation, but especially in the Middle West, Pem-Day is recognized as a leader and a producer of leaders.

With this record of achievement behind it Pem-Day looks ahead to a new era. The physical plant of the school is in need of drastic and immediate improvement. A new set of buildings has been planned since 1930 when Schuyler Ashley House, the dormitory, was built. Construction of the new dormitory addition is well under way at this writing, and completion is expected by Christmas. A gymnasium and new upper, lower and middle school buildings will complete the group. The new gym will be started this fall and will fill an old need, for the present gymnasium was erected as a temporary building twenty years ago. Plans call for a two-story building with an auditorium and three basketball courts.

The middle and lower school buildings will come next, followed by a new upper school. The campus will be completed with fountains, garden and proper landscaping. The entire project, known as the Memorial Quadrangle, will be dedicated to Pembroke-Country Day School's servicemen in both World Wars. Judging from the returns in the money-raising campaign thus far, the drive will be a success. When building materials become available once more, Pembroke-Country Day School will have an attractive and efficient campus.

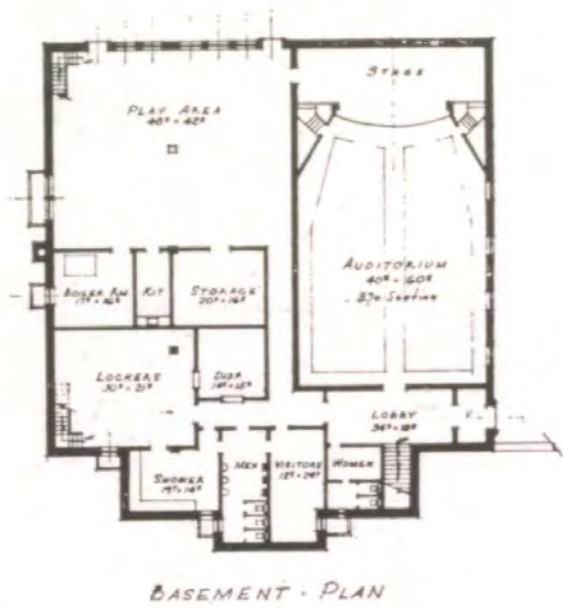

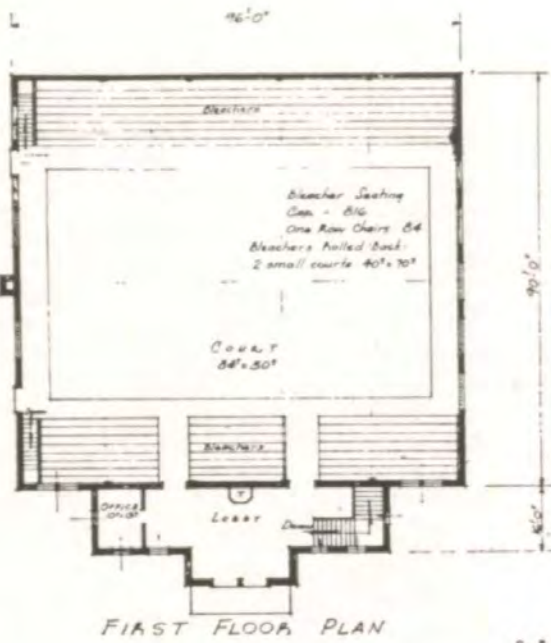

These changes, great as they may seem, will not actually alter the purposes of the school. It will continue to offer a program which will provide "the best possible preparation for responsible citizenship in a democracy." This year has been a continuance of the usual Pembroke-Country Day tradition of striving toward the founders' ideals of scholarship and citizenship.

The first and second floors can be converted to rooms for students if the need arises.

Above are pictured the members of the Board of Trustees. This body is entrusted by Pem-Day's charter with almost all of the powers of actual ownership. They must make all final decisions as to the policies and the personnel of the school. The headmaster is responsible directly to them. The Board of Trustees is a self-perpetuating body with a third of its fifteen members elected by the remainder of the board each year. This year the president of the Board of Trustees was Irvine O. Hockaday. The other officers were Judge Leslie A. Welch, vice-president; Harold R. Jones, secretary; Oscar M. Straube, treasurer. The chairmen of the standing committees were John T. Pierson, Memorial Fund; Mason L. Thompson, Buildings and Grounds; Justin D. Bowersock, Scholarship; Dr. J. Milton Singleton, Athletics; Joyce C. Hall, Publicity; Wilson D. Wood, Insurance; Oscar M. Straube, Finances. Mrs. Marvel H. Davis, A. L. Gustin, Jr., Raymond W. Hall, Paul Hamilton and Cornelius Lombardi are also members of the Board. Present at all meetings but without power to vote are the ex officio members. One is Mrs. Robert M. Isenberger, president of the Parents Association, and the other is George C. Jordon, president of the alumni group. While it is not essential that members of the Board have sons in the school, they must be genuinely interested in it. Thus far, this condition has always been met, and Pembroke-Country Day School has had the type of leadership which insures success.

ADMINISTRATION

The headmaster of Pembroke-Country Day, Mr. Bradford Kingman, who is pictured on this page, decides the policies of the school along with the board of trustees. Mr. Kingman is a graduate of Dartmouth, and came to Pem-Day in 1943. He received his master's degree at Columbia University. He has proved to be a very capable leader and a friend to all. He is well liked by both faculty and students.

Along with Mr. Kingman there are three other people who have an important part in the operation of the school. They are Mrs. Hal Jones, secretary; Mrs. Virginia Barnes, secretary and publisher of the Pembroke-Country Day "News," and Mr. S. C. McFadden, bursar. Mr. McFadden handles all the financial odds and ends which concern the school. He has been here a year and a half.

MIDDLE SCHOOL

RALPH WEDIN

The middle school, comprising the fifth, sixth and seventh grades, is the preparational media between the upper and lower schools. The boys prepare themselves for upper school responsibilities such as sports and academics. Mr. Ralph Wedin has been the middle school director since 1938. Along with his duties as principal he is head coach and mathematics instructor. He is ably assisted by Mrs. John Daily, Mrs. Beulah Dubach and Mr. Andrew Sembrat.

The formal classroom work includes courses in English, arithmetic, history, social studies, shop, speech and music appreciation.

The athletics include football, basketball, track and baseball. The middle school is the testing ground for future varsity material. The middle school students seldom come into contact with the upper school except in assemblies. They keep the same school hours but have different lunch and athletic periods.

ACTIVITIES

SCIENCE CLUB

The future scientists, engineers and technicians of Pem-Day met two hours a week this year to discuss and experiment with some phases of the field of science which were of particular interest to them. The membership was not exclusively composed of boys taking science courses, but was open to anyone with enough interest in the study to take it on as an extracurricular activity.

This year's science club was a combination of the radio and science clubs of last year. The group was sponsored by Mr. Madden, science teacher, who led the discussions and worked with the boys on their projects, which were carried on in the Physics Lab because of its facilities.

The first semester was spent working on superheterodyne radios, in which the members took a special interest and which were quite successful. The remainder of the year was spent on various less difficult projects and discussions of current scientific developments.

Judging by the large number of boys on its roster, fifteen sophomores, junior and seniors, the Science Club was one of the most popular extracurricular activities of the upper school.

FATHERS AND SONS BANQUET

The Fathers and Sons banquet was held this year in the Hotel Continental. Mr. Kingman was Master of Ceremonies. Entertainment was provided by the Middle School Band under the direction of Mr. Buttagole, the Middle School Glee Club which sang "Ballad for Americans," and the Upper School Glee Club which sang selections from the operetta "Gondoliers." A very enjoyable evening was spent by all.

HILLTOP

The HILLTOP probably attracts more attention than any other one thing at Pem-Day. The paper is solely a student publication, written and put out eight times a year by the students themselves. The only connection it has with the faculty is that the faculty has the job of censorship and that is just a routine matter.

The majority of the paper is taken up by current events and upper school news, but there is a space especially devoted to the middle and junior school news.

More students probably read the Snooper column than any other column in the paper. This column is made up of social news about the boys. Close contact is kept with the alumni and there is a special column of the latest news about them.

The sports section covers all football, basketball and baseball games the team plays. It has the latest scores of the Jr. Varsity and middle school games. There are also write-ups about the minor sports such as golf, tennis, etc.

The HILLTOP has a wide circulation. Besides going to nearly all the boys at Pem-Day, it goes to many subscribers at Barstow and Sunset Hill, where it maintains correspondents.

Editor Joe Hall and Business Manager Howard Foster.

LETTERMEN'S CLUB

(Second row) Berkley, Sigt, Singleton, Lambert, Miller, Hall.

The Lettermen's Club was founded about four years ago when some boys had the idea that a club should be formed to be composed of boys who have achieved athletic distinction in the school.

The Lettermen's Club at Pem-Day is probably the most exclusive club in the school. The club is made up of boys who have been awarded a major letter in at least one of the three major sports. The president for this year has been Harry Jones. Year by year the club acquires new members so by now it is quite a sizeable organization. A manager and an assistant manager are selected by the club for basketball, football and baseball. Two cheerleaders are chosen from the student body at Pem-Day and two from Barstow and Sunset Hill.

The Lettermen's Club holds meetings to discuss the student athletic problems and also to sponsor various social events throughout the year.

GLEE CLUB

The Glee Club this year has been under the direction of Mr. Melvin Galagher. He has done a fine job with the boys and has produced a first-rate singing group. They have participated in most of the school activities during the year and will conclude the year's activities with the singing of the "Lord's Prayer" at the graduation exercises. The appearances of the Glee Club this year have included the Christmas pageant, the Fathers' and Sons' banquet and the production of the operetta, "Gondoliers," in co-operation with Sunset Hill. The Glee Club has been one of the most popular activities this year and has developed some really fine voices.

THE "GONDOLIERS"

The Gilbert and Sullivan operetta, "Gondoliers," was presented on the nights of April 16 and 17 by the Pem-Day Glee Club and the music department of Sunset Hill. The production drew packed houses both nights and was unanimously proclaimed a smash hit. The operetta was the climax of two months of preparation by over sixty students from the two schools.

The "Gondoliers" was staged in the dining room of Sunset Hill. Mr. Eldredge from Pem-Day and Miss Radcliffe from Sunset handled the dramatic, scenery and makeup end of the production. Mr. Galagher was in charge of the musical department. Instead of the orchestra used last year to supply music, twin pianos were substituted and did a very good job.

The operetta is about two gondoliers, Marco and Giuseppe, one of whom is the son of the late king of Barataria. The two gondoliers have just been married when the Grand Inquisitor informed them that they must leave their wives and go to Barataria. Meanwhile, the Duke of Plaza-Toro arrives with his wife and beautiful daughter, Cassilda, who was married in infancy to the king. Only a distant nurse can tell which is the king, so, while she is being sent for, the two gondoliers rule jointly over a freewheeling kingdom, happy except that their wives are away. Everything turns out nicely in the end when the nurse arrives and announces that the king is not one of the gondoliers after all, but Luiz, the Duke's drummer boy, who is in love with Cassilda.

In the opinion of those who saw both shows, this year's performance compares very favorably with last year's "Pirates of Penzance."

STUDENT COUNCIL

The student council of Pembroke-Country Day first got its start in 1923. The organization is composed of representatives from the five upper classes. The senior representatives are Harry Jones, Bill Shackelford and Paul Koontz; the junior representatives are Sandy Lambert and Doug Hall; the sophomore, freshman and eighth grade representatives are Bill Withers, Max Straube and Stanley Christopher, respectively. The members are elected at the end of each school year to serve during the coming school season.

The chief objectives of the student council are to stimulate a higher level of scholarship, to help in school activities and to encourage the school spirit. The organization supervises charity drives and the appointments of the dance committee and cheerleaders for the basketball and football games. They also are in charge of the honor study hall along with the advice of the faculty.

Every student at Pem-Day is given a chance to take part in the student government. Everyone votes at the elections. Each class has its own president, vice-president and secretary-treasurer. The combined work of Mr. Kingman and the student council is making Pem-Day live up to its high standards.

PUBLICATIONS BOARD

The year 1947 was notable in that this was the first time the Publications Board system has been used at Pembroke Country Day School. Both the HILLTOP, school paper, and the RAIDER were under the control of a six-man committee appointed at the start of the year by Mr. Kingman, Headmaster. An editor of each publication, two of last year's HILLTOP editors and the heads of the two combined departments, Business and Photography, comprise the Board.

The new method was proposed by Mr. Kingman after a study of a similar method used at the Blake School in Minneapolis. A faculty board was also set up. The three members were Mr. Frank Weber, Mr. Clifford Nault and Mr. Kevin Madden. It is their duty to advise the boys as to general policies and content.

Since in the past considerable duplication of effort has taken place in the financial and the photographic departments of the two publications, these functions were combined. With Pat Robinson as the head of the Photography and Paul Richter, another man from last year's HILLTOP, leading the Business department, things run quite smoothly. Each of these boys has had two complete staffs, which it was their job to coordinate. They have done this so successfully that Mr. Kingman expects to continue the system next year. The members of the Board were Jack Peabody, RAIDER; Joe Hall, HILLTOP; Pat Robinson, Photography; Paul Richter, Business, and Harry Jones and Earl Barnes, advisors.

FOOTBALL BANQUET

The football banquet was held late in January this year so that George Sauer, ex-Kansas football coach, could be the speaker. Dr. Singleton was master of ceremonies and Coach Newell presented football letters to the team. Harry Jones was elected honorary captain for the year, John Fennelly received the lineman's trophy, and Frank Altman got the back-field trophy. The banquet was held in the Hotel Continental.

FOOTBALL

PAUL NEWELL,
Director of Athletics

The 1947 Raider football team was one of the best produced at Pem-Day in many years. The Raiders of '47 had the kind of spirit needed for a winning football team. The team's fighting spirit was an important factor in its success. The Raiders played nine games, winning six, tying one and losing two. The opening game was played against the Redemptorist "Rockets." This was a hard-fought contest all the way. Bud Watkins went over for the first Pem-Day touchdown in the first quarter. Redemptorist held Pem-Day until the fourth quarter when Jack Longan scored from the 4-yard line for Pem-Day, making the score at the end of the game 13-0.

The second game of the season was against Lillis; although a scoreless tie, it was a moral victory for the Raiders since they were slated to lose by at least two touchdowns. Next, the Raiders took on John Burroughs of St. Louis, Missouri, and beat them by a score of 13-7. Sandy Lambert scored both Pem-Day touchdowns. For the next game the Raiders played Washington Rural at Welborn, Kansas, only to be beaten by a score of 12-0. In this game several first team players were out with injuries. Next the Raiders traveled to Minneapolis to be beaten by Blake Academy. In this game also several regulars were out of action. The Raiders then went on to win four successive games, beating Hogan 27-15, Trenton 20-13, Raytown 19-6, and Glennon by a score of 13-0. It was in this latter part of the season that the Raiders, quarterbacked by Frank Altman, really began to roll.

Some of the outstanding players of the team were Dick Ellis at left end, Don Peete at right end, who did an outstanding job of kicking for the team, John Fennelly at tackle, Harry Jones at center, Prewitt Turner at fullback, Frank Altman at quarterback and France McCoy at guard. Sandy Lambert, playing right half, scored 24 points to lead in the touchdown department.

Some who made good playing their first year as regulars were Jay Singleton, Lathrop Backstrom, Ray Backstrom, Clay Miller and Jack Longan.

BASKETBALL

The Red Raiders entered the 1947-48 basketball campaign with a well-deserved feeling of confidence. With all but one of last year's squad returning and some new material besides, the squad prepared itself for a great season which it had beyond all doubt. The final tally was 11 wins and 7 defeats, but this was better than it sounds. The Raiders took third place in the Blue Springs Tournament, bringing to Pem-Day the first trophy in several years. In the other two tournaments they had a couple of cold nights and were eliminated in the first round. The starters for most of the season were Don Peete, captain, Doug Hall, Frank Gustafson, Prewitt Turner, Bill Withers and Bob Sloan. In the last few games Walt Cross earned a starting berth on his fine shooting. The regular substitutes were Bud Watkins and Clay Miller. Prewitt Turner was leading scorer for the year. He also played in all but one quarter.

In the first game of the season Pem-Day staved off a late Redemptorist rally to win 34-32. The next contest was one of the season's most thrilling. Trailing by 11 points at the half, the Raider sharpshooters beat Hogan in the last minute, 35-34. The next game, which was the first loss, was in the De LaSalle tourney where the boys went completely cold and lost a thriller, 24-26, to Blue Springs.

After Christmas, the Raiders took a new lease on life and won five in a row. In succession they mauled Immaculata 45-25, Redemptorist again 34-26, Hogan again by the same score, 35-34, Turner 33-30 and the Paseo Pirates 24-23 in a desperate battle, which was undecided until the final gun. Against Washington Rural the team had a frigid first half, trailing 24-4 at the intermission, but came roaring back to pull up to a 42-40 deficit, only to lose on three late goals 42-48, when four of the first team fouled out. In the next game the boys in blue and white blasted to a lopsided 62-37 triumph over the Manual Red Birds. This score set a new city high scoring record up until that time.

The next outing was against Ruskin in the Blue Springs tourney, where the Raiders came from behind to whip a favored team, 32-29. The next night the Raiders were again cool and lost to the team which was later to become tournament champions, Lillis, by a 30-41 margin. In a return engagement against Blue Springs for third place, the Red Raiders surged ahead in the last minutes to win 34-38.

Two nights later as a climax to four out of five nights of basketball, a tired quintet succumbed to the Haskell Indians, 27-32. On February 13, the Raiders lost their second straight in a hard-fought battle which saw Glennon emerge a 41-40 victor on a last-minute shot from near mid-court. In their next outing the team lost again to Turner on the De LaSalle court 35-42, after holding a 6-point halftime lead. After absorbing three straight lickings, Pem-Day trimmed Immaculata for the second time by a 57-21 score.

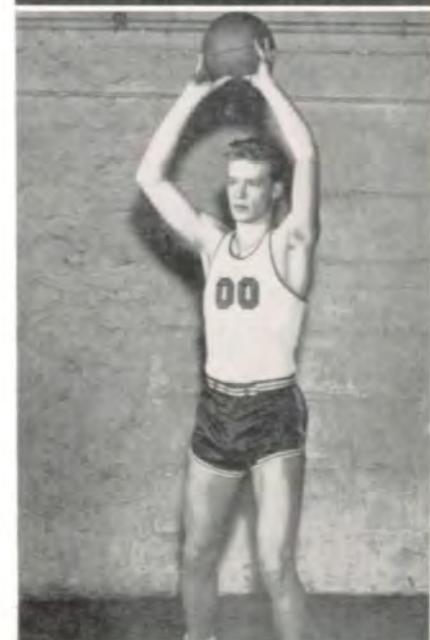

In the Missouri State Sub-Regional Tournament the Red Raiders were again plagued by inaccuracy and lost to an underdog De LaSalle outfit, 33-41. With only Captain Don Peete graduating, the School can look forward to an even more successful season next year.

JUNIOR VARSITY BASKETBALL TEAM

The Junior Varsity is the proving ground for future varsity material, and this year's team showed promise of a great future. Mr. DePeyster was the coach this year and did a fine job with the boys.

BASEBALL

Edward Roewer, Baseball Coach

The 1948 baseball season has been a very successful one to date. Starting the season with a new coach, Mr. Edward Roewer, the squad of eight lettermen was swelled to over 20 eager rookies. The team, though lacking experience, has performed admirably to date, winning three, losing three, and tying one.

The season opened with a crushing 7-2 victory over the Redemptorist nine on the Pem-Day field. Holland was the winning hurler, giving up only three hits, while his mates obtained six off two Rocket twirlers. The starting lineup for Pem-Day was composed of: Jones, catcher; Peete, first base; Hall, second base; Singleton, shortstop; Berkley, third base; Sight, center field; Withers, left field, and Pierson, right field.

The second outing of the season was also a victory with Peete shutting out the Hogan Rams with two hits. Pem-Day garnered four runs and three hits. Peete led at the plate with a double and a single in three trips.

In their third battle the Raiders played loosely behind Holland and Peete, to drop a 10-6 slugfest to the Alumni.

Holland was the loser. Hogan again provided the opposition in the fourth tilt, which saw the Rams come from behind to gain a 4-4 deadlock with the Pem-Day nine. Peete and Holland pitched for Pem-Day. The Glennon Eagles buried the Raiders under a 11-0 score in the fifth game. The boys in Red played poor ball and committed six miscues while getting only three hits. Holland was again the loser. The sixth game of the season proved to be the highlight, with the Raiders coming from behind to club Rockhurst 7-4 with a seven hit attack which featured Jay Singleton's triple with two aboard. Peete pitched steady ball and went the route. In the latest game, the team let down and lost to a fighting Lillis club 10-1. Peete pitched for Pem-Day and went the route.

TENNIS

The tennis team this year has been ably handled by Mr. Joseph DePeyster. A turnout of 19 boys was cut to a squad of 12 before the season was very old. The boys have practiced faithfully every afternoon and the work has paid off in improvement.

The two singles boys have been Isenberger and Kaiser. The doubles combinations of Isenberger-Kaiser and Koontz and Cross have won a considerable number of matches. To date the team has lost to Lillis and won from North Kansas City. This season promises to be one of the most successful in Pem-Day tennis history.

TRACK

Paul Newell
Track Coach

This year, for the first time since Pem-Day severed athletic relations with the Little Six, the Red Raiders fielded a varsity track team. The team took second place in their first meet which was between Argentine and Rosedale. In their second start the Raiders bowed to Turner and Bonner Springs, but edged Washington Rural in a quadrangular meet at Turner. The Raiders then hit the victory column by swamping Hogan's Rams, 110-30. Lillis and North Kansas City proved too much to handle as the Raiders bowed on their home cinder path.

Running in the dashes for the Raiders this year have been Sandy Lambert, France McCoy, Frank Gustafson, Prewitt Turner, Dan Walthall, Tom Stout, Neil Sosland, John Chestnut, and Harry Vollrath. The distance running has been handled by senior Paul Kyger, while the middle distance events have found George Gordon, Bruce Kaiser, Randall Ayer and Kyger entered. Chesnut and Stout have both turned in fine jobs as first year hurdle men, and they had a lot of help from Paul Koontz, who came to us after the operetta.

In the field department, the pole vaulting has been capably handled by sophomore Bob Sloan, while Bud Watkins and Dick Ellis have excelled in the discus and shot put. Freshman John Lucas has shown excellent form in the broad jump and the high jumping chores have mostly been divided between Gustafson and Sloan. For a first year track team, the Raiders have done remarkably well and have bright prospects for future years.

GOLF

Golf, for the first time in Pem-Day history, has been well organized this year under the able direction of Tim McGrath. He has helped the team in many different ways and tries to help the boys' games. The boys practice every day at Old Mission Golf Course and play most of their matches there. To date Pem-Day has won from North Kansas City and lost to Lillis. With several other matches coming up, including the city tournament, the prospects for a top flight team are very great this year. The first team consisted of Hamilton, Peabody, Wall, Hall and Foster.

DIG DAY

THE DORM

The DORMITORY

The Schuyler Ashley House is a large brick structure in the Georgian style of architecture built in 1930; however, it is much more than just another building. It is home more than nine months of the year to a part of the student body.

The dormitory tradition of an easy and home-like atmosphere has been carried on by the dormitory staff headed by Mr. Frank Weber. Mrs. Wooley, the housemother, is a friend and a help to the boys, as well as the director of the kitchen and household staffs. Mr. DePeyster, Mr. Roewer, Mr. Eldredge and Mr. Madden complete the staff. The work of supervising is divided by floors, with Mr. Roewer and Mr. DePeyster having the second and Mr. Madden adviser to the third. The masters' wives are also members of the dormitory and take part in dorm activities.

The dorm court, consisting of four seniors and two juniors, has worked very smoothly this year as in the past. The number of cases this year has been very small, due to the high calibre of the students and the scarcity of them.

The senior floor is another institution that has worked smoothly this year. The nine "old men" have had a great deal of self-interference only rarely to break up riots and executions. The seniors with their table have been so successful that during the last half of the year the juniors were allowed their own dining room table also.

The new addition to the west end of the dormitory has increased the space with the guarantee of more students in the future. It is now being used for middle school class rooms, however. This addition has caused much confusion, what with the profusion of different smells and equipment being strewn throughout the building; but the students have born up well under the strain.

KITCHEN AND MAINTENANCE STAFFS

RAIDER STAFF

The 1948 RAIDER is the third yearbook that has been published since it was revived with the 1946 edition. The staff of this year's book numbered ten with an experienced man at the head of each department. The editorship this year fell to Jack Peabody, with Pat Anderson as assistant. The business staff has been headed by Jerry Green, who was ably assisted by Lambert, Gustin, Chesnut and Pierson. Pat Robinson and Bob Ginsberg handled the photography.

The staff of '48 wishes to express its deepest thanks to Mr. Clifford Nault, faculty advisor, for his immeasurable assistance in the production of this book. Without his encouragement at critical moments we would never have been able to finish. We also wish to thank Mr. Kingman for his excuses from class and Mr. Weber for his help in proofreading.

We owe our appreciation also to Mr. Larry Smith of Smith-Grievess for his help in assembling the book and his tips on yearbook editing. Mr. Merle Fletcher of Burger-Baird has been of great assistance in our task. Also, we would like to thank our advertisers and subscribers without whose cooperation this book would not have been possible. We urge your patronage of the advertisers listed on later pages.

We, the staff of '48, send our message of "Good Luck" to future staffs, and may they have as good cooperation as we have had from all parties concerned with the 1948 RAIDER.

Bill's retired

And he's only six months old! Yes, the Treasury Department says the average dollar bill holds up only about half a year before it goes to pieces!

But anyone can tell you the life expectancy of a greenback is even shorter than that. When a dollar goes to market nowadays, it lasts hardly any time at all—and seems to buy less and less of everything!

Everything but electricity, that is! Because the service you get for your electric dollar is just about the biggest bargain in your budget. If yours is an average family, that dollar buys you twice as much electricity as it did 20 years ago!

... to the RAIDER staff of '49

It has been our happy privilege to work with the 1948 staff in the production of this book and we ask you to consider it a specimen of our craftsmanship.

Your printer can be of much help in developing a plan for the systematic handling of the many details involved in building such a book.

We recommend that you consult him early, get the benefit of his experience and thus make your job much easier.
