A high school can mean many things to a student body. To some students, the past year has meant football games, "bleacher back," and the homecoming celebrations. For others, Southwest has been affiliations with numerous clubs, installation dinners, and early-morning executive board meetings. Still other students have vivid memories of hours spent after school at basketball workouts, assembly practices, or working on the SACHEM. Undoubtedly, many will remember the past nine months by hours of study, cramming for that final math test, or writing an English paper one hour before class in the honor pass room.

In any case, this has certainly been a unique year at Southwest. How many high schools can claim to having a roller-skating vice-principal, singing "What the World Needs Now" as a Revels finale, and winning the football league championship for the third consecutive year?

When thought of as a variety of such experiences, this year at 6512 Wornall can be viewed in a new perspective.

Think back now about your experiences, turn the pages of the SACHEM, and remember. . .

For many years, the Summer Activities Council has played an important role in determining the projects for the first semester Student Council. This year was certainly no exception. After completion of the usual duties of publishing the Path and planning Orientation Day, the Summer Activities Council made plans for a student honor pass. This pass freed junior and senior honor students from attending study halls and homerooms. When the school year began in September, the Student Council approved the honor pass, made plans for a student lounge with vending machines, television, and a record player, and set up the necessary standards for honor pass issuance. First semester's Student Council also planned the student exchange days with Shawnee Mission North and Glennon High Schools.

Within a week of taking office, the second semester officers made a change in Student Council policy. For the first time in the history of the Student Council, candidates seeking positions as committee chairmen were interviewed by the executive board. By doing this, it was possible to select chairmen that were truly interested in their duties. The 1970-71 school year should be remembered as the year that proved freedom could be used for the betterment of academic pursuit.

For many years, the main service organization at Southwest has been the Red Cross. During the 1970-71 school year, the Red Cross became greatly involved with the inner-city and the problems of the needy. Members expressed their concern for the city's needs by tutoring children living in the inner city, passing out Human Rescue cards in the Westport area, participating in the National Council of Christians and Jews, and collecting food for people left hungry by the costly construction strikes. Two highlights of the year were the Christmas and Easter parties which Red Cross members shared with the children at Yates Elementary School, located in the inner-city.

The financing of Red Cross activities came as the result of two dances, the Baby Doll held in October and the Sadie Hawkins in the spring. As the year came to an end, it was comforting to know that the world was a little better due to the efforts of the Southwest Red Cross.

PEP CLUB

The purpose of the Pep Club was to promote enthusiasm in the student body and to support athletic events. This was done in a number of ways. Club members spent hours painting goal post signs for football games, delivering good luck messages to athletes' homes, and fixing encouraging signs for the front of lockers. For socially-minded students, Pep Club sponsored the Homecoming Dance in October and the Winter Sports Dance in February. Pep Club also sponsored Mr. and Miss Peppy, Honor Nine, and the Drill Team.

To some cynically-minded people Pep Club might have looked like an awful waste of time, but what would a school be like if it didn't have spirit?

HOMECOMING 1970

Are all these decorations really necessary?

Christie Besheer becomes the 1970 Homecoming Queen.

The festivities of the 1970 Homecoming started with an assembly on Friday, November 23. During the introduction of the six queen candidates, many girls could be seen making the paper carnations that would later serve as decorations. As the day progressed, activity heightened. By six thirty the cafeteria had begun its transformation into a witches den and the annual parade was underway. Since the Homecoming game was against our arch-rival, Southeast, the excitement doubled. Another excellent half-time program was presented by the band and Drill Team, as the candidates were introduced to the student body for a second time. Southwest fans became elated as the final seconds of the game ticked away. The Indians came out on top by the score of 21-20.

Saturday was a long day for many students with work towards decorating for the dance beginning early. Couples began arriving at nine o'clock to listen to the music of the "Backwoods Memory" and to share in the excitement of the "Bewitching Moment." The excitement reached its peak as Miss Christie Besheer was crowned to reign over the remaining hours of the dance.

Regina Kent gets psyched up for the half-time presentation.

Students await the announcement of the queen.

Christie is escorted to the platform by Robert Gangwere.

Art work, Peter Max-style.

"Love," a many-sided emotion, found many forms of expression as the theme of this year's Redskin Revels. Initial work towards the production began with tryouts in October. Real progress was made as the stage and art crews started work in early November. Not long after staging began, a string of "loveless" rehearsals was underway. Despite any complications, an excited and somewhat nervous cast presented an excellent show on November 21 and 22. There was something in the show for everyone, with acts ranging from Stuart Bursten's performance of "Polonaise in A^D major," to Renee Harris' interpretation of "What the World Needs Now Is Love." Much congratulations and praise should be given to Mr. Alter and Mr. Foster for planning another successful show.

CONCERT CHOIR

A muddy picnic, a concert at Bingham and a few other surprises all added to the excitement and success of the 1970-71 Concert Choir. After their first performance the choir was honored as one of two area high school choirs requested to participate in a clinic at U.M.K.C. There in the Stover Auditorium the choir was given an opportunity to work with Professor Theuring, a teacher at the Vienna Academy of Music. With performances at Redskin Revels and Vespers looming ahead the one hundred sixty members soon began early rehearsals. The selections, "Fill the World With Love" in Revels and "Gloria" in Vespers were warmly appreciated, making the work worthwhile. Still it was not until production began on the operetta, "Annie Get Your Gun", that Concert Choir truly learned the meaning of work. Only one week after the operetta, Concert Choir participated in an All City Choir Festival, followed by appearances at the District Music Contest, the Fine Arts Festival and a final program at the graduation ceremonies. In looking back over the year, it was a year to be proud of, both for the director, Mr. Jack D. Foster and those in choir who worked so hard to make it successful.

This year the Girls' Choir was composed of one hundred voices. To qualify for this group, a girl must be at least a sophomore and have had one year of vocal music at Southwest. Girls' Choir is very important to girls because it is a necessary step to enter Concert Choir. The Girls' Choir made its first appearance at the Fall Concert, wearing navy blue dresses with white trim. The group opened Redskin Revels with "Love Makes the World Go 'Round," a selection that summarized the theme of the show. Their performance in Vespers contributed to the overall success of that concert. Girls' Choir then began diligent work toward the goal of a high rating at District Music Contest. Participation in the Fine Arts Festival and Baccalaureate ended a rewarding concert season.

This year's Indian Belles and Male Octet spent a busy year performing throughout the Kansas City area. In addition to regularly scheduled appearances in assemblies and concerts, both ensembles entertained at many civic functions. During the holidays the groups' schedule included performances at the Veterans Hospital, the Plaza, the Board of Education and the Bellerive Hotel. Both Indian Belles and Male Octet ended the year after performing at District and State Music Contests.

The Girls' Sextet made their debut during the holidays with performances in Vespers and the school assembly. Their year was also highlighted with competition in District Music Contest.

As usual, Stage Band provided background music for various assemblies and Redskin Revels. As do all musical groups, the Stage Band focused second semester work on competition in various festivals and music contests.

This year's Orchestra, under the able direction of Mr. George Alter, has once again been a great success. In addition to performances in Revels, "Annie Get Your Gun," Vespers, and assemblies, the seventy-five member group also participated in the winter concert, where student soloists performed, and the Fine Arts Festival. Playing "Die Fledermaus" in the State Music Contest was one of the orchestra's most exciting performances. The group was honored by opening the Missouri State Teachers' Convention and being the only orchestra in the five-state region selected to participate in orchestra as two of its members performed as student soloists with the Philharmonic. It is obvious that the Orchestra accomplished its many goals with excellence as well as enjoyment.

BAND

As always, the Southwest Band contributed a great deal to a successful school year. In addition to performing at football half-time shows, the Band also marched in the American Royal Parade and the Independence Parade. For the second time, the ninety-piece ensemble was asked to open the Mayor's Christmas Carnival. The short concert of Christmas tunes ended with a free lunch on the floor of the exhibition hall. Throughout the year, small groups were used for various community projects, including a pre-school workshop at the Jewish Community Center. The concert band season began with the Vespers program. Ending the first semester was the annual winter concert, featuring a guest conductor from UMKC. One of the most important events was the state contest in Warrensburg, Missouri. The Fine Arts Festival was the final performance of the year.

WINTER HOLIDAYS

Concert Choir joins forces with a Band ensemble to present "Gloria" at Vespers.

German classes spread holiday cheer while caroling in the halls.

The Orchestra awaits its cue from Mr. Alter.

Students "give up" their sixth and seventh hour classes to help decorate for the dance.

Couples enter the "Crystal Castle."

Traditional holiday activities kept Southwest students busy during the final weeks of 1970. The holiday card exchange, a party at Yates Elementary School, and the delivery of veterans' stockings were among various projects the student body participated in. The Music Department occupied the spotlight with its performance in Vespers on December 21. The Stage Band contributed to the spirit with a concert after school the following day. The Student Council-sponsored Winter Formal was the climax of the holiday season at Southwest.

Past and present Stage Band members get together for an after-school concert.

ANNIE GET YOUR GUN

Legends of the Wild West came to life on Southwest's stage with the presentation of "Annie Get Your Gun" as the 1971 operetta. The show's success was due to the hard work and long hours put in by many people. Special thanks should go to Mr. Jack Foster, producer-director, Mr. George Alter, orchestra director, and Mrs. Etta Carlisle, stage director. They were assisted by Mrs. Betty Hanson, accompanist, Mr. Larry Houser and Mr. Russ Wheelock, stage crew supervisor, and the art department for the excellent stage design.

LITERARY CONTEST

Hard work brought success to the members of Excelsior Literary Society during 1971. On March 19, Excelsior became the winner of the Forty-fourth Annual Inter-Society Contest. With eight out of a possible ten points, Excelsior tied its own record for having the highest number of points ever won at a contest. Aurora captured second place with five points, and there was a six-way tie for the third-place position.

The first literary event of the school year was the annual coke party for prospective members. This party gave new students a chance to seek answers to any questions they had about the different societies. Preferences were given, followed by invitations and a round of initiations and dinners. After the joys of becoming a new member were over, work was begun on the contest entries.

The best poems, essays, and short stories were chosen in hopes of receiving as many very superior and superior ratings as possible. When all written entries had been turned in, attention turned to songs, slogans, cheers, and decorations for the literary dinner and contest. Orations were given after school on Wednesday, March 17, and the declamations were delivered at the contest on Friday. The traditional baton was passed, and the winners were announced. Winners and losers alike left the contest with high hopes of winning the cup in 1972.

This year was the fourth year since ROTC was reinitiated into the Southwest curriculum. The senior cadets of this year had the opportunity to exercise leadership that no previous group of cadets had possessed. This leadership was used in the areas of organizing, training, and conducting classes.

Student leadership helped to maintain the tradition established by the Southwest ROTC Battalion. Southwest cadets competed in all-city competition and brought honor to themselves and the school. At the end of the year, Southwest had tied for first place in field day events, won first places in platoon physical training and individual drill, and captured seconds in an all-city rifle match and company drill. A successful overnight camping trip was staged to give cadets an opportunity to use the skills taught in class.

Since the United States was proceeding toward the establishment of an all-volunteer service, the high school cadet could enter the service with a higher salary and better opportunities for advancement. Cadets who continued ROTC in college could request a waiver for two years, take the advanced course, and be commissioned as an officer in the Army. Three years of high school ROTC also had the benefits of higher pay and advancement possibilities.

The 1970-71 school year proved to be a year in which ROTC cadets upheld a tradition of education in military science. Cadets left Southwest better prepared to serve themselves and their country.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE

Southwest students participated in various activities during the summer of 1970. To Martha Ruddy, a Southwest senior, the summer months meant a trip to India as the Southwest representative in the American Field Service. After a one week orientation in Bombay, Martha traveled on to Delhi, India and met her Indian Family, the B.R. Sukhs. With her sister, Shirion, Martha made a study of India's history and religion. Martha's father served as a plastic surgeon in the Indian Army. The climax of her trip was a meeting with Prime Minister Indira Gandhi. Martha's two month stay went by quickly, but it will be a long time before the memory of the friends and experiences she had as an A.F.S. student in India is forgotten.

During the 1970-71 school year, Southwest hosted Kristine Sundelius, an A.F.S. student from Norway. Kristine left her home in Oslo to join the Bernard Brown family. Kristine found Southwest to be quite different from her school in Norway. At home, she attended a class only once a week instead of every day. While attending Southwest, Kristine studied American Literature, Drama, and Russian. Activities as a member of the International Club, Student Council, Red Cross, and Omega kept Kristine busy.

Peter Bastoe, this year's representative from the International Christian Youth Exchange, was also from Norway. Arriving in mid-July, Peter toured the western United States with his family, the Clem Fairchilds. When school began, Peter became the place kicker for the football team. The Indians benefited from his kicking skill. Upon returning to Norway, Peter will have three more years of high school before graduating.

HARVEY

The cast and crew of this year's All-School Play surmounted many obstacles in presenting the comedy, "Harvey", on April 15 and 16. Cast members not only had their rehearsal time cut short, but had to paint the scenery as well. The story revolves around Elwood P. Dowd, his six-foot rabbit, Harvey, and the attempts made to commit Elwood to Chumley's Rest. The show was presented under the direction of Miss Caron Casper, Mrs. Mary Jane Fulton, and a student teacher, Mr. I.V. Thomas.

VARSITY FOOTBALL

For the third consecutive year, Southwest captured the number one position in the Interscholastic League. This year's varsity squad depended on hard hitting, good coaching, and above all, teamwork to achieve its goal.

As always, the Indians began their season against Rockhurst. Southwest controlled the ball in the first half, but was unable to score until early in the fourth quarter. Quarterback Wayne Kosman kept the ball and scrambled thirty-two yards for a touchdown. Rockhurst then scored on a fumble recovery and the game ended in a 7-7 tie. The next game, against North Kansas City, proved to be a disappointment as Southwest was defeated 14-9. The Indians ended the pre-season schedule with a 19-0 triumph over Shawnee Mission East.

Southwest began league play against the Manual Cardinals. The opponents scored on a quick touchdown in the opening minutes, and after a successful 2-point conversion Manual led by eight points. In the second quarter, the Indians recovered a Manual fumble, and two plays later were on the scoreboard. The conversion was good as the quarterback connected with Tom Hulse in the end zone. Southwest came alive in the second half and scored three touchdowns to demolish Manual 27-8. Early in the next game, Peter Bastoe, a Southwest foreign exchange student, kicked a 38-yard field goal against Van Horn. Before the half, Walt Kosman scored on a 2-yard sweep. This score was the Indians last as Van Horn defeated Southwest 13-10. The following week the Tribe destroyed Paseo by the score of 40-0. In the Homecoming game Southwest met the Southeast Knights. The Indians scored first when Walt Kosman reached the end zone on a 7-yard sweep. Southeast came back with an 80-yard touchdown on the following play. After another touchdown by Kosman, Southwest scored again on a 66-yard drive in fifteen plays. The final score was 21-20, giving the Indians an important victory. In the next game Southwest ripped the East Bears 48-0. The Westport game started evenly, but when Southwest got its ground game rolling, the Indians stomped the Tigers 31-7. In the final game Southwest met Northeast in a battle for high rank in the league. The game ended in a 38-12 victory for the Tribe, clinching a tie with Southeast for the championship.

Individual honors included the selection of Walt Kosman (HB), Dave Harrington (T), Dan Ottolini (NG), and Bob Nicols (C) to the first team all-league. Nicols received second team All-Metro honors, and Kosman was given honorable mention on the All-Metro squad.

The Southwest Junior Varsity Football tradition of winning the league title was continued this year. Although the 1970 Interscholastic League Champions started slowly, winning only one out of their first three outings, head coach Felix Gotner did some "soul searching," and the Tribe went on to win its next six games. The highlight of the season was a smashing victory over arch rival Pem-Day. Against Central, the Indians battled to a 6-6 tie, which clinched the championship.

FRESHMAN FOOTBALL

The freshman football team, under the supervision of Coaches Huston and Czarlinsky, finished with a record of 6-4. Many injuries hampered the team throughout the year; nevertheless, the squad finished with a winning season. After winning an exciting game against Lincoln 8-0, the team had to forfeit the championship game against Central.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

Statistics cannot always give a complete picture. Such was the case with the Varsity basketball team this year, which ended the season with a 9-14 record. The Indians had many thrilling games throughout the season; undoubtedly, the Southwest-Southeast contest was the most exciting. Jim Pener scored from fifteen feet just as the final buzzer sounded, taking the game into overtime. The final moments were tense for both players and fans, but the Tribe came out on top by a crucial four points. Earlier in the year, the team concluded participation in the Turkey Tournament by winning the first place trophy. Teamwork and spirit were characteristic of this year's team, and made the Indians formidable competition against other area roundballers.

Special recognition should go to senior David Harrington, who finished the season with a 16.6-point average. David proved to be the backbone of the team, and was one of the top scorers in the League.

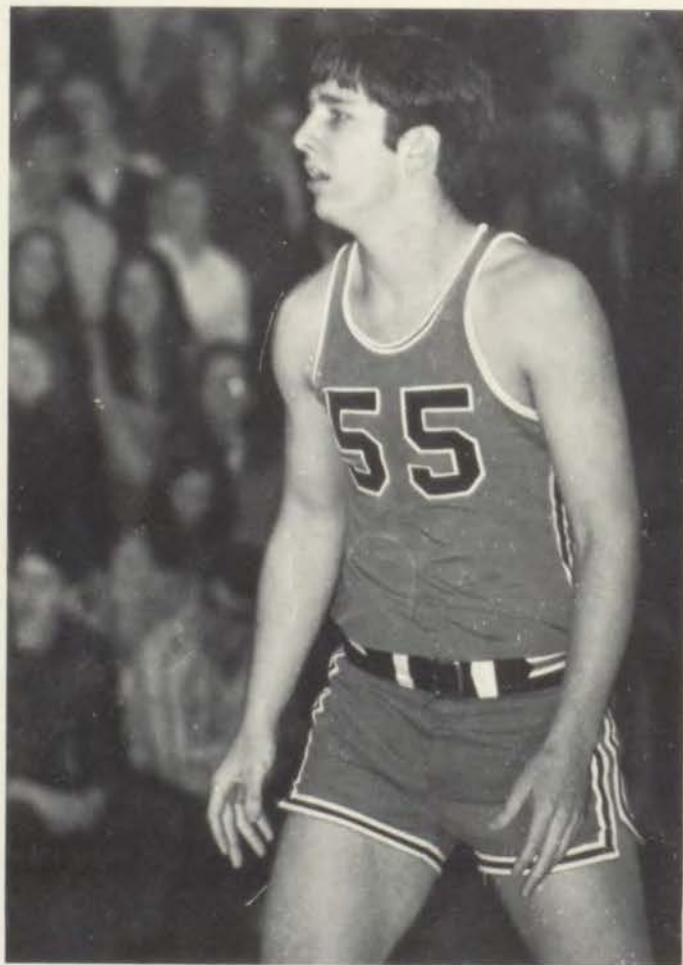

The Tribe continued under the direction of Jim Moriarty, who completed his third year as coach at Southwest. Several returning Varsity cagers will provide the necessary experience and leadership to make next season even more exciting.

Tom Hulsey stacks a Rockhurst opponent.

Although the 1970-71 wrestling team could not boast of a winning record, the season provided an opportunity for many new grapplers to participate in area varsity competition. Under the guidance of Coach Allen, the team won O'Hara and Blue Springs Quads and compiled a record of 2-6-0 in dual competition. The starting line-up this year consisted of seniors Bob Nicols (HVY), Kent Vincent (155), and Steve Lundergan (145). The juniors were Chip Newell (185), Tom Hulsey (167), Brian Boden (138), Ricky McCandless (126), Bob Zuiss (119), Fred Kneib (112), and Dave Fowler (105). Two sophomores, John Kretsinger (132) and Steve Gunn (98), also joined the squad.

Southwest hosted the Interscholastic League Championship for the second consecutive year. Chip Newell was the only member of the team to take first in the city; however, Nicols, Vincent, Kneib, and Gunn received seconds, and Fowler, Zuiss, McCandless, Kretsinger, and Hulsey won third-place honors.

This year's wrestlers did an outstanding job in winning District. Eight grapplers went on to Regionals. There, Vincent took third, Nicols placed fourth, and both Newell and McCandless placed fifth.

The team had its frustrations throughout the season, but, with nine returning starters next year promises to be a successful one.

SWIMMING

The 1971 Swim Team started the year relatively slowly, but came on strong as the season progressed. The tankers accumulated a 7-4 record by defeating teams from Shawnee Mission South, Raytown South, Park Hill, Olathe, Van Horn, and Center.

Teamwork was evident in this year's squad as the Indians took first place in the League championship, third place in District competition, and tied for twelfth place at the State meet. In Columbia, Chip Campbell took second place honors in the 100 yard breaststroke, and Lane Sayles placed eighth in diving. The 400 yard freestyle relay team consisting of Dave Ruddy, Mike St. Clair, Jeff Holaday, and Chip Campbell, finished in ninth positions. Freshman Mark Maslan captured thirteenth place in both the 100 yard butterfly and the 200 yard freestyle.

Coach Terry Huston felt that this was a rebuilding year for the Indians in swimming. Since all the competitors who represented Southwest at the State championships were underclassmen, next year's team will be even stronger.

CROSS-COUNTRY

Although the Cross-Country season did not begin until early September, several team members were getting into condition throughout the summer months. This extra effort gave the team a head start on the '70 season. Ability was evident on this year's squad as Southwest placed tenth in the Raytown South Invitational, took sixth in the Ruskin Invitational, and captured first in the League championship. Throughout the season, the team participated in various triangular meets and quads with runners from Raytown South, East, Shawnee Mission East, Rockhurst, and Westport. Mark Bowman proved to be the most outstanding runner, taking first place in League, second place in the District competition, and eighteenth place in the State meet.
