As our world forges its tomorrow,

*complexity shapes
our environment.*

We use our increased capacity for knowledge. . .

. . .to gather experiences.

*Slowly,
imperceptibly,
all that we touch. . .*

. . .becomes a part of us.

Every impression of our lives reflects in our actions.

We try to expand our awareness to fit our changing times:

defying conformity,

yet respecting tradition.

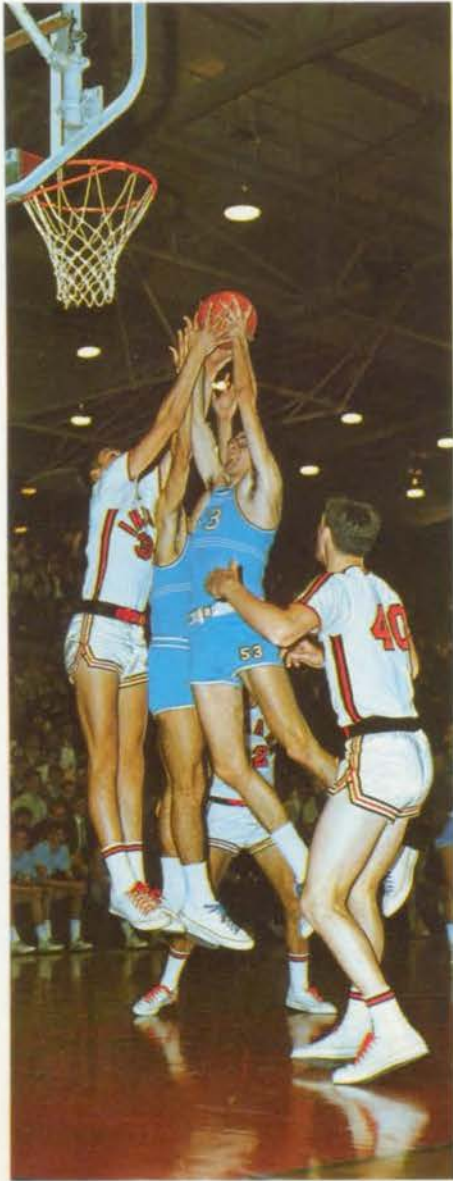

*We share
our experiences with others:*

laughing,

competing,

learning,

maturing.

This is Shawnee Mission East

. . . a part of us.

Administration

Experiences of an administration...direction of club enrollments... assumption of time-consuming details essential to higher learning...repeated intercom announcements...action to dispel rumors about school closing due to a flu epidemic...chaperoning at dances...the challenge of instilling academic awareness...threats of discipline—lectures, eighth hours, suspensions...initial plans for class scheduling by computer...involvement in the problems of the individual, genuine concern for his personal development, realization that an education consists of more than a knowledge of facts...These were the experiences we shared with an administration...a part of us.

BOARD OF EDUCATION - Mrs. Pat O. Smith, Dr. John O. Baeke, Dr. Robert Mathews, Mr. Walter Hiersteiner.

ASSISTANT SUPERINTENDENT—
Dr. Herbert I. Bruning

The Shawnee Mission District experienced a period of transition in leadership and policies during the 1967-68 school year. The new Superintendent, Dr. Arzell Ball, initiated plans for modernizing facilities and curriculum.

As planning for modular class programs got under way, extra audio-visual aids were made available to all departments. Data-processing equipment lessened administrative paperwork for the thirteen district schools.

Under New Superintendent, District Officials Plan Educational Changes

man, Mrs. Gayle T. Chubb. Second row: Dr. Leonard Molotsky, Mr. R. Elvin Miller, Mr. E.V. Reichley.

SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS—
Dr. Arzell L. Ball

Mr. Vick gives Kent Gibson a short lecture on his favorite campaign, "Give the grass a chance."

MR. ART NEWCOMER, Vice-Principal. Bethany College, B. A.; Fort Hays State College, M.S.

MR. WILLIAM VICK, Vice-Principal. University of Missouri at Kansas City, B.A.; M.S.

Principals Offer Counsel, Service, And Suggestions

A team of three officials worked with students and teachers to maintain the educational standards of SM East. Mr. Carl Ison, heading the administration, enforced district directives and served as final authority on school policy. His position included the supervision of school faculty and personnel.

The vice-principals took charge of summer school, student activities, and discipline. In addition to his role as principal of the summer semester, Mr. Art Newcomer coordinated the athletic and club programs. Mr. William Vick checked attendance and arranged class and all-school assemblies.

Firmness tempered with concern for each individual characterized the administration's execution of duties.

MR. CARL ISON, Principal. Kansas State College, B.S.; University of Missouri at Kansas City, M.A.

GENE CRILEY - Counselor. Battle Creek College, B.A.; University of Texas; Northeast Missouri State College, M.A.; University of Iowa; Colorado College; Stanford University; Utah University.

HAROLD GERSH - Counselor. University of Missouri at Kansas City, B.A., M.A.; University of California; University of Kansas; Columbia University.

RICHARD FISHER - Counselor. Kansas State University, B.S.; University of Kansas, B.A., M.S.

PHILLIP LARSON - Counselor. Bethany College, B.A.; Wichita State University, M.S.

Four Counselors Aid In Pupils' Future Planning

Services of four counselors provided students with an outlet for personal discussions and help in planning future high school and college years. Routine duties included writing of college recommendations, class scheduling, and chaperoning of school parties.

Mr. Fisher, Mr. Gersh, and Mr. Larson administered comparative achievement tests including Differential Aptitude, National Merit Scholarship, and college board exams. Miss Criley returned from a summer abroad to resume responsibilities as exchange student advisor.

Serving as faculty representatives and advisors for parents during PTA programs, counselors directed students in realizing and using opportunities to their fullest advantage.

Office Personnel Computerize Bookkeeping And Scheduling

Rearranging schedules and admitting tardy students, the office staff kept tabs on school organization and operation.

Mrs. Myers recorded daily absentees, while Mrs. Walter allotted finances. Mrs. Rhue, counselors' secretary, scheduled appointments and typed personal correspondence. At the switchboard, Mrs. Piper relayed messages and guarded lost valuables. Grades were filed by the registrar, Mrs. Parks. Mrs. Dorn, school nurse, attended to complaints from sick pupils each day. Student assistants working with office personnel helped fulfill numerous tasks to keep Shawnee Mission East high school functioning as an efficient community service.

MARY DORN - Nurse.

OFFICE LADIES - Mrs. Parks, Mrs. Myers, Mrs. Rhue, Mrs. Hoffman, Mrs. Piper, Mrs. Walters.

CAFETERIA LADIES - Front row: M. Hoover, F. Wise, E. Harlow, M. Jack, head, M. Seaton, S. Martin, C. Morrison. Second row: M. Rash, O. Palmer, I. Denny, L. Strong, L. Trotter, B. Geyer, D. Hart, N. Mikulick, M. O'Neal, C. Wilkes, B. Brown. Top row: R. Mathews, L. Springer, V. Toll, M. Mount, R. Berry, N. Gray, B. Washer, M. Wattenberg.

Cooks, Custodians Perform Duties For Operational Efficiency

CUSTODIANS - Front row: K. Dougan, H. Dietz, J. Kahle, O. Le-Doax, K. Inglis, J. Trowbridge, R. Oakerson. Second row: R. Reed, head custodian, I. Shapiro, R. Crain, D. Dailey, J. Gallagher, J. Long, F. Messner.

By providing well-planned meals and clean working conditions for students, personnel maintained a smooth running order of facilities throughout the school.

Led by head dietician Marietta Jacks, cafeteria ladies prepared and served hundreds of nutritious lunches daily. Holiday meals and a la carte foods from the snack bar highlighted weekly menus.

In addition to keeping equipment in operating condition, custodian's duties included upkeep of school grounds. After hours dances, and basketball games, custodians remained to clean classrooms and gyms. Mr. Ralph Reed directed the fourteen men.

To supply balanced nutrition and efficient operation of school property, cafeteria and custodial staffs fulfilled many necessary behind-the-scenes services.

PTA-Sponsored Programs Unify Pupils And Adults

To unite students and teachers within the district, the Parent-Teacher Association sponsored four programs under adult leadership.

Back-to-School Night opened the year by acquainting parents with faculty members and class schedules. On October 22, the sixth consecutive College Clinic distributed information on seventy-six accredited colleges and universities. Forty discussions groups led by ministers, physicians, and psychiatrists reinforced communications between sophomores and adults during "Let's Face It" Night. Concluding PTA activities, the Careers Workshop featured guidance counselors who directed students in selecting appropriate professions.

Student participation through Block L, Key Club, and Honor L supported PTA efforts to improve relations between home and school.

PTA OFFICERS - Mrs. Donald J. Seifert, Mrs. J. Frank Baumgartner, Mr. Carl Ison, Mrs. Howard A. Crawford, Mrs. John C. Gage.

Parents and children exchange opinions to promote better relations during "Let's Face It" night.

FACULTY REPRESENTATIVES - Mr. Young, Mrs. Shankel, Mr. Southerland, Miss Hogan, Mr. Thompson, Mrs. Coffin.

Academics

Experiences of academic study...excitement of orientation assemblies...personal conversations with teachers...relief at completion of a term paper...thoughtful dissonance with American policy in Vietnam...*Cliff*notes...monotony of study halls...frustration with invalid geometry proofs and pronunciation of difficult foreign words...embarrassment while pantomiming an orange being squeezed...interminable typing exercises...self-expression in a surrealist painting...the pressure of grades, the importance of meeting intellectual challenges, the dominant purpose of school...These were the experiences we shared in academic study...a part of us.

In the relaxed mood of summer school, Shellie Bassett discards her shoes for barefoot comfort.

The cheerleaders' traditional opening ceremony evokes curiosity from two sophomore girls during the Pep Club's orientation meeting.

Excursions, Seminars Enrich

The rare books collection of the University of Missouri at Kansas City stimulates summer chemistry students' interest in medieval sciences.

MR. ART NEWCOMER - Principal of Summer School.

Summer Study Groups

Braving summer heat, students pursued academic and extracurricular interests at summer camps and school sessions. Scholars completed eight-week courses in history, driving, and chemistry. Artists and biologists developed specialized skills on field trips.

National camps and conventions served as training sites for scholastic and athletic activities. At Lake Erie and Estes Park, Student Congress officers reviewed methods of furthering school participation and unity. Competing in a six-state area, varsity cheerleaders coordinated efforts at the Lexington, Kentucky, clinic to win form and spirit awards. Journalism, debate, speech, music, and art camps at the University of Kansas provided pupils with a preview of campus life.

During orientation day assemblies, student body leaders reiterated the values of individual participation in summer programs.

Richard Cross and Ron Schloerb fortify themselves with food and conversation before a quiz in a summer world history class.

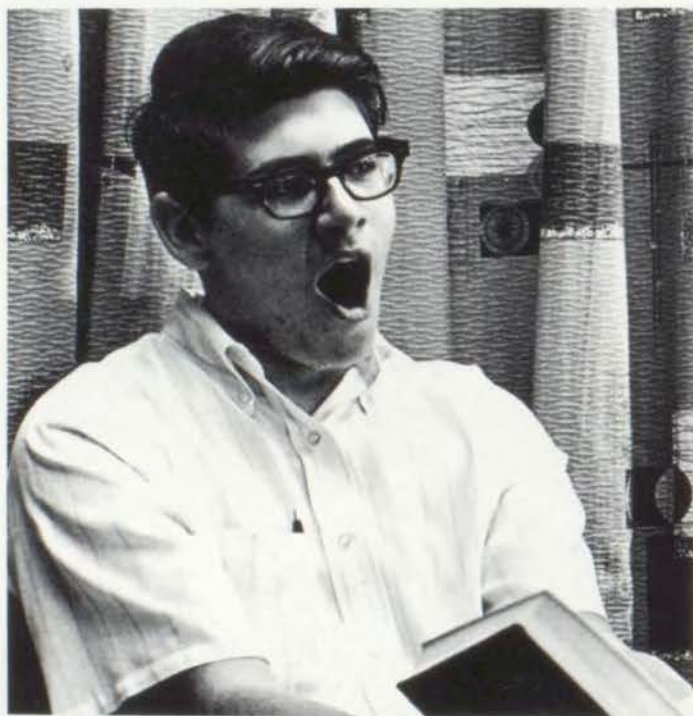

Quiet Of Library And Study Halls Encourages Efficiency

MAJORIE LANE - University of Kansas, B.S.; Kansas Teachers College, M.S. Library. Reading Club, Folk Singing Club.

As an interlude in the academic day, study halls provided a welcome opportunity to relax, complete assignments, or make use of expanded library resources. Some students devoted their study hour to remedial or accelerated reading programs, where specialized equipment such as light pacers helped increase reading speed, comprehension, and enjoyment.

During study periods or after school, student readers and researchers had access to the library's stock of reference books, literary works, paperbacks, and periodicals. An innovation in policy opened library facilities to the public on weekday nights. The 1967 senior gift, a record player with earphones for private listening, added to the wide range of educational materials and services offered by the school library.

With a wide yawn, junior Trent Daniels loses interest in his book and looks up to survey sophomore girls in his study hall.

Between bells, a library assistant prepares for incoming student readers by hurriedly rearranging a shelf of contemporary novels.

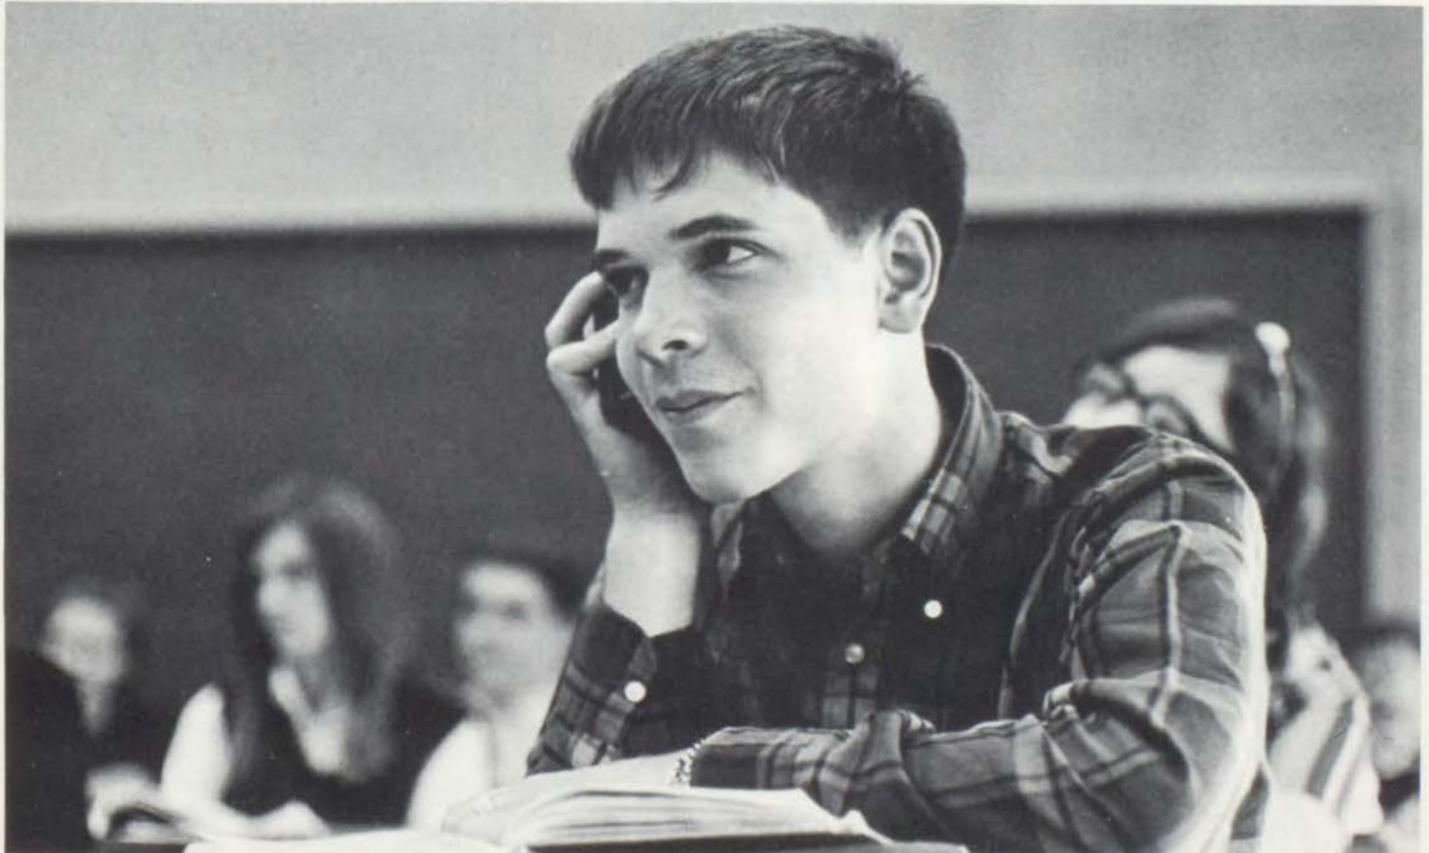

POLLY REICHARDT - Cottey College;
Kansas State Teachers' College of Emporia,
B.S. Librarian. Reading Club.

Having completed research for an assignment, Ken Robinson browses through sports manuals in the last few minutes of study hall.

Pleasure about the outcome of a World Series game is registered on sophomore Bob Bender's face as he disregards study hall regulations to listen to his radio.

Writers Develop Distinctive Styles Through In-Class Themes

BENNETT JOHNSON - Ottawa University, B.S. Ed. Special Education.

To achieve a comprehensive English background, students perfected written and oral skills through literature and grammar studies.

After acquiring knowledge of punctuation and diction basics, sophomores discussed colonial and modern American literature. Juniors were introduced to characters from English literature, including Macbeth and Beowulf. College preparatory English courses required seniors to write research papers employing vocabularies increased by a thirty day study and logic gained from Thought and Statement. In the new special education department, students worked on an individual progress basis.

Exposure to literary selections and grammar principles inspired English students to express personal experiences in creative writing.

Actors, Speakers Polish Delivery For Competition

Drama and speech courses, oriented to modes of self-expression, prepared students for future public speaking and acting roles.

Speech students presented various types of speeches, including extemporaneous, impromptu, and demonstrative. A debate at the end of the year culminated studies of persuasive arguments. Novice actors in drama classes practiced a combination of technique and method acting in memorized scenes, pantomimes, and oral interpretations. Research notebooks delved into facets of the legitimate theater. Stagecraft classes covered advanced techniques in staging a production.

Newly-acquired skills promoted participation in National Forensic League activities and the three major play productions.

DALE LIVENGOOD - Kansas State University, B.S., M.A.; University of Colorado; University of Hawaii. Speech I & II, English II. Sophomore Sponsor, Pep Club, Future Teachers of America.

Having recorded phonetic drills, responses, and corrections, Suzy Gilchrist follows a prepared sheet as she listens to a playback for inflection and pronunciation proficiency.

Interest In Foreign Traditions

Bilingualists assessed the value of international communications in French, German, Latin and Spanish classes. Junior high conversation courses necessitated accelerated programs in the language department.

Courses incorporated vocabulary, idioms, and grammar rules into daily lessons. Speeches, plays, and publications such as the French Le Tricolore required active use of writing skills. Weekly sessions in the language lab developed pronunciation and grammar skills. Discussions of native literature completed studies.

Student-organized banquets, featuring costumes and entertainment, culminated the year's activities and instilled an appreciation of foreign tradition and culture.

JOSEPHINE SPIDELL - University of Kansas, A.B.; University of Michigan, M.A.; Middlebury College; University of Bordeaux. French III & IV. Le Tricolore.

A sound defect in Bruce Margolin's language lab machinery prompts a remark to a friend.

Amused by her inability to convey her answer in coherent French, Patty Jacobs succumbs to embarrassed laughter.

Daydreams about spring activities occupy junior Cathy Mullinix's thoughts during an open class discussion in American History.

Films, Lectures Recreate Colorful Eras Of History

To acquaint students with past eras and present-day issues, social science courses emphasized the dynamic nature of history, economics, psychology, and government.

New texts guided seniors as they examined the power structure of American government; term papers by American history pupils described the nation's political growth. While psychology scholars interpreted human emotions, aspiring economists investigated prosperity cycles and the national monetary system.

Relying on news media, international relations pupils evaluated U.S. interests in Southeast Asia. World history classes frequently broke routine to discuss current problems.

Studies of social environment gave students a better understanding of their heritage and responsibilities as world citizens.

Science Research Projects Merit District Recognition

Lab science courses bridged the gap between theory and practice in biology, physics, chemistry, and applied science. While demonstrating natural laws in the laboratory, students mastered new scientific procedures.

Biology I and II classes—through lab blocks, experiments, and dissection of lower vertebrates—witnessed firsthand the organic processes. Aided by the periodic table, beginning chemists analyzed unknown compounds. Knowledge of standard formulas proved useful in physics, as pupils learned to allow for several variables when investigating atmospheric forces. Advanced classes used precision instruments and techniques.

Research projects generated enthusiasm and a personal interest in modern science.

Graphs, Mathematics Students Solve Logarithmic Functions

Through principles of induction, deduction, and analysis, mathematicians assembled separate facts into a precise study.

Refresher courses reviewed arithmetic basics, as algebra pupils logically inferred simple proofs and complex theorems. Using protractors and compasses, geometers approached triangle construction and applications of cosines. Unknown degree measurements confronted trigonometry students, while calculus classes derived algebraic notations.

With recent emphasis upon space design, engineering, and computer programming, technically advanced students practiced logical reasoning processes and considered career opportunities in mathematics.

CAROLYN M. SHANKEL - Kansas State College of Pittsburg, B.S., M.S.; University of Missouri at Kansas City. Secretarial Practice, Clerical Practice, Business Machines. Stenorettes, Pep Club, National Honor Society.

Instructive texts and modern office equipment supplemented courses introducing students to the world of enterprise.

After mastering basic typing and shorthand skills, girls pursuing secretarial careers gained proficiency in a two-hour intensive practice course. Bookkeepers balanced sample ledgers for corporate accounts, while pupils in business economics analyzed marketing conditions to achieve an understanding of world buying power. Bankruptcy, partnerships, and corporational mergers served as topics for business law students.

A program of extracurricular secretarial practice and addition of new electric typewriters and adding machines afforded students an opportunity to experience big business on the high school level.

Influenced by classic and futuristic styles, prospective artists dabbled in unusual subject matter and media such as gesso and egg tempera. Crafts students transformed ideas into jewelry, sculpture, leather work, and pottery. An arts clinic at Kansas University introduced college level courses to high school students.

Area art shows spurred production among young artists and offered sales opportunities for student work. Promising arts and crafts students entered scholarship contests, competing for gold keys and national acclaim.

Industrial Artists Combine Imagination And Dexterity

Using T-squares, triangles, and drawing boards, designers combined practicality with unique ideas in industrial arts courses. After learning basic planning techniques, engineers in machine drawing designed modernistic equipment. Architects drafted plans for functional and livable houses and office buildings.

Following scaled diagrams, boys in wood and metal shops used power machines and hand tools to produce articles such as coffee tables, gun racks, and cutting boards.

Display model entries in the Kansas Industrial Arts Fair exhibited architectural and engineering aptitudes. Installation of safer, up-to-date equipment including circular saws and drill presses furthered manual skills necessary for industrial careers.

Drivers, Auto Mechanics

To decrease traffic fatalities and lower insurance premiums, the driver education program dealt with motor skills and driving attitudes. Classroom teachers emphasized state laws, mechanics of engine parts, and psychological factors influencing drivers. Students applied this knowledge during practical driving experience, completing six hours in one of four new cars.

Experience with motor operations proved useful in auto mechanics classes, where junior and senior boys dismantled transmissions and examined V-8 engines.

Producing responsible licensees, the automobile program promoted vehicle safety and knowledge of auto mechanisms.

Providing a diversion from academic pressures, physical education classes promoted team skills, sportsmanship, and physical fitness.

In boys' classes traditional sports such as football, soccer, basketball, and baseball required skillful strategy and execution of play formations. Periodic calisthenics and weight lifting programs built muscles and increased necessary physical endurance.

In addition to learning tactics of team sports, girls acquired skills in fencing and archery and developed grace and agility on balance beams and tumbling mats.

With the advent of warm weather, boys and girls participated in a spring unit of track and field. On the fields and in the gyms, physical education students demonstrated acquired knowledge and skills.

Clubs Meet To Explore

Sports, service, and hobby clubs offered a half-hour of recreation and a chance to actively contribute to the school and community.

Qualified students were eligible for membership in several honorary clubs. The senior girls of Honor L met during activity period to plan Dads' Night and other Pep Club programs. Speakers and drama presentations entertained 37 Thespians on Tuesday.

A variety of club groups were open to all. Sports enthusiasts chose clubs such as tennis and sports films, while hobbyists shared interests in chess, coins, and bridge. Four language clubs sponsored banquets and edited quarterly newspapers. Stenorettes, Y-Teens, and the Key Club aided teachers and local organizations through special service projects.

Each club encouraged students' cooperation and participation in extracurricular activities.

Variety Of Entertainment

Providing a break during the school day, assemblies entertained and informed the student body and honored outstanding achievers.

Students displayed abilities through talent assemblies, orchestral and vocal music programs, and dramatic skits. A music department Christmas program and cuts from the annual musical, Oliver, highlighted activities. Lecturing personalities and community leaders included Dr. Arzell Ball, Shawnee Mission District superintendent.

Prominent athletes and debators received letters, pins, and certificates during periodic honors and awards assemblies. All-school assemblies recognized scholarship pin winners, National Merit scholars, and queen candidates.

Mr. William Vick, vice principal, coordinated the assembly program, which provided education and recreation keyed to a variety of student interests.

Can't Take It With You

Playing unique character roles, student dramatists opened the theatrical season with two performances of "You Can't Take It With You" on the evenings of November 17 and 18.

The three-act comedy centers around the eccentricities of the Sycamore family during the Depression. Alice Sycamore prefers conformity, however, to withdrawal from society. She falls in love with Tony Kirby, the son of a prominent New York executive. The Sycamore individuality finally prevails as Grandfather demonstrates that, despite adverse conditions, life's simplicity can still be appreciated.

With realistic costumes and furnishings, stage crews recreated the atmosphere of the 1930's. Live fireworks, kittens, and printing presses helped convey the commotion of a family resolved to enjoy any situation.

Rheba, the colored maid, laughs uproariously at her own joke about the outlandish setting of Penny's play.

At Tony's repeated insistence, Alice finally realizes that despite family differences, marriage is not an impossibility.

Martin Vanderhof awakes from a doze when his granddaughter Alice breezes in to tell the family that she is in love.

Under the sinister glances of Fagin's boys, Oliver is introduced into the Thieves' Kitchen and warned "You've got to pick a pocket or two."

In Music And Drama, "Oliver!" Explores Meaning Of Love

An unusual moving set, designed for use without curtain, enhanced the musical production "Oliver!," presented February 15, 16, 17.

The story revolves around Oliver Twist, a small orphan who becomes mixed up with a band of pick-pockets. He gets caught on his first job and is taken into custody by a wealthy benefactor. His leader Fagin; a friend, Nancy; and her lover, Bill Sykes, recapture Oliver, but Nancy secretly agrees to return the boy. Bill discovers the plot, and one dark night on London Bridge murders Nancy and grabs Oliver. In the ensuing chase Bill is shot. Fagin, who escapes, is forced to turn over a new leaf.

Through special costumes and props, crews recreated the Victorian Age. Weeks of work by the music and drama departments culminated in this Broadway-style version of "Oliver!"

Under a pretense of "society folks," Nancy feigns delight as Artful Dodger acts the perfect gentleman by properly flattering her.

Initiating Oliver into the ways of thieves, Fagin and Artful Dodger demonstrate how a playful game of leapfrog can bring profitable results.

"Quartet" Assembles Three Theatrical Styles For Spring Play

In a rare combination of comedy, drama, and fantasy, the drama department presented Quartet, a theatrical experiment performed on the evenings of April 5 and 6.

New talent from sophomores and juniors were incorporated into the four, half-hour plays. "Tea with Mr. Bellringer," a modern farce, judges the problems of polygamy. "Judgement Morning" employs a fake funeral to motivate justice in a Midwestern family. "Not Tonight," a comedy on insomnia, ridicules the fears of heredity in marriage. A scrubwoman's untimely death in "Highness," the final section, ironically eliminates an unknown member of Russian royalty.

Precision timing and original props, including Windsor chairs, gas heaters, and red and green polka dot pajamas, contributed to the continuity and uniqueness of Quartet.

As the Recorder judges his case, Mr. Bellringer woefully relates the negative side of a triple marriage that results in 18 daughters.

His secret impulses controlling his subconscious, Chester returns, sleepwalking in polka-dotted pajamas, to propose marriage to Rose.

Anna fends off the amorous advances of an overconfident Russian soldier, who is unaware of her royal blood.

Introduce Foreign Students

Traveling to a foreign country for one year's study, students promoted international relations through the American Field Service, International Christian Youth Exchange, and Experiment for International Living.

In July and August, selected finalists from five countries arrived in Shawnee Mission for orientation into the school system. Miss Criley, AFS coordinator, arranged schedules including compulsory speech, English, and American government or history courses. Pep Club, the Y-Teen banquet, and the exchange carnival reflected the foreign influence of Argentina, Germany, Iceland, Sweden, and Turkey. Souvenirs in display cases and club programs represented Ann Fairhurst's summer AFS trip to the Philippine Islands.

Overcoming language and cultural differences, foreign students blended into American family and school life.

"World's Fair" Brings International Flavor To Carnival

A blending of international cultures marked the "World's Fair," annual exchange carnival, to raise funds for 1968-69 exchange students.

In observance of AFS Week, StuCo representatives sold carnival shares. Students purchased novelty pens and flags in support of their king and queen candidates. Because seniors sold the highest amount, Bill Anderson reigned with Maud Hecker through the evening.

At the carnival, school clubs and organizations operated twenty-eight booths. An all day decorating session revealed imagination in such booths as Kaptain Kilroy's Kasino and the Castle of Chance. Other popular activities included lettermen's wrestling booth, an amateur movie, and an audio-visual "mind-blast."

Proceeds from the carnival booths exceeded $2,000, the largest amount of money ever collected at a SM East exchange carnival.

Patronizing "World's Fair" booths, students exchange tickets for a chance to win valuable prizes.

Decor For StuCo Dances Features Original Ideas

Novel decorations planned by the social committee added originality to seven school dances. A Back-to-School dance featuring the Sensations marked the beginning of social activities. To celebrate Sadie Hawkins' Day, girls asked dates to dance to the sounds of the Vibrations at the "Baby Doll Affair."

Alumni who returned for homecoming were entertained by the Kraft Music Haul. The Chessmann and holiday spirits combined with a mirror globe and a snowing Christmas tree, created a gala formal Yuletide dance. A change in schedule moved the fourth annual Hauberk Jovial Jig to January instead of March, and again the girls reciprocated and asked the boys.

The Vibrations played a special number for the Hauberk Queen. In February The Sensations returned for a dance honoring the Basketball Sweetheart and the Shadows played for the final dance, a farewell to graduating seniors.

Terry Tagan blots out light, sound, and movement as she loses herself to the psychedelic atmosphere.

Suspended in a moment of expressive dancing, Vicki Snyder radiates her enthusiasm for short skirts and acid rock.

Joy Walkup hand-claps in time to the pounding rhythm of the Sensations at the year's first informal school dance.

Still overcome with the emotion and formal restraint of the crowning ceremony, Hauberk Queen Patty Beard relaxes in her escort's arms.

Homecoming Ceremonies

As the crowd waited expectantly, the 1967 Homecoming procession moved around the field at half-time. The ten court members arrived on the football field in blue and white convertibles, followed by a "Stairway to the Stars" float, repeating the blue and white theme. Flanked by attendants Sherry Fortenberry, Laurie Burt, Joanie Ruzicka, and Marty Longbine, 1967 Homecoming Queen Perry Patterson greeted her subjects. Through columns of kneeling Synchronettes, the queen ascended to the throne as the band played "Stairway to the Stars." The court, dressed in white, presented bouquets and crowns to the attendants. 1966 Homecoming Queen Connie Warman crowned Perry, who was honored with roses and a kiss from Mr. Ison. Jan Martin received flowers for organizing the months of preparations spent on the ceremony.

Girls Treat Boys For Hauberk's Fourth Annual "Jovial Jig"

Snowy winter weather set the atmosphere for the Hauberk's Fourth Annual Jovial Jig, where the student body honored eleven girls for service as well as beauty.

The staff nominated the court, and popular vote determined the royalty. Members of the Hauberk art staff spent additional hours decorating the gym with blue and green streamers and six-foot contemporary posters.

Coronation of the Hauberk queen highlighted the semester's second W.P.A. on January 13. The Vibrations played slow music, and dancing temporarily ceased as the formal procession formed an aisle for attendants Cathy Crawford and Jan Martin to ascend their thrones. Attention then focused on Queen Patty Beard as she received the editor's ceremonial kiss, a bouquet of daisies, and a pearl crown as memorable souvenirs for three years of service.

Pep Club, Honor L, and Heraldry members distinguish Hauberk queen candidates as they wait on stage to be announced.

A hush fell over spectators at the Wyandotte game as the Synchronettes formed a lane through which the nine court members passed. Second attendant Ann Ladewig and first attendant Cindy Carduff were escorted to the center of the court. A final burst of applause greeted the Sweetheart, Pam Porter, who was assisted to her heart-shaped throne by Mitch Rainen. The court presented banners and bouquets to the newly-crowned royalty. Later, the twelve candidates gave flowers to Pep Club treasurer Patty Beard, who had organized the ceremony.

The next night, red and white hearts transformed the playing court into a dance floor, where the Sensations honored the girls.

Prom Relives Splendor Of French New Orleans Era

The coming of spring brought with it thoughts of graduation, summer plans, and anxious anticipation of Junior-Senior Prom.

Headed by Cathy Havener, junior class vice president, six prom committees were chosen from over three hundred applications submitted in the fall. After girls drew up and finalized room arrangements, boys constructed the decorations at a secret construction site located at the American Royal building.

Attired in formal gowns and tuxedos, juniors and seniors strolled among courtyards and along boardwalks, and danced to music of the gazebo-covered George Winn Orchestra and the Dixieland sounds of the Storyville Seven.

Completing the atmospheric setting was a reproduction of Brenner's Restaurant. Couples dined on authentic French pastry and enjoyed the beauty of this year's prom, French New Orleans.

StuCo Officials Coordinate

Acting as official spokesmen for all three classes, StuCo representatives and officers strengthened communications between faculty and student body. Members were responsible for enacting homeroom suggestions within prescribed administrative boundaries.

After an introductory workshop in September, homeroom representatives were assigned committee work and service duties to be performed outside school hours. Committee chairmen and members planned StuCo-sponsored activities, including school dances, elections, community fund projects, and the AFS exchange.

Four executives, assisted by the chairman, corresponding secretary, and parliamentarian, encouraged committee progress and presided over weekly meetings. The steering committee represented StuCo in assemblies, at orientation, and in inter-school affairs.

Cheerleaders' Efforts Boost Team And Spectator's Spirit

Running exuberantly through the athletic field, six varsity cheerleaders demonstrate their prescription for developing the proper mood.

Original cheers and chants enlivened sports events as cheerleaders stirred support for Lancer athletes. Six varsity cheerleaders attended a summer camp in Kentucky and practiced with the Junior Varsity after school to present lively cheering routines.

Cheerleaders became the center of Pep Club activities by promoting school spirit. The girls awarded Orders of the Lance to team supporters, planned early-morning rallies, and sponsored the traditional "Beat North Indians" ceremonies. At games and meets, varsity cheerleaders encouraged the teams with enthusiastic cheers and banners, while the Junior Varsity backed jv football and basketball teams. At four end-of-season banquets, cheerleaders paid final tribute to players and coaches.

Majorettes And Drum Majors Lead Ceremonies

Marking time and executing baton twirls, drum majors and majorettes worked with the Lancer Band to present synchronized parade routines and half-time shows. Five twirlers met for practice during sixth hour each day. Under the supervision of Mr. Thomas McCreedy, the girls arranged a variety of acts using flags and fire batons. Two drum majors were appointed to lead marching performances and to conduct the band in Pep Club assemblies.

Both majors and majorettes participated in Kansas University's Band Day, the Overland Park parade, and other invitational events. During and after the football season, the group added pageantry to several city activities, including the annual American Royal Parade and the Oct. 8 Kansas City Chiefs' game.

Precision drill routines of SM East's Synchronettes provided colorful entertainment in parades and half-time ceremonies throughout the year. In addition to performing at Emporia, Washburn, and other area colleges, the Synchronettes participated in the state-wide Band Day, NAIA tournament, and American Royal parade. Drill teams from several district schools joined to present the half-time show at the Chief's nationally-televised home game.

Between public appearances, the team held daily practices and presented occasional school performances. Under the direction of Mrs. Caroline Howard, forty-six senior and junior girls perfected marching formations and practiced with flags and pompons during seventh hour. Assembly programs featured novelty acts, dance routines, and the annual Christmas show.

Marching in auditoriums or on muddy football fields, the Synchronettes represented East at games and in various municipal activities.

Conscious of the example she must set for other Drill Team members, captain Elaine Martens demonstrates a new dance.

Band Presents Area Shows For Chiefs, American Royal Parade

Standing at attention in block formation, the 65-piece marching band completes the final rhythmic measure of a parade performance.

Playing for large audiences at home and away, the marching Lancer Band entertained at athletic games, parades, and, during the last half of the year, school concerts.

Under new director, Mr. Thomas McCready, the band rehearsed for ninety minutes daily on the school's practice field to stage imaginative marching shows. Combining with groups from SM South and West, band members performed for a nationally-televised Chiefs' show. The musicians also accompanied bands in K.U. Band Day activities. When marching season ended, the band switched its playing style, and sent soloists and groups to local and state contests, where they competed for gold medals. Selections from school concerts also were presented in assemblies featuring Lancer musicians.

Throughout the year, the Lancer Band sparked enthusiasm at Pep assemblies, games, and in the halls before school on game days.

Dark glasses keep the wind and sun out of Karl Solberg's eyes as he wields a sousaphone, trying to put into action the steps he has learned for a marching routine.

Concert Programs Range From Classical To Modern Music

Two instrumental music organizations, the Orchestra and Symphonic Wind Ensemble, appeared in seasonal concerts and entertained students at local schools.

The Orchestra included instruments in the string family. Wind players accompanied the strings in before school rehearsals. The Symphonic Wind Ensemble, consisting of the best wind and percussion players, performed contemporary works, many especially written for it by district composer Walter Skolnik. The spring concert featured pieces conducted by Ed Harn, director of the School Band of America. Members from both were chosen for the Blue Knights and for the orchestra accompanying the winter musical, "Oliver!".

Mr. Thomas McCready, new instrumental teacher, led both groups in achieving correct intonation and distinctive playing style.

Playing with the Symphonic Wind Ensemble in a school concert helps junior clarinetist Abbie Freedman perfect her ambouchure.

Vocal Students Compete For Top Ratings At Area Contests

Candles in hand, the Girls' Choir finishes the processional Hodie and awaits instructions for their next concert selection.

While performing at concerts, parties, and receptions, vocal music students applied music theory to selections presented before large and varied audiences.

The Chamber Choir sang contemporary music, some especially composed for them by district composer, Mr. Walter Skolnik. The Chamber and Concert Choir, the traditional a capella choir, performed pieces from the Renaissance to modern times. Three madrigals formed from Chamber Choir gave special recitals for luncheons and banquets in the Kansas City area. The Girls' Choir sang selections written for female voices, as Glee Clubs perfected voice control and harmony.

All choirs participated in at least one concert. The musical and a special performance of Handel's "The Messiah" at the Christmas Concert highlighted the vocal music year.

To further dramatics on the high school level was the goal of Thespian troupe 1806 for this year. On the basis of the number of points received during the year, the organization initiated members of all classes.

A total of ten points was a requirement for initiation. These points were earned for work on crews, for a role in one of the major productions, or for top ratings from readings or duets performed at contest.

Tuesday club programs included speakers and performances by members. The troupe undertook a series of special projects, such as an experimental Theatre of the Absurd and a booth at the AFS Carnival. The officers and sponsor planned the banquet held in the spring, where new members were initiated and outstanding Thespians honored.

Performing before a partly constructed set, Thespian president Jim Langknecht characterizes Fagin giving his disciples instructions.

Determined to win the district tournament, NFL member Brad Johnson boards the bus, prepared with note cards and debate strategy.

Allowing his hands to convey expression, Jim Houske reasserts the affirmative position using hastily assembled quotations to back up his argument.

Increased Membership Leads NFL To Tournament Victories

With the largest membership in the state, the National Forensic League and sponsor Lawrence Brown introduced new tactics to orators and debaters to help improve speaking abilities.

Arguing the national topic, "Resolved: that Congress should establish uniform regulations to control criminal investigation procedures," SM East teams were awarded more trophies than any other district team. Members worked to accumulate points for progressive degrees including Merit, Honor, Excellence, and Distinction.

Due to a new ruling, speech contestants remained inactive until the second semester. Weekly speech tournaments were divided into extemporaneous, oratory, dramatic reading, and duet acting sections.

In spring, ten NFL members traveled to Topeka as representatives to a mock Congressional session. As they put their own methods into effect, delegates observed different approaches to public speaking.

Replacing the index card in her portable file, novice debater Francie Steinzeig can now appreciate the humor of a misused quotation.

Account Of School News

Reporting and commenting on school news, two semesters of senior journalists published the Harbinger a weekly periodical.

Mr. Robert Dillon, Harbinger advisor, chose staff members on the basis of applications submitted by Journalism I students. Interest and journalism grades determined positions.

Meeting first and seventh hours, reporters covered features, sports, and news beats. Editors' responsibilities included delegation of duties and lay-out of page formats. Editorial columns and letters voiced opinions on school spirit, vandalism, and snobbery. Increased advertisement sales enabled publication of more pages and total issues than in previous years. In addition to supplying issues to student body, the circulation staff mailed copies to other high schools and alumni all over the country.

While gaining experience in journalistic techniques, Journalism II students presented timely summaries of academic and social events.

HauberK Theme Reflects A Year's Remembrances

Through expressive pictures and copy, the 32-member HauberK staff recreated a year of school experiences. A successful October sales campaign initiated work on SM East's tenth yearbook.

Six editors and staffs, supervised by Mr. Pete Perdaris, combined efforts to meet a series of twelve-page deadlines. Photographers worked continuously to catch candid poses, while studio staff members assembled class pictures. Sports and literary staffs provided captions, headlines, and copy. Record ad sales by the business staff and ad designing by the art staff financed an introductory essay of color photography. HauberK editors originated the cover design and division pages, traditionally a senior staff secret.

In January attention turned to the upcoming service queen elections and Jovial Jig, sponsored by HauberK members. The final April deadline and presentation banquet culminated staff production of the '68 HauberK.

National Merit Testing Brings Recognition To 39 Seniors

Referring to a college handbook, Barbara Bassett asks her counselor about scholarship programs open to National Merit Semifinalists.

Participating in rigorous competition, 39 SM East seniors qualified for scholastic honors in the 1968 National Merit program. The 14 Semifinalists and 24 Commended students ranked in the upper two per cent of the country in overall academic achievement.

Juniors took the five-part National Merit Qualifying Test in February and were notified of results in the fall of their senior year. Students scoring above the 99th percentile were named as Semifinalists; those immediately below received Letters of Commendation. Semifinalists became eligible for National Merit Scholarship Corporation stipends by submitting official applications and confirming previous scores on the December SAT examination. Putnam, Watkins, and Summerfield awards from Kansas colleges, out-of-state scholarships, and business grants provided Semifinalists with additional opportunities for financial aid. Final announcement of 1968 National Merit Scholarship winners was made in May.

Quill And Scroll Initiates Contributing Senior Journalists

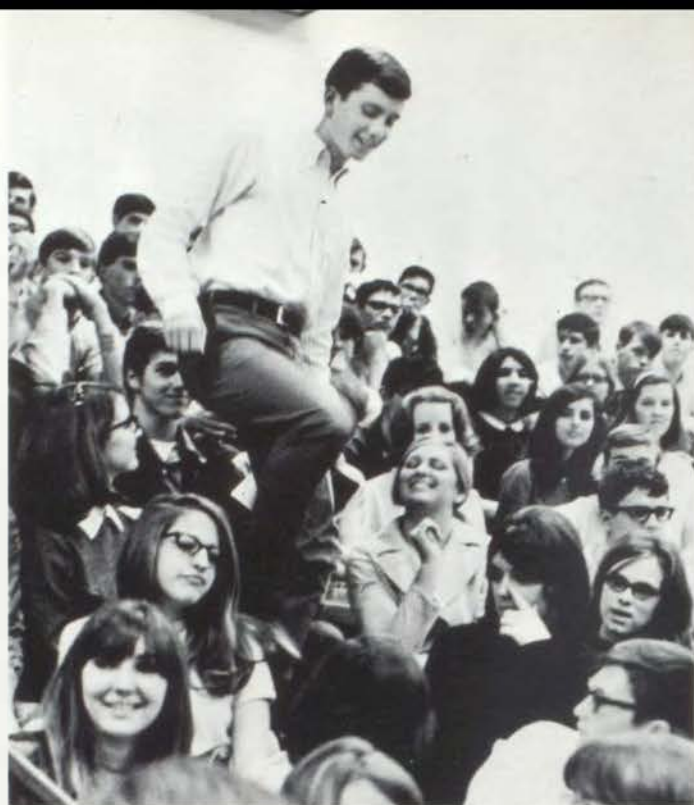

After the symbolic Quill and Scroll initiation ceremony, Holly Scanlon shares a bit of good-humored teasing with Harbinger advisor Mr. Dillon.

A position on the yearbook or newspaper, recommendation by a staff sponsor, and academic standing in the upper one-third of the class qualified senior journalists for membership in Quill and Scroll. This year, the international society for high school journalists honored fifty-six seniors from the Harbinger and HauberK publication staffs. Nominees included those students who had significantly contributed in the fields of writing, editing, business, art, and photography. At the annual presentation banquet in March, new members received Award of Honor Certificates and Journalism Award pins or charms.

Nomination to Quill and Scroll—based on the society's standards of Truth, Learning, Leadership, Initiative, Integrity, and Friendship—represented the highest honor a high School journalist can achieve.

Representing the top five per cent of his class, junior Scott Thompson accepts congratulations from Mr. Ison.

Junior Bill Good makes a precarious trip down the crowded bleachers to accept his National Honor Society nomination.

A candlelight ceremony signified the initiation of 101 juniors and seniors into the 1968 National Honor Society.

At an unannounced assembly, senior members presented new initiates to the student body. Together with officers Dennet Latham, Ken Klassen, Laurie Burt, and Laurie Metzinger, four faculty advisors selected students and supervised the induction ceremony. An informal picnic in May acquainted new members with the organization's procedures.

Scholarship, service, character, and leadership qualified five percent of the junior class and ten percent of the seniors for admittance into the society. Throughout the year, participants served as select examples of integrity and scholastic accomplishments.

Senior Pam Richmond receives membership in National Honor Society for her outstanding achievements in tennis and scholarship.

Determined Lancers Crush Strong Wyandotte Squad To Highlight A 4-4-1 Record And A Tie For Third

Mud covered Lancers prove that rainy weather and a wet field don't prevent the playing of a rival game with North.

SM East	7	13	Lawrence

Head coach Arch Unruh suffered quarterback problems to start out the '67 grid season. Pat Dexter and Jim Mathena were in contention, but Danny Hecker, transfer student from New York, won the honor to lead the East squad.

Lancer coaches weighed tradition and allowed promising sophomores to participate in varsity practices and games. Sophomores learned the finer points of football as they increased East's chances for an outstanding grid team in the coming years. This year Bob Russell was East's first sophomore letterman.

A 4-4-1 record was highlighted by some outstanding performances by fifteen returning letterman who rounded out the third ranked Sunflower league team. Co-captains Jim McMurry and Dave Hazlett encouraged the team and led them to victory. Finally to end the season, the coaches and team elected Danny Hecker and John Smith as Back of the Year and Lineman of the Year, respectively.

Northtown Yields In Opener Under Powerful Lancer Attack

The East line provides protection for the Lancer quarterback as he waits for downfield receivers to pull clear.

Opening their season on a note of victory, the Lancers crushed the North Kansas City Hornets, 33-7. This initial conflict revealed a strong offense good for 447 total yards, which featured the strong running of seniors Mitch Rainen, Steve Harrison, and Jim Maher. Rainen also aided a tough Lancer defense with his three pass interceptions.

The following week, the Blue and Black lost to an inspired Topeka team, 0-15, in its first league game. The tough Topeka defense yielded only 79 yards and four first downs. An excellent individual performance turned in by senior linebacker Jim Johnson highlighted this disappointing defeat.

The Lancers recovered from their loss to Topeka, tying SM South, 7-7. After a strong East drive died on the 5-yard line in the first quarter, East's only score came on a 20 yard run by senior quarterback Danny Hecker, late in the fourth quarter. Place kicker Steve Sailor booted an extra point to insure the tie.

Junior placekicker Steve Sailor displays excellent form as he executes one of his several successful extra point attempts.

For Decisive Touchdowns

Expert punting by Jim Hesler and fumble recoveries by seniors Len Crase and Vic Clark drove the Lancers over Washington 20-7 for their first league victory. The East defense held the Wildcats to only one touchdown. Dan Hecker lighted up the scoreboard with three Lancer touchdowns for the victory.

The Blue and Black rolled by the Wyandotte Bulldogs during a spectacular homecoming grid game. Halfback Mitch Rainen had a busy night racking up two TD passes, two interceptions, and a fumble recovery. Senior Dan Hecker completed six of eight pass attempts for 110 yards. Other standouts were Steve Harrison, Jim Dibble, and kicker Steve Sailor.

S M East stepped down from second place in the Sunflower league after a discouraging loss to the Topeka West Chargers. The Lancers led in yards rushing and passing but were plagued by fumbles and interceptions. After four quarters of scoreless play, the Blue and Black was defeated 15-0.

Halfback Steve Harrison picks up a blocker as he sprints around the left end, combining footwork with power for long yardage.

Opening holes in the West line, Lancer blockers lead the way for senior halfback Jim Hesler.

Mud-covered gridders display the results of the mud slinging contest where fans as well as players suffered from the weather.

Lancers Roll Over West, 26-14, Brave Mud In North Loss

Three-year basketball letterman Bob Albo uses his rebounding talents to snare a Hecker pass.

Plagued by fumbles and a wet field, the Blue and Black lost to SM North, 7-13. A pass from quarterback Danny Hecker to senior end Tom Larson proved to be the only score the gridders could raise against the undefeated North team. The game clinched the league championship for the Indians, marking their third straight Sunflower League title.

The following week, Hecker again spearheaded the Lancer scoring attack, passing for three touchdowns and running for another in the victory over the West Vikings, 26-14. Fine defensive play by Jim McMurtry and Dave Hazlett sealed the Lancer win. The game proved to be one of the best offensive performances East put together throughout the season, making 14 first downs and a total of 256 yards.

A disappointing defeat resulted from the rescheduled game with Lawrence, 7-13. The Blue and Black held the lead with a superior defensive effort until the last 13 seconds of the game. A Hecker to Rainen pass gave East their only score on the Haskell field.

Mud-spattered gridders go into the set position as Danny Hecker faces a first down situation against North.

Outside linemen try to block a conversion attempt by Steve Sailor as Lancer blockers stop West's inside defense.

West lineman converge on the powerful Lancer full-back, Jim Maher, as East blockers attempt to break holes in the Viking defense to free him for needed yardage for another touchdown.

The Lancer jv entered this season with the prospect of winning its fifth consecutive league championship. However, after victories in the first two games against North Kansas City and Topeka, the squad was held scoreless for the remainder of the season. The team finished with a disappointing 2-4-1 record, the tie coming in a 0-0 standoff against Wyandotte. Some of the outstanding juniors on the jv who also aided the varsity were Hal Edwards, Kevin McNellis, John Welsh, and Bob Linebarger.

The sophomore players, once again divided into two squads, achieved an overall record of six wins, five losses, and one tie. The first team defeated the Lawrence 'C' team but lost to rival SM North's sophomores on the way to a 3-3-1 record. The second team finished 3-2.

This year the various squads worked more closely together than in previous years. Many standouts on the sophomore squads also aided the varsity and jv. Some of the sophomores seeing action in all three divisions were Bob Russell, Alan McCoy, Darrall Chamblee, Kirk Klanke, Rod Juno, and Steve Brady.

Looking over the opposition's leaders, Lancer sophomore team captains choose to receive the kick-off during a pre-game meeting.

Lancer Harriers Combine Difficult Workouts With Race

A well bundled harrier presents a thoughtful mood of success after the state meet.

STATE CHAMPS - Kneeling: R. Lee, D. Griffith, C. Forbes, D. Harvey. Standing: D. Jarrett, B. Good, D. Latham, Coach Karl Englund.

Team captain Dennet Latham finishes strong in front of Dave Anderson, a strong rival from Shawnee Mission South.

Repeating the successes of last year, the Shawnee Mission East harriers captured their second State championship. Coach Karl Englund, recent transfer from the football program to cross-country, found two returning lettermen and only one with varsity experience. Despite this lack of seasoning, the thinclads took six first place trophies and one second.

Pre-season conditioning consisted of over-distance workouts up to ten miles, uphill runs, and wind sprints. The first weekend found the two milers at Wamego, later site of the state meet. Their nearest competitor, Wyandotte, finished 35 points behind. By skipping the Salina Invitational the Lancers had time to prepare for their first meeting with S-M South at Wichita. Superb individual performances by the first five East runners contributed to the downfall of the highly ranked Raiders. A five point margin illustrated the strength of both teams and the rivalry that continues to exist.

Legmen Capture Six First Place Trophies On Circuit

The Blue and Black stayed home the next week to sponsor their own meet. All the times were slow because of the weather; however, the Lancers succeeded in beating the South Raiders by three points. This was the first time East had won its own meet. South obtained revenge at the S-M Quadrangular where the Lancers paced to a second place finish 20 points behind the resurging Raiders.

The loss made the thinclads work harder as the three important meets league, region, and state came closer. Running at Topeka's new course at Big Shunga Park, the two milers succeeded in defeating South for the third time by only four points. A strong finish by Bill Good and Dave Harvey was the key to the Lancer victory. Shawnee Mission Park was the location of the Eastern Regional meet. S-M East, S-M South, and S-M North won berths for the state meet the next week. Dennet Latham, Dave Harvey, and Bill Good added to an East victory in the state meet at Wamego.

Washington Suffers Setback By Blue And Black 63-42

Jumping talent provides Joe Hiersteiner with the tip-off against Washington to begin the second half.

Lancer basketball players support their fellow team members during a game with the Shawnee Mission West Vikings.

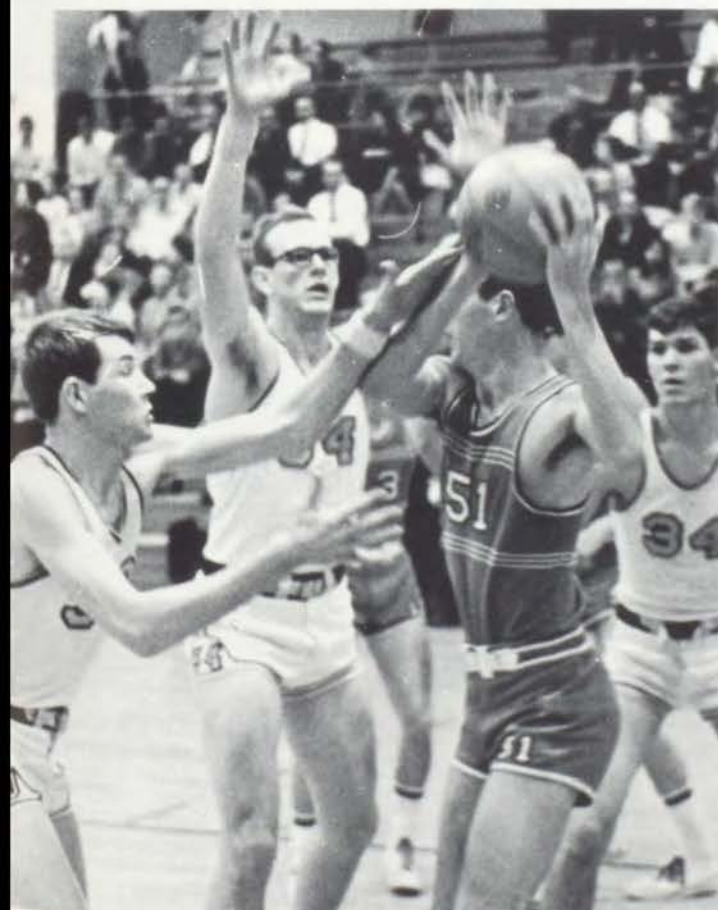

The Lancers began their season in an enthusiastically anticipated battle with rival SM North. Despite a strong scoring effort by Barry Edwards, senior center, who had 14 points, East was on the short end of a 54-59 final score.

The following week, East played host to SM West and Raytown. Sinking only 27 percent of their shots, the Lancers dropped their first league contest to the Vikings of West, 45-64. On the next night, however, the Blue and Black reversed its losing ways with an impressive 57-41 victory over Raytown, with senior forward Bill Crutchfield hitting for 14 points.

Dropping their league mark to 0-2, the Lancers fell to the Topeka West Chargers, 39-66. Bill Chambers, junior forward, topped East in scoring with 15 points, hitting 7 of 13 shots. Chambers led the Lancers again with 12 points in the game against Topeka. Although East was behind by only 2 points at the half, the tough Topeka press forced 22 Lancer turnovers and aided the top-ranked Trojans to a 44-68 victory.

Maneuvering around a Washington defensive man, Bob Albo, three year letterman, exhibits his dribbling talents.

Team spirit is exhibited by Bill Crutchfield as he controls the ball, despite the efforts of Washington players.

Manhattan Dumps Lancers In Double Overtime Battle

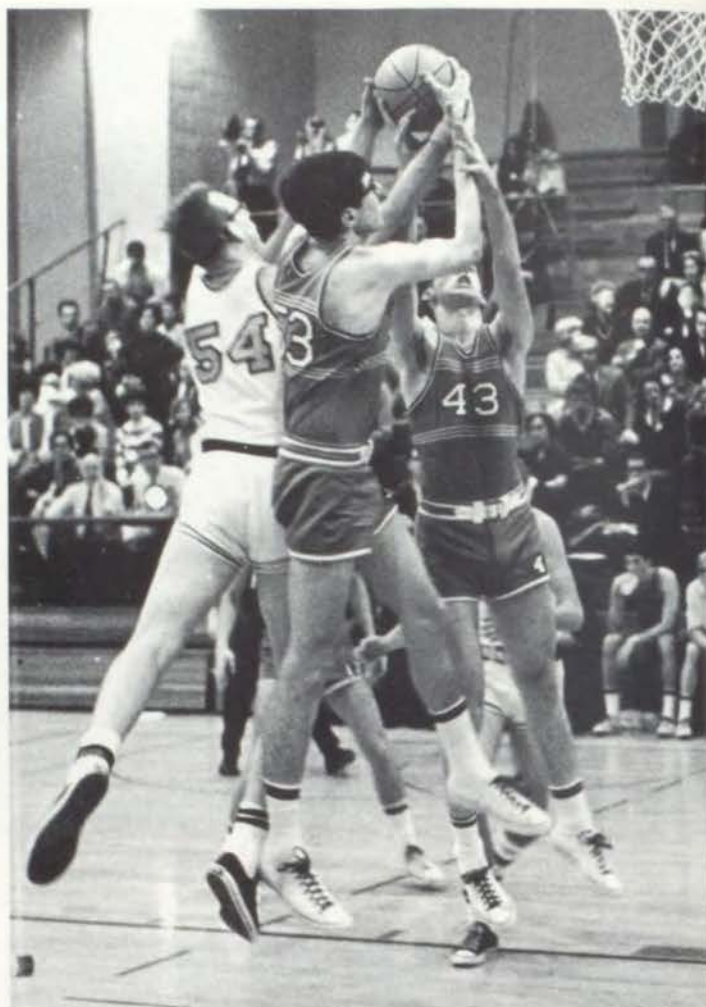

Driving around a Washington defender, senior forward Bob Albo breaks downcourt to set up the Lancers' offensive thrust.

Manhattan defeated The Lancers in a double overtime game, 72-74. Outstanding offensive play by Bill Chambers gave East the lead through most of the game.

The Washington Wildcats suffered at the hands of the Lancers in a hard fought game, 63-42. Bill Crutchfield, senior forward, highlighted the East attack with 17 points and ten rebounds. The victory provided the Blue and Black with their first league win.

Two successive defeats to the Kansas powerhouses Wyandotte and Ward were caused by a combination of a lack of power shooting and rebounding. A tremendous second half performance by the Bulldogs sealed the victory over East, 48-79. Ward was plagued by poor shooting but made up for it in rebounding and still trounced the Lancers, 45-63.

A fullcourt press by the West Vikings was successful in rolling over East, 44-66. Bill Crutchfield led the team scoring with 16 points. West held the lead for the entire game. The Lancers could not gain scoring momentum.

Seniors Bill Crutchfield (43) and Barry Edwards (53) use their inside position to snatch a valuable defensive rebound from a SM West opponent.

Resurging Lancer "A" Team During The Second Half

Perfect balance and concentration is exhibited by an unknown Lancer and a Ward player during a jump ball.

Sumner, the third ranked team in the city, trounced the Lancers, 62-71. Bill Crutchfield led the Lancer attack with 18 points and hauled down seven rebounds.

The Blue and Black bowed to a powerful North team in a closely fought battle, 55-58. All the Lancers exhibited a fine performance with Bill Chambers at the head of their attack.

A 43-point second half gave the Topeka Trojans an overwhelming win over the Lancers, 60-77. Chambers and Crutchfield hit for 25 and 13 points, respectively.

The league leading Wyandotte Bulldogs gave East their sixth consecutive loss 44-71. SM South fell to a powerful Lancer offense during a second half comeback. Lancer stalwarts Crutchfield and Chambers scored 27 of the total points.

The Lawrence Lions defeated the Blue and Black in the last season game, 62-79. A full court press and superior rebounding were too much for the Lancers.

Lancer playmaker Chris Henry flies through a cluster of SM South foes to add a quick two points to East's second half lead.

Junior Varsity Basketballers Beat North In Overtime Contest

Rick Boesharr, the only visible Lancer, scrambles for the ball in the midst of West Vikings.

The Lancer junior varsity, under the direction of Coach Ed Matuszak, once again completed its season with a better record than the varsity. The squad finished the year with a 5-11 mark in all competition. This record includes a 44-43 victory over Ward and an exciting 72-70 victory over rival SM North in a game that went into three overtimes.

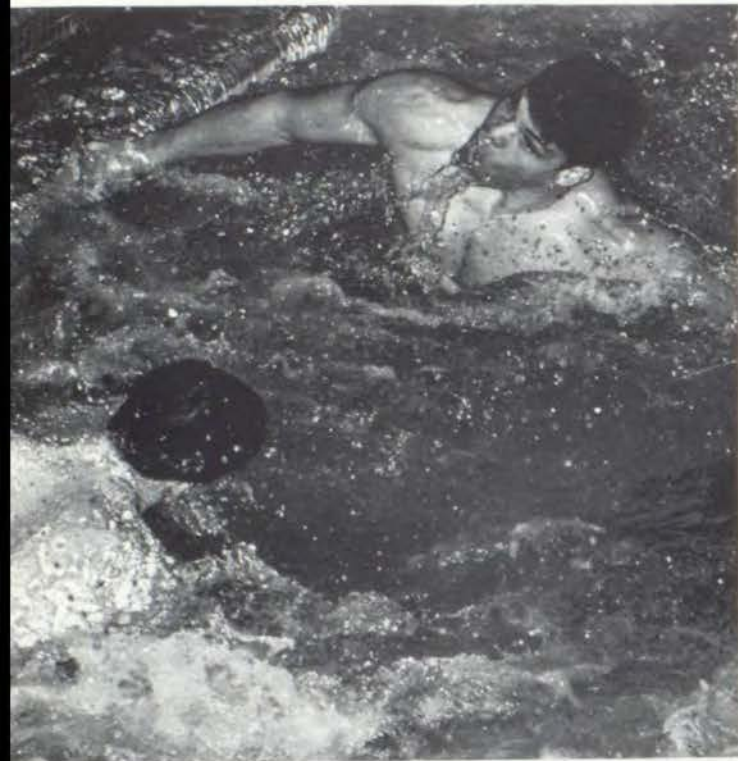

The JV squad was aided by several sophomore players this year, the most outstanding being Dave Sensintaffar, who averaged seven points a game. The top scorer for the team, junior Dave Harvey, scored better than 11 points a game.

The two sophomore teams combined for a 13-14 overall record. The first team, led by Coach John Oman, played to a 9-7 record, including a 57-53 victory over SM North's sophomores. Dick Canale and Steve Logan both finished the season averaging better than 10 points per game. Coach George Bloomster led the second team to a 4-7 record, with a 4-4 mark against other "B" teams.

Forward Bill Crutchfield lunges in vain for the ball as it sails out of bounds after he batted it away from a SM North opponent.

Lancers Swim Over State Champions Wichita East

Gasping for air, sophomore Steve Brady strains to overtake his competitor Lon McCroskey on a flip turn.

Distance man Rex Hearst swims to a fifth place in the 400-yard freestyle at the state meet with a 4:23.6.

Surrounded by timers, judges, and fellow swimmers, Jeff Briley leads off the 400-yard free relay at the state meet.

Aided by nine returning lettermen, the '67-68 swim team produced one of the best dual meet records in East's history. In Kansas competition the Lancers lost only to Wichita Southeast, 47-48. In six other meets East won.

Norris Stauffer replaced Bob Watson as head swimming coach this year. The one-time All-America swimmer used his knowledge to place swimmers in appropriate events. Captain Jeff Liss added his past knowledge of the various swimmers. This team of coach and captain drove the Lancers to third in the state.

The Lancers began their swim season on a note of defeat. Southwest upset the Blue and Black 42-53. A triangular was held at the YM-CA against Topeka and SM South. Although illness prevented some tanksters from competing, the Lancers came out on top with 72 points. The swim team then traveled to Wichita for a meet with last year's state champions Wichita East. Wins in both relays proved instrumental as our swimmers defeated the champs, 52-43. Frank Wolfson and Steve Harrison placed first in individual events.

East's next opponent was the league champ, Wyandotte. Again the value of relays was proved as East dethroned Wyandotte, 58-37. A league contender, Topeka West, was also a victim of the powerful East squad. A win over SM South concluded the Lancer's duel meet season.

This year SM East hosted the Sunflower League meet. Three teams were battling for the title—East, Topeka West, and Wyandotte. East's medaly relay team took top honors with a 1:50.4. East's free relay won a gold medal to conclude the meet with Wyandotte retaining their crown.

To end the season, all teams from Kansas traveled to KU for the state meet. Lancers who placed in state were Steve Harrison, 1st in diving, Paul Schmidt, 2nd in the 200-yard free, Rex Hearst, 5th in the 200 and 400-yard free, and Jeff Liss, 3rd in the 100-yard butterfly. Both relay teams qualified in the top six. The free relay clocked a 3:31.0 to capture third place. East placed third in team standings while Wyandotte took top honors. A fine showing at state highlighted an excellent year of swimming.

Freestyler Paul Schmidt relieves the tension of the up-coming event by talking with the timers and judges about East's chance of winning.

East Linkmen Concentrate

An unknown linkman stretches daylight as far as possible to receive the needed practice lost over the winter months.

Junior Dick Clancey marks his ball to insure the safety of the position of his strategic lie.

During tryouts, East golfers are purposely put into difficult positions to exhibit their golfing ability.

The 1968 golf season opened in the spring with good chances of producing a highly ranked team according to head coach Glenn Saunders. The nucleus of the team will be concentrated in Seniors Barry Praver, Corky Hardin, Bill Crutchfield, Craig Cellner, Doug Powell, and junior Dick Clancey. These linksters will be the backbone of the two and four-man teams needed to place high in large invitationals. Other players have shown their talent and can very easily be distributed to give the East squad great depth in competition.

Due to cold weather, the golf team tryouts were delayed. But coach Saunders was able to select four Lancers to participate in the first quadrangular. Clancey, Cellner, Praver, and Powell represented East at the meet held at Mission Hills against three area high school teams. The next scheduled meet was a state-wide event in which East entered a two and four-man team. The season will end with the Salina Invitational, the league, regional, and state meets.

Strength And Endurance Bring Success To East's Tracksters

Top low hurdler Bill Chambers stretches to clear the barrier and maintain his lead over sophomore Steve Brady at the SM East Quad.

The 1968 season promised to be another good year for the varsity track squad. Head coach Karl Englund rated this year's team as potentially the greatest in East's history. For the second straight year the squad included the state cross-country champions.

In addition to overall depth in distance East had several individual stand outs. Senior Bob Albo, state indoor 440 yard dash champion, is expected to win consistently in the 440. Albo is followed closely by junior Bob Robinson, who will also earn valuable points in the 440. In the distance events, Dennet Latham, senior, and Bill Good, junior, are both potential champions in the mile. Junior Dave Harvey gives the squad strength in the two-mile. East's main weakness was in the short sprints and hurdles. However, Jim Hesler, senior sprinter, and Bill Chambers, junior hurdler, are expected to correct this fault.

Veteran long jumper Jim Hesler stretches for extra inches to outdistance his opponents and gain another victory.

Field Events Bring Lancer Victory In Season's First Meet

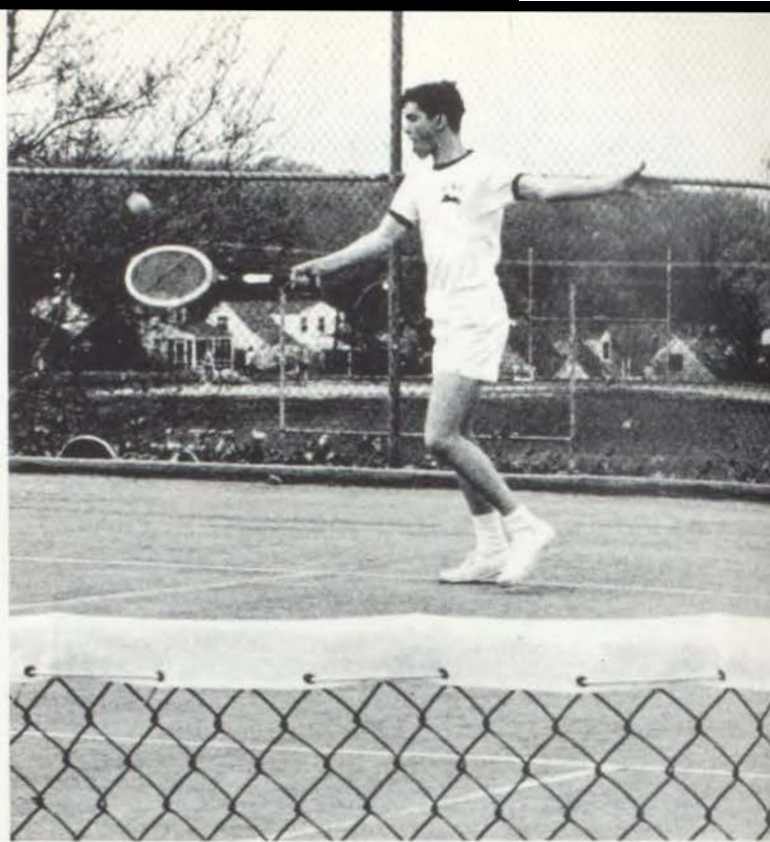

The Lancers' greatest strength this year lies in the field events. With almost all of last year's weight squad returning, East can rely on the weight events for valuable points. The shot put features Steve Schwartz, one of the strongest in the state. Dan Hecker and Len Crase should outdistance their foes in the javelin, while Hal Edwards, a junior, will turn in winning throws in the discus.

The varsity also shows good talent in the jumps. Rick Old and Ross Morgan will handle the high jump, with Old jumping toward the school record. In the pole vault, Gregg Thomas continues to improve and should develop into a consistent winner. Jim Hesler will again be East's top competitor in the long jump.

Shot-putter Steve Schwartz unleashes a mighty heave which gained him a meet record and a spot in the regionals.

One of the basic skills of tennis is exhibited by Chris Henry, three-year letterman, as he completes a forehand shot.

Dave Kantor, a talented sophomore, combines form and accuracy to serve the ball with the maximum amount of speed.

Chances For A State Title

Expectations were high for the 1968 season as the Lancer tennis team vied for its third doubles championship and its sixth singles championship. Coach Phil Berg, who in his fourth year of coaching, was well equipped with several noteworthy performers.

Strengthening East's chances for another league championship was Dave Kantor, a sophomore ranked eighth in his age bracket of the Missouri Valley. Chris Henry, a three-year letterman teamed up with Kantor to make up a powerful doubles combination. One-year letterman Ken Watson also rated high in the Missouri Valley, returned for another season. Enhancing a great prospective team were Kevin McCaul, Terry Kilroy, Jim McMurtry, and Bob Gibson.

Providing the Blue and Black with the most competition will be SM South which has a great deal of talent. Because tennis is an individual, rather than a team sport, East's bid for a state victory is a strong one.

Under Student Congress control, the intramurals committee sponsored competitive sessions of athletics for interested boys. Basketball and volleyball tournaments determined winners from among faculty and student teams.

The Girls' Athletic Association, headed by president Peggy Witcher, organized a similar program. 1968 activities, which included tennis, volleyball, hockey, and bowling, ended with the annual GAA banquet. Trophies and letters were given to team and individual winners best exemplifying the purpose and spirit of the association.

Sponsored by physical education teachers, both programs offered after-school and Saturday exercise on an informal basis.

Development Of Prom Plans

The class of '69 began its second year with increased opportunity for school participation. As their first official act, juniors elected four class officers: Todd Husty, president; Cathy Havener, vice president; Ann Nixon, treasurer; and Beth Potter, secretary.

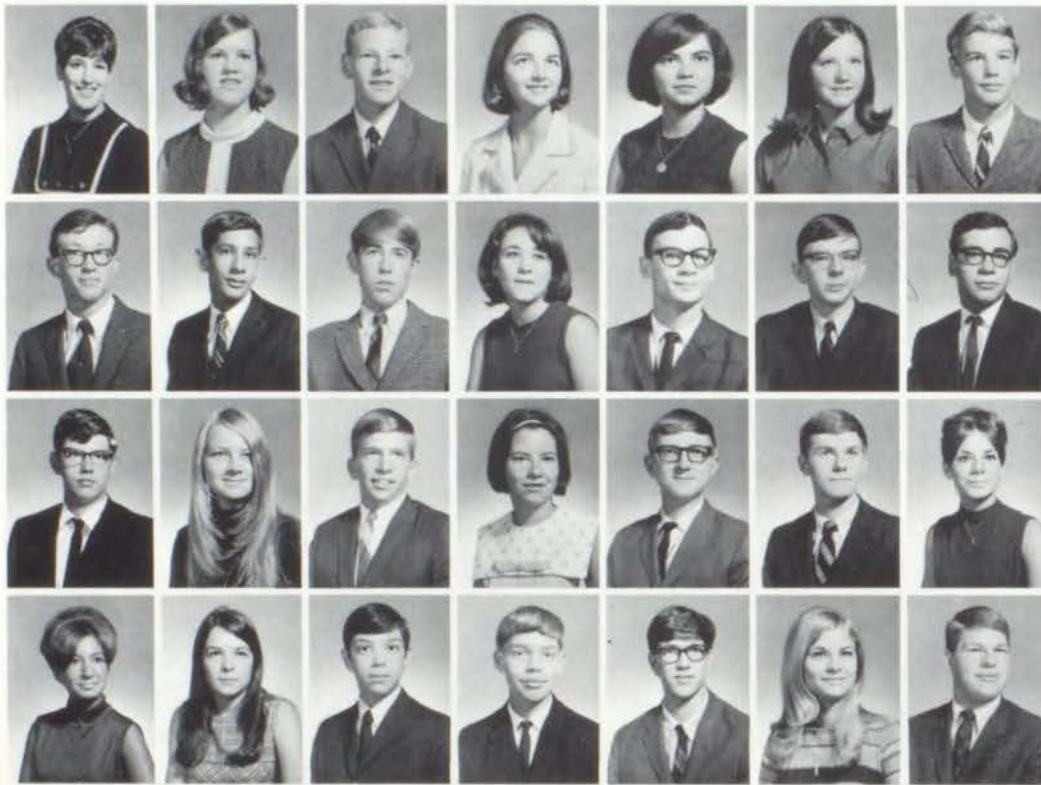

Junior-Senior Prom, the major class project, enabled juniors to display their various creative talents. Committees were chosen from junior applications and work began soon after. The spring affair was totally planned, constructed, and financed by executives and class members.

Academically, juniors concentrated on testing programs, including Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude and National Merit Scholarship tests. Juniors, who received class rankings for the first time, began searching for college choices.

By earning top positions in school organizations, juniors gained responsibility and leadership privileges in preparation for assuming influential roles during their senior year.

Seniors Distinguish Final

The senior class of 1968 carried responsibility for academic, athletic, and personal leadership of the student body. In their final year of high school, seniors tackled SAT exams and college-preparatory courses. Experienced debaters and dramatists revealed their talents in tournaments and school productions, while star senior athletes achieved swimming titles and the state cross-country championship. StuCo and Pep Club officers maintained school traditions and spirit.

Class officers ensured seniors a special assembly and an appropriate gift as Senior Day and graduation approached. In addition to their duties as senior executives, president Jim Langknecht, vice-president Steve Ogilvie, secretary Susie Neff, and treasurer Pat O'Hearne defined the goals for the entire student body to establish 1968 as a successful school year.

YEH! YEH! EAST

Long after graduation you'll cheer the old school colors. But, long after you leave school will you be so cheerful about your bank account?

Practice thrift! Save a part of every paycheck and you'll have something to cheer about! No need to wait! Start your Saving Program now! Come in, let's talk it over.

TRAIN FOR THE JOB YOU WANT!

You can have a bright future. Specialized training is the key to success in today's modern, fast-moving world. Specialized training can qualify you for a career, a good-paying career, a satisfying career. You won't have to settle for just a routine, and often deadend, job. At Draughon's you can train for a position that offers both security and prestige.

There is a course of study just for you. Draughon's offers you a wide variety of courses to fit your aptitudes and preferences:

- Accounting (Basic through CPA)
- Court Reporting
- Drafting
- Secretarial
- Clerk-Typist
- Business Administration
- Business Machines
- Automation
- Speedwriting
- Nancy Taylor Charm and Finishing Course
- MR. EXECUTIVE Success Course

Single-subject courses are also available to round out or brush up your present skills.

You train fast, get on the job fast. Draughon's courses are short and intensive. There are no extra, general subjects to distract or slow your progress. Thus, you get your specialized training in a minimum amount of time and at a minimum cost to you. This puts you in the job market sooner, qualifies you to start earning an excellent salary sooner.

Draughon's offers you special features in choosing your area of study and while you are training:

- No time limit on learning
- Progressive teaching
- Tuition loan assistance
- Free testing
- Free counseling service
- Part-time job assistance
- Housing assistance
- ½-Day, Full-Day, Night Classes

The time to start training is now. Good jobs are now available for properly trained persons. Every week Draughon's Free Placement Department assists graduates in finding excellent jobs. A respected name in business and industry, Draughon's has placed thousands of graduates with most of the large, well-known companies and firms in this area.

Inquire right away for information. Get complete details on how you can train quickly—and at low cost—for a successful career. Call VI 2-1347 or drop by either of Draughon's two convenient locations—downtown, at Traders Bank Building, 12th and Grand . . . southtown, at 1815 E. 63rd Street. Or inquire at Draughon's College Offices at 1123 Grand (street level). Call or visit Draughon's right away. You will be glad you did!

College Preview Program

- What unexpected expenses might I encounter at college?
- How should I plan courses and budget study time?

Have questions about college? Come to our College Preview Program this summer where our College Staff discusses and answers questions vital to college-bound high school seniors. The program, held in Commerce Tower, lasts two hours. You may arrange to attend on some weekday afternoon or evening, or on a Saturday morning. Refreshments are served and each guest receives an information kit and a useful gift.

Interested in attending this free program? Call the College Staff office at VI 2-7500 for details.

Four ways of looking at BMA

Business Men's Assurance Company is much more than a tall, white marble landmark on the Kansas City skyline. BMA is an organization of skilled people providing financial protection for hundreds of thousands of persons in the United States as well as other countries. Here are four ways of looking at us:

- 1. Life and health insurance policyowners across the nation look to BMA as a source of financial security. Their life insurance protection alone totals more than $4,289,000,000 in force.
- 2. Owners of business firms, large and small, who have BMA group health, hospitalization, major medical, life, or pension plans see us as a helpful partner in an important role of their lives—employee benefits.
- 3. Reinsurance clients and investment people we deal with in Canada, Latin America, Australia and Europe, as well as the United States, see us as a strong, reliable source of insurance protection and as a knowledgeable investment counselor.
- 4. To our clients and friends in Kansas City, in addition to the BMA Tower, we are three branch sales offices located at 7 East Gregory, 600 City National Bank Building, and 6005 Martway, Shawnee Mission, with 65 trained sales representatives ready to consult and advise on a full line of life and health insurance protection plans.

Next To The Last Word. . .

The theme of our book is simple. We feel that in the same way that every experience of our lives affect our personalities, all the activities of SM East will become a permanent part of us. We have tried to show that each student not only changes SM East by his participation, but is himself changed by his school.

And in a very real sense, this year's Hauberks has become a part of each of us thirty who have shared its headaches, deadlines, parties, and in its final completion. This yearbook is the result of a staff who refused to let me down and never compromised their all-out effort. There was Sarah, who came up with our theme; Diane, who often went beyond her job as treasurer to help in production and setting up pictures; Judy, who will never forget the night the junior pictures had to be re-done; and Carol, who pulled her staff through some tense moments with 30 pages of advertising to meet the largest budget in East's history. There was Joanie, who sold Hauberks to a record 97% of the student body; Candy, who combined tradition and contemporary design into our cover; and Jim who somehow got our sports done without ever learning how to type. These pages are a part of Bill, who with his staff created all of the photographs for the color introduction in a frantic three weeks; and Patsy, whose devotion to literary duties was forgotten only by the attraction of an open convertible during school hours. Our 1968 Hauberks—its color, size, budget, and delivery would not exist but for the support and guidance of Mr. Perdaris and the endless patience of Mr. Smith and Mr. Frischer, our publishers. Then too, it would not exist without the 2000 students who make up SM East—who lent their faces to our photographers and their names to our staff to make up the Hauberks.

The thirty of us have combined our talents to give you the best yearbook that we knew how to produce. But look beyond the word of copy, the photograph, the single page. Try to feel a sense of identification with Shawnee Mission East in your first, second, or senior year. And if you can feel this book become a part of you, then we'll be more than satisfied.

Dave Morgenstern

Editor Dave Morgenstern re-checks his camera angle as he takes an exposure of an oil refining plant for the color introduction.

Experiences of a year, 1967-1968...

Experiences we knew would become a part of the heritage of Shawnee Mission East when we graduated... a kaleidoscope of people, ideas, and moods... the search for ourselves... pride in our outstanding academic, athletic, and social accomplishments...

uncertainty as sophomores, gradually replaced by self-assurance as seniors... mechanical resignation to the routine of a final six-weeks—homeroom, morning announcements, term papers...

anticipation of celebration at Senior Assembly... impatience, yet anxiety, in the face of the future... the nostalgic realization that three of the best years of our lives were over...

The finality of commencement... all experiences now past, but through the memory of words and pictures, retained...

These were the experiences we shared during a year, 1967-1968...

This was Shawnee Mission East...
a part of us.

The first part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that every entry, no matter how small, should be recorded to ensure the integrity of the financial data. This includes not only sales and purchases but also expenses and income. The text suggests that a consistent and thorough record-keeping system is essential for identifying trends and making informed decisions.

In the second section, the author addresses the challenges of budgeting and financial planning. It notes that many businesses struggle to stay within their budgets due to unforeseen expenses or changes in market conditions. The document provides several strategies to mitigate these risks, such as creating a contingency fund and regularly reviewing the budget to adjust for any deviations. It also highlights the importance of having a clear financial goal and a realistic timeline for achieving it.

The third part of the document focuses on the role of technology in modern business operations. It discusses how various software solutions, such as accounting systems and CRM tools, can streamline processes and improve efficiency. The text mentions that while technology offers many benefits, it also comes with its own set of challenges, including data security and the need for employee training. The author advises businesses to carefully evaluate their options and invest in technology that aligns with their specific needs and goals.

Finally, the document concludes with a section on the importance of customer service and relationship management. It states that providing excellent customer service is not just a nice-to-have but a critical component of long-term success. The text suggests that businesses should invest in training for their staff and implement systems to track customer feedback. By building strong relationships with their customers, businesses can increase loyalty and drive repeat sales.

The first part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that every entry, no matter how small, should be recorded to ensure the integrity of the financial statements. This includes not only sales and purchases but also expenses and income. The document further explains that proper record-keeping is essential for identifying trends, managing cash flow, and complying with tax regulations.

In addition, the document highlights the need for regular reconciliation of accounts. By comparing the company's internal records with bank statements and other external sources, discrepancies can be identified and corrected promptly. This process helps to prevent errors and ensures that the financial data is up-to-date and reliable.

The second part of the document focuses on the classification of assets and liabilities. It provides a detailed breakdown of how different types of assets, such as property, equipment, and inventory, should be valued and reported. Similarly, it outlines the methods for classifying liabilities, including short-term debt and long-term obligations. The document stresses that accurate classification is crucial for providing a clear picture of the company's financial position.

Finally, the document concludes by discussing the importance of transparency and accountability in financial reporting. It encourages companies to provide clear, concise, and honest information to their stakeholders. By doing so, they can build trust and ensure the long-term success of their business.

The first part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records in a business setting. It highlights how proper record-keeping can help in decision-making, legal compliance, and financial management. The text emphasizes that records should be organized, up-to-date, and easily accessible.

Next, the document addresses the challenges of data management in the digital age. It notes that while digital storage offers convenience, it also introduces risks such as data loss, security breaches, and information overload. Solutions like cloud storage, encryption, and regular backups are suggested to mitigate these risks.

The third section focuses on the role of technology in streamlining business processes. It describes how automation and software solutions can reduce manual errors, save time, and improve overall efficiency. Examples of tools used for project management, communication, and data analysis are provided.

Finally, the document concludes by stressing the need for continuous learning and adaptation. As technology and market conditions evolve, businesses must stay informed and be willing to adopt new practices to remain competitive and successful.
