Foreword

1908 - 1933

IN our journey through life we pass a milestone each year on the way to our goal. We have reached a silver anniversary in the history of our school. We pause at this milestone to pay homage to those Westporters who have gone before us and to wish success to those who are to follow.

We present this annual to instill in our minds the high aims, ideals, and goals that Westport has had in this quarter of a century.

IN these years, Westport has grown into a far-reaching school. There have been, throughout these twenty-five years, a few teachers who have watched this progress, and who have unceasingly given their services to the betterment of the Youth of Westport.

It is because she is always kind and generous; because she is so sincere in her work; because she represents to us a high ideal; and because she has always stood as a symbol of the ideal teacher . . . . .

That we, with much love and many thanks, dedicate this Silver Herald to Ann M. Shire . . . . .

*W*IGH upon a hill so noble,
Challenging the eye,
Stands a school above all others,
Stands the Westport High.

Westport High, to thee we shall be
Ever loyal and true,
Striving always to do service
For the gold and blue.

Historical Highlights of Westport High School . . .

THE name was derived from the former name of Kansas City which was Westport.

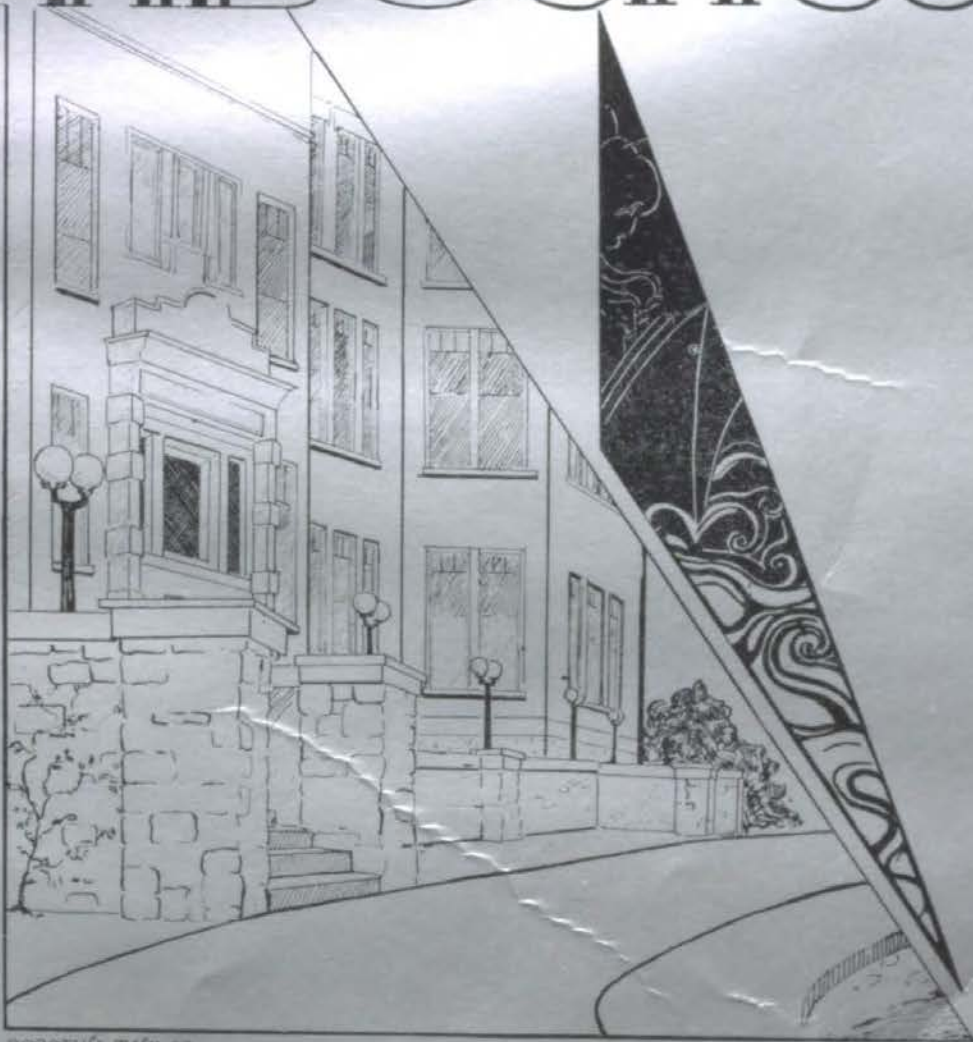

The first building of Westport High was the old George B. Longan School, situated at 39th and Warwick Boulevard.

In the fall of the year 1908, on September 7th, the present building of Westport High School opened its doors for classes. In that first year there were approximately 1500 boys and girls enrolled. It was considered the finest school in the United States, and people from all over the country came to see it.

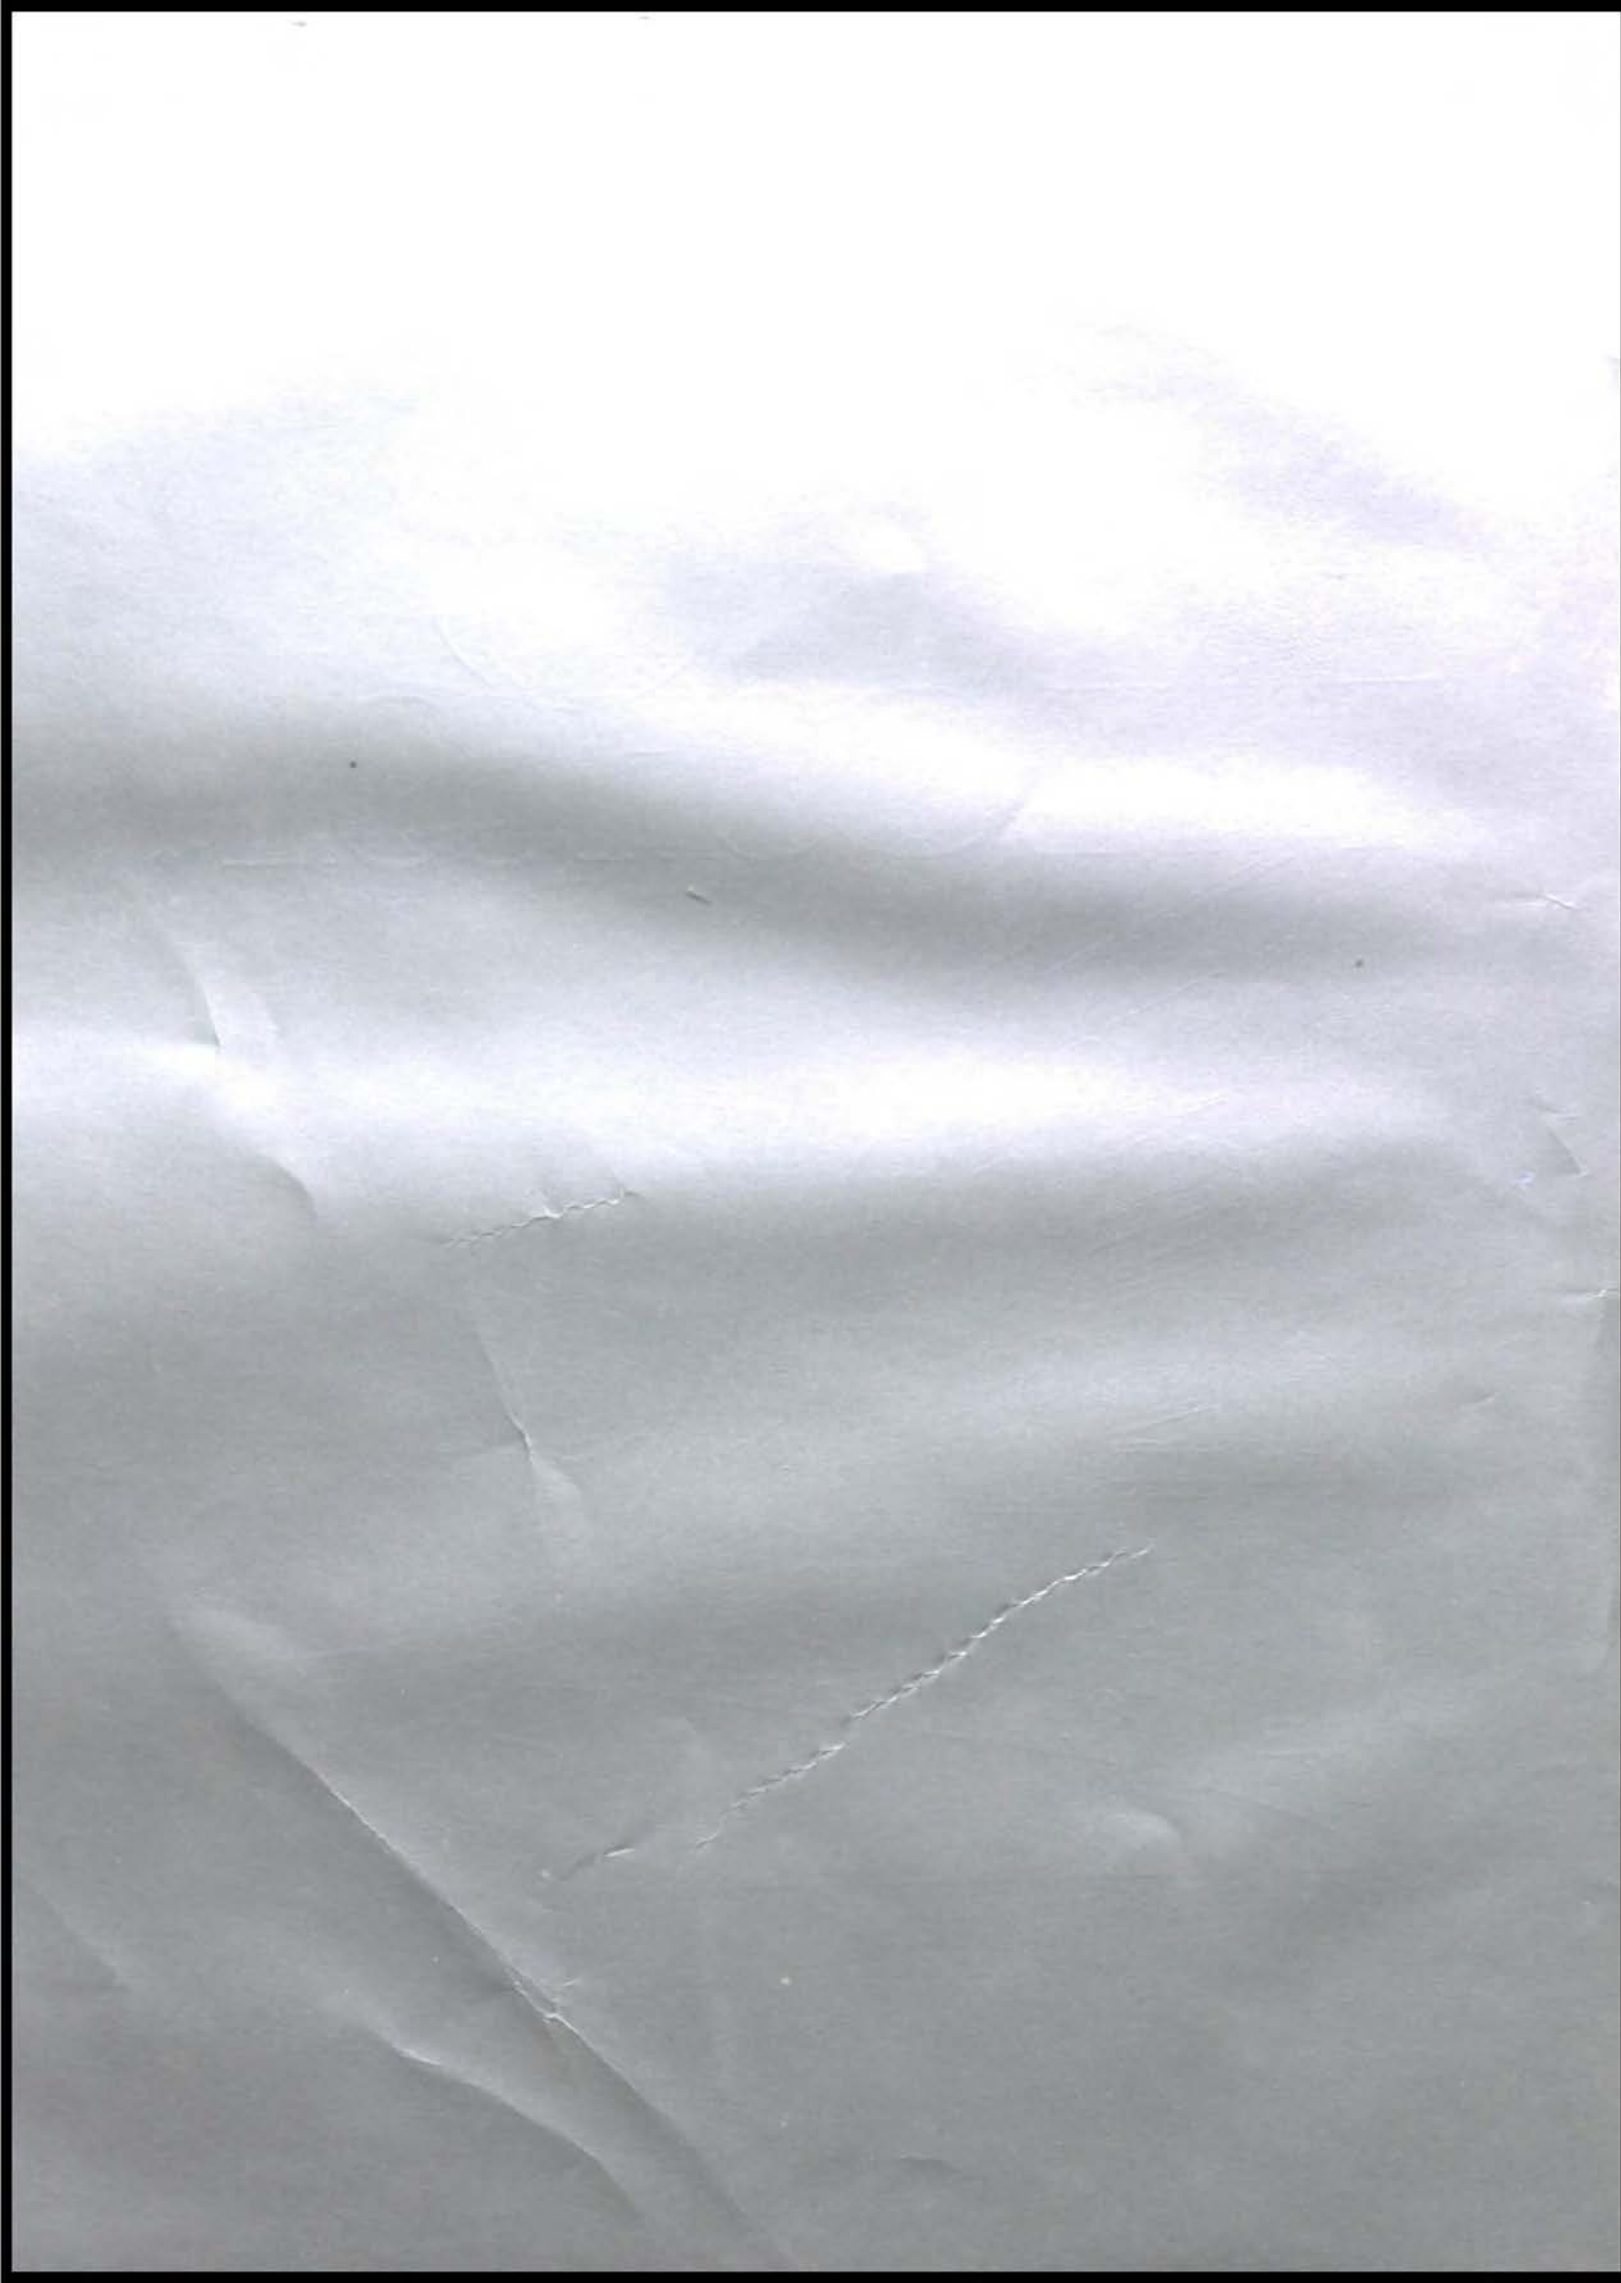

In those early days the school was well known for its famous football and basketball teams. Its football team won victories for four consecutive years. During the World War it did meritorious work by buying bonds, working for the Red Cross, and adopting Company I of the 3rd regiment which later became a part of the 35th Division. Over 400 of its graduates enlisted, eleven of whom died in active service. Many notable persons, including Theodore Roosevelt and Nicholas Murray Butler, have appeared in its assemblies. Westport has always excelled in scholarship. From Westport there have been six Rhodes Scholars.

Senior Class Song

Tune: The Maine University "Stein Song."

Sing, you seniors, bid adieu,
Mem'ries of Gold and Blue,
Sing, for happy hours that are through,
For friendships you may not renew.

Oh, sing, for joyous days gone by,
Raise voices to the sky,
Sing, and let it signify,
That you're from Westport Senior High.

To the school on the hill,
Standing noble and brave in its majesty,
To this day, what a thrill,
Filling all of us with greater ecstasy.

To the girls and the boys,
To the teachers and halls we all loved so well,
To our tears and our joys,
To you all, we must bid our farewell.

Oh, sing, you seniors, bid adieu,
Mem'ries of Gold and Blue,
Sing, for happy hours that are through,
For friendships you may not renew.

Then, sing, join with us just once more,
Shout, as you've done before,
Sing, and hope there's joy in store,
For '33, now, and ever more.

—Evelyn Zwillenberg.

Senior Officers

The Senior Officers of 1933 represented many phases of school life.

Walter "Tubby" Liston, the president, has been especially prominent in athletics the last two years, being co-captain of the football team this year, and a member of the basketball and track teams.

Bill Malone, the vice-president, starred in basketball and track. This "red-head" was called "Flash" during the track season because of his prowess in the dashes.

Bill Duke, the secretary, was the Art Editor of the Herald for two years. He was well known around school as an "About Town Man," and he left many broken hearts at Westport.

Bill Kalis, the treasurer, was the "king-pin" of the Crier. His fine cheerleading earned him the position of captain of the cheerleaders for two years. He was "pomp" itself as the butler in the Christmas play.

Margaret Dye, the sergeant-at-arms, was prominent in the Round Table Club and in the school plays. She had leading roles in the Christmas plays of the last two years.

Hence, we feel that Westport may be justly proud of her Senior Officers.

Junior Officers

The final ballot carried Lucille Brodie, Bonnie Haggerty and James Goodrich for president, Stuart Aubrey, Frances Mae Hess and Vernon Humphry for vice-president, Martha Richardson and Melvin Gershon for secretary and Wallace Agey, Lyle Bean and Bob Trueblood for treasurer.

The present junior class came across from Westport Junior High in the fall of 1931. Like the traditional sophomores we were confused and lost in new surroundings and among new people. We won honors in track with David Seaman and Vernon Humphry. The last day of school! At last we were juniors.

When school opened in the fall we came not like lost souls, but to old scenes and old acquaintances and to lay snares for the new and unsuspecting sophomores. Our honors increase with our age. We won places on the football, basket ball and track teams. One of the trio of cheerleaders is a Junior. We conducted our election with expediency and democracy. We entertained ourselves at a most satisfactory mixer. A few more weeks and we will take our place as the Senior class of Westport High.

As a class we want to thank Bill Duke for his exquisite work on the junior panel for the Herald and Wilmer Eames for the photography. Also we wish to thank Miss Wheeler, Miss Graham and Mr. West chairman of the committee for their helpful advice and kindness.

ROOM TWO

To enter this sacred portal, one must be chewing vigorously at least one piece of gum. Mary Lou Arrowsmith is the most honery doorkeeper.

Room Two consisted of "The Secret Six" for the first semester, but two more members were added at the halfway mark. From then on the room was not as secret as before, but much dignity was added by the admission of "About Town" Bill Duke and "Sleepy" Wilmer Eames. Only one eligible member did not attend meetings. This personage was Margaret Dye, whom you can blame for "Tiger Tales."

Several forms of recreation were reverted to in Room Two. There was a "Ten-Step Club." (If you do not know what that is, ask Lee, Swanson, Davis, or Mauze.) Much of Bill Duke's and Wilmer Eames' time was spent in showing Agnes and Mary Lou how to fix their hair. Of course, they had to take the "golden locks" down before they could proceed with their instruction. The male members of the room had a "paddling" contest; but canoes were not the subjects, objects, of what have you??? At times the Staff reverted to "hide'n' seek," "blindman's bluff," and even indulged in matching pennies.

When the Herald Staff studied, (if they did), one thought that he was in China. We often wondered if Miss Dowell's third hour class ever learned American History.

Charles Mauze spent most of his time figuring out his assets and deficits. Needless to say, he needed red ink most of the time. However he did better as business manager of the Herald. He has always had a failing for blonds, and this year this was proven to be the absolute truth.

The Herald photographer was pestered by everyone. His pictures were extraordinary; so was the photographer, as one of the sponsors says.

Agnes Lee, the department editor, had her main interest in the army, besides being sponsor captain. Just as an after-thought, this interest was a captain also.

Although Margaret Dye did not share in the fun in Room Two, she worked diligently on "Tiger Tales," and she did a fine job.

Our Art Editor has broken the very heart of the feminine part of Westport. Whatta man!!! We will not name his casualty list, but most of the "belles" of the school are on it.

As every good organization must have its reformer, and in her spare time, between her duties as club editor, Mary Lou Arrowsmith served in this capacity. She preached to us on the evils of throwing sugar lumps at the "station."

The only business-like person in the room was Don Fairhurst. But even Don had his weak moments when he succumbed to the influences of his environment.

One of the events of the year was the "hitching up," so to speak, of our two most eligible members. Wherever one went the other followed. You know, even the most popular girl falls for the dashing young army officer.

Seriously the Herald Staff has enjoyed its work this year. We sincerely hope that we have been successful in our work.

Senior Business Committee

The Senior Business Committee consisted of a member of each senior English class and a representative of each study hall. At the first meeting of this group, Farel Swanson was elected Chairman; Agnes Lee, Secretary; and Charles Mauze, Treasurer. After the Senior Officers were elected, they automatically assumed their respective offices on the committee.

By working diligently, the members of the committee accomplished many notable enterprises. They planned the mixers, selected the class jewelry and made announcements, conducted the senior election, and made arrangements for graduation and Senior Day.

The committee felt that the Seniors enjoyed the social activities arranged for them, and that they would have enjoyed the traditional Junior-Senior Mixer given by the Juniors, had there been one. However, the Junior Class felt that exclusiveness was the best policy, so only a Junior Mixer was held. Sophomores please take note of this fact.

The Senior Business Committee joined the various other societies and clubs in the attempt to seek improvement in the Extra-Curricular Point System. Because of the lack of organization, and the opposition of the faculty, no revisions in this system were made.

Mr. Banister, Miss Bechtel, and Mr. Cutting, as advisors, proved their value through their advice and assistance. Each member wishes to thank these teachers for their kind and helpful work in the affairs of the Senior Class.

This year the monitors in the halls, corridors, and cafeteria have virtually eliminated the violations of school regulations.

The plan for the monitor system, begun in 1931 by the Monitors' Committee with Miss Emma E. Shelton as chairman, has become one of the most distinctive features of Westport. The student monitors are stationed at doors leading from the building, cafeteria doors and lines, stairways, in the sophomore-junior study hall, and in the assemblies. Field managers act as co-ordinators for the other ushers and clear the halls and grounds of loiterers.

Today, anyone entering Westport High School finds lines of pupils passing in and out of the cafeteria quickly and quietly; no students smoking on the steps of the building or climbing out locker-room windows; home-lunch pupils cleared by the five-minute bell; and only the noise of normal conversation between 800 students.

The monitors are proud of their work, appreciative of the co-operation of the student body, and especially grateful to the committee; Miss Shelton, chairman, Mr. Benjamin R. Ward; Miss Bessie Grube; Miss Velma Shelley; and Mr. C. T. Goodale.

STANDARD REQUIREMENTS FOR THE HONOR ROLL

A student must be taking four solids, or the equivalent, to be eligible for the Honor Roll.

A student who has received for a semester two solid E's and one solid S with no grade below M is placed on the Honor Roll. Two non-solid E's equal one solid E. When a student has received these grades for two consecutive semesters, he becomes an Honor Student.

For two consecutive semesters on the Honor Roll a student receives a bronze pin and for four consecutive semesters a silver pin. A student returns his honor pin when he has earned a higher one.

The Distinction in Scholarship Roll made up at graduation time recognizes three groups of superior students. For this purpose only senior high school credits are considered. If a student has a scholastic index of 3.35, he is awarded a gold pin with one pearl at graduation. If his scholastic index is 3.55, he receives a gold pin with two pearls. If his scholastic index is 3.75 he receives a gold pin with three pearls.

These awards are indicated on the commencement program by stars beside a student's name. One star signifies a gold pin with one pearl; two stars, a gold pin with two pearls; and three stars, a gold pin with three pearls.

Bankers

The Westport Plan of Student Banking Management was followed again this year for the second time. Each room elected a banking teller and an alternate. These tellers elected general officers, and Robert Chaudoin was elected president.

The tellers met together about once a month and formulated the policies and practices to be pursued in school banking at Westport. The group decided to give a banking play. The faculty banking committee, consisting of Miss Wheeland, Mr. Whisamore, and Mr. Fristoe, was less enthusiastic to the idea; but they finally agreed. Mr. D. J. Conley, representative of the National Thrift Service, submitted a play, "The Redemption of Johnny Average," that was sponsored by the National Thrift Service. This play was given by the Lincoln High School of Spokane, Washington. The part of Mrs. Average was taken by Helene Madison, the Olympic swimmer. The play was accepted by the assembly of tellers, and after many rehearsals it was given before a student assembly. After Mr. Whisamore was hurt, Miss Keeler was kind enough to lend her aid in directing the play. Mr. Conley wished the play to be a success, and the Misses Opal Emory and Elinor Swezey helped direct it. The cast was:

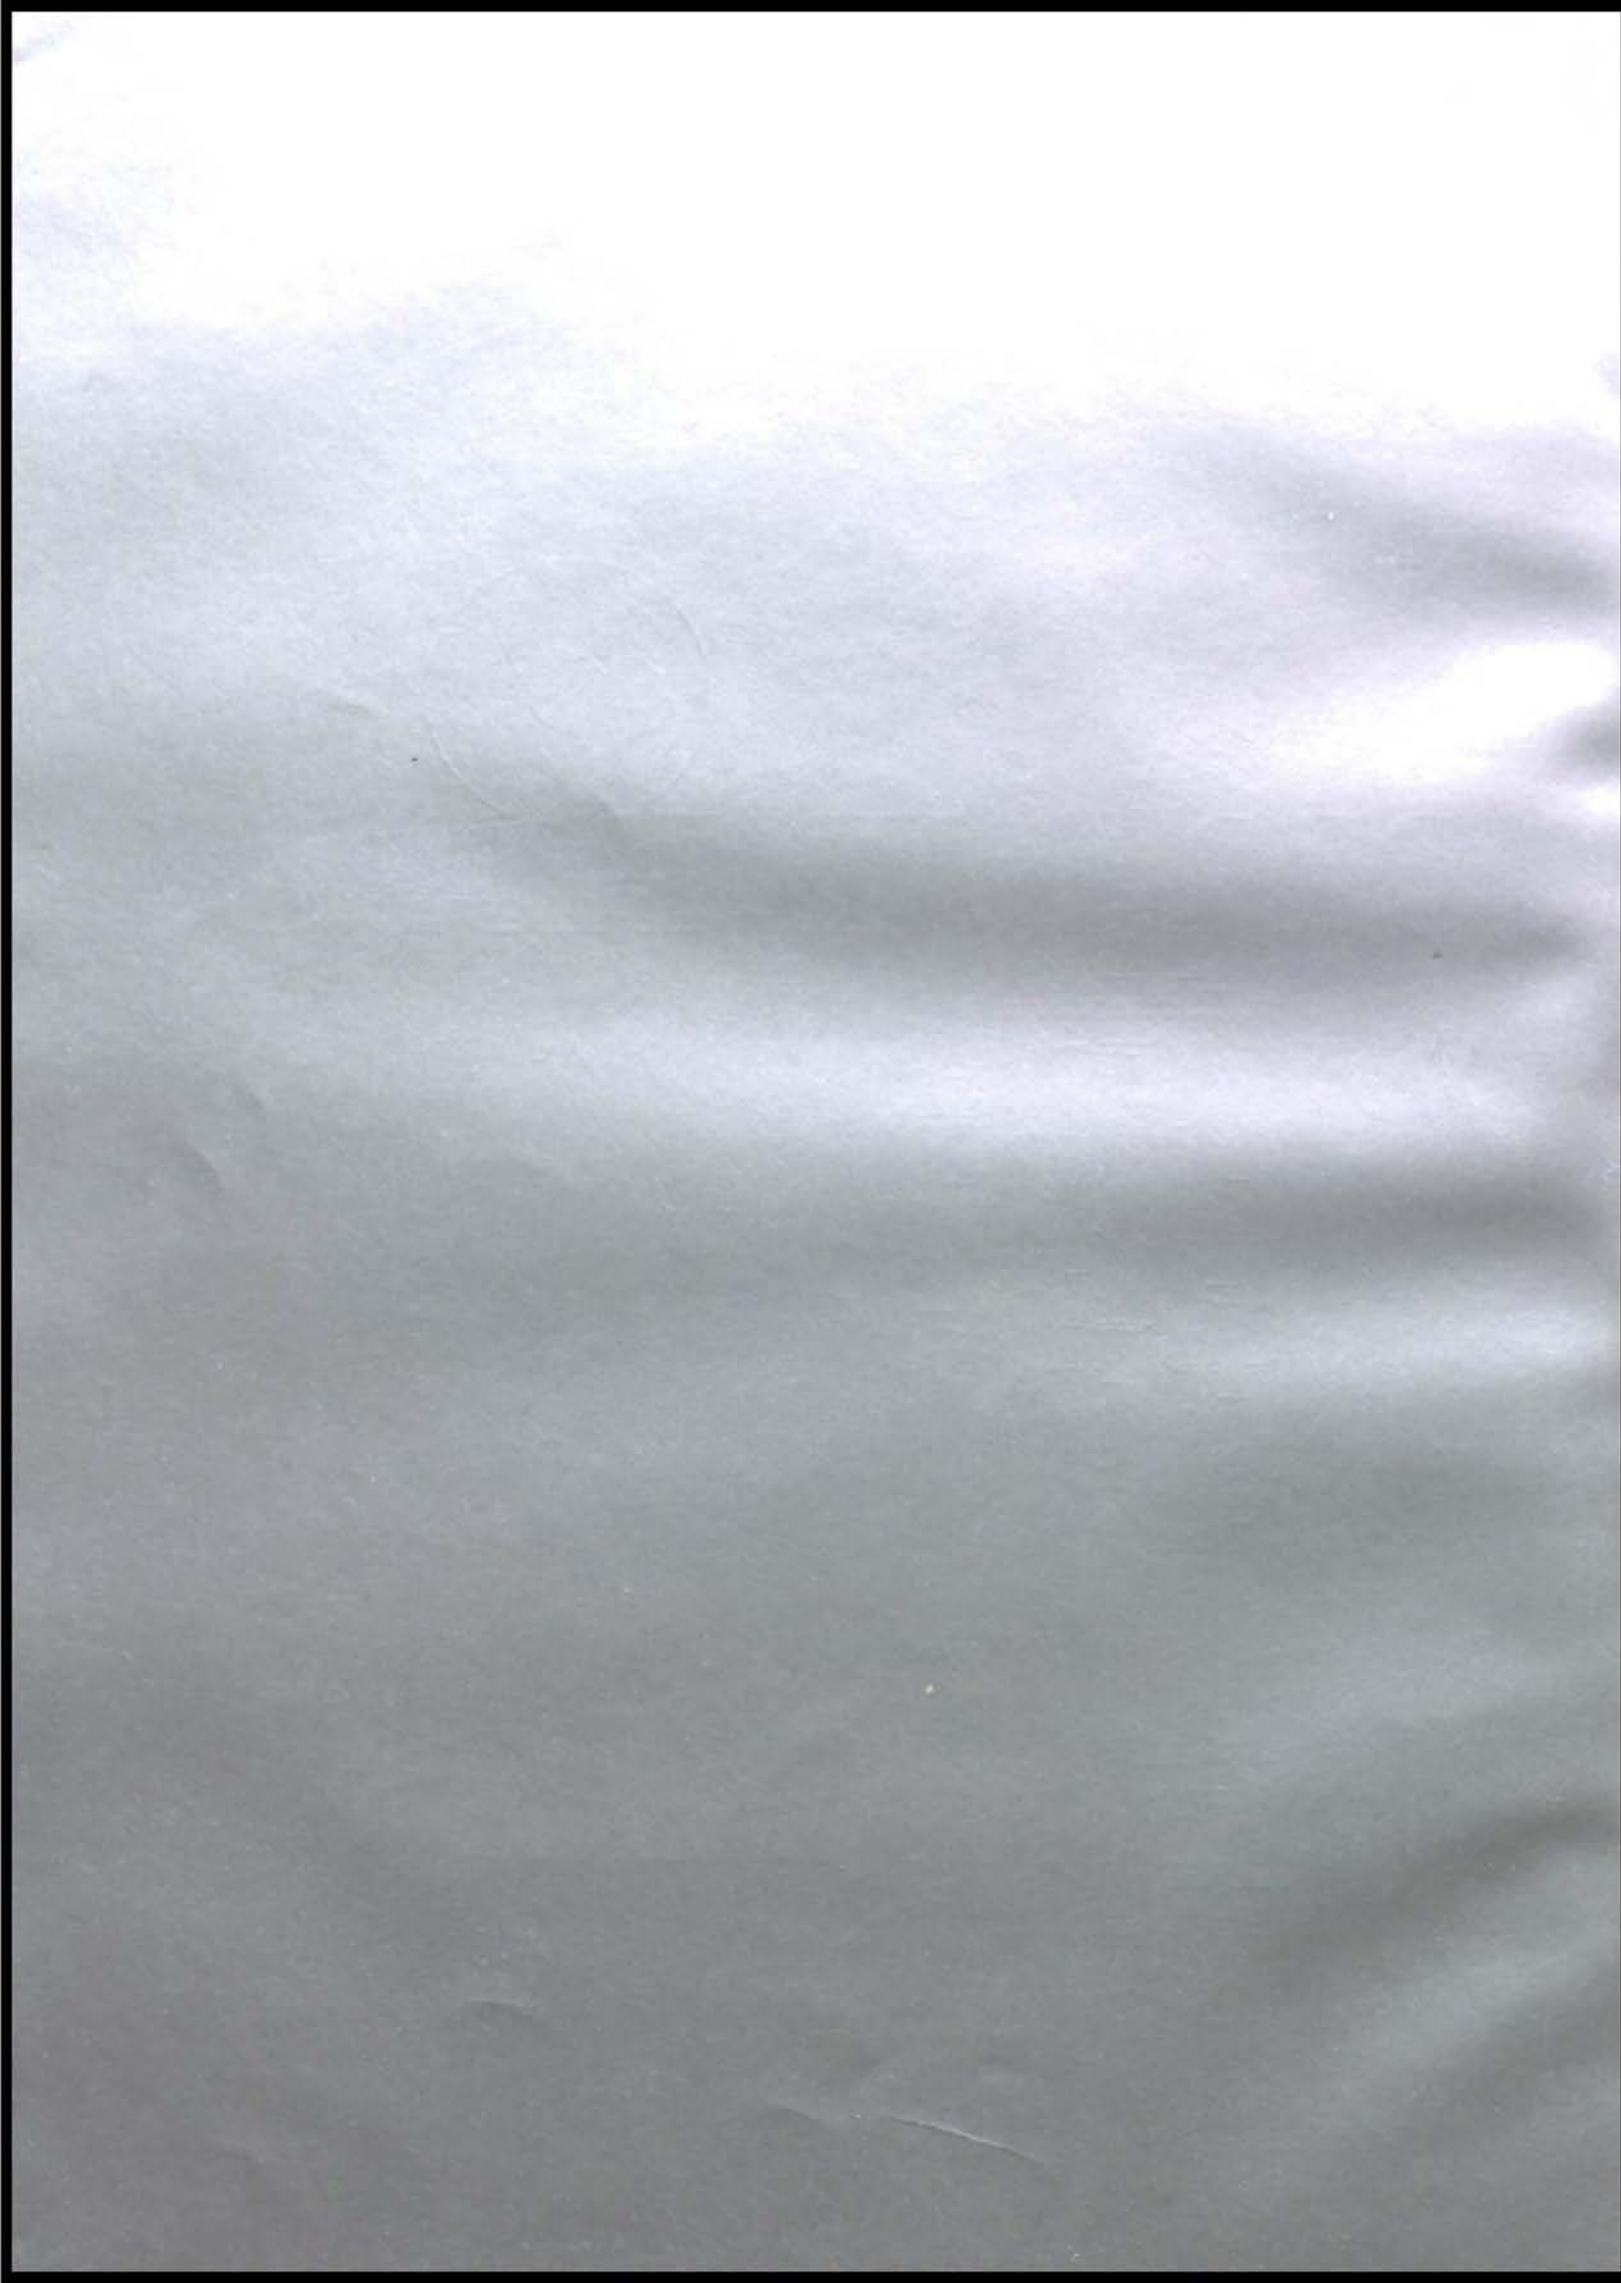

Johnny Average.....	Jack Longfellow
Mrs. Average.....	Eldred Taylor
Mr. Average.....	Jerry Manning
Mabel Average.....	Barbara Weaver
Helena Dawes.....	Doris Saizow
Charley Jones.....	Bill Black
Professor Wesley Lane.....	Warren Berry

Banking of Westport has not increased actually, but in relation to the other schools Westport is now in the median group instead of the lowest group, as it was until a few years ago. There is much room for improvement yet, and it is hoped that this most desirable activity will continue to improve.

Again the Clay Club has finished a very outstanding year in Westport. A splendid banquet was held in November in honor of our silver anniversary. Every member of the club was present, showing the loyal support given the Club by its members. A very successful dance was held at Christmas and another in the spring with Round Table Club.

The Clays were outstanding in the activities of the school in the past year. The Clay Club had: the R. O. T. C. Major and five Captains; treasurer of the Senior Class; president and secretary of the Junior Class; a debate team captain and four debaters; three finalists in the Star's Oratorical Contest; cheer leader captain and one other cheer leader; the managing editor of the Crier; and editor of Herald and two members of the Herald Staff.

The Clays were very proud to have as our beauty queen, Miss Farel Swanson.

We are very grateful to have had Mr. Cutting as our advisor again this year. He has proven himself to be a very capable and understanding counsellor.

The Clay Club has been very outstanding in the past twenty-five years, and we sincerely hope that on our golden anniversary, we will be even more outstanding.

The Clonian Literary Society has the honor of being the first charter club to be organized in Westport. Its membership consists of sterling, prominent young men and women who are well known for their work in the scholastic, literary, and social field. The Christmas dance with Round Table proved to be one of the most successful social events in the history of the club.

The name is taken from Clio, the goddess of music and history. The charter requires no less than twenty-five and no more than forty-five.

At one time all the charter clubs in the school but two were disbanded. Clonian was one of these two.

It has always upheld the spirit of Westport.

We were very fortunate in having Mr. Shaw as our advisor this year and we wish to express our appreciation for his work. This has been one of the most successful years of Clonian as it has had excellent programs and well attended meetings. We wish it as much success in future years.

It is a group of friends who have learned "to be, rather than to seem."

Irving is entering its twenty-fifth year far ahead of the mass of pupils, because Heinberg, in all the activities it has supported.

The club has had the constant inspiration of its "oldest member," Henry E. Irving. The club has had the constant inspiration of its "oldest member," Henry E. Irving. The club has had the constant inspiration of its "oldest member," Henry E. Irving. The club has had the constant inspiration of its "oldest member," Henry E. Irving.

It is an accepted fact at Westport that Irving is the club fulfilling the real purpose of all clubs: comradeship.

The Promethean Club has just concluded one of its most auspicious years. Throughout the year the meetings were enjoyed by each member. With the programs Promethean has created a departure with its originality and versatility. In truth we are "looking upward and forward."

Like the great fire-god, Prometheus, from whom the club takes its name, Promethean is striving to give a certain fire, a bit of vital life to mankind. Promethean has clung to the high intellectual ideas which are hers. Her girls are prominent in school affairs.

Promethean has been very fortunate this year in having Miss Cruzen as our advisor. We wish to take this opportunity to thank her for her splendid cooperation and help. We leave to the undergraduates the task of carrying on the principles and ideals of Promethean. We trust they will succeed.

Pundit means "A learned person of India," who likes to argue and debate different questions. It was named by Mr. Humphrey in 1909. The motto for Pundit is "Weigh, Consider, Express," and blue and silver are the colors.

This year, the Pundits, as always, have been the most outstanding girls of Westport. Many members have held prominent offices in the school activities. Mary Lou Arrowsmith was chosen Pundit Beauty Queen, and we feel that she truly represents the beauty and personality of Pundit. Every year the Pundits give a spring dance. It is considered one of the big events of the year. The girl who has done the most for Pundit is honored at this dance by being chosen "Pundit Queen."

We have been fortunate in having Miss Graham as our advisor, and it is here that we wish to express our thanks and appreciation for her kindness to us.

The Round Table Literary Society was one of the first two mixed clubs founded in Westport High School, in 1900. Through 33 years of activity the high standards and interest in the best art, literature, and music have been maintained.

Members of Round Table have always been prominent in school activities. Some of our representatives are: the Sponsor Major, a Sponsor Captain, both Sponsor Lieutenants, Vice-President and Sergeant-at-Arms of the Senior Class, three of the popularity queens and the President, Vice-President and Secretary of the Student Council.

Many of the members are on the Honor Roll and have received various scholarship awards.

We consider ourselves fortunate to have been able to have for a second year as sponsor, Miss Helen Guffin, a former Round Table member. We appreciate the help she has given us and the comradeship we have shared with her.

The purpose of the Alpha Lyra Club is to promote better music in Westport High School and to give its members an opportunity to become better acquainted with musical instruments.

Under the fine sponsorship of Mr. Spring, we discovered new knowledge on music in different forms.

The vice-president of each term planned very interesting programs for each meeting. They had, besides the student programs, guest soloists, such as Mrs. Westerman, contralto; Miss Goldsborough, soprano, and Mr. Stanton, theramin artist.

The year closed with a joint picnic at Swope Park with the boys' and girls' Glee Clubs.

The B. C. P. Club of Westport High School was organized in 1916 to further interest in the biological sciences. In 1919 it was enlarged to include students from other sciences.

B. C. P. has endeavored to present worthwhile programs and to maintain a high scholastic standing, in order to live up to its motto, "the best club possible." We feel that we have made B. C. P. a club of which we might justly feel proud to be a member.

Circulo Calderon was organized by a group of enthusiastic students of the Spanish department on March 15, 1910. The purpose of the club is to obtain a more thorough knowledge of the Spanish-speaking races. The club holds its meetings bi-monthly. Spanish only is spoken. The history, government, and characteristics of Spanish countries are emphasized.

The membership is composed of the best students in the Spanish classes who also have a good standing in other subjects.

Several distinguished Spanish-speaking guests have attended the meetings this year. Parties and the annual picnic are always enjoyed. The club members have enjoyed their work and feel that they have made the club year a successful one.

GIRL RESERVE HIGHLIGHTS

The Westport Girl Reserve club based its past year of activity on the theme, chosen by the club members, "Life has loveliness to offer." All regular meetings and other activities were planned around that central idea.

On the first days of school, a Girl Reserve hostess group met the new girls in Westport and made a special effort to help them get acquainted and find their way around school. Later, a tea was served in honor of these girls.

A joint banquet meeting with the Hi-Y club at the Westport Presbyterian church climaxed the Christmas season. Over one hundred Girl Reserves and Hi-Y's attended.

Along with the activities within the Westport membership, the Girl Reserves participated in many inter-club functions at the Y.W.C.A. Among these were the Mother-Daughter Christmas Banquet and pageant, that gay party, Scramble Inn, and the Girl Reserve Round Table.

A high peak in the Girl Reserve program was reached in the Easter Assembly, which was a joint presentation of the Hi-Y and Girl Reserve clubs in co-operation with the Glee Club. Judging from the reaction of both the student body and the faculty, this assembly attained a high level of spiritual elevation.

The purpose of the Hi-Y Club is to create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and community high standards of Christian character. Through the assistance of professional men of the city who have given interesting, character-building, and educational talks at the weekly meetings of the club, we feel that we have gone a long way toward this goal.

Besides the actual benefits gained from the speeches, many social activities and special meetings were held that created a fine spirit of fun and fellowship. Some of these were the Father and Son Banquet, Mothers' Day Meeting, basketball games, and a joint gathering with the Girl Reserves. A special Easter program was given in an assembly by the Hi-Y and Girl Reserve Clubs with the fine assistance of the Glee Club and the Band. Last of all was an all day meeting with the Hi-Y boys of the other schools of the city at Camp Washita where sports and inspirational talks were enjoyed by the attending members.

To Mr. Buckner, our advisor, and to the faculty supervisors, Mr. Powell, Mr. Heinberg, and Mr. Bopp, we extend our gratitude for the fine times they have arranged for our organization.

The Jules Guerin Art Club offers students especially interested in art an opportunity for further development in the field of artistic endeavor. This year marked the tenth year of pleasure and achievement that the club has enjoyed since it was organized in 1923. For the first time in the history of the club there has been enough boys eligible for membership to make the club one for both boys and girls.

(Our patron, Jules Guerin, is well known for his beautiful productions which are, for the most part, rendered in flat masses of color, and are distinguished by a style both accurate and charming. The club is especially proud of the dozen copies of his most beautiful church paintings which he gave us in acknowledgment of our naming the club in his honor. Jules Guerin is a native of St. Louis, Missouri. At present he resides in Grammercy Park, New York.

The club takes this opportunity to voice its appreciation to Miss Whitte for her kind guidance in another year of success and progress.

Les Immortels was first organized in 1927 for the purpose of giving students an opportunity of speaking French outside the class room. The meetings are conducted almost entirely in French and the programs are also of a French nature. The club has a scrap book to which the members contribute each year. The club, also, was proud that three members were sponsors.

The Speech Arts Club, Westport's dramatic association, supplied much of the talent for the school plays and speech contests this year. Eight members of Speech Arts were on the debate teams. Beverly Flater was debate team captain; David Skeer represented Westport in the Kansas City Star Oratorical Contest; Margaret Martin played the lead in the Christmas play; and Helen Johnson had the leading part in the Senior presentation. Eight other Speech Arts members were in one of the plays or in both of them. The club was also well represented in assembly programs.

The programs presented at club meetings this year were exceptionally fine. They consisted of sketches, readings, and short plays. A feature program was the third annual oration contest of the Speech Arts Club. This contest, which was open to everyone, was won by a Speech Arts member, David Skeer.

As in former years, Miss Alicia Keeler capably advised the club and helped it carry out its work. Her aid proved invaluable in making Speech Arts the best departmental club in Westport.

LIBER MMCXXXIII

I sing of the girls and the pests, who first from the cruel Juno,
Driven by Fate, met Diana hunting a football star,
Much worn out by the impious<sup>4</sup> Aeneas,
On account of his love for the Southwest Creusa,
Also having suffered many things until Anchises became a
"yes" man,
And Cassandra's "pony" should turn into Latin, whence was the girl half-back,
And Dido's Shannon in Chicago, and Helen of the Grecian face.
O Muse, recount to me the causes, beautiful Venus falling for Milne,
Or the thoughtful Sibyl hearing Scylla's gum-crusted dentals,
That the harmless students should see the world with Aeneas' navy,
Thrill at Dido's love, chill at the Cyclops.
Is there so much psychology in the Westport minds?

Our cheerleaders this year outclassed those of the other high schools so far that they made themselves noticeably outstanding at both the football and basketball games. Their peppy yells, unusually well led, gave new pep and life to our team and cheering section. Even better, their snappy acrobatic stunts made our cheers the center of attraction at every game.

SEAMAN GOES OVER FOR A TOUCHDOWN!

Football -- Second Team

The two main objects Coach Evans had in mind when training the second team was to develop good material for the first team for next season, and to encourage as many boys as possible to play again the following year. Contrary to some opinions, the second team is not out primarily to win, but to give a large number of boys valuable playing experience.

Coach found many promising players for the team next year. Some of these were: Trueblood, Parshall, Faris, Kauffman, Millstein, Marsh, Knopp, Kern, Barber, Bodine, Feigen, Minter, Mulligan, and Herbert.

The football season this year was full of thrills and spills for Coach Newman's "Tigers". They skillfully crushed the weaker teams and held most of the strong ones, displaying their best in teamwork and power when they held the powerful and much heavier Southwest Indians to a 6-0 score.

Under the able leadership of co-captains "Bob" Footman and "Walt" Liston, the boys got together and played real football, always doing their level best for old Westport. Every loyal Westport booster who saw the games can truthfully say that Westport's players were not afraid to "stick right in there and fight."

COACH NEWMAN

We are certainly proud of them.

In building up this fighting team, Coach Newman has again displayed his ability. Having only two players with previous "first-team" experience, he moulded his team around them and produced a team that Westport was proud to claim and support.

Congratulations "Coach," and good luck next year.

GLANCES AT THE LINE-UP

FOOTMAN—Bob was our quarterback on the offense and chose his plays well. On the defense he played left-tackle and earned a position as all-star tackle.

SCHLEIFER—He became a blocker to perfection and caused no end of trouble for the opposing team.

BLANEY—Bob was good at backing up the line and he was a hard tackler too.

PIANE—Here's a hard fighting guard who seldom let opponents break through his position.

HUMPHREY—His blocking was a bright spot of the team and he should be one of the main cogs in the team next year.

MALONE—Bill was a half-back whose speed made him a valuable asset to the team.

ANDERSON—Andy was a great little player and a dandy sport. "Nuf sed."

HOOVER—This fellow held down the important berth at center and was strong on the defense.

PRICE—Glen was a "driving back" who hit that line like a freight train. We needed more players like him.

BUCHER—"Butch" was a great little fighter who played a plucky game at left end. Few gains were made around his end.

LISTON—"Tubby" played tackle and was a hard fellow to get around.

O'DWYER—His playing was commendable and he won a berth on the all-star second team as guard.

KINCAID—Oscar was very shifty footed; and, when given the slightest opening, was through like a flash. A dandy ball carrier, we would say.

SEAMAN—Dave was a kicker and plunger of real merit who will be a threat to opposing teams next year.

Coach Newman's basketekers became noted this year for doing the unexpected. Although they started out rather weak offensively, they improved with each game until they rose to the height of their power and defeated the East "Bears" in one of the season's feature games.

In basketball as in football, the purpose of the second team was to develop players and to encourage them to play on the first squad next season. To further carry out this idea, seniors were not eligible for the second team; whereas they are in many of the other high schools.

An unusually large number of boys turned out for the second team this year. Despite the difficulties presented by such a large group, Coach Evans did a fine job in training and developing them. These "Cubs" fought hard. Although spectacular playing was not featured in their games, they certainly deserved the support and praise of the student body of Westport.

The second team is of great value to Coach Newman in that it brings to his attention players of real merit for the first squad. Some of the outstanding material for next year will be found in the following players. Faris, Seaman, Johnson, Parshall, Nelson, Chicinsky, Kalinsky, Millstein, Trueblood, Swain, Richardson, C. Jones, Weiford, Van Arsdale, and Molatsky.

Golf

In 1929 the first golf team was organized at Westport. Although there was not a city tournament, Westport had a very fine team.

The first city golf tournament was held in 1930. Westport had a good team and finished among the leaders. For the next two years the Westport team was outstanding, although they did not win the tournaments.

The team this year consisted of Tom Holiman, Orval Shultz, Robert Wilcox, Robert Blaney, and William Walston. The team finished third this year. Tom Holiman was the outstanding performer on the team. He won the medal for the tournament, having a 72-hole score of 81, 77, 73, 80—311. Westport can be justly proud of its golf team this year.

The team and the school greatly appreciate all that the coach, Mr. West, has done for golf this year.

Tennis

Westport has had a long and enviable record in tennis which extends back to the first years of the present Westport building. The earliest record of tennis competition that could be found was an article about the tennis team of 1911. It stated that the Westport team won the Missouri Valley Championship at the "High School Day" held at Lawrence, Kansas. This was a brilliant beginning for a wonderful record in this sport. Westport won the championship again in 1912 and 1913, making it three straight for our team. In 1916 the first city tennis tournament of any importance was held here in Kansas City. From that time on the tennis team consisting of boys and girls won at least one event in each tournament. This continued until 1924 when they won everything in the tournament, including boys' and girls' singles, boys and girls' doubles, and the mixed doubles.

In 1926, however, the physical training instructor decided that girls would compete only among themselves in their own school. From then on the boys had to keep up the reputation of previous years. Increasing interest in tennis during the next few years resulted in a strong team for 1929. Sterling Cutlip was the outstanding player. Nelson McIninch, then a sophomore, also displayed unusual ability. McIninch and Kiley were the outstanding players for the next few years and kept the singles crown at Westport.

The players on this year's team are: Horn Bostel, McCauley, Worrell, Colburn, Reynolds, Sartain, Jarvis, and Sutorius. The doubles team of Worrell-McCauley gained the semi-finals at the state meet in Columbia, but were then defeated. As the city tournament has not been held yet, we can only prophecy that this team will keep up the Westport reputation of the past years.

The meet at Southwest was a close one with Humphrey, Crosby, Malone, Kalinsky, Johnson, and H. Braude bring home the honors.

Dave Seaman, a promising track man for next year, warmed up at the triangular meet with East and Central by taking honors in the broad jump and the shot put. Arnold Johnson again won first in the high jump.

In the Manual-Westport contest our team walked away with practically every event and won by a score of  $69\frac{1}{2}$ - $21\frac{1}{2}$ .

Westport should make a very good showing at the city meet.

Tennis -- 1932

Ernestine Royster won the Westport singles championship of 1932 by virtue of her defeat of Janet Turner in the final round of the tournament. Ernestine is an excellent player and wears down her opponent with her steady play. She has proven her ability in city play as well as at Westport. She now ranks second among Kansas City's girl players, and has a still brighter future in the realm of tennis.

The doubles championship was awarded to Eda Paddock and Pearl Moot who defeated Patra Stockwell and Dorothy Jean Williams. Eda and Pearl form an unbeatable doubles team, and each plays a good singles game as well.

All finalists in the tournament received "W's".

Helen Schuller

Helen Schuller came to Westport's Athletic Department this year to take the place of Miss Cruzen, who now devotes all her time to the Home Economics Department. Helen Schuller teaches two classes and assists Miss Florence Bradley in coaching the various sports.

Helen Schuller has earned her Life Certificate and Physical Education Proficiency Certificate at the Kansas State Teachers' College, Emporia, Kansas. She has also attended summer sessions at Denver State Teachers' College, Kansas University, and Kansas City Teachers' College.

We feel that the Board of Education showed rare judgment in giving us a teacher of such ability and high standing.

Senior Pin Winners

The Senior Pin Winner candidates for this year are Dorothy Jean Williams, Jessie Tracy, Rose Katz, and Marion Jones. This pin is awarded to girls who have won at least six "W's", one of which must have been received in the senior year. Passing grades in all subjects are also necessary.

Dorothy Jean Williams has won three hockey "W's", three basketball "W's", two baseball "W's", and one tennis "W". Jessie Tracy has won two hockey "W's", one basketball "W", and two baseball "W's". Rose Katz has won one hockey "W", three basketball "W's", and one baseball "W". Marion Jones has won two hockey "W's", two basketball "W's", and one baseball "W". The last three girls must win one more letter in order to receive the pin.

Dorothy Jean Williams is an "Immortel" at Westport. This means that she has won a "W" in every girls' sport. This is the highest achievement in the girls' gym department. However, no award is given for gaining this distinction.

The chief event of the year was the Herald Contest. This was to develop individuality in the year book as well as to show the student originality. It is customary for the Commercial Classes to spend two or more weeks on the Herald Cover, every person being required to submit his design. There were sixty or more designs entered. The judges that chose the original design were: Cordelia Jinneth, R. R. Mapleson, and David Charno. The winner and designer of the Herald Cover was Lucille Frederick, president of Jules Guerin. She received five dollars as reward for her unanimously chosen cover design. Henrietta Dunning won second place and Keith Dierks, third place.

The art staff, composed of seven members and a chairman, have full responsibility of all art work designed for the Herald, under the supervision of Miss White, the art instructor. They were as follows:

Chairman William Duke—Arts and Music
Ruth Huff—Girls' Athletics—Organizations
Lucille Frederick—Tiger Tales
Lois Anderson—Clubs—Boys' Athletics
Dorothy Taylor—The School—Societies
Richard Roberts—Seniors
Keith Dierks—Faculty—Activities
Herbert Eskelin—R. O. T. C.

Visits to the Art Institute have been interesting features of the work of the department. Each class endeavored to go once a month if the weather permitted. The students became acquainted with the different types of painting and with present day artists. They also learn to appreciate different color harmonies and various methods of technique. The knowledge will prove invaluable in later years.

The senior craft classes was a most interesting class. The students showed good craftsmanship and advanced work. The class made the plans and stage settings for individual stages. The best were used in the mid-winter dramatic performances. Two craft students, William Duke and Harry Horn-Bostel, gave valuable assistance in the stage management of the production of "A Scrap of Paper."

Commercial classes designed many posters. In addition to their many business problems was an illustration carried out by the spatter method, which proved to be one of the best problems of the year.

Costume designing was very helpful to all girls and boys. This class gave the opportunity to design and originate one's own wardrobe according to well accepted art principles.

Interior decoration, another important subject, acquainted the students with the principals governing good home decoration. They studied most of the types of historical furniture by visiting some of the stores. Their acquaintance with best types of furnitures was in this way reinforced.

Also we had the 1, 2, 3, and 4 drawing and designing classes. These had to be taken first, before entering the more advanced classes. Perspective lettering and color harmonies were a few of the most important branches of art that were taught to the above classes.

The federated clubs of the state of Missouri invited the members of Westport as well as the members of the other high schools in the state, to submit their art examples at the annual state convention in St. Louis.

Mid-Year Play

‘A Scrap of Paper’

“A Scrap of Paper” was presented on Friday and Saturday nights, the ninth and tenth of December. It was a comedy drama in three acts and was received enthusiastically by the audience. Margaret Martin and Louis Kemper in the leading roles showed exceptional talent, and Margaret Dye and Walter Dean lent fun to the plot. The whole cast was select material and they played their parts splendidly. The untiring patience of Miss Keeler, and the help of Miss Bain and Miss Wilhite were responsible for the success of the presentation. The electricians, stage managers, and our most able Art Director, Bill Duke, helped to put the play over. The characters of the Baron de La Glaciere and his wife Louise de La Glaciere, were artistically portrayed by David Skeer and Evelyn Boise. The parts of the servants were played by Bill Kalis, Walter Levis, and Elizabeth Cravens. They, together with Betty Sue McClelland, who played the part of the housekeeper, furnished most of the comedy.

The comedy was masterfully presented both nights, and was enjoyed by everybody who saw it, as well as by the cast themselves.

Debate Teams

Back Row: Kenneth Cederland, Guy Ford Hopkins, Charles Mauze, Arthur Hunt.

Back Row: Bill Kalis, Willard Ethridge, John Lyon, David Skeer.

Debate Teams

Seventeen students have taken part this year in inter-city high school debates upon the question of taxation. The Senate plan of discussion debate put two teams of eight members each into the field early in the season. After class room skirmishes, teams met Wyandotte here and Manual there in discussions before the assemblies. The right of interruption frequently exercised made possible direct clash of opinion and brought out a spontaneity and adaptability often missing in the more formal debate.

During the second term return debates were held with Manual here and Wyandotte there. The Westport team was composed of Charles Mauze, Willard Ethridge, John Lyon, David Skeer, and Roger Campbell, the latter a new member of the squad. The Wyandotte debate was held before the freshman assembly; the Manual debate before the public speaking and expression classes. By the end of the season the debaters had developed into veteran parliamentarians, and handled themselves affectively in this type of debate.

A twin bill with Rosedale featured two-man teams, using, however, the same question. Beverly Flater and David Skeer represented Westport on the affirmative and Charles Mauze and Jack McEvoy upheld the negative. This debate, held before members of the public speaking and expression classes in the Westport Auditorium, gave members of the squad an opportunity to prepare a longer and more carefully worked out discussion of the taxation question than is permissible by the Senate plan.

Public Speaking and Oratory

The leading event on the calendar of the speaker's year is, of course, the contest on orations on the Constitution, sponsored in this territory by the Kansas City Star. Six speakers competed in the Westport final contest, Jack McEvoy, Willard Ethridge, David Skeer, Hugh Wherritt, Charles Mauze, and Beverly Flater. The decision of the Judges, James Britt, attorney-at-law, David MacLean, attorney-at-law, and the Reverend Oliver W. Brackett, assistant pastor of the Westport Presbyterian Church, gave Charles Mauze first place and thus the right to represent Westport in the Convention Hall contest. Charles's ineligibility, incurred because he was carrying too many outside activities, caused the committee to declare him ineligible for further participation; and the mantle fell upon David Skeer with Beverly Flater second. David's speech, "The Human Rights of the Constitution," was well received at the contest in Convention Hall the night of April 7th, although he was not ranked in the first three places.

Two other activities deserve brief mention. In the Speech Arts oration contest David Skeer won first place, with Charles Mauze and Beverly Flater tying for second. In the public speaking contest open to all members of the public speaking classes, David Skeer received the decision of student and faculty judges, with Virginia Bergin second, Ruth Todd third, and Beverly Flater fourth. The winner received a copy of "Cyrano de Bergerac," presented by Dr. Reid.

The annual spring play was presented in the auditorium, May 5th and 6th by a cast composed of seniors. "Seven Chances," a delightful comedy, was well developed and showed the adaptability of the characters to their parts. The cast was ably assisted by Edwin Howard, stage manager; and William Duke, stage artist. The play was well received both evenings by a very appreciative audience.

Sergeant Archie Morris

SERGEANT ARCHIE MORRIS AT KRUFT, BY ANDERBACH, RHINELAND, GERMANY, 1918

Sergeant Morris' identification in the World War was: Sergeant A. Morris, R-1039052, Battery "F," 10th Field Artillery, 3rd Artillery Brigade, 3rd Division 3rd Corps, 3rd Army. In this war Sergeant Morris served in five major engagements in France, Belgium, and Germany.

His military record shows that he has served in the Artillery, Cavalry, National Guard, and Detached Service units of the army.

Sergeant Morris came to Westport in 1925 and has served as instructor in R. O. T. C. here since that date. During his service Westport has been an Honor School for four years. Westport has placed third in the rankings of the entire city, although the school has not had a colonel or a lieutenant-colonel.

Westport greatly appreciates what Sergeant Morris has done for it in a military way and wishes him success for the future.

Battalion Commanders

CADET MAJOR JACK SHAFER

SPONSOR MAJOR FAREL SWANSON

Major Jack Shafer was appointed by Sergeant Morris and a committee of teachers. Four captains were passed on by this committee, and Major Shafer was picked from this group to command the Westport Battalion. He is also a member of the Clay, Hi-Y and B. C. P. clubs.

The seniors in R. O. T. C. made the final selection of the Sponsor-Major. Their choice was Farel Swanson. The Westport Battalion is very proud to have Farel as their Sponsor-Major.

R. O. T. C. Cadet Officers

Middle Row: Lt. Milne, Lt. Jackson, Lt. Eppinger, Lt. Grant, Lt. Swain, Lt. Burkland, Capt. Davis, Capt. Miller.
Front Row: Capt. Montgomery, Capt. Cederland, Capt. Chisholm, Major Shafer, Capt. Horn Bostel, Capt. Scott, Capt. Ethridge.

R. O. T. C. Sponsor Officers

The sponsor officers of the Westport Battalion were: Sponsor Major Farel Swanson; Sponsor Captain Agnes Lee; Sponsor Captain Beth Whitney; Sponsor Lieutenant Helen Guffey, and Sponsor Lieutenant Dorothy Cooley.

The sponsors of this year are and have been very prominent in the activities of the school, and they have also established for themselves the reputations of definite personalities.

Major Farel Swanson, voted the most popular girl in the Senior Class, with her host of friends in Westport, brought to this majorship charm and distinction.

Captain Agnes Lee won the heart of every lowly sophomore, not to mention that of the most "Buddy Roger-like" captain in the army with her grace and friendship.

The dancing honors were unanimously awarded Captain Beth Whitney; who also would have won the beauty contest, had there been one.

Lieutenant Helen Guffey, the most talented and versatile of the sponsors, was the "life of the party" at all the gatherings.

Lieutenant Dorothy Cooley, the "fashion plate" of the crew, would have been an asset to any army, and the Westport Battalion was fully aware of this when it chose her as a sponsor.

Rifle Team

The rifle team of this year was composed of Major Shafer, Captain Ethridge, Captain Scott, 1st Lieutenant Jackson, and Corporal Sporn. The supernumary was Corporal Waren. Through the perseverance and patience of Sergeant Morris, these men were developed into a rifle team of which Westport was very proud. The Kemper Rifle Match stands out as the most successful match of the year. Entries for this match are drawn from many schools of surrounding states. Westport placed fifth in the entire match, and was beaten by only one high school in Kansas City. East beat us by seven points.

Captain Ethridge, through his superiority on the range, was entered in the National Match. This is quite an honor, and it is the first time that any Westport man has ever attained this skill.

Captain Scott excelled in the prone and sitting positions. He turned in a "possible", a score of 100 prone, and a 97 sitting. Major Shafer was very skilled in the kneeling position, turning in a 93. Captain Ethridge made the most remarkable showing of all, by shooting a 91 standing.

Major Shafer, Captain Ethridge, Captain Scott, and Lieutenant Jackson are all Expert Riflemen.

N. R. A.

The Westport N. R. A. is composed of cadets who wish to further the principles and fundamentals of rifle marksmanship. The Westport club is affiliated with the National Rifle Association.

Twisting Tiger Tales

A poem, a verse,
Or something worse,
A story, pun,
That's all in fun,
He laughs, he scorns,
Or even horns
Into an unknown secret,
He fears no one
And when it's done,
He turns the tables 'round
To mock at all,
To never stop
Until the cause is found,
And so, I introduce to you,
A creature lacking wails,
His name, it is not hard to guess,
Is dear old TIGER TALES.

Four of a Kind

How would you like to play this hand?
It's quite the best we know,
We should call out our high school band,
To help us tell you so.

First we see the Queen of Hearts,
Tho position's really hers,
For every boy that sees her starts,
And to her, his heart confers.

Then we see the Queen of Clubs,
A black-eyed vixen here,
Friend or foe she never snubs,
That's why she's such a dear.

Then we have the Queen of Gems,
And such is her acclaim,
The boys have given her diadems,
And we all know her name.

Next in line, the Queen of Spades,
Her hair is but one glory,
For beauty she rules all the maids,
And you've all heard her story.

And now that we've explained each trick,
And told you who is who,
Why don't you each one take a pick
To see just how you do.

"Our Boys"

PAT CURTIN

MR. TIBBALS

MR. BELL

In our school life we are brought in contact with a class of employees not as well known as the teachers; but who, by their contact with us in a less formal way, build up friendships that are well worth our consideration.

Mr. Tibbals, our head custodian and engineer, has been in Westport for twenty-five years. In that time he has made friends with the students by his interest in their school affairs and by his helpful suggestions in their problems. We are very glad to give him this space in our annual as a token of our regard and friendship.

Mr. Bell is another friend of long standing of the students. His duties as the fireman do not permit us to see him often, but on all occasions his smile and cheerful "hello" come easily and are sincere.

Pat Curtin is a true Irishman with all the good humor that goes with one. This good humor has made many friends of the students. Pat can take a joke, and he has that happy faculty of being able to "call" a roughneck without making enemies.

The other members of the efficient department under Mr. Tibbals are: H. O. Borland, assistant custodian; H. M. Elbert, assistant custodian; E. J. Johnson, assistant custodian; W. F. Pauletic, assistant custodian; Alfred Peters, assistant custodian; and P. J. Coon, night watchman.

The Office Force

Four people working day and night,
Striving to make the student's next day bright,
Dingee, Storr, Holloway, and Huhn.

Four martyrs striving for their cause,
Never daring to loiter, stop or pause,
Dingee, Storr, Holloway, and Huhn.

When we leave some day with regret,
These four people will be here yet,
Dingee, Storr, Holloway, and Huhn.

Now that I've sung my little tune,
I beg you to remember—
Dingee, Storr, Holloway, and Huhn.

—R. A. Shute

Told by a Fortune Teller

When a certain lady had guests not so long ago, the report came to me that one of them had the power to gaze into the future. I was fortunate enough to arrange a private sitting with her, and to my pleasant surprise, she kindly assented to glance into the future and foretell for me what was going to happen to certain young ladies and gentlemen in this institution.

Leaning back and closing her eyes, she transgressed time and began her recitation. She said, "I see—Tub Liston in a far-off land—it is—wait—now it comes to me, I see him in China, and he is talking to a group of people. The people are heathens, and he is a missionary!

"Now a slim girl with curls crowds him out of my vision. This slim girl is dancing, dancing, dancing to a wild tune; and now the greatest producer of all times himself comes forward and offers her flowers as his greatest jazz toe dancer. Her name, in Electric Lights it gleams, Lillian Muehlbach.

"Oh, red blinds my sight—what does this mean—it's a red-head girl shaking her head, now I understand—it's Wavelyn Young saying 'Yes' to Marvin,—no, Maurice.

"Someone in a tailored suit, someone caring for the poor; now she's padlocking a night club; at last the world will be saved from vice, by that great social worker, Farel Swanson.

"The papers are full of it. All about Beth Whitney and how she was named corespondent in a divorce suit. Tut! Tut! And to think she would alienate the affections of the husband of her best girl friend, Dorothy Cooley.

"Oh, I see bliss and happiness for Betty Raffel and her thirteen children. What a strict, yet lovable and tender mother she makes. And to think, ten are blonds, two are brunettes, and one red-head (!)!

"Westport has a new principal, Charles Mauze, with David Skeer as advisor of girls.

"Virginia McGavie and Bill Shaw are conducting a tour and teaching Life Saving, with B. A. Babb performing high dive exhibitions.

"The Crier has raised the salary of its ablest reporter, Guy Ford Hopkins, from $15.00 a month to $15.50. Note: This is the highest salary ever paid by this publication, and although the company is undergoing a great financial risk, they believe it worth while in this case.

"The best seller on the market: A book written by Margaret Dye, with a co-author, Bill Duke, entitled 'Texas, Steers and Stars'.

"If you want anything auctioned off, I know just the person, Mary Lou Arrowsmith, who is a renowned auctioneer, possessing such a loud, crisp voice.

"A chief of police, and a good one, too, is Bill Davis, for he caught the famous Walter Dean stealing hearts."

That was enough. I couldn't stand any more. And she was weary and heavy laden, so I bid her adieu and made my exit.

The Westport Cut-up

(With apologies to W. W. Longfellow)

Upon the trusty mourner's bench
The captured sophomore sits.
The soph, a nervous man is he;
Mr. Miller gives him fits;
And all his plans for mischiefness
Are surely on the fritz.

His hair is crisp and stands on end,
His face is white as chalk,
His brow is wet with cold, cold sweat,
He stutters in his talk.
He fears the worst and dreads the time,
When to his doom he'll walk.

Week in, week out, from morn till nite
You could hear him boast and blow;
You could hear him tell what he would do
When he'd to office go.
But his vaunted courage now is gone;
His morale is very low.

The students going home from school
Look in at the office door;
They laugh to see the trembling soph
Whose eyes are on the floor.
He vows he'll ne'er be caught again,
Nor trouble his teachers more.

He'll go on Sunday to the church
And sit among the boys;
He'll hear the parson pray and preach
And heed his warning voice;
He'll even sing in the church's choir
To make his teachers rejoice.

He hears a voice like a monster's call
(Tis but Mr. Miller.)
And he needs must go and learn again
How a perfect boy behaves.
Oh! He must go to study hall
And sweat with the other slaves.

For he's been justly sentenced
To toil five days a week
At Latin verbs, or conjugations
With ne'er a chance to sneak,
For Miss Fisher's there, with her ne'er
heard cry,
And he must sit there, meek.

Thanks! Thanks to thee, our suffering friend
For the lesson thou hast taught;
For just as sure as they caught you
We'll be as surely caught;
And by our sweating toil, our fun
Would be too dearly bought.

Writer—UNKNOWN.

Relics from Westport's Waste Basket

Dearest Mary Lou:

The reason I didn't hear the question was because I was looking at you. You're so beautiful I couldn't take my eyes off you. You're d— near gorgeous, and if anybody ever tries to take you away from me, Woe Be Unto Them, they'd better watch out.

Forever—IRVIN.

Darling Virginia:

What are you going to do Friday. If nothing, could I possibly be honored by your company? I have some things to talk to you about, I'd like to get them off my mind even if they are to no avail. You looked splendid at Theta, I like you in red, it suits you.

Could I bother you with my blase company to that uninteresting Senior Mixer, and now back to Friday night. Answer if my unappealing idea such as "Pan" has any trace of enthusiasm.—As ever, "WILLIE."

Frances Dear:

I know you'll probably pay no attention to me, but please tell me if you really care for Bill. I love you with all my heart and soul, but if you're already taken, please let me know and I'll bother you no longer.—Waiting, HERB.

Dear Agnes:

I sat and dreamed all through study hall about you. What is this potent charm you hold over my very thoughts? Do you affect all the boys in this mysterious manner, leaving them spell-bound? Perhaps it's the perfume you use. If so, please tell me its name, so I may saturate my room and self with it, so I may always dream that you are near me.—Love, ED.

Dearest Marion:

Why won't you go Sunday? I'm awfully sorry about last night, but I wrote that note to her ages ago, when I thought I liked her, but when I met you—believe me, dear, you're my one and only inspiration. Won't you change your mind and accompany me?

All my love—HARRY.

Dearest Farel:

What in the world do you mean by saying that you might not be able to go with me? You know that I couldn't enjoy myself with anybody else and surely you wouldn't go with somebody else when I asked you so long ago, would you?

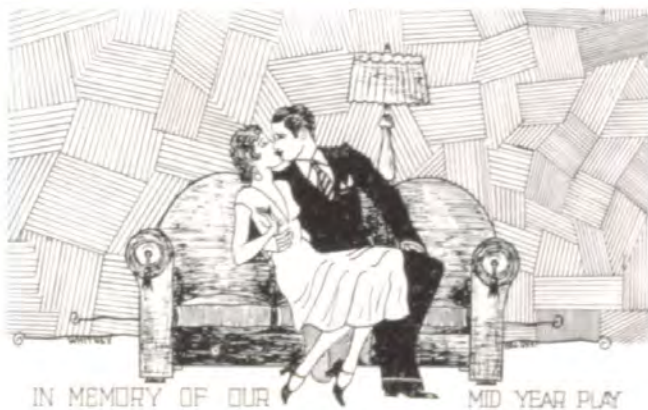

I've waited so long and patiently for this dance and I want to go so badly. Really, sweetheart, if I've made you angry about anything, I'm terribly sorry, won't you forgive me? Answer right away and don't keep me in suspense.—Oceans of love, BILL.

Margaret Darling:

Why is it that you never answer any of my notes? Don't you care even a little bit about me? I've loved you dearly ever since we were in that first play together, but you never have given me a tumble. If you don't want me hanging around, won't you tell me? I don't want to be a nuisance, but I do love you so.

I'll send this by Johnny since Shaefer is here today and I won't get to walk home with you.

I love you—WALTER.

A Personal Message to Westport Graduates of 1933:

Say what you will, this June marks an important event in the lives of every Westport graduate. Boys and girls of yesterday become young men and women of today.

Many important decisions are no longer left to "Mom and Dad"; but here is one idea that you will want the benefit of Dad's experience—when is the best time to get started on a life insurance program. Ask him and see if he doesn't say, "The earlier the better."

The State Mutual Life of Massachusetts is one of the oldest and strongest companies in America and it has just announced a special plan for students and young men and women in business. It provides money for you if you live—and protection for "the folks" if you meet with untimely death—at a rate that young people can easily afford.

May I send you a folder describing the plan? It tells just how much money you can get—when you can get it and how much it will cost. Write or phone—

Virginia had just done everything wrong, disregarded signal lights, made a prohibited left turn, and then stalled in the middle of the street. An irate traffic cop rushed up. "Say, lady," said he, "Do you know any thing at all about traffic regulations?"

Virginia: "Sure, what is it you wanted to know about?"

"Is Kansas City a healthful town?" asked a gentleman of a native.

"It sure is," replied the native. "When I came here I couldn't utter a word, I had scarcely a hair on my head. I hadn't strength to walk across the room, and had to be lifted from my bed."

"That's wonderful," replied the stranger. "How long have you been here?"

"I was born here," was the retort.

Herb Bivens: "I'm never happy unless I'm breaking into song."

Frances Hess: "Why don't you get the key? You wouldn't have to break in."

Dedicated to the Crier Staff

DECEASED MARCH 15, 1933

Here rusts, their heads upon the laugh of earth,
These reporters to fortune and to fame unblown.
Razzberries smiled upon their writing's mirth
And Mediocrity marked them for her own.
No longer seek some goodness to transpose
Or draw their judgment to a hide-bound rule
(There they, alike, in trembling fear repose)
The back seats of their study halls and school.

The Low Down

Absolute knowledge have I none,
But my aunt's washwoman's sister's son
Heard a policeman on his beat
Say to a laborer on the street
That he had a letter just last week,
Written in the finest Greek,
From a Chinese coolie in Timbuctoo
Who said that the Cubans in Cuba knew
Of a colored man in a Texas town
Who got it straight from a circus clown,
That a man in Klondike heard the news
From a gang of South American Jews,
And someone far in Borneo
Who heard a man who claimed to know
A swell society female fake
Whose mother-in-law will undertake
To prove that her husband's sister's niece
Has stated in a printed piece
That she has a son who has a friend
Who knows when the depression is going to end.
