In the year past we saw the death of General Dwight D. Eisenhower, heard debate on the use of marijuana, saw the incident of My Lai, heard of troop withdrawals, saw the Congressional approval of the ABM, and watched while the people of a renegade nation, Biafra, starved. We saw the habitat of man, earth, filled with pollution.

In the year past we saw investigation by the Food and Drug Administration, saw movie ratings come into effect and use, saw Charles De Gaulle retire from the leadership of France. We saw the Lottery in the Army draft become a reality, participated, each in our own way, in the Moratorium Day, and saw men walk on the moon. We listened with approval to the rock groups, Blood, Sweat, and Tears, Blind Faith, Led Zeppelin, Oliver, and the Supremes. We bought Rod McKuen's poetry and placed his books on the best seller list.

We watched the Mets win the World Series. We cheered, sang, and greeted the Chiefs, professional football champions in the Super Bowl.

We came to realize that we didn't want to be numbers or slots punched in an IBM card with the warning to avoid bending, spindling, or mutilating.

We want to be ourselves. We want to make our own mistakes and learn by them. We want responsibility but not so much that we forget how to enjoy ourselves and life itself. Not only are we a part of the group, but most importantly, we are Individuals.

This year we take time to look not just at sports and activities but at the people that compose them, and in so doing, we focus on people and more specifically, on the Individual.

Mrs. Marjorie Langford

For more than twenty-five years Mrs. Marjorie E. Langford has been focusing her attention on individuals.

She began her career in 1943, as a teacher in elementary school. In 1944 Mrs. Langford began teaching history and social studies at Ruskin. In 1959 she became a counselor to college-bound seniors. This year she counseled students, who were divided alphabetically, along with the other counselors.

The 1947 Mirage was dedicated to Mrs. Langford and her husband Marvin E. Langford, then principal of Ruskin. We feel it fitting, at the beginning of a new decade, to once again dedicate the Mirage to a woman who has dedicated so many years of her life to helping young people become mature individuals.

Students' permanent records are kept in the main office, and Mrs. Langford looks through the files.

Mr. Bill Nicholson, Mr. Harry Parkhurst, Mr. Charles Hoskins, and Mrs. Langford worked during August to enroll students.

Administrators Strive for Better Communication

Paperwork is only one of Mr. Steck's many administrative duties.

Mr. Blaine Steck completed his thirteenth year as principal of Ruskin High School this year. In the middle of February, he attended the National Principal's Conference in Washington, D.C. In addition to all his other duties, this year Mr. Steck was involved in formulating plans for next year's double sessions.

Assistant Principal David Cattle's duties included advising the Student Council and planning extracurricular activities. Mr. Cattle also took care of discipline problems and held the infamous seventh hour after school each day.

Mr. David S. Cattle, vice-principal, is the other half of this year's administrative staff.

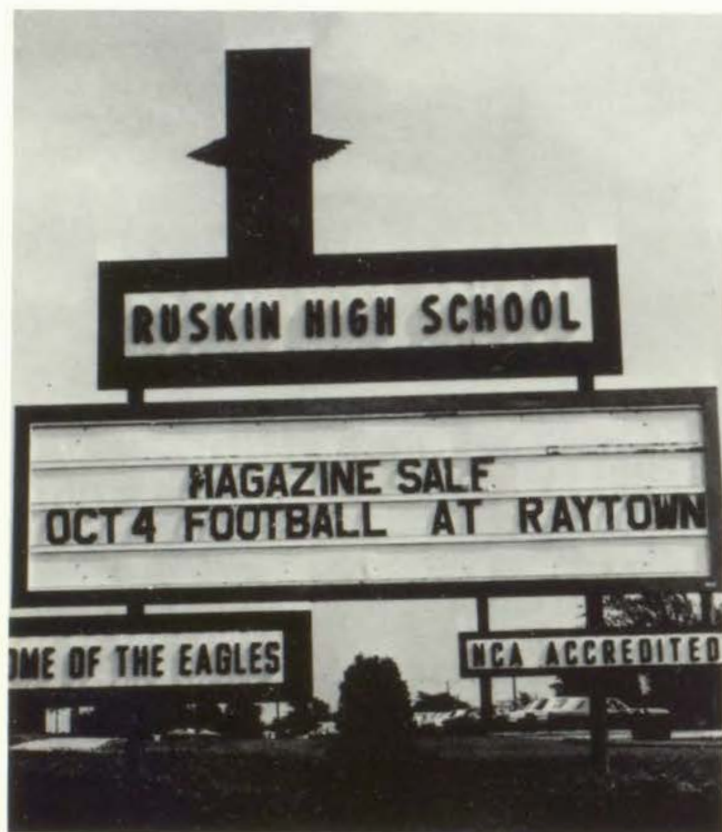

Addressing assemblies is a familiar task to Mr. Steck.

Class Agenda Is a Job For Our Administrators

At the beginning of the year, Mr. Douglas Lawrence and Mr. Arensburg worked together on class schedules.

In addition to the magazine drive, Mr. Lawrence solved problems concerning sophomore student pictures, handled curriculum and instruction problems for teachers of sophomores, sponsored the student council meetings, and acted as chaperon at school dances.

New members on the administrative staff this year were Mr. Hamby, building principal, Mr. Arensburg, assistant principal, and Mr. Lawrence, coordinating principal for Smith-Hale and Ruskin.

Danny Hanks, senior, discusses plans for attending college with Mrs. Langford.

Mr. Nicholson and Mr. Hoskins take time out from their regular duties to talk about college representatives.

Career Day was held on November 5. Lasting only one day, representatives from many industries and business talked individually to students.

Mrs. Marjorie Langford, Mr. Charles Hoskins, Mr. Raymond Malotte, Mr. Bill Nicholson, and Mr. Harry Parkhurst made up the Ruskin counseling staff this year. Mr. Malotte is the vocational counselor, completing his second year in this position. He aided high school students, who do not plan on continuing their educational program, find jobs. He also helped many college-minded students find part-time work. College Night, held on November 18, was organized by the counselors to help students try to decide which college to attend.

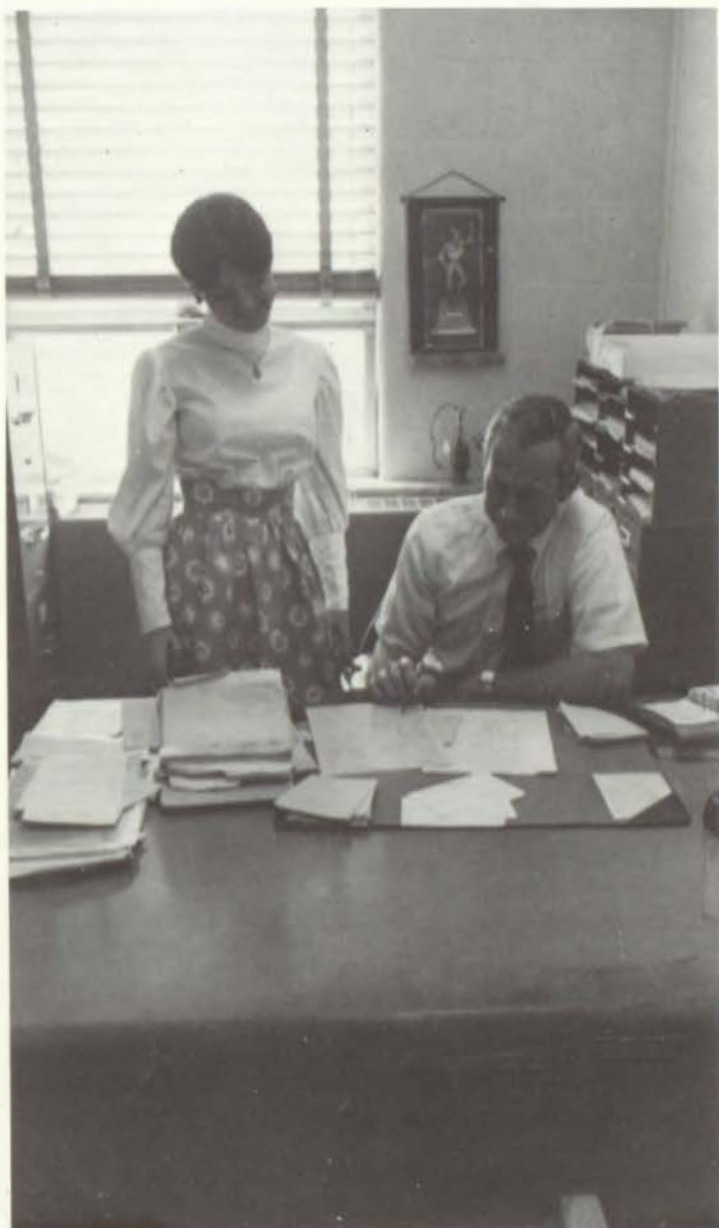

Each counselor had a section of the student body assigned to them. They tried to prepare each student for whatever field they plan to enter after graduation. Throughout the year counselors arranged meetings between students, parents, and college representatives. At the beginning of school the counselors were swarmed by students wanting the wrong schedule, wanting to change classes, or those who were just confused.

College Prep Students Aided by Counselors

Mr. Malott, vocational counselor, spends most of the time helping students find jobs after school and after graduation.

The Smith-Hale counselors pause for a minute to discuss recent SCAT test scores.

Mrs. Vivien Vanhoozer takes a short rest between appointments.

Students visited many types of booths at Ruskin's annual career day.

Counselors Aid Students In Vocational Planning

Throughout the year, Smith-Hale counselors Mrs. Vivian Van Hoozer and Mr. Robert Dean were on hand to administer SCAT tests, compile class standings, and advise students in college choices. More than 50 colleges sent representatives to College Night to answer questions regarding admission and scholarship requirements, tuition fees, and areas of curriculum. Students not planning on college attended Career Day where representatives from local companies and agencies were available to answer questions and explain new opportunities waiting for the student after graduation. Some of the participating companies were the Bendix Corporation, T.W.A., Macy's, Bell Telephone Company, and Hallmark Cards.

Efficiency Is the Goal of Organized Clerical Staff

Miss Sue Travis, former business teacher, joined the library staff with many new and interesting ideas. With her on the staff were Mrs. Corinne Miller and Mrs. Lonnie Miller. Miss Carolyn Davenport worked at Smith-Hale in the morning and at Ruskin in the afternoon.

Schedules, report cards, and failing slips were the concern of Mrs. Dorothea Gfeller, secretary. Working with Mrs. Gfeller were Mrs. Lee Turner and Mrs. Pat Prouty. The daily absentee lists were taken care of by Mrs. Turner. Mrs. Prouty kept track of all money from school projects.

Secretaries, Mrs. Dorothea Gfeller, Mrs. Pat Prouty, and Mrs. Lee Flippin take time out from their many office duties.

Mrs. Lonnie Miller, Mrs. Coreen Miller, Miss Sue Travis, and Miss Carolyn Davenport are librarians at Smith-Hale and Ruskin.

Ruskin's Efficient Cooks Serve Students Faithfully

Thirteen hard-working cooks, directed by Mrs. Easter Braswell, arrive early in the morning to prepare meals for over 1200 students every day. Mrs. Braswell is new at Ruskin, after working nine years at Lee's Summit. Mrs. Bonnie Patton, assistant manager, has been at Ruskin for nine years. The planning of the program was brought about by Mrs. Harmon, director of food service.

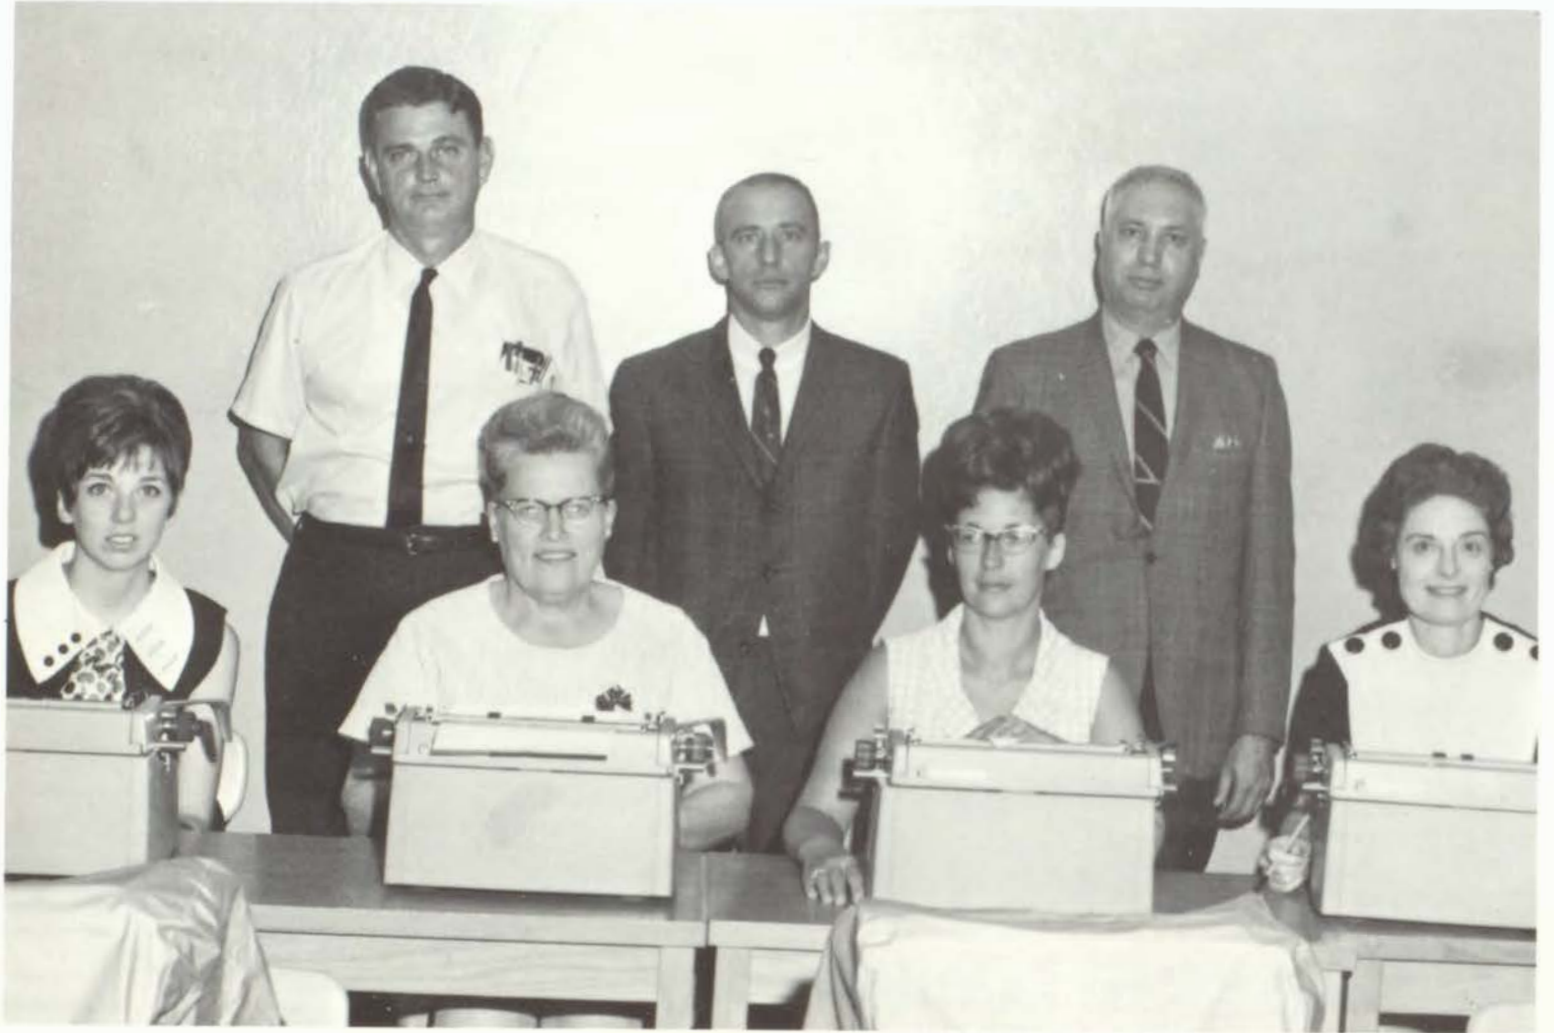

Money from the lunch fund is used for salaries, equipment, and food needs.

Two of Ruskin's custodians take time from their regular duties to build a supply rack in the shop room.

Custodial Staff of Eight Welcomes First Matron

A custodial staff of eight keeps busy not only with the usual sweeping and waxing floors, washing windows, and shoveling snow, but also helped with dances, art shows, and other special occasions. This year Mrs. Geneva Stout was added to the staff. A lady custodian, or matron, as she is called, is something new and different to Ruskin. She added sparkle to the school and helped carry out all duties of the custodial staff.

Last year's staff members were joined by Mrs. Aleta Mullins, typing and clerical practice I instructor. Miss Sharen Plett also joined the staff teaching typing, business arithmetic and business law. Miss Jacqueline Spauldin taught typing, business arithmetic, business law, and bookkeeping. Bookkeeping was also taught by Mr. Oren Bates.

There were four returning staff members. Mrs. Bess Skinner taught Clerical Practice I and Typing. Clerical Practice I and II, and secretarial practice was taught by Mr. Arch Wrisinger.

Clerical Classes Aim at Teaching Practical Skills

Business Arithmetic students studied taxes, interest rates, buying, selling, and discounts, all factors of the business world today. Business Law gave students an orientation to basic law. Shorthand students worked on theory and skill, with dictation speeds emphasized. General Business aims were to provide educational and vocational guidance for students with interest in pursuing a business career and to lay the foundation for specialized studies in business. Bookkeeping I covered the bookkeeping cycle.

Social Studies Educates In Wars and Weddings

The year was highlighted in Mr. Michael Reynolds' American History class by staging his versions of the famous battles of the Civil War. President Nixon and his policies were followed carefully by Contemporary Issues, with the help of Time magazine. Plans and arrangements were made and carried out for the mock wedding in Mr. Leon Mallory's Family Relations class. Before the wedding was conducted, several topics were discussed, such as dating periods, child care, and home management. Mr. James Roberts has, as philosophy about Psychology, "Psychology helps the individual to better understand himself, his environment, and the people around him."

Congress Reconvenes in '70 in Government Class

During the year, Miss Dorothy Kennedy and her American Government class undertook many projects. Class members became "senators" and learned in this way not only how bills are passed, but also how one of their fellow senators could be impeached. The World History classes, as their research project for the year, engaged in a in-depth study of the Russian seizure of Czechoslovakia. On a field trip to the state mental hospital in Fulton, Missouri, students, in Mr. James Roberts psychology class, gained a deeper understanding of what his philosophy that, "Psychology helps the individual better understand himself, his environment, and the people around him," means.

Science Classes Attract The Students of Ability

In the biology classes, "students worked on insect collections which proved to be very interesting," said Mr. Marion Ray, head of the Science Departments.

Students also dissected frogs, grasshoppers and crayfish, had lessons in taxidermy, and experimented with the microscope.

In Mr. Roger Kaye's Physical Science classes, students did experiments with inclined planes, pulleys, wheels and axles.

New Approach to Basic Fundamentals of Math

Geometric figures and mathematical equations again entered the math classes at Ruskin as the Math Department welcomed their new series of books. The books were changed in all classes from Algebra I to math analysis and trigonometry. A new teacher, Mr. Ernest Hester, also entered the department. He taught senior classes in math analysis and trigonometry. According to Mrs. Elen Skaggs, the department chairman, "The presentation was different, the arrangement was different, and the objectives were different—but it was still the same old math."

Steve Christenson, senior, studies diligently in class.

Pantomime, Research Involve Speech Students

Keith Smith and Carol Curtis use facial expressions to emphasize their roles.

The Drama Departments' 1969-1970 production of the annual all school musical, "The Boyfriend," was presented on November 23 and 24. Class members were responsible for costumes, scenery, makeup, and lighting. New to the district this year was Mrs. Joyce Briggs, Drama Department chairman. Students studied the art of pantomime to educate the body, the delivery of lines to train the voice, and finally moved on to the production of entire scenes. The first semester was devoted to developing a skill in acting, while the second semester emphasized producing and directing.

Taught by Miss Merri Lou Wolf, Debate Department chairman, the debate classes worked to improve their skills in discussion. The National Forensic League debate topic for this year was "Resolved that: Congress should prohibit unilateral military intervention in foreign countries," and students spent the year exploring the different facets of this question. Before an actual round of debate could take place, debaters did extensive research on their topic. Debate is open to any student who has completed one year of Speech.

The 70's New Problems Even in English Grammar

Dimensional changes occurred in the English 11 department with a unit on communication. It began with "The Miracle Worker", and concluded with a study of "The Pearl". Fundamentals of composition were studied by the 953 students in sophomore English this year. This was to help them learn to express their thoughts and ideas in their own words. They worked on essays, term papers, poems, and short stories. Mrs. Linda Ornes, English 11 and Spanish 1 teacher, said, "Understanding and appreciating literature makes an individual more well-rounded and more sensitive to other's needs and problems." Many selections were read, a few of them being, "The Monkey's Paw", "August Heat", and "Footfalls".

English Staff Forms New Curriculum Committee

Last fall the English Department, headed by Mrs. Margaret Liston, formed a committee to study the high school English curriculum. Mrs. Liston said, "We are all working to reevaluate and coordinate the English curriculum and to improve the whole English program." One of the decisions was to change the grammar book used by the eleventh grade. Juniors studied American Literature from colonial to modern writing. English IV is devoted to the study of World Literature and a review of grammar for college.

Industrial Arts Designed For Development of Skills

"Industrial Arts is a course designed for students interested in developing their skills in the fields of electricity, drafting, woodworking, metalworking, and architectural drawings," stated Mr. James Bodenhamer, head of the industrial arts department. With the help of Mr. Allen Gourd, Ruskin's newest industrial arts teacher, veterans Mr. Micheal Noland, Mr. Paul Hall, Mr. Lyle Wiley, and Mr. Bodenhamer strived to make the industrial arts classes interesting, enriching, and practical experiences for the students.

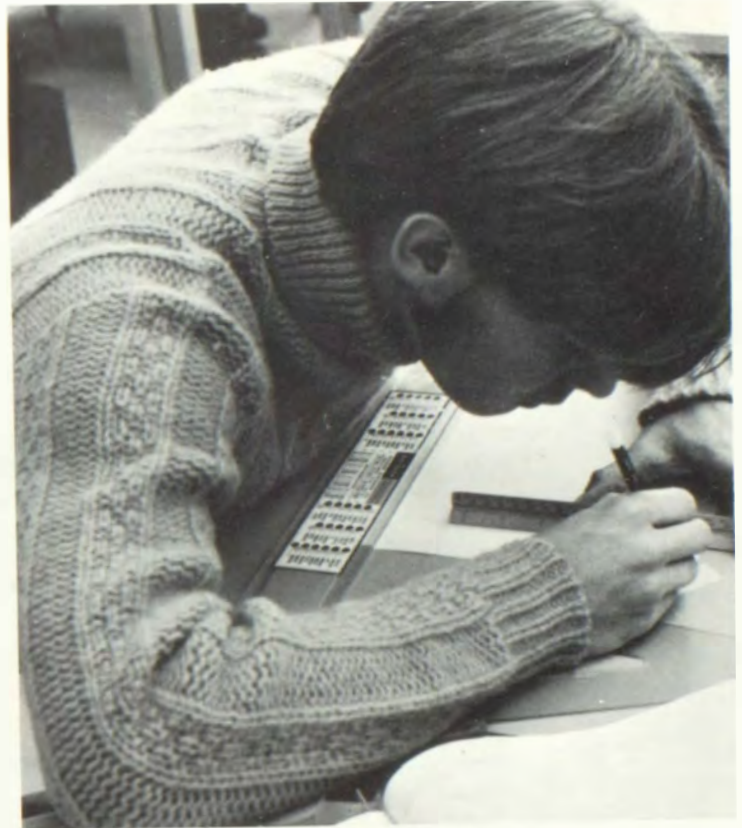

Woodworking classes experimented with different kinds of saws with a special emphasis on the use and care of the table saw.

Students interested in architectural drawing learned to make framing and explored the details of window construction while the metalworking classes concentrated on the use of a sliproll brake.

Many of the students entered projects in the Industrial Arts Educational Fair which was held this spring in Warrensburg, Missouri.

Nursing and Child Care Emphasized in Home-Ec.

The girls in the four Home Economics classes spent one semester studying sewing techniques and making clothing for themselves. Food, nutrition, and cooking were taken up in the other semester. They also practiced planning and preparing meals.

During the spring Home Economics I and II took a nursing course. Later they received Red Cross certificates for completing the course.

The child care classes observed and helped with children in a nursery school in the spring.

In the home management classes they studied managing a home and consumer education which is teaching them to get the most for their money when buying food and clothing and other necessities.

The interiors classes designed and decorated houses. Using a color wheel they studied color and learned good decorating techniques.

Students make use of sewing machines to finish their dresses.

Better Books and Tapes Build Learning Capacity

The Language Departments this year have a new series of textbooks and new tape recordings. The tapes are used in class to help in the pronunciation and accents of the language being studied. They are recorded in the foreign tongue and repeated by the students. These tapes have proved to be a great help in learning a foreign language.

Teaching the 153 French students this year were Mrs. Marjorie Roberts and Miss Janet Antiner. Mrs. Marjorie Roberts also assisted Mrs. Mary Dowell, District Department Chairman, in teaching the 155 students enrolled in Spanish. Mrs. Mary Graham taught the 79 Latin students at Smith-Hale.

Mrs. Dowell teaches her Spanish I class the fundamental pronouns, which are essential to basic Spanish.

New Size and Shapes For New Decade in Art

Art students learned the basic elements of color and design by mixing shades of colors and by studying perspective.

Students got to try their hand at sculpturing as they studied the art of sculpture in Mr. Nathan Ferman's art classes. Mrs. Jean Wilson's pupils developed an interest in photography, along with the construction of mobiles, and the design and execution of three dimensional cardboard sculpture.

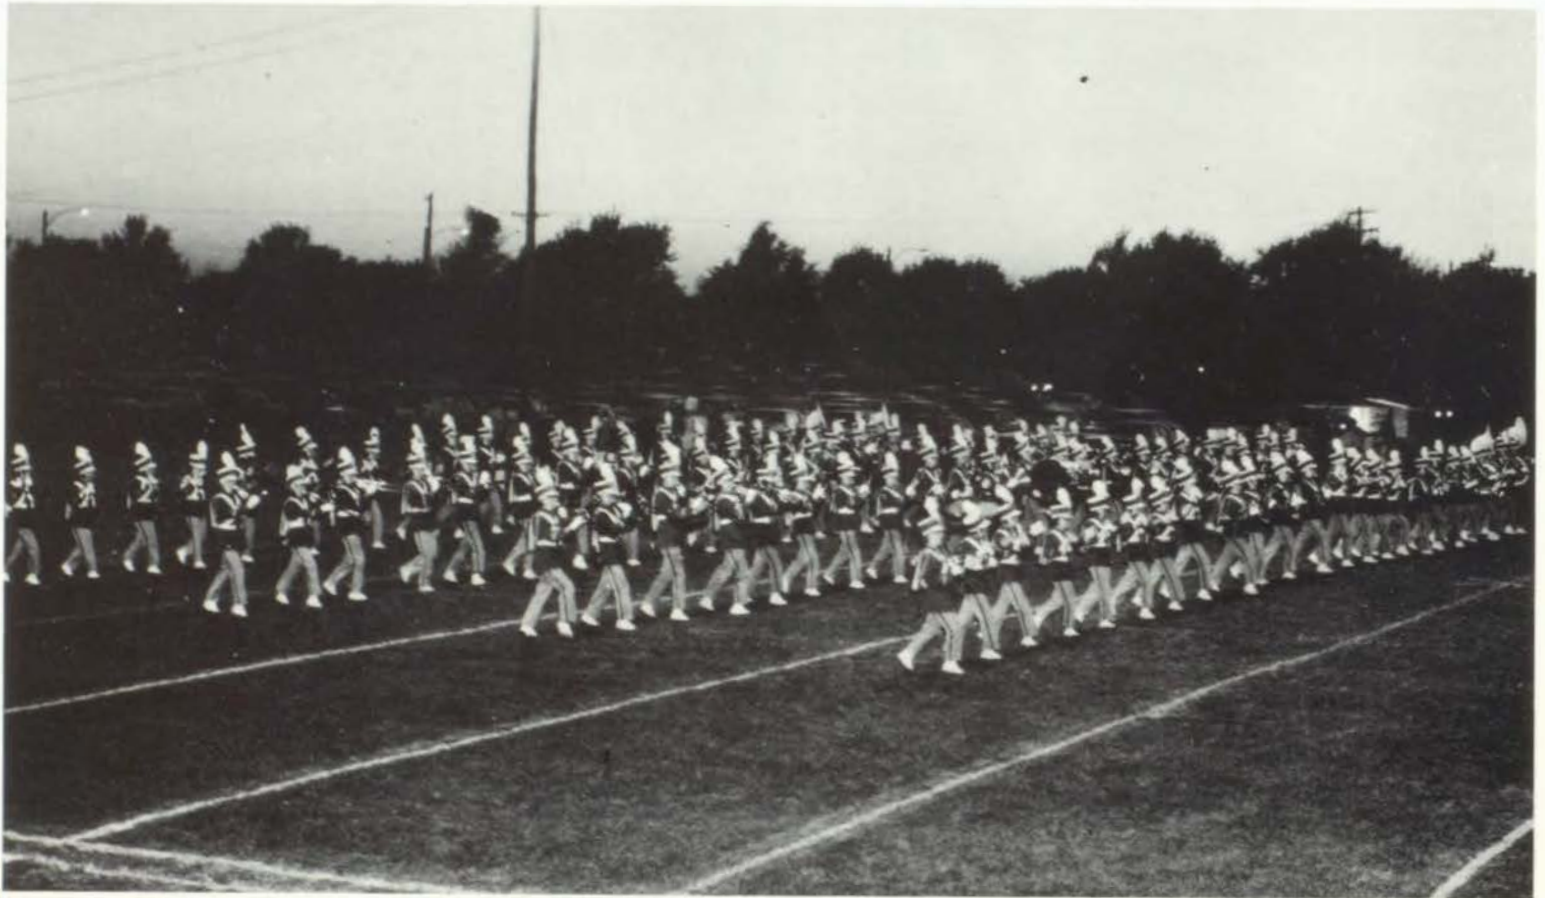

The art classes participated in the Educational Fair with a display of student work.

Early morning practices keep the band at its best in performance.

Band, Orchestra Bake Sale Aids Philharmonic

The Golden Eagle Band plunged into the marching season by performing at our first home football game on September 19. The month of October was a busy one for the band as they entered the contest at Fayette, marched in the American Royal Parade and attended the Stage Band Clinic at the University of Missouri at Kansas City. With a tribute to the Class of '70, the band closed the marching season.

During the concert season, the band performed at the Winter Concert, held a concert with Clark Terry, the famous trumpet player, and was the guest band at the Emporia Clinic. On May 14, a concert was held during which various awards were presented.

Shipman Takes Job of Conducting Orchestra

Under the new direction of Mr. David Shipman, the orchestra performed for the Winter Concert in December, the Christmas program and school assemblies on January 20 and March 26. The orchestra also traveled to the Missouri Music Educators Association Convention at Columbia, Missouri, to the Conference Concert, the Music Festival at Warrensburg, and to the Children's Concert at the Jewish Community Center as well as hosting the String Festival in February and the Concerto Concert.

For the third consecutive year, the Ruskin Symphony Orchestra provided the pit orchestra for the all-school musical, "The Boyfriend."

Two New Teachers Join Durst on Music Faculty

Mr. William Hamble, Mrs. Reba Shackleford, and Mr. Kenneth Durst.

Two new teachers were added to this year's music faculty. Mr. William Hamble taught chorus, music theory, music appreciation, choir, and directed the many extra-curricular music groups. Miss Reba Shackleford, another new teacher, taught English III and chorus.

Music theory was the study of fundamental concepts in music and was designed for those planning on majoring in music in college. Music appreciation classes studied the development of music through history and composers.

The Ruskin Choir, under the direction of Mr. William Hamble, performed at our first assembly.

AFROTC Participates in Post Office Dedication

On February 28, 1970, the Ruskin AFROTC participated in the dedication of the new Ruskin Post Office.

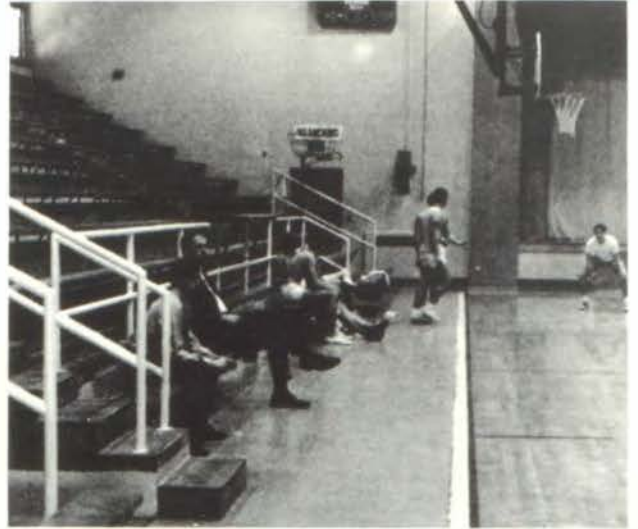

In class, students learned such things as correct marching procedures, how to handle guns, information about the Air Force, and facts about aircraft. They participated in flag ceremonies, which they presented at assemblies, football games, and other school programs. Before and after school the Color Guard raised and lowered the school flag. The AFROTC also marched in the 1969 American Royal Parade.

The new trampoline, a gift of the class of '69, was the main attraction in physical education.

Building leadership, team work, and fair play were emphasized, as well as physical fitness and muscular coordination.

Physical Fitness tests were given in the spring. The test included such skills as softball throw, push-ups, sit-ups, chin-ups, 50 yard dash, and long jumping.

S.E. Mums Blossom Into Big Fund Raising Project

Special Education classes strived to achieve social competence, social adjustment, occupational skills, and domestic skills. Their activities included baking, sewing, refurnishing furniture, house decorating, mending, and ironing.

The classes took a field trip once a month to local businesses and stores to improve their social conduct.

Selling Homecoming mums was a big money-making project.

Students also ran the 'Eagles Nest,' where milk and doughnuts could be purchased before school every morning.

PARTICIPATION

Munnich and Grunwald RHS Exchange Students

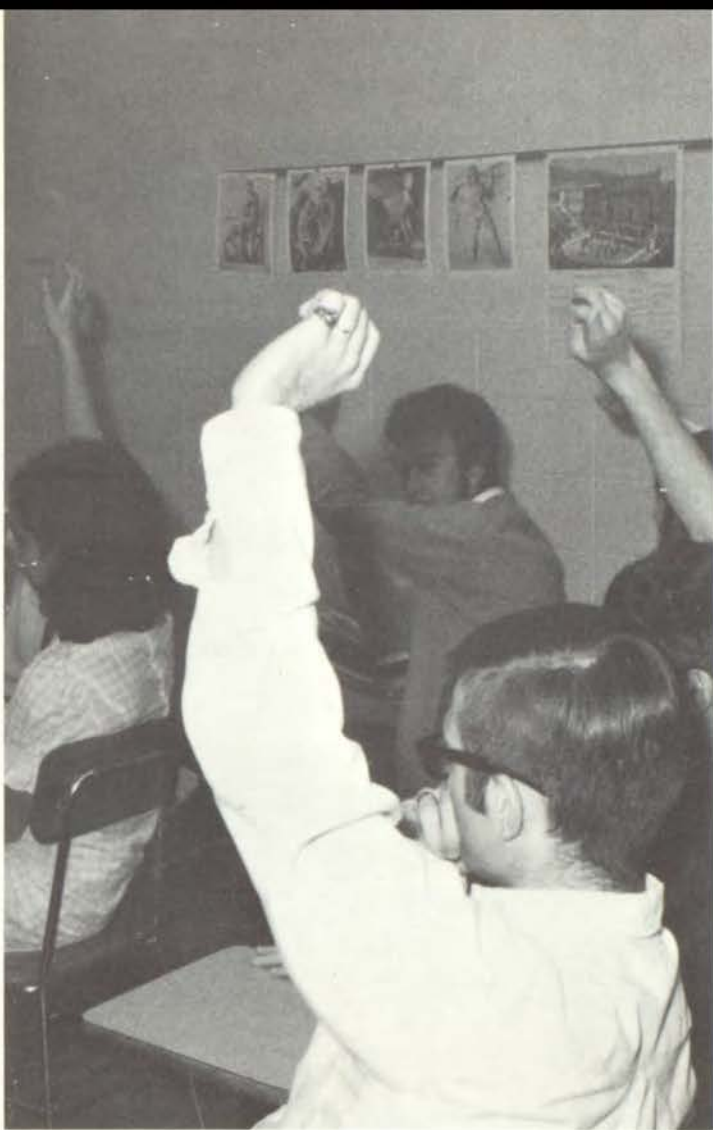

The American Field Service and the International Christian Youth Exchange were the sponsors of Ruskin's two exchange students this year. Hartmut Munnich, from Dusseldorf, Germany, was sponsored by ICYE and lived with David Martin. Dieter Grunwald lived with Gene and Malcolm Simms and came to Kansas City from his home in Memmingerberg, Germany.

Both students took English and social studies courses, and each took a course in American history. They seemed to find the courses of study in America somewhat less time consuming than their own school in Germany. They presented a program for the faculty on March 2 and discussed the differences between the German educational system and the American system.

A State National Honor Society meeting at North Kansas City High School, March 13 and 14, the task of providing a college scholarship fund for worthy students, and a candle-light dinner and induction for new members were the activities of the NHS this year.

The sponsors of the NHS were Mrs. Dorothy Maupin, business teacher, and Mrs. Ellen Skaggs, math teacher. The 158 members held meetings in the cafeteria on the fourth Tuesday of every month.

The officers of the Society were, senior Gary Watkins, president; senior, Mike Floyd, vice-president; senior, Jill Smith, secretary; senior, Rick Perry, treasurer; and Mike Imgarten, junior, historian.

The Society had bake sales and presented a movie at Ruskin Theater from which they received the proceeds.

Jackson, New Sponsor, Guides Publications Staff

Under the new sponsorship of Miss Nancy Jackson, the 1970 Mirage consisted of 15 new members and 7 returning members. Juniors, Eddie Harris and Jan Yeagley, co-edited the yearbook this year. The four returning seniors were Karen Holloway, senior editor; Cherie Nugen, junior and sophomore editor; Linda Ricketts, senior consultant; Bill Yeager, business manager.

On October 13 part of the staff visited St. Pius High School for an annual yearbook workshop. In April the staff toured Inter-Collegiate Press to see how a yearbook is actually printed. This year the Mirage sales were higher than ever before. Although he was not a regular member of the staff, Grady Beers, junior, volunteered his services for taking pictures.

Ruskin Seniors Accepted Into Journalism Society

Twenty-five students were admitted to Ruskin's chapter of Quill and Scroll, the international honorary society for high school journalists. To qualify for this honor, a student must be a senior in the upper third of his class, be recommended by Miss Nancy Jackson or Mr. Arch Wrisinger, and have done superior work in some phase of newspaper or yearbook work.

Quill and Scroll is a division of the School of Journalism at Iowa State University in Iowa City, Iowa. Members receive a gold pin and a subscription to Quill and Scroll, the society's monthly magazine.

Students work diligently to meet final deadline.

Hi-Light Rated All-Missouri in MIPA Contests

Sponsored by Mr. Arch Wrisinger, the creative writing class met daily to publish Ruskin's newspaper, the Hi-Light. Seniors who were recommended by their English teacher and showed a sincere interest in newspaper work were eligible.

Creative writing offered students an opportunity to become acquainted with the fundamentals of newspaper work as they learned the techniques of interviewing, accurate reporting, proofreading, and editing through actual experience. Between issues, the class wrote essays, poems, and short stories while they explored the different fields of journalism open to young authors.

Hi-Light writers earned three first places and one second place in state-wide competition for the 1968-1969 Missouri Interscholastic Press Association's individual ratings and picked up 14 ratings out of 22 entries. The entire paper was rated All-Missouri; the highest rating in MIPA competition.

Representatives Work Toward Project Goals

Reaching a desired goal of $10,000 from the 1969-70 magazine sale, was one of the major accomplishments of the Student Council this year. The council used the funds from the sales to sponsor dances, the AFS Student, and various school projects.

Students were able to attend different social events through the efforts of the Council. The Homecoming Dances, Snowball Dance, and AFS Dance were a few of these.

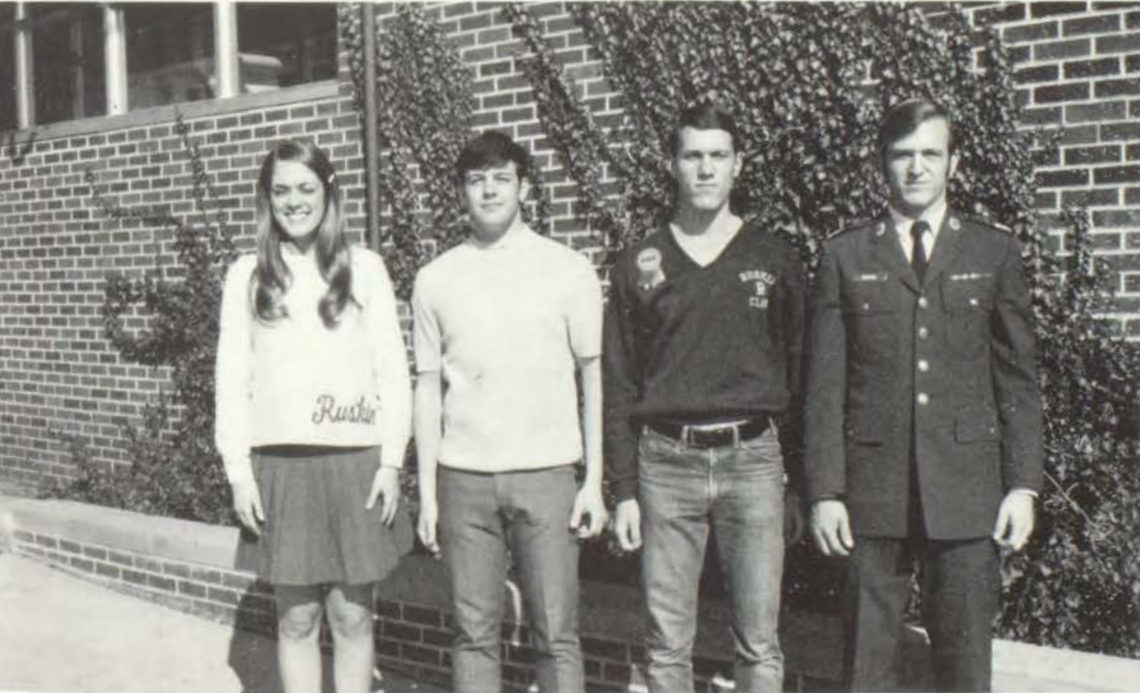

During the year the members of the Council became involved in numerous meetings and conventions throughout Missouri. An annual Spring conference was held at Springfield, Missouri. This enabled students to exchange ideas and acquire a better understanding of how to achieve the goals set down by the members.

Getting into the holiday spirit of giving, the Student Council performed such projects as backing the United Fund Drive and securing donations for the needy at Christmas time.

Serving as sponsors for Student Council this year were Mr. Blaine Steck, principal; Mr. David Cattle, assistant principal; Mr. Charles Hoskins and Mr. Harry Parkhurst; counselors. Officers were Lloyd Anderson; senior, president; Jeff Johnson; junior vice-president; Mary Lee Wyn; senior; secretary; and Gary Watkins; senior; treasurer.

Homecoming week was January 26 to 30. It included Spirit Chain Day, Knotty knee pin-ups, and Day of Mourning for Oak Park.

During half-time the homecoming court was presented. Lloyd Anderson, student council president, crowned Lisa Riggs, the first Basketball Homecoming queen. Attendants were: Annette Price, Kerry Willoughby, seniors; Vicki Green, junior; Karen Younger, sophomore.

The Pep Band accompanied the drill team, as they skillfully marched for the half-time entertainment. The Stoneface provided music for the dance.

Having Bake Sales Help Boost Spirit in Art Club

Ferman, Art teacher, are ribbons designed to boost enthusiasm and spirit throughout the Ruskin student body. Headed by President Tom Wilson, senior; vice-president, Jim McCastland, and Secretary of Treasury, Kerry Willoughby, seniors.

The twenty members attended meetings on the first and third Monday of each month, had guest speakers, and went on field trips to the Kansas City Art Institute and Hallmark's Art Department. Sponsoring the Art Club were Mr. Nathan B. Ferman, Mrs. Jean Wilson, and Mr. E. Irshal Hocker.

Students of Distinction Get NFL Ruby Pin

Miss Merri Lou Wolf was this year's sponsor of the National Forensic League. To be eligible for membership in the League, students must accumulate a total of 25 points by attending and participating in tournaments held throughout the year. The areas included in these tournaments were oratorical, extemporaneous, radio and television speaking and oratorical declamation. To participate in an oratorical contest, students were required to write and memorize a 6800 word speech which they presented before a panel of judges. Current events were the topic of all extemporaneous tournaments and members were allotted 30 minutes for preparation. For the first part of the Radio Speaking Contest, members read news copy which they had prepared several days before. In the second part they were given "cold copy" to present without preparation. Copy was memorized and presented before a camera for television speaking tournaments. In the final area oratorical declamation, students memorized and presented well-known speeches for evaluation by the judges.

Students participating in at least two tournaments are eligible for the Degree of Honor and an emerald pin. A sapphire pin and the Degree of Excellence came with 150 points. The highest degree, the Degree of Distinction and a ruby pin was awarded to students earning 250 points.

Ruskin's Thespians Are Highspirited and Active

Having the largest membership in several years, the Thespians held a special initiation. Each initiate made half of their face up to represent a story character and wore a sign stating, "We're New Thespians! And We're proud of it!" During the early morning initiates could be seen skipping around in the hall shouting, "We're so low we can sit on a gum wrapper and dangle our feet!"

Mrs. Joyce Briggs, Thespian advisor said, "One of the most highspirited, active, and co-operative clubs at Ruskin is the Thespians. Each member is a hard-working, dependable person. We're just the greatest!"

Thespians were quite busy performing at area civic centers. A Christmas Post Office was formed, with Santa's helpers. Money making projects consisted of a Car-Wash and many bake sales. During February a second Post Office was created, this time serving Valentine's Day. Balloons were sold at home games during football season.

Ruskin was also represented in Raytown Finals with a 4 out of 5 rating.

As a money-making project Rhetoricians sold chocolate candy bars. During the spring a bake sale was also held by debaters.

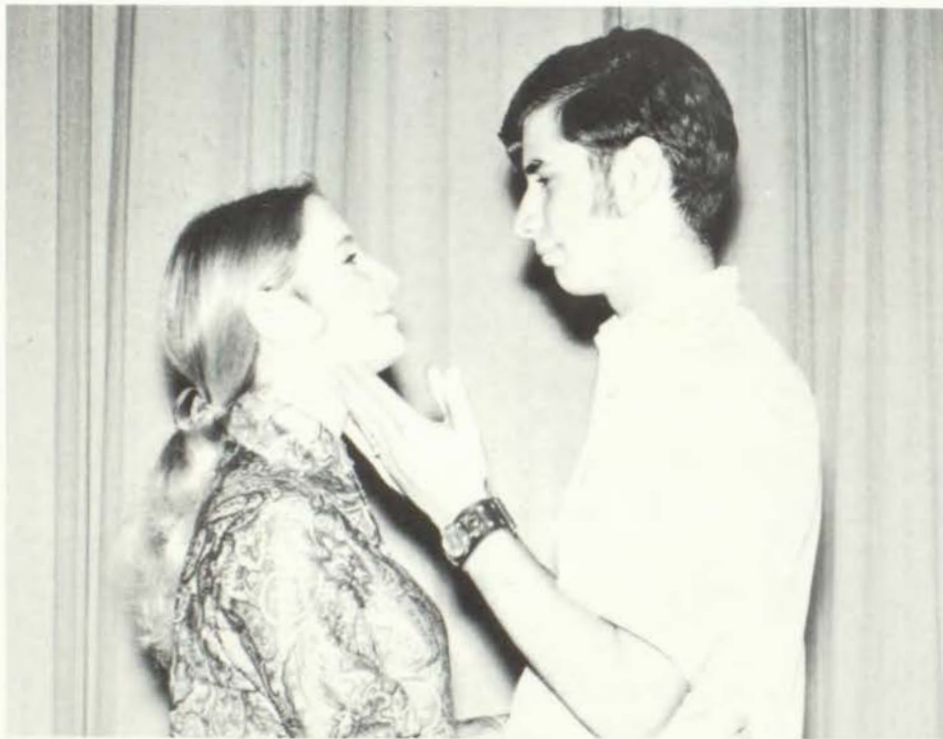

According to the constitution of Rising Rhetoricians, new members were required to deliver an impromptu speech at the school's rock garden, and the topic was determined by the President of the Rhetoricians.

Future Teachers Provide Senior Scholarship Fund

The Future Teachers of America's main project was the earning of funds to establish a scholarship for the most qualified senior member. Seniors wrote on the theme, "Why I want to be a teacher" and were critiqued on their ideas.

Future Teachers of America was established at Ruskin in 1960, and is now 65 members strong. Thirty of it's members are sophomores. Harmut Munich, and Dieter Grunwald, Ruskin's foreign exchange students gave a lecture on the educational system in Germany. Members were also visited by Miss Linda Ray and Vicky Yealer from the School of the Blind. Miss Ray, advisor, gave an introduction about the school where she teaches, and Vicky Yealer showed members the tools and procedures a blind student goes through to prepare their homework and learn to read and write in braille.

Barbara McElhaney, senior, was appointed president, Kandy Kirlin, senior, secretary, and Dianne Smith, senior, treasurer. Judy Reed, junior, was elected historian.

Sponsored by Mr. Charles Maupin and Mrs. Ursula Payne, the Science Club took part in an Educational Fair which combined the talents of the Science, Art, Mathematics, and Industrial Arts Departments, replacing Ruskin's traditional Science Fair. Although not all of the club's 24 members entered a project, they were all given a chance to participate by setting up submitted projects or helping with clean-up activities.

Guest speakers from the Junior Engineer's Technical Society spoke regularly at the meetings which were held on the first and third Tuesdays of each month. A field trip to a local funeral home was the main activity of the club's December activities.

Four Main Subjects Make Up Curriculum of ROTC

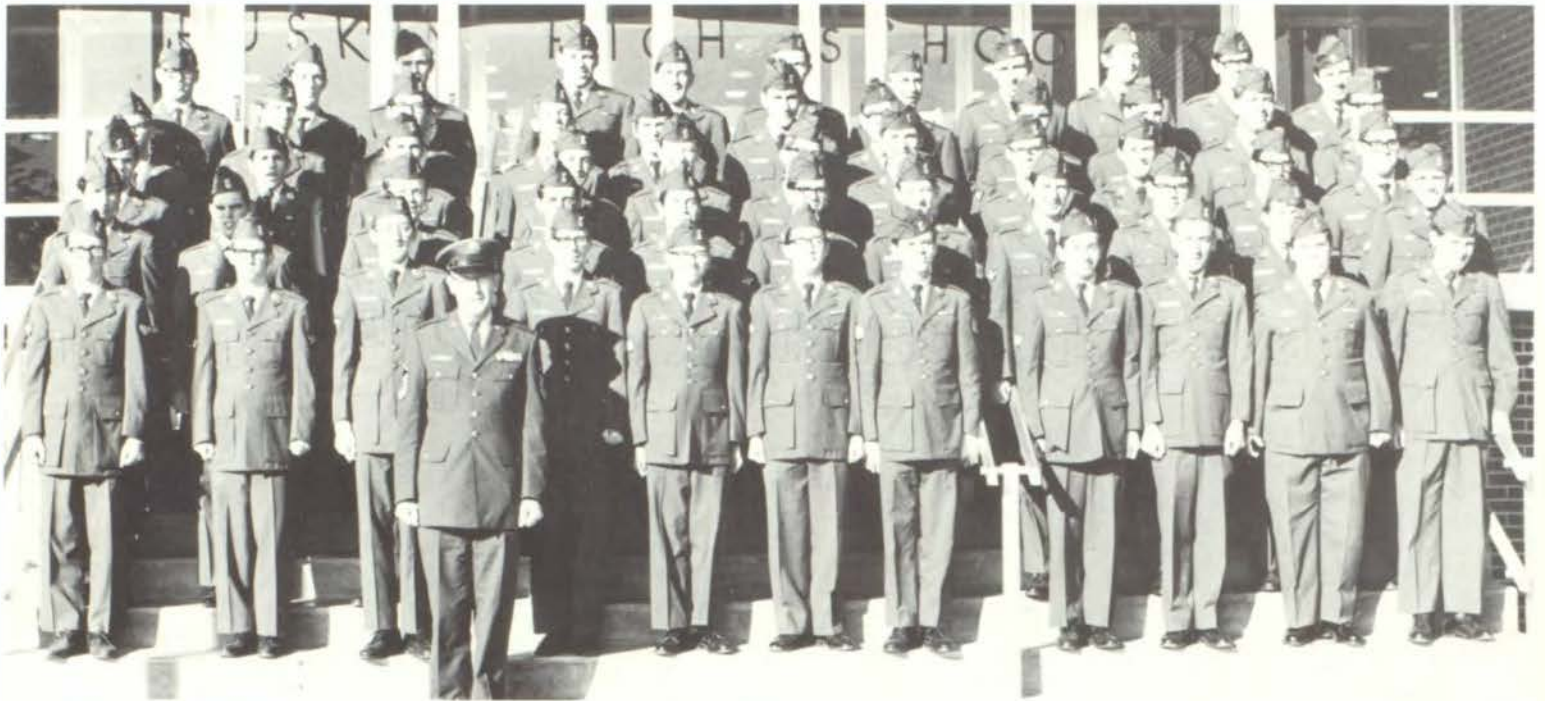

Academically oriented, the Air Force Junior Reserve Officer's Training Courses consisted of four broad subject areas: (1) fundamentals of aerospace, (2) principles of aerospace, (3) people in aerospace, and (4) the military in American life.

Basic study in Aerospace Education I included the early beginnings of aviation, space exploration, modern aircraft, and weather. Cadets became acquainted with Air Force traditions, customs, and courtesies, flag etiquette, proper uniform dress, and basic military drill, movements and commands.

Aerospace Education II included examining aerospace industry and research. A look at the defensive weapon system and the increase in knowledge of instruction techniques and ceremonial drill were elaborated upon.

The final year, Aerospace Education III, consisted of a semitechnical study of space vehicles, the human factor of aviation and space, and the strengthening of leadership abilities.

Flag raising and lowering, honor guard, and special cadet ceremonies were a part of cadet life. While many cadet-sponsored activities such as drill teams and color guards at football games, assemblies, and other special events took place as extracurricular activities.

Year Marks First Cycle of "Third Year Cadets"

The enrollment in Air Force Junior Reserve Officer's Training Courses for the 1969-70 school year, under the direction of Lt. Colonel Keith K. Pollock, SMSgt. Gaylord Akin, and MSgt. Dave Palmer, reached a total of 217. This year marked the first cycle of senior "third year cadets", who were presented with aerospace "Certificates of Completion".

The AFJROTC drill and rifle team for the past two years competed in contests with other district schools. In May, state competition was held. Under the leadership of C/Capt. Barry Smith, C/2nd Lt. David Wing, NCOIC S/Sgt. Steven Kelly, and NCOIC S/Sgt. Daniel Farris, the drill team totaled 32 members. NCOIC S/Sgt. Steven Kelly headed the 2nd and 3rd year drill team while NCOIC S/Sgt. Daniel Farris headed the 1st year drill team.

This year's activities included participation in "Operation Handshake" at Richards-Gebaur AFB in September, a field trip to Whiteman AFB in October and to Richards-Gebaur in November, the FAA complex, Family Night, and attendance at the Wentworth Show on February 20. Group parades and the Loyalty Day Parade were held in May. There were two promotion cycles, one in the fall and one in February. The second Annual Cadet Ball was held February 28. Senior Sandy Wright was crowned queen.

The president of DECA this year was Karen Kane. Delegates attended a state convention in Jefferson City to help elect state officers. Karen Kane, senior, ran for DECA state president.

Pep Club Gives Foster Child a Helping Hand

Pep Club decided last January to adopt a foster child from overseas. The $160 cost included food, clothing and shelter for the child and his family. In return, each month, the club received a letter from him. They began this in the hopes that Pep Clubs in the coming years will continue their project.

Pep Club made an unsuccessful bid on October 24 to defeat RGAA in the annual Powder Puff football game, but lost 14-6. Ann Daffin held the office of president of this large club, with Mary Lee Wynn as recording secretary. Denise Long was treasurer and Debbie Lamb acted as sign chairman. Senior class representative was Carol Curtis.

"Blue and Gold Diggers" Entertain At Half-Times

For the first time in history, Ruskin had a drill team. Called the "Blue and Gold Diggers," they organized in November, making their debut December 9 at a home basketball game. Precision marching and pom-pom dance routines were performed during the half-time. The captain of the 40 girl team was Cathy Billips, junior, while Debbie Johnson, junior, was co-captain.

Juniors built and decorated the Homecoming float which was used during the coronation of the royal court. The girls also worked with R.G.A.A. juniors to provide the half-time show for the Powder Puff football game. Junior Sandy Russell was Vice-President and Debbie Miller, also a junior, was class representative.

Sophomore Spirit Adds Enthusiasm to Pep Club

The vigor and energy of almost 80 sophomore girls livened up this year's Ruskin Pep Club. Their efforts were concentrated mainly on the Homecoming dance, the biggest Pep Club project of the year. The sophomore members held their own bake sale at Smith-Hale and helped in the September car wash to make money for the dance. As sophomore representative, Ginny Moreland kept other sophomores up-to-date, and attended executive board meetings. Cheryl Pollman, who was elected sign chairman, held committee meetings for making signs to encourage school spirit. Pep Club sponsors were Miss Lucile Woolt and Miss Alice Schltz.

RGAA Hosts Party for Neighborhood House

This year the Ruskin Girls' Athletic Association held their traditional Sweetheart Dance on Valentine's Day. They also sponsored their annual Christmas Project, which this year was a Christmas party complete with presents for underprivileged children at the Della C. Lamb Neighborhood House.

On October 21, the RGAA Senior girls defeated the Pep Club Senior girls, 14-6, in the Powder Puff Football game. The RGAA Junior girls crowned Rocky Bron, Mr. Eagle, in their halftime show.

This year the officeholders for RGAA were Rita Waldron, senior, president; Melanie Robertson, junior, Vice-President; Carla Laub, senior, treasurer; Mary Lee Wynn, senior, recording secretary; Jo Floyd, junior, corresponding secretary.

The RGAA held their initiation of new members last September 29, when they initiated 71 new members, bringing their total membership to 191. They met every Tuesday after school in the gym in the spring, to play volleyball in the fall and basketball. If members wished, they could have competed in the bowling tournament at the Capital Bowl every Tuesday instead of playing basketball. Mrs. Shirley France and Mrs. Mary Wiley, physical education teachers, supervised the activities.

Cheerleaders Win "Spirit Stick" at Summer Clinic

A private plane carried the five varsity cheerleaders to the summer cheerleading clinic at the University of Mississippi. During the camp, Seniors Janna Bridges and Anna Cutrera and Juniors Terri Pendergraft, Diane Steinbrueck, and Linda Hudgins, won the "Spirit Stick" for their ability, congeniality, cooperation, and enthusiasm. They also won a first place rating.

Janna Bridges was head of the first five member squad. They taught members of the Pep Club new songs and cheers and led spectators at all football and basketball games.

Assemblies Range from Orchestra to Patriotism

The orchestra assembly highlighted the many assemblies presented at Ruskin this year. The performers went to the State Teachers Convention in Columbia and then repeated the program for Ruskin. The main participants were Lou Kupersmith and Stan Pulliam, seniors; and Juniors Dubby Riley and Mark Hamilton.

Other assemblies for the 1969-1970 school year were an orientation program for Sophomores and Juniors, previews of the musical and all school play, and a gymnastics assembly put on by a selected group of Physical Education students. The Drama Department sponsored the Thanksgiving assembly which revolved around patriotism. Slides of America were kaleidoscoped across a huge screen while Carl Sandburg's "The Man With the Broken Fingers" was read. The Christmas assembly included a skit contrasting modern and old-fashioned celebrations and several vignettes revealing the humorous aspects of Christmas.

'Aquarian Age' Theme Of Junior-Senior Prom

A journey through the "Age of Aquarius," the theme of the 1969 Junior-Senior Prom, made the evening light, gay, and memorable. George Tidona and his dance band provided music for the occasion, held in the Hotel Muehlebach Grand Ball Room. Couples danced to music ranging from quiet waltzes to fast popular songs.

Signs of the Zodiac constructed by Mr. Mike Ferman's art classes, provided fitting decorations. Completely planned and managed by the Junior Class, the Prom was the result of much hard work and planning, and it was Ruskin's only formal dance of the year.

Dancing to the "Age of Aquarius," sets a mood for the future.

A reception line, consisting of Mr. Steck, Mr. Cattle, and Senior Class President, Don Keplinger, greeted the arrivals, who checked their wraps and moved onto the dance floor.

Festivities began at nine o'clock. Dancing, conversation, and occasional trips to the refreshment table ended at midnight, as tired, happy couples, headed homeward from a memorable evening.

With prom bringing the school year almost to a close, Seniors were left with many Prom memories; Juniors were waiting for the 1970 Junior-Senior Prom.

Eagles Pace Conference Team with Eleven in '69

The Ruskin Eagles, led by almost an entirely senior squad, posted a 6-2-2 record, good for a share of the conference championship with Oak Park. The Eagles started the season with a 36-7 taming of the Lee's Summit Tigers. The Eagles next trounced the Grandview Bulldogs, 53-6 followed by the defeat of arch-rival Oak Park Northmen, 27-20. Ruskin fell victim to adverse weather and emerged with successive 0-0 deadlocks with the Raytown Bluejays and the Truman Patriots. The Eagles next faced N.K.C. and defeated them 20-8 for a homecoming victory. The powerful Rockhurst Hawklets broke the Eagles' Undefeated string with a 14-0 victory. Ruskin got back on the winning track with a 26-0 triumph over the Raytown South Cardinals. Ruskin finished the season with a 40-27 routing of the William Christman Bears and a defeat, 7-0, at the hands of the Center Yellowjackets. A slower tempo encourages more couples to dance to The Chain Reaction.

Chain Reaction Plays For Homecoming Dance

Lunar Kaleidoscope was chosen as the theme of the 1969 Homecoming Dance held on October 17. Colored windows, black lights, and a huge fluorescent kaleidoscope, which covered one wall, carried out the theme. Satellites hung from the ceiling and the pillars were covered with aluminum foil.

Preparations for the dance began early in September. Sandy Russell, head of the float committee, changed a haywagon from Benjamin Stables into a blue and gold platform for the Homecoming Queen and her attendants during the coronation ceremonies. Decorations were planned, purchased, and put up by the Pep Club's Executive Board.

The dance was financed by the Pep Club, who raised money at a car wash to pay for decorations, and by the student body, who used class dues to pay for the band, The Chain Reaction.

The Chain Reaction warms up before the dance begins.

Varsity Places Fourth In '70 Suburban Eight

The Ruskin Eagle basketball squad, with a near senior line-up, stormed their way to a 13-10 record while participating in the Suburban Eight Conference. Despite a lack of height in the pivot position, Ruskin was able to hold their own against their opponents.

The Eagles finished fourth in the conference with good shooting and an adequate defense. Ruskin placed first in the Grandview tournament and second in the Center tournament. With six returning lettermen: Paul Jones, Mike Young, Stan Harmon, Dan McCormick, and Richie Brown on the squad, the Eagles were able to place in the District Tournament.

Rita Waldron Crowned '70 Sweetheart Queen

Rita Waldron, senior, was crowned Queen at RGAA's Sweetheart Dance held on Valentine's Day. She was crowned by last year's queen, Bobbi Muse, a 1969 graduate of Ruskin. Senior attendants were Mary Hollingsworth and Beverly Welch. Since there were no sophomores in the club this year, there were two junior attendants, Debbie Roth and Jo Floyd. After the coronation, Rita and her escort started the dancing again with the Queen's Dance.

The theme this year was very appropriately, "Sweethearts." It was carried out with hearts everywhere and an archway of nets and crepe paper over the entrance. Punch and cake was served throughout the evening by girls who took out time from the dancing.

The music, provided by a group called the Cinnamon Troly, ranged from rock and psychedelic to blues and soul.

An archway of net and crepe paper decorated the entrance to the dance floor.

The Cinnamon Trolly provided music for the evening's dancing.

RGAA girls and their dates enjoyed dancing to the music of the band.

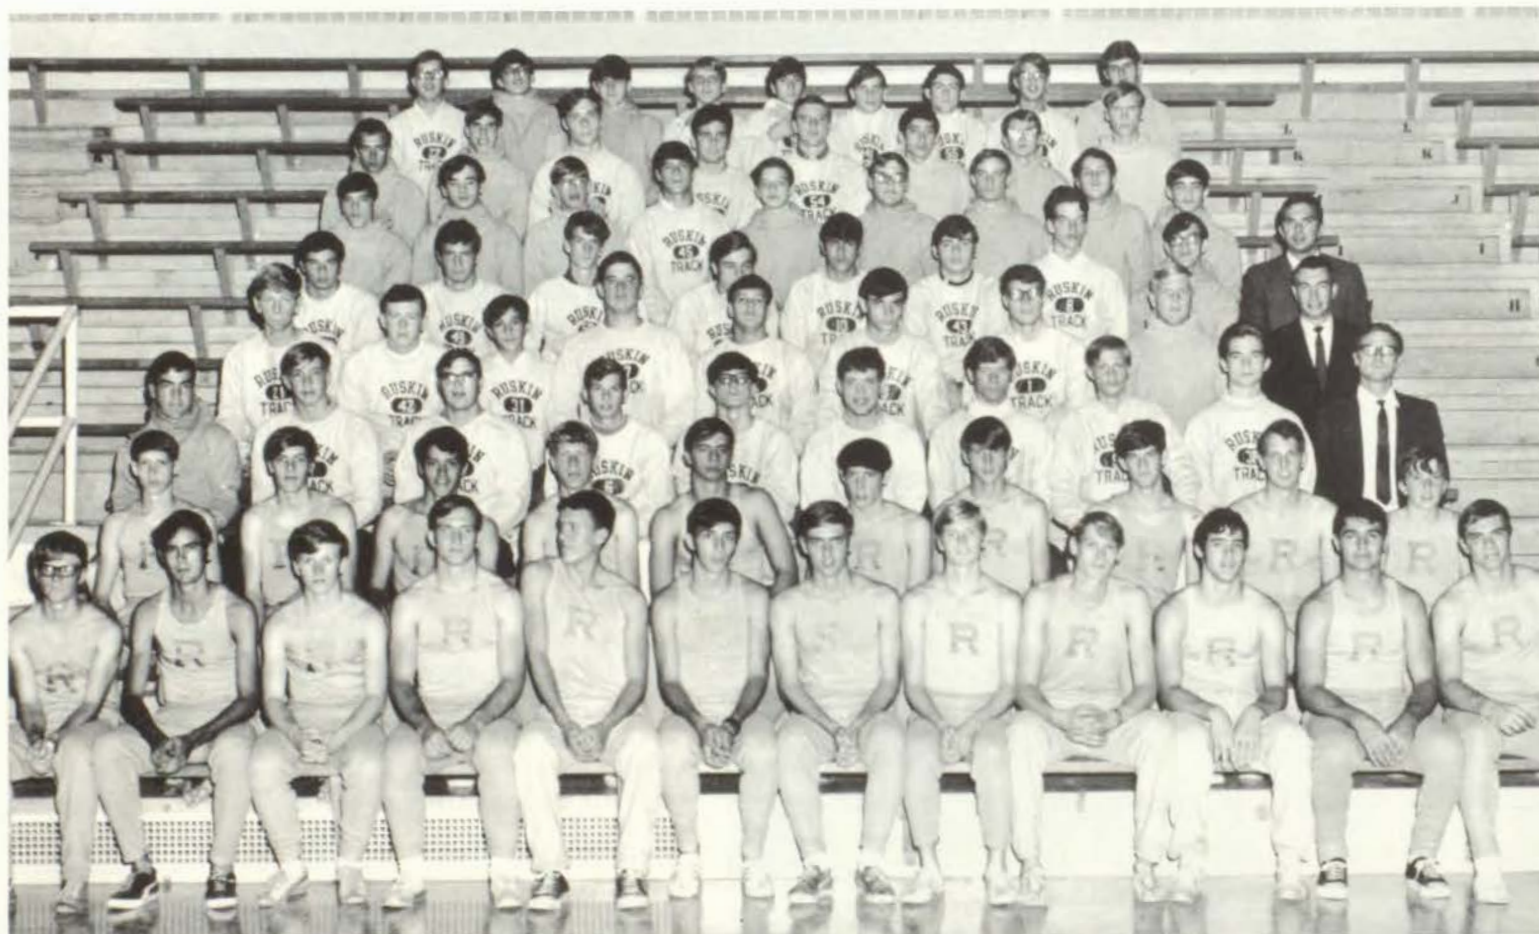

The queen and her court smile happily as they preside over the evening's festivities.

Ruskin Grapplers of 69-70 Have Improved Season

This years Ruskin wrestling team had one of its best seasons ever with an 8-2 record. The Eagles proved to be powerful in meets and tournaments, taking fourth place in the Suburban 8 Conference and first place in the district and regional by sending eight wrestlers to the finals. With one of the better teams in the state, Ruskin placed in every tournament and took first place in the Van Horn, Ruskin, Regional, and District tournaments, and third in the Center tournament. The Eagles surprised the other teams in the district and Head Coach Jim Clark with their record who had been quoted as saying, "We will be lucky if we win one match." Ruskin sent five wrestlers to the state meet. Coming back with honors was David Lawrence, senior, who took second in the 98-pound class.

Seniors Complete Their Three Years of History

In the fall of '68, the class of '70 entered the Ruskin halls only to be the last class to spend all three years housed at Ruskin. Within the class, the sophomores elected Dennis Kelly, president; Patty Draney, vice-president; Pam Draney, secretary; and Jill Smith, treasurer. The initiation for the underclassmen was also the last to be held on RHS grounds. Nin Biggerstaff was sophomore attendant at the annual Homecoming festivities. Madeline Kupersmith captured the lead, Guenevere, in the all-school musical, "Camelot." Keith Smith portrayed Tom of Warwick as a secondary role. The representatives for the class at Snowball were Pam Draney and Nanci Moll. The Junior Varsity cheerleaders were Janna Bridges, Nin Biggerstaff, Debbie Buchanan, Denise Long, Wendi Jensen, and Bonnie McGarth. Mary Lee Wynn was chosen as attendant at the annual RGAA Sweetheart dance. Several sophomores made varsity team in their chosen sport—football: Ken McClendon, Rocky Bron, Bill Moore, Bob Rape, Steve Shearer, and Greg Temple; basketball: Paul Jones and Mike Young; cross country: Mark Newman, Roger Wyatt, and Keith Smith; and track: Gary Lehmer, Gary Watkins, and Rocky Bron. Tests were completed and school dismissed on May 28, 1969, making the sophomores official juniors.

As juniors, the class of '70 entered with an enrollment of 708. The class officers elected were Lloyd Anderson, president; Chip Robertson, vice-president; Madeline Kupersmith, secretary; and Mary Lee Wynn, treasurer. Serving as Homecoming attendant, Nin Biggerstaff represented the class of 1970. Janna Bridges and Nin Biggerstaff made the Varsity cheerleading squad. Pam Bender served as vice-president of Pep Club. Ann Daffin and Rita Waldron were chosen as Sweetheart attendants, the first time there was a tie for the honor. Mary Lee Wynn and Nanci Moll reigned as junior attendants at the Christmas-spirited Snowball Dance. The Ruskin stage came alive when the all-school musical "Music Man" was presented. The year of '69 was the first year for a military ball. Mary Lee Wynn was crowned first ROTC Queen. A junior, Julie Spencer, headed the MIRAGE staff as co-editor. For the first time, the MIRAGE was delivered in the summer. Being our first prom, the theme was the "Age of Aquarius" held at the Hotel Muehlebach. Now another year ended and tragically, too. The school lost several seniors in car accidents. The question was, "What will happen in 1970?"

On September 2, 1969, the class of '70 was to begin their final year. During the first quarter of the year, Mary Lee Wynn received the Good Citizens Award from the Daughters of the American Revolution. The class voted in Chip Robertson, president; Bob Thomas, vice-president; Alicia Chavez, secretary; and Jill Smith, treasurer. Mary Ann Chiarelli led the Homecoming royalty as queen with Ann Daffin and Madeline Kupersmith as senior attendants. The spirited evening was complete with a 20 to 8 victory over North Kansas City. Another aspect to add to the year was when the football team came out on top as Co-Champs of the Suburban Eight Conference. The seniors on the Varsity cheerleading squad were Janna Bridges and Anna Cutrera. The all-school musical "Boyfriend" was performed as Madeline Kupersmith and Steve Sirna were the chosen lead characters. Yet, four hours before opening night, Madeline had to decline her position to Denise Kemple, junior, due to a throat ailment. The supporting characters were Karen Holloway, Mary Lee Wynn, and Stan Harmon. Student Council held its annual Snowball dance where Mary Lee Wynn was crowned queen. Nanci Moll and Alicia Chavez were her senior attendants. The senior student council officers were Lloyd Anderson, president; Mary Lee Wynn, secretary; and Gary Watkins, treasurer. After semester break, Ruskin held its first informal Basketball Homecoming. Lisa Riggs was crowned queen with Annette Price and Kerry Willoughby as senior attendants. The yearbook staff was headed by four returning seniors, Linda Ricketts, senior advisor; Karen Holloway, senior editor; Cherie Nugen, underclass editor; and Bill Yeager, business manager. Bob Palmer, editor, led the award-winning Hi-Light staff. Mike Floyd and Bob Palmer represented Ruskin as National Merit Finalists. Jack Ricketts and Mike Floyd were recognized as the top ranked students of the class. Their class averages were based on the scholastic rating since their freshman year. The Prom was held this year at the Hotel Muehlebach. The following week graduation ceremonies were performed at the RLDS auditorium on May 22. The final gathering for all the seniors. Yes, the final. We will never again be all the same or be all together again as we were when we turned our tassels from the left to the right.

The colorful history of Hickman Mills dates back to 1795 when Daniel Morgan came to Missouri. In 1885, Union Point School was established as the first public school. In 1901, the Missouri General Assembly enacted a law which permitted two or more districts to consolidate into one and by vote of the people, vote bonds for the construction of a high school. This, in the spring of 1902, Consolidated District No. 1 became the first district in the state to take advantage of this law. The high school was built during the summer and 25 students enrolled in September. The school was named for John Ruskin, the English art critic, writer, and social reformer. The cost of the original school was $3,250.

In 1939, the original Ruskin High School, located at approximately 107th and Blue Ridge, became outgrown. Housing development was booming in the early 1950's and toddlers and tricycles began to replace grazing cattle in the meadows. The need to provide schools was acute, and patrons of the district again rose to the occasion, and since 1954 have voted bonds and levies to construct 12 ultra modern schools and make additions to others. A second high school is presently under construction.

The third Ruskin High School was opened in 1955; but on May 20, 1957, a devastating tornado struck and destroyed most of the building. The present building was completed in 1958 and has had some additions since that time.

Just before the Thanksgiving holiday in 1956, the student body was presented a school flag made by Mrs. Helen Emery. At the dedication ceremony, Mr. Blaine E. Steck, principal, introduced Mrs. Emery, a Ruskin graduate. She told about the student body fifty years ago to the day they met and selected the golden eagle as the emblem and blue and gold as school colors.

Not enough can be said about this emblem. It is revered by students, former students, and members of the community. A certain spirit centers around this colorful emblem as it enjoys a prime resting place in the floor near the main entrance at the school. It must never be stepped upon. If by accident this should occur, the offender is required to shine the eagle. This has become a favorite means of initiating lower classmen entering Ruskin.

Ruskin High School is widely known and well respected throughout the state. The school enjoys a AAA rating from the State Department of Education, is accredited by North Central Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges, is a member of the Suburban Eight Conference, and ranks high in competition in both academic and athletic events.

Yes, Ruskin is a proud school! Its enthusiasm and spirit overflows into the community and tends to unite the community on issues so important to the future. It has had a long historical past but many pages of progressive history are still to unfold. True to its emblem, the Golden Eagle, the school tries to "flap its wings less and soar higher and more graceful than all others."

Seniors

The 1970 Class ends their high-school education at graduation exercises. For the Class the past three years have been filled with many kinds of mixed emotions: happy and sad, good and bad. Those final days of tests and grades being calculated are finally over. Visions of new goals and destinations are in the eyes of all seniors. Also there is the pressing question of going to college, getting a job, or making a home life. What is the feeling of the seniors as they walk down the aisle of the RLDS auditorium? That is something that everyone has to experience himself. Yet, the Class finally realizes that on May 22, 1970 will be the last time to say good-bye to "dear old Ruskin."

Juniors

Ruskin Juniors, besides being "the group in the middle," this year had a new obstacle to overcome. This was their first year at Ruskin. Their way to overcome it? Become involved. They accomplished this by joining Pep Club, R-club, RGAA, FTA, and many other Ruskin clubs. They also ran the Junior Stand which furnished refreshments at the games and money for the prom. Denise Kemple, who starred in The Boyfriend, was only one of the many juniors who helped both on and off stage. Russell Jones represented the juniors on our Categories team. Juniors such as Tim Dugan, Joe Laub, Jeff Johnson, and many others were active in sports. Many junior girls were on Ruskin's first drill team. The juniors proved to be valuable assets to Ruskin and let us know that next year they will be great seniors.

Sophomores

The class of 1972 spent their school year separated from the other classes. For the second consecutive year, the sophomores were housed at Smith-Hale. Bryant Kachel was elected Student Council president. Other officers included: Walter Rosebrough, vice-president; Jim Walker, treasurer; and Karen Floyd, secretary. Many activities highlighted and added to the school year. Among these were two school plays, a magazine sales, and school dances. These events and others contributed to making the 69-70 year a successful one. Their participation in school activities alleviated some of the problems formed by the physical separation. The newspaper, "Drumbeat," was led by Steve Nelson, Kent Pritzel, and Margo Grells. These and many other sophomores made a lasting contribution to the history of Smith-Hale as well as that of Ruskin.

From the 1970 Mirage Editors

We would like to thank Mr. Steck, Mr. Lawrence, and Mr. Cattle for their assistance in all aspects of producing this yearbook. Mrs. Skinner and Mr. Wrisinger and all other faculty members have also been of invaluable service.

Without our advertisers and patrons it would not have been possible to produce this book. We also want to thank Rolland Studios and Mr. Bob Gadd of Inter-Collegiate Press for their help in making our book.

We, as editors, feel a special need to thank and congratulate our staff members: Joni Gray, Janine Grubs, Charlie Harris, Karen Holloway, Bob Jaime, Debbie Kennedy, Diana Luck, Barbara McBride, Hannah Mellicker, Cherie Nugen, Ingrid Payne, Cheryl Peters, Kent Pritzel, Linda Ricketts, Karen Shoemaker, Trudy Wages, Paul Webb, Mike Witt, and Bill Yeager.

Even though not in Publications class, we owe special thanks to Grady Beers who spent many hours taking and developing pictures for us. Bill Blosser, Jim Ralls, and Linda Haning helped us enormously in making our final deadlines.

These people are important to us, and we want to thank them, but we would also like to thank the twenty-three hundred other Individuals who made the 1970 Mirage possible.
