W. Lawrence Cannon—Principal

The classes and halls are empty, the students are gone, and 1968 is another year down in history. But, somehow, it will always be a year which had special meaning to each individual. To the Freshmen, it was a year that created a whole new way of life. Beginning at Orientation Day, high school seemed so much bigger and different. As usual, however, each adjusted and at the end of the year, Southwest was like home. For Sophomores, the joy of reaching that magic driving age helped brighten the year. And, to the Juniors, the thought of the long-awaited Junior-Senior Prom made the year fly. However, for most Seniors, it was a year to be like no other. It was to be their last at Southwest, and that moment of graduation seemed so near. Now, the year is over, and some of the memories of it will be remembered, some forgotten. Things like the chilly Homecoming Parade or Redskin Revels with its funny in-between acts. . . the frigid Van Horn game and the sticky floor at the Christmas Dance. . . seeing ROTC return to Southwest. . . enjoying exchange students Jaime and Penny. . . rehearsing for the Sound of Music. . . having one of the best swim teams in history. But, the classes and halls are empty, the students are gone, and 1968 is a year down in history.

...and another year begins

Returning to school after a lazy, carefree summer is usually difficult for most students. But, on September 7, the lazy days of summer were forgotten, and once again Southwest appeared more like a school than just a vacant building.

For many, their first trip back to school occurred earlier when they attended Orientation Day. At the dance that followed, it seemed as though there were more Juniors and Seniors in the overcrowded boys' gym than new students.

As always, the first few weeks of school were hectic. Activities such as locker assignment, underclass yearbook pictures, cross-country, and football kept a large number of faculty and students busy. For others, the dreams of summer vanished, studying began, and thoughts turned to upcoming activities like football games, Redskin Revels, dances, and Thanksgiving vacation. Yes, another year had begun.

Southwest began the 1967 campaign with three non-league games. They lost the first game to Rockhurst 13-0 but came back with a strong ground game and a steady passing attack to beat Springfield Parkview 20-0 and University City of St. Louis 14-0.

The first league competition was the televised game with Northeast. Paul Hausley scored two touchdowns and gained a total of 129 yards to pace Southwest to a 28-14 victory. Bob Bruegging's touchdown pass to Bob Wolf and Dick McDonnell's touchdown completed the scoring.

In the Lincoln game neither side could do much on the rain-soaked field. Southwest recovered four of the six fumbles made by Lincoln but could penetrate no farther than the Tigers' 23-yard line. The Indians gave up the ball on two of their three fumbles but held Lincoln to 40 yards on the ground. The final score was 0-0.

The next game was with Central, and the Southwest offense capitalized on the defensive team's heads up play sparked by Glen Demming, Jim McGuire, and Will Chappelow. Demming and McGuire both recovered fumbles made by the Central team, and Bob Bruegging converted both of them into touchdowns for Southwest. With the 25-yard field goal made by Bob Marquis the score was 17-0. Central then added a quick touchdown, making it 17-7; but by this time the clock had run out, leaving Southwest with a much deserved victory.

varsity football

In the Manual game Southwest went on the ground, grinding out 301 yards. Jim McGuire, Bob Marquis, and Bob Bruegging all scored once for Southwest while Dick McDonnell who had a very excellent game scored twice. Southwest defense also continued to show their superiority by allowing Manual only six points, which was on a kick-off return and a series of quick plays. This brought Southwest's record in the league to 3-0-1 and second in the standings.

The fifth league game was with Van Horn. Southwest's defensive lineman Tom Curley set up the Indians' only score by recovering a fumble after he and another lineman, Dennis Bowman, had broken through to stop Van Horn's punt return. The Indians wasted no time scoring with Bob Bruegging hitting end Wayne Noel on a 26-yard pass, and Bob Marquis make the conversion to bring the score to 7-0 which it was to remain the rest of the game.

In the first quarter of the game with Paseo, Bob Bruegging scored on a 20-yard run, and the point after failed. Paseo then scored on an 88-yard punt return and they made the extra point, leaving the score 6-7, and it remained that way until the fourth quarter in which Southwest erupted for 26 points. Will Chappelow, playing his usual hardnosed football, blocked a punt on the Paseo 38-yard line. Bob Bruegging on the next series of downs ran the ball in for the touchdown. Bob Marquis then intercepted a Paseo pass and returned it 21 yards, and Paul Hulsey carried it in for the touchdown. Then, defensive tackle Dennis Bowman recovered a fumble and Bob Marquis passed twice to Craig Ewing for the score. Paseo made one more touchdown and point after, which left the score 32-14, another victory for the Indians.

The last and deciding game of the season now approached and all were waiting in anticipation. Not only was it the traditional Southwest-Southeast game, but it was also Homecoming. Southeast scored first on an 83-yard drive which took 17 plays. Southwest then fought back and Bob Bruegging scored on a quarter-back sneak and Bob Marquis added the extra point. With three short but decisive seconds, Southeast threw a pass which left the score 12-7 at half. At the beginning of the second half Greg Wegner recovered a fumble, but no score was made, and the ball went to Southeast. They then scored again on a fumble deep in Southwest territory. Bob Marquis then made a touchdown for Southwest, making the final score 19-14. Southwest had suffered its only loss in league play, yet this game cost the Indians a much deserved and fought for championship title.

Southwest posted a 7-2-1 overall record and finished second in the league with a 5-1-1 record. The school can be proud of its fine team and coaching staff led by Head Coach Bill Robinson who was assisted by Line Coach Jack Weyforth and Backfield Coach Jim Moriarty. Special thanks are due the managers for their support and many hours of work. Particular recognition should be given Charlie Atwell who has devoted himself contantly to helping the athletic department during his five years at Southwest.

Southwest was rated eighth by The Kansas City Star in its ranking of Kansas City Area High Schools. More members of its team ranked on the All-City than any other school. First team All-City were: Clark Skinner (C), Will Chappelow (G), Glen Demming (E), and Bob Marquis (S). Honorable Mention was given to: Bob Bohm (E), Dennis Bowman (T), Rod Brody (T), Bob Bruegging (QB), Paul Hulsey (HB), Tom Curley (T), Dick McDonnell (HB), Jim McGuire (HB), Wayne Noel (E), Phil Pittman (G), Steve Reineke (G), and Bob Wolf (E). In The Kansas City Star's All-Metro team Clark Skinner and Will Chappelow were given Honorable Mention.

homecoming

The highlight of the assembly—the presentation of the candidates.

Loyalty, fear rivalry, and enthusiasm—these were words which described the week preceding the annual Southwest Homecoming weekend, November 11 and 12.

The candidates for Homecoming Queen, Marcia Murray, Kathy Callaway, Marilyn Marshall, Cindi Kaufman, Nancy Dysart, and Janet Levitch, were formally presented to the student body in an assembly on Friday morning. Friday night's activities included an intra-school parade, in which most departmental clubs took part, followed by a lively but disheartening game with rival Southeast.

The culmination of the weekend's events was the dance held on Saturday night, where Marilyn Marshall was crowned queen. The excitement of those attending the dance was surpassed only by the radiance of the newly crowned queen.

Half-time activities include the precision majorettes.

Jaime and Penny ride in their first Southwest parade.

Mr. Manning discusses music with the JV cheerleaders.

"Go ahead and turn them all on, Mr. Manning will never know the difference."

From "Cabaret" to "The Bald Soprano," from "Georgy Girl" to cowboys and Indians, the 1967 Redskin Revels definitely had something for everyone.

Entitled "Comedy Tonight," Revels was a potpourri of song, music, and dance. The fast-moving show displayed the talents of the more than 350 students who gave their time and energy for the production's success. The continuity and pace of the show were achieved through a series of nonsensical introductions which ranged from pogo sticks to tin can pyramids.

The show, presented the weekend of November 17 and 18, was co-ordinated and directed by Mr. Manning, who also directed Girls' Choir and Concert Choir. Mr. Alter conducted both the Orchestra and Stage Band. Under the supervision of Mr. Summers, the stage crew performed the task of lighting and setting the stage.

The scenery was dismantled, the costumes were returned to the rental company, and the props were reclaimed by their respective owners; another successful Redskin Revels became history.

christmas

Students prepare for the Classmen.

Richard Howell makes ready for the Vespers processional.

Christmas at Southwest wouldn't be the same without the annual Card Exchange. This year the exchange, operated entirely by students, handled over 9,000 cards. The cost of sending a card was two cents and the Student Council made a net profit of $198.00. The money collected will be used to support next year's foreign exchange students.

Vespers were presented this year in a manner synonymous with the spirit of the winter season. Setting Girls' Choir in their red and white dresses against the gold holly background made their performance beautiful as well as entertaining. The Vespers were brought to a close with the presentation of the "Hallelujah Chorus" from Beethoven's "Mount of Olives," by the Orchestra, Junior Choir, and Concert Choir.

The Christmas Season was brought to a close with the sounds of "The Classmen" who played at the Christmas Dance. Carol Kelly, Southwest Junior, was elected the 1967 Snow Queen.

What could be a better Christmas gift to the students than an eleven-day holiday!

basketball

The 1967-68 basketball team can be described as young, but hustling every minute on the court. Their 6-19 record can be deceiving to those who were not at the games.

The team was led by two juniors, Bob Bruegging and Rich Jacoby. Both of these boys, of course, will be back next year; and with the experience and added practice, it looks like possibly championship material. Other starters this year were seniors Bud Davis, Gary Remley, and John Cullen, who showed desire, hustle, and team play every game. The rest of this year's players were seniors Tom Curley and Bob Wolf, juniors Rich Prezebel, Bruce Greenbaum, Bruce Weneck, and Duncan McInnis, and sophomore Robin Gifford.

The team started the season with a slim loss to rival Pem-Day and didn't pick up the winning trail until their sixth game against Van Horn. However, since there were no returning starters and Southwest is in the toughest league in the area, it was not a discredit to end league play with a 2-7 record. There were many close and exciting games, and it was great to have Bob Bruegging lead the league in scoring for part of the season. (He took fifth at the season's close.)

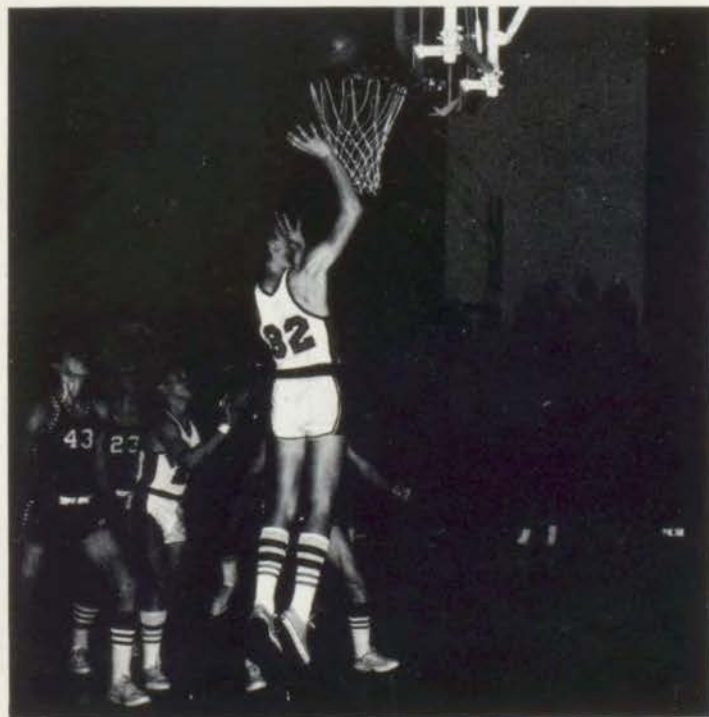

After the league games, the Tribe went to the state tournament against third seeded Hogan. Blithely disregarding the ratings, Southwest whipped Hogan 61-54, and advanced to the second round against second seeded Paseo. The first half of that game was extremely exciting, with the score knotted at 26 all. The second half saw Paseo coming out in a full court press; but Southwest overcame it and with just 3 minutes to go was still close at 51-49. Then Paseo's height got to the Indians at the end, and they came out on top 65-54. However, Southwest rooters gave the team a standing ovation as they left the court. They really deserved it!

foreign exchange

A.F.S.'er Penny Stock adds her talents to the '68 Trail.

Jaime Perez shares his thoughts on America with members of the International Club.

Penny with her American family, the C.S. Burtons.

The George Owens family with Jaime, the Chilean exchange student.

The students of Southwest High School gained a greater understanding of Germany, Chile, and Great Britain this year when they hosted a student from each of these countries. Sabina Hoepner, from Bielfeld, Germany, came to Southwest second semester on the International Youth Christian Exchange. While here, her American sister was Janette Lucas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W.D. Lucas. Sabina, nicknamed Puppe, will remain in the United States until July 20. Both of Southwest's other exchange students, Jaime Perez from Chile, and Penelope Stock from Great Britain, were members of the American Field Service Program and attended Southwest for the entire year. Jaime, who lived with Dave Owens and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Owens, said once in a discussion, "My first interest in the United States is to make friends." To all those who know Jaime, it is obvious that he has been extremely successful. Penny Stock, whose American sister was Beth Burton, daughter of Reverend and Mrs. Shrum Burton, was a member of the International Club, Spotlighters, and Pep Club. She believed that the longer she lived in the United States, the more she learned about her own country. All three of these students feel that foreign exchange "does more for peace in the world" than any other educational experience.

Southwest was fortunate this year in having one of its students, Abigail Havens, chosen to represent the school in the A.F.S. program. Abigail, a senior, left in January to spend one year in Auckland, New Zealand. While there, she is attending St. Cuthbert's, an Episcopalian girls' school. The scholastic competition is fierce since from her class of eighty only fourteen will be allowed to enter college. All subject matter has been geared to passing government tests at the end of each year. The only extra-curricular activities at the school are sports, and Abigail has become interested in tennis, swimming, and track. She will return to the United States next January with a lifetime of experience gained in a year.

"Should I kiss your daughter now or just during the show?"

David Kolowitz is the 17-year old extremely American son of two extremely Jewish parents. Although David has a good job working for Mr. Foreman in a machine shop, he has a secret passion to become an actor. Marvin, a boy who is David's age and admires David, suggests that the inexperienced thespian go to the Marlow Theatre and School for Dramatic Arts to learn to act. David needs little persuasion; he is off to apply.

At the theatre, Angela, the shapely daughter of Mr. Marlowe, takes a fancy to David and asks her father to give David a part in the upcoming production. Mr. Marlowe is astounded with David's talent. . . or lack of it. The old actor is not impressed to learn that the boy's experience includes the singing of "The Isle of Capri" and impressions of Ronald Coleman and C. Aubrey Smith during Senior Day at James Monroe High School. Reluctantly, Marlowe gives David the role. The boy is delighted.

David's parents, on the other hand, are very displeased with his actions, as they wish him to go to pharmacy school. David can't decide whether to defy his parents and become an actor, or to obey them and become a druggist.

David finally decides he must be in the play, and he borrows ten dollars from Wanda, his girl friend, to rent the necessary costume. Wanda, at the same time, begins to sense something peculiar between David and his leading lady, Angela. The young lady's fears are relieved after a rehearsal one night when David confesses that he loves only her and that his interests in Angela are purely academic.

Now David's biggest problem is being in the play without his parents finding out. He sends Marvin to the Kolowitz home to obtain the full dress suit he rented for the play. Marvin returns with the wrong box, one containing a prayer shawl. At this point, Miss B., a secretary at LaTesh Hat Company where David delivers machines, comes by to wish David good luck and learns of the situation. She then convinces her boy friend, who is taking her to a formal dinner, to give young Kolowitz the dress suit he is wearing so David can be in the play.

Although the play is a failure, everyone is proud of David; and Mama and Papa reluctantly accept his decision.

Hard work and determined effort are the basic ingredients for a winning team; such was the case with Southwest's wrestling team. Under the experienced guidance of Coach Allen and Coach Cox, Southwest wrestlers had a combined record of 8-1-1, first place in two quadrangular meets and one tournament. Meeting many times twice a day, Southwest's young team, with only two seniors, acquired the experience necessary to capture the Interscholastic League Championship.

First place honors in the league tournament went to Sophomores John Tvedten and Dan Noteis; Juniors Bruce Graham, Mark Wheeler, Ron Lindsey, and Rod Brody. Second place winners were Bill Kartsonis, Sophomore, and Mike Waxman, Junior. Southwest wrestlers succeeded in placing five boys in the district meet. Rodney Brody won the heavyweight class, while teammates Doug Baker, Bruce Graham, and Mike Waxman won second place, and John Tvedten received a third place. Through their efforts Southwest came in fourth in the district meet. Southwest wrestlers continued to advance as they received a fourth place in regional competition. Bruce Graham, Doug Baker, and Mike Waxman received second places, and Rodney Brody placed fourth.

The wrestling future looks bright as there is only one senior letterman on the team and a highly productive junior varsity coming along. This should lead to an even more successful team next year.

All-American Carl Noback extends his lead in the 200 Individual Medley.

All-American Larry Renfro establishes a new district diving record.

Tom Sight finishes far ahead of his competition and sets a new District record.

swimming team

A season of 15 victories and no defeats, their seventh straight Interscholastic League Championship, first in Missouri's Western District, and a second place in state competition brought the Southwest Swim Team its most successful season. Under Coach Jack Weyforth they took on and beat all competition, including Shawnee Mission East twice, a team Southwest had never before defeated. The Indians also traveled to St. Louis to defeat Clayton and state champion Webster Groves.

Perhaps one of the most remarkable showings was their complete domination of Missouri's Western District Swimming championships. Southwest established a fantastic array of record breaking times. Senior Tom Sight established two records in the 200 and 400-yard free style (times-2:00.9 and 4:22.6). Out of a possible 900 points in diving, Larry Renfro scored 377.1 for another first. Carl Noback bettered his record in the 200-yard individual medley, while teammates Roland Sabates and Steve Kase took place honors in the 100 and 50-yard free style, respectively. The 400-yard relay team composed of Steve Kase, Roland Sabates, Larry Renfro, and John Smith knocked 23.6 seconds off the old record.

Indian tankers then moved on to the State Championship in which Southwest came in second to cross state rival, Webster Groves. Southwest swimmers went in fighting and made their presence known to the other state high schools. Carl Noback, who received an All-American rating last year, bettered his time in the 200-yard medley; he swam in record time of 2:05.

"She yodeled back to the lonely goatherd . . ."

"... that will bring us back to Do!"

"... for somewhere in my youth..."

In the corridors of Nonnberg Abbey, shadowed by the Austrian Mountains, the Mother Abbess and the Sisters Margareta and Berthe discuss the fate of an unconventional young postulant named Maria Rainer. Because of her love for the mountains and for singing, she hardly seems suitable material for convent life. The understanding Mother Abbess arranges for Maria to return to the world to discover God's will for her while governing the eight motherless children of Captain von Trapp. The children, accustomed to militaristic discipline from their father, respond happily to Maria's relaxed supervision and learn to sing and enjoy life with her.

While the Captain is on one of his frequent journeys, his oldest daughter, Liesl, begins a secret romance with a telegraph boy, Rolf. Maria, who catches Liesl sneaking into the house late one night, gives Liesl advice, thereby winning her confidence. The Captain returns from Vienna with his fiancée, Elsa Schraeder, and a concert manager, Max Detweiler. The children's behavior and new attitude amaze the captain, and he again accepts music into his house.

Horrified at the realization she is falling in love with the Captain, who is engaged to be married, Maria returns to the convent where she confides in the Mother Abbess. Here, the Mother Superior advises Maria to face her problems and return to the Captain and his children. Arriving at the villa, Maria learns that the Captain's anti-Nazi views have caused a quarrel with Frau Schraeder and their engagement has been broken.

Maria and the Captain acknowledge their love and are married. The Captain is recalled to naval service but, his hatred for Germany will not permit his participation. To escape the Nazis, he and his family flee to Switzerland.

This season Coach Tavernaro worked to make the Southwest Track Team a strong and well-rounded squad. Some of the mainstays on the team were: Pat Tyrrell, last year's city champion in the 440; Mike Wenig, a junior who ran the 100- and 220-yard dash; hurdler Bob Bruegging; and distance men Bill Ennis, Bob Waggener, and Jeff Selsor.

The field events showed Southwest's strength. Junior Rod Brody, a shot putter, placed fifth in state in the indoor meet; and, other shot putters, Dick McDonnell and Dennis Katz, gave Southwest added points. Glen Demming was Southwest's pole vaulter and Marty Oster was in the high jump. One event that ardent track fans look for is the Mile Relay. The Southwest mile relay team, composed of Bob Bruegging, Mike Wenig, Bill Ennis, and Pat Tyrrell, scored some of the fastest times in the city this season.

Southwest made many gains this season from the first gun, due to the hard work and conscientious effort of every member of the team. For future years, there are good squads of Junior Varsity and Freshmen under the direction of Coaches Robinson and Allen.

Dick McDonnell prepares for the first leg of a relay.

The award is presented to the Southwest track man who shows outstanding leadership, dedication, and loyalty. The first winner was Bruce Smith.

To create enthusiasm for scholarship, to promote leadership and service, and to develop character, the Southwest chapter of the National Honor Society was established in 1928. Membership is chosen from the top twelve to fifteen per cent of the senior class and also includes approximately 10 outstanding juniors who perform the induction service the next year. The names of members of the society are registered with the national office in Washington, D.C., and are kept on permanent file in the school office.

student council-first semester

The first semester Student Council helped to get the school year off to a booming start. Beginning in early summer, the Summer Activities Council, sponsored by the Student Council, made preparations for the arrival of two AFS students, planned Orientation Day and the Back-to-School Dance, published the informative Path, and made the services of the Book Exchange available to the students.

The Council's next big project was the Magazine Sale which netted a profit of $2,400. During December the entire Council worked diligently on the preparations for the Christmas Dance and the Christmas Card Exchange, and also assisted the International Club with the adopted Christmas families.

As the end of the semester drew near, last minute business was finished, and preparations began for the election of new officers. With $1,300 left in the treasury, it was easy to see that the first semester Student Council had been a truly successful one.

OFFICERS: Dick Wasserstrom—Sgt.-at-Arms, Sue Lyddon—Secretary, Harvey Saver—President, Andy Sackin—Treasurer, Ken Allen—Vice-President, Richard Stein—Critic.

Before school began, the Southwest Red Cross and Safety Council was involved in activities and awards. For the eighth consecutive year, it was honored with an award given by the National Commission on Safety Education. Plans for the Baby Doll Dance, with the theme of "Sunshine and Lollipops", were made.

The $500 earned by this dance initiated the first semester projects, which included the United Campaign, Christmas stockings, and the March of Dimes. The canned food and toys from the Tin and Toy Dance helped to support the Christmas family. Another appreciated service performed by the Red Cross was the donation given to an Evacuation Hospital in Vietnam.

student council - second semester

OFFICERS: Gary Rubin—Critic, Laura Dysart—Secretary, Jerry Mey-er—President, Marli Yeo—Sgt.-at-Arms, Judy Wagner—Vice-President, Judi Lyddon—Treasurer.

The Southwest Student Council continued to ac-complish many worth-while goals during second semes-ter. One of its first responsibilities was the planning of the Leadership Dinner. The Council's concern for the protection of the school seal in the front hall resulted in the appointment of R.O.T.C. guards. In March four de-legates were elected to represent Southwest at the City Hall Day.

With the arrival of spring, the annual school carni-val and the Spring Dance were held, headed by the Stu-dent Council. Several new ideas were also proposed, such as student registration for school elections and a special council of club presidents.

Because of its enthusiastic members and its excep-tional ideas, this semester's Student Council was truly one to be remembered.

Before the second semester began, the Red Cross Safety Council was already busily at work preparing for upcoming projects. Second semester officers and members first had the task of handling the Red Cross Membership Drive. The $1,000 made from the drive was evidence of its success. Next, the Council filled twenty Friendship Kits for Vietnamese children. As in past years, Safety Week was another undertaking by the Red Cross.

As the semester came to a close, it was easy to see that by sponsoring these various projects, the Red Cross Safety Council had again added a great deal to the welfare and safety of Southwest.

indian belles

Redskin Revels, Christmas Vespers, Operetta, and countless public and private appearances all proved that with talent, rehearsals, and a willingness to work, a group the size of Concert Choir can function with superb results.

This year's choir consisted of 140 vocal music students. The Male Octet, comprised of eight boys, and the Indian Belles, a ten-girl ensemble, were chosen at the beginning of the year from the finest of these voices. The Choir, Male Octet, and Indian Belles were all under the direction of Mr. Manning.

Choir's greatest undertaking this year was the presentation of The Sound of Music in April. The entire group can be proud of the excellence and perfection of this production. The culmination of Choir's activities this year was their performance at Commencement.

The versatile skill of Concert Choir is a source of pride and satisfaction for Southwest.

girls' choir

The appearance of the Southwest Girls' Choir is a pleasurable addition to any musical event. The excellence of this choir reflects the time and effort they put into their work and the talent they have. The girls hold a prominent position in Southwest's extra-curricular activities, by taking an active part in Redskin Revels, the Girls' Glee Club Festival, and the Operetta. The group this year consisted of eighty-four girls from the vocal music department, under the direction of Mr. Manning.

Their outstanding vocal ability was confirmed again this year by the judges at the District and State Music Contests. The grace and perfection with which this group performs is constantly evident in their innumerable performances.

orchestra

No musical activity at Southwest would be complete without the Orchestra. The sixty talented young students have performed in almost every entertaining event this year. The Orchestra took an active part in Redskin Revels, assemblies, and Operetta, only to mention a few.

The Orchestra contains not only musicians but a composer as well. In the instrumental music assembly, the Orchestra performed the world premier of the first movement of "Symphony No. 2 in G Major, Opus 5", by Joe Kramer, a Southwest Junior.

The excellence with which the Orchestra executes its performances is an indication of its members' loyalty and hard work. Their conductor, Mr. Alter, has every reason to be proud of them.

band

Contributing to the spirit of the student body, the Band led the support needed to back up this year's highly successful football team. Displaying Southwest's overall enthusiasm to others was an important facet of the Band.

In addition to making a name for themselves in various state and district contests, the Band was well known in the Kansas City area for their appearances in the American Royal and Westport Parades.

The eighty-five piece Band functioned with great precision under the leadership of Mr. Alter. Their performance in Redskin Revels and various assemblies proved this.

Southwest is proud of its Band which is an integral part of school life.

pep club

What do you mean, wrong goal?

Enthusiastic members give "service with a smile".

...and another sign is added to Southwest's walls.

While attending any sporting event, walking down the halls on Friday, or venturing into the auditorium the afternoon of a game, Southwest students undoubtedly noticed a mass of black sweaters and orange Indian heads. These uniforms were filled by members of the Southwest Pep Club.

The purpose of this organization, which is the largest at Southwest, is to promote and sustain school spirit by instilling enthusiasm within the entire student body. One of the main objectives this year was to give exceptional support to swimming, wrestling, tennis and golf, as well as to football, basketball, and track.

Pep Club activities included many effective and unique methods of advancing true Indian spirit. Vivid banners and posters invited students to the weekly sporting events. After an eye-opening assembly concerning the urgent need for additional support, students made a greatly improved turn-out for the basketball games, especially the one against Southeast. Part of the reorganization during second semester included a "Pep-piest Class" competition.

These activities, along with the annual Homecoming, Basketball, and Track dances, made this year's Pep Club a truly successful one. The energetic spirit that was a part of it set a worthy example for years to come.

Sharon Epstein, Penny Stock, Kitty Harris, Mary Coote, Steve Rothstein, Stan Freeman, and Becky Scott prepare the Trail for distribution.

Every other Thursday, in the halls, classrooms, and cafeteria, Southwest students were seen reading the latest issue of the Trail. The reasons for its popularity are obvious. The Trail informs the student body of coming events, relates the interests and achievements of fellow Indians, amuses readers through clever poems and humorous articles, and expresses varied opinions in editorials.

While providing this service, the Trail staff learned the techniques of good journalism, advised by Miss Virginia Welch. Every member of the staff, from the editors to the reporters, worked his hardest to make each Trail the successful edition that it was.

Gerry Shapiro, Chris Boice, and Bruce Krigel unload the newly printed copies.

debate team

This year Southwest was fortunate in having one of the best debate teams in its history. Under the supervision of Mr. Davis the team was reorganized and the results of several changes were evident. The newly adopted title of "team" instead of "club" signified the importance of united efforts and shared responsibilities. New interest was shown by the fact that membership rose from seven debaters the previous year to twenty debaters in 1967-68.

Exceptional honor was brought to Southwest by the debate team. Participating in over twenty-five tournaments, it won numerous trophies, including first place at Springfield Parkview, Raytown South, Leavenworth, Concordia-St. Paul's, and the Neosho Invitational. Perhaps the greatest achievement this year was taking second place in the National Forensic League State Tournament by the team of Judy Wagner and Paul Wilson.

Southwest's first Annual Forensics and Debate Tournament was held in March, hosting twenty schools and approximately two hundred students.

literary contest

High spirits and hearty appetites make the Literary Society Dinner very successful.

With the traditional baton in her hand, Pegi Hause leads enthusiastic Omega members in a song.

Zend-Avesta shows its "tremendous" ambition.

Good grades and literary talents are both qualities which one must possess to become a member of a literary society at Southwest. Shortly after school began, those interested in joining one of the twelve societies were invited to a coke party where they were given the chance to meet old members and to register for the society of their choice. After the traditional initiation of the new members each society immediately began working on its main project: to win the Forty-First Annual Literary Contest. Everyone was required to prepare an essay, short story, verse, oration, or declamation, and the one with the best in each category was chosen to compete with the contestants from the other societies.

The orations were given after school on Wednesday, March 27, but the real festivities did not start until the following Friday night. At that time, society members and advisers gathered in the cafeteria for the kick-off dinner. Afterward, each society made its grand entrance into the auditorium. Amid a giant-sized broom, bananas, balloons, and a casket, declamations were heard, followed by the passing of the baton. To an anxiously awaiting audience, Mr. Neal announced that Athena, with seven points, had captured the gold cup, with Zend-Avesta trailing behind by one point, and Aurora and Sappho tied for third with five points each. Although many were disappointed by the results, losers left the auditorium with the feeling that "there's always next year."
