Forward

In the grand old state Missouri,
Kansas City the location,
Stands the castle of the brave Knights
With its tower reaching skyward.
Round about it stretch the gardens,
Stretch the gardens of the parents,
Gleaming near it, breeze-tossed waters
Break the parkway's emerald cover.
On the skyline to the northward
Tower great buildings proud in splendor.

Skilled Guildmasters guide the Pages,
Tame the wise but foolish Heralds,
Help the all-ambitious Squires, and
Smile upon those reaching Knighthood.
As all pass through various rankings,
Join they Orders for amusement.
Scrolls they publish, act their own scripts,
Exhibit prowess in all tournaments.
In honor clubs some find rewards
For scholarship and work of merit.

ADMINISTRATION

ADMINISTRATION

By the firm administration
Knights are guided in their conquests,
Helped across the raging waters
Of lost hope when problems meet them.
Knights are taught that paths of glory
Span the fields where work is hardest,
Triumph for those who despair not
Comes with noble compensation.
Thus the Knights are guided safely
In their search for greater knowledge.

From the Round Table the students
Bring our by-laws into being,
Make the standards for right conduct,
Urge true loyalty and valor,
Strive with democratic measures
To attain the heights of Knighthood.
Boxes filled by Red Cross workers
Help war veterans and children
Who in foreign homes of sadness
Have no other hope of pleasure.
In the library, books are chosen
With the aid of kind assistants.

Girls assist the nurse and office
In the day's routine procedure
Money's cared for by collectors
Counted and recorded by them.
Guards in hall and cafeteria
Help keep order as it should be.
Able workers clean our building,
While good cooks prepare our lunches.

HARRY McMILLAN, Principal

DEAR SENIORS:

With the end of World War II, mankind is reminded that war does not settle disputes among nations. Wars are not won. Both victor and vanquished nations are losers through loss of lives, destruction of property, expenditure of exorbitant sums of money, and appearance of numerous new problems. Yes, firing has ceased but disputes are still unsettled.

When representatives of nations assemble around a "Round Table" having no north, south, east, west, head, or foot, and where the Golden Rule is the unit for measuring "Right" or "Wrong" decisions, mutual problems will be solved and the causes of war eliminated.

Our participation in World War I and World War II was provoked by sneak military attacks by Germany and Japan, respectively. Our role in each was that of an attacked nation forced to defend all that we cherish—our way of life, our democracy. Sixteen Knights of Southeast, included with thousands of other patriots, defended, protected, and preserved with their lives our cherished heritage. Truly, our appreciation for their sacrifices and our responsibilities as good citizens demand individual determination and right living to cherish all for which they died. Thus our way of life will find nourishment at our individual doorsteps.

As you continue as Knights and Ladies possessed of the highest ideals and standards, our best wishes go with you.

Sincerely yours,

Harry McMillan

GEORGE R. POWELL, Vice-Principal

DEAR SENIORS:

Our Service men and women have carried the burdens of battle bravely. In every part of the world they have worked side by side with the brown, white, red, black, and yellow races of mankind. They have learned the true meaning and value of cooperation which is necessary for Victory in war and is even more necessary if we would win and keep the peace purchased for us. We should do this in the name of all who served, but especially in the name of those who paid the supreme sacrifice.

May we earnestly strive to unite all people of the world into one great brotherhood; and to you the graduates of 1946 will come marvelous opportunities for participation in rapid worldwide travel, radio-television development, and large scale international commerce. The way you practice the ideals of democratic living in your dealings will be the measure of your contribution toward world peace and unification.

Our best wishes to each Knight and Lady. May each of you win true happiness through wise and unselfish service to your fellowmen.

Very sincerely,

George R. Powell

FIRST SEMESTER ROUND TABLE

Fourth Row—Bud Laughlin, Kurt Young, Dean Audsley, George Saller, David Smalley, Rodger Alleman, Allison Keyes, John Perdeu.

Third Row—Carol Beery, Eleanore Rowe, Helen Edwards, Janie Brown, Alma Cochran, Dorothy Ganser, Carol Winton, Dorothy Jennings, Eugene Sanna.

First Row—Insets: Jean Frerking, Miss Mary Latshaw, Jay Jewett, Sydney Dull, Robert Hawkins, Bill Gill, Pauline Cater, Juliene Williams.

Southeast's participating governing body, the Round Table, has carried on its work this year under the sponsorship of Miss Mary L. Latshaw.

As in other years, the Round Table sponsored Open House one night during American Education Week in order that teachers and parents could become better acquainted. They encouraged the sale of Victory Bonds and stamps throughout the year. During the final drive, each person who bought one or more bonds was given a General Wainwright badge.

The Round Table encouraged the student body to be more polite at all times. They also attempted a campus beautification program. Many of their plans will be completed in the future.

Second Row—Gwen Gibby, Doris Clark, Joanne McLane, Dorothy Ganser, David Belzer, Roger Banghart, Tom Woodward, Ed Middleton.

First Row—Paul Perme, Rodney Wernicke, Jay Jewett, Joy Graver, Patsy Smith, Linda Stevens, Pat Young. Inset: David Smalley.

Among the many functions of the Round Table, the most important is the prompt consideration of suggestions made by students through their home rooms. These suggestions are voted on by the Round Table, and if passed are submitted to the proper person to be carried out.

Southeast worked for the beautification of the campus and added a temporary sidewalk northwest of the building. Students were urged to use only the walks. The publicity for the community meeting, February 14, was prompted by the Round Table, and a contest was held in the home rooms for the largest attendance and most attractive lapel tag. Southeast has always encouraged the writing of original school songs and such work was renewed this year.

OFFICE STAFF

LIBRARIANS

Mr. Jones, Mr. Powell, Miss Patch, Mrs. Smith, Mr. McMillan, Miss Robinson, Miss Dingee.
Insets: Ruth Robinson, Registrar; Dolores Patch, Secretary.

The office staff consists of Miss Ruth Robinson, registrar, and Miss Delores Patch, clerk. It is their responsibility to look after all school records, enrollments, transfers, and withdrawals. They take care of excuses and tardies, lost and found articles, and attend to other innumerable duties which running a school entails.

Have you ever considered what we would do without a library? All through the year students use the library for reference work in connection with assignments. For studies and just for pleasure, books play an important part in the building of a person's education and in strengthening his character.

Miss Deatherage and her assistants are kept busy finding books for both teachers and students. We owe them a vote of gratitude for their services.

Sallie E. Deatherage, Branch Librarian; Flora Denebein, Children's Assistant; Ruth Graham, Subprofessional Assistant; Francis Helff, Children's Librarian; Kathryn Hoffer, First Assistant.

The collectors, a select group of students working under the supervision of Mr. M. M. Bills, took care of all money collected for school activities, the community fund, and Victory Bonds and stamps. They also delivered tickets for school activities to the home rooms.

Joy Carey and Irene Bell worked in the Health

Center as aids to Mrs. Oleeda Mall Smith, the school nurse. During the tuberculin tests and X-rays, these girls were very helpful in taking care of the students.

Jeanette Bolas was Miss Minnie E. Dingee's assistant in the office. She typed records and occasionally assisted in checking absences.

RED CROSS ACTIVITIES

The Parent Teacher Association of Southeast High School wishes to express appreciation to the faculty and students for their splendid cooperation this past year.

SENIORS

SENIORS

For four years have seniors struggled,
How they've strived for Knighthood's glory;
Now that they have won their battles,
Reluctantly they leave their dear Southeast.
Leave the halls which echo laughter
Of the joyous throng there gathered,
Leave Guildmasters who have helped them
Through the courses' puzzling chapters,
Leave their friendly fellow students
With whom they've frolicked four short years.

Lingering still are pleasant memories
Of the class's last great year.
(Exclude from these the Aptitude test—
Horrible nightmare of words, words, words.)
Junior Prom and senior assembly
Are o'er-shadowed by commencement.
Then into the world of workers
Pass the Knights to walk life's highway,
As they go to distant places,
Fine ideals of Knighthood guide them.

First Row—Donna Clark, Elaine Brazeal, Jo Ann Tucker, Gwen Gibby, Doris Clark, Frances Comer.

Second Row—Paul Niewald, Betty Lou Brown, Harriette Paulson, Jean Frerking, Joan Beggs, Howard Pinkard, Dale Leathers.

Third Row—John Hunt, Frank Laury, Gerre Pittenger, Bob Palmer, Noel Cooperider, Bill Snyder, Bill Gosney..

SENIOR BUSINESS COMMITTEE

The thirteen candidates who ranked highest on the nominating ballot compose the Senior Business Committee. It was their responsibility to select the class jewelry, make arrangements for the purchase of commencement announcements, discuss the choice of caps and gowns for graduation, and choose the class gift to the school.

The Senior Business Committee, sponsored by Vice-Principal George R. Powell, was divided into sub-divisions, each headed by a senior class officer.

UNDERCLASSMEN

UNDERCLASSMEN

In the halls of Southeast High School
Strive the freshmen, zealous to learn—
To reach the goal of Knighthood
Is their desire throughout the year.
Halfway through their high school labors,
The proud sophomores stately go—
Sure of duties, aware of tasks,
One year nearer the sacred goal.

The shining beacon of brave Knighthood
Is the junior's great ambition.
Riding onward, upward ever,
The cherished title will soon be theirs.
All underclassmen of Southeast
Strive to bring honor to their castle.
They'll meet all tasks that duty gives them
Loyal and true, these faithful Knights.

Behold the Page! He has taken his first step toward Knighthood. Inexperienced, self-conscious, and somewhat scared, he looks with awe at the Heralds, Squires, and Knights. It is almost impossible for him to realize that he will attain these heights in the future.

He is instructed in many matters for his future life and soon learns that he is no longer an outsider but one privileged to take part in all activities. Helping him are his Guildmasters, and he follows their advice because he knows they speak from experience. Though often bewildered by everything required of him, the Page's eyes are always fixed on his distant goal.

EIGHTH GRADE

Eighth grade classes have been organized in the Kansas City schools this year in order to add another year to the school program. The daily program of these students includes common learnings and physical education, plus two practical or fine arts of their own choosing.

These Novices work diligently and strive hard to serve their Castle. By trying to build a good attitude and fit into the daily life of Southeast, they pave the way for future classes and lay the foundation for becoming worthy and successful Knights.

SOPHOMORES

The Herald is halfway through his high school career. Aware of his tasks, he is proud of himself, and rightly so. He is now one step nearer his golden day of triumph.

To the Herald, it is an interesting year. Lunch lines, overtimes, absence cards, and sophisticated upperclassmen are old to him. He takes more interest in the teams and the school paper and has made friends as he engaged in school activities.

He begins to realize that Southeast is an institution of learning, with Guildmasters who are willing to help him mount the next step of the stairway to Knighthood.

JUNIORS

The Squire rides onward and upward. Behind him lie two years of work and study. Before him shines the beacon of Knighthood.

In his third year he must show that he possesses the qualities necessary for becoming a Knight. "Hard work" should be the Squire's motto, and by following it he will not swerve from his purpose.

No problem will be too hard, no task too great, because he knows his dreams of accomplishment are quickly becoming realities. His greatest ambition will soon be realized.

JUNIOR OFFICERS

President, Norman Gaar; Vice-President, Betty Cochran; Secretary, Kenneth Soxman; Treasurer, Jeanne Pucci; Giftorian, Alma Cochran; Publicist, R. C. Harris; Sergeant-at-Arms, Janet Stites.

Each year the junior class selects seven students to represent it and organize its activities. One of the highlights of the year, the Junior-Senior Prom, is planned by these officers. As the result of hard work by the students and their sponsor, Miss Carlotta V.

Cunning, the dance is complete with beautiful decorations, enjoyable entertainment, and refreshments. The lovely formals of the girls and the immaculately groomed appearance of the boys add to the setting.

After classes, time for Orders,
Time for meeting fellow classmates;
Here the Knights learn to be leaders,
And they strive for poise and tact.
While the stage crew shifts the scenery,
Engineers solve hard math problems.
As the Spanish break pinatas,
Latins study famous Romans, and Penthouse Players act out dramas.

Fellowship, good will, religion
Form the creed of the Hi-Y Club
And loyal Girl Reserves.
For work well done and highest ratings,
Beta Club invites good students
As do the "Hundred High School Girls."
Journalists to Quill and Scroll go,
While Art Club beckons those who draw.
Students favorite subjects follow,
All enjoy themselves in Orders.

NATIONAL BETA CLUB

First Row—Mildred Dahlstrom, Helen Frances Woodruff, Carol Grayson, Alleen Armstrong, Doris Clark, Donna Clark, Joanne McLane, Diana Coleman.

Third Row—Betty Lou Brown, Gloria Patch, Joan Beggs, George Butler, George Saller, Frank Laury, Jeanette Bolas, Jeannette Nofsinger, Eleanore Rowe.

Absent Members—Dick Crotty, Carol Winton, Jack Conrad, John Gosman, Paul Niewald, Edith Wilcher.

BETA CLUB OFFICERS

President	Frank Laury
Vice-President	Donna Clark
Recording Secretary	Eleanore Rowe
Corresponding Secretary	Joan Beggs
Treasurer	Gwen Gibby
Sergeant-at-Arms	Betty Lou Brown
Reporter	Dick Crotty

Seniors who have maintained high scholastic standings and high character ratings during their previous high school years compose the National Beta Club. These students have performed services for their school and are recognized leaders.

Decorating the front hall display cases is among the club's responsibilities. Four full length mirrors to be used in the stage dressing rooms were purchased this year by a committee of Beta members and their mothers. A formal dance is sponsored each spring and is noted for its beauty and pleasure.

Mr. E. A. Smith is the new club sponsor. Under his leadership, a Beta Mothers' organization has been formed to assist in providing social activities.

PALETTES

First Row—Billy Booy, Bill Hayward, Patty Harger, Joann Rice, Carol Grayson, Leon Geivett.

Second Row—Pauline Cheatham, Patty Lynn, Richard George, Eleanor Lowry, Norma Souther, Charles Steele.

Third Row—Ben McNeil, Joseph Beck, Millie Roach, Doris Clark, Donna Clark, Gloria Arbogast, John Tvedten, Frank Laury.

Norma Souther Vice-President	Bill Hayward
Carol Grayson Secretary	Donna Clark
Raymond Stewart Treasurer	Millie Roach
 Sergeant-at-Arms	Frank Laury

During the semi-monthly meetings of the Palettes, students work to develop and improve ability in finger and water color painting, clay modeling, charcoal drawing, and other forms of creative arts and crafts. Scenery for all school productions is painted by this group, and this year they served as the decoration committee for the "Knights Club."

To become a member, a student must have a grade of at least an "S" in art, must have shown talent in the work he has done in class, and must receive the majority vote of the club. Because of scarcity of materials, membership in the club is limited.

PENTHOUSE PLAYERS

The Penthouse Players, sponsored by Miss Maria T. Feters, is Southeast's dramatic organization. Members of the speech department who have shown outstanding ability in the fields of acting and public speaking are admitted into this group. The club enables its members to gain experience in acting, producing, directing, and stage effects.

The first show of the season was a comedy—"Angel Child." This was followed by "Seventeen," "By Courier," and "Sitting on Tacks." The February show, "Abe Lincoln in Illinois," was presented in assembly. Other productions included "The Lighthouse Keeper" and "Wappin Wharf."

A. A. U. W.

The A.A.U.W. is composed of sophomore, junior, and senior girls who had the highest scholastic standings in their freshman class. Four girls from each class are usually chosen, but this number may vary from year to year. The purpose of this organization is to encourage girls to continue their education beyond high school. Miss Minnie E. Dingee is the sponsor.

First Row—Betty Cochran, Pat O'Byrne, Margie Mayfield, Charlene Morris, Patricia Young.

Second Row—Gwen Gibby, Lenore Carlson, Cynthia Morrish, Dorla Eaton, Joan Beggs, Virginia Fletcher.

QUILL AND SCROLL

First Row—Edith Wilcher, Carol Grayson, Elaine Brazeal, Pat Sisk, Joan Beggs, Shirley Ann Frazier, Patty Harger.

The Quill and Scroll Society, an international honor organization for high school journalists, is composed of junior or senior members of the newswriting class who possess superior writing ability. When elected, they must be in the upper third of their class in general scholastic standing.

Each candidate must have done excellent work in writing, editing, or business management, and must be recommended by the staff advisor, Miss Margaret McKemy, and approved by the executive secretary of the society.

ENGINEERS' CLUB

Students interested in mathematics compose this club. Through this organization, members use engineering instruments, visit engineering firms and hear lectures from their representatives. Mr. Heinberg is the sponsor.

The Girl Reserves is the junior organization of the Young Women's Christian Association. Its program is designed to emphasize the high ideals and standards stressed by the Y.W.C.A., through devotions, service, and social activities.

The emblem, a blue triangle with the letters

G.R. inscribed within, symbolizes this national and international movement for women. Discussions on personality, picnics, parties, and dances are included in their semi-monthly meetings. Miss Mildred Wright, assisted by Miss Rebecca Birkhead, sponsors the club.

The Southeast Hi-Y Club is composed of boys who have been elected into the organization. The club's foundation is laid on religious principles, but this does not limit the scope of their activities. Lectures by prominent persons, dances, movies, line parties, and out-of-door recreation are included in the club's program.

The boys are interested in Hi-Y, not only because of the entertainment and the fellowship it promotes, but because they wish to further their ideals of high Christian character. The club is sponsored by Mr. Jess C. Cross and the Y.M.C.A.

The Spanish Club, sponsored by Miss Herberta Towner, is organized for Spanish students who are particularly interested in the language and the ways of Spanish-speaking countries.

The breaking of the Pinata at the Christmas party and the Pan-American banquet are annual affairs. At the banquet a medal is awarded to the most proficient Spanish-user among the students.

Songs, games, movies, and outside speakers compose the programs at semi-monthly meetings.

ACTIVITIES

ACTIVITIES

In December is the "Knightlites"
The all-school show of greatest talent;
While in spring the Speech Department
Gives us joy in farce or drama.
In the month of May and flowers
Comes the Festival of Music—
Band and orchestra, choir and chorus,
Thrill with harmonies and cadence.

For enjoyable relaxation
Knights and Ladies attend their "Knight Club,"
They come on Saturdays after dinner
So no lessons are neglected.
Throughout the year from fall to springtime,
Staffs of writers and of artists
Gather pictures, facts, and fancies
For the Tower and Crusader.

TEEN TOWN

Knight Club, Southeast's Teen Town, made its debut on Halloween eve, with games, dancing, refreshments, and gay decorations. The opening was planned by the Teen Town officers, who were elected at a previous night assembly. They were: president, John Hunt; secretary, Bob Palmer; treasurer, Bob Foster; membership chairman, Dale Leathers; and planning chairman, Gwen Gibby.

Students were admitted upon the presentation of their Knight Club membership card, purchased for the semester.

First semester activities included a ping-pong tournament, square dancing, and girls-cut dances. The biggest party was the New Year's opening, during which members danced to the music of Ed Soxman's orchestra. Refreshments were furnished by the odd-numbered home rooms, the losers of the membership contest. A hobo dance and a Valentine party were among the activities enjoyed during the second semester.

Committee chairmen who have greatly helped in the planning of Knight Club programs are: host and hostess, Jean Frerking; program, Lois Stringberg; decorations, Frank Laury and Raymond Stewart; food, Betty Lou Brown; music, Joanne McLane; door, Millicent Mielke; games, Kenneth Soxman; and announcements, Virginia Henry.

TOWER STAFF

First Row—George Saller, Richard George, Foster Redding, Mildred Dalhstrom, Norman Gaar, Paul Webb, Leonard Goodman, Beverly Smith.

Second Row—Marilyn Mereness, Cynthia Morrish, Lylia Bales, Helen Hert, John Riggs, Ruth Eckstein, Betty Armstrong, Raymond Duggan.

Fourth Row—Lorne Buchner, Winona Cates, Merriman Inlow, Eleanor Lowry, Jane Mossman, Joann Rice, Richard Rubins, Bill White.

This year the Tower, under the new sponsor, Miss Margaret McKemy, published bi-weekly the news and views of Southeast High School. Through experience the "green" staff learned all about "galleys" and "dummies" and improved steadily.

Each member of the staff was assigned duties similar to those assigned the workers on a big newspaper. The editorial staff gained experience in headline writing, editing copy, proof-reading, making up the dummy, and writing editorials, features, and news stories.

In addition to distributing to the faculty and student subscribers, the circulation staff wrapped and mailed papers to subscribers, school officials, other high schools, and advertisers.

Other staff members solicited advertising from various firms, wrote contracts, and did all bookkeeping necessary for publishing the Tower.

For the past four years, the Tower has received the International First Place Award from the Quill and Scroll Critical Service of Northwestern University. In 1945, the First Place Award was granted to the paper for the second time by the Missouri Interscholastic Press Association. Three former editors of the Tower have attended the National Institute for High School Journalists at Northwestern.

CRUSADER STAFF

For the second year the Crusader was published by the "Publications" class, whose members were selected from applications submitted during the preliminary enrollment period in 1945. To establish a tradition, the staff decided to repeat the Knight theme.

The Crusader staff was organized in the following manner:

The editor-in-chief supervised the work of the entire staff and assembled the material of the Crusader. The supervision of the photography and art work was the responsibility of the assistant editor. The literary editor assigned, edited, and proof-read all written material. The dummies were drafted by the divisional editors, who also arranged for the pictures and literary material included in their sections.

Drawing the division pages and cartoons, as well as choosing the cover design, was the responsibility of the art staff. The photography editor, assisted by his staff, took and developed underclass pictures and all informal poses. The make-up editor and her staff cut and mounted all pictures for the engraver.

The business manager handled all contracts, collected the picture fees, and watched that expenditures did not exceed the budget. The correspondence and typing of copy was handled by the secretarial staff.

To Mr. Elwood B. Shirling, sponsor of the class, goes much credit for his general supervision of the work on the Crusader. Miss Anna B. Shouse supervised the writing of the literary material, and Miss Martha Abbott directed the preparation of the art work.

Third Row—Jeanette Bolas, Athletics Editor; Verlyn Eveland, Athletics Section; Carol Grayson, Raymond Stewart, Art Staff; Doris Karbach, Marjorie Whitlock, Make-up Staff; Charmaine Nicholson, Jo Ann Tucker, Secretarial Staff.

Fourth Row—Vernon Kingcade, Photography Editor; Paul Walkup, Irene Bell, Coylene Stirton, Mary Jo Kimball, Mildred Roach, Ray Lyle, Randall Martin, Photography Staff.

The music department has developed into one of the largest service groups of the school through its frequent performances in assemblies and at school programs, shows and plays, for church programs, athletic events, and other outside activities.

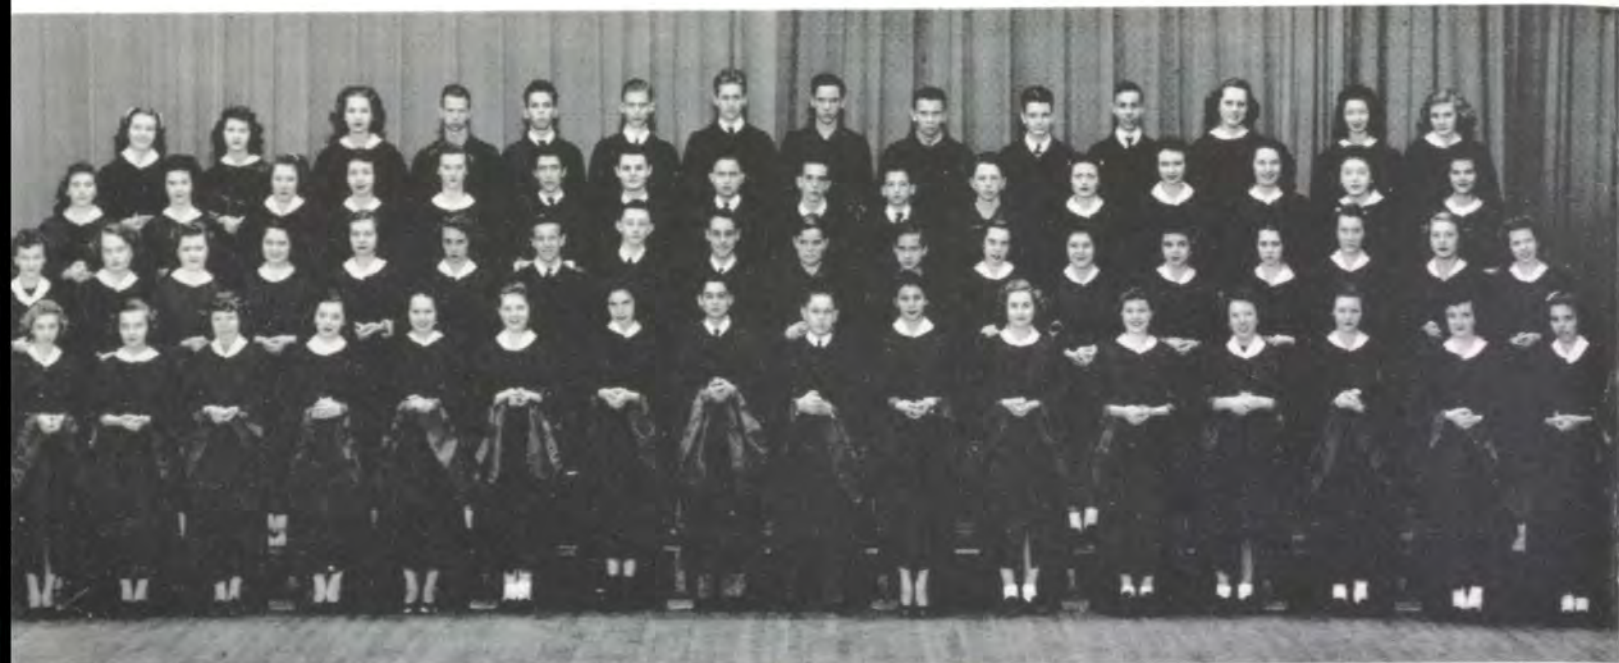

Through the musical experiences given in the various classes, the student is able to express himself and to enjoy himself as well as entertain others at the same time. He also develops self-confidence and increases his ability to perform before an audience. Music is a valuable hobby, and the training gained in school will carry over to give a leisure-time activity.

In a program symbolic of the holiday season, the Christmas assembly, a tradition of the music department, was presented by the girls' glee, a cappella choir, orchestra, and members of the speech department.

The Knightlites Orchestra, as the name implies, furnished the music for the Knightlites performance, and also provided entertainment at the School Masters' monthly meeting in November at Junior College.

The girls' choruses appeared in the Thanksgiving service, the Christmas program, and the Music Festival. These students, numbering about one hundred twenty, received vocal training so that next year they can take part in the girls' glee or choir.

Praise goes to the band, who drilled early two mornings a week for the football games and the Wainwright parade. The music department's dream came true this year with the purchase of approximately seventy bright new uniforms, whose appearance bring credit to the band and to the school.

As in the past two years a solo contest was held, and students from both the vocal and instrumental classes presented solos and were rated by outside judges. Those who received first or second rating played or sang on an assembly program which was enjoyed by the student body.

The annual music festival was held in May. The orchestra, girls' glee, a cappella choir, band, octet, and senior soloists selected during the solo contest, took part in the production. The girls, dressed in pastel formals, beautified the stage. The proceeds from the Music Festival are used to buy new equipment and music and to build up a reserve uniform fund.

The band, orchestra, a cappella choir, and sophomore girls' glee, were under the capable direction of Mr. B. E. Markley. Mrs. Wanda Musgrave had charge of the freshman girls' glee and mixed chorus.

KNIGHTLITES

"Around the Clock" was the theme for Knightlites, the annual variety show sponsored by Miss Martha Abbott, Miss Maria Theresa Fetters, Miss Mary L. Latschaw, and Dr. Helen R. Perkins. The scenery was very effective; its main feature, a decorative cuckoo clock complete with cog wheels, was constructed by Mr. F. B. Johnson.

As the curtains were drawn, twelve small doors on the face of the clock opened simultaneously, revealing as many pretty girls, who sang "Time on My Hands." After a "swing" reveille by Leon Brownfield, the alarm clock, R. C. Harris, ran screaming across the stage; then the R.O.T.C. boys sang their pet peeve, "Oh, How I Hate To Get Up in the Morning." Bryan Heaton and Bob Spradling ended this scene with a tap dance.

As the senior girls sang "Oh, What a Beautiful Morning," they picked up the morning papers and the milk. Annette Allbee and John Talbot sang "Some Sunday Morning." The art of chewing gum was demonstrated by Virginia Henry, after which Bob Peterson, a magician, exhibited his tricks. Lunch line tactics were reviewed by Janet Knickerbocker.

Sam McKee appeared as an American cowboy and was followed by the tap line, very appropriately dressed as Indians in gay costumes. Jack Cole, Ronald Duranske, Kenneth Fridel, John Harger, and Rodney Wernicke showed how penguins act in the Antarctic region. The sophomore line took us south to old Mexico. To represent Grade Card Time, Betty Cochran sang "The Worry Song" to Jackie Jenkins.

Doris and Donna Clark presented "The Man I Love" in a two-piano number. Enthusiastic applause rewarded the "Ink Spots," Alma Cochran, Barbara Brandom, and Betty Cochran, who imitated the Juke Box. "The Shoulder Bone Is Connected to the Arm Bone" was hilariously sung by the junior boys. Acrobatic Pat Harger came at Twilight Time.

Study Time arrived at last with the junior girls singing "No Can Do" about their homework. To the students' surprise, the faculty agreed. Misses Ballinger, Falke, Hartman, Patch, Perkins, Robinson, Woodward, and Ruth Graham with Messrs. Cross, Harman, Huhp, Lasley, Markley, Powell, Shirling, and Smith, dressed as typical students, danced and pranced merrily.

Eight o'clock was Date Time and the senior couples danced to "It's a Grand Night for Singing," sung by Doris Webber, accompanied by a group of musicians. The alumni were presented in Home Coming Time. Charlene Lambertz was narrator for Jimmie Hodge's monologue, Ruth Graham's song, and Pat King's ballet. Ed Soxman, Herbert Walker, Hillis McLane, Barbara Dick, and Alan Martin played "Flying Home."

With David Smalley as reader, and Lloyd Robinson, Bill Snyder, Kenneth Soxman, John Talbot, Bob Witt, and Cy Young as vocalists, a more serious moment came with "That's America." Sarah Hennessy and the entire cast presented "My Country" as the finale.

Once again Southeast won honors and success with the production of "Two Gentlemen and Verona," a comedy in three acts by Anne Ferring Weatherly.

The "Red Barn Players," forced to close at the end of the week, try to persuade Neila Lansing to lend them money. When Charlie Adams brings the announcement that Milton J. Sweezy, a talent scout of R. O. M. Studios, will be in the vicinity within the week, Neila agrees to finance the shows if she is given the lead in "Strange Victory" for which Verona had been cast.

Bill Kennedy, who is mistaken for the talent scout, believes he is in an insane asylum when the girls try to impress him with their inimitable talents: Maud's hissing "S", Flo's baby cry, Neila's romantic approach, Brownie's Southern accent, and the Countess Marg O'Reilly's Carmen Miranda act. The real scare comes when Mike enters in a gorilla costume. When Verona arrives, Bill's identity is disclosed. He tries to win Verona, who is also interested in Clyde Colby, the leading actor of the Red Barn Players.

Because Verona, Flo, and Maud do not have a part in "Strange Victory," they "trick" Mr. Sweezy into watching their play, "House of Fear." Without their knowledge, Neila jealously sets the stage with unexpected props so that their drama is continually interrupted.

The next day Bill invites Neila to have dinner with him and leaves word that they are eloping. The show must go on, so Verona is to have the lead. After the performance, Mr. Sweezy announces his new discovery, comedienne, Sarah Brown. Later Bill and Neila return—Neila with sore feet and Bill with a grin on his face—for he has enabled Verona to have her big opportunity. The last words of her proposal are smothered by his kiss.

"Two Gentlemen and Verona" played to a large audience both nights. Much credit goes to Miss Maria Theresa Fetters and to the cast for presenting such an entertaining play in a magnificent way.

ATHLETICS

ATHLETICS

On the football fields of Southeast,
On the training ground for conflict,
Southeast Knights, the mighty warriors,
Strive toward honors for our high school.
Comes the end of football season,
Comes the cooler, colder weather
Southeast Knights, the warriors sprightly,
Then win honors in basketball.
Southeast Knights, the sturdy warriors,
On the track field reaching northward
Practice running, practice hurdling,
And run races round the track.

Southeast Ladies, also mighty,
Sports days hold throughout the year
In hockey, tennis, basketball;
All bring merit to our high school.
On the battle grounds of high schools,
Golf links, tennis courts, arenas,
Southeast Knights and Southeast Ladies
Meet their foes and play games fairly,
With dexterity and honor,
Bring great laurels to their school.

Southeast completed a very successful football season this fall, marching home with second place in the Interscholastic League.

The Knights' first game was scheduled with Paseo, but was postponed until the end of the season because the field was too wet for the teams to play. Thus the Knights opened against the Westport Tigers and sent them howling to their dens after a 31 to 0 defeat. The next week Southeast met the Vikings, but the result was a 19 to 6 score in Northeast's favor.

Not properly squelched by the league champions-to-be, the Knights returned the following week-end to scalp the Southwest Indians 7 to 0. Next, Southeast defeated Manual by a score of 25 to 7, and downed the Central Blue Eagles 21 to 13. The East Bears went into hibernation as Southeast assumed the long end of a 34 to 7 score.

Southeast did well in placing three players on the city Interscholastic League All-Star First Team, one on the Second Team, and four on the honorable mention list. Those who made the All-Star First Team were: Bill Gosney, tackle; Bill Snyder, fullback; and Boyce Smith, quarterback. Named for the All-Star Second Team was John Hunt, end.

Honorable mentions were: Bob Hill, guard; Jerry Harkins, center; Roscoe Bedell and Dale Leathers, halfbacks.

The team's two capable managers were Leonard Goodman and David Johnson.

Southeast wishes to congratulate Coach Charles Huhn, as well as the team, for a most successful football season.

These boys did not have enough playing time to get a first team letter, but to them goes much of the credit for the Knights' very successful season.

SECOND TEAM FOOTBALL

By completing their season undefeated, this year's second team proved that they are quite able to fill the vacancies left by the graduating seniors. The other Knights may be proud of them and their coaches, Mr. Cecil Patterson, Mr. John W. Laury, and Mr. Charles Huhn.

TENNIS TEAM

In 1945 Southeast entered the Interscholastic Tennis League and made an excellent showing for the Knights by bringing home the doubles championship. Kenneth Soxman and Dick Pack, the boys earning this honor, were juniors, and continued playing fine tennis in spite of unfavorable conditions. Their successes are revealed in the scores of the following sets as played on the Plaza Tennis Courts: Central, 2-6, 6-2, 6-3; Paseo, 6-3, 2-6, 7-5; Southwest I, 6-4, 4-6, 7-5; and Southwest II, 6-4, and 6-4.

Our other doubles team, composed of Bill

Ellis and Bill McLaughlin, was eliminated when it was defeated by Paseo.

Representing Southeast in the singles were Julian Smith and Bob Kelley. The boys played fine tennis, but the singles championship was won by Norman Apple of Southwest.

Southeast had the honor of being host to the other schools for the entire tournament and was in charge of all the proceedings.

All the boys played well, and we can hope for more successes from them in the future. Mr. Lasley is to be congratulated on his fine job of coaching.

GOLF TEAM

For the fourth time in seven years of participation in the Interscholastic Golf Tournament, Southeast captured the championship. The team played four rounds on the Swope Park Golf Course and won by a margin of 85 strokes over Paseo.

Since all but one player was new to Southeast's team this year, Coach Claude N. Harman might well have wondered what the outcome of the rounds played October 2, 4, 9, and 11 would be. However, the four played fine golf and ended triumphantly, with a grand low score of 11,448.

The one returning letterman, George Allmon, was captain of the team. He turned in the low total of 353 for the entire 72 holes. The individual low score of 85 for 18 holes is jointly held by Tom Bronson of Southeast and Jack Boring of Paseo.

The winning foursome was composed of George Allmon and Wesley Tobaben (sophomores) and Don Willoughby and Tom Bronson (juniors). Alternates were Dale Pembleton and Bill Gill.

We congratulate Coach Harman on his very successful team and wish him luck next year when the entire team of four lettermen returns.

BASKETBALL

This year Southeast and Manual held third place in the Interscholastic Basketball League. We are proud of our team and wish to congratulate Coach Charles Huhn and the boys for their fine work.

Southeast's first game was with Olathe, who defeated the Knights 41 to 29. However, the team flipped the leather through the hoop for a 39 to 17 victory over Hogan. Next, Southeast met Lillis and was defeated 51 to 39.

In the first Interscholastic tussle of the season, the Knights downed the Paseo Pirates 27 to 26. In the game with the Westport Tigers, Southeast was victorious, compiling a score of 30 to 26. The Knight quintet blazed forth and scored a 30 to 29 victory over William Chrisman of Independence.

The Northeast Vikings vanquished the Scarlet and Blue, 50 to 25. When Southeast met the North Kansas City Hornets, their opponents won the long end of the 28 to 22 score. The final score of the close and exciting game between Southeast and Southwest was 41 to 38, in favor of Southwest. In the game with the Manual Crimson, the Knights were defeated again, 42 to 31.

The East Bears were downed when Southeast ended the game with a 32 to 26 score. In the final game of the season, Southeast defeated the Central Blue Eagles 35 to 28.

CHEERLEADERS

Leading the student body in lusty yells which spur our teams to greater effort are our animated cheerleaders.

Although all of them were new to the job this year, we are proud that the All-City Student Council announced that Southeast had the best cheerleaders. Working from the ground up with only a few yells, they tripled their repertoire. We are indeed proud of the showing they made at our games.

The six—Harriette Paulson, Janet Stites, Carol Winton, Paul Davis, Dick Dexter, and Bob Comer, practiced regularly on Wednesday afternoons.

Their sponsor was Miss Betty Hartman.

TRACK TEAM

Coach Jess C. Cross has a fine group of boys to work with this year, and under his supervision Southeast should have a good season. As we go to press, Southeast has triumphed over William Chrisman $66\frac{1}{2}$ to $33\frac{1}{2}$ in the first meet of the year. Knights holding top places in this meet are: Bill Gosney, who placed first in the shot put; Lorne Buchner, who won first in the high jump and the 440 yard dash; Bob Foster, who tied for first in the low hurdles and won the high hurdles; and Bill Snyder, who took the lead in both the broad jump and the pole vault. Bob Hill placed ahead of other competitors in the 220, and Southeast's relay team won the 880 yard relay.

High Jump: Alvis, Boolin, Buchner, Cross, Foster, Minniear, Stafford, Rieder, Hunt, Laughlin, McKee.

R. O. T. C.

R.O.T.C.

Since the purpose of the R.O.T.C. is exclusively and specifically educational, its accomplishments depend upon the professional efficiency and devotion to duty of the instructors and officers, as well as the cooperation between the high school authorities, military officials, and the student body.

The company was divided into two platoons, the first commanded by Cadet First Lieutenant Harry Henry and the second by Cadet First Lieutenant Jacob Kraft. Under their command, the cadets were taught the following R.O.T.C. subjects: infantry drill regulations, sanitation and first aid, military organization, rifle marksmanship, courtesy and discipline, combat training, military history and policy, map reading, physical training, and interior guard duty. To keep up with new educational devices, the unit received new instructional charts, a motion picture projector, and one Garand M1 rifle.

Southeast cadets participated in the reception ceremony for General Jonathan M. Wainwright, and the whole unit marched in the parade given in his honor. The cadets also served as color guard during the celebration of the eightieth anniversary of the Salvation Army, as well as during assemblies. The unit was represented in the Freshman Induction. Company A participated in the R.O.T.C. Circus, demonstrating a mock battle.

The squads were drilled intensively in preparation for the competitive drilling between the high school units on Field Day. The highlight of the day is the competition between individuals, which is judged by officers of the War Department.

OFFICERS

To become an officer, a cadet must be in his third year of R.O.T.C. He must have demonstrated his leadership, his ability to command, his knowledge of the subject, and his desire to produce a unit of which he can be proud.

Cadet Major Howard Chappell is the battalion commander and Cadet Captain William Keyes is the company commander. In October they were promoted to cadet second lieutenants along with Cadet Second Lieutenants Harry Henry, Kenzil Adams, and Jacob Kraft.

In November Chappell became a cadet captain. Keyes and Adams were promoted to cadet first lieutenants while Henry and Kraft attained this rank in December and January respectively. Chappell became cadet major and Keyes, cadet captain in January.

Chappell was the Southeast delegate who took the examination given to the unit commanders of each school for the position of regimental commander. Lieutenant Colonel Long from Westport achieved this honor and was given the rank of colonel.

Second Row—Paul Glinn, Robert Ozias, Lowell Falke, Robert Anderson, Gerald Noble.

First Row—Jacob Kraft, Jimmy Schnebelin, Roy Ells, Cedric Nothwang, August Carlson, Robert Perkins, Howard Chappell.

Government Inspection began with a company parade and proceeded into platoon and squad drills. Later the cadets received instruction in various military subjects from cadet officers.

Each cadet of the Kansas City regiment who made a 3.5 scholastic average during a semester was awarded a proficiency ribbon. If the cadet already wore this ribbon, he was awarded a silver star.

Ribbons were awarded to the first, second, and third year cadets who attained the highest semester rating in all theoretical military subjects in his group.

First and second year cadets who attained the highest semester ratings in military bearing and neatness were also awarded ribbons.

Gold, silver, and bronze medals were awarded to the three cadets who established the most efficient rating among the first and second year men. These medals were sponsored by the Heart of America Post of the American Legion. In addition, each year the Sons of the American Revolution award a medal to the best cadet of the regiment.

Captain C. V. Herndon, Professor of Military Science and Tactics, as the military authority, supervised Kansas City's R.O.T.C. regiment. Sergeant Charles Gilles, as the instructor, helped give the company the accuracy and the spirit which goes into a smart unit.

Top Row—Cedric Nothwang, Jimmy Schnebelen, Paul Glinn, Carl Coggins, Foster Redding, Everett Wilson, James Spitler, Lowell Falke.

RIFLE TEAM

The Southeast R.O.T.C. rifle team tied with Southwest for first place in the City Rifle Match for 1945. In the play-off for ribbons, Southwest took first for the blue ribbons and Southeast second for the red ribbons.

The high six of the team will receive red and silver ribbons and the school will receive a cup.

Twelve cadets fired on the line in prone, sitting, kneeling, and standing positions. The firing was done with a small bore .22 caliber Springfield rifle.

The team was under the supervision of Sergeant Charles Gilles. The match was directed by Captain Charles V. Herndon.

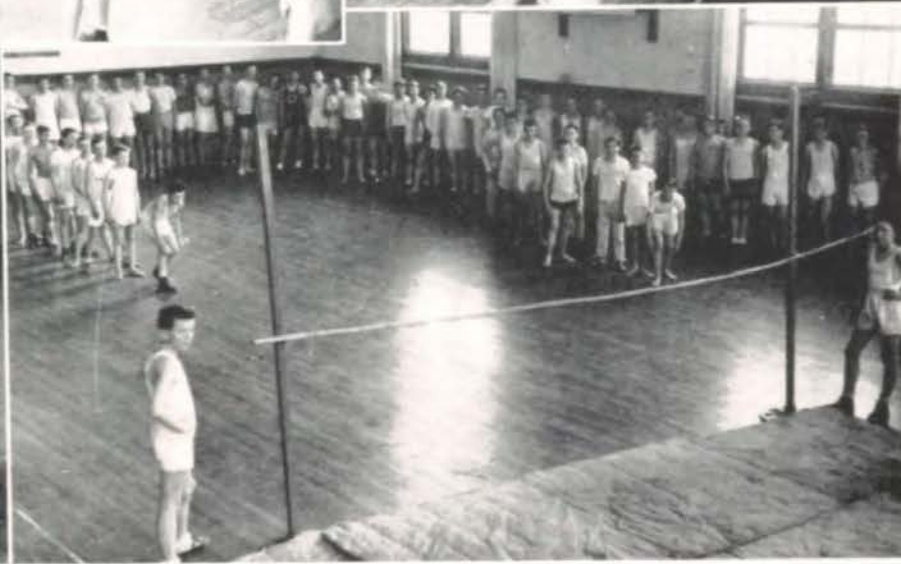

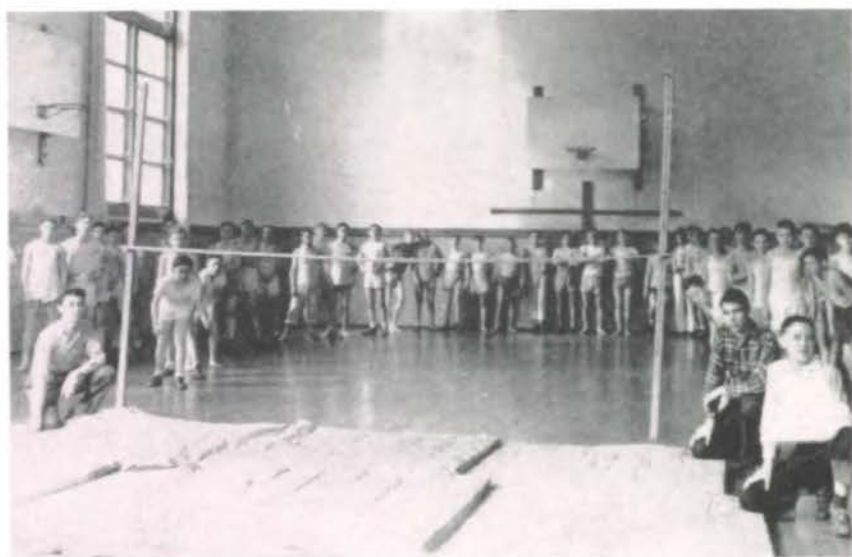

The rifle team also fired in the Seventh Service Command Gallery Match, and each battalion was represented in the Hearst Trophy Match.

GIRLS' GYM

BOYS' GYM

Under the direction of Mr. Jess C. Cross and Mr. Charles Huhn, the boys enrolled in physical education hold tournaments in football, soccer, basketball, volleyball, ping pong, and baseball.

In each class, captains are elected and teams are chosen. Each team plays all the other teams, and each member of the winning group is awarded a small felt shield. The picked, all-star teams of every hour play each other in an elimination tournament to decide the championship team, the members of which receive "K's".

Two points are counted for each shield, and five for each "K". The captain of the team winning shields gets a half point, while the all-star team captain gets one point. At the end of the year, the boy with the most points receives a large chenille shield, while the next one in line gets a smaller one.
