HOMECOMING

Beth Hogarty escorted by Jim Miller

This year, change even permeated the always anticipated RHS Homecoming Week. The week began with the traditional Homecoming Mass. The queen candidates, accompanying their escorts the entire day, attended a continental breakfast, mass, and classes. Wednesday brought a new event to the Rockhurst community. The NHS/StuCo Air Band Competition was truly a highlight of the week. The night was filled with many thrilling performances, culminating with a set by the winning band: The Blues Brothers. After a noon dismissal on Friday, an unprecedented number of students, including many underclassmen, stayed to contribute their part to the superior dance decorations.

Later that evening, the varsity football team recorded the season's soundest victory. The Hawklets defeated Southeast 44-0. After the game, parents and alumni had an opportunity to view the dance decorations at the parent walk-through.

The festive week found its summit in Saturday night's Homecoming Dance. The theme of the evening was "Around the World in Eighty Days." Student crafted decorations transformed the school's lower level into sites from all around the world—from Paris to Peking.

Although change had its effect on Homecoming 1986, the week still provided a pinnacle of spirit and brotherhood in the fall of the year.

CUESTERS PRESENT ANOTHER FINE YEAR

Once again the Rockhurst high school drama club presented a series of very finely acted and produced plays. The cuesters this year were made up of many returning members as well as new faces.

The first presentations of the year were a series of one-act plays titled, "The Boy Nobody Could Handle," "Dope," and "God".

"The Boy Nobody Could Handle" starred Juniors Tom Huerter and Steve Gromosky accompanied by Matt Thomas and Phil Blando.

"Dope," a story where the star, Eric Snyder, plays the hero hooked on drugs and his relationship with his pusher, Steve Gromosky. Also starring were Matt Thomas and Frank Sayers.

"God," a play emphasizing the human condition starred Jeff Ford, Phil Freker, Darron McBratney, Matt Knopke, Mark Ohmes, Matt Freborn, Frank Sayers, Pat Randolph, and the leads going to Jim Boyle and Don Donnelly.

The second major production of the year for the drama club was the play "No Time For Sergeants", a comedy of a country boy caught up in World War II.

Starring in play were Jerome Bolin, Nathan Fristoe, Matt Thomas, and Spencer Brown.

Between the fall and spring plays, the custers presented two one-act plays; "The Former One on One Basketball Player" starring Tom Huerter and "Jocko" starring Sean Jameson.

The spring musical featured a classic melodrama of good versus bad in the play titled the "Drunkard". Jim Caccamo was the lead in the play as Middleton and the bad guy was played by Chris Hankel starring as Mr. Cribbs with supporting performances by Doug Coe and other various Rockhurst, Sion, and St. Theresa actors.

CACHE NETS $104,000

The 1986 CACHE auction raised over $104,000, thus doubling last year's total of $48,000. The success of this year's auction was due to a variety of contributing factors, the first being the arrival of Rockhurst's new president Fr. Tom Cummings, S.J. Fr. Cummings, along with numerous parents and students, made this one of the best auctions ever with items ranging from a purple Cadillac to two quarterhorses. Along with the auction, there was a raffle, whose prize was either a customized Olds Cierra or $10,000, of which winner Paul Gerling, senior, chose the $10,000.

SALE-O-RAMA

"If we don't have it here at RHS during Sale-O, God has not created it yet," remarked Fr. Tom Cummings, S.J., president of Rockhurst. And it appeared that Sale-O-Rama did have it all this year, bringing in over $100,000.

The Sale-O-Rama was successfully run by the Mother's Club again this year. Mrs. Vickie Rosner was the chairman of the sale that consisted of over 300,000 items.

A key to this year's success was the effort of many devoted mothers, Jesuits, and students. And of course, the hoards of eager buyers.

The sale itself has grown from a total intake of $750 24 years ago when it first started to a $100,000 extravaganza. The money raised goes towards paying off the many financial worries that the school has, and in turn holds down the cost of tuition.

Mr. Tom Norman added, "Sale-O reminds me of that horror movie 'The Blob' that grows until it takes over the world. I wonder if some day I'll wake up and find that Sale-O has taken the school over?" (by Anthony Hodes)

MISSION: POSSIBLE

Mission: Possible Week pulled in over $6,000 this year, almost $2,000 more than last year's. Mission week was sponsored by the Student Council and this year saw many changes in activities over previous years.

The week opened with a prayer service and slide show in the chapel that was the brainchild of the Freshman class. Fr. Ray Pease, S.J. and president of the Instituto San Jose in Honduras was our featured guest.

Wednesday night featured two highly competitive basketball games. The first game pitted the Sion girls against the St. Theresa girls, with the Sion team rising as the victors. The feature attraction was the student-faculty game. The faculty team came out on top for the second year in a row. These events were sponsored by the Junior class.

Friday saw Rockhurst's own version of Trivial Pursuit, which was sponsored by the Senior class. The Junior team came away with the victory.

Mission: Possible Week concluded Saturday night with an "Air Band" competition that included 10 pre-selected bands. First prize went to a senior band "Devo". SENIOR PROJECTS

For three weeks the Senior class went out into the community to practice in real life what they had been taught for the past three-and-a-half years in the classroom. It was a time when Christian ideals and beliefs were put into action and not just revered and spoken.

The results of the Senior projects this year is evidence as to why they are so deserving of praise. They have offered hope to the old and elderly who see no future; they have educated those with the desire to learn who have never had the mental, physical, or economical means to do so; they gave compassion to children who knew nothing more than violence and anger; and they have provided simple understanding to those who simply needed a friend to talk to.

Through Senior projects, the Senior class learned something about what it takes to be "Men for Others".

MASSES AND RETREATS

At the request of Fr. Joe Snyder a Pastoral Board of 11 faculty and staff members and 3 students was created this year. The job of the board was to coordinate the various religious activities of RHS throughout the year. The goal was to weave religious activities into the RHS community on a more regular basis.

Among the activities that the board planned were the monthly masses, penance services during Lent, prayers over the P.A., and periodic prayer services. It also created, through the urgings of the senior class, Freshman Direction Days that was done by the seniors for the freshman before the year started to welcome the class to RHS. They also had a commissioning ceremony for the seniors to their senior projects.

Each retreat and religious activity is centered on keeping man and God in touch so that the narrow path may be opened to all. Though much harder to travel, the RHS community, the student, and God will be able to travel it together. (by Anthony Hodes)

STUCO

The Student Council, which enables students to get actively involved in some of the decisions of the school, had a very successful year according to StuCo president Scott Schudy.

The Student Council also held many events throughout the year to encourage student involvement in the school. For example, StuCo sponsored mixers, Homecoming, Mission Possible Week, Spring Dance, and numerous other activities.

This year StuCo also hosted the first Missouri Province Jesuit High Schools Workshop. This was held at the end of the summer and members from other student councils throughout Missouri came for workshops on how to improve their programs.

According to Schudy, the mixers were held on a higher level and with more class. There was more money spent on decorations and more time put into the planning for the mixers.

Another new innovation of this year's StuCo was "Staihrway Limited Production" videos.

"The new Staihrway Limited Production series provides information to the students in a most clever way. They are important Student Council documentaries that may have reshaped people's lives," commented Schudy.

The new production company was named after the new moderator this year, Mr. Rick Staihr. (by Darrin Andersen)

PREP NEWS

Changes seemed to be happening everywhere this year at Rockhurst. The Prep News was no different, except for the fact that it received the All-Missouri rating for overall newspaper by the Missouri Interscholastic Press Association (MIPA) for the third consecutive year.

Changes were evident in the type of staff. "This year's staff was very unique. We might not have been as serious as last year's staff, but we got the job done and I think probably better than last year's," commented Tony Hodes, co-editor-in-chief, "as was evident in our awards at the MIPA banquet this year in Columbia, Mo."

This unique staff also had some unique changes. At the beginning of second semester, Mr. Mark Bubalo, advisor, decided to rearrange the staff. And so, there was a new staff for the remaining issues.

"No matter who it was, whatever position they held, we all came together to put out an award winning paper," said Chris Thompson.

SPEECH AND DEBATE

The Speech and debate squad is a group of students who compete in tournaments throughout the year. This year's squad competed in 10 invitational tournaments this year with some good finishes by various students but no excellent participants except senior Jamie Elmore, commented Mr. Don Ramsey, moderator of the group.

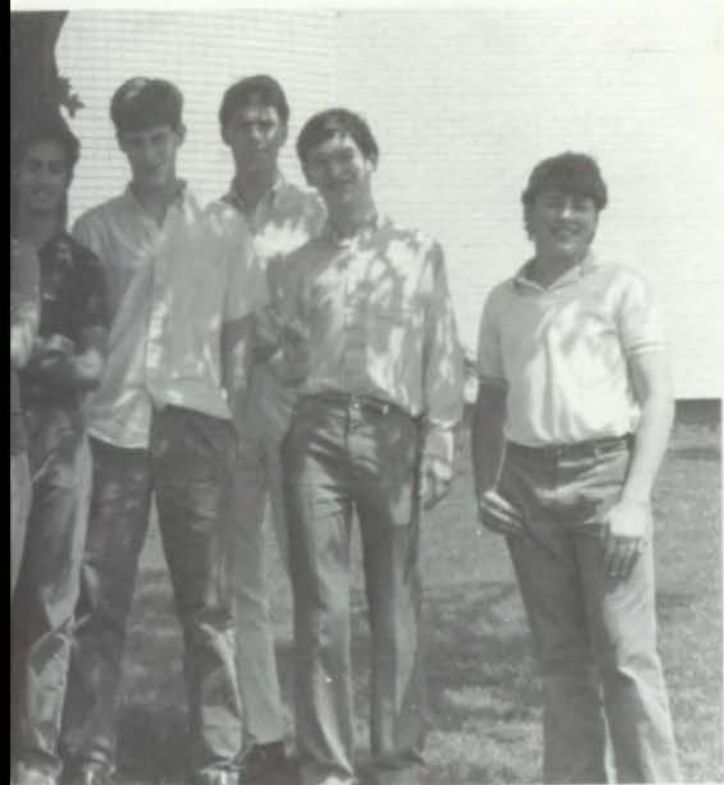

Rockhurst hosted its own tournament in November. "We received many good comments about our judges and timers. Everything ran very smoothly and on time," said Mr. Ramsey.

The team also competed in Districts, NSL Districts, State, and Elmore participated in National competition. He finished seven rounds which put him in the top one fourth.

There are some hopefuls for next year according to Mr. Ramsey. They are one team consisting of Phil Patterson and Chris Elmore and another team consisting of James Sembrot and Jeff Beshoner.

Rock Collection

After receiving an excellent rating in a national competition, this year's Rock Collection staff had the task of upholding a grand tradition of excellence. The task began in early Fall with editors workshops and advertisements for submissions to the magazine. The staff worked diligently to judge the submissions, design the page layouts, and finally get the book ready for publication. Mrs. Sandra Wilks guided the staff which was led by Kevin Brimmer, Editor-in-Chief and Jim Schwarz, Asst. Editor-in-Chief. Managed by Jason Johanning, the dedicated editors and staff produced another fine work, which fits well in the publication's tradition and reputation. The staff worked very hard, but so did the students that submitted works.

INTRAMURALS

Intramurals continued this year at RHS with strong support from the student body during its three seasons of sports.

Mr. Mike Lillis was in charge of organizing and moderating the fall and spring sports, while Coach Severino was in charge of organizing the winter sport.

The fall sport consisted of a flag football league. The league was made up of four underclass teams and eight upperclass teams. The games were played at Sunnyside Park at 84th and Summit.

"Dumbo and his Dynasty", a senior team, captured the league title by beating "The Rebels", a sophomore team.

The most popular sport this year was basketball. There were 39 teams with over 200 students.

The season ended with a 16 team tournament. The title game pitted the senior team "Phi Runna Gunna" against "The Disturbed". "Phi Runna Gunna" came out on top by the score of 56-55.

SADD

As Students Against Drunk Driving (SADD) rolled through the year, they made two major changes.

The first change was the planning of a SADD week. "There were various activities scheduled every day during the week. We hope that with such a strong push toward the students they can't help but become aware of the problems of drinking and driving," commented senior Matt Mancini, president of the RHS chapter of SADD.

The other innovation was the implication of a "Friend to Friend" contract. It is similar to the parent contract, in that the person who signs the contract agrees not to drink and drive. The major difference is that the agreement is between two friends.

These contracts were initiated into the school after the SADD assembly at the beginning of the year. The key speaker at the assembly was Mel Woods. (by Darrin Andersen)

THE NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

"The NHS attempted to become more visibly a part of Rockhurst this year. That was our main goal as a step towards making the National Honor Society a group of involved students rather than an idealistic organization," commented Brian Didier, president of the RHS National Honor Society.

This year the National Honor Society used various methods to become a more integral part of the RHS community and it succeeded in them all.

The first event that the Honor Society used various methods to become a more integral part of the RHS community and it succeeded in them all.

The first event that the NHS had a chance to organize and perform was a cooperative effort with the Student Council. The first ever "Air Band" competition, a brainchild of the NHS, was presented during the Homecoming Week activities. The winners, an act by the name of "The Blues Brothers," captured a first place prize of $50.00.

The NHS also planned two other mixers for the students. The first of these was held in December and featured a band of RHS students by the name of the 'Mongol Beach Party'. Their second mixer was held in April and was a "Battle of the Bands" that featured four RHS bands that competed for a first prize in excess of $100.00.

The money that was raised by these various activities was put into a scholarship fund so that a student going to the Instituto San Jose in Honduras would be able to go to the school tuition free.

The NHS was moderated by Mr. Tom Norman and its officers were Didier, president; Tony Hodes, vice-president; and Venu Reddy, secretary-treasurer.

CHOIR ENHANCES MASS

The mass, which is a very integral part of Rockhurst for many different reasons, was highlighted by the 1985-86 Choir.

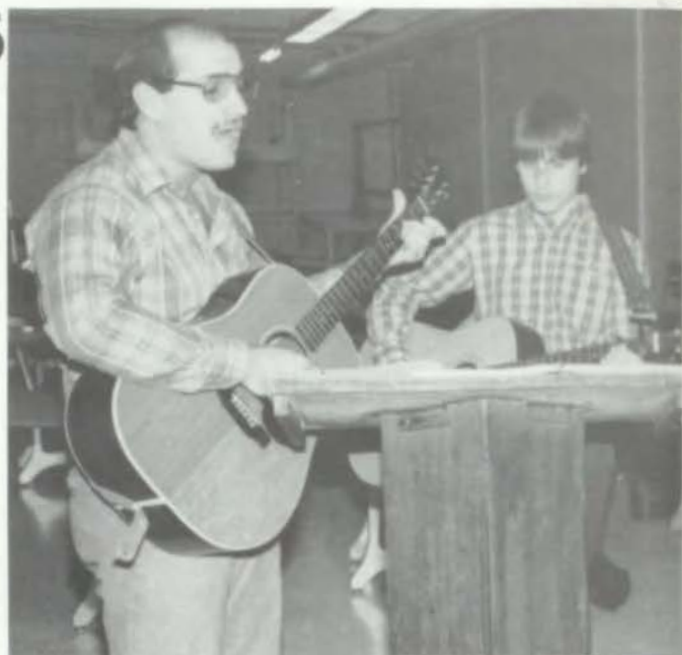

The choir made drastic changes this year, such as having more practices, every Tuesday and Thursday morning at 7:30 a.m., getting more people involved, and Mr. Mark Befort, S.J., becoming one of the leaders of the choir.

The choir grew to about 10-15 students and more faculty members joined. Mr. William Stierle and Mr. John Morris were the only returning faculty members.

"The choir really has a great effect on the mass because it makes it much more lively and, therefore, the guys will get involved," commented Fr. Jim Knapp, S.J., director of the Pastoral Department.

The choir is hoping with their good solid base, which they have started this year, that next will be even better and more varied.

CHESS CLUB LOSES SENIOR LEADERS

The Rockhurst Chess Club was relatively inactive this year on the interscholastic level. They attended only one tournament this year. The tournament was held at SM east. The team placed third and senior Manish Sampat brought in a fourth place individual prize.

The club did, however, see vigorous competition on the intrasquad level. Senior David Blackwell commented, "We didn't compete in many tournaments; we competed with each other just to have a good time, and improve our game a little."

The club officers were seniors John Sergo, president; Venu Reddy, Vice-president; and Sampat, secretary. Mr. Pepino Lynas was the moderator.

Brad makes his move!

THE RHS LATIN CLUB

The Rockhurst High School Latin Club was newly formed this year under Mr. Jeffrey Storey. This is the only language club currently operating at Rockhurst. The club is an organization for students who have completed two years of Latin or are currently enrolled in a Latin class. Its purposes are to encourage interest in and appreciation of the language, literature, and culture of ancient Greece and Rome and to gain an understanding of the debt of our own culture to that of classical antiquity.

Some of the activities that were planned for the year included participation in State and National Junior Classical League events, presentations of class projects, viewing of movies which pertain to classical antiquity, Olympics, and a Roman banquet complete with slaves and entertainment.

The Latin Club has taken strong root at Rockhurst and is expected to stay around for quite some time.

SPA sets foundation

This year Rockhurst has added a new organization to its extracurricular activities, the Students for Political Awareness club or SPA. The organization is made up of politically concerned juniors and seniors. The president of SPA is Venu Reddy, the secretary is James Sembrot, and the club moderator is Mr. Al Spungen. SPA will sponsor and run the guest speaker program, the Open Forum at Rockhurst and compete in Mode 1 Senates and U.N.'s.

The guest speaker program will bring in experts to talk with students about issues that concern us. SPA will generally get speakers from opposing organizations to give the students both sides of the issue.

The Open Forum will be started up again at Rockhurst and will be run by SPA. The open forum will give students an opportunity to discuss and voice their opinions on various issues.

Selected members of SPA will hopefully compete in Model Senates and U.N.'s this spring, and if they do well enough, they will have a chance to go the national competition in Washington.

The main goal of SPA this year is to build a strong foundation for future members to build from. The club is now drawing up a constitution which will outline the type of government that will fund it and also organize committees that will run the specific branches of the organization.

President Reddy proposes a new idea.

FALL YELL LEADERS

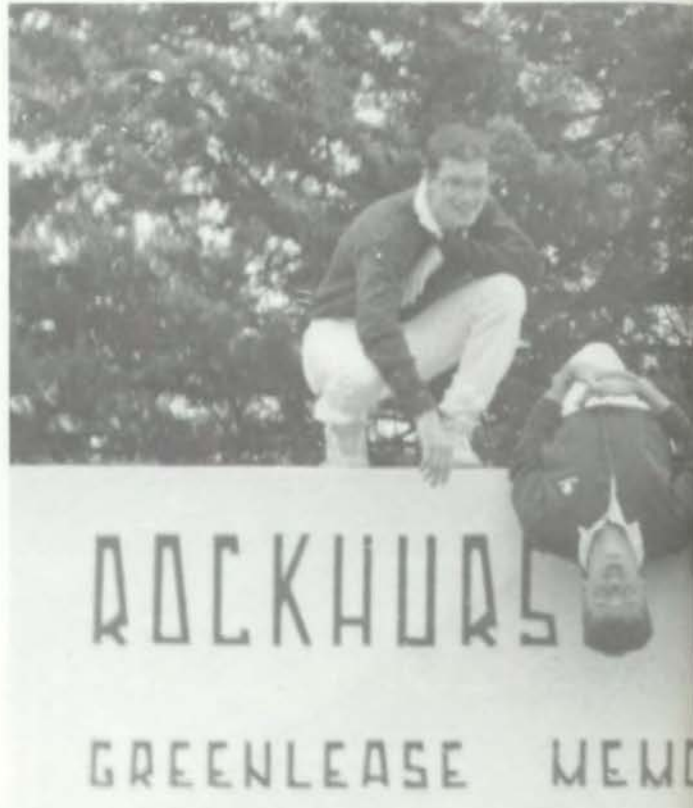

The yell leaders are the twelfth man at football and soccer games and sixth man at basketball games. They arouse the crowd and bring them to life. They are the backbone of spirit during the games.

This years fall squad was headed by Mr. Frank Griffin. The squad were yell leaders for football and soccer and spirited the soccer team to a very successful season.

The fall squad consisted of Andy Axtell, Steve McPhillamy, Kevin Whitaker, David Caccomo, Chris Hankel, Chris Pirotte, Pat Sprehe.

"The yell leaders looked like they had a lot of fun while they were down on the track. I think it made the games more fun," commented Mike Walrod.

"I'm glad I was a yell leader. It was a great experience because I got to know some people better that were on the team with me and I got to really get involved in the games," commented McPhillamy.

WINTER YELL LEADERS

This year's winter yell leaders cheered the basketball team to second in state. They also sparked an idea that spread like wild fire through the stands, face painting. Faces were painted in Rockhurst blue and white which commonly featured "Rock State."

"When I was on the court playing, and messed up I'd get down on myself and depressed. But when I looked out into the crowd and saw all the spirit and enthusiasm in the crowd, especially the blue and white faces, it really got me pumped up. I think it affected the whole team that way because I know it sparked us onto victory in a couple of close games," commented senior Rance Melton.

"I had a lot of fun at the games, getting the fans involved, and getting more involved with the basketball team myself," commented Kyle Schudy.

Mr. Jerry Goblen was the moderator for the basketball season. The members of the winter yell leading squad were Matt Mancini, George Pazell, John Knox, Glen Trossen, David White, Rich Wilson, John Campbell, David Caccamo, and Kyle Schudy.

HAWKLETS DOMINATE K.C. SOCCER SCENE

A number one ranking in the Kansas City area is proof of the varsity soccer team's accomplishments this season. They also traveled to the state playoffs, only to be sent back to Kansas City after a controversial call ended their quarterfinal game against Christian Brothers College High School.

The game ended regulation play with a 0-0 tie and entered overtime. CBC scored when a controversial penalty kick ended the game and the Hawklet season. With this loss, the varsity soccer squad ended the season with a 17-5-4 record.

Such an impressive record is hard to achieve without hard work from everyone, but the defense was definitely the strong point of this team. They had 13 shutouts and allowed only 19 goals against in 36 games this season.

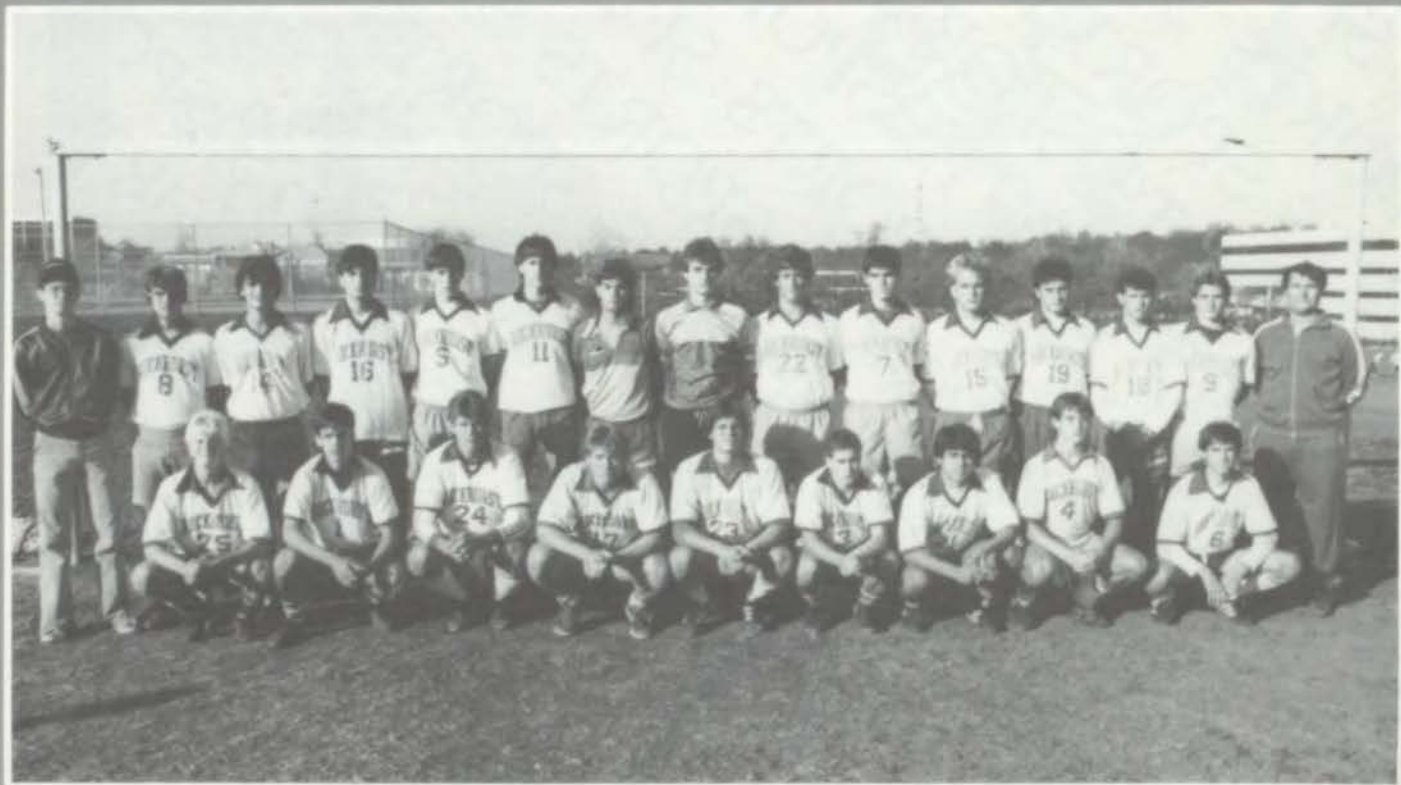

The Shawnee Mission North Tournament, which starts out the season, is usually a direction finder for the way the season will go. The tournament went very well, with Rockhurst defeating Lee's Summit 5-2 in the championship game to win the tournament. Making it to the finals was a shaky road, however, tying Shawnee Mission West 1-1 and Shawnee Mission Northwest 0-0. Then defeating Shawnee Mission Northwest by the score of 2-0.

"I think it was just first game jitters," said Head Coach Ron Geldhof, referring to the first two ties of the season. "The outcome of the tournament is the second straight year and third in the last four years that Rockhurst has come out on top," commented Geldhof.

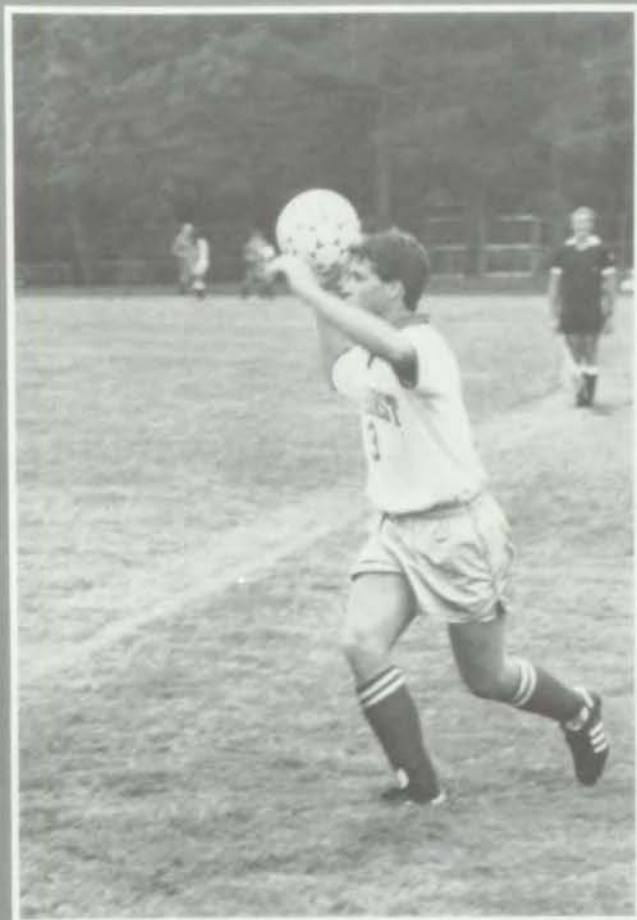

The Hawklets first loss of the season to DeSmet, 0-2, caused some uneasy feelings on the team. "Everyone on the team believed that if we would have played DeSmet later in the season that we would have at least tied and quite possi-

After their confidence was built up with a win over Shawnee Mission North 4-0, they were put down again by a 0-2 loss to Shawnee Mission South. But Rockhurst rose up to shut out Shawnee Mission Northwest for the fourth time of the season. The Hawklets are the first to ever shut out the same Shawnee Mission team four times during a regular season in Shawnee Mission history.

When the team tied Miego 0-0 and Shawnee Mission East 1-1, they decided these would be the last ties of the season. Then RHS moved on to one of their best games of the season against Sedalia Smith-Cotton according to senior Jim Mosqueda.

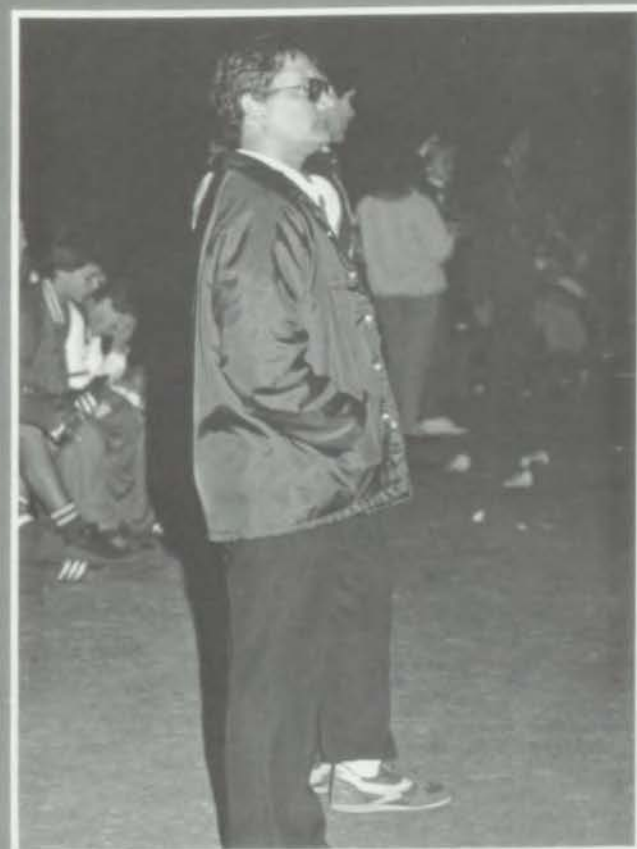

"We worked the ball around to control the game, then we worked it into the goal. Sedalia scored on flukes, so the game ended in a 2-2 tie. In the overtime period we were just physically exhausted. This was our fifth game in seven days," said Mosqueda. The game ended in a 3-2 Sedalia win.

The Hawklets showed no more signs of fatigue. They won seven straight games with four shutouts, defeating such strong teams as Shawnee Mission West and Lee's Summit.

After losing to Saint Louis Rosary 0-2 in the Sedalia Smith-Cotton Tournament, the Rockhurst Hawklets defeated the number one rated team in Saint Louis, Aquinas-Mercy 1-0. "We got our act together and played them tough. We felt we could not have played any better. We just meshed as a team," said Phelan.

RHS then went to districts, easily defeating Center 5-1 and Grandview 2-0. Sectionals, according to Phelan, "was just a scrimmage." They beat Liberty 7-0.

JV TALENT EVIDENT

The Junior Varsity soccer team had a very successful season, which is evident in their 11-2-2 record. Both losses occurred away from home against Shawnee Mission Northwest and Sedalia Smith-Cotton.

The defense was excellent according to Coach Mike Larson. There were only 7 points scored against them all season and they had 11 shutouts. Some players who deserve much of the credit for this great defense as cited by Coach Larson are Mike Chonko, Todd Riley, Eric Van Haaren, Frank Enright, Dave Molinaro, Rob Putthoff, and goalkeeper Jeff Quinn.

"During the Sedalia Smith-Cotton game we had a lot of problems with concentration. But after the game we only had one goal scored on us the remaining four games of the season," commented Coach Larson.

"One of the most enjoyable games of the season was the Raytown South game at Raytown. It got called off after 15 minutes on account of darkness, but during those 15 minutes we scored 3 goals," said Larson.

"I feel real fortunate to have been able to work with these guys. I feel I'm still in the beginning stages of my coaching career and therefore have no influence on the outcome of the game. So all the credit goes to the guys on the team who worked so hard throughout the year," said Coach Larson. (By Darrin Andersen)

FRESHMEN DOMINATE

"We were physically and skillfully superior to all of our opponents," freshman Coach Cornolo said.

The freshman soccer team members started out their soccer career at Rockhurst on the right foot with an 11-0 record.

Their victory over Blue Valley was the closest of the season, ending with a 4-1 score. That match ended the season and captured the title of the only unbeaten team in the Kansas City area for freshman teams.

According to Coach Cornolo, the entire team should be commended for the extremely successful season. "It took a team effort to win. Goal-wise, however, Frank Pileggi had the most, but without the other guys to pass him the ball I don't think he would have had as many goals," Cornolo said.

Coach Cornolo commented that along with the team effort the main factor in the season was ball control. "To maintain ball control you must use short passes, therefore, keeping possession, and since you have possession it makes it easier to score. But without great players we wouldn't have been able to execute this," Coach Cornolo said. (By Darrin Andersen)

HAWKLETS RIDE A ROLLERCOASTER OF A SEASON

The Hawklet football squad opened their 6-4 season with an impressive runaway victory over Oak Park High School, 35-12. But this proved only to be just one peak on a rollercoaster ride of a season. The traditional Rockhurst luxury of exceptional size was not afforded to this year's squad. "Where we lack in size we have speed, quickness, agility, and possibly most importantly, brains," said Head Coach Tony Severino. The second game of the season proved to be an eye opener with a hard fought game that ended with an emotional loss to Lee's Summit who consequently finished the year as state champions runner up. In this game the weather and field conditions played an integral role. "Our advantage of quickness was nullified by the poor field conditions. We were playing in three inches of mud," said senior defensive lineman Chris Thompson. The game ended with an 80 yard Hawklet drive with little less than two minutes remaining. The drive ended on the Lee's Summit three yard line and RHS lost 7-0.

After the Lee's Summit game came a string of emotional highs and lows. The next week the Hawklets trounced the Wyandotte Bulldogs in another runaway victory. But this was only to be a pit stop for the game against Blue Springs. "We were really up for the Blue Springs game. Practice was intense all week. We were ready for them," said senior lineman Matt Spachman. Unfortunately for the Hawklets, Blue Springs won by overcoming a three quarter deficit of 10 points, took the lead in the fourth quarter and refused to give it up. "This one was a hard loss. It also turned out to be a factor in our lack of a playoff berth," said Coach Severino. But in the true RHS spirit the Hawklets put the game in the backs of their minds and got set for the biggest upset win of the season and what proved to be the most emotionally gratifying game of the team's high school career. "We beat them up bad, 21-0," said senior quarterback David White. And this they did. Center High School, the number three ranked team in the city, with four all metro first team members was shut out by the quicker RHS defense. "We loved every minute of it. Off the field they talked big and acted tough and we let them be that way, but on the field we took control and punished their pride for four long quarters. We just showed them what the Rockhurst pride and tradition were all about. When they left, they were silent and had their tails between their legs," said Thompson.

True to form for the pattern the squad had established thus far, the Hawklets lost to Kansas State Champions Shawnee Mission West 6-0 the next week in poor field conditions once again. "The field was worse than the Lee's Summit game. There were easily six inches of mud in some parts of the field," said senior linebacker Monte Nash. Next came another rout in a 44-0 landslide Homecoming Victory against Southeast High School. "When we won, we won big all the time, and when we lost we would lose by no more than a seven point margin. We were constantly playing in heavy mud and rain. I think this eventually took its toll on the team and most certainly neutralized our advantage of quickness. Without this advantage we were forced to play these bigger teams even. So even though we lost, we sure played them tough considering that no one could ever run the score up on us," said senior Jon Schmidt. After losing the next week to Columbia Hickman, the Hawklets finally put two together and beat both Poplar Bluff High School and the defending state champions Jefferson City Jays. Both of these victories were high scoring runaways. The Jefferson City game turned out to be as emotionally charged as the Center game. All told, a 6-4 record is a little under the norm for the Hawklet squad but is nonetheless a respectable accomplishment. (By Chris Thompson)

JV COMPLETES IMPRESSIVE SEASON

The Junior Varsity football team ended its season with an impressive 5-1 record. The only loss of the season came against traditional rival Shawnee Mission West. Winning seasons are nothing new on the JV level. They've only lost three games in the last eight years.

"Seeing guys who rose to the occasion and played on heart," was a prevailing thought about the quality of this year's JV squad according to Coaches Dennis Bullard and Eric Berg. However, this is not to say that the JV squad didn't have size, because they did. For the most part, the JV Hawklets were as big or bigger than all their opponents. "We were generally able to overpower most of our opponents. Not to say that it was easy enough. It's just that we worked out an awful lot and had some good size," said sophomore Paul Freeman.

But just as the seniors are the backbone and strength of the varsity squad, the juniors play the role of leaders on the JV level. "We have a great deal of talented juniors who have really given their whole to this team. They keep everyone going by example. They're good role models. Not including the full time juniors on varsity already, I'd say that half of the juniors could play competitively on the varsity level right now," said Coach Bullard.

With the talent of this year's JV squad and the experience that has already been accumulated by many fulltime varsity starting juniors, the 1986 edition of the Rockhurst Hawklets should be at the least overwhelming dominant. (By Chris Thompson)

SOPHOMORES GAIN EXPERIENCE

For years it has been tradition for the sophomore football team, with its best players having been moved up to the varsity level, to have a losing season. This year's squad held fast to that tradition. Even though they were winless after nine games, the team did manage to find some positive aspects to the season, as well as developing techniques and gaining experience.

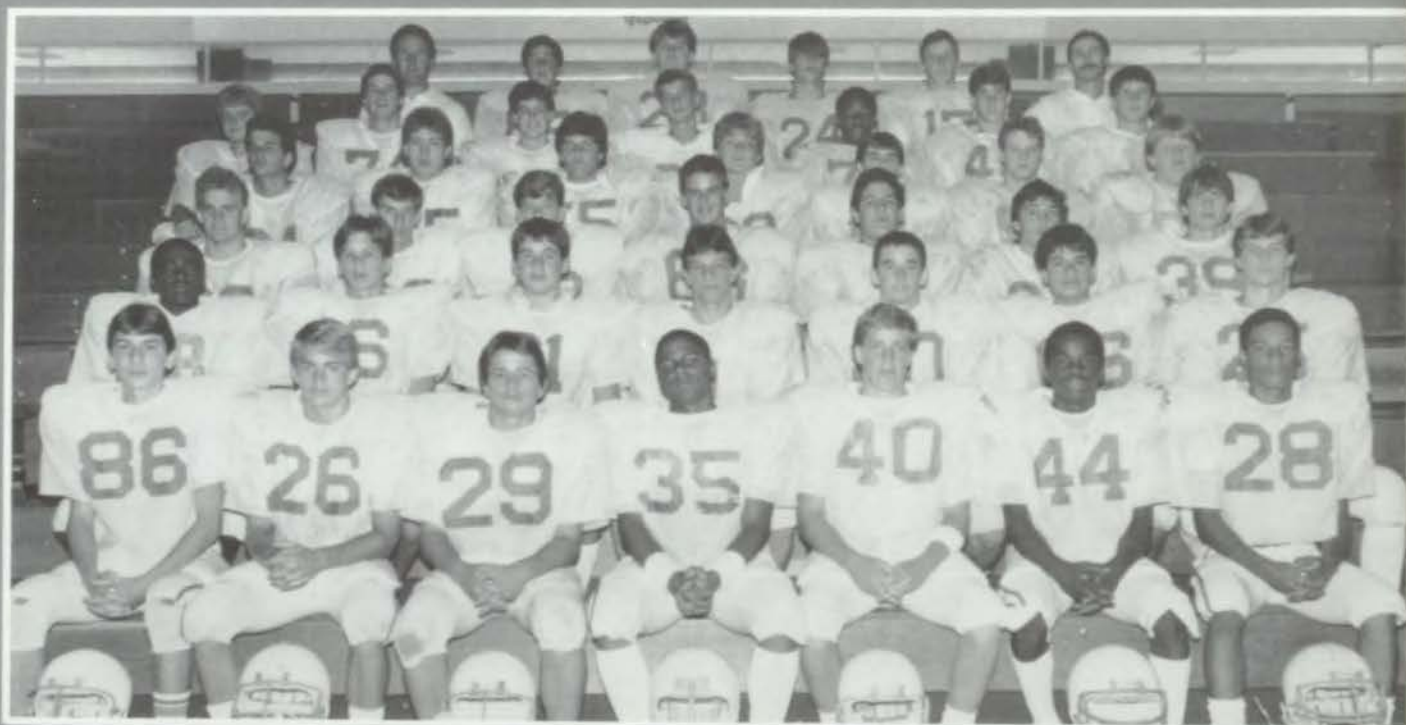

A tough defense held each opponent to less than 14 points, while Joe Spencer led the offense at quarterback.

According to Coach Steve Ryan, Ted Hodes, Pat Lillis, Tommie Thompson, Tim Pistone, and Matt Ponzer all had outstanding seasons.

Hodes summed up the season, "We didn't have a great year, but we learned a great deal about the game. It really doesn't matter what we didn't win this year, because it's the next two years that count. Losing is not a whole lot of fun, but it helps in building character and the ability to come back." FROSH KEEP WINNING TRADITION ALIVE

The Hawklet freshmen football squads had another outstanding year on the gridiron with the 'A' and 'B' teams finishing with a combined record of 11-6. The 'A' team went undefeated winning all eight of their games while the 'B' team did not have as great a success finishing at 3-6.

The squads were led by Head Coach John Morris, with assistants Mark Bubalo and Mark Befort. It was Morris' first year as a Head Coach while Bubalo made a return to coaching football after a short layoff. Mr. Befort was the 'B' team coach and it was his first season as a football coach at RHS.

The 'A' team allowed only 12 points defensively all year while the offense generated well over 100 points. Both ability and hard work were factors of success for this young team according to Coach Morris.

Although their record did not show the same kind of success as the 'A' squad, the 'B' team showed great talent with the same hard work as the 'A' team.

"The 'A' team did really well all year long. We did not blow a lot of people out all the time, but we were fundamentally sound and worked hard, I think our record speaks for itself. The 'B' team is good also, even though our record didn't indicate the same kind of success as the 'A' squad," commented freshman player Mark Raimo.

HARRIERS RUN TO STATE

The Rockhurst cross country team put together an excellent '85 season. Although only two runners qualified for state, the team had an overall impressive record.

In their first two meets of the year, the Truman Invitational and the Olathe Invitational, the team placed sixth and second place, respectively. The Hawklets placed eighth in the Liberty Invitational and put in a strong performance by finishing fourth at the KU Invitational. The harriers finished off the season by giving excellent showings in the Grandview and Shawnee Mission West Invitationals.

Head Coach Buddy Worth said that overall the season was "real successful," and that next year's team had great potential. "Although we won't have as many lettermen and not as many experienced runners, we still have a good chance," said Worth.

Worth stated that hard work would bring out the team's potential. "They need to run during the summer to keep in shape. This is very important if the team is going to excel," he said.

Worth commended junior Stewart Gillin and senior Jeff Bressette as being outstanding this year. Worth noted that Gillin will be one of the area's top runners as a senior. Coach Worth also pointed out seniors T.J. Steck, Jim Brosnahan, Kent Barthol, and Chris Dierks as outstanding leaders on this year's team.

Worth stated that more of the team could have qualified for state but that injuries kept them out of the competition and prevented a strong team finish in districts. (By David Wearing)

CAGERS ROCK STATE, FINISH SECOND

Deafening chants of "We are Rockhurst" and "Rock State" were heard in gymnasiums across the state of Missouri this year as the Hawklet varsity Cagers made it past district play for the first time in 15 years on their way to a second place finish in the state.

Under the direction of Head Coach Doug Bruce and assistants Mark Bubalo and John Morris, the team ended the season with a record of 23-8 and added another banner to the north wall of the RHS gym.

The season began with a loss to a very tough Ruskin team and ended rather anti-climactically with a 72-43 loss to St. Louis Vashon in the state title game. In between, however, were the ingredients that make for an outstanding season.

Along with district and sectional championships, the season featured many ups and downs; five overtime games (three for losses), victories over traditional rivals Center and Blue Springs, and a victory over highly touted Wyandotte.

At mid-season the squad reached its low point of the year following losses to Winnetonka (2 OT), Raytown South (OT), and Blue Springs, as its record dropped to 11-6. The losses to both Winnetonka and Blue Springs were avenged in dramatic games during State Tournament play.

But in their final 12 games, the Hawklets' only setbacks were a loss to SM West in overtime and to Vashon in the title game.

The road to state was a bumpy one. After an opening round victory over Center, RHS won its first district title in a long time by defeating Southwest, 89-74. RHS then travelled to the campus of William Jewell College in Liberty to face Blue Springs for the third time.

As the game came to a close, the capacity crowd left Liberty with smiles on their faces and arms raised in victory. RHS had dominated its opponent in the 82-74 win, their first of the year over the Wildcats.

From there the squad travelled to Lexington where they were to face the Griffins of Winnetonka at Wentworth Military Academy. In a dramatic game, RHS needed free throws from junior John Cooper with no time on the clock to come away with a 73-71 victory. From there, it was on to the Final Four action for the Hawklets as they advanced to Columbia for the first time since 1971.

After a relatively easy win, 69-52, over Springfield Glendale in semi-final play, the Hawklet squad was beaten in the finals by defending champs Vashon, a team with a 31-1 record. The game, which ended 72-43, saw Coach Bruce's squad score only 14 points at the half.

The team was led by senior Harold Mitchem who averaged 22 points, nine rebounds, and three assists a game. Another standout performer was Cooper, who averaged 18 points and nine rebounds a contest. By Bob Riccardi

IMPRESSIVE RECORD, OUTSTANDING TEAM

The Rockhurst JV basketball squad finished the 1985-86 season with a highly impressive 17-1 record. The 17 wins is the most by a junior varsity team in recent years. The Hawklets opened the season in impressive fashion by blowing out Ruskin by 33 points, 85-52. The Hawklets entered the Rockhurst JV tournament with a 2-0 record and again defeated Ruskin in the opening round, 77-56. It took an overtime to defeat Southwest in the Championship game, 63-59, raising their record to 4-0. The Hawklets then defeated traditional rival Bishop Miege 56-53. The Hawklets then continued their winning ways in the next six games to raise their record to an impressive 11-0. Victories over Raytown by a score of 75-54, Bishop O'Hara, 67-54, and Shawnee Mission South, 93-40, typified the Hawklets tear through the junior varsity level. Rockhurst then suffered its first and only loss of the season to Raytown South 55-61. But the Hawklets bounced back with an exciting overtime win over Wyandotte, 55-49. Head Coach Mark Bubalo commented on the victory stating, "They did a really good job of coming back after that loss to Ray-South, they fought hard and did what was necessary to win." The Hawklets then ended the season with five straight wins to finish at 17-1. In the process defeating Shawnee Mission North, 56-32, Bishop Ward by 30, 75-45, and traveled to Columbia, Missouri to beat Columbia Hickman for the season finale, 59-44. However, the Hawklets needed some last second heroics to top Central, 63-61. Bubalo summed up the season by stating, "We have played well as a team this year, that ability to play together as a unit has been the key to our outstanding record and performance."

Bubalo cited many players as making contributions to the team's success. Among them were junior guard/forwards Mickey McHale and Brian Gamble. Sophomore forward Mike Chonko, guard Joe DiGirolamo and David Staker and 6'7" freshman Chris Heller. McHale led the team in scoring with a total of 203 points, a 11.2 average. Heller and Gamble were not far behind with 10.4 and 9.1 scoring averages respectively. Gamble also led the team in field goal percentage with a 56% average. The frosh Heller averaged over 11 boards a game with a 35 rebound performance against Miege. Bubalo stated, "We are tall for a junior varsity team; we have two guys over 6'3" who can really play," referring to 6'3" Chonko and Heller. Guards DiGirolamo and Staker were key ingredients to the teams success according to Bubalo, "They both handled and shot the ball extremely well and did an excellent job of feeding our big men down low." SOPHOMORES GO 12-8

The Sophomore basketball team finished its year 12-8 this year which is a little below par for the usual RHS sophomore cagers but is equally impressive considering the schedule they were up against.

"I think that we had a lot of guys who knew that they would have to work to be successful and so they did. For the most part all of them gave it their best. As the season progressed it became evident that we played our best against the best we played. Evidence of this was beating Wyandotte and beating Blue Springs twice," said Coach Munninghoff.

Coach Munninghoff cited Eric Fisher and Scott Mason as two players who were consistent in practice and play.

But the ability to rise to the occasion was stifled sometimes, however, as was manifested in their eight losses. But of these losses many were close, hard fought games that could have gone either way at times.

"Some of those games we just didn't play like we knew we could. But we did work at it and took some rather large strides in getting better. What we gained this year will help us a lot in the future. I feel very happy with the results," said Fisher.

Many members thought that the year was a good learning experience. And for those who might not be playing next year it was thought of as a nice way to end their basketball career at RHS. By Chris Thompson.

Frosh B-Ball

The freshman A&B basketball teams proved their credibility for the future. Both teams have several young stars who will be assets to the varsity basketball team in the coming years. The "A" team, which finished with an 11-6 record, started the season off with a big victory over Raytown, 48-45. After cruising to their second victory by easily pushing Bishop Miege out of the way, 51-20, the team was on the way to a good year.

In their first loss of the season, the "A" team was defeated by Bishop O'Hara, 57-42, and managed to lose on only five other occasions. Coach Frank Griffin cited Robert Gamble, Matt Disney, David O'Keefe, Mike Zak, and Chris Holmes for having fine seasons.

The freshman "B" team finished its season with a 7-2 record under the coaching of Jim Bascom. The captains of the "B" team were Mark Giroux and Steve Carr. The "B" team racked up big wins over Bishop Miege, Blue Springs and Bishop Ward, only losing to Raytown and Raytown South. Other players who turned in fine performances were Wesley Wright and Mike Schmidt. By Dan Hogan

JUNIORS LEAD TEAM TO STATE

The 1985-86 wrestling season began with much anticipation. There were new coaches, new wrestlers, and a new attitude, a winning attitude. Three Junior grapplers exemplified that spirit by wrestling hard throughout the District meet and advancing to the Sectional meet. Junior Mark Hickey placed first in the 175lb. weight class, while Juniors Dave Ferro, 126lb. weight class, and John Childers, 175lb. weight class, placed third and fourth respectively.

Ferro and Childers both lost hard fought matches but Hickey won and advanced to the State Tournament. Hickey took the winning attitude to Columbia and placed a RHS all time best Fourth place.

"Hickey surprised a lot of people by placing that high, and he's got another year to win it all," commented Coach Wikiera.

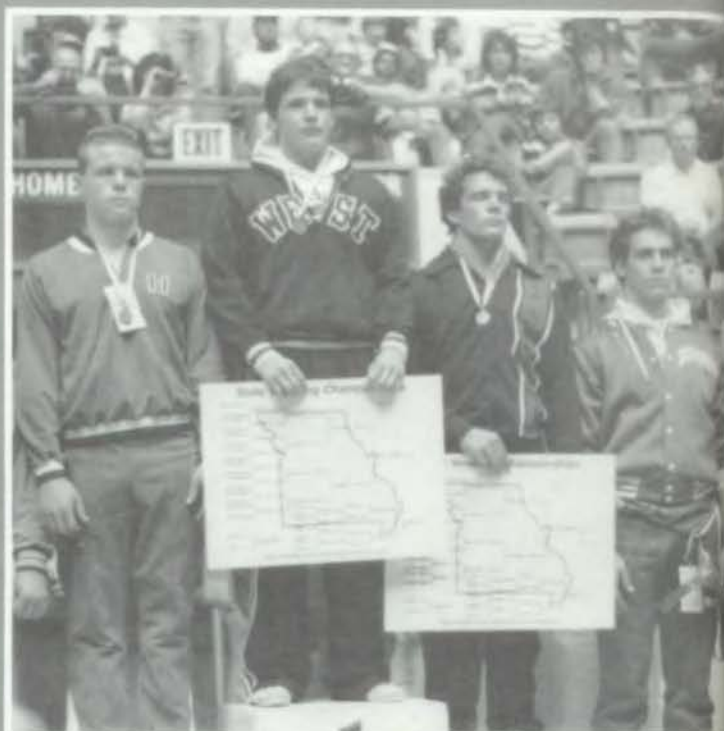

"It took a lot of time and dedication, but it was all for State, and it was all worth it," commented Hickey.

With heart breaking and disappointing losses to rivals Lee's Summit and Bishop Miege, the squad was off to a slow start, but according to Junior Terry Sexton, 155lb. weight class, "The Quad turned that around, after that, we grew up and got on the winning track."

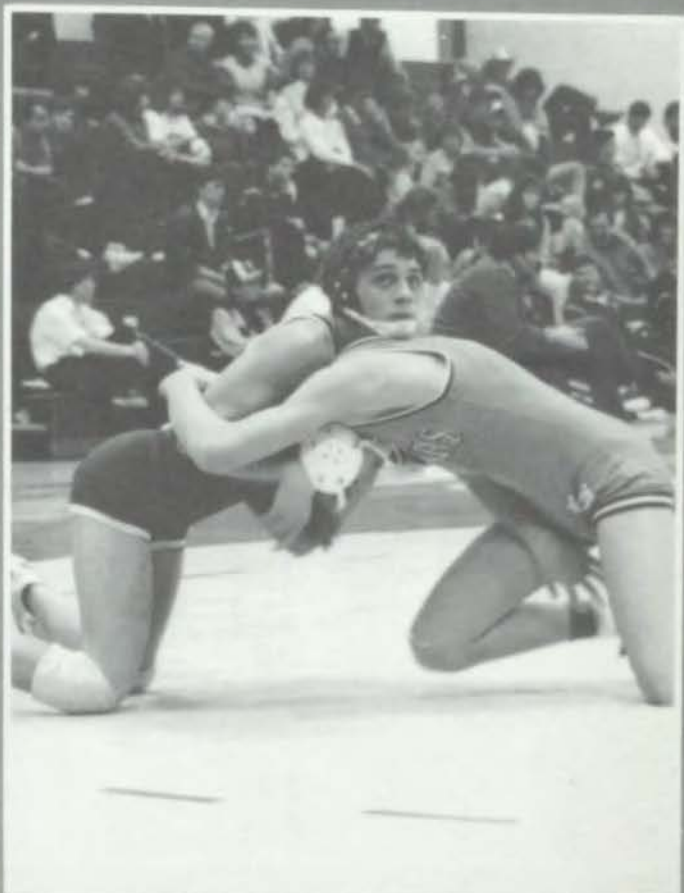

This year's squad was comprised mainly of underclassmen, for there was only one Senior, Jeff Taylor 185lb. weight class. "Jeff provided a good deal of the squad's leadership," said Wikiera. With the lack of Seniors on the squad, several Juniors were forced to assume the roles. Among them were Hickey, Sexton, Ferro, Childers, Dave Caccamo, Craig Schneider. There were several reasons that Wikiera cited for the squad's inexperience, among them, burnout and the fact that some Seniors might not like being beat out by an underclassman."

"The team worked hard all year and improved consistently," cited Ferro. Several Freshmen played key roles on the squad, Joe Elliston and Mark Raimo filled the vacant 119 and 112lb. weight classes respectively. While Sophomores Ted Hodes, Mark Connoly, Lance Taylor and Shawn Schmelze took over the 98lb, 138lb, 145lb. and Heavy weight spots respectively. Juniors Ferro, Caccamo, Schneider, Sexton, Childers and Hickey filled the 126, 132, 145, 155, 167 and 175 weight classes and Taylor provided the leadership in the 185lb. weight class.

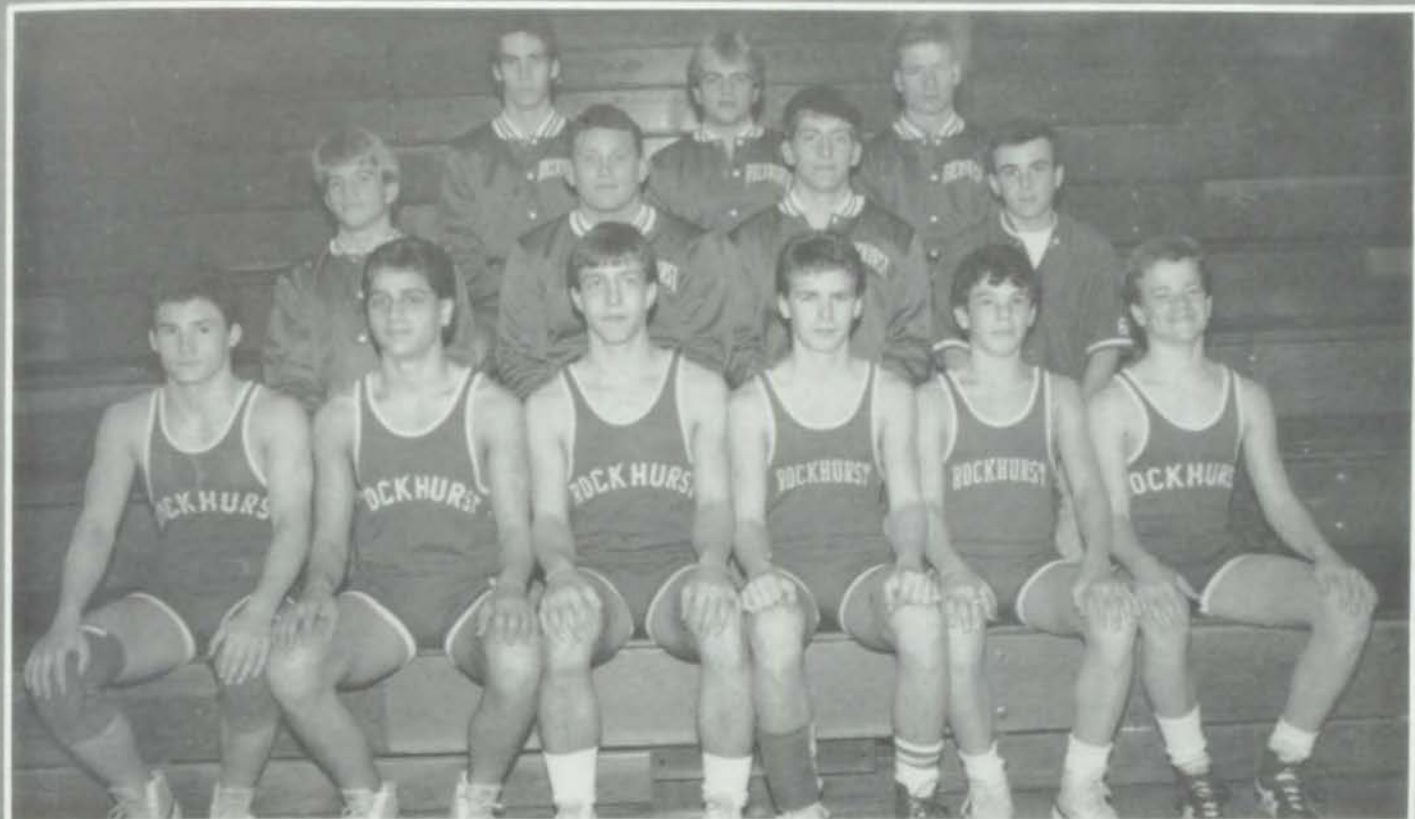

"You have to look ahead now," said Hickey, "the 1985-86 season is behind us now, but the 1986-87 season is staring us in the face." By Brian Sexton

With a year of transition and learning, the RHS junior varsity wrestling squad posted a strong 6-5 record. Standouts such as Hans Weding, Doug Dunlay, David Wood, Sean Kiekbusch and Matt Ruark held impressive records and promised a bright future for the next season. The team did start out slow but by mid season the experience set in and their records improved.

With the addition of a new JV coach, Greg Thomas, new plans were set and an addition in capabilities improved. Thomas who was hired over the summer proved himself by coaching both the JV and freshman wrestling squads. Mr. Wikiera, Varsity head coach, stated, "The team (JV) was young but much was gained with the new coach and the new wrestlers."

With this year's JV team being mostly young and inexperienced, some wrestlers did step up into the Varsity wrestling spots. The lighter weight classes seemed a little inconsistent but by the end of the year some wrestlers were adding wins to their records. With wrestlers like Paul Sheedy proving himself, the RHS wrestlers built a strong foundation for the years to come. David Wood was also cited as having one of the better seasons. Wood, who wrestled Varsity last season, showed consistency and added leadership for the younger wrestlers.

Mr. Wikiera also added, "This was a season of learning. With the addition of Greg Thomas we have a bright future and we look to a lot of guys for great success next year." By Joe Michalski

Under the intense leadership of first-year coach Greg Thomas, the freshman wrestlers surmounted great odds to walk away winners this season.

Hampered by injuries, line-up changes, and promotions to the varsity and junior varsity squads, the freshmen managed to make do with what they had and win doing it.

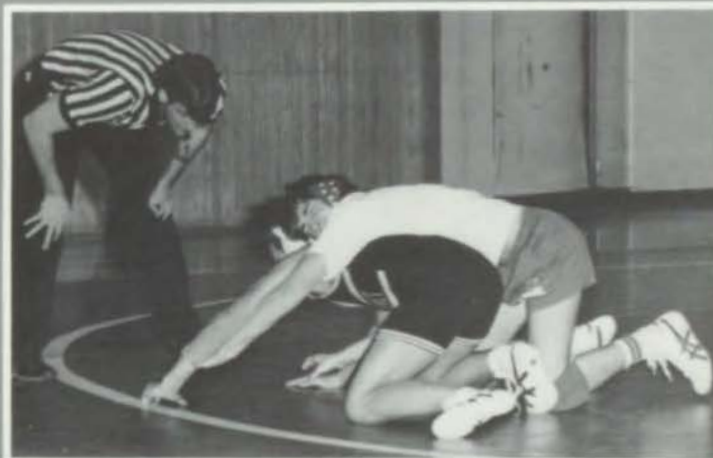

At the Rockhurst Invitational, Ron Scott and Scott Johnson each placed second, and Tom Kramer and Scott Connell each came away with third place honors. This was despite heavy competition from such noted powerhouses as Raymore-Peculiar, Raytown South, and Grandview.

The frosh line-up changed quite a bit throughout the season, but several wrestlers were mentioned by Coach Thomas as outstanding this year.

John Becker, Doug Dunlay, Mark Raimo, and Matt Ruark were among many wrestlers who performed consistently well for the Hawklets when the chips were down.

However, winning was not the most important thing to Coach Thomas. "If you lose to a better man, that is understandable. But you make sure that when that man walks off the mat, he knows he has been in a match against Rockhurst," he said.

Coach Thomas has a great deal of optimism for the future. "The freshmen have formed the nucleus for a tough Rockhurst wrestling squad in the future," he said. "With a little luck, and a lot of hard work, Rockhurst can stand atop Missouri in yet another sport." By Terry Sexton

TRACK BUILDING FOR FUTURE

This year's track team was one of high recognition in and through-out the city and state this year. RHS sent several members to the State Finals. Senior Michael Johnson; Juniors Merle Gardner, Justin Peters and Ted Bubien in the 440 meter relay. In addition to the 440 meter relay team, Juniors Tim Ryan and Chris Russel represented RHS in the shot, placing second and seventh respectively. The '86 track team sent seven members to sectionals in four different events.

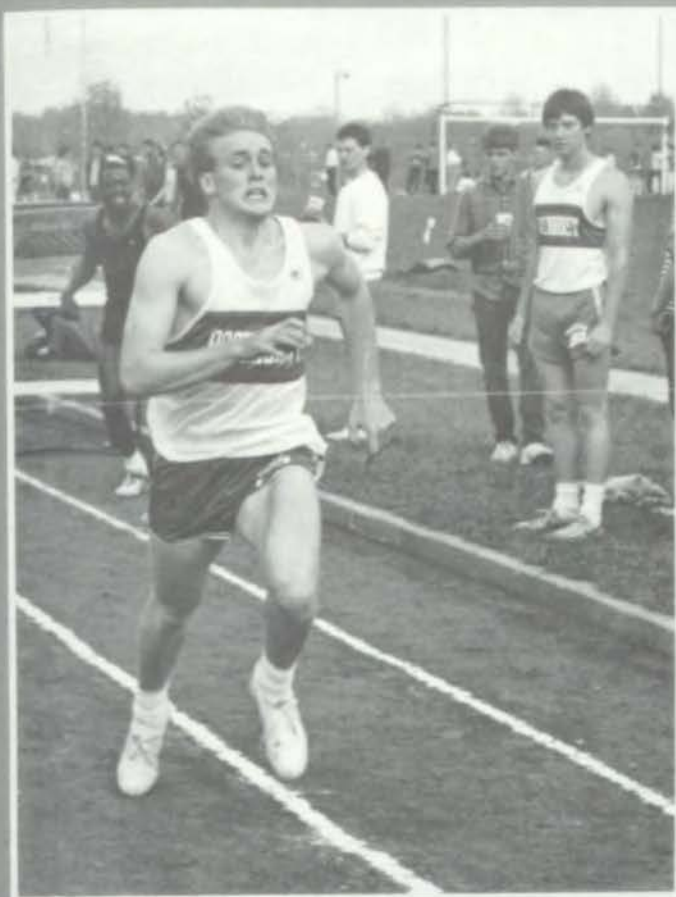

The team broke several school records especially in the 440 meter relay posting an impressive time of 43.0 seconds. Head Coach Eric Berg cited Seniors Rich Wilson, Matt Mancini, John Wilcox; Juniors Stewart Gillin, Tim Ryan and Chris Russel as giving consistent outstanding efforts throughout the season. Coach Berg was assisted by coaches Ryan, Worth, Golben and Bruce.

The highpoint of this year's team as a unit came at the Miega Relays where RHS finished second.

Coach Berg focuses on next year stressing that a majority of the team will return. "With the exception of Michael the 440 meter relay team will return, so I'm really looking forward to next year." With a great strength of underclassmen and experienced members RHS will stay on the track of success. By Doug Coe

LEGACY ENDS, TRADITION CONTINUES

With a year that was billed as the year for the Rockhurst tennis team, this year came to a melodramatic end at the state competition. With five returning lettermen filling in a possible six spots, Rockhurst finished second in overall competition and added other outstanding performances.

"Overall the team performed well and captured a strong second place, where as Warren McDonald and Pat Looney placed third," commented Coach Ron Geldhof. In number one varsity doubles, Pat Looney and Warren McDonald placed third place after coming off an earlier defeat in state competition.

Rob Aubin, the number one, varsity singles player, played probably his best year at Rockhurst. In state competition Aubin played into the quarterfinals with an undefeated year at 10-0. Unfortunately, an abrupt loss sent Aubin to play in a consolation round. The Rockhurst tennis team finished the year with a record of 16-2.

To look forward to next year, RHS is losing McDonald, Looney and Aubin, but upcoming sophomore Rich Miller did impress Coach Geldhof.

"Richie will probably be a strong player next year, and I feel our JV will have to play tough too," commented Geldhof.

Miller did at times play at the varsity level, and has shown experience and prominence, as stated by Geldhof.

As the JV continues to grow, RHS also adapted a new JV tennis coach. Coach Graziano Cornolo who teaches Physical Education and Typing, lent his hand to the teaching skills of Rockhurst tennis players. Cornolo arrived at RHS this year and has coached two sports along with Geldhof.

With the conclusion of tennis and a school year at RHS, our school should look at the domination the three senior players have had on the area teams. Rob Aubin, Pat Looney and Warren McDonald all have played on the varsity team for three years. They will graduate now and leave a legacy to continue. With the future strolling in, RHS should hopefully be blessed with new dominating athletes. By Joe Michalski

GOLFERS PAR EXCELLENCE

The 1986 Rockhurst golf team consisting of Mike Walsh, Pat Clarke, Chris Klausner, Jay Rick, Chris Reifel, Mike Gleeson, Brian Schorgl and coached by Athletic Director Mr. Al Davis topped off the season in the Missouri state championship.

Davis emphasized that this should be compared to the 75 other teams in the state striving to get to the tournament.

Other highlights of the year include the squad's score of 310 to take second place in districts at Lee's Summit Chapel Woods course. Walsh held first in a three way tie, Clarke placed seventh, and Schorgl placed tenth.

There was also the second place finish in the annual Heart of America Tournament for the golf squad.

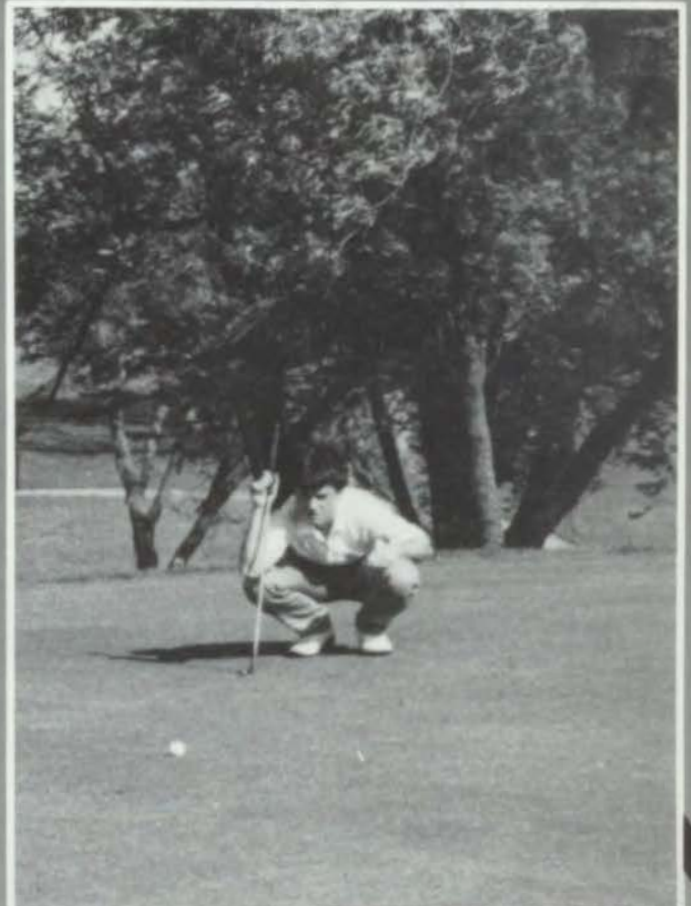

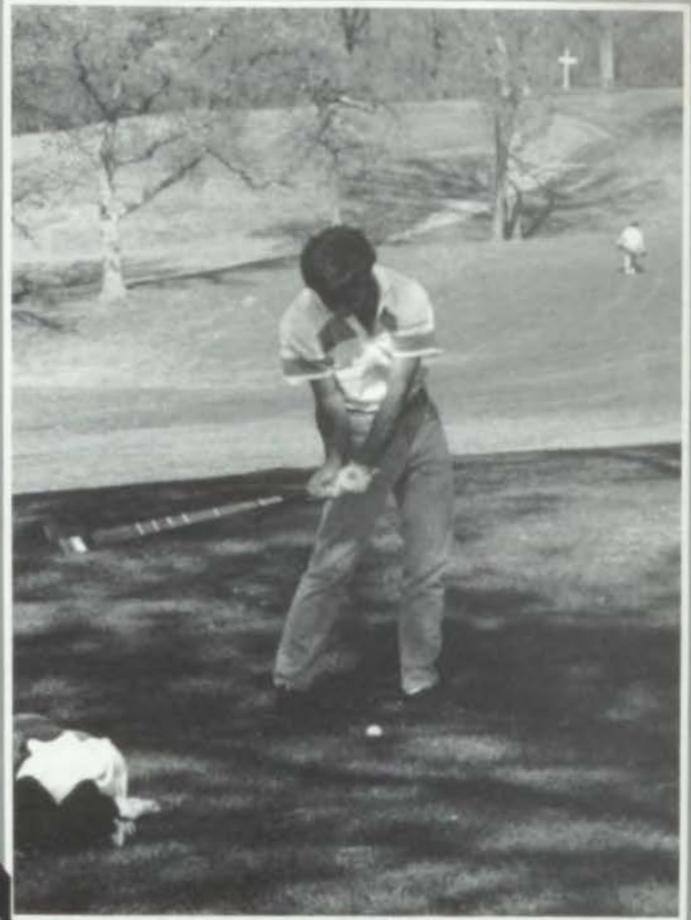

This year RHS had a duel meet record of 6-4. One highlight of duel meet play was a win over O'Hara with a score of 149. "149 is one of the best scores by any Rockhurst team," said Davis.

Rockhurst also beat Lee's Summit with a score of 151.

"The boys played outstanding and we did great in districts," Davis added.

"Coach Davis gave us a lot of support. He really wants to win and he knows how to win," Schorgl. "One high point of the year was how Clarke and Rick picked up a lot of slack as the season went on."

With four of the top six golfers returning, next year is expected to be strong. The team hopes for at least a repeat of what Davis called another outstanding Rockhurst golf season. By Jimmy Holmes

Presidential Change in 1986

Fr. John Hunthausen, S.J.

Fr. Thomas Cummings, S.J.

Fr. John M. Hunthausen, S.J., President of RHS, who announced his resignation last fall, was succeeded January 27, 1986 by Fr. Thomas Cummings, S.J., former President of St. Louis University High School.

Fr. Hunthausen, who experienced and grew through six years at RHS, is dealing with the times of change and some of the pains that go with it. "This has been one of the most, if not the most rewarding experiences of my life and I'm very grateful to everyone associated with RHS for their kindness to me personally and for their generous support in many ways to RHS," he said.

Fr. Hunthausen has presided over a large list of duties. He has handled public relations, fund raisers, Parent's Clubs, alumni foundations, and the welfare of the general community of RHS. He leaves RHS for a six-month sabbatical. He will venture to Rome for the purpose of continuing his studies in theology.

Upon completion of the first semester at RHS, the community witnessed the completion of Fr. Hunthausen's term as well. All who know and love him are greatly saddened at his leaving, but at the same time look to the future with anticipation. Fr. Hunthausen has become a part of the Rockhurst Tradition and will remain so in the hearts of all who were associated with him. (by Joe Michalski)

Rockhurst welcomes a new president Fr. Thomas Cummings, S.J., who returns for his third tour of service at RHS. He has been here before as one of the original founding fathers during the sixties, and he played a vital role in the design of the school crest.

He returned to RHS after ordination and was chairman of the English department. He was also the moderator of both the Prep News and the Student Council.

He returns once again, but this time as president. This job is not new to him either. He returns to RHS after serving as the president of St. Louis University High School. He made many improvements there, including several major building projects.

Fr. Cummings considers it his job to do what is best for Rockhurst. "We are here primarily for the students. If it was not for them, none of us would be here," he stated. He sees the role of the students as the most important one at RHS. He believes that the reputation of Rockhurst is established by the students themselves. What people think of RHS will be based on the students, not the faculty or administration.

"Rockhurst has a tradition of excellence. I would like to see us return to Rockhurst's better days," he said. (by Terry Sexton)

JUNIORS

Time passes quickly. Just two short years ago, two hundred of us came to Rockhurst as strangers. Over two years, we have grown—physically, mentally, and spiritually. As Juniors, we jumped ahead in the Rockhurst community—academically, athletically, and socially. Through the retreats, we developed a sense of unity and spirit. As the end of the year came to a close, we looked ahead to the summer before our last year in high school, a time for planning and thought. In one year, we will be standing tall—the Class of 1987—Rockhurst High School.

THE CLASS OF 1986

Four years ago, in September, 1982, we, the Class of 1986, were pushed together as a confused, diverse group. We were scared, proud, and unsure of ourselves. We came from different backgrounds and different traditions, but we had one thing in common. Upon entering the doors of Rockhurst, we became the Class of 1986. Then it meant nothing—now it means everything. We were challenged to give meaning to the name “Class of ’86.” And, as we were graduated, we realized how successfully we met the challenge. Our name is now our bond. In four short years we became a unified body—a class. We are truly an embodiment of the spirit and unity of Rockhurst. We ARE the Class of 1986.

Many things helped us on our path to unity in our years at Rockhurst. Freshman year could be described in two words; NEW and EXCITING. Every aspect of our Rockhurst life was new to us and, therefore, exciting. It was new to us to try out for a sport. It was exciting when we made the team. It was new to us to have to study hard every night. It was exciting when we excelled. Our unity started to build freshman year as we experienced the newness of social life, especially “Freshmen Hill” in Dasta Stadium. It was new to us to stand around at Godfather’s and wait for our parents to pick us up. It was exciting going to the freshman float site and not doing any work on the float. It was exciting as we experienced having our football team place second at state and the tennis team win the state title. We were beginning to realize a sort of spirit invading our class. We were learning that much diversity remained, yet this spirit, this unity, kept growing. We were also introduced to the Rockhurst motto of being “Men for Others.” We started to realize the difficulty of this ideal and it remained simply an ideal. Later in the year we experienced Freshman Retreat and our spirit and unity were greatly enhanced. Through freshman retreat we added a new dimension to our lives, as well as many new friends.

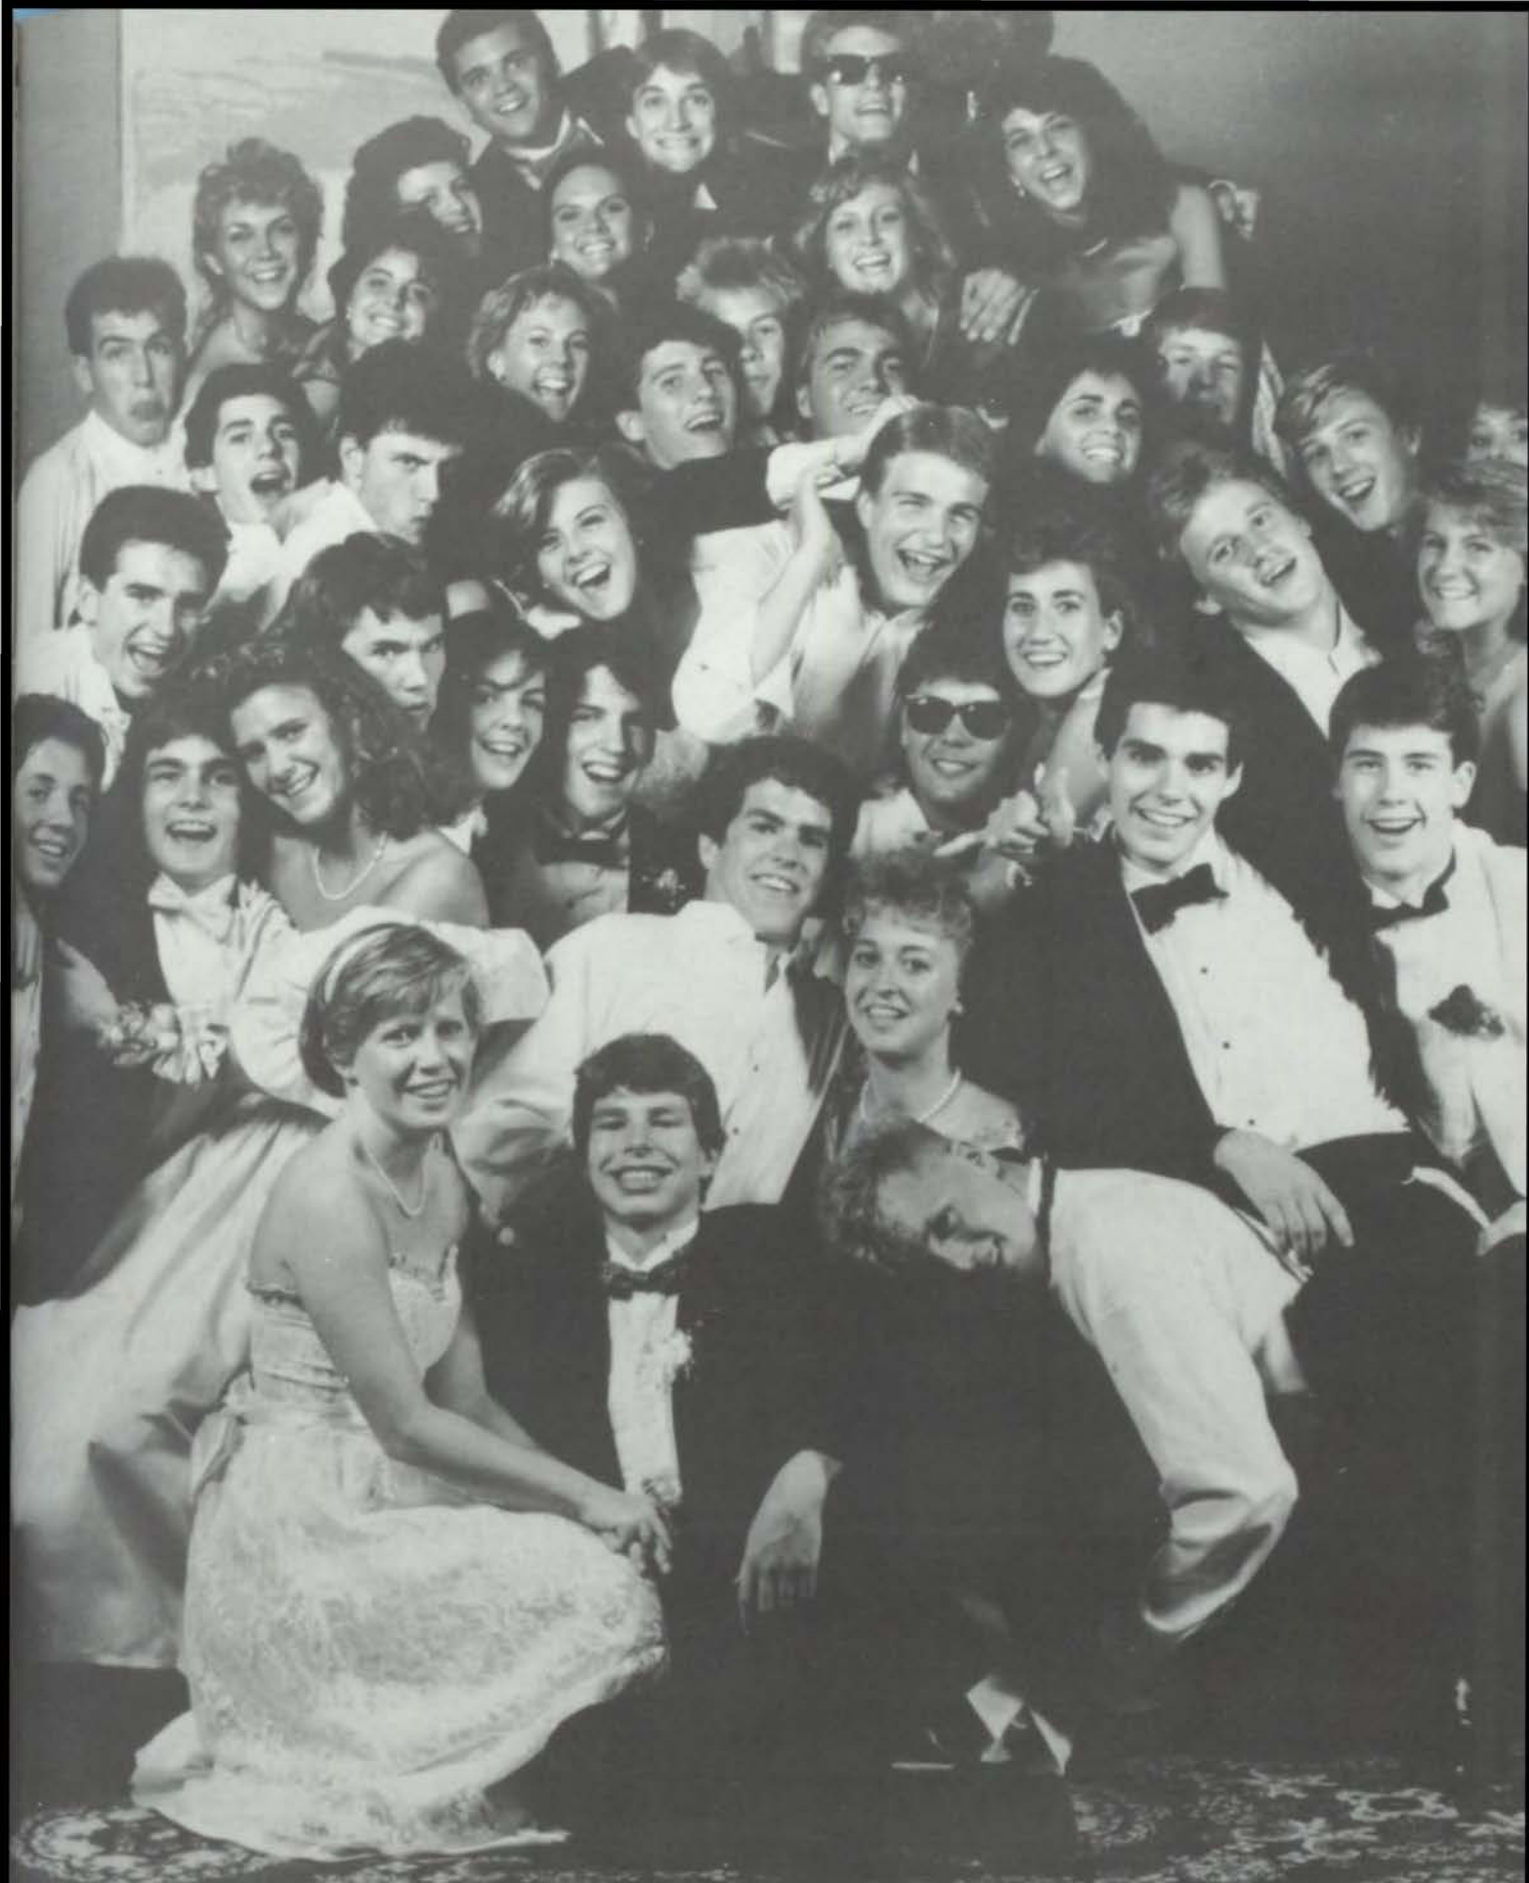

By sophomore year our unity had developed sufficiently enough for us to share in victory celebration as our football team won the state championship in St. Louis. New experiences, specifically driving, enhanced our social life and strengthened our unity. We now experienced a new sense of pride emerging from our class. We realized that we were glad we chose Rockhurst over the other schools we were considering. There was something about the “Rock” which made it stand apart from the other schools. We were not sure what it was, specifically but we knew we loved the “Rock.” This heightened our sense of pride and propelled us into a first place finish in the Spirit Contest. As our unity grew, so too did our awareness. We were still faced with the challenge of being “Men for Others.” We then started to realize that this was one of the things that separated Rockhurst from other schools. We worked towards becoming “Men for Others.”

Along with junior year came new responsibilities because we were now the upperclassmen. We had to help set the example for the freshmen. The Out-to-Lunch program was one of our new privileges and it was exciting as we raced to our cars, did 60mph to Burger King, wolfed down our food, and did 65mph back to Rockhurst so we would not be late for fifth hour. It was during our junior year that we grew a little on the inside. We all made junior retreat and became an even more unified body. We became closer to each other and to our God. We were asked to start thinking about life after Rockhurst. We were encouraged to make lists and fill out forms. We were really too wrapped up in our present lives to worry about college, so we put it in the back of our minds, for awhile.

As we became seniors, we became the leaders of the school. We went through many changes—both externally and internally. We started freshmen direction days and reinstated an overnight retreat for our freshmen brothers. Through Senior Projects we entered the “do” phase of the ideal which, until now, had remained simply an ideal. We actively became “Men for Others” as we became more aware of the struggle our challenge presented. We experienced a change in the administration as we received both a new principal and a new president. We again experienced a surge of energy on campus as our basketball team went to state and finished second. Soon, thoughts of spring break entered our minds and, finally, we were there. The mountains; the beach; and everywhere in between. It was hard to get back into the school routine, because for seniors the weekend started on Thursday and memories of spring break lingered on in our minds. We also became panicked as college admissions deadlines came around. We sweated waiting for the coveted acceptance letter.

In the past four years we have conquered our diversity TOGETHER. We have had good times TOGETHER—we have partied TOGETHER—we have worked TOGETHER. But most of all, we have grown—TOGETHER. We share a special part of our lives, a special bond with each other that only we can know. Because we have grown, together as the Class of 1986, this bond will be a part of us forever.

To us—Rockhurst was not simply a high school experience—it was a challenge. To us—Rockhurst is not simply a high school—it is a way of life. What we have realized through our “Rockhurst experience” is that the challenge does not end with graduation. Our “Rockhurst experience” will continue to challenge us for the rest of our lives. After four years of Rockhurst living, we are now commissioned to go forth and to live—to live as we have been challenged—to live as we know—to live as we believe. And this new era in our lives begins with a struggle. The struggle to leave Rockhurst. Our new life begins with the CHALLENGE to live as “Rockhurst Men” and the DARE to live as “Men for Others” (by Sean Phelan)

SENIOR PROM

Prom was our last time to laugh and dance as a class in our high school careers. On May 9, 1986 in the Grand Ballroom of the Adam's Mark Hotel we gathered for an enjoyable evening of fun and friends.

The evening consisted of dinner and dancing, with music provided by "Savannah". It was indeed a memorable night for all.

The Mother's Club provided the After Prom Party at King Louie West, which included a night of bowling, ice skating, billiards, and video games.

Jeff and date practice for '88 Olympics.

Harold Mitchem and date prepare to face the ice.

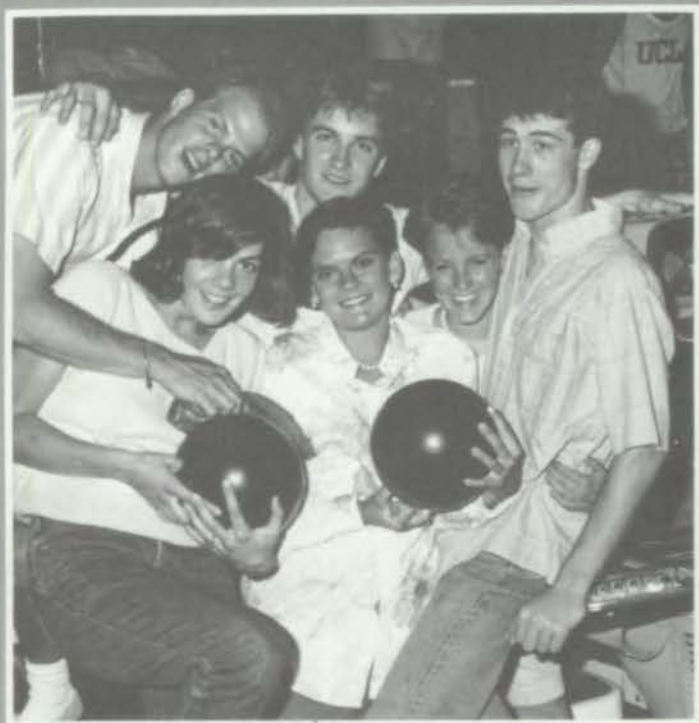

Kevin Brimmer and date enjoy their dinner.

Mark, Don, and dates take a break before returning to dancing.

GRADUATION

Four years of Jesuit education culminated Saturday, May 24 as the Class of 1986 was graduated at the Music Hall. Scott Schudy served as the master of ceremonies and introduced such guests as Fr. Thomas Cummings, S.J. who began the ceremony with the opening prayer as well as speaking to the graduates; Fr. Patrick Rush who served as the Bishop's representative; Fr. Joseph Snyder, S.J. who presented academic awards; and Fr. Michael Durso, S.J. who closed the ceremony with a prayer. Sean Phelan was the student speaker and spoke of our past and our future as the Class of 1986.

Graduation came upon the seniors quickly and brought many mixed feelings. Some seniors were glad to have graduated, others were apprehensive about the future and enjoyed the security that Rockhurst provided, while still others had not yet realized that they had indeed started a new phase in their lives. One thing all seniors agree upon is that they will always remember their years at the "Rock" with pride and love.

QUARRY 1986

The 1986 QUARRY comes to you only after a full year of strenuous work by a dedicated and reliable staff. For the section editors the year was filled with extra duties and responsibilities. Aside from the daily pressure of schoolwork, these men faced yearbook deadlines. Often, this staff would stay in the QUARRY room until two or three o'clock in the morning to meet a deadline. One time a few dedicated editors even spent the night in the yearbook room to meet a deadline.

We hope you will appreciate what we have tried to instill into this book. We have attempted to capture the spirit of Rockhurst High School. Our goal is that many years from today you will look at this book and remember the growth, change, learning, and friends you experienced at Rockhurst. We feel that Rockhurst is too special of a place to be forgotten by those of us who are so much a part of it, and will always remain so.

. . . OF SENIOR FACES

ROCKHURST!!

A black and white photograph of a winding road through a forest of bare trees. The road curves from the foreground towards the background, disappearing into the woods. The trees are tall and thin, with no leaves, suggesting a late autumn or winter setting. The sky is overcast and grey. The overall mood is quiet and mysterious.

Still round the corner there may wait
A new road or a secret gate;
And though I oft have passed them by,
A day will come at last when I
Shall take the hidden paths that run
West of the Moon, East of the Sun.

—J.R.R. Tolkien
