1930

WALLACE MUDGE has left in the hearts of his friends and classmates the most wonderful of memorials, that which money cannot buy; a tribute of enduring memory and friendship. And this was not his only achievement. Aside from this he was able to be among those upon the topmost rung of the ladder of scholarship, be a leader in school activities, one of the leading orators and captain and star member of the golf team. Such honors as these were only part of his splendid record and all of them were well deserved, for Wallace worked faithfully and above all, cheerfully, meeting each task with a smile and contenting himself with its completion in as near perfection as was possible. Those associated with him were spurred on by the force of his personality and when defeat seemed imminent, were lifted up and encouraged to successfully surmount the obstacle. And it is thus that we shall remember him; meeting life with a smile and radiating happiness to all his friends.

Senior Class Song

TUNE: Maryland, My Maryland

O, Senior class of Westport High,
Our school days here are over;
And soon we'll leave for other scenes
With many tasks before us.
Long will our hearts recall each joy
And Time can ne'er our love destroy.
'Tis sad to part with comrades dear,
For mem'ry seems to linger here.

O, Westport High, thy fame is wide,
With pride inspiring victory.
May future classes of our school
Revere and praise thy standards.
As former students raised thy name,
May those who follow do the same.
And now farewell, thou best of schools,
The class of thirty leaves thee.

HERMANSADER

In Memoriam of The Herald of '30

"Would you be interested?" says Val.

"In advertising?" says Don.

"In the Westport Senior year book," say Val and Don together.

And they bravely approach the "prospect" who stands uninvitingly before them with forbidding brow.

If our Business Managers are not completely wilted by this time they plunge deeper into their carefully organized sale talk—but more often they decide on the spur of the moment that, "We'll come back again."

---

Every advertisement thus expertly turned over has enabled our publication to devote a corresponding amount of space to Tiger Tales. The Field brothers, idea men, with the help of Robert Sutermeister have arranged the funny-boners.

---

James Kirk, Stillman protege, asserts that his chief mission this year has been to draw the girls out for staff meetings.

---

Gladys Stanfield and Leonard Snyder, together with Geraldine Sliffe, Jessie Luyben, Russel Field, Ruth Tappan, Dick Challinor, Donald Morrell, Douglas Livesay, Bill Barr and Louis Laugesen are responsible for the scrawling figures and wriggling curves which they importantly term futuristic art. It is quite evidently original.

---

No methods so harsh and direct as grilling, nor so subtle as the planting of dictaphones, the applying of ears to key holes, nor the wearing of false whiskers or other disguises have been necessary, what with the professional followers of Sherlock, Margaret Cottrell, Mary Virginia Wright, and Stewart Chambers, covering the secret Societies.

---

Diana of the Ball Park has trod her delicate way through the pages sacrificed to girls athletics under the guiding hand of Betty Hansen.

---

Now picture a shapely young lady, perched on the desk with crossed legs chewing gum and flirting with the office boy, Frank Banister. Imagine a moth eaten dictionary, settled precariously upon her lap. Fill in the blanks with the face of Joy Garrison, plentifully rouged and lipsticked and you have a rough idea of the Herald Secretary.

---

And lastly, for this and other such weighty editorials, you are indebted to BEVERLY McCLELLAND.

Our P. S. (Prudence Stillman, G. M., M. B., P. I. S.*), etc. calls herself Editor-in-chief. Is there anything she hasn't been? She even assumed direct supervision of the afore mentioned office boy.

Crier Staff

JUNIORS and seniors enrolled in newswriting comprise the editorial staff of the Westport Crier. Superior grades in English, adaptability and willingness to perform a variety of special duties are the chief requirements for admission to the class.

Through the columns of the school paper the members of the staff strive to give an accurate and interesting portrayal of the varied activities of the student body. The class follows a schedule arranged for a period of two weeks. Besides covering his special assignments, each pupil writes an editorial, a feature article, brevities and items for the "Clock" and "Tiger Tidbits" columns for each issue. A textbook and the daily newspapers furnish material for the study of the style and technique employed in various types of newswriting.

Through its control of the paper, the staff is able to exercise influence on many school projects and problems. The Crier first proposed the adoption of a standard school pin, it suggested the present semi-annual honor roll and last year it helped initiate the combination activity ticket.

This year The Crier has had for its platform:

A fitting memorial to Westport's World War dead.

Improved acoustics in the auditorium.

A simpler system of room numbering.

Higher percentage of student depositors in the school bank.

Continuance of the combination activity ticket.

Better club programs.

No other organization in the school is more able to further the worthy activities of Westport than the staff of the Westport Crier.

Assembly Ushers

THE MEMBERS of Mr. Banister's second hour drafting class were chosen as ushers for the assembly and for other programs that were held in the auditorium during the year. Through the co-operation of Mr. Holloway and the teachers the ushers were very successful. This is the first time that ushers have been used in assemblies and the result warrants using them in years to come.

The following are members of the class that ushered all year:

FRED BREITENBAUGH
CHARLES DREESE
HARLEN EVERETT, JR.
WILBUR GAY
JOHN HALDEMAN

FRANK B. HEROLD
WESLEY HILL
EUGENE KEW
LOUIS LAUGESSEN
ROBERT MOORE

WILLIAM PEARSON
BYERS RATHBONE
KENDALL TUCKER (head usher)
HAROLD VANOVER
ROBERT H. WOOD

The Student Council

THE primary purpose of the Student Council is to obtain closer co-operation between the faculty and the student body. In February, 1922 it was considered necessary to have some group to represent the students. As a result of this need, the Student Council was organized after much preliminary work. A new Student Council is elected each semester. Every home room elects one representative and one alternate. These representatives meet bi-weekly on Wednesday to discuss school problems. The Executive Board, consisting of three sophomores, three juniors, and three seniors, is elected from the delegates in their respective classes. Before each council meeting the Executive Board meets to plan the discussion to be brought up the next day. Every matter brought before the council must receive a two-thirds majority in the Executive Board meeting. One faculty member is chosen by each class as its advisor in the council. After each meeting the representatives report back to their home rooms on the matters discussed. Anyone connected with the school is permitted to bring suggestions or ideas before the council.

During the first semester this year, the Student Council did much for the welfare of the school. It presented a Christmas assembly of unusual interest; a memorial for Miss Wilder was purchased with funds collected from the student body; and the banking was raised from 14% at the first of the year to 31% at the end of the first semester, lifting Westport out of her traditional last place.

The second semester council also carried out several worth while projects.

ONE feature of the year's work of the Boys' Glee Club was their appearance in the pageant, "The Passing of the Torch," given at Convention Hall under the auspices of the Association of High School Women. The Westport episode was "Steamboat Days" and the glee club was cast as negro roustabouts singing a group of negro spirituals.

Another outstanding event took place when the boys plowed their way through a snow-storm to sing for the P. T. A. Open House and found the audience outnumbered by the performers.

"The Romantic Age" scored in two performances. The climax for the first semester of the school was the presentation of the play by A. A. Milne, Friday and Saturday evenings, December 13 and 14, in the auditorium, before two large audiences. The play was highly successful, both as a dramatic event and a financial enterprise.

Senior Play Cast

"Nothing But the Truth"

Absent: DOROTHY DICKSON.

After seeing this play, you will be convinced that honesty is the best principle but not the best policy.

Debate Teams

FIRST DEBATE TEAM

SECOND DEBATE TEAM

After several years of inactivity, debate was resumed as a regular school activity. "The Senate Debate," a style invented by A. S. Humphrey was put to its first test with great success. Speeches were extemporaneous, necessitating thorough preparation. There were four debates for the boys' teams. Two were with Wyandotte, and two were with Manual. "Chain Stores" and "Installment Buying" were the subjects. Only one decision was rendered in which Westport defeated Wyandotte, 24-15. The girls used "Installment Buying" in their two formal debates with Wyandotte. The first team won 3-0, and the second team lost 2-1.

The Art Department

THE ART DEPARTMENT of Westport is one of the most interesting departments in the school. There have been several contests this year, one of which was a national art contest. Two pieces of soap sculpture by Julia Perkins represented Westport.

Within our own school we have had the R. O. T. C. contest. The first prize was received by Patricia Edson and Ella Bundren received the second prize.

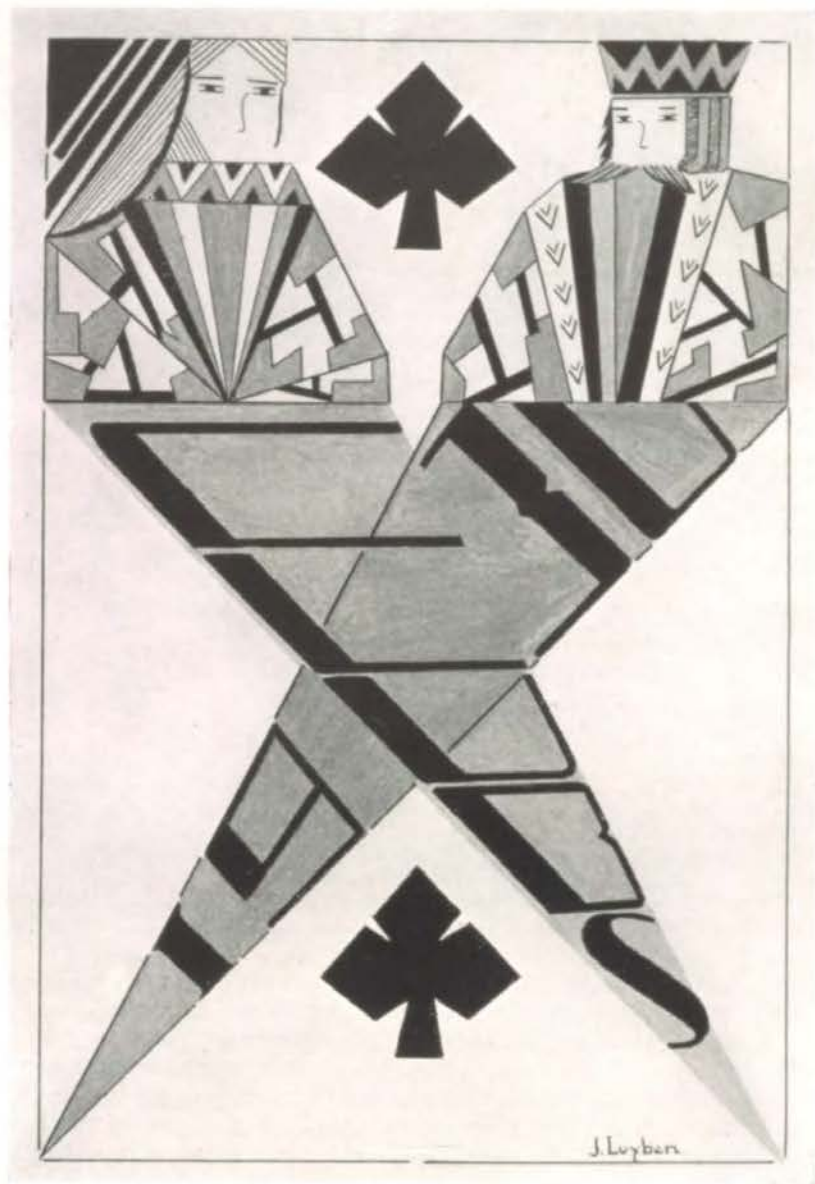

As the Art Staff has done most of the art work for the Herald, only three division pages were open for competition. They were won by the following: Activities, Eleanor Hermansader; R. O. T. C., Lena Wyatt; Girls Athletics, Gladys Stanfield.

In the craft class the students apply their original designs in problems of clay, leather, painting of furniture, and lampshades of parchment. The commercial class works out designs and lettering in pen and ink, and color, which can be applied to commercial advertising. In the costume class the girls learn how to dress correctly, including the study of accessories and color harmony.

All the art classes visit the Art Institute once a month.

THE Clay Club experienced one of its most successful years in 1930, and continued to uphold its reputation as Westport's pre-eminent literary society. In keeping with their scholastic standing, Clays were well represented on the honor roll, and, as a debate club, were outstanding on Westport's two debate teams.

School and club elections served as a factor in bringing Clay members into prominence. Three Junior Class officers and two Senior Class officers were Clays; three Student Council officers were Clays; and in addition, Clay members were outstanding in other activities.

In collaboration with the Irving Club, the Clays successfully held two social functions, both dances, one at Christmas and the other coming in the middle of May, concluding a most successful and enjoyable year.

IN MEMORIAM

The tragic death of Wallace Mudge came as a shock to all members of the Club. One of the most active students the Club was ever proud to call a member, Mudge held offices on five occasions, was outstanding in and out of the club, and his loss was deeply felt by all.

THE Clionian Literary Society has the honor of being the first charter club to be organized in Westport. Its membership consists of sterling, prominent young men and women. They are well known in the scholastic, literary, and social field.

They give two dances a year with the Round Table Club, and annually engage in a contest with their worthy rivals. For years the Clionians have been victorious. Clionian has had many sponsor majors and class officers in its midst.

The name is taken from Clio, the goddess of music and history. The charter requires a membership of at least thirty and no more than sixty. At one time all the charter clubs in the school, but two, were disbanded. Clionian was one of those two. It has always upheld the spirit of Westport.

We were very fortunate in having Mr. Cutting for our Adviser this year, and we sincerely appreciate his work. This has been a successful year for Clionian and we wish it success in the years to come.

THIS, the twentieth anniversary of Westport's pioneer literary society, has found more than the customary number of school celebrities and influential students wearing the distinguished Irving emblem.

Besides being a member of the Herald staff, Don Jackson, our president the second semester, was the school's contestant in The Star's oratorical contest in Convention Hall April 12.

Powell's timid, likable orator won for him the honor of Junior Class president. Powell's running mate, Bill Catron, was the juniors' choice for vice-president. "Stew" Chambers was elected secretary of the Senior Class.

And what Westporter does not know Val Thomas, business manager of the Herald and for his Crier-exploited mustache? Not to forget Ellis Luck, the romantic hero of the Christmas play.

Our Christmas party with the Clays was the most successful in the club's history. Every one of us has benefited by striving to achieve the object of the club's existence—to cultivate literary taste and develop ability and we desire to thank Mr. Miller for his interest and the free rein he has given us in conducting our affairs.

Adviser: MISS BAIN.

THE Promethean Literary Society was founded in 1928 as a memorial to Miss Margaret DeWitt, who was an English teacher in Westport for many years. Miss Bain, the head of the English Department of Westport, is the sponsor of this club whose purpose is to further an appreciation of good literature. The membership in the club is by invitation from the club. Only girls whose grades average M or above are eligible for invitation.

Regular club meetings are held every two weeks. These meetings consist of a business meeting and a prepared program. The business meetings are held according to strict parliamentary law, for the purpose of training the members to conduct public meetings in a formal and proper manner. During the season of 1929, we supplemented the regular course by a more exhaustive study of Shakespeare. At these meetings, scenes were dramatized, whole plays pantomimed, reviews given of still other plays, and a more individual knowledge of Shakespeare was shown by requiring each member to respond to roll call with a quotation from a Shakespearian play.

For the season of 1930, other phases of literature were covered, including contemporary American authors.

Since high standard of scholarship is required for membership in the club, it is appropriate that the only three girls in Westport who are eligible for the gold pin with three pearls are members of this club.

Since our club has been so recently founded, we lack the traditions of many of the older clubs, but we have already taken high rank in the club life in Westport, and we have every hope and confidence of a successful and brilliant future.

PUNDIT means wise Hindu. Mr. Humphrey named this club, which had Miss Ruth Mary Weeks as its first adviser, in 1908. Pundit has always been known as the club with the best girls. They are rivals for any one in popularity, pep, or what have you. It was the only literary club composed of girls only, until 1927. The club of 1930 has been most successful. The only girl officer of the Senior class; who is she? She's a Pundit. The five sponsors of the R. O. T. C. Battalion; who are they? They're Pundits, of course. Whatever honors are to be had, Pundit gets most of them.

The sponsors of Pundit have been great. Some of them are: Miss Rosenberger, Miss Lash, Miss Wheeler, Miss Wheeland.

One thing all the Pundits and many of the boys look forward to is the Annual Pundit Spring Dance. They take first place in pep, good times, and cleverness.

The girl that the club thinks has benefited the club most is crowned Pundit Queen of the Dance. This year the coveted place was given to Prudent Stillman.

Miss Betty Hanna, '20, who has been playing the season with the Oberfelder-Ketchum players at the Orpheum, was a member of the Pundit Club in '19 and '20. Miss Hanna took part in all school plays here and had the lead in "Alabama." Miss Hanna not only was outstanding as an actress, but she held honors in debate and her studies. Pundit's little actress also carried play honors at Junior College and now is pleasing many Kansas City theater goers.

THIRTY years ago Round Table, one of the oldest clubs in Westport, was organized. Many years ago, in 1900, to be exact, it was decided that Westport needed a literary society. As the school was too large for only one society, two clubs were formed, the Round Table and the Clonian. Miss Annie Crombie Wilder, deceased, was chosen adviser for Round Table.

To apportion the students so that there should be an equal number of knights and ladies in each society, two pupils representing the two societies were elected to choose sides, as in a spelling match.

Round Table was unlucky in the decision for the honor of being the first club organized in Westport. In drawing straws it drew the shortest, consequently, being defeated by three minutes.

The activities of these two groups comprised the entire social life of the school, each entertaining in honor of the other. When the school became too large for unlimited membership the present system of voting in new members was adopted.

Today Round Table still remains one of the strongest and most reputable institutions of the school.

IN 1916 a biology club was organized to give the students in Westport High School, who were interested in botany and zoology, an opportunity to investigate further in these particular fields of science and to learn correct parliamentary procedure in club meetings. In 1919 the membership was enlarged to include the other sciences of the High School.

The B. C. P. Club is divided into five groups, namely, botany, zoology, chemistry, physics and physiography as the basis of the program. The vice-president is chairman of the program committee that is in charge of a sub chairman.

The goal of the B. C. P. Club is, Best Club Possible. The club has always consisted of members with high scholastic honors, as well as a high degree of interest in science.

Hi-Y Club

THE purpose of the Hi-Y Club is to create, maintain and extend high principles of Christian character throughout the school and community. The membership in the club is not limited. Any boy who is willing to abide by the purpose of the club and pledge himself to regular attendance may become a member.

The club is divided into three chapters, the Westport, Roanoke and Troost groups. Every other Monday the three groups join in a dinner meeting controlled by the general officers. A prominent minister or business man is usually the speaker of the evening.

Each year the club sends several boys to the Hi-Y training camp in the Ozarks. Here the boys meet representatives of Hi-Y clubs throughout the country. The club is sponsored by the Y. M. C. A.

THIS year particularly does the Virgil class of '30 realize the great privilege it has in studying The Aeneid; for Publius Vergilius Maro, "wielder of the stateliest measure ever moulded by the lips of man," was born near Mantua exactly two thousand years ago. In its way, the class has tried to honor this poet according to his due, and has formed an organization for this purpose.

A luncheon was given on December 12, 1929. The speaker, Mr. James H. Cravens, a prominent lawyer of Kansas City, made an address overflowing with apt Latin quotations and energetic remarks which banished any last faint lurking suspicion that Latin and Virgil have seen their day.

Two months later, Miss Hannah Oliver, for many years teacher of Latin in the University of Kansas, was the guest of the class at luncheon. During the sixth hour, she steeped the students deep in the purity and sweetness of the beloved poet.

With pride and pleasure, we think of our conquest of declensions and conjugations, of Gallic wars fought and subjunctive modes overcome, of our travels with the "pius" Aeneas and the faithful Achates. We, twenty-six seasoned veterans, thank Miss Mabel Eggleston and former Latin teachers for their kindly sympathy in leading us forth from the threshold of amo, amas, amat, out upon the broad and beaten highway of The Aeneid "along which countless feet have passed in the course of nineteen centuries."

THE Spanish Club was organized by a group of the students of the Spanish Department on March the fifteenth, nineteen hundred and ten. They adopted the name of "Circulo Calderon." The purpose was to obtain a more thorough knowledge of the customs and literature of the Spanish speaking races. Also they wished to acquire fluency in the use of the language.

The motto of the club is, "Adelante, siempre adelante," (Forward, Ever Forward) and the colors are red and yellow. The membership is composed of the best students in the Spanish classes, who also have a good standing in other departments. A student may be a member after twenty weeks of study.

In the meetings the history and government of the Spanish countries are studied. Sometimes the biographies of the great men of these countries are given. Once in a while a play is presented or a debate is carried on with the Spanish club of another school. These meetings are held on the second and fourth Fridays of the month at three-ten in the afternoon.

"A SOUND Mind in a Sound Body" is the old Greek motto that the Diana Athletic Club endeavors to follow in a varied program. Not all of the programs are intensively athletic, for in addition to the sports meetings, there are occasional hikes and other meetings in which the members take part. The Diana Athletic Club also sponsors the Annual Spring Party. It is customary for the president of the first term to be in charge, and she chooses her staff from the gymnasium classes. Prizes are awarded for the best class stunt, for the best individual costume, and for the most attractively costumed couple.

The Diana Athletic Club has many enthusiastic members and it fills a very definite need in school life.

THE Westport Engineers Club was organized by Mr. Hale and Mr. Guisinger, (Paseo) in October, 1919. It was organized for the purpose of interesting boys in the mechanical arts of the school. From 1919 until 1926, Mr. Hale served as sponsor of the club, he changed it from a new, obscure club, to one of the foremost departmental clubs of the school. Mr. Banister served as club sponsor from 1926 to 1929, and during that time some of the best work was done. This year we have been very fortunate in securing a very capable new sponsor, Mr. Bishop.

Each year the club works on certain projects, and the programs consist of talks by well known engineers and architects. The membership of the club is restricted to about thirty active members. In order to apply for membership, one must have had at least one year of mechanical arts or shop work.

THE BLUE TRIANGLE of the Girl Reserve Club is a three-fold symbol of the girls' high school organization that seeks to promote the spirit of Christianity and world fellowship. It represents the three important phases of development of a girl's character, health, service and knowledge. Girls are taught that the greatest purpose in life is "to face life squarely and to find and give the best."

The highest honor that a girl can receive is the privilege to wear the Girl Reserve ring, which signifies that she has tried to live up to the purpose and code of the club. The cabinet members are chosen for their active service and leadership and club membership is open to all who want the high standards for their ideals.

THE JULES GUERIN CLUB was organized in December, 1922. It was named for Jules Guerin, a Missouri artist. He presented the club a portfolio consisting of some of his most recent paintings; they are paintings of twelve famous American churches. Since then, Kansas City has called him to make the mural decoration for the Liberty Memorial Hall.

The aim of the club is to obtain a fuller appreciation and knowledge of art. Since the club's organization, some of the members have achieved unusual success in commercial art as well as in the art of the home.

LES IMMORTELS was established in 1927 to further an interest in the French language, customs and ideals. The programs, which are given mostly in French, are furnished by talent in the club, and by speakers outside of the club. Also, there are several purely social functions each year.

Each year it has been the custom for the club to leave a gift for the French department. Last year the Club presented six French song books.

Besides this the Club has established a "scrap book" in which will be kept the records and pictures of previous and future years.

THE Speech Arts Club is associated with the Speech Arts Department. It offers opportunity to talented students for further improvement in speech and development of individuality. Applicants must pass a try-out before they obtain membership.

Each year the club sponsors a contest between Public Speaking classes and offers a prize of a purple and gold pennant to the winning class. At the first meeting in October and at a meeting in April the club prepares an entertainment to which members invite their friends.

Programs often consist of bits of classwork, such as speeches, orations, scenes from classic and modern plays. At other times programs are made up of one-act plays or original pieces prepared by members out of class.

Plays presented this year have been: "Suppressed Desires," "White Elephants," "Six Cups of Chocolate," "The Rehearsal," "The Beau of Bath," "Lima Beans," "The Proposal," "In a Hotel Lobby," scenes from "The Patsy," and "The Closet Scene," and the "Grave Diggers Scene," from Hamlet.

TO BECOME a member of the Foremen's Club, one must be a foreman of the wood working or metal working classes. He should first pass through the minor divisions in these classes, and should know the duties of the foreman and of the different clerks, such as the office clerk, repair clerk, and tool clerk. He should, having first done the work himself, know the work the boys are doing and the different kinds of tools and wood used.

The duties of the foreman are as follows: to make a careful study of the office, taking into consideration the qualities necessary to make a good foreman, and the characteristics of the pupils in the class with the idea of selecting those best qualified to take the position of foreman later; to direct the work of the clerks; to assist the instructor in assigning new work to members of the class; to assist pupils in any part of the assignment where help is needed; to inspect the work of the pupils with respect to the quality of the work done and the time required to do it; to study the nature of each pupil with the idea of getting him to put his best efforts into his work; to make suggestions of any change in the shop that would make it more efficient; and last, to call in the assistant foreman when needed.

The objective of the Foremen's Club is to improve the standard of work in the wood working and metal working classes, and to instill in the members of these classes a desire to apply themselves hard in order to obtain the position of foreman.

The Foremen's Club meets every first and third Friday to discuss questions and problems of these classes. Each foreman then takes back to his class the ideas and suggestions he has gotten from the meeting and does all he can to help the boys.

SOON after school opened last fall, the old subject of a pep squad was broached simultaneously by a number of Westporters.

The three Tiger cheer leaders, Don Jackson, Jim Fowler, and "Yeggi" Yegishian, fell heartily to the task and soon had a group of twenty-five or thirty boys enthusiastic over the proposition. (Later on, the membership list was opened to girls).

Distinctive sweaters and caps were selected, officers were elected, and the name "Growlers" chosen as most appropriate for such a Tiger organization.

The principal purpose of the squad is not to furnish all of the cheering, but is to form the nucleus about which a large group of organized and effectively cheering students can be built, by means of which athletic events, debates, oratorical contests, etc., can be supported.

The Football Team

NORMAN EDMONDS (CAPT.) - FULLBACK

"Normie" was one of the most powerful fullbacks in the city. He won backfield positions on both city all-star teams. He excelled mostly in his defensive work but was also a consistent scorer which led to a majority of his team's victories.

JOHN THROCKMORTON - GUARD

Johnny, playing his second and last year for Westport displayed an excellent brand of football. He was all "battle" and showed up well by his hard tackling and ability to open up holes for the backs.

HOWARD COMBS - QUARTERBACK

Combs, because of his coolness of head at critical times and his ability to run back punts was placed on the city's all star second team.

BILL HENRY - GUARD

Henry, due to his excellent charging and fighting spirit won a position as guard on one of the city all star teams. We expect great things of Bill next year.

BILL GRAFRATH - GUARD AND END

Bill was fast and quick on his feet and an excellent charger. He showed a marked ability in covering punts.

GEORGE TRINASTICH - FULLBACK

George developed into a fine ball lugger and one of the best blockers in the city.

KENNETH ASEL - QUARTER AND HALFBACK

"Kenney" was good for a gain anytime, due to his driving and plunging type of play.

JACK SHARP - END

Jack was big and fast with a natural ability to catch passes. His fine tackling should be commended.

ROY FLOREA - END

A promising player with plenty of natural ability. We expect he'll do the punting for the team next year.

DON MACON - CENTER

One of the few sophomores to make the team, however, what he lacks in experience he made up for in aggressiveness.

CHARLES CARLISLE - END

One of the boys to get a berth on the city's all star second team. An excellent tackler and pass snagger.

CLIFFORD RIDER - END

This young man showed his stuff in the Central game. Clifford was an excellent defensive man and he took a lot of punishment.

GEORGE BRESINA - TACKLE

Playing his third year of football under the Blue and Gold, George developed into a fine tackle this year. "Breezy" also won a place on the city all star.

JOSEPH GLICK - TACKLE

Also played his third year of football this year. The backs could always count on "Moon" to open up a hole for them.

GILBERT BARBER - QUARTERBACK AND END

"Gil" was our utility man this year. He was an excellent drop kicker and pass receiver.

DREW THOMAS - CENTER

Drew was the main cog in our line this year. His defensive work was without reproach.

JAMES KIRK - HALFBACK

The whole school regrets losing a player like "Jimmy". Aside from being one of the best punters in the league his ability to pass and carry the ball was commendable.

LELAND HOOD - HALFBACK AND END

Leland was also one of these "Sock 'em and weep" type of players. He will be back next year to assume responsibilities.

SCOTT FOSTER - END

Playing his first year of football "Scotty" was nevertheless the best end on the team. He always got his man on punts.

FIRST TEAM

THE YEAR OF 1929 may be looked back on as one of the most successful years of football Westport has had for some time. Although we did not win every game we lost but one and tied two which, considering the average weight and age of our team compared to those of the other teams in the Inter-scholastic League, was remarkable.

We expect to have a fine team for 1930 due to the number of letter-men returning and the fine material developed from the second team. We have about eight letter-men returning next year. Those who are returning are: Barber, Henry, Trinastich, Rider, Florea, Hood and Macon, a sophomore.

SECOND TEAM

Our second team came through this year with favorable success. Although they did not win a large majority of their games they developed some fine material for 1930.

A few of the most favorable prospects for the coming year are Wheeler, end; Van Pelt, end; Withro, backfield; Traub, backfield; Walker, line, and Sullivan, tackle. Ted Wiklund, who was ineligible this year, will be eligible next year and is an excellent prospect for a first string end.

NORMAN EDMONDS - - - - GUARD

Had it not been for the nine semester ruling, "Normie" would have undoubtedly been a strong candidate for the city All Star teams. His ability for recovering rebounds linked with his fine shooting and defensive work made his play outstanding.

HOWARD COMBS - - - - FORWARD

Because of his "keen" eye for the basket and his clever floor work, the team suffered a great set-back when Combs' service ceased, due to the nine semester ruling. In his last game for Westport against East, Howard was the "gunner," scoring five baskets and two free throws.

JACK SHARP - - - - GUARD

Jack was big, possessing plenty of power and drive. He showed up well in the man to man defense because when he was told to cover a man, he really stayed "covered." Because of his marked ability, he received a position on one of the city All-Star second teams.

HERBERT LARSON - GUARD AND FORWARD

"Swede" is just a "chip off the old block." His height was a great asset under the basket, which accounted for many of the tip-in shots. He was fine on recovering rebounds, possessing a world of scrap and fight.

CHARLES SPARKS - - - - FORWARD

"Charlie" was one of the fastest and cleverest little "floor men" in the city. He is what we would call "a born basket ball player," because of his natural ability both at hitting the basket and elusive dribbling. "Charlie" showed fine spirit and plenty of fight.

ROY FLOREA - - - - FORWARD

Playing his first year as a regular, Roy developed into a fine forward and will be greatly relied upon for scoring honors next year. He was a consistent scorer, especially at critical times, possessing a marked ability to break up passes when on defense.

GEORGE BRESINA - - - - GUARD

George played a fine brand of basket ball, especially defensively, because he was a constant menace to the opposing forward and also because he "battled" all the time and refused to be outdone.

STEWART CHAMBERS - - - FORWARD

"Stew" was exceptionally fast, possessing a great deal of fight and sportsmanship. He was a shifty dribbler with an uncanny eye for the hoop.

THEODORE WIKLUND - - - GUARD

Ted is one of the few returning next year and a great deal is expected of him from every one. Because of his height and knowledge of when to break and when not to break, he was a consistent scorer on shots driving under the basket.

JAMES KIRK, Captain - - - CENTER

"Jim" was an ideal leader, showing a splendid attitude toward officials, opponents and team mates. While he was the smallest Center in the League, he was able to control the tip in several games. He played his best game against East when he limited the 6' 5" Quinn to three shots and no goals.

First Team Basket Ball

WESTPORT'S cage team, for the past season, was one of the finest groups of boys Coach Newman has worked with in several years. Although they did not chalk up as many victories as was desired, each and every one of them was in there battling from start to finish, giving all they had. What more could a coach or school ask for?

Although there were several inexperienced players on the team, what they lacked in experience, they made up for in aggressiveness and determination.

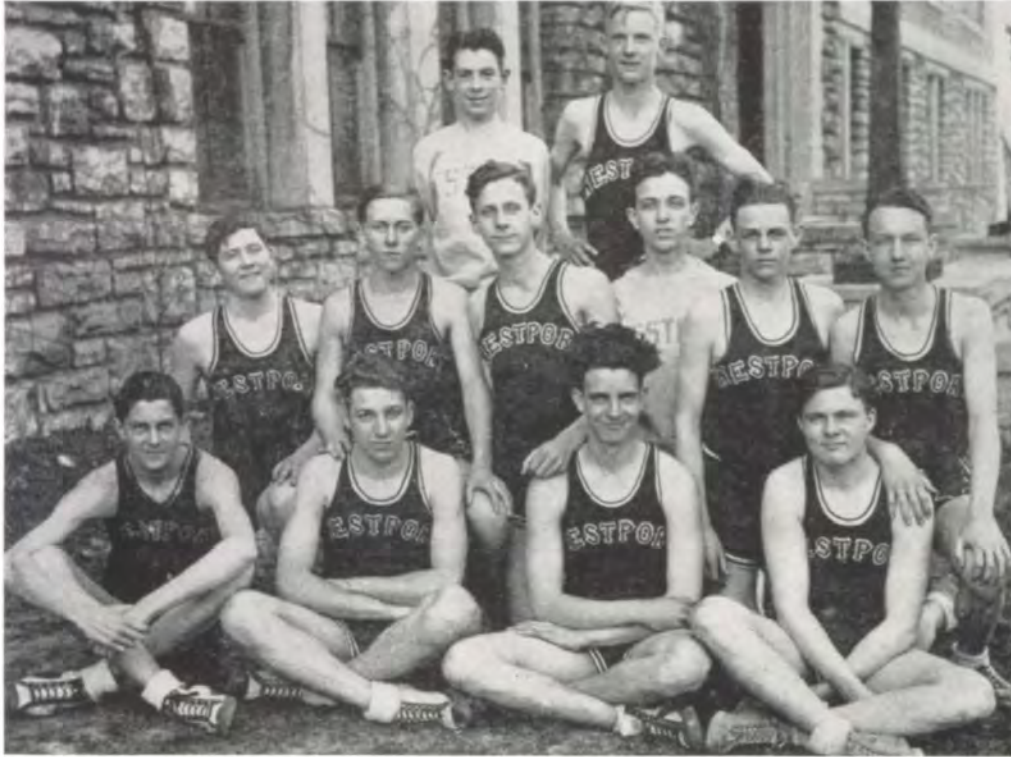

Our greatest accomplishment was the defeat of East High, last year's state champions, at the hands of the Tigers, the score being doubled, 24 to 12.

THE SECOND TEAM

DUKE, M. INICH, WALKER, GARRETT, COCHRAN, LACOFF, CORNELIESON, SCOFIELD, FITZPATRICK, MARTINECK, FRY, SULLIVAN.

ALTHOUGH the second team failed to win the majority of their games, the members of the team showed promising ability which indicates no dearth of first team material for next year. Coach Newman appeared vastly pleased when speaking of prospective first team members most likely in the person of Walker, Cornelieson, Fry, Garrett, Wheeler, and others on the second squad this year.

Cornelieson, Fry, and Walker saw some first squad service this year.

The graphic design is centered around a large, stylized letter 'V' shape. At the top of the 'V' is a photograph of three cheerleaders in dark uniforms, standing on a stage with two traffic cones. Below this photo is a caption listing their names: DON JACKSON, YERVANT YEGISLIAN, and JIMMIE FOWLER. The left and right arms of the 'V' contain the words 'CHEER' and 'LEADERS' respectively, written in a large, stylized, serif font. At the bottom of the 'V' are three smaller, diamond-shaped portraits of young men. The left portrait is labeled 'STADIS' and the right portrait is labeled 'STANFIELD'. The central portrait is unlabeled. The background of the entire design consists of several dark, diagonal stripes radiating from the center of the 'V'.

THIS year as is customary, the cheer leaders were chosen by a process of elimination and the choice was well merited.

The boys were able to arouse a good deal of pep in the student body and showed their spirit nobly

During the basket ball season we were pleased to note that "Yeggie" was always on hand before the game to stir up interest. As is usual, Don, the captain, came in at the beginning of the game, presumably to attract certain feminine eyes. Jimmie always strolled in at about the half, but never without a most attractive date. Yes, indeed, the boys did their duty most nobly and punctually.

THIS is the first year of golf as an official sport in the Kansas City high schools. However, it has proved very popular and a large number of boys turned out at the first of the year for an elimination tournament in which the team was selected.

All of the members are sound golfers and as the season progresses, should get into such shape as to rank Westport high in the school standing and to give the school a good chance in the Interscholastic Tournament to be played after the close of the season.

Tennis

WESTPORT again triumphs in Interscholastic tennis. Cutlip, the team captain, wins the singles crown without the loss of a set. McIninch wins way to semi-finals, only to lose to Miller of Northeast.

Westport's two well balanced doubles teams, Howe and Richmond, senior, and Kiley and Ralston, sophomore, went to the finals in the doubles with the latter team winning.

The prospects are bright for a strong team next year with a strong squad fighting for places.

CAPTAIN "BILL" GRAFRATH

IN THE K. C. A. C. indoor meet, third place honors in the open half mile dash and the four lap relay were won by the Tiger runners. At the K. U. and Kansas Aggie meeting, Bill Grafrath trailed the Kansas state champion across the finish line in the half mile dash and James took fourth in the open 50 yard dash.

The Tigers emerged at the short end of a 64 to 27 score in their meet with Northeast. Hood walked off with first place in the 100 yard dash in the sensational time of 10.3 seconds and Hopkins cleared the cross bar in the high jump at 5 ft. 9 in. James was first in the 220 yard dash in addition to a second place in the quarter mile. Grafrath finished a close second in each event, the 880 yard dash, and the 220 yard low hurdles.

The Pasco Pirates overwhelmed the Westport tracksters the following week by 71 to 20. Grafrath was second in the low hurdles and half mile as were Hood and James in the 100 and 440 yard dashes. Kirk and Larson tied for second in the high jump.

The Manual meet offered an excellent outlet for the Tiger's pent up wrath and when the smoke of battle had cleared away the Crimson squad was hopelessly outclassed. The final score stood 62½ to 68½, Westport. Grafrath and James each scored double victories, the former in the low hurdles and half mile and the latter in the 220 and 440 yard dashes. S. Smith was second to his team mate in the "lows." Sharp won the shot put with Ryder second and Traub was first in the 100 yard dash. Kirk took second in the pole vault and tied with Larson for that position in the high jump. Roberson came through with a second in the broad jump and the half mile relay team composed of Hood, Smith, Grafrath and James easily out-distanced the Manual quartet.

Hockey 1929

FIELD HOCKEY, in dad's day more familiarly known as "shinny," has now advanced to the dignity of a scientific sport. It is becoming increasingly popular in the Middle West, and each year the Westport girls hail the hockey season with joy. The three 1929 class teams were unusually well matched. The scores of all the games were low and surprisingly close. The Sophomores showed amazing promise, the Juniors were in excellent form, and the Seniors had a firm "goal-getting aggregation." According to Miss Bradley, physical director, this team had no stars but was uniformly strong.

The Seniors, as usual, won the title, winning all their matches. The Juniors and Sophomores tied for second place, but the Juniors' total score was less than that of the Sophomores. High point scorers were Margaret Price, '30 and Margaret Edwards, '31.

Hockey is becoming more interesting to those outside of the athletic department, and it is to be hoped that this interest will continue to increase with each season.

Basket Ball 1930

THE girls' 1930 basket ball season was no less exciting and interesting than that of the boys. The loyal group of "fans" attending the six games and the three smoothly organized teams playing a high standard of basket ball. Slight changes in the rules added to the speed of the game but did not detract from its interest. The Sophomores put up a game fight and nearly defeated the Juniors in one game. However, the Juniors redeemed themselves, when the Seniors almost bowed before them. Still the Seniors won all of their games, in spite of keen competition, and another season ended with fifteen cagers winning letters.

Although the majority of the school is particularly interested in the Interscholastic games, they might find much enjoyment in the girls' Interclass series.

Baseball -- 1930

BECAUSE of the necessity of submitting the Herald proofs so early this year, the baseball write-up must cover only three of the games. At the end of the third game it was anybody's championship, since each team had won and lost one game. The Sophomores had an unusually fine team, with some real stars in the outfield. The Juniors, too, were in good condition except for the fact that their offense was a bit weak. The Seniors had a smoothly working unit that held their opponents' score low, although they were defeated by the Sophies in their first game.

There should be an unusual amount of interest in the remaining games of the season, since the teams are so evenly matched. However, the Seniors seem to be the favorites for the title. Baseball is a popular sport with Westport athletes and one that draws many fans to watch the games.

R. O. T. C. is an arm of the National Defense Act:

This country received several lessons from the World War, and from these lessons evolved the National Defense Act of 1920.

The National Defense Act gave this country a definite and effective military policy to follow commensurate with our national wealth, our great population, widespread as it is, and our country's eminent position as one of the world powers.

The Act, in keeping with our National Traditions, provides for the maintenance of a military establishment small in numbers, but high in efficiency and economical in administration. It also provides for the preparation in time of peace, of plans for the mobilization of industry and man-power, with the greatest possible dispatch, and the least confusion, waste and extravagance.

The R. O. T. C. (Reserve Officers Training Corps) is a branch of the training provided for under the National Defense Act. It is divided into two courses, a Junior course, of three years, and a Senior course of four years.

The Junior Units are found in High Schools and some Military Schools, while the Senior Units are found in colleges and Military Schools. Our Battalion, at Westport High School, is an organization of the Junior Unit.

What the course offers: In general the instructions in military science will be practical, with a few lectures and demonstrations and such theoretical lessons and conferences as the Professor of Military Science and Tactics may deem necessary.

While in addition to the above, great stress is placed upon Physical development. Character building and Citizenship training.

Sponsor Major and Officers

WT. OFF. FRANCES SAUTLER, LT. CAROLINE WOODHOUSE, CAPT. RUTH MCGAVREN, MAJ. PRUDENCE STILLMAN, CAPT. BEVERLY MCCLELLAND, LT. DOROTHY DUNCAN, WT. OFF. HASSA LITOVITCH.

THE coveted office of Sponsor Major, an honor based on character, scholarship, and popularity, went to Miss Prudence Stillman. Five girls were elected by the cadets to be lieutenants; three of these were promoted to be captains; and one of these was chosen by the girls of the senior class to be the sponsor major.

This year each sponsor was assigned a specific duty in the battalion. Major Stillman acted as Chief of Staff. Capt. McGavren was made Mess Officer and planned daily menus for the battalion. Capt. McClelland, as Recreation Officer, gave weekly written reports of the concerts, plays, etc. in the city. Lieutenant Duncan, as Recruiting Officer, helped to stimulate an interest in military training. Lieutenant Woodhouse, as a member of the Intelligence Department was in charge of the Department of Criminal Investigation.

Besides being officers of the staff, the sponsors were assigned to different companies and attended drill with the other officers.

ECONOMICS

The Clothing Department

TO THOSE who do not really know, the Clothing Department may appear to be a group of students who are more interested in acquiring a practical knowledge than one of real educational value; and therefore gather over their sewing day by day for the purpose of making button-holes, darning socks, and even piecing quilts. However, if the truth be known, the Clothing Department is comprised of wide-awake girls of Westport High School who take pleasure in studying Milady's latest fashions and arraying themselves accordingly.

Not only do the girls learn how to make attractive clothing but they also know many essential points important in the selection of ready-made garments of all kinds. Thus, one can plainly see that the Clothing Department does not train the individual to spend her days occupied entirely in the gentle art of sewing, but in preparing each girl to make or select, in an intelligent manner, a suitable, a stylish and an appropriate ensemble.

The department offers three years of work, each year of which is composed of a different type of textile-study and the making of various garments out of that particular kind of textile. Careful fitting of the garments, one of the essential points which the girls study, causes the clothing to have a neat, well-tailored appearance. The first year student works with cotton and linen fabrics, studying the characteristics of each. The second year classes devote their time to wool and silk, while the third year classes have the privilege of fashioning all kinds of frocks for day-time wear, sport suits, evening gowns, coats, and hats. Some of the girls have even devoted their time to the making of the most difficult of all problems—dainty clothing for the baby sister's or brother's wardrobe.

Altogether, Clothing is a very interesting, as well as a practical subject and its educational value is exceptionally high because of its value in mental training, its development of taste in dress, and its general practical utility.—Dorothy Wilks.

The Cooking Department

THE cooking department offers one of the most useful and most interesting courses to be found in school. Under the able instruction of Miss Cruzen the girls have progressed steadily during the year until by the end of the term even the least promising cooks hope to be able to boil water without burning it.

Two days of the week are given over to the actual preparation of foods. Another two days are used in the study of dietetics and methods of preparing and serving foods. The remaining day, new receipts are discussed, and current events which have some bearing on the course are read.

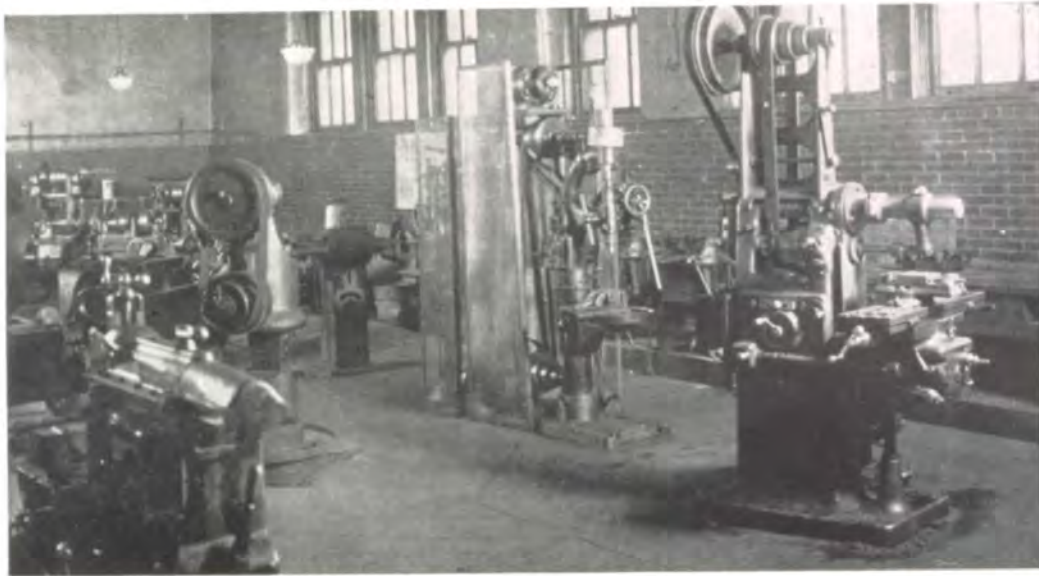

In the study of dietetics, the girls learn the composition of the various foods and how to plan a meal so that, through combining different types of foods the best possible balance is maintained in the diet.

On cooking days the girls don white caps and aprons and proceed to prepare the food according to the recipe which has previously been given them. The girls work in pairs, and (joy of joys or woe of woes) they are expected to eat what they have cooked. But in all fairness, it must be said that failures are very few.

There is no type of food which the girls at the end of the course have not learned to prepare. Soups, salads, vegetables, meats, breads, preserves and relishes, desserts and candies all are appetizingly prepared according to the latest recipes.

Not only are the Foods classes very instructive and valuable, but the girls will all agree that this is one of the most pleasant hours in their whole day. The class radiates an atmosphere of jolly friendliness which converts the work into play, and many will be the regrets when the course is ended.

The Metal Shop

THE Metal Working Department of Westport has tried, during the last year to work up to three main objectives. The first, is a study of the various kinds of metals such as finding the working range and amount of carbon contained in tool steel, milled steel, wrought iron, and cast iron. Another part of studying the metals is to be able to tell how long it must be heated, how to heat it properly for hardening, tempering and welding. The second of these objectives is to study the use of the finished product, because, if a boy should make a pair of calipers, he should know what they are used for and also what kind of material they should be made of. The third aim is mostly put up to the student. He is given a certain job and is required to plan for himself the quickest way of finishing the job.

In our Metal Working Shop are numerous machines. Among these are the shaper, for making a flat surface; the milling machine, for making gears and keyways; the forge for heating purposes; and the lathes, which are used to turn out various materials. Each student in the shop works on each machine at sometime during the year.

A course called Bench Working, seems to be of much interest among the boys. The Bench Work includes such things as the study and use of the hack saw, the study of the different types of files and their uses, and to learn how to use the cold chisel for chipping and heavy cutting.

Many of the boys are making tools and machinery for their home work shops or for our shop here in Westport. Some of these things are cold chisels, screw drivers, center punches, hack saw frames, hammers, vises, lathe beds, testers for Morse tapers, and dead and live centers for the wood working shop.

Our instructor in the Metal Working Shop, Mr. Hale, is to be accredited with the fine work being done in our shops. The shops are becoming better systemized under each term of Mr. Hale's instructorship. The foremanship plan is the one that has been adapted. Some of the boys in the classes are made foremen and they supervise and help to teach the other boys their work.

TO THE CRIER STAFF

OUR dear friends to whom we give the honor of this dedication of Tiger Tales. May we live to see them properly squelched by this superior exhibition of literature. May they learn that whatever the efforts they put forth, they may never hope to equal this achievement.

Senior Class

THE lads and lassies of the Senior class entertained those that would part with the usual compensation or could convince others that they should part with it for them, at their second (shin-dig, brawl, blowout—call it what you may) of the season in January, just a few days before the term tragedy scenes, in the Boys' Gymnasium.

Chief of Police Irion acted as official bouncer to graduates and juniors, but it appears as though the old eagle eye was a little deceiving. (See picture above, fourth gentleman from the left).

Activities were started promptly at 3:15 P. M. Central Standard (the old stand by) with those two versatile annoyances, Carl and Gene offering soft crooning melody and red hot rhythm.

Senior class officer candidates were introduced, sponsor major candidates were introduced, refreshments were served and, as the English say, "A bully time was had by all."

Senior Business Committee mothers acted as chaperones.

Looking at the picture above one might wonder whether the gathering was one of Bolsheviks, lunatics, or a mob scene from the "King of Kings."

The author of this masterpiece wonders quite a few things, namely; whose legs are those on the extreme left? Was Mimi afraid that the picture was being taken for the rogue's gallery? Who was Fowler trying to imitate? What was Mary Agnes thinking about? Was Junior bored? Is Herbie smiling or grinning, and lastly, why wasn't Sutie on the first row?

A Polite Way

When he asked her to wed,
She told him instead:
"Go see father."
And she knew that he knew
That her father was dead,
And she knew that he knew
What a wicked life he had led,
And she knew that he knew
What she meant when she said,
"Go see Father."

WHY SOME OF THESE KIDS COME TO SCHOOL

BILL BARR—To study and make use of his glasses.
MILDRED K. WHITE—To see Jimmy Fowler.
MARION ROACH—To get herself a man.
JIMMY KIRK—To be elected president of the class.
CAROLINE WOODHOUSE—Because Ellis does.
VAL THOMAS—To have the girls call him "cutie."
EARL BOWMAN—Well, we'd like to know.
DORIS JACKSON—Because she hasn't anything else to do.
BEVERLY McCLELLAND—To become the "sheba" of the school.
JIMMY FOWLER—Because his mother sends him.
DON JACKSON—To keep up the family name honorably.
MILDRED ELLISON—To try to be the pet of the teachers.
HERBERT SWANSON—To get acquainted with the office.
BOB SUTERMEISTER—To wear out his book bag.
JOHN THROCKMORTON—To show off his uniform.
DALE HERRIOTT—So the teachers can use him as an example of intelligence.
POWELL AUBREY—To show the city there is still an innocent violet around.

DODGE TOURING FOR SALE!

"Make me an offer," says Don Jackson as he hands us this "pome."

One Dodge touring with piston ring, two rear wheels and one front spring,
Has no fenders, seat or plank; burns lots of gas and is hard to crank.
Carburetor busted half-way through, engine missing, but hits on two.
Nine years old—ten this spring, has shock absorbers and everything.
Radiator busted, it sure does leak, differential dry, you can hear it squeak.
Ten spokes missing, front all bent, tires blown off, ain't worth a cent.
Got lots of speed, will run like the deuce, burns either gas or tobacco juice.
Will harm no one night or day, for you can hear it coming miles away.
One tire off, runs on rim, it's a darn good Dodge for the shape it's in.
