Ten Star Studded Years

In the past TEN STAR STUDDED YEARS many SHS students have shared some of the best years of their lives. Each student changes in every way, from the clothing he or she wears to the learning process, learning about the world around them.

Many SHS students find it important to improve the quality of work they do from year to year, whether it be reorganizing clubs so they may benefit more of the student body, improving the quality of the newspaper and yearbook so that students can get more out of what they read or being a winner in a district, state or national contest that concerns journalism, music or art.

Each year students have found excitement in what they have done to improve their school and so each student that arrives at SHS must fulfill not only his obligation to his school but also his obligation to himself so that he may find his purpose in life.

Changes

Walking through the halls of Schlagle High School for the first time, many new freshmen and sophomores may not recognize the many changes that have occurred within the past TEN STAR STUDDED YEARS.

Even if they may not have noticed the addition to AVTS, the new sign in front of the school, the banners that hang in the gymnasium, the trophies that are in the showcase, or the changing of teachers from year to year, many students will realize the change from childhood to adulthood.

Changes occur everywhere and all the time. Let each of us make our change for the better and keep the pride for our school changing hands.

Unity

Each year students find someone to look up to, whether it would be a teacher or another student. With every idol students have, a type of unity begins to bind everyone together, bringing them closer and closer to one another.

As each of the TEN STAR STUDDED YEARS progress, students arrive at Schlagle High School seeking to acquire more and more friends. Each student gains a new friend and then another until everyone knows each other and the whole school is like a family. Each cares for his brothers and sisters and is concerned if something would happen to break up such a family.

To keep such a family together, many students find themselves calling upon their friends just to keep in touch, whether it is by calling on a telephone, writing a letter or visiting. So it's in each of us to do our part to keep in touch with each other.

Reaching out

Helping students find books in the library, aiding a fellow classmate get a locker opened, giving advice to students about changing classes or talking to a friend who is in need of a consoling word . . . These are many of the ways students reached out to help in the past TEN STAR STUDDED YEARS.

Teachers, classmates, parents, librarians, counselors and other administrators are many of the people who reach out not only to help others but to offer their opinions.

Many students feel they need to reach out because they prefer to tighten their friendships. They find a closeness in these friendships, a closeness which is often life lasting.

Spirit

As each of the TEN STAR STUDDED YEARS fades away, students find themselves looking back to see what activities they participated in at Schlagle High School.

Each student shows spirit in different ways, ways which are many times different from fellow classmates. Some have shown spirit by cheering on the team at football or basketball games. Others show it by participating in extracurricular activities such as sports, clubs or being part of the Drill Team or Cheerleading Squad. Still others have shown it by doing their best on school work.

Getting involved

Each step we make to get involved brings us closer and closer to our goals. The support of our teachers and counselors and fellow students gives us more enthusiasm to go that extra mile.

Joining sports, being part of clubs, class council, cheering on the team at different sport events and taking part in pep rallies are many of the ways students get involved at Schlagle High School.

In the past TEN STAR STUDDED YEARS, many students have done their part by getting involved in many of the school's activities. Each new student who arrives at SHS must do his or her part to make the next years stand out just as the first decade did.

Spirit Week

What is this? Look at all these people running around dressed as cowboys, kiddies and people out of the 50's. It's all a part of Spirit Week held in September during the football season.

Cowboy Day started off the week with Cowboy hats, boots, guns, and even a Pocahontas. Winners for this day were Lisa Bailey, junior, and Mrs. Josephine Vandiver, counselor.

Tuesday came with children running around in freckles, their pajamas, and carrying baby bottles, pacifiers and stuffed animals on Kiddie Day. The winners for Kiddie Day were Rochelle Stubler, junior, and Mrs. Marguerite Penick, instructor.

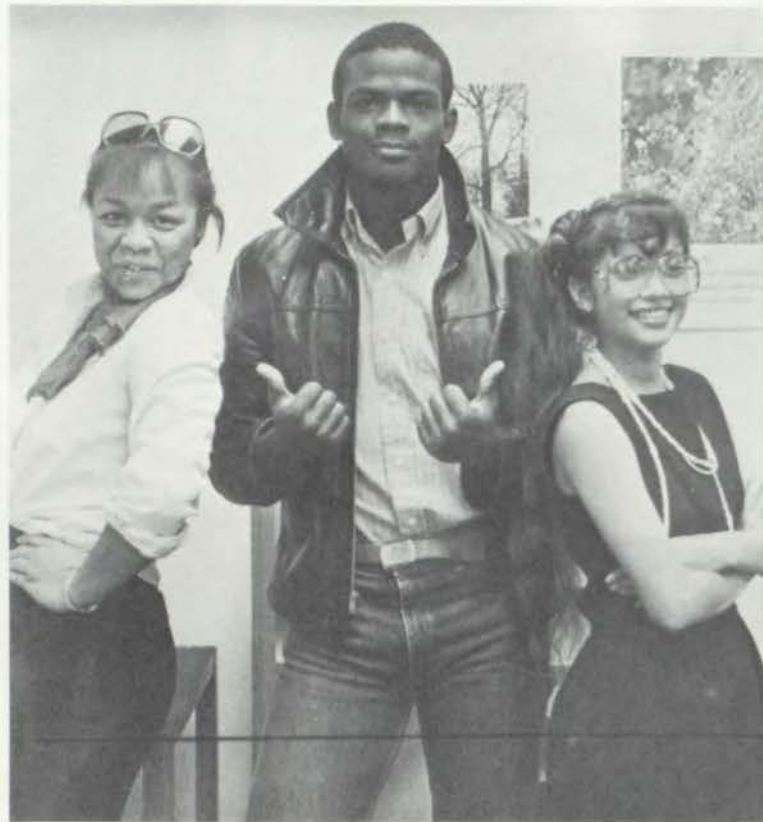

Many students had to rummage back through their summer clothes for Wednesday's Shorts Day. The winners were Patrick Suttington, sophomore, and Mr. Chuck Minor, instructor.

Nifty-fifty Day came on Thursday with costumes of the 50's. Poodle skirts, class rings, letter sweaters, bobby socks, saddle shoes, greased hair, tight jeans, cigarettes rolled up in sleeves of T-shirts and leather jackets were all included in showing Schlagle High School's spirit. Brenda Thomas, junior, Holly Honea, sophomore, and Mrs. Kathy Cross, typing instructor, were the oldies winners.

Homecomings Then and Now

Homecoming is a time when students and faculty alike get together to celebrate the school year. It's a chance to look back on the past and look forward to the future. The homecoming spirit is a special one, and it's one that everyone can enjoy. Whether you're a student or a faculty member, there's always something to love about homecoming. It's a time to relax and enjoy the company of friends and family. It's a time to celebrate the school and the community. Homecoming is a special time, and it's one that everyone should cherish.

Homecomings: Then and now

With queens and kings and performances by the marching band and drill team, Schlagle High School's Homecoming is as exciting now as it was 10 years ago.

SHS students were able to observe their old Homecoming Queens Oct. 15 as five past queens came "back home."

Mrs. Jean Petz asked the first queen, Terri Odell-Bayley, if she still had her Homecoming crown. "Yes, as a matter of fact I just dug it out of the closet so my daughter could wear it for Halloween," she answered. Bayley now lives in Topeka, KS. with her husband and daughter.

In 1976 Lori Taylor-Bruenn was announced Homecoming Queen. She now lives in Edwardsville, KS. with her husband.

Renee Dillion was SHS's 1980 Homecoming Queen. She lives in Kansas City, KS. and works for a cable TV company.

Angie Nelson also returned to crown the new SHS Homecoming Queen, Stasi Bobo. Nelson is now a Freshman at Iowa State University. She was SHS's 1981 Homecoming Queen.

"Somewhere Over the Rainbow" was a delightful theme that was carried out very well throughout the Homecoming festivities.

"The mood was great, everyone was having a great time," said Kathy Lage, senior.

Mini sandwiches, nachos and punch were served for refreshments. Sound Dynamics supplied the music. "The music was nice and the food was very appetizing," said Kathleen Carey, senior.

Dancing and the announcement of the Royalty were the highlights of the evening. Members of the Royalty included Queen Stasi Bobo, and her escorts King Derrick Jennings and Cedric Hampton; First and second Princesses Terri Swallow and Cheryl Chancellor, seniors. Attendants of each of the underclassmen were announced: Lisa Bailey junior, Kim Brown, sophomore, and Adrea Hobson, freshman.

Rainbows, stars and flowers were arranged to add to the theme. "I thought the decorations were beautiful. I enjoyed being there "Under the Rainbow," said Jeff Rauch, seniors.

Cast members enter, dressed in brightly colored jogging suits and bringing with them pieces of the set. As the song came to an end the characters took their places on the platform and began to tell their tales.

This year's fall production, "Story Theater," was a collection of revised Aesop and the Brothers Grimm fables. Some stories included were "The Little Peasant," "The Robber Bridegroom," "Henny Penny," and "The Golden Goose." The cast consisted of 12 members. Each member had a chance to play several different characters throughout the play.

"The play was very successful from my perspective partially due to the popular nature of the script, but the main factor for success was the dedication, creativity and hard work of the cast members," Mr. Blaine Stephens, drama instructor and play director said.

King Louie

Once again, this year's Student Council sponsored King Louie Night from 1 to 4 a.m. on Oct. 2 for Schlagle High School students.

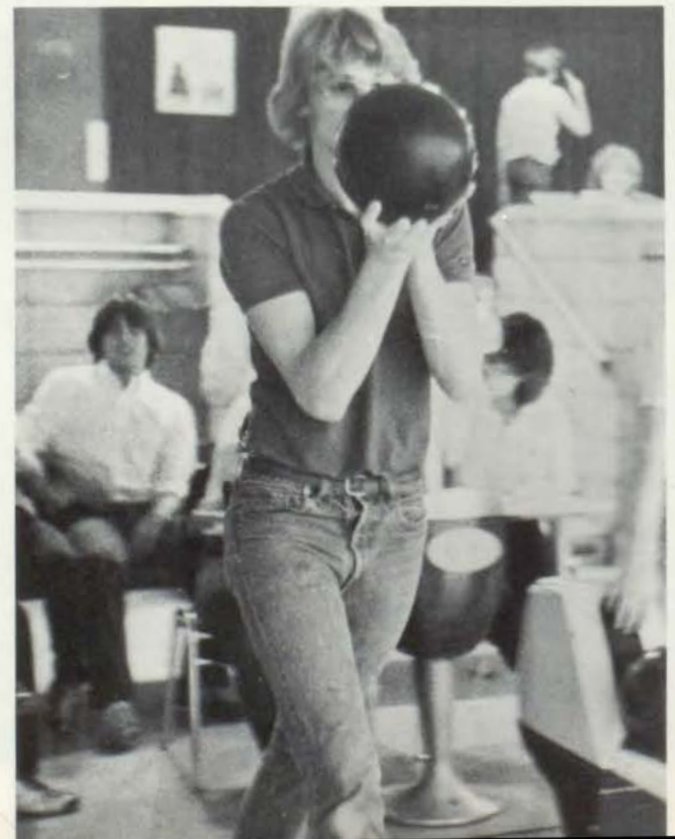

With the increase in students enrolled, many were expected to attend. Only 400 tickets were available for over 1,000 students.

Student Council President Tanya Gillis, senior, was asked if the amount of tickets sold was expected, "Yes, we expected to sell all of the tickets and we did. I wish Student Council could hold another King Louie Night this year."

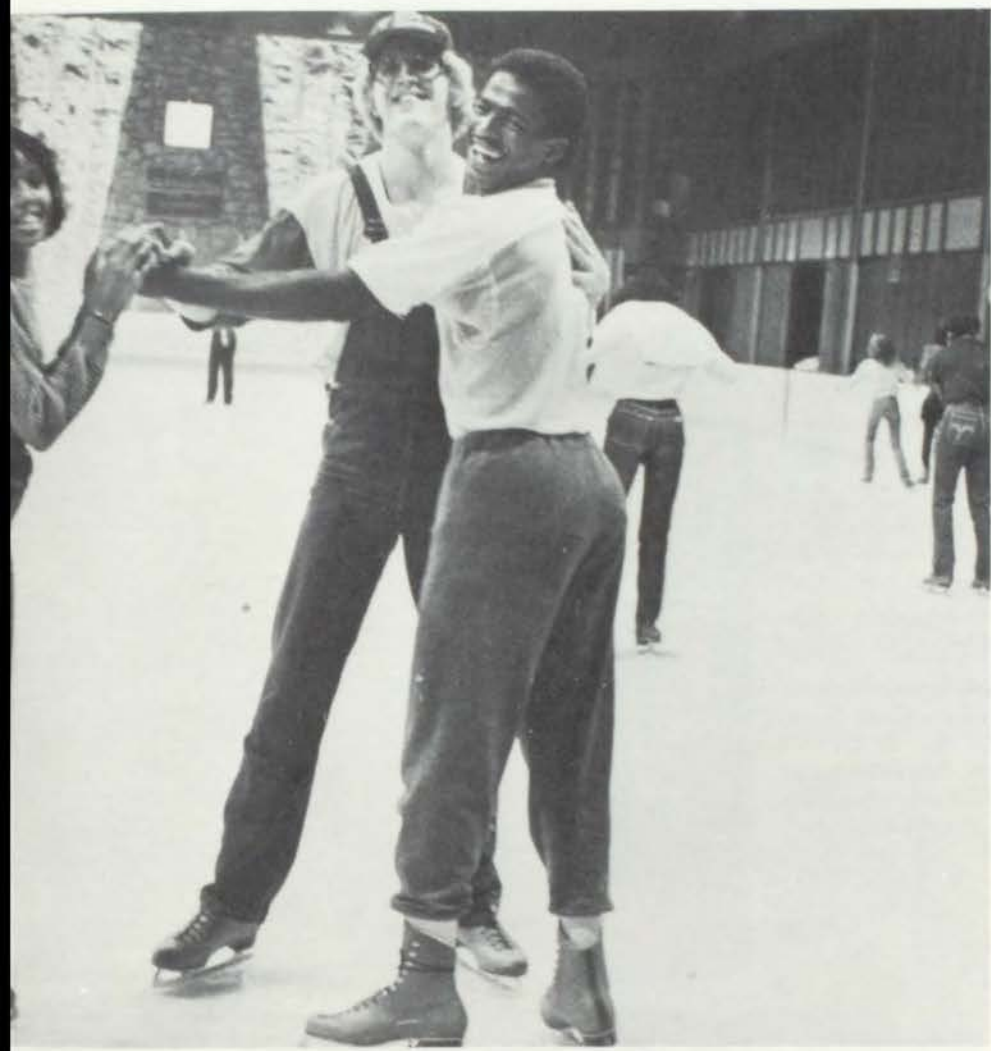

Rhonda Pawloski, sophomore, was asked how she felt about King Louie Night, "I had a pretty good time, but it was slightly overcrowded."

Pep Assemblies

What is a pep assembly? A gathering of persons who assemble in order to raise school spirit. That would be a reasonable response.

Cheerleaders, Drill Team and Bannerline are all included in the raising of school spirit.

Contests are held at each assembly to seek the most spirited class at Schlagle High School. The Cheerleaders do "Battle Cry" to find the winner.

During one pep assembly, the cheerleaders promoted a contest to see which coach the students thought deserved the winning prize, which was a pie in the face. The students donated money to each coach. In order for a coach to win, he or she had to have the greatest amount of money. When the winning moment was declared, Coach Gene Blair was the conqueror and Desiree Pawloski, junior, was the victorious individual to throw the pie.

The one main reason pep assemblies are held is to promote spirit for the critical upcoming games and give those participators all the luck and confidence they need.

Fads

For the fall '82 season, the look is dressy and sporty. With the fashions changing from season to season, the "in look" can be very expensive.

One of the investments one may make is of the tuxedo shirt. This shirt may be worn with dressy straight leg pants or baggy jeans.

The layer-upon-layer look is the way to "sweater up" now—cardigans over vests, vests over vests, and patterns aplenty.

Even one makes a sweat shirt go wild and have a spirited look. Some are dressed up with a pretty Peter Pan collar. Some are dressed up with a pretty Peter Pan collar of cotton lace or wild necklaces and big wide belts.

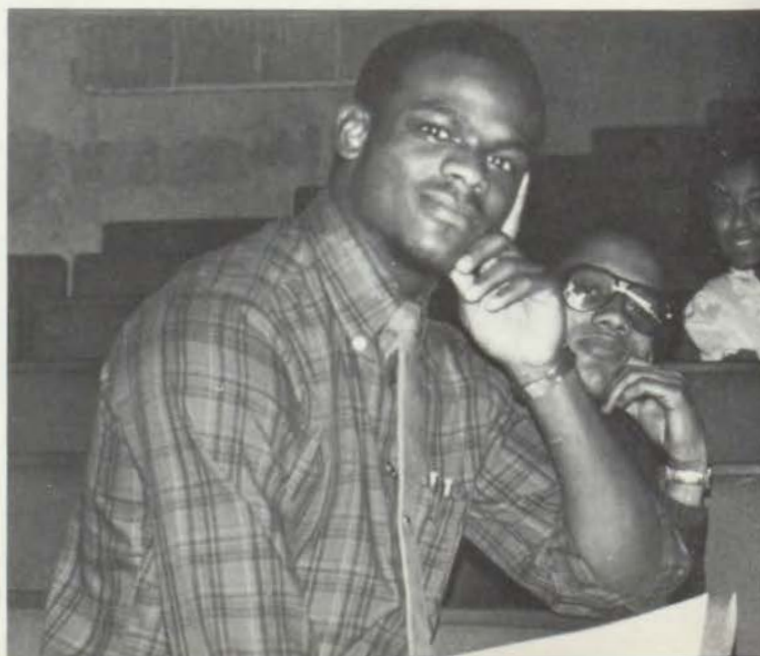

Button down shirts worn with polo shirts underneath and a sweater tied around the neck is one of the many sporty looks.

Accessories are an essential part of one's wardrobe. Bow ties, scarves tied around the neck, pearl necklaces and hats are a few of these accessory trends.

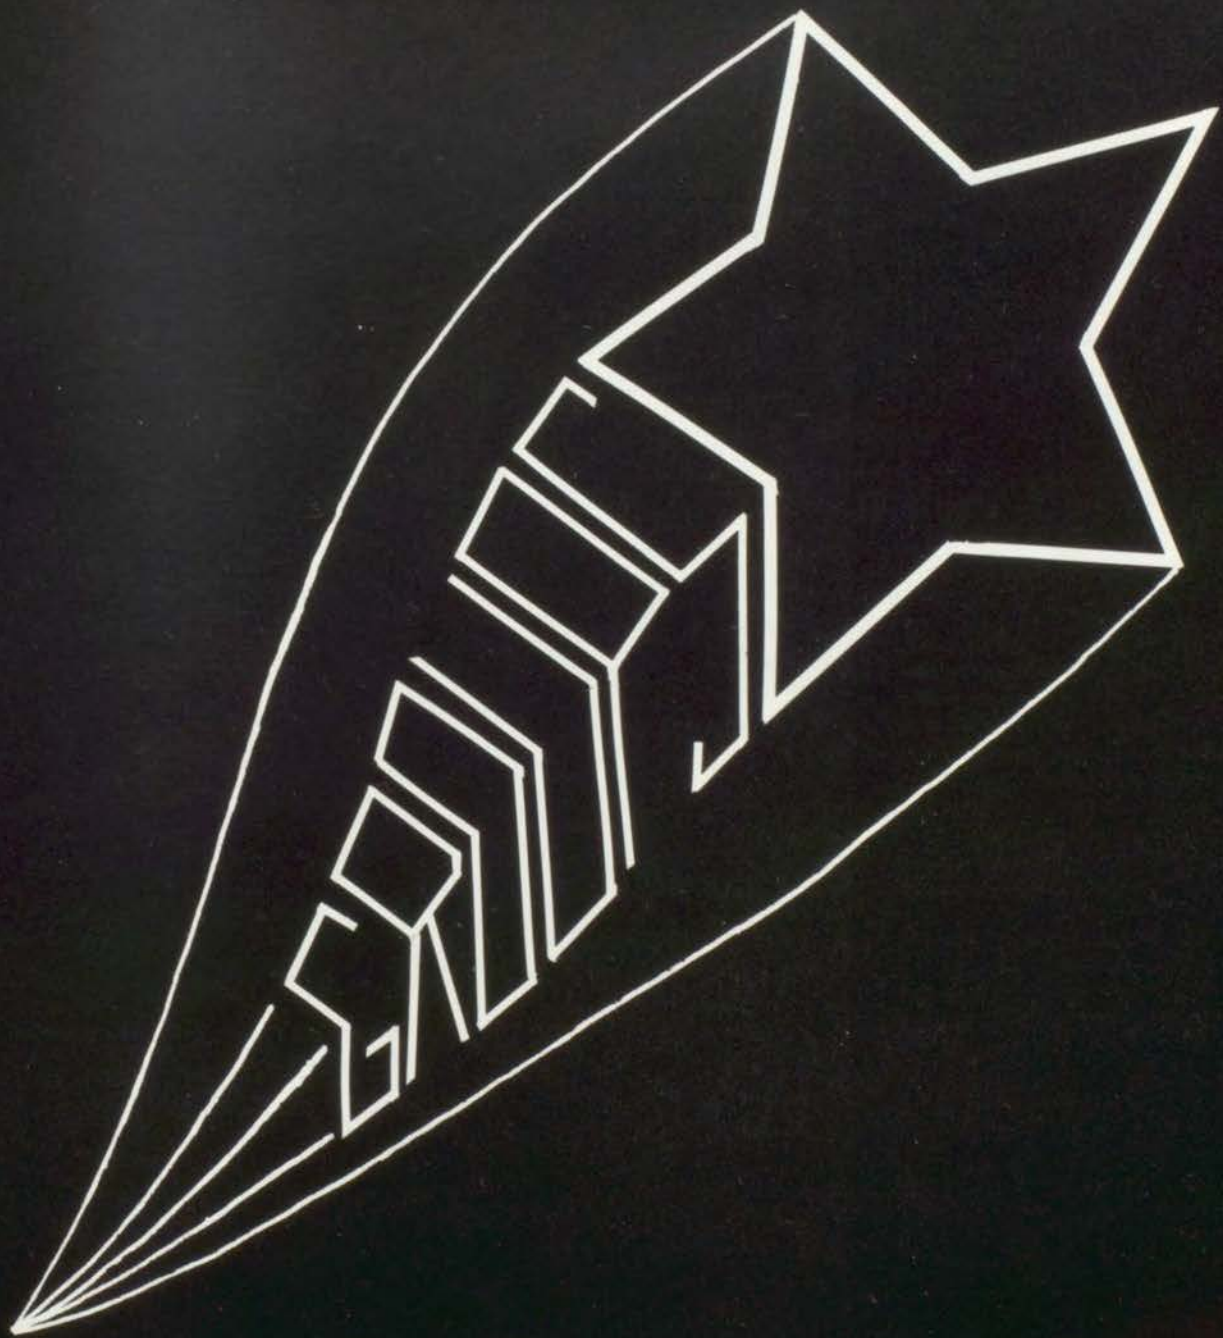

Flat shoes seem to be a part of this year's clothing styles. High heels are usually worn only with the dressy look.

Buying clothing and staying in the "fad" seems to be very important to many people this year. They want to stay in style, even if they have to spend a fortune.

Student Council

A club that needed leadership abilities to prove the capability to govern Schlagle High School's student body was the Student Council.

This club held many various activities to fulfill the benefits for the wide range of students at SHS.

Annual activities included the holding of the Thanksgiving can drive where the club collected over 1,000 cans for St. Mary's Children Home and a special organization to which all schools donate. They also were the sponsors of student break and sold refreshments in the Pop Shoppe during break and after school. Decorating the Christmas tree in the main hall of SHS is also one of their duties.

President Tanya Gillis said, "They're such a cooperative group. We had a slow start because we didn't have break at first, but things started picking up. Our one main goal we wanted to accomplish was getting student break back. We held the Winter Formal at the Convention Center this year." Other places in the area were too expensive, she said.

Key Club

Key Club is a service organization whose goals are to help the community by providing necessary items to people unable to afford them. For example, the SHS Key Club purchased a Speak and Spell computer for the St. John's Children's home in Kansas City, KS.

Key Club does many activities during the year. One of them included setting off balloons at the Homecoming for the 10th Anniversary. One of the largest projects the members participated in is the annual Blood Bank. Members help the nurses as they receive blood from students willing to donate. In the mornings before school doughnuts were sold to students who weren't able to get a meal before school. After the football season the club recognized the varsity football players by giving them thank you notes and candy bars. Each year Key Club Week is held November 7-13. The week was filled with many worthwhile projects including Football Appreciation Day, Sweetheart Day and a service project to help some needy organization.

District Key Club convention is held during the spring for members to spend time with the other Key Clubs from district schools. "The convention brings Key Clubs from other schools together to exchange ideas and activities with one another," said Lisa Walton, Key Club president.

NHS

National Honor Society is a group of junior and senior students who have achieved a 1.5 grade point average in their junior year and must have a 2.0 or lower grade point average to be in NHS their senior year.

NHS raises money mainly for the induction ceremony and a scholarship which is given to the most dedicated person and the person with the highest grades. Money was raised in many various ways such as: by selling Mums during the Homecoming game and selling Christmas candy canes.

"It was a great privilege to be one selected in the National Honor Society," said National Honor Society President Tom Ward.

DECA

Distributive Education Clubs of America is a club based on students who want to get more experience in areas of leadership development, civic consciousness, social development and vocational understanding in leadership conferences, state and national, according to its advisor Mrs. Mary Seeley.

DECA consists of 16 senior students who coordinate with the Distributive Education class. The division that coordinates with Marketing and Merchandising has 60 junior members.

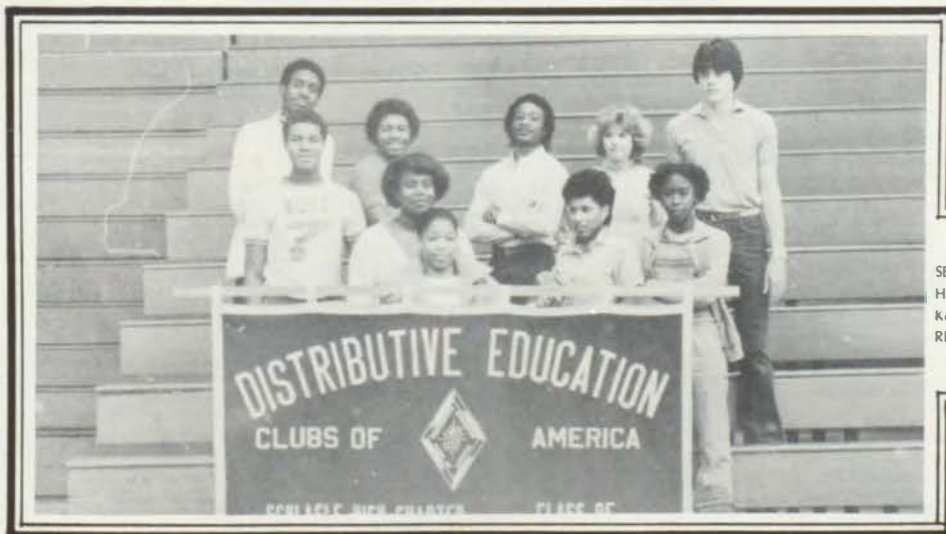

Members of DECA work in the school store selling school supplies, jewelry and a variety of other items. The DECA store is open before school Monday through Friday.

Officers and individual committees determine the program of work that the students will do.

DECA members are dismissed hourly to attend an out-of-school job that each member acquires when joining DECA. This early dismissal gives each student a chance to work extra hours to raise additional spending money.

TYPE DEPTH GUIDE

KEEP TYPE OUT OF OUTSIDE MARGIN

What do you call a book of memories that holds the history of Schlagle High School? The Equestrian.

This year is a very special time for SHS students and staff for it is the 10th anniversary of the high school. In order to make this book special, the Equestrian staff spent a lot of hours during and after school working to complete the 10th anniversary edition.

The staff wanted to make the yearbook the best ever so the students will have something special to cherish.

Many changes are made from year to year to capture these distinctive memories and also to record the history of SHS.

Working hard to meet deadlines, deciding on what pictures and where to place them, writing copy and getting that final approval from the advisor, are all part of a hectic day of an Equestrian staff member.

Equestrian staff

Paul Koehler, senior, is the editor of the Equestrian for 1982-83. Koehler has been on the staff for three years. He works with dignity to complete the yearbook and meet his deadlines on time, he said. "The job of an editor is important because you not only have to do your work but help others," said Koehler.

Seniors Lisa Walton and Teresa Stanturf are the editors of the senior section. "All the senior section plus the senior summaries are a lot of work for two people," Walton said. Other editors for the freshman, sophomore and junior classes are Juniors Dawn York, Pernell Dye and Stanley Smallwood.

The editor of the academics section is Cheryl Chancellor, senior. "Being on the staff for three years gives you a lot of experience," she said. Working under Chancellor to help meet the deadlines are Juniors Reni Mendez and Joleena Workman. "Striving for perfection is our goal," said Mendez.

Editing the sports section is Mark Klamm, senior. He and his assistant, Angie Black, junior, work with swiftness and capability to accomplish their deadlines. This is Klamm's third year on the Equestrian staff. "The longer you are on the staff the more knowledge you gain," Klamm said.

Seniors Terri Swallow and Nancy Wilson are the editors for the activities/groups section. Both Swallow and Wilson have been on the Equestrian staff for three years. Working as assistants under Swallow and Wilson are Juniors Desiree Pawloski and Kelley Adams. "Experience is the key word," Wilson said.

Diachron

Supervised by Mrs. Susan Stacy, sponsor, the newspaper staff produced 15 informative issues of the Diachron newspaper.

"Informing the students and administrators of important events and issues at Schlagle High School is the main goal of the staff," said Julie Adam, junior and Diachron news editor.

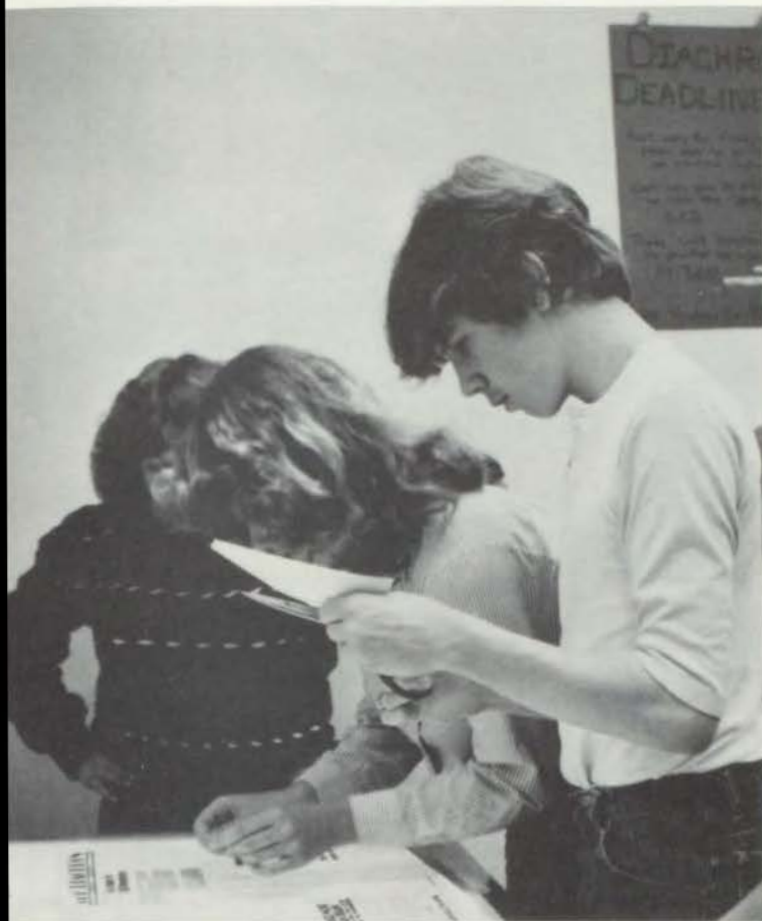

Junior Tony Maimer, editor-in-chief of the school newspaper, said, "The Diachron staff attempts to put out a decent paper that is both informative and hopefully a little interesting for the readers."

Headlines of the Diachron ranged from: "Garfield 'steals' affection," "Marijuana effects discussed during conference," to "Dean fulfills goals at State Tournament." These and many more stories affected not just a particular group of students but all people and staff at SHS.

Maimer commented, "I think this year's paper is better than last year's. It's been given a new look that's more open and freer. The writing is better this year, especially the sports department since we now have a sports staff that knows what it's talking about."

Bands

F.L. Schlagle High School has three main bands that perform at various activities.

Another SHS band is the Orchestra. This band consisted of instruments such as the violin, cello and viola.

The Stage Band or Jazz Band provided basketball fans with the enjoyment of music during home basketball games and also aided the Drill Team in their performances.

Choirs

The Chamber and A Cappella Choirs performed at many different places throughout the school year.

Singing at the Hyatt Regency, Granda Royale, Crown Center, junior high schools, the Renaissance Festival, local restaurants, Solo-Ensemble contest, spring concert and Bacalaureate kept the Chamber Singers working hard to perfect their songs.

Schlagle High School's A Cappella Choir devoted a lot of time to special songs that they sang at the spring concert, Country Club Plaza, Christmas concert, Fall Festival and fall concert.

Seventeen students represented SHS in the District I Choir. Cheryl Dagenhart, Carla Harris, Angie Howerton, Lynda Wilson and Lisa Jaermko are the sopranos. Altos were Sandy Johnson, Alice Kim, Gillian O'Rielly and Carla Williams. Kevin Garcia, Ricky Rumford and Dennis Upton can be heard singing as the tenors. The bases included John Cheek, David Harris, Jerald Thomas, Clayton Wells and Jon Yingst. "I think making District I Choir is a good experience. I was so happy when I found out I made it," Senior Lynda Wilson said.

Jon Yingst, junior, was the only student at SHS who made State Choir. Mary Ann Roberson, choir director, said, "We are very proud of Jon. Because of his diligent work, Jon is very deserving of such an honor. Jon is a talented person who works hard to further develop his abilities."

"I really was surprised when I found out I made it," Jon Yingst said.

SHS's Chamber singers have the formal look this year. "The formal attire presents a sophisticated and dignified appearance. The Chamber Singers do a lot of performing throughout the metroplex. And, therefore, the image we present to the public is a reflection upon Schlagle as a whole," Miss Roberson said.

There are 41 students who auditioned for A Cappella. There are 14 in Chambers.

Wrestlerettes

A new look was given to the Wrestlerettes when they received new sweaters for the 1982-83 wrestling season.

The members of the Wrestlerette squad participated at all wrestling meets to provide Schlagle High School's wrestling team with a lot of support.

The girls who tried out for the squad had to meet certain criteria. Grades, teacher evaluations, cheers, a wrestling test and school attendance were all taken into consideration before choices were made.

Bannerline

The Schlagle High School Bannerline consisted of 11 girls this year. Traci Davis, senior, was president, and Kathy Lage, senior, was vice-president.

The SHS Bannerline performed at all varsity football and basketball games. They sold spirit ribbons on game days to raise money for uniforms and for Pep Club. They also painted the posters which were hung all around the school to give the students spirit and pride in their teams.

Mary Cheek, junior, said, "I enjoyed being on Bannerline this year. It was a lot of fun and I plan to be on it next year."

"It was really fun being on Bannerline. I met a lot of people and made many friends," she said.

Bannerline members participated in setting the mood that everyone was feeling at the Homecoming dance. These members were responsible for all the decorations to develop the sense of being "Somewhere Over The Rainbow." The Bannerline also constructed a beautiful rainbow float for the queens to enjoy.

Drill team

The Schlagle High School Drill Team, the Stallionettes, provided halftime entertainment at home football and basketball games as well as performances during pep assemblies this year.

The girls attended the American Drill Team Camp at Avila College during the summer. Barbara Wood, sophomore, said, "Camp was a lot of fun and was a good experience for me."

The Drill Team has performed in five football games, two parades, one band festival, and at all the varsity basketball games. "I feel a sense of self-satisfaction when I am performing," Regina Hill, senior, said.

During the summer the SHS Drill Team had two car washes to help raise money for their new uniforms. "I really like the new uniforms for this year," said Mia Brown, senior.

Mrs. Payton, in her fourth year as Drill Team sponsor, said, "The girls are easy to work with. They have made a tremendous improvement over the past years."

Varsity Cheerleaders

This year's Varsity Cheerleading squad consists of both juniors and seniors. In past years, Schlagle High School only allowed seniors to be on the Varsity squad. Why was the change made this year?

"This year there were not enough seniors to make Varsity squad. So in order to have six on the squad, we had to add juniors. That was the only way we could do it," said Mrs. Connie Harms, cheerleading sponsor and physical education instructor.

All cheerleading squads went to Baker University in Baldwin, KS., from June 19-22. Varsity squad members brought back two red excellent ribbons and two blue superior ribbons. They also received a spirit stick as a squad the day before they left the camp. As a combination of all the cheerleading squads, SHS received a spirit stick to bring back to the school.

This year the squads selected captains. Holmes was chosen as the Varsity squad's captain.

"This is very unusual for a junior to be captain of Varsity, mainly because there haven't been juniors on Varsity squad in the past years. We plan to be the rowdiest ever here at SHS, past or present," said Carmeletta Hayworth, senior.

JV, Frosh/Soph Cheerleaders

Again this year there are two underclass cheerleading squads under the Varsity: Junior Varsity which consists of both juniors and sophomores and Freshman/Sophomore squad which consists of freshmen and sophomores.

Junior Varsity, under the leadership of Captain Desiree Pawloski, junior, cheers at JV football and basketball games, required volleyball games and cross-country meets. They are also always required to go to all Varsity football and basketball events.

The Freshman/Sophomore squad whose captain is Diana Thompson, sophomore, has the most intricate schedule. Not only do they have to cheer at Varsity events, but also at freshman and sophomore games, required volleyball games and cross-country meets.

Pep Club

This year at Schlagle High School there are over 200 students active in Pep Club.

Pep Club sponsors many activities throughout the year.

Raising money is done by selling ribbons for all Varsity games during the football and basketball seasons. Candy was also sold again this year.

Mrs. Jean Petz, sponsor, used a method of distributing point cards to each member. For each game students attend, they receive points which are marked on these cards by administrators. Each game is worth 10 points.

During football season Pep Club sponsors a Banana Split Party. To attend, students must have accumulated 60 points. Also, a pizza party is held during basketball season.

Booster Club

Parents of Schlagle High School students combined 10 years ago to form an SHS Booster Club.

Booster Club is an organization put together by interested parents. Sixty-five parents raise money for sports programs. A chili supper, car washes, ball game raffles and Stallion Fashions are some of the activities Booster Club presented to raise money.

Ron Evenson, president, said "Booster Club was organized to create enthusiasm and support for Schlagle High School students in all activities."

Ron Evenson, Larry Dorsey, vice-president, Mernie Dorsey, secretary, were the officers for Booster Club. New officers were elected in January.

Drama Thespians

Drama Club sponsored many money-making projects. One of these projects was the selling of calendars. Again this year the Drama Club members dressed as unusual characters and delivered Dramagrams. While active as these characters, they performed their messages to students who received these gifts. Dramagrams were sold in the cafeteria for $1.

Drama Club went to Waldo Astoria in November. There they watched the actors perform "Charlies Aunt."

Thespians are a select group of students who help with the lights, make-up and costumes for the plays held at SHS. Thespians attended a Thespian conference in November.

Debate Forensics

Arguing between friends, enemies, families and teammates happens every day. But there was only one group who argued and competed academically on a regular basis. This group was the debaters.

Debaters spent many long hours in the library researching their topic and preparing themselves for debates that were held nearly every weekend.

Forensics was the second half of debate in which students made individual speeches.

Language Clubs

Schlagle High School's Language Clubs consist of French, Spanish and Latin. These clubs engage in many activities that involve their language's cultures.

Although the clubs are individual, they do unite with one another to relish each other's distinctive foreign tongue.

The Foreign Language Clubs combined to interact in a picnic that was held at Wyandotte County Lake on Oct. 8.

Chi Phan, junior, said, "I had a lot of fun. We played football and ate hamburgers. We also had some Spanish jelly rolls. They were delicious," she said.

Those who attended were among some 40 to 50 other students.

The Foreign Language Clubs also held a Christmas party in which all the Language Clubs participated.

Guest Speakers are a very important element in teaching foreign languages. The speaker delivers a speech in the foreign tongue giving the club members a chance to accumulate more foreign speaking talents.

Photography Club

Mrs. Judith Philgreen, sponsor, said, "The goal for the Photography Club is to give experience in photography and to increase knowledge. Knowing what you are doing is very important to becoming a fine photographer."

Students from Photography Club also work on photo pieces for Scholastic contests. A lot of contrast, special effects and feeling go into these students' selections for the Scholastic show, Mrs. Philgreen said. Certificates and gold keys on a pin are the rewards given to students who have a good quality photograph.

Cotton Harris, senior, said, "I joined Photography Club because photography is my hobby. Photography Club has the experience necessary to carry on with my hobby. I would like to continue my photography hobby through the future," he added.

Home economics

Home Economics Club consists of students who are enrolled in Foods, Clothing, Child Care and Development, and Engagement and Marriage classes. Teachers for these classes are Mrs. Val Lester, Mrs. Debbie Payton and Miss Julie Yancey.

These classes help students prepare for their future plans. "As teenagers you need to learn about the responsibility of being a mother or father and have a knowledge of how to cook and sew," Stephanie Samuels, junior, said.

Mrs. Payton teaches the clothing classes. Her students have projects to sew dresses, pants, skirts and other articles. She also teaches a Needlecraft class where the students learn how to crochet, do latchhook and knit.

Mrs. Lester is the teacher for the foods classes. These classes had a tea party for parents and faculty members Dec. 21.

New at SHS is Miss Yancey. She is the Child Care and Development and Engagement and Marriage teacher. Her students are taught about pregnancy, the care of a child, and about dating and marriage.

Art Club

There are many talented students in the Art Department at Schlagle High School. Most of these talented pupils are active in Art Club.

A new idea at SHS this year is the receipt of fine arts letters for a job well done. Art Club members receive letters for achievements in the club.

Mrs. Judith Philgreen, sponsor, said, "Art Club students received letters by performing art-related projects. These projects included setting up displays, coming to meetings and drawing posters for various activities.

"The members went on field trips and also honored speakers who came and discussed the various new types of artwork and new forms of doing this work," Mrs. Philgreen said.

To acquire money for Art Club and to encourage spirit at SHS, the club sold Stallion pins made by the members.

Prince Charles marries Lady Diana Spencer in royal ceremony

As Schlagle High School celebrates its 10th birthday, recollections of the past 10 year abound for its students.

America celebrated its 200th birthday in 1976. People all over the United States participated in the anniversary with parades, picnics and reenactments of the Revolutionary War.

President Jimmy Carter was elected in 1976. Carter gave up his peanut farm in Georgia to become President of the United States.

President Ronald Reagan defeated Carter in his bid for reelection in 1980. Reagan took office promising tax cuts, a decline in interest rates and a low unemployment rate.

At 11 a.m. July 29, 1981 Lady Diana Spencer married England's Prince Charles in a royal ceremony. The wedding was held at St. Paul's cathedral in England.

About a year after Lady Diana and Prince Charles were married they were blessed with a child. The proud parents named their baby boy William Arthur Phillip Louis of Wales. He is in line to inherit the throne.

Kansas City, KS. district schools were changed this year. The junior high schools became middle schools serving 6th, 7th and 8th graders. The high schools in the district now offer courses to freshmen as well as sophomores, juniors and seniors.

The new law passed for everyone is the drinking while driving law. Anyone caught drinking while driving or who has been drinking before driving will receive an indefinite license suspension and may also spend a few nights in jail. Being 21 will not save anyone from this law.

Watergate shocks America

Many dreadful things have happened over the last 10 years.

The awful shock of Watergate in 1972 was the first in line to start the misfortunes. Becoming the first President in history to do so, President Richard Nixon resigned as a result of investigations into the coverup of the Watergate break-in. His vice-president, Gerald Ford, replaced him as President.

Iranian students held 50 people hostage at the American embassy in Iran from 1979-80. The long wait for the return of these hostages will long be remembered.

The theory every 10 years a president is assassinated was almost proved true in 1981. President Ronald Reagan was injured by a bullet shot from the gun of attempted-assasin John Hinkley.

On July 17, 1981 a catastrophe stunned America. The Hyatt Regency Hotel in Kansas City, MO. was open to the public for a tea dance. A little after 7 p.m. a walkway fell 60 feet from its anchoring. The disaster killed approximately 110 people and injured countless more.

Tylenol was taken off the shelves after seven people died from cyanide poisoning this year. Tamperproof packaging of most medications is the result of the "new" crime.

Professional baseball players went on strike in the summer of 1981 leaving many fans upset.

Baseball players were not alone, however. In 1982, the NFL football players also went on strike.

Princess Grace of Monaco died in 1981 at age 52. Other deaths this decade included: Elvis Presley, John Wayne, Henry Fonda, John Lennon, John Belushi and Natalie Wood.

Honors

Thirty-two seniors at Schlagle High School were recognized as Kansas Honors. These students were chosen by being one of the top 10 per cent of the senior class.

Six SHS boys attended Boys State, sponsored by the American Legion, at the University of Kansas, May 30 through June 5. Each learned about the different government offices and the jobs these offices perform.

The boys were divided into groups of 15 and each group then became a city. Each city was then combined to form a county which consisted of four cities. Eight to ten counties were then united to set up a state.

Each city, county and state elected officers. The officers spoke with their group to set up laws. In each city the laws had to be obeyed. Each city, county and state was named after past American Legion presidents.

The boys stayed in the dormitories of KU with the hallways of the dormitories representing the streets of the cities, counties and states.

BOYS STATE Tom Ward, Alan Grey, LeBrent Crawford, Ed Dunn, Paul Koehler, seniors.

Cross-Country

Many new changes were faced by students at Schlagle High School when the freshman class was added. These changes occurred not only in the classes but also in the sports-oriented world, as the 1982-83 Cross-Country team learned.

There were several freshmen who went out for the team and they all seemed to be enthusiastic about it. "They all have the ability to be really good once they gain some experience," Head Cross Country and Track Coach Steve Gering remarked about the freshmen.

Mr. Gering is happy with the addition of the freshmen because he feels the extra year with them will give them a better understanding of what is expected of them.

While those returning from last year feel the freshmen can be stubborn, they also feel they will improve next year because they will have one more year of experience behind them.

When asked about Coach Gering, most students replied he is a good coach with a terrific ability to maneuver the runners into their best form.

The Cross Country team competed at Turner Oct. 14, receiving second place. The Stallions faced four other schools including Gardner, Olathe North, Olathe South and Turner.

Those receiving medals for their times were Jeffrey Dean, junior, first place; Ed Dunn, senior, eighth place; and Darryl McCoy, junior, tenth place.

When asked about his first place medal Jeffrey Dean, junior, said, "I feel good about my win. Mr. Gering's tough practices got me in shape for the win."

Wrestling

The 10th annual Schlagle High School Invitational Wrestling Tournament was held on Jan. 8, 1983. Competing against eight schools, SHS took sixth place.

David Watson, junior, placed second in the 119-pound division but felt he could have done better if he had wrestled harder. Watson said he has problems keeping his weight down but he runs to keep in condition.

Timothy Holloway, junior, placed fourth in the 126-pound division saying that he could have done better if he had concentrated more.

Holloway, a 126-pounder, also has trouble keeping his weight in control but his running and exercise schedule has helped.

Varsity football

The 1982 Schlagle High School Stallion football season, while not achieving great studies in the win column, made tremendous progress, said Head Coach Randy Westfahl.

"We played a much improved brand of football in 1982. We were in every ball game and could have won five or six. The major thing we have going for us now is the fact that we played so many kids and starters," Coach Westfahl said.

"The major reason so many new kids played was the effort they put into the off-season weight program," he said. "I felt the coaching staff was simply tremendous this year and will be even better in a year. They gave a great many hours to this team and it did not go unappreciated by myself or the players."

J.V. Football

Over the past few years Schlagle High School's football teams have not seen many victories. This year was a little different. Although SHS didn't win many of their games they fought hard and didn't just "give" their opponents the games.

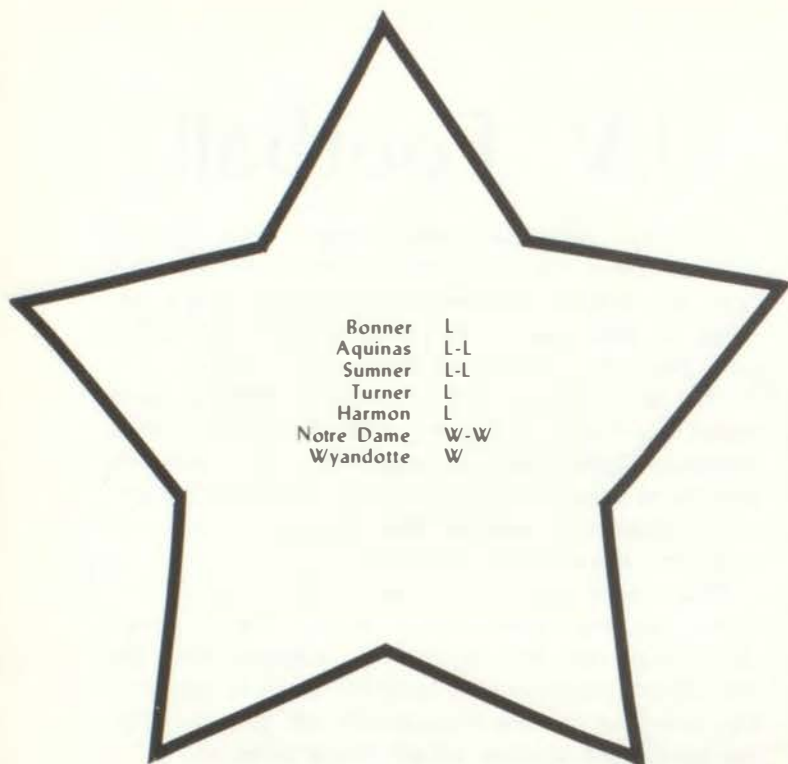

"The boys learned that in order to win you must make sacrifices and play with discipline," said freshman Coach Steve Szczygiel. Mr. Szczygiel felt the teams improved tremendously and played much better than the coaches had thought they would after the first practice and game.

There were two factors which the coaches felt were lacking and which made the biggest difference. The lack of speed, combined with the size of the boys made it hard for them to succeed. Mr. Szczygiel felt the boys should get involved with the spring and summer weight-lifting program.

Improvements, changes and team unity were the goals for the 1982-83 Varsity Volleyball squad which competed several times this year at different locations.

The varsity squad was competitive at all their meets even though the scores didn't show it. "They worked together and we were competitive against every team they played," second-year Coach Connie Harms said.

"Our overall record does not indicate the individual as well as the team improvements which were made this year," Mrs. Harms said.

JV Volleyball

The arrival of the freshmen affected just about everything at Schlagle High School as the 1982-83 JV and Sophomore Volleyball squads learned.

Mr. Larry Englebrick, assistant coach, said, "I am pleased with the performance of the girls and I feel they really improved a great deal.

Varsity Basketball

In his fourth year as a coach at Schlagle High School, Mr. Chuck Minor feels the varsity team has a better advantage playing a home game "not because of a familiarity with the court. Our advantage is our crowd," he said.

Coach Minor emphasized playing as a team instead of playing as an individual and felt there was improvement in this area.

The assistant coaches, Mr. Steve Szczygiel and Mr. Keith Andrews attend every varsity practice for more than two hours and then coach at their own practices. Mr. Minor felt Mr. Steve Lysaught handled the varsity defense and junior varsity team well. "These assistant coaches deserve to be recognized for their work and achievements," Mr. Minor said.

Varsity Girls

Standing out in the 1982-83 season is the Varsity Girls' Basketball team. It ranks high in the eyes of second-year Assistant Coach Mr. Herb Marble.

"This team has already set many records in the school for girls' basketball. It has the chance to set some records that may take another 10 years of the school's history to match," Mr. Marble said.

"There were some greater demands on the girls to improve in maturity and character, as well as gaining more confidence," he said.

Mr. Marble felt the girls usually gave 100 percent at practices and games and even went beyond that point.

"There are times when they give 110 percent and it's at those times that I wish we could bottle it and save it or savor it forever," he said.

Mr. Marble and Mr. Leon Cowan worked together in the coaching roles. Although they did differ at times, they usually reached a compromise to "discover what is best for our girls," Mr. Marble said.

Boys' Basketball

Schlagle High School's student body, parents and faculty members were given an extra show of skills as the 1982-83 JV, Freshman and Sophomore Boys' Basketball Teams displayed this season.

There was a great amount of pressure on the boys to be the best and they did just that, according to JV Coach Steve Lysaught, Sophomore Coach Steve Szczygiel and Freshman Coach Keith Andrews. The boys matured greatly from the long forgotten junior high school days and gave SHS supporters their all, they said.

Coach Szczygiel was very pleased with the skill, determination, maturity and effort given by all the boys on both the Freshman and Sophomore teams.

He and Coach Andrews attended all the Varsity practices for at least two hours and then coached at their own practices.

"Mr. Lysaught handled the Varsity defense and the JV team very well," said Varsity Coach Chuck Minor.

JV/Freshmen Basketball

The 1982-83 Girls' Basketball teams are "by far the most balanced of all the teams Schlagle High School has had," said JV Coach Herb Marble.

"Having beaten or tied every record in the 10-year history of the school they know what it takes to be the best," he said.

Mr. Marble and Varsity Coach Leon Cowan felt student participation could have been a lot better during the season, however. "We played (Bishop) Meige, rated number one in the state 5A. We are now rated number two in the state 6A. And it would surprise me if we had 20 to 30 students at the game," Coach Marble said.

Height is a problem for all the girls' teams, the coaches said. But the girls make up for it in speed and determination. "Each player knows their capabilities and they work together very well," Coach Marble said.

Track

With the addition of the freshman class and a new head track coach, Schlagle High School's Track Team faces a number of changes. Mr. Steve Gering, track and cross-country coach, took over Mr. Bruce Nicholson's job as track coach. Mr. Nicholson left SHS to take over his father's farm in Wichita, KS.

Those freshmen on the track team "are excited about the season," Mr. Gering said. Mr. Gering is happy about the addition of freshmen because it gives him a better advantage in getting the students started off right.

Mr. Gering said the track team is improving over last year and feels they can and will be "as good if not better."

SHS's boys' track team took first in the 440-relay in league meets at Wyandotte High School in 1982. Those boys who ran in the 440, finishing with a time of 43.7 were Rodney McLemore, Matt Percifield, both 1982 graduates; Randal Davis, senior; and Rodney Peghee, junior.

The girls' track team also showed its greatest effort as they ran the 440 in 52.0. Runners of the 440 were Vanessa Brown, Valerie Donald, and Macie Mock all seniors; and Kim Wilson, junior.

Baseball

The Schlagle High School baseball team started the season March 23 with eight returning lettermen.

Beginning a reign as head coach in the '83 season is Mr. Steve Lysaught. Mr. Lysaught said, "I feel this baseball season has the potential to be one of the best in recent years at SHS."

"I enjoy coaching baseball very much for two specific reasons; for the enjoyment of having the contact with the players and baseball's tradition of being the number one sport in America."

Mr. Lysaught has been a resident of the Kansas City, KS. community all his life. "Schlagle's baseball program will change with the addition of the freshmen class," he said.

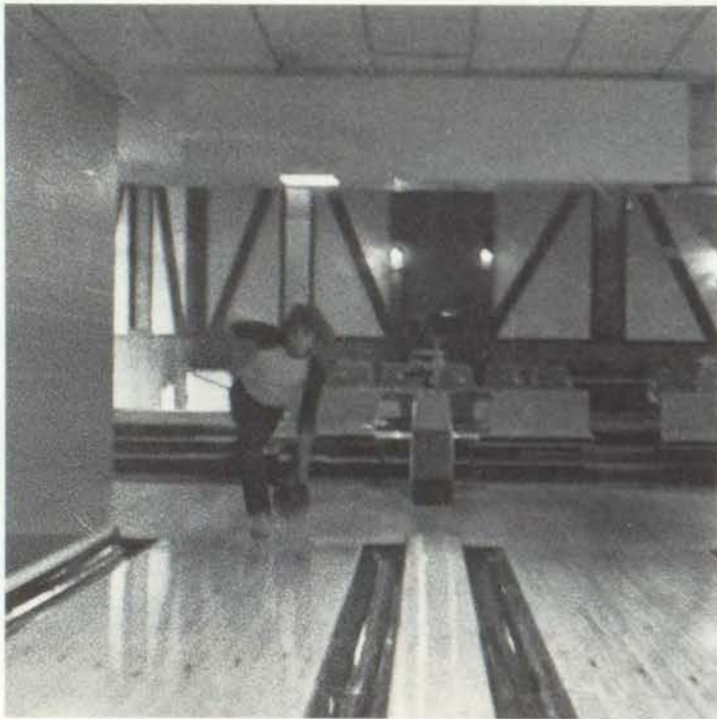

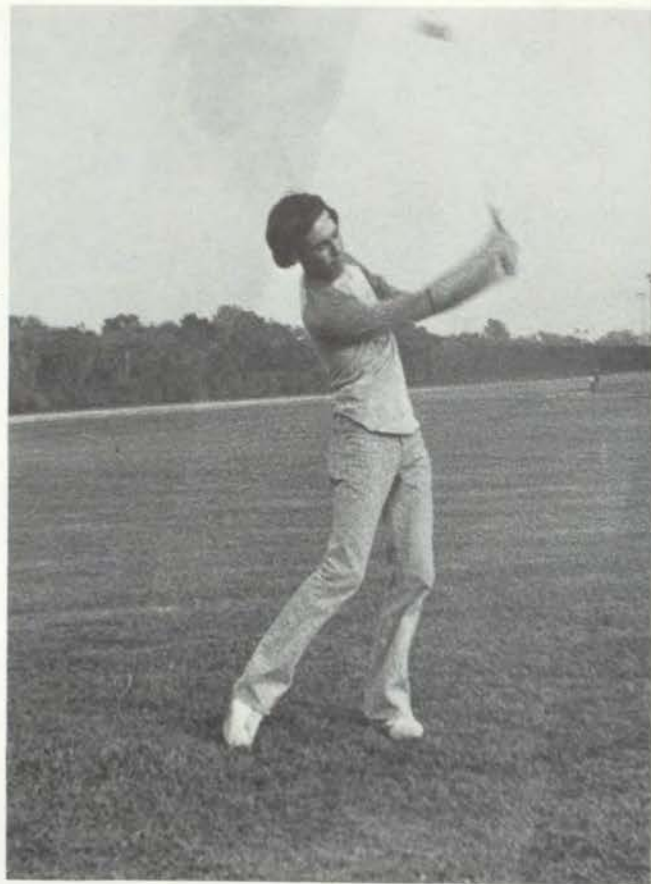

"It is my hope that the JV baseball team will consist mostly of sophomores and freshmen. This will give the coaching staff an early chance at fundamental baseball.

"This year should be proven as a successful season," Mr. Lysaught added.

Non-school sports

Many students at Schlagle High School are not involved in school-supported sports but are involved in sports that are suited for their special abilities. Most of these students are unknown to the school-supported sports world but once in their own environment they are well known.

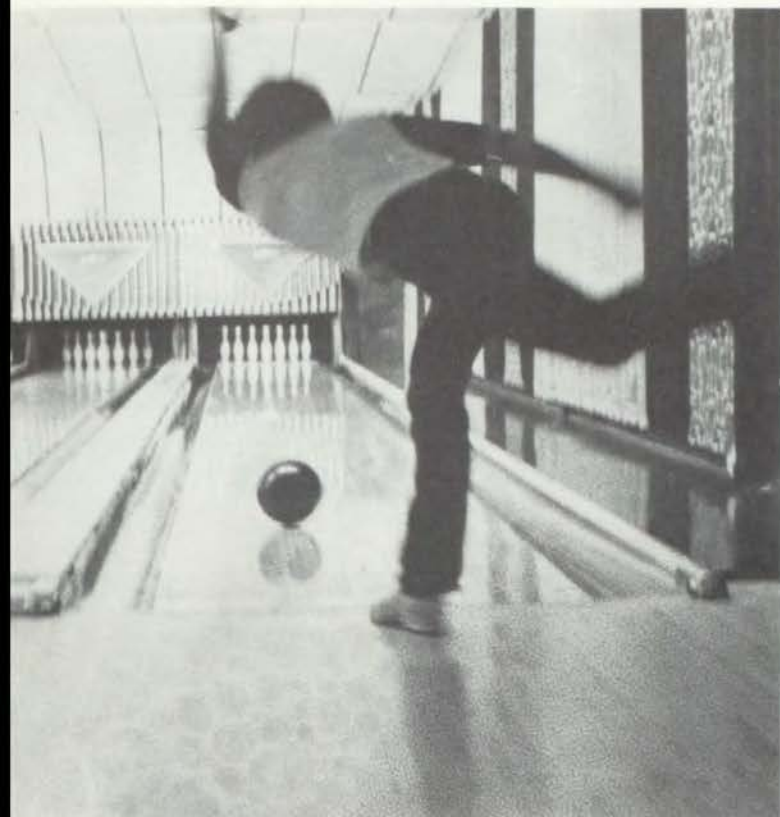

Take for example Mike Hopper, senior. At age 17 Hopper is well on his way to becoming a professional bowler. Hopper has bowled since he was eight years old and has already achieved the goal of every bowler: to roll a 300 game. In fact, Hopper has two 300 games to his credit and has two 800 series.

Another talented individual is Junior Mike Krause. Krause races his Suzuki 125 motorcycle in a motorcross every weekend. His parents go to every race to cheer him on, he said.

Krause got started in racing about a year and a half ago. Krause's best finish was first place at Chanute, KS. He also has several third places to his credit in Agency, MO. and a third at Lake City KS. Krause says he keeps a fitting form by practicing twice a week.

State

Winning second place in the State of Kansas, Schlagle High School's Varsity Girls' Basketball team put on a spectacular performance. SHS fans also brought home the sportsmanship award for their fine work at State.

In the first game against Topeka Seaman the scoring was tight. Finally in the last second of the game Valarie Donald, senior, made a shot that no one will soon forget: a seven-foot jumper that swished at the buzzer. "I could see the tension in the girls' when just a few seconds were left," Head Coach Leon Cowan said. "We've been working on this play for the last two weeks and it worked. It didn't matter who got the ball, I had confidence in all of them," he said.

The second game, against Topeka High, was just as exciting as the first, although the Stallions led most of the way.

In the final game against Shawnee Mission East the Stallions were defeated by a score of 73-33.

"We were disappointed at the way we were treated while down there, and then none of the girls' hearts were in the game," Coach Cowan said.

"It was an honor to coach these girls. It is a rare occasion when one gets the chance to coach girls who not only perform well physically but also academically," Coach Cowan said.

In other State Competition, Junior Tim Holloway represented SHS in wrestling.

Holloway, a 126-pound wrestler, competed in an eight-man bracket and placed fifth.

"I think I could have done a lot better if I had kept my mind on my match instead of what the others were doing," Holloway said.

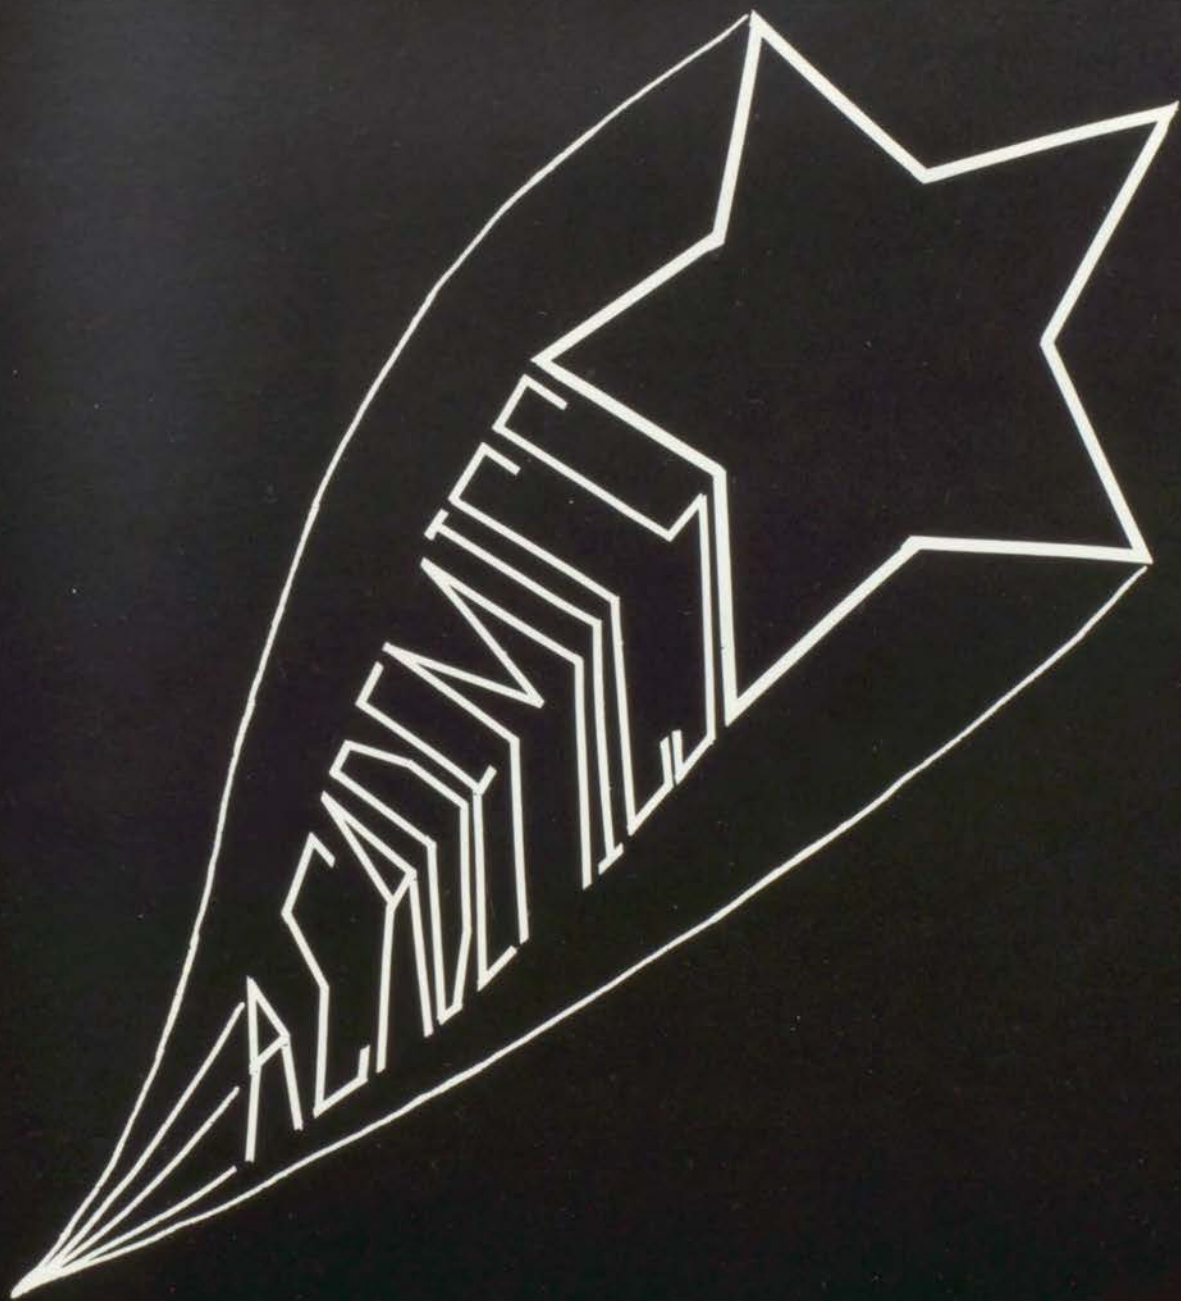

Holloway did a lot of extra wrestling with team members from SHS and worked out a little more often than he normally did to get ready for state competition.

"You learn a lot when you wrestle at State. You don't come up against these guys who make a lot of mistakes. You have to know what you're doing," Holloway said.

Mr. Palmer

Some men are referred to as men of many words, but the principal of Schlagle High School, Mr. Paul E. Palmer, better known to the student body as "PEP," could be described better as a man of many quotes. "I try to motivate students and promote them to think for themselves," Mr. Palmer said.

Over the years Mr. Palmer has accumulated a large collection of slogans, quotes and philosophical ideas. "You teach what you are before you teach what you know" is a favorite quote of Mr. Palmer.

"So many students are affected by their teachers instead of what they are taught. So it is important for us to make a positive impression on them," he said.

Miss Neill

"My goals are to finalize the Fine Arts letter and to get the program started," said Miss Susan Neill, assistant principal. The Fine Arts program is for journalism, debate and art students. "It is a letter given to those students who go to state and place in those three categories," she said.

Miss Neill was the first cheerleading sponsor at SHS. "I wanted to improve the student activities," she said. "The past 10 years I've really enjoyed working with the student activities."

Mr. Boone

With the increased enrollment, the responsibilities of Assistant Principal William Boone have greatly expanded.

"The record keeping has almost doubled as far as keeping a count on the books," Mr. Boone said. Finding enough lockers for an extra class also caused problems.

"The cafeteria responsibility has also increased because the lunch periods are overcrowded," he said. Other complications to his job include attending freshmen games and activities, Mr. Boone said.

Mr. Ogburn

If you were to walk into the main office and notice an extra person standing behind the desk you might ask someone who that person is. It's the new vice-principal at Schlagle High School, Mr. Billy Ogburn.

Mr. Ogburn was an assistant vice-principal at Arrowhead Junior High before he came to SHS.

What he likes most about the students are that "They are concerned about studies and enthused about the athletic program."

Nurse

Confusion was prevalent in the Schagle High School nurse's office this year. The new state requirement of immunization records for all students was the cause of this confusion. "It took about a week," said Mrs. Leatrice Patton, school nurse. The immunizations had to be done or in progress by Oct. 1. Those students who did not meet the requirements were suspended from school.

SHS Principal Paul Palmer said, "About 300 students need to get immunizations." State law required all students to have immunizations.

"There was no epidemic going around but we were bringing in students from different places and we were just protecting the other students," said Miss Susan Neill, assistant principal.

Mr. Palmer distributed immunization record forms on Sept. 20 as a reminder to students who hadn't gotten their immunizations.

"I think it's a good idea because it saves a lot of people from getting sick," said Lisa Walton, senior.

Secretaries

Being a secretary is not what Schlagle High School's new Treasurer Mrs. Karen Schmidt always wanted to be. "I wanted to go into journalism or be a librarian," she said.

Although she doesn't get outside of the office much, Mrs. Schmidt said that she enjoys SHS. "Everyone is friendly and helpful," she said.

Mrs. Schmidt's goal in her first year at SHS was to become more organized.

Librarians

In the fall and spring of every school year Librarians Mrs. Beverly Farr and Mrs. Geraldine Strader purchase new paperback books for the Schlagle High School library. The money collected from fines from overdue books is used to support this project.

The selection of books is based upon ideas from popular magazines and suggestions from teachers and students. Then the books are scanned and approved by the librarians.

"The kids love it," Strader said. "They prefer the popular reading books because they are able to relate better to the modern stories rather than the older ones. It also promotes the students to read for themselves," she added.

Mr. Flint

After teaching health and physical education for seven years, Mr. Jack Flint, counselor, decided to go into counseling. His reason: "I enjoyed the informal discussions that I had with my students in class," he said.

The one thing Mr. Flint enjoys most about his job is the students. "What I like least is having to get up early in the mornings," he said.

Mr. Flint's goal for the year was to help make SHS the best school in the area and give the students the best education available.

Mrs. Hutton

Mrs. Jean Hutton, counselor at Schlagle High School, can be described in just one word: ENERGETIC! Mrs. Hutton was the first staff member to be selected for SHS.

Mrs. Hutton is involved in different activities during the year such as aerobics, tennis and attending Kansas University basketball games.

Mrs. Hutton received her training from the University of Missouri at Kansas City, Kansas University, Kansas State University and Emporia State University.

"My goal in the 1982-83 school year is to know all 486 names of my students," Mrs. Hutton said.

Mrs. Vandiver

This year marked the 10th year of service at Schlagle High School for Mrs. Josephine Vandiver, guidance counselor.

Before counseling, Mrs. Vandiver taught at various schools, educating students from level three on up.

In 1973 Mrs. Vandiver was chosen for the staff here at SHS. In 1982 she was awarded Counselor of the Year by the Kansas Personnel and Guidance Association. Mrs. Vandiver plans to stay in counseling until she is ready for retirement.

"When I stop counseling I'm going home to sit," Mrs. Vandiver said.

English

A popular question that many Schlagle High School students ask is "Why do we have to take English?"

"English is a subject which enables one to communicate more effectively. English is a constantly changing subject. These factors alone make English a subject that should be studied and reviewed continuously," Mrs. Marcia Cooper said.

"It is very necessary because it is America's native language. Writing is a necessity because communication used properly and efficiently will secure a better paying position," Mrs. Sue Young said.

"It is necessary to communicate intelligently. In English one is taught to improve thinking, speaking, listening and observing all of these skills sufficiently learned enhances a person's intelligence," Mrs. Melba Hall said.

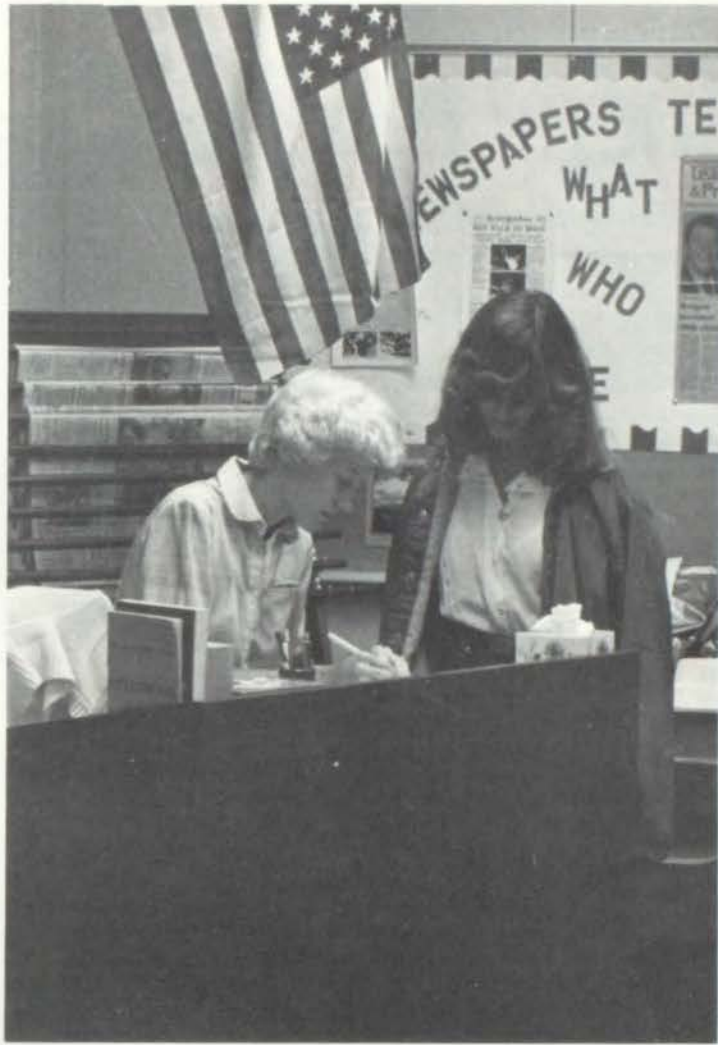

"In today's life interchanges, the communication elements are the significant bonding factors. If we are to hope for a world filled with peace and promise our lives must reflect those truths. The language can enable us to speak the truth, to speak beauty, or language can alert us to the need for truth and beauty," Mr. Jack McClure said.

English may be our country's national language, and the study of it will bring a variety of benefits.

Student Pet Peeves

Teasing, embarrassing, lecturing all hour and giving too much homework are all teachers' actions which Schlagle High School students dislike.

"They single you out and make you the center of attention," said Yvette Folkins, senior. Jody Smith, junior, dislikes teachers' teasing and embarrassing students in front of the entire class.

Charlie Harris, senior, and Darren Hawk, junior, both agree that some teachers talk too much. "The teachers tell you to be quiet and do your assignment then they talk all hour while you are working so you can't concentrate," Hawk said.

Not answering your questions is a dislike of Kim Humpert, freshman. "Some teachers just sit behind their desk and never answer your questions," said Humpert.

Another major dislike is too much homework. "It seems like every night I have a lot of homework," said Lori Lynch, sophomore.

Teacher Pet Peeves

Almost everyone has at least one pet peeve: an irritating habit or action of other people that can send one's nerves and temper into a raging frenzy.

So why should teachers be any different? After facing several classes of students a day, a teacher is entitled to a few pet peeves of their own.

The one that seems to be the most common dislike is student apathy or the "I can't" attitude. "I believe there is a lack of participation not only in sports but in all school activities," Mr. Murphy, history teacher, said.

Forgetting supplies, sleeping in class, chewing gum and the ever irritating habit of talking in class, are other common pet peeves among the teachers at Schlagle High School.

"Many students forget their home training, a simple 'thank you,' 'pardon me,' 'excuse me,' etc.," Mrs. Strader, librarian, said.

History

"Believe it or not, it's something I've wanted to do since the 9th grade. Now I'm doing it," Mr. Charles Vincent, history instructor, said after being asked why he chose to become a teacher.

Mr. Steve Szczygiel, history instructor, said he has always enjoyed history and wanted to coach, so teaching was a natural area for him.

"If you weren't a teacher what would you like to be?" was another question that was asked of Schlagle High School's history instructors. "I would have become a lawyer. I find law very interesting," Mr. Steve Lysaught said.

Mr. Bob Murphy

Mr. Bob Murphy, history instructor, spends his summers working as a speaker and coach at basketball camps. Recently he was invited to work at William Jewell College.

"I guess it was my enthusiasm and obvious love for the game that convinced Coach Holley, head coach at William Jewell. I knew there was an opening on their staff and I also knew there were a number of strong candidates for the position. I do not know how it happened but I am sure excited that it did," Mr. Murphy said.

When asked what he liked least and best about William Jewell he replied, "This job gives me a chance to be head coach again and to work with a group of good solid players and strong students. The only thing I dislike is the recruiting."

"There are quite a few strong basketball programs in the metro area but sometimes the talent in high school isn't always the best. Consequently, we need to go out of state. But with the financial situation, sometimes the money isn't available," he said.

Mr. Gene Blair

A secret ambition became reality for Mr. Gene Blair, history instructor at Schlagle High School. On July 26, 1982 Mr. Blair was elected as the third district Libertarian Party's candidate for the United States Congress.

"In the last 10 years the Libertarian Party has become the fastest growing political party," Mr. Blair said. "I was very happy to be recognized and given equal media billing."

The Libertarians place emphasis on the rights of individuals and the limiting of the size of government. If elected Mr. Blair will be the first Libertarian elected to a political office.

"The other parties have to win. Our main goal is to gain support and be recognized as a major factor in the campaign. Just that much would be a victory for us," Mr. Blair said.

The general election was held on Nov. 2, 1982.

Mr. Gary Andersen

Sometime in the future you will notice a path leading from the Schlagle High School parking lot to the woods. This path will lead to the new Biology and Ecology lab.

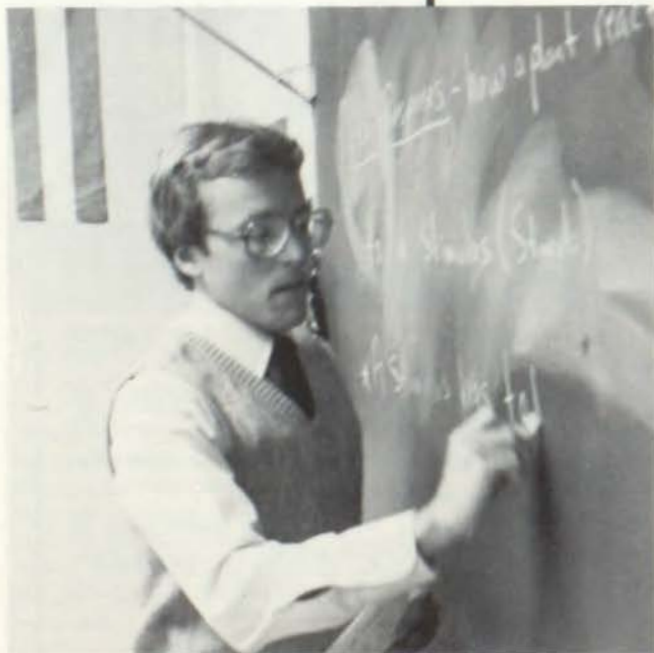

"Biology is the study of living things. What better place to educate young people about biology than outdoors where the living things exist and struggle to survive in their own environment," Mr. Gary Andersen said.

SHS is just the right place to have this lab because there are 10 or more acres behind the school consisting of streams, wooded slopes and clearings that can be used as a place to conduct investigations. "As far as I know, no one else has shown any interest in developing the land so I feel the "outdoor lab" concept would put the ground to good use," Mr. Andersen said.

"Schlagle is a unique school because it is the only school with easy access to nature woodlands, grassy areas and year-round streams. These areas are all close and belong to District 500 and can be reached from the school in a five minute walk," Mr. Andersen said.

Mr. Steve Gering

After being unsuccessful at playing football, Mr. Steve Gering, science instructor, decided to change sports. The sport he changed to was running.

Mr. Gering has been running for the past 11 years. During these 11 years he has participated in many road runs, which include: Macy's 10K, Hospital Hill, Twin Cities 10K, Galveston, Tx. Run and Louisville Smile Run.

Training for these races consists of eight to ten miles per day. "Most of the running is on roads, some is on the track, golf courses and in parks," Mr. Gering said.

What Mr. Gering enjoys most about running is competing and winning. "I don't run for fun. I run to compete," Mr. Gering said.

Last winter Mr. Gering trained for a number of indoor track meets that were held in January and February. Meets he planned to run in included: Oklahoma Open, Drake Relays, Missouri Open and Arkansas Relays.

Science

"The subject offers chances to deal with material that is not totally associated with textbooks," Mr. Chuck Minor, science instructor, said when asked why he became a science teacher. Other reasons Schlagle High School's science teachers gave for deciding to teach include: the lectures, labs and other activities that make it a pleasant and challenging experience.

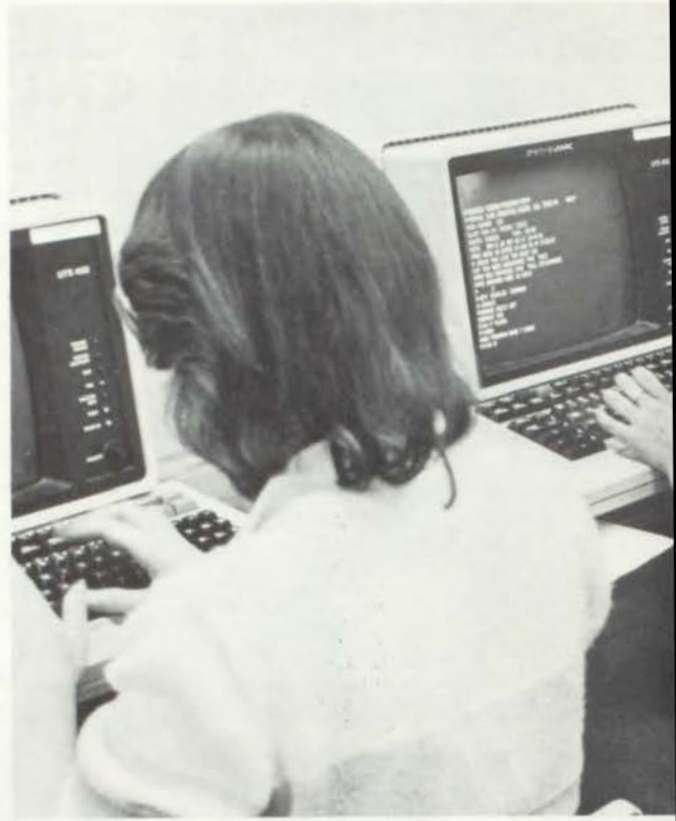

An appreciation of nature, the human body, and life itself are all things that some of SHS's science teachers hope their students learned in their classes this past year. "I would also like for the students to have learned how to work together effectively," Mr. Dennis King, science instructor, said.

Projects that were done in the science classes this year included: making a cell-like system and dissecting grasshoppers.

Mathematics

This year could have been described as the year of the computers at Schlagle High School. Their presence was very evident throughout the various departments at SHS.

In the Competency Math classes, six Radio Shack TRS-80's were added as another method of instruction for the juniors and seniors who have not passed the 35 math competencies.

Computers helped the students with programs that gave each step in the process of working the problems. "If the students will remember the steps, their chances of working the problems on their own is better," Mrs. Marion Tommer, mathematics teacher, said.

"One problem is the time it takes to load a program and help a student get started.

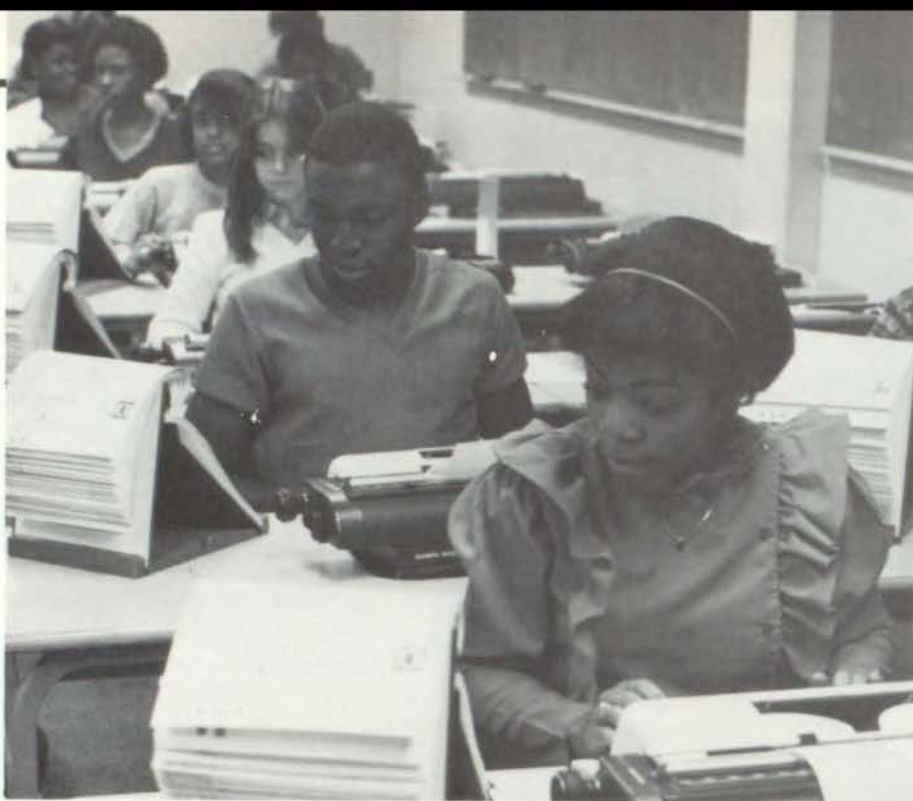

"But once it is loaded most students are able to work without assistance," she added.

The computers enabled students to learn on their own and made an advancement in the SHS teaching methods.

Business

There are a variety of business courses available for the career-minded students at Schlagle High School. This year's curriculum contained several courses designed to prepare students for office-related jobs upon graduation.

"There are very few classes on the secondary level, such as those in office skills, that can be used immediately after graduation," Mrs. Reminta King, business instructor, said.

The courses range from Basic Typing and Accounting to Business Law and Data Processing.

"Jobs in the business field can be used as a stepping stone towards a future career," Mrs. King said.

"These classes will be helpful for me when it comes time to apply for a job," Kathy Carey, senior, said.

Languages

There are several different ways of learning to speak a foreign language; listening to tapes, keeping a foreign exchange student in your home, living in a foreign country, studying the language and a lot of different dialogues.

The foreign languages have many different activities. Some of these are games, skits, field trips, cultural activities and speaking the language in class with friends.

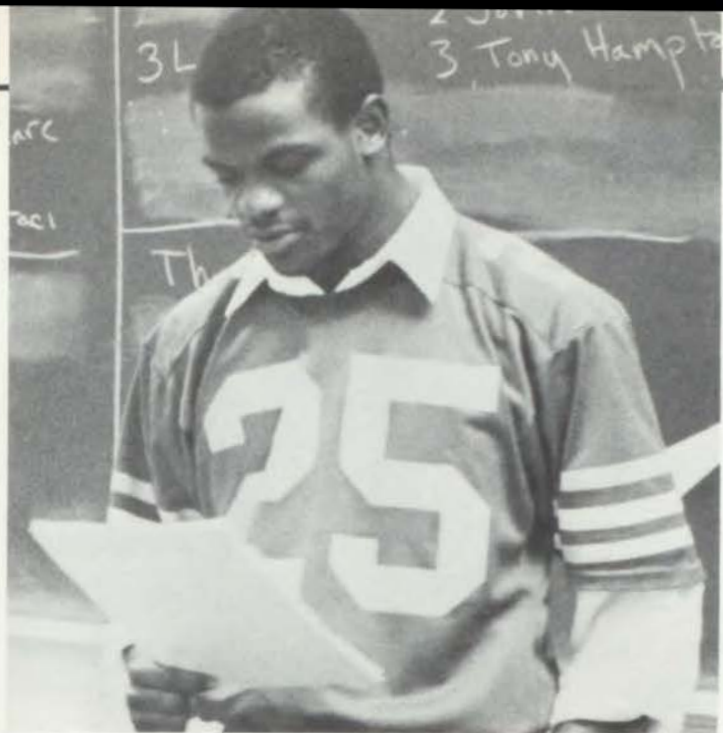

A dialogue is a good way of learning to speak a foreign language. "Dialogues help students learn speech patterns as well as giving some cultural information," said Mrs. Kathy Kirkpatrick, head of the Foreign Language Department and Spanish teacher.

Mrs. Carolyn Jones, French teacher, said, "It gives you a lot of practice in speaking to others."

Debate

More dedication and harder work brought about some positive changes in the Schlagle High School Debate Department this year.

"Our record has definitely improved from last year," Miss Marguerita Penick, Debate coach, said. "Two teams broke into the quarter-finals this year for the first time," she said.

On Dec. 10 and 11, 1982 SHS sponsored its first open Debate tournament under the direction of Miss Penick. The tournament consisted of five rounds with metals awarded to the quarterfinalists, semifinalists and finalists. Trophies were also presented to the debaters placing in the semifinals and finals.

"Debating is the kind of competition that you can't get on a basketball court," Chiquita McGowen, junior, said.

Drama

This year's most recent addition to the Schlagle High School Drama Department is new Director Blaine Stephens.

Mr. Stephens first joined the SHS staff in the fall of 1981 as an English teacher. As head of the Drama Department Mr. Stephens has many plans for the future of the department.

"I would like to make drama a prominent feature at SHS and make it as important as the athletic activities are," Mr. Stephens said.

In the Basic Acting classes students are introduced to several areas of the theater including its origin and the different fields of production as well as acting technics.

"I want the students to become more expressive and self confident in a performance situation and become more familiar with the professional theater," Mr. Stephens said.

Art

Jan. 7 to 8 entries were sent to Crown Center Shops, a hotel-shopping center in Kansas City, MO, for the Scholastic Awards Exhibition.

This is an exhibition where 53 area counties compete in 14 different art classifications. The exhibitions are judged and are given several different awards such as the "Gold Key," "Blue Ribbon" and "National Honors."

Seniors Fred Banks and Connie Beason won national honors in 1982.

"It inspired me to make another project to put in the scholastic awards exhibition in the 82-83 school year," said Beason.

Music

Participating in as many public performances as was possible was the goal for Schlagle High School's Music Department. "We presented four department-wide concerts during the year," said Miss Mary Ann Roberson, vocal music instructor.

In March a number of SHS students participated in the Regional Music Festival at Shawnee Mission West High School.

For this festival, students performed as soloists or in small ensembles. The students were then graded on their performances. Those who received a "1" grade then advanced to state competition in Emporia.

"It's really rewarding to see the months of work you've put into a solo or ensemble group pay off and it's interesting to see the different styles of music other bands and soloists pick," said Tom Ward, senior drum major for marching band.

Home Ec

Music, excitement and nervousness filled the Schlagle High School Home Economic's room Nov. 23.

What was the reason for all this? This was the day that Miss Julie Yancey's Engagement and Marriage class performed mock weddings.

The students who were married in the mock weddings were seniors Sondra Thompson, Ivan Hall, Pam Doyle and Mark Klamm.

"I was really nervous, but it was a great experience for me," Thompson said.

The main reason for the mock weddings was so the students could grasp the idea that weddings take a lot of time, preparation, money and creativity, Miss Yancey said. It also gave the students a chance to see how a wedding is really carried out.

WEDDING BELLS: Top: Ivan Hall and Sondra Thompson, seniors, prepare to devour the cake after their mock wedding. Above: Home Economics instructors: Mrs. Lester, Miss Yancey and Mrs. Payton. # Faculty Revue

As the house lights dimmed the sounds of the questioning voices were muffled. Appearing on stage was Master of Ceremonies Mr. Charles Vincent, history instructor, who announced the beginning of the Schlagle High School Faculty Revue. This project was a combined effort of the SHS faculty and National Forensic League members.

"We chose to name our production a revue which may be defined as a theatrical production consisting of brief, loosely connected, often satirical skits, songs and dances," Miss Marguerite Penick, debate instructor said.

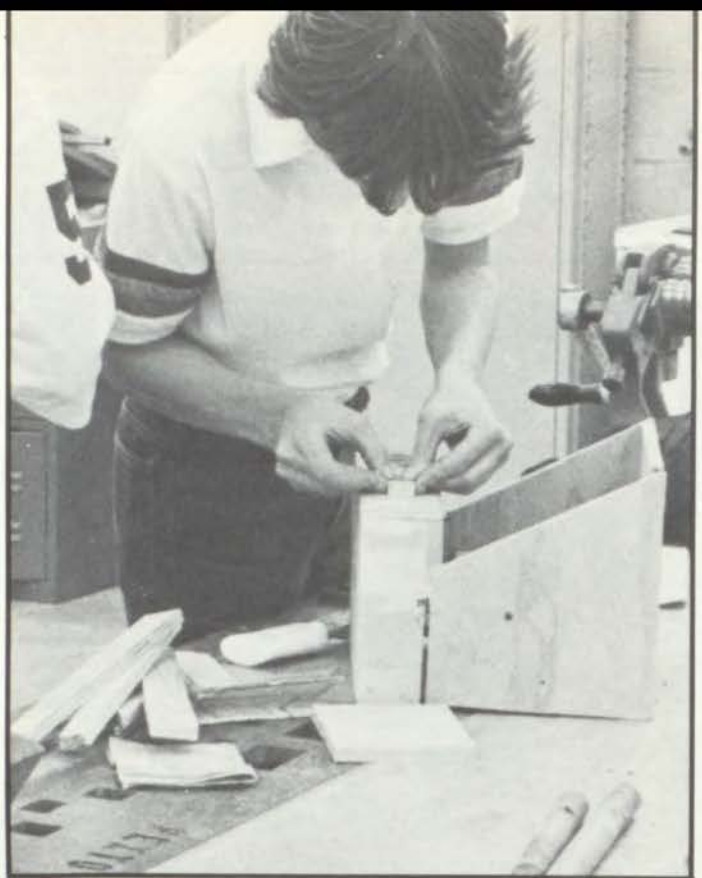

The talent included numbers of jazz and blues music, skits, aerobic dancing, the Supremes singing group and even Gladys Knight and the Pips.

"I thought it worked as a good way to pull faculty members together," Miss Penick said. "There will probably be another revue sometime in the future."

Shop

During the high school years many students enroll in classes that will help them in their futures. The Industrial Arts Department at Schlagle High School is a program designed to do that.

"The class helps me to prepare for my future by teaching me household repairs and small projects such as making tables and chairs," said Michael Wright, sophomore.

"Eventually I would like to become a mechanic and by taking auto mechanics in high school I learn things that will enable me to become a successful mechanic," said Ron Miller, senior.

In the Industrial Arts classes students learn a variety of skills from the use of a camera to how to rebuild an engine.

"In Auto Mechanics we learn to do minor repair jobs on cars and therefore it will save us money when something needs to be done to our own cars," said Charles Harris, senior.

Even though there are a lot of good points about the Industrial Arts program at SHS there are still things that need to be improved. Many students in the program feel new and advanced tools are needed.

If one were to walk past the Special Services room they might see a student working on a computer. It is the new Apple II Plus Computer with 48K memory.

"It was Don Lamb, director of the Special Education Cooperative, and Rosey Stoneking of the Wyandotte Cooperative who suggested the addition of the computers," said Miss Carolyn Elder, teacher of Special Services at Schlagle High School.

"The freshmen have accepted working with the computers. The materials can bring their skills up to competing levels with other classes," Miss Elder said.

"The computers help me learn better than a teacher would," said Inez Donell, freshman.

"Having an opportunity to work with computers will be beneficial for the students," said Mrs. Janice Wasserman, Special Services instructor.

P.E.

The popularity of rhythmic aerobics has increased in recent years. This year it was offered as a class to Schlagle High School students and was under the direction of Mrs. Connie Harms, physical education teacher. "I suggested a rhythmic aerobics class to my physical education classes last year and they seemed enthusiastic," Mrs. Harms said.

"I enjoy teaching aerobics because it is fun and invigorating. It has also helped to improve my coordination, flexibility, balance, and agility," she said.

The routines consist of a combination of various exercise and dance movements performed to popular music. The girls make up some of the routines themselves.

"I like taking aerobics because I enjoy dancing and it gives me a good workout before a volleyball game," Tatia Quick, junior, said.

C.P.R.

For the first time this year First Aid and C.P.R. were offered throughout the district in the physical education classes.

C.P.R. is the training of citizens to provide emergency care to victims of choking or heart attacks. "Its effectiveness has been the only reason for thousands of lives saved," Mr. Herb Marble, physical education instructor, said.

The school district purchased several Rescusi-Annes of adults and babies and five new Choking Charlies for teaching the Hymlicon Technique for helping victims of choking. "There have already been some rewards. Two students have come back and said they have saved the lives of two infants," Mr. Marble said.

"I wouldn't certify anyone that I wouldn't want helping me if I were in need of help," he added.

Junior Class Council

The Junior Council accomplished this task through various fund raising activities. One of their projects was selling key chains. Jody Smith, member, said, "I felt that the key chains sold very well and I hope that we have more fund raising projects that will do as well."

When asked how she felt about this year's Class Council, Carla Harris, member, said, "I feel that this year the Council is better than last year's. We had more participation from all the members, and received some great ideas."

Class Council

Sophomore students are offered a number of activities at Schlagle High School. One of these activities is the Sophomore Class Council.

Since this class council got off to a slow start, Mr. Andersen, council advisor, said one of the group's main objectives was just to survive. "We had planned to do some fund raisers, but lack of time made it impossible," said Mr. Andersen.

"One of the reasons I'm in class council is because I like to have an idea about what's going on and I want to be a part in making changes that affect the class," said Sophomore Rhonda Pawloski.

Mr. Andersen said the reason students want to be involved with groups like class council is to give them a chance to do something besides just to go to classes.

Sophomore spirit

Besides performing in parades and at football and basketball halftimes, Schlagle High School's Drill Team also helps to promote school spirit.

"I decided to try out for Drill Team because it looked like a lot of fun," said Sophomore Barbara Wood. "I found it was, but it was also hard work."

"When I march in a parade, it gives me a good feeling to know that I represent SHS," she said. "Drill Team is a good way to meet new people and it's a very exciting experience."

The Drill Team members attended summer camp to learn how to perform drills and routines and learned routines to such songs as "Pack Jam," "Heartattack" and "He's So Shy."

'David and Lisa'

When the curtain opened on the play "David and Lisa," Feb. 16 and 17 at Schlagle High School, two sophomores made their acting debuts.

They were Melissa Smith and John Martindale. John Martindale, who played the role of Ben, said acting in a dramatic play offered him a lot of experience. "It was my first play, and I was very excited and nervous," he said. Smith portrayed Sandra in the play.

"David and Lisa," written by James Reach, is a story about kids with emotional problems and how they learn to cope with these problems and with other people.

Sophomore Phil Estes, David in the play, said "I enjoy being someone else. People have many different sides of themselves, so it takes a load of frustration off me when I act."

The play was performed in the round, in the SHS theater. The actors performed with the audience viewing them from all sides.

Mr. Blaine Stephens, director, said he thought the play offered students an evening of serious entertainment and a chance to evaluate other students at their own level. However, the students had problems they couldn't even begin to understand, he said.

Freshman Class Council

In the start of the high school a new life begins for many freshmen, doors are opened, and there are numerous paths to follow. Freshmen are often exposed to a multitude of new ideas. How they react to these ideas, lean upon their point of view, and their willingness to change things. That's what some freshmen on the Freshman Class Council have decided to do.

Tyrone Berry, freshman, said, "They need to have the entire freshman class at a meeting to have more general ideas for money making projects."

ENVELOPE PLEASE: Above: The Freshman Class Council members are Patricia Anderson, Lorraine Williams, Marietta Thomas, Tyrone Berry, Shawn Huggins.

CLOSING

Even though this book comes to a close our memories have not disappeared. They are only locked away in this book waiting to be experienced again. DECISION: Right: As seniors complete their final year at SHS, they must choose one of the many paths to their future. Below: Rodney Spicer, sophomore, returns to the bench after a match at the Schlagle Invitational Wrestling Tournament.
