PROLOGUE

The year '64-'65 has brought a changed atmosphere to Westport High School. With the addition of a new wing to the building, more classroom space was created. New challenges in the curriculum of many subjects have widened the fields of learning. Changes in the faculty have brought new faces to the halls of Westport. Swelling enrollments brought new vitality to student life. These changes have resulted in new approaches to old problems, challenges to be met, obstacles to be conquered, new friendships to be made, activities to be remembered, traditions to be continued, and traditions to be begun.

Therefore, the Herald presents the 1965 version of Westport High School--a combination of both old and new, full of pride for past accomplishments and the promise of future fulfillment.

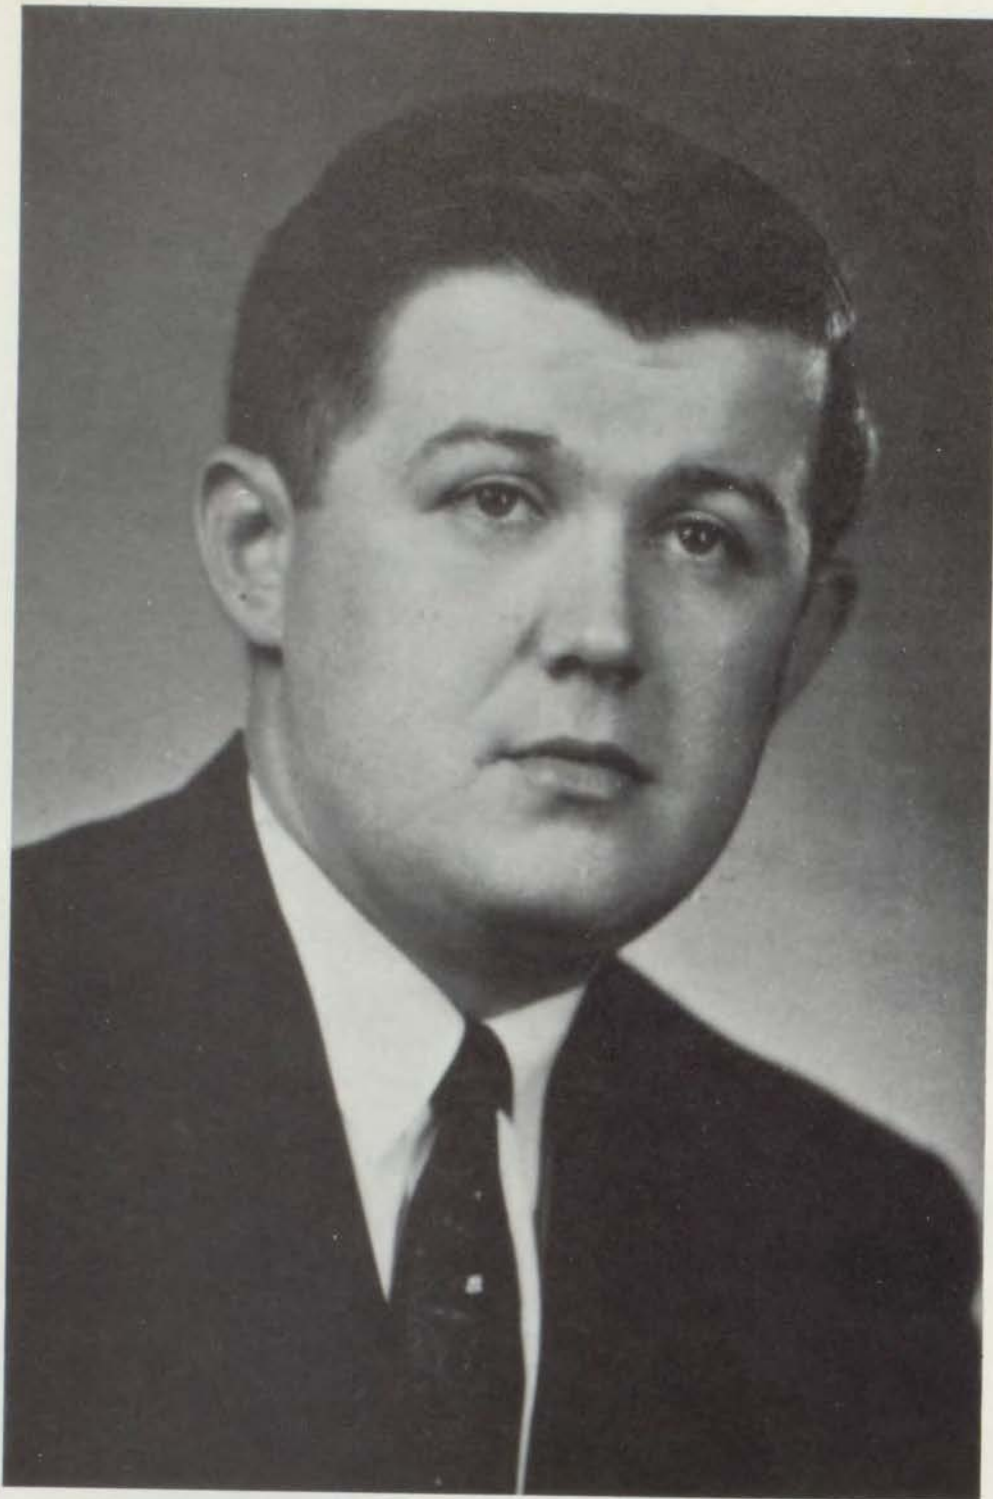

The opening of the new wing symbolizes the opening of a new year full of new horizons for Westport.

WE DEDICATE...

Mr. Dale Bellerose taught French, Speech and English at Westport for five years. While he was here, Mr. Bellerose gained the respect and admiration of students and faculty alike. As sponsor of French Club, Tiger Den Board and Student Council, he became more than just a teacher--he was a friend to whom students could go with all their problems. We remember the times he played Santa Claus for the orphans at Homecoming Tiger Den, coached B-Team football and crowned queens. Although Mr. Bellerose, who now counsels at Northeast, is gone, we all remember his jolly face and are thankful and proud of what he has taught us and his accomplishments here at Westport. Therefore the Herald staff dedicates the 1964-65 yearbook to Mr. Dale Bellerose.

FACULTY AND ADMINISTRATION

The teaching staff at Westport has grown in the past years. With each face we gain, another is gone. The faculty plays an important part in the lives of the students. To the teachers we owe a great deal. Their instructions have helped to broaden our fields of learning. As each day passes, the "wall" that was inevitably built up between student and teacher gradually disappears, as students learn to gain the trust, respect, and confidence of their teachers. Sometimes the relationship between students and faculty becomes a little uneasy with eighth hours, term papers, tests, and homework. But it is for the good of us all. The faculty is greatly appreciated by the student body of Westport, and to them we owe thanks . . . "Thanks" for their ability to help us become better students and citizens.

Dr. Richard A. Ball, Principal

Mr. William Evans, Vice-Principal

PRINCIPALS

A familiar voice...

A strong administration is vital to a dynamic school life. Much of the work of the principal is not immediately apparent to the student body. Tending to administrative detail, encouraging constructive student activity, supervising the work of the faculty, solving school-community problems, and representing the school in the public affairs of a thriving city---these are but a few of the tasks performed through the year by Dr. Ball and Mr. Evans. Their goals are constantly to help students prepare for the future and to get as much as possible out of the potential of the present.

BUSINESS EDUCATION

Business education classes provide training and practice preparing students for occupations in the business world. In business education classes, students strive to acquire business skills. This year two new courses are being offered in the form of three hour block programs in secretarial and clerical practice; the use of office machines, and general clerical skills are taught. Courses are Typing I and II, Stenography, General Business, Advanced Business, Accounting, Secretarial Practices, and Clerical Practice.

Time's up, Mr. Ballantynel

FINE ARTS, LANGUAGE ARTS, MATHEMATICS

FINE ARTS: Row one: Margaret Henrion, Music; Fonette Riley, Art; Betty Schulteis, Art. Row two: Duane Miller, Instrumental Music; Richard Pond, Art; Harling A. Spring, Vocal Music.

LANGUAGE ARTS: Row one: Florence Hawkins, English; Helen Blery, Latin and English; Gladys Riley, English; Thelma Bowen, English; Inez C. Pletcher, English. Row two: L. Wichman, Speech; Marvin Brooks, English; Helen Afflick, English; Anita Booth, French and English; Jeanne Farrand, Librarian; Saralu Evans, Spanish; Tom H. R. Sicking, English; Bill Lehman, English.

MATHEMATICS: Row one: Ella B. Williams, Algebra and Eighth grade Arithmetic; John H. Ploesser, Geometry and Trigonometry; Amelia L. Smith, High School Arithmetic and General Math. Don W. Nelson, Algebra; Ray Dice, Algebra and General Math; Ken Michaels, Eighth grade Arithmetic.

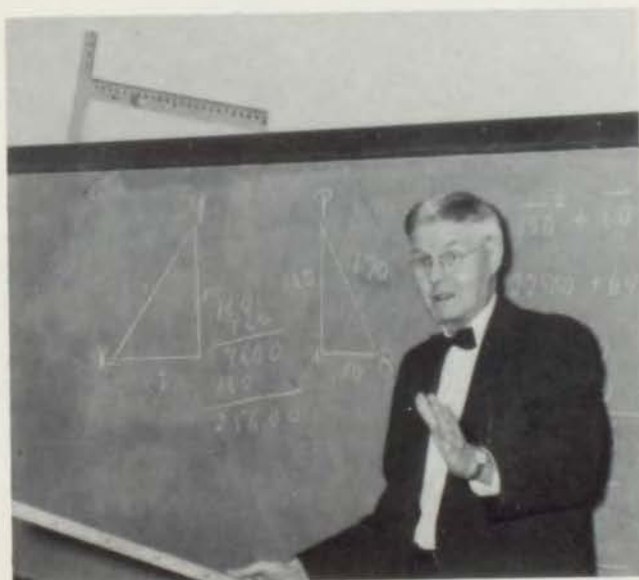

Well, I'd flunk 'em all!

The Language Arts department has increased with the addition of new teachers. The English teachers' goals are to instruct the students in the correct use of the English language, to help them appreciate and understand the English language and its writers, and to develop the abilities of the student in speaking. With the addition of a language laboratory, students now have the opportunity to better themselves in the field of foreign languages. The Mathematics department is centering its attention in the instructing of basic fundamentals in math. Included in this department are general math, algebra, geometry, trigonometry, solid geometry, and high school arithmetic. The Fine Arts department is developing the students' musical abilities and promoting the study and enjoyment of music, old and new. The choir and glee club participate in both city and district contests, festivals, concerts, and programs. The two highlights of the year were the singing of the choir with the Philharmonic Orchestra in the Mayor's Christmas Tree Fund and the singing at Commencement. The Art department has been busy helping bring beauty to the halls of Westport. Mosaics have been put on the floors of the school. Art students participate in the National Scholastic Achievement Contest, in which students from a six-state area enter. Gold keys, cash prizes, and scholarships are awarded.

Mr. Ploesser explains about Calvin Butterball and Phoebe Small.

Teachers find themselves involved in many activities besides teaching. Mrs. Pletcher is shown collecting money for Red Cross Stockings.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION, SCIENCE, PRACTICAL ARTS

Coach Little and Mr. Booth finally found a place to get away from it all.

Student teachers start out their day gay, but how does it end?

While other departments concentrate on the mental abilities of students, the Physical Education department works to improve the physical vitality of the students. The Science department is constantly trying out new ideas through experiments, reading, films, and educational television programs.

The Science department is classed into different divisions: Earth Science, Human Science, Biology, Physics, and Chemistry. To prepare students in the domestic aspects of life, the Practical Arts department gives instructions in sewing, cooking, woodshop, metal shop, and electricity.

Mr. White cooks up another cherry phosphate.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION: Row one: Terry Janes, Mildred S. Patterson, Marie Pusateri. Row two: David Jones, Clifford Murphy, Kenneth Webster.

Front Row: Bud French, World History and Citizenship; Pauline Harris, American History; Irene Myers, Family Relations; Roland Crane, World History and Citizenship.

Hollis Lancaster, C.O.E.; Rudolph Sterk, Physical Education; Paul DeGeorge, Arts; Earl Boucher, Commercial Arts.

Back Row: Francis Gates, Common Learnings; Jerry Roark, Common Learnings; Velda Bybee, Common Learnings; Dorothy Munday, Common Learnings, Dorothy Newman, Common Learnings.

SOCIAL STUDIES, VOCATIONAL EDUCATION AND COMMON LEARNINGS

Mr. Sterk and two visitors examine the new electronics laboratory.

Future printers are shown skills in the Graphic Arts department.

The aim of the Social Studies department is to teach what history has recorded of the various political and economic problems. The efforts that were made to solve them are studied in an attempt to profit from the past.

The courses offered are American History, Citizenship, World History, World Geography, Contemporary Issues, Current Affairs and Economics.

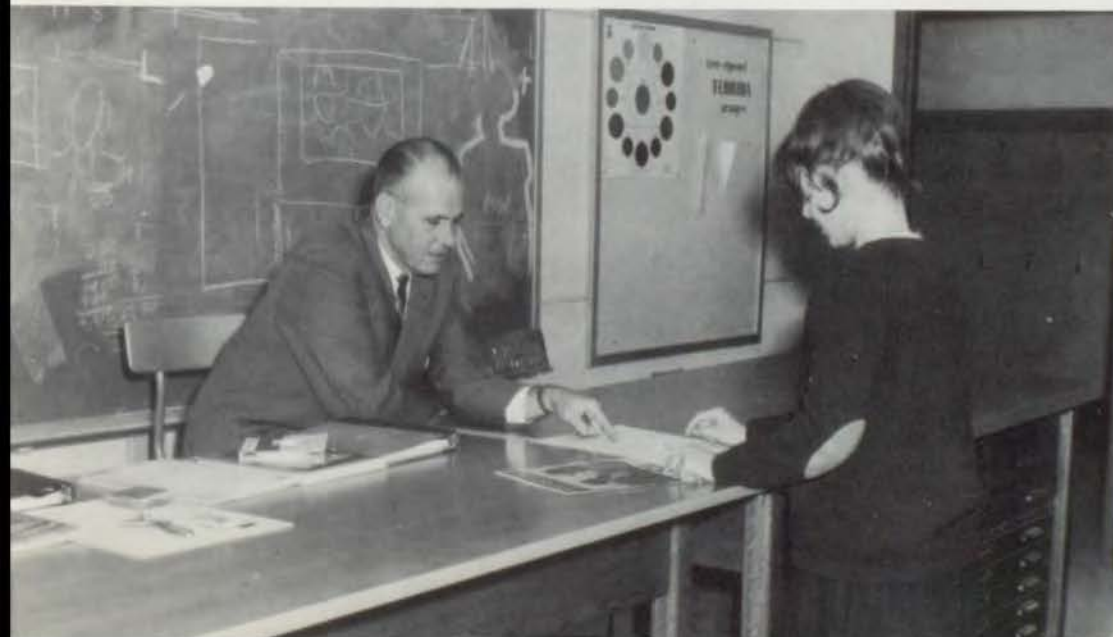

Vocational Education trains students for various trades and offers on-the-job training in the form of C. O. E. classes.

The courses offered are C. O. E., Refrigeration, Air Conditioning, Commercial Art and Electronics.

Common Learning classes, in which all eighth graders are enrolled, meet for two and a half hours a day. In these classes students are taught English, where major improvements in spelling, writing and grammar are made, and history, where events of past and present are analyzed.

Mr. Boucher points out the elementary principles of Commercial Art.

COUNSELORS

Mrs. Emerine Kline, Secretary in the Counseling Center.

A new student receives advice from Mrs. Holley.

The counselors orientate students to Westport life. They conduct the Eighth Grade orientation. Schedules are planned with their help. Program changes are worked out through the counselors' assistance. They help students realize their potential in the school. Aptitude and achievement tests are administered. Scholarships for deserving students are arranged. Financial difficulties of students are solved by providing textbooks and other school supplies. The counselors act as liaison between the school and community agencies such as the juvenile authorities, police force, and community groups.

Mrs. Katie D. Holley, Junior and Eighth Grade; Marvin E. Langford, Sophomore and Testing Schedule; Virginia A. McClure, Seniors. Not pictured; Mr. Gerald Yoesel, Freshmen.

OFFICE STAFF: Betty Kubis, secretary; Lena Carpenter, registrar and personal secretary to Dr. Ball; Kathryn Forbes, attendance secretary.

The office staff plays a very active roll in everyday life at Westport. Answering telephones, signing excuses, taking messages, filing cards and permitting students to see Mr. Evans and Dr. Ball are just a few of the many secretarial duties. Mrs. Carpenter, in addition to her other jobs, makes announcements over the public address system and prepares transcripts. Mrs. Forbes' main job is checking attendance records. Mrs. Kubis keeps the office running smoothly with the help of the office assistants. These women are responsible for the efficient and well-organized atmosphere of the office.

Miss Porter explains the technicalities of weighing students.

Mrs. Forbes, attendance clerk, marks a student's absence.

CAFETERIA STAFF

Mrs. C. A. Nofftz, cafeteria manager.

Making sandwiches is just a small part of the cafeteria worker's routine.

The daily task of the cafeteria staff is to prepare food for students and faculty. Cafeteria workers start making the noon meal early in the day. The first shift usually arrives at 6:30. The staff's job is to serve early morning coffee to teachers and supply a variety of energy-packed foods for the hungry students.

The cafeteria staff does a superb job.

In just one day the staff sells six-hundred packs of potato chips, three-hundred packs of Fritos, four-hundred packs of cheese sticks, over eight-hundred servings of ice cream, four-hundred sandwiches, and one thousand two-hundred cartons of milk. The cafeteria staff is indeed essential in the daily life of Westport students and faculty.

Have you ever wondered who keeps the floors of Westport so clean and shiny or who empties the wastebaskets or who that man is who always walks by your classroom with a duster in his hand? Or did you ever wonder what happened to the muddy footprints you left on the halls the day before? Well, if you haven't, it's time you learned about the wonderful men who do these and many other jobs.

Because Westport is used by Junior College for night school classes, it has both a day and night crew of custodians. The day crew starts before the sun comes up in the morning and works until late afternoon. The night crew starts in mid-afternoon and continues working until the wee hours of morning. These men are responsible for locking every door of the building after the last light has been shut off. Besides being responsible for lowering and raising the flag, these men also pick up after Westport Tiger Litterbugs who might thoughtlessly clutter up the campus. In cold and icy weather these are the men who must shovel snowy walks and steps to prevent accidents.

Now you don't need to wonder who keeps the floors so clean and shiny or who empties the wastebaskets or who that man is who always walks by your classroom with a duster. You know! It's your friend the custodian.

STUDENT AID

The girls in the Health Center assist Miss Porter in her duties as school nurse. They can always be seen taking temperatures, making splints, and listening to the aches and pains of students. The monitors watch the doors and help to thin out the crowded lunch lines. The office assistants contribute to the neatness and accuracy of the office by answering phones, filing cards, writing excuse cards, and permitting students to see the principal and vice-principal.

HEALTH CENTER ASSISTANTS: Hazel Smith, Rosalind Rowlett, Cheryl Hazlett, Esther Barnes, Lona Brotherton, Rita Ware, Judy MacDonald, Jeannie Fagala.

CLASSES

The nucleus of Westport is the student body. The ever-changing stream of students, each class with its own problems, activities and expressions, are typical of any high school.

The Eighth graders, bewildered by the building, classes, and the new faces, soon learn about classes and gradually become accustomed to Westport life.

The Freshmen, who know "what it's all about," are thrilled by new opportunities for choosing classes and activities.

The Sophomores settle down to study as they await the time when they will be upperclassmen.

The Juniors worry about activities, grades, SCAT tests, and preparations for the Junior-Senior Prom.

The Seniors wondering about the future, filled with pride, savor their last year of school before they don caps and gowns and take their places in the world they have been told is theirs.

SENIORS

For the Senior class, June, 1965 marks the end of five years of education, friendships, and enjoyment at Westport High. Since the day they first arrived as eighth graders, the thought of one day becoming the top class was one of their most important thoughts. As each year progressed the class rose one step higher to the top. The freshman year gave them a team of their own to cheer, prospective literary society memberships, and more friends. As sophomores the class of '65 was in the middle--not old enough to be looked up to, and yet, young enough to be frowned on. Their junior year brought with it the excitement of the Prom and the next-to-the last step. As Seniors they watched a new addition progress and acquaintances become stronger. Through these past five years the Seniors have watched changes in the faculty, the student body, the school, and in themselves. Through these past years the members of the class of '65 have gained information which should help them in the future as they go their separate ways.

WESTPORT WELCOMES

Foreign exchange students are feted at Westport.

DANISH MISS

Ingelice Rangstrup

Westport went Danish this year with the arrival of Miss Ingelice Rangstrup. Lisa came from Esbjerg, located in the northern part of Denmark. Ingelice's family includes her parents, twenty-one year old brother, and her dog. Mr. Rangstrup is vice-president of a large department store in Esbjerg. Ingelice stayed with the James Evans family and their daughters, Elaine and Dawn, senior and sophomore, respectively. Lisa became a part of Westport through her many activities; Pundit Literary Society, La Danse Moderne, Safety Council, Midtown Youth Council, and Student Council.

Lisa expressed her feelings about her stay and the future: "As many other young people, I have always wanted to travel, meet new friends, and to get a better understanding of other people's problems. My stay here in the United States and at Westport have made me understand that people in all countries have the same hopes, dreams, and wishes for the future. In not too many years the teenagers of today will rule the world, and I hope that all of you will remember these words:

'Walk together, talk together
You people of the earth.
Then and only then
Shall you have peace.'

I want to thank all of you for making my stay here at Westport such a wonderful experience." Westport is very proud to have had Ingelice Rangstrup as its foreign exchange student for 1964-1965.

WESTPORT LENDS LINDA

Linda Wilson, A. F. S. student from Westport, spent last summer in Switzerland. During her stay she lived with Dr. Rolf Spitzer and his family. Dr. and Mrs. Spitzer have two children; Evelyn, 18, and Ilus, 17.

Linda attended school at Handel Schule. She visited the National Exposition at Lausanne. A national exposition is similar to our World's Fair.

Linda stated that she enjoyed the beautiful scenery in Switzerland and said, "I had a wonderful experience in Switzerland, meeting new people, visiting different places, and I am thankful to the American Field Service for making it possible."

Linda Wilson, foreign exchange student to Switzerland.

TO SWISS FAMILY

Linda brought to Westport a new perspective on Swiss life.

Lisa enjoyed many aspects of Westport life.

JUNIORS

With four years down and one year to go, eager juniors look forward to the time when they will lead the school. Juniors participated in the various facets of school life. These included B-team and Varsity football, cross country, basketball and track. Other activities were varsity and B-team cheerleaders, departmental clubs, literary societies and Crier and Herald staffs. Juniors were found to be most active in such school projects as Red Cross, Mock Election, Talent show and assemblies.

The juniors added a final touch to the year with the well planned theme, "Ce Soir dans Paris," for the annual Junior-Senior Prom, thus bringing to a close an eventful year filled with treasurable memories.

Top: Holly Passwater, president. Middle: "... and over there is the 'Dust Bowl.'" Bottom: Esther Barnes.

SOPHOMORES

Being in the middle is usually a trying task, but not for the Class of '67. As Sophomores, they started "making their mark" on the school by participating in Literary Societies, departmental clubs, cheerleading squads, sports, and other activities. The class began thinking about its future plans and, especially, 1967. As the middle class they were buffeted around, but it was taken good-naturedly. The class of 1967 prepared itself for the coming years and contributed in many ways for the good of Westport.

SOPHOMORE CANDIDS

The studious (?) class of '67.

Oh! That hurts!

What, nothing to do!

The latest fashion...

FRESHMAN OFFICERS: Top Row: Ron Lawlor, Treasurer; Jamie Jones, Business Committee; Sandy Gooch, Sergeant-at-Arms; Sandy Major, Business Committee; Bonnie Passwater, President; Bottom Row: Peggy Pickering, Vice-President;

Janice Smith, Business Committee; Sandy Rice, Secretary; Mr. Roark, Advisor; Missing: Patty Keith, Business Committee.

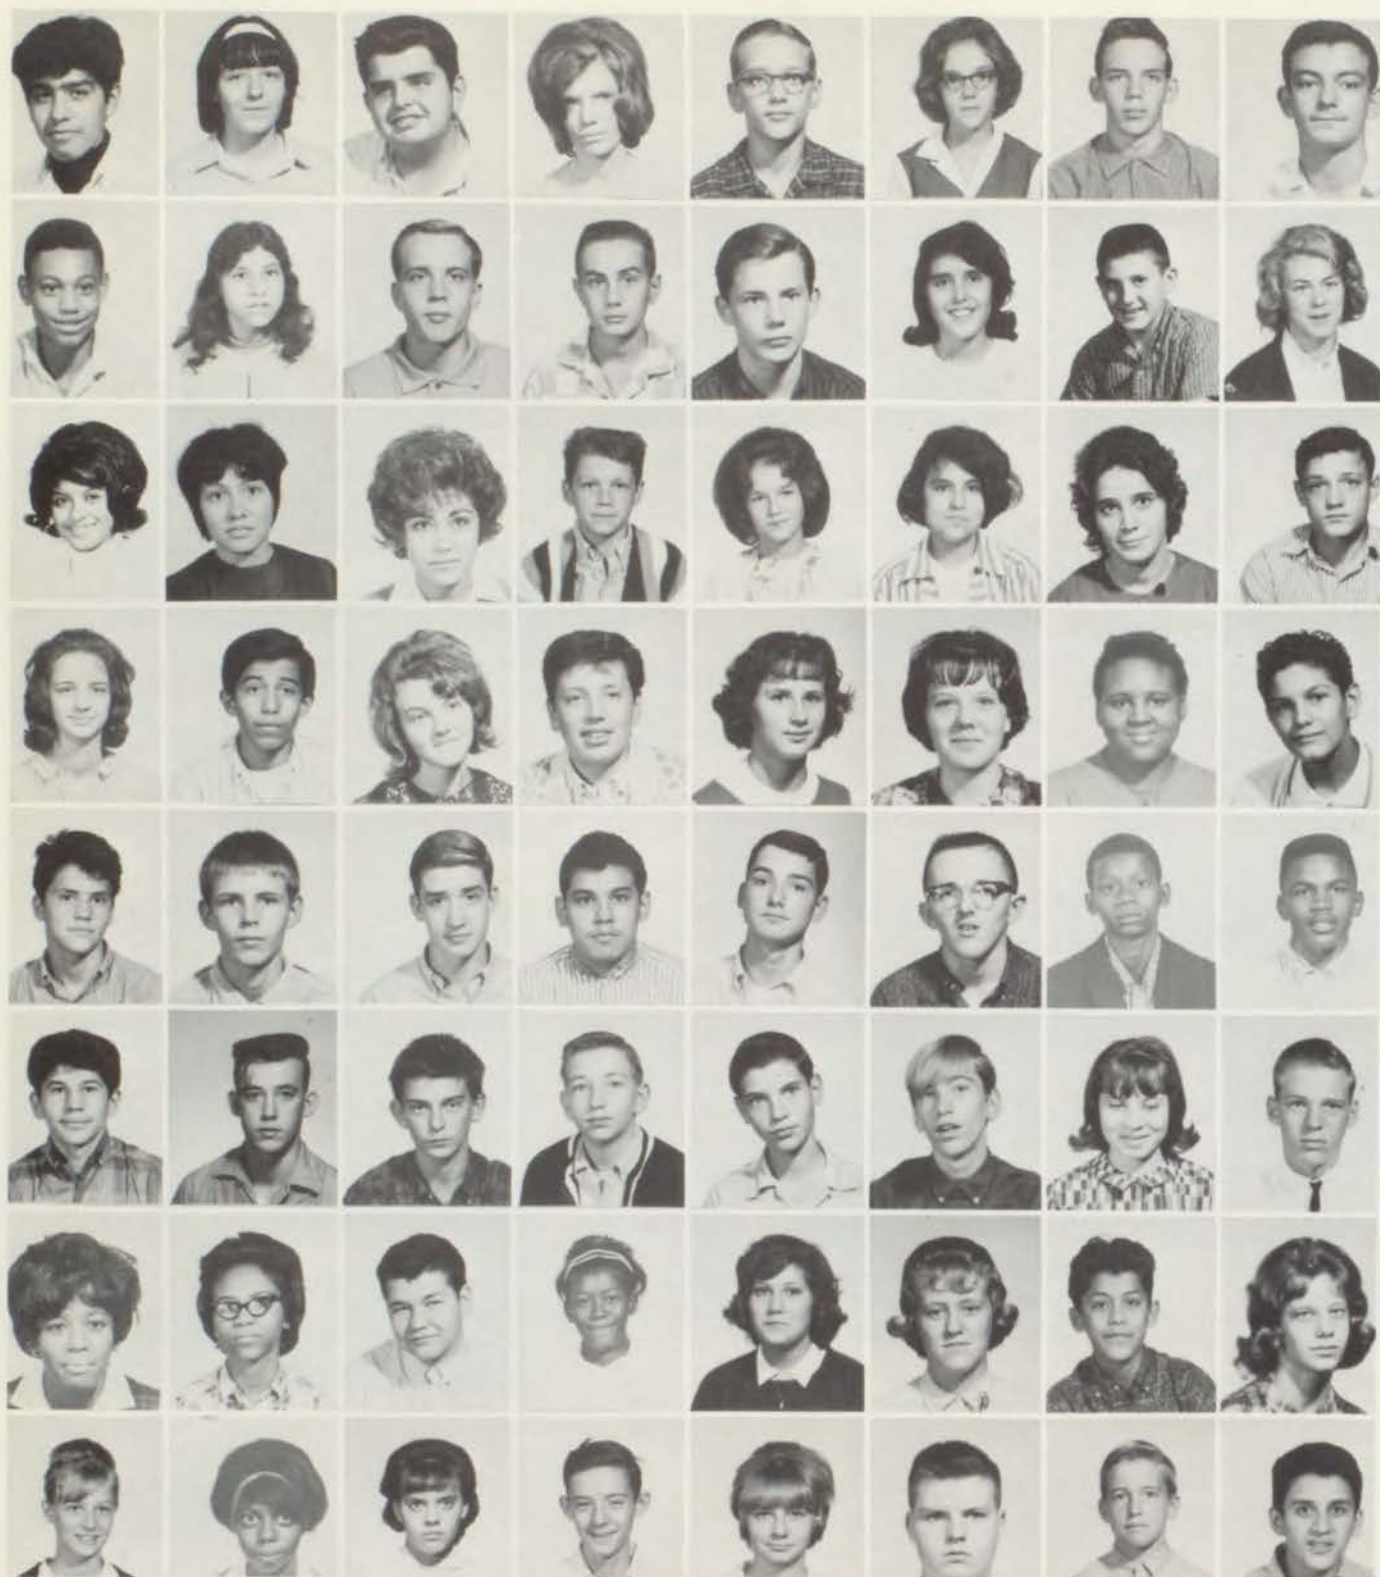

FRESHMEN

Top: Bonnie Passwater, President
Middle: Busy students finish another eventful day.
Bottom: Peggy Pickering, Vice-President

With the feeling of being new gone, the Freshman Class look forward to the coming years. As freshmen they become eligible for membership in literary societies, departmental clubs, and have their own teams to cheer for. With additional privileges comes the additional burden of responsibilities that each student has to face. The school begins to rely more and more on the leadership participation of the freshmen.

EIGHTH GRADERS

Ever felt like a needle in a haystack? Every year a certain group of students is aware of this feeling. They are the eighth graders fresh from grade school. As these students bravely walk up the stairs for the first time, they step into another world. This world is quite different from that which they've been used to. From that first day through the next five years, they progress through the different phases of high-school life. As eighth graders, they have common learnings classes, their own assemblies, and special attention from counselors. Although they are sometimes looked down on by the upper classmen, eighth graders will be the leaders of the school in years to come.

ORGANIZATIONS

The organizations at Westport are designed to fill the needs of the student body.

Membership in an organization means more than dues or a membership card. Clubs are membership drives, 3:30 meetings, elections, money raising projects, committee meetings, prospective member meetings, literary work, and program planning.

Therefore members of organizations must have enthusiasm, willingness to work, and time. A member of an organization meets responsibility and discouragement, but also gains satisfaction of a job well done and many memories which will linger through the years.

STUDENT COUNCIL...

EXECUTIVE BOARD

David Hof, Student Council President

The Student Council is the governing body of the students. At the bi-monthly meetings the representatives present suggestions and complaints to the Executive Board. This year, under the sponsorship of Mr. William Merryman, the Student Council was again very active. The Student Council sponsors many functions during the year, the majority of which are fund-raising projects for the A.F.S. student of the following year. The activities this year were the Mock Election, Bells for Peace, dances and the sale of student directories.

REPRESENTATIVES

TIGER DEN BOARD

Planning, decorating, and cleaning up are the three phases of the work done by the Tiger Den Board. The members spend many hours preparing for the Tiger Den meetings which have become a standard for other high school teen nights. Saturday mornings usually find the students busy decorating the girls' gym and setting up games in the boys' gym. The hard-working board members have made the Tiger Den an outstanding activity at Westport.

Bill McCall, acting Tiger Den chairman, congratulates Dianna Cox, 1965 Queen of Hearts.

HONOR SOCIETY

This is the way to make the Honor Roll.

The Westport Honor Society is composed of the students with a grade point average of 3.1 or higher. These students are awarded Bronze, Silver, and Gold pins respectively, according to their achievements. The Bronze Pins are given to students who have been on the Honor Roll two consecutive semesters including the last semester of the eighth grade year. The Silver Pin is awarded to those students who have been on the Honor Roll four consecutive high school semesters. A Gold Pin with one pearl is given to seniors who have carried a 3.1 grade average for eight high school semesters. Those seniors who have had a grade average of 3.5 all through high school are awarded a Gold Pin with two pearls. The highest award in the Honor Society is the Gold Pin with three pearls and is given to those seniors who have been able to carry a 3.65 average through high school. This year's officers were Robert Orr, president; Susan Weber, Vice-president; Mary Ann Cox, secretary; Linda Wilson, honor point secretary; Jane Wells, treasurer.

Danny Bowden, Joe Tierney. Third row: Bill Schantz, Tom Miller, Robert Cowell, Chuck Carlson, Gerald Bethke, Roger Thomas, Walter Thompson, Dan Sturdevant, Mike Lancaster.

"W" Club has been very active this year. The officers were most efficient in helping "W" Club reorganize. They were Pat Davis, president; Bill Poppie, vice-president; Tony Bentley, secretary; Bill Schantz, treasurer; Steve Brotherson, sergeant-at-arms. Under the direction of the sponsor, Coach Webster, "W" Club rules were strictly enforced and standards were higher. Meetings were held every two weeks before school.

Pep Club and "W" Club now function smoothly in supporting the Tigers at games. At a game when we hear the Tiger section roar "Mean Hogs," the nickname given to the Tigers after winning the Interscholastic League Tournament, we know the "W" Club is in there cheering.

PEP

The main purpose of the Westport Pep Club is to promote school spirit and to attend all athletic events. Pep Club held membership drives each semester to increase its size. The members of the Pep Club supported different activities. Besides attending games, they purchased pom-poms, ribbons, attended pep rallies, and worked on other committees. The two major events of the Pep Club year were the float for the American Royal Parade and the election of B-team cheerleaders. Pep Club tried to increase school spirit in the students, teachers, and community.

Pep Club was responsible for preparing Westport's float for the American Royal Parade.

Executive Board: Katie Morse, Betty Sue Williams, Patty Keith and, Mitchel Peil.

Red Cross Representatives met every second Tuesday after the first Monday of each month. Heading the agenda of activities discussed at meetings were projects to be programed. The main project this year was the collection of donations from the student body throughout Red Cross Week, March 8 -12. In September, Red Cross sponsored a training center at Unity Farm, which was attended by representatives from Westport. During the Christmas season the student body, through home-rooms filled Red Cross stockings to send to hospital patients.

The main purpose of the Red Cross Representatives is to bring Red Cross to the students in the school. Each representative explains the organization to the students in their home-rooms. Red Cross tries to present students with some knowledge of Red Cross and what it does.

SAFETY COUNCIL AND STAGE CREW

The Safety Council was organized this year for the purpose of improving safety measures around the school. Representatives were sent to a safety workshop in which several schools participated.

The stage crew is a central figure in assemblies, plays, and programs. Sound techniques, lighting, scenic backdrops, and curtain cues are controlled by members of the crew.

HERALD STAFF

Seated: Kathy Hoelzel, Assistant Managing Editor; Karen Mowrer, Managing Editor; Jack McConaughey, Production Editor; Barbara Soule, Copy Editor. Standing: Mr. Bill

Lehman, Sponsor; Dianna Vincent, Assistant Production Editor.

Being on the Herald Staff is a great responsibility. Because a definite deadline must be met by the staff to insure delivery of the book on time, great teamwork is demanded. The cover must be chosen; a variety of pictures must be taken, processed, and cropped; copy must be written and checked; pages must be designed and drawn; advertisements and yearbook subscriptions must be sold; the books themselves must be distributed upon their arrival in the spring; innumerable small and large decisions must be made. The Herald Staff was a small, hard-working band this year. To carry out its responsibilities in an improved fashion, the members of the staff attended workshops in Columbia and Independence where yearbook techniques were taught. Many hours were spent both during the day and into the evening hours during the year laboring to produce a yearbook which would be an object of pride to the student body. For a yearbook increases in value as the years go by, serving as a touchstone to the events and memories of the year.

Mr. Bill Lehman, Advisor and Friend.

Concentration and devotion go into the making of a yearbook.

Eenie-Meenie-Minie-Moe.

Charlotte and Paul ponder over this month's layout.

"Copy due next Friday." Deadlines are made to be met and meeting them is an important part in the life of a Crier staff member. Enjoyment and satisfaction of a job well done aren't felt until the paper is finally "put to bed." But this requires staff members to work together and on schedule. Selecting assignments, running down news stories, soliciting ads, writing articles, proofing, preparing layouts, and getting the paper to the printer are the different phases of a newspaperman's life.

The Crier is published once a month by the journalism class. The first semester is used as a teaching period in which the students learn the fundamentals of writing from a journalistic point of view and the basic principles of publishing a paper. The second semester is devoted to the putting to use the fundamentals learned first semester.

F.T.A. EXPLORES THE FIELD OF EDUCATION

The D.G. Holloway Club, chartered in June 1964, is affiliated with the state and national Future Teacher associations and with the Kansas City TEPs organization. The purpose of the F.T.A. is to explore the teaching field and the opportunities it offers through guest speakers, reports, films and actual experience helping teachers. The Future Teacher club has had several service projects this year, such as the promotion for the Wesger Revue, adoption of an orphan, and by sponsorship of a Teacher Appreciation Day which was held on the last day of the first semester. As an affiliate of the state organization, the Westport F.T.A. sent representatives to the Missouri State F.T.A. Convention that was held in Columbia last fall.

Katie contemplates how she would teach this class.

Mid-town Youth Council promotes traffic safety among high school students in the Westport area. During the meetings, which are held every third Wednesday night, the members, representing Westport, Paseo, Lillis and St. Theresa high schools, learned the necessity of traffic safety through films and talks given by guest speakers. The council also held a youth court to which juvenile traffic offenders who attend the participating high schools are sent.

100 GIRLS' CLUB

100 Girls' Club is sponsored by the Association of American University Women to encourage girls to go on to college. These selected girls are chosen from each of the area high schools. The girls are chosen for abilities displayed in the fields of scholarship and leadership. This year the main activities were a Christmas Brunch, a visit to Kansas University, and a tea, which was held in the spring.

Well, see you at the French Club Meeting tonight...N'est pas?

The purpose of the French Club is to promote interest in the French language and culture and to provide services for the betterment of Westport High School. This year the French Club has promoted friendliness by having an exchange with the Northeast French Club. There was a fundraising project as well as letter exchanges with students in France. First semester officers were: President, Sharon McGinnis; Vice-President, Barbara Soule; Secretary, Linda Gialde; Treasurer, Linda Clark; Sergeant-at-arms, Helen Wheelis. Second semester officers were: President, Kent Kregar; Vice-President, Susan Weber; Secretary, Margie Anderson; Treasurer, Linda Wilson; and Sergeant-at-arms, Katie Morse.

El Circulo Calderon which gets its name from a noted Spanish writer Caldiron de la Barca, was founded at Westport High School in 1910. El Circulo Calderon, as a departmental club here at Westport High School, holds its meetings twice each month. The purpose of the Spanish Club is to promote a better understanding of Spain, its culture and customs. In trying to fulfill this purpose the officers use films, outside speakers, and present various Mexican and Spanish foods as refreshments at each meeting.

El Circulo Calderon presented two very old traditional dances for the Wesger Revue of 64, "La Bamba" (or Wedding Dance) and "Jurabe" (or Mexican Hat Dance) and ended up in walking off with a Wesger for best costumes.

President, Charlene Mershman, discusses the new program on the agenda.

LATIN CLUB REVIVES CLASSICS

The Latin Club, under the sponsorship of Mrs. Helen Biery, was reorganized this year and a constitution written. The purpose of the Latin Club is to permit the Latin Classes to share in activities pertaining to the Classics beyond the demands of the classroom. The club sponsored a fund-raising dinner. This year's officers are: Judy Barnes, President; Paula Murray, Vice-President; Lisa Steele, Secretary; Mary Hill, Treasurer, Jay Kraemer, Sergeant-at-Arms.

Judy prepares to present the new constitution to the Latin Club.

SPEECH-ARTS CLUB

The Purpose of Speech-Arts Club is to promote a deeper appreciation for the fine arts. Club members participated in speech festivals and contests. There was also a special Mock Election Assembly in which members presented essential parts of the platforms of the two Presidential candidates. First semester officers were Rene Rozenblit, president; Jane Guy, vice-president; Vicki Mucie, secretary; and Jack McConaughy, treasurer. The members elected Jane Guy president and gave the office of vice-president to Jane Lohrengel, the office of secretary to Rene Rozenblit and the office of treasurer to Dianna Vincent for the second semester.

CHESS CLUB

"Checkmate!" As the familiar word resounded, the members of Westport's chess club relaxed. They had won again! This year the chess club played two tournaments: one with Center and one with Paseo. They won both of these contests. This year's officers were Robert Cherry, president; Randy Becker, vice-president; Bob Apple, treasurer; and Mary Moran, secretary. The chess club, sponsored by Mr. David Lyons meets every Thursday night.

"What do you mean, checkmate?"

Don and Tom consider their next moves.

BROWNING

Browning Literary Society was founded in 1946. It was named after Robert Browning. Browning's official colors are red and white. First semester, Browning sponsored an orphan. A Dana-Browning hayride and football game were held. Also, a Browning-Wilson football game was played. The constitution was altered, and the traditional grade average required of all members of 3.0 was lowered to 2.5. First semester officers were: Mike Knipmeyer, President; Mike Hoff, Vice-President; Eddie Parkhurst, Secretary; Gary Williams, Treasurer; Bob Worts, Sergeant-at-Arms; Dave Hof, Intersociety Representative. Second semester officers were: Mike Hoff, President; Bob Orr, Vice-President; Bob Russell, Secretary; Alvin McFarlane, Recording Secretary; Chuck Carlson, Treasurer; Jack McConaughy Jr., Sergeant-at-Arms; David Hof, Intersociety Representative. Browning's Beau Brummell and Beauty Queen are Gary Williams, and Margie Anderson, respectively.

"Look upward, not downward; look forward, not back, and lend a hand." Promethean Literary Society, with her colors of lavender and white, was founded in 1929. The purpose of Promethean is to foster the appreciation of literature in the members, to encourage original literary efforts on the part of them, and to promote at all times activities for the best interest of Westport High School. Activities during the year included literary contests, sponsoring an orphan, a bake sale, participation in the Talent Show, and prospective members parties.

A first this year is a book entitled "Memories of Promethean" which presents to the members the accomplishments of the year. Included in it are all the prize-winning original works from the members from the literary contest and from the club contests, coverage of all the activities, and mention of the things that have been done by "Prometheanites" to bring honor and pride to Promethean. Miss Jeannette Fetter is Promethean's sponsor, and Mr. Bill Lehman is the Literary advisor.

First semester officers were; President, Joy Gooch; Vice-President, Cathy Campbell; Secretary, Jo Ann Brown; Treasurer, Martha Kaeding; Sergeant-At-Arms, Cheryl Hazen; Parliamentarian, Cathy Cooley; Historian, Nikia Fries. Second semester officers: President, Joy Gooch; Vice-President, Jo Ann Brown; Secretary, Martha Kaeding; Treasurer, Joyce Williams; Sergeant-At-Arms, Kay McMahill; Chaplain, Susan Weber; Parliamentarian, Marshan Fields; Historian, Cathy Campbell.

Pundit Literary Society was founded in 1909. Its purpose is to give its members an opportunity to express their literary talents, promote friendship, and give aid throughout the school. Their brother society, Wilson, aids them.

Pundit held several main activities throughout the year. An exchange was made with Northeast high School. Its purpose was to promote better relations and exchange ideas for Westport and the betterment of each of the clubs. The constitution was revised, an orphan was adopted at Christmas, a pot luck dinner was held, and the club sponsored the intersociety tea.

The motto of Pundit is to "weigh, consider, and express." Pundit's official colors are royal blue and silver. Miss Marie Pusateri, and Mr. David Jones are sponsor and co-sponsor respectively.

The Marching Band, under the direction of Mr. Duane Miller, provided a colorful representation of Westport to the community, both locally and throughout the state. The band participated in the annual Old Westport Day Parade. The Pageantry of the American Royal was enhanced by the Tiger marchers. The glint of gold on navy blue was displayed at the Warrensburg Marching Band Festival. Distinction has been brought to the school regularly by the members of the band. Second place was captured this year in the Warrensburg Marching Band Contest. Numerous Kansas City organizations have recognized the excellence of the band by inviting it to perform. Mr. Miller worked diligently planning formations and preparing the unit musically for its many activities. Up in front of the band, adding even more to the beauty of the band's display, are the lovely majorettes. With batons twirling and white and blue trimmed uniforms swishing, they are a favorite in every performance of the band.

Westport steals the show at the American Royal.

STAGE

Mr. Miller, conductor.

Westport's Stage Band participates in many school activities. The members perform in a variety of assemblies, supplementing the regular program. The Stage Band had an act in the 1964 Wesger Revue. The Stage Band is sometimes called upon to perform at Tiger Dens and other events. The membership of the Stage Band is derived from the Marching Band, distinguishing themselves by also being members of the orchestra, thus participating in all three instrumental groups.

The orchestra provides another opportunity for instrumentalists to perform and display their abilities. Members concentrate on playing classical music by the great composers of the past and present. They also play popular show tunes from the Broadway performances. Members of the orchestra are selected to play in the All-City Orchestra. Each year the Luyben Awards are presented to the students for participation and leadership qualities. This year the orchestra helped in making a record with the band. The musical highlights of the year for the orchestra are the Spring Concert and the State Music Contest.

Mr. Spring

Among the activities offered for students interested in fine arts are the vocal music groups. Westport's vocal groups include the Choir, Girl's Glee Club and Sextette. These vocal groups, under the direction of Mr. Harling A. Spring, perform in the Talent Show, in their Spring Concert, at Warrensburg in the state contests, and in various assemblies throughout the year. Choir officers for the first semester were: Barbara BeVier, President; Eddie Parkhurst, Vice-President; Mitchell Peil, Secretary; and Gary Williams, Treasurer. Second semester officers were: Gary Williams, President; Mitchell Peil, Vice-President; Shirley Anderson, Secretary; and Elmer Overton, Treasurer. ACTIVITIES

In any high school, activities play a big, important part in school life. Without activities of any sort, students would lose interest in their school. Westport has a variety of activities in which almost every person can participate. The major sports include football, basketball, and track-- which are for boys. Girls can participate in Sports Days and after school activities. Whether one is a spectator or a participant, activities provide a different setting in which he can momentarily forget everything and enjoy himself.

GRIDIRON GREATS

"Tag...you're it."

"...and then there's the ref..."

Jay Jones escapes the grasp of a Lincoln tackler.

The roaring Tigers started the 1964 season by scorching three straight victories. After an opening victory over Rockhurst, Westport was rated third in the area by the Kansas City Star. The Star rated the Tiger gridders second in the district after two solid victories over Manual and East, 24-0 and 18-12 respectively. But the Tigers were tumbled in their next contest by the Southwest Indians who eventually captured the Interscholastic League crown. Westport broke even through the rest of the season with trops over Paseo and Van Horn sandwiching defeats by Lincoln and the second-place Central Eagles. The season's conclusion found the Westport Tigers boasting of a 4-3 league record, five wins and three losses in all games, and a tie for fourth place in league competition.

Coach Webster discusses the situation with quarterback Jay Jones.

The Freshman Football team played a tough season this year. Coaches Charles Booth and John Little coached the boys in practices that lasted, on the average, almost three hours every day after school. The boys played with great enthusiasm and determination to overcome their inexperience. The coaches hope next year to have a better result in the team standings. This year's team should add strength to the Varsity and B-Team in years to come.

B-TEAM CHEERLEADERS

The B-Team Cheerleaders brought honor to Westport by winning the first place trophy in the small group division at the Valley Cheerleading School this year. This trophy illustrates the zest and cheering ability of the B-Team cheerleaders. They have a double-time duty--cheering for their own teams and yet being ready to fill in for the Varsity squad, if necessary. Being a B-Team cheerleader is a lot of work and usually ends in aching muscles and sore throats--but also in much spirit and pride in a job well-done.

CROSS COUNTRY

The varsity crosscountry men proved to have a very successful year. Coaches John Goodwin and David Jones trained the boys well. The hard work involved included staying after school, running two or more miles a day, and the many hours of calisthenics. Training proved to be one of the main factors in making the season successful. Out of eight meets, the Tigers placed first in five of them--taking first place in the city meet, capturing second place in the district meet, and placing eleventh in the state meet.

Cross Country men go through their daily two-mile run.

Coach John Little

Westport's "Mean Hogs" threw a scare into the Interscholastic league this year, taking first place in the Interscholastic League Tournament and sixth place in the league. John Little, in his freshman season as a Westport coach, took basically the same team that last year won two and lost eighteen, pushed them through countless drills and came up with a winning record of sixteen victories and eight losses. In other words the "Mean Hogs" brought home a victory two times out of every three times they played.

The first time out the Westport cagers took William Chrisman in a squeaker, 52-51, and followed up with victories over Truman and Fort Osage. The Tigers ran into difficulty with Lee's Summit and lost by three points. The next night, however, Westport won again, this time tromping Raytown, taking third place in the William Jewell tournament. The Tigers put down Blue Springs next and went into the Interscholastic league tourney with a 5-1 record.

In the tournament seeding Westport was rated last. The "Mean Hogs" proceeded to beat every team they faced in the tournament, tramping East, cutting down the Central Eagles, pulling out a close one with arch-rival Southwest, and rolling over top-seeded Lincoln on the way to first-place.

Thus the Westport round-ballers entered league play with a most impressive 9-1 record. However, the first league game pitted Westport against revenge-hungry Central who slapped a 65-45 defeat on the red-hot Tigers. The following week, Westport lost a heart-breaker to Van Horn, 68-60. With the "Mean Hogs" leading by nearly twenty points going into the second quarter, co-captain Richard "Woody" Haynes, the team spark-plug, broke his left leg while driving in for a lay-up. The "Mean Hogs" couldn't seem to do a thing right during the rest of the game and Van Horn, capitalizing on every break, pulled it out.

The next time out the "Mean Hogs" broke back into the winning column with a 53-50 victory over Southeast. But the following week Manual upset the Tigers. Westport took East in the next game giving the "Mean Hogs" a 2-3 league record.

In a non-league game the Tigers overcame a large first half deficit to defeat St. Joseph Central by eleven points. The "Mean Hogs" broke even in the next two league games beating Paseo, 58-57, in overtime and losing to the Southwest Indians. The Tigers beat St. John in a non-league game. Richard Haynes' leg healed in time for him to play in a 71-53 victory over Northeast. The Lincoln Tigers beat the Westport cagers in the last league game of the year, 81-58, giving the "Mean Hogs" a 4-5 league record and a sixth place finish in the league.

In the Regionals Westport was again seeded last. In the first game the Tigers beat out third-seeded Southwest in overtime. Next, the "Mean Hogs" played unbeaten, first-seeded Center, losing 72-58. In the last game of the season Pem Day downed the Tigers, 66-61. Westport ended up fourth in the regionals.

VARSITY CHEERLEADERS

Being a cheerleader is not all prestige and position. It also calls for much hard work. The cheerleaders go to all the games and have practices after school to devise new "spirit yells." Led by their captain, Linda Gialde, they spent many hours after school in preparation for the games. Spending so much time together is bound to cause a bit of conflict and as Linda Clark says, "We get mad, we have arguments, but things usually get ironed out."

BOYS AND GIRLS

Combining work with play, the boys interested in sports hold their own intramural games. The various games which are held at different nights of the week are basketball, bowling, table tennis, swimming, and horseback riding.

Participants usually play one hour to one and a half hours a night, with Mr. Clifford Murphy, gym teacher and coach, as their supervisor. To make learning more fun and beneficial, the boys are also their own referees.

INTRAMURALS

Oh Oh! Team foul!

Every evening after school, energetic girls can be found in the gym working at perfecting a sport. The sport portrayed on these pages is basketball, but basketball is just one of the many activities open to athletic-minded girls--hockey, soccer, volleyball, basketball, table tennis, bowling, badminton, horseback riding, and softball. Mrs. Mildred Patterson and Mrs. Terry Janes supervise the intramural sports.

PRODUCES NEW

AERONAUTICS CLUB

The aeronautics club was established for those who are interested in all aspects of air, space, and travel. Newly started, the members have been busy with films, sports, and building model airplanes with the knowledge they have gained. Mr. Bill Lehman is the advisor.

AUDIO-VISUAL

Keeping track of all the equipment, operating projectors, and issuing films are a part of the audio-visual crew's work. Those pupils who are interested in this part of the work are members of this organization. Mr. Hill is the head of this phase of school activities.

AUDIO VISUAL WORKERS: Art Minery, Steve Benedict, Jim Sikes, David Cripe, Jim Murray, Ron Turley, Kathy Erwin, Bill McCall, Bruce Cady, Gary Miner.

ORGANIZATIONS

Mr. Brooks discusses debate fundamentals.

DEBATE

Students wishing to learn the art of debating and of logical thinking and expression banded together to form a debate club. This group, formed in February, is sponsored by Mr. Marvin Brooks. The group hopes to challenge debaters from other schools.

MUSIC APPRECIATION

Organized during February, the Music Appreciation group, under the sponsorship of Mr. Marvin Brooks and Mr. Duane Miller, met every fourth Monday. At the monthly meetings the group listened to classical music and discussed it. The purpose of the organization is to strive for a better appreciation of music. The officers this year were Mary Shulte, President; Linda Scott, Vice-President; Mary Ann Cox, Secretary; Tom Nevin, Treasurer; and Don Snedden, Sergeant-at-Arms.

AMERICAN ROYAL

On the day of October 10, Westport High School was well represented in the annual American Royal Parade. Long hours of hard work by Pep Club members were devoted to planning and producing an effective float to represent the "Mighty Tigers."

Many days of diligent practice and exhausting marches around the Westport area were endured by Band members, Majorettes, Letter Sweater Girls, and Varsity Cheerleaders. This prepared them for the long parade route starting at 15th & Central down to Baltimore to 9th Street, circling Main and ending up at 19th & Grand.

Ingelise Rangstrup, Westport's foreign exchange student, beautifully represented Westport and her country, Denmark, on the American Field Service Float.

TIGER

Tiger Den was operated most efficiently by the Tiger Den Board members, who plan the themes and decorations to coordinate with upcoming events. All Westport royalty was crowned on the traditional Tiger Den throne. To the enjoyment and thrill of those attending Tiger Den, every other Tiger Den, or once a month, Tiger Den switches from records to an outside band.

The girls' gym, located on the second floor, is used for dancing, while the boys' gym, located in the basement, is used as a game room, where a variety of games are offered such as ping-pong; pool; chinese checkers.

The P.T.A. members generously acted as chaperons, supervised coatchecks, and handled the refreshments for the Tiger Dens throughout the year.

Tiger Den passes sold for $2.00 and guest tickets sold for $0.75. The ticket sales were handled efficiently by Mr. and Mrs. Wilford Larimore, Tiger Den Chairman and Co-Chairman, and Mr. Roark, the Tiger Den Sponsor.

Tiger Den opens its doors at 7:30 P.M. and closes up at 11:45 P.M. leaving only the Tiger Den Board members to clean up.

Did they find many changes?

The 72nd annual Homecoming assembly was held December 23, 1964. At that time alumni and teachers returned once more to the halls of their Alma Mater. Steve Sturdevant, class of 1962, was guest speaker. Dr. Ball, principal, gave the Westport welcome. After Cheryl Hazen, Senior Class president, gave the student body welcome, David Hof, Student Council president, presented the roll call of the classes. With the close of the assembly, alumni lingered to renew old acquaintances and pay visits to lits and clubs to which they had belonged during their high school days.

Adding spice to the school year were several special events. Since 1964 was national election year; Westport students participated in their own Mock Election. Under the leadership of Mr. William Merryman, the Student Council set up booths supporting the two presidential candidates. Literature about President Lyndon B. Johnson and Senator Barry M. Goldwater, obtained from the Jackson County Democratic and Republican Headquarters, was displayed for the students to read. A Special assembly, conducted by Speech-Arts members, was presented to the student body to give them a view of the candidates' opinions. An all-school vote was conducted in which President Johnson received 866 votes and Senator Goldwater 307 out of a total of 1,173 ballots cast. The ballots were tabulated by members of the Crier Staff.

On December 30, the Senior Dance was held at the Westport Roanoke Community Center. Dinner was also served in the center which was decorated in keeping with the season.

ASSEMBLIES PROVIDE VARIETY

Westport had a variety of assemblies throughout the past year. The year began with the Kick-off Assembly which introduced the students to the new faculty members and provided the students with challenging goals to guide them through the year. Sports assemblies were held throughout the year. At these assemblies, team members were introduced to the student body. These assemblies were often held to herald an oncoming crucial game. Lettermen received letters and trophies were presented to the school. The familiar Athletic Director, Mr. Fiske Miles, pushed ticket sales for the year's sporting events at these assemblies. The academic life of Westport was recognized in the Honor Society assemblies. Former graduates, known for their academic achievements, encouraged the student body as special speakers. Pins representing levels of achievement in the society were presented. The music department presented varied programs featuring the Orchestra, Band and Chorus. Highlights of the year were given recognition in special assemblies. For example, the Homecoming Assembly, Teaser assemblies for plays and the Wesger Revue, the Mock Election Assembly, and the American Field Service Assembly provided enrichment and enjoyment of the assembly schedule. The climaxing assembly of the year, however, was the Senior Assembly which marked the last day the Seniors attended classes at Westport. This was the time when awards were conferred on deserving members of the class of '65. Life at Westport was enhanced greatly through the assemblies held throughout the year.

IN MEMORIAM...

Faculty and students were saddened with the tragic news of the death of a former faculty member, Mr. Aloysius Klaus, on August 2nd, 1964.

Mr. Klaus, his wife Martina, and their eight year old son David were all killed in an automobile accident in Kansas while the family was on vacation.

Mr. Klaus first came to Westport in September of 1961 on a half day schedule. In September 1962, he took over classes of Mr. Paul Wilcox in the drafting department and had planned to return to school last fall.

In a back issue of the Crier, Mr. Klaus was quoted as expressing his feelings for Westport as "...a wonderful group of young people and a fine school." To everyone--faculty, students, parents--who had the opportunity to know him, these same words of praise are most appropriate to describe him. Mr. Klaus was very generous in the time he gave his students and was always willing to help out another teacher during the day.

From Any Perspective, Westport Is Tops!

A school is made up of the people who attend classes there. It is a part of the lives of innumerable citizens of the city and the world. It is memorable events that take place during the span of years in which one attends school. Too often, however, it is forgotten that a school is a part of the neighborhood, the city, the state, in which it is located. In the mind of each graduate is etched indelibly a picture of that building that was so much a part of his life. On these two pages are some different views of Tigerland. Not only does Westport look out upon all these, it is a vital part of the whole scene. The influence of Westport spreads even further, though, for through its graduates, the story of Westport is told to the world. TALENT SHOW

As the curtains opened on the Wesger Revue of '64, the hard work of various clubs was presented in every act to a "full house" both Friday and Saturday nights. A variety of talents composed the Talent Show this year making it a real success. Conclusive evidence of this success was marked by the large profits, which were donated to the A. F. S. fund.

The stage crew, headed by Mitchel Peil, worked many long hours with the Talent Show directors, Richard Pond, Harling Spring, Jerry Roark and David Morton, to make certain lights, spots, and action coordinated throughout the show.

Each act in the show was carefully watched by three judges whose final decisions were announced on the last evening of the show. The results of the judging were: "Counter Point" received a Wesger as the Best All Around Act and for costuming; Spanish Club received a Wesger for costuming; "Pink Panther" by the La Danse Moderne received a Wesger for the best group act; Barbara BeVier and Debbie Russell received Wesgers for the best individual acts; and Jackie Deane received a second place for her individual act.

The Cooperative Occupational Education program, commonly referred to as C.O.E., provides students the opportunity to broaden their understanding of the business world and to supplement their financial resources. Through their class work and on-the-job training, the C.O.E. students learn business attitudes and fundamentals that will aid them in finding full-time jobs after graduation.

The C.O.E. student's day is divided into two parts. The first half of the day is spent at school. In addition to the regular courses the C.O.E. student takes the C.O.E. class, which is taught by Mr. Lancaster, the C.O.E. coordinator. The second portion of a C.O.E. student's day is devoted to his on-the-job training.

Training jobs of Westport students include a variety of occupations at a variety of businesses. Westport students are employed at the following places of business: Samuel Adams--Embassy and Capri Theaters; George Aguirre--Standard Service; Claus Alexander--Rothschilts; Carol Almsberger--First National Bank; Janyce Anderson--Research Hospital; Helen Baker--Council on Alcoholism; Sharon Ballew--Aluminum Industries, Inc.; James Barry--E.S.O.S. EPILOGUE...

And thus another year of Westport life ends. The desks stand empty. The halls are hushed. For the class of '65, Westport is a part of history. Their memories are complete. The day of leaving which seemed so remote is now behind. And yet, all Westporters know that this idleness, calmness, and stillness that prevades the school are only temporary. For soon, within a few short weeks, the desks will once again be filled, the halls will once again bustle with activity, a new generation of Tigers will commence its trek through another memory-filled year. And so, to the Class of '65...Farewell! ...To the Class of '66, and to all the classes yet to come, ...Carry on!

TIGERS ENTHUSIASTICALLY MEET CHALLENGE!

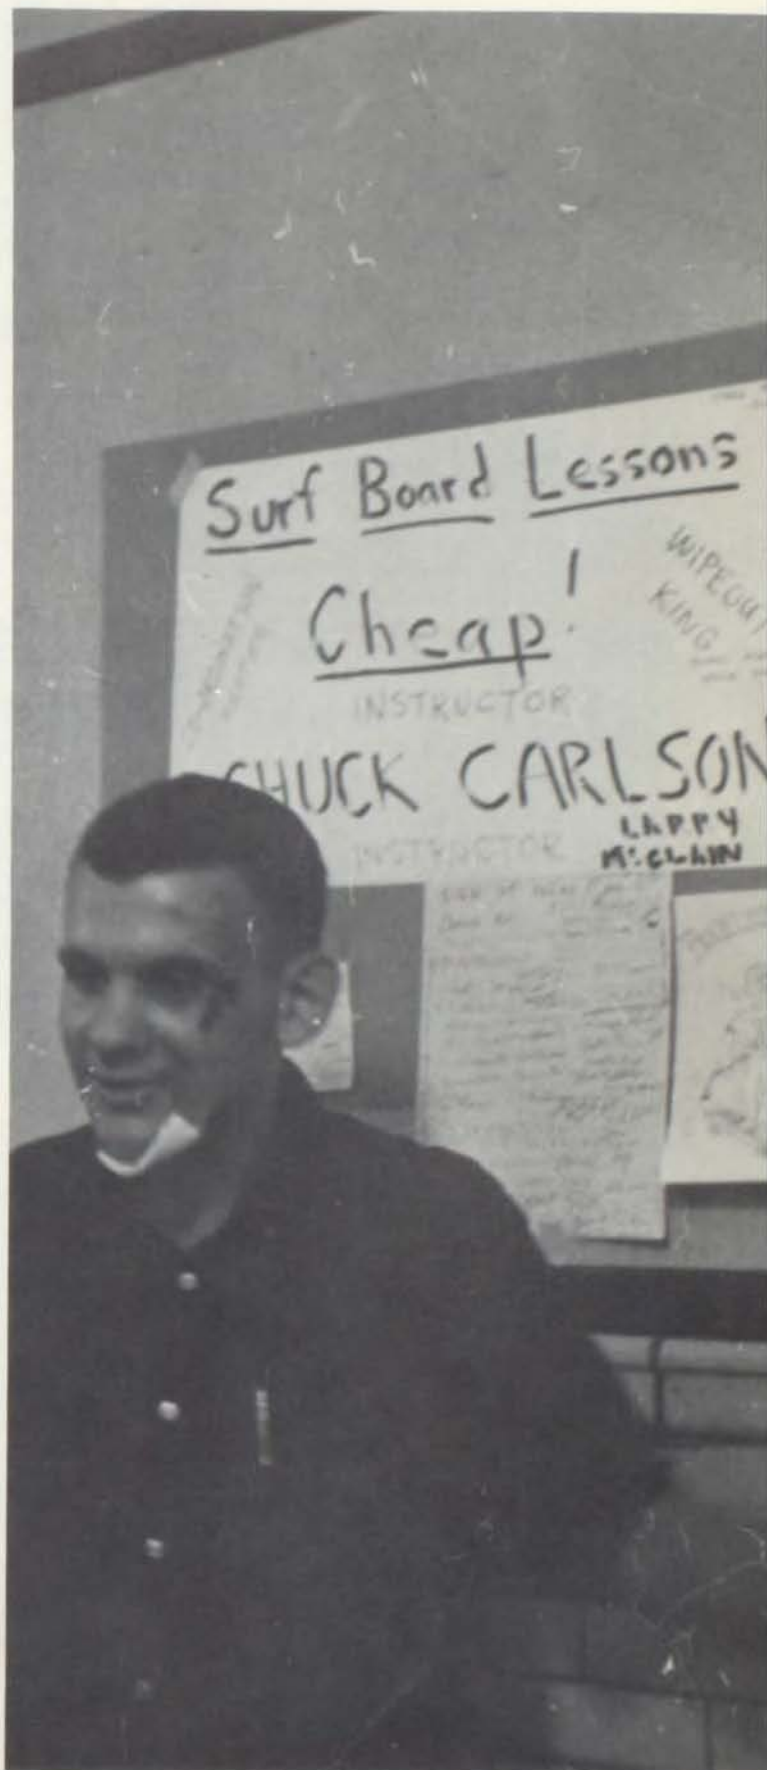

Spring at Westport brought a faster pace. The pace was set by the increased study load as teachers assigned more homework in order to finish required material, and as term papers came due causing students to spend long hours in the library, and as the long reviewing sessions began in preparation for final exams.

The student body was faced with numerous activities. Campaigns for Student Council election, cheerleading try-outs, assemblies, and yearbook distribution occupied school hours. After school track meets, tennis matches, organizational picnics and parties, and the literary contest completed the students' already busy schedules. During the later hours, students donned more formal apparel for the Junior-Senior Prom, the Freshman-Sophomore Prom, and the Intersociety Dance.

Seniors discovered that their schedules were more fully packed than the rest of the student body. Senior Clash Day with way out costumes, Senior Breakfast in the cold, dewy dawn, Senior Day with horn-blowing, crepe papered cars, Senior Luncheon, Senior Assembly, Senior Tiger Den, Senior Coke Party, Baccalaureate, and Commencement to attend proved all but exhausting.

The advent of the skate board brought a faster rate of travel, as well as an increase in accidents in the vicinities of Volker Fountain, Loose Park, and even on home sidewalks.

The Tigers, in spite of surfing accidents, enthusiastically met the challenge of a faster pace. Now, the school year is through and the Westport Herald staff presents Westport's spring story.

1965 TRACK

After witnessing consistently successful performances on the basketball court, Tiger fans turned expectantly toward the cinder track for a high-flying finish to the 1964-65 Westport sport slate. However, the team was plagued by a distinct lack of senior participants and little student interest, forced to rely on relatively inexperienced sophomores and juniors, Tiger tracksters brought home one first in an indoor meet with Northeast and several second places in both indoor and outdoor meets, but failed to capture a single outdoor meet, despite the excellent coaching of Ernie Paris, Wendell Goodwin, and Charles Booth, grueling practices, long sessions of calisthenics, endless pep talks and record breaking performances by Gerald Bethke, Bob Taylor and the two-mile relay team.

The bright spots in the '65 track season came as Tigers broke school, league, and meet records. In the Big Eight meet sophomore Gerald Bethke set the meet record for the 880 yard run in the high school division, covering the distance in 1:59.4. Two school records fell in the Santa Fe Relays. Sophomore Bob Taylor broke the standing school record for the mile, running it in 4:23.9. The other record set was the two-mile relay record. Westport's two-mile relay team, consisting of sophomores Gerald Bethke, Bob Taylor, Bruce Cady, and Terry Covington, ran the distance in 8:18.6. In the city meet, Bob Taylor set the school record for the half-mile, being clocked in 1:58.6. In the same meet, he set the Interscholastic League mile record at 4:26.2.

Westporters now look forward to extremely successful track teams in years to come if the sophomore performances can be taken as any indication of future track strength.

THE WESTPORT TENNIS season commenced this year early in March, following the end of the basketball season. Practices were held at the tennis courts located at 39th and Gillham.

For the first time in Westport history, girls were allowed to play on the team. Sally Rumsey and Alice Hopper were listed as the second doubles team.

Mark Wilson, a sophomore, will be the only returning letterman for the 1965-1966 season. This year Mark was the first singles player. He won two out of three of his matches. Bill Schantz was the second singles player.

Bob Russell and Chuck Carlson were the first doubles players. They held a record of two wins out of their three matches. They participated in the first round of the City Meet which was held at Pem Day, and defeated East High School. Westport's Tennis team wrapped up the season late in April leaving the following record when the scores were tallied:

FACULTY MEMBERS AT PLAY

Teachers prove they have talent.

The spring of the 1964-65 school year also produced myriad events involving Westport's fine faculty.

FACULTY VS. VARSITY BASKETBALL GAME: The seniors on the varsity basketball team coaxed Westport's aging tutors into ascertaining their roundball prowess on the court. The younger set, however, handily reprimanded the faculty before an overflowing crowd in the boys' gym, 38-26.

MR. UGLY LEGS CONTEST: In keeping with the present day trend of rising hemlines, the Westport Crier conducted a student poll to ascertain which of six male members of Westport's astute faculty possessed the most hideous lower appendages. The uncomely appearances of the legs of Bill Lehman, Dick Pond, Ernie Paris, Dave Morton, and John Little failed to impress the student body to the extent of the grotesque understandings of Brad Lindsey.

FACULTY BANQUET: The high-stepping affair for the Westport professorate was the Faculty Banquet held at the Westport Presbyterian Church on Friday, May 21. After a short period of social exchanges over appetizers, the socialites proceeded to the heart of the evening's agenda--the consumption of the evening meal. A musical ensemble composed of Duane Miller, Fred White, Earl Boucher, and Dorothy Newman provided entertainment. An EARNEST TRIBUTE was in order for retiring Mr. John Ploesser for his many years of dedicated service to Westport High School.

ELECTIONS STIR

ONCE A YEAR, the student body selects the leaders of the Student Council for the next year. The slate of candidates for the 1965-1966 Council was exceptionally competent. Amid cheering for rival candidates, the election assembly began.

Mr. Merryman, faculty advisor to the Student Council explained the function of the Executive Board and counselled the students to make decisions based on the qualifications of the students rather than their emotions. David Hof, President of the 1964-65 Council, expressed satisfaction with the accomplishments of this year's members. He cited such activities as the super-successful campaign to raise funds for the Foreign Exchange Student Fund, the popular afternoon movie, publication of the Student Directory, and sales of Bells for Peace (First Place in the city).

Then followed the speeches by the major candidates, appealing to all of the desires of the students. Some candidates asked for wider participation in the activities of the Council by all students in the school. Others acclaimed the successes of the present Council, urging extension of present programs. Of course, there were the really "serious" suggestions, like a Cake Eating Contest between the Westport Tigers and the Southwest Indians. A novel tactic was the plea by one candidate that he be marked second choice, deferring his support to another candidate. The candidates demonstrated that they had learned from their elders all the political tactics that go into good campaigns for public office.

After the smoke of campaign battle had cleared, after the balloting was completed the President-elect was Dan Sturdevant; Lona Brotherton, Vice-President; Danny Longo, Secretary; Jay Kraemer, Treasurer; Warren Peterson, Sergeant-at-Arms. These successful candidates and the members of the business committee will carry the full weight of the responsibilities of Student Council programs in the new school year, 1965-66.

The student body speaks...

Campaign spirit invades Westport.

Mr. Merriman supervises the counting of ballots.

VARSITY CHEERLEADING TRY-OUT FINALS were again held in a student body assembly. On April 29th, six girls were chosen as the Varsity Cheerleaders for 1965-66. The new squad consists of Paula Murray and Nancy Shepherd, returning as seniors for their second year on the squad; Pat Afflick, senior; Esther Barnes, senior; Diane Gobble, junior; and Toni Riccardi, senior. All of these girls had served on the B-Team squad.

Twelve finalists were selected from nineteen girls by the members of the Pep Club and "W" Club. The finalists who were eliminated in the Varsity Tryouts tried out for B-Team.

B-Team Cheerleaders were elected by interested students after school in the auditorium. The following girls are on the 1965-66 B-Team squad: Susan Blakeman, sophomore; Kathy Erwin, junior; Janeen Harmon, sophomore; Patty Hill, junior; Carol Olendorff, sophomore; and Betty Sue Williams, junior.

Everybody is up in the air over cheerleading tryouts.

STUDENT COUNCIL OFFICERS:

A NIGHT OF MUSIC: Friday evening, May 7th was truly a "Night of Music" at Westport. Conductor Mr. Duane Miller led his bands and orchestras through the glittering, precision program that has become a tradition with the Westport instrumental ensembles. The weather was hot, but the music was "real cool" as the ensembles evoked moods ranging from the martial through the moody to the amusing. Special lighting effects helped complement the mood of the music creating a continuous feast of sound and sight. Kenneth Atwell and Dan Sturdevant provided a change of pace with proficient renderings of piano solos "Warsaw Concerto" and "Malaguena."

One of the features of the concert was a choral-orchestral arrangement done by the Composer-in-Residence with the Kansas City School District, Mr. Davison. This thrilling patriotic number featured members of the High School Chorus accompanied by the Senior Orchestra.

The climax of the concert came when the entire Westport Band, resplendent in deep-blue, gold-braid-trimmed uniforms and gleaming white bucks, marched to the stage to the stirring "Washington Post" by Sousa. The martial strains were alternated with a modern "Three Jazz Moods." The program ended in the baton-twirling, fast stepping departure of this magnificent group of musicians.

From the modern tempos of the Stage Band to the sublime "Sound of Music," the audience was treated to a "Night of Music" long to be remembered.

THE ANNUAL WESTPORT LITERARY CONTEST was held on Friday evening, May 14, 1965. Mike Hoff hosted the program which featured some of the better literary accomplishments of the year. Shortly before the program began, members of the literary societies clad in their lit jackets or sweatshirts took their seats in the front rows of the auditorium. The stage was festooned with a beautiful floral arrangement banking the podium.

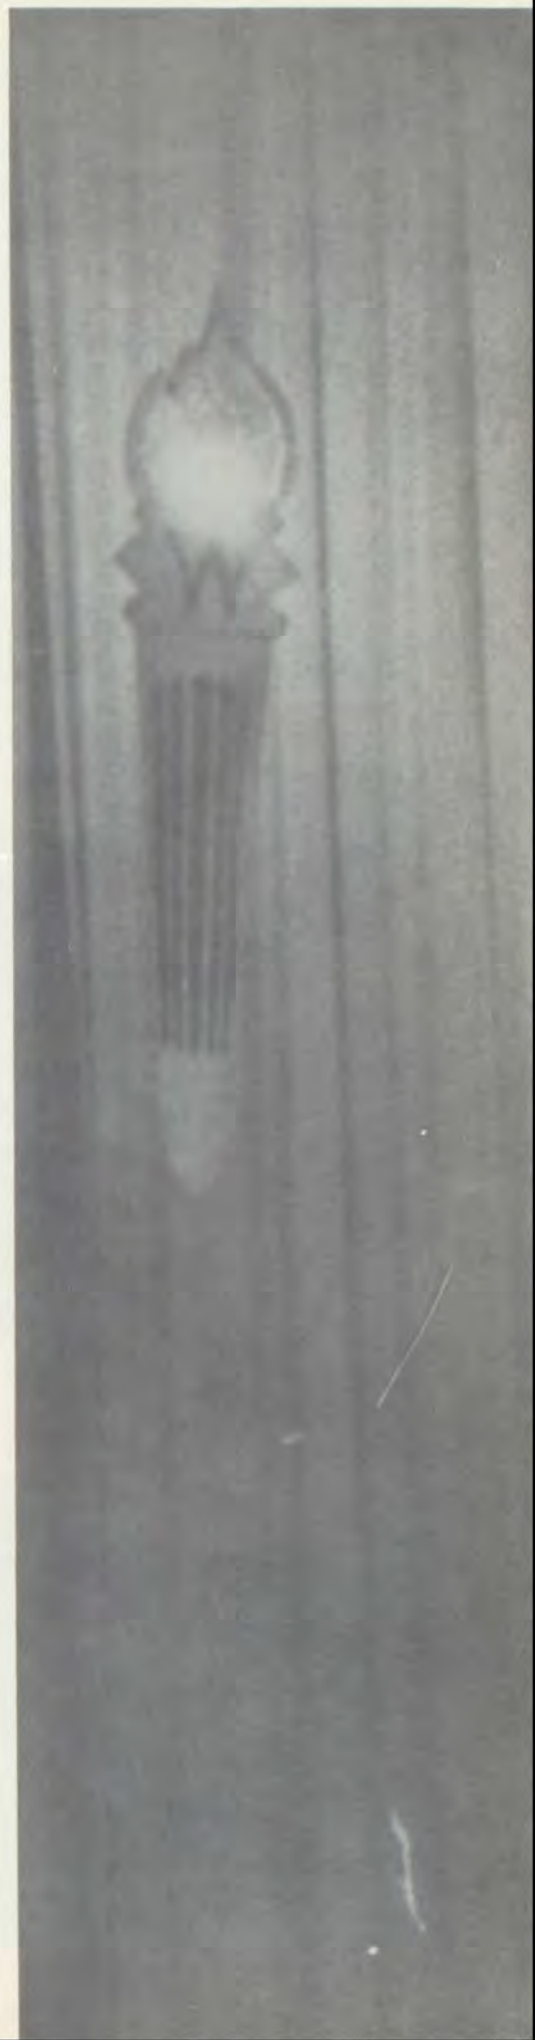

The first event of the evening was the interpretation of a poem. Jane Guy, reading the poem "The Hollow Men" by T. S. Eliot, captured first place in this event. Margaret Lyons was awarded second place for her reading of "Four Preludes on Playthings of the Winds" by Carl Sandburg. A poem written about the da Vinci sculpture featured at the World's Fair, "Pieta," was read by the third-place entrant, Elizabeth Thurlow.

After Barbara BeVier, representing Promethean Literary Society, sang the Old English ballad, "Greensleeves," the contest continued with the dramatic readings. Her reading of a selection from the play Medea by Euripides, led to Promethean Literary Society's Leslie Pollock being chosen first place winner in this event. Second place went to Dana Literary Society's Vicki Mucie, who read the part of Eliza in a selection from My Fair Lady. The sleepwalking scene from Macbeth won for Pundit's Charlotte O'Donnell third place.

After the oral events were completed, followed by a piano solo by Kenneth Atwell, the first place written entries were read by selected members of the speech classes. The winning essay was entitled "Rain Thoughts" and was written by Rita Rousseau, Independent. "There Is No War," a meditation on our times, was written by Paul Boe, Independent; this poem was awarded first place. A short story, "April," by Pundit's Helen Wheelis was awarded first place. Other finalists in these categories were Karen Mowrer (second-place, essay), Promethean Literary Society; Mary Moran (third-place, essay), Dana Literary Society; Cindy Sable (second-place, poetry), Pundit Literary Society; Linda Crabtree (third-place, poetry), Dana Literary Society; Connie Smith (second-place, short story), Dana Literary Society; Walter Thompson (third-place, short story), Wilson Literary Society.

Dr. Ball presented the First Place trophy to Mary Jane Boucher, President of Pundit Literary Society. Second place was won by Dana Literary Society. A surprise third place went to the members of the school-at-large.

The entire contest was directed by Mrs. Afflick, teacher of English. HONOR SOCIETY ASSEMBLY: Many Westporters were honored in the annual Honor Society Assembly this year. Students receiving gold pins entered the auditorium in procession. Fifty-eight seniors from the graduating class of 1965 received a gold pin in this assembly. Thirty received a pin with three pearls; seven received a pin with one pearl. A former graduate, Miss Frances Smith, shared her thoughts on education with the student body.

HONORS COME

QUILL AND SCROLL ASSEMBLY: Westport's award-winning newspaper, the Crier, sponsors one special event which earns the interest of the entire student body--the annual Quill and Scroll Assembly. The Sharon Ruth Erwin Chapter gives awards to outstanding members of the Crier Staff. This year's awards were:

National Scholastic Press Association Award: Bill Blackman, Pat Kelley, Dale Latham, and Eddie Parkhurst.

Creative Writing Awards and Business Citations: Chris Bock, Elizabeth Branstetter, Elaine Evans, Alan Gwinnup, Robert McGarvey, Katie Morse, Tamara Silin, Barbara Soule, Joyce Williams, and Linda Wilson.

Chapter Memberships for "service to the Crier": Charles Carlson, Dean Guy, and Linda Pepper.

Chapter Membership for "...outstanding journalistic contributions to the Crier": Steve Brotherson, Karol Kirk, Mike Knipmeyer, and Lisa Steele.

Chapter Membership for "...exceptionally meritorious service to the Crier and Herald": Paul Boe, Jack McConaughy, Karen Mowrer, Jay Kraemer, Rene Rozenblit, and Gary Williams.

The highlight of the Quill and Scroll Assembly is always the featured speaker. In the past, illustrious personages such as Bill Vaughn, John Harrington, Bill Sanders, Jean Glynn, Major Gilbert Grout have spoken to the student body. This year, Westport was honored by Elmer W. Lower, President of ABC News Special Events and Public Affairs. Mr. Lower's subject was "Covering the World for 180,000,000 People." During his talk, he showed some movies of reporters in action throughout the world in trouble spots such as the Dominican Republic and South Vietnam.

At the end of the assembly, the members of the Chapter gave their sponsor and director, Mr. Tom Sicking, a standing ovation expressing their thanks for his leadership.

SEANCE BRINGS DEMAND FOR SPIRIT REVISIT: A "Seance" given on a Wednesday afternoon presented by members of Mr. LeRoy Wichman's Speech classes, was so successful that a second performance--a command performance, no less--was scheduled.

The purpose of both programs was to show students the variety of speech activities offered at Westport. A special number was a speech presented to a musical background. This technique was introduced this year to the school by Mr. Wichman and has brought inquiries from other interested schools in K.C.

SUB-FROSH SELECT OFFICERS: Eighth grade students selected their class officers at an assembly program in May. Election results were: President, Patty Phillips; Vice-President, Susan England; Secretary, Kenneth Botwright; Treasurer, Linda Williams; and Sergeant-at-Arms, David Gray. Elected to the Student Council and Business committee were: Janet Dover, Bobbie Fries, Darlene Goggin, Kathy Hough, Phyllis McClymond, Janice Joy Ryan, Cora Skelton, Debra Stover and Norma Thompson. Mrs. Martha Carlock was the faculty sponsor.

Thoughts turn from individual societies to Westport as a whole as lit contest winners sing the "Alma Mater."

The stirring music played by the Stage Band penetrated every corner of the darkened auditorium.

THIS YEAR THE ANNUAL QUILL AND SCROLL BANQUET, sponsored by the Sharon Ruth Erwin Chapter, was held in the Casbah Room of the Hotel Bellerive. Dean Guy was master of ceremonies, introducing guests Mr. DeGeorge and Mr. David Morton, honorary members, and Mr. John Ploesser, veteran Mathematics teacher at Westport, who was ending his teaching career. Mr. John Ploesser was given a heart-warming standing ovation by the audience. The banquet's highlight, however, was fashioned after the Washington Press Club's "Griddle Show." The Crier staff lampooned the folks and foibles of Westport life. The "39th Street Gang" attending the RAB Ranch satirizing Dr. Ball, Mr. Evans, Mr. Roark, Miss McClure, Mr. Ploesser.

THE INTERSOCIETY TEA, this year sponsored by Pundit Literary Society, honored Westport's AFS student, Ingelise Rangstrup, with the theme "Spring-Time in Denmark." Club presidents introduced their officers and entertainment--Dana Literary Society, a piano solo by Marcia Shacklett; Promethean Literary Society, folk singing by Barbara BeVier; Pundit Literary Society, a dramatic reading from "Faust" by Charlotte O'Donnell. The "traditional" senior story was read by Ann Bowser. The program ended with the friendship circle.

ANOTHER FIRST AT WESTPORT WAS THE JUNIOR GIRLS' LUNCHEON at the Charl-Mont Cafeteria. The purpose of this luncheon was to create "better relations" among the members of the Class of 1966.

FOR SEVERAL WEEKS, THE WORD "PICNIC" WAS ON the tip of every Westporter's tongue. Westport certainly had her share! Just a few: the Crier's "Sadie-Hawkins" picnic, Pep Club-"W" Club picnic, the Honor Society picnic, the choir picnic, the band picnic, and the lit picnics. Entertainment was unique and varied. Some were visited by a band, while others made their own entertainment with "baby-feeding" contests, "egg-throwing" contests, baseball games, and "skate board" contests. Some couples even arrived at their picnic on "...a bicycle built for two!"

Sadie Hawkins Day at Jacomo.

THE ANNUAL INTER-SOCIETY DANCE, sponsored by Promethean, Pundit, Dana, Wilson, and Browning literary societies, was held this year in the ballroom of the Hotel Continental which was decorated for the theme of "River Boat." Huge "River Boats" representing each society were anchored on the surrounding walls, but not too securely for they were crashing to the floor all evening. Candles were aglow as table centerpieces. Nearby a red garter with a red rose completed the "River Boat" theme.

Royalty representing each society was crowned by the respective presidents. The following "Beauty Queens and Beau Brummels" were announced: PROMETHEAN LITERARY SOCIETY, Joy Gooch and Jay Jones; PUNDIT LITERARY SOCIETY, Linda Clark and Richard Haynes; DANA LITERARY SOCIETY, Vicki Mosley and Cory Smith; BROWNING LITERARY SOCIETY, Margie Anderson and Gary Williams; WILSON LITERARY SOCIETY, Dianna Cox and Jack Knight. Ingelice Rangstrup, escorted by Mike Hoff and Bill Poppie, was crowned as Inter-Society Beauty Queen.

Punch, cookies, mints and nuts were served as refreshments.

FRESHMAN - SOPHOMORE PROM 1965: Westport High School girls' gymnasium was gaily decorated to theme of "Carousel." The theme was carried out with murals portraying circus horses, colorful merry-go-rounds as centerpieces, and a caged tiger guarding the throne.

The 1964 Freshman-Sophomore Queen, Kathy Hoelzel, crowned Miss Melissa Fields as the new Queen. Her Sophomore attendants were Debbie Harryman and Jamie Squires. Her Freshmen attendants were Sandy Gooch, Janeen Harmon, and Nikki Watson.

Miss Dianna Vincent provided entertainment, and gifts were given to the class sponsors, Mr. Roark and Mr. Nelson. Cookies and cokes were served.

THE ANNUAL JUNIOR-SENIOR PROM, sponsored by the class of 1966, was held in the grand ballroom of the Muehlbach Towers on the evening of May 29, 1965. Throughout the evening, old and new melodies played by the George Tidona Band were enjoyed by the numerous couples dressed in formal attire.

The theme, "Ce Soir Dans La Paris," or "An Evening In Paris," was carried out with unique decorations: tall Eiffel Towers surrounded by artificial lakes and illuminated by candlelight adorning the tables. The theme was highlighted throughout the room with murals, painted by Junior students under the supervision of Mrs. Fonette Riley, art teacher. Girls and boys of the Freshman and Sophomore classes served as French flower girls and vendors. The prom came to a climax at midnight, but the stars were still bright, so the evening was still young for many!

SENIORS EMBARK

ON LAST HOURS

As the long awaited commencement day drew closer, tension and excitement mounted among seniors. The Class of '65's last hours as Westporters slipped away at a whirlwind pace. The arrival of April first and Senior Clash Day brought seniors their first realization that their remaining hours as Westporters were few.

APRIL 1: April Fool's Day, better known by Westporters as Senior Clash Day, brought seniors to Westport's hallowed halls dressed as anything from deep sea divers to Indians, and beautiful (?) glamour "girls." After the annual clash parade, seniors turned the front hall into a crowded, impassable sea of "fashionably attired" bums. The morning's parades, sit-ins, and chants were only the beginning of a long series of classroom escapades and strange sights.

MAY 29 and MAY 30: The Class of '65 had awaited the night of their Junior-Senior Prom and May 29th was THE NIGHT. Seniors dressed with extra care as they prepared for their last formal dance as Westporters. Muehlbach's Grand Ballroom, beautifully decorated by the Junior Prom Committee, greeted them with music by the George Tidona Band. The prom was followed by dining, all night partying, and a senior breakfast at Shelter House #2 in Swope Park. Freezing seniors made their way through the cold dewy dawn to the breakfast of sausages, eggs, rolls, hot chocolate, coffee, and milk which had been prepared by senior parents.

JUNE 4: Despite frantic cramming and too many sleepless nights that marked the seniors' final exam week, Friday, June 4, arrived and the Class of '65 entered Westport's doors for the last time as members of the student body. The constant threat of rain failed to dampen their enthusiasm as they participated in the traditional car-parade. Not bothered by a series of newly erected and freshly repainted NO LEFT TURN signs, the Class of '65 circled the building. After attending the first three hours, their last as Westporters, seniors departed in crepe-papered cars for the Gold Buffet in North Kansas City and the annual senior Luncheon. Returning to Westport, seniors gathered in the girls' gym, picked up their cardboard mortarboards, and filed into the darkened auditorium for the 73rd Annual Senior Class Day Assembly. After the singing of the "Loyalty Song," Mr. White, faculty advisor, introduced senior class president, Cheryl Hazen. Cheryl then introduced the members of the faculty who presented twenty-seven Distinguished Service Awards to outstanding members of the Senior Class of 1965. Each recipient signed the Book of Awards and received a Distinguished Service ribbon. Foreign Exchange Student, Ingelice Rangstrup, was given a standing ovation as she came to the podium to give her Farewell Speech, twice interrupted by her own tears. Many in the audience wept with her. The assembly concluded with the singing of the Alma Mater. Many seniors gathered at the Westport-Roanoke Community Center with the mistaken impression that the Senior Coke Party was to be held there and after discovering their mistake, returned to school and the girls' gym for cokes, yearbook signing and, for some, final goodbyes.

JUNE 6: On Sunday, June 6, at 3:00 pm, seniors attended Baccalaureate Service at the Calvary Baptist Church. The Westport Roanoke Ministerial Alliance extended its most hearty congratulations to the graduating seniors and gave them this reminder: "As you pass this milestone on the road of life and push on into new and uncharted areas of living, our interest, our prayers, and our very best wishes will go with you. We are proud of what you have accomplished, and glad for the promise this hour holds for your future." Dr. O. Norman Shands delivered the sermon entitled "Putting Life into Focus."

JUNE 10: June 10, 1965 brought to 279 seniors the culmination of twelve years of study. At 8:15 p.m. the graduating seniors processed into the main arena of the Municipal Auditorium where their parents and guests had assembled for the Seventy Third Annual Commencement Exercises. The seniors, dressed in royal blue caps and gowns, experienced pride and exhilaration tinged with sadness as the commencement program progressed. Senior class president, Cheryl Hazen, gave the greetings from the Class of '65 and presented Mr. John Ploesser, retiring mathematics teacher, a gift of a mantle clock from the graduating class of 1965. The commencement speaker was the Reverend Kenneth S. Waterman, executive director of United Inncercity Services, an organization which deals with social problems in the metropolitan area. Rev. Waterman warned the graduates against becoming extensions of machines and being governed by the laws of supply and demand encountered in life.

"We can't be human by rejecting the modern world and trying to retrieve an old world. We have to love the world for what it is and what you and it can be," he said. Rev. Waterman told the group they live in a caste society where everyone is just the same and looks and acts alike. He warned the group against what he termed "pluralism where individuals identify by race, religion and economic class, and from the standpoint of these values, exclude others."

After Reverend Waterman had completed his talk, Vice-principal William Evans presented the graduating class. Doctor Ball, assisted by Jane Wells, Valedictorian, and Robert Orr, Salutatorian, awarded the graduating seniors their diplomas. The closing of the program came as the seniors assembled in front of the speaker's platform, moved their tassels from the left side of their caps to the right, and sang the "Alma Mater," directed by Mr. Harling Spring.

And thus the Class of 1965 had progressed through five years as Westporters and in the short span of time it took to read a name and hand out a diploma, they were no longer seniors, but high school graduates, closing a chapter in the life of Westport High School, but opening a new chapter in their own lives.

One of the highlights of the senior assembly came as foreign exchange student Ingelice Rangstrup expressed tearful thanks to the Westport student body.

John Ploesser, who retired this year, thanked and congratulated the graduating class.

TIGER GRADUATES

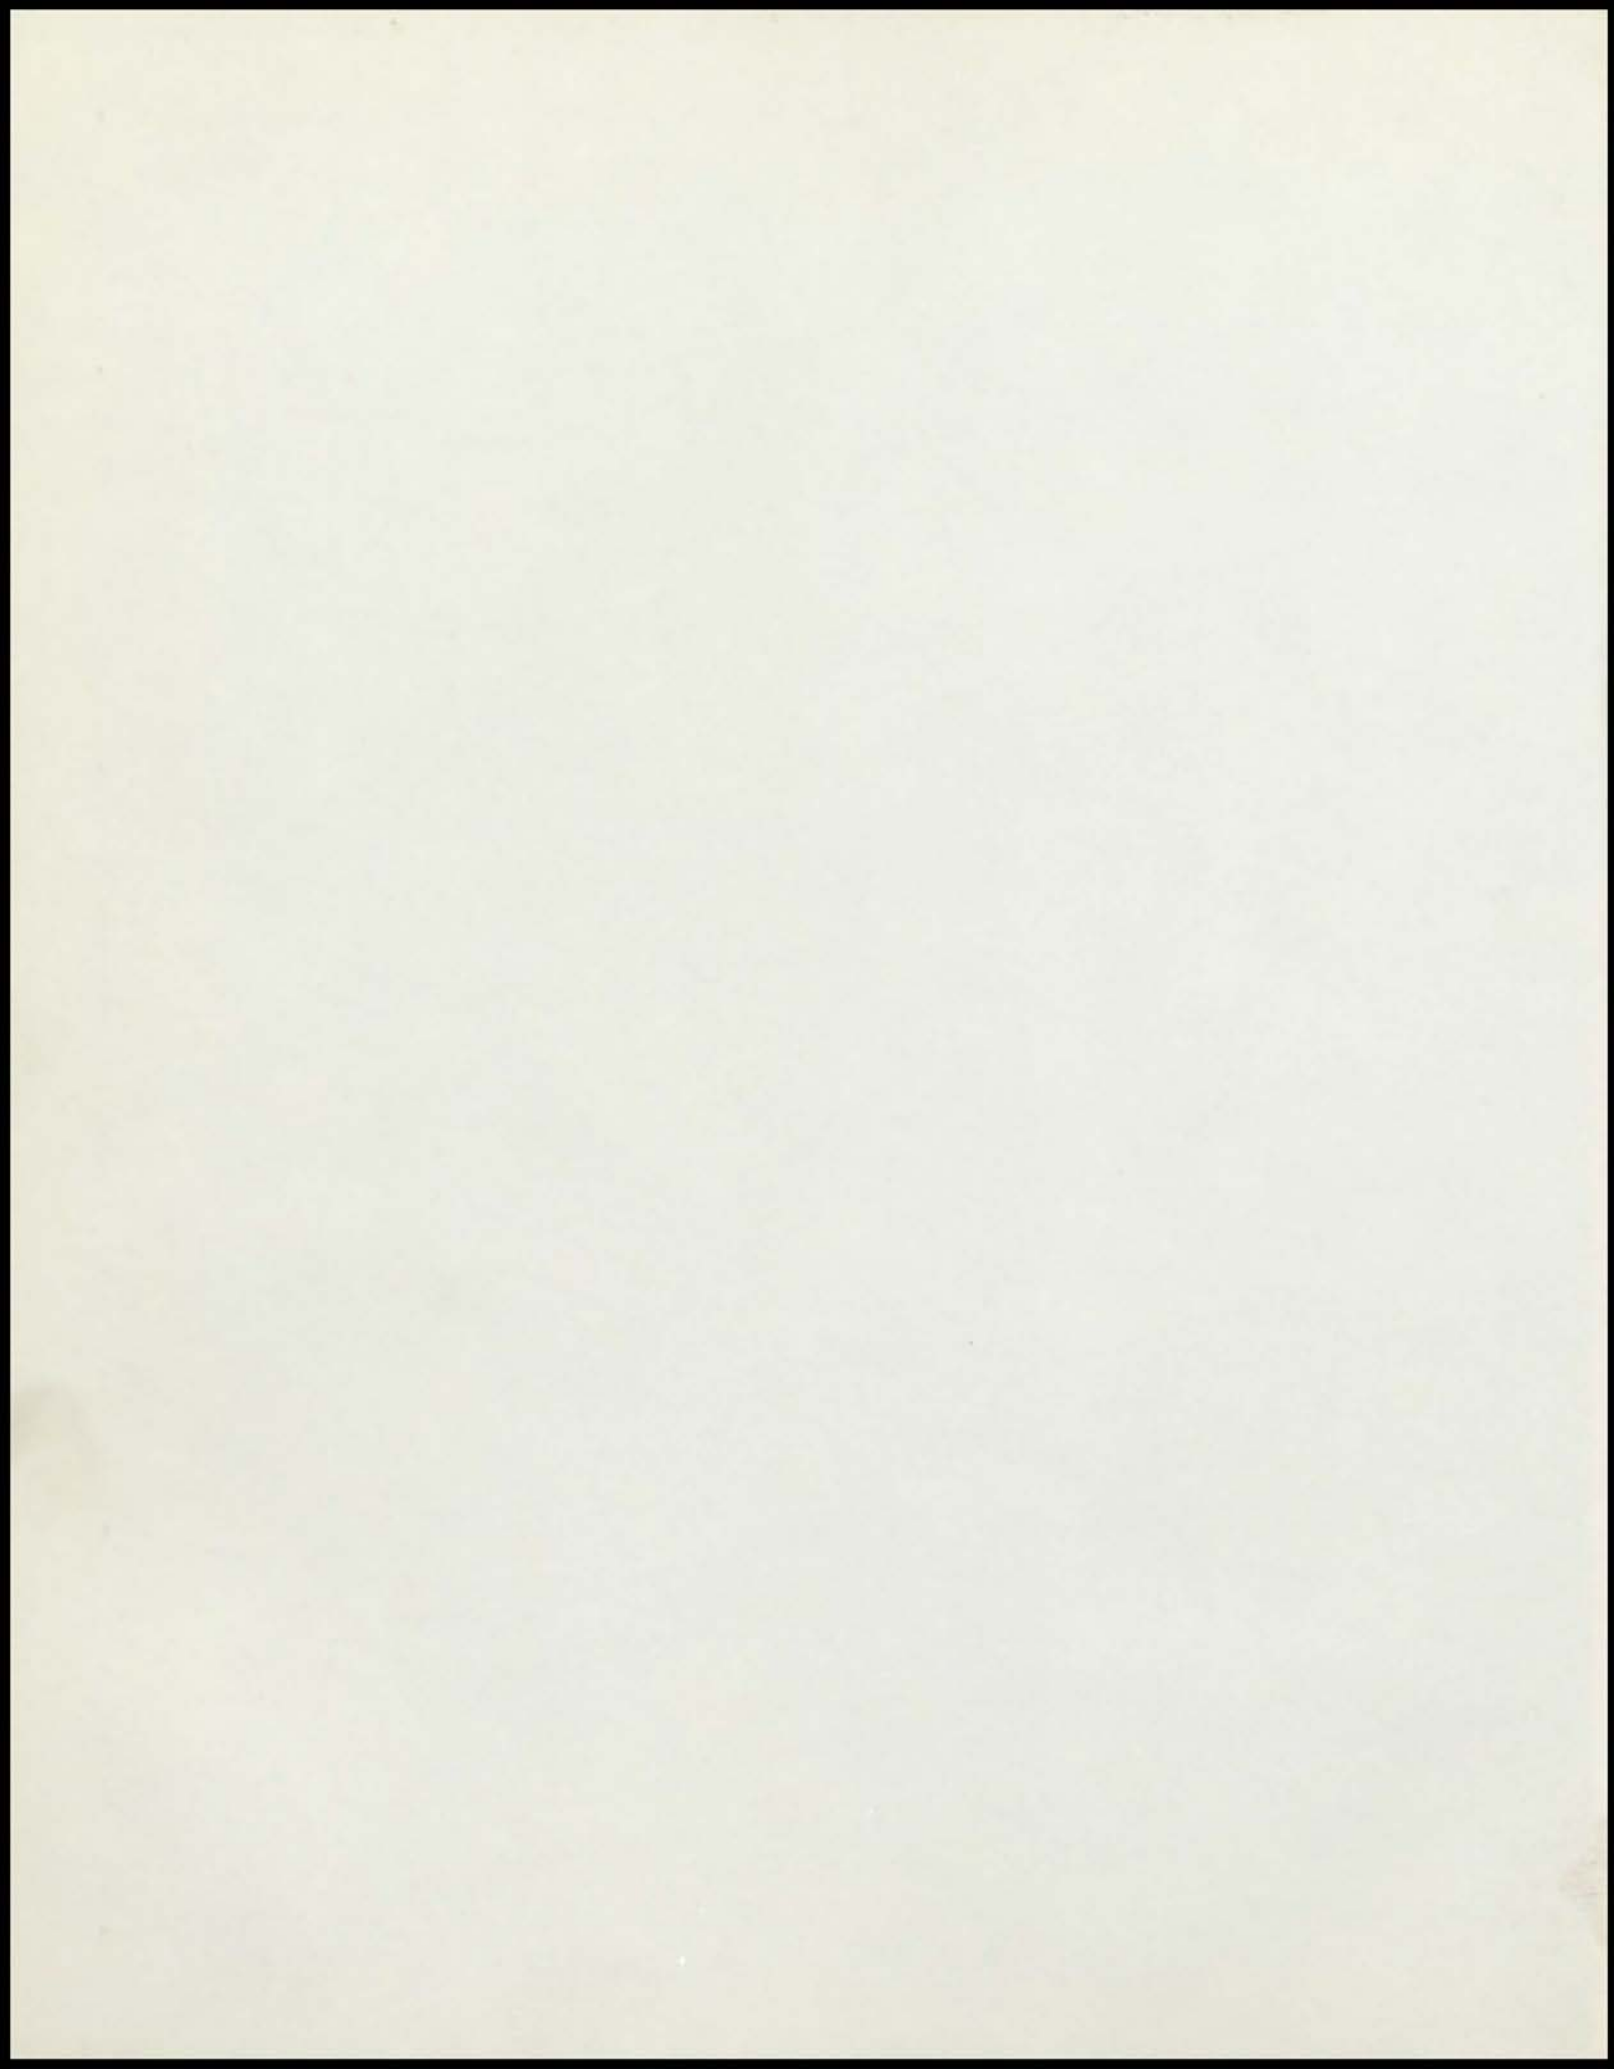

CHALLENGE FUTURE

The bright-faced graduates with their unbroken spirits, perseverance, ideals, and hopes not only are challenged by the future, but challenge it. Can the future years break the Tiger graduate's spirit, lower his ideals, and diminish his hopes? Not if the Tiger trait of meeting challenges with vigor prevails. So, watch out world! The Tigers are on the loose!
