In Dedication To The Ruskin Spirit

We remember;

The rowdy enthusiasm of a pep assembly,

Wild joy when the team won. . .

and heartbreak when it lost.

Burning midnight oil into the wee hours before exams. . .

jubilation after finals.

Frostbitten Homecomings. . .

lovely queens.

Panic at a forgotten assignment. . .

satisfaction at a job well done.

Bewildered freshmen avoiding prankish seniors. . .

humble seniors standing on the graduation platform.

The inspiration of a fine teacher. . .

the stimulation of a heated discussion.

Starstudded Snowball evenings. . .

balmy Prom nights.

Pride at a flag-raising. . .

misty eyes during the school song.

Happiness in a good cafeteria meal. . .

appreciation of a school production. . .

clicking heels moving down the tiled halls. . .

Nostalgia in looking backward to earlier high school days.

All of these compose our

Ruskin Hums With Assorted Activities

High school has many aspects besides the classroom and study. It is a social center around which revolves many different and individual activities. Not only students but teachers add to this hub of activity. This center comes alive with the opening of school in September and is constantly humming with life until the last student goes out of the doors in June.

Caught in one of his rare moments, Mr. Lawrence ponders one of the many problems he faces each day.

With the ringing of the 2:50 bell, the parking lot suddenly comes alive.

Football takes study of the fundamentals as well as actual play.

What better way to show school spirit than by polishing the Eagle? Shine it, Freshman!

On the first day of driving to school after passing his driver's test, Mr. Wrisinger found a special parking space reserved just for him.

Student Life Extends Beyond The Books

The Student Council sponsored several dances, all of which were well attended.

"Forward march!" says Terry Edwards, drum major of the Golden Eagle Band.

These students' favorite activity before school is roaming the halls until 8:04½ a.m.

The boys on the team crouch on the scrimmage line at one of their practices.

The library is always a busy place, before, during, and after hours.

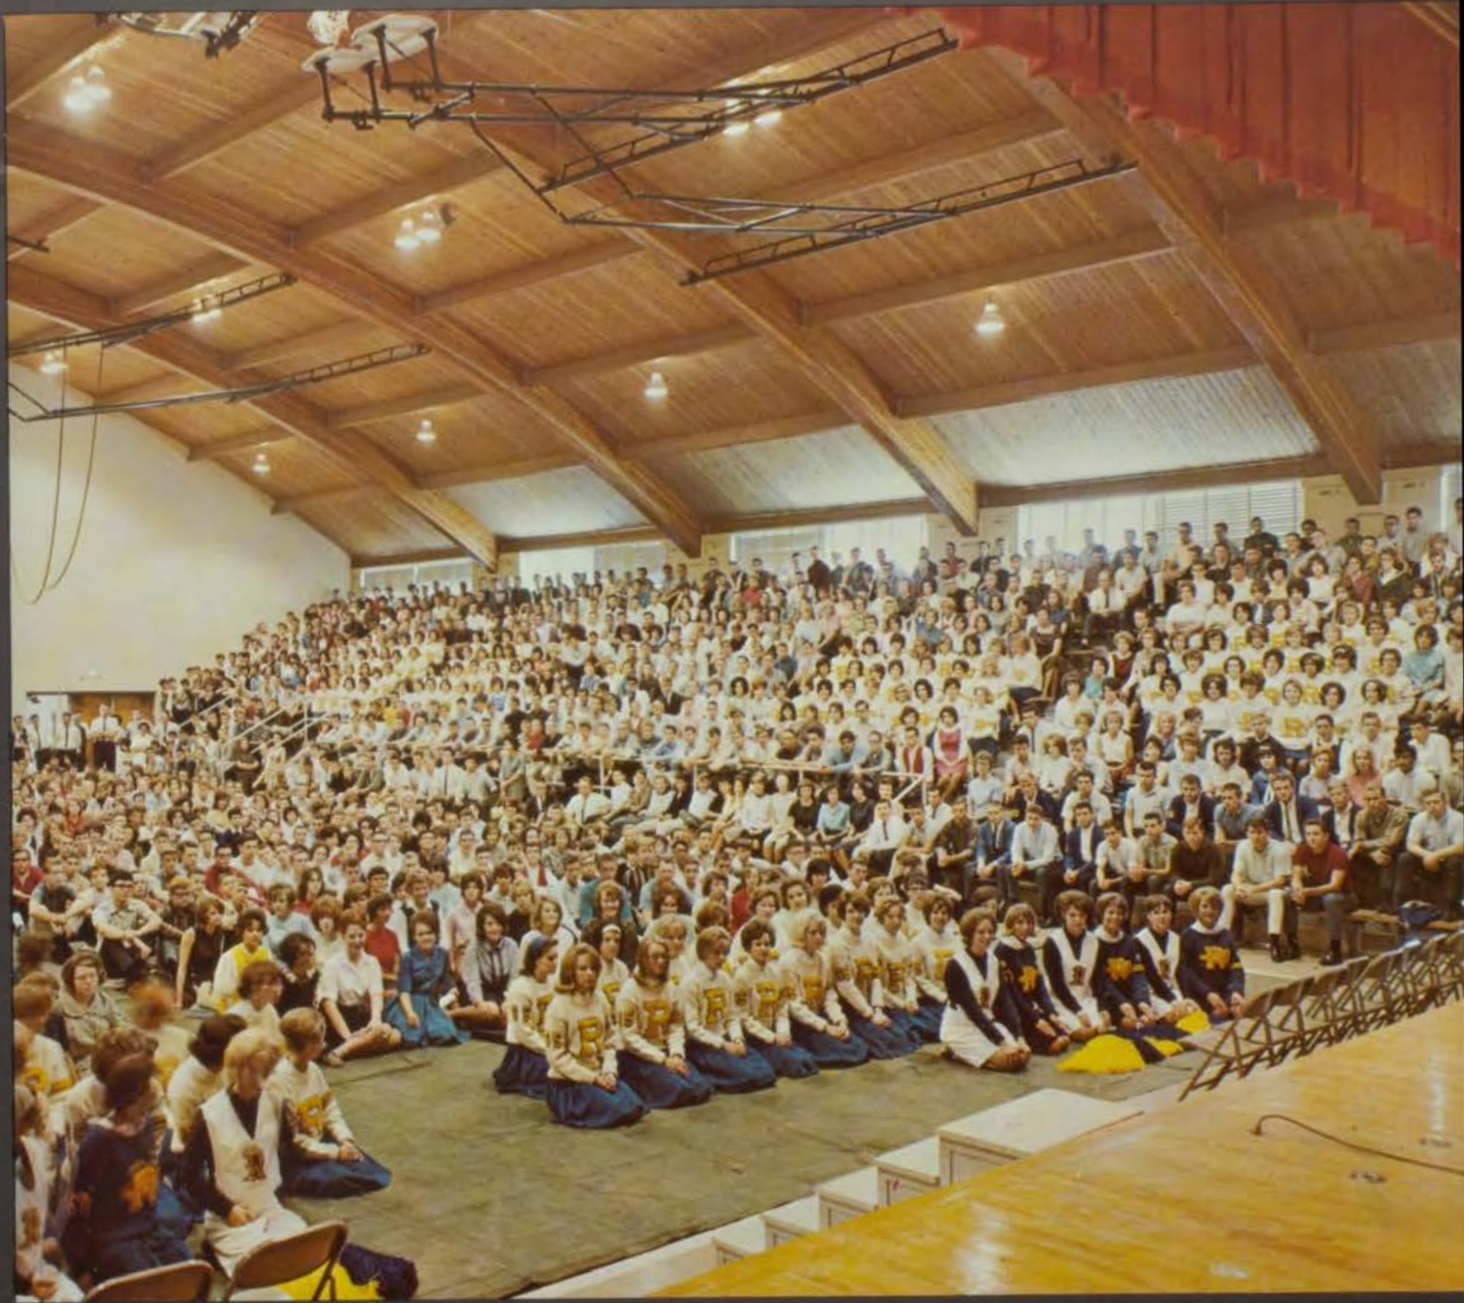

Mirage sales went "modern" this year and a crowd around the barrel became a well-known sight.

Superintendents Guide The Districts' Activities

MR. TOM FORAKER, Superintendent of Consolidated District No. 1.

Board Of Education Encourages Achievement

Due to the outstanding efforts of our board of education, Ruskin High School has progressed to a leading position in the secondary education field. Without their devoted interest and work, our school could not have realized such a high caliber of achievement.

Through the efforts of the school board, Ruskin has a well-planned effective curriculum, and adequate facilities. The large number of Ruskin graduated who have gone into the world and earned for themselves a successful livelihood, is a tribute to the guiding work of our board of education.

The Mirage once again pays tribute to its two fine administrators, Principal Blaine E. Steck and Vice-principal Douglas M. Lawrence. The bustling figure of Mr. Steck moving through Ruskin's halls has become a tradition.

Our administrators have provided the school with firm leadership in academics throughout the year, making possible Ruskin's excellent preparation for life after graduation.

When asked about the effectiveness of the administrative policy, a faculty member said, "The dedication of Mr. Steck and Mr. Lawrence is unusual in a high school administration and is inspiring to me as a teacher."

Administrators Lead In All Activities

Working closely with Mr. Steck, Mr. Lawrence has ably directed Ruskin's activities program, which is one of the best in the state.

With faculty support and student appreciation, Principal Steck and Vice-principal Lawrence are part of Ruskin's school spirit, a vital part which has brought us through another successful school year.

Behind-The-Scenes Services

Mrs. Gowler helps keep the office records.

Important in their positions but often overlooked when recognition is given are the office secretaries of Ruskin High School. Typing school letters, keeping office records and answering the questions of parents and students are a few of the duties performed by Mrs. Marcella Gowler, Mrs. Bernice Phillips, and Mrs. Dorothea Gfeller. To our secretaries, the behind-the-scenes backbone of the school, go our thanks for their dedication to the students, teachers, and administrators of Ruskin High School.

Members of the Ruskin library staff are an integral part of the school. Ruskin students find the librarian, Miss Ann Abarr, and the clerks, Mrs. Lonnie Miller and Mrs. Bobbie Dean, ready and willing to help them search for information for a special report or a research paper. Teaching aids, film strips, movies, pictures, records, and projectors are cared for by the members of the library staff.

Through the efforts of the librarian, the two clerks and the library helpers, Ruskin's library is an efficient, well-organized department. The members of the library staff work to make the library the hub of the students' work area.

Counselors Aid Students

Counselors of Ruskin High have the difficult job of coordinating the students' school and personal lives. They help the students choose appropriate classes, aid in scheduling these classes, and if necessary rearrange the courses. Many students turn to the counselors for help in solving their personal problems.

For the first time this year, one member of the counseling staff is in charge of college affairs, Mrs. Marjorie Langford. The three remaining counselors are: Ed Johnston, senior and freshman counselor, Ray Williamson, junior counselor, and James Whitworth, sophomore counselor.

A major function of the counselors is to administer the battery of tests given to Ruskin students.

After the results of these tests are received, the counselors interpret the scores using them to help the students plan their courses and their future.

Friendships Expand Through Student Program

Maria Cristina Fuchslocher, or Tinina, as she is called, is Ruskin's fourth American Field Service student, and is one of 40 in the Kansas City area. Tinina's home is in Rio Bueno, in the beautiful lake region of Chile.

In Chile Tinina's parents own and manage a small general store. She has two older brothers, Harry and Igor, and an older sister, Karin. Tinina's American family, the Dwight W. Sorensens, have one daughter, Sandy.

When asked how she likes life in the United States, Tinina said, "Although I look forward to seeing my family in Chile again, I am enjoying very much my experiences in an American home and large high school. I am sure this is one of the most rewarding and memorable years of my life."

Tinina relaxes at home while knitting.

Tinina improves her English with grammar exercises.

Friends enjoy a Chilean-style hootenanny.

Ruskin's council of, by, and for the students, spent the 1964-65 school year in a whirl of activities. Beginning with the magazine sale and the first informal dance, the council never ceased to work for the benefit of the student body. Ruskin's student government organization also proudly fulfilled the position of Secretary of the Missouri Association of Student Councils and attended conventions at Jefferson City and Warrensburg. Again this year, classroom visitations served as a forum for the voicing of constructive criticism and commendation for the past performance of the council. They rekindled enthusiasm and generated greater understanding between council and students. Student Council activities, such as the annual Snow Ball, were well received by the student body. Enthusiasm for Ruskin's four-year-old exchange program reached a new peak with the arrival of Tinina Fuchslocher from Chile. The 1964-65 Ruskin Student Council deserves to be commended for a year of progress toward new and challenging horizons.

R-Club Revamps Format

Due to an increased number of members, the R-Club adopted their first constitution this year. One provision in the constitution was the unprecedented acceptance of tennis, golf, and wrestling lettermen as members.

Starting this year, the R-Club boys will pay a special admission fee and sit as a group at the games.

Skeptical members listen as George Caley, Sergeant at Arms, outlines his plans for keeping order.

Plans included two of their well-known informal, night-time initiations. One was on February 10 for football and basketball lettermen, as well as boys who had previously lettered in tennis, golf, and wrestling. Another will be held in the spring for track, tennis, and wrestling lettermen. The club members expect to hold their annual banquet at the end of the year.

Ruskin Broadens Interests With The Formation Of Two New Clubs

Meeting under the sponsorship of Mr. Winfiel, twenty students united to form the Mathematics Society, a new organization at RHS. Membership was limited to sophomores, juniors, and seniors who have credit for Algebra II or were enrolled in the course. Speakers, films, and student reports were presented at the meetings. To raise money for the club's activities, a book fair, of math and science books, was held.

Ruskin further broadened the scope of extracurricular clubs to include the Photography Club. Under the sponsorship of Mr. Hughes, the six charter members, plan to have complete dark-room facilities for the use of the members. The purpose of the organization is to stimulate interest in photography and give amateur photographers an opportunity to increase their knowledge and skill.

Future Medics Share A Common Interest

The Ruskin Medical Careers Club moved eagerly into its second year. This year the Club's main project was the adoption of a family at Christmas time. Donations and money raised through candy sales provided food, clothes, toys, and Christmas ornaments for the family. The year was highlighted by field trips to Children's Mercy Hospital and the Soviet medical exhibit. Guest speakers and films increased the members' knowledge of the various branches of medicine.

The Mirage staff proudly presents the first annual Ruskin Who's Who. These seniors have been chosen by a representative faculty committee as those students they felt have made Ruskin a better school through their presence. The selection was made in two parts—first, six boys and six girls were chosen on general qualifications; secondly, a girl and boy were chosen for each specific trait. Selections were based on such qualities as scholarship, leadership, citizenship, sportsmanship, courtesy and versatility. However, the most important single asset considered was attitude—toward faculty and fellow students, in school and in the community.

SPORTSMANSHIP

Don Draper

Frances McCoy

The category of Scholarship was based entirely upon class rank. Leadership was interpreted to mean the unselfish giving of time and talents to Ruskin's students and faculty. The possession of those characteristics which represented the ideal school citizen qualified a girl and a boy for the area of Citizenship. Those selected for Sportsmanship were chosen for an attitude displayed in both winning and losing. Courtesy was exemplified in a respect for students and teachers in and out of class. Those students considered ideal students to have in class in regard to dependability, reliability and cooperation were classified under the heading of Versatility.

The Mirage staff plan to continue this practice of honoring outstanding senior students each year.

Terry and Mr. Wrisinger work on the final copy for the Hi-Light at the printing company.

Staff members enjoy a few moments of quiet to examine the results of their efforts.

Explored In Writing

Creative writing, an advanced English and journalism class, is in its seventh year as a part of the Ruskin curriculum. Fifteen students under the guidance of Mr. Wrisinger, develop their talents in the fields of journalistic and creative writing. The main objective of the class is to produce the Ruskin Hi-Light, the school newspaper.

Class members spend tedious hours gathering information, interviewing people, writing copy, and typing articles that are molded into the Hi-Light. Techniques in interviewing, writing leads, composing headlines, and figuring type are acquired through constant contact with the paper.

Upon completion of each issue of the paper, the class members turn their attention to writing and studying creative works. Poems, Japanese haikus, short stories, and research papers are studied.

The creative writing class annually submits student written selections to Missouri Youth Writes Scholastic Magazine, and Missouri Interscholastic Press Association for judging and publication.

Mr. Wrisinger, Hi-Light sponsor and creative writing teacher, overlooks the progress of the paper.

Hi-Light staff members jot notes for their articles. The reporters are Dona Gibson, Ann Coleman, exchange editor, Terry Barnes, circulation editor, Genie Fields, photographer, Sue Walton.

Rendez-Vous Francais became one of Ruskin's most active clubs during the past year. Various activities were planned for the entire year to further member's knowledge of France, the French people, and their language.

Under the sponsorship of Miss Karen McCarty, Rendez-Vous Francais broke its tradition of formal installations. Instead, late in September, members took part in an informal initiation lasting a full day.

During October, members of the club attended the comedy Tartuffe, by Moliere at the University Playhouse.

In November, a local department store held a Festival de France, an exhibition on French life. Members viewed exhibits which included displays of perfume, the latest Paris fashions, coin collections, and paintings by well known French artists.

Rendez-Vous Francais also adopted an orphan through the Christian Children's Fund. For one year the club sends money for the child's support, and receives information concerning the orphan's activities.

Early in Spring, the French Club held an informal dance which was open to the student body. This climaxed a very successful year.

The name of teacher is an honorable title which is earned by individuals who are truly dedicated to their profession. The desire to become a teacher is just a small portion of the necessary requirements. Friendliness, knowledge, helpfulness coupled with desire are necessary assets for a future teacher.

Ruskin's F.T.A. represents those students who want to venture into the ever-challenging field of education. Through actual teaching experiences, guest speakers, and panel discussions F.T.A. members learn about teaching.

RGAA Promotes Girls' Physical Fitness

An atmosphere of fun and fellowship is provided by the Ruskin Girls Athletic Association. Enabling members to learn good sportsmanship and sports skills, the club is one of Ruskin's most active organizations.

Over 200 girls, sophomores, juniors, and seniors, participate in volleyball and basketball throughout the year.

The RGAA initiation, a high-point of the school year, is often embarrassing for the future members. Required dress for the occasion consists of 13 pig-tails, a sliced onion worn around the neck, clashing colored clothes, and rolled down hose. The following day, dress-up day, the girls compensate for the preceding day's unattractiveness by dressing in their best clothes.

The Sweetheart Dance, an annual RGAA function, was held on February 20 this year. Only club members and their dates may attend the dance.

The Science Club

In its fourth year the Science Club has gathered interest by a varied program. The members participate in field trips, films, guest lectures, and reports by some of the members themselves. Sponsored by Mr. Maupin and Mr. Ray, the club strives to create a wider interest in science and to further develop the ability of science students. The requirements for joining the club are to have completed one year of Science, or to be presently enrolled in science. Members are able to grasp additional concepts of the various phases of science outside of the classroom. This organization offers an excellent program to Ruskin's scientific-minded students who enjoy digging deeper into the realms of science.

Throughout the year the Ushers Society is of service to almost every organization in the school. Ruskin would be lacking without their courtesy and co-operation.

Debate Squad Takes Place Among Winners

Ruskin's Debate Squad has had a very successful year. Squad members attended eight tournaments first semester and won six trophies.

Spencer Miller and Bill Johansen, the squad's championship team, won second place at the North Kansas City tournament.

Helen Mayhugh and Vicki McMahan, a novice team, won first place at the Marshall tournament, second place at William Chrisman, second at Fort Osage, fourth at Platte City, and received a plaque for being undefeated at Ruskin's novice tournament.

The squad has a workshop every Tuesday after school and a general business meeting each Wednesday. Tournaments are on Saturdays and sometimes include Friday.

Thespians Explore World Of Theatre

Probably the most active organization at Ruskin is the Thespians, better known as the Drama Club. However, Thespians is more than just a "club." It is an extension of the Speech Arts Department, a service organization that strives to acquaint the community with the speech arts and theatre arts. Since its beginning in 1957, the Drama Club has made it possible for the Speech Arts Department to broaden its scope of activities. In 1957, the only activity of the Speech Arts Department was to attend District Contest. This year, however, under the sponsorship of Miss Jean Scott, the club has made it possible for students from the department to attend three contests and five tournaments as well as present such productions as Drama Night, Children's Theatre, the elementary school plays, and the junior high school programs. The club has also held a rummage sale, a coffee to better acquaint the parents of members with the activities of the organization and the department, and it's annual awards dinner where recognition is given to outstanding speech and dramatics students. In all of their many activities, the Thespians live up to their motto: "Whatever I do, I will do with enthusiasm!"

Illustrating the service principle of Thespians, Kathy Cross, vice-president, offers refreshments to pledges at formal initiation.

Friday, November 20, the curtain opened on one of the finest shows ever produced at Ruskin. It was the finished product of many weeks of hard work, not only by the cast, but also by the stage crews and many different committees. The two night performances drew a total of 1,800 people. Under the technical direction of Miss Jean Scott, the vocal supervision of Mr. Fred Tarry, and the instrumental direction of Mr. Robert Scott, the musical progressed through 7 weeks of rehearsal and preparation. The loyalty of these students shows the spirit characteristic of this department.

Vocalists Hit

Ruskin's vocally talented students proved versatile in a busy season of concerts and other performances and pleased the audiences with their musical capability. The various ensembles, directed by Mr. Tarry, competed at both district and state contests. Their diligent hours of practice kept the choir room "humming" and paid off in top ratings. Just a few of these groups are represented here, but all of them deserve recognition for their hard work and fine presentations.

Among its many activities the choir presented two formal concerts, The Vespers Service and a Spring Concert, which were both very successful.

Broadens The Field Of Interested Students

The Esthetics Club provides art after school hours by having sketch trips, tours, art fairs, and guest speakers. In the past years the Esthetics Club has created several murals displayed in the school. To become a member one must submit a picture which is judged by the sponsors and officers. If one is accepted he has to go through the initiation. Members being initiated must wear painted smocks. The initiates draw pictures while blind-folded and wear them on the back of their smock. Each member agrees that the Esthetics Club is a worth while club to join if one is interested in art and all the fun that goes with it.

Practice, practice, and more practice is the key word heard around the buzzing center known as the band room. Always alive with activity, this room is the base of operations for the Golden Eagle Band. They are known both state and nation-wide for their precision field formations and concert ability. All of the band members sacrifice many hours devoted to perfection of all aspects of music. The Golden Eagle Marching Band presents complicated maneuvers and formations during football games, in addition to marching in various parades throughout the year. The band is equally outstanding during concert season, and has won top honors every year in contest. This energetic organization is one of the busiest in the school, and under the guiding hand of Mr. Robert Scott, they practice for perfection.

Junior Varsity Cheerleaders Display Spirit

The Junior Varsity Cheerleaders, headed by Sandra Summers, lead the Pep Club and spectators at the B Team games. These girls help boost the enthusiasm and great spirit of the audience and team.

This summer they attended a cheerleading camp at Marshall, Missouri for one week. As a result of their efforts, they brought home the Grand Champs Award from the camp. Later in the summer they kept pace with the latest techniques by attending a cheerleading clinic held in Kansas City. Here they concentrated on new cheers. All this and games, too, helps them prepare for the chance to become a Varsity Cheerleader.

It takes much practice to attain precision timing in Cheerleading.

The cheerleaders inspire enthusiasm and spirit in the Pep Club.

Acrobatic stunts require timing and balance.

Varsity Squad

Much preparation is spent in planning the intricate movements of a cheer.

The 1964-65 varsity cheerleaders of Ruskin, headed by Shirley Curtice and backed by the Ruskin Pep Club, cheered our football, basketball and track teams to victory. Besides yelling cheers of encouragement to our teams, they lead the student body in pep rallies and pep assemblies. Their enthusiasm and pep through out the school year set an example of school spirit for the rest of the student body. Let's give a cheer for the varsity squad!

Cheerleading requires a combination of accurate movement and precision formations.

Inspires Spirit

This summer our cheerleaders participated in a National Cheerleading Camp at Arkansas State College in Jonesboro, Arkansas. In a competitive contest of five hundred girls, they were awarded first place. Much practice and unending energy make these girls one of the best squads in the state.

Cheerleading practices aren't all work and no play.

Strong In Conference

Ruskin's Eagles combined a strong ground game, a goal-line stand, and a dash of passing to defeat Raytown South 12 to 6 in the opening game of the 1964-1965 football season. The following Friday, Ruskin was edged by Grandview 6 to 0. This loss, however, represented one of the Eagles' most determined efforts. Lee's Summit then smashed the Eagles 25 to 13 at Ruskin. The following Friday, the Raytown Bluejays edged the Eagles 25 to 20. This was the closest game of the year because in the last seconds of the fourth quarter, Buddy Hinds caught a pass but was tackled on Raytown's 1 yard line.

Ruskin's Homecoming was celebrated with a 25 to 14 victory over Truman, but the following week North Kansas City used a dynamic defense to barrel by the Eagles 41 to 0. Ruskin took advantage of a fumble to make a lone touchdown in a 7 to 0 victory over Rockhurst at the Hawklets' Homecoming. Ruskin was beaten by Center the next week, 19 to 0, and again a week later by Chrisman, 27 to 12.

However, the Eagles closed the season on a good note by defeating Park Hill 19 to 6 at Park Hill. This victory was a very pleasant surprise, because Park Hill had been rated 6th in the Kansas City Area.

Freshman Football

Ruskin's Freshman football team opened the 1964-1965 season by losing to Lee's Summit 6 to 0, but the Eagles barely missed tying the game, being stopped on the Tiger one-yard line by the clock. The second game went to Ruskin, 6 to 0, at the expense of Center North. The sole touchdown came in the third quarter. The Eagles continued winning by running over North Kansas City 20 to 0. The Frosh scored once in the second quarter and twice in the third quarter to account for all the scoring. The Eagle defense excelled, limiting the Hornets' greatest penetration to the ten yard line.

Eagle play in the following game with Grandview lacked sufficient polish; the Freshmen fumbled three times and had one pass intercepted. The Bulldogs came out on top, 20 to 0. In the next game, Ruskin battled to a 7 to 7 tie with Center South. The Indians scored at the end of the first half, and the Eagles scored on a 15-yard third quarter run. The Ruskin Frosh controlled the ball most of the fourth quarter, but were stopped on Center's ten yard line by a fumble. The Eagle Freshmen ended their season by losing to Baptiste, 6 to 0. Two Ruskin fumbles inside the Leprachaun's fifteen yard line proved very costly to our Freshmen.

The Eagle's record for the year was 2-3-1, but they were outscored for the entire season by a single touchdown.

Fun And Beauty Mark Festive Homecoming

Mr. Steck officiates at the halftime ceremonies of the 1964 Homecoming game.

Ruskin's annual Homecoming festivities began on Friday afternoon, October 9 with a pep rally for the entire student body. The program included various cheers, introduction of the class attendants, and a skit giving an inside view of the Truman Patriot's locker room. That evening, during halftime, the attendants, chosen by popular vote from their representative classes, were presented to the Homecoming crowd. The Senior attendants were Vicki Buchanan, escorted by Donn Hennessey, and Charlene Wilson, escorted by Ron Kernodle. The Junior attendant was Janice DePalma, escorted by Bill McLaughlin. Accompanied by Greg Morris was Flo Puthoff, the Sophomore attendant. The Freshman attendant, Margaret Cook, was escorted by Scott Schmidt. The evening was climaxed by the traditional dance in the cafeteria, sponsored by the Pep Club. Music was provided by Les Copley and his band.

Victory Adds To Enchanting Evening

Mr. Steck and Mr. Tarry enjoy the comfort of a sheltered view at Homecoming, the first really cold game of the season.

Ron Hampton, No. 22, scrambles for the ball a step ahead of two Truman adversaries.

All motion ceases in that split second before the ball is snapped.

The Eagles were in fine form as they soared over the Truman Patriots to gain a 25-14 victory at the RHS Homecoming on October 9. Ruskin scored its first touchdown in the second quarter but the extra point failed. Seeking revenge, Truman scored after two pass plays, an eleven yard plunge for a touchdown, and an extra point. The Eagles then launched a seventy yard drive and a three yard pass for another touchdown. In the third quarter, Ruskin again bowled over the Patriots, scoring a touchdown and an extra-point pass. The Patriots scored in the fourth period on an eighty yard drive. The Eagles frosted the cake by scoring a final touchdown. Limiting Truman to 158 yards and 6 first downs, the Eagles totaled 312 yards and 21 first downs.

Homecoming festivities would not be complete without Ruskin's Golden Eagle Marching Band.

Ruskin Cagers Play To Win

The varsity basketball team had a very successful season starting with a first place victory in the Grandview Tournament. A fourth place trophy was earned in the Lee's Summit Tournament and a hard battle in the Center Invitational Tournament was rewarded with a second place honor.

This year the hoopsters attended their games wearing new practice suits.

Lee Neff, Steve Teaford, and Roger Hobson are the basketball managers this year. These boys are extremely helpful to the basketball teams. Managers go to all games and practices just like the regular players and their duties range from washing and distributing uniforms to helping administer first aid. They also officiate during practice scrimmages keep shot charts at games, and keep track of equipment.

Coach Baker pauses before a game.

The spirit and fun of competition and the simple enjoyment of playing basketball are two of the things which attract the boys to the sport. Knowing that they are doing something for their school and that they are providing enjoyment for crowds of people also brings satisfaction to the boys. All of this makes the hours of practice and work worthwhile.

There were two freshman teams this year due to the addition of a B-team. This enables more of the boys to participate in competition and to train for positions on the advanced teams. Steady practice resulted in definite improvement throughout the year. The boys enjoy their work and plan to continue with basketball.

In its second year, the Ruskin Cross Country Team, after having run a total of 6428 miles and working 5800 hours, made a showing of third place in the conference and fifth place in the district contest, climaxing the season with an eighth place in the state meet. The final scoreboard was, for the varsity, six wins and one loss, and for junior varsity—six wins and three losses.

Gary Mount, the captain, led the team, taking first place in every meet up to state, where he placed third in a field of 186 runners from the best Cross Country teams across the state. The Cross Country Lettermen of the 64-65 school year were Gary Mount, Pat Cleary, John Buss, and Greg Gibson, seniors; Roy Mount and Jerry Jones, juniors; and Lance Christopherson and Ben Taylor, sophomores. By its records, the team obviously kept in mind—"The man to beat is the one in front of you!"

gain the necessary strength that this strenuous sport requires. However, their hard work and long hours bring rewards enabling them to perform well in each match. Another new phase of the wrestling program includes tournaments which feature contests with area high schools.

Psychology, the science of behavior, is one of the most fascinating subjects offered in the Ruskin curriculum. In psychology, students delve into the motivation behind behavior and emotions. They study the function of the individual in society, the various forms of mental illness and the field of psychology as a career possibility. Psychology arms the student with a better understanding of himself and others and prepares him for a future role of responsibility in the community.

Ruskin's English courses strive to give students a working knowledge of the fundamental skills of our language. Classes also acquire a diversified background in American and world literature.

Beginning with Freshman classes, students are exposed to a wide range of literature such as the Odyssey, Great Expectations, and many famous short stories. Students dip into the stores of their imagination as they attempt creative writing. As well as these various fields of English, basic grammar is also emphasized.

A continuing study of grammar, literature, and creative writing is carried into the Sophomore and Junior English classes. Different styles and techniques, and characteristic writing traits of well known authors such as Shakespeare, Hemingway, Steinbeck, and Thurber are brought to the students' attention.

Seniors widen their horizons even farther with a deeper study into world and English literature, and creative writing. These courses are designed to help students who are college bound.

In Home Economics, the students strive to develop the talents that will make them better prepared for the domestic tasks facing them in the future. In addition to the customary studies of cooking and sewing, homemaking students learn such practical arts as how to take care of the sick, arrange furniture, and check the electrical wiring in a house.

Art is studied in connection with interior decoration and costume design. Family relations and child development are studied in anticipation of assuming the responsibilities of parenthood. In their course of study, home economics students become acquainted with many of the duties and pleasures of homemaking.

After long hours of hard work on the musical production, Oklahoma!, Randi Parketon and Susan Carnes reflect a little sadly at how quickly the production is over.

Ruskin students try out for Oklahoma!

Drama II students must direct a one act play. Edith Wilson and Don Biven work together interpreting a playwright's meaning. This involves studying lines and personalities of the characters.

Physical Education Strives

Physical Education

As in past years, Ruskin's physical education department serves the student as a means of recreation in the midst of study. Throughout the school year, classes participate in various skill tests and games.

Brisk fall weather stimulates the student's participation in outdoor sports such as softball and speedball. Also, in this season, students compete in physical fitness tests that are given nationwide.

For Physical Fitness

With winter's cold winds, classes are forced to move inside. Both boys and girls engage in games which develop mental alertness and physical coordination. Volleyball, cageball, and basketball stress team effort.

As the end of the year approaches, and warm weather prevails, classes again take part in regular outdoor activities.

Artists Aspire

Blending their imaginations as well as their colors to produce vivid tints or muted tones, Ruskin art students experimented with the combination and application of tempera or water paint. In addition to creating new hues, they tested the effect of shading in black charcoal or ink. Whether penciling a sketch or attempting to portray an accurate image, artistically inclined Eagles found enjoyment and satisfaction in their work.

Art showcases provided a source of pleasure to art lovers and amateur critics alike.

Special Education Encourages Interest

Leathercraft inspires creativity.

Mr. Beers demonstrates the kinesthetic method of writing.

Guided by Mr. Roy Beers, the Special Education students participate in all of the regular curriculum courses, including arts and crafts. Two projects for this year have been a Civics study of job opportunities and requirements and the kinesthetic method of reading. The attractive bulletin board and classroom displays are all arranged by the students and visitors are always welcomed.

In Memoriam

On November 23, 1964, Eric Shope, an active junior at Ruskin, passed away as a result of a serious illness. The Ruskin students responded by setting aside December 17 as Eric Shope Day. This young man's courage will remain as an example for all in the future. The esteem of the student body for Eric was shown by a donation made to his family.

Steve Lindstrom goes in for a lay-up as Ruski sophomores play Rockhurst.

On the day before Christmas vacation, the Concert Choir sang carols throughout the school.

Below, members of the Mirage staff scan class lists to identify pictures.

Informal dances, sponsored by the Student Council, provided an atmosphere for the latest dances.

RUSKIN BOOSTER CLUB

Far above the distant landscape
Stands our Ruskin High
With its walls of strength and beauty
Lifted toward the sky.

Symbol of our aspirations
Thou wilt ever be
Guiding us through life to victory
Thou shalt keep us free.

Dear old Ruskin, how we love thee!
We will e'er be true
To our colors high above thee —
Gold and Royal Blue.
