

FALCON

Dedication

As we come to the close of another school year, we, the Seniors of 1962, will be leaving Van Horn; but the faith and courage our Faculty has given us to set high goals for ourselves, will continue to be an inspiration to us in the future.

Before embarking on new and greater adventures, let us pause for a moment on the threshold and renew this faith and courage to attain the high goals we are striving for. The road will not always be smooth, but with courage we will go forward accepting the challenge of each new day with a smile. Let us have faith in our purpose, believing in what we undertake to do. Faith will enable us to use each failure and mistake wisely. To this faith and courage we dedicate our FALCON.

To the Students of Van Horn:

Today's students live in a world of change and challenge, and ability of adaptability is a fundamental need.

To find the meaning and purpose of life even under these conditions, and to contribute to the betterment of mankind should be the aim both of faculty and students at Van Horn High School.

Van Horn is still in its youth, but already traditions and goals have been established which distinguish it in an individual manner in its contribution to students and community, and thus the fulfillment of its obligations and services.

Madison Griffith
Principal

MR. FRED HEINE, Vice-Principal, has completed his fourth year at Van Horn. He has the responsibility of handling all disciplinary problems of the school. He also is in charge of scheduling the classes and enrolling the students.

MR. BEN KING, counselor, has been at Van Horn since 1958 after serving the first 2 years as common learning teacher, he then entered the position of counselor. He has carried out very efficiently the job of helping the students with their enrollment problems, college and employment selection and other help the students need.

MISS HELEN JOHNSON, counselor, has been at Van Horn since it opened and has helped the students in their personal, as well as educational problems. She also gives students helpful guidance on planning for college, securing employment, and securing financial aid.

MRS. ESLER, nurse, formerly at Central Jr. High, is beginning her first year at Van Horn. She is also nurse at Pitcher Fairview Jr. High. Along with her duties at two schools, Mrs. Esler is also doing graduate work at Kansas University.

With hard-earned diplomas in hand and memories we will cherish forever, we, the graduating class of nineteen hundred and sixty-two, leave these familiar halls that echo with laughter and gaiety. Realizing a student's responsibility, we have tried to uphold the ideals, high standards of leadership, and school spirit; and hope in some small way to have contributed to the growth of the school. We shall long remember the hard-fought football and basketball games, VANTASIA, the spring play, Lit Night, the last dance at the Prom and the inspiring message of the baccalaureate sermon. Many of us plan to continue our education by attending college, while others will find that on-the-job experience will prepare them for the future. However different our pathways, the one aim is to become a worthy individual and citizen of an adult world.

"Anyone recognize this scene?"

"Nominations for table captain are now in order."

Candid

"Girls, there's been a slight error. The cover will be pink and green instead of red and gray."

Subscriptions hit rock bottom this year.

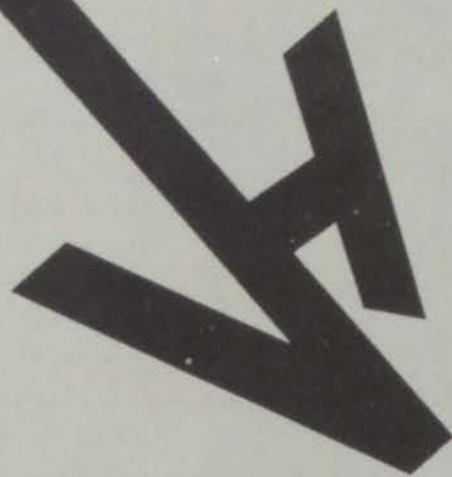

Won't that eighth hour bell ever ring?

"Hello, all you people out there in television land."

The Student Council under the leadership of Mike Scrogin and the new sponsor, Mr. Vardyan, has worked hard to promote school spirit. It has sponsored several activities such as Homecoming and Yuletide Dances. It set aside a special colors day each month. For the first time at Van Horn a student directory was printed. The school year is ended, and the Student Council of 1961-62 has made a lasting and important impression in the history of Van Horn.

Falcon Staff

The FALCON staff really worked to make the 1962 yearbook the best ever. Along with their new sponsor, Mr. J. P. Jones, they learned the techniques that are needed for publishing a yearbook. They spent long hours drawing layouts, writing copy, planning pictures, and identifying over 1,700 students. With the new camera they bought, it was possible for them to get many unusual and interesting candid pictures. Although it was a constant struggle for the staff to concentrate on their work, the effort that was put forth is proven by the success of the 1962 FALCON.

Pioneer Staff

The three "B's" meet deadline as editors of the PIONEER.

Learning what makes an interesting paper and then putting this knowledge into action is the job of the PIONEER staff. The paper was bigger this year; the majority of issues contained six pages. The thirteen staff members meet first hour every morning and usually an hour or two after school under the direction of Mr. D. R. Smith advisor, Deanna Beals, editor-in-chief, and Beverly Bartow managing editor.

Red Cross

The Junior Red Cross is a service organization to acquaint students with the responsibility of helping those who are less fortunate than themselves. A representative and alternate are selected from each homeroom. It is a tradition to fill Christmas stockings for the Veterans. They also go caroling at the Veteran's Hospital. In the spring, they sponsor a dance to raise money along with the voluntary contributions.

C.O.E., (1st Hour)

C. O. E. is to help the student gain a better knowledge of the business world while still in school as he trains for certain jobs. The class of 1961-62 is made up of 36 students who attend school one-half of each day and work on a supervised job the other half. Mr. J. Farrell Amos, school co-ordinator, confers with the employer at least once each month to bring the school, student, and business world closer together in helping to develop a better-trained employee.

Orchestra

Some of the many things that the Orchestra does each year is to plan for the annual show "Fantasy In Sound". The Orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Fike, also plays in many district contests and usually one State contest at Warrensburg. Each year there is an all city music festival where Van Horn has come out with the top honors almost every year. Some other things the Orchestra does is to play for dinners and other things either as an Orchestra or in small groups.

STRING ENSEMBLE: Karen Grenawalt, James Bodenhamer, Ronna Richter, Ruth Sherman, Glenna Lyday, Karen Kurle, R. B. Kramer, Marian Pugh, John Kramer.

STRING TRIO: Karen Grenawalt, Ronna Richter, John Kramer.

Band Officers: Richard Crosby, Librarian; Bobbie Campbell, President; Jean Ann Croft, Secretary; Steve Phipps, Treasurer.

Varsity Band

The band, directed by Mr. Fike, plays all types of music from jazz to the long-hair symphonies. It has participated in many activities such as the American Royal and Halloween parades, band assembly, All-City Band Festival, and their own annual band show. They also played and marched at the A's ball game in the spring. Many of the members are in the swing band which played in Vantasia and the Orchestra which played in "Oklahoma." There are two student conductors, Rick Crosby and Steve Phipps.

The Pep Band played at the pep assemblies and all football games this year.

Band Student Directors:
Richard Crosby and Steve Phipps.

Trumpet Trio: Steve Phipps,
Kay Bullard, and Daryl Smith.

The Swing Band was organized this year under the direction of Mr. Fike.

Prom

"The White Coated—Red Coats"

Underclassmen help by serving refreshments.

"Oriental Splendor" was the theme of this year's annual Junior-Senior Prom. Every year it is planned by the juniors as a gift to the seniors. As each couple entered the door, they passed through the mouth of a dragon. Inside their attention was drawn to a Japanese tea garden, a bubbling fountain, a gold pagoda, and a whirling chandelier in the center.

Larry Wyss and Bill Philyaw, (juniors) worked hard to make the prom a success.

Seniors were impressed by decorations.

Spring Play

Juanita Brents as Penny and Cecil Buchanan as Grandpa.

"You Can't Take It With You" is the title of this year's Spring Play presented by the drama department. It tells the story of Alice Kirby's engagement which is threatened because of her mixed-up family. They have some very unusual props such as live snakes, human skull, real fire works, and kittens.

Carol Thulow as Essie, Juanita Brents, and John Palmer as Paul.

Donna Gregory, Student Director; Kathy McLaughlin as Alice; and Milton Eshleman as Donald.

Charles Winstead as Mr. DePinna,

National Honor Society

Each year the National Honor Society adds to its membership those students who meet requirements based on scholarship, leadership, service and character. During their junior year several students are chosen as probationary members. If they retain the above requirements they become permanent members in their senior year.

Debate Team

For the first time at Van Horn a debate team was formed, consisting of four students. It was started for the purpose of extending Van Horn's interest in this field and to give the students the experience they will need to have a larger and more successful team next year.

This year the 36 members of the Athenian Literary Society again worked tirelessly to represent their society well on Lit Night. Perseverance and unity of purpose guided them toward their goal. At Christmas the girls in green and white took time to make a collection of children's books for two hospitals. The big date slate included a first semester rush, the Inter-Society Dance, two slumber parties and LIT NIGHT. The Athenian sponsor for this year is Mrs. Carolyn Anderson. Mrs. Margaret Mullen is co-sponsor.

Sigma Tau

SIGMA'S in action!

Mr. Gene Dexter, Sponsor

Sigma Tau literary society, the lone boys' society at Van Horn, accomplished much this year. Most of their time was taken up on work toward something all of the societies strive for, a victorious Lit-night. The boys also attended the Inter-society dance and managed to have a few parties. The Sigmas acquired a new sponsor this year, Gene Dexter. Mr. Dexter teaches English, world history, and citizenship at Van Horn.

These forty perky, pretty, peppy gals dress in lavender and white. Their favorite flower is the violet. And though they are a dainty bunch, each names a sweatshirt as her chosen attire. Thalassians have much to boast about, but everyone agrees that having supplied Van Horn with 4 consecutive Homecoming Queens is their most enviable honor. In thought, word, and deed each tries to remember that, "What a Thala girl is, is God's gift to her, What she becomes is her gift to God."

Assembly

The Thespians troupe is made of those students who want to take a more active part in all forms of dramatic arts. They also help to create a greater interest in motion pictures, radio, and television, and improve the quality of students' work. The Van Horn Chapter of the National Thespian troupe is sponsored by Mr. Robert Klamm. To become a member, a student must acquire a total of ten points in speech work. Among their many activities this year was the presentation of "Bury The Dead," and the spring play, "You Can't Take It With You."

Why won't you let me see your face?

To bury them or not to bury them, that is the question.

This year seven has turned out to be a lucky number for the Falcons. It was the seventh year in the interscholastic league, and with the football team racking up seven points after seven points, Van Horn won five of their seven league games. With this impressive record, Van Horn captured third place in the interscholastic league. The team gives much credit to coach Bill Fessler, for their successful season.

WALTHAM

Lithographed & Bound by
WALTHAM
Merriden, Mo., U. S. A.

The first part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that every entry, no matter how small, should be recorded to ensure the integrity of the financial statements. This includes not only sales and purchases but also expenses, income, and any other financial activity.

The second part of the document provides a detailed breakdown of the accounting cycle. It outlines the ten steps involved in the process, from identifying the accounting entity to preparing financial statements. Each step is explained in detail, with examples provided to illustrate the concepts.

The third part of the document discusses the various types of accounts used in accounting. It categorizes accounts into assets, liabilities, equity, revenue, and expense accounts. It also explains how these accounts are used to record transactions and how they are balanced at the end of each period.

The fourth part of the document discusses the importance of adjusting entries. It explains how these entries are used to ensure that the financial statements reflect the true financial position of the company at the end of the period. Examples are provided to show how adjusting entries are recorded and how they affect the accounts.

The fifth part of the document discusses the preparation of financial statements. It outlines the steps involved in preparing the balance sheet, income statement, and statement of owner's equity. It also discusses the importance of providing a clear and concise explanation of the results of the financial statements.

The sixth part of the document discusses the importance of internal controls. It explains how these controls are used to prevent and detect errors and fraud. It also discusses the various types of internal controls, such as segregation of duties, authorization, and documentation.

The seventh part of the document discusses the importance of ethics in accounting. It explains how accountants are expected to act in a fair and honest manner and to follow the principles of professional conduct. It also discusses the consequences of unethical behavior and the importance of maintaining the trust of the public.

The eighth part of the document discusses the importance of communication in accounting. It explains how accountants must be able to communicate effectively with their clients and colleagues. It also discusses the various methods of communication, such as writing, speaking, and using technology.

The ninth part of the document discusses the importance of continuous learning in accounting. It explains how accountants must stay up-to-date on the latest developments in the field and how they can continue to learn through professional development programs and courses.

The tenth part of the document discusses the importance of teamwork in accounting. It explains how accountants must work together to complete their tasks and how they can benefit from the experience and expertise of their colleagues.

The first part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that every entry, no matter how small, should be recorded to ensure the integrity of the financial statements. This includes not only sales and purchases but also expenses, income, and any other financial activity.

The second part of the document provides a detailed breakdown of the accounting process. It starts with the identification of the accounting cycle, which consists of eight steps: identifying the accounting cycle, analyzing and journalizing the transactions, posting to the ledger, preparing a trial balance, adjusting the accounts, preparing financial statements, and closing the books. Each step is explained in detail, with examples and practical advice.

The third part of the document focuses on the preparation of financial statements. It covers the balance sheet, the income statement, and the statement of cash flows. It explains how to calculate net income, how to determine the ending balance of each account, and how to present the information in a clear and concise manner.

The fourth part of the document discusses the importance of internal controls. It explains how to design and implement controls to prevent errors and fraud. This includes separating duties, requiring proper authorization, and maintaining accurate records.

The fifth part of the document covers the topic of depreciation. It explains how to calculate the cost of an asset, how to determine its useful life, and how to allocate the cost over time. It also discusses the different methods of depreciation, such as straight-line, declining balance, and units of production.

The sixth part of the document discusses the importance of budgeting. It explains how to create a budget, how to monitor it, and how to adjust it if necessary. It also discusses the benefits of budgeting, such as improved financial planning and control.

The seventh part of the document covers the topic of taxes. It explains how to calculate taxable income, how to determine the tax liability, and how to pay the taxes. It also discusses the different types of taxes, such as income tax, sales tax, and property tax.

The eighth part of the document discusses the importance of financial ratios. It explains how to calculate ratios such as the current ratio, the debt-to-equity ratio, and the return on equity ratio. It also discusses how to interpret these ratios and how they can be used to evaluate the financial health of a company.

The ninth part of the document covers the topic of financial forecasting. It explains how to use historical data to predict future financial performance. It also discusses the different methods of forecasting, such as the moving average method and the exponential smoothing method.

The tenth part of the document discusses the importance of financial reporting. It explains how to prepare financial statements, how to present them, and how to communicate the results to stakeholders. It also discusses the different types of financial reports, such as the annual report and the quarterly report.

Charleston Girls show off at a party.

"Collegiate, collegiate, yes, we are collegiate."

"But, Pop, I didn't eat the goldfish."

"Here it comes. The hottest thing on wheels, red spoke ones, that is. And, man, it'll turn on to 30 miles per hour in a quarter of a mile. Even better it winds to 20 in second gear." The foregoing is what you probably would have heard in the roaring twenties if you listened to two teen-age boys conferring about their automobiles.

These capricious adolescents and their problems thereof, served a suitable theme for Van Horn's fourth annual spring play — "Turn Back the Clock" written by Marrijane and Joseph Hayes and produced by the Van Horn chapter of National Thespian organization, Troup 1313, under the direction of Miss Nanabel Cassell, speech and dramatics teacher.

The story evolves around a typical family in the glorious year 1929. The teenage daughter's maiden hand is sought for by two aggressive lads who have a mutual dislike for one another. Like adding nitro to the already boiling feud, the brother of the teen-age daughter comes home and the potassium really hits the water! A disastrous party is given and the problems increase by leaps and bounds. All ends well, however, as the "prudish" father acquiesces and conforms from the old belligerent he was thought to be into a simple understanding parent.

A fight for the girl they both adore.

The party is in full swing!

Kittiwake Island

The confluence of literature, oceanography, and bird study provided for an eventful and humorous evening of entertainment as the music department presented its Spring production entitled "Kittiwake Island." A persistent female Shakespearean professor chases a co-worker to a deserted island where chaos immediately becomes a major part of the atmosphere as they are joined by a professor of oceanography who bobbles like a buoy whenever he sees the leader of the Shakespeare clan.

All ends well however as the students of the respective divisions "collaborate" and delve into each other's studies. In the meantime, a rare elusive bird is captured, thus satisfying the Bermuda-donning bird chaser. And so, the mad scramble for rehearsal and late evenings of practices has been terminated at Van Horn for another year.

Gail Benson as Lydia greets Mike Bishop playing Orlando Puffin with "Good Morning Mr. Puffin."

In this scene Orlando and Lydia sing "If Love Is Like a Lark."

The entire cast join in the number "Robinson Crusoe."

Lit Night

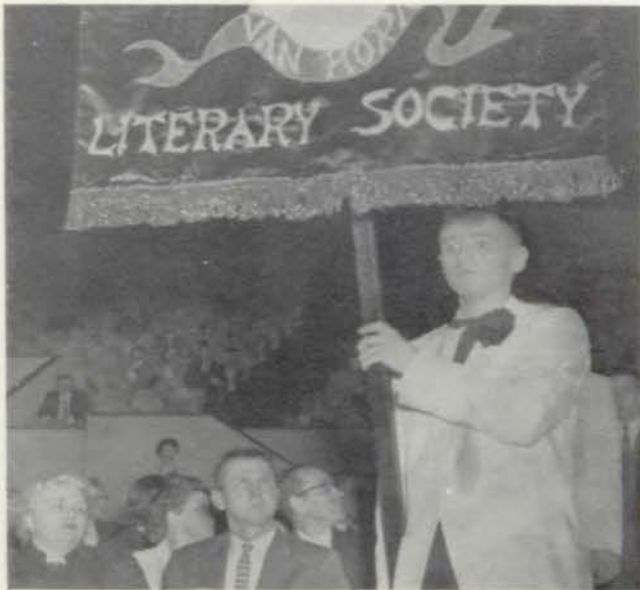

Kapponian song leaders lead their society in singing a praise song.

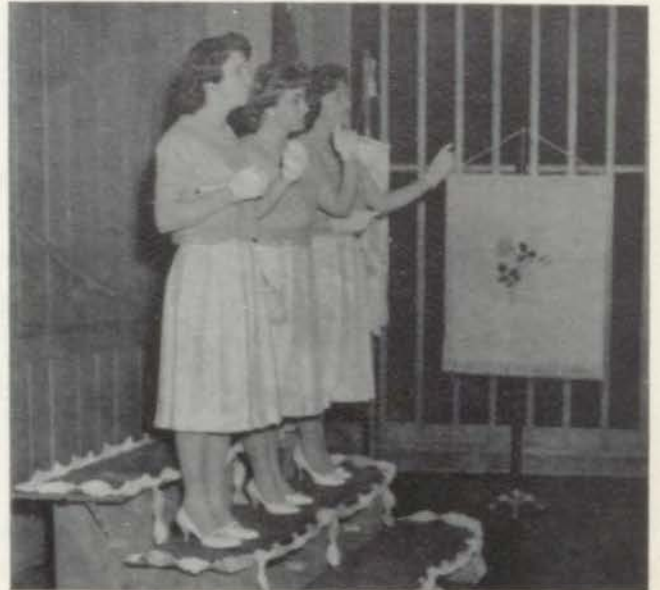

The literary societies worked hard this year in preparation for an unforgettable evening of suspense, agony, laughter, and happiness known as the Inter-Society Literary Contest, which was held at Van Horn High School on April 17. The Kappa girls won first place; Athenians were second; the stalwart Sigmas were third; and Thala Phia took fourth.

Slam songs, complete with actions, are presented by the Athenians.

Roger Coldsnow displays the Sigma Tau banner.

Thala Phia girls introduced a new style in presenting their slam songs.

Our Prom

The music of George Tidona plays on while everyone keeps the beat.

The music goes round and round and so does the glittering Carousel, the center of admiring attention.

Prom-goers look on as Charlie Whipple presents the Junior Class sponsor, Miss Baxter, with a gift.

Mr. Wasson, Senior Class sponsor, is greeted by soon-to-be graduates.

Not everyone could dance until four o'clock in the morning — just these few endured. The all-night party was judged a success by all.

"Boy, is this good!" Seniors ate heartily at the Senior Day dinner in the cafeteria.

A few courageous girls swam at one in the morning at the Senior party. Were they sorry!

Why was everyone famished by breakfast time?

Seniors and their dates at the graduation party take a food break.

The girls eagerly run for the high dive while Jim Kirkham braves the low broad.

Gone are the careless days, gone are the days of chit-chatting and strolling the halls, and gone are the days of reclining in a favorite class for the seniors who graduated last June. No more frosty football dates, slumber parties, or stag gatherings. Yes, the stagecoach of the lives of these graduates has passed through the wonderful and perilous territory of opportunity and background. The die is cast. They, theoretically, have fortified themselves with the ammunition in the war against insecurity and poverty — knowledge. Hail to the seniors and may God guide them around the curves on the highway of life.

The graduates prepare to march into commencement.

The swimming pool provided recreation for these senior boys.

Remember — left, right, left, right.

Sleepy seniors danced all night.
