1959

Prelude

Selecting school colors, deciding on an emblem, and writing the school song were the big events of 1955 when classes first began at Van Horn. 1955 has a special significance with this year because it started the first four year cycle and 1959 completes it.

The members of the present graduating class were all freshmen then, and were first entering a new phase of their life called high school. They helped select red and grey as the school colors and the Van Horn family coat of arms, as the senior class ring symbol.

The freshman boys out for football did their share of pulling weeds and lifting rocks so football practice could begin. A few freshmen played in Van Horn's first spring play, "One Foot in Heaven."

In 1956, these freshmen became sophomores and contributed a great deal to Van Horn's first variety show, VANTASIA, which has become an annual event at Van Horn. Two outstanding sophomores started their second year on the varsity basketball team, while other sophomores made their marks in track. Socially minded members of this second-year class entered the literary societies and others became members of the Spanish Club, Latin Club, Seamaids, and F.H.A.

Moving up another year, these students became juniors. The junior year was perhaps filled with the most activity as it consisted of many different and unusual undertakings. The new juniors elected their own class officers, attended their first Prom, and enrolled in advanced math courses. A number of these delved into the journalism field while others learned how to "act well their parts" in dramatics. The journalism students put a new look on the PIONEER while the dramatics students shared in the production of a top-notch play "The People Versus Maxine Lowe." Several junior boys helped comprise the roster of a football team that took a respectable fifth place in the Interscholastic League.

Last fall these students finally became seniors and in a few days will be graduated. In their "last days" at Van Horn they parked in the parking lot and witnessed the conversion of their beloved Student Lounge into classrooms. As each senior leaves Van Horn and departs, each in his separate way, he takes with him many wonderful memories.

Yes, these memories which cannot be bought or sold, but are worth as much as pure gold, are invaluable to each and every student. Fifteen years from now one of these 1959 graduates who is taking his four kids and dog out for a stroll in the park will run into one of his former classmates and they will reminisce about the unforgettable first four years' cycle at Van Horn and will think how this four year period and events within it formed a pattern or design which influenced their lives immensely.

They will think how these four years were exactly like those mosaics hanging in the halls, and they will be exactly right because that is what it essentially was. All of these events, which formed these irreplaceable memories, carved a beautiful mosaic in the life of each graduate. That is why we have chosen mosaic art as an idea of this yearbook, because it best exemplifies the first four year cycle lived at Van Horn High School.

ADMINISTRATION

MADISON GRIFFITH, PRINCIPAL, has served in his present position here for the past three years. His interest includes the welfare of the school, the students, and the faculty. As our principal, he has proved his administrative ability.

P.T.A. Confers With Faculty

Passing around friendship baskets and publishing a newsheet highlighted a busy P. T. A. year as the parent-faculty organization had another eventful year of achievement. The organization, which held all meetings at night for the first time this year, applied a unique method of improving relationships among the seven "feeder" grade schools of Van Horn. Briefly describing this method, called the Van Horn friendship basket, a member starts the "ball rolling" by baking a cake or a pie and putting it in the basket. The basket, in turn, is taken to another Van Horn district member who may buy the pastry and replace the morsel with one of his own and pass it on.

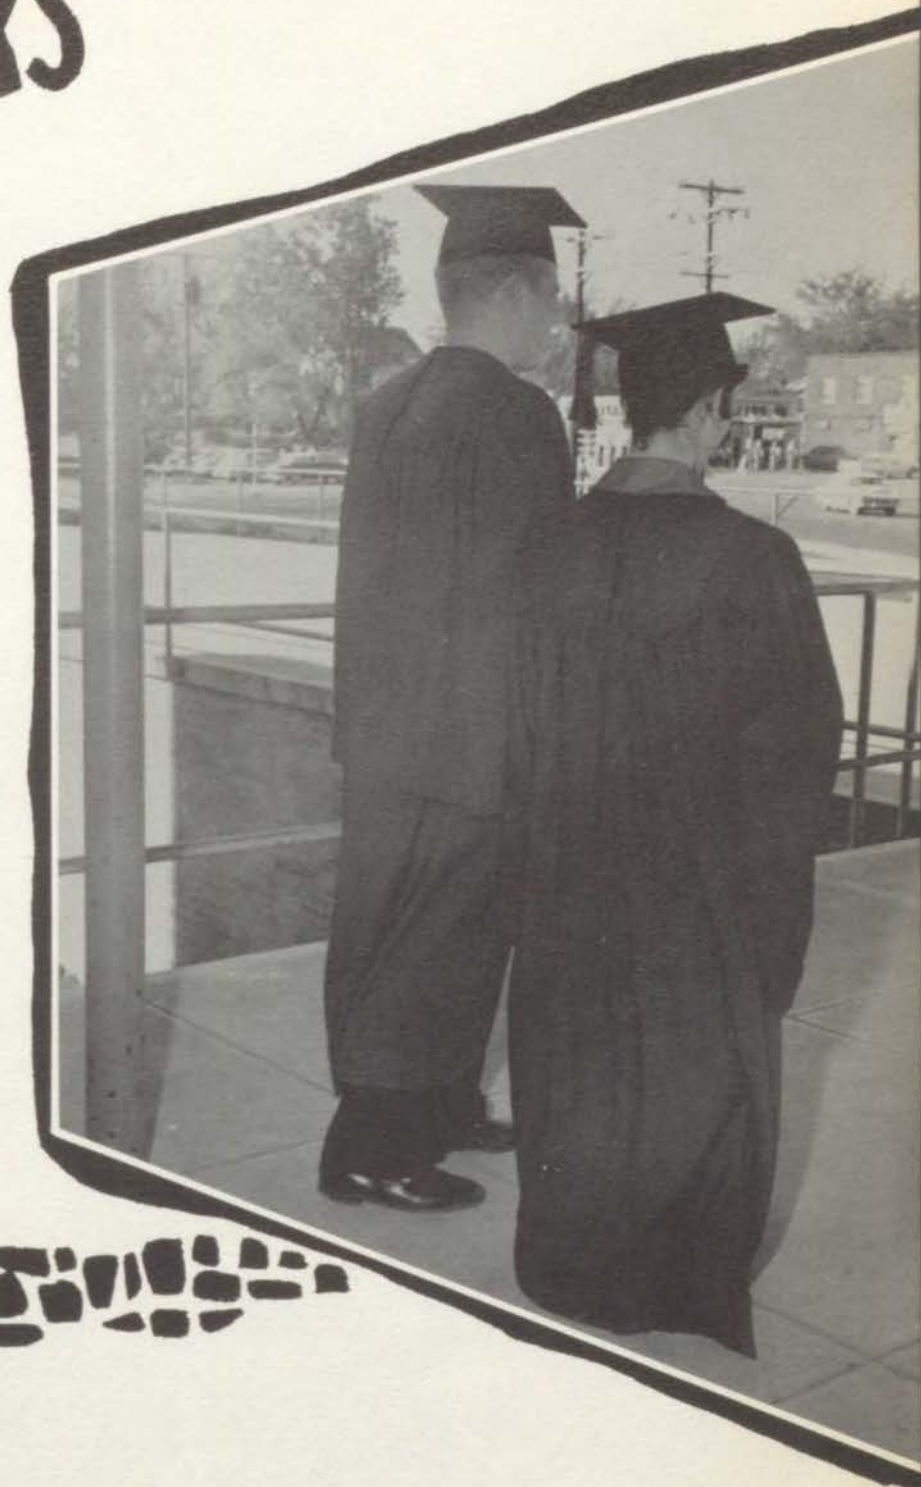

Van Horn Views is the name of the newsheet which the P.T.A. publishes. Its main purpose is to remind members of important dates and keep them up to date on the current happenings. Mrs. John Clemens is president of the P. T. A. this year.

P.T.A. members serve refreshments to the visiting Philharmonic Orchestra members.

Our Senior Year Is Over

The principal and vice-principal discuss the innovations of the educational system with two ranking seniors. Mr. Griffith and Mr. Heine are always willing to converse with education-minded students and are always open to reasonable ideas and suggestions. Perhaps they are discussing the student government in the cafeteria or maybe Mr. Griffith and Mr. Heine are "letting loose" with post-graduate admonition.

Senior Leaders In 1959 Falcon Class

"Aw! Wipe those tears from your eyes! It's not the end of the world. We know it's tough leaving Van Horn, but that's the way the hoop twirls. After all, you've been going here for four years."

The seniors who compose the 1959 graduating class are the first students to go all the way through high school at Van Horn and just as they set such good standards for the oncoming students in high school, they will set them for their successors in life. Some will help send a rocket to the moon, others will take an active part in stopping cancer, and others will concoct ideas for better traffic systems.

The time has come for these young men and women to take their places in an ever working and growing America, so "Bon Voyage" and may God be with you.

Kenneth Dewey was elected Mayor of Teen Town this year. Seniors played an active part in Teen Town activities.

This is ridiculous. Whoever heard of four people in one locker?

Pioneer, Falcon Work Hand In Hand

The center of publication at Van Horn is the newswriting class which is open only to juniors and seniors. Chief positions in newswriting are filled by these upperclassmen who learn about reporting, editing, writing copy, make-up, and layout as the newspapers are published.

Mike Fischer, H. M. Dodd, Rodger Coldsnow, and Peggy Bean make last minute changes in copy before it goes to press.

Dick Grove, Sandy Hurst, Kathy Hahn, Carol Hughes and Sondra Hudson, members of the PIONEER, seek out new and interesting stories.

Judy Stearns, Linda Riley, Pat Sterling, and Bob Healy stand by for last minute typing and proofreading.

First Row: Lynette Peck, Layout Editor; Lyda Case, Class Editor; Sandy Brockus, Business Manager; Shirley Maycock, Senior Layout Editor. Second Row: Gloria Faulkner, Department Manager; Marilyn Middleton, Joanne Pierce, Organization Managers; Sharon Clark, Department Manager; Janet Pavola, Editor. Members of the FALCON staff attended a journalism conference at Kansas City University.

Selecting and identifying photographs, preparing layout mats, and writing copy were the main jobs of the yearbook staff, taught by D. R. Smith, publications teacher, in Room 207A. This is the place where the yearly FALCON takes flight every year. The FALCON is produced by a staff of fourteen pupils under the direction of Mr. Smith. J. P. Jones, typing teacher, handles the finances associated with the yearbook, Mr. Melvin Coleman, science teacher, is photography advisor, while Mrs. Lucile Jenkins, art teacher completes the staff as the art supervisor of the book.

This is the FALCON's fourth year at Van Horn.

Sharon Clark and Gloria Faulkner, Department managers, plan layout for the music department while Jim Kirkham, sports editor and Marilyn Middleton, organization manager, identify pictures for copy.

The C.O.E. class of 1958-59 started off with a "big bang" this year! There are 26 enrolled. The C.O.E. class is made up of students who attend school one-half of each day and work on a supervised job the other half. This supervision is a co-operative effort of the employer and the school co-ordinator, J. Farrell Amos. The employer supervises the student's work on the job daily, and the co-ordinator confers with the employer at least once each month, more often if necessary. In this way the school, the student, and the business world are working together to develop a better-trained employee.

Following in the giant footsteps of Bob Dickeson, brilliant Van Horn orator of last year, was Kathy Key, Van Horn junior. Kathy started her rise to fame when she enrolled in eighth grade speech under Mr. Richard Griffith, son of Madison Griffith, our principal.

Kathy was victorious in school, county, district and zone divisions of the American Legion Oratorical contest. She was preparing to speak in the legislature chamber of the state capitol building in Jefferson City when this passage was written. Some of Kathy's speeches have been extemporaneous while others have been prepared. The title of her prepared speech was "Drama of Liberty," a twelve-minute undertaking. Miss Nanabell Cassell has been her coach for the last three years.

Athenians Strive Hard

Charlotte Hauptley, Diane Foutch, and Peggy Bean give a skit entitled "Weather or Not."

The Athenian Literary Society of Van Horn again had a busy and eventful year in literary work. They carried their colors, green and white, to their third literary night and were well rewarded for their efforts. The Athenians, too, had picture panels made this year. This society, which is sponsored by Mr. Myron Beebe, also had several social events.

Kappas Have Successful Year

Carole Davis, Julie Choplin, June Culbertson, and Sharon Austin help decorate for the Inter-Society Dance.

From an assortment of colleges, universities, and vocations came several Van Horn graduates as the Kapponian Literary Society had its annual reunion last summer. Every summer about a month before school starts, the Kappas have a reunion of all members, past and present. Another big item on the Kappa calendar was a mid-year event which was a Christmas party. The Kappas are sponsored by Mrs. Maude Rodgers.

Refreshments are enjoyed by Kapponians at their Christmas program.

M. Dodd, Joe Campbell, Larry McEnroe, Paul McClain, Karson Morrison, Bob Healy.

"According to the calendar, gentlemen, we will have slam songs presented at the next meeting." A calendar of events was one of the many achievements made during the past year by the only masculine society at Van Horn. The society, which is as old as the school itself, set a precedent in Sigma Tau dress as they designated one day a week as "dress up day." On this day, each member wore a suit of some type with a tie being optional. Mr. Richard Barnett was again the sponsor, thus completing a profitable four years at the helm of Sigma Tau. The name Sigma Tau contains the society's ideals — service and training.

The Thala Phia literary society, one of the three original societies at Van Horn, under the direction of Mrs. Barbara Hanley, inaugurated a new mode of perfecting their literary work. One girl is put in charge of each contest category and she checks the work of each girl who submits an entry in her designated category. She examines spelling, grammar, and originality in the written work and tact, clearness, and emphasis in the oral division. This checker is also responsible for making sure all entries are on time and typed in triplicate.

Thespians hold initiation for new members.

"Will the Ladies Please Come to Order," a one act play, was presented by the Thespians for the P.T.A.

Directing the presentation of VANTASIA, putting on a "Marilyn-the Witch" type assembly, and producing a theatrical known as the spring play spelled a year of hard work for the Thespians this year. The club, which is sponsored by Miss Nanabel Cassell, speech and dramatics teacher, is the Van Horn chapter of the National Thespian troupe. To become a member, a person must have a total of ten points earned in drama or speech activities. Each point represents 10 hours of work.

Four Thespians wrote the entire VANTASIA skit while others played leading parts in different acts throughout the show. The club motto is "act well your part" and Thespians certainly lived up to it in presenting an assembly entitled, "The Mystery of Mouldy Manor", and a spring play called, "Turn Back the Clock."

A regular meeting of the Stagecraft Club is conducted by the president.

"Make the sky a little bluer and move those trees to the right," are just two of the directions that might be heard as the Stagecraft Club worked on scenery for the next production. The "behind-the-scene-crew" is an essential part of the production just as the members of the cast are. The members of this club design, build, and paint scenery as it is required during the school year for all plays, theatricals, assemblies and any other production that needs a colorful background. These artists are sponsored by Mrs. Lucile Jenkins and Mr. Wallace Fike.

I Came, I Saw, I Conquered

"Boy, to have lived in the time of Mark Anthony." This might be the main thought of all the members of the Latin Club, Latinus Duces, as they study the Latin language and culture in their meetings. These members have shown a distinct interest in the club as they constantly are trying to achieve a better understanding of the Old World's most prominent language. The club is sponsored by Mrs. Margaret Mullen. Their motto is "Veni, Vidi, Vici." (I came, I saw, I conquered.)

Every student enrolled in Latin became a member of the Latin Club. Each Latin class had an individual club meeting. The Latin Club had a busy year as they participated in the activities of the American Classical League and took part in the special Latin Festival in March.

Planning a big fiesta and listening to people who have perfected the Spanish language occupied most of the time of the Spanish Club, Los Halcones, during the past year. The club which is sponsored by Miss Willella Curnutt, is composed of students who have a "yearning for learning" the culture and language of our Latin American neighbors. "Los Halcones," which means the Falcons, soar into action on alternate Tuesdays.

With their black leotards flashing, the Modernettes learned and perfected their techniques of modern dance. The club met every Tuesday after school and membership tryouts were held at the beginning of each semester.

The goal of these modern dancers is to communicate ideas through movement patterns. The Modernettes were organized last year and its members have been swinging and swaying ever since.

Seamaid members show their skills in water ballet.

Is it Jules Verne's immortal Nautilus, or is it Yogi Bear? No, it is a group of Seamaids artfully making a new design in the water. But that is okay, because that is what they are supposed to be doing. Yes, Seamaids is a group of girls formed in order that the members may develop and learn new water skills. These mermaid-type females are sponsored by Mrs. Ellen Welch, girls' physical education teacher.

Red Cross Extends Help

Red Cross members worked hard to encourage the filling of Christmas stockings for veterans.

Filling Christmas stockings, enrollment, and trying to acquaint students with first-aid courses have been the main functions of the Red Cross the past year. At Van Horn the organization is made up of a group of representatives chosen from each home-room. They meet at least twice a month under the sponsorship of Mrs. Helen Viles, commerce teacher.

Every year at Christmas time, the Red Cross distributes stockings to each home-room for them to fill with such things as cigarettes, candy, and playing cards. Then the Red Cross members take these filled stockings to the various area Veterans hospitals.

Yes, the Red Cross is truly the heart of the school.

Twirl, twirl, twirl go the Lancers as they practice and perfect their athletic techniques. The Lancers is the "handle" of the girls' sports club which was formed in October of 1958. Sophomore, junior, and senior girls can belong to this club. To become a member, each girl must have an S or E in girls' physical education and an M average in all other classes.

The girls in this club do more than choose committees and make insignificant motions — they play seasonal sports and study rules of seasonal sports and games. In these girls, feminine finesse is channeled into the art of dribbling a basketball or learning how to really "tee-off" on a hockey ball.

To make their new club complete, the Lancers had to have some kind of apparel, so these athletically inclined girls "decked" themselves out in white jackets with red trim with word Lancers knitted on the back.

The Lancers enjoy a good game of basketball.

HARRY CLOVERDYKE led the "Killers", Van Horn's second team, to a successful season on the gridiron this season. Mr. Cloverdyke has led the "Killers" for the past four years.

COACH DAVID DEHARDT has been Falcon head mentor for the last four years. During these last four years he has cultivated many fine gridsters and has instilled in the minds of many boys the true meaning of clean sportsmanship.

JOHN MCARTHUR introduced organized football to all freshman boys interested in "clashing." He was also line coach for the entire roster.

GARY HOYER, Senior guard, 2 year letterman.

Up And Down Season

Tom Black, line backer, and Gary Hoyer, guard, stop Albert Miller's attempted break-away. East squeezed by the Falcons, 12-6, in a close contest at East.

Another first and ten as Brian Firkins, Senior end, and Glen Johnson, Senior quarterback, team up on a "quickie" pass. Central ran up a 25-6 score before the final gun sounded.

JIM KIRKHAM, Senior guard, 2 year letterman.

BRIAN FIRKINS, Senior end, 2 year letterman.

'Killers' In New Role

The "Killers," known this year as the "Bees," had a very fine year of "gridironing," winning seven and losing three. The team was composed of juniors and sophomores, juniors accounting for the most positions.

The purpose of having a second team is to develop players who are not yet of the caliber for varsity participation or have not had adequate experience to compete with the more experienced players of opponent's respective varsities.

The game is the same, the equipment the same, and the play is just as rough as the first team. The only difference is that competition is not as stiff for the "Bees."

The junior Falcs accumulated their biggest pile of points against the Northeast second team, pulverizing them by a score of 31 to 0.

The team played their games afternoons on either the practice field at Van Horn or the practice field of their opponents.

Falcs Lead To Wire

Kenneth Dewey sparked this year's cross-country team by leading them to the wire in many contests. Kenneth took second in the city and district meets. He also placed fifth in the state meet at Jefferson City.

Lester Fields, head track coach, developed a spirited and winning cross-country team this year.

Straggled and at their mark, Van Horn's cross-country team make ready for their two-mile jaunt.

Student manager for the two-milers this year was David Forbes.

Coach Lester Fields said that if any points are scored for Van Horn at the indoor meet, these three boys will be the ones who will snap the wire for the Falcons. They are left to right: Bob Farrand, Charles Phipps, and Kenneth Dewey.

"A good start is a necessity in the dashes," said Coach Lester Fields. Here Coach Fields is working in the gym with a few of the dashing speedsters.

Indoor Track

Timing and a good start are the two fundamentals which made the Falcons have a successful year in the relay run. Here Virgil Troutwine passed to H. M. Dodd on the gallop.

Spirit and enthusiasm are two promising factors in the Falcons indoor track chases this year. Here the boys are awaiting their chance to run a 300 yard dash. Kenneth Dewey is leading off.

"Oops" seems to be explanation enough in this sequence of the Van Horn-Central contest. Central was victorious 25-6.

Tom Foley and Phil Clemens join in gaining complete control of the sphere in the East-Van Horn game.

Lincoln's Blue Tigers took a first place birth away from the Falcons in a disputed league game at Van Horn. The mighty Lynx skimmed by the hot Falcs 60-59.

Yea team! An explosive evening was had by all as a sell-out crowd watched the Falcon cagers climb another rung higher up the league ladder.

Karen Darling, captain, and Carla Maness, co-captain, led the girls in their conquest at Southeast. The Falcons took second on the field.

Girls' sportsday teams were all prepared for the big contest at Southeast. Falconettes shown here are perfecting some of their plays.

We Eighth Graders Were Confused

The members of the eighth-grade Student Council strive to promote activities and help the eighth graders become adjusted to high school life. Two of the main projects sponsored by the eighth-grade council were a mixer and a newspaper.

Members of Mr. Dexter's eighth grade common learning's class study hard.

Students are getting ready to enjoy their favorite subject—lunch.

Students gather in the hall before school starts.

Juniors and seniors from the dramatics class appeared on television.

These boys try hard to raise their chemistry grade after school.

Mike Fischer and Janet Fields are glad the school week is over.

Now everybody on tune — please!
