We, the graduating class of 1952, are cognizant of the opportunities Southeast has presented to us. A broad education with many opportunities and challenges has been given to us. We have received helpful advice from our teachers. We have learned about the responsibilities of leadership and followership. For all your help we thank you, Southeast.

We regret that we have not used these opportunities to the fullest advantage.

We do not look upon graduation as an end—but as a beginning. We know only vaguely the great responsibilities that lie ahead. As we take our places as adults in this world, we shall always try to hold high the traditions of Southeast, our alma mater.

Senior Business Committee

Our nearness to realizing our ambition of Knighthood is strongly felt. Positions of leadership and responsibility are now being placed upon our shoulders. For four years we have watched the work and the achievement of those ahead of us.

We have learned much through this. With chivalry, truth, honor, freedom, and sincere courtesy as our guiding motto, we hope to continue the fine traditions and success of Southeast.

Sophomore Class

Having now reached the mid-way point in the time allotted for our high-school education, we have become enthusiastic participants in many more school activities. Since we are now familiar with Southeast life, we must strive to do our part in adding to its accomplishments. We have increased our interest in worthwhile achievement in scholastic and extra-curricular fields. Constantly we look to the Knights and Squires for leadership. We anxiously await the time when we shall take their places.

School Life

Freshman Class

With the difficult transition period behind us, we Pages find ourselves an important part of Castle life. Our interest and enthusiasm for extra-curricular activities are continually increasing. We possess eagerness to learn and to bring accomplishment to our Castle. The knowledge we gain during this year will cast new light on our problems, and we shall look forward to three more helpful years.

Eighth Grade Class

When we entered Southeast, we found ourselves perplexed as to our part in the Castle life. Our enthusiasm has grown as the many new opportunities for leadership, study, and friendship have presented themselves.

This year as Apprentice-Pages we have begun the foundation for our remaining high school years, a foundation upon which we hope to build characters as true Knights. We now recognize the challenge our school presents us. With Knighthood as our goal, we shall strive to support the ideals and traditions of Southeast.

Southeast students may voice their opinions through their student government, the Round Table. The principal aims are to plan for the development and improvement of all school activities and to promote better school spirit. The Round Table is composed of one delegate elected from each homeroom plus the president and the vice-president who are elected by the entire student body.

It is hoped that through the guidance of the sponsor, Miss Latshaw, and the co-operation of its members that the Round Table has again this year successfully fulfilled its purpose.

The Penthouse Players provide enjoyment for all students with their dramatic presentations. Outstanding plays produced this year included "Cracked Ice" and "At the Feet of the Madonna."

For its members a valuable experience is gained through their acting, directing, costuming, and producing. The elective membership is chosen from those students showing outstanding ability in numerous speech fields.

Miss Maria Theresa Fetters has spent much time assisting the club with its projects.

The ancient Greek tribe called the Dorians was noted for its conservative and practical traits. The Southeast Dorians also strive for these objectives.

Under the direction and assistance of Miss Martha Abbott, the Dorians work to achieve skill in the many creative arts. The techniques of the different art medii are studied and developed. Visits are made through the year to art exhibits and other places providing interest in the arts and crafts.

A candidate is required to have an "M" average in his studies, with no grade below "I." He must also have an "S" average in art and receive the majority vote of the club to become a member.

Those students interested in increasing their knowledge of the Spanish-speaking people and their customs may do so by belonging to the Southeast Centinelas. The only definite requirement for membership is a student must be in either first or second year Spanish.

Miss Towner, the club sponsor, ably assists the members in directing the club activities. The varied programs throughout the year include the always much enjoyed dinner at the Mexican restaurant Los Palmas and the annual Christmas program at which they have the "Breaking of the Pinata."

The Southeast Latin Club, the Dracones, provides for its members a broader and more complete knowledge of Roman life. Any student studying Latin is qualified for membership.

This year at their semi-weekly meetings the Dracones better acquainted themselves with the classical culture, customs, and language of the Roman people. One program familiarized the club with the origin of the Latin Saturnalia, a holiday similar to our Christmas.

Miss Adams, the club sponsor, aids the organization in its activities.

"To create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and community high standards of Christian character." This is the purpose of the Southeast Hi-Y Club. The membership, composed of boys who have been elected into the organization, work for clean speech, clean sports, clean scholarship, and clean living.

The Hi-Y activities vary in content and include the annual Christmas dance, movies, out-of-door recreation, and numerous other interesting programs.

Under the guidance of Mr. Jesse C. Cross this club does much to promote the ideals of Knighthood.

The Y-Teens sets three goals for its members. Each must develop personality, grow in friendship with people of all races, and grow in the knowledge and the love of God. Y-Teens is a world-wide organization composed of girls of every religion, nationality, and race. They learn to become better citizens by obtaining a better understanding of their community, their country, and their world.

The Southeast Y-Teen group presents varied programs for its members. There are parties, discussions, trips, conferences, and service projects.

The success of the Southeast Y-Teens is attributed to the interest of the advisers, Miss Birkhead, Miss Campbell, and Miss McKemy.

Knightlites

Mr. McMillan presented the key which opened the performance of the fourteenth annual Knightlites. Gay little Key Hops brought in keys which introduced the various numbers.

The key to the family album brought to light songs and dances of yesteryear. The Boys' Ensemble with dancer Kay Harkins gave their rendition of "The Old Soft Shoe," followed by a sophomore line in old fashioned costume, complete with high top shoes.

A huge piano key introduced Carol Bernhardt, Jo Boswell, Annette Luthy, and Carol Van Dyke who played the stirring "Hungarian Rhapsody No. II by Liszt."

Ned Dougherty gave away the key to his heart when he sang "I'm Falling in Love with Someone."

Howard Jones and Joe Kresse, a don-key, were greeted by Al Slater singing "The Donkey Serenade."

One key opened the stage door and gave the audience a taste of life in the theater. Temperamental actors, frivolous chorus girls, and a distraught director added to the hilarity of the act.

Seth McClure's toys filled the toy shop with music while the old gentleman napped. Jo Boswell, a Christmas tree angel, was accompanied by fourteen angels while she sang the lullaby from "Hansel and Gretel." Three dolls—Yvonne Strode, Janice Cooper, and Joan Roberts—did a military toe tap-dance while Jim Averill played his trumpet.

A delightfully different atmosphere was created by Roy Hayashi with his ukele.

A perennial favorite is the faculty number. This year they presented a timely skit to "Television's Tough on Love."

"Hello, Young Lovers" was sung by Nancy Herre to the Beta couples who represented "lovers" from all walks of life.

The final key closed the performance on a patriotic note. The finale was inspiring as the entire cast sang "America, I Love You."

Southeast scored again with the 1952 Spring Play, "STARDUST". The entertaining three-act comedy by Walter Kerr was the excellent choice for the Spring Play, presented by the speech department under the capable direction of Miss Fetters.

Prudence Mason was invited to the Academy of Dramatic and Allied Arts to do a performance of "Antony and Cleopatra" with the students in the Academy. Jerry Flanagan, a Hollywood talent scout, arrived at the school to offer Miss Mason a film contract. But Arthur Scott, Jr., Prudence's fiance, objected to her career and so she refused the contract. When she did Jerry offered the contract to Janet Ross, a promising student at the Academy.

Prudence called her friend, Claire Carter, to come save her, when the students began to fall onto the floor and leap into the air, while imagining themselves as oranges, teapots, and various other objects. Everything seemed hopeless for Prudence until she met one sensible boy, Phil Ford. Then a scandal began as the Dean of Women catches them together and imagined a budding love affair. Phil's girl-friend, Janet Ross, who had previously argued with him, believed the story told by the Dean. The students and Mr. Bach were astonished by the turn of events until Prudence announced her coming marriage, that very night, to prove that she could not possibly be interested in Phil.

All was fine until Arthur arrived. He refused to marry Prudence at this time and in this place. Prudence invented a story to save her name. However, Arthur became so confused in the lie that he told the truth and all was lost. Prudence lost patience with him and told him to leave her alone.

On the night of the performance of "Antony and Cleopatra," the students played Miss Mason right off the stage until she was so discouraged that she turned to Arthur for comfort and promised to marry him. Yet, when the students apologized and Jerry offered the contract to Miss Mason again, she changed her mind. When Arthur returned to get Prudence, she told him that she was giving him up.

The play ended on a happy note with Prudence off to Hollywood and Phil and Janet being married. The students very happily continued to live every role.

Music

As we climb toward the tower, strains of lovely music greet us; for it is here that the musical groups practice under the able direction of Mr. Ben Markley. We can truly be proud of our music department because of its many activities and fine programs.

Mr. Edwin P. Suderman has been a fine addition to the faculty and music department. The students have come to appreciate his music ability and friendly manner.

Early in the year the orchestra played for the induction program. They have also provided music for the Spring Play, P.T.A. meetings, and Knightlites. Perhaps the biggest event of the year was the All-City Orchestra Festival held at Southeast on April first.

Presenting a striking picture in their colorful uniforms, our band also represented us well. Playing in the American Royal Parade and acting as the official Missouri Day Band at the Royal were among early activities. Each year our band is outstanding in its presentation at various football and basketball games. Participation in the All-City Band requires much preparation, but it has proved worthwhile.

Another busy group is the a cappella choir. Their voices pleased audiences at open house during Education Week and at Knightlites. They are much in demand by churches and have presented fine programs for several. At Christmastime they presented a program for the Kiwanis club, and they participated in the All-City Choir Festival.

Three smaller groups, the girls' octette, boys' octette, and boys' quartette, have gained recognition in our school and throughout the community.

Each year two assemblies, Christmas, band and orchestra, are given by the music department. Vocal groups supply inspiration for the Christmas season, and sparkling instrumental numbers entertain students at the band and orchestra assembly.

The Spring Music Festival gave enjoyment to many Southeast students and patrons. This event was the climax of a very successful year for the music department.

Knight Club

An evening of a variety of fun is derived from a Saturday night at Teen Town. Popularly called the Southeast Knight Club, it provides many activities including ping-pong, movies, the snack bar, and dancing. For the cost of one dollar per semester each student may participate in Teen Town functions.

The festive Halloween dance, the sock-foot dance, the January dress-up party, the Sadie Hawkins Day dance and senior farewell party were the highlights of this year's program.

Teen Town owes its success to the leadership of Mr. Cross who is assisted by Mrs. Leon Hunter, Miss Louise Mosman, Mrs. Sally Graham, and Mr. Tira. The students greatly appreciate the work these adults do.

Office Assistants

Betty Von Demfange, Jenanne Patterson, Darlene Smith, Martha Manford, Jo Ellen Hammond, Norma Black.

The girls who assist in the office render a great service to our school. Besides being of great assistance to the office staff, they are gaining experience in office procedure, and in accounting. It is their responsibility to answer the telephone, help keep records, operate the switchboard, prepare supplies, and collect money.

Another group kept busy assisting the office is the collectors. It is their job to collect the attendance slips during the hour assigned to them and return them to the office.

Southeast greatly appreciates the work these groups do to help the administration.

Athletics

Athletic events are always popular among Southeast's long list of activities. As well as providing enjoyment, games build character and promote a spirit of sportsmanship among the various individuals that participate.

The pre-season basketball record of our Knights showed promise of their being a championship team, but when league play was finished we were on the losing end. Our team, although not always victorious, did on every occasion show evidence of good sportsmanship.

Football was very successful this year. Our team struggled hard and played well all the way. A first place standing seemed quite evident, but a big upset by Central left us with a heavy defeat. This did not stop our team, for even though disappointed, each played his position a little stronger and the season ended in a second place tie with Northeast High School.

Track, although not fully underway as yet, shows promise of being very successful. Southeast placed second in the Kansas City High School division of the Big Seven Indoor Track Meet.

Girls, as well as boys, are eligible to participate in athletics. Hockey, volleyball, basketball, and table tennis are a part of their large curriculum.

Of course, without the aid of coaches to train these boys and girls, our teams would be handicapped. Any team must have a hard working, well-trained coach. Much credit for the accomplishments of our teams goes to Mr. Patterson and Mr. Bates, football; Mr. Adams and Mr. Bates, basketball; Mr. Cross and Mr. Bates, track; Miss Canham and Dr. Perkins, girls' sports.

Mr. Maupin and Mr. Harman also deserve recognition for their excellent coaching of the golf and tennis teams. The tennis team, under Mr. Maupin's leadership, took honors in the high school and state tennis tournaments. The work of the golf team is not yet completed, but the team has been chosen and shows prospects of making a fine record for Southeast.

The main goal of our Knights is always to play a fair game. The moral support and wonderful spirit of enthusiasm among the student body also helped in the success of our teams.

Southeast 40, Ward 6

The Southeast Knights started their football season in a gloomy atmosphere created by a downpour of rain. Even though our team was inexperienced they defeated Ward 40 to 6. Roger Taylor, a sophomore, played his first game. He scored two touchdowns, the first two times he carried the ball. George Rowe played one of his best games of the year.

Southeast 7, Southwest 34

Southwest hit our team hard and continuously to hand us our first defeat. Winningham, one of our returning lettermen, matched Southwest in experience, but was not able to pull us through. Erisman played his usual good offensive game at center.

Southeast 34, Paseo 6

The Southeast Knights kicked off to Paseo. On the kick-off, one of the Paseo men suddenly dashed out and ran for a touchdown. This seemed to be the spark that our boys needed to spur them on to give Paseo a good beating. It was a splendid game from start to finish. Garber and Laughlin took turns at running around the Paseo line.

Southeast 34, Manual 7

Manual proved to be easy mark for our team. Forbes and Brown by this time were on the first team and were proving their capabilities.

Southeast 14, Westport 7

Westport played one of its best games against our Knights. They gave us even more than we expected. Jackson, our amazing fullback, made two long runs thereby gaining twelve points. Breuer and Pisano kicked the extra points. Southeast proved the better of the two teams and defeated Westport 14 to 7.

Southeast 14, East 0

The fine defensive play of Tinsley and the downfield blocking of Cook and Wilkes were very instrumental in adding East to our list of victims. These hard charging linemen led the way to the final score 14 to 0.

Southeast 13, Northeast 0

By this time everyone, except Southeast, thought the championship game would be played by Northeast and Southwest. Southeast was outweighed about twenty pounds per man; however, it was in this game that the Knights proved that a good, little fast man is much better than a big slow man. Our strong line, led by Taylor, held Northeast to 33 yards from scrimmage. Our defensive backs, Wilms and Summers thwarted Northeast's aerial attack.

Southeast 14, Central 18

The Knights were championship bound all week. They practiced and their success over Central seemed in the bag, but on the night of the game something happened. When we recovered, we found that if it had not been for Purdy, our passer, we probably would have been whitewashed. Shireman set a league record by carrying the ball seventy-five yards on one pass play. In spite of our efforts, we lost the game.

Southeast 7, Raytown 27

Raytown came to town and did everything to us that shouldn't have been done in the way of football. They completed passes, ran around our end, ran through our line, and sent us home with a record of six wins and three losses for the year.

Third Row—White, Middleton, Linch, Hampton, Kice, Fuqua, Kincade, Lasseter, Hill, Woste, Woner.

The young Knights got off to a shabby start by losing their first two games. However, they bounced back strongly by knocking off four straight league opponents by impressive margins. This series of victories was not to continue, as injuries caught up with the Knight backfield and the gridders lost their last two games. The following boys carried the load this year: Ends—

Trocosso, Crowley, and Fuqua. Tackles—Smith, Hampton, and Sparks. Guards—Doyle and Haines. Centers—Tyle and Lindsey. Backs—Smithmier, Woste, Carney, Kirwin, Holt, Brown, Linck, and Jones. This group, added to the reserve nucleus that is returning, should provide a promising varsity squad for 1952.

Southeast won twelve of their games this year and lost five in both the league and pre-season tilts. We tied with Westport for fifth place in the Interscholastic League, and we were defeated by them in the first game of the regionals.

Four of the seniors on the squad were returning lettermen from the 1951 squad. Bud Larson, a three-year letterman, served as our captain.

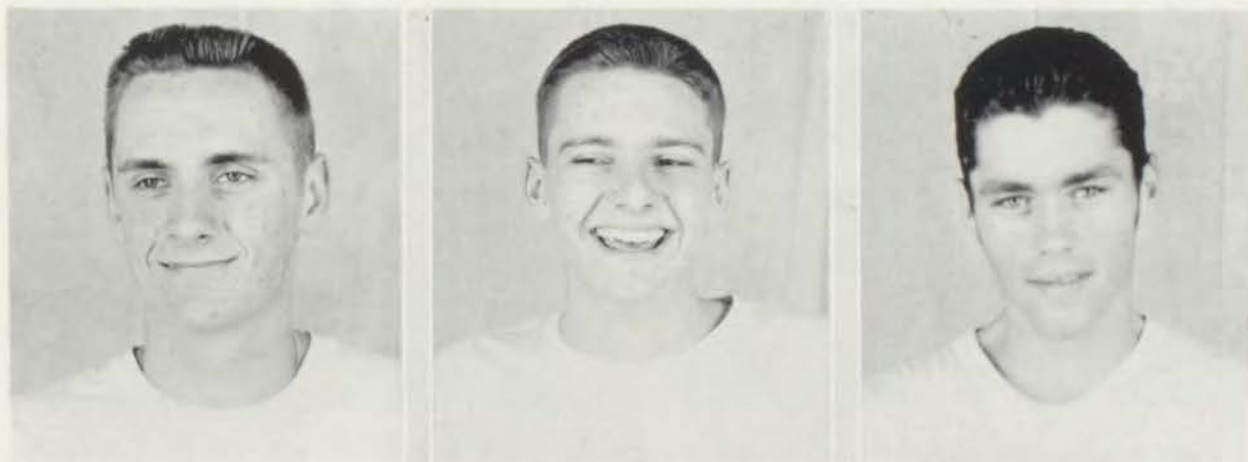

He gained a position on the City All-Star Second Team, while Howard Wynn and Don Bateman received honorable mention.

Our team had what it takes for a winning combination and displayed excellent co-operation and sportsmanship. We wish to congratulate the team and Coach Adams for their fine work.

The young Knights began their season by losing a tough game in an overtime to Pem Day; however, this was not to be an indication of the over-all season. The cagers rolled over their next six opponents by impressive margins, before dropping a one-pointer to Manual. In the league as two mainstays of the quintet, Generaux and Kice, were rewarded for their stellar play by being promoted to the varsity. These boys aided our team in their play: Cartwright, Cross, Thompson, Kirwan, Long, Ward, and Hibbs.

LYNN ALEXANDER—Freshman. Lynn, the youngest boy on our team, started playing in Oklahoma City at the age of six with his dad as coach. He plays a good game, and we hope he will be with us again next year. He shoots in the neighborhood of 80 on Swope Course Number Two.

MAX FULLER—Senior. Max played with Southeast last year. He started on the Milburn—and plays in the 80's on Swope Course Number Two.

ALFRED SLATER—Senior. Al started to play golf when he was thirteen. He worked at Hillcrest Golf Course as a caddie. He has represented Southeast for two years in tournaments. He tied for low medal score last spring, with a score of 71. He also placed ninth in the city caddie tournament last year.

BOB JONES—Sophomore. At the age of twelve years, Bob started swinging clubs at Swope Number Two. Bob will be with the team several years yet. He shoots in the middle 80's on Swope Course Number One. Bob hopes to work in the pro shop at Swope this summer.

BUD HARDIN—Senior. This is Bud's second year with the golf team. He started as a caddie at twelve years of age at Blue Hills. Bud shoots in the 70's on Swope Course Number Two.

GENE SUMMERS—Senior. This is Gene's first year as a member of the golf team. At fourteen, Gene played his first game at Stayton Meadows Golf Course. He shoots in the lower 80's on Swope Number One and up in the 60's on Swope Number Two.

Last fall an interscholastic League Tournament was not held because of bad weather. Later, a faculty member could not be found, who could devote his time to manage a tournament. As yet, there has been no tournament. This spring it is the hope of the boys to reorganize and play a tournament.

Girls' Gym Classes

Through the extra-curricular program of the physical education classes, a girl, during her five years at Southeast, may earn various letters. The first of these are the eighth grade and freshman shields. To earn these shields, a girl must participate in three team-sports and one individual sport for each letter. Participation in three team-sports gives a girl her large shield. While a girl is in her junior and senior years of high school, she may earn her school letter by taking part in four team sports, two individual sports, and thus have four service credits. If a girl earns her letter during the junior year, she may work for a small pin to put on the letter. The requirements for the pin are the same as those for the letter. The small pin is a great achievement and very few girls have ever earned it. This year three girls will earn this award. They are Velva Harrison, Rosemary Magers, and Shirley Sizemore.

An important phase of school life for many of the Southeast boys is athletics. During this year the boys' physical education classes have provided a variety of sports for their interest. Included in the curriculum are football, soccer, basketball, volley ball, ping-pong singles and doubles, and softball. After learning the rules, rudiments, and finer points, class teams are chosen. The teams compete in a double round robin and the winner is presented a small letter, known as a shield. The all-star teams, chosen from each hour, participate in an elimination tournament until only one team remains. These winners are awarded K's and are known as school champions.

Two large chenille letters, one for first place and a smaller one for second, are awarded to the two boys who have accumulated or scored the most points. Through a point system, each boy is able to work toward these awards. Two points are obtained by winning a class championship, being a captain of the winning team scores one-half point extra, winning the school championship scores five points, and being a captain of this winning team scores an extra point.

Farewell

The staff began work on the 1952 Crusader early last fall. Now, as this school year draws to a close, our work on this annual is completed.

We hope you enjoy its contents as much as we have enjoyed bringing them to you. We conclude our book with this farewell message:

Graduation Day is a gala affair . . . When seniors are free from their care . . . 'Tis interesting for teachers to behold . . . Those students once timid now acting so bold . . . The day is one of impulses and notions . . . And filled to the brim with mixed emotions . . . Some will be sad and some will be gay . . . Some will sing and some will pray . . . Some will think it's the end of abuses . . . Such as homework, eighth hour, or absence excuses . . . Some will take the longer look . . . And see it's only a chapter in an open book . . . Some will go out to achieve honor and fame . . . Some will find pleasure in a change of name . . . Some will experience disappointment and strife . . . Some will inherit the blessings of life . . . But no matter what you think or say . . . To each senior it is an important day . . . So whatever may be your career . . . Make the world better by your being here.
