SCHOOL LIFE

GUIDING US IN OUR SCHOOL LIFE

D. H. HOLLOWAY
Principal

As we near the end of another successful year of activities, the student body wishes to express its most sincere gratitude to Mr. Holloway, the ever friendly head of all the activities in Westport. It is he who has the final word on all studies, club activities, and other school affairs. It is he who guides students in their difficulties, scholastic or otherwise, who always has a kind or cheery word for everyone. It is he who confers Westport's scholastic honors upon those who have earned them, and encourages the rest of the student body to seek them. The thousand and one other things he superintends make him invaluable to Westport. It is the sincere hope of everyone in Westport that Mr. Holloway will continue to head our school, in work and in play, for many, many years.

RALPH S. HARRIS
Vice-Principal

Able assisting Mr. Holloway is our capable vice-principal. Mr. Harris assumed this position late last year after the death of Mr. Miller, and he has already won the confidence and admiration of our students.

Along with his numerous office duties, Mr. Harris teaches psychology and very skillfully puts his knowledge of this subject into practical use to win the friendship of the pupils, the faculty, and the parents. His opinions are respected and highly valued by faculty members, and he has proved himself to be understanding and helpful to those who come to him for aid in solving their various problems.

Mr. Harris is a hard, earnest worker, and Westport can look forward to many happy years with him as the co-pilot of our school's activities.

"Could you tell me where Suzy Smith is now?" "May I have an excuse card?" "May I go home?" "Is Mr. Holloway busy?" "May I use the telephone?" Thus passes the day for the office staff. Not only do they listen to all of the thousand and one questions which they encounter every day, but they actually know and give all the answers! They patiently and cheerfully answer all queries and send each questioner away satisfied not only with the answer, but with the courtesy and understanding manner in which it is offered. Besides doing all this, Miss Huhn and Miss Trogdon keep records on all classes, subjects, student personnel, scholastic ratings, attendance and tardy records, and all sorts of other records, permanent and temporary. They send information about seniors to colleges. They answer telephone calls, summon people to the office and act as secretaries to Mr. Holloway and Mr. Harris.

When you're undecided about which course to take, the number of credits you need to graduate, how to get in this or that subject, or what college to attend next year, where do you go and whom do you consult? Why, you go to the little office behind Mr. Holloway's and visit Miss McCaul, the school counselor. She is always ready to help the troubled student who comes to seek advice from her on any of a hundred or so subjects. Her kind demeanor and expert advice have aided many a student in making the right decision concerning his school course.

CLASSES IN ACTION

The most important purpose of this portion of our book is to provide a souvenir of high school classes for later years when the student of today is out in the world of business. Then, he will wish to recall his high school days, and he will turn to this section of the 1940 Herald to aid in his reminiscence.

The photographers of the Herald Staff have visited many classrooms and, to the best of their ability, have brought to you, the reader, a pictorial representation of the activities which take place in those classrooms every day. Along with the actual pictures are word-pictures designed to develop and portray more fully the various school departments. A sincere effort has been made to show all of the departments in action, but it was found impossible to visit every classroom. As you turn the various pages that follow, try to imagine yourself a member of the particular class you are observing. In looking over these pictures, we hope that you will also recall your own classes and the work that you have done in them similar to that portrayed in the pictures presented herein. Then you will appreciate the work of the instructor in developing his course, and you will realize the enjoyment that you have felt in working with your instructor and your fellow students.

This section should prove of value, not only in provoking memories, but in showing the outside public what occurs in Westport's classrooms and in helping the undergraduate select his course of study.

THE ENGLISH DEPARTMENT

The English Department in Westport has always been known for its high standards. Former Westport students, now in college, often express their gratitude for the excellent training they received in English while in our high school.

The courses offered in English are varied in subject matter. Three years are required for graduation; a fourth year is offered, but not required. In the freshman year and in the first half of the sophomore year, grammar and composition work are the main points stressed. In addition to this work either "Twelfth Night" or "Ivanhoe" is studied in the freshman year. An interesting sample of American literature is offered in the second semester of the sophomore year. After a semester of grammar and composition, the juniors spend their second semester in reading five or six books representing all phases of literature—poetry, essays, drama, biography, short stories, and the novel. Several of the books have been changed this year, and a new system has been inaugurated whereby the school purchases these books and the students rent them for a nominal sum. An intensive study of the novel and of English literature occupies the time of those enrolled in senior English.

THE WESTPORT CRIER

Seniors enrolled in newswriting comprise the editorial staff of the Westport Crier. Superior grades in English, adaptability, and a willingness to perform a variety of special duties are the chief requirements for admission to the class.

Through the columns of the school paper the members of the staff strive to give an accurate and interesting portrayal of the varied activities of the student body. The Crier preserves vigorously a policy of giving real news precedence over everything else and definitely refuses to "play up" mere personalities and unimportant events.

The class follows a scheduled plan of work. Besides covering his special assignments, each pupil writes editorials, feature articles, brevities, and items for the "Clock" column. The selling of space in the paper to advertisers is an important part in the journalism course. A textbook and exchange papers from all parts of the country furnish material for the study of the style and technique employed in various types of newswriting.

The Crier Staff this year was composed of Adele Hutterer, Helen Vassiliades, Dorothy Cox, George Strosnider, Calvin Weiss, Walter Root, James A. Smith, Elinore Owen, Billie Jo Kelley, Dorothy Mallett, Helen Frischer, Deaun Wiggins, Betty Moore, Bill Petrie, and Barbara Boyer. Definite staff positions were not announced because no individual has worked at one specific job all year.

MATHEMATICS AND SOCIAL SCIENCE DEPARTMENTS

While only one year of mathematics is required for graduation, four years are offered to the Westport student. Applied mathematics and first year algebra are offered during the freshman year. Geometry may be taken following one year of algebra. Second year algebra is studied in the third year, with trigonometry and solid geometry offered to the fourth year student.

A wide range of study is allowed the student in history. Four years of this subject are offered. The Story of Civilization is a course in world history from the time of the stone age till the present. American history, offered in the junior and senior years, is the story of the development of the United States as a nation from the pioneer days in the British colonies until today, when it stands as a powerful nation of the world. Economics, a study of the financial side of nations and governments, and sociology, a study of people and social problems, may be enrolled in during the senior year. Three years' work in the social science department is required for graduation.

Map study is a vital part of history work.

THE LANGUAGE DEPARTMENT

The Language Department this year has offered courses in Latin, French, Spanish, and German. Work in a language is not required for graduation, but it is highly recommended. Bernell Tucker, a senior enrolled this year in Virgil, says, "Latin has been a 'life-saver' to me during my four years of high school work. In every course I took, I found some connection between Latin and that course. Latin helped me in my typing, in the dividing of a word into syllables, and in transcribing my shorthand notes by simplifying the spelling and use of difficult words. My understanding of English grammar was greatly clarified and my vocabulary was greatly increased by my knowledge of Latin. Scientific terms and geometric terms were simplified for me because of my Latin training. I have been helped by Latin in history because of my knowledge of early Roman history gained from the study of Latin.

Latin literally "pulled me through" the College Aptitude Test. My grades were raised from an "M" to a high "S" in high school, all, in my opinion, because of my Latin. Moreover, I am no outstanding exception. Anyone, with just one year of Latin carefully studied, can reap a real benefit. If one goes on and takes four years of Latin, he is bound to gain a much better understanding of life in general, just because he can find so many things in Latin and Roman history that are exactly like the present time and that really give a better philosophy of life. Take my advice, and take Latin!!!"

Study of the modern languages is also of great value. It is regrettable that German must be discontinued next year, but it is to be hoped that the enrollment in French and Spanish will increase proportionately.

THE SCIENCE DEPARTMENT

Scientists in the making! Included in the Westport curriculum are many sciences, some of which are pictured here. Fitted in with the regular teaching schedule are laboratory experiments, field trips, and interesting class discussions. The classes often witness motion pictures along scientific lines that help develop more thoroughly certain parts of their courses. The science department uses the motion picture projectors more in the classroom than does any other department. Two years of work in the science department are required for graduation; one year must be either general science or biology; the other may be zoology, botany, physiology and psychology, physiography, chemistry, physics, or senior science, according to the student's desire. Perhaps the pictures below will show you some of the practical application of the various science courses.

DOMESTIC AND FINE ARTS DEPARTMENTS

Departments of much immediate practical value to the student are the foods, clothing, and arts departments. The subjects are not required, but they are important to the welfare of every student. Three years of work are offered in each subject.

All phases of the subject of foods are studied, including budgeting, the wise selection of foods in marketing, balancing menus, the types of foods to serve on different occasions, and the preparation of all kinds of foods in every way possible to prepare them. Last year a class in "boys' problems" was organized. It met with such instantaneous and complete success that it has been continued this year and will probably become a permanent class.

In clothing girls learn many facts about materials and the making of clothes. After studying the textures and uses of the various materials, the girls make many useful articles, ranging from towels to graduation dresses. Many girls make all of their own clothes in their clothing class.

Many branches of art may be studied during the three years in which it is offered. The first year deals with the fundamentals of lettering, painting, pencil sketching, charcoal work, poster making, and perspective work. Costume art may be taken in place of art 3 and 4. In the third year, crafts or interior decorating may be studied.

THE INDUSTRIAL ARTS DEPARTMENT

The Industrial Arts Department offers to boys and girls the opportunity to use their hands in developing practically anything that they may desire. In woodwork classes the boys materialize from wood all sorts of furniture and fixtures. The metals shop was opened to the girl students at the beginning of the year. Undesirous of making the same things that the boys do, the girls enrolled for metal make decorative lamps, bracelets, and other pieces of jewelry. The boys in metal work build lathes, drill presses, other pieces for home workshops, and even tools for their own use. The drafting classes are for both boys and girls also, and on any fair day, you may see students out making blueprints or surveying ground, all as a part of the regular course. As you may note, the girls are rapidly striving for girls' industrial arts classes and have entered all shops but the wood shop. This, the last stronghold of boys' industrial arts, may soon fall.

THE COMMERCIAL DEPARTMENT

Westport's commercial department has prepared many excellent typists and stenographers for the business world. The department is noted for the fine training that it gives in typing, shorthand, and bookkeeping. The results of this superb instruction, under our very capable teachers, Mr. Van Horn, Miss Card, Miss Totten, Miss Shelley, Mr. Carmicheal, Mr. Kirker, and Mr. Fristoe, may be readily seen in the excellent showing made by their students in the State Commercial Contest. The novice practical typing team, composed of Ed Epstein, Shirley Polk, and Elinore Owen, all first-year students, received first place. The amateur practical typing team, David Kelly, Albert Doerschuk, and June Clifton, also took first place, while David Kelly placed first among individual second-year typists. The beginning shorthand team duplicated this feat of taking first-place honors; a member of the team, Jimmy Frank, tied for first-place individual honors. The team was composed of Jimmy Frank, Albert Doerschuk, and Bernell Tucker. There was no advanced shorthand team in competition, but Lillian Sandy placed third among individuals. The bookkeeping team, composed of Ellis Young, Frances Rains, and Thomas Stroud, took second place. Westport tied with Belton for school honors, although Belton received the loving cup on points.

THE SPEECH DEPARTMENT

Westport's speech department, under the direction of Miss Alicia Keeler and Mr. Edwin King, two extremely capable instructors, has become one of the most efficient departments of its kind in the city.

The expression classes are instructed in the rudiments of acting by the skillful Miss Keeler. Her classes have learned to recite poetry with the proper inflection and expression. They have studied the technique displayed in various plays, and have tried their own ability in this art. The most enjoyable work of the class came when they put their newly acquired knowledge into action and presented short plays before the other members of the class.

In Mr. King's public speaking classes, the students first tried out their ability along this line with miscellaneous speeches. Each student was allowed to choose the subject which he would like to discuss relating to a general subject given to the class. They were given from three to five minutes to discuss a trip, an activity, or give a demonstration. The class was next taught the fine points of debating, and several teams were sent to participate in debates with other schools, after having participated in several debates in class. Panel discussions followed and were in turn followed by original orations. After several contests, Kenneth Bigus was selected to represent Westport in the city Constitutional Oration Contest. A radio unit was worked upon next, and the students enjoyed preparing and giving radio skits.

"THE PATSY"

A Comedy in Three Acts

by BARRY CONNERS

In "The Patsy," Westport once more has shown its ability in the dramatic field. The play, so ably directed by Miss Alicia Keeler, revolves around the maneuvers of Patricia Harrington to win the affections of her elder sister's discarded fiance, Tony Anderson.

Patricia has always been the underpup of the family. Grace, the favored one, engaged to wealthy Billy Caldwell, is encouraged by her socially ambitious mother. Pop, hen-pecked, good-natured Bill Harrington, learns that Pat is in love with Tony, who thinks he loves Grace. Pat skillfully finds out from Tony himself how to win a man, while Tony thinks he is giving the advice to win another. His recipe works beautifully, and Tony falls into his own trap. During the course of the third act, Pop asserts himself as head of the Harrington family.

There was clever dialogue throughout the play, and each part was well cast.

"JUNE MAD"

A Comedy in Three Acts

by FLORENCE RYERSON AND COLIN CLEMENTS

"June Mad" is a lively story of fifteen year old Penny Wood, a small-town girl who is torn between two desires, one to stay a little girl and go fishing, and the other to grow up and be a lady. The first desire is encouraged by Chuck Harris, the boy next door, and the other by Roger van Fleck, her uncle's guest from "New York and Miami."

Realism was furnished by kindly Dr. Wood and charming, gracious Mrs. Wood, the typical modern mother. Comedy was plentifully supplied by little Millie Lou's innocent attempts to make Mervyn, many years her senior, fall in love with her, while Mervyn loved beautiful Julie Harris, Chuck's big sister. Effie, the Wood's cook, and her ever-showing petticoat, added to the hilarity. Romance was furnished by smooth Roger van Fleck, who won the hearts of Penny and Julie, until they realized his insincerity. Drama was afforded by Chuck and Elmer, the hired man, who flew Chuck's home-made glider into the lake and were believed lost.

However, all ended as it should, and "June Mad" was a supreme success, with the congratulations due Mr. King, its fine director, and the outstanding double cast.

Westport may well be proud of its excellent band. These eighty fine players have devoted many extra hours to practice so that our student body might be proud of its band. Mr. Keenan has worked untiringly to make the Westport band second to none. At football games, basketball games, assemblies and concerts this organization has proved its superior ability.

This year, if Westport was to hold its leadership among bands, new uniforms were absolutely necessary. The old uniforms had been in service for ten years. By the untiring efforts of the Melody Booster Club these new uniforms were secured. They are truly the finest uniforms available for any high school band.

With the invaluable assistance of Mr. Beeman the band has been able to make great strides in its field of activities. Mr. Beeman has been eagerly accepted by the members as Mr. Keenan's assistant.

THE ORCHESTRA

As in previous years, Westport may well be proud of its fine orchestra. Through the untiring efforts of Mr. Keenan, this group of sixty players has brought honor to the name of Westport countless times. Because of outstanding work, the orchestra was asked to play two programs over a national radio hook-up. The orchestra gave an outstanding performance at the biennial concert given by the instrumental groups, the proceeds from which aid in repairing instruments and purchasing new instruments and music.

The Melody Boosters Club, organized three years ago, has also given invaluable service in providing the equipment necessary to a top-ranking group. The orchestra has played for numerous school functions and welcomes the opportunity of playing before an audience. We are anticipating a high rating for this accomplished group at the National Music Contest to be held in Kansas City, May 9-11.

The members of the orchestra wish to take this opportunity to thank Mrs. Keenan for her helpful assistance in our undertakings this year.

DRUM MAJORETTES

Betty Shannon, Signal Major

Sally Lyon

Dorothy Walrod

The girls of the Drum Corps, who have been performing for two years, are still the center of attention at many athletic performances, with their snappy Scotch uniforms, intricate formations, and precision of timing. It is indeed a sight to see the thirty-three drummerettes, led by two baton-twirling majorettes and one signal majorette, march out on the playing field in perfect formation. After breaking ranks, they form the spokes of several wheels and rotate while playing. The acrobatic drum-majorettes draw much applause with their difficult back-bends and cartwheels. This corps has greatly strengthened Westport's position among musical organizations.

SWISS FLAG SWINGERS

Westport leads again! We're the envy of all other schools with our new Swiss Flag Swingers. Not only Westport, but all Kansas City, is proud of them, with their beautiful new uniforms and adept flag-swinging technique. Each flag represents a Kansas City high school, with the initial and the background carried out in the school colors. The flags are swung in unison to the tune of "Moonlight Madonna." Many difficult gyrations are performed, and the flags are flung high into the air and caught upon their descent. Westport feels a justifiable pride in these performers.

STATE MUSICAL CONTEST RESULTS

Again Westport received top honors in the annual state musical contest at Columbia, Missouri. The soloists received top ranks in virtually every contest entered. Those taking first rank at the state contest will be eligible to enter the National Contest in Kansas City on May 9, 10, and 11. At this time these persons will compete with first rank winners from eight other states. We extend our heartiest congratulations to these excellent musicians, and hope that they may duplicate their superior accomplishments in May. Following are the contestants and their ratings:

A CAPPELLA CHOIR

The A Cappella Choir has built up a reputation around Westport as a fine musical organization. The credit for this is due Mr. Harling A. Spring, whose capable direction has gained for him wide recognition.

The choir has given programs during many as-semblies; unique among these were a farmer assembly and a Stephen Foster program. It has presented concerts at schools, churches, and P. T. A. meetings, and has been heard on the radio four times, once on a national hookup. The choir also has furnished soloists, quartettes, and small groups of singers whenever requested.

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB

The Girls' Glee Club of Westport is an organization of long standing and wide renown. These girls specialize in all types of concert numbers, from colorful folk songs to deeply stirring hymns.

Members of this organization must have superior musical ability, being required to produce good tones, memorize, and sight read as part of their training. Each girl at some time is given individual instruction by her competent director, Mr. Spring, thus enabling her to achieve higher perfection.

In their long blue skirts and new white blouses these girls present a delight to the eye as well as to the ear.

The Junior Class election was held at the same time and in the same manner as the Senior election this year. After turning in nomination petitions, containing seventy-five signatures, to the Junior advisors, Mr. Cutting and Miss Hayden, the candidates were reduced to fifteen in number in a primary election. In the final election five candidates were checked by each voter as being worthy of the high honor of being an officer of the class.

The results of this election showed the good judgment of the Junior Class, for they elected very capable officers. Harold Clark received the highest number of votes and was accordingly named president. He is a corporal in the R. O. T. C., and secretary of Clay Literary Society. Tom Glasscock, vice-president, is a member of the Swiss Flag Swinging Corps in the Band, and also is a Clay. Jean Wilcox, secretary, is a member of Promethean Literary Society and Speech Arts. Betty Dodge, treasurer, and Nancy Whitnell, Sergeant-at-Arms, are both Pundits, and Nancy is also a member of Speech Arts. Calvin Curts, Marjorie Sanders, Eugene Shearer, and Charles McKay were chosen to serve on the business committee.

The Junior Class gave a class mixer in April, which was enjoyed by all who attended it.

The entire class is extremely grateful for the assistance of its competent advisors, Mr. Cutting and Miss Hayden.

SOPHOMORE SENATE

The Sophomore Senate is a much less formal body than either the Junior or Senior Class Business Committees. It is composed of twelve sophomores chosen by the class sponsors, Miss Youngs, Miss Grube, and Mr. Crocker, for their dependability, their scholastic rating, and their leadership within their class. The real functions of the organization are to familiarize the sophomores with the school and school activities, to instill in them a school loyalty, and to acquaint them with as many members of their class as possible by giving mixers at which they may come to know each other better. The proceeds from these mixers are distributed among the various departments of the school where there is need of money to purchase something essential to the welfare of the school and of the students. Most of the profits from the first mixer this year were generously given to the school for the decoration of the stage during the Christmas season, which act was heartily appreciated by all. This mixer, given in the fall, was enjoyed by all who attended it. Another mixer is being planned by the Senate for sometime during the month of May.

The members of the Senate are Jane Block, Isabel Frush, Peggy Miner, Betty Beets, Lois Weiford, Barbara Ann Burbridge, Godfrey Isaac, William Ege, William Longmoor, Bronck Labunski, John Harrison, and Bruce Joseph. There are no officers as in the Junior and Senior Classes. The entire Senate works together on all projects, with a presiding chairman maintaining parliamentary procedure. Peggy Miner has served as chairman during the past year.

The Senate has done a very good job of making the Sophomores an integral part of the school, and of instilling in them the school spirit which they will have much need of during their junior and senior years.

Peggy Miner, Godfrey Isaac, Betty Beets, William Longmoor, Jane Bloch, William Ege.

The Senate in session with Peggy Miner presiding.

John Harrison, Barbara Burbridge, Isabel Frush, Lois Weiford, Bruce Joseph, Bronck Labunski.

THE HERALD STAFF

A new plan was followed this year in selecting the Herald staff. From the many applicants it was decided to choose only a few at the beginning of the year, and to add others as they should be needed. After considering scholastic records, personal rating records, teachers' recommendations, and activity loads, Miss Bonney, advisor, selected four applicants as a Herald staff nucleus. Jack Seibel, Mildred Lane, Warren Larson, and Mary Munson started the year and later were appointed Editor-in-Chief, Senior Editor, Business Manager, and Clubs Editor, respectively. Ray Luhnnow joined the staff in October as Photographer and later became the Assistant Editor. Shortly before the close of the first semester, Phyllis Dana and Betty Wile were added to take care of the School Life section, and Betty Glenn was chosen to write the 1940 Tiger Tales. Finally, Frank Mallin and Dottie Mallett were appointed to represent the Herald to prospective advertisers.

All members have worked hard at their jobs, and special recognition is due another person, not a staff member, but a willing worker. Roy Peterson, darkroom assistant, has worked long and hard at his job without complaint. To this fellow, the staff owes their deepest appreciation for the help he has given Ray in the developing and printing of pictures.

THE ART STAFF

The Art Staff this year was composed of Marjorie McVey, Joan Wood, John Kohn, and Rodney Stewart, who were under the supervision of Miss Wilhite. The Art Editor, Marjorie McVey, won the cover design contest.

FIRST SEMESTER STUDENT COUNCIL

President .....	Walter Root
Vice-President .....	Betty Glenn
Secretary .....	Charles McKay
Treasurer .....	Elizabeth Humphreys

EXECUTIVE BOARD

Walter Root, Betty Glenn, Phyllis Dana, Nancy Whittell, Charles McKay, Elizabeth Humphreys, Peggy Miner, Norton Rixey, Barbara Burbridge.

The first semester Student Council, striving for coordination and closer cooperation between the pupils and the faculty in the activity program of our school, achieved its goal with the most satisfactory results.

The major enterprise for the first semester was the improvement of conditions in the cafeteria. Our problems were brought up and discussed at a meeting attended by Mr. Mueller, Assistant Secretary, School District, who effected the desired changes, with the assistance of the council committee.

At Christmas an all-school mixer was sponsored by the Student Council for the first time in the Council's history. The admission price was a toy in good condition, or a can of food. The proceeds were sent to a charitable institution.

Music was furnished by a W.P.A. negro orchestra. The dance was well attended, and enjoyed by all.

The traditional Christmas tree which adorned the front hall a few days prior to the holidays was purchased from student donations and decorated by the Executive Board.

The Student Council promoted better school spirit at the football and basketball games. It secured more cheerleaders, and urged the student body to support them in the best Westport style. In future years, the cheerleaders will be elected by the Pep Club rather than by a faculty committee.

Another new plan provides for selected student salesmen who will handle the activity ticket sales, a program which should greatly increase the activity fund.

SECOND SEMESTER STUDENT COUNCIL

President .....	Fred von Dorn
Vice-President .....	Dottie Mallett
Secretary .....	Virginia Luthy
Treasurer .....	John Asher

EXECUTIVE BOARD

Fred von Dorn, Dottie Mallett, Virginia Luthy, John Asher, Harold Clark, Nancy Whitnell, Peggy Miner, Jane Rieger, Bronck Labunski.

Another year at Westport has come to an end, and the Student Council feels that it has helped make that year a memorable one.

The most important activity of the second semester council was the organization and presentation of an assembly in the interest of the ten-mill tax levy. This assembly, planned and presented by the council members, included student speakers, and was enthusiastically received by the student body.

When the annual Vocational Conference was held at Westport on April 4, the guides, hosts, hostesses, and couriers, sponsored by the Student Council, helped make the event successful.

The officers attended the several Inter-School Council meetings held throughout the year at various High Schools. 1940 is the third year for the Inter-School Council, and it shows promise of being very influential in the student activities of the future.

Westport has cause to be proud of its Student Council. During the years, it has promoted school spirit and has succeeded in upholding Westport's high standards.

The Student Council's success in all its endeavors is due in large measure to its advisor, Miss Shelley. Her untiring efforts and excellent advice have enabled us to carry on in true Westport style.

Assemblies

"Homecoming" assembly, when Mr. Holloway, Walter Root, and Phyllis Dana welcomed back to Westport such "old-grads" as Chuck Richardson, David Skeer, Lou Dickey Baucus, Ann Carlton Logan, Clarence Hewlett, and Meredith Brewer . . . The American Royal visitors, Ivon Kindsche and Norman Kruse, interviewed by Walter Root . . . Singing the school loyalty song at assemblies . . . The "down-on-the-farm" medley of songs by Mr. Spring and the A Cappella choir.

Westport's assembly programs reached a new high in entertainment this year! An activity assembly opened the season, showing in striking fashion the variety of entertainment offered to the students on the activity ticket. A portrayal of the fun and excitement to be had at the football and basketball games, at the plays, and in the Crier and the Herald convinced many students of the value of the activity ticket. In the second assembly the cheer-leaders and the band cooperated to encourage school spirit at the football games. A "coming-out" program introduced our flag-swingers in the first performance of its kind in the city. The new club presidents extolled the merits of their various organizations, and Margaret Brewer sang charmingly. Late in October the farm came in for its share of publicity when Walter Root presented the Star Farmer of America, Norman Kruse of Nebraska, and the Wisconsin state president of the F. F. A., Ivon Kindsche. Mr. Spring and his vocal students closed the program with an entertaining medley of farm songs. At the Honor assembly Westporters received recognition for distinction in scholarship. In a Stephen Foster presentation, Foster's songs and a skit based on his life were enacted. The W. P. A. orchestra's delightful concert, the interesting talks of the "Homecoming" assembly, the excellent sample of the band and orchestra concert, the technicolor film on South and Central America, the Student Council's introduction of the school tax problem, and the Herald's quiz session on school affairs were other features of the year's assemblies.

Mixers

Mary Jane Coberly, Bob Gould, Doris Johnson, and Lynn Chinn pause a moment for the Herald photographer . . . The law of perpetual motion as demonstrated by Mr. Miner and Martha Beets . . . David Kelley and Calvin Weiss "mastering the ceremonies" . . . Workers Playing Around at the Student Council mixer . . . Presenting Wes Davenport and Marg Golding . . . "Who next?"

"Swing's the thing" at Westport's mixers, and this year Westport has had an unprecedented number of these informal dances in the girls' gym.

The Auto Club started the season in grand style, with the music furnished by Ye Olde Nickelodeon. Then the sophomores gave a Sadie Hawkins Day mixer, for which Daisy Mae and L'il Abner were imported direct from Dogpatch. At Christmas time, the Student Council sponsored a mixer, the admission price being a canned food or a toy. These were sent to a needy institution.

During the second semester, the Auto Club again led off the parade with a very successful "jam session" for the "rug-cutters" and "jitter-bugs." On St. Valentine's Day, the Hi-Y sponsored the "good time that was had by all." Then the Girl Reserves came forth with the first public address system for their "get-together." The band and orchestra next gave a mixer to help pay for their dazzling new uniforms. Later, the monitors and S. G. Men attended an exclusive session at which refreshments were served to all. The Junior Class wound up the year with a super afternoon and a promise for more mixers next year.

THE MONITOR STAFF

The monitor staff is part of the student government system at Westport. Sixty-three monitors have been appointed to keep order in the cafeteria and on the stairs during the lunch hour. The staff is divided into three sections, each section serving one lunch period. It is their duty to see that the proper conduct is maintained in the cafeteria. They also prevent undue noise on the stairs during the transit of the pupils between their classes and the cafeteria. It is to this organization that the students of Westport owe their gratitude for many of the privileges that they enjoy, for the monitors restrain those few who would destroy the privileges of the entire student group.

The monitor staff has worked under the direction of Mr. Evans, who was assisted first semester by Miss Van Neman and Miss Lash, and second semester by Mr. Carmichael and Mr. Kennedy.

PARENT-TEACHER ASSOCIATION

1940 EXECUTIVE BOARD

Front row, left to right—Mrs. C. K. Harris, Mrs. Charles W. Gerard, Mrs. Ben Kilmer, Mrs. J. Howard Hart, Mrs. D. D. Bonewits, Mrs. Graham Asher, Mrs. John P. Kohn.

Second row—Mrs. Max Williams, Miss Velma Shelley, Mrs. T. F. Gardner, Mrs. D. M. Dodds, Mrs. George Aikin, Mrs. W. E. Hildebrand, Mrs. J. Erle Longmoor, Mrs. William S. Spicer.

Back row—Mrs. Raymond Luhnnow, Mrs. Virgil R. Porter, Mrs. R. C. Southall, Mr. Holloway, Mrs. L. L. McBurney, Mrs. A. C. Pennington, Mrs. E. W. Sheets.

By carrying out the purpose of the Westport Parent-Teacher Association, namely the welfare of students, this year's organization has completed another year in the field of service and duty.

Several fine guest speakers were invited to address the P. T. A. this year. Notable among these were Mr. O. H. Day of Manual High and Vocational School, who spoke on "Facing the Future in Vocations;" the Reverend Richard Trelease, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, who talked on "Youth and the Larger Citizenship"; and Miss Louise Abney of Teacher's College, who discussed "Achieving Desirable Personality." These informative talks were accompanied by interesting discussions among members in the audience. The speeches were very enlightening and were greatly appreciated by all those who attended the meetings.

Other excellent programs were provided by the music of the Westport orchestra, the A Cappella choir, and student soloist Margaret Brewer, accompanied by Bruce Joseph. Their renditions added extra flavor and zest to the enjoyable meetings.

This year the Parent-Teacher Association has made many worthy contributions to various needy and deserving organizations. Arrangements for the Senior Dance of this spring are under the supervision of Mrs. John P. Kohn.

Mrs. C. B. Shaeffer has given much of her time and energy to making the P. T. A. more efficient and active throughout the year. The success of the activities she has directed has encouraged the members of the group to continue their efforts in 1940-41.

The members of the oldest organization for boys in Westport, the Clay Literary Society, feel proud of their club's activities for the year 1939-'40. Clay's success in striving for the development of forensic talents, leadership and character is shown by the fact that among its members are many of those prominent in the school's varied activities. Space does not permit a detailed account, but among the honors which Clay members have received are: editor-in-chief of the Herald, president of Student Council, president of Hi-Y, president and vice-president of the Junior Class, officers of the Senior Class, and the highest ranking student in the college aptitude test throughout Kansas City.

The honor of Clay beauty queen was bestowed this year upon Mildred Lane, president of the Senior Class. She was chosen for her charm, personality, and talents.

The club wishes to express deep and sincere gratitude to Miss Cook, who has so ably served as our sponsor.

Our aim is improvement; our goal is achievement. We feel that in the light of these, this year has been truly successful.

IRVING LITERARY SOCIETY

As the season of 1939-'40 closes, so closes another successful year for the Irving Literary Society.

The sincere purpose of Irving is to broaden our interest in literature, and to create a better friendship among all members. We have lived up to our ideals in that many members have participated in inter-high school debates, oratorical contests, and literary contests.

We are extremely proud that our first semester president, Kenneth Bigus, succeeded in winning the city oratorical contest sponsored by the American Legion.

We feel indeed fortunate in securing as our beauty queen Martha Dee Benson, whose charming personality is exceeded only by her beauty.

To Mr. Ward, who again has been our sponsor, we extend our deepest gratitude and appreciation for his loyal guidance, enabling us to maintain our high standards.

The Promethean Literary Society has passed an eventful year and is proud of its accomplishments. Its members have ranked high in dramatics, music, athletics, and scholastics, and their entries rated considerable merit in the Inter-Society Literary Contest. All the members have tried to live up to the ideals and standards of the club as expressed in the motto, "Look upward, not down; look forward, not back, and lend a hand." Like the great fire god, Prometheus, from whom we take our name, we are striving to give a certain fire or vital bit of life to mankind.

We are proud to have for beauty queen, Kathryn Bonewits, who was chosen not only for her beauty but because we feel she upholds the spirit and ideals of Promethean. We chose as our Beau Brummell, Rodney Stewart, an Irving.

Miss Junkin has been our helpful and loyal advisor this year, and we wish to take this opportunity to thank her for her splendid guidance and cooperation.

The Irving-Promethean dance was one of the highlights of the year, and promises to go down in Westport's history for its originality.

1940—Pundit at its best! This year each member of Pundit has done her share to fulfill our desire to "weigh, consider, and express" the finest ideals of literary expression.

In retrospect, we may point with pride to those Pundits who took their places as leaders in various school activities. Many of the class officers, Herald executives, Student Council leaders, scholars, debaters, actresses, musicians, and contest winners were Pundits.

Pundit's sponsorship of the Inter-Society Literary Contest for poetry, short stories, and essays again proved our desire to fulfill the signification of our name, which means "Wise Hindu." Entertainment reigned supreme at the formal dance given with the Clay Literary Society. The tea given for the Promethean Literary Society also afforded an afternoon of pleasure for all.

Our beauty queen, Phyllis Dana, is indeed the personification of Pundit's ideals, charm, personality, and versatility.

Acting as our sponsor, Miss Secrest has exemplified friendship, leadership, and graciousness, qualities for which we all may well strive.

Forty years ago Round Table, the oldest literary society now in Westport, was founded. With King Arthur and his knights and ladies of the Round Table as our inspiration, our creed has become, "Live pure, speak true, right wrong, follow the king, else wherefore born."

Since 1900 a parade of members has brought honor to this society in high scholastic achievement, top ranking in R. O. T. C., Senior Class offices, participation in school plays and editorship of the Crier.

In recognition of Round Table's fortieth birthday, a coronation ball was given, at which Frank Eaton and Billie Jean Burks presided as king and queen. Their genial and sincere personalities personify our conception of ideal leadership. We know our charming queen and amiable king will always be revered in the eyes of all.

We are indeed grateful to Mr. Miner, our advisor, for his invaluable influence and guidance throughout the past year.

Westport's speech and drama club closes a profitable and successful seventeenth year. Loyal club members aim to attain not only frequent and enthusiastic participation in programs, but 100% attendance, knowledge of and adherence to correct parliamentary procedure, and friendly cooperation.

Fall programs opened in October with a one-act play, "Introducing Launcelot." In November new members presented three one-act plays. The "Maker of Dreams" in three scenes was directed by Kathryn Bonewits. The Christmas play, "Dust of the Road," was presented in December by Betty Coffman, Charles Goff, Harry Page and John Banta.

The spring programs began in February with the Tenth Annual Patriotic Oration Contest in which Harry Flapan won first; Charles Goff and Betty Coffman, second. March brought the test in parliamentary law. Seniors won by a sweep of three to one with Frank Mallin first, Charles Goff and Leone Seaton second. Eugene Benus was high junior and Everett Maze high sophomore. New members presented a one-act play, "Figs and Dates." April programs consisted of scenes from Shakespeare and a poetry reading contest, a feature new this year.

Samuel Pierce, a charter member of the club, returned to give an illustrated lecture on "Hamlet." The club thanks the advisor, Miss Keeler, for her advice and generous help.

JULES GUERIN ART CLUB

The members of Jules Guerin Art Club feel that under the able guidance of Miss Wilhite, who has been sponsor since the club's organization in 1922, the purpose of Jules Guerin has been fulfilled. This purpose is to further interest in art and all things related to it.

One of the most interesting programs of the year was an informal talk on tempera painting by Mr. James Roth of the William Rockhill Nelson Art Gallery.

The masterpiece of the month at the Nelson Art Gallery has long been recognized as an outstanding feature, while the masterpiece of the week at Westport is a new idea. This chosen piece is selected from the work of all the art classes. There are approximately forty masterpieces a year exhibited in Westport's front hall.

Every year a majority of contestants in the Herald Cover design contest are Jules Guerin members. Posters for clubs, plays and school activities are contributed by members.

As the senior Jules Guerin members go out after a successful year, they leave behind many others, equally talented, to carry on the standards of the club.

This year B. C. P. inaugurated a new policy. At the start of the second semester it was decided to make visits to commercial plants and factories an important part of the club program. In accordance with this plan, members visited bakeries, dairies, and other places of interest to members of a science club. Other programs consisted of scientific games led by the vice-president, talks on scientific topics, and demonstrations by students.

In addition to the educational activities, the club members enjoyed a Christmas party and an annual May picnic. At both of these functions all members of the club thoroughly enjoyed themselves. This year, as in previous years, B. C. P. offered its services to the school by selling tickets for both the fall and the spring plays.

When B. C. P. was founded in 1910 it was limited to Botany, Zoology, and Physiology. However, in 1919, when the club was reorganized, it was enlarged so that it now includes all the sciences taught at Westport, namely: Biology, Botany, Chemistry, Physics, Physiography, Physiology, Psychology, and Zoology.

Miss Bechtel deserves the thanks of each member of B. C. P. She ably assisted the club and its officers in successfully carrying out the varied activities of the year. The club as a whole hopes that Miss Bechtel has obtained as much enjoyment in working with us as we have had in working with her.

ALPHA LYRA

Alpha Lyra music club was organized in Westport for the advancement of friendships among vocal and instrumental students, and for the promotion of musical participation and appreciation.

Our sponsor, Mr. Spring, gives sympathetic guidance in all activities of the club. His encouragement has helped many students to greater interest and development in music. He is interested in the advancement and preservation of Alpha Lyra traditions.

Through well planned programs, musical talent is discovered. Through friendly criticism and praise, members are encouraged to appear on programs, thereby developing poise and confidence.

For several years Alpha Lyra has sponsored music contests at Westport. Again this year, our club has sponsored a vocal solo contest, giving opportunity for many eager students to try their voices before an audience and judges.

An outstanding meeting of the club this year was held during the Christmas season. Histories of Christmas carols and their composers were read, and the carols were sung with understanding and reverence by all members.

Among Westport's many departmental clubs, Alpha Lyra is valued for its aesthetic appeal. Through participation in Alpha Lyra activities, the music student gains a deeper comprehension of music and is stimulated to greater freedom of musical expression in his own life.

In living up to our motto, "Always forward," we have had a year of interesting and informative activities. Our meetings have been conducted entirely in Spanish, thus enabling the members to obtain a fluent speaking vocabulary. Accuracy in pronunciation and grammar have been obtained by this practice in speaking and interpreting the language.

As one of our activities this year we have exchanged letters and newspapers with high school pupils in South American countries. In this way we have learned much of the private life of our Spanish-American neighbors. One interesting program included talks by Mexican professors. A famous Spanish singer helped us with our Spanish songs and gave a delightful concert. In order to acquaint ourselves with Spanish Art we visited the Nelson Art Gallery and studied famous masterpieces. We have had numerous talks on South American countries, pictures of Chile, and Spanish games.

We wish to thank Mr. Phillips for his guidance and help in our activities throughout the year.

NEW CLUBS

To acquaint all readers with the attempts to organize new clubs, we feel it appropriate to use this space in behalf of those clubs. The Literary League started out this year with the purpose of helping with the writing and production of assemblies and the Hi-Larities. With Mr. Crocker's transfer to Paseo, the Hi-Larities' plans were dropped and the club could find nothing to do. There is a place for a club such as this in Westport, and we hope that it will be reorganized next year.

A minor movement toward the organization of a Bird-Study Club took place in the winter. To those young Audubons, this club would have proved valuable.

The Stamp Club, sponsored by Mr. Irion, is the only one of these new ideas that materialized into finished form. Meetings are held regularly and philatelic gossip is presented at all meetings.

Thus we have a record of the club activities for this year. The school needs several clubs along many lines to interest its entire student body. Next year we hope that more clubs will be organized, because they take a definite part in the development of the student.

LES IMMORTELS

French pupils were given an opportunity to converse in French outside of the classroom when Les Immortels, the French Club, was organized in 1927.

The French Club meetings this year have been extremely interesting. Often reports were given in French about French notables; we visited the Nelson Art Gallery to see the French paintings; at Christmas a play was presented. The second semester activities rounded into shape with a party. A "Professor Quiz" program in French afforded much amusement for the members. Usually the meetings were closed by singing French songs. A "Spring Harvest" party closed the year's activities; all kinds of fruits were served, followed by a "white elephant" grab-bag. At this meeting the French Club also revived the old custom of presenting the French Department with a useful gift.

Our able sponsor, Miss Collins, has encouraged and supported us in all of our undertakings and we extend our profound appreciation to her for all that she has done for us during the past year.

Since the ancient days of the Roman and Grecian empires there has always been a group of people interested in the civil, national, and international affairs of their city or nation. These individuals joined together into various groups throughout the world and voiced their opinions on anything that arose which interested the group. From these circles came the great orators and politicians of the day. They formed, perhaps, one of the first definite steps toward democracy. The movement, especially after the fall of Rome, declined in popularity. But after many years the idea has again gained favor. This year in Westport a new club was started sponsoring the ideals of the Roman Forum.

Speakers of city, national, and international renown volunteered to speak to the assembly. Thus the "Student Forum" became a new organization of interest to Westport students. It does not interfere with membership in other clubs as it meets every other Thursday under the sponsorship of Miss Wheeland and Mr. Carmichael. Because of the attendance and interest shown, this club will probably become in the future one of Westport's leading departmental clubs.

AUTO CLUB

It is doubtful if Westport has ever had a service club that took the word service so seriously. The Auto Club has endeavored in every possible way to serve Westport and to help Westport maintain her various traditions.

In the program department the Auto Club has also been a decided success. Included in the year's programs have been lectures from authorities on safety, motion pictures and slide pictures on driving and safety, a technicolor picture on Mexico, an extemporaneous speaking contest, a Professor Quiz contest on safe driving, and a meeting, open to all students, at which those who attended were fingerprinted by local police.

Last year the Auto Club was the first club to sponsor an all school mixer. This year the club followed up this former success by presenting two all school mixers. If you can judge a mixer by attendance you will, no doubt, know that the Auto Club's mixers were the biggest and the best.

Many of you are probably wondering how our club has been so successful. There might be offered several answers to the question but the real reason is Mr. Carmichael. As the sponsor of the Auto Club from the time it was established until the present, his careful guidance, direction, and support have made the Auto Club what it is. Mr. Carmichael's success has been due to his willingness to lead the members rather than to drive them.

Under the excellent guidance of our sponsor, Mr. King, this club has aided in the production of plays, assemblies, and other forms of entertainment presented by Westport High School.

Some of our members, with the expert advice and assistance of Mr. Long, have been a great help in operating the various types of picture machines, so that students of Westport have had the benefit of these interesting forms of education. Mr. Miner of the Science Department has been generous in allowing us the use of his microphone and other electrical appliances that we needed.

Our stage crew, composed entirely of boys, recently obtained new white uniforms which they have been wearing while working behind stage. The various duties of these boys are those involving lights, scenery, properties, and sound effects. Another important phase of our work is that of prompting the actors and actresses of the Spring and Fall plays and helping them with their make-up work.

It is our sincere hope that this service club may continue to grow more helpful and efficient, and that its future members may carry us still closer to our ultimate goal, that of making Westport, more than ever, the ideal school.

CANDID CAMERA CLUB

Here ends the third successful year of active service of this club, which is the youngest of all the clubs in the service group. Cameramen Jack Seibel and Ray Luhnnow, assisted by Roy Peterson in the dark room, have proved an invaluable asset to the Herald in obtaining photographs for the club panels and candid shots of the varied activities of the school. Examples of the toilsome efforts of these members of the Candid Camera Club are to be found on almost every page of the Herald.

The second purpose of the Candid Camera Club is to arouse student interest in photography. In an effort to accomplish this, an interesting program is planned for each meeting. This year, the members of the club witnessed demonstrations and explanations of various photographic apparatus such as the camera, the enlarger, the film pack, and many others. Movies were given of a trip through Colorado and natural color transparencies were shown accompanied by an interesting narration. Photographic talents of fellow members were compared in other meetings.

Again this year, the photographing of the many departments was done by the Herald Staff, thereby eliminating much of the cost of commercial photography.

Membership in the Candid Camera Club is open to those whose qualifications meet with the regular scholastic requirements and who have a genuine interest in photography. Meetings are held every other Wednesday under the sponsorship of Miss Bonney. In the future, we know that such an essential element as the Candid Camera Club will hold its position among the service clubs of Westport.

The purpose of our club is to create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and community high standards of Christian character. Our platform is, "Clean living, clean speech, clean sports, and clean scholarship."

Throughout the year the club had many interesting and pleasant activities. The first of these was a hay ride. At Christmas-time we joined the Girl Reserves in a banquet, and sent canned goods to Mercy Hospital. We sponsored an all-school mixer which won the approval of the entire student body. In conjunction with the Girl Reserves we sponsored a series of Pre-Easter services. This successful season of activities was climaxed by a mother-father-son banquet.

Mr. Arthur England was the representative of the Y. M. C. A. who worked very ably with the club this year. Mr. England is a junior at the University of Kansas City, and a Methodist minister. The club lost the able assistance of Mr. Crocker, Hi-Y sponsor, who was transferred to another school early this year.

GIRL RESERVES

To help, to educate, to inspire, to entertain, and to be friendly have been the aims of Girl Reserves for many years. We believe that we have made this year a most successful one.

We have had some outstanding speakers give us various thought-producing talks. Miss Wilkins, the secretary of the Paseo Branch of the Y. W. C. A., was among these speakers.

In November we bought and wrapped gifts which, along with the favors we had made, were sent to an Indian Reservation to be given to the boys and girls at Christmas time.

Two teas at the home of Mrs. Mead were inspirational and entertaining. December was a happy month for us. We held our annual party at the City Union Mission. At this party each girl adopted a child and brought it gifts. Christmas songs were sung and stories were read to the children.

At the G. R.-Hi-Y banquet Phil Morgan spoke brilliantly. Everyone enjoyed the inter-club meetings and parties at the "Y." Among these were the Palm Sunday breakfast, the closing banquet, and three dances at which the girls asked the boys as guests.

We wish to express our gratitude to Miss Helen Faye Fair, secretary; Miss Josephine Chambers and Mrs. Haggard, our sponsors, for their help this year.

This is the first year for the Pep Club pictures to take their place in the Herald. Although the club is only approximately two years old it has shown great progress.

The purpose of the Pep Club is to increase school spirit and to lead the school in the yells at the inter-scholastic games. To get the students' enthusiasm aroused there have been pep assemblies before and after school. The pep sweaters and megaphones add to the effect of the club. Any pupil having an "M" average and a desire to yell is eligible for membership.

Many new yells were turned in this year by the students and were greatly appreciated. These yells are practiced by the cheerleaders and Pep Club members; then they are used in pep assemblies and at the games.

There have been some new additions to the club. Boys are now eligible to become members and a number have joined. Mr. Passiglia, sponsor last year, established the club, and Mr. King has carried on this year as advisor. The Pep Club members wish to thank him for his interest and cooperation.

ATHLETICS

Athletics have played an important part in the school life of Westport this year. The football season was ushered in with the start of school in September. The first scheduled game found the Tigers victors over Rosedale. The following week they started the inter-scholastic season with a victory over Central. The rest of the games were not so satisfactory, however, the Tigers finishing in fourth place, with a percentage of .333. While the football games were still being played, the Westport tennis team was winning the Inter-scholastic League championship and making an enviable record in the state tournament, both in singles and doubles. At approximately the same time, the golfers were placing fourth in their tournament. The basketball season started in December. After losing the first two games, the Tigers came back to put on a strong finish, winning four games and losing three to complete the season in fourth place, with a percentage of .571. Intramural activities have been going on all year, with spring bringing a revival of track activity.

CHEERLEADERS

The cheerleaders, after tryouts, were chosen by a faculty committee. These cheerleaders, together with the Pep Club, have helped provide the cheering at the football and basketball games. They received excellent cooperation from the student body. Next year the cheerleaders will be chosen by the Student Council.

The W-Club was organized in the school year of 1936-37 to promote better citizenship. With school spirit as one basic principle, the organization encourages the fellowship which can be attained only through sports. To belong to the club students must have earned a letter in tennis, golf, basketball, or football, and must be elected by the active members.

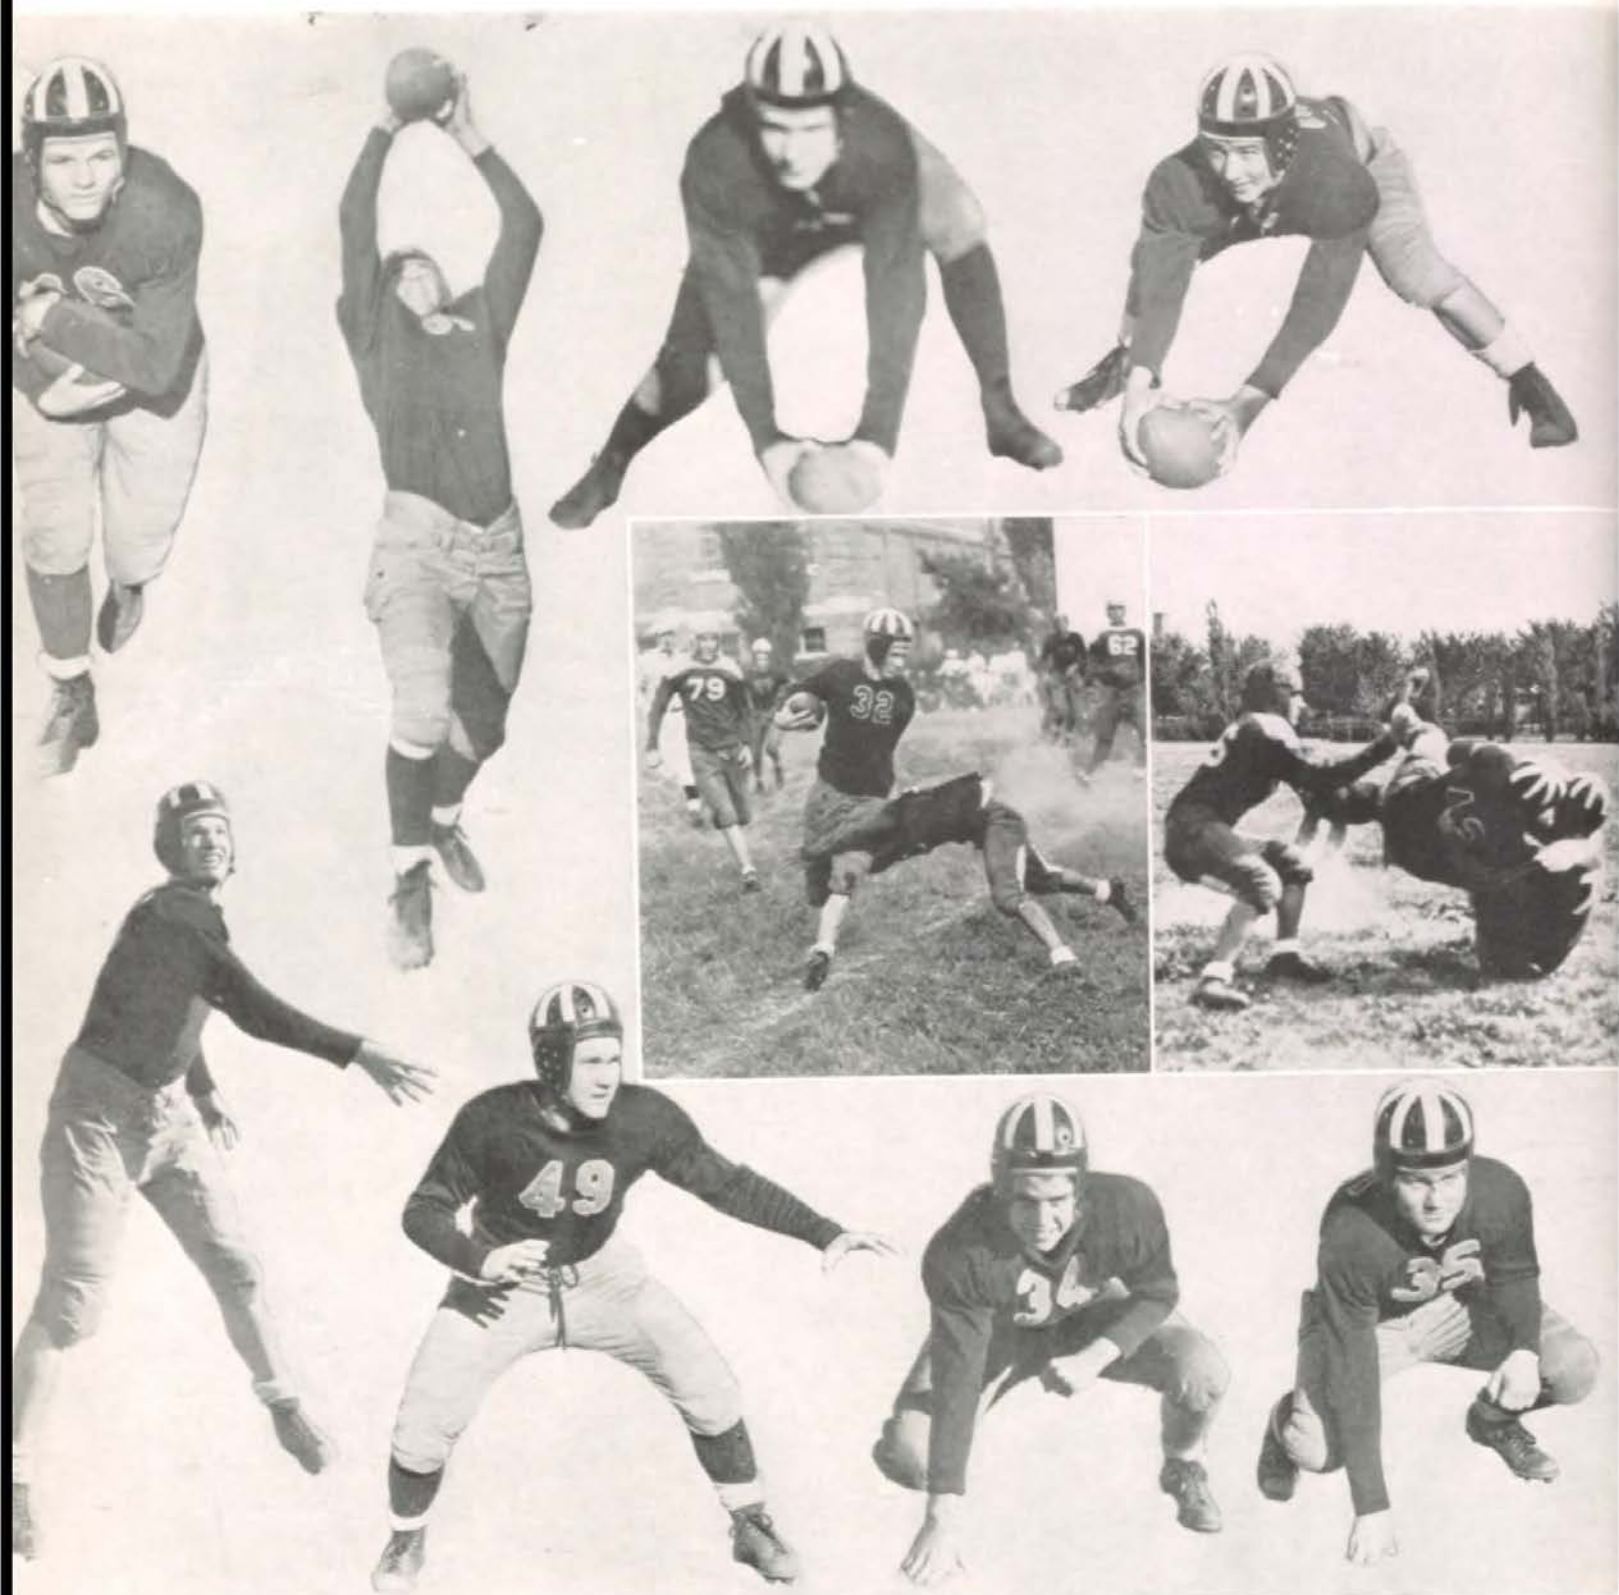

Activities of the W-Club during the past two years include ushering at the Municipal Auditorium basketball games, keeping students in the right sections and in order, and curbing the destruction of Auditorium property which has been blamed on the high school rooters.

W-Club meetings are held every other week. Programs this year have covered a wide range of subjects; visiting speakers have given beneficial and inspirational talks on such varied subjects as the navy, physics, fishing, C.M.T.C. camps, and the condition of our schools. Again this year the W-Club attended the Kansas Relays as a body; participation of some of the boys in the track events added interest to the trip.

W-Club members do not limit themselves to sports. The vice-president of the Senior class is a member of the club. Five members made the honor roll last semester. Many of the monitors are W-Club members, and two of our athletes had parts in the Spring Play.

The members of the W-Club wish to express their gratitude to Mr. Bourrette, who ably took over the responsibility of sponsoring the club again this year, and who gave much assistance and advice to the members and officers. We hope that Westport has benefited by our club's efforts to make it a better institution of learning.

SECOND TEAM FOOTBALL

Westport's second team won the city champion- ship, playing six games and losing only the first one with Central. In all the other games they did not allow their opponents to score. This is probably the best record ever made by a second team. All of these players should be back next year, so football prospects for next year are excellent. Fol- lowing is the second team line-up which started most of their games:

Eugene van Pelt	L. E.
Vernon Lunn	L. T.
Kay Stalnaker	L. G.
Chris Tsougas	C.
Raymond Henry	R. G.
Charles Ham	R. T.

SUMMARY OF THE FOOTBALL SEASON

Westport 15      Rosedale 7

Westport's Tigers opened the season against the green-clad Kansans and came out on the long end of a 15 to 7 score. Ottosen's toe, a real threat, accounted for three points. From Rosedale's 28-yard line Ottosen placed the pigskin squarely between the goalposts. An aerial attack opened by Mendenhall and carried on by Scanlon paved the way for scores in the second quarter. The price of victory, however, was a broken cheek bone sustained by Bill Bucher, which kept him from playing in the rest of the season's games.

Westport 6      Central 0

The thrilling opening game for Westport in the Interscholastic League was the defeat of the Central Eagles on their own field. Brilliant running plays, highlighted by Scanlon's 70-yard run in the third quarter, and several intercepted passes, helped the Tigers to victory. Not so brilliant, however, were the numerous fumbles by both teams. Central threatened to score in the fourth quarter when the ball was resting on Westport's 5-yard line, but the superior Tiger line pushed Central back to the 20-yard line in two plays to cancel that threat. A few minutes later the game ended, and Westport led, 6 to 0.

Westport 7      Southwest 23

After scoring in the first period on a series of passes and runs, the Indians kept the Tigers caged during the entire game. To make matters worse, Southwest added another two points by a safety, when Bouldin's kick from the 16-yard line was blocked by Mering of Southwest and the ball rolled over the goal line. In the third quarter, the Tigers unwrapped the surprise package of the game, a triple lateral pass, Scanlon to Sheridan to Bouldin, completely mystifying their opponents and sending Bouldin over the goal before the Indians realized what had happened. Ottosen's placement was good and the score stood 9 to 7. A fumble recovered by Southwest and a triple lateral by the Indians accounted for their other two touchdowns.

Westport 6      Ward 13

The Tigers suffered a defeat at the hands of the Ward Cyclones. Westport's only score was on a long pass by Scanlon. The kick for the extra point was blocked by a fast rushing Ward line. Near the end of the first half Westport threatened; as the half ended, the ball rested on the Ward 10-yard line, but the Tigers were unable to push it over. An interesting sidelight of this game was its broadcast by station KCKN, with Bill Ingram, Jean Tolan, and Phyllis Joy being heard over the air during half time.

Westport 0      Northeast 21

Playing a purely defensive game, the Tigers did not threaten to score during the entire 60 minutes. A fumble gave the Vikings their first touchdown. The way was opened for Northeast's second touchdown when Westport lost the ball on downs on its own 14. A center plunge was good for the Viking score. Their last tally came in the final quarter, when a long runback of Bouldin's punt, a long pass, and a lateral accounted for the touchdown. Northeast converted all three extra points, to run the score up to 21 to 0. It was a disastrous day for the Tigers.

Westport 27      Southeast 7

The Tiger eleven combined a strong line with fine work in the backfield to make their best showing of the season. A sensational dash by Bouldin for 55 yards was good for the first touchdown. The Tigers seemed to let up for a while when Southeast scored, but they came back in grand style in the last period, kicking, running, and passing to score 14 points and sew up the game, 27 to 7.

Westport 7      East 26

East used a passing offensive which puzzled the Tiger defense. East scored in the first quarter, but Westport came back in the second quarter, and after two running plays and two passes, pushed the ball over from East's 3-yard line. The Bears scored three more touchdowns in the second half with continuous drives. The Tigers tried desperately to score through an aerial attack, but could not complete the necessary passes.

Westport 6      Paseo 7

Westport, in the last game of the season, lost a heart-breaker to Paseo. Early in the first quarter the Tigers marched 62 yards down the field for their only touchdown. A few minutes later Westport had possession of the ball on the Paseo 10-yard line, but the Pirates intercepted Bouldin's pass to prevent a score. In the second half Paseo made a touchdown and converted the extra point, to gain a one-point victory.

Basketball Lettermen

Bottom row—Byrle Ladd, a senior guard to be depended on in crucial moments . . . Turk Tomlinson, a high scoring senior forward . . . Bob Sheridan, senior center, high scorer and All-Star . . . Jack Nielsen, senior forward, the fastest man on the team.

SUMMARY OF THE BASKETBALL SEASON

Westport 20      Central 22

In this game Westport seemed destined to open the season with a victory. However, in the final minutes, Central gained the lead and the Tigers were doomed to defeat.

Holding their opponents to three points in each of the first three quarters, Westport entered the final quarter leading 16 to 9. At this point Central began a rally which netted them a victory. The defeat was a disheartening one to Tiger followers who had looked forward to an all-winning season. Tomlinson paced the team's attack with eight points.

Westport 20      Southwest 23

For the second straight week Westport's twenty points were insufficient to bring victory. During the first half the teams battled on even terms, Westport finally gaining an 11 to 10 lead minutes before the half ended.

With the opening of the second half Southwest gained a lead which was never relinquished. Westport never trailed by more than five points, and the game was exciting to the final whistle. The Tiger attack was again led by Tomlinson. With this second loss the team saw its hopes fade and only a slim chance now remain for the championship.

Westport 39      Southeast 17

Westport found a valiant foe in the Southeast Knights, but crushed them with a bewildering attack. From the very start victory seemed evident as the Tigers consistently poured the ball through the hoop. Using the fast break to a great advantage, Westport was never headed. Leading 21 to 11 at the half, the team played even greater ball during the second half, completely stopping the Southeast attack. This game furnished Coach Chubb an opportunity to use his reserve power, substitutes being frequent for Westport. The Westport scoring was paced by Sheridan and Albright.

Westport 19      Northeast 32

Northeast started with a rush and the Tigers could never gain the upper hand. The Westporters showed little of the fight which had featured their previous battles. They found the "climbing on" tactics of the Vikings a little too rough, and never played up to par. Fred Bouldin led the attack for the Tigers.

Westport 37      Manual 23

During the first quarter of this game Westport's attempts at the Manual goal were few and far between; after scoring only four points in this quarter, the Tigers began hitting baskets from all angles and built up a commanding lead at the half. It was not until the second half, however, that they reached their true scoring stride. This half found the team passing swiftly and accurately, often catching Manual completely unprepared. Sheridan and Albright led the scoring with ten points each.

Westport 39      East 26

In this game the Tigers again flashed superb passing, and once they gained the lead the outcome was never in doubt. The fast-breaking Tigers completely outplayed East, and many wondered if this was the same team which had faced Northeast two weeks before. The team was alert in all departments, and took advantage of all East mistakes. Tomlinson was the leading Westport scorer with nine points.

Westport 29      Paseo 26

Westport's brilliant play of the two previous weeks reached a climax with a hard earned victory over undefeated Paseo. The Tigers, showing great courage and skill, pierced the Pirates' tight zone defense with alert passes. The ability of the team to gain the rebounds under each basket was the outstanding point in the victory. The Pirates had to be content with a single shot each time they came down the floor, because some Tiger player always came up with the rebound. The Pirates, who had gone undefeated in fifteen league games, were outfought and out-hustled by a fighting Westport team. Westport's total of 29 points was the greatest number scored against Paseo by any team in the league. Sheridan paced the Tigers with 14 points. Scanlon was outstanding on rebound work.

A summary of the league games shows the Tigers outscoring their opponents 203 to 169. Had their early season performances matched their late season showings, Westport would undoubtedly have finished much higher in the standings. In only one game were the Tigers beaten by more than three points, and their opponents always knew they had been in a battle when the final gun sounded.

BASKETBALL SECOND TEAM

Back row—Chris Tsougas, Bill McBurney, Bob Eggleston, Raymond Henry, Fielding Lane.

The Westport Seconds, composed of juniors and sophomores, won the second team championship for the school, winning every game except the one against Southwest. In all other games they won handily, and chalked up exceedingly high scores. Their total of 52 points against Southeast is believed to be something of a league record. When the scoring for the season was tallied up, it showed the Westport Seconds outscoring their opponents 266 to 169.

These second team boys will be back next year, trying for positions on the first team. With two of this year's first team lettermen also returning, the outlook for 1941 is bright indeed.

THE COACHES

Westport is fortunate in having two fine coaches, Mr. G. V. Bourrette, football, and Mr. Gayle Chubb, basketball. Both are capable, popular, and endowed with the ability to instill high ideals of sportsmanship in the boys who work under them. They work together closely, with Mr. Chubb assisting with the football duties, and Mr. Bourrette lending a hand when the basketball season comes around.

Coach Bourrette should be commended for the fine work he has done this year. He has a thorough knowledge of football fundamentals, and makes every effort to send a well-trained team on the field. He has won the respect not only of his own players, but of the opposing players and coaches as well.

Coach Chubb has done a fine piece of work with the basketball this year. His team started slowly, but showed improvement with each game, and ended the season with a defeat of the league leaders.

TRACK

Westport wanted to be entered in the Missouri Valley A. A. U. Indoor Track Meet held in the Municipal Auditorium this spring, so Coach Bourrette chose four boys and trained them to run the half-mile relay race. To the surprise of all, Jack Nielsen, Don Ottosen, Paul Mendenhall, and John Scanlon placed third, only a split second behind the winner. This success revived the interest of the boys in track work, and when the opportunity came to practice with Rosedale, the boys were all set to run the 100 and 200-yard dashes, the half-mile relay, and to put the shot; the coach also allowed the boys to enter the broad jump, the high jump, and the high and low hurdles. With no practice whatever, the boys did remarkably well in these events. Fred Bouldin put the shot 41 feet 8 inches to capture first place in that event. John Scanlon and Paul Mendenhall placed first and third respectively in the 220-yard dash. First and third places in the 100-yard dash went to Scanlon and Ottosen. Sheridan won the high hurdles, with Nielsen and Albright taking second and third places in the low hurdles. Jackson placed third in the high jump. The half-mile relay team, composed of Brewer, Ottosen, Mendenhall and Scanlon, all of whom will be back next year, placed first, with a time of 1 minute, 39 seconds. The Tigers did not place in the other events, but the following boys deserve mention for their work: Bill Queen, Roger Young, George Carras, Raymond Henry, Rupert Smith, Bob Huxtable and Bill McBurney.

The relay team represented Westport in the K. U. Relays held in Lawrence, Kansas. In competition with the other Kansas City high school teams, the Bengal team placed well. Coach Bourrette plans to enter Bouldin, Mendenhall and Scanlon in the State Meet at Columbia on May 11.

This group of boys, many of whom were not trained in the events they entered, have had a most enjoyable time participating. Even though this group is not a track team, it could very easily form the nucleus of a formidable one. Lacking the facilities for proper training, Westport several years abandoned track as a competitive sport.

GOLF

There has been much interest in golf at Westport during the past year, with the golf team placing fourth in the Interscholastic Tournament. On four Saturday mornings during September and October, the squad played matches on the Swope Park course. Joe Simmons and Rudy Schmidt made very satisfactory showings. Westport competed for the second consecutive year in the State Tournament, held at the University of Kansas City Golf Course. These same golfers upheld the honor of Westport, both shooting good scores. The six "W" winners in golf were: Rudy Schmidt, Ray Blomquist, Joe Simmons, Ralph Morrow, Ralph Eastman, and Conrad McMahon. All of these lettermen are seniors, so the field is open next year for underclassmen interested in golf.

Mr. Carmichael and Mr. King, coaches, deserve much commendation and praise for their fine work.

TENNIS

*Bill and Fred Humphrey
Eddie Kander*

*Bob Hall
Ted Hartfelder and Ben Czarlinsky*

Westport retained its high standing in tennis with the invincible co-captains, Bill and Fred Humphrey, winning the Interscholastic Tennis League Championship in doubles, and Bob Hall taking top honors in singles.

The second doubles team, made up of Ben Czarlinsky and Ted Hartfelder, was defeated in the finals by the Humphrey twins. Eddie Kander, the second singles player, gave a good account of himself for Westport.

After having defeated Westport's own second team, the Humphreys traveled to Columbia, Missouri, to the State Tournament, and emerged victorious, losing only four out of the forty-eight games in the matches. The singles champion, Bob Hall, also went to Columbia and was barely edged out of the Missouri championship in the finals.

Mr. Fristoe, the tennis coach, very efficiently arranged the matches and coached the players. Under his fine direction, and with promising new players coming into Westport, we look forward to a successful tennis season again next year. However, it will be difficult to replace the Humphreys, Kander and Czarlinsky, all of whom will be lost through graduation.

Intramurals

The purpose of intramural athletics is to give an opportunity to boys who do not participate in the major sports to engage in some other kind of athletics. The boys are not required to be members of a gym class to enter. They are urged to organize teams and participate in the tournaments. Some games are played between the different gym classes, others between independent teams. Some of the intramural sports are: Basketball, football, baseball, volleyball, ping pong, and boxing. Following are the 1939-'40 winners of intramural events:

SIX-MAN FOOTBALL

Sam Jones (Captain)
Eugene Cox
Joe Fasl
Jack Tucker
Ward Barber
Donald Holman

GIRLS' ATHLETICS

The success of this athletic year is largely due to the efforts of our capable coach, Miss Florence Bradley, assisted first semester by Miss Catherine Collins and second semester by Miss Ivy Clayton. The girls who have been privileged to benefit by this instruction are deeply appreciative of the fine leadership of the physical education directors.

SENIOR PIN CANDIDATES

To win a Senior Athletic pin, the highest and most coveted honor in the Physical Training Department, a girl must have won six school letters, one of these during her senior year. The winning of a "W" depends upon two things: first, outstanding ability in sports, and second, exhibition of the best qualities of good sportsmanship.

Four girls are eligible for the pin this year. These girls have striven for top honors in the major sports—hockey, basketball, baseball, tennis, and swimming. The pins are awarded at the Senior Day Assembly.

The 1940 candidates are:

Doris Putnam—Hockey, '37-'38-'39; Basketball, '39-'40; Baseball, '38; Swimming, '38-'39.

Jean O'Donnell—Hockey, '38-'39; Basketball, '39-'40; Baseball, '38-'39; Tennis, '39.

Mayme Bresnahan—Hockey, '38-'39; Basketball, '39-'40; Baseball, '38-'39; Tennis, '39.

Hortense Greenman—Hockey, '37-'38-'39; Basketball, '38-'39-'40; Baseball, '38-'39; Tennis, '38-'39.

Mayme Bresnahan

Hortense Greenman

Jean O'Donnell

Doris Putnam

BASEBALL

As the 1940 Herald goes to press before the baseball season is over, the outcome of the games cannot be announced. The teams this year are very strong; therefore, the competition should be unusually keen. The seniors are spurred on by the knowledge that if they win the baseball championship, their names will be engraved on the silver loving cup. The baseball season is closed with a picnic at one of the city parks, at which the letters are awarded. The picnic is open to all the girls of the school. The members of the baseball teams this year are as follows:

SENIORS

Marguerite Clark, Margie Golding, Hortense Greenman, Mayme Bresnahan, Sarajeane Keller, Maxine McCall, Mildred McPherson, Doris Putnam, Jean O'Donnell, Lillian Sandy, Virginia Way.

JUNIORS

SOPHOMORES

TENNIS

Tennis, like baseball, is a sport of the late spring, so the 1939 champions are given recognition this year. The singles champion of '39 was the runner-up of '38, Hortense Greenman. Although she was only a junior, Hortense exhibited great skill in triumphing over all her opponents. During this last summer she played tennis a great deal, which vastly improved her game. In all probability, Hortense will carry away top honors again this year. Last year's runner-up, Marjorie Pattie, is participating in the matches again this year. The doubles champions of '39 were Mary Ellen Williamson and Carol Eastman, two sophomores, who defeated the junior runners-up, Jean O'Donnell and Mayme Bresnahan.

MINOR SPORTS

One of the most popular intramural activities of the physical education department is social dancing. The classes are held after school in the gym for both girls and boys, who thus have an opportunity to learn the fundamental principles of social dancing and the latest dance steps. These classes not only help the boys and girls to overcome their bashfulness and to become better dancers, but also give them an opportunity to meet their school fellows outside the classroom.

Horseback riding is another after school activity for the girls, offered for both advanced riders and beginners. It is valuable as an outside exercise and a sport which may be carried on in later life.

Another popular recreation among the girls is table tennis. The tournament is open to anyone in the school and many participate. The matches are played before and after school in the gym and in the playroom. There were no doubles teams in the tournament this year. Doris Anderson, last year's singles champion, repeated this year, defeating Anita Spindel in the finals.

HOCKEY

SENIORS

Top row—Mary Vredenburg, Anita Spindel, Hortense Greenman, Lillian Sandy, Alice Anderson, Dorothy Wolff.

First Row—Mildred McPherson, Jean O'Donnell, Marjorie Golding, Doris Putnam, Marguerite Clark, Sarajeane Keller, Mayme Bresnahan.

Top row—Muriel Smith, Pat Fletcher, Jean Wilcox, Mary Ellen Williamson, Elaine Renn, Virginia Walker.

First row—Corrine De Lancey, Averil Elliott, Thelma Burrows, La Verne Ferguson, Carol Eastman, Marilyn Ellis, Marjorie Rawnsley, Marilyn Hall, Ellamae Fletcher.

First row—Suzanne Anderson, Josie Ham, Janice Meredith, Marjorie Morris, Betty Brooks, Virginia Lee Nordling.

The 1939 hockey season ended with a tie for the championship between the senior and junior teams. Since this tie counts as a victory as far as having their name inscribed on the silver athletic cup is concerned, each team is anxious to maintain this excellent record. The games, played on the triangle at 38th and Gillham, were refereed by alumnae, who willingly offered their services.

The final team standings were as follows:

Team	Won	Lost	Per Cent	Goals
Seniors	3	1	.750	12
Juniors	3	1	.750	12
Sophomores	0	4	.000	4

Mildred McPherson, the efficient hockey manager, arranged the schedules, carefully checked attendance, and planned the hockey party at the end of the season. It was at this function that the letters were presented to the season's outstanding players.

BASKETBALL

SENIORS

Top row—Alice Youngs, Doris Putnam, Lillian Sandy, Marguerite Clark.

First row—Hortense Greenman, Anita Spindel, Marjorie Golding, Jean O'Donnell, Mayme Bresnahan.

JUNIORS

First row—Jacqueline Myers, Jewel Peaster, Sue Conwell, Josie Ham, Janice Meredith, Lois Wilkins, Harriette Davis.

The 1939 basketball season ended with the senior team holding the school championship. This victory gives the seniors more chance to have their names inscribed on the silver cup but robs the juniors of their opportunity to break the record.

The final team standings were as follows:

	Won	Lost	Per Cent	Goals
Seniors	4	0	1.000	174
Juniors	2	2	.500	122
Sophomores	0	4	.000	53

On December 21 Westport played the alumnae in a night game. Although both teams fought hard, the Westport girls finally got the upper hand and won by a large margin. After the game, refreshments were served.

The play day, held each year in Kansas City for the purpose of bringing the schools together in the interests of good sport, took place at Manual this year. After a strenuous morning of basketball, in which both games were won by the Westport team, luncheon was served.

RESERVE OFFICERS' TRAINING CORPS

Looking back over this past year, the Westport Battalion as a whole feels that it has achieved its purpose in developing potential leaders and future citizens of the United States.

Under the direct supervision of Sergeant Hilton and the indirect control of Lieutenant Colonel Irwin, the purpose of the Reserve Officers' Training Corps has been instilled in the minds of the cadets.

Sergeant Hilton, serving his second year as a sergeant-instructor, has raised the Westport Battalion to new heights. Along with the added responsibility of training over one hundred men in the movements of the Colonial Army for the Circus, he has performed his other duties with a democratic attitude that demands the respect of all. The cadets of the Westport Battalion see in Lieutenant Colonel Irwin a willing desire to help any and all who may seek his advice and counsel. To come in contact with either of these two leaders is to come in contact with a citizen dedicated to the education of the American youth so as to produce better citizens.

The officers started the year teaching the new drill in the daytime and studying it at home in the evening. Trained under the old regulations, these officers labored under a serious hardship but came out remarkably well. To be truthful, two types of drill were taught in the Westport Battalion during the year. Along with the new drill, five of these officers took time out to assist in the training of 102 men in the exercises of the foot soldier of 1775. This latter drill was used for the R. O. T. C. Circus on April 15 and was presented with great success. Many weeks of valuable time were taken to teach this Colonial Unit, weeks that could have been used to perfect the regular drill for government inspection and for Field Day. The deadline for all Herald printing was set before either of these two events took place, and it is impossible to publish the results in this book. The date for government inspection is May 2 and for Field Day May 13. In these events the result of the year's work is compared with the results of the other high schools in the city. It is hoped that our unit will rank high.

DRUM AND BUGLE CORPS

At all parades in which the Westport Battalion participated this year, the Drum and Bugle Corps accompanied the unit. On Armistice Day, at Government Inspection, on Regimental Field Day, and on numerous afternoons, this corps provided music for the marching of the men.

From this corps came the buglers who assisted in the flag ceremony before and after school. The men who turned out for practice sessions received special uniforms to wear whenever the Drum and Bugle Corps played. These uniforms were in prominence on these special occasions as everyone has noted.

RIFLE TEAM

Westport's Rifle Team has again completed a successful year. In a field in which competition was stronger than ever before, the Bengal team emerged second in the city matches. The captain of the team, Tom Greenamyer, for the second consecutive year placed first in the individual firing. He also received first place in competition with expert riflemen from eight states.

After the eliminations for positions, the Rifle Team was made up of the following: Captain Greenamyer, Captain Jones, First Sergeant Chinn, First Sergeant Gould and Sergeant Asher. All members received the expert rifleman award, which is proof of their excellence.

Sergeant Hilton will have to scout for new Rifle Team material next year, for John Asher is the only returning member, the rest being seniors. There are good prospects in the Battalion this year and it is hoped that the 1941 Tiger Rifle Team will come out on top.

Westport's protectors of property are the S. G. Men. While the students are in the various classrooms, at least three of these men are on duty patrolling the halls. These men see that all lockers are securely fastened, and allow no one in the halls without proper authority. The Lost and Found Department was turned over to the S. G.

Men at the beginning of the first semester, and in the course of the year over one thousand lost articles have been returned to their owners. Without these men, a careless mistake of leaving a lock unfastened might result in a serious loss of books and clothing, rather than just a trip to the Lost and Found Department.

THE MILITARY BALL

Through the arch made by the sabers of the officers, came the 1940 R. O. T. C. Queen. Chosen by the senior cadets of the Battalion to reign at the annual Military Ball held on February 23, Miss Betty Glenn is a true representative of the ideals of Queenship. After the Queen's presentation, the Esquires of Rhythm played in royal fashion for a dance in honor of Miss Glenn.

This year's guest list included Lieutenant Colonel and Mrs. Burr P. Irwin, Sergeant and Mrs. Hilton, Sergeant and Mrs. Archie Morris, as well as many faculty members and cadet officers of the other Kansas City Battalions. Another triumphant success, the 1940 Ball was enjoyed by each and every person who attended.

THE R. O. T. C. CIRCUS

Continuing the tradition of presenting fine entertainment for the annual R. O. T. C. Circus, 102 Westport Cadets, dressed in colonial uniforms, filed onto the arena floor of the Municipal Auditorium on April 5 to present the drill of the foot soldier of the year 1775. As the drill progressed, the similarity between the modern drill and this colonial drill was noted by Lieutenant Seibel as he commented over the public address system. To climax an evening of superior entertainment, Major General Percy Bishop, Commander of the Seventh Corps Area, and his staff inspected the Colonial Militia in the same manner as General Washington might have, during the Revolutionary War.

CITIZENSHIP IN R. O. T. C.

On July 2, 1862, the Congress of the United States passed the Morrill Act. This act provided that two years of compulsory military training should be offered in all schools that had received land grants from the government. This laid the foundation for the R. O. T. C. as it is today. During the World War, it was perceived that all schools, whether public or private, offered a select field for the training of officers for our forces in time of war. Thus the R. O. T. C. was extended to high schools and colleges in addition to the land-grant colleges.

The R. O. T. C. as we know it today consists of two divisions, the Senior and the Junior. The Senior division is in the colleges and military schools and consists of a two year basic course and a two year advanced course. The Junior division in the high schools offers three years of work and prepares the student for further R. O. T. C. work in college.

The public seems to think that the R. O. T. C. instills in the student a longing for war. A careful examination will reveal exactly the opposite. The effect of the instruction of the student in the modern methods of war and in the use of modern weapons has been a sobering offset to any romantic conception of war. The whole course is designed to show the true facts of war.

In the happy event that the youth of today will not be asked to defend America on the battlefield of war, the R. O. T. C. training of these boys will not be worthless. The true purpose of this training is defined in the Mission of the R. O. T. C. which states: "The Mission of the R. O. T. C. is to awaken in the student an appreciation of the obligations of citizenship, to prepare him to discharge his duties as a citizen, and to qualify him as a leader whether in peace or in war." From this we gather that the primary purpose of the R. O. T. C. is to make the student a better citizen who, if need be, can be called on to defend his country. This course, if it accomplishes its purpose, is thoroughly justified and is entitled to popular support.

The R. O. T. C. offers an excellent course of benefit to the individual in the following respects:

It improves the physical health, strength, and appearance of the student.

It inculcates respect for the law and for constituted authority.

It makes the student amicable to discipline and control.

It arouses the spirit of practical patriotism, respect for and pride in our flag and our country, and a readiness to serve them in time of need.

It develops self-discipline and control, self-respect, self confidence, resourcefulness, courage, ambition, and industry.

It promotes courtesy and consideration for others.

It fosters habits of neatness, cleanliness, order, and system.

It inspires the spirit of cooperative action or team-play.

It develops the latent powers of leadership and executive ability.

The R. O. T. C. helps to create high minded gentlemen who will succeed in life and make good citizens.

THE SENIOR BALLOT

Eddie Sims—Most Popular Boy.

We could say "Lady Killer," or would that be proper? Anyway he's tall, dark and handsome, with nice manners and a 1940 Oldsmobile.

Betty Glenn—Most Popular Girl.

Not very large, but she overcomes that in many ways. Well liked by both the boys and girls, and known throughout the school.

Walter Root—Boy who has done the most for Westport.

Member of almost every possible organization in Westport. Popular and prominent with all.

Mildred Lane—Girl who has done the most for Westport.

Truly the only girl who could properly represent Westport. Outstanding scholastically and socially.

Fred Bouldin—Best physique.

There's no doubt about this choice, as one can easily see; to see Bouldin is to believe.

Martha Russell—Best figure.

Small, cute, and vivacious, are a few adjectives that only half describe this little girl.

Stanley Stuart—Familiar.

Man about school, when he's here. A familiar figure to all.

Miriam Lee—Flirt.

There's not much that can be said; just ask the boys. Don't think the girls aren't envious; they only wish they knew her technique.

Bill Gilbert—Best looking boy.

Baby-face they call him, but just the same he is positively Westport's most handsome male.

Phyllis Dana—Prettiest girl.

Chosen by our students for this position, Phyllis has all it takes to justify the choice.

Jack Smith—Best boy dancer.

He's not very large and that's a misfortune for some of the tall girls. Always striving for new and better steps, Jack is the Astaire, Murphy, and Murray of Westport.

Jo Ann Benedict—Best girl dancer.

The stag-line sweetheart. This poor girl is literally cut to pieces by young chaps eager for a dance with her. But she doesn't mind, just says, "It's fun!"

Jack Gregory—Best dressed boy.

Never can it be said that Jack was improperly dressed, or without the latest things from Esquire.

Dorothy Robinson—Best dressed girl.

"Hoppy" sets the styles for Westport's feminine sex. She's first with all the fads, and possessor of Westport's largest and neatest wardrobe.

Lucille Bethel and Bill McGrannahan—Best known couple.

No one knows when this little affair started. We only know that at all the dances and parties, they're the most popular couple.

Margie Golding—Girl with best personality.

Almost the last of the noble line of Goldings. We predict a bright future for this queen of so many hearts.

Robb Johnson—Boy with best personality.

"How to win friends and influence people" seems to be right down his alley.

Maude Merry—Best punner.

Jovial, jolly, jester—that's Maudie! She's the super punner of Westport, chief wise-cracker, and best joke teller.

WESTPORT MYSTERIES

or

WE WONDER WHY . . . ?

George Robinson and Bill Jones didn't come to Westport years sooner.

Carol Eastman has such a hard time trying to decide who she will take to the dances.

Phyllis Joy wrote to Hope Hudson.

Bill and Fred Humphrey are such men of mystery.

Frankie Tims stopped going steady.

Norman Nicholson and Jim Costello, as large as they are, didn't play football or basketball.

Kenneth Bigus didn't take a certain girl out to dinner after he won fifty dollars.

All the boys got all those horrible "Crude Cuts."

Royal Don Carlos Martin doesn't use his middle name more often.

Benny Czarlinsky married so many women. Something like nine, wasn't it?

Bill Queen is so versatile. He draws, acts, plays football, and manages the basketball team.

The feminine sex allowed Harold Clark to be president of the Junior Class.

The teachers give night work over the week-ends and expect you to have it on Monday.

So many people are going steady.

The Pundits always depend on program-saver Martha Orr.

There were so many Senior girls absent from the after-school sports.

Gus Nichols can sell anyone anything that they don't want or need.

Ginny, Betty and Maudie took a three-day vacation trip to Topeka!!

Mary Lou Ambrose came to school with a broken knee cap, when she had such a good excuse to stay home.

George Strosnider always has too much to say about nothing.

Frank Mallin actually admits that his famous "Mallin Puns" are not funny.

Calvin Weiss, Joe Tims, and Jack Joy wear those "ESQUIRE-ish" overall pants.

So many of the Seniors have that "Don't give a darn" attitude.

The mirror on the "June Mad" set seemed to be all hot and bothered.

The Auto Club has so many members, especially when the Herald pictures are taken.

Robb Johnson lost his way with the women.

Madeleine William's mind seems to be up in Lawrence.

Warren Larson is supposed to be able to do everything for the Herald.

Monna O'Cain eats so much lunch. It's almost always twenty-five cents worth.

Jack Smith tells everyone of his super colossal times.

The Clays and the Irvings are always arguing.

Harry Flapan's girl friend, Evelyn Green, is called Hedy LaMarr.

Paul and Leland Mendenhall act so unlike each other.

Mary Lampman is such an ardent Roosevelt fan.

Margaret Brewer is so temperamental. Maybe it's the artist in her.

Charles Goff is always eating a lemon.

Statistics Show

That Life Insurance is the item of greatest value in the list of assets of estates in the aggregate that are filed for probate.

Young people are wise if they make this their first investment.

It is the item of surest value in building an estate.

It is cash on the barrelhead at maturity, and its value increases from year to year through the inevitable law of compound interest.

Optional settlement clauses make our policies adjustable to changing needs.

One of these days

(sooner than you think) you'll be buying printing plates.

Against that day, fix in your mind the name of BURGER-BAIRD. It will then be a more important fact to you than dates (historical — not the other kind) or irregular verbs or formulae.

For while there are other good engravers, there is only one Burger-Baird.

Good plates? Yes, the best, and pride in their craftsmanship. Prompt with them, too.

But the main thing that keeps Burger-Baird the best known name among middle-west engravers seems to be—well, call it "savvy." It means interest and understanding, not merely for the engravings, but for your larger objectives as well.

People seem to like that, and so, no doubt, will you. Keep us in mind, won't you?

STRICTLY CANDID

Enrolled at Westport is one "Adolph" Asher and he's almost as fierce as he looks.

Naughty little people with time on their hands can be seen in 213 most any night.

Chief sportsman of the year was Johnny Glenn who "played the field" and lost a winner.

Three loves has Nancy Whitnell—Koch, Asher and Clark.

It's from one extreme to another with Martha Russell—from Mize to Burkholder!

Joe Tims wins the black cigar for being the most learned—he knows more and more about less and less.

Stas and Bronek, the Labunski brothers, are our most radical radicals.

Our nomination for best sailor of the year is Bumby Kelly—Blow, Blow, Blow the Man Down!

Three of Westport's beauties are three of Westport's "steadies"—Cooper, Gipson and McFarland.

"Little Girls"—Betty Longstreth and Murkin.

"To the R. O. T. C. we give our all"—Donald Jones, Fred von Dorn, and Tom Greenamyer.

Most successful student of the year was Mr. David Repetto, who is now Chief Somethin'-or-Other in the Folger Coffee Co.

PERSONAL NOTES

Ah, leap year—whatta chance for the Women with such men as Gilbert,
Smith and Root still foot loose and free.

Keep an eye on Pat Anglebeck, Lucie McMullin, and Catherine Campbell, three little sophomores.

Bozarth, Bouldin and Bucher, those brawny ball carriers, have been hooked. Too bad, girls.

Maudie, "here today, gone tomorrow" Merry, is now on love affair No. 16.

Just noticed what a good buy the Herald is—glad
I have one, aren't you?

Three little girls their pappies should be proud of —Jean Wilcox, Peggy Miner, and Margaret Fristoe.

Flash! For the first time in its history the Crier actually has had some interesting articles. Even so, they still offer little competition to the almighty Herald!

Thanks to the second floor Kleenex station, everyone was well supplied throughout the winter.
Proprietors—Murkin and Ambrose.

Eli Meinrath, Eddie Kander and Benny Czarlinsky have had a hard time sharing a couple of Jane's —Bloch and Rieger.

Doris and Muriel Johnson can really put the "squitch" on the R. O. T. C. boys.

Joe Simmons and Lynn Chinn helped Georgie
Tobin get rid of the heavy beard before the
R. O. T. C. Ball; second shave, too!

When Mercedes Wilson gets a boy's pin, she is really true and wears it—along with the others!

Congratulations

FOR MEN ONLY

If she had to stand on her head.
 We know she'd get at it somehow.
 That this poem (?) she has already read;
 We're willing to bet dollars to doughnuts,
 If given a shade of a show,
 And we bet she'll find it out somehow,
 More than that which she ought not to know,
 There's nothing a girl would not like to find out

Electricity is ready to help you succeed

Commencement is not far off. Soon thousands of eager-eyed youths will be seeking to carve out careers in a not too friendly world.

Life is a stern battle. Those who win are the ones who realize the importance of keeping themselves mentally and physically fit in order that they may be constantly prepared to make the most of any opportunity that may present itself. Not passive waiting for opportunity to knock, but aggressive preparedness is the key to success.

You will find the road to success smoother and easier to climb if you take advantage of the helps Electricity can give you. . . . Whether you are preparing for a career in the home, factory or office there are Electrical aids to make your work easier . . . . give you more leisure time for real enjoyment of life.

Life's battle is not only to the strong . . . . the fruits may also be garnered by the wise. . . . Live Electrically and Win!

*What is YOUR Title
for This Picture?*

It could be . . . Jack Seibel after a hard day's work on the Herald . . . or Oh! How I hate to get up in the morning . . . but Star Salesman Closes Deal (he left a booklet) is the correct title.

When John called, the prospect was too busy to give him more than a hurried five minutes. John did a commendable job, covered every sales point he could in that limited time. But he did one thing more: He left a booklet that went right on selling the moment Mr. Prospect had a little time to spare. It was full of pertinent facts, interestingly presented. And now it has closed the deal while John is catching up on hard-earned sleep.

Printing gets things done. It may be the very productive sales tool of John Smith, or the equally important stationery and record forms for his company's business use . . . but no matter whether it is the Westport Herald or one of the many other uses for printing, The Lowell Press is always happy to plan with you to get the most effective good from your printing.
