PEOPLE 124

Just as an entire year cannot be envisioned from a single memory, 1969 at Southwest cannot be represented with a separation of events, organizations, and people. Remembrance of the year past begins with the recollection of an atmosphere, created by association and involvement—three thousand people on their feet cheering in the final moments of the Central game; a tense two days of North Central evaluation; 240,000 peanut clusters; heated controversy at open Student Council meetings; Coach Weyforth thrown in the pool after the State swimming victory; and the pageantry of King Arthur's court—all are compiled into one memory collage. Soon, the clarity of outstanding events will become a fog; thus the most important thing a person will take from Southwest will be himself. The following pages distinguish the people and the situations that have helped to formulate the kind of person you are now. Here in retrospect is the final statement of 1969. Before its events become shades of gray, look and remember.

When the world and I were young,
Just yesterday,
Life was such a simple game,
A child could play.
It was easy then to tell right from wrong,
Easy then to know weak from strong,
When a man should stand up and fight,
Or just go along.
But today there is no day or night,
Today there is no dark or light,
Today there is no black or white,
Only shades of gray.

Barry Mann and Cynthia Well

ADMINISTRATION

In the tradition of his past 19 years, Mr. Cannon has successfully guided Southwest through another academic year. When one takes pride in his student body as Mr. Cannon does, being principal is a rewarding experience. Southwest enjoys the reputation of excellence in academic curriculum and distinction in an extensive program of extra-curricular activities; Mr. Cannon is recognized because of the interest he takes personally in both of these areas. It is not unusual to find Mr. Cannon on the playing field hours after school has been dismissed, discussing previous seasons with the football team. Mr. Cannon talking with students in the halls or auditing rehearsals for the senior play has always been a familiar sight. Because of the lasting friendships he has made with everyone at Southwest High School, Mr. Cannon sees familiar faces wherever he travels in the world. It is unusual to find an administrator who is as involved with the students and as interested in school activities as Mr. Cannon finds the time to be.

The Student Council began planning during the summer months for the first semester of the 1968-69 school year. A little early effort on the part of the Summer Activities Council produced an informative INDIAN GUIDE to be distributed on Orientation Day and THE PATH which was mailed to students late in August.

Several of the dances first semester were sponsored by the Student Council. They included the Back-to-School Dance on September 6, victory dances following some of the winning football games, and the Christmas Dance.

This year's Student Council organized one of the most successful fund-raising campaigns Southwest has ever had. By selling 20,000 boxes of candy, interested students earned approximately $10,000 for the Student Activities Fund which helps finance the Southwest Foreign Exchange Program.

The First Semester Student Council can be credited with some lasting accomplishments.

OFFICERS: Betsy Titterington—Vice-President, Judy Belzer—Critic, Terry Caldwell—Sgt.-at-Arms, Carolyn Eaton—Secretary, Ed Johnston—Treasurer, Jane Nichols—President.

The Red Cross began the year with fresh ideas from their four delegates to the National Red Cross convention. Success began for the first semester members when the Baby Doll Dance on October 4 attracted 1200 people. The pace was kept up with participation in fundraising projects such as the United Campaign. Combining with the Lettermen's Club, the Red Cross sponsored the "Dress-Down Dance" on Thanksgiving Eve. First semester the organization selected a local nursing home to aid, hoping to make this practice an annual project. Extending their interest in others, the Red Cross helped make 1968 a happier year for everyone.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The second semester Student Council under the leadership of Andy Sackin, recognized the need for a revision of its structure and decided to start the ball rolling in 1969. All-School open meetings were held after school to survey student opinion of the proposal for a new council. In these meetings, an organized group of concerned students submitted a second proposal and much debate on both ideas followed. From the synthesis of the two proposals a plan was drawn up for a council to be more responsive to student ideas and for this council to consist of all interested students and only interested students.

Though much attention was focused on the large open meetings, other duties were far from neglected. The Publicity Committee concentrated on strengthening lines of communication with the students by keeping them well-informed. Interesting assemblies, Carnival, and the Leadership Dinner were also products of successful committee work.

This year's Student Council was a functioning body.

"There are no hopeless situations, only men who have grown hopeless about them." This served as the theme for the Red Cross membership drive March 14-18. After increasing interest in the Red Cross with an assembly and a display case showing how membership money was used, the second semester staff began several worthwhile projects. One of their April projects was a window washing session in the Plaza central parking lot. Shoppers returned to their cars to find notes saying, "We took time to wash your windows, you take time to drive safely." The Sadie Hawkins dance, strategically scheduled three weeks before Prom, climaxed the second semester activities on a note of success and enthusiasm.

TRAIL STAFF

The entire staff is busy on distribution day.

Miss Welch talks with the photographers, Mark Fishman and Steve Jacobson, while Don Wilson continues working.

Every other week, the TRAIL staff is busy preparing to meet its deadline. Then, on every other Thursday, the freshly printed copies of the TRAIL are distributed to the school. In the homerooms, the halls, and the cafeteria, the TRAIL is the topic of conversation. Its articles are written by the members of the newswriting class taught by Miss Virginia Welch. All the basic rules of good journalism are put to use in each edition of the newspaper.

The TRAIL is Southwest. In the first issue all subscribers were able to meet and find out about the two foreign exchange students. Throughout this and other issues, personalities were spotlighted in many facets of school life. Trips abroad by groups of students and activities of organizations were all well covered. Mr. Nixon was Southwest's choice to be President in a TRAIL poll. A calendar of events, editorials, and movie reviews were standard in most issues, not to mention the amount of information the reader gained from the TRAIL. Who would have guessed that Mr. Blair is a scuba diver and Mrs. Carlisle had been a witch in MACBETH? Or that Frank Swyden has a swimming rabbit?

Greg Michalson, Nikki Levinson, and George Vedros work especially hard on the day of the issue.

Nancy Reddoch, Denise Schwartz, Mike Woods, and Rick Baumgarten fold TRAILS in preparation for distribution.

Business Manager Marcia Doubleday and Student Advisor Dick Wasserstrom balance the books.

LITERARY CONTEST

The Forty-second Annual Literary Society Contest was won this year by Excelsior, which received eight out of ten possible points. This is the highest total in the Contest's history since the limit of one entry in each category. Taking second place, with five points each, were Athena, Omega, and Zend-Avesta. One point behind in third were Alethea, Summus, and Trista.

Literary activities began in the fall with a coke party to aid prospective members in meeting the school's twelve societies. Preferences were given later, followed by invitations and initiations. Although other activities took place during the year, the main goal was the Literary Contest in the spring. Every member was required to work in one of the five literary categories in preparation for the Contest.

After all the written entries had been turned in, the competition continued after school on Wednesday, March 26, with the orations. But the real excitement did not start until the dinner that Friday night. All the girls were wearing their own society's dresses while eating at their elaborately decorated tables. The boys were more mechanical, making use of two loudspeaker systems and a revolving light. Placards, horns, and cowgirls all marked the societies' entrances. This was followed by the declamation entries. While everyone awaited the final results, each group had its chance to voice its opinions through songs and cheers. The night's festivities were climaxed with the announcement of Excelsior as the Contest winner, and everyone left with self promises to work harder for the cup next year.

Danny Alonso Dellepiane came to Southwest as the American Field Service exchange student from Tranqueiras, Uruguay. While living with the J.D. Elder family, Danny found the United States different in many ways compared to his home in South America. He spent more time at school here than his usual three hours a day, six days a week in Uruguay. At Southwest, Danny played intramural soccer, and enjoyed all the school's sports activities. His membership in International Club, Law Club, Spanish Club, German Club, Seneca, and Zend-Avesta exhibited the variety of organizations in which he was active. But he will probably be remembered most for his winning smile which led to many new friendships in los Estados Unidos.

Minor Vargas, another A.F.S. student, joined Southwest in late February. Minor's new brother was Craig Virden of the Robert Virden family. Since his real home is Costa Rica, he also had to make the transition from Spanish to English. He spent the remainder of the year making new friends and taking advantage of the social and educational opportunities that Southwest offers.

Ann Lystedt spent the year at Southwest as an International Christian Youth Exchange student sponsored by the Country Club Congregational Church. She lived in the home of James Nelson, Jr., with Becky Nelson as her sister. Ann's home is Umea, Sweden, a town one-tenth the size of Kansas City. Scandanavia could not have sent a friendlier girl to our country. She seemed impressed with the differences between the United States and Sweden, especially in regard to the variety of churches here. Looking back on her year abroad, Ann has really enjoyed her chance to see firsthand what the United States is like.

Wylie Mitchell, President of the Senior Class, was Southwest's A.F.S. student. He lived last summer with the 17-member Sa da Bandeira family in a suburb of Lisbon, Portugal. Going to the beach, conversing in cafes, seeing movies, and spending some evenings at dances were just a few of the common activities which Wylie experienced in Portugal. Learning about this fascinating country was an experience that he will never forget.

It has been said that the R.O.T.C. program's objective is to train "citizens and men, not just soldiers." In doing this the R.O.T.C. program has become one of the most varied courses in the school. Subjects range from drill, map reading, and American military history to hygiene and first aid. Advanced classes include the teaching of the psychology of leadership and military tactics.

Many of the cadets' activities take place outside the classroom. In addition to the daily raising and lowering of the flag, all inspections, drill, and exercise are held outside. There is an annual field day and parade including all of the city's R.O.T.C. units; and in February there is the annual military ball where the R.O.T.C. queens reign. This year Southwest's Queen was Linda Hunter.

In 1968-69, its second year at Southwest, the R.O.T.C. had 187 members. Cadet Colonel Michael Scott brought special honor to the unit and school by being chosen Commander of the Kansas City Corps of Cadets.

The Concert Choir can add another year to its record of being one of the finest vocal groups in Kansas City. Continuing as the basis of most of the school's musical productions, the Choir sang selections from "How the West Was Won" in REDSKIN REVELS, performed in several assemblies, and climaxed Christmas Vespers with a interpretation of Handel's "Messiah." The Choir also made several appearances outside of school, including a benefit for the Mayor's Christmas Party and a performance for the Missouri State Teachers Convention.

Only through Mr. Manning's development of the talent within this 166-member group could CAMELOT have been the finished product that it was. As the year came to an end, the Choir made its final appearance at Commencement.

Choreography adds to the "Marine Hymn."

The Girls' Choir, directed by Carder Manning, is a vocal group that is a source of pride to Southwest. In REVELS, the girls sang military tunes while some danced costumed as sailors. Their talents were also displayed in the Christmas Vespers and various assemblies.

This year the Girls' Choir chose to wear sleeveless lime green dresses with white gloves. Whereas the Concert Choir is traditionally robed in blue, each year the girls' group selects a different color and style to express the vitality and freshness of sound that only an all-female chorus can possess.

The Drill Team performs.

"A Star Spangled Revels" was presented on the Southwest stage Friday and Saturday nights, November 22 and 23. Almost four hundred students helped put across this year's theme of "America, land of liberty and justice for all."

The keynote of the show was variety with acts ranging from singing and dancing to instrumental music and serious thought. The program plunged into history with musical selections from "How the West Was Won," a song and dance version of "Mammy," and a cutting from "Mark Twain Tonight." It also had a modern ring to it with such numbers as "Goin' Out of My Head" sung by the male octet, "Soul Coaxing" played by the stage band, and a Southwest version of "Laugh-In." There were excellent performances by both large groups and soloists.

The REVELS' success could not have been achieved without a great deal of time spent in planning and rehearsing. Special praise must be given to Mr. Manning and Mr. Alter.

This year's Band was a visible and audible example of effort and hard work. Many cold mornings were spent practicing on the field outside. The eighty-five member Band was directed by Mr. Alter and led on the field by Drum Major Steve Kellepouris.

Many became familiar with the Band from performances in assemblies, REVELS, and at football games, including the televised half-time at the Central game. The Band also took part in the American Royal Parade, the Westport Day Parade, and the K.C. Band Festival. A highlight of their special performances was being chosen as one of the two bands to play at the finals of the Big Eight Tournament.

The seventeen members of the Stage Band are selected on a competitive basis. Their performances this year ranged from a few selections in assemblies and REVELS to three hours of music at the fund-raising chili supper. In the community, their talents were exhibited at the State Teachers Convention, at homes for the aged, at the area Stage Band Festival which they hosted, and at a clinic to help two local schools start their own stage bands. This spring was climaxed when the group represented Southwest at the Stage Band Contest in Columbia.

The Indian Belles and Male Octet consist of singers chosen from Concert Choir for their ability to blend harmonically. They performed at some 23 Christmas programs; City, District, and State Music Contests; civic and religious activities; and at assemblies, Vespers, and the REDSKIN REVELS. From early rehearsals for the girls to those during lunch-hour for the boys, their many hours of practice have been rewarded by consistent achievement of 1 ratings at Contest since 1961.

The Girls' Sextet is selected from Girls' Choir with the Contest as the year's highlight.

Marcus Williamson exists amid the applause of the school and the Philharmonic.

This year's Orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Alter, accomplished many of its objectives. In addition to performances in REVELS, CAMELOT, assemblies, and its combination with the choirs for "The Hallelujah Chorus" at Vespers, the sixty member group also performed many times outside Southwest. This included a convocation at UMKC, concerts at Bingham, Westport, and Truman, the Spring Arts Program, and, finally, participation in the State Music Contest for the first time in the history of the Orchestra.

Fifteen of the Orchestra's performers were members of the Kansas City Youth Symphony. Marcus Williamson, a Sophomore, was a student soloist with the Kansas City Philharmonic Orchestra, demonstrating his virtuosity at the Philharmonic assembly here. His is only one of the growing talents the Orchestra is fostering.

Lancelot and Guenevere—furtive lovers.

"Ask every person if he's heard the story."

CAMELOT

"Arthur, if this is the kind of knight you intend to breed, you'll bore history to death!"

Lancelot performs a miracle.

As the curtain opens on CAMELOT, King Arthur is seen hiding in a tree, afraid of the idea of his forthcoming marriage. However, spying Guenevere running from her carriage and listening to her pleas to St. Genevieve convinces Arthur that he should indeed woo his queen. The royal couple returns to Camelot, Arthur promising to become the greatest king that ever reigned. From this point on, the King must meet his destiny without the counsel of his teacher, Merlin, who has been bewitched by the fairy, Nimue.

Acknowledging the senselessness of knights killing peasants, Arthur creates the Round Table where might is used only for right. One of the first knights to be attracted to the new order is Lancelot du Lac, an incredibly virtuous Frenchman. On his way to Camelot, Lancelot mistakenly knocks the King off his horse; but through this combat they become close friends and allies. Arthur obtains another counselor when King Pellinore, lost in search of the Questing Beast, wanders into Camelot.

Lancelot is introduced to Guenevere and the gentle folk while they are celebrating the Lusty Month of May. His ideals of perfection make everyone find him very pretentious and overbearing. Guenevere arranges for him to joust with the three best knights in Camelot to shake his lofty ego. Lancelot, however, defeats the first two and kills the third. The court discovers that the Frenchman really can work miracles for he brings Sir Lionel back to life.

"I accuse you of treason in the name of the King!"

Just before Lancelot is knighted that evening, he and Guenevere confess that they have fallen in love with each other. Arthur senses what has happened, but sacrifices his jealousy for the sake of his court and country.

Several years later, Lancelot and Guenevere still think Arthur knows nothing of their illicit affair. Not only does Arthur know, so does his illegitimate son, Mordred. Mordred comes to Camelot to undermine the Round Table in order to make his inheritance come more quickly. He raises dissension among the knights and to speed up his plan, persuades his aunt, the wicked fairy Morgan Le Fey, to build an invisible wall around Arthur as he hunts in the forest. Mordred returns to the castle, the trap set.

Unable to resist the temptation caused by the King's absence, Lancelot goes to Guenevere's bedchamber. He begs her to run away with him and she refuses, but suddenly Mordred and his men burst into the room. Lancelot escapes to Joyous Gard; Jenny is convicted of treason and must burn at the stake.

As Arthur is still deciding whether to "kill the Queen or kill the law," minutes before the execution Lancelot returns to rescue Guenevere. He solves Arthur's dilemma, but the battle is bloody and the Knights of the Round Table want revenge. Arthur takes his forces to Joyous Gard, his new order of chivalry completely destroyed. Lancelot and Guenevere go to Arthur, seeking to pay for their sins, but it is too late—Guenevere returns to the convent which is to be her home, and Lancelot to his army.

Just before the battle, Arthur discovers a young lad, Tom of Warwick. Reminded of himself when he was a boy, Arthur commands the youth to return to England and tell the story of Camelot, hoping that the ideals of the Round Table will be revived someday.

For one brief shining moment. . .

Mordred convinces Morgan Le Fey to detain Arthur.

"Run, boy, run!"

The folk music assembly ends with a jam session.

"Something's happenin' here. . ."

THE CRUCIBLE

This year's Senior Play was the first serious dramatic production portrayed by the members of the Senior Class since 1957. The choice was THE CRUCIBLE, Arthur Miller's tale of accusations of witchcraft and the implications that follow.

When Reverend Parris discovers his niece, Abigail, and some of her friends dancing in the forest, the girls can only hide their guilt by shifting the blame to the witchery of others. Accusations, imprisonments, and hangings follow as the greatest men in the country believe the girls' words. Upon the imprisonment of his wife, John Proctor takes Mary Warren, one of the girls, to court to break the conspiracy, but to no avail. Even Proctor's confession of adultery with Abigail is not believed, and he is jailed for sorcery. After great indecision, John refuses to confess to save his life, and the play ends as he is taken out to be hanged.

"I will prove you for the fraud you are!"

"Proctor, you dare not touch the warrant!"

INTERSCHOLASTIC LEAGUE CHAMPIONS.

VARSITY FOOTBALL

Among high schools, competing for the honor of being the best has long been uppermost in the minds of the students. Sporting events, which are a part of this competition, demand teamwork, all-out effort, natural ability, stamina, desire, and good coaching. The 1968 Southwest football team acquired and demonstrated these skills, and in doing so won the Interscholastic League Championship. The team scored more points than any other team in the area, rated second out of fifty-one teams in the final KANSAS CITY STAR poll, was named first in the final WHB Coaches' Poll, ranked fifth in the Star state-wide poll, and ended up as the only undefeated team in the area. Mr. Cannon called the 1968 football team the best in Southwest's history.

The team began working out twice a day August 15, and practice continued until the opening game against Rockhurst. Though Southwest controlled the game, the team failed to cross the goal line a second time to break a 7-7 tie. However, the next week the team showed what it was made of by demolishing Springfield Parkview 65-6. In the last non-league game, against arch-rival Southeast, Southwest reclaimed the Southside Trophy by defeating the Knights 44-7.

McGuire stiff-arms an opponent on way to a 12-yard gain.

Lindsey breaks through Northeast's power sweep to force a 5-yard loss.

League play then began with an extremely muddy 76-0 victory over East. The next game, against Westport, was very tense. Southwest scored first, but after three vicious quarters of football, Westport led 14-7. The Indians could only rally in the fourth quarter to tie the game 14-14, although the Tribe controlled the statistics in all phases. The Homecoming game disappointed no one but Northeast with Southwest dominating the game more than the 20-6 final score indicated. Lincoln's Blue Tigers were next to fall, with the final result 46-6. The next game was one that would either make or break the team. The Tribe was up against Central, ranked first in the area and second in the state. The game was very close with no scoring made in the first half. In the third quarter Central scored first, but Southwest overcame a first and thirty-one to drive for a touchdown and extra point. However, on the following play the Eagles ran back the kick-off for an additional six points. Their conversion failed. The score stood 13-7 deep into the fourth quarter; then the Indians, containing the Eagles, drove to the Central 40 and scored on a Bruegging to Gifford pass. Reeve's extra point put Southwest in the lead for good, 14-13. In the next game Manual fell easily, 54-0. The last game started out badly with Van Horn scoring first on a safety, but the Tribe soon made up for it and beat the Falcons to claim the League Championship and become the only undefeated team in the area.

On top of the personal satisfaction that the players felt, there were many individual honors received. Bruegging's fine season earned him a place on the All-Metro, All-District, and All-State First Teams. Reeve and Brody made Second Team All-Metro. Southwest placed six players on the All-League Offense and Defense, and ten earned honorable mention.

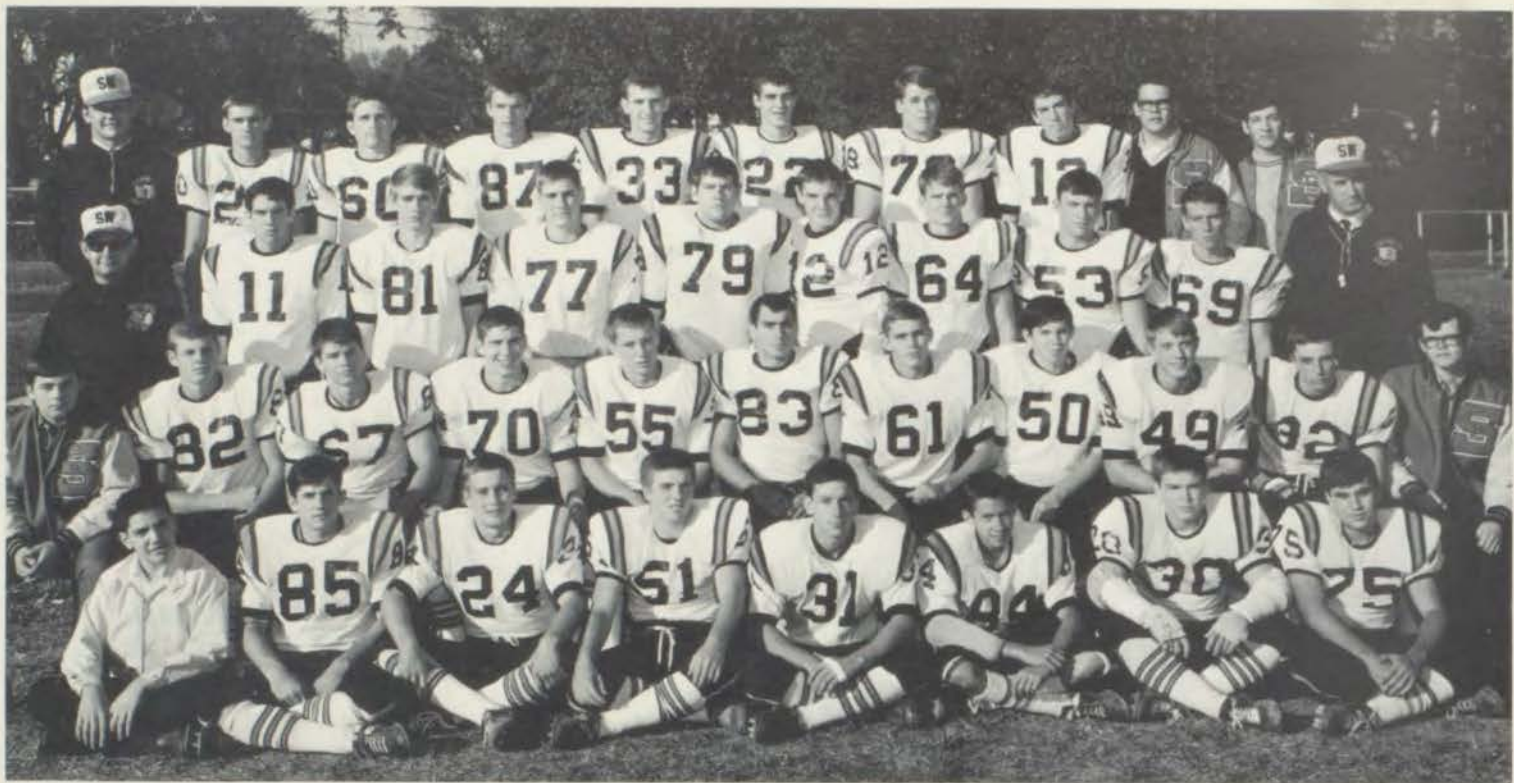

In an outstanding year for football in Kansas City, Southwest was the best. Teamwork, all-out effort, natural ability, stamina, desire, good coaching—Southwest Football—1968.

It's the end of the line for this Ward ball-carrier.

For the third straight year, Coach Tavernaro has had an excellent team, with this 1968 team possibly the best of all. As undefeated champions of the league, this group of sophomores and juniors will certainly show outstanding work when they reach the varsity.

The marching "Orange and Black."

"Election '68" was an appropriate theme for this year's Homecoming, capturing the air of excitement and preparation that dominated the weekend of October 18 and 19.

Miss Ruby Newman made a guest appearance Friday morning in an assembly highlighted by the presentation of the queen candidates. Creative thought and hard work resulted in the impressive parade that night which followed the traditional bonfire and preceded the game against Northeast. Halftime activities included a chorus of the Alma Mater in honor of the queen candidates who stood in a star formed by the band. At the end of the game the score showed Southwest victorious.

The Fab Four played at the dance Saturday night amidst decorations of red, white, and blue. At 11:00 Miss Kim Sprinkle was crowned Homecoming Queen. The entire weekend was one to remember.

Signs throughout the building express the creativity and enthusiasm of Pep Club members.

Pep Club began planning for first semester activities very early in the summer with not only an early Homecoming to organize, but also the responsibility for the design and introduction of new uniforms. When the first meeting adjourned, the 450 members realized what kind of excitement lay ahead. Spirit was heightened throughout the football season by pep assemblies held in the last 10 minutes of school, pre-game bonfires, the appearance of the new orange and white uniforms in the stands, and the participation of the Lettermen in the stands.

None of the excitement disappeared when winter sports began. For the first time, Pep Club members began attending all three winter sports with equal enthusiasm. The abundance of signs promoting wrestling, swimming, and basketball were evident. Interested members were also kept busy with the Winter Sports Homecoming on February 15. Another new idea was introduced when the officers made an effort to exchange ideas with pep clubs from other high schools.

With a boost of new ideas and new spirit, Pep Club retained its position as one of the most active and interested clubs in the school.

The 1968-1969 Southwest basketball team, representing Southwest all the way, was technically not a winning one; but this fact certainly does not tell the whole story.

Compared with the past two years, the 1969 team not only brought a better record, better crowds, faster action, and closer scores, but it also proved that the basketball program is on the way up for the future.

In the first half of the season, Coach Moriarty decided to go with juniors much of the time, not only because of their outstanding play but also because he wanted them to gain experience for next year. Seniors, however, did carry the weight of the team's successes. Richard Jacoby's underhand lay-ups, Bob Bruegging's methodical jump shots, Hires Gage's scoring, Bruce Weneck's rebounding, and Richie Prezebel's hustle will always be remembered. The players showed fine teamwork and a good zone defense; and, if there had not been a poor percentage of free throw connections, the final loss total might have been cut in half. Juniors on the team were Robin Gifford, Gerry Reeve, Steve Green, Dale Robinson, Bill McGowan, Tom Pincetl, and, later, Jerry Bowman. Sophomore Dave Harrington also played varsity roundball this year. These eight boys will make up the nucleus of next year's team, which certainly will have experience behind it.

Highlights included undisputed possession of third place in the league, defeating Central for the first time in eight seasons, and a new coaching staff.

Gage pops in two with help from Gifford.

This year's wrestling team, under Coach Allen and Coach Breckenridge, turned out to be not only the best team in the school's history, not only the first Southwest team to score points in State, not only the first team to have the fine technical assistance shown by the Grapplettes, but it added something more. That something more was newly developed outstanding school support.

Team accomplishments included first place finishes in our quadrangular, the Van Horn Tournament, and the League Tournament; second place finishes in the Shawnee Mission South Quadrangular, in District, and in the Regionals. Individual accomplishments included Bruce Graham winning 25 consecutive matches and finishing fourth in State; John Tvetden and Rod Brody winning all but one match through Regionals, going to State, and John placing fourth in State; and other fine performances by Dave Garrison, Mark Wheeler, Mark Manne, Mike Waxman, and Dan Noteis.

With good returning lettermen, experience, new school support, and all-out effort, this team proved what a success our wrestling program has now become.

The newly-formed Grapplettes were the team's right arm.

SWIMMING

Sabates goes all out on the way to an easy win in the 100-yard free style at District.

When Coach Weyforth came to Southwest three years ago, he announced that he would have a swim team that could be a contender for the State title. Predictions like this don't always come true; but Coach Weyforth and the swim team did prove what a great powerhouse Southwest had by capturing the 1969 MISSOURI STATE HIGH SCHOOL SWIMMING TITLE, the highest award the team could possibly receive.

For the fourth straight year, the team was lead by All-Americans Carl Noback and Larry Renfro. Added to other phenomenons such as Steve Kase, Roland Sabates, Chris Mahley, Jeff Chappelow, Eric Melgaard, Tom Tipton, and Dave Safir, this team has now become one of only six athletic teams at Southwest to win a coveted State title.

Prior to the State title the team won all but two dual matches, placed first in the Van Horn Relays, first in the City meet, and first in the District meet. This year's swim team, in winning the title from the St. Louis area for the first time ever, will certainly be remembered as one of the greatest teams the Kansas City area has ever produced.

GOLF

For the tenth time in the last eleven years, the Southwest golf team won the league and did well in all dual matches. Led by Tom Morgan, Duncan McInnes, and Howie Hall, the team was able to maintain the superiority of Southwest over other area schools. Highlights included participating in the Pem Day, Shawnee Mission, and William Jewell Invitationals, a match in St. Joseph, and District.

Rick Bowen is set to split the fairway.

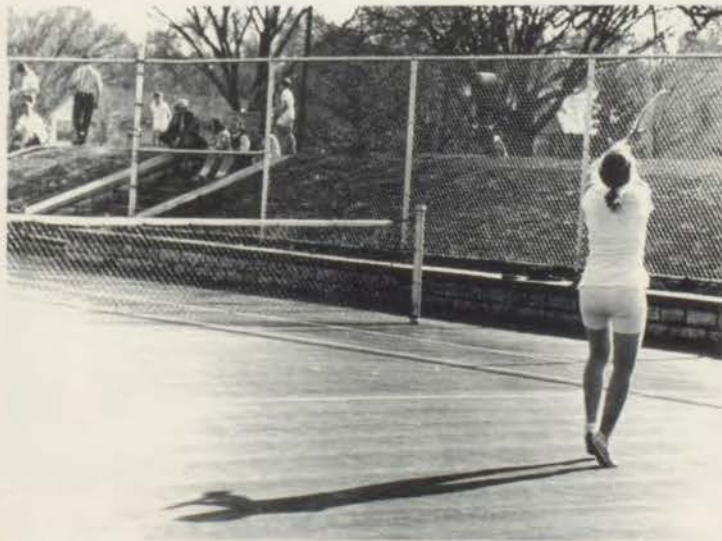

With Ron Switzer and two Miego players looking on, Bob Weilert hits to the green.

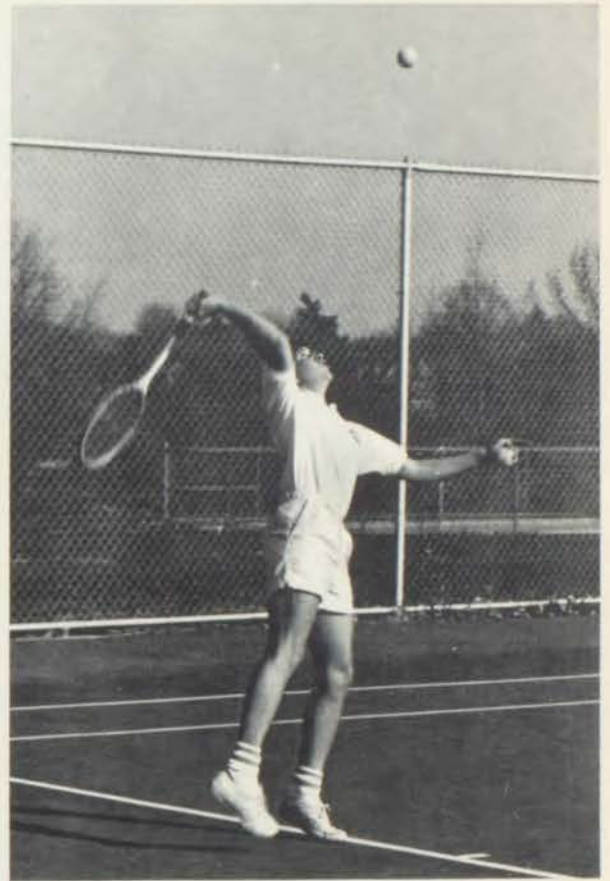

Coach Moriarity and some behind-the-scene helpers.

TENNIS

With several returning lettermen, the tennis team this year again was outstanding. Winning the league title, the team also came through with victories in all dual matches but one. Top man on the team for the third straight year was Bill McGowan, possibly the finest tennis player ever at Southwest. Other fine players on the team included Ned Reitzes, Bart Brown, Molly Hannas, Steve Panknin, Steve Carter, and Dave Owens.

Molly Hannas wins this set against Rockhurst, 6-1, to chalk up another victory over a boy.

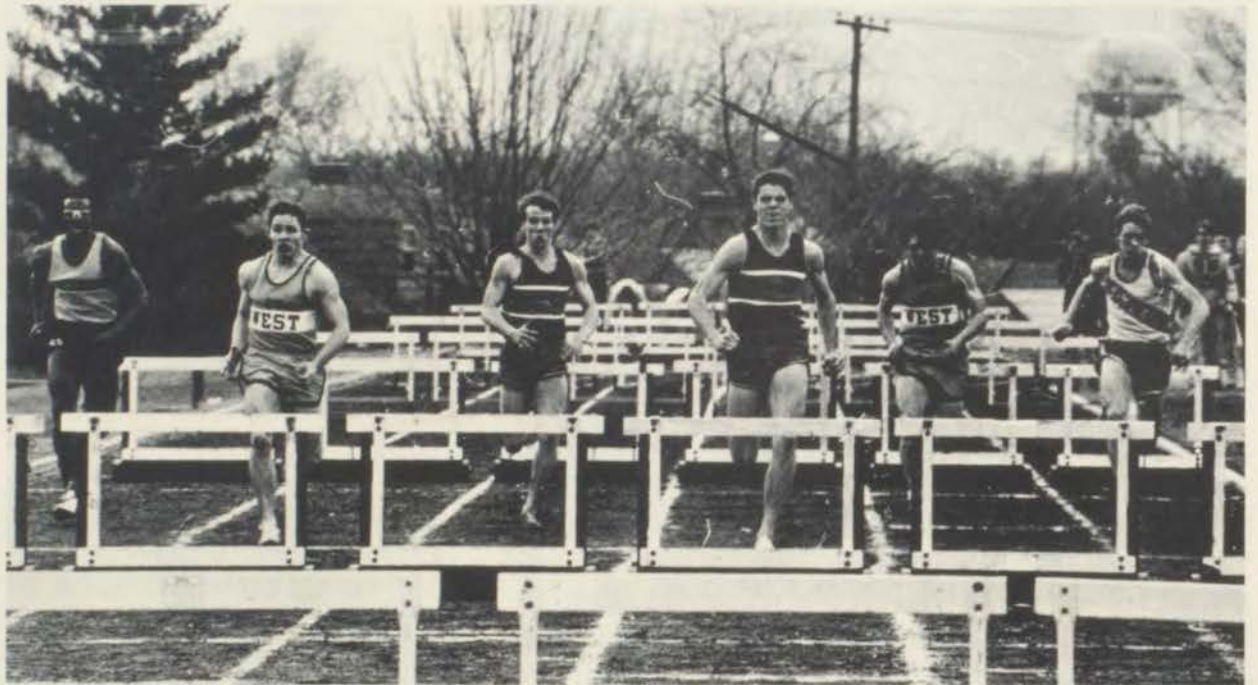

Bart Brown serves to his Van Horn opponent.

Invincible Bill McGowan returns the ball over the net on way to defeating a Pem-Day opponent.

Jeff Selsor keeps up a fast pace to win this cross-country event.

Bob Bruegging puts out to win this 60-yard low hurdle event.

Richard Jacoby clears 6'1" to take first place against Paseo.

King Arthur wins the 440.

Throughout the 1969 season the track team convinced everyone that Southwest had the talent, experience, and depth to match all competition. Besides new uniforms, new school records, and renewed enthusiasm, the track team gave the crowds that awesome spectacle which only exciting track can.

The top members of the track team were in varied events. The outstanding athletes were Jeff Selsor in the mile, who set a new school record in that event; Mike Wenig, who ran an excellent 50.2 in the 440; Bob Bruegging, who won many first places in the hurdles; Rod Brody, who placed second in State in the shot-put with a fine throw of 56'9"; Richard Jacoby, who placed first in nearly all meets and finished sixth in State; and Phil Hubbard, who vaulted to a splendid 13'0" this year. Other top athletes included Rick Sheidt, Bill Watson, Whitney Sunderland, Danny Kaufman, and Dan Noteis.

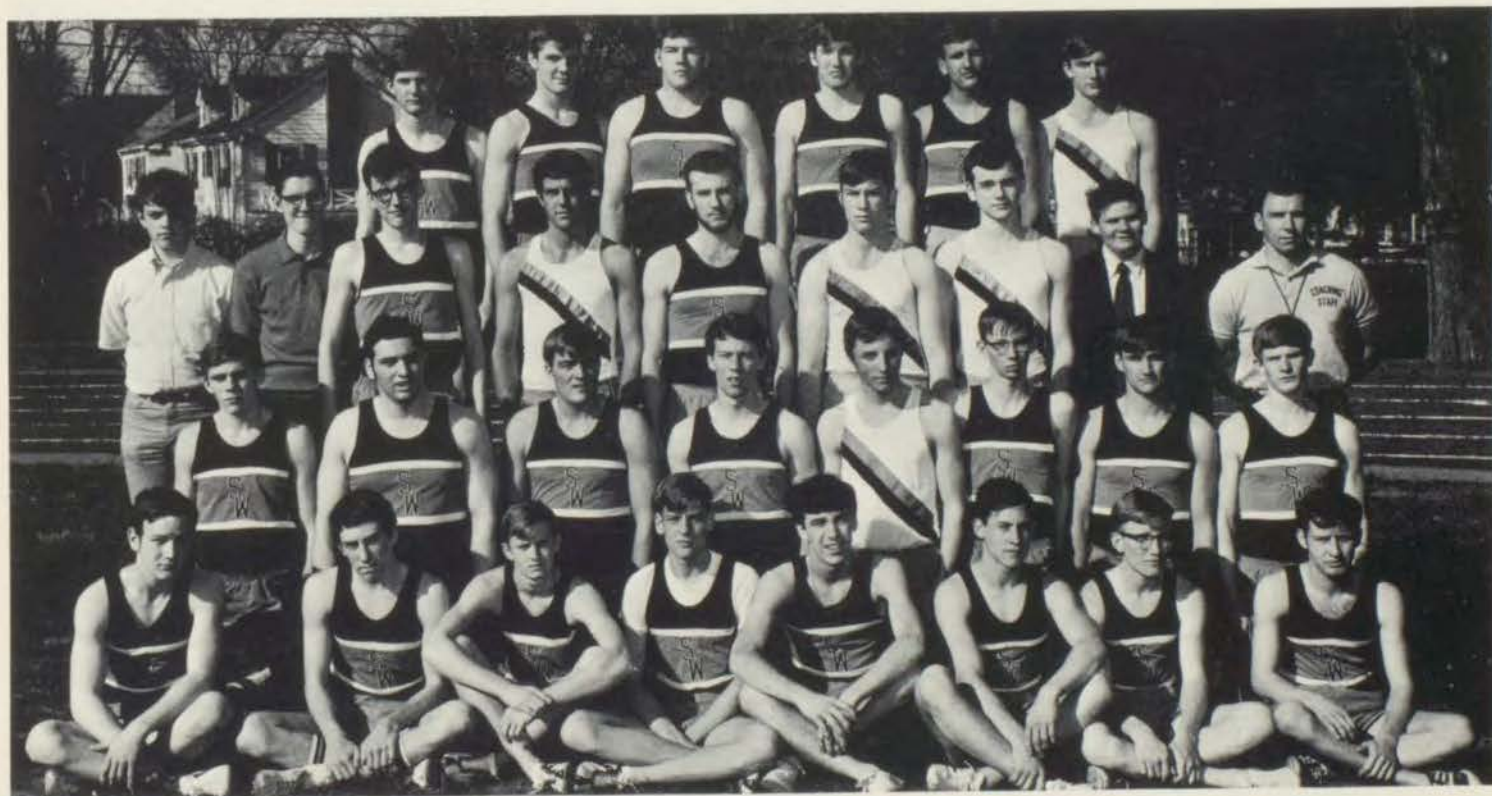

Another good aspect of Southwest track was a junior varsity which broke many school and area records.

Through hard work and excellent coaching, the 1969 track team was certainly one of the highlights in sports this year.

Jeff Selsor breaks the tape to win the mile by eighty yards.

Seneca, the National Spanish Honor Society, was introduced at Southwest last year. Its purpose is to promote better understanding between people of different nationalities, races, and religions. Membership is awarded to third year Spanish students with at least an "S" average. This year's activities included guest speakers such as Dr. L.G. Lopez and a reception for other Spanish honorary societies in the city.

Dr. L.G. Lopez addresses the club.

Southwest's chapter displays its membership in the National Organization.
