New Beginnings

Old Endings... New Beginnings

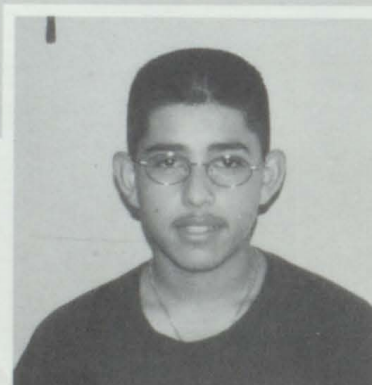

Old Endings, new beginnings was the theme this year at Northeast High School. Many positive changes were being enacted. Ninth and tenth graders were part of a small learning community. The grades were divided into two groups who had the same teachers. This enabled classes to be smaller and gave the teachers a chance to communicate with each other about their students. One of the main focuses of the school was to raise the M.A.P. scores so the district can gain back their accreditation. Teachers and students worked hard towards this goal. Northeast has the biggest E.S.L. population in the district which makes our school unique and diverse. We didn't see our diversity as an obstacle, but we joined together as one to make our school the best it can be. With vision of our new administrators, we were ready to move forward with a new beginning.

Several memories were made throughout the year that will last a lifetime. The Homecoming candidates looked fabulous at the homecoming game. The king and queen were John Franklin and Frances Paden. Mrs. Clark gave Mrs. Alexander a check for her class to design websites. John Franklin was Most Valuable Player for the football season of 2001. Hanhdiem Nguyen is a sophomore and an honor roll student. Mr. Williams teaches Algebra I in room 422.

“Step Into My Dream”

Prom 2001

“Step Into My Dream,” something many of last year’s juniors and seniors did on May 11, 2001 at the Doubletree Hotel. From the walls decorated in lavender and champagne, to the last dance, every moment was a special element in making memories that will last a lifetime.

The most shocking highlight of the night was the entrance of Denise Scott in her two piece gold and white, mid-drift dress. As always, the crowning of prom king and queen was special. The Prom King and Queen of 2001 were Adrian Bates and Vy Pham. The prince and princess were Jermaine Reed and Beverly Pickering.

Dancing is what we do best at prom. With music, like the Macarena and the Cha Cha Slide, most students didn’t care what music was playing as long as they were dancing.

Denise Scott was the spot light of the night. Next to her is Jessie Peoples who use to be commander of the Color Guard and Academic Bowl in JROTC.

Class President and Valedictorian Heang Sean gave an inspirational speech.

Being a high school student is a full time job, you have to socialize with your friends, keep up with the latest fashion, make sure you do your homework, and attend school functions.

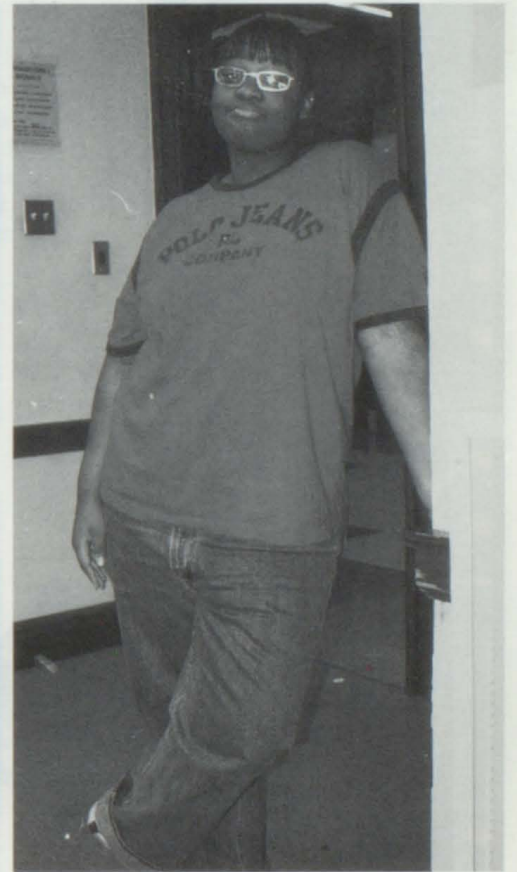

2001-2002 Many things to do!

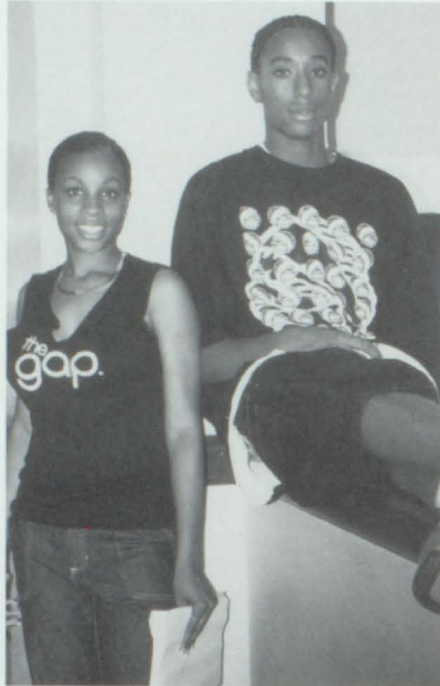

In February, the winter olympics of 2002 were held in Salt Lake City, Utah. The torch was brought through Kansas City, and Charles Breneke was kind enough to take the picture for us.

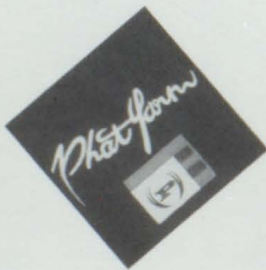

Style and Fashion

WORDS

Yesterday, today, and tomorrow students change what they find to be fashionable. Things go out of style even faster than before. What is worn and how hair is done is a big part of a person's high school life. Students buy what is fashionable for the moment in time. Top brands mean top prices and many are willing to pay them. This year many brands are in style but one thing that seem to boom was air brush designs. Here are some of the styles at Northeast.

"We've got spirit, yes we do! We've got spirit, How bout you?"

Come as You Are Day was a crazy day. Students wore their sleeping attires, along with their funny slippers and sleeping caps. Meagan Barnett, Deandre Pruitt, Beverly Pickering, Kalem Williamson, Lindsey Jackson, Laquisha Smith, Sareah Brown, Jamie Boles and Sydnee Bagby were some of the participants.

Way Back Wednesday was a day where you could just wear anything from the past. Jeffrey Harris decided to do something different and wore something from the 80s'

Jermaine Reed and Mrs. McIntosh also participated in Way back Wednesday.

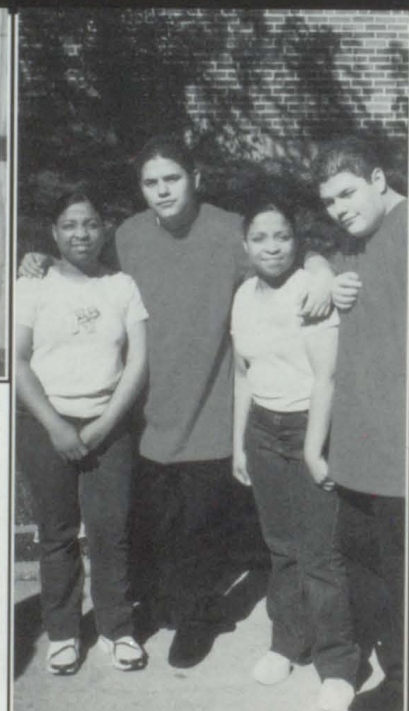

Twin Day

There were more participants on Twin Day than any other day of the Spirt Week of Homecoming.

Faces ^{To}

Remember

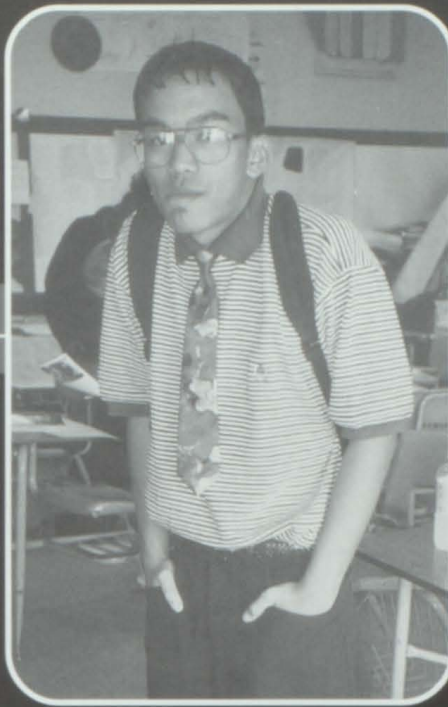

Dominique Haynes and Calvin Verner participated in Spirit Week as Twins.

Unitown was a diversity training camp. Lawrence Prak, Vinh Huynh, Jermaine Reed, Tashyra Burnside, and other participants from Bishop Ward were involved in the two day activity.

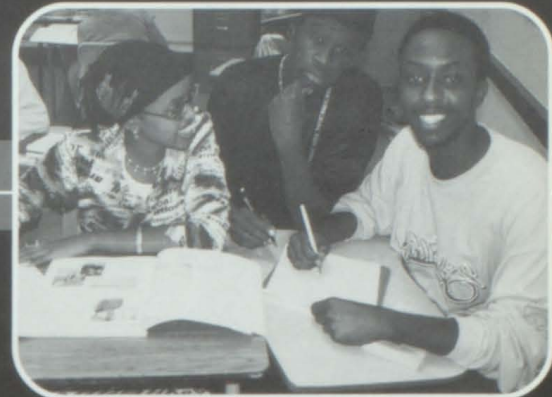

Leland Merideth, Jeffrey Harris, and Timothy Patterson are some faces we won't forget. Both Jeffrey and Timothy are on the Northeast basketball team.

Chum Chhum was one of the seniors who participated on way back wednesday. He is a quiet student, but we'll never forget him.

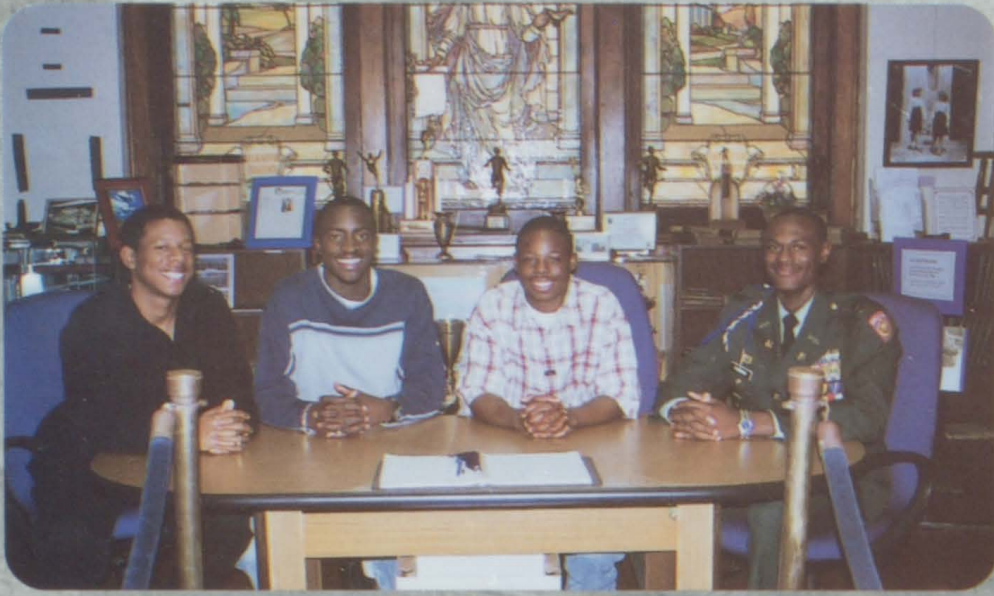

Fardoussa Mohamed, Deeq Ahmed, and Awan smiles for the camera. Fardoussa is a senior, she is definitely a face to remember.

You see them at their lockers and walking through the hallways. Jessica Renteria, Alicia Vasquez, Brenda Ramos, Enrique Alavez, Vanessa Portugal, and Rocio Zambrano are some of the faces to remember.

On Halloween, Northeast participated in the Gladstone Neighborhood "Safe Candy" trick or treating. Vy Nguyen was one of the students that volunteered.

Senior Class Officers

Senior class officers: Jermaine Reed, John Franklin, Julian Napue, Keion Parrish. They worked together so the class of 2002 would be remembered. Sponsor Mr. Gray said, "Some members of the 2002 Senior Class have been working to create a renaissance of school spirit and pride. These valiant few foresee a time when Viking power means strength of character."

“What will you remember and miss most about Northeast?”

“Northeast High School was one of the greatest schools I have ever attended. I am going to miss all of my teachers, my friends, and all the people that are nice. When I was a freshman, I wanted to graduate the very same year, but as the time passed, I don’t want to leave you guys.”

Jorge Ramirez

“What I will miss the most will probably be what I will remember about Northeast. That is my friends, teachers and the people that meant the most while attending Northeast.”

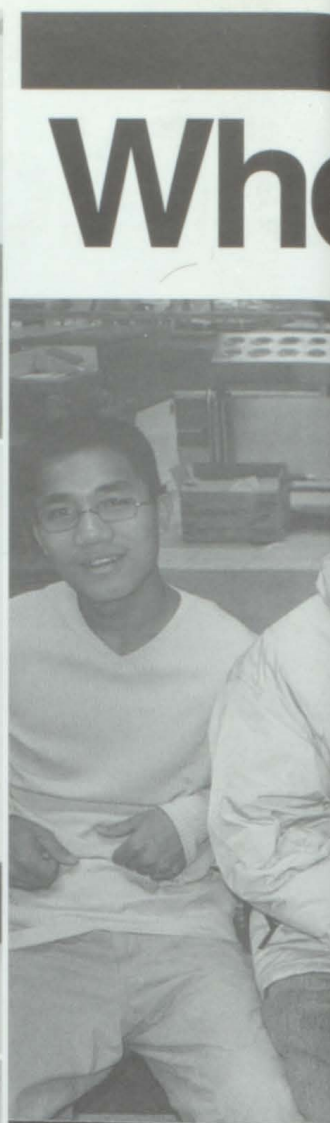

Juli Mischanko

“When I leave Northeast I will miss the teacher and friends that were always there when I needed them. I promise to go out and make all of you proud of me education and career wise.”

Beverly Pickering

“I will miss and remember most is my JROTC classes.”

Justin Daniels

e Did The Time Go....

For the last four years, we as seniors have been working hard to maintain good grades, make friends, and enjoy our entire high school career. Many of us have been awaiting the day when we could walk across the stage without having to look back. We are glad that this day has finally come. We have been told time and time again that "Your high school years are the best years of your life." I am sure we have all wondered if that statement was true. That is just something that we will have to take the rest of our lives to figure out.

As seniors, we look back at the memories that we have created, and the bonds that we have made with our peers as well as our teachers.

Now that the end of high school career has come, we must focus on our future. No matter where we go, or what we do, there will always be one question in the back of our minds: Did we leave a legacy for the students of tomorrow, and will impact our future?

"My Dog Ate My Homework"

The classic line, "My dog ate my homework," has been around as far as we can remember. When we hear the word, "homework" our face starts to wrinkle and frowns start to form. We moan and pout, yet we still receive it. As kids of the new generation, we have created even more excuses for not having our homework. "My computer crashed and I forgot to save it." "My printer isn't working" and "I forgot it at home," are some of the most common lines. Some teachers fall for the lamest excuses, but no matter what our excuses are; it probably didn't fly very far. We asked Junior, Wali Tindall why he doesn't do his homework, he responded, "I have too much stuff to do after school like playing basketball or hanging out with my boys."

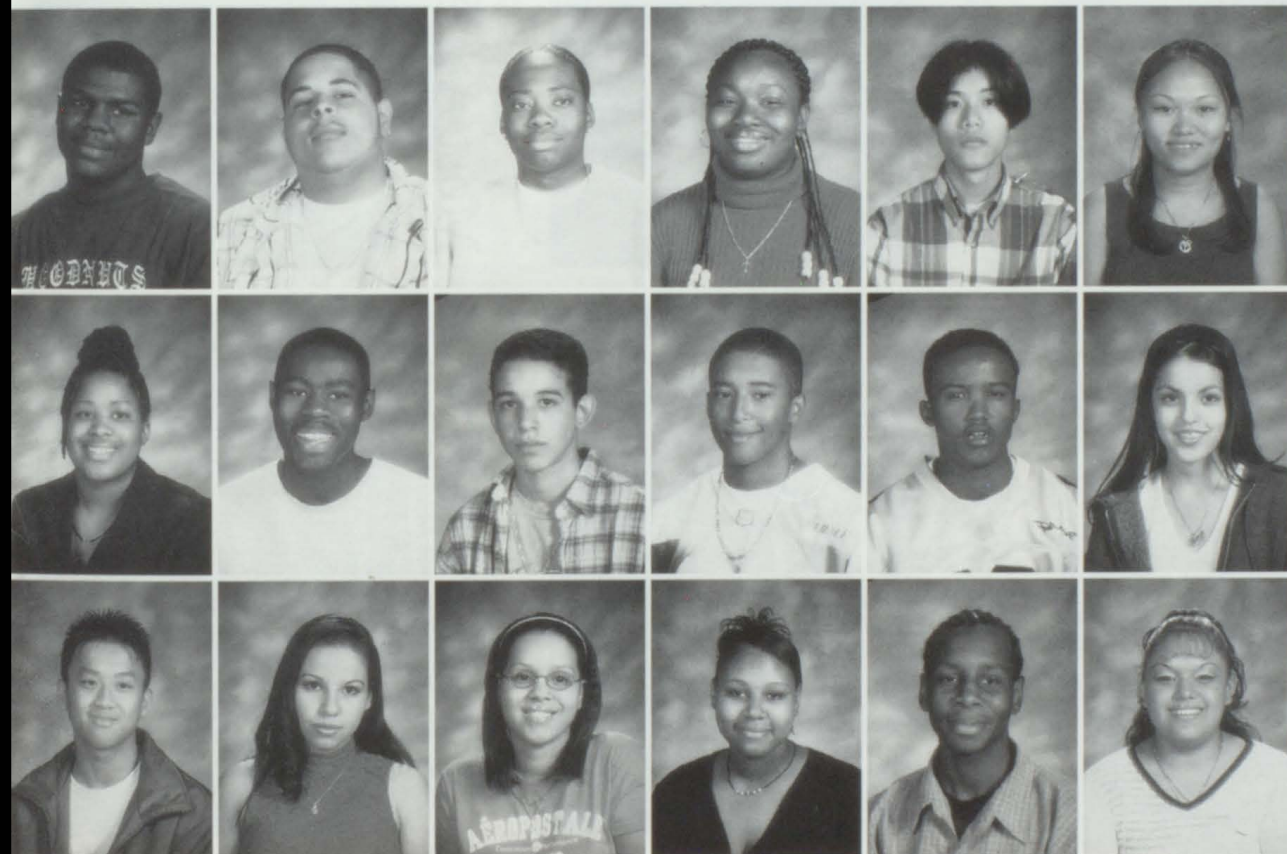

To Kill a Mocking Bird was a novel that Mrs. Fikki's Junior English Class read during the first semester. Oscar Turner displays an interest in the book while reading during class.

Is homework even necessary? The answer all students want to know. There is no one better to ask than teachers are, Mr. Williams is, Freshman Algebra teacher says, "Homework is absolutely necessary to the learning process. In a real life job it requires initiative, project teams, and take home assignments. You have to do whatever it takes to be the best at what you do. Homework is the place to start." Coach Shelton, American Government teacher who is known for assigning lots of homework and actually getting it back, says, "homework is necessary to reinforce what is taught in class."

So is being lazy and having fun all that we can expect from each other?

Let's hope not. We all want to be successful, so get out your book, pen and paper finish your assignment, and remember to turn it in on time. The bottom lines is, no matter how much we hate homework, we'll always have it. So lets do the best we can at it.

It's Not a Laughing Matter When The Joke's on You!

Everyone enjoys a good practical joke but things are not as funny when the joke's on YOU! As students, we tend to see the most immature things as being funny and sometimes we don't realize that it does come back to us. Ever fell down the stairs? Fall from a chair because someone pulled it away from you, or even got hit by Coach Shelton? These are things that are funny when the victim is someone other than yourself. A lot of us pass gas, so why is it funny when someone else does it? Laughing is good, but being the cause of the laughter is total embarrassment!

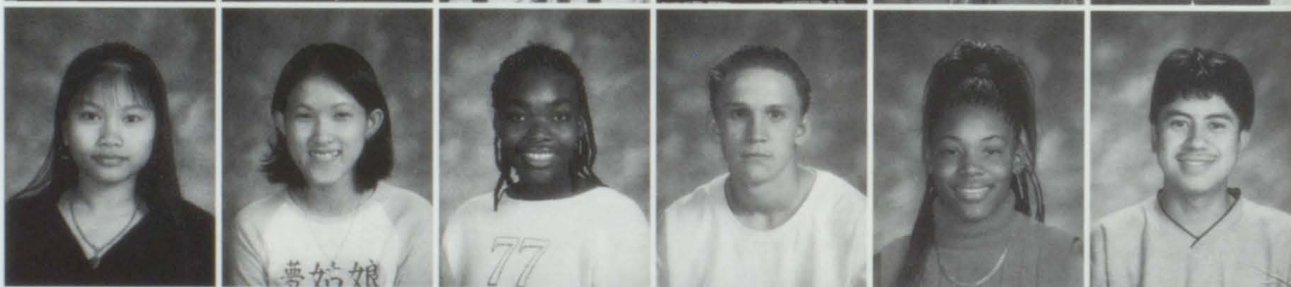

Michael Tran thought he could balance on a chair without falling, but we caught him off guard. Michael, the joke's on you!

What do you look for in the opposite sex?

I like a guy who's smart, tall, sincere, cute, big butt, sweet and doesn't drink, smoke or have a bad attitude. I don't like people who disrespect me.
 -Jessica Renteria, 10

Someone who knows what they want in life, comes from the heart and has a personality. I like my woman to have a goal in life and know what they want.
 -Mark Grimm, 11

I think personality is the main thing I look in a guy. He has to be smart, but not smarter than me, and he has to look good. I don't like guys who are rude.

Battling Sleep

"Keep your eyes open and head off the desk," a common statement made by teachers. Most of our teachers wonder why we sleep in class. So we asked students, "Why do you sleep in class?" The response is simple, we start school too early! "Getting up at 6:00 a.m. so that I can catch the bus at 6:30 a.m. to get to school by 7:15 a.m., that's just too much," says Khamvivone Pholsena.

A scientific survey explains that it is common for teenagers to fall asleep in class, and to take naps. We asked science teacher, Mr. Scarbrough to analyze this problem from a scientific point of view. He says "Teenagers need more sleep because of selfishness. You are in a strong growth period. It is a maturing process that your body is going through. It happens most often through the stages of puberty, which may last 1-36 years or longer, and happens at all different ages."

Students had many reasons for falling asleep in class. Working seems to be the most common reason. Senior Cynthia Sweenheart says, "I work to help my family out." Junior Adrian Morales says, "I work about 6-7 hours a day, and I get tired, so sometimes I sleep in class and hardly have time for homework." Junior Gor Biet says, "I have to manage at work and school and I refuse to let my job make my school work suffer. I give equally to both."

Is That My Cell Phone or My Two Way?

Now that it's the big 2001-2002, we've come a long way in technology. By means of communication, we went from huge beepers to Two-ways, and from using pay phones to actually carrying our own cell phones. Two-ways are still pagers, but they are more technological. We can get the latest 4-1-1 on what's going on around the world.

"Two-ways are excellent communication devices. I really like them because you can also surf the Internet on them," said Antwan Smith. Calvin Verner says, "I don't have a two-way but all the stuff I keep hearing about them is going to make me get one."

Nowadays, everyone has a cell phone! They used to be the size of those walkie-talkies our administrators carry around, but now we can get them where they fit in the palms of our hands. Derrin "Boozie" Williams says, "The cell phone games are cool, but cell phones are really good in contacting a parent in an emergency." Senior Martane Freeman says, "Two-ways and cell-phones have blown up so much that they even have a song by Shaggy about them." Now that we've come this far in technology, we wonder what the next big thing is going to be for next year. Until then, we can all say, "Call me or Hit me up on my two-way."

The 911 incident really took us by surprise. How has things change for you since then?

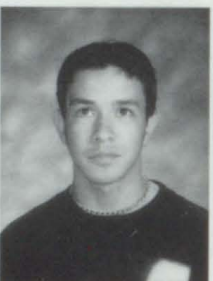

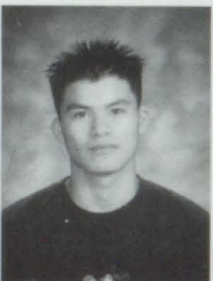

"A lot of things has changed. I get scared sometimes when I walk down the street because you don't know if people are out there trying to get you. It's really scary."
- Maria Luna, 9

"Things aren't the same, but we move on. We just have to face the fact that people hate America, and just keep fighting the terrorists."
- Matthew Woodward, 11

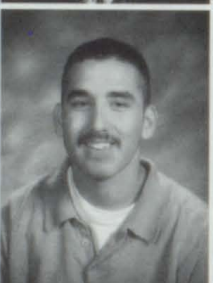

"I haven't really been effected about it much but it's kind of scary. I feel bad for all the families who lost their families."
- Faduma Ahmed, 10

Why Did You Choose To Teach at Northeast?

"I teach here at Northeast because of its proud tradition of excellence!
Mr. Gray - Spanish

"I teach here because of its racial diversity, and the diversity of personalities. I have taught in suburban districts, everyone is the same, and I don't care much for it. I've had opportunities to go back to the suburban districts, and have turned them down because it is more fun here."
Mr. Altman - Math Dept.

Our Security Guards

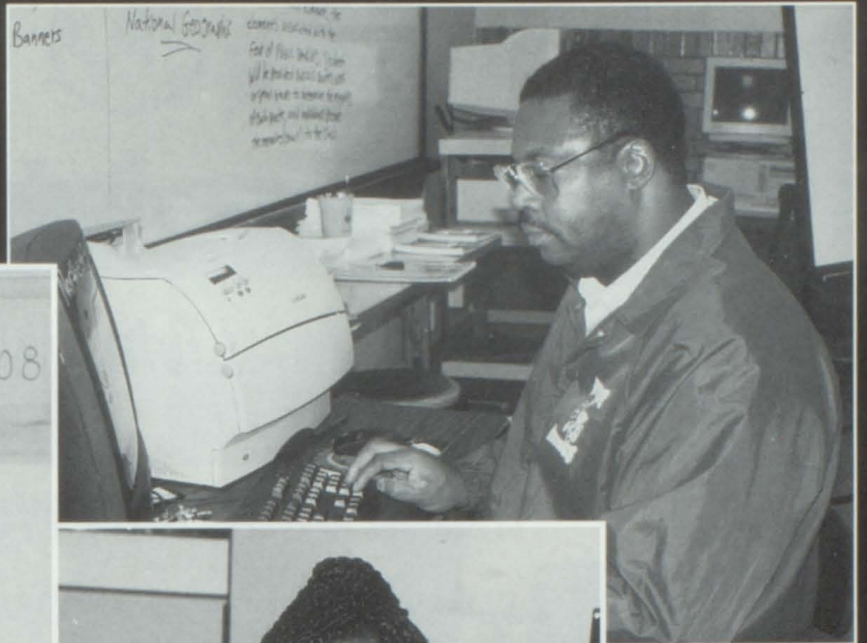

Security officers: Is Northeast a safer place because of them? Do students, staff, and faculty have the confidence that our security officers provide a safe atmosphere. Since the September 11th tragedies, security has been increased everywhere from downtown buildings to the airports. How has the incident affected the security of our school? It has been found to have no effect except for the increase in cost demand and of security guards.

Metal detectors and bag searches have been a ritual for entering school each morning. Many students feel it is not a necessity because this ritual is not practiced continuously by security. Video cameras were put in at the beginning of the year and for many it has been hard to find a reason for them.

Checking bags can make the lines uncomfortably long, and can often be a hassle. But in the long run the safety of the students and staff should make it worth it.

Sgt. James is always on the computer trying to fix something. He is the LET 2 instructor for JROTC.

Technology

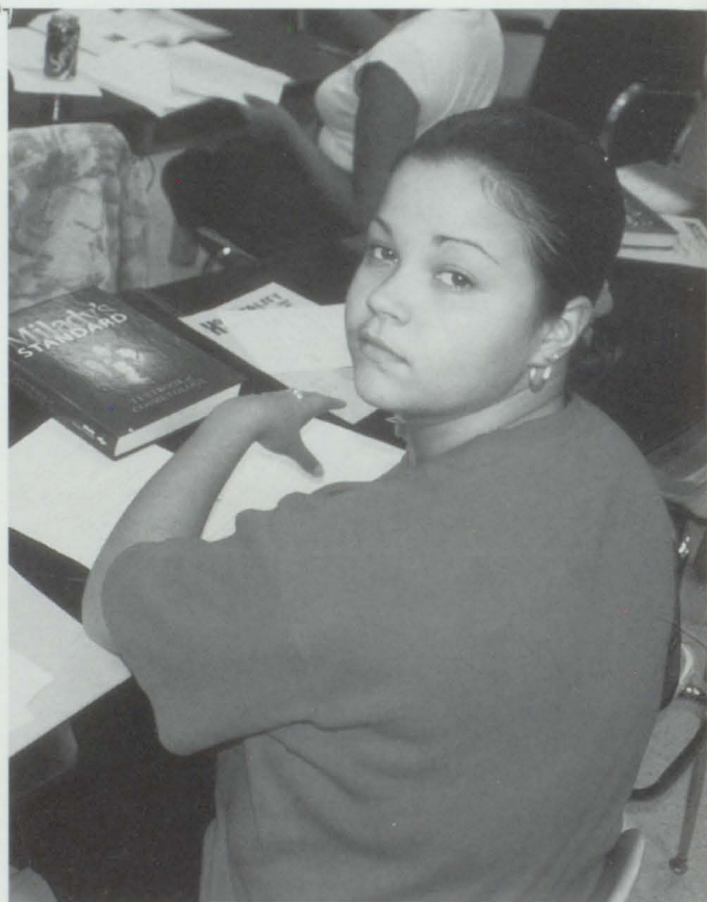

The Vo-Tech program is a two year program offered to juniors and seniors at most schools in the Kansas City School District. There are a wide range of programs offered during the A.M. and P.M. sessions at Manual Career Technical Center and East High School. Children can participate in classes such as cosmetology, childcare, fabric care, fashion design, culinary arts, food science, animal science, horticulture, agribusiness, agriculture technology, collision repair, and automotive technology just to name a few. Each student will have a chance to receive three high school credits by going to vo-tech. Many of the students will also be able to be certified in their area of study once they finish vo-tech. "Vo-tech prepares you for the real worl," says Brian J. Brooks, a second year cosmetology student. Vo-tech is also verry beneficial to students who don't plan on going to college.

Linh Dinh is a health occupations student. She will learn about the organ systems of the body. She will also learn what to do if someone is sick or in distress.

Martin Davis poses as he prepares to press some jeans.

Christina Nasset is a second year cosmetology student. She will be finished with cosmetology in April and will go to get her license to be a certified cosmetologist.

Jenny Le is a graduate of Northeast. She does multiple calculations for her accounting class. She was more than happy to pose for the yearbook!!!!

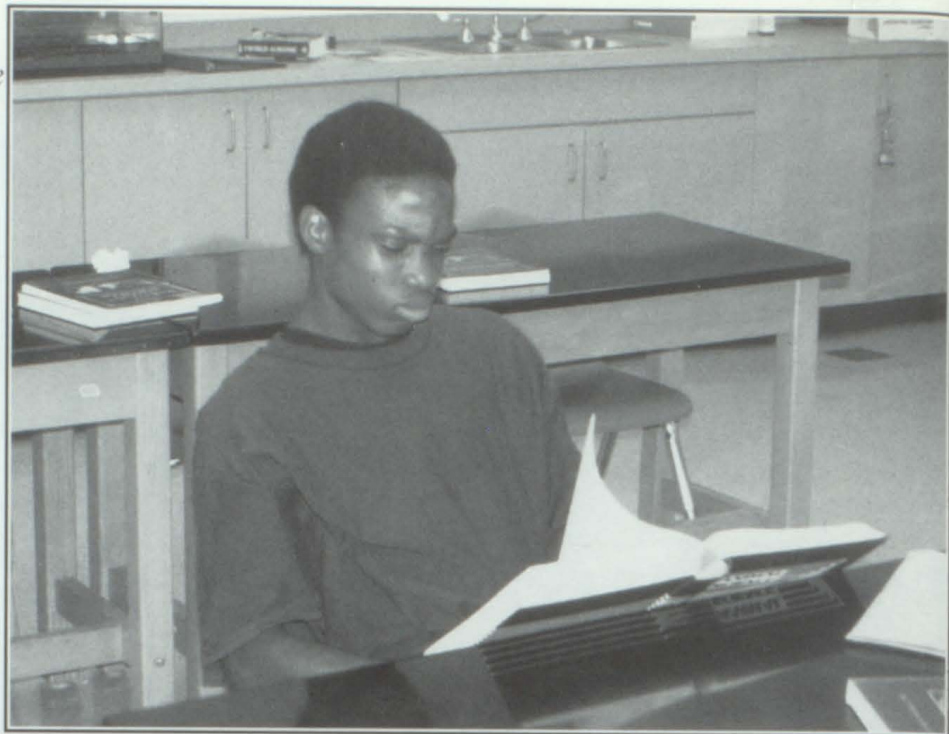

Tameila Hardley, a second year dry cleaning student, presses clothes for 2$. She loves everything about her class... even the teacher.

Animal Science

James Pippins says learning about petting, and taking care of the different kinds of animals are the best part of animal science class.

Agribusiness

Drawing signs/landscapes is one of the best part of agribusiness class.

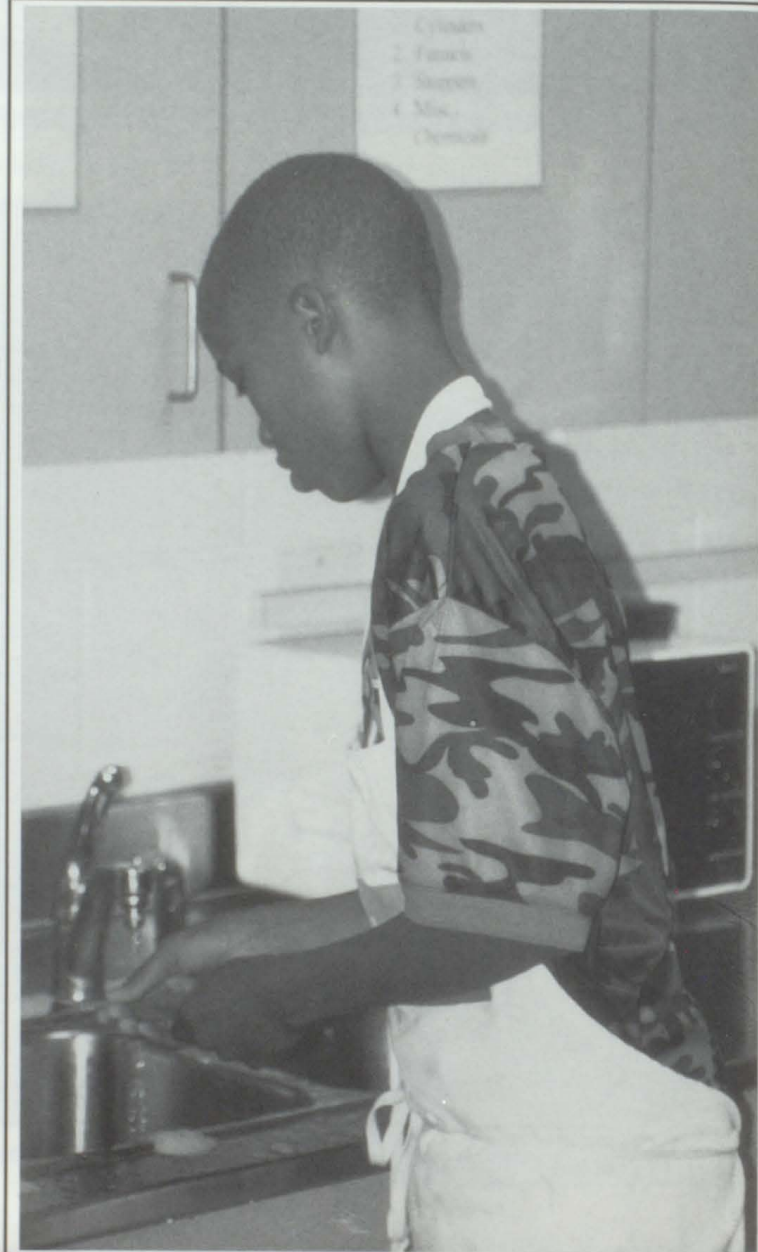

Drycleaning

LaRae David strikes a pose while she presses a pair of black jeans. LaRae, don't burn the jeans!

Food Science

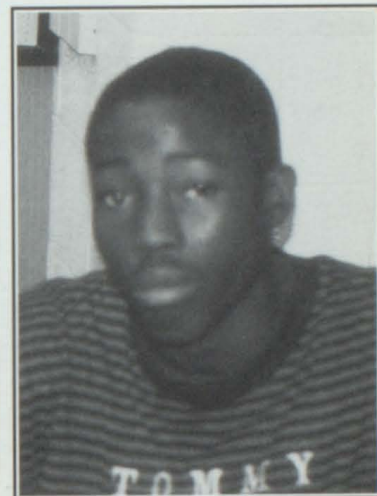

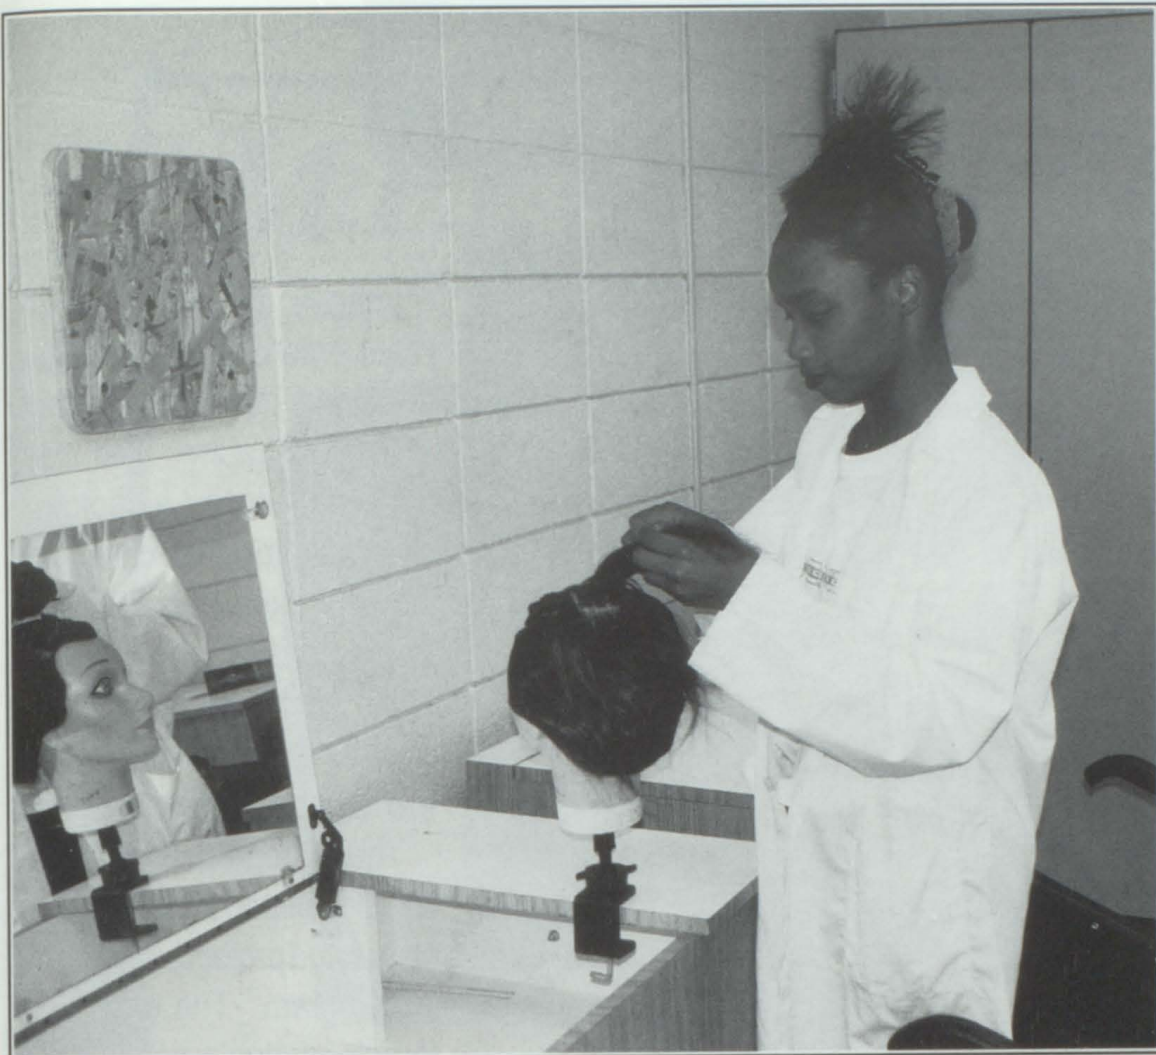

The best part about food science is eating the food we make.

Cosmetology

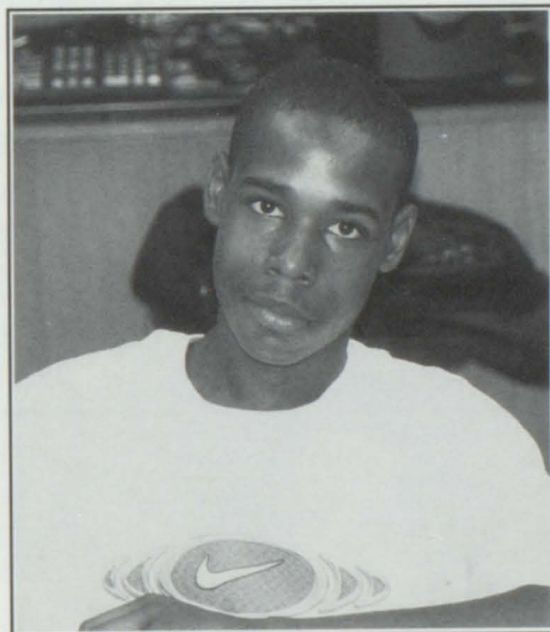

Vanessa Hatchett is a first year cosmetology student. In cosmetology I, Vanessa learns the basic skills needed to excel Cosmetology. She is displaying her skills in parting and detangling hair.

Drerell Whitley quotes, "I like Vo-tech; it's very fun. I learn a lot of things that I wouldn't normally learn at school."

Childcare

In Childcare II, Crystal Smith is very important to the children. She is having lunch with the daycare children she supervises. Childcare is fun because of the enjoyment of playing with the children.

Landscaping

Landscaping is another part of Vocational Technology. Students learn different skills such as drawing the different landscapes and creating their own designs.

ENTREPRENEURSHIP

Images, the name of this years enterpernuership class. This years class career choice was photography. The class ran and managed a photography company that catered to many of the school functions. They held a photography booth at homecoming, took pictures during spirit week as well as assemblies.

The entrepreneurship class was developed as a part of the career and project based learning program. The class aims to help students get a feel of what it will take to run a business. It allows students to realize how much stress and strain you must go through to be a successful entrepreneur, as well as the sweet taste of success.

Students took trips to several places of business to get a few "tricks of the trade" from people who have been where they are and are now where the students want to be.

I feel that the Entrepreneurship class had given me a head start on learning the internal functions of a business. Says Junior- Thanvan Le

I think that this class is helpful even if its not what you want to do in life. It teaches you skills that we need on an everyday basis. Says Junior- LaKisha Butler

SLIP INTO LAW

Ms. Alma Smith has been the SLIP program administrator for the last five years. Ms. Smith has been working closely with the interns, assisting them in dealing with whatever their issues and concerns may be. Ms. Smith encourages students interested in any facet of law to apply for the program. The SLIP program gives students a tremendous insight into legal careers.

The Summer Law Internship Program is in its ninth year at Northeast. SLIP allows Juniors and Seniors, the opportunity to step into the job world through the shoes of receptionist, office assistants, paralegals, attorneys, law clerks, and judges.

After being interviewed and hired, participants are fitted for uniforms provided by the Lantz Welch foundation and tailored by Nordstroms Department Store.

SLIP is an eight week program sponsored by the Kansas City Metropolitan Bar Association and the Public Service Committee. The internship is a full time job that pays between $6.50 and $7.50 per hour. The interns perform a wide variety of tasks. Some work in law libraries, mail rooms, or as assistant clerks and receptionists.

Students listen to the Dean Of UMKC School of Law as he explains how beneficial going to law school is as well as encouraging them to attend UMKC.

"I really enjoyed participating in the SLIP program. I worked at for the U.S. Attorney General office and I am fortunate enough to be working there to this very day."
-Marsha Bradley

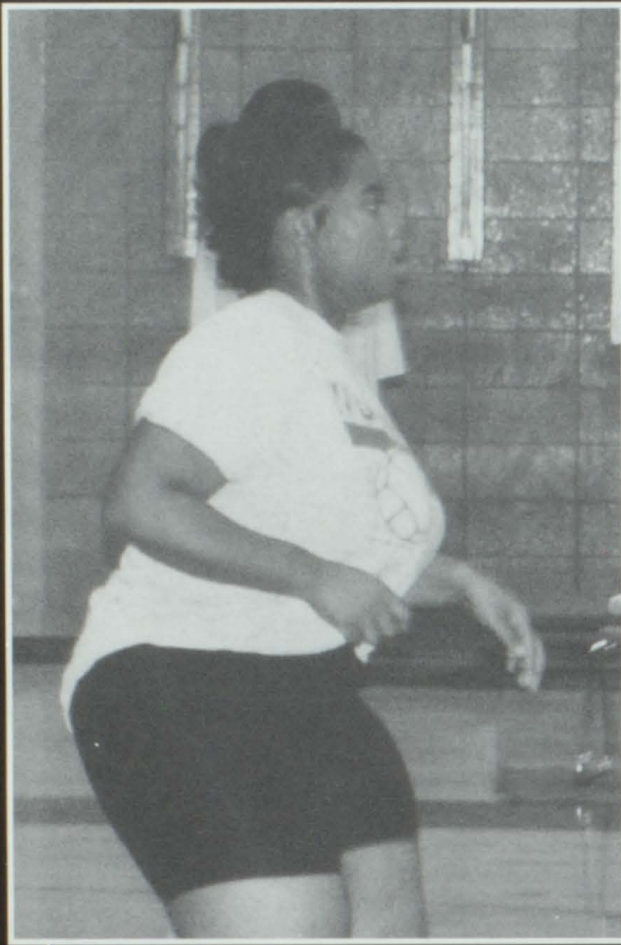

"I worked for Lathrop & Gage and it was really nice. I encourage anyone who is interested in law to participate in the program."
-Damon Cason

"I interned for Hubbard and Kurtz, and it was truly a great experience. I was able to met professionals from all areds of the law field. I learned many things that I would not have know if I hadn't participated in the SLIP program. I want to Urge everyone who does the program to give it their all, because the benefits are endless. I know this because I was offered a job next summer at Hubbard and Kurtz"
-Beverly Hampton.

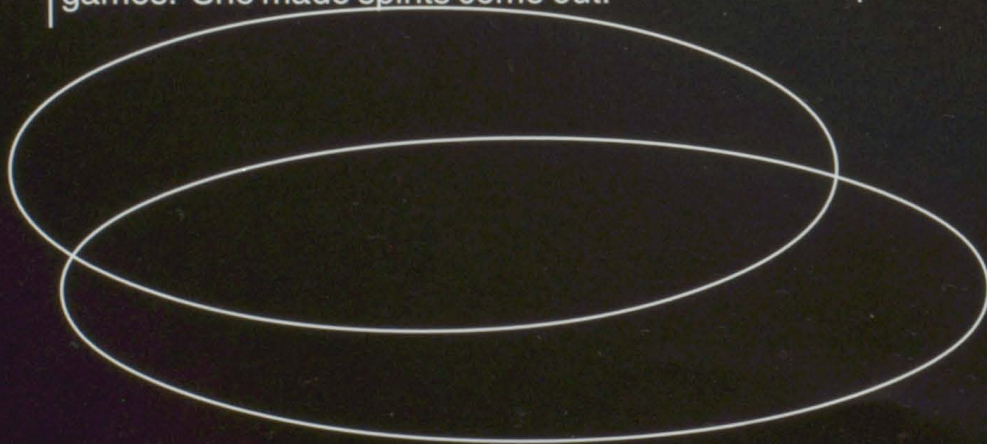

genuine athletes

Maegan Roby was part of the varsity volleyball team. She says, "Volleyball was fun. The person who inspired me was Flora "Jet-Li" because she tries and she got better as a player in practices and in games. She made spirits come out.

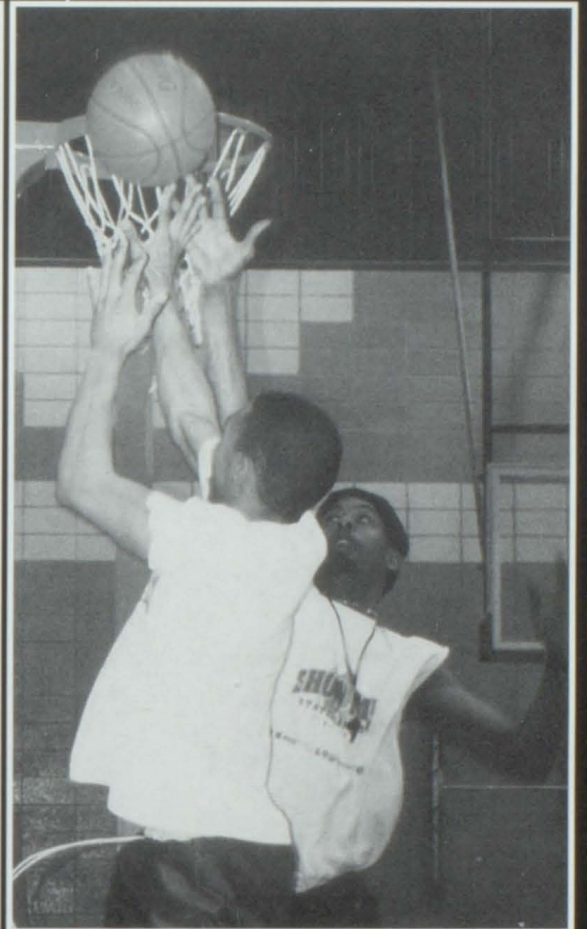

The boy's soccer team was Northeast's pride and joy. They're record was 14-2 by the end of the season. Lance Slayden, David Rios, Jesus Chavira, and Mario Ortiz practices hard, but also enjoys the fun.

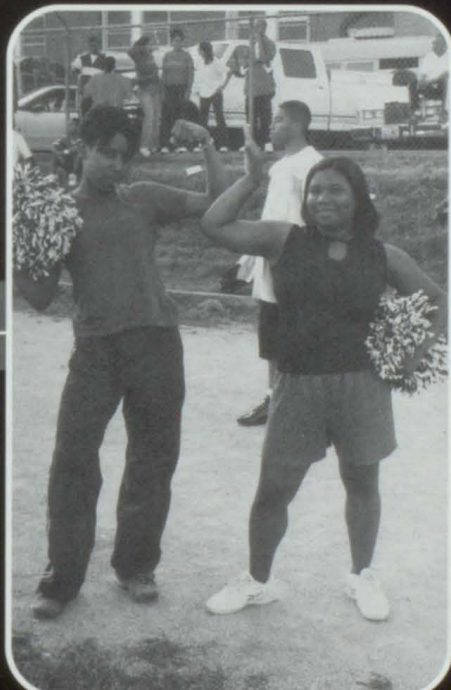

The football team didn't have a good season, but all the players displayed good sportsmanship. They are truly genuine athletes.

Coach Paige teaches Larry Coley how to go to the hole with authority. Larry Coley is a second year JV basketball player.

The Cross Country team had a great season. Boys won first place in the Interscholastic League Championship Meet and girls placed second.

Most people don't realize that cheerleading is a sport. Tiffany Williams and Charise Forbes cheers for the JV football team while they are practicing.

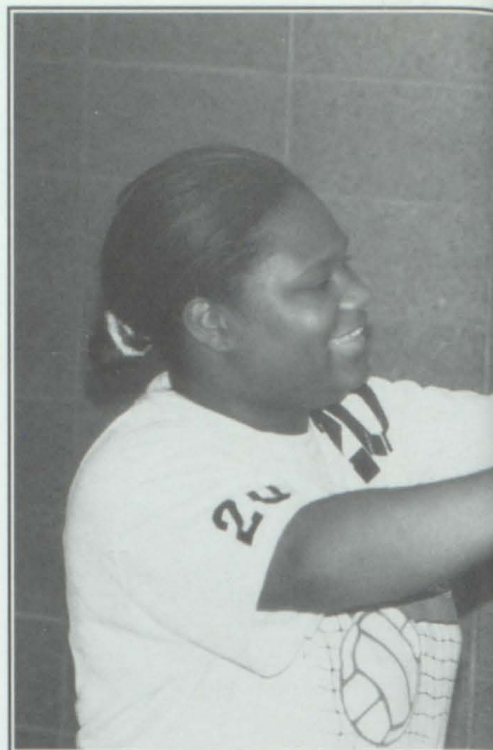

The girl's soccer team of 2000-2001 were coached by Coach Monegro. They had a rough season in the spring of 2001.

Laughs and Tears

Sitting on the bleachers, we can see the improvements of the players from the previous years. Last year, the team suffered a losing streak, but this year, their teamwork was much better. The girls started practice three weeks before school, dealing with heat and waking up for practice, which started at eight in the morning.

Although, the team's record wasn't the greatest, the team was definitely one of the best. "I think the reason the way it was, is because we got frustrated of losing after the first loss. Our attitude changed against each other," says Meagan Roby. Most of the time, the girls laughed. They joked around a lot and made sure that the game was fun. Despite of the attitudes, it was a good year.

Go Vikings!

In some of our events, we lack supporters. This year, there were many friends and family that supported the "Lady Vikings."

Football... Nobody said it would EASY!!!

Our vikings welcomed a new beginning this year, along with a new head coach.

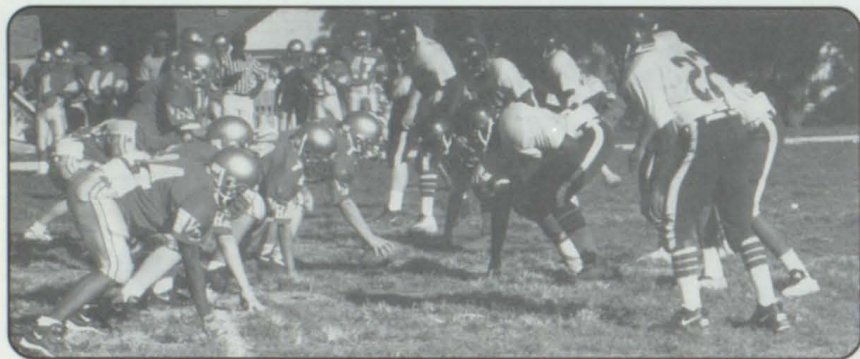

Jerry Price.

Lincoln tries to take us down, but we are not going down without a fight.

Out with the old, and in with the new. The football team welcomes new head coach, Jerry Price. "We need to build up the team so that we can have a better chance at winning" says Coach Price.

"It is not that we do not have good players, we don't have enough players playing all four years. We are more than capable of beating any team out there. If we had more players who came out and stayed out for four years, our team would be unstoppable," says Coach Shelton. Emmanuel Brower will be remembered for years to come, he is responsible for putting the points on the scoreboard. He is a wide receiver, and has played since his freshman year. He scored the only touchdown this entire season. "It felt good to score, but it really doesn't matter because we still lost," says Emmanuel Brower #21.

When you want a win, call on the J.V. Above, they defeat Van Horn 12-0

"Oh say can you see"...These are the traditional words that you will here before a football game. Players participate by placing their hands over their hearts.

"A team that plays together, prays together"

"Carry me to a victory, Noodles!"
Says Conrad Purnell.

This is our first game, which was against Lincoln Preparatory Academy.

Northeast fans supports their team win or loose. Our homecoming game draws a huge crowd as we try to defeat the Van Horn Falcons.

The team listens carefully to Coach Monegro's tactics. Coach Monegro has been coaching the soccer team for two years. He also coaches the girl's soccer team.

SECRET

Soccer takes a lot of running and aggressiveness. Drinking plenty of water is advised.

Sergeant Monegro, the coach of the Vikings winning soccer team, says he has had a fun and exciting year. "The main difference between this year's and last year's team was that this year's team lack the experiences that last year's team had. Last year team had ten seniors compared to this year's one senior." Tien Dinh took on the role as captain with the help of Mario Ortiz and Alejandro Nunez, the goalies. With all the ingredients, this has been a jubelent season. "What's made this year exciting is the effort the kids put in practice, which pays off in the games." Sergeant Monegro's reasons for coaching were that he wanted to get the kids who didn't play football and basketball involved in something and forming the soccer program was the best way. "I congratulate the players and all the people who showed support in their succesful season, and I hope to see them back in the Fall."

Running For The

Viking Victory

Vikings In Action

The Northeast Viking Cross Country Team has kicked off the season to a great start. Although their team was small, they have managed to do excellent. The coach is the legendary Waunita Small and this year, the team captain was Mary Mayoui, a senior who has been a devoted Cross Country runner since her freshman year. The team consists of six guys and five girls. "This year, as the team captain, I have focused a lot of my time in recruiting more girls to the team," says Mary. The boys won first place overall at the Interscholastic League Championship Meet. The girls placed second overall.

Cross Country is a tough sport. It takes mental and physical stability. In order to be on top, one has to be committed to the sport. The team usually runs an average of 6-7 miles a day after school.

The Girls of Cross Country

From top to bottom, Flora Phommachanh, Mary Mayoui, Taabo Mikaya, Rachel Phillips and Yolanda Quintero, gives us a big smile, winning the overall silver medal at the Interscholastic League Championship Meet. Northeast wouldn't have a Girl's Cross Country team without Mary's recruitment. Working hard trying to form a team and beat rivalries, like Lincoln and Van Horn, she successfully accomplished her mission.

5 Trying to show some skin, the boys joke around after their win at the Interscholastic League Championship Meet. Luis Guzman placed second while Nissan Nesthant placed third. Lenes Chery and Michael Lee placed in the Top Ten. 6 Yolanda Quintero keeps a smile while warming up before a meet at Blue Valley. 7 The boys wouldn't have won without the help of the sixth man, David Patton, who broke the tie for the win. He has been a dedicated runner since his freshman year.

What inspires you to keep running?

Lenes Chery, 10

"When someone tells me that I can't make it, I prove to them that I can make it. Giving myself motivation keeps me running."

Nissan Nesthant, 10

"I like running because it keeps me out of trouble, and helps me keep the good grades. It's also a good sport, so everyone should try it."

Maleath Monydit, 9

"I run because it helps me out, and also, I run for the team. I have pride in my team."

Only the BEST!

Mary Mayoui and Luis Guzman qualified for state.

With quotes from both coaches, we are told that both the JV and Varsity were successful, and enthusiastic. The JV's main focus this year was to work on skills so they can be a better in their varsity years. The team had a good outlook. There were a few big girls who helped out a lot. Over the horizon looks bright for Northeast to continue our winning way.

Varsity sings to a similar tune. This years' team had a great deal of promise. The team took second in districts and in the league. They really exceeded the expectations that were set for them. It has been said that this team have shown the best performance around in the last five years. Good Job Lady Vikings!

Martane Freeman gets hacked going up for the dunk. He averaged 16 points, eight rebounds, and three blocks a game. He set a record with 12 blocks in one game against Southeast.

Senior Derrin Williams lead the Vikings in scoring averaging 19 points a game. He also lead the Interscholastic League in scoring averaging 25 points a game. He happen to connect with over 70 three pointers, shooting 43% behind the arch.

The Northeast Vikings basketball team has had a great season! After being doubted, the Vikings still found away to prevail. Starting the season at 5-1 and ending at 16-10 is pretty good compared to last years record of 6-14.

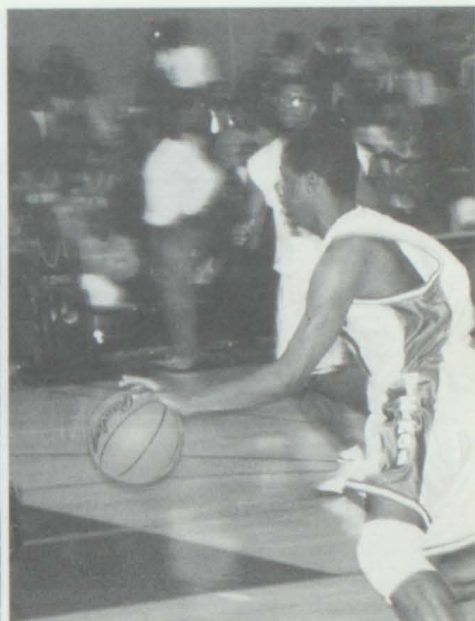

In the Interscholastic League, the Vikings settled for second with a record of 8-4, behind Westport and Paseo. But what had people really turning their heads was the outstanding ball the Vikings were playing in Districts. After knocking off #1 seed Rockhurst then the #2 seed Raytown in the Champion game, the Vikings became the 2002, 4A District 16 Champs. Then advancing to state sectionals ,the Vikings ended their season with a defeat to the Lee Summit North Broncos, 63 to 60.

The prom committee consisted of the Junior Class officers, a few seniors, and is sponsored by Ms. Bradford, who has been in charge of prom for several years. This years theme was "If Only for One Night," decorated by Purple and White.

Prom committee meets several times throughout the year to ensure that prom will be remembered for a lifetime by all that attend. Members do everything from fund-raising and advertising, to picking mementos and D.J's.

"Coordinating the prom is not as easy as I thought it would be, and this being me second year, it is still a challenge. We have to consider the likes of everyone when we make our decisions, and that is one of the hardest things to do," says Senior Tyree Thomas.

Mario Ortiz was a first year cadet when he went to bootcamp.

One of the activities that are part of the camp is repelling. Kevin Williams struggles to get to the finish of the rope.

104 Push-ups have always been known as a punishment for most of the cadets in JROTC. What they don't realize is that the more push-ups you do, the less the pain will be once you've done so much. Push-ups help build your upper arms and chests area.

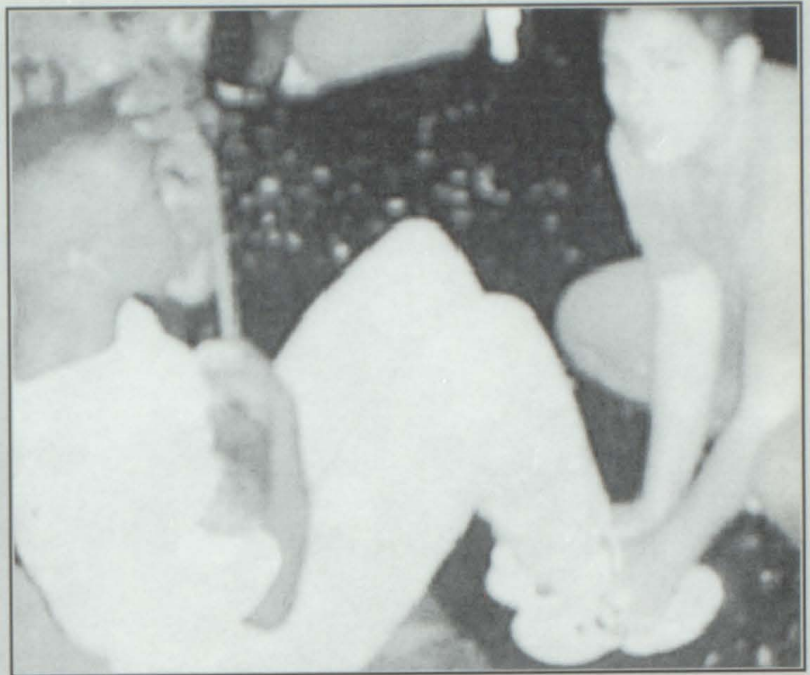

JROTC Bootcamp

Gaining Leadership and Confidence

Fort Leonard Wood, MO

The summer of 2001 kicked off to a great start for some of the JROTC students who participated in the annual Summer Boot Camp held at Fort Leonard Wood, Missouri. The camp started on June 3 and lasted for a week. There were approximately 35 students who participated in the camp. For most of the students, going to camp was to get out of school early, and have a good time, but for some, it was to practice being a better leader and maintaining the pressure that was given at the camp.

The first couple days of camp were the hardest. It's when the drill sergeant tested their ability to follow directions and tested the endurance the cadets had during physical training. The cadets would wake up early in the morning and start their physical training. The rest of the week was full of fun activities, where the cadets were able to white water raft, have down proof classes, orienteering, and repelling. They were also introduced to map reading, first aid and leadership courses. At the end of the week, the cadets had a graduation ceremony and was given a certificate of recognition for completing the camp. "The purpose of the summer camp was to imitate army life which will in turn, discipline leadership and teamwork," says Sergeant James when asked what the purpose of the camp was.

Sit-ups are part of the physical training. Males average around 44 sit-ups per minute, while females average 34 sit-ups per minute.

Northeast JROTC isn't the only school that participates in the bootcamp. There are about 40 other schools who attends the yearly event.

Mark Gant, Lenex Chery and Jesus Borges poses for the camera before they head back to their activities.

The purpose of a Colorguard team is to show the honor for the nation and the flag. The Colorguard, also known as "Guard Dogs", maintains their legacy as the winning team. They performed in many drills, and ceremonies throughout the city, and even traveled outside the city. The commander of the team was Luke Ware. The Colorguard consisted of three teams, and had many other alternates. "We learn sequences for competition and try to do better than the other colorguards. I believed that we are one of the best, if not, the best, colorguards in the region/nation," says John Franklin.

The Colorguard performs everywhere, from assemblies, to the ceremony at the Veteran's Day parade. They consist of four teams. Mary Mayoui, Ashley McKenzie, Stacih Stone, and Clark are on the Third Team.

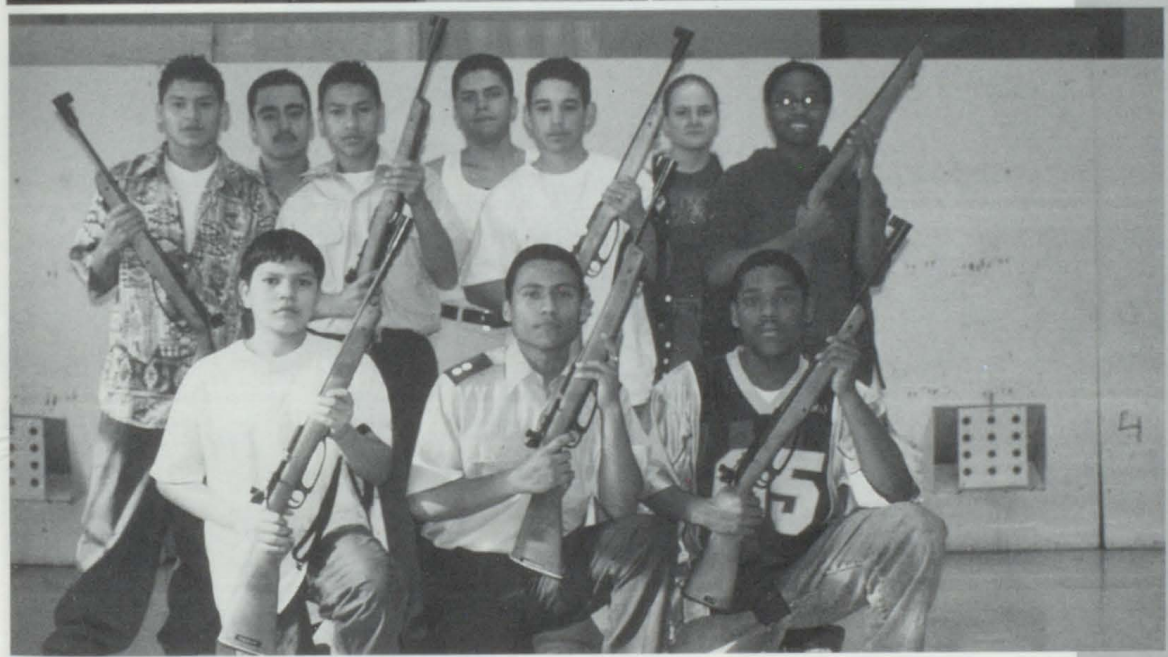

The first team consisted of John Franklin, Luke Ware, John Zingre and Antione Brown.

Practices for the Colorguards were very important. They had to learn how to use bearing and precision in order to present the flag with near perfection.

The marksmanship team consisted of thirteen members with Albert Bly as the commander of the team. The team has always been one of the top teams in our region, always coming home with a trophy after a competition. Marksmanship is considered as a sport. Like any other sport, they must practice to be the best in marksmanship. Many of the members on the team practiced during school, and some even stayed after school to improve their techniques. Some of those techniques includes breathing, posture and concentration.

The Armed Drill team was commanded by Eron Williams, totaling seventeen members on the team. They performed at approximately twelve drills and competed for Nationals in Florida along with the Unarmed Drill team and the Colorguards. The Armed Drill team also performed for school events and graduation. They practiced year-round consisting of hard physical training and unison. The guys agree that the hardest part of the drills they performed were twirling and tossing the rifle. "We are number one, we are on the top, we are kings of the world," says Eron Williams.

The drill team practices every other day, trying to make near perfection. Practice is always a key to success.

Gary Peeler, Ricky Thurman, Nicholas Vargas and many others line up for their demonstration.

Johnnie Lopez and Jesus Borges are some of the members of the team. They give the schools a demonstration of teamwork and unison.

Many times, the team has to toss the rifle they use up, and twist it around. These are just some of the difficult tasks they have to do.

The unarmed drill team consists of sixteen members including their commander, Melanie Young. They practice year round for approximately twelve performances, and demonstrates their drills for school events and graduation. The purpose of the drills are to build teamwork skills. "It takes hard work to be a champion!" says Melanie Young.

The unarmed drill team practices their motivation chant. Candance Russell, Lasha Lee, Barbara Wright and Veronica Sanchez are some of the members of the team.

Bearing has a lot to do with the exhibitions that they team has to go through.

Precision is a must on the drill team, along with snapping movements.

The team practices every other day while the armed drill team practices. They too, must practice to make it on top.

The Academic Bowl team is a competition for JROTC cadets in grades 9-12, focusing on recall, teamwork, critical thinking and cooperation. Sergeant First Class (ret) Robert W. James established the team in 1996.

In the academic competitions, it consists of a four-member team that competes by answering questions from military subjects and some secondary curriculum areas. The team practices twice a week from October through December with the competitions taking place in January and February.

This year, the Academic team placed first in the district. They faced many challenges like losing three teammates, but pulled through as the champions.

The LET II's were known as the anchor group of the team. They made sure that they kept the team up and gave enough points so that the LET III and IV's could win the game.

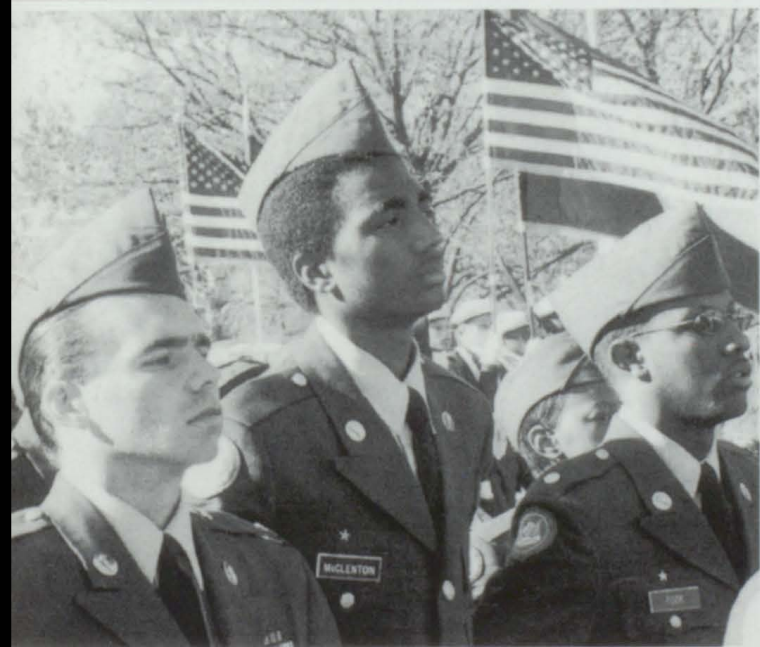

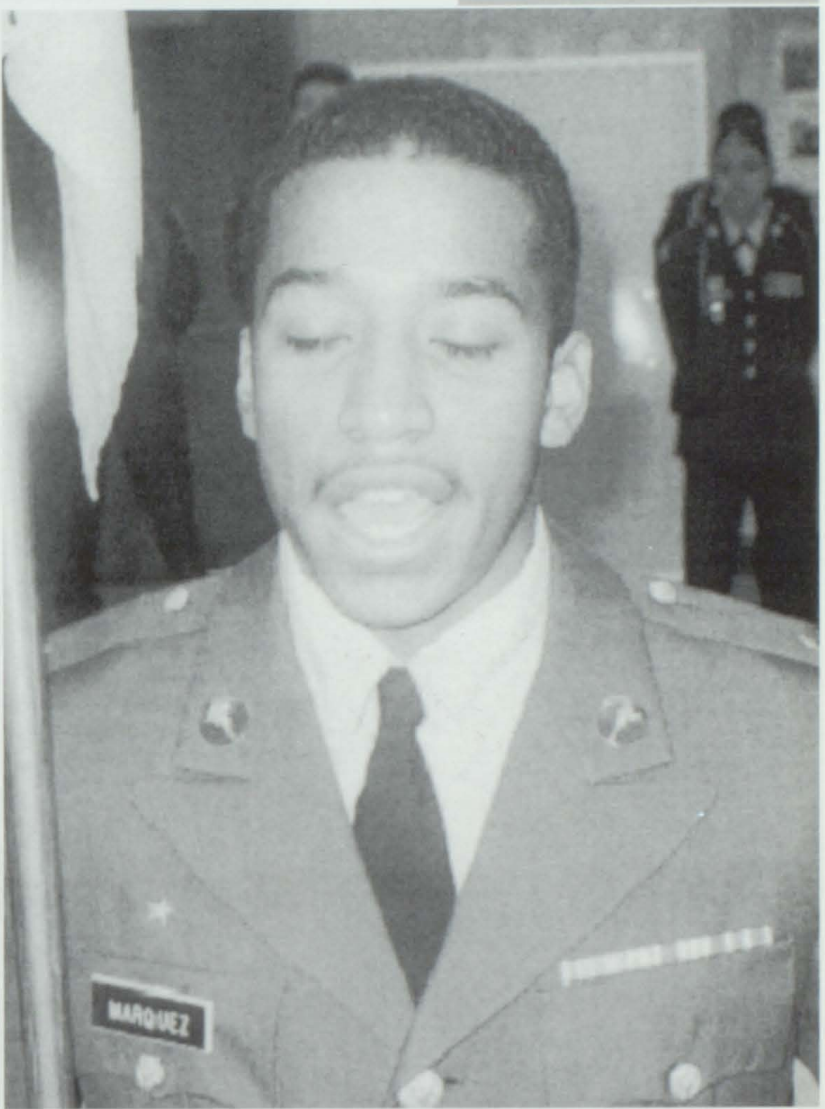

As LET I's, Joshua Harris, James, Christopher Hernandez, Phillip Marquez and the other LET I's made sure that they practiced hard and gave the team a good start.

STUDENTS

ON AIR

This year, Ms. Fischer with the help of others started a broadcasting team here at Northeast.

Students are responsible for the finding stories, taping, editing, and directing. Many students feel the show is a success. The purpose of the team is to help students showcase talent, express their thoughts and opinions, and to be seen! The team puts in lots of time to make the show a success. The show airs every Wednesday, during second period, for about 5 to 10 minutes.

Our last update from the team was that it was trying to become a class. "I feel that if there was a allotment of time within the regular school day to work on the production, the show would be better. Although, the students work well with the things that they have." Says Flora Phommanchanh-Junior

The team hopes that you were tuned in to NE411, for the latest news at Northeast.

WHAT'S YOUR INHERENT BARRIER?

What's your Inherent Barrier? In other words, What is stopping you from being on the Debate Team?

This years squad took on a NEW BEGINNING by electing club officers. Marquita Johnson, a four year Debater was chosen captain by their coach Mrs. Harris , and Beverly Hampton, a three year Debater was voted co-captain by the squad members.

Even though this years team was not big in numbers, it was big in wins. This being the squads first year going to suburban tournaments, they did extremely well. "It is quite different from the Urban Debate League, it almost seems like there are two sets of rules to debate. The key to winning is being able to adapt to the environment. Knowing what is accepted, whether it is something you are familiar with or not." Says Beverly Hampton.

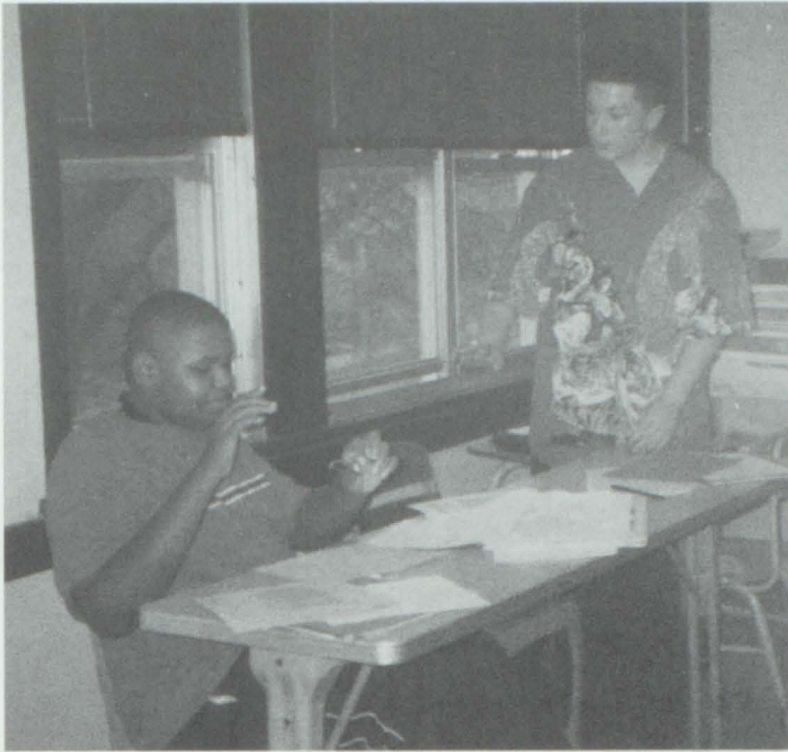

Many people have the misconception of the Debate team, people think that you have to extremely smart with a 4.0 to be on the team. That is very incorrect. You need to capable of reading, analyzing, and comprehending what you have read. The only other trait you must have to be a debater is dedication. That is the most important element in the ideal debater." Says Marquita Johnson-Senior

Glenn and Justin, both first year debaters dominate their first tournament.

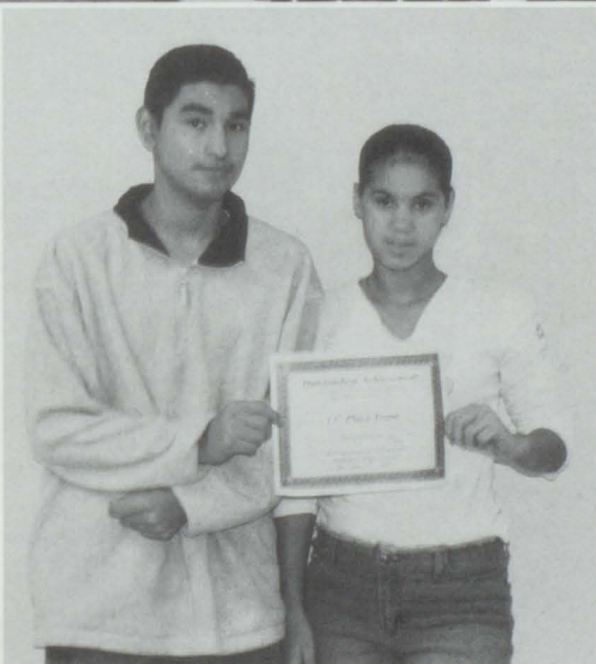

Marquiata uses those skills shes gained over the last four years at the First Debate Kansas City Public Debate.

Marquita Johnson and Beverly Hampton celebrate after winning big at the sprng banquet.

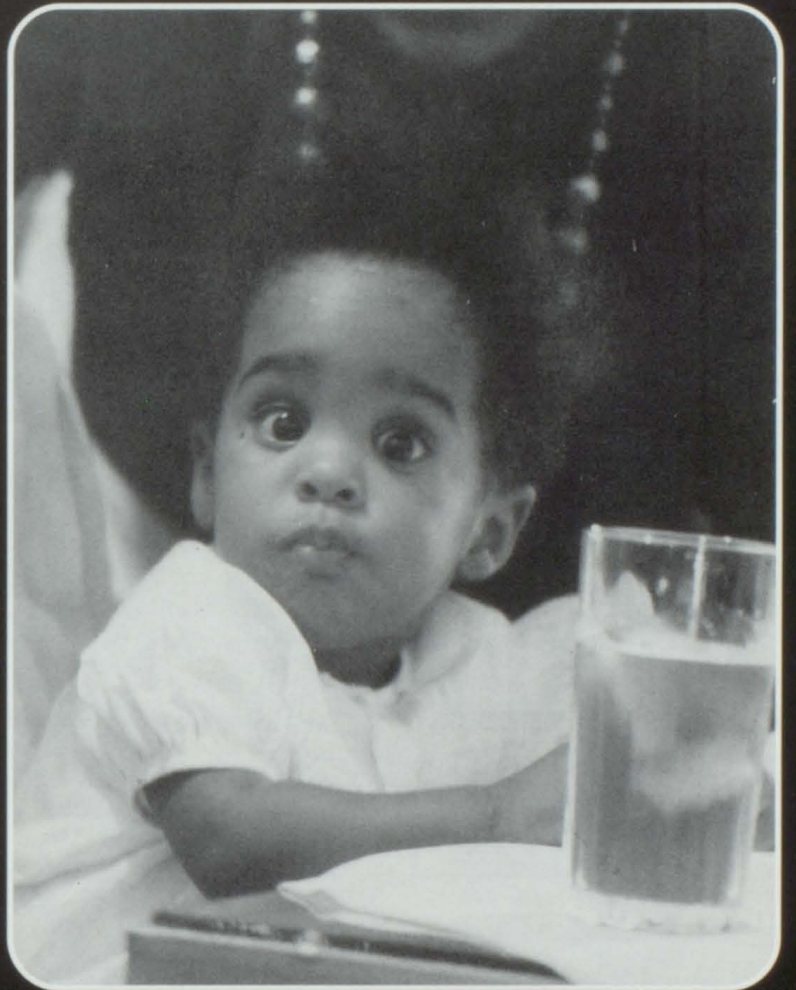

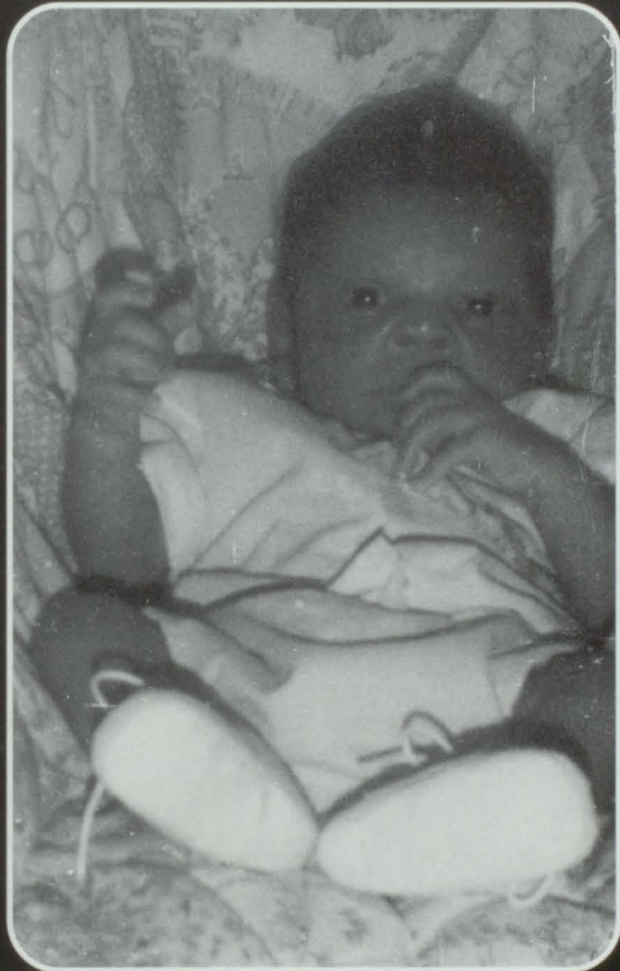

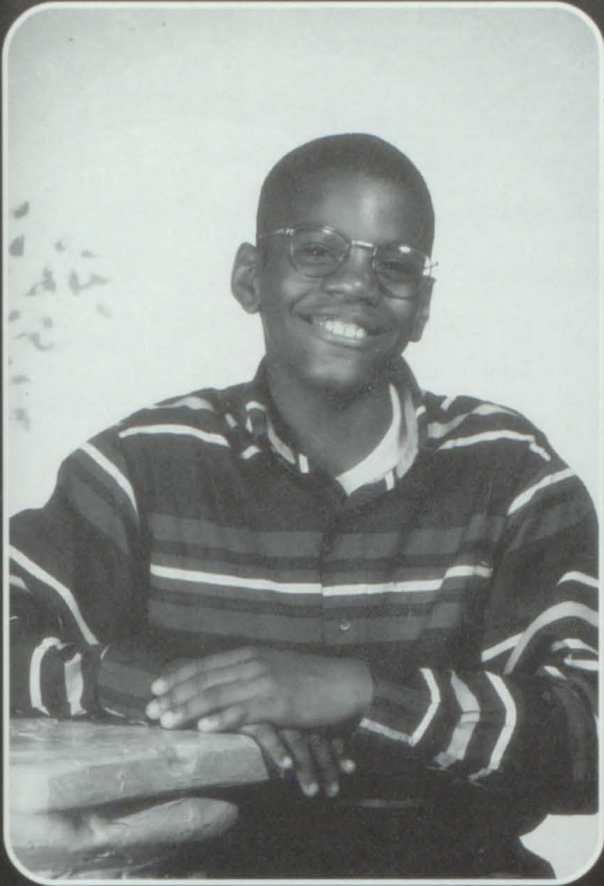

Jesus Vasquez and Ashley Fitch celebrate their first win as a team.

Linda Collier director of debate at UMKC, tells the audience why debate is such a beneficial activity to participate in, Also at the Debate Kansas City Public Debate.

Time is passing right before our eyes. I hope everyone enjoys this one-of-a-kind book, created by yours truly, the Nor'Easter Staff. We worked very hard on trying to create something cherishable and memorable. I would like to thank all of the students and staff who contributed on the production of the book. Thanks to Sgt. James for the photos of the JROTC program and for allowing me to use the photos in the book. Thanks to Mrs. Fikki for the endless visits to the store for our supplies and fundraisers. Thanks to Brian and Ngoc for their contribution in the first half of the production of the book, and to Juli and Jermaine for the advertisements they sold, along with the trips to Walgreens. Thank you to Valeria for all the work that she has done, and to Kayron for helping me with layout and ideas, and giving me good feedback. I want to thank David for the marvelous job in coming the second half and working harder than one can imagine, showing me your skills and expertise as a photographer. Thank you to my dear friend Beverly, for always being there during those crucial deadlines, and not hating me for all the demands I gave her. Lastly, I want to thank all of the people who bought a yearbook because this book was designed so that we all could look back at and reminisce about those memories. However, my experience as editor is not yet finished. Like Michael Jackson said at the 2000 World Music Awards, "You ain't seen nothing yet."

As a public servant I have had the opportunity to meet many outstanding young people. Jemaine Reed, you, are notably one of the most impressive young men I have met. While completing community service at City Hall, Ad Hoc Group Against Crime, Move-Up, KPRS and countless other organizations in the Kansas City metropolitan area you conducted yourself as a seasoned professional. You are truly a force to be reckoned with. Jermanine, I congratulate you on all your accomplishments and pray for your continued success and prosperity.

The Kansas City area was hit by a big ice storm in Jan., which resulted in 300,000 people losing electrical power. Some people were out for as little as four days, and even as many as ten days. The ice storm took us by surprise. "It was a tragedy, as well as a learning experience. It shows just how quickly people respond to others when in need. It shows how well the community can work together," says senior Frances Paden.

In Loving Memory of...

Mrs. Reineke 1944-2002

Mrs. Reineke, 58 years old taught at Northeast from 1986-2002. She taught physical science and co-sponsored FCCLA. Although she is no longer here in the physical, her kind, loving and generous spirit will remain with us forever.

Mrs. White, 57 years old taught in the Kansas City Missouri School District since 1967. Although she left Northeast prior to this year, she has always been a Viking. Ms. White taught English and was loved by all who knew her. She has been and will continue to be loved, missed, and thought about here at Northeast.
