DEDICATED TO

EMMA E. SHELTON

LEONARD SHYMER

Dedication

WE FEEL the futility of trying to put the philosophy of Miss SHELTON's life into mere words, and yet we know that her standards touch the skies and clamor for space. Making the most of life, always the better for trying, loving honesty and sincerity, hating pretense, she derives her greatest satisfaction from the affection and admiration of her classes. The response from these beloved pupils has been her greatest joy and she feels fully recompensed for what she does. Because of all this beauty that is her life we feel honored to dedicate these efforts to a great teacher and a great lady.

Senior Business Committee

THE Senior Business Committee is the foundation upon which all the business of the Senior class is based. The upper classmen are represented by this group, which negotiates between student, faculty, and often, outside business concerns.

This body is composed of members who are representatives of the Senior literature classes. It sponsors elections, plans parties and mixers, arranges the commencement exercises and Senior Day program, selects class jewelry and announcements, and in many ways, brings about a feeling of cooperation and sportsmanship between the student body and faculty.

The election of class officers is an annual event always looked forward to. The preferential scheme for the nomination and selection of candidates is the plan of Westport adopted by the committee and it has always proved a successful one. The candidates for office are selected by petition and the class as a whole chooses its leaders.

The mixers arranged by this group are always colorful affairs. An orchestra is engaged, refreshments are served, a program is presented and everyone is gay. There are usually three of these parties given annually by the Seniors and each seems to be more jovial than the preceding.

A yearly duty with a great deal of responsibility, is the selection of the class jewelry. The committee interviews local concerns and makes the choice of the rings and pins for the graduating class. There is a standard "W" emblem used, but the mounting and shank vary from year to year.

The sort of attire to be worn in the graduating exercises is another question of general interest to the class. The representatives announce the selection after a mass meeting of the Seniors has been held.

The Senior Luncheon is an event which is always anticipated to be one of great pleasure, as it is an affair of color and zest. It is held immediately after the assembly program on Senior Day and, since it is the last day of school for the Seniors, they make the best of the friendship they have established during the year. The business committee is practically held responsible for the success of this luncheon as it plans the program of speakers and entertainment, and selects the menu to be served.

Distributing the Senior caps and participating in the track and field meet on Senior Day are the last duties of this group. It is felt that the committee plays a great part in encouraging fellowship and good sportsmanship among the students, and in creating a closer friendship between pupil and teacher.

Senior Class Song

TUNE—On Wisconsin!

Trio, only, for both verses

Farewell, Westport! Farewell, Westport!
Teachers, students, all!
Ever will your kindness linger
In our mem'ry hall.
Westport, we will e'er revere thee
For thy precepts true;
Show the world a brave
Front for the Gold and Blue.

Onward, Thirty-one! Onward, Thirty-one
Brave four-hundred strong!
May we never falter as we
Meet the pressing throng;
May the standard of the Tigers
Keep us in the right;
Keep the spurring fire
Of honor burning bright.

ASSISTANT CUSTODIANS

P. (Pat) J. CURTIN, H. M. ELBERT, W. F. PAULETIC,
ALFRED PETERS, WATSON IRELAND, H. O. BELL, Fireman,
E. J. JOHNSON

Mr. Peters has been at Westport the longest. He started to work September 10, 1910; Mr. Curtin started in 1917; Mr. Elbert, 1920; Mr. Johnson, 1921; Mr. Bell, 1925; Mr. Pauletic, 1926; and Mr. Ireland, 1927.

DIED MARCH 20, 1931

IN the death of Ernest R. Morse, Westport lost one of the ablest members of the teaching staff. For twenty-five years, successive generations of pupils profited from his lucid presentation and patient, kindly guidance. School officials, faculty associates, alumni and members of the present student body all testified to Mr. Morse's absolute sincerity, his rugged honesty and his sound scholarship. He was a great teacher and a fine, courageous Christian gentleman.

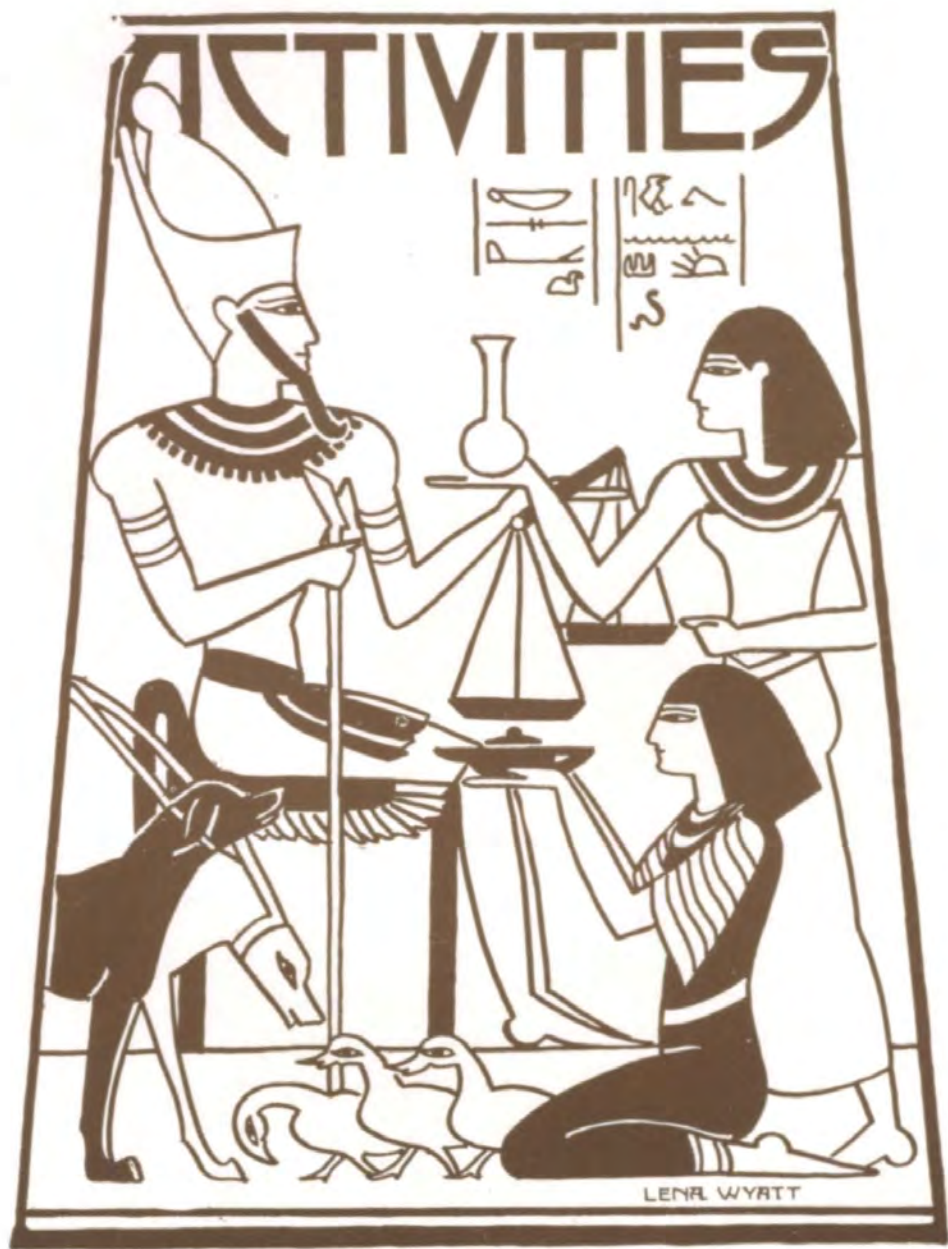

—Courtesy Kansas City Star

DIED MARCH 13, 1931

MR. J. H. Beckmann, former principal, whose death occurred March 13, was a member of the Westport faculty twenty-one years. He came here in 1908 as teacher of German and was appointed vice-principal in 1916. After J. L. Shouse was chosen assistant superintendent of schools in 1929, Mr. Beckmann served as principal until the end of the year when he resigned on account of ill health. He returned to Kansas City in December, 1930, to teach mathematics in Central High School.

(F. C. Shaw, vice-principal, paid the following tribute to his old associate):

"He was one of the most conscientious men I ever have known. As an administrator he had many perplexing problems which he handled with patience, tact and sympathy. He was quietly efficient and never spared time or strength in the service of the school".

Herald Hieroglyphics

ONCE again the Herald Staff struts its stuff. Inspired by the noble efforts of our Illustrious Rivals, the Crier Staff, the Herald Staff presents the following platform.

Seated on the platform are : one snappy (!) editor, Doris Jackson; three intelligent (?) assistants, Joy Garrison, Nelda Southern, and Virginie Wright; two high-powered business managers, Paul Brentson and Powell Awbrey; two aggressive sports editors, Lena Wyatt and Leland Hood; and one aesthetic art editor, Leonard Snyder.

P. S. Commodore "Banny", ex-office boy, was seated on the platform, but much to his embarrassment fell through a crack and, owing to scratches and bruises, is unable to appear.

The planks in our platform are:

1ST PLANK—(a few splinters). We advocate sliding through as easily as possible.

2ND PLANK—(solid mahogany). We advocate leaders as shy and modest as Herbert Spats.

3RD PLANK—(extra hard wood). We advocate the building of a memorial to the boys who have served in Westport more than five years. For instance, Russell Field, George Peck, Bob Garrett, Gene Selders, et cetera.

Leonard is wistfully wondering if he can look as "arty" as he is supposed to be. These temperamental artists!

Doris—ah, that schoolgirl complexion, that pepsodent smile.

P. T. is conscious of his powers and is doing his best to imitate his hero, Napoleon. Or is his hand cold?

Joy is as coy as she is attempting to be. Don't be fooled!

Virginie and Nelda are most collegiate, what with raccoon coats and armloads of books.

Powell looks more than ever the silent Cal. There's magnetism in that look.

Lena and Leland—oh this boresome business of getting ones picture taken.

If you don't like the specimens of Ejjipshun art decorating the Herald, just arrange a meeting some dark night with the art staff. Victims may be found on page 102.

The Tiger Tails were collected and arranged by "Cleo" Fields.

“Westport Crier”

TAKING a new step in the furtherance of its efforts to maintain a newspaper with real news, The Westport Crier, bi-weekly publication of the news-writing class, put a star after its eighteenth year of chronicling by founding The Westport Crier News Bulletin Service during the second semester.

Daily, since the week of March 8, 1931, The Crier has posted typewritten summaries of Westport events in its special case, in the first floor corridor.

The election of a senior king and quintet of retainers, conceived by The Crier, was greeted with the greatest burst of enthusiasm in school contest history. More than 2,500 ballots were cast in the fun fest.

Throughout the year the paper staunchly took its stand for better lighting throughout the school, systematic numbering of the lockers, continued increase in banking percentage, improved acoustics in the auditorium, and a revised Westport handbook.

At the first of the year the Westport World War Memorial, advocated by The Crier since 1920, was completed and dedicated in an impressive ceremony.

Lastly, The Crier pursued vigorously a policy of giving real news precedence over everything else and definitely refused to “play up” mere personalities and long past events for appearance’s sake.

Herbert E. Stats, '31, was editorial director. John N. Booth is faculty supervisor.

The Student Council

TO THE Student Council is entrusted the enforcement of principles, and the power to legislate in all matters that do not fall under the direct jurisdiction of faculty authorities. The purpose is to represent the students, to further their interests, and to regulate conduct. The spirit is to be helpful not dominating, to protect rather than to punish, to promote responsibility, and to stimulate a high sense of Westport honor.

The primary purpose of the Student Council is to obtain closer cooperation between the faculty and the student body. It was organized in February, 1922, when it was considered necessary to have some group to represent the students. Since that time a new Student Council has been elected each semester. Every home room elects one representative and one alternate. These representatives meet bi-weekly on Wednesday to discuss school problems. The Executive Board, consisting of three sophomores, three juniors, and three seniors, is elected from the delegates in their respective classes. Before each council meeting the Executive Board meets to plan the discussion to be brought up the next day. Every matter brought before the council must receive a two-thirds majority in the Executive Board meeting. One faculty member is chosen by each class as its advisor in the council. After each meeting the representatives report back to their home rooms on the matters discussed.

During the first semester this year the Student Council did much for the welfare of the school. It stopped the continuous disturbance in the cafeteria, promoted action for cleaning assembly curtain and collected over twenty-three dollars for that purpose, took charge of Student Assembly, and raised the banking record by stimulating the students interest through an assembly.

The second semester council also carried out worth while projects.

Westport's Memorial

IT IS with the most feeling of reverence for the sons of Westport who have sacrificed themselves for the sake of their country, that such an appropriate memorial to their memory has been erected on the lawn in front of the school, by the classes of nineteen hundred twenty-five to nineteen hundred thirty, inclusive.

Westport students always hold this memorial as a memory to their Westport predecessors who fought for their country, for the common cause of Freedom and Democracy and have made it possible for us to enjoy such happiness as never before known.

Westport can hold up her head with pride to know that she was so worthily represented on the battlefield by such noble sons.

Standing in the space bordered by the semi-circular walk which leads to the building from Thirty-ninth street and Hyde Park, shrubbery and vine covered stone walls forming an effective background, is the large gray granite block bearing the following inscription on a bronze tablet imbedded in its outer face:

IN MEMORY OF THESE NOBLE SONS OF WESTPORT WHO MADE THE SUPREME SACRIFICE IN THE WORLD WAR.

THESE, the assembly ushers, developed from an original idea of Mr. Banister who first installed them last year. This year, under the guidance of Mr. Shaw, they have quite fulfilled the expectations of Mr. Banister. Since the enrollment of Westport exceeds the seating capacity of our auditorium, it is the duty of the usher to seat as many as possible and to keep order among those not seated. The R. O. T. C. department has greatly assisted in this procedure by often times forfeiting their seats. Mr. Holloway highly commends Mr. Shaw on this splendid work. The ushers were selected from Mr. Banister's drafting classes. They have officiated at class plays and other programs that were held in the auditorium during the year.

The award for two consecutive semesters is a bronze pin, for four consecutive semesters a silver pin, and for six consecutive semesters a gold pin.

A student, at graduation, receives a gold pin with one pearl and one star on commencement program for twelve solid E's and six solid S's.

For eighteen solid E's or fifteen solid E's with six non-solid E's, one is awarded a gold pin with two pearls and also two stars on commencement program.

A gold pin with three pearls and three stars on commencement program is given to the student making twenty-two solid E's or eighteen solid E's and eight non-solid E's.

THE Boys' Glee Club has made a very good showing in contests and public appearances this year. The boys have sung in several concerts given jointly with the Girls' Glee Club, and have given numerous programs of their own. They bore their share of the burden of the city-wide solo contest, and half the credit for their winning goes to the soloists of the Boys' Glee Club.

Probably the biggest thing attempted during the year was the Christmas Assembly program given on December 24. The lighting effects and the well chosen selections will cause it to be remembered as one of the most outstanding events of the school year.

The Music Festival given later in the spring, was also very important. A chorus made up of the combined Girls' and Boys' Glee Clubs from all the high schools in Kansas City, sang under the direction of Mr. George R. Howerton, head of the vocal music department in Westport. Mr. Howerton is one of the most competent directors in the city, and is the hinge on which all glee club work is swung. Suffice to say, a very high standard has been set for the glee clubs of the future to live up to.

The Boys' Glee Club calendar includes the following events and dates:

Oct. 10. Joint Weiner Roast with Girls' Glee Club.	Mar. 14. Solo Contest.
Oct. 13. Virgil Assembly Program.	Mar. 7. Helping Hand Institute Program.

“WHO Killed Cock Robin?” - The dramatic solution of this celebrated murder mystery thrilled and fascinated two large audiences Friday and Saturday evenings, December 12 and 13, in the auditorium, as a climax for the first semester of school by the presentation of Rice and Barry's popular comedy "Cock Robin". The play was highly successful, both as a dramatic event and a financial enterprise.

The players all acknowledged their indebtedness to Miss Alicia Keeler, the director who trained the cast skillfully and patiently in many rehearsals.

THIS charming modern comedy, filled with amusing and true to the life incidents, was presented Friday and Saturday nights, May 22 and 23, in the school auditorium.

The story revolves around Bud Weaver, a susceptible prep school boy, who has trouble balancing his heart and stomach interests, his sister Ann, who has everything, that youth and beauty could desire. Jim Thayer, who is the valuable, go-getting, bond salesman, and is almost Joseph Weaver's downfall, as Mr. Weaver is unfortunate enough to fall for every chance to get rich quick. Kerry Van Kuid, is a young man given to the arts, especially the stage. Mrs. Weaver is a somewhat light-hearted individual who is engrossed by the "power of numbers". Bradley Clement, is a sane young professor who attempts to straighten out Bud's troubles, and ends by having the whole Weaver family's problems on his shoulders. Marella Scotte, is an oggle eyed little flirt, with whom Bud imagines himself in love.

Mr. Humphrey who has scored so many triumphs with dramatic productions at Westport, was the director of this delightful play.

Debate Teams

SECOND HOUR

UNDER the able supervision and direction of A. S. Humphrey, Westport's two debate teams chosen from the second and fourth hour public speaking classes, made a very good showing in debates with Wyandotte High School in Kansas City, Kansas this year. The second hour team met the team from Wyandotte in our auditorium during assembly, and discussed the question, "Resolved That the Jury System Be Abolished". Of course since it was senate debate, there was no decision handed down, but it was generally conceded that our boys brought forth more convincing arguments, had better stage presence, and accepted unfavorable rulings of the chairman with more grace than did Wyandotte.

FOURTH HOUR

A WEEK after the contest held at Westport, the fourth hour team went to Wyandotte and debated the same subject, the jury system, with another Wyandotte team. This time, however, Westport defended the jury, and Wyandotte took the offensive, whereas before, the positions had been reversed. Despite the time honored custom of not judging senate debates, a prominent lawyer of this city was asked to listen to the debate, and give his opinion of the arguments advanced by each side. And when, at the close of the debate, he announced his decision, the verdict was in favor of Westport.

The Public Speaking Department

THE year's course in Public Speaking which Westport offers is one of greatest interest and value to the student, for whatever walk of life he chooses to prepare himself. The value of clearness and organization of thought, and courage, conviction, and spontaneity in the expression of it can hardly be over-estimated, and it is upon these qualities that the course lays stress. Declamation and knowledge of parliamentary and occasional procedure are placed second in value to originality, naturalness, and power in speech.

At the beginning of the course a short time is spent in the study of Parliamentary Law, since this, because of its formal efficiency, is used in so many organizations and projects. As illustrations, nominating conventions and elections of local and national officers are held. These, besides affording opportunity for practice in Parliamentary Law, also allow expressions of opinion on the important and interesting questions of the day.

The next step is a series of Senate Debates. Questions of national and world importance are chosen by the students, the entire class, divided into affirmative and negative according to opinion upon the subject, taking part in the debate. Each debater studies the question, and speaks first upon any phase of it which he chooses. Debate is then opened, the Open Forum style being emphasized. Needless to say, this offers great advantages of free and rapid thinking and expression which the formal "cut-and-dried" style lacks.

A study is next made of the eulogy, expressing appreciation and praise, and the invective, expressing disgust and condemnation. Several subjects, generally men, often institutions and ideas, are chosen by each student. Formation and convincing expression of opinions and emotions are thus encouraged and trained.

Following this is the Occasional Address, the most dignified and formal instance of public speaking. This embraces dedication or commemoration of some great work or achievement, a monument, a church, an edifice built for public use and benefit. Solemnity, majesty, praise, and appreciation, may find expression in this. Then comes a study and rendering of the formal toast, used upon so many occasions, and, finally at the suggestion of the students, a mock trial, a lighter climax to a year of more serious work.

Opportunities of practice in public speaking, and of putting practice into use are provided by the Star Oratorical Contest, the two annual plays, the Senate debates with other High Schools of the city, and occasions when national holidays are honored in assembly.

And thus the entire course tends toward the development of the qualities of clearness, force, and earnestness in speech and thought. Useless, superficial declamation and wordiness are discouraged. The purpose, of course is the development of the ability to respond creditably to the many occasions and situations which so often and perhaps so unexpectedly present themselves, and in that connection, it is easy to see the value of the study of Public Speaking.

It has been said by the graduates of Westport that they are divided into two groups—those who have studied with Mr. Humphrey's instruction, and those who wish they had.

THE Irving Club this year, as in the past, is one of Westport's outstanding literary societies. As usual, it has on its roll some of the most prominent boys in the school.

Powell Awbrey, who was president of the Junior Class in '30, also held the same office in the Senior Class this year.

Lyman Field, our fiery red headed orator with his pleasing personality and unusual flow of eloquent words, represented Westport in The Star's Oratorical contest this year.

Robert Bingham, up and coming, achieved the great distinction of being president of the Student Council for this semester.

In addition to this, our club has some of the highest scholars in Westport.

It is the purpose of our Irving Club to develop literary ability, as this is one of the essentials in gaining entrance to the club.

The Irving Club, as usual, had its annual party with the Clay Club. A good time was had by all as the party was highly successful.

THIRTY years ago, Round Table, one of the oldest clubs in Westport, was organized. Many years ago, 1900, to be exact, it was decided that Westport needed a literary society. As the School was too large for only one society, two clubs were formed, the Round Table and the Clonian. Miss Annie Crombie Wilder, deceased, was chosen advisor for the Round Table.

Today Round Table still remains one of the strongest and most reputable institutions of the school.

Besides being editor of the Herald, Doris Jackson, our president the first semester, won the honor of being the Student Council President.

Helen Lee Fulkerson's personality and friendliness won for her the honor of Sponsor Major. Helen's running contestant Marguerite Bissantz, was the Seniors choice for Secretary and Sponsor Captain. "Stew" Evans was elected Vice-President of the Senior Class.

Not to mention our envied athlete, Ted Wicklund. And Charles Ball our Student Council Secretary.

Our Christmas party with the Clonians was the most successful in the club's history and the peppiest of the year. We were very fortunate in having Mr. Price for our Advisor this year, and we sincerely appreciate his interest in our work.

ALTHOUGH formed primarily for the purpose of literary advancement, the Clay Club has again brought to a close a year of prominence in social and scholastic activities.

All three regular cheerleaders are Clays, six were elected to the student council, three are delegates to the senior business committee, five of the eight members of first debate team are Clays, nine are on the honor roll, three were finalists in the Star's oratorical contest and two were members of the cast of the senior play.

In addition, Yervant Yeghishian was elected Treasurer of the senior class, Marvin Lefkovitz was awarded first place in the annual essay contest held by the Sons of the Revolution, and on Richard Feutz was bestowed the high-sounding title of His Eminence, the Grand Keeper of the Royal Seal.

A dance which was highly successful was held jointly with the Irvings at Christmas. This was followed by another function in the Spring.

This year Clay was privileged to welcome back as its advisor Mr. Goodale, who has become an integral part of the club through many past associations. We wish to express our appreciation for his understanding guidance and counsel throughout the year.

THE Clonian Literary Society has the honor of being the first charter club to be organized in Westport. Its membership consists of sterling, prominent young men and women who are well known for their work in the scholastic, literary, and social field.

Each year two dances are given with the Round Table Club. This year, the dances were a great success. In previous years, Clonian and Round Table have annually engaged in a contest, with the Clonians usually being the victors.

The name is taken from Clio the goddess of music and history. The charter requires a membership of at least twenty-five and no more than forty-five. At one time all the charter clubs in the school but two were disbanded. Clonian was one of those two. It has always upheld the spirit of Westport.

We were very fortunate in again having Mr. Cutting as our advisor this year, and we wish to express our appreciation for his work. This has been one of the most successful years of Clonian as it has had excellent programs and well attended meetings. We wish it as much success in the future years.

SEVERAL years after the origin of the Pundit Club, the records of its past disappeared, but in late years its early history has been unearthed. It was organized in 1908 with Miss Ruth Mary Weeks as its first advisor. Mr. A. S. Humphrey gave the club the name, Pundit, which means, "a wise man", and it has well been proven that we differ from this given definition only in the respect that we are, "wise girls".

This year, as usual, Pundit has been well represented in student activities. Two of the R. O. T. C. sponsors are Pundits. The president and the secretary of the Junior class are also Pundits. A Pundit was elected secretary of the Student Council, the first term.

Pundit Type, our newspaper, is "published" every meeting. The paper consists of editorials, essays, book reviews, stories, society, lost and found, crime, news and our newest column, Around the Metropolis which is written with apologies to Landon Laird, writer of About Town in the Kansas City Star.

A most popular event in Westport is the Pundit spring dance. The feature of the evening is the crowning of the Pundit Queen, the girl, who in the club's opinion, has benefited it most.

Several years ago, a tea at the Muehlebach with the Aristonions of Central was an annual event and the Pundits this year attempted to renew this custom only to be met with a new faculty ruling that no social functions may be held outside of school. It is with regret that we, the Pundits of 1931, necessarily give up this delightful entertainment and we hereby dedicate this Herald page to Central's inimitable Aristonians.

THE Promethean Literary Society, founded as a memorial to Miss DeWitt, promotes the appreciation of good literature, the formation of worthy ideals and the expression of ideas.

The second semester programs were devoted to the study of the lives and works of famous women in all arts.

With Miss Wheeland as sponsor, Prometheans have been active in all branches of scholastic work. We have had Wilma Bullard, Phoebe Peck, Rosanna King, Madge Myers, and Shirlie Stains on the honor roll. Temperance Atwater, Ruth Folse and Retha Ehlerding have served as officers in other clubs. In our own society, Madge Myers, Katherine Panagos, Frances Sands, and Wilma Bullard have been particularly active as committee chairmen.

Like Prometheus, the fire-god after whom the club was named, Promethean "carries-on" with the satisfaction of work well done.

THE Speech Arts Club was organized to promote interest in the Speech Arts department. It offers opportunity to talented students for further improvement in speech and development of individuality. Applicants must have the required scholastic requirements and pass a try-out before they obtain membership.

Programs often consist of classwork, such as speeches, orations, sums from classic and modern plays. At other times programs are made up of one-act plays or original pieces prepared by members out of class.

The club prepares several open houses during the year and most of the time arrange for programs to be presented before outside guests.

Plays presented this year have been: "Suppressed Desires", "The Brink of Silence", "This is So Sudden", "Man Wants", "Lima Beans", "Maidens All Forlorn".

This year has been especially full of interesting meetings. Annually each member contributes one piece of her own work which is assembled into the portfolio that is left behind as the best efforts of the year.

THE B. C. P. Club of Westport High School was originally organized in 1916 as a biology club for the purpose of promoting interest in zoology and botany. The club proved such a success in these two fields that in 1919 it was enlarged to include other branches of science taught in Westport.

Scientific interest is stimulated by programs arranged by the Botany, Zoology, Chemistry, Physiography, or Physics groups. The Vice-President presides at these programs with the aid of the chairman of the particular group presenting the program.

In striving to live up to its motto, the best Club possible, B. C. P. has endeavored to present worthwhile programs and to maintain a high scholastic record. We feel confident that we have accomplished both of these goals.

THE purpose of the club, to create, maintain, and extend high principles of Christian character throughout the school and community, has seen further fulfillment during the past year. Many brilliant speakers have uncovered their views on educational and moral points to the membership, although pleasure has not been totally neglected in the program of the club.

The activities have included several special dinners, a brotherhood meeting with other high schools, and a steak fry.

The club is indebted to Mr. Buckner for his generosity in offering his spare time to the supervision of club activities. Few men could have accomplished more than he with the limited time he was able to offer, and we sincerely thank him.

To be a wearer of the Girl Reserve ring signifies that a girl has lived up to the ideals of the club to the best of her ability.

Membership is open to all girls who wish to abide by the standards set by the club.

SPECIAL NOTICE

THE Mexican consul with his wife and daughter are properly included in the picture. They were present on the day of the picture and were recognized by the club as honorary members. They are C. M. Goxiola, the consul, Mrs. C. M. Goxiola, his wife and Celia Goxiola, their daughter.

Circulo Calderon was organized by a group of enthusiastic students of the Spanish Department on March the fifteenth, nineteen hundred and ten. The purpose of the club is to obtain a more thorough knowledge of the customs and literature of Spanish speaking races. Also to acquire fluency in the use of the language. The membership is composed of the best students in the Spanish classes who have also a good standing in other subjects.

The Spanish Club has many interesting meetings. The history and government of Spanish countries are emphasized. Biographies, plays, debates are given. Sometimes the Spanish Club competes with the clubs of the other schools. Besides educational meetings there are other meetings more entertaining to the members. Spanish games are played, a party is planned and there is always the Spanish Club picnic at the end of the school year.

This year the Spanish Club was handicapped by lack of good material due to the decrease in the Spanish Department. But the small group composing the club were enthusiastic and ever planning to better promote the interests of the club. Probably the most interesting meeting of the year was the visit of the Mexican consul. He showed many interesting pictures of Mexican architecture and other articles to the club. His daughter sang two Spanish songs which were well liked by all present. The meeting proved interesting to all.

LES IMMORTELS was founded in 1927, to further the student's desire to speak French outside the class-room. The business meetings are carried on entirely in French although some English is spoken during the course of the programs. Each year the club leaves a gift for the French department. The class of '30 and '31 left a colored etching "La Rue De Sainte Genevieve"—Lorraine. The club has a scrap book to which the members contribute each year. The cover page was designed by Janet Turner.

THE Virgil class feels that it has had a very distinct advantage in studying the "Aeneid" this year, for many authorities believe that Virgil himself was born at the town of Mantua exactly twenty centuries ago.

Partly in commemoration of this anniversary, and partly to gain a better knowledge of the life of the poet, the members of the Virgil class have chosen Virgilian topics and have written comprehensive essays on them. Later many of these were read in class for our mutual benefit.

"Virgil, the poet of peace!" For two thousand years students have enjoyed the quiet beauty of the "Pastorals" and the "Aeneid". Can any one believe that Latin and Virgil have seen their day?

Our travels with the pious Aeneas are now over. We look back with pleasure on Caesar's Gallic wars and Cicero's orations, and take this opportunity to express to Miss Lash and our former Latin teachers our appreciation for their kindly help.

The Clay Club

THE purpose of the Clay Club is "the mental improvement of all connected with it, in the fields of literature, debate, oratory, and forensic activity". It is the only Westport charter club which gives its attention wholly to development in speech, and as a direct consequence its members take the lead in school activities. Forensic training is leadership training. The Clay Club devotes itself to this object, with excellent results.

"It's not to be denied that the Clay Club is a regular humdinger, Johnny-on-the-spot, when it comes to doing anything. This explains why the Clay Club has been on top all year. The Junior representative from Westport who spoke for the Liberty Memorial was a Clay. The football squad was strengthened by several Clay members. Three members of the Christmas Play cast, and as many from the debate team were Clays. Two of the three cheer leaders, and several on the basket ball teams, are proud to claim membership in the Clay Club. And every Monday night, when the Boy's High School Club meets, nearly two-thirds of the Clay members are present. Is it any wonder that it is a mark of distinction to wear the Clay pin?"—Westport Crier, Feb. 10, 1920.

The Clay Club of 1931 has maintained the high standard of eleven years ago. We claim as members three Clays in the school oratorical finals, four football lettermen, two Clays in the senior play, five school debaters, and all three cheer leaders. And it was a Clay who won the gold medal in a city-wide literary contest. Two Clays are Hi-Y officers and many are members. Is it any wonder that it is still a mark of distinction to wear the Clay pin?

The reaction of the majority of sophomores on their entrance into senior high school is one of subjection and perhaps even awe. Yet everyone has various talents and the outcroppings of these talents are bound to make their appearance—even in a sophomore. It is literary value that counts in Clay and through participation in programs the sophomore gets as much fine training as upper classmen. Thus in the Clay Club a sophomore may acquire ability that will mean much to him in his later years of high school.

Nearing the end of our second year, we juniors in Clay feel that we have received the best part of the training and self-improvement available. We have become "regulars" and are prepared to take full part in club activities. Senior year is the time of reaping the greatest benefits of one's work; but we juniors feel that this year we have gotten our greatest benefit from Clay.

After three years in Westport, a senior in Clay has much to remember with pleasure—the talent which impressed him, a new member, the speeches, fiery discussion, and extensive projects, from the meetings; the leadership by Clays in the school activities; and the development he himself has received through the experience in speech he gained in Clay. The seniors of '31 remember Clay's outstanding record with pleasure; we charge the younger members to maintain that standard.

It has been our purpose in writing this page to give the whole school an understanding of what the Clay Club is and does, and to tell desirable prospective members who are new in Westport what a bid to Clay promises. Clay seeks only the talented Westporters, that they may there best develop their abilities and train themselves to give their best for both themselves and Westport.

Herald Queen

FROM an exquisite array of loveliness we selected one whom we chose to call our queen. Let us pause for a moment that we may bow humbly at the feet of our liege lady, Miss Marguerite Bissantz and her attendants who reign supreme in the pages of the 1931 Herald.

Ah, queen, we only have one boon to ask. Give us but a glance at the beauty of thy face, and we will go on our way contented. And in the years to come may we return to view again thy radiant beauty and lovely charm.

Aides to the Queen

Irving Club

AMONG the outstanding clubs in Westport High School is the Irving Literary Club for the boys. Irving is one of the oldest clubs in Westport, and through the years has built up a reputation which is hard to equal.

In the ranks of the Irving Club are many members prominent in school life. Although the club was founded on a literary basis, one of the qualifications to gain entrance to the club is leadership.

Good grades are further qualifications of the Irving Club. Not only must one have good grades to get in the club, but one must also keep his grades up in order to stay in the club. This tends toward keeping the members always working for some goal.

Irving is also noted for the quality of its members. For the past number of years, all the Rhodes Scholars sent to England have at one time or another been members of the Irving Club. We are especially proud of this fact because it makes us feel that our club really is doing something worth while in the life at Westport.

It is the purpose of the Irving Club to develop literary ability in its members. All the members are given a chance to work along some line of literature, whether it be short story, essay, or some kind of speaking. Also to stay in the club the members must take part in the program which precedes the business meeting. In this manner some literary instinct in the members is developed.

But do not think that all we do in the club is to study literature. Twice a year the Irvings have a joint dance with the Clays, once in the fall and again in the spring. These events are looked on as being among the two best in the school year.

Also to add spice to the life of the Irving Club, once a year we have a contest with the Clays, in which we match literary ability. The most important feature of this contest is the debate. Both clubs have some very good entries in the contest.

The Irving Club creates a spirit of fellowship in its members. Strong friendships are established within the bonds of the club. Our club adds much to the life of its members. It aids in maintaining and creating school spirit.

Irving has done some noble work in the past in the life of Westport. It is the erstwhile desire of all the members that it continue this work among the future students of Westport.

The Irving Club owes much to its fine advisor, Mr. Heinberg. We wish to thank him at this time for his splendid cooperation and hearty support of the club and its work. He has given us his time and advice, which keeps us going along the right line in our work.

Irvings have much to work for in upholding the name of the club. Being a literary club, it was named after Washington Irving, the great American writer. We are justly proud to have him as our namesake. This also gives us something to live up to and work for.

School is drawing to a close now. The Irving Club will be breaking up until next year. The senior members will be going on to college or out into the business world. The underclassmen will stay to carry on the work of the club next year. May the club continue to grow under their guidance, and may the name of "Irving" be on every lip in Westport.

Athletic Coaches

MISS CRUZEN

MISS BRADLEY

MISS BRADLEY received her Ph. B. degree in physical education from the University of Chicago, and her master's degree from Columbia. Not only is she an excellent coach in girl's basket ball, baseball, and hockey, but also is one of the best instructors in tennis, tumbling, and clog dancing.

Miss Cruzen is a graduate of Kansas State College with a B. S. degree in home economics. Her able instructions are confined to the Sophomore classes.

WHILE attending William Jewel, coach Newman won five letters. Mr. Newman likes to win but he will never attempt to make an ineligible boy eligible or resort to any unfair method to win.

Mr. Smith was a two-letter man at William Jewel. His calm judgment and coaching are very effective.

Mr. Evans concentrated on scholastic work in college, making a four year course in three years.

Mr. Shearer has two degrees on A. B. from Missouri University and a M. A. from Wisconsin.

The Football Team

THEODORE "TED" WIKLUND - - - - - End

Wiklund's play at end was on a par with Florea's. He did all that could be expected of him and more, especially on defense, when he broke up many of the plays that came his way.

HERBERT "SWEDE" LARSON Halfback and End

"Swede" was the team's most accurate passer. His fine spirit and dependable play was a great asset to the strength of the team.

EARL GARRET - - - - - Tackle

"Red" Garret was one of the strong points of the line both on offense and defense. The chief characteristic of his work was his hard tackling.

ORRIN JAMES - - - - -

Orrin was one of the speediest and shiftiest backs in the city. He was probably the best ball carrier on the team.

DONALD BALL - - - - - Guard

An adept at stopping plays that came his way.

WAYNE ULERY - - - - - Guard

Another who was lost in midseason because of an injury but he gave a good account of himself before he was hurt.

JOHN CRANE - - - - - Guard

Playing his first year of football, John held his own against more experienced gridsters mainly because of his gameness and low charging.

GEORGE TRINASTICH (Capt.) - - - - - Fullback

Although handicapped the greater part of the year by a bad ankle, George was too valuable to be left on the sidelines. His courage, leadership and knack of calling the right plays made him outstanding. His injury probably caused him to be named on the second All-Star team.

DREW THOMAS - - - - - Center

Drew climaxed his three years of football for Westport by winning a place on the Inter-scholastic All-Star team. He was a power on defense and his passing was much better this year.

MARSHALL WALKER - - - - - End

Walker's great height was a good advantage in catching passes and also aided him in breaking up any plays that came his way.

ROY FLOREA - - - - - End

Roy's brilliant work at end also caused him to be given a berth on the All-Star team. His special talent lay in receiving passes. His soaring punts pulled the team out of many a tight place.

DONALD MACON - - - - - Tackle

Macon had the size and scrappiness a tackle needs which he used to good advantage, much to the sorrow of opposing teams. In case of need he also held down the center position.

CLIFFORD RIDER - - - - - Tackle

Kept out most of the season by a broken foot, Rider showed that he still had his old fighting spirit, whenever he was able to play.

VICTOR GIBSON - - - - - Quarterback

"Vic" Gibson is a heady player and a good passer, but unfortunately he received a badly sprained ankle and was unable to play most of the games.

CIRO RAMIREZ - - - - - Halfback

Ciro was an unusual player in that he always kept a cool head. He could always be depended upon to get his man.

DANIEL SHEELY - - - - - Halfback

"Dan" was a hard hitting back who would do his part regardless of what it cost, either to himself or to opponents.

WILLIAM COCHRAN - - - - - Halfback

Bill's passes were always unexpected because he was a "southpaw".

KLINE MARTINEK - - - - - Guard

A Junior who knew what his job was and did it, which is a great comfort to any coach.

LINWOOD VAN HORN - - - - - Guard

Van Horn's use of his hands made him a dangerous man to send a play against. His fighting spirit made him unwilling to be taken out of the game even when he was injured.

LELAND HOOD - - - - - Guard and Halfback

Leland started the season as halfback but was changed to guard where he was able to perform much better than he had been.

WILLIAM TRAUB - - - - - Halfback

Bill's size and speed make him one of the most useful men on the team.

SECOND TEAM

Front Row: JACKSON, LAW, STOTT, MERCIER, CAMPBELL, SPILLANE, METCALF, BUTTERWORTH, INGLIS, ELLS.

This year the second team had exactly the same percentage as the first. It fulfilled fully its purpose of providing opposition to the first team and future players for its ranks.

The players who were most prominent on the second team were as follows: Harry Brown, halfback, Ernest Ralston, halfback, Bradley Campbell, quarterback, D. A. Metcalf, center, Vincent Mercier, Guard, Wade Jackson, guard and center, and Tony Kammerer, end.

ROY FLOREA - - - - - Forward

Roy was the most consistent scorer we had, finishing well up among the leading scorers of the Inter-Scholastic League. His floor work was excellent also. He won a position on the Star and Journal-Post, All-Star teams and also on the St. Joseph State All-Star team.

HERBERT "SWEDE" LARSON - - - Center

It was unfortunate that so few from Westport could see the state tournament for that was the place in which "Swede" hit his real stride. Time after time he would get the tip-off at center giving our team a tremendous advantage.

THEODORE WIKLUND - - - Guard

Wiklund continued his old habit of last year of breaking unexpectedly for the basket to score which was a big factor in the total of Westport points. Although handicapped by a weak knee he did his part so well that he was placed on the Journal-Post and Star second All-Star teams and won honorable mention in the St. Joseph Gazette.

EARL "RED" GARRETT - - - Guard

Garrett showed probably the greatest improvement of all during the past season. His greatest merit lay in his ability to keep the other team from scoring, although he was quite a dependable scorer himself. His play in the state tournament was recognized by honorable mention in the St. Joseph Gazette.

VICTOR GIBSON - - - - - Forward

"Vic" was another of those small, fast men like Howard Combs. He was an excellent "floor man" and a fair scorer. His greatest weakness lay in defense. Doubtless he will correct this next year, to become a first-rate player.

MARSHALL WALKER - - - - - Center

Walker's great height makes up for his lack of speed. His floor game at present is ahead of his scoring game. If he improves as much next year as he did this he should be a potent factor in the team's play.

WILBUR "COWBOY" BALDRIDGE - - Guard

Like Larson "Cowboy" played his best games in the state tournament. He sank the goal in the William Chrisman game that won the contest. His defensive play was a bright spot in any game. He also received honorable mention on the St. Joseph's Gazette All-State team.

HAROLD CORNELISON - - - - - Guard

Cornelson's quiet temperament made his shots accurate and a constant reminder that he should be watched. He was better as an offensive than as a defensive man.

THE SEASON'S PLAY

THIS year Westport had the most successful team since John Waldoof, Scott, Kennedy, and their cohorts graduated. The championship narrowly escaped our grasp because of an unaccountable inability to hit the basket in two games. Northeast, the champion, was defeated by a smooth working combination of speed and accuracy which showed the real caliber of our team. Westport rounded out its season by defeating Manual to win second place. Coach Newman also used a different system of play this year which made the teams' defense practically air-tight and its offense deadly.

For the first time in five years, Westport won the right to compete in the state tournament at Columbia, Missouri, by getting to the finals of the district tournament over three teams which had defeated it in the regular season.

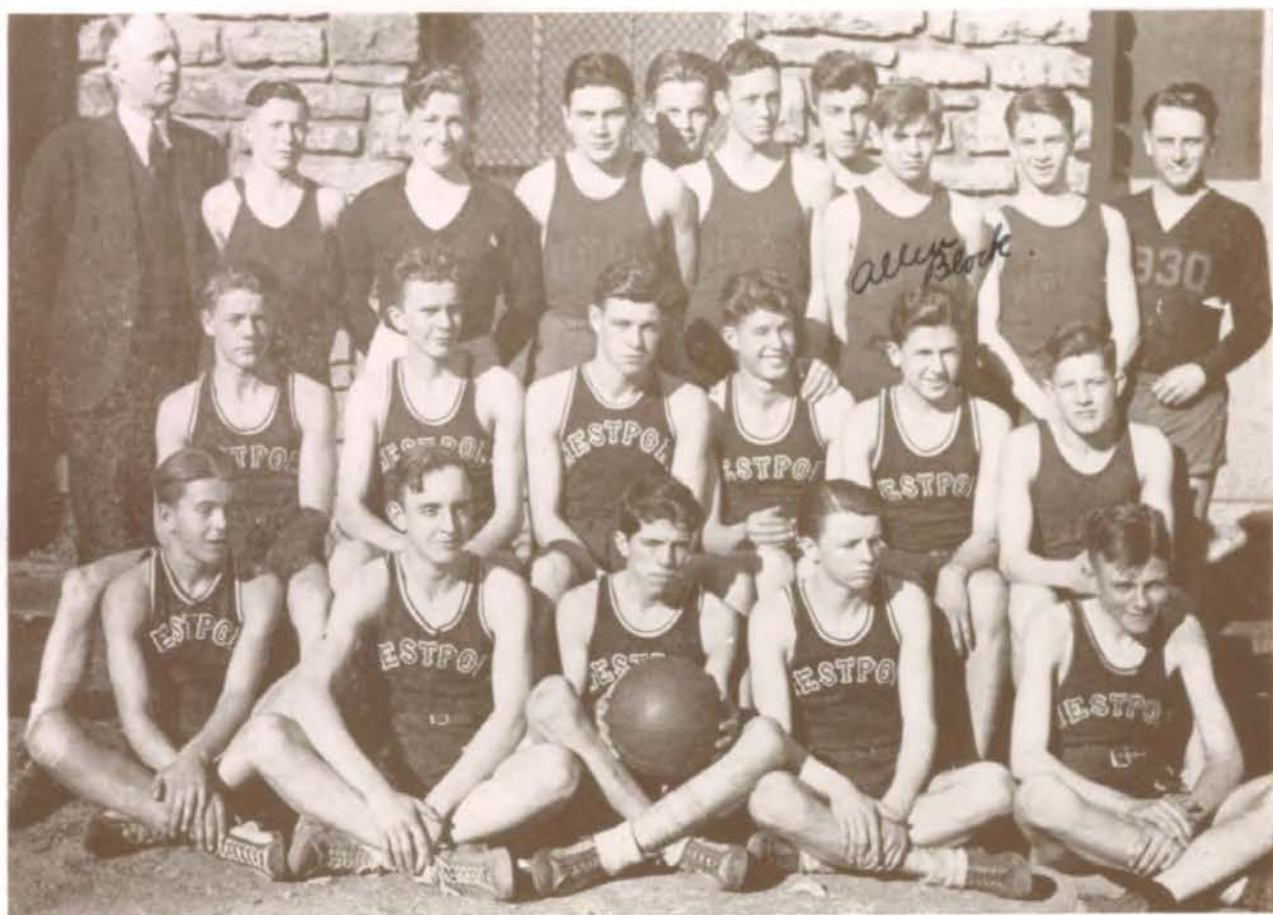

At Columbia, our group won fourth place. The terrific struggle with William Chrisman so tired our players that they had no pep for the next game and were defeated.

Four regulars will graduate, but Gibson, Sullivan, Schofield and Walker will return next year.

Second Team

THE number of letter men on the second team was rather large this year, there being twelve of them. The names of these twelve are: Campbell, forward and guard; Heider, forward; Block, forward; Flanders, guard; Macon, center and guard; Mercer, guard; Burton, guard; Kammerer, center; Kinnear, forward; Reed, guard; and Mulligan, guard.

The most likely prospects for next year's first team are Campbell, whose "floor" work and elusiveness make him hard to guard; Macon, whose height is a big advantage and Reed an alert guard.

Coach, MR. EVANS; Manager, MR. SMITH

Cheer Leaders

YEA! Boy! Were the cheer leaders hot-stuff this year? I'll say they were! Acrobatic? Peppy? Altogether the best cheer leaders in Kansas City.

Every football game found them right on hand. Running out with the team, yelling ever step, megaphones in the air, everybody up, the cheer leaders made the benches rock. A great accomplishment was the pep at every game. Who couldn't help yelling, with a football team such as Westport's?

The old standby "Yeggie" and the newer leaders, Dwight Smith and Nelson McNich, were always on hand. All decked out in blue and gold, Westport's colors, jumping around, razzing the wise-crackers, the cheer leaders really helped put over the games.

The cheer leaders thank everyone for the support given them at all athletic events and the Oratorical Contests.

In basket ball the officials at Convention Hall were afraid that we would raise the roof. How did you like the acrobatic tricks? I should say acrobatic trick, or maybe I shouldn't say anything. Anyway the games gave a lot of Westport's loudmouths a chance to let off their wind.

Did we support our orator, Lyman Field, I'll say we did. Not in the city try-outs, but in the district finals we really yelled. As this is being written, he's only gotten as far as the Champion of the City, but we predict he goes a lot farther. If when you're reading this you've already been eliminated, don't feel bad, Lyman, because we're all for you.

In assembly, who put all the pep in the student body? Answer: cheer leaders! Right again! Did the dumb yell or silent yell go over? And how! Westport's audiences like yells in which they jump around so this really went over big.

All the cheer leaders belonged to the Departmental Club that goes under the name of that immortal American statesman, Henry Clay. That proves them all a fine group to lead our yells. Dwight Smith was President of Clay, "Yeggie" was Vice-President. Nelson McNich was the tennis Champion of Kansas City High Schools and promises to be a second Bill Tilden.

Last years' cheer leaders bothered the women too much, and were late at games, but did we? Oh dear me no! We were regular women-haters! With all Westport's girls looking at us instead of the game no wonder the scores were never known. But did we pay any attention to them? Not at all!

Our alternate, Wade Carter, was a swell cheer leader, and, though only called upon at one game, could always be depended upon to take one of our places if possible.

The cheer leaders want to thank Westport for the support it gave its teams and individuals. Undoubtedly the cheer leaders of this year, '31, were the best of any year before. Always on time, regular women-haters, self-confident, high class acrobats, graceful seniors, and above all, modest to all glory therein enshrined upon their noble brows.

WESTPORT repeats in Interscholastic tennis. McIninch wins singles crown in great five set battle with Lewers of Southwest, 4-6, 6-8, 6-4, 6-3, 7-5. Maloney goes to semi-finals before losing to Lewers.

Kiley and Ralston, and Garrett and Manley win way to finals in doubles with ease, the former team taking the match.

Mr. Fristoe, coach, has been handling the tennis team for a number of years, and has turned out more champion teams than any other coach in town.

Kiley, Ralston, and Manley will furnish a nucleus for next years team

Track

THE 1931 track started with our team sticking close to the heels of the leaders. Nance and our relay team accounted for most of the points in the K. C. A. C. and M. U.-K. U. meets. Westport finished third in both meets with eight points.

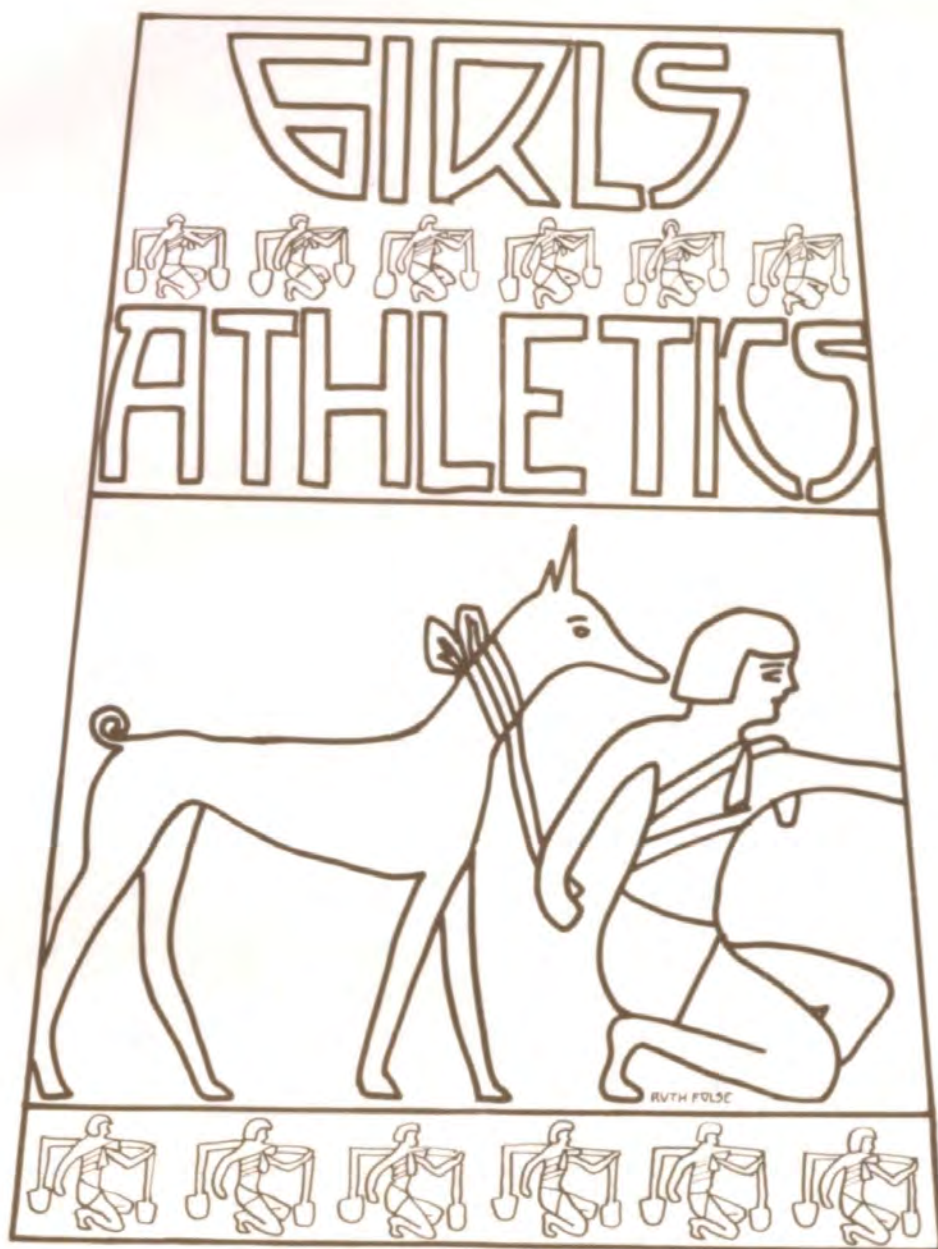

Westport's next contest was against Paseo. Westport had only three lettermen and Paseo was smarting under a defeat administered to them the week before. These two things made a combination our squad could not overcome. However, James with firsts both in the 220 and 440 dashes, Nance with a first in the half-mile, with a second in the pole-vault and Roberson with seconds in the broadjump and shotput, showed that Westport had athletes of noticeable ability also.

It was a sad day for Manual when she met Westport. Manual had to content herself with only 12 points while our team ran riot over the field. Westport took all the firsts except in the century and 220 low hurdles. Nance, James, Roberson, the relay team (Catron, Davey, Trueblood, James), Thomas, Larson, Campbell, Larson and Silver, tied for first in the high-jump. Several of the boys won more than one first and others placed second only to a better Westport man. Nearly everyone who competed won a letter that day.

The times of the runners and hurdlers were slower and the distances of the field men were shorter than usual because of the soggy and muddy condition of the track and field.

Mr. Evans intends to take a relay team to Columbia, Missouri. A part of the relay men will also compete in the dashes. If Nance cuts his time a little more, which he doubtless will, Mr. Evans will take him also.

The prospects of the team standing well up in the winners column is pretty good. The track men are as fast or faster than any other school in the city. The field men need only to become a little more proficient and they will be dangerous competitors for city honors. The hurdlers are handicapped by the lack of hurdles with which to practice.

Hockey 1930

A SMART, resounding crack of a stick against the horse hide ball, a wild yell from the Juniors, a groan from the Seniors, and the final whistle proclaimed the Juniors hockey champions for 1930. The teams of this season were unusually well matched, and, contrary to expectation, there was a surprisingly strong Sophomore team. Of course, the average girl athlete in high school does not pretend to come near the perfection of stick work and strategy obtained by college or club players, but surprising results were achieved by the Juniors and Seniors under the able instructions of Miss Bradley. We feel that we have a right to be justly proud of the games which were played on the "triangle" this year.

The Sophomores, though defeated in every game, came very near to upsetting the upper class girls. In each game their forward line made serious threats against the Junior and Senior goals, and opposing players found it hard to break through their strong defense for a goal.

The Seniors, though failing to capture the honors, played an aggressive game. Aided by a strong backfield, their more experienced forwards were able to pile up a creditable score.

The Juniors had a uniformly strong team, and with the additional help of an exceptionally fast forward line they managed to defeat their opponents in every game by a slight margin. To quote Miss Bradley: "They had that final punch necessary to make the score which would defeat their opponents". High point scorers were Kathlyn Andrews '31, 11, Amelia Mayer '32, 9, with Dorothy O'Donnell '31, and Rosemond '32 following closely with 8.

Basket Ball 1931

THREE teams—Sophomore, Junior, and Senior—eager rivals for the girls basket ball championship of 1931, concluded the season all tied for first place. Six more exciting, closely matched games could scarcely have been found. The teams defied all predictions as to which would win the contests. The games were fast, and a high quality of basket ball was displayed by the players.

The first contest, Sophomores versus Juniors, ended in a 44 to 14 victory for the Juniors. They deserve a great deal of credit for their fine offensive play. The Sophomore-Senior game was captured with difficulty by the Seniors. The Sophomores played a strong defensive game, and the Seniors were able to win only by the slight score of 19 to 16. The first Junior Senior game proved to be unusually exciting. Despite the fact that the Juniors were favored to win, the Seniors played a brilliant game and defeated them 27 to 17. The Seniors, handicapped by a temporary loss of players in the second game against the Sophomores, were defeated 9 to 22. The Sophomores were again victorious as the Juniors bowed before them with the short end of the 22 to 20 score. Though the score was close, the Sophomores deserve much credit for their fine aggressive playing. The last Junior-Senior game ended the season and left the Juniors with a 38 to 50 victory.

High point scorers were Margaret Dahl, first with 78 points; Kathlyn Andrews, second with 50 points and Virginia McGavic, third with 46 points.

BECAUSE of frequent rains, only three games have been played at the time this goes to press.

The first game of the season resulted in an 8 to 7 victory for the Sophomores. The lower class girls proved to be superior in both fielding and batting and displayed fine talent at various positions. The Juniors should make a better showing in coming games. The Sophomore-Senior game was won by the Seniors who tallied 8 runs to the Sophomores' 3. The Seniors again proved victors in the Junior-Senior game, with a score of 25 to 9. Though it is too early for any predictions as to the winner, the Seniors seem to have a slight edge.

Girl's Tennis

DUE to the early publication of the Herald, this space is devoted to the winners of 1930. Westport is indeed proud of the record of Geraldine Kahl, girls' singles' champion of 1930. Not only did Geraldine win the singles for two years at Westport, but her record in the city tournaments was exceptional. She won the girl's championship in singles, placed first in the mixed doubles with Howard Loschky, and first in the women's doubles with Edith McDaniel. Never before in the history of the Public Courts tournaments has one player won three titles and finished as a finalist in another class (women's singles).

Rosemond Allen, a Junior who was defeated by Geraldine Kahl in singles, has shown decided ability and expected to place in the coming season. Dorothy O'Donnell, '31 and Margaret Price, '30, were the winners of the double tournaments, defeating Almo Lee Sissom, '30, and Virginia Martson, '30.

"THE Horse Marines," are a group of girls who have given half of their third hour to drilling for the R. O. T. C. Circus in order to put another leaf in Westport's well-filled laurel wreath. Their well-ordered drill, brilliant costumes, and ready smiles procure merited attention. Sgt. Morris gave his time and efforts, the girls responded enthusiastically and consequently achieved a great success.

Commercial Department

EVERY boy and girl should have an opportunity to get training that will better enable them to meet the problems of life. The high school graduate is soon to take his place in the ranks of men and with them will take an active part in business. Training makes a man or woman competent. One of the functions of the school is to offer adequate training. It is the duty of the student to make the most of this opportunity.

Typewriting is so essential today that almost everyone should know how to use a typewriter. The use of the typewriter is no longer confined to the realm of business but it has become almost a necessity to the individual whether he be a student, a salesman or an employee. It is almost an essential equipment of the home. More pupils take typewriting than any other commercial subject. The person who is getting an education can well afford to consider the advantages to be derived from learning to typewrite. Its proper technique can be easily acquired by the student who is interested.

Accountancy occupies second place in regard to the number of pupils who are studying commercial subjects. Fundamental principles and practices are so presented as to give a broad field of training. Managerial accounting principles applied to business situations makes possible present day organization efficiency. The student learns how to apply accounting principles to his own affairs as well as to operating a business.

Shorthand is so universally used in the business office that it occupies the third place in popularity of pupils studying it. So many opportunities for initial employment requires a use of shorthand today that more boys get this training while they are in high school in order to be qualified to get certain jobs down-town. Experience today shows that many young men when seeking a job are confronted with such questions as these: "Have you had shorthand? Can you operate a typewriter? If you can do this kind of work, we can put you on".

Commercial law is a subject that can well be selected by students who are majoring in accounting or those who are wanting general business training. It gives an opportunity for developing the power to reason and exercise good judgment in application of legal principles to business and personal affairs.

Commercial arithmetic is offered for the benefit of those students who feel the need of more training in applying the fundamentals of arithmetic to problems relating to business.

Office training deals with the fundamentals of business as to principles and procedure. The student gains a viewpoint of business as to what employees do when employed and how it is done.

A class in salesmanship might well be offered in this department since so many people eventually go into some phase of selling. There is also need of a class in Business Correspondence for those students who are specializing in commercial work and feel the need of more training in English when applied to business.

Civilization has made progress during the past twenty-five years—business and science have been at work; travel through the air and under water has been developed; through the radio our voices travel around the world; the automobile has changed our way of living; electrical appliances and inventions have taken the drudgeries out of the home, the office, the factory; the movies talk and man has become a manipulator of human and material machinery. This is the age of business. The economic life occupies a strategic place in society.

The Tiger Tales staff of the year One Thousand Nine Hundred and Thirty-One, takes great pleasure in presenting "this true, unadulterated portrayal" of school life and activities to the student body of Westport.

DEDICATION

TO THE CRIER STAFF

Our dear old friends laboring hard and long over worthless bits of their so-called news will be greatly honored to know that such an outstanding and superior presentation of the products of many intelligent minds, Tiger Tales is to be dedicated to them with our highest regards. May they fully realize that they can never equal this great achievement, no matter how much they try. Poor fusted minds, may you be properly put in your place beside other relics for attempting such an impossibility.

TO OUR READER

May all the scatter-brained, half-witted hard-skulls who read the pages of this section get one-tenth as much fun out of it as the poor deluded sapheads who had little enough gumption to take the job of writing it. Tear into 'er boys, we're with YOU ! ! ! ! ! ! ! ! ! !

OL'E MAN MILLER

(To the tune of Ol'e Man River)

Ol'e Man Miller
That Ol'e Man Miller
He just keeps talkin',
He won't stand mockin',
Yet he just keeps squakin'
He just can't leave me alone.

When I'm workin'
He always keeps lurkin',
He must make certain,
That I'm not shirkin',
That Ol'e Man Miller
He just can't leave me alone.

CHORUS

When I sit through
Class all hour
When I learn all
In my power
When I work till nothing's left,
He just frowns and
Gives me "F"!

Ol'e Man Miller,
That Ol'e Man Miller
Each time he sees me
He just must tease me,
But he won't please
He just won't leave me alone.
