A Century

Years go by and generations of students pass through the hallways. From a school of thirteen students in Vassie Hill's living room to two bustling campuses with collectively 1,166 students, the past one hundred years have shaped Pembroke Hill into what it is today.

Although we will all eventually part from our fellow Raiders, we will always remain a part of the Pembroke Hill community. Why? This school has brought us together. Whether we take the same classes or simply attend school functions, the traditions from history that we all know so well bring us together, and together we create our future.

We Raiders have been united by a century of tradition.

But the centennial is just the beginning.

A Century of School Spirit

Soak up the Sun

(Above) Catching a King Salmon up in Alaska, Andrea Lu '15 says, "After I caught the fish, I was so tired! It took a long time to reel him in." She went on to have a great time in Alaska.

Iceberg Land

On July 14th, 8th grade Raiders arrived at the airport, ready to embark on their 8 day trip to Alaska. Paul Newell '15 says his favorite memory of the trip "was getting stuck in mud with Sam Bailey '15 and Mathew Burcham '15". The mud ended up being quicksand! They also visited T. V. show's, the "Deadliest Catch" site in Homer, Alaska and spent much of their time on the beach. While on the beach, the students found a huge purple starfish! From catching colorful starfish to seeing wild porcupines, moose and other Alaskan wildlife, the group was lucky to not run into any bears! One of their highlights was the glacier boat cruise, where everyone saw part of a mighty glacier break off into the water. Señora Wolfe says, "Our most fun times were had at the fisherman's lodge." They had nightly bonfires and listened to old stories from the fishermen themselves. The group enjoyed king crab, sea scallops, and some even tried moose nachos! All around, the kids agreed that it was a successful trip.

A typical Summer day...

While some Raiders travel the world to Austria, Europe, Italy, or Mexico, others find time to relax at home. Raiders found time during their Summer to hang out with friends, participate in swim and dive team, play a fun game of basketball, or play video games on the days that were too hot or humid to go outside. While traveling the world is rewarding and exciting, these students prove that hanging out at home can be just as fun.

Passing her opponent for the final shot, Gracie Beaham '19 wins a tough game of basketball against her older brother.

Good friends Miriam Schwartz '14 and Leah Cohen '14 spend time together at Oakwood pool.

On a hot day, Parker Stemeck '13 plays his favorite video game, Halo 3, online with his friends.

6th Grade Campout:

Let the Games

Begin

This year, the 6th graders, class of 2017, traveled to Tall Oaks for their annual three-day 6th grade campout. The students were challenged with the task of building rockets, and took part in the legendary game of "Survivor." "Survivor" allows 6th graders to experience the life of animals and learn about the food pyramid. In mid-evening, kids begin the ritual of chasing around their "prey" and running from their "predators." Students from the Upper School drove down to Tall Oaks to help out, arriving just in time to play the game with the middle schoolers.

"To the disappointment of the 6th graders, the upper classmen dominated," reveals Mr. Longhofer, 6th grade science teacher who helped organize the campout. In addition to "Survivor," building and shooting off rockets is another fun aspect of the campout. Some rockets were more successful than others: "My rocket got stuck in a tree," explains Alec Mitchell '17. Aside from a couple crashed rockets, the trip was a huge success. "The food was fantastic and there were no injuries!" rejoices Mr. Longhofer.

5: Keeping their focus, Sean Boswell, Mrs. Harper-Sachs, and Luke Ossie '17 plan out their game tactics for Survivor. They all tried their hardest to ensure a victory for the pink team.

Marching for 100

In 1913, Mrs. Hill started the Sunset Hill School for girls in her own home. The school then moved into a home on 57th Street which quickly became too small. In 1919, Sunset Hill School moved from their second location on 57th Street to 400 W. 51st Street, the present location of the Wornall Campus. The two locations were so close that the faculty decided that they, with the help of the students, could move most of the contents of the school themselves. Everyone carried something: wagons were loaded with books and supplies, and the entire school paraded down the street to their new home. The idea of the Centennial walk was to re-create the original walk, but use the first location of the Country Day School (the Wornall House) as the starting location to incorporate both of the predecessor schools. 100 students, chosen by a lottery, Mrs. Wornall and Mrs. Hill impersonators, Steve Bellis, Jon Stysliger, and the Pep Band, walked from the Wornall House to the lower campus. The upper and middle school walked from the Ward Parkway campus to the Wornall Campus where the students and faculty met up with the rest of the school. They carried signs symbolizing one hundred years, and Dr. Bellis and Mr. Stysliger carried a Pembroke Hill banner (shown above). The entire school gathered in front of Founders Hall for a group picture. To end the ceremony, each division donated a memento to be saved in a time capsule for the next Centennial.

(Left) Leading the school march, Headmaster Dr. Bellis and President of the Board of Trustees, Mr. Styslinger, hold up the Pembroke banner. They lead the one hundred students from the Wornall House to the lower campus.

(Bottom) Before the game, fifth graders Eric Medlock, R.J. Sullivan, Jason Jang, Reagan Mitchell, Elizabeth Spaeth, Carmela Nunez, Grace Green, Grace Parkerson, Julia Parkerson, and Julia Rosher '18 socialize in the quad.

A Time to Remember

This year's barbeque was one of the most attended barbeques in Pembroke Hill's history due to the Centennial festivities. Students, parents, teachers, and alumni all gathered in celebration. Seniors continued the tradition of grilling delicious hamburgers and hotdogs, while younger kids enjoyed running around the quad and interacting with Roscoe the Raider. Pembroke's football team took the field at 7 p.m. against Renaissance Academy and walked away with a great victory of 28-14. Wrapping up a fun filled night was a spectacular fireworks display after the game.

Flashback

Alumni Laura Curry Sloan '79 and Wynne Winter '79, catch up at the 2010 barbeque. "Back when we attended Sunset Hill, we didn't have the opportunity to enjoy this annual treat," they reflected.

Mr. Beeler exclaimed, "I haven't been able to enjoy many barbeques since coming to Pembroke. This year however, I made it in time to see the football game!"

Maggie Glaze and Elizabeth Wayda '12 snap a picture with Roscoe. Elizabeth Wayda reminisces about the past barbeques as she explains, "I have always loved the barbeque because it brings everyone together in school spirit each year!"

The club fair of 2010 was a huge success! Club fair is an annual event in which all of the different clubs within the school get together and recruit new members. It enables students to see what all of the clubs are all about. In former years, club fair has been held in the courtyard. However, due to the weather this year, it was in the commons. The delicious variety of foods was definitely a high point for the students. Club fair was well received by the freshman class of 2014. "Club fair is a good way to get new students involved in the school's extracurricular activities. Otherwise, I would not know about any of them," said Kathleen O'Keefe '14. Over the years, club fair has continued to be a popular event.

When asked about the benefits of being a director rather than an actor in the scenes, Mallory responded, "Directing really gives you a chance to stand on your own and make the calls. It's hard work, but it's a lot more fun to choose your own scene to perform because you know what will entertain your friends." After being involved in the acting society for 3 years, Mallory hopes to continue in the acting spotlight in the future as well.

What was the hardest part about performing in the One Acts?

— Personally, it was hard to coordinate times to rehearse because I had to commit to cheer practice as well.

What was your favorite scene that was performed?

— The Blind Date act was my favorite because Matthew Krumlauf was hilarious, and he wore a burlap sack.

What was the best part about working with a smaller group of people?

— It's always fun to get to know your classmates on a closer level. We all bond so much at practice because it's usually easier to get along with a smaller group.

Tuesday: LAX Bro Tennis Flo

Thursday: G.I. Joe & Barbie

Friday: Raider Pride

Instead of having five days to show school spirit, Raiders only had three days this year. However, high school students didn't let Columbus Day, the PSAT, and community service get in the way of showing their spirit during the three spirit days. Upper schoolers participated in LAX Bro/Tennis Flo, G.I. Joe and Barbie, and Raider Pride for their spirit days. Middle schoolers had spirit day themes including comfy day and pajamas, monochromatic outfit, crazy hair day, and of course Raider day. This year's spirit week was a success! Parades of the Past

In 1915, the Sunset Hill May Day Queen rode down Wornall Road in the back of a float decorated by students. This float was the first float created for a Pembroke Hill parade.

Beginning a New Tradition

High school math teacher Ms. Reams' eyes lit up as she announced to the Pep Club that there would be a twist to spirit week. She continued, explaining that there would be two floats at the parade this year: one showcasing the pride and aesthetic talent of the junior and senior classes, and another representing the spirit of the freshmen and sophomore classes. Both floats, she explained, would have the common theme of beating the O'Hara Celtics, the football team's competition on the night of the Centennial Homecoming game. In addition, out of the two floats, a winning float would be chosen. The juniors and seniors worked tirelessly on their float at the house of student body president Walter Bixby '11, while the freshmen and sophomores completed their float at sophomore Maddie Amend's house.

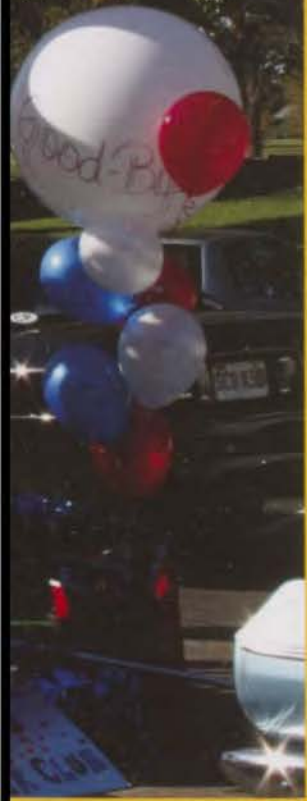

"The float building was a bonding experience for everyone involved, and it really brought together all the grades," said senior Emma Fulop. "The two groups got pretty competitive, and spying definitely took place on both sides." After several trips to Party City followed by countless hours of painting, nailing, and embellishing, the floats were complete. The theme of the upperclassmen's float was "Cage the Celtics," and it featured a jail cell. Russ Moore '11 dressed up as a jailed Celtic for the parade. The underclassmen's slogan was "Centennial Celtic-Slashing," and the float featured two jumbo football helmets and a football. The finished floats rolled through the circle drive of the Lower School, and students greeted them enthusiastically.

Biking in on a two-seated bike in the Homecoming parade, Homecoming candidates Brooke Fogel and Flagg Miller '86 excite the crowd of Pembroke Hill students. That year, Homecoming candidates rode bicycles through the parade.

Riding on the backseat of a truck, Homecoming candidates Jason Fore and Lydia Rheinfrank '91 relax in lawnchairs during the parade while discussing their prospects of becoming Homecoming King and Queen.

King and Queen are...

Homecoming week was filled with spirit days, a fun pep assembly, an exciting football game, and was closed with a successful dance. The king and queen, Ali Corbin '11 and Walter Bixby '11 (pictured above) were crowned during halftime of the football game. The pep assembly on Friday afternoon, had a new twist this year. This year, each king and queen candidate pair was assigned a decade. The king and queen candidate, along with teachers who graduated high school in that decade, put on a dance for the school. The teachers and candidates dressed up and put together a choreographed dance to a song that was popular in that decade. Some favorites were Mrs. Tullis dancing with candidates Lee Winter and Chris Rios to Grease for the fifties and Mr. Liable dancing with candidates Jimmy Neville and Augi Grasis (pictured below) for the millennium. The auditorium was filled with charisma and energy. Friday afternoon was filled with enthusiasm and spirit in preparation for the football game.

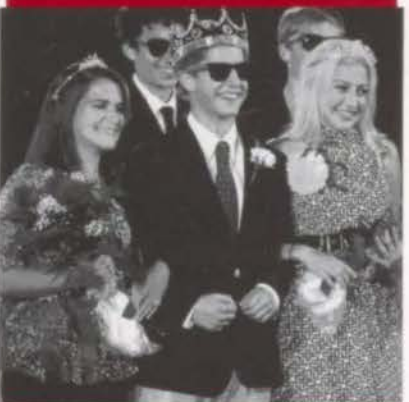

Flashback

Boys of the Pem Day School of 1957 put a pep rally on filled with dancing and drumming. The Sunset girls were invited over for the rally in anticipation for the Homecoming game.

In 2009 two candidates were crowned Homecoming queen. Michelle Battle, Jack Adams, and Lilly Fisher were the king and queens.

(Far Left) Mallory Dameron '12 plays the part of Eileen, who is upset because she has just discovered that she is carrying George Hay's child.

This fall, Pembroke Hill's fall play was a production called "Moon Over Buffalo." The Pembroke Hill Thespians practice for months, working on their lines, costumes, lighting, and more to make the play absolutely perfect. "Moon Over Buffalo" is a story about a company of actors touring in Buffalo, NY. Austin Caldwell '11 and Shannon Lowe '12 took on the roles of the two main characters, George and Charlotte Hay. Their daughter Roz, played by Jenny Hughes, comes to Buffalo to announce her engagement to junior PJ Lawhon's character, Howard. However, chaos ensues when George's secret lover, Eileen, played by Mallory Dameron '12, announces that she is pregnant, and Roz's former lover, Paul, played by Tim Lawson '12, comes back into Roz's life. When the company receives a call that famous director Frank Capra is coming to watch the company's next performance, George is drunk, Charlotte is missing, and everyone else is in distress. With witty lines and phenomenal acting, "Moon Over Buffalo" proved itself to be a huge success!

WAR

Flashback

Color Wars started in 2006 and has become a high school favorite. Everybody loves the battle and competition between the classes.

2010 graduates Elena McCallister and Caffery Brooks score points for their class by doing their famous "Golden Pants Dance." The girls first started the crazy dance as sophmores. It was a crowd favorite and became a highlight of Color Wars week.

The senior class shows their spirit as they celebrate their 2009 Color Wars victory. This senior class group won three consecutive Color Wars, sweeping every year since the competition started in '06.

Juniors:

(Right) Scott Barnow '14 takes a shot at getting a ping-pong ball into plastic cups. He helped his fellow freshmen by scoring 4 points. Unfortunately, his contributed points couldn't score his team the win.

On Monday, to kick off Color Wars, the class presidents used the air from a balloon that they blew up to knock red cups off of a table. The freshmen thought that they had the game won until the judges realized that, Devin Haugh wasn't the actual freshmen class president. Minute-To-Win-It ended with no winner.

During Jeopardy on Tuesday, the senior class chose Mr. Burke as their faculty representative, and they dominated. The Jeopardy game consisted of four categories: PHS Society, Pop Culture, Faculty, and Academics. Needless to say, they won with 3600 points, passing the other grades by a long shot!

Wednesday's activity consisted of contestants attempting to throw a ping-pong ball into various cups for points and the junior class dominated!

Freshmen took on the Juniors, and Sophmores battled the Seniors during the all-time favorite dodgeball game. The Juniors and Seniors came out on top with defeats against the underclassmen.

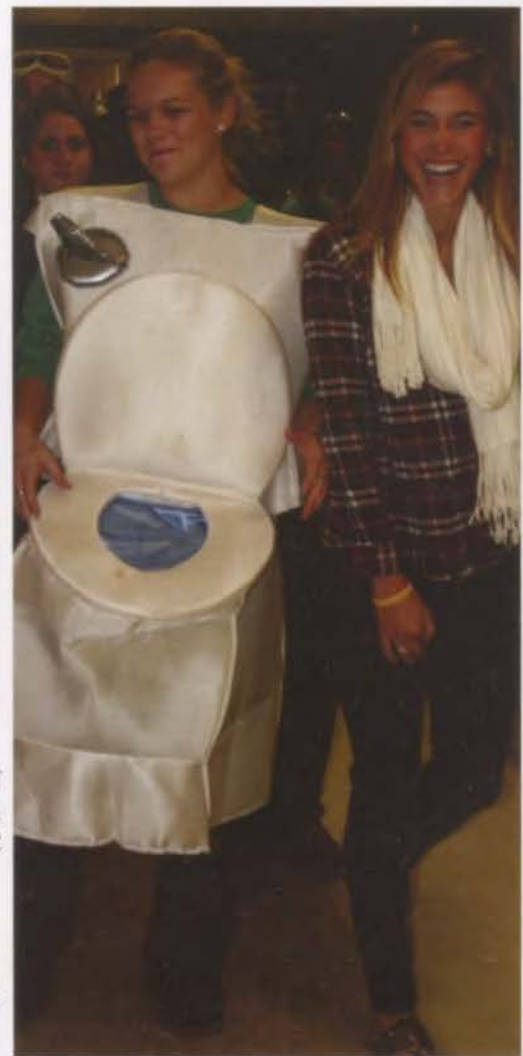

In the finals, the Seniors ended with a victory against the Juniors, placing them in 1st and the junior class in second. Sophmores beat the Freshmen and finished third.

Monster Mash

The Tradition Continues...

As one of the most anticipated holidays of the school year, Halloween lights up children's faces. As a tradition at PHS, primary school students dress up on Halloween for the "Ghost Walk." While parading around the school in their costumes, lower school children get to high-five the upper school students. After taking a few laps around the campus, the superheroes, ghosts and princesses return to their home rooms for Halloween parties. In the upper school, teachers dress up in creative outfits. This year, each department of teachers had a themed costume. These themes included Wizard of Oz characters, '50's girls, and the famous Three Amigos. This year, even a few brave high schoolers dressed up. The upper school saw students dressed as Alvin and the Chipmunks, Thing 1 and Thing 2 from Dr. Seuss, and even a toilet.

Hoping to collect lots of candy, she flashes classic peace signs. 2: Jancyn Appel '18 dresses as a headless horseman while walking through the Lower School campus. The Ghost Walk began in 1986 with the merger, and has been a huge success ever since. Students spend their Halloween gathering candy and showing off witty or creative costumes as they walk through the Upper School.

PEMBROKE HILL

Flashback

Debbie parents and faculty recognize the complexity of the new art space. The art room, built in 1978, created an outdoor working space for the girls at Sunset Hill School.

Before the two schools merged, the enlarged art studio provided a room for all of the Sunset Hill School girls. This third floor created room to pursue photography, pottery, print making, and metal work.

Third, fourth, and fifth grade Art teacher Mary Wood has been teaching at Pendleton Hill School since 1982. "The students' enthusiasm for art keeps me motivated each and every day."

My favorite project was the leaf bowl. It's a good way to celebrate leaves and colors. I also liked the way we pressed the leaves!

After finishing, each third grader proudly took their animals home to show their families. 2: Fourth grader Aaron Alnutt '19 gets into the holiday spirit by painting the plaza lights. Aaron loved art this year, especially working on his quilt project. 3: The plaza is in its finest form when drawn by Avery Brandmeyer '20 and the rest of her class. Every student completed their drawings of plaza buildings shortly before the lighting of the plaza lights. 4: Spray painting his horse, Mark Ferguson '19 makes sure to get every spot. The animals were made out of paper mache and spray painted by the fifth graders. 5: Layering on the green glaze, Ian Banks and Mariah Connor '20 complete their ceramic frogs. Both students put in hard work to make their frogs the best. 6: Using vivid colors, Julian Sanders '19 fills in his buildings. Julian focuses in order to paint within the lines. 7: Outlining her buildings, Arrington Ossie '19, brightens up her painting by creating Christmas lights. These lights shined as bright as the lights on the plaza buildings.

Our Artistic Side

The Pembroke Hill Art Department held a Centennial Alumni Art Show that included work from 49 different artists from all over the United States, all of whom graduated or taught at Pembroke Hill, Pem Day, or Sunset Hill. The artists used all different types of medias, such as ceramics, photography, glass, paintings, fiber, sculpture, and installation. Included were artists from the 1940's and every decade through the 2000's. Cara Megan Lewis assembled and curated the exhibit into a compelling and professional show. Art teacher, Carolyn Loeb, comments on the show: "The opening was very well attended, showing off Centennial Hall at its very best and emphasizing how important the visual arts program is for Pembroke Hill School."

The Pembroke Hill Upper School excelled in the arts this year. The arts program continues to bring in talented students from all grades, which is shown through the beautiful artwork that is produced each year. Students experienced art through sculpture, silversmithing, paints, pastels, and digital media, to name a few. Thanks to the wonderful teachers and students, the Pembroke Hill Art Department is one of the strongest programs of the school.

YoungArts: Lee Heinemann

Annually, up to 150 of the nation's most talented artists, 17 to 18 years old, meet up in Miami for YoungArts Week. 7,000 artists apply from across the country. YoungArts week offers master classes with internationally known artists, workshops, performances and exhibitions. This week is designed to encourage gifted artistic students to pursue art as a career and provides a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity for young artists. This year, Lee Heinemann '11 was one of the ten lucky students who was selected to attend this great program in January, 2011. "It took a while for it to sink in, but I'm really excited!" During this week, Lee will be attending classes with nationally renowned artists including, Mikhail Baryshnikov, Edward Albee and Grank Gehry. "I'm really excited to meet all the other artists, and of course the professional artists." Pembroke Hill students and faculty wish him luck as he attends YoungArts Week for this life-changing experience.

Lee Heinemann '11 completed a giant blanket this year (shown left). Lee comments on his inspiration for his blanket: "I wanted people to experience the art instead of being intimidated by it. Also, I've been interested this year about how people communicate with others they know, and ones who are anonymous."

Whether it's tutoring, recycling, donating, or even raking leaves, Pembroke Hill students are always ready to take action in their communities. People from the high school to the middle school to teachers are always active in serving their communities year to year. The junior class goes to Harvesters every year for their community service day. In the middle school, each advisory does community service for the holidays. This year, the Van Ness advisory rang bells for the Salvation Army. Also, Dr. Loeb's advisory worked with a program helping elderly people clean up their yards. Dr. Loeb mentioned, "I was extremely gratified that our advisory was able to assist an elderly man in cleaning up his yard. The members of the advisory group were very generous with their time and efforts, and I was very proud to be a part of the group." Mr. Knopik, the community service sponsor, has also done his fair share of helping out in the community. He and his family are active members at their church and donated Christmas gifts to families. Mr. Knopik is very proud of the students at Pembroke for their hard work, and noted how a group of students donated backpacks to homeless veterans filled with supplies. He said, "It is important for the students to serve the community and develop the concern for others at a young age. I hope the students learn leadership skills and make an impact on others."

HOLIDAY CHEER!

Holiday festivities swarmed The Pembroke Hill School during the holiday season. Kindergartners participated in a Hanukkah party. They had a great time while learning how to play dreidel, a traditional Hanukkah game. The Lower School also participated in a holiday assembly. Laughs filled the gym as faculty members participated in holiday games. Each advisory in the Middle School put on holiday parties. Rooms were decorated with festive decorations. The advisories enjoyed delicious treats, and some groups participated in a Secret Santa activity. The Upper School choir had their annual holiday concert. The auditorium was immersed with holiday songs and traditions. The annual singing of the Twelve Days of Christmas was a hit with the crowd, along with the kindergartners' performance. The Lower School, the Middle School, and the Upper School were all enthusiastic during the holiday season.

Sunset Hill's holiday celebration every year was called Revels. It was a huge production where the entire school was involved in various activities.

Carol Schwarts and Barbara Counsell were crowned King and Queen of Revels in 1959. Revels always consisted of a king and queen who were both girls.

Sunset Hill girls of 1958 carried in the boar's head, a Revels tradition. After the entrance of the boar's head, students and faculty sang holiday songs.

What was your first impression of America?

It was awesome. Everything seemed to be so huge and all the people were super friendly!

Who are you staying with?

The Silversteins.

Where are you from?

I'm from Münster in Germany. It's a small but really pretty and famous city in the west of Germany.

What are the major differences between life here and where you live?

The sports here are connected through the school, which I really like. In Germany, everyone is involved with sports outside of school. Playing for your school makes you proud and makes you want to fight for your own school.

What has been your favorite part?

Soccer was one of my favorite parts of the school year, because it helped me get to know a lot of people. The team was like a family, and everyone was so nice.

What was your first impression of America?

My first impression of Kansas City was, "Awesome! 104 degrees and almost as warm as Florida... I can live with this!"

Who are you staying with?

The Elmers.

Where are you from?

I have dual citizenship, and although I've been raised in Norway, I have American roots down to Florida and Pennsylvania. I suppose you could say I'm from the Atlantic Ocean. At least that's a midpoint...

What has been your favorite part?

My favorite part has been going to school at Pembroke, dancing with the dance team, performing with chorale, and participating in shows. Also, I love the wonderful people I have come to know over the year. Every single one of them has been great... I'll miss you guys.

What are you looking forward to?

Moving here permanently, college, and the next play I'll be in.

What was your first impression of America?

Three words: Cars, football and Starbucks!

Where are you from?

I live in Denmark in a small town called Sjelle.

Who are you staying with?

I'm staying with the Krahn family.

What are the differences between life here and in Denmark?

Sports are much bigger here in the States. People in Denmark are into sports, but we don't have sports at school. Also, I am very dependent on car rides here, but back in Denmark, everybody rides bikes or uses public transportation.

Is the food different?

Yeah, the food is different. In the United States, there is much more fast food (and BBQ in Kansas City). I'm not that much into fast food, but I do like Kansas City BBQ a lot! I have to say that I miss my grandmother's "aebleskiver" (Danish/Scandinavian desert).

During a typical day in Switzerland, student Eli Tate '92 enjoys hiking on the Matterhorn mountain. He testifies that the views were incredible!

AFS student Otto Danderell and Pembroke student Pamela Shores '90 meet up during a break in classes. The AFS program allows Pembroke students to meet friends from all over the world.

Sophomores Chad Ruback '90 and Lydia Rheinfank '90 enjoy a brisk walk through the snow outside their dorm. Lydia said, "Swiss Semester was the most incredible experience I have ever had."

What was your favorite part about Swiss Semester?

Cohen: My favorite part was making new friends, because I know we will all keep in touch for years. Also, I liked being able to get some gelato in the middle of the day.

What are the major differences between America and Switzerland and also Pembroke and your school?

Green: One big difference between Switzerland and America is that between 12 and 2 o'clock, every place is closed. They have a lunch/nap break in the middle of the day. Our school was different in that we lived with our classmates, there weren't nearly as many people, you got to be pretty close with the teachers, and we had almost no time for homework.

What were the weekend trips?

Cohen: For a few weekends of the semester, we were given the chance to pick a weekend trip. We could rock climb, mountain bike to a city and spend the night, ice/mountain climb, and hike to different huts for the night. The trips allowed us to experience even more of what we loved. On one of the trips, we biked 74 miles to Gruyere. I had never been more sore!

What was a typical day in Switzerland?

Green: For a typical day, we would get up at 7:15, go to breakfast, have 3 classes, have 5 hours of either rock climbing, hiking, or skiing, depending on the season (we would also eat lunch), then 3 more classes, dinner, study hall, then back to your room. The days were always really busy, but it was fun.

I was and am a heavy follower of the Kansas Jayhawk football team, which is why when a boy who had definitely caught my eye asked me out on Valentine's Day my junior year of college I was confident. It was a game night! I decided I'd skip the game (the boy was out and the Jayhawks were only playing CU who was terrible that year). I was glad that I did because I ended up marrying the boy... and he has become my permanent son-in-law in Abilene, Texas. We don't miss games around Mrs. Leonard.

Dinner

Usually, dances start with pictures and dinner out at a nice restaurant, but in more recent years, students have started new trends. Many families have begun to hold dinners in homes, either catering or home cooking their meals. This year, senior Mattie Merriman's group met at her house for a catered dinner of a steak or chicken entrée with torte or cheesecake as options for dessert. Junior Maggie Glaze's group also had catered food. Their dinner was provided by Julita Latimer. Audrey Newell '13 had dinner at her house and her mom made her famous lasagna. Other members of their group, such as John Harper '11, who was asked by Meredith Sight '13, really enjoyed the special dinner. "The lasagna was really great. Having the dinner at the Newell's made the atmosphere much more relaxed," John says about the dinner. Another trend that has caught on is the idea of after party themes. This year, a senior group decided that each of the couples would choose a color or theme and make matching T-shirts. Some after parties had a over all general theme like "LAX" while others had more specific themes, like camouflage, the American flag, or neon. Having an after party theme helps bond the group and individual couples, and ends the night on a good note!

The Sophomore Retreat was started seven years ago by the Leadership Advisory Board, or LAB. The purpose of the retreat is to give students a chance to get to know their peers and develop important leadership skills. The students participated in several activities about dealing with hardships and how to help others. All of the sophomores and LAB leaders took the day off school to go to Tall Oaks. The students were divided into groups at random and each group was assigned a different color. The teams worked together throughout the day, taking part in different games and activities in hopes of winning the ultimate prize of free Chipotle burritos. The final scores showed that the pink team won the competition.

Youth in Government

Youth in Government is a program that allows students to participate in making bills and obtaining governmental positions. During the weeks leading up to YIG, students must write bills that will be debated. In December, Pembroke Hill students joined many other students from schools around Missouri to participate in the much awaited YIG weekend. During the three days, students campaign for office seats for the following year. There are five seats possible, and Pembroke Hill students received four out of the five this year. The 2011 Missouri State Officers will be Blake Schmidt '12 as Secretary of State, Paul Lisbon '12 as Speaker of the House, and Kevin Hornbeck '12 as Governor, and Katayon Ghassemi '12 as Lieutenant Governor. Katayon shares that she is most excited "to be on the inside and to be able to plan parts of YIG during [her] last year." The graduating YIG participants pass on their knowledge to the incoming Freshmen and new "Yigglets."

Did you know that the Pembroke Hill Robotics Team was the 2353rd team to join the robotics league? Hey, that is where the name Legion 2353 came from! That is one of many things people don't know about Legion 2353. The Pembroke Hill Robotics Team is one of sixty in Kansas City that are working on a robot to compete in the spring. Each team starts with a basic kit of robotic materials and then have a budget to buy extras. On January 8th, each team is given the assignment for the robotics season. This year's assignment was for each team to build a robot that can pick up an inner-tube and set it on a peg ten feet in the air. The Pembroke Hill Legion 2353 breaks the assignment into three different sections. A few team members work on the building and design, a few work on the programming and others work on the objectives, such as size and weight. The Legion 2353 is a hard-working team who hopes for success in their spring competitions.

Science Olympiad

Science Olympiad. If you're looking for genius scientific skills, look no further. The Upper School Science Olympiad team has ranked first, second, or third in the state of Missouri every year beginning in 1990. They have placed first or second at state, qualifying for nationals, 19 times. Nationals moves to a different college every year; in the past, the team has traveled to Georgia, Colorado, Washington, Alabama, Arizona, and Chicago. The National Competition of 2010 was in Urbana- Champaign, Illinois. At the national level, the Science Olympiad team has placed sixth in 1991, tenth in 1992, 11th in 1995, and third in 1996. Science Olympiad events vary from Sumo Bots, Ecology, Wind Power, to Protein Modeling. Those are of course are just a few of the many events that run every competition. A lot of work goes into each event, and some of the team compete in up to six events. Although they lost a lot of members due to graduation, the Science Olympiad team has many returning seniors, juniors, and sophomores, and they hope to be as strong as Science Olympiad teams of the past.

Debate Away

Upper School

Pembroke Debate isn't just an under-funded semi-team: it's a life-changing experience. It's a small band of committed soldiers battling through the vast wilderness of American speech and forensics under the helm of the indubitable Mr. Douglas Miller. So where is Pembroke Debate today? Mr. Miller used his fiery, magical debate-teacher wand to bring a second team to the Tournament of Champions. A bunch of younger policy debaters attended tournaments. Sometimes, they won. Mr. Miller helped the unstoppable orator Katie Smith '11 to win some tournaments, including one competition for the fourth year in a row. The public forum debaters decided in the middle of the season that they would finally attend a tournament. Matthew Frankland '11 proved that it is, in fact, possible to be a successful Lincoln Douglas debater at Pembroke when he became the top speaker at the Ohio Valley competition. Other debaters kept thinking to themselves: "Who is that guy?" and Matt's shiny personal trophy shouted back, "The dude who just destroyed you." Foster Honeck '11 became the National Forensics League's Top Point Earner. However, upon realizing that achieving this was even less exciting than he originally expected it to be, he worked his way back out. It just goes to show: you can accomplish anything if you put your mind to it, and you can un-accomplish those things just as easily. So where is Pembroke Debate at the turn of the decade? It's only looking up. Setting records is a little boring, but the team is on pace to keep breaking its own TOC-related records and become one of the winningest programs in the state of Missouri (eventually). This scenario of course relies upon the speed of winning outpacing the speed of asteroids destroying our planet.

- Brad Bolman, class of 2010.

Flashback

"The assistant headmaster at the time (1986) inquired as to what sport I'd like to coach. I said that I can't coach sports, the only thing I can coach is debate! At the time, the school did not have a debate team, so I decided to start one up." —Dr. Graves

The first breakthrough debate win took place in 2007, Mr. Miller's first year. This win happened to be the first time the debate team placed in nationals in 15 years.

Among the seniors at Pembroke who were on the 2007 debate team, Foster Honeck '11 won an award for radial speaking and Katie Smith '11 received 6th in the country for her oratory speaking.

(2) Proud of their teams accomplishment, Ryan Hesse '13 and Walter Bixby '11 show off their first place trophy. The Debate Team won Public Forum Debate during a state competition.

(3) Prior to a competition, Vincent Czerwinski '14 and Ryan Hrinya '14 make some last minute touches. With their hard work, Vincent and Ryan are sure to succeed regardless of their opponents.

(4) Practicing out loud ensures Sarah Cole '12 a solid upper hand on her competition. Her technique and skill allow her the chance to prosper in whichever event she enters.

(5) Reading over his notes gives Thomas Hodgman '11 a sure road to success. His tactic of reading aloud prepares him for victory.

The happy couple made an appearance for the first time after the announcement, Kate wearing the famous engagement ring worn by Princess Diana, William's mother. BP's oil rig exploded in the Gulf of Mexico on April 20, 2010, killing 11 workers and involving months of oil leaking out into the ocean. Managing the spill was unsuccessful until BP capped the well in mid-July. The well was eventually plugged on September 19, 2010. It is estimated that over 205 million gallons of oil were released into the Gulf.

When a rock fell causing a tunnel to collapse in a San Jose mine in Chile on August 5 2010, thirty-three miners were trapped underground. At the beginning there was fear that it could take up four months to get them all out, but the miners were brought to surface after more than two months of being underground. All of the men had severe dental infections and one man was diagnosed with pneumonia. Doctors stressed that all of the men's medical conditions were far better than expected.

Spain won the 2010 World Cup for the first time in their history with an overtime goal by Andres Iniesta. The goal ended the championship match against Holland 27 minutes into overtime. It was Spain's biggest sporting achievement ever, but they started the World Cup slowly by losing their opening match to Switzerland. Spain improved as the tournament wore on with a tremendous passing game and strong defensive skills.

The Boy Scouts of America (BSA) was founded in 1910, and is one of the largest youth organizations in the U.S. The program is designed to build character, promote fitness, and encourage civic responsibility. Many Scouts are involved in the Boy Scout and Girl Scout activities in the town of Eagle Scout.

Protests started in Egypt in January 25, 2011, inspired by the successful revolution in Tunisia. Thousands took to the streets protesting poverty, unemployment, and government corruption of President Hosni Mubarak, who has ruled the country for thirty years. The government responded by blocking Twitter, which was being used to organize protests. The military was called in to take over security, because most Egyptians hold the armed services in higher regard than the police.

Our Trends

The 2010-11 school year saw many different approaches to style into the Pembroke Hill community. Whether you're a fourth grader or a freshman, you may be listening to the same music on your iPod or playing the same games on your new XBOX Kinect. No matter the game or the fashion, it's a sure fact that the students of Pembroke Hill are on top of it every year.

This year, clothing styles varied from casual PHS hoodies and KC's own Baldwin jeans to "indie" or "preppy" style outfits. Whether you were chillin' with the 'bros' in your Lax penny, or partying in neon attire on the weekends, students showed personality through their clothing choices.

1. Madison Fellows '13 laughs at a text from a friend in her stylish ensemble of a military jacket and a high waisted skirt with tights.
2. Hannah Bortnick '12 and Lindley Round '13 take a study break during meetings and surf the web while wearing Frye Boots, a fitted skirt, and a big knit sweater.
3. Jack Childress and Billy England '11 casually talk about their weekend plans while looking sharp in plaid.

Entertainment

Throughout this year, students were found catching up on the latest episodes of Tosh.O and Modern Family, as well as watching statement movies like The Social Network and Inception. Whether you preferred taking a study break and playing Call of Duty Black Ops, or enjoying the weekend at Orlando's Teen Night, entertainment made a big statement at Pembroke Hill this year.

Technology

Technology seems to change constantly in this generation, and this year revolutionary inventions swept the nation. The iPhone 4 and the Sprint EVO Phone can be found in most students pockets. Ranging from the iPad to the motion-detecting XBOX Kinect, Pembroke kids are never behind on the latest technology.

Trends throughout Pembroke's history have changed drastically over the past 100 years. From simple and practical clothing in the early 1900's to Lady Gaga's wild outfits, fashion, technology and entertainment continue to change. Teachers at PHS reflect on popular trends from their high school years.

Pembroke grad Mr. Hennessy poses for his 1999 Senior photo. "Grunge music, MTV, car-phones, Master P, subwoofers, 311, and The Titanic were big trends. I still remember my pager number...hit me up!"

Dr. Niemann remembers wearing acid wash jeans that were cuffed at the ankles, and when asked about hairstyles that were popular when he graduated in 1986, he said "I'm not sure, I wore my hair the exact same way I do now."

Mrs. Tullis remembers wearing "sock-hop" clothing such as poodle skirts when she went out on the weekends. Technology-wise, typewriters were popular during her senior year in 1963.

Munchies

This year, a craving for frozen yogurt swept over Kansas City with the new addition of "Yogurtini," "Peach Wave" and "Red Mango". Other restaurants that became popular this year were "Noodles and Company," "Panda Express," and "5 Guys Burgers and Fries." During lunch at the Upper School, students could be found in the Commons snacking on their favorites.

Boys Soccer

After an 0-2 start to the season, the boy's Varsity Soccer team had a must-win game against Springfield Catholic. The boys got off to a good start after a goal by Ross Payne '11 in the fifth minute. At the end of regulation, the teams were tied with one goal apiece. The first sudden death overtime period saw no goals as both teams battled it out. It was not until the second overtime period that Jacob Fox '12 scored the game winning goal. After winning the game, the team was on its way to a nine game winning streak. The team outscored their opponents by a huge margin of 41-6 during the streak, including four shutouts. The Raiders scored an average of 5.5 goals per game during the four game shutout streak and averaged 4.5 goals per game during the nine game streak. The team ended their season 18-3-1 going into the State Playoffs.

Girls Tennis

The girls' Tennis Team had yet another amazing season this year. This year's team consisted mostly of returning members, but a few new promising freshmen joined the team as well. Mattie Merriman was the only senior this year. Thanks to Coach Dale Eshelbrener, the team began the season very well prepared. After a loss in their second match against Blue Valley North, the Varsity team went on a remarkable nine game winning streak. In addition to success on the Junior Varsity level, the Varsity team did extremely well this season. Wanda Czerwinski and Courtney McCray went on to compete at the state level in singles. Elizabeth Hawley and Rebecca Somers also went on to compete at the state level, representing Pembroke Hill in doubles. The season ended with an impressive 12-3 record.

It was a frigid, cold October morning. Gary Lezak had just announced a freeze warning and warned that some areas of the city may even drop below thirty degrees, with a yet colder wind chill. But this Thursday morning was the Thursday before Cross Country districts, and the adverse weather would not stop the boys team from showing their love for Cross Country. Even though it was freezing outside, the boys team still came to school wearing their team uniform: a jersey and short-shorts. Through this daring feat, the boys showed their resoluteness for districts and their commitment to the Cross Country team.

One word can magnificently describe this year's Cross Country team: determination. After an impressive season with a large portion of the team setting personal records, the Cross Country team moved on to districts at Swope Park. Through their commitment, the boys team took third and the girls team took fourth. And even more impressively, Emily Gray-Gribble '13 and Mary Katherine Andrews '13 represented the Pembroke Hill Cross Country team at state in Jefferson City.

To the 1990 Cross Country Season

"In 1990, people did not even know what Pembroke Hill was... then we won. It was probably one of the highlights of my tenure here at Pembroke Hill. We were really a family."

— Marcia Dowling, Coach

In the 1990 season of Pembroke Hill Cross Country, the girls team won the state championship, setting an impressive precedent for our future Cross Country teams.

With another impressive season, the boys Cross Country team of 1990 took second place at the state championship. The entire Cross Country team was comprised solely of underclassmen, with the exception of only two juniors.

Don't hold your

Breath

This year's Pembroke Hill swim team splashed into a great 2010 season! With a record eight swimmers and returning head coach Chris Stiel, the boys had a fun and successful year. The team had four returning members this year: seniors Will Sharp and Jimmy Neville, junior Spencer Chu, and sophomore Phillip Laddin. They also gained four new swimmers this year: seniors Steve Hooley and Matt Frankland, sophomore Ryan Hooley, and freshman Peter Taggart. Led by captains Will Sharp and Jimmy Neville, the team was very successful at various meets, as well as dropping time in individual events throughout the year. They had an impressive second place win at the Park Hill South Invitational. For the first time in a few years, the team was able to host a home meet at their practice pool, Tuner Aquatic Center. Their meet went smoothly, and the team had a great senior night for their four seniors. The team was also able to go on two out of town meets to the Kickapoo and Springfield Invitationals. The team brought the season to a close by performing well at their Inter-League Championship Meet. The team will miss the four seniors they are losing, and wishes them the best of luck in college and in future endeavors. Congratulations to all the swimmers!

Raider football has always been a staple of the school's athletic program. Over the years, there have been both good seasons and bad, but the 2010 Centennial Football team enjoyed a 7-4 record. Senior Quarterback Jacob Gerson shares his thoughts: "Overall, the season was pretty good. I felt as if every player significantly improved." The 2010 season was one of the more successful seasons with big wins coming against Northeast, Lincoln Prep, and K.C. Central. The team scored 179 points against the aforementioned opponents while holding them to a combined 8 points. All of the seniors had a great game, and Ali Corbin mentioned, "There was a lot of excitement leading up to this game. Field Hockey

As the season began, the Raiders were anxious about having only three seniors. The first practice, everyone was unsure of how to work together because there were only a few "leaders." That feeling of uncertainty lasted only for that practice. The team was able to come together and become leaders in some right, adding to the team's individual strengths and skills. Not to mention, sense of humor. On the first weekend of the season, the Varsity team traveled to St. Louis for the Gateway Tournament. Each player proved themselves as more than capable contributors to the team. The team played in the top pool and were formidable competitors. The C Team, Junior Varsity, and Varsity all competed against teams from St. Louis, Oklahoma, and Texas, and fared well in all games. The best weekend trip was the trip to Oklahoma, when the Varsity won two out of three games and the C team and Junior Varsity won the majority of their games as well. The Raiders were able to go back to Kansas City confident and ready to take on their biggest rival, Sion. The varsity team won two out of three games they played against them, including winning at Sion on their senior night. Despite finishing with a losing season, the Field Hockey team won big games, played as a team, and improved greatly as the season progressed.

After the 2009 season, the girls golf team was left with half of their players. The 2010 girls' golf team was unique in comparison to the teams in the years before because there were only three team members: Erin Harvey, Lissy Hodge, and Elizabeth Wayda '12. A golf team is required to have at least four players to place as a team, so the Pembroke Hill team had to compete individually at districts, sectionals, and state. Regardless of their struggle, the girls had a great time in their countless van rides, dinners, and practices. According to Lissy Hodge '12, "The golf team always gives a great sense of family and closeness despite the small size." Although the golf team lost three great golf players from the previous year, they were not discouraged, and started off the season with even more drive to improve. All three teammates look forward to the next year, and they are confident that they will succeed in the coming season!

Flashback

Composed entirely of freshmen and one sophomore, the first ever Pembroke Hill School girls golf team was formed in 1999.

Competing against the top teams in Missouri, the Pembroke Hill girls golf team took first place at the state competition in 2003.

During the 2000 girls golf season, the team placed fourth at districts, missing state by only two strokes.

The 2010-2011 season was a successful one for the Pembroke Hill Swim and Dive team. The sixteen person roster was the largest in school history, and included eight new additions. Led by head coach Ian Hutchison, assistant coach Jenny Hopelain, and captains Michelle Heidgerken '12, Maggie Glaze '12, and Hannah Bortnick '12, the team finished the season with two outstanding performances at the Independent League

Championships and the Missouri State Competition. With swimmers in finals of 10 of 12 events at League, the Raiders captured their second consecutive 3rd place finish, qualifying two relays for State in the process. In doing so, the relay team of Maggie Glaze, Michelle Heidgerken, Lindley Round '13, and Elizabeth Green '13 joined individual state qualifiers Lindley Round and Hannah Bortnick at State. Hannah had an excellent 9th place finish at State, Lindley came in 19th in the 100 Fly. Other accomplishments came in the forms of school spirit and the closeness of the team. This tightly knit squad organized several activities after putting in hard work at the pool. The girls tie-dyed t-shirts, made blankets, enjoyed several post-practice breakfasts and team dinners, and bonded with a team sleepover. In an effort to help the community, they also spent an afternoon preparing meals for families in need at the Ronald McDonald House over winter break. Although the practices were tough and no one really loved 6:00 AM weights, the team as a whole improved tremendously and had an impressive and memorable season.

Flashback

One of the earliest known recordings of Pembroke boys basketball, the varsity team practices in the gym in the 1920s.

Led by Captain Bryant Barnes, the 1955-56 Pembroke Country Day basketball team won the State Championship for the first time in school history with an undefeated record of 31-0.

The boys basketball team won state two years in a row in 1997 and 1998. Led by captains JaRon Rush '98, Kareem Rush '99, and Shaun Dunson '99, the Raiders finished both seasons undefeated.

(Above) Cruz Wiles '11 sees an open shot and seizes the opportunity to make another three pointer while defenders attempt to block the shot.

(Left) Nate Collins '11 takes the ball down the court as the point guard for the Raiders. Collins calls the play as he dribbles through the opponent in hopes of scoring or getting an assist.

The Raiders began the 2010-2011 basketball season with a heavy heart. Although it was an uphill battle throughout the season, Coach Bruening remarked, "I'm really proud of the boys. This group of guys really battled together to face a tough situation."

While the Raiders finished the season with a 13-13 record, there were definitely some great moments during the year. Winning the Interscholastic League Holiday Tournament and the last-second game winner over Barstow on Senior Night top the list of great moments. Wornall Nights have treated the Raiders well lately as they also won their second Wornall Night game in a row. A fantastic group of nine seniors culminated their high school basketball career.

"I never thought it would be possible to have nine seniors on a basketball team, but we did this season," said Coach Bruening. "These guys have been great to work with. I appreciate the time and hard work all nine of them put in this season."

Get'cha Head In The Game

The Lady Raider basketball team had been anticipating the O'Hara game ever since their loss to O'Hara in districts the year before. After playing away for nine straight games, the Lady Raiders were excited to be returning to their home court. Both teams started slow offensively, but the Lady Raiders were leading with a score of 9-4, by the end of the first quarter. In the second quarter, guards Erin Harvey '12 and Katie McMurray '13 hit outside shots to spark the Lady Raiders. However, the team was faced with a challenge when second-leading scorer Erika Hunt '13 was forced to leave the game with a concussion. Under the leadership of captain Lee Winter '11, the Lady Raiders managed to maintain their lead into halftime with a score of 24-13. In the second half, the Lady Raiders played hard on both sides of the court. However, O'Hara had cut Pembroke's lead to four points with five minutes left in the game. Remaining calm, Elizabeth Starr '13 hit baskets in two consecutive possessions to help the Lady Raiders extend their lead. In the final three minutes of the game, Erin Harvey '12, Katie McMurray '13, and Lee Winter '11 made key free throws to close the game. The final score was 46-39 with the Lady Raiders coming out with the victory. Lee Winter '11 led all scorers with 15 points, while Erin Harvey '12 contributed 14 points. The O'Hara game was part of the Lady Raiders' 12-game winning streak that took the team to the District Championship for the first time since winning state in 2006.

Kick it Up

The dance team started the season with 24 girls, the biggest team it has ever seen. With 12 new members, the team was refreshed and ready to start another great season. They began with the Lee's Summit North Invitational, at which they received fourth in their mix routine, second in their kick routine and took first place in both JV mix and varsity dance. With a positive attitude after their first competition, the team continued to work for two weeks up to their next competition in Springfield, falling on the same day as the WPA dance. "It was overwhelming to have a dance competition and WPA on the same day, but it was worth it to know our team got to participate in an extra competition to prepare us for state" said Adrienne Dunham, a junior on the dance team. Dance team brought home four first places, giving them incentive to work hard for State, quickly approaching in two weeks. Their hard work paid off, as the team returned with two second places and their highest score in dance team history, leaving them third place overall. Ali Corbin, a cheerful senior, commented, "this is the best season that dance team has had thus far, so we are thrilled with the outcome. I look forward to seeing the team's progress next year!"

Pin it... to win it

(Left) After a long and tiresome match, freshman John Graham claims victory over his West Platte opponent. As a freshman, Graham has had a tremendous first year on the wrestling team. Hopefully he will continue to participate in the years to come, and build the wrestling program along with other freshman.

(Right) Jamin Jang reacts quickly to block his opponent's move to grab his leg. He then takes control and with tremendous effort is able to pin his opponent and win the match. Jang, through determination and a hard work ethic, has proven himself as one of the strongest wrestlers on the team this year.

(Left) Teddy Murray and Coach Hennessey celebrate Murray's medal placement at the West Platte match. As a freshman, Murray had a great season and improved greatly as a wrestler. He provides hope for the young team in the seasons to come. Coach Hennessey, a graduate of Pembroke Hill in 1999, started coaching wrestling and football in 2005. Each of the wrestlers really enjoy having him around and bringing comic relief to everyday practices and meets.

Spotlight:

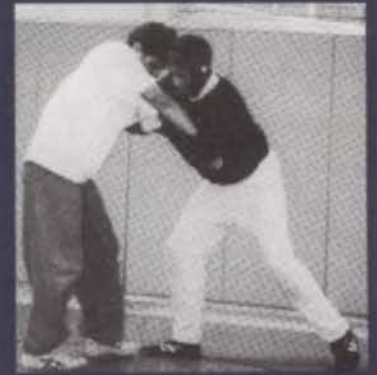

Zachary Schmidt

The 2010-11 wrestling season was a tough road for many of the young wrestlers, but also a great learning opportunity. With only one senior and no juniors competing, the Raider Wrestling team had to rely mostly on its very strong freshman class. Captain Zach Schmidt, the senior veteran who has been on the team for all four years, proved a wonderful example to the young team by helping in practice and setting the tempo. Though the wrestling team competed with some of the best wrestlers in the area, the team's growth over the course of the season was obvious. Specifically, the young wrestlers excelled at their resiliency and their drive to push themselves to the limit, all wrestlers finding some degree of success by the end of the season. The elite team of sophomores, Eli Fromm and Thatcher Anderson, along with Freshman Teddy Murray, Will Spaeth, Jamin Jang, Vincent Czerwinski, Tucker Sutton, John Graham, and Shea Radel stuck it out throughout the season, always competing and never letting up. Considering the work ethic of these young men, along with the amount of underclassmen currently out for wrestling, the future looks bright for Raider Wrestling.

Senior Tim Hawkins was a crucial member of one of the best Pembroke Hill wrestling teams of all time. He went on to place fifth at state.

1987

At state, Joe Reidy won his first match and then lost his next one to the eventual champion. He went on to win his third match but lost the fourth, ending up in 8th place.

1993

Using their talent and preparation, varsity co-captains Roger Hawkins and Jason Jones led the team to a regular season record of 5-2 and fourth place finish at districts.

Go Big Red

This year, the cheerleading team had a record amount of members, and with three seniors, the squad was full of spirit and tradition. With new freshman stepping up, the Raiders can be sure that they will have a strong cheerleading team for years to come. The players and fans always enjoy having them at games to get things started. From pyramids to well-known cheers, you can count on these girls to lead the way.

In Loving Memory of Matt Skeens

Class of 2012

God Is Creator of All

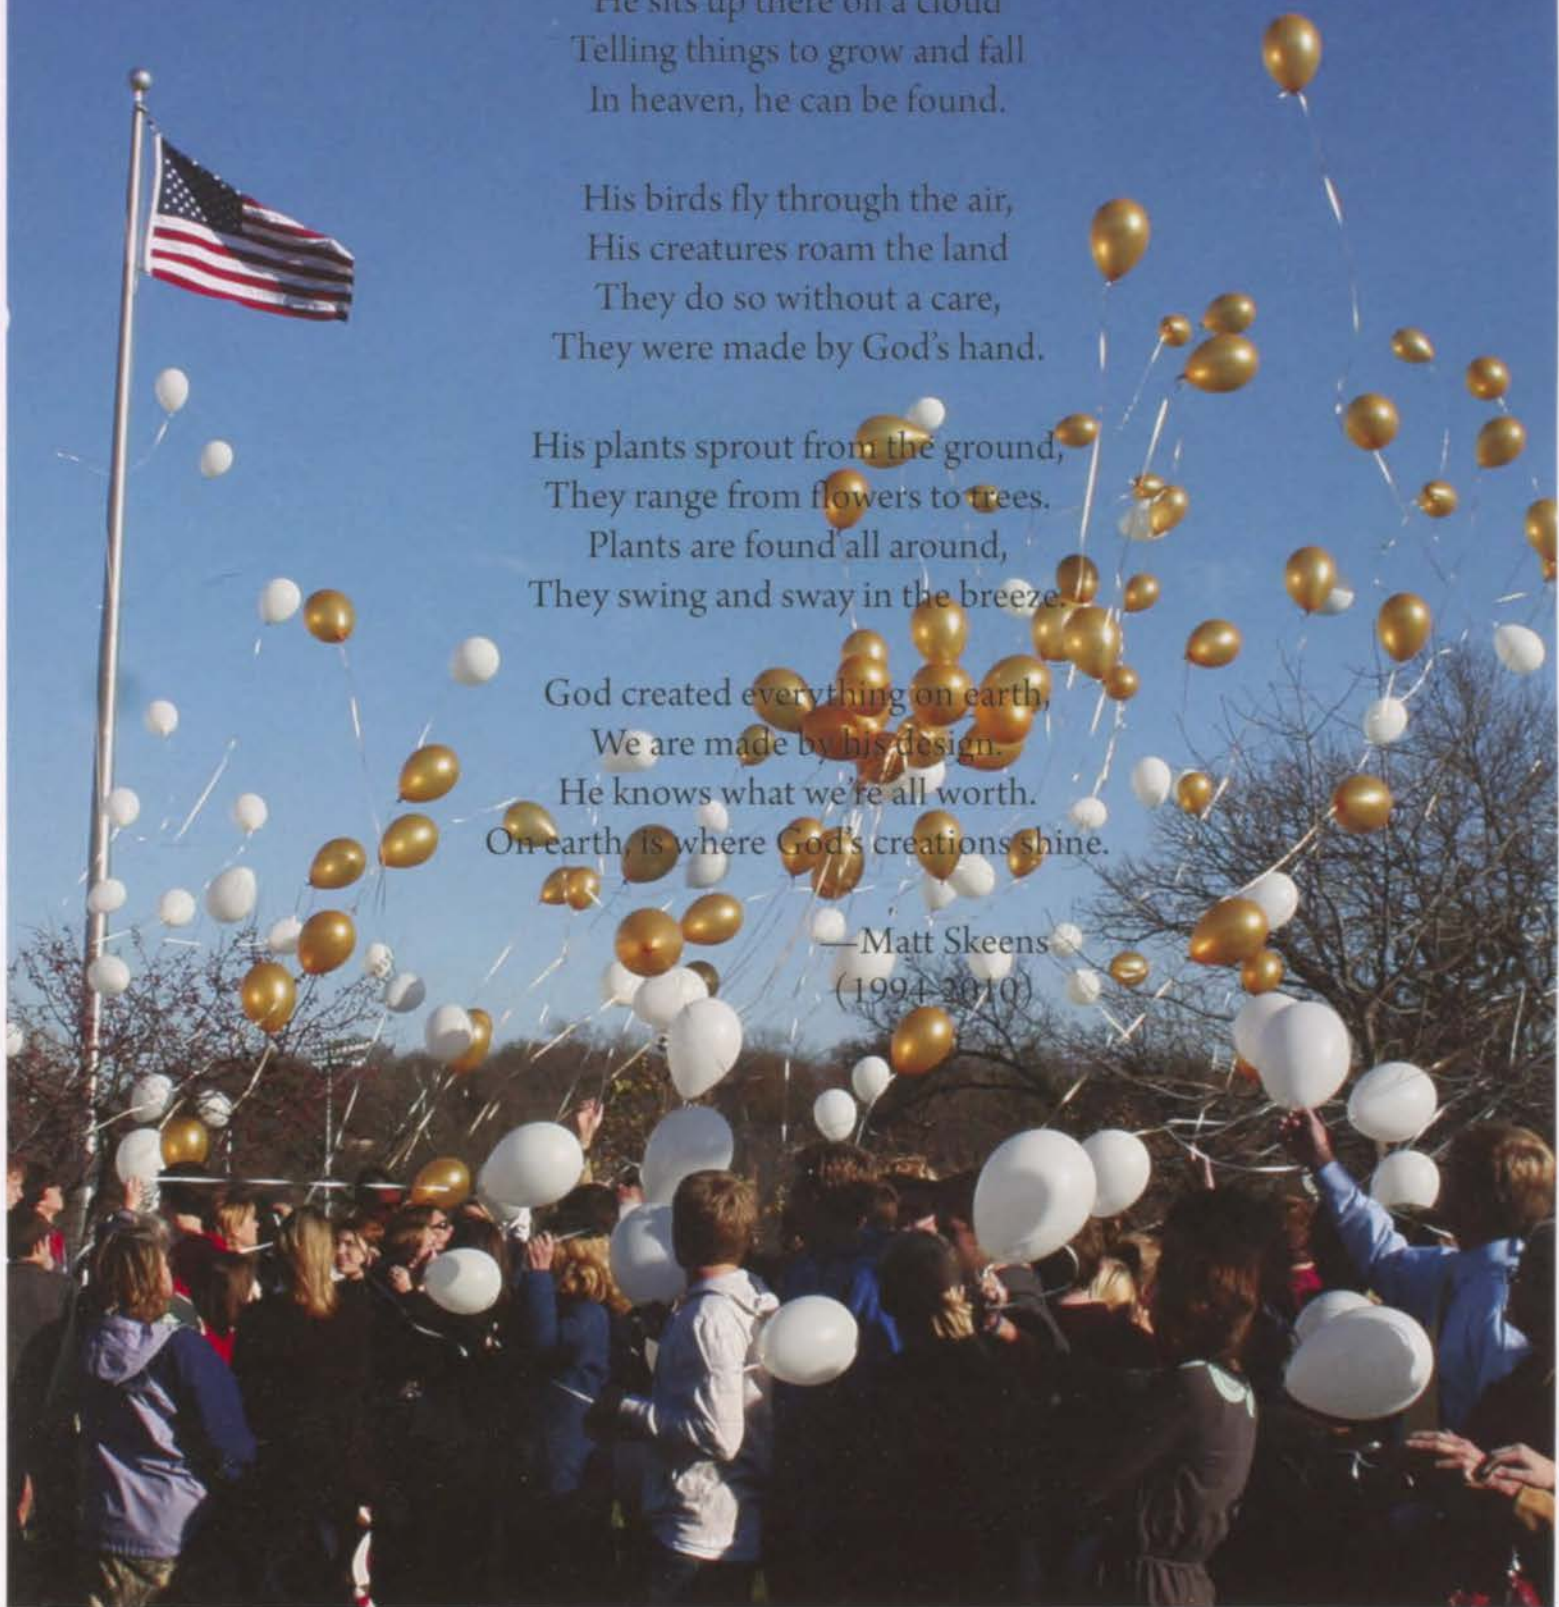

God, he is the creator of all.
He sits up there on a cloud
Telling things to grow and fall
In heaven, he can be found.

His birds fly through the air,
His creatures roam the land
They do so without a care,
They were made by God's hand.

His plants sprout from the ground,
They range from flowers to trees.
Plants are found all around,
They swing and sway in the breeze.

God created everything on earth,
We are made by his design.
He knows what we're all worth.
On earth, is where God's creations shine.

—Matt Skeens

You get your fill to eat, but always keep that hunger
May you never take one single breath for granted
God forbid love ever leave you empty handed

I hope you still feel small
When you stand beside the ocean
Whenever one door closes, I hope one more opens
Promise me that you'll give faith a fighting chance

And when you get the choice to sit it out or dance...

I hope you dance

Our Wish

-Rascal Flatts-

*We hope you never look back, but you never forget,
All the ones who love you, and the place you left,
We hope you always forgive, and you never regret,
And you help somebody every chance you get,
Oh, you find God's grace, in every mistake,
And you always give more than you take.*

*But more than anything, yeah, and more than anything,
Our wish, for you, is that this life becomes all that you want it to,
Your dreams stay big, and your worries stay small,
You never need to carry more than you can hold,
And while you're out there getting where you're getting to,
We hope you know somebody loves you, and wants the same things too,
This is our wish for you.*

We love you Tyler!

The Pinnacle Volume XXVI was created by the yearbook staff at the Pembroke Hill School in Kansas City, Missouri and was printed by Walsworth Publishing Company. The account was serviced by representative John Kelley and customer service representative Jolene Christy. The cover was designed by Tara Diegelman and is printed on four-color laminated gloss. Tara Diegelman also designed the endsheets, which were printed on matte white endsheet stock. The book's 305 pages are printed on one hundred pound Legend Matte paper. The fonts Norwich, Arno Pro, AWPCGoodName, AWPCPalatino, and AWPCPalatinotalic were used throughout the book. This yearbook was designed with Adobe InDesign CS3 on Windows. The staff created certified PDFs and uploaded them through the Walsworth online program. The books were printed at the Walsworth plant in Marceline, Missouri.

Our own photographers used Cannon cameras and equipment generously provided by Bill Wolf-Tinsman and his fellows editors of the 1982 Pinnacle Staff in memory of Bob Woods, photography editor of the Raider '82. The Pinnacle staff would also like to thank Bonnie Pearson for help with centennial "flashback" photos. Thanks also goes out to all those who shared their photography, especially Mr. McRobert for his help with the sports section and Mr. Liable who provided student life pictures. Above all, we'd like to thank Mr. Bass, our faculty advisor, for his efforts in making the yearbook a success. The yearbook would not have been possible without these people.
